

OBITUARIES

Alice Lorraine Douglas

Alice Lorraine Douglas

Alice Douglas, a long-time resident of University Park, passed away quietly at home Jan. 15, 2000 after patiently enduring a long illness. She was 83 years old.

Alice was born in Wichita Falls, Texas, daughter of John and Lillian Hoge Marrs. Her father, a graduate of the Law School at the University of Texas, served as Probate Judge of Wichita County for 20 years. Alice graduated from Texas Woman's University in 1937 with qualifications to teach kindergarten and Primary Grades, a career for which her teaching ability and her love of the children admirably fitted her. She took graduate courses at Southern Methodist University, Northwestern University, and Oberlin. She taught Kindergarten and First Grade at University Park, at the Naval Air Station, Florida, at Evanston, Illinois, at St. Mark's School of Texas, and in Dallas Independent Schools.

Mrs. Douglas was a charter member of St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church. She was a member of the American Association of University Women, the Helen Poe Study Club, the Craig Class and was past President of the Dallas Shakespeare Club, the Brascope Book Club and the Luncheon Club. Preceding her in death was her mother, Dorothy Moore. Alice is survived by her husband, Arthur Douglas, a long-time member of the Science Faculty at St. Mark's School of Texas; by her son, Alan Douglas of Dallas; her daughter Anne Poole of Muenster; by her son-in-law, Waylen Poole; and grandson Scott Poole; also by her nephew, Dr. John Moore of Redding, California; and by her niece, Judy Moore of Sacramento, California. She will be missed by many devoted and loving friends.

A memorial service will be held in the chapel of St. Mark's School, 10,600 Preston Road at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 22.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that remembrances be made to Sacred Heart School, Cooke County Hospice, or American Cancer Society Relay for Life.

Cooke County Commissioner Virgil Hess explains one of the County Courthouse's almost forgotten secrets. He has been working with the Cooke County Historic Commission and a committee of residents to apply for a grant to restore the courthouse to much of its original qualities. Muenster in early stages of water protection program

Hey, have you seen those new Water Source Protection Area signs the city just put up? What're they for? What do they mean? - These or similar questions may have been asked as some of us drive around the city.

The signs advise people that they are within a quarter of a mile of a municipal water well and that the areas around each well require protection from contamination. This is a new program that the State of Texas has implemented and the City of Muenster is in the forefront of meeting these requirements. The purpose of the program is to protect the city's good quality water.

The five steps to this program include: 1. Appointing a manager; 2. Identifying the land area to be protected; 3. identify potential sources of contamination with source identification; 4. manage those sources of contamination through Best Management Practices; and 5. plan for the future with Contingency Planning in case of emergencies, such as an oil spill in the area by a city well. The first four steps have been completed. A Contingency Plan is being written.

The Texas Rural Water Association, in conjunction with city employees, conducted an intensive review and survey of each municipal water well area. This included researching what existed in these areas previously, whether water/oil wells were properly plugged, what businesses or industry are close to the wells, what contaminants might be entering the water tables, etc. This survey was completed in late 1998. It took the state about nine months to complete evaluating and tabulating the information. Upon completion, the Texas Rural Water Association recognized the City of Muenster by awarding it a certificate implementing the Source Water Protection Program and by providing the city with the signs recently erected.

Since the City was an early participant, it received these services at no cost to the city. In the future, all public water systems may be required to complete this program and to fund the cost of this study.

The Muenster Water District is currently working with the Texas Rural Water Association so that a similar study and gathering of data is completed on the lake's property prior to completion of the dam. Hopefully, this will occur in the fall. Volunteers may be needed to help complete this study since it covers so much area. Once again, Muenster Water District is at the beginning of the program and should receive the study at no cost to the District. It will be a pilot program for surveying lakes, which will be mandatory within the next few years.

Large item trash pick-up on Thursdays

IESI, Inc. is the city's solid waste collector. The company will pick up large items, such as furniture, refrigerators, etc., on Thursdays each week. Items such as refrigerators and others which have freon, must have the freon removed and a certification tag/sticker placed on the item indicating the freon removal; otherwise, the item will not be picked up.

Jan. 29 banquet features Mary Lynn Seebeck

by Janet Felderhoff
Mary Lynn Seebeck, author of The American Dream Women, has agreed to be the featured speaker at the Muenster Chamber of Commerce's annual Installation banquet. The event is scheduled for Saturday Jan. 29. Happy Hour is from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. when the banquet begins.

Mary Lynn Seebeck

Seebeck has more than 35 years of experience in sales and marketing. Her book, American Dream Women - Insuring Women's Wealth, and her public speaking stress the importance of education. She emphasizes the need of establishing goals and learning to incorporate them into daily life.

Seebeck and her son and two daughters own and operate Seebeck & Associates in Fort Worth, an insurance practice. Many of her clients are women whom she helps to meet the challenges of taking control of their financial futures.

Within the insurance industry, Mrs. Seebeck is a Qualifying and Life member of the Million Dollar Round Table. Annually, she has achieved the National Quality Award, the National Sales Achievement Award, the Texas Leading Round Table, the Health Insurance Underwriters Award, as well as numerous awards from the companies whose products she represents. She was named 1997 Woman of the Year for the Tarrant County Women's Life Underwriters Confederation and nominated for the International Woman of the Year.

Active in community service, Mary focuses on active participation in the Fort Worth Women's Haven that provides intervention counseling and housing services to battered women and their children.

Tickets to the banquet are available by contacting the Chamber of Commerce at 759-2227.

Sales tax rebates increase for January 2000

A total of $197.2 million in monthly sales tax payments was sent to 1,105 Texas cities and 119 counties, a 20.3 percent increase compared to the $163.8 million paid in January 1999. January's sales tax rebates include local sales tax collected by monthly tax filers in November, and reported to the Comptroller in December.

Cooke County had $111,779.90 returned in sales tax rebates. That amount is up 21.81 percent from January 1999.

"This month's sales tax rebates are a good start to what could be another good year for the Texas economy," Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander said.

Texas cities received $181.4 million in January sales tax rebates, up 20.5 percent compared to January 1999. Texas counties received January sales tax rebates of $15.8 million, up 18.7 percent compared to one year ago.

Locally all sales tax rebates increased from January 1999. Muenster received $16,539.98, an increase of 32.15 percent from the amount received a year ago. Lindsay's $7,865.31 rebate showed an improvement of 53.97 percent. Gainesville's $264,587.05 rebate came up 11.80 percent from January 1999. Oak Ridge received $6,188.65, up 18.66 percent. Valley View had the greatest increase percent wise. The January 2000 rebate of $16,288.62 was up 456.61 percent from January 1999's rebate of $2,926.35.

Emma "Sis" Felderhoff lies Wednesday morning

Emma "Sis" Felderhoff died Wednesday morning, Jan. 19, 2000 at her home, following an illness of several months. Mass Christian Burial will be held Friday, Jan. 21 at 10:00 a.m. Sacred Heart Church, officiated by Father Sebastian Beshoner OSB. Preceding that, on Thursday a Rosary Service was scheduled at McCoy Funeral Chapel at 4:00 p.m. and Vigil at 7:00 p.m. The obituary and photo will be printed in next week's Muenster Enterprise.

NCTC offers late registration

Students have one final opportunity to enroll in spring 2000 classes at North Central Texas College during late registration from Jan. 18 to Jan. 24 at all campuses.

On Jan. 18, registration may be conducted at the Gainesville Corinth campuses from 9 a.m. to noon and 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. On Jan. 19 and 20, students may enroll at the Gainesville or Bowie campuses from 9 a.m. to noon or 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. On Jan. 21, registration will be handled at the Gainesville and Corinth campuses from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. On Jan. 22, students may roll at the Gainesville or Corinth campuses from 9 a.m. to noon and 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. NCTC is offering a full complement of academic transfer, technical programs and continuing education courses in an accommodating schedule.

Students should begin the registration process by making certain their file in the Admissions Office is complete and that records are not "on hold" for any reason. Students should verify that the Admissions Office has assigned a "major department" and supplied a "degree audit." Thereafter, an appointment should be made with an assigned advisor to obtain approval for classes.

To receive a schedule of classes or ask questions concerning admission requirement, contact the NCTC Registrar's Office at 940-668-7731 or view the entire schedule via the NCTC Website at www.nctc.cc.tx.us

Other students competing but not placing were Laura Drachenberg in Prose and Poetry, Greg Johnson in Spelling and Current Issues, and Chris McLaughlin in Computer Science.

Paty Lozoya and Jerry Eckart traveled with the students as sponsors.

Sacred Heart students are bringing history to life in the classroom by portraying famous individuals. Each historical person comes before an audience of students representing the American Press and are asked questions about their lives, their decisions, and their controversy. At right, Luke Endres plays the part of Crazy Horse. Above Sayaha Kavatohe is Emperor Meiji and, at right, Mother Cabrini is portrayed by Kristin Smith. Interviews will be opened to the community on Feb. 11 with Wyatt Earp and Hillary Clinton, and on Feb. 18 with Harry Truman and Bonnie Parker. Former SH student Jenny Endres introduced this unique learning technique.

Pat Fuhrmann, band parent, noted that most instruments are 20 years and more old and beyond feasible repair. "Band enriches our children's lives. The morale has improved - the kids are proud to be in band. We have a good band. We want to keep it and improve. Studies show band and music is a plus for students." Fuhrmann added. Dietz also noted that there could be a dozen senior class members in next year's band - a first in a long time. Other information items discussed included attendance data from the first semester. The average daily attendance (ADA) for the school was 476. The state, the Texas Education Agency, projected an ADA of 453 students, so the district should receive additional funds. Muenster ISD had an attendance of 98.17% the first half of the year. "Our ADA and other areas are looking good," Cooper concluded.

Bubble baths can cause infection

Bubbles in the bath water can make bath time fun, but parents should be careful. In most cases, a bubble bath is fun and harmless. Some girls with sensitive skin may develop problems from bubble soap.

Chemicals in bubble soap, such as those that provide color and scent, can irritate sensitive skin and sometimes lead to urinary-tract infections, say physicians. If your child develops red, irritated skin or experiences burning during urination, stop using bubble bath. If the burning or irritation continues after you've stopped using the soap, see a doctor.

When choosing bath products for your child, look for those that were specifically developed for children's sensitive skin, with a minimum of color or scent added. Save the bubble bath for a special treat instead of using it every night. Also make sure that the water isn't too hot for comfortable soaking. Test the water temperature yourself before letting your child in the tub. One more thing to look out for when using bubble bath: the slippery surface that can be caused by the soap. Help your child get in and out of the tub, and supervise your child when using bubble bath.

Green Tips

Fact: Insulation reduces the rate of heat flow, lowering a/c and heating costs. Adding 1" of insulation to an uninsulated wall can reduce heat loss (winter) or heat gain (summer) through that wall by 40-50%. Tip: Be sure that your ceiling is fully insulated. That is where most heat is lost. Adding insulation can save 3000Wh/yr, or $250. That will also keep 5000 pounds of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR KIDS FREE OF DRUGS.
Rule #1. Understand Why.
Almost always it's rebellion, alienation, despair, peer pressure or some combination. As a parent you can have a powerful effect on how your kids deal with these things. And whether they see drugs as an answer. One of the biggest deterrents is talking with your kids about drugs. To learn more, call for a free parent's handbook.
