Mr. and Miss Sacred Heart High School Jeff Hartman and Dana Miller. Dave Fette Photo

Sacred Heart High School's Annual Senior Awards Banquet, held at the Center Restaurant on Monday evening, May 14, was attended by parents family and friends with the Seniors. Nicholas Taylor, Senior class president, welcomed everyone in attendance. The Invocation was given by Jessica Koesler, Senior class vice-president.

After the dinner, Dana Miller, Senior secretary, introduced Dr. Jack Murdock who served as Master of Ceremonies and Presenter. The Valedictorian award was presented to Jackie Bartush and the Salutatorian award was presented to Keith Felderhoff.

Debbie Pounds presented the North Central Texas College Foundation Scholarships to Holly Hartman and Chris Smith. The Muenster State Bank Scholarship was presented by Shellie Hoedebeck to Nicholas Taylor. Michael Miller received the Gainesville Area Visual Arts Scholarship, presented by Retha Bond. Miller also was presented the Kiwanis Scholarship by Barbara Rohmer. The Walterscheid Scholarship was presented to Travis Fuhrmann.

Jackie Bartush received scholarships to University of Dallas, O'Hara Chemical Science Institute, Rhodes College, Austin College, and Trinity University. Melanie Bartush received a scholarship award from the University of Dallas. Grace Cochran received a scholarship award from the University of Dallas. Diane Becker received a scholarship from Baylor University.

Jeff Hartman and Nicholas Taylor received Texas A&M Corps of Cadets Scholarships. Jessica Koesler received a scholarship from Midwestern State University. Dana Miller was recipient of the University of Dallas Scholarship. Michael Miller received a scholarship from Berea College, Kentucky. Kendal Sellers received a Texas A & M Commerce Scholarship.

Class awards presented were: Accounting, Diane Becker; Advanced Biology, Jackie Bartush; Advanced Math, Keith Felderhoff; Art II, Michael Miller; Civics, Nicholas Taylor; Computer Science II, Travis Bayer, Charlie Moster; Economics, Keith Felderhoff; Spanish II, Jackie Bartush; English IV, Jackie Bartush; Family and Consumer Science II, Kendal Sellers; Life Skills, Dana Miller; Musical Theater, Jessica Koesler; Physics, Keith Felderhoff; Psychology, Melanie Bartush; Religion IV, Melanie Bartush; St. Cecilia Award, Jackie Bartush, Diane Becker; World History, Keith Felderhoff.

Jackie Bartush received the Texas Association of Secondary School Principals (TASSP) All State-Academic Excellence Commended Scholar Award. Dana Miller was named a TASSP All State-Teens Serving Texas Finalist.

Citizen Bee Awards went to Keith Felderhoff, 1st and Nicholas Taylor 3rd. Senior Password Champions were Melanie Bartush and Grace Cochran.

Dr. Murdock presented certificates to class officers: Nicholas Taylor, president; Jessica Koesler, vice president; Dana Miller, secretary; and Keith Felderhoff, treasurer.

One of the highlights of the evening was the announcement of Mr. and Miss Sacred Heart. The honors went to Jeff Hartman and Dana Miller.

After the awards were given, a "Remember When" video was viewed by all in attendance.

The banquet was closed with benediction by Keith Felderhoff, Senior treasurer.

MHS students are state champs

Muenster High School students brought home eight gold medals from the state academic meet held May 3-5. Chris Jackson brought home four gold medals, two individual medals and two team medals. Chris is the State Champion two years in a row in both Number Sense and Computer Science.

In Number Sense, Chris, Bronya Vogel, and Brett Howell dominated the competition by outscoring their opponents by a 2-1 margin. Bronya missed a medal by placing seventh in the final standings, while Bret placed ninth. Their hours of preparation and practice meets paid off with the championship and the gold.

The Computer Science team of Chris, Pamela Lutkenhaus, and Brett Howell also won the team championship and gold medals. Individually Chris was first, Pamela was sixth, and Brett was ninth. Computer Science is a two-part contest, with the programming part held on Friday evening, and the written portion of the contest on Saturday. The team had a small lead after the Friday night competition, but pulled away to a more comfortable lead after the written part.

The Mathematics team missed taking the championship by less than one problem. Team members Bronya Vogel, Chris Jackson, and Pamela Lutkenhaus received the silver medal for their efforts, with Chris placing fourth individually.

The Spelling team of Kacie Garcia, Kelly Grewing, and Ashley Hess lost in a heart breaker, coming in third place. They missed second place team by one word and first place by four words out of 300. Kacie had the best score of the three with a 93, which brought her fourth place. She was only two words out of being the state champion in the tight contest. Kelly Grewing also had a 93, but

County debates fate of its radio tower

by Janet Felderhoff

Several options were considered at the May 14 Commissioners Court meeting regarding the county's radio tower. Commissioner Phil Young said, "Anywhere east of CR 371 back in that area we get poor reception on our pagers to the point where you have to call in to the Sheriff's office." He played a tape of an undecipherable message being sent. Lake Kiowa Fire Department added that their pager messages are similar.

Young suggested moving the tower to a location other than the county "Poor Farm" where it now stands. It was remarked that such a move would cause problems for responders in other parts of the county.

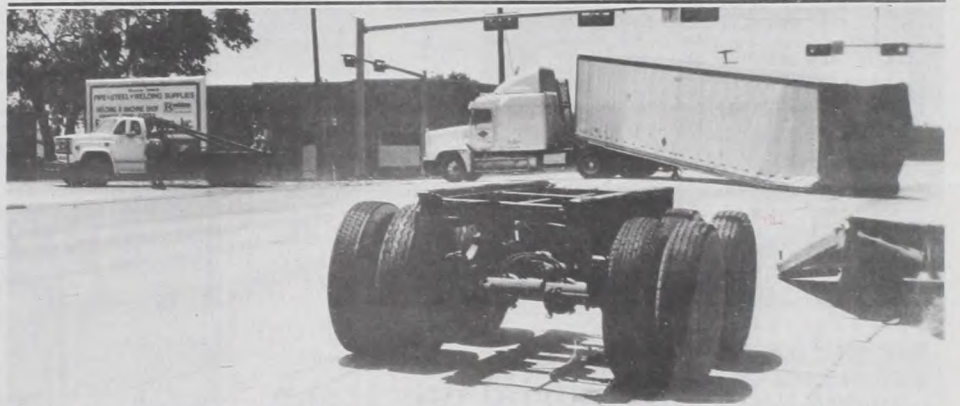

The ground elevation of the tower is currently 709 feet. Young said that EMS director Bob Harbin had located a place north of CR 123 to move the tower. Its elevation is 934 feet. "That would get our tower up high enough that we would get good reception over the whole area," Young speculated. According to Harbin, the tower if moved would be 4.2 miles as the crow flies farther east.

Precinct #4 and #3 Commissioners Virgil Hess and Jerry Lewis said that the west end of the county wouldn't get good reception then. They were concerned about the ability of the county radios to communicate. Young said his crew has problems in the Walnut Bend and Dexter areas. Hess said he already has problems in the Sivells Bend area and Lewis had problems in the Rosston area. Moving the tower further east would make it worse.

Harbin said that according to Richard Self of the radio company, moving the tower would help

Monday morning, a westbound truck lost his back eight wheels when he attempted to come to a stop at the red light at Highway 82 and Main Street. Apparently, the eight axles came unpinned from the trailer when the rear brakes locked in. The trailer dropped to the pavement, yanking off the rear doors. There were no injuries and no other vehicles were involved. Pictured above, Flusche Enterprise assists in pulling the crippled trailer from the highway.

Knights set new record ...

Lindsay wins state UIL

In their first year back at the class 1A level of competition, Lindsay High School students won the school's seventh State Academic UIL title with 187 points, the highest point total ever, setting a new state record. The previous record was set in 1994, by Lindsay, with 183 points. In the last ten years, Lindsay has won seven state championships and three second place titles.

"The consistency is really something that makes us proud. To have that many titles is quite an accomplishment," Craig Hertel, Academic Coordinator, said. "When you add these state titles to an 11 year streak of also winning both district and regional sweeps, it becomes even more impressive."

Individuals placing at State were Melanie Brown, sixth place in Feature Writing. Megan Ward took the state champion title with a first place in Editorial Writing. Brent Connett took third in both LD Debate and Informative Speaking.

Tommy Arendt is the state champion in Current Events and Nabeel Anwar took third. Arendt, Anwar and Joey Arendt, also placed first as a team.

Faith Skinner took third in Literary Criticism, with Courtney Miller taking fourth and the team earning second overall. Michael Kendall received fifth place in Number Sense. Michael Almon won second in Computer Science and the team including Kendall, Almon and Cathy Lusk, took second overall.

"We also like the fact that we're able to do well in so many areas," Hertel said. "Most schools only have state competition in one or two events each year. We generally have contestants in 10 or 12 events. Over the years, we've had someone make it to state in every event UIL has."

The One-Act Play "Blessed Affliction" was honored as third place. Rachel Lively and Alex Haayen were named All-Star Cast, while Mary Eberhart earned a place on the Honorable Mention All-Star Cast.

"This is a great year to end my senior year," cast member Maggie Luttmr said, noting she was very proud of the students accomplishments."

Koesler acts, directs, embarks on theater major

by Vince Bonin

When the Sacred Heart Musical Theater department performs Guys and Dolls with live orchestra at the State Theater Thursday, May 17 and Friday, May 18, audiences familiar with the show will notice a surprise: Big Jule is a broad!

That's right - a dressed-in-black, cigar-smokin', crazy-about-crap-shootin' woman!

of the transgendering when the part she was cast in did not offer enough challenge and excitement. First she cried. Then she thought and discussed the situation with her parents. Considering her plans to pursue a theater degree, she grew resolute: her senior year role must be something special.

"We had studied Bonnie and Clyde in history," Koesler said. "I proposed the idea to my teacher Mrs. (Pam) Fette that Big Jule would be a tough female like Bonnie."

Tough and threatening. As a classy-looking lady, Big Jule strikes a dazzling appearance in a black, halter-top dress over fishnet hose and black pumps. On top is a mink coat. When she wants to evince her power to her crap-shootin' partners, she pulls the mink back to reveal a Bonnie-style waist weapon.

The comedy continues as a lady gets the best of a bunch of men - only for a short time, though. As with all the classic musical comedies of its era, goodness prevails over meanness, and the boy gets the girl - in the case of Guys and Dolls two men get two women!

However, Koesler's character is not one of those pairs. Supporters of the Equal Rights Amendment will probably think her character takes a winning show - 15 Tony Awards combined for the original 1950s run on Broadway and the 1992 revival - and improves it! In this otherwise benign musical comedy that deals with the reception. He remarked that the tower is in good shape and could have another 50 feet added to its height. It would require adding two more guy wires.

Moving the tower is estimated to cost $10,000. There would be no charge for the tower at the proposed location and a 99-year lease is offered. To add another 50 feet to the tower would add $300 to the $10,000. Adding the 50 feet at the present location is estimated to cost $3,000.

Judge Harris appointed Lewis, Young, and Harbin to a committee to study the options and bring more information before a decision is made.

No decision was made as to whether the county will spend an estimated $25,000 to clean up about two acres owned by George Elkins in Precinct #1. Elkins has been told to clean up the property since 1994. The county health officer declared it a health hazard. "The neighbors there are putting up with rats and wild animals and everything else that comes out of there," Young noted.

Elkins promised Commissioners Court on a previous occasion that he was putting up a building to hold all of the things now stored on the property. That was several months ago and little progress was made.

"I've got documents that go from '94 up to right now where they've asked him to clean it up, but he's continuously added to and added to," said Young. "You go out there any time early in the morning and the rat traffic across the road is unbelievable."

Young estimated that about 30 dumpsters (40 yard) at a cost of $450 would be required to dispose of the items cluttering the property. A lien would be placed on the property, but the property isn't near the value of the clean-up expense.

Elkins will be asked to appear at the next Commissioners Court to speak before a decision is made.

In other business addressed at the May 14 meeting Commissioners Court:

- Approved request by KW Construction to install a fresh water line across Woodbine Estates Road in Precinct #1.
- Adopted a resolution to support the Texas Heritage Trails Program.

A change in hours was approved for the Veterans Service office. Times will now be 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Monday through Thursday and from 8 a.m. to noon on Fridays.

Approved $3,495.00 to Juvenile Probation office for placement of resident juvenile offenders.

Tabled decision on Relay For Life team to raffle tickets to county employees for a day of work.

Instructed County Treasurer Judy Hunter and auditor Gloria Parrish to review bids for the depository contract so a decision can be made at the next meeting.

Accepted a warranty deed on CR 2114 (Spindle Lane).

Tabled accepting a deed from Ira Shoppa, et al, for a county road. The road isn't completed.

City Council meets

by Dave Fette

Muenster's City Council met last Tuesday, May 8, to canvass the ballots of the May 5 general election. They confirmed that Mayor Henry Weinzapfel would stay in office as reported in last week's issue. Following is a short report on the rest of the regular monthly meeting which occurred after the regular newspaper deadline.

The tax abatement agreement with Universal Machining Services, Inc. was adjusted in its language to include personal business property only. The abatement request from Klement Ford was tabled for further work on the agreement.

The Council approved a loan agreement with Muenster State Bank for $34,500 which will be used by the Muenster Historical Commission to order a re-printing of 1,000 Muenster History books.

Jill Hess was hired as swimming pool manager for the 2001 season. She received approval to hire lifeguards subject to approval of the Park Board Commissioner.

Urban Endres requested that the Council consider selling the alleyway through property located along First Street if the Postal Service chooses to purchase the property. No commitment was made, but the Council said any agreement would be subject to the disposition of utility lines in the right of way.

Police Chief Bob Stovall reported that the police are studying ways to slow traffic on Highway 82 especially near the entry to the new Sonic Drive-In.

Monthly bills totaling $68,848.31 were approved for payment.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

A few weeks ago I wrote of a spotted pony I rode almost daily during wet and inclement weather.

The roads back then were mostly unimproved, especially the smaller county roads that branched off old Highway 5, which, at that time was the main road running from east to west.

"Paint Pot," or "Paint" as we called the pony, was a very pretty mare. With her multi-colored coat of white spots intermingled with bay and white spattered areas, her flaxen tail and mane, pink nose and one eye, she struck a pretty picture.

The pony had overcome her bad habit of throwing herself, doing a roll over, and had developed into a real dependable using horse.

As I rode near where Wayne Klement later built his home, I saw three men sitting in, and standing around a car parked on the roadside.

I soon discovered the three were indulging in a few nips of "rot-gut likker" and as I approached they all stepped out to admire my pony, and to pet her.

Two of the men, although talkative and friendly, soon went back to their car, one sat on the seat, the other on the right front fender. The third, the one who had really more of the "likker" than he could handle, was talking to the pony, and petting her.

I soon noticed he had begun to relieve his bladder, on the pony's left front leg.

Well, this didn't set too well with me or the mare, and she moved her head suddenly to the left, striking the offending man full in the face.

As he went reeling and staggering to the side, he began spewing profanity toward the pony and wiping at his bloody nose, the two at the car doubled over with laughter as one said, "Why are you cussin' the pony? You wouldn't let her do that to you!"

As Paint and I moved away I was laughing on the inside, and I believe she was too. In fact, I think if the pony could have, she would have let out a great big horse laugh.

Technology camps highlight fun, learning

Five innovative technology camps aimed at presenting opportunities for youths to combine crucial math and science skills with technology will be conducted this summer at North Central Texas College.

Through the National Science Foundation, the classes are designed for students ages 12 to 17. The Technology Camp classes are sponsored by the Advancing Careers in Technology and Science (ACTS) grant.

Lego DaCTa Intelligence House/Control Lab: Back by popular demand. It combines technology and robotics to introduce students to computer control concepts.

Gainesville Class is 1-3:30 p.m. during July 9-13.

Muenster senior citizens nominated for Keep Texas Beautiful award

There are a minimum of 60 Muenster Senior Citizens who actively participate in Keep Muenster Beautiful activities and support the organization. Keep Muenster Beautiful (KMB) nominated the Muenster Senior Citizens as an organized group for a special Keep Texas Beautiful (KTB) O. P. Schnabel award.

KMB is supported by everyone from the founding family of the community to the local politicians. We like to have "teams" participate in our cleanups and Juanita Bright put together the GOLDEN OLDIES. The GOLDEN OLDIES show up at every cleanup with their sign so everyone can see their team spirit. Not only do they help with the cleanup on cleanup days, they are a take-charge kind of group. Participants of the GOLDEN OLDIES include David and Juanita Bright, Arthur and Evelyn Felderhoff, Leroy and Dorothy Yosten, Betty Flusche, Jane Endres, Dr. Martin and Betty Kralicke, Ray and Marcie Wilde, L. B. and Loree Bruns, Adeline Sicking, Lucille Hess, Cecilia Wimmer and Loretta Wimmer.

Juanita also organized a group to W. A. L. T. Z. (waste away litter to zero) across Muenster. When this group takes their walks, they carry plastic bags and pick up litter as they go. Of course, they have very little to pick up these days.

The crime:

Intentionally dumping used motor oil

The punishment: It is a Special Felony in Texas (5 years in prison + $50,000) to dump any amount of used motor oil into water or onto the ground. Second

The reason: One reason the punishment is so high is that just one quart of used motor oil can contaminate a quarter million gallons of water.

Most people agree that pouring used motor oil into the local water supply would be a destructive act. Yet, many people still think there is nothing wrong with dumping dirty motor oil in a ditch or a weedy patch behind their garage. Rain creates runoff from virtually any place used motor oil might be dumped and contaminated runoff is one of the greatest causes of water pollution today.

Unfortunately, most people who do not recycle used motor oil get rid of it by pouring it down drains and sewers, dumping it on the ground, or putting it in trash cans. All of these methods are illegal.

The solution: For people who change their own motor oil, the only legal way to dispose of the dirty oil is to place it in a clean, leak-proof container with a tight lid, such as an empty milk jug. It should never be mixed with antifreeze, solvents, bleach, or other substances. The used oil should then be taken to a registered collection center. Most quick lube service centers, such as Jiffy Lube, Quick Lube, Wal-mart Tire and Lube Express, and Auto Zone, accept used motor oil for recycling.

To obtain the location of the nearest used oil collection center, or for more information, call 1-800-CLEANUP.

differences between men and women, Big Jule emerges as a symbol of the modern, independent woman who is interested in something other than becoming a "Mrs."

Look Out, World!

Audiences familiar with Jessica Koesler's acting, many of whom know her personally in Muenster, have been witnessing the consistently evolving precision for depicting characters. To that end, after Muenster Independent School Counselor Emily Klement saw her performance as Mama last year, she urged Koesler to pursue a theater degree, if not, then maintain involvement as a hobby.

Fortunately for the future of the Sacred Heart Musical Theater program, which currently represents to Koesler the highest peak in the school's history, a significant scholarship was awarded. In the fall she will enroll as a theater major at Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls.

Her stage acting growth has been fed by English literature classes, which teach the basics of interpreting characters, and interscholastic league contests in duet acting, monologue, poetry, Ready Writing and Choir. Besides acting at Sacred Heart, Koesler has also achieved excellence as a costumer. For Guys and Dolls, dazzling red gowns worn by the Hot Box Dancers at the beginning of Act II represent her sewing, credit for instruction going to her mother and her home economics teacher Mrs. Linda Ellender.

Also this year, Koesler has served as student director. In the Fall melodrama, Dogsbreath Devereaux, performed as a dinner theater, she accepted teacher Pamela Fette's encouragement to direct, in addition to portraying the crotchety Nurse Hatchet. "I was surprised when she asked me. I thought about it and told her I really did not have the time. She told me she believed I could do it, and that she would be there to support me," the auburn hair, wide-eyed future theater major said.

"Something new!" Koesler exclaimed as she reflected on multi-level blessings months later: first time in her high school years to perform a play in the fall, first time to stage a dinner theater, first time students had the opportunity to be in charge!

For Guys and Dolls when the director Debbie Endres needed to step down for health reasons, she looked Koesler in the eye and said, "I know you can do it."

Several students have complimented her firmness and fairness as she handled both positions of actor and director. She responds with a lesson learned from doing: "I tell the actors 'You must do your part. Everyone must be willing to be a fool.'"

Roots in the Theater

Koesler's maternal grandfather, just released from the hospital for open heart surgery in Tennessee, drove at a slow pace to get here for some Muenster performances of Guys and Dolls recently. The kinship spurred him; more importantly, the thespian connection drove him! He has performed bit roles in movies and videos, including The Coal Miner's Daughter and the Reba McEntire video for "The Night the Lights Went Out in Georgia." She fondly recalls his affirmation: "I'll get my agent to find you parts!"

Koesler's immediate family factors into her theatrical direction. Brother Tony, a freshman, portrays Bennie Southstreet, with whom she has practiced lines. Also, in the 1970s, Koesler's father Chuck performed in several shows directed by Thomas Moster at Sacred Heart School.

Auspicious Moments

Jessica Koesler feels proud of her school for capitalizing on low material resources and high faith to take the show on the road to the State Theater. Her excitement perhaps matches the adrenaline rush she felt on the last performance of Fiddler on the Roof two years ago, for her teacher told her she finally captured the character!

Another exciting thought is generated when she thinks about her place of higher education. When she auditioned for the scholarship, Koesler saw Midwestern theater students perform Shakespeare's Macbeth. A symbolic dropping of crimson drapes occurred every time a character died; then the drapes rose when Macbeth died. Recently she took some school friends to see some Midwestern State student-written one-acts. "The range of subject matter is wider at college," she said with a smile.

A "big jewel" to her classmates and teachers, this "Big Jule" is ready to surprise and delight you. Guys and Dolls will be presented at 7 p.m. Thursday and Friday nights. Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for students.

TO CLARIFY THE ISSUE

There was still confusion after last week's letter to the editor from MMH Administrator Jack Endres and my response. The point Mr. Endres wanted to make clear was that the MMH District is not debt free. He never stated that the district was debt free and this I do not dispute. In the quote in question he said that the hospital, not the district, was (relatively) debt free. Financial stats on the hospital are kept separate from those of St. Richard's, for instance. These are reported at each meeting and I have a copy of the audited report for fiscal year July 1, 1999 to June 30, 2000. Anyone who wishes to see the figures is welcome to stop by the Enterprise and do so.

Black, Harendt exchange vows April 13

Donna Faye Black, daughter of Bill and Rose Black of Myra and Aaron Heath Harendt, son of Herman and Cindy Harendt of Woodbine, were married on Apr. 13, 2001 at Grand Ave. Baptist Church in Gainesville where the couple are both members. Dr. Lawrence Dee Burks of Grand Avenue Baptist officiated at 7:00 p.m.

The bride wore a formal white satin gown designed with round neckline, and cap sleeves and bodice covered with lace and beads. The full skirt swept into an elegant train edged with layers of lace appliques. Her four-tiered tulle veil was knee-length. She carried a cascading bridal bouquet of white roses.

Maid of honor was Jennifer Black of Myra, bride's sister. Bridesmaids were Connie Woolf of Bowie, bride's sister; Joy Black of Krugerville, bride's sister-in-law; Krista Kerekgyarto of Gainesville, groom's sister; and Marcie Harendt of Lake Jackson, groom's sister-in-law. They wore formal, pastel sky blue, satin, sleeveless full length gowns and carried cascading bouquets of dark blue flowers and silver leaves.

The flower girl was Hannah Woolf of Bowie, niece of the bride. She wore a long, white dress designed similar to the bride's. Ring bearer was Steven Kerekgyarto of Gainesville, groom's nephew.

Chris Moss of Woodbine, friend of the groom was best man; and Aaron Puckett of Gainesville, a friend, Michael Harendt of Lake Jackson, groom's brother, Jason Harendt of Woodbine, groom's brother and James Kerekgyarto of Gainesville, groom's brother-in-law were groomsmen.

Ushers were Jason Black of Flower Mound and Aaron Krebs of Lindsay, both cousins of the bride. Candlelighters were Derrick and Trevor Dickerson of Gainesville, both cousins of the groom.

Wedding music was presented by Wilbur Matthews of Mansfield, uncle of the bride, on the piano; selections included "Love Of A Lifetime" by Firehouse; "We Ask God's Blessing" by Faye Skeans; and "Without You" by Montley Crue.

The church was decorated with ice blue and silver flowers made by Faye Skeans of Houma, Louisiana, bride's aunt. Mrs. Skeans also made flowers for the reception. Pew markers were made of tulle and flowers.

A reception followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall of Gainesville where Kenyon Kemp's DJ Service provided entertainment. Guests were served a bountiful buffet of assorted pick up foods. The wedding cake was served by Terry Krebs of Lindsay, bride's aunt, Wanda Fleitman of Gainesville, groom's aunt, Becky Dickerson of Gainesville, groom's aunt, and Kim Huckaby of Myra, bride's cousin. Gift from the bride's parents to the couple, was a week long wedding trip to Negril, Jamaica. The couple now resides in Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Harendt ... nee Donna Faye Black ...

Two-part Alzheimer's caregiver clinic offered

A two part caregiver clinic is scheduled for two upcoming Wednesday mornings, May 23 & May 30. The clinic is specifically designed for caregivers of Alzheimer's patients or those with other forms of dementia.

Included will be: Communication Tips - Do's & Don'ts, Safety, Caregiver Stress, Diagnosis & Treatment, and Dealing With Difficult Behavioral Problems.

Nora Habal, Caregiver Specialist of the Area Agency on Aging of Texoma and another representative from the Dallas Alzheimer's Chapter will be presenting the 9-12 a.m. training each day. For more information, call Nora at 903-813-3506.

Dr. Sandra Thull with Assured Behavioral Health of Dallas was a recent speaker in Gainesville on the Emotional Impact of Alzheimer's Disease. She pointed out that caring for a loved one who is chronically ill is one of life's most demanding tasks. Caregivers owe it to themselves, as well as to the person they are caring for, to recognize and care for their own needs also.

Dr. Thull referred to 6 major needs caregivers have. They are: the need to understand and accept the nature of the illness; the need to accept outside help, for both my physical and emotional needs; the need to recognize and share my feelings, including grief; the need to enjoy good times, both with and apart from the person cared for; the need to know my limits and to include them in planning for long-term care; and the need to identify resources, support services, information services and physical help.

Thomas and Jackie Baker of Tyler are happy to announce the engagement of their daughter, Kristen Baker, to William Bartush, son of William and Darlene Bartush of Tyler. The wedding is planned for June 16, 2001, at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Tyler. The bride-elect is a 1998 graduate of Robert E. Lee High School, Tyler, and currently attends Tyler Junior College, majoring in Business Administration. Mr. Bartush is a 1997 graduate of Bishop T.K. Gorman High School, Tyler. He is pursuing a degree in Architecture, and will earn an Associates Degree in Drafting from Tyler Junior College next fall. He is employed with the firm of Sinclair & Wright Architects. The couple will reside in Tyler.

First Communion celebrations

First Holy Communion Day, memorable in itself, is a milestone in the lives of children or adults. Many families mark the day, additionally, with reunions, special dinners, gatherings of kith and kin, sometimes including several generations, or planning a special event for a later day.

JESSICA KRAHL
Jessica Marie Krahl, daughter of David and Judy Krahl, and her family were guests of Randy and Linda Wimmer and their daughter Angela, when both girls were First Communicants. The special dinner featured turkey and dressing and trimmings and individual decorated cakes. Jessica's special guests were her grandparents Margie and Eddie Krahl, and Joe and Viola Schmidkofer, great-grandmother Regina Flusche; aunts, uncles, and cousins, Janet Jordan, Melissa, Chris and Josh Jordan, Victor Schmidkofer, and the honoree's brothers Jonathan, Adam, Aaron, and Mark Krahl and sisters Lauren and Emily, and the hosts and their family.

CHAD WALTERSBEICH LACEY TRUBENBACH
Chad Donald Walterscheid, son of Craig and Donna Walterscheid, and Lacey Ann Trubenbach, daughter of Karl and Beth Trubenbach, shared their First Holy Communion day, both at Mass, and at a celebration later.

Both had their Godparents present. Chad's Godparents are Steve Trubenbach and Beth Trubenbach. Lacey's Godparents are Donna and Craig Walterscheid.

After Mass their families attended a meal at the Craig Walterscheid home, hosted by the First Communicants' parents. Chad's cake was in the shape of a Bible. Lacey's cake was in the shape of a cross. A friend, Lisa Rohmer, made both cakes. Donna Walterscheid presented both with First Communion candles in remembrance of their special day.

Those attending the celebration were their parents, brother and sister, Ashley Walterscheid and Levi Trubenbach. Also attending were grandparents Donnie and Evelyn Walterscheid, Don and Betty Flusche, Kenneth and Janie Thurman; great-uncle and aunt Tony and Thelma Trubenbach; aunts, uncles and cousins Steve, Melissa and Lauren Trubenbach, Richard and Shelly Trubenbach and River Stewart.

TAYLOR KLEMENT
Taylor Klement celebrated the Sacrament of First Holy Communion on Sunday, Apr. 22, 2001 at Sacred Heart Church. Joining her in the celebration were her parents Mark and Carol Klement; her sisters Shelby and Bailey Klement; her grandparents Walt and Eleonore Klement and Frank and Angela Haverkamp; Sammy, Diane, Erin, Hannah and Maddie Zimmerer; Tommy, Mayme, Emily, Ryan, John and Abby Haverkamp; Greg, Amy, Haley, Amelia and Ben Haverkamp; Janelle and Katherine Haverkamp; Donna and Olivia Hertel; Doyle, Carla, Stevie, Jackie and Hunter Klement; Claude, Deb, Aaron, and Ashley Klement; Wayne, Tudor, Jeff, and Kami Klement, and Misty Hartman. A noon meal, prepared by Ginny Schneider and family members, was served at home. The family also celebrated Taylor's 8th birthday that day. After eating cake prepared by Betty Rose Walterscheid, Taylor opened her First Communion and birthday presents.

Unable to share in the celebration and birthday party, but sending their special wishes were Sharon Wolf, Michael and Jeanette Fitzpatrick, and Craig Hertel.

GARRETT WALTERSBEICH
Garrett Alois Walterscheid, son of Kim and Lisa Walterscheid, and his siblings Dustin, Bret, and Natalie celebrated Garrett's First Communion Day with a family gathering in their home on Apr. 22, following the 10:30 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church. Special guests were grandparents, Loyd and Gwen Trubenbach and Willie and Queenie Walterscheid; great-grandmothers Louise Trubenbach and Dolores Friske, godmother Toni and husband Adam Deweber, and a group of uncles, aunts, and cousins. A barbecue meal and all the trimmings was served with a decorated chocolate cake, made by Betty Rose Walterscheid. During a special visit the evening before, Garrett's godfather and his family Bob and Kenya Endres visited with a gift of a First Communion pin.

JOSHUA VOITH
Joshua Sterling Voith and his parents, Leroy and Cindi Voith, celebrated his First Communion Day, Apr. 22, 2001 with two family gatherings, one at The Center Restaurant for the noon meal and at his grandparents for dinner. There was a special cake served with the noon meal. His grandparents Jim and Fran Voith hosted dinner at 5:00 p.m. in their home, with gifts and a First Communion cake. In the afternoon about 2:00 p.m. they were guests of Kim Kaemmerer for gifts and dessert. Among guests at the various celebrations were the honoree, parents Leroy and Cindi Voith, grandparents Jim and Fran Voith and Joe Hanson, godparents Kim Kaemmerer and Darren Voith, Chris Hess, Tonya Dugger and family, Dwayne Haverkamp, Tara Bell, Chris Neely, Lawrence Haverkamp, Zina Haverkamp, Jan Nielsen and Spencer Nielsen.

DILLON BAYER
Dillon John Bayer, son of Deano and Jeannene Bayer, a member of the Sacred Heart Parish First Communion class on Apr. 22, 2001 was honored by his parents on his special day. Guests for a noon meal in their home were grandparents, Alice Walterscheid and Claude and Mary Bayer; great-grandparents Tony and Sis Klement and Juanita Knabe; and a group of uncles, aunts, cousins, and friends, including Kenneth and Tina Walterscheid, Erik Walterscheid, Amy and John Anderle, Vickie Bayer, Kelly Bayer, Karli and Bailey Anderle, Courtney Haverkamp, Janet, Willie, Lanette and Coy Fisher. A fajita with all the trimmings noon meal was served. Unable to attend was Grandma Flo Walterscheid.

ALEXANDER TURNER
Alexander Turner's parents, Richard and Karen Turner and his sister Elizabeth and brother Nicholas honored him on his First Communion Day by hosting a noon meal in their home in Saint Jo on Sunday, Apr. 22. Alexander was a member of the First Communicants in Sacred Heart Parish. Guests were Grandpa and Grandma Turner, and a group of family friends, Steve, Kelly, Travis, and Nolin Wheeler, and Isaac Davis. Alexander's favorites, grilled hamburgers and hot dogs with all the trimmings, a First Communion cake and ice cream were served. Gifts were opened and displayed.

RYAN FELDERHOFF
Ryan Scott Felderhoff, son of Scott and Sandy Felderhoff, was honored by his parents and his sister Kaitlyn on his First Communion Day. They hosted a noon meal in their home. A decorated First Communion cake was the table centerpiece, carrying the lettering "Today Ryan received the Bread of Life." Guests were grandparents Theo and Emilia Voth and Al Felderhoff; aunts, uncles, and cousins Janet and Ross Felderhoff; Deann Muller and Samantha and Ethan; Kenny and Kim Felderhoff and Kirk, Keith, and Kara all of Muenster; Gene Voth of Denton; and Tim and Debbie Voth of Keller.

MICHELE HENSCHIED
Michelle Henschied's parents, John and Rose Henschied honored her First Communion Day, beginning with the Mass at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, Apr. 22, 2001 in Sacred Heart Church receiving the Holy Eucharist for the first time, with her family as well as her Catholic family. The Rufus Henschied and Thomas Felderhoff families gathered after Mass in the John Henschied home. A fried chicken dinner was served followed by a First Communion cake, decorated with a Precious Moments First Communicant statue. During the afternoon a scavenger hunt entertained the cousins when small religious items were hidden in the front yard. Later in the afternoon all the cousins went swimming and played in the hot tub.

KELSEY AND DEREK PAGEL
Kelsey and Derek Pagel were honored by their parents Jacob and Renate Pagel on their First Communion Day, when they hosted a noon meal in their home for a family gathering. Joining the parents, honorees and siblings Miranda, Collin, and Logan were grandparents, Pat and Tommie Sue Hess; great-grandmother Leona Hamilton; Kelsey's godfather Rodney Hess and his family, Cindy and Boone, Derek's godfather Stuart Hess and godmother Sharlene Hartman and her family Bobby and Shannon and Dainah. Kelsey's godmother, Marlene Endres was unable to attend. Hamburgers and all the trimmings were served at noon. A Bible-shaped cake was baked, decorated and served by their mother.

BRIANNA BINDEL
Brianna Nicole Bindel, daughter of Ben and Tina Bindel, a member of the First Communion class of Sacred Heart Parish was honored by her parents on that day when they hosted a gathering for family and friends. A fried chicken feast was served. Guests joining the honoree, parents and siblings Brandon and Danielle, were an uncle, Benny Mack Garrett of Rowlette, and cousins Brittney and Courtney; grandparents Wilfred and Ida Bindel; Benny Dan and Edna Garrett of Jacksboro; the honoree's godfather Joe Pagel and his family Laura, Allison, Abby and Katie; godmother Aunt Renee Zwingig of Lindsay and Uncle Steven Zwingig and cousins Stephanie, Elizabeth and Kyle; and special friends Gary and Marlene Fisher and Lana and Karl; Jim and Jan Nielsen and Spencer; uncle Tim Bindel of Muenster. Unable to attend, but sending a gift and wishes was Aunt Cindy Walker of Gainesville.

The table center piece was a decorated First Communion cake. A side table held a filigree gold cross and communion

Travis is one!

On Friday, Apr. 27, Travis Anthony Dangelmayr, son of Chris and Leslie Dangelmayr, celebrated his first birthday with a hotdog cookout at his home. The birthday cake and decorations carried out a Winnie the Pooh 1st Birthday theme.

Hotdogs and chips and dip were served, followed by cake and ice cream. Travis had his very own little cake with a big number one on it. The children enjoyed wagon rides and playing outside. Travis's big sister Kalyn and his mother helped him open his presents.

Attending the party were his parents; sister Kalyn; grandparents Paul and Patsy Dangelmayr; Robert and Gloria Klement; great-grandparents Frank and Lucille Zimmerer; aunts, uncles, and cousins Greg and Melody Rohmer and Lauren, Adrien, and Megan; Scott and Zonya Klement and Toby, Tori, and Tressa; Shelley Klement; Justin and Amanda Klement; Kerry Dangelmayr and Rashae, Garrett, and Kagen; Karen Dangelmayr and Amanda, Shelby, and Cassie; Amy Dangelmayr and Natalie; and friends Stephanie Storey; Dustin and Tara Lyon and Cammie and Collin.

Kalyn celebrates 7th!

On Sunday, May 6, Kalyn Rae Dangelmayr, daughter of Chris and Leslie Dangelmayr, celebrated her seventh birthday with a party at her home. The birthday cake and decorations carried out a Madeline theme.

First, it was craft time. Kalyn's mom, grandmothers, and aunts helped the children make a Madeline tote bag. After finishing the craft, cake and ice cream were served. The cake was made by Kalyn's mom. It was shaped like Madeline's yellow hat. Next, it was time to open presents. Then, the children enjoyed roller blading and riding scooters outside.

Attending the party were her parents; brother Travis; grandparents Paul and Patsy Dangelmayr; Robert and Gloria Klement; great-grandparents Frank and Lucille Zimmerer; Greg and Melody Rohmer and Megan; and friends Lauren and Adrien Rohmer; Tori Klement; Shelby Dangelmayr; Nicole Pagel; Allison Pagel; Emily Hellman; Paige Hennigan; and Lana Heers.

Kalyn Dangelmayr

Kalyn brought cupcakes to school to share with her classmates on Monday, May 7.

candle and an arrangement of fresh blue and pink baby carnations which Brianna shared with guests upon their departure. Helium-filled communion balloons adorned guest tables. She received a pearl cross necklace and bracelet from her parents. She opened and displayed gifts from the guests. The children enjoyed playing all afternoon.

BRIANNA KLEMENT
Brianna Klement, daughter of Brian (Bubba) and Melinda Klement was the honoree one at a family gathering on her First Communion Day, Apr. 22 when her parents hosted a barbecue meal, inviting a number of guests. Among them were the honoree's godparents Connie Stoffels, Kevin Klement and Leasha Beverage; grandparents Shirley Perryman, Wade Perryman, Robert Klement and Laujuana Scott; great-grandparents Tony and Sis Klement; uncle Craig Stoffels and Richard Beverage; Aunt Terri Klement; cousins Emily, Sadie and Andrew Stoffels, Rodney and Karina Beverage, Kyle and Koby Klement; friends Floyd, Tammy, Avery and Garrett Trubenbach.

Table centerpiece was a cross-shaped cake baked and decorated by Brianna's mother. It was served with ice cream. Watching the honoree open and display her many gifts was a pleasure.

LHS receives TIF grant

High-tech, dot com, world wide web, and surfing the net are just a few phrases that can be associated with the technology revolution and have become staples in the daily lives of many Texans. With the assistance of the Telecommunications Infrastructure Fund (TIF) Board, a state agency that provides technology funding for Texas public schools, new opportunities to participate in the ever-progressing technology of today are now possible. Students across the state are able to reap the benefits of technology in education. Using TIF grants, schools are introducing students to modern technology, including high-speed Internet access and distance learning. Lindsay High received a grant award of $50,000.00 for high school campus. This funding will be used to develop new, and expand current, technology infrastructure to provide students with the technology they need to prepare for the digital era. The TIF Non-Competitive Grant for Texas Public Schools was designed to fund up-to-date hardware and connectivity equipment, high-speed workstations, Internet access, and/or distance learning equipment so that students may take classes from another school district and/or an institution of higher education. Additionally, grant funds will be used for technology staff development, including hardware and software training, network training, methodology training, and base level technology training. These grant projects officially began May 15, 2001.

For more information, contact TIF at 512-344-4300 or 888-533-(TIFB) 8432. Additional information, including the lists of all grantees and future grant opportunities, is available at <http://www.tifb.state.tx.us>.

MHS seniors nominated for Wendy's Heisman award

Muenster High School selected two outstanding 2002 seniors, Pamela Lutkenhaus and Grant Hartman to contend in the eighth annual Wendy's High School Heisman Program. These Muenster students were chosen based upon their admirable performances on the field, in the classroom, and in their local community.

The Wendy's High School Heisman Program recognizes high school seniors nationwide who have learned to collaborate and appreciate the interrelation of academics, athletics, and community service. Pamela and Grant have enhanced the quality of life, inspired others, and embody the ideal characteristics of today's leading youth. They were nominated for this program based on GPA, civic involvement, sports, academic awards, school clubs, UIL involvement, and leadership positions.

Schools can also receive something in this program -- Wendy's now awards money to schools that have students who are State Winners, National Finalists, or National Winners. Schools can receive anywhere from $500 - $4,000.

Principals from across the country's estimated 23,000 high schools were invited to nominate one male and one female student that fulfill the minimum program requirements. Students are judged based on academic achievements, community service involvement, and athletic accomplishments.

Students go to the Faire

On Tuesday, May 1, the sixth graders at Muenster Elementary went on an adventure back through time to the 16th century, attending Scarborough Faire - School Days 2001 in Waxahachie, Texas.

While at the faire, the students experienced life as it was during the 16th century Renaissance period. They were able to view exhibits of armour making, coin minting, soap making, graphic art, leather works, and much more. The demonstrations of jousting were quite entertaining, along with the Maypole dance, the gypsy stage, and storytellers. Many students visited the falconry stage to watch the King's birds on display with a trainer. They had a wonderful time tasting the foods available to them at the faire. The games and rides were all reflections of the 16th century; pure manpower. The 6th graders were also allowed to participate in many of the exhibits including rock climbing, archery, and belly dancing.

There were characters at the faire who were totally emerged in the Renaissance experience, who spoke to the students and displayed the clothing, customs and mannerisms of the time.

Teachers Kristi Schneider and Kenny Mann and many parents attended the faire, an experience all will remember.

her score after the tiebreakers was only good enough for sixth. First place scored a 95 out of 100 and 6th place was a 93.

Mary Skinner also competed at the state meet in calculator, but her score was not high enough to be in the top six. Chris Jackson also competed in the Science contest, but he also did not place.

Alternates that also attended with their teams were Ashley Klement in Spelling, Chris McLaughlin in Computer Science, and Brady Howell in Number Sense. Brett Howell was the alternate in Math.

Muenster High School placed third overall in the sweepstakes race, with Lindsay High School winning a convincing first place meet championship, and Whitharrel High School edging out MHS by four points.

Approximately 900 to 1200 students from over 300 Class A schools compete in each event at the district level. That number is reduced to less than 200 in each event that advance to one of the four regions in each event. Regional meets reduce that number to a minimum of 12 and a maximum of 24, depending on the number of individuals that advance that are not part of a team, that go on to compete for the distinction of being a State Champion.

The University Interscholastic League Academic State Championship meet is held each spring at the University of Texas in Austin, usually the first weekend of May. The University Interscholastic League is host to the oldest, largest, and most prestigious Interscholastic League competition in the world. Each year, almost 2 million students in grades 2 through twelve participate in one or more of 36 literary and academic, five major music, and 12 athletic contest areas. Almost every UIL contest has been used as the standard by which excellence is judged.

Coaches for these events are Danna Hess in Calculator, Gerri Eckart for Spelling, Jerry Eckart for Math, Number Sense, and Computer Science. Becky Scott was the Science coach. The Eckarts accompanied the eleven students to Austin for the three-day event.

This contest was the final competition for the year for the successful UIL academic team of 2000-2001 at Muenster High School.

Tigerettes settle for second

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes Softball team advanced to the state playoffs, competing in the final four last weekend in Waco. They easily won the semi-final game before falling in the championship final.

In game one, the Tigerettes took another "run rule" victory, defeating Hallettsville Sacred Heart 10-0 in five innings. Mary Jane Callahan was 3 of 4 at bat, hitting a home run. Andrea Bauer was 2 of 3 with scattered hits from the team totaling nine.

Callahan faced 20 batters, striking out 9, walking 2, pitching 2 hits and no runs. The Tigerettes defense made three errors.

"The girls were intense, focused, and hungry for the win," commented Beth Bartush, noting that Hallettsville's pitching was not over powering.

In the championship final, with Rockwall Christian, the game started tough. Bartush noted that the Tigerettes first three batters struck out, then allowed Rockwall to score three runs on three errors, to get their momentum going.

In the fourth inning, Bauer got Sacred Heart's only hit, a triple, then stole home and the game was tied 3-3.

"Our defense did OK until the sixth inning," Bartush continued. "A walk, single, another walk, an error, then two more errors and they scored four runs."

"We made some mistakes. We couldn't get the bat on the ball. When we did, it went straight to the left fielder." The Tigerettes lost the game 7-3.

"It was a tough loss. The girls worked hard all season. I'm real proud of the team," Bartush concluded.

Four Tigerettes earned places on the state all tournament team - Mary Jane Callahan, Andrea Bauer, Crystal Hess and Jana Truelsenbach.

Other team members are: Andrey Barnhill, Jennifer Hoedebeck, Michelle Bayer, Alisha Cochran, Karen Gehrig, Courtney Hartman, Janya Biffle, Charlie Sue Switzer, Catherine Bartush and Lisa Endres.

Cub Scouts build racers

Much excitement and enthusiasm was present along Muenster's West Ninth Street on Sunday, May 6. Pack 664, Den 5 Cub Scouts were racing Cubmobiles that they spent weeks building.

Four den meetings were spent constructing the push cars under the supervision and guidance of Craig and Rita Bayer. Each boy gained experience at being a handyman and practiced skills of accurate measurements, sawing, sanding, using hand drills, and power tools. When construction was complete, each took his car home to paint and put the personal finishing touches on.

Each boy raced his car several times against each other as family, friends, neighbors, and passersby cheered them on. The afternoon of fun concluded with a hot dog supper.

Members of Den 5 are Jacob Bayer, Scott Endres, Chad Henscheid, Ryan Henscheid, Pierce Morrill, Army worms are on the attack!

Agricultural producers in northern areas of the state are expressing growing concerns about the worst armyworm infestation in years, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reports.

"This is probably the worst situation producers have seen in this area in 15 or 20 years," said Dr. Chris Sansone of San Angelo, extension entomologist.

Armyworms are the larval form of a moth that feed on lawns, wheat and improved pastures. Sansone said armyworms derived their name by consuming most available foliage in an area and then migrating as a group in search of more foliage.

Producers are concerned about how the infestation might affect this year's wheat crop.

"The big concern right now is that we have some wheat that is maturing, and they are feeding on it," Sansone said. "If there is not any wheat around, they are feeding on grain sorghum fields, hay fields and corn fields."

Sansone said the high cost of insecticide is a large economic concern for producers.

"We've also had some fields where producers didn't feel it was economically justifiable to spray, and the caterpillars ate all the leaves and ate the flag leaf, which means we will probably have some type of yield reduction," Sansone said. "We don't know how much right now."

Emory Boring of Vernon, extension entomologist, said the first sign of armyworm infestation is relatively easy for producers to detect.

"The first sign of an armyworm infestation is usually the damage caused by the larvae feeding on the lower leaves of grass plants," Boring said.

While armyworms may be easy to detect, Sansone said much of the damage usually occurs before producers realize they are in the field.

"They are fairly easy to control. The difficult part is that they are hard to find because they get lower in the canopy during the daylight," Sansone said. "They come out at night or at dusk. So the hard part in controlling them is that sometimes they will do most of their feeding before producers realize they are in the field."

Sansone said the cool, wet weather this year is one reason for the large infestation, and as temperatures continue to rise, armyworms will start to migrate northward.

Updated livestock, crop and weather conditions: CENTRAL TEXAS: soil moisture is adequate. Grazing is very good. Flies are a problem. Peach crop looks good. Armyworm damage is heavy. Livestock is in good to excellent condition.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

WHAT IS THE CURRENT CONSUMER DEMAND FOR BEEF?

For years we've been hearing there's less consumer demand for beef. What is demand? Some think it's per capita consumption. But that is more a measure of supply than demand, since we eat all of the beef produced. But at what price? Virginia economists devised a measure of demand which includes consumption and price (adjusted for inflation) and studied the period from 1980 to 2000. From 1980, demand decreased every year to 1998, when it was barely half the 1980 level. But since 1998, demand has gone up about 7%. Will this reversal continue? Maybe, particularly if more tasty, easy-to-prepare, value-added products are developed.

MANAGING THE CATTLE CYCLE

Where are we in the cattle cycle, and what should you do about it? Harlan Hughes, one of the most respected beef economists in the country, says we're beginning the expansion phase. Prices bottomed in '95-'96 and are much improved today, mainly because cattle numbers were higher then and are lower now. When prices are low people get depressed and don't save many heifers. When prices get good, a lot of heifers are saved. Hughes says that's poor management of the cycle. Save more heifers when they're cheap. They'll be in the peak production when prices are highest. Don't save many heifers when they're high. Their most productive years come when prices are lowest. Drought and other factors can disrupt this strategy. In Texas, a lot of females had to be sold during the drought, and many producers are understocked. Hughes says resist saving (or buying) high-priced replacements for the next few years. Instead, retain weaned calves to use excess forage. Then expand the cow herd during the next price drop, predicted to be in '05-'06. Managing the cycle seems to work when you can do it, at least in hindsight.

Beef for Father's Day!

Texoma CattleWomen in Cooke County, are joining with Fischer's Meat Market in Muenster and Scivally's Grocery in Gainesville to promote beef as our 1st choice for our Father's Day celebrations! CattleWomen and these merchants are sponsoring a contest for the youth. Contestants, under the age of 18, must write a short story about their father, why he is the Best! There is a box at Fischer's and at Scivally's on Highway 82, to collect the entries. Drawing will be held on Friday, June 15, 2001. Winners will receive a cut of beef from the participating merchants.

The district Beef Ambassador contest will be held at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, June 4 at the Cooke County Farm Bureau in Gainesville. The contest will precede CattleWomen's monthly meeting. Contestants, between the ages of 15 and 19, present a 5 to 8 minute illustrated talk based on beef facts provided in an informational packet from the American National CattleWomen. Winners will advance to the state contest in Dallas on June 30. CattleWomen will be awarding scholarships totaling $3,300 to the state winners.

Ag Briefs

The "media" likes to humanize things. Let's take the term foot and mouth disease. It's actually hoof and mouth disease - animals don't have feet. In someone's quest to grab attention, hoof was changed to foot and here we are today.

CattleWomen are looking for young ranchers (ages 19-39) who want to attend the 2001 Beef Shortcourse at Texas A&M University in College Station in August. Scholarships are available and interested candidates should contact Trudy Lucas at 940-476-5565 to receive an application.

CattleWomen participated in a style show at MidWay Mall in Sherman on Saturday, May 12. Members modeled clothes from Dennards' and presented beef information, recipes, cookbooks, T-shirts, etc. to the public.

Perry and Combs applaud decision to protect agriculture

Texas Governor Rick Perry and Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs applauded Secretary of Defense Donald H. Rumsfeld and the Department of Defense for their decision to help protect American livestock and wildlife from foot-and-mouth disease.

Rumsfeld has restricted large military equipment from the United Kingdom and the Netherlands, both countries with confirmed cases of foot-and-mouth disease, from participating in Exercise Roving Sands.

The Pentagon heard from Perry, Combs, individual farmers and ranchers, and groups like the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and Texas Farm Bureau requesting this action to protect Texas and American livestock and wildlife.

"We truly support the military and their efforts in this vital training exercise and know that it is important for the military readiness of both U.S. and European troops," Combs said. "But it is equally important not to take the chance of driving equipment across Texas and run the risk of contamination."

Exercise Roving Sands is scheduled for June 15-24 in western Texas and eastern New Mexico involving troops from the U.S. Britain, the Netherlands and Germany. Cargo ships containing large military equipment were scheduled to arrive at Texas ports. The equipment would have had to travel more than 800 miles across the state to Fort Bliss in El Paso. Since there are no confirmed cases of foot-and-mouth disease in Germany, large military equipment from that country will be used in the exercise.
