MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1942

NUMBER 15

Mar. Roars In; Heaviest Snow In 16 Years

Roads Treacherous Accident East of Town Kills Soldier

Sunday, March 1, at Fort Leonard Wood, dawned as a dreary day, with a heavy fog enshrouding the hills and valleys; but some seventy Texas and Oklahoma men in this platoon are laughing up their sleeves. They're confined to quarters, so they don't particularly care what goes on outside.

Frank Felderhoff is the cause of it all. Pulling out with a case of mumps last Monday, he inspired the company commander to impose an even more rigid quarantine than the one already in effect. To date there have been no other cases and if none develop this week we'll be relieved of our comparative imprisonment next week—at least that's the report currently circulating. Of course a person never knows what's going to happen around here.

In a way we had a lucky break. Since the second quarantine had to come we're glad to have it along with the other. It doesn't make a great deal of difference except that we have to keep away from the rest of the company. What few privileges we've lost were not treasured very highly anyway. After the quarantine, however, it's going to be better. During the little spare time we have we'll be permitted to visit theatres, recreation centers, post exchanges and anywhere else in the camp, perhaps even to get passes off the post.

We did a lot of beefing about the quarantine the first week. For that matter, we still beef, but we can see the wisdom behind it now. Imagine what would happen if someone came in with a contagious disease and were permitted to scatter it helter-skelter among 40,000 men. An epidemic could run riot, a condition that would not harmonize at all with Uncle Sam's hurry-up program of training and physical development.

What I've been trying to find since coming here is some of that spare time that is supposed to be so plentiful in the service. From 6 to 6 a person is either jumping or standing ready to jump. There are intermissions, but a person never knows how long they will last—whether he has time to settle down to his personal affairs. From 6 until "lights out," 9 o'clock is theoretically a soldier's own, but too much of it is taken up with other duties as shaving, bathing, washing clothes, cleaning the rifle, and other attention to the equipment. We here can propose a new version for the old slogan "every day in the army is like Sunday on the farm." We'd say it's "like harvest time on the farm."

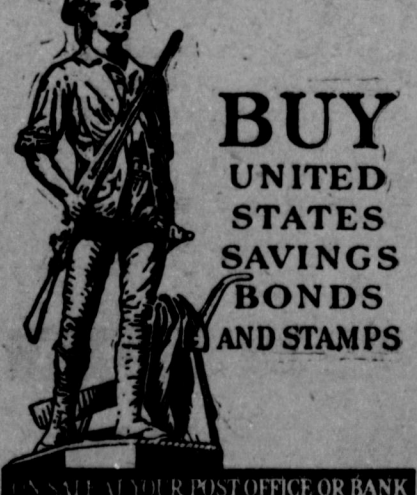

In addition to that we hear remarks about the possibility of reducing the basic training period, already cut from 13 to 8 weeks, down to six weeks. That will mean night and Sunday training. If we did not know from other sources that the war situation is serious, we'd have plenty reason to suspect it from what's happening to us.

Constant and meticulous care of the rifle is one requirement that gets plenty of emphasis around here. Remembering one's rifle number is as important as remembering his personal serial number. The gun must be in perfect condition at all times. And woe to him who fails to have it clean for an inspection, or who drops it at any time. Favorite penalty for the latter offense is to carry the shooting iron during the next two or three days. It soon becomes a monotonous companion.

Saturday we got our first taste of detailed barracks inspection—a regular Saturday feature from now on, so we're told. This means a thorough spring housecleaning for the whole place after which all equipment is displayed in exactly the proper arrangement on the bunk. As usual, it's got to please the critical eye of a discriminating officer. We Texans and Southerners forged ahead for a bit of glory in yesterday's affair. Our platoon

March came to Muenster with a flurry of snowflakes and citizens awoke to a white-world. The snow which began shortly after midnight Saturday continued throughout Sunday, sometimes taking on storm proportions. Visibility at times was cut to a minimum. Early morning churchgoers fought their way through blinding flakes. Thermometers stood at 34.

During the day the temperature rose to 42 degrees and a small portion of the snow melted as it fell, however, a freeze Sunday night permitted most of the snow to stay on the ground until noon Monday in spite of the sun and warmer weather. Patches of snow were still visible Wednesday morning.

This second snow of the winter is said to have been the heaviest in this vicinity since 1926. It measured from 6 to 8 inches. Trees, especially cedars, were broken by the cargo of snow that clung to the branches, and some were actually uprooted by the softening of the earth and the top-heavy limbs.

The entire local Rural Electric system was fouled for about two hours Sunday morning by the heavy deposit of wet snow on lines. Superintendent R. L. McNeely and his crew of linemen spent the entire day repairing breaks and tangles. Muenster itself had no serious accidents. No car wrecks in which local people were involved were reported, although several cars slid into ditches and needed wreckers to pull them out. Many tumblers were taken, by oldsters as well as youngsters, but no broken limbs were reported.

Accident on Highway On highway 82, about 4 miles east of the city, one soldier was killed and six others were injured when the car in which they were driving skidded on a stretch of icy pavement around one o'clock Monday a. m.

Sgt. Thomas Riley, 20, of Ardmore, Okla., stationed at Camp Barkley, Texas, was fatally injured and Pvt. William Spell, 21, of Ardmore, suffered a broken back. The other five occupants of the car, Sgt. Hershel Moore, Pvt. Kelly Brown, Pvt. Edward Elliott, Sgt. C. C. Gill and Sgt. Wilbur Cates, were treated at a Gainesville hospital, where the group was taken by ambulances, for cuts and bruises, but were released after treatment. Spell is still in the hospital. The boys were enroute to Camp Barkley after spending weekend leaves with their families at Ardmore.

The car they occupied suddenly skidded, struck a concrete culvert, then skidded across the highway to the other side, striking an embankment, but did not overturn.

Locally, snowball fighting became the pastime for dozens of youngsters and the building of snow-men, forts and walls was attacked with vigor and enjoyed during the day. Candid camera fans used rolls of films shooting scenery and action pictures.

Moisture derived from the snow was welcomed as of great value to farms and ranches. All winter grain, as well as pastures, will benefit from the snowfall and gradual thaw. Moisture was also valuable in loosening soil for the preparation soon to begin for spring planting. Vegetable crops also, were benefitted. The snow yielded approximately one inch precipitation.

J. G. ESTES WILL LECTURE HERE ON "SPRAYING" MAR. 13

J. G. Estes of Gainesville will address the Civic League and Garden Club on "What and When to Spray" at the meeting of that organization next Friday the 13th.

Mr. Estes is an authority on spraying and his message promises to be one of wide interest. This will be an open meeting and anyone interested in this subject is invited to attend, it was announced. The meeting is scheduled for 4 o'clock in the public school.

EGG PRICES FIXED

The Department of Agriculture has put a price of .25 cents per dozen on eggs to the farmers. This is a cash price, and any farmer who fails to receive this price should report same to the Cooke County USDA War Board.

As was stated in the education meeting held in Cooke county, the Government is guaranteeing prices to farmers on certain agriculture products. J. T. Biffle, Jr., chairman of the Cooke county USDA War Board announced this week.

Parochial Students Observe Texas Week With Patriotic Program

In observance of Texas Week pupils of the 8th grade parochial school presented a patriotic program in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for students, teachers and friends. The presentation was directed by Sister M. Lucy, grade school principal. The program opened with a song, "Texas, Our Texas," followed by an address, "Texas Declares Independence," by Theresa Pels, Alphonse Koester responded with Reasons For This Declaration, and the class gave the salute to the flag.

A song, "Have You Ever Been To Texas In The Spring?" was presented by Mary Nell Hennigan and Laura Lee Wilde, after which the Recorder Class played a group of patriotic selections. Lillian Wimmer gave the principal address of the program after which the three defense bonds purchased in connection with the parade and patriotic rally held recently were given to Father Frown to place in safekeeping for the new church building fund. Rev. Frown made a short acceptance address and complimented the class on its achievements. A hymn closed the program.

Florence Haverkamp announced the numbers on the program and Norbert Magee and Wilfred Bindel were bearers of the United States flag and the Texas flag, respectively. In her address, Miss Wimmer thanked all who had in any way contributed to the success of the rally, and expressed gratitude to friends who made possible the purchase of the bonds with their donations.

MUENSTER'S TOTAL IN BOOK CAMPAIGN IS 104 VOLUMES

Muenster's contribution in the Victory Book Drive totaled 104 volumes. Mrs. Jim Cook, chairman of the campaign, announced this week at the close of the drive. Saturday she took 23 books to the collection center in Gainesville; previously 81 volumes had been turned in.

Local response in this campaign was most generous. No total figures are yet available for the county, but last week Gainesville citizens had contributed 250 books. Mrs. Olna Boaz, county librarian and director of the campaign, disclosed. Most books donated are in good condition and will soon be on their way to camp libraries, army and navy recreation centers, marine posts, and in short, everywhere that there are armed forces.

Local Men Receive New Classifications

The Cooke county draft board has posted additional names of registrants under the selective service act who have been classified for military service.

Muenster men listed in the 1-A classification are: Frank Yosten, Werner Yosten, Charlie Wolf, Joe and Henry Fisher, Selby Fielder, Bill Knabe, Earl Fisher, Bobby Lutkenhaus, and Paul Wiseman. The latter a native of this community, moved with his parents to Pilot Point about a year ago.

Classified as 2-A are Pat Fisher and Louis B. Sicking and in 4-F are William Wolf, Ed Fautier and Edwin Luke.

MR. AND MRS. JACKSON MOVE TO MUENSTER

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Jackson moved to Muenster Tuesday from Fort Worth and are occupying the Weinzapfel rent house southeast of the parochial school.

Mr. Jackson began his duties at the Muenster State Bank this week. He replaces Earl Fisher, who left Wednesday to enlist in the Navy. Mrs. Jackson is the former Miss Dora Weinzapfel.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Eberhart is recovering this week from a serious illness of pneumonia.

Transportation Of Pupils Discussed In Open Meeting

RED CROSS SEWING GETS UNDER WAY TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Muenster's Red Cross sewing room in the REA office was humming with activity Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. G. H. Hellman, local branch leader, and members of the defense committee of the Civic League and Garden Club, cut 66 yards of plum colored woolen material into women's dresses.

These garments have been distributed to ladies of the community for completing and it was mentioned that the finished dresses be turned in on March 17. They are to be left at the home of Mrs. Jim Cook. Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Hellman will take them to the county Red Cross sewing room at Gainesville where they will be included with other garments and sent to war sufferers.

Local Group Favors Consolidation and a Small Tax Levy

Again community interest is strong in favor of public school improvement, including a consolidation with Linn, a school tax and the purchase of buses to transport both parochial and public school children to school.

At an open meeting sponsored by the school trustees in the parish hall Tuesday evening some seventy persons approved the proposals.

As explained during the meeting, with the levy of a 25 cent school tax, provided the consolidation with Linn passes, and with the per capita allotment, along with reserve money now on hand, at least three, and most likely four buses could be purchased.

It was stated that these buses, purchased on the annual payment plan, will liquidate in from 4 to 5 years and a new reserve will be set up. This, it was mentioned, will permit a lower tax, and the sliding clause will be included, whereby the tax can be reduced to 15 or even to 10 cents, when the buses are paid off and only actual operating expenses are required. It is not to exceed 25 cents at any time.

The bus proposition, at this time, is of outstanding interest, to local parents. With tire rationing, and with passenger cars completely excluded, the transportation of children to school is becoming a serious problem.

Buses can be secured it was stated. When frozen stocks are released, priority orders will be filled, and tires for such school buses are permitted under the rationing program.

Figures on cost and upkeep along with figures on per capita allotment, reserve fund and tax money were listed on a blackboard and showed that the program is not only possible but also advisable.

The public school with its five-teacher staff and its present buildings can easily accommodate the Linn students without additional improvements to buildings or the addition of more teachers.

Persons present at the meeting signed a petition to "set the ball rolling" and leaders of the movement are going ahead with the plans. After the required number of 20 qualified voters have signed the petition an election will be called by the County Judge.

It was also decided at the meeting that the Linn school house will be left to serve that vicinity as a community center for gatherings and church services as long as the residents of that sector want to use it, although, with consolidation it automatically becomes the property of the Muenster school district.

MRS. A. C. STELZER SERIOUSLY ILL IN SHERMAN HOSPITAL

Mrs. A. C. Stelzer is reported somewhat improved, but still gravely ill from a major operation performed at St. Vincent's hospital in Sherman last Friday morning. Due to a weakened condition, brought on by several weeks of illness, two blood transfusions were necessary. One was given immediately preceding the operation and the other after it.

Members of her family have been visiting at her bedside almost every day. Sunday her husband and little son, spent the day with her and on Tuesday her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Williams and family cheered her with a visit.

MRS. EVA TOWNSLEY IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Mrs. Eva G. Townsley, county treasurer, this week authorized the Enterprise to announce her candidacy for reelection, subject to the Democratic primary next July.

Mrs. Townsley is serving her first term as treasurer and has made a splendid record in administration of the duties of her office. Her formal announcement to the voters will appear in this paper at a future date.

Earl Fisher Enlists

Earl Fisher, son of Jos. Fisher, this week enlisted in the Navy and left Wednesday for Grand Prairie where he expects to be stationed for sometime. He is rated as a seaman first class. Fisher was a teller at the Muenster State Bank for the past five years.

RED CROSS SEWING GETS UNDER WAY TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Muenster's Red Cross sewing room in the REA office was humming with activity Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. G. H. Hellman, local branch leader, and members of the defense committee of the Civic League and Garden Club, cut 66 yards of plum colored woolen material into women's dresses.

These garments have been distributed to ladies of the community for completing and it was mentioned that the finished dresses be turned in on March 17. Winter Weather Delays Camp Shrubbery Shipment; To Try Again March 14

The shipment of shrubbery, scheduled to be sent to Sheppard Field for beautification of grounds, was delayed on account of the bad weather on February 26, and announcement was made this week by Mrs. Jim Cook, chairman of the defense committee of the Civic League and Garden Club, that if the weather permits local residents to dig up shrubs and bulbs, the shipment will be made on Saturday, March 14.

Mrs. Cook further stated that members of her committee are planning to make a house-to-house campaign similar to that employed in the Victory Book Drive, to collect plants from all persons in the city.

It was suggested that persons having seeds, shrubbery, bulbs or plants, get them ready this weekend and next week, and if convenient leave them at Mrs. Cook's home. If at all possible defense committee members will call at homes, and perhaps the service of a truck to pick up large amounts, will be available.

Garden Club members are asked to bring their donations to the meeting of the organization next Friday.

SUGAR RATIONING PLAN TIGHTENS; DATE DRAWS NEAR

The Office of Price Administration announced Saturday that sugar hoarders possessing more than two months supply would be denied sugar ration books until their stocks have been reduced to "normal" levels.

At the same time, it was disclosed that the regulations for sugar rationing would cover a four-day period, probably late in March, and would require the services of 1,400,000 registrars and the facilities of 245,000 public schools. Teachers will act as registrars, under supervision of local rationing boards.

Approximately 130,000,000 ration books will be issued, one for every man, woman and child in the United States, except members of the armed forces, inmates of institutions and persons temporarily or permanently in hospitals.

No book will be given to any person whose stock of sugar requires removal of more than eight ration stamps at the time of registration. OPA ruled. Each stamp will permit a citizen to buy one week's allotment—presumably 12 ounces although it has been reported that officials were considering reducing the weekly ration to eight ounces.

Thus, two months' supply probably would range from four to six pounds a person, depending upon the final decision as to the amount of the weekly allotment.

Officials added that the question of what would be considered a "normal" supply had not yet been determined. It will represent, they said, a "fair supply that the average family might be expected to have on hand, but will be less than a hoarder might have accumulated."

Some OPA sources indicated that two pounds a person might be the "normal" figure.

OPA said that persons unable to obtain ration books at the initial registration could obtain them later at local rationing boards. However, local boards will not accept late applications for at least two weeks after the close of registration.

Valley View Newspaper Changes Hands This Week

The Valley View Beacon, a weekly newspaper published in Valley View by Marge Anderson for the past several years, was this week bought by A. E. Herrman, publisher of the Gainesville Free Press.

Commencement Speaker:
The graduates greatly rejoiced over the glad news that came to them at the end of last week, when Father Frowin, our former Assistant at Sacred Heart Church, accepted their invitation to deliver the Commencement Address at their graduation exercises on the first of May. He accepted with the understanding that the graduation exercises will be held on May the first, for he is very busy arranging for the Golden Jubilee of Windthorst which will be celebrated during the first part of May. We thank you most sincerely for your acceptance, Father Frowin, for we realize how precious those days will be to you. Hence we shall value your sacrifice all the more, and feel all the more privileged to have you as our speaker. We also extend our very best wishes for the success in carrying out the grand celebration which you have undertaken.

Cameras Click:
Many cameras have been clicking during the last few days. More pictures have been made for snap shot parties. With the snow men and the snow women (?) there should be a nice supply of them if all turn out well. Over the week-end we received our pictures from the Breeding Studio. Some remarks about them are as follows: Celia is tickled about something. Rose looks as if she is ignoring some bright remark. Florene doesn't look as intelligent as she usually does. Harold Luke looks as if he is the most handsome Junior boy on the campus. (?) The one and only. Werner seems to know that the school selected him at "the handsome."

Rose Marie wonders which one of hers looks better, the first sitting or the second. Marie Felderhoff looks "swell" in her new hair set. Evelyn is her pretty self. Leo Felderhoff looks as if he has just made a bright remark. Frank Hennigan seems to muse about something. Geneva shows all of her beauty, and Johann and Imelda show their studiousness. Every remark by every other student seems to be, "Your picture is the best ever. Wish mine were as good as yours."

Snow:
Sunday gave pleasure to most of the students for it had snowed during the preceding night and most of the day. Monday brought the pupils thundering out of doors, kicking the snow which inspired them to make snow balls. At recess all thought of fighting, but not in the way the Japs are doing it. This fight gave pleasure to everyone, particularly to the boys who stood at guard and whoever ventured out of doors received a volley of snow.

MUENSTER PUBLIC SCHOOL

Edited this week by Billye Roberson - Anselma Pagel
This week we begin our news with a poem. This poem was written by Patricia Essel a pupil of the fourth grade English class. In Spring the robin comes out. You also hear the children shout. The old swimming hole is now open. The tulips are red and open. Everything smells sweet and new. I love Spring, I hope you like it too.

Sometimes we all wish we belonged to the Health Club. Especially on the days like last Friday. The losing side entertained the winning side with a party from 4:00 to 4:30. They served doughnuts, rolls and soda pop. Both sides worked hard to keep up with the standards of the Club but were well rewarded for their efforts.

Our fourth six-weeks has just ended and we can breathe freely again. We have started on our fifth six-weeks and all have the idea of working harder. After all there won't be any more six weeks.

No one realizes this more than the seniors, Anselma Pagel, Billye Roberson and Jack Hoehn. Already they have set the date for their graduation which will be May 5. It will be held in the Parish Hall. A patriotic theme is in mind for the program. What seems to be worrying them most is who is to be Valedictorian and Salutatorian.

Several of the students have enrolled in the Red Cross First Aid Course that is being held at the Parochial School.

WE WONDER WHY??
Miss Bradshaw was walking on air this week.

Joe Cason is always staying in the ninth grade home room.

Bert has to beg the boys to match pennies with him.

LaVeta is so interested in the senior class — we know it isn't the girls.

Arnold always talks so much. Emmett spent the week-end in Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bayer announce the birth of a son, Charles Joseph, Sunday, March 1. The little lad was baptised the following day by Father Frowin, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid as sponsors.

Members of the Catholic Daughters of America wish to remind local citizens that the campaign for waste paper and rags is still in progress and ask that these articles be left at the car shed at the residence of Mrs. Frank Seyler. It is the building just west of the house.

Due to the very inclement weather last Sunday the baptismal service for the local Baptist church was not held. Present plans are to have the service next Sunday, it was announced. Rev. J. C. Neaves, pastor, will conduct the rites at the First Baptist church in Saint Jo.

YOUNG LADIES SODALITY HAS MEETING MONDAY

At the close a Question Box conducted by Father Richard was enjoyed. Due to the bad weather and limited attendance the speakers of the evening were not presented. was the best in the company, and says the commanding officer, our barracks has consistently been the most orderly.

There will be similar inspections out in the field. After gathering all the equipment—in a hurry, as usual—we march out, pitch the pup tent and spread the rest of the pack's contents on a blanket. Then re-pack and get going again. At first it's slow and confusing, but after several repetitions the whole thing is fairly snappy. All of which helps explain why soldiers can get set and be on the march in a very short time.

The past week also gave us a few other ideas of what goes on during the basic training period. We were introduced to an array of tools, including full engineer's equipment, carpenter and blacksmith tools, blasting equipment, axes, shovels, picks, brush knives and what not. We learned how to make our own block and tackle and to tie a variety of knots that will be used in our rope work. Army engineers learn a lot of things besides firing a rifle.

Con feels a new glow of community pride, one that no doubt is being shared by all the other home town fellows in the service, with the arrival of every issue of the Enterprise. Definitely Muenster is doing all right in a patriotic way. Considering its per capita representation in uniform, the commendable spirit of the school children and civic organizations, the generous response to Red Cross and Defense Bond Drives, the scrap metal drives and what not, the community is setting a pace that few will be able to equal. If the rest of the nation were in this thing as wholeheartedly as Muenster is, there would be little room for doubt that we'll see it through in '42. As it is, well, we hope the President's speech will help awaken the country to a realization that every moment, every dollar, and every ounce of energy is precious, even essential to our survival.

I feel compelled to explain that I had nothing whatever to do with the editorial that appeared in last week's edition. Apparently some friends interpreted it as my personal plea for more mail. I received the paper at noon and at the next mail call, that evening, was showered with two bundles of newspapers, three post cards and a letter. No doubt it was a coincidence, but nevertheless I contend that the Enterprise editorial columns, like its advertising, gets results. This is no less remarkable than the several cases in which I recall getting results on lost, found or for sale ads before the edition went to press.

Outstanding for their patriotism as proved in their generous contribution to the cause of Defense are Weldon Bezner, Emilia Hermes, Florence Zimmerer, Agnes Zimmerer, Lucille Fuhrmann, Gertrude Bengfort, Georgia Spaeth, Elizabeth Kuntz, Marie Schmidkofer and Robert Bezner.

In observance of Texas Independence Day the entire student body participated in the assembly program of Texas and patriotic songs.
