Relay bonds County, raises $85,200

By Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County's 7th Annual Relay For Life took place last weekend at Hornet Stadium in Muenster with a total of 33 teams participating. When the total donations were tallied it was announced that more than $85,200 had been raised for the American Cancer Society to fund local programs and for cancer research.

At 6 p.m. Friday, June 7, the event kicked off with the Survivors lap. Ninety people with a common bond, each had been diagnosed at some time with cancer, walked the opening Survivors lap.

As the Survivors walked each of their names was called and "When You Believe" was played.

Also participating in opening ceremonies were Mary Endres who led the invocation, VFW Post #1922 presenting the colors, Muenster Boy Scouts who raised the flag, and Mikki Jones singing the National Anthem. There were two special guests from the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society (ACS), Mike Dany, CEO, and Steve Zanzow, vice-president of field operations. Dany said that he was very impressed with Cooke County's Relay For Life noting he felt that it was one of the best in the state.

Survivors then took the opportunity to honor their caregivers. Survivors formed a circle facing out and asked caregivers to form a circle around them. All others were then asked to form a third outer circle around them. Survivors then pinned their caregivers with a Relay For Life Caregiver's pin.

At 10 p.m. lights were dimmed to feature the 500 luminaria glowing around the track's perimeter. Every luminaria represented a person who had lost his or her struggle with cancer or honored someone who had once been diagnosed with cancer. As participants walked the track, the names of those honored with luminaria were recited. The Curbstones, a quartet from Sacred Heart School directed by Shane Studdard, sang "Amazing Grace" and "Wind Beneath My Wings".

Numerous activities were planned to entertain participants when they weren't taking a turn walking laps on the track. These included games, competitions, talent contest, and even a visit by Lollipop the Clown.

Awards were presented at the Closing Ceremony. It was learned that top three teams raising money were first place The Brewer Bunch with $12,005.34; 2nd place Courthouse Posse with $3,686.08; and 3rd place Muenster Memorial Hospital and Home Care $3,463.08. Jimmie Gossett was recognized as raising the most money as an individual. Most Money Raised by a Child Team Member went to Kalyssa Pollard and Most Money Raised by a Teen Team Member went to Ashley Hess.

Individuals raising over $1,000 were Jimmy Gossett, Juanell Branyon, Sandra Walterscheid, Kalyssa Pollard, Latrisha Hughes, Patty Pierce, Shelby Brewer, Susan Hughes, and Angela Butcher.

Teams raising over $3,000 were The Brewer Bunch, Courthouse Posse, Muenster Memorial Hospital, Relay Challengers, Jimmy's Crew, Gainesville Memorial Hospital, Cooke County 4-H, and Tender Loving Care Day Care Center.

Cooke County 4-H was named the team with the

The old steel bridge that spanned Elm Creek just south of Lindsay beside Farm Road 3108 was removed Wednesday. Billy Lemons (inset) of Lemons House Moving, Whitesboro says the frame measured 18feet, 9 inches wide and 100 feet, 6 inches long. Lemons says he probably has the bridge sold to the Tribute Golf Course in The Colony, Texas.

SHHS Duo Named to State TAPPS 2A Softball Team

Mary J. Callahan, pitcher, and Audrey Barnhill, catcher, of the Sacred Heart High State Champion Tigerette Softball team were named to the 2001-2002 State Softball TAPPS 2A First Team. Both were also All-district, Regional, and State Tournament Team.

Callahan, a junior, has had a three-year career as pitcher for the Tigerettes and was named to the TAPPS 2A First Team three consecutive years. She also plays in summer league softball as pitcher on a couple of teams and plays as a pick-up on other summer teams, playing several positions.

Barnhill, the only senior member of the 2002 softball team has also played for three years, playing the positions of third base, second base, short stop, and this year catcher, stepping in as a replacement for Jana Trubebach who was injured early in the season in a practice game with Valley View. Audrey was also named to the TAPPS 2A First Team last year playing second base.

the State TAPPS Team this year were Karen Gehrig, shortstop Second Team, Michelle Bayer, right field and Jennifer Hoedebeck, left field - Honorable Mention.

County Seeks Energy Savings with Pool

Janet Felderhoff
"There are 32 members in this particular pool that we went into and out of that there will be a savings of $1.5 million," noted Cooke County Judge Bill Freeman. "Our share of that savings looks like 20% of our electric bill will be saved during the next year. That's a pretty substantial savings." Judge Freeman said he would be getting a final report later in the day. Alliance Power is the company that the contract was signed with.

Negotiations have been ongoing for the last two months as Public Power Pool sought the best offer for savings on electricity. "Public Power Pool was created by Durbin Counties Association and is an entity unto itself," explained Judge Freeman. "Public Power Pool is a separate entity that contracts with urban counties. They go around and get groups together to bid and they try to bid these contracts where there will be more and more aspiring at the same time so the group gets a more lucrative contract."

This became possible since the deregulation of electricity on Jan. 1. Judge Freeman explained that this contract is good for one year and expires in June 2003. At that time Cooke County can join an even larger pool and renegotiate a new contract that could possibly yield more savings.

Commissioners gave their stamp of approval to the posting by the County Clerk of a Pre-clearance letter to eliminate the Justice of the Peace Precinct One Place One position. Bill Freeman last held this. When he was appointed County Judge, it was mutually agreed that the work from that position could be handled by dividing it between Justice of the Peace Precinct One Place 2 Dorothy Lewis and Justice of the Peace Precinct 4 John Roane. Automation of much of the work caused freeing up of the JPs' time.

New papers for Cooke County volunteer firemen will soon be on the way. Four bids were submitted and opened at the Monday, June 10 meeting. Self Radio of Montague submitted the low and winning bid of $311.40 for a Motorola Mentor 3. They also bid $320.40 for a Mentor 4.

Other bidders were: Buddies TV and Communications of Hallettsville bid $316.39; P&W Paging Service of West Palm Beach, Florida for $332.00 each; and Shipman Company of Denison bid $332.00. A total of 118 pagers will be purchased to outfit the volunteer firemen, many of whom have pagers that don't work properly and are unrepairable. Two have already been purchased making a total of 120 new pagers.

Budget hearings were set for June 24 after the regular Commissioners Court meeting until 4 p.m. and for the 25th from 10 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. If needed they will meet again on the June 26. The Sheriff's Department budget hearing will be held at the first meeting in July due to a schedule conflict.

Bob Martin of A-Z Diversified Marketing Company asked permission to speak with county department heads about his company's product. He said his company developed and patented an energy cell that goes on all combustible engines that increases the fuel economy of vehicles by 10 to 40% on gasoline engines and from 1/2 mile per gallon to three miles per gallon on diesel. He claimed it also eliminates emissions to almost zero.

Each unit costs $135 and has a lifetime warranty with a 60-day money back guarantee if unsatisfied.

Commissioners told Martin that there was no problem in talking with department heads, but they would have to come before the Court for permission to make any such purchase.

In other business Commissioners Court:

• Approved Temple Construction Company's request to place a fresh water line across CR 164, approximately 1/4 mile west of CR 109.

• Approved request by Temple Construction to place a fresh water line across CR 212, approximately 1-1/2 miles west of FM 3164.

Bertha Hamric of 521 N. Main Street is the Keep Muenster Beautiful Yard of the Month recipient for June. Beautiful layers of daisies, salvia, and heirloom oxalis are just some of the plants successfully used to create Bertha's beautiful Texas style English garden. Heirloom plants in her gardens, such as the oxalis, were started as long as 45 years ago from plants shared with her by friends. Bertha agrees with her neighbor, Crystal Anderson, that Keep Muenster Beautiful should sponsor a special day in the spring for the community to share seeds, bulbs, and plants from their gardens. Interested gardeners should be prepared to "share" and "receive" in early May of next year. If you would like to honor your neighbor with a nomination for Yard of the Month, call, write, or e-mail Keep Muenster Beautiful at 759-2368, P.O. Box 604, maryleex@starband.net Courtesy photo

Most Team Spirit. Best Decorated Camp Site was awarded to the Brewer Bunch. Best Team Theme went to Cooke County 4-H. Sharon Our Love won the Team Talent Show. Relay Chairman Cheryl Pollard remarked, "We couldn't have done it without the hard work of all the committees, committee chairmen, volunteers, and team members who worked so hard to make it such a success. For this kind of money to be raised year after year in Cooke County is just amazing! In the last seven years over one half million dollars have been raised by the Cooke County Relay for Life, something we can be extremely proud of."

Several months after our marriage, Aileen and I were living on the Stacy "A" lease several miles north of Muenster, and during a sustained rainy spell, the small creek just west of our house was in flood stage for days. There was no bridge over the crossing, and the road to the east was also impassable in some areas, so eventually our food supply had to be replenished.

Well, that was a problem, but then our good neighbor, Walter Richter, just west of the creek was going to town, and said I could ride with him, if I could get across the creek.

Now that was a problem, but I really didn't want to go hungry, so I crawled across the creek on one of the rod lines, carrying a tow-sack.

The trip to Muenster was uneventful, and we were soon back at Walter's home.

I had bought only canned goods - nothing breakable, so with my purchases stowed in the tow-sack, I walked down to the stream to a place where the bank on the west side was considerably higher than the water. I then threw the sack containing the canned goods across the creek and then decided that if I took a good run at it I could jump across from the high side. WRONG!

The rubber boots I was wearing slowed my run just enough so that I landed in about three feet of water near the other side, got soaking wet, and then clambered out, picked up the food and went to the house.

It was cold, and dry clothes never felt so good, and we had food, so I would quote the man in the ice cream ad on the T.V. "It turned out good!"

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Speaking for Mayor Weinzapfel and as City Administrator, vandalism has become a problem in Muenster. On May 10, playground equipment at the City Park was intentionally set on fire. There have been several streets signs damaged or stolen. Four-wheelers, which are illegal on public streets, have been tearing up the grass in the City Park and private vacant lots in town. Trash has been illegally dumped on private property and in City dumpsters. Beer cans and bottles are being thrown along the right of ways. These acts of vandalism can be stopped with the help of the citizens of Muenster. If you see someone doing something that you know is wrong, please take the time to write down the license plates or description of the vehicle and call the City Hall or Cooke County Sheriff's department. You may remain anonymous if you wish, but if these vandals knew they were always being watched they might think twice before committing the act. As a newcomer to Muenster, I already have that deep community pride that I saw when traveling through this pleasant, friendly city. I want to do whatever it takes to keep it that way. If you have a suggestion that you feel might work to keep an eye on Muenster, please contact City Hall and let me know.

Jordan, Shea Exchange Double Ring Vows

by Elfreda Fette

The wedding of Christine Jordan of Sherman and Matthew Shea of Colleyville was held in St. Mary's Catholic Church of Sherman on Saturday, May 18, 2002 at 7:00 p.m. Father Jeremy Myers officiated for the Nuptial Mass and double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Sam and Janet Jordan of Sherman and the granddaughter of Margie and Eddie Krahl of Muenster and Mary Alice and Richard Jordan of Gainesville. She is a graduate of Lindsay ISD in May 2000 and attended Grayson County College, and is employed as a Beauty Consultant at Merle Norman in Lewisville, at Vista Ridge Mall.

The groom is the son of Jim and Linda Shea of Colleyville and the grandson of Elsie Jennings of Kansas City, Kansas and James Shea of Kansas City, Kansas. He is a graduate of Grapevine High School and the Marine Military Academy and CDL Training Academy, and is employed as a truck driver by Star Transport.

Presented at the altar by her father, Sam Jordan, the bride was wearing a Morilee Designer gown of white satin and tulle, featuring a fitted bodice and dropped waistline accented with lace over a layer of crystal beads and pearlized sequins. Two beaded straps came across the shoulders. A full, multi-layer tulle skirt flowed into chapel length. Beaded motifs highlighted throughout the skirt and train. She wore an illusion veil caught to a jeweled tiara. The bridal bouquet held silk lavender and white roses. For sentiment and tradition, she wore diamond earrings as "something old."

ATTENDANTS

Svenja Stahlschmitt of Lüdenscheldt, Germany, friend of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Melissa Jordan of Sherman, sister of the bride, Jennifer Hughes of Sherman, cousin of the bride and Jo Sparkman of Lindsay, a friend of the bride.

They wore formal length, iridescent lavender gowns, and each carried a single white rose with purple asters, accented with purple, blue and white ribbons.

Kayla Shea, groom's sister, and Maria Wimmer, bride's cousin were flower girls. Joshua Jordan, bride's brother was ring bearer.

Shawn Holladay of Corinth, a friend of the groom, was best man. Jim Shea, groom's father, Steve Shea and Ryan Shea, groom's brothers all of Colleyville, were groomsmen. Ushers were Jonathan and Adam Krahl of Lindsay, cousins of the bride.

Altar servers were Joseph Skotnik of Bonham and Corey Brinkley of Whitesboro, friends of the bride.

Included in the special liturgy of the Nuptial Mass were Readings from the Old and New Testaments, given by Judy Krahl.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Claire Derling of Sherman, organist. "Ave Maria" was sung as a tribute at Mary's shrine.

Church decorations included altar arrangements of mixed white, blue and lavender flowers.

RECEPTION

A reception hosted by the bride's parents followed at St. Mary's Parish Hall, where an elegant buffet meal was served to 150 guests, with champagne. Later guests danced to music provided by High Cotton, with entertainment with karaoke. First dance for the bride and groom was "I Love You Always, Forever" by Donna Lewis.

The bride's table held a pair of silver candelabra and white candles. Silk lavender flowers with greenery were placed at intervals on the white covered tables, with a sprinkling of iridescent confetti. White tulle and white ribbon enhanced the skirts of the tablecloths.

The white tiered wedding cake, iced in white, was decorated with lavender flowers, and served by Imogene Zimmerer of Gainesville.

Reception assistants were Lauren Krahl, Jessica Krahl, Emily Krahl, Angela Wimmer, and Stacie Wimmer.

Decorations in the reception area included an archway behind the bride and groom's table, decorated with white flowers, greenery and miniature twinkling lights. Behind the cake table were three white pillars, wrapped with tulle and clear miniature lights, each holding a basket of greenery.

The rehearsal dinner was held on Friday, May 17, at The Point Restaurant at Grandpappy's Point on Lake Texoma.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, they will reside in Irving, Texas.

Dolly McKinney celebrates 102nd birthday

She "takes a lickin' and keeps on tickin'". That best describes Dolly Harris McKinney as she has proven to take what comes and keeps on going. She has overcome family tragedy and illness this year, but still when you greet her, Dolly is all smiles. Perhaps having lived one hundred two years, one does accept and understand life better than most. Knowing her, one will acknowledge that Dolly has an unusually positive attitude toward life. She loves people, going places and attending church. Dolly reads her Bible daily as well as the Wichita Falls Times Record News. She is an avid reader and domino player. She also does "tatting." Actually, she finds things to do, which keeps her mind active; an essential element to quality longevity. Dolly now resides at St. Richard's Villa.

Dolly Harris McKinney was born June 18, 1900 just north of Saint Jo. She is a descendant of early Texas families which came to Texas prior to its becoming a Republic. The qualities, which aided those early families, must still linger in Dolly as she has endured and enjoyed life to its fullest. She has many friends, representing many generations. The ladies of the Saint Jo Church of Christ are some of her closest. They will be the hostesses for the party to celebrate her one hundred second birthday. The party will be held in the Church of Christ Annex this coming Sunday afternoon, June 16 from two o'clock until three. These ladies have given her a party for the past twelve years, thinking each would very well be her last. Dolly has proven them wrong. So, until next year, come to another opportunity to honor Dolly McKinney. Join in helping make Dolly's birthday as special as she is.

Piano Recital Held

Eighteen piano students of Rosemary Dankesreiter were presented in a piano recital on Thursday, May 30 in the Muenster Public School Auditorium at 7:00 p.m.

Mrs. Dankesreiter welcomed students, parents, relatives and friends. She then introduced each student and noted the number of years of piano study.

Alex Anger performed in the recital after receiving only five months of instruction from Mrs. Dankesreiter.

Students completing their first year were Craig Bell, Madison Hofbauer, and Jordan LaChance.

Six students completed their second year: Kalya Rohmer, Steven Valliere, Lia Heers, Pierce Morrill, and Lauren Sepanski. Kit Morrill completed his second year but did not participate in the recital.

Students finishing three years were Sara Walterscheid, Laura Heers, Amy Nortman, and Dustin Felderhoff.

Anne Walterscheid mastered five years of instruction while Kristen Yosten finished five and one half years.

Three students had instruction for six years. Those are Christina Eckart, Jordan Ledbetter, and Amanda Felderhoff.

Jordan Ledbetter led everyone in an opening prayer. Then each student played two piano selections for their repertoires of classical, folk, pop, traditional, and religious melodies.

Recognition was given to the six students who participated in the UIL piano competition in Wichita Falls in the Spring.

Those were Lauren Sepanski, Dustin Felderhoff, Amy Nortman, Kristen Yosten, Jordan Ledbetter, and Amanda Felderhoff.

Mrs. Dankesreiter presented each student with a certificate of accomplishment and each was also awarded a statuette of a famous composer.

In the center of the auditorium stage stood a basket of multi-colored spring flowers, a birthday gift to Mrs. Dankesreiter from son and daughter-in-law Eric and Cheramie Dankesreiter, as May 30 was also Mrs. Dankesreiter's birthday. Adding elegance to the recital scene was a beautiful crystal candelabra standing on a pedestal table beside the piano. Mrs. Dankesreiter thanked parents for their cooperation in having students practice and meet their lesson times. All were invited to stay for cookies and punch after group pictures were taken.

Read to Succeed License Plates support Libraries

While classes have ended for the summer, TxDOT is helping public school libraries around the state prepare for the next school year by featuring the Read to Succeed specialty license plate in June. TxDOT and local county tax assessor-collector's offices provide Texans with these special plates whose sales benefit public school libraries statewide.

The Read to Succeed license plate design features a golden background on the left side of the plate with a drawing of an open book depicting the Lone Star Flag. The words "Read to Succeed" are in red and blue across the bottom of the plate.

Annually, the plates cost $30 in addition to the regular vehicle registration fee. Of that amount, $25 goes to a special fund set up to provide educational materials for the state's public school libraries. Owners of fleets of 50 or more vehicles can obtain the plates for $20 per vehicle ($15 goes into the special fund).

More than $100,000 has been raised for public school libraries around the state through the sale of these plates since first issued to motorists in January 1998.

Motorists can get an application at their county tax office, on TxDOT's Web site at www.dot.state.tx.us, by calling the TxDOT Help Desk at (512)465-7611, or by calling TxDOT's Fax-On-Demand forms line at (888)232-7033.

Come and Explore the Fort Worth Museum

A large, metal spring is positioned inside a box before you. You reach in to touch it, but it's not there! Where is the spring and why can't you grasp it? Is it magic or simply science at work? Find out through an all-new set of ExploraZone activities opening June 14 at the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History.

The innovative exhibit includes 30 new hands-on activities designed to make science, math, and technology engaging, exciting, and fun. This newest set of ExploraZone exhibits focuses on light and reflection, structures and resonance, and the properties of spinning things and is the fourth installment from the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History and the Exploratorium in San Francisco.

Structures and resonance come into play in exhibits like Round Arch Bridge and Fluttering Bridge. At Round Arch Bridge, you're invited to build an arched bridge out of angled blocks that vividly illustrate the differences between arched and flat bridge structures. Test your building abilities by walking across the bridge. Build it incorrectly and you may not make it across!

Fluttering Bridge, modeled after the Tacoma Narrows Bridge collapse in Tacoma, Washington, lets you adjust the speed and flow of air blowing on a rubber bridge. As you change the bridge's structure, you can see how the bridge responds to its resonance with the air.

Angular momentum and the properties of spinning things are explored in components such as Momentum Machine. Start by standing on a freely rotating circular platform. Give a slight push and you're off spinning. You'll soon find that the straighter you stand, the faster you'll go! When you've had enough, throw your arms out and you'll start to slow down thus illustrating how angular momentum depends on the distance of mass to the axis of rotation.

Understanding the importance of engaging, educational exhibits, the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History entered into a partnership with the Exploratorium in 1999. As a result, the Museum became the first U.S. site outside of San Francisco and the second museum worldwide to display Exploratorium exhibits.

All of the new ExploraZone components will be on display through Spring 2003. Exhibit admission is $7 for adults, $6 for seniors 60+, and $5 for children 3-12. Children under 3 are admitted free.

For more information call 817/255-9300 or go to www.fortworthmuseum.org.

Staff presents findings on off-road vehicles in riverbeds

Motor vehicle use in Texas riverbeds is ecologically harmful and made worse by limited river access and few appropriate venues for Off Road Vehicles (ORV) in Texas, according to TPWD staff conclusions based on the work of the Motorized Vehicles in Navigable Streambeds Task Force. TPWD staff presented its report to the TPW Commission on May 29.

The presentation noted that no state agency appears to have legal standing to regulate riverbed use by motor vehicles, so the issue may ultimately fall to the Texas Legislature to resolve. Two different legislative committees have taken up the issue. The Joint Committee on Water Resources has already heard testimony and subcommittee of the House Recreational Resources Committee will likely hold hearings this summer.

TPWD has been studying the issue with a 25-member task force composed of four main constituent groups - organized off road motor vehicle groups, riverside property owners, local river users and conservation groups.

Although no formal Texas research studies have been done, some evidence has been gathered. On Aug. 7, 2001 TPWD fisheries biologists collected specimens from two representative sites on the Nueces River. They wrote, "The first site is near state Highway 83 and has been heavily used by off road vehicles. Their impact was dramatically evident. There was little to no aquatic vegetation, virtually no riparian vegetation and the substrate had the appearance of heavy scouring." The second site sampled was nearby with similar topography but no public access (and thus no riverbed vehicle traffic), and it showed typical stream conditions. Fish samples at the impacted site showed "highly tolerant to pollution and environmental perturbations" with no "environmentally sensitive" species. At the nearby site without vehicle traffic, about one third of the specimens were fish that require clean, flowing water and good sand and gravel for spawning, indicating a healthier environment.

"There hasn't been enough scientific evidence brought forth to make an educated conclusion about the environmental impact of ORV use," said Carol Smith, American Motorcycle Association community council director, representing All Terrain Vehicles (ATV) on the task force. "I think there's a time and a place for every riverbed use. There's a lot of places that would be very apropos for ORV usage in a riparian zone, but not all river or riparian zones."

Smith fears all ORV users could be unfairly penalized because of the bad behavior of a few individuals. "There's probably bad apples in every crowd. I liken the Nueces River situation to similar issues on the Guadalupe River several years ago, where you had problems like trespassing, trash and alcohol abuse. You've got 30,000 tubers on a single weekend there, but they solve those issues by legislatively creating the Water Oriented Recreation District to levy taxes and fund cleanup and enforcement."

In other states, laws vary. The TPWD legal staff looked at 20 states and found wide-ranging approaches. In at least one state, Kansas, ORV riverbed use is legal. Conversely, some states simply banned the practice, such as Wisconsin and Missouri. Louisiana is one of 33 states with a scenic rivers law that allows for creation of management plans, another approach. States, such as New Mexico and Arizona have "sort of a game and fish approach, where if you can demonstrate habitat destruction, you can ban ORV use in certain areas."

A finding of the task force was that there is limited public access and lack of existing venues for ORV use, which magnifies the problem in Texas by concentrating activity in certain locations. ATV representative Smith agrees, saying "If there were more off-highway vehicle parks in Texas, then a lot of the riverbed usage would cease altogether. California has more than 200 off-highway vehicle parks."

Commissioners were also told that the lack of a straight forward and simple means of delineating boundaries between private and public lands (current approaches rely on gradient boundary and navigability) aggravates the situation.

Game Warden Notes

Bear Finds Food-Filled Den... Oldham, Randall and Hutchinson County game wardens recently responded to a report of a bear in a grain elevator west of Friona. TPWD wildlife biologist helped remove a cinnamon black bear through a manhole in the elevator's side. The bear was later released on a large ranch in a remote area.

With the coming of Spring, so come the chiggers

Spring, what a splendid time of year.

One can almost see butterflies dancing over hills of wildflowers...stream waters glistening in the rays of a morning sun... and scores of voracious chiggers ready to attack a victim's skin.

Chiggers can transform a pleasant day at the lake or a mid-afternoon picnic into a week of tormented scraping and scratching.

The pests, sometimes called "jiggers" or "redbugs," aren't insects, but are larval forms of arachnids, similar to ticks. They are less the 1/150th of an inch and may be orange, red or yellow colored.

"They are normally red because of the blood they ingest," said Dr. John Jackman, professor and Extension entomologist.

Although often believed to burrow into the skin, they only penetrate it with their mouth parts and drink blood. This action creates a tube in the epidermis of the skin, he said.

"It often appears as if the chiggers are burrowing because a welt may enlarge and completely envelope it," said Dr. James Robinson, Extension entomologist.

"The swelling is because of the reaction of the salivary fluids they inject into you at the same time they are ingesting blood."

Chiggers mainly feed on animals such as birds, rodents and reptiles. Sometimes, however, humans will go tromping through the brush and encounter these pests.

Because chiggers are concentrated in small areas, one person may suffer a plethora of bites, while another, only a few feet away, may remain unaffected.

Chiggers sit in grass or brush and crawl onto their host as they pass by. Once the chiggers have found unsuspecting prey, they begin their reconnaissance, trying to find the perfect spot to chomp down.

"Chiggers normally bite where clothing fits the tightest, such as the foot and waist region," said Robinson. "Stay on paths and avoid walking through tall grasses or bushes."

"Wear long sleeve shirts and pants. Keep cuffs and collars buttoned and stuff your pants into your socks."

However, if you plan to go to the lake in shorts and sandals, chemical repellents may be of more use. "Repellents that contain the active ingredient DEET (diethyl toluamide) are the most effective. DEET is the only chemical that has shown significant results in tests," said Jackman.

The chemicals should be applied to clothing and reapplied every few hours.

If odor is not an issue, applying sulphur powder to your clothing may also be effective. Fill the toe region of an old sock or stocking with the powder, and tie the other end. Gently slap the sock against your body for an even distribution.

After leaving an area that may be inhabited by chiggers, take a shower and scrub vigorously with soap.

If the itching has already begun, the chiggers have already begun feasting, and it is probably too late.

"The reaction to chigger bites is delayed for several hours. Depending on the sensitivity of the individual, the irritation can last from a few hours to a week or more," said Jackman. "Some people will swell up dramatically, and others will hardly know they have been bitten."

Although chigger bites itch immensely, try not to scratch them. The bites may become infected and last even longer. Severe bites may need protection from secondary infection.

"People are best off purchasing an over-the-counter medication that is specifically designed to relieve the itch," Jackman said.

"There is quite a collection of home remedies. Sometimes, people coat their bites with Vaseline or lacquer in an attempt to suffocate the chigger. Usually, by the time you notice the bite, the chigger is long gone. This remedy is usually too late."

Other home remedies to relieve the itch include a good dosing of castor oil, cooked and cooled oatmeal, a moist aspirin tablet, baking soda or even meat tenderizer.

Items needed for AG scholarship roundup

The North Central Texas College Agriculture/Farm and Ranch Management Advisory Committee will sponsor the second Friends of Agriculture Scholarship Program Round Up on Saturday, Sept. 28. This event raised over $18,000 to assist in the endowment of scholarships for future agriculture students at NCTC. There will be a silent and live auction, music, dinner, and buyers' prizes given. Items are now being accepted for this event. Call 940-668-4217 ext. 353 or Denise Pearce, round up chairman, to donate an item or service to the auction.

This event is open to the public and tickets will be available.

TDA urges Texas cattle industry to be aware of new tuberculosis rules

Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs is urging everyone in the Texas cattle industry to educate themselves about bovine tuberculosis and be aware of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's change in TB status for Texas cattle and bison - from "accredited free" to "modified accredited advanced."

USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service published the interim rule mandating the bovine tuberculosis downgrade and rules for moving breeding cattle and bison June 6 in the Federal Register, with an effective date of June 3. Comments will be taken until Aug. 5.

The announcement came after two herds of Texas cattle tested positive for cattle tuberculosis in Fayette and Pecos counties in 2001. According to the USDA's Code of Federal Regulations for tuberculosis, any state will lose its TB-free status when two infected herds are detected within a 48-month period. The new rule requires Texas breeding cattle that are transported out of the state to test negative for TB and be officially identified.

"The animal health industry has dealt with tuberculosis in livestock for years," Combs said. "The Texas Animal Health Commission will continue to regulate and inspect the situation until they can say with confidence that Texas cattle are TB-free. At that time, they will apply for reinstatement of TB-free status."

"In the meantime, now more than ever, we must be sure the appropriate authorities closely monitor all livestock coming into Texas from TB areas," Combs said.

"At the rancher level, producers are extremely concerned that they will not be able to sell their cattle out of state. Texas cattle are known around the world for their quality, and anything that compromises their marketability is something we take very seriously," Combs said.

For more information call the Texas Animal Health Commission, which will regulate and enforce the new rule, at (800)550-8242, or USDA APHIS at (512)916-5551.

- Ag Briefs -

Pinkeye in livestock is worse in the mid-summer due to dust, pollen, flies, and bright sunlight. Fly control is the first thing to do for pinkeye control.

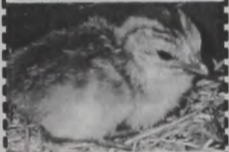

Next, watch the cattle closely, treating affected animals immediately, and separating the "pinkeyes" from the rest of the herd for easier treatment and to help reduce spreading the disease.
