Bayer, Rohmer make Eagle

by Dave Fette
Two young men from Muenster's Troop 664 were promoted to Boy Scouting's highest rank on Sunday, Dec. 1 at Sacred Heart Church. The Honorable Ralph Hall, U.S. Congressman from District 4, was present to award the Eagle Badge. Daniel Rohmer and Johnathan Bayer along with their families and friends listened as Congressman Hall praised their accomplishment and devotion to the ideals of Scouting. "Many important things are going on, but right now these two fine young men are the most important people we have to consider. They are very important to the future of our country especially during these troubled times," Hall said. He emphasized that only about two percent of scouts do persevere to reach the Eagle Rank. "So these two represent the best of one hundred good boys in their efforts to live up to all that the Boy Scouts of America stand for. I encourage you all to pray for our nation and our fine president and today for Daniel and John who we are very proud of," said Hall.

After his comments, Rep. Hall pinned the Badge of Eagle rank on Rohmer's and Bayer's shirt pockets and presented each with an American Flag that had flown over the nation's Capitol. Next Gordon Martin presented each with an Eagle neckerchief. Janet Voth gave them a mother's pin to, in turn, give to their mothers Laurie Rohmer and Patti Bayer. Chuck Bartush, Jr., likewise gave them a father's tie tac to present to dads Billy Rohmer and Leonard Bayer. Troop committee chairman Tom Valiere delivered the Eagle Charge and Dwayne Rohmer, Scoutmaster, closed the Court of Honor. Shanelle Spakes sang "America the Beautiful" to honor the occasion.

To open the Eagle Court of Honor, Dwayne Rohmer called to order, Jeff Schniederjan, Ryan Hennigan, and Brad Endres presented the American Flag and Troop Flag. Daniel Rohmer and Johnathan Bayer were escorted by fellow Eagle Scouts Aaron Klement and Michael Voth.

The story of Eagles in scouting was presented by Adam Schniederjan. Gary Fisher described growth

Parachutists duplicate WWII jumps; honor veteran paratroopers

By Janet Felderhoff
Despite a plane that arrived more than two hours behind schedule, delays did not deter most who had come to watch the World War II Airborne Demonstration Team (ADT) perform. On Saturday, Dec. 7, the WWII ADT the City of Gainesville. The Gainesville Airport was originally the Camp Howze Airfield.

Foundation had vintage military vehicles and a variety of items used by the WWII paratroopers on display at the Gainesville Municipal Airport.

Some of the ADT members were on hand all morning to answer questions from the public. Others flew in from Lawton, Oklahoma on "Boogie Baby", a C-47 Skytrain built in 1942 in Oklahoma City. It was used in both the invasion of Normandy, France and Holland in 1944. The aircraft is painted to look the same as it would have on June 6, 1944, D-Day. This is the plane the 14 parachutists jumped from.

This display was scheduled in conjunction with the Camp Howze Days Celebration sponsored by the Morton Museum and parachutes.

Richard C. Wolf, founder and Command Sergeant Major of the Team explained, "When our jumpers exit the aircraft door, the static line parachutes are deployed when the jumpers reach the end of the 15 foot static line (rip cord) attached to a cable in the aircraft. The main parachute will open in three to four seconds. If it does not, the jumper has only about three or four seconds to open the reserve parachute attached to his chest." Normally a jump is made from an altitude of about 1300 feet. The ADT jumps from about 1000 feet. The WWII paratroopers jumped from altitudes between 600 and 800 feet.

County addresses jail issues following inspection

By Janet Felderhoff
The Jail Standards Commission wrote up Cooke County Jail after a recent inspection of the jail facility. It was cited for Maintenance and Housekeeping's failure to control mold, mildew, rust and need of repainting. It said that there is a "mold, mildew, and rust problem. Cracked paint is causing deterioration and is unsafe and unsanitary". Cooke County has 30 days to respond as to how this is being corrected.

Judge Bill Freeman said that he inspected the showers after learning of the citation. He reported that there was no visible sign of mold and mildew, but the showers needed to be scraped and painted.

Sheriff Compton said there are two showers in each block and there are eight or more inmates per block. He feels that the block will have to be vacated for three to seven days to scrape and paint since the paint will need time to cure before the showers are used. Compton stressed that he didn't want to compromise the safety of the facility.

Using inmates to do some of the work was suggested. Compton was agreeable as long as it was the type of work approved by the Jail Standards Commission. There could be a security problem with the type of tools required to do the job, workman going in and out, and the required supervision, he said.

Also what to do with the inmates while their block is being done is a problem. Currently Cooke County has 15 of its prisoners housed at a Denton jail due to lack of sufficient space. Prisoners of different classifications can't be combined in a block.

"If we're going to do it, and we have to do it, we should do it right, not cut corners that would cause problems down the line," remarked the Sheriff.

Judge Freeman asked that Commissioners Bill Cox and Phil Young serve on a committee with Sheriff Compton and Dave Province, jail administrator to come up with recommendations for how to get the scraping and painting done. Their recommendations will be voted on at the Dec. 23 meeting.

Puppets play at Community Center

by Dave Fette
A holiday puppet show will premiere at the Sacred Heart Community Center Saturday. "Little Red Boots for Christmas" is produced by Living Well Ranch and Unique Images of Muenster with sponsorship by the Muenster Chamber of Commerce.

Puppet master David Miller said he is presenting the show to bless the community and give people an introduction to some exciting things that Unique Images and Living Well Ranch have planned. "Living Well Ranch will be a children's ranch that teaches values and principles of right and wrong," said Miller. "We want to help children who don't have a mom or dad, or may have trouble focusing on their goals in life. We will help them realize they can make a difference in their communities and in business and understand that drugs and corruption lead to destruction."

The puppet characters play in the small German village of Friendsdorf where they tell about "the real meaning of Christmas." The characters are played by E.J. Crisson, Jennifer Tune, Caitlyn Barrett, Kayla Otto, and Jammie Salisbury. Bret Walterscheid plays the part of Hans. The Sacred Heart Children's Choir directed by Anne Poole will provide choral backup for "Little Red Boots." The backgrounds were created by Joel Hale, Stacie Schingo, Michael Endres, Wesley Koelzer, Kevin Gann, Travis Tolbert, Kami Klement, and Chris Rains. The show is directed by David Miller of Living Well Productions.

"Admission to both shows at 3:00 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 14 is free," said Miller. "It's exciting and may even bring a tear or two to your eye." Miller expressed thanks to his sponsors and helpers.

unit remarked, "In addition to the educational aspect of our performance, we want to assure that the heroic deeds of the U.S. Airborne units and all U.S. Veterans of World War II are never forgotten."

Two Cooke County men, Al Felderhoff and J.B. Stokes, who were World War II paratroopers were honored after the jump. Stokes was present for the entire event. Even though he uses canes to walk and finds standing for long periods difficult, Stokes milled with the crowd all morning. When asked about standing so long he was heard to say, "But this is something special." Al Felderhoff died Nov. 2 of this year, but was represented by his three sons, Ross, Scott, and Kenny Felderhoff.

Felderhoff was a member of the 101st Airborne Paratroopers. He was among the paratroopers who jumped over Normandy on June 6, 1944. He was slightly wounded during those skirmishes. He then jumped when Holland was invaded. Al was wounded more seriously there one Sept. 19, 1944. He spent three months in the hospital recovering.

J. B. Stokes was a member of Easy Company 506th PIR 101st Airborne Division. He parachuted into Normandy and Holland, survived the Bastogne encirclement in the Battle of the Bulge, and finished the war with the division at Zell am Zee, Austria.

Col. Cuthbertson presented the Veterans' awards after the parachute jump. Plaque was presented to J. B. Stokes and to Al Felderhoff's sons. Each contained a slip of material from a parachute that was left on a church steeple by a U.S.

the equipment, sit in the jeeps, and even climb into the plane. All of Al Felderhoff's grandchildren were present. His granddaughter Kara remarked, "It was really cool. It was really interesting because did it and I like things like that." Asked if being in the plane made it easier to know what the paratroopers went through she said, "It's hard to imagine." Grandson Kirk Felderhoff agreed that it was cool. "I liked it when they jumped out of the plane," he said. "They came out fast. One guy drifted away and when he went down it looked like he landed in a tree, but he didn't." Kirk was also impressed with getting to hold one of the guns and getting to sit in a jeep equipped with a big gun. He explained that one guy sat in the back of the jeep to shoot the gun while another guy drove the jeep.

One of the ADT jumpers was injured during the demonstration. As he was jumping a static line from another jumper became entangled around his head giving him scrapes, bruises and a black eye. He lost his helmet, but thankfully suffered minimal physical damage.

Anyone who wished could tour "Boggie Baby". Inside they saw a narrow row running up the middle of the plane. Also down the center was the cable to which each paratrooper attached his static line. On each side was seating for the paratroopers. Nothing could be described as made for comfort; especially taking note of the long flights the men must have endured.

The event was an opportunity to look through a window into the past to get a glimmer of what our troops did during World War II.

"The Fabulous Forties: It's a wonderful life in our town" was the winter holiday window decorating challenge presented to downtown Gainesville merchants earlier this year. Windows depicting the Camp Howze era of the 1940's was part of a yearlong tribute to Camp Howze and its importance in the life of the City of Gainesville. As part of the Main Street project, defense was about worn out, the Niners passed for a T.D. and the lead went in their favor 31 to 27.

I was real proud of the Cowboy's defense but the offense needs work. I understand that the offense has played together as a team only a game or two. If the pass protection can be improved, Chad has shown the ability to get the ball to the right hands.

Farmers in the area are divided on whether or not we need the rain that fell through the night, about an inch. While most of them agree that a rain such as we have received was needed, some would have preferred a few more dry days so they could have gotten the balance of their wheat seeded. Some of the land has wet spots that will require much more drying time.

Sister Romana Rohmer OSB read the Prayer of Intercession at Offertory. Offertory gifts of bread and wine were presented at the altar by Jayna Rohmer and Kalya Rohmer, twin granddaughters. Each carrying a red rose to place in a vase at Offertory, were Daniel and Amanda Rohmer, Nicole and Michelle Rohmer, Jayna, Kalya and Holly Rohmer, Delana, Clayton and Brianna Rohmer, Jeffrey, Tony, and Erin Schniederjan.

The Offertory hymn "Here I Am, Lord" was sung by Nicole Rohmer, a granddaughter.

Eucharistic Ministers were Herbie and Dolores Miller, Agnes Rohmer, Peggy Walterscheid, and Imelda Rohmer.

Music Ministers were Christy Hesse and Ruth Felderhoff. Sacred music included: "Amazing Grace" at the entrance; "The Lord Is My Shepherd"; "I Am The Resurrection And The Life"; "Here I Am, Lord" by Nicole Rohmer; "Just A closer Walk With Thee" at Communion and "On Eagle's Wings"; and "How Great Thou Art" for the recessional.

Meditation after Communion included reading of a "Letter to Grandpa" by Amanda Rohmer, which stated, in part: "...I know you will be looking down on all your grandchildren and that you will never really leave us... in our thoughts you will remind us, maybe 'Would Grandpa want us to do it this way?'... One day we will meet again, in God's flock... I will never forget those wonderful tractor rides on Easter... and I will always love you and Grandma."

The eulogy was given by a son-in-law, Adam Schniederjan, which stated in part: "We are here to celebrate the life of a man named Tony Stephen Rohmer... Born on Dec. 26, 1927, he grew up on a small farm north of Muenster, with five sisters and four brothers... He attended Sacred Heart School through the tenth grade... when his brothers left for military duty overseas, Tony stayed home to help his father on the family farm... On Nov. 27, 1951 he married Marjorie Ann Sandmann in St. Peter's Church... They have raised a family of four sons and one daughter and have 13 grandchildren...

"While his family was growing up, Tony was working his way towards a promising future in the oil field north of Nocona... the story of a man named Weldon Lunn... 'Hackberry' was often told by Tony, in family story time... Hackberry could see the value in Tony's work and dedication, and took an interest in him... he knew that Tony was a trustworthy man..."

"One day he advised Tony to become interested in some non-producing wells that had potential, but needed a lot of work to make them profitable... When Tony stated simply his inability to go into such debt... Hackberry sent him to the Nocona Bank, saying 'Tell them I sent you - I'm on the Board of Directors...'"

"Tony loved his family and was proud of his work... and he worked long, hard hours... Eventually his children joined him in the business... A very conservative man, he was also quite inventive... when he found throw-away pieces, he could rework them to be serviceable. He called them 'Dingfobs'... The family still enjoys his 'Dingfobs'... In the last few years, his concern never dimmed... even when he could not go out into the oil field..."

"Tony's character and demeanor remain with us in one way or another... • His orneriness: Steve. • His good-heartedness: Kenny. • His love for the oil field: Billy. • His work ethics: Terry. • His conservatism and frugality: Renee."

"...Tony loved to travel... he was tremendously proud of his grandchildren... and their accomplishments... Tony loved his God and church... he was a loving husband and father and grandfather... a caring brother and uncle... a hard-working business partner... a true friend... Thank you all for being here today to honor this fine gentleman."

Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Pallbearers were Daniel Rohmer, David Rohmer, Everett Spaeth, Greg Rohmer, Tom Hennigan, and Mike Wright.

For those who have asked, the family has suggested memorials sent to Sacred Heart Trust Fund, or to Mass Stipends, in lieu of flowers.

through Scouting with Jeff Schniederjan, John Rohmer, Mark Gehrig, Chad Endres, Evan Koesler, Daniel Bartush, and Aaron Klement representing the ranks and lighting a candle for each one. Daniel Rohmer rose to the rank of Eagle by working for personal advancement and earning over 21 merit badges, helping other scouts in their work, and demonstrating outstanding scout spirit over his years of membership. His final task was to organize, finance, and carry out a service project to benefit the Muenster Independent School District. Rohmer prepared and re-painted the railing around Hornet Stadium through his leadership and with the help of business professionals and his fellow scouts. He was in charge of procuring supplies and organizing volunteers. Rohmer offered thanks to the scouts, dedicated parents, and Joe Pagel at Community Lumber Co. for guidance in improving the appearance of Muenster Hornet Stadium. Johnathan Bayer was promoted to Eagle as his final advancement after earning over 21 merit badges, with personal leadership and scout spirit as determining factors in his award. Bayer said that the campsouts and outdoor activities at the Wichita Mountains, Philmont Scout Ranch, and Camp Grayson were among his favorites. His first aid training came to good use when he assisted an elderly lady who had collapsed recently near his workplace. Bayer's Eagle Scout project entailed planning, organizing, and conducting a project to benefit his community. He built and installed benches adjoining the volleyball court in Muenster's City park. Bayer was responsible for financing and purchasing supplies, and leading volunteer helpers in providing seating for volleyball spectators and waiting players. Rohmer's and Bayer's promotions brings the total number of Muenster Eagle Scouts to 50 since Troop 664 started in 1936. Muenster's first Eagle Scouts were Larry Hofbauer and Randy Bayer.

Wondering what's next?

Many families and guardians are faced with making difficult decisions regarding their loved ones. Aging individuals are finding that their health problems are interfering in their ability to participate in active treatment and training. Many can no longer self-administer medications, attend workshop, get in and out of the van, or complete objectives that are aimed at increasing independent functioning.

Facilities are faced with multiple issues as well. They are attempting to meet the needs of an individual they care for while trying to meet participation requirements and maintain a cost-effective program. Facilities, guardians and families are now asking, "what next?"

"Programming for Aging Individuals with Developmental Disabilities" (PAIDD), offers an alternative to traditional nursing home placement. Long-term care facilities that operate these special units must have chosen to participate in a unique program. In addition to their normal services, activities and 24-hour nursing care, they have chosen to offer a quality program to individuals with developmental disabilities. These facilities are committed to providing a specialized care unit to serve this unique population.

PAIDD units offer specialized services including, but not limited to: on-site Qualified Mental Rehabilitation Professional/advocate, nursing home staff training, day activities, in-room activities, movies, arts and crafts, socialization opportunities, and recreation. Additional services may be available including music therapy, pet therapy, group and individual counseling, family counseling, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and psychological services.

Gainesville Convalescent Center recognizes that individuals have worked a lifetime to acquire skills in areas such as personal hygiene and grooming, academics, money management, and socialization. It is their goal to delay regression by reinforcing skills through informal and voluntary active treatment and training. They believe that participation in "Programming for Aging Individuals with Developmental Disabilities" will result in longer skill retention and greater quality of life for those aging individuals.

To learn more about this special program in North Texas, contact Angela South at (940) 665-2826, ext. 28. Gainesville Convalescent Center is the #1 provider of long term care in Cooke County for over 30 years.

Saint Nick visits Dangelmayr and Felderhoff clan, Dec. 7

The annual gathering of the children of Tony and Theresia Felderhoff celebrating the feast of St. Nicholas was held on Saturday, Dec. 7, in the beautifully decorated home of Theresa Mae and Sylvan Walterscheid.

The evening began with singing of many Christmas carols, awaiting the arrival of St. Nicholas. Ruth Felderhoff played the organ and Christy Hesse led all in singing. Father John also joined the musicians by playing his flute.

The families of the late Tony and Theresia Dangelmayr Felderhoff and Bertha Fleitman look forward to this celebration started generations ago by Joseph and Theresia Dangelmayr. Four generations of families were present.

A loud rap on the roof and then the front door announced the arrival of St. Nicholas. The children all gathered around him as he asked them questions, took each child on his lap and asked them what they wanted for Christmas. The children all prayed for him, remembering the deceased members of the Dangelmayr/Felderhoff families who passed on this great tradition. St. Nicholas then distributed 70 sacks of fruit, candy, etc. to everyone.

The group sang "Happy Birthday" to Aunt Bertha Fleitman, 92 years young on Dec. 5, and the many persons celebrating December birthdays. A bountiful table of Christmas goodies, kolaches, cinnamon rolls, punch, and hot cider were served.

All present had special prayers for successful surgery for Joe Felderhoff. Joe and daughter Anne left Sunday for New Orleans, Louisiana where Joe had surgery on Tuesday. Charles Felderhoff of Waco joined his brother on Monday to spend the two weeks with Joe for surgery and recovery.

Relatives attending were: Bertha Fleitman; Girlie Felderhoff of Gainesville; Charles Felderhoff of Waco; Mary, John, Joseph, Michelle, and Matthew Fiala of Hickory Creek; Don, Judy, Daniel, Daryl, and Donald Woodall of Aledo; Kathy, Karl, Melissa, R.J., Nathan, Katy, and Jacob Metzler of Era; Nicholas and Tera Alford of San Marcos; Steve and Donna Felderhoff of The Colony; Ronnie, Patti, Anthony, and James Felderhoff of Hutto; Carol and Kristin Zimmerer of Denton.

Also Alvin and Joanie Hartman; Monica and Kristin LeBrasseur; Bobby, Sharlene, Shannon, and Dainah Hartman; Theresa Mae and Sylvan Walterscheid; Danny, Nanette, and Isaac Walterscheid all of Muenster; Greg, Julie, Eric, Alexandra, and Hilary Walterscheid of Highland Village; Amy and Glen Swirczynski of Forney; Joe and Ruth Felderhoff; Christy, Bert, Joseph, Rebekah, John Paul, Daniel, Julian, and the newest family member Rachel Hesse; Neil, Anne, Matthew, Kaitlin, and Samuel Hesse; Jack, Jenny, Emily, Alyssa, Amy, and Grace White; Rose and Ben Ganzon of Fort Worth.

On Sunday, the Alvin Hartman family and Sylvan Walterscheid family enjoyed another Christmas tree hunting party and the great outdoor banquet of hamburgers and s'mores.

Sacred Heart National Honor Society conducts food drive to benefit VISTO

In the true spirit of Thanksgiving, the Sacred Heart National Honor Society conducted a food drive prior to the Thanksgiving holidays. This type of drive also coincides with the Sacred Heart Mission Statement of "promoting dignity for all." Each class collected food and non perishables for donation to VISTO in Gainesville. Schoolwide 1850 items were collected and delivered Friday, Nov. 21. The school was well represented with Michael Voth, NHS president; Joseph Davis, NHS vice-president; and Marty Farrell, member; along with Marilyn Barrick co-sponsor who made the delivery.

Mrs. Debbie Endres, 5th grade teacher, got into the spirit of the event by conducting a contest to see which class brought in the most items. Mrs. Cecilia Ashley's 3rd grade won the contest by bringing in over 500 items.

The drive was one of the projects conducted during the year by the NHS. Other projects included were making pancakes and serving drinks at the Knights of Columbus Good Neighbor Award Breakfast in October, and helping the elderly and children carry trays at the parish picnic last month. Other projects are in the works for the students before the year is up.

Muenster ISD Junior High Student Council holiday projects abound

The Junior High Student Council of Muenster ISD recently enjoyed the Thanksgiving holiday by giving to families in need. The students packaged a wonderful Thanksgiving meal, fit with a turkey, sweet potatoes, cornbread dressing, fresh fruits, pies, and many more holiday meal items. The fresh and frozen foods were delivered to some very appreciative area families who were able to enjoy a wonderful holiday meal. Special help with this project was given by Sharon Ledbetter for delivering the food boxes, and Laura Pagel who donated her turkey marks for six turkeys.

For the Christmas season, the Junior High Student Council would like your help in collecting the baby food and baby formula for ABBA in Gainesville. This is the third year that the JHSC has given to the nonprofit foundation. In the past two years they have collected new baby items, such as blankets, clothes, bottles, carriers, cribs, and more.

This year, the foundation has expressed a need for food and formula. There will be donation boxes on all MISD campuses.

Sacred Heart second grade tours Heard Museum and Wildlife Sanctuary

On Wednesday, Nov. 13, Sacred Heart Second Grade took a field trip to the Heard Museum and Wildlife Sanctuary in McKinney. They toured the Museum, where the children enjoyed the dinosaur, seashell, gem, mineral, and natural science exhibits.

On an hour nature walk, the children looked for signs of autumn, and plant and animal life. They identified plants, animals, trees, tracks, habitats, etc. They also learned about the history of the area and the purpose of the sanctuary.

Before the walk the children attended a reptile program which focused mainly on snakes found in the North Texas area. The Museum guide talked extensively about the two types of King snakes that make their homes in north Texas. She explained the differences and similarities in the two snakes. She explained their diets, habitats, their usefulness to the environment, and their sensory awareness. The children also were invited to touch the snakes and to allow the snakes to move around on their hands.

After their walk and program the children had a picnic lunch on the Museum grounds before their trip back to school.

Game Warden Field Notes

A Cajun was stopped by a game warden in Southern Louisiana recently with two ice chests of fish, leaving a bayou well known for its fishing.

The game warden asked the man if he had a license to catch the fish. "No, these are my pet fish."

"Pet fish?"

"Ya, every night I take these here fish down to de bayou and let them swim 'round for a while. I whistle and they jump rat back into the ice chests and I takes them home."

"That's a bunch of hooey! Fish can't do that!"

The Cajun looked at the game warden for a moment and then said, "It's the truth ma' friend, I'll show you. It really works."

"Okay, I've GOT to see this!"

The Cajun poured the fish in to the bayou and stood and waited.

After several minutes, the game warden turned to him and said,

"Well?"

"Well, what?" said the Cajun.

"When are you going to call them back?"

"Call who back?"

"The FISH."

"What fish?"

Lady Hornets improved the season to 12-1

The Lady Hornets improved the season record to 12-1 Tuesday night with a 55-37 victory over Ponder. Ponder out-scored Muenster the first quarter, then the Lady Hornets went to the locker room at half-time with a tied score on the board. Muenster then put 38 points on the board, while holding Ponder to 20 to get the win.

Jami Gerstberger was the leading scorer for Muenster with 14 points. Robyn Hermes added 11 and Melinda Walterscheid 10 for double digit scores. Lisa Felderhoff put in 8, Megan Lippe 6, JoAnna Felderhoff 5, and Brooke Endres 1.

offered to house prisoners for Cooke County at a cost that is $7.25 less per day per inmate with no minimum days. Dickens County would provide pick-up and delivery of inmates. Cooke County must transport them to and from Denton. It costs about $44.74 per day per inmate at Denton as opposed to an estimated $25 per day if they can be kept in Cooke County.

A renewal contract was signed with Southwestern Bell for a new inmate phone system. By unanimous approval Commissioners agreed to a three-year contract that would begin when the current contract expires in November of 2003. As explained by Sherman Herrington, senior account manager with Southwestern Bell, the proposal includes new digital imaging system equipment that will be used by the Sheriff's Department for booking purposes.

Sheriff Mike Compton said that currently they e-mail photos of inmates on a regular basis to various agencies. "Digital images are so much superior to the old photographic that photographically it makes it so much easier to transfer these images and easier to capture," said Sheriff Compton. He said images of the "regular customers" who come in whose appearances change from day to day and this system would allow them to have the most current picture. This equipment will be made available to the Sheriff's Department within 45 days. There will be no cost to the County to have the new inmate phone system installed. The County does get a commission on the profits from the phone calls, which is estimated to be about $1,700 a year.

On the recommendation of Precinct #4 Commissioner Virgil Hess, Commissioners Court approved a request by Sprint/United Telephone Company of Texas, Inc. to install a buried cable upon and along the right-of-way of CR 416 in Precinct #4. Hess said that he had made changes in the contract to bring it up to the required standards of depth, etc. Sgt. Ray Sappington of the Texas DPS reported that two bids had been submitted on a lease for the Texas DPS's copy machine. The bid specs asked for a minimum of 8,000 copies per month. Dustin Office Machines bid $246 per month with .0115 per copy after 8,000. Xerox bid $210 per month with .0094 per copy after 8,000. Commissioners approved the lower Xerox bid.

In other business Commissioners Court:

- Approved request by Mountain Springs Water Supply to install a fresh water line across Blackjack Road, approximately one-half mile south of FM 922 in Precinct #2.
- Approved the joint resolution establishing an Interjurisdictional Emergency Management Program for the city of Valley View. Dee Blanton, Cooke County Emergency Management Coordinator, said that he hopes to have a warning system for the county in place by March when tornado season begins. Currently the best the County can do is to send deputies out to warn residents. Since radio station KXGM went off the air, there is no designated station to warn Cooke County residents.
- Approved Public Official bonds for County Treasurer Judy Hunter, Cooke County Surveyor, Cooke County Court At Law Judge John Morris, County Judge Bill Freeman, County Clerk Rebecca Lawson, County Auditor Gloria Parrish, Deputy Constables Terry Gilbert and Tony Ward, Commissioners Bill Cox and Virgil Hess, John Souerberg jailer, Dave Busch deputy sheriff, and Roger Petit.

Canadian wheat practices hurt U.S. producers says ITC

The U.S. International Trade Commission determined last week that imports of durum and hard red spring wheat from Canada are injuring U.S. producers of the same types of wheat. The finding allows the Commerce Department to continue countervailing duty and antidumping investigations that could lead to the United States slapping high duties on the wheat imports in March 2003.

By a vote of 4-1, the commissioners determined that Canada unfairly subsidizes production of Durum and hard red spring wheat, and that the wheat is sold in the United States at less than fair market value.

The CWB was quick to denounce the ITC determination. In a news release issued on the day of the ruling, the CWB called it "just another step in continued American trade harassment."

The office of the United States Trade Representative is quite simply an attack on western Canadian farmers and anything that gives them a competitive advantage," said Larry Hill, chairman of the CWB directors' trade committee. "The facts of this case do not support a ruling against us, we do not 'dump' grain, nor do we have unfair subsidies. This has been shown time and time again."

Durum wheat is used mainly to make pasta. Hard red spring wheat is used primarily in breads. The North American Millers Association, which represents pasta and bread manufacturers, opposes the Commerce Department investigation. NAMA officials testified before the ITC in October that, in their years of purchasing wheat from Canada, they had never bought from the CWB at less than market prices. Representative also is pursuing a complaint concerning the CWB in the World Trade Organization, working to improve market access for U.S. wheat exports to Canada and negotiating for reform of monopoly state trading enterprises in the current round of WTO agriculture negotiations.

The CWB's buying and selling power has long irked U.S. wheat producers. The organization has exclusive authority to sell Canadian wheat and barley for export, and acts as a single marketing agent for about 85,000 Canadian wheat producers. It claims to be "the largest single seller of wheat and barley in the world, holding more than 20 percent of the international market."

Rural voices help drive election results says American Farm Bureau

By Bob Stallman
President, American Farm Bureau

It felt good to vote on November 5.

I don't know about you, but I believe exercising my right to vote is truly what being an American is all about. No matter what the results, the privilege of voting is something I never take for granted. It's how we, as citizens, make sure our voices are heard. And if you ever doubted that we in rural America can make a difference, this election certainly proved otherwise.

Despite it being an "off-year" election, several key Senate races around the nation had us sitting on the edge of our seats. In many of those races, it was rural America that held the power. Farmers and ranchers along with our rural neighbors literally decided the outcome and shaped the national political landscape in the unprecedented fashion we find for the 108th Congress.

Disaster assistance, national energy policy, forest management policy and grazing rights, taxes and trade are all issues of significant importance to agriculture at this time. Farm Bureau members do an outstanding job of discussing and debating these issues through our policy development process in order to determine our organization's stand. Our work doesn't end there, however.

It is up to us to cast our votes in a way that will help advance our policy positions. It also is up to us to talk with our rural, and urban, neighbors so they understand how their vote affects us, and our nation's agricultural industry.

The results of this past election prove how important it is for farm and ranch families to mobilize and stay involved. It also proves we can make a difference when we do just that.

SWCD sponsors tree and seed programs

The Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) is sponsoring its annual seedling tree program for area land users. The purpose of the program is to encourage the planting of trees for conservation and wildlife benefits.

Hardwood and conifer trees are available. Adapted hardwood species include Red oak, Green ash, and Aromatic Flameleaf sumac. Conifers available include Arizona cypress, Austrian pine, Afghanistan pine, and Red cedar. Wildlife packets are also available to enhance wildlife habitat and provide food and cover for quail, deer, turkey, and squirrels.

The cost of the seedlings is $25.00 for a bundle of 50 bare-rooted hardwoods or $48.00 for a bundle of 100. The conifers range from $1.75 to $2.50 per tree, depending on the number of trees ordered. The wildlife packets are $58.00 for 100 trees. The last day to order trees is Feb. 10, 2003. The trees will be delivered on Feb. 21, 2003.

In addition to the trees, the SWCD also sells a large variety of grass and wildflower seed.

The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) is the technical agency that assists the Upper Elm-Red SWCD in carrying out its programs. For information on the tree or seed programs, contact the SWCD or the NRCS in Gainesville at (940) 668-7794, ext. 3.

As of Oct. 2002, any food sold as organic must meet criteria set by the USDA's National Organic Rule. If labeled organic, products must be produced without pesticides, antibiotics, hormones, synthetic fertilizers, or genetic modification, and has four levels of purity: 100% organic - does not contain any non-organic ingredients; organic - at least 95% pure; made with organic ingredients - at least 70% organic with no added sulfites; some organic ingredients - products containing less than 70% organic.

Majority of outside stored hay loss occurs at the bottom of the bale where the hay comes in contact with the ground. Hay stored on tires or pallets decreased the weight loss to about 12%.

Outdoor hay stored on soil, but covered still loses almost 13% by weight. If not covered about 21% is lost.

Muenster ISD bands present Christmas concerts Dec. 8

by Elfreda Fette

The Christmas season was brightened Sunday afternoon, Dec. 8, with a splendid band concert presented by the Muenster High School Band, the 7th Grade Band, and the 6th Grade Band conducted by Jerry Everett in Sacred Heart Church at 3:00 p.m.

Pride was justifiably shown by parents of the students, and admiration was evidenced by faculty members and hundreds of guests and friends who attended the program. A capacity crowd reached almost standing room only. Even to us casual observers, the improvement in the 6th Grade Band was noticeable. It is a tempting thought to anticipate that High School Marching Band when they reach their junior and senior years.

Current membership in the High School Band is eleven on flutes; fifteen on clarinets; one bass clarinet; one contra bass clarinet; three on alto saxophones; one tenor saxophone; three on horns in F; twelve on trumpets; five on trombones; seven on euphoniums; three on tubas; six on percussion; two on mallet percussion; making a total of 70 members.

Current membership in the 7th Grade Band is three on flutes; three on clarinets; one on bassoon; two on alto saxophones; three on horns in F; eight on trumpets; two on trombones; four on euphoniums; two on tubas; five on percussion; one on baritone saxophone; making a total of 34 members.

Current membership in the 6th Grade Band is seven on flutes; six on clarinets; one on bass clarinet; three on alto saxophones; one on horn in F; five on trumpets; six on trombones; two on euphoniums; two on tubas; four on percussion; one on mallet percussion; making a total of 38 members and a complete combined total of 142 students participating.

The 6th Grade Band gave the opening numbers: "Jolly Old St. Nicholas," traditional; "Let's Rock" by Michael Sweeney; "Come To The Manger," arr. Feldstein and O'Reilly; "Latin Magic" by John Higgins; and "Up On The House Top," traditional.

The 7th Grade Band presented "Flying Tigers" by David Shaffer; "Sing Of Christmas," arr. Ralph Hermann; "Nottingham Castle" by Larry Daehn; and "A Magnificent Christmas" by Larry Neeck.

The High School Band presented: "African Bell Carol," arr. Robert W. Smith, with soloists Stevie Klement, Russell Endres, and Matt Beaver; "Fort Canterbury March" by David Holsinger, with Special Guest Conductor, Charles Millender, a close friend, and former teacher and band instructor of Jerry Everett; "Deck The Halls With Old Composers" by Jerry Williams, when Mr. Everett challenged the audience to see who could identify more than anyone else; "The Holly And The Ivy," arr. Chip Davis, with soloist Kelly Grewing; and Highlights from "The Lord Of The Rings" by Howard Shore, arr. Ralph Ford, with soloists Diana Felderhoff, Shaina Sheaff, Shannon Grewing, Whitney Watson, and Leah Vinson.
