VOLUME X

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1946

NUMBER 12

It seems as though Nick Miller is determined to have no blemishes on his record of free service to servicemen. As far as he is concerned charges for cleaning and pressing uniforms is still on the house. Says it makes no difference to him if the shooting is over, a fellow's part in the war is not over until he has his release from Uncle Sam.

Con had the good fortune of learning this the pleasant way—and he really has to admit that in this case our presser upper is stretching the courtesy to the limit. Because, though actually subject to the whims of the army while on terminal leave, Con is a civilian in thought, word and deed. And the only reason he's still wearing the uniform is that suits are not available. What's more, if this clothing emergency doesn't slacken within the next three weeks Nick may be getting more free patronage.

As one who has been gypped and has seen other service men gypped hundreds of times in the past few years, this soldier is qualified to state that the boys appreciate nothing more than such an expression of good will. Not because of the little money it saves them. They'd spend that anyway. But it does them good to realize that, among all the people scheming to get their pay by fair means or foul, there are a few who make voluntary sacrifices as a thank you gesture for the sacrifice they had to make.

While on the subject of favors to GI's, a bit of praise is in order for a Fort Worth clothing store that offers to help the ex-GI with his civilian clothing problem. Here's an ad the management ran a short time ago.

"We do want to help, and realize that many of you left clothes at home, which, with a few alterations, will be satisfactory to wear. We consider it a real privilege to make ordinary alterations on any suit, topcoat, or overcoat for ex-servicemen, without any charge of any kind, and without any obligation on your part."

Something I have discovered since being in the market for civies has given me an inkling of why the clothing situation is so hopelessly snarled. Merchants explain that they seldom get shirts, of which very few are regulation dress shirts. What they get is a model with sloppy collar, ill-fitted sleeves and a couple of puny pockets. Something that can pass as a sport shirt and command a higher price under OPA regulations.

The same has been true of watches for a long time. Well known names that we all recognized before the war have been replaced by off-brand models not tied down by OPA ceiling prices.

Meanwhile we hear that warehouses are bulging with all kinds of commodities. And by inference we come to the same conclusion ourselves. Told that only men in a few basic industries are on strike, we are fairly certain that most of our factories are buzzing along on a normal production schedule.

From which only one conclusion is logical. Lots of stuff is ready for our use but the factories are holding back in the hope that OPA ceilings will be lifted. We can't blame them, either. Their production costs went up as a result of wage raises. Most of them can't afford to sell at prevailing prices.

At first thought we are inclined to say that something should be done to make the factories release some of their stuff. Then we begin to wonder whether they should not have a vote of thanks for going on in spite of difficulties. At least they have kept people at their jobs when their own outlook was gloomy and they will be able to supply a lot of goods in a hurry when the right time comes.

From here on the subject starts getting more complicated. If OPA releases its grip things will go on the market but prices will go up and we'll have more inflation. If OPA stands pat some plants will go broke or close down, or both, and we'll have more unemployment. Yes indeed, it's getting complicated. Suppose you figure out the answer. Then write your congressman. While you're at it, send this column a copy of your letter. It would like to know some easier solution in the dilemma than its own, if one exists.

A few times in the past years truly has ventured the opinion that hard work, and only that, can get us out of the hole. The country is clamoring for two things: better pay and lower living cost. It's hard to figure how that can be accomplished except by putting in more hours at all-

Dairy Regulations To Be Rigid, Health Director Warns

That regulations governing the production of milk and cream will become more and more rigid during the next five years, was a subject especially stressed at the state convention of dairy products manufacturers at Galveston, Rudy Hellman, local cheese factory manager, disclosed on his return late last week.

The regulation, which will affect every dairy farmer of the community, was discussed in detail by Dr. George Cox, director of the State Department of Health, who is charged with responsibility of seeing that it is observed. It is sponsored by the Bureau of Foods and Drugs and seeks to establish a high standard of cleanliness in milk production.

The health director's method of enforcing the regulation, Hellman explained, is to hold processing plants responsible for the purity of the milk they accept. Failure to cooperate can result in condemnation of the plant's entire output. Faced with that ultimatum no plant has a choice other than to insist on rigid compliance by all its patrons.

Normal checking procedure will consist of periodic inspections of sediment samples by federal inspectors, after which the men will go to see any patron whose sample is unsatisfactory. He will be instructed on how to improve his product and if the next test does not show up better he will no longer be permitted to sell milk. At least five such inspections will be conducted this year at every milk processing plant in the state, Dr. Cox said.

Because the regulation goes into effect on April 1, much too early for all dairymen to comply, the director assured lenient enforcement. For the time being a suitable sample will constitute adequate compliance. The farmer who delivers clean milk need not worry if his barn does not meet with prescribed specifications.

The change over is so gigantic that it cannot be accomplished on short notice, Dr. Cox said. Hence the state will permit farmers to convert gradually. It expects to complete 20 per cent of its program per year for the next five years. After that a man will be black listed if he does not observe regulations to the letter. He emphasized, however, that producers are excused only as regards building specifications, etc. Cleanliness and freedom from disease are mandatory immediately.

Some of the principal regulations specified in the directive are:

- All cows to be healthy and free from contagious or infectious disease or from any physical condition rendering them unfit for the production of pure milk.
- Milking barns to be lighter, ventilated and cleaned daily—walls to be painted or whitewashed yearly—floors to be smooth, hard and easily cleaned, preferably concrete—stools clean and stored above the floor—no poultry, or other livestock to be permitted with or adjacent to milking stock.
- Cows to have flanks, bellies, udders and tails thoroughly clean at time of milking.
- Wet hand milking prohibited.
- Milk room to be lighter, ventilated and easily cleaned—to be fly proof and apart from a dwelling or barn and to be used only for storing milk and milk utensils.
- Utensils to be smooth, heavy gauge materials, free from rust, without breaks or crevices—to be thoroughly cleaned & treated with approved bactericidal solution both before and after use—woven wire strainers prohibited, only filter type single service pads being acceptable.
- Milk cooled, immediately to 70 degrees or lower and kept at that temperature until delivered—sanitary cooling facilities must be on each producing farm.
- Approved sanitary toilet facilities must be convenient to milking barn.

Have Army Discharges.
Sgt. Norbert Tempel and S. Sgt. Wilmer Luke are back in Muenster as civilians since their recent discharges from the army air corps. The former, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tempel, entered the service in Nov. 1942, and was on duty in Hawaii for several months. Luke entered the services in July, 1942, and was assigned in the states, most recently having been on duty at Buckley Field Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Cook have as their guest this week her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Hutson of Graham.

General Meeting Of Hospital Group Set For Mid March

A general meeting at which members of the Muenster Cooperative Hospital Association will choose their directors is to be held during the second or third week of March, J. M. Weinzapfel, one of the original directors announced this week.

Weinzapfel pointed out that the present board of directors was formed only for the purpose of securing a charter, the intention being that the regular board would be selected later by the members.

He further stated that a few items of surplus hospital equipment left over from the war are going on sale and it is desirable to appoint as soon as possible a group of men who will be authorized to purchase such items for the association. Thousands of dollars can be saved by taking advantage of those bargains.

At the same time Weinzapfel expressed the hope that prospective members who have been waiting for something to happen will submit their applications before the scheduled meeting so as to have a vote in selecting persons who will be in charge.

Likewise it is possible that some course of action may be introduced to apply a few of the association's contemplated benefits before the hospital is erected. People who intend to join anyway would do well to consider that possibility and present to help shape the organization's policies.

BREEDERS TO HEAR A & M SPEAKER AT OPEN MEET FEB. 20

With a guest speaker from Texas A & M College to explain the advantages of artificial breeding of livestock, the Muenster Artificial Breeders association will have an open meeting Wednesday night, Feb. 20, at the parish hall for the purpose of soliciting more members and eventually build a better quality of dairy cows in this area.

The local association was organized on May 15, 1945, as the first organization of its kind in Texas, with Charles Hellman, Oscar Walter, George Bayer, Al Feltman, Henry Wiesman, Meinrad Hesse and Norbert Klement as directors. Jack Biffle, appointed as technician, was sent to Trenton, Missouri, for a special course in his work.

Reporting on the association's progress Mr. Biffle stated that on Jan. 1, 1946, the local organization's herd of artificially bred cattle numbered 418. He also stated that three breeds of dairy cattle are represented in the association. They are Jersey, Guernsey and Milking Shorthorn.

Organized primarily for the purpose of improving the quality of herds, the association selects five sires of outstanding pedigree from breeds of dairy cattle that have been consistently high in milk production.

Reports from A & M College Mr. Biffle stated, are that many counties of the state, convinced of the success in other localities, are organizing artificial breeders associations. He urges every dairyman of the county either to attend the open meeting or to contact the county agent or himself for more complete information.

Fire Department Asks Enforcement of City Parking Ordinance

A plea for enforcement of the city ordinance regarding parking near fire plugs and in the prohibited zone in front of the theatre was voiced at a meeting of the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department in regular session Monday night. Members complained that in case of fire they would be seriously handicapped getting their equipment into action.

The group also named John Fisher, Joe Knabe, Nick Miller and Paul Nieball to serve as captains of the organization.

Date of the next fire drill was set for Tuesday, Feb. 26, at 5:30 P.M.

New Process Will Boost Refinery's Quality, Efficiency

A new distilling process by which approximately 70 percent of crude oil can be converted to gasoline of 75 to 78 octane rating is to be installed at the Muenster refinery soon as necessary equipment is available. The process is known as cyclotension and will probably be in operation within 90 days, according to Superintendent John Ezell.

Compared with the plant's present standards, the process will constitute an improvement of several hundred percent in efficiency. The present yield being about 20 percent of 50 octane gas.

It will be a life saver to the local plant, Ezell explained. At the present time only burning fuels are supplied here. All gasoline handled at the plant is trucked in from other refineries.

Moreover the new product, taken raw from the stills will test 2 to 5 points higher than most gasolines now sold at filling stations. With the addition of ethyl it can be raised to a test of 80 to 85, suitable for aviation gasoline.

With the cyclotension process in use, Ezell is enthusiastic about prospects for the local refinery. Besides putting out a more profitable and more saleable product he sees possibilities of a greater crude supply in the area. The nation's crude storage tanks are gradually filling since post war decline in the demand for gasoline. Before long more crude will be available to the local plant. An increase in volume is therefore expected to accompany the improved process.

Notes On The Sick And Injured of The Community

Paul Nieball, Jr., burned in an accident at Jimmy's Service Station on Dec. 15, was returned to Gainesville Sanitarium last night since he has had five blood transfusions. His condition is said to be improved this week and if no other complications develop he can be moved back to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nieball, early next week.

Loretta Schmitt, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Schmitt, has been moved from Gainesville Sanitarium to her home and is recovering normally from pneumonia.

Mrs. Charles Hellman, removed an operation for the removal of her appendix at Gainesville Sanitarium Monday and is making a satisfactory recovery.

Mrs. Henry Feltman continues as a patient at M & S hospital and is able to sit up in a wheel chair during the day at frequent intervals.

Joe Fisher Sr., a patient at Medical Arts Hospital in Dallas, is expected to be moved home following an operation recently and his children, J. W. Fisher and Mesdames Henry Piek and Paul Fisher went for him Tuesday. By the time they arrived, however, he had suffered a hemorrhage and they were unable to bring him home. His stay in the hospital depends on his condition, and according to his children, may be several days or several weeks, and it is probable that he will have to have another operation.

Mrs. J.E. Lane is confined to her home this week on account of illness.

Jacob Patel, Sr., a patient at M & S hospital in Gainesville is much improved following a recent major operation and was able to sit up in a wheel chair this week.

Miss Carrie Roberts, who submitted to a major operation at Gainesville two weeks ago was moved to the home of her mother, Mrs. Katy Roberts, during the weekend and is convalescing rapidly.

Earl Walterscheid is getting around fine with his right foot in a cast. He injured it on Jan. 3 when he dropped a drill stem collar on it during work on an oil well, and spent most of last week in Gainesville Sanitarium.

Has Six Day Pass
Pvt. Frank Hennigan returned to Fort Jackson, S.C., Tuesday following completion of a pass spent here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hennigan and family. He is awaiting an overseas assignment.

Accident Injuries In Europe Are Fatal To Cpl. Leo Zipper, 28

Friends Hear Of Former Resident's Passing In Germany, January 28

Relatives and friends here learned last Thursday that Cpl. Leo Zipper, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zipper of San Pedro, Calif., formerly of Muenster, died on January 28, in Germany as the result of injuries received in an accident. Further details concerning his death have not been learned.

Cpl. Zipper was on duty with the Army of Occupation as a truck driver and was stationed at Arbeh, Germany, since the end of hostilities. Prior to that time he was on duty in France with a photomapping company, and earlier, had been based in England for 15 months. He entered the army from Dallas in July, 1943, and trained with an engineers battalion of the army air corps at March Field, Calif., before going overseas. While in England he once narrowly escaped death when a buzz bomb hit the building he was in.

Survivors are his parents, three brothers, Virgil and Jerry of San Pedro, and Pat of Dallas, two sisters, Misses Virginia and Juanita of San Pedro, two nephews and a niece, and uncles and aunts including R. M. Zipper of this city.

Cpl. Zipper was born in Celina and moved to Muenster with his parents when he was a year old. He attended grade school here at Sacred Heart, then moved with his parents to Tishomingo, Okla., and graduated from high school there. The family later moved to Dallas and he was employed as a surveyor with the City of Dallas at the time of his induction.

Two of his brothers, Pat and Virgil, recently received discharges from the armed forces.

WEATHER MAN HAS HARD TIME MAKING UP HIS MIND

A blinding snow storm that limited visibility to less than two blocks swept across the Muenster area Wednesday at noon as thermometers hugged the freezing mark. It was the third snow of the winter.

Typical of Texas' traditionally changeable weather, Sol came out at intermittent intervals while the snow continued to flurry. Very little of it stayed on the ground, most of it melting shortly after it fell.

Muenster was struck Saturday by a return of winter with sleet, snow and a brisk north wind. Traveling in the wake of a cold front which passed over the area Friday afternoon, sleet began falling early Saturday morning, then changed to snow in midafternoon continuing to fall until 9:30 p.m. Thermometers stood in the middle twenties. By Sunday noon the snow had melted and the weather was almost balmy. Tuesday night a half inch of rain fell, bringing this month's precipitation to almost an inch.

According to local farmers, this community has more moisture than needed for fields, crops and pastures, and a long stretch of good, dry weather would be welcomed.

Local Thespians Will Present 3 Act Comedy At Parish Hall Sunday

The cast of characters includes Andrew Wimforter, Rosalie Henscheld, Ray Otto, Nellie Peis, Carl Schilling, Anna Marie Klement, Mildred Walterscheid, Geneva Gremminger, Werner Henscheld and Norbert Felderhoff. Assisting as property men are Paul Sicking, Earl Walterscheid and Harold Luke and other assistants are Florene Endres, Helen Hesse and Marie Felderhoff.

The Youth Band, under direction of J. J. Hoffman, will give selections between acts. Everybody is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Williams spent Wednesday in Wichita Falls.

Trustees Consider Plans Beneficial To Both Local Schools

Possibilities of enhancing the facilities of both local school systems were discussed at length in an unofficial meeting of the local public school trustees Monday night. Gathered for a regular meeting, several members agreed to postpone their regular monthly session because of the illness of two of their members, but remained to consider ways and means whereby both schools can gain.

Proposals include a gymnasium and athletic field available to both schools; a bus system to haul pupils of both schools and a plan whereby public school children can participate in the hot lunch program; and another plan whereby parochial pupils can take manual training and home economics courses at the public school while the parochial school, in exchange, admits public school students for some of its courses, such as mathematics and history.

There is no reason, the trustees feel, why Muenster should not make the most of its unusual situation. The parish does not wish to give up its school, nor would the district be willing to assume the expense of taking it over. But each school could profit by sharing the facilities of the other.

Advanced as a public school project the proposal was described as quite feasible. A district bond issue could build the gymnasium and athletic field and other necessary structures. And the bond need not be burdensome to local residents because approximately half the local valuation is held by outside interests such as oil, power, gas and railroad companies.

Explained as another possible relief to the tax load is the annexation of surrounding districts now distressed and sending their advanced pupils to other cities. Citizens of two districts already expressed willingness to join as soon as Muenster is able to offer an adequate public school system.

VOTE ON APRIL 6 WILL ELECT FOUR SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Four trustees to serve on the board of the Muenster independent school district will be elected in the annual school ballot on Saturday, April 6. Herbert Meurer, secretary announced this week.

Vacancies to be filled are those resulting from the expiration of the terms of Albert Henscheld, Herman Pierce, and the resignation of Frank Yosten and Meinrad Hesse and also by the resignation of the unexpired term of one year and the other three will be elected for full three year terms. To date no candidates have announced for the positions.

Other members now serving on the seven man board are J. J. Wimmer, John Klement, and E. S. Lawson.

Mrs. Carra Paeel and daughter Miss Florence, spent Sunday in Burk Burnett visiting the former's sister, Mrs. J.N. Anthony, who is seriously ill following a stroke Friday.

LEONA HAVERKAMP AND ANTHONY LUKE MARRIED TUESDAY

Sacred Heart church was the scene of nuptial rites performed at 8:30 Tuesday morning to unite Miss Leona Haverkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haverkamp and Anthony Luke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke. Rev. John Walbe, assistant pastor, performed the double ring ceremony and officiated at the nuptial high mass in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends of the couple.

The altar was decorated with a profusion of white blossoms and greenery and traditional wedding music was played on the pipe organ by Sister M. Leonard, O.S.B. The church choir sang the mass. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely gown of white satin fashioned with fitted bodice topped with a lace-edged white net yoke, long fitted sleeves terminating in points over the hands and a full skirt which extended into a long graceful train. Her finger-length veil was held to a pearl tiara and she carried a prayerbook topped with a white orchid from which fell white sweetpea buds caught with satin ribbon. For "something old and borrowed" she wore a gold cross and chain worn by her mother on her wedding day and turquoise ear screws were worn for "something blue."

Miss Elfreda Luke, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and the bride's twin sisters, Misses Bertha and Bernice Haverkamp, were bridesmaids. They chose identical dresses in shades of shell pink and powder blue, respectively. They were fashioned with satin bodices and bouffant skirts of net over satin. They wore matching satin halos with shoulder length veils and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations. Miss Luke's flowers had streamers of blue satin and the bridesmaids' bouquets had pink streamers.

Little Miss Evelyn Haverkamp, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown of white satin and net was a replica of those worn by the bride's other attendants and she carried a basket of white sweet peas. Ray Luke, young brother of the groom, was ring bearer.

Leo Haverkamp, brother of the bride, was best man, and the groom's other attendants were his brothers, Wilmer and Harold Luke.

Mesdames Haverkamp and Luke mothers of the couple, were ensembles of black and gray, respectively, and white carnation corsages.

After the services, breakfast was served at the Ben Luke home to members of the bridal party, Pastors Rev. Herman Lutz and Rev. John Walbe, and Mmes. Theo Wiesman and Fred Herr, Sr., grandmothers of the couple. A color scheme of pink and blue was noted in decorations and table appointments.

A reception and dinner for more than a hundred guests, was held at the home of the bride's parents at three o'clock. Miss Cecilia Haverkamp, sister of the bride presided at the guest book. The bride's table carried out the traditional all white wedding theme and was centered with a decorated, tiered cake, flanked with tapers.

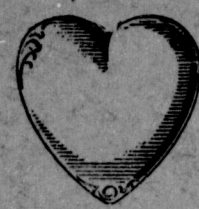

The reception preceded Mr. and Mrs. Luke's departure on a wedding trip, after which they will make their home in this city in the west part of town. For traveling Mrs. Luke wore a three-piece brown wool gabardine suit with matching accessories.

Mr. Luke served with the 32nd Airborne Division overseas holding the rank of technical sergeant. He was discharged last December after being in the army since Feb. 1942. He is organist of Sacred Heart church and a member of the Youth Band and is in business here as manager of the Variety Store. Mr. and Mrs. Luke are both natives of Muenster and attended Sacred Heart school. During the past year Mrs. Luke was employed in Fort Worth as a telephone operator.

Washington Notes

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D.C. Feb. 8— I have just returned from a little surprise birthday party given for Congressman J. J. Mansfield of Texas, affectionately called "Judge" Mansfield. The Judge has represented the 9th District of Texas in Congress for 15 consecutive terms, or 30 years. Before coming to Congress he was a county attorney and then a county judge.

You Can't Look YOUR BEST— Unless Your Clothes Look Their Best.

Lone Star Cleaners

J. P. GOSLIN, Prop. Phone 332 Gainesville

He has served in public office continuously for about 60 years, and is now 85 years of age. He is one of the most highly respected best loved Members of Congress. After coming to Congress he suffered an accident and has been in a wheel chair for many years. His memory and mind have not been impaired by age, and he is one of the most mentally alert and active men whom it has been my pleasure to know. He has served longer as Chairman of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors than any person in the history of the nation. He perhaps knows more about the rivers and harbors of America than any living man. His home town is Columbus, Texas.

I dropped into the House cafeteria with friends this morning for a cup of coffee. The girl at the coffee urns remarked that in the previous two hours she had served more than 56 gallons of this favorite beverage. It appears that Capitol Hill employees really go in for coffee drinking.

In the House Committee on Immigration this week I made a motion to take up my bill, H.R. 3663, restrict immigration. The motion carried by a vote of 9 to 7. Hearing will start within two weeks. The bill will deny admission to this country to all persons who bore arms against us during World War II, all members of the Fascist and Nazi parties, the Gestapo, Storm Troopers and auxiliary organizations, and will reduce immigration by 50 per cent for a period of ten years. About one-third of the people in this country are either foreign-born or one or more of their parents were born aboard. Many of these are among our best citizens. However it seems to me we should restrict immigration until our so-called "melting pot" has melted and until we have clearly assimilated all those who have arrived in recent years.

It might be interesting to note that the Commissioner of Immigration is an Italian by the name of Ugo Carusi. The Chairman of the House Committee on Immigration is Mr. John Lesinski of Michigan, who is Polish.

Persons returning from inspection trips in the Pacific war theaters unanimously agree that Manila, once one of the most beautiful cities in the Orient, is the most devastated of any war-torn city. The Japs did a good job of sabotage and destruction before leaving Manila. Buildings constructed of motor and steel were dynamited and the job of clearing these sites for new construction is a tremendous one. Our High Commissioner to the Philippines, Paul V. McNutt, is just back with plans for assistance for the Filipinos. Not only did the Japs devastate their cities, but most of their livestock was killed and their tools and equipment stolen or destroyed. Their plight is indeed serious. We are to give them complete independence on July 4 of this year. Measures are now under consideration to extend them certain economic advantages in order to aid their rehabilitation. We will retain military and naval bases in the Islands.

Much interest and discussion is going on in Washington concerning atomic bomb experiments soon to be conducted on some 90 naval vessels in the far Pacific. Bombs will be exploded in the air above this fleet, then on the surface, and bombs will be set off a mile under water. Some scientists greatly fear these deep-sea experiments, saying there is a possibility of setting off some sort of chain disintegration of atoms which might be catastrophic.

DOCTORS URGE PAYING POLL TAX TO DEFEAT SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

More than 100,000 poll taxes have been paid this year at the direct solicitation of the physicians of Texas by citizens opposed to socialized medicine and who also favor a constructive medical and public health program in the Texas legislature, so Dr. Holman Taylor, Secretary of the State Medical Association of Texas stated today.

"The State Medical Association made a strong appeal to its 6,000 members and the members of its Women's Auxiliary to see that all people opposed to the Federal legislation which would destroy the private practice of medicine qualified as voters," Dr. Taylor says. "The results were most encouraging for we estimate that more than 100,000 voters qualified with the definite purpose of opposing unfriendly and destructive legislation both State and national. The physicians of Texas and their friends are going to take a hand in next summer elections. They will support Congressmen in every district who are opposed to Socialized medicine and will favor legislators who believe in constructive public health measures."

A new one-watt fluorescent night light, guarding Dad against stubbing his toe after he bounces out of bed to warm baby's bottle, has been developed by Westinghouse engineers. The walnut-size lamp, which burns a month for 2 1-2 cents worth of electricity, produces enough light so objects can be seen readily yet its soft glow will not disturb the most sensitive sleeper. The bulb also is useful on stairsteps and to provide convenient lighting in hallways and kitchens.

FIRST CHOICE of New Home Planners

They are Specifying: A NEW FREEDOM GAS KITCHEN

There is no special and costly installation job to add to the price of an automatic gas range. It is as simple to install as it is to use.

A famous women's magazine survey reveals that in 98 per cent of American homes the housewife does all the home work. Perhaps this is why gas in the kitchen is practically the unanimous choice of Southwestern homemakers. So in their remodeling or new home plans they are specifying "A New Freedom Gas Kitchen."

They know that flame cooking is accurate, clean, fast; that gas refrigeration is silent, trouble-free; that gas automatic water heating provides adequate instant hot water for the automatic dishwasher; and that the New Freedom Gas Kitchens are designed to save steps, and bending and stooping. Gas is the choice for the ultra-modern kitchen.

RECRUITERS STRESS RETIREMENT BENEFIT OF REGULAR ARMY

Few persons in civilian occupations attain the position to retire from active work on a salary equivalent to that paid retiring soldiers of the Regular Army. Sgt. Levy D. Henderson, Army Recruiter, declared here today. "The Army's plan allows for retirement at the end of 20 years service at half-pay and three-quarters pay after 30 years," Sgt. Henderson explained. "And many of the 30-year men leave the service drawing as much as $155.25 per month, an income that will continue for the rest of their lives."

Sgt. Henderson discussed retirement benefits during his weekly recruiting visit to Gainesville. He comes here each Monday through Tuesday to see applicants for enlistment at the Post Office Building.

"It is mighty comfortable to know you are going to retire some day on a substantial salary," Sgt. Henderson said. "To get the same retirement income in civil life, we would have to invest about $74,700, the War Department statisticians figure. There are not many men who can earn and save that much money."

DEADLINE NEAR FOR SETTING OUT SHRUBS OR TREES THIS YEAR

If you plan to set out some new trees or shrubs on your place this year, don't wait much longer. Before you know it, the sap will be rising and buds will be swelling with a spell of mild weather.

And once spring has set in for good, your good intentions may be wasted. For trees set out too late don't stand much chance of survival, says Mildred Chapman, County Home Demonstration Agent.

If you can, do that planting or transplanting job as soon as possible and preferably after a rain. That way your trees and shrubs will be well established before leaving out time. And in case you didn't know, leaving out uses up a good deal of a plant's vitality.

When you put out trees it's best to ball and burlap them to keep the roots from drying out. Now about the planting job itself. Use a spade or a long handled shovel for digging the hole, and make it deep enough that the trees will be about an inch deeper in the ground than they were in the nursery or the woods. Be sure the hole is large enough around to hold all the roots without crowding any or curling them up toward the surface.

After you've set the tree, pack moist soil firmly around the roots by tamping it. If it's possible, a good watering will help settle the earth and get the tree off to a good start.

And when you have time and good weather, remember that winter is the best time for pruning shrubs, particularly evergreens. Mildred Chapman says that'll promote heavier growth of leaves and twigs.

Open Pollinated Corn To Be Replaced By Hybrid, County Agent Predicts

Hybrid corn, in the opinion of B.T. Haws, County Agent for the A. & M. College Extension Service is destined to replace most of the open-pollinated varieties native to Texas. This prophecy is based upon the greater yields of hybrids, especially in periods of dry weather. A good supply of planting seed is indicated for 1946 but should be ordered early.

Although hybrids adapted to Texas have been available for only a few years, they have demonstrated yielding qualities averaging 20 to 40 per cent in excess of native corn, depending upon the section where grown. On the basis of these increased yields the total corn production of Texas could be stepped up at least 20,000,000 bushels by substituting adapted hybrid strains for open pollinated corn.

For this area the following yellow hybrids are recommended.

low hybrids are recommended. Texas Hybrids No. 8, No. 12, No. 18, and Funk G711. The yields of all these hybrids have been practically the same over a period of years, with the grain characteristics largely determining the farmers' preference. Funk G 711 and Texas Hybrid No. 12 have the smallest grain in the crop produced and both have hard kernels. Texas Hybrid No. 18 has large fairly soft grains. Texas Hybrid No. 8 is especially adapted to the thinner soils of the Blacklands and Grand Prairie Regions & other locations where droughty conditions are likely to be a problem. For the deep fertile upland soils and bottom lands, Texas hybrid No. 12, is desired.

MILK CAN GERM KILLER

Insuring contamination-free milk, an ultraviolet Sterilamp can reduce the bacteria count in washed milk cans 96 per cent in one minute. Westinghouse Lamp Division tests show. Spraying invisible bactericidal rays, the new lamp is bent U-shape to obtain maximum radiation of all exposed areas in the can and consumes less electricity than a 25-watt electric light bulb.

140,000,000 STRONG!

U.S. population probably passed 140,000,000 mark last fall. U. S. Census figures on July 1, 1945, showed 132,621,431.

This compared with 1940 census of 131,669,275 gives 8,000,000 more customers for American industry's products.

Flying Group Chooses "Wings Of Muenster" For Official Moniker

Wings of Muenster was chosen as the official name of the local flying enthusiasts club at a meeting of the group last Thursday evening. The winning name was selected from a large number of entries submitted in a contest sponsored by the members. It was suggested by Earl Walterscheid, who also received the prize for bringing in the most members in a membership drive held at the same time.

Prizes were two hours of free rides, one given by J. B. Wilde in his Piper Cub, the other by Emmet Fette in his Aeronca Chief.

Membership in the organization now nears the 35 mark.

As a special feature of the session, Thomas Hoffman gave an interesting account of his experiences as a radar operator aboard a bomber in the South Pacific during the recent war. He received his discharge last month.

The evening was concluded with a social hour and the serving of refreshments. Jake Horn, Jr. was in charge of the entertainment program.

MRS. JAKE PAGEL IS CLUB HOSTESS WEDNESDAY

The Get-Together Club met on the first Wednesday of the month for its regular social with Mrs. Jake Pagel as hostess in her home. Three tables were arranged for 42 series in which awards went to Mrs. Joe Luke for high score, Mrs. W.H. Endres for low and Mrs. J. J. Hoffman, galloping.

Mrs. Frank Kaiser and Mrs. Al Eberhart received birthday gifts for their sunshine pals while the assemblage sang the traditional happy birthday song.

The hostess served a delicious chili supper to 15 members. It was announced that the meeting next month will not be held as a first Wednesday event because it falls on Ash Wednesday and the group will meet on March 5, instead, for regular session. Mrs. Al Walterscheid will be hostess in her home on that date.
