Insecticide spraying for mosquitoes challenged

By Dave Fette
Dwayne Rohmer brought a compelling and well-researched argument to the City Council Monday night against insecticide spraying to control mosquito populations. He asked for the adoption of Integrated Mosquito Management (IPM) protocols as set forth by the Texas Department of Health. IPM protocols include Mosquito Sampling, Surveillance and Mapping; Disease Surveillance; Source Reduction; Biological Control; Chemical Suppression; Insecticide Resistance Management; Community Education; and Legal Control.

Rohmer also requested a permanent ban on future spraying within the city limits for the purpose of controlling mosquito populations unless it has been determined that source reduction and biological control have failed; the mosquito species Culex quinquefasciatus or other known disease carrying species has been identified and found to be carrying infectious disease; and that a health threat exists. This will result in a reduction of nuisance as well as disease carrying mosquitoes and less application of toxic chemicals to reduce mosquito populations. Majority vote of a quorum of the Muenster City Council should be required before chemicals are applied and the public should receive timely notification of spray time and date so those that wish may leave town while spraying is performed.

Rohmer cited an open letter from Concerned Physicians and Scientists, information from Roy Burton, entomologist for the Texas Dept. of Health and organic specialist Howard Garrett to support his request. In abbreviated form, his points included:

* Indiscriminate and unnecessary spraying of "Friendly Fire" pesticides is far more dangerous to human health and the natural environment than West Nile virus, especially for children, pregnant women, and chemically sensitive or immunosuppressed people.
* Even a single exposure to pesticides can trigger latent environmental sensitivities, allergies, plus physical and mental problems.
* Spraying at the wrong times will not kill the mosquito species that carries West Nile, but it will kill beneficial insects that help control mosquitoes.

* Human death and serious illness resulting from the West Nile virus are rare.
* Repeated spraying leads to resistant mosquitoes.
* Chemical spray is the least effective mosquito control and should be used as a last resort.
* Source reduction tactics are the most effective and economical long-term control.
* Spraying for mosquito control is a waste of money and an unnecessary toxic assault on people, pets, and the environment.

Mayor Henry Weinzapfel asked Rohmer to work with Councilman Stan Endres to write an ordinance concerning mosquito control for consideration by the City Council.

Tax changes pass

By Don Rohmer
Turnout was light in the Muenster Water District election on Nov. 4 to add the areas most recently annexed to the City of Muenster to the Water District's tax rolls.

The ballot included two proposals. The first, to have the newly annexed areas share in the obligation for the Water District's tax-supported bonds, passed with an unofficial count of 79 for and 3 against. The second proposal, to subject the newly annexed areas to the Water District's ad valorem tax, passed with an unofficial count of 78 for and 3 against.

The Water Board meets Friday, Nov. 7, to officially canvass the votes. The effect of the vote will be to somewhat broaden the Muenster Water District's tax base.

The Council has responded to Muenster Independent School District concerning Walnut Street between Eighth and Ninth Streets. The street section is the responsibility of Muenster ISD for curbing, base work, and material and paving should the District decide to pave it. The District owns the property on both sides of the street and the procedure is the same as that for any other city street.

Other items considered by the Council included:
* Alvin Fuhrman asked to have the police report on the investigation of alleged poisoning of trees, shrubs, and grass at his residence resulting in approximately $10,000.00 in remediation efforts.
* The Council passed a resolution of condolence for City Manager Linda Webb and her family on the occasion of the death of her father.
* The new City Curfew See CURFEW, Pg. 2

Water Board gets encouraging news

By Don Rohmer
Although the citizens of Muenster have funded their portion of the lake project, the federal government is behind schedule in allocating its share of the funds. At the Nov. 3 meeting of the Muenster Water Board, Pat Stelzer reported on a conversation with Jim Neighbors, of the Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS), at a seminar in El Paso. Mr. Neighbors told him that the amount still needing allocation has shrunk from about $1.2 million to about $300,000.

In a related development, the office of Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison has assured Board President Bob Bauer that Muenster Lake is the only Texas watershed project listed in the terminology for discretionary funding in the 2004 budget. That, combined with the lower amount needed, makes the board optimistic that all the funding will be in place once congress passes a budget.

Considered at the Nov. 3 meeting was a request to move the planned park from the west side of the lake to the east side. Points in favor of the change would be increased security, with the park closer to a developed area, and easier access by Muenster citizens.

Working against the proposal is the permit process, since the change would require a new "404" permit. In his report on the seminar in El Paso, Mr. Stelzer mentioned that Muenster's frustrating experience with obtaining the permit was anything but unique. Discontent with the process is widespread. Just the number of agencies required to sign off on the 404 permit make obtaining it an almost Herculean feat. One agency in particular refuses to state its requirements, then, after receiving the application, seems intent on finding fault with it. With the See LAKE, Pg. 2

Earthpak launches new company in Muenster

By Janet Felderhoff
"A world without regard for its future... is NO world at all" proclaims Earthpak Corporation with their motto. Earthpak business partners Scott Figueiredo, Dan Simmons, and Wendell Hefton are firm believers in using American made products created from recycled products to make the sports bags, backpacks, and baby gear that they are marketing.

This company is in its infancy. They opened their doors in Muenster on June 2, 2003, occupying the former Frybrant building at 120 N. Sycamore Street. The first eight weeks were spent reconditioning the plant and making upgrades.

Simmons, who lives in Nocona, overheard a conversation at the Nocona Post Office. They were talking about Frybrant closing its sewing factory in Muenster. At that time Simmons was working with Figueiredo to establish a plant in Houston. "It made more sense to open a plant that's closing up than to start from scratch to create a new one." Ultimately a post office conversation happened at the right time and the Muenster community became the home of Earthpak. There are 13 employees including the three partners.

"Scott is our creative one," noted Simmons. "By profession he's a graphics designer." He does all of the styling of the various products.

Simmons is the production manager. He has 30 years of apparel business experience and was brought on board to figure out how to assemble Figueiredo's creations and then set the factories up. "I'm responsible for all the business operations," said Simmons.

"Our company mission is to manufacture as close to 100% using recycled products and make it in the U.S.A.," said Simmons. "It's not a cheap effort because to make products in the U.S. is far from being inexpensive, especially using all American made products. We're doing that 97-98%."

Currently Earthpak is cultivating interest in its product by promoting it at trade shows in Texas and other states. They have acquired a number of people who will be representing them on the East and West coasts. They also promote Earthpak products with magazine ads.

Simmons noted that plans are to target the area from Bonham to Wichita Falls as the Earthpak PR center to try to make a name for the company in local areas by doing things that help the local communities with needs. They hope to find workers in this way and to get the word out that the company is in the area.

Currently Earthpak purchases the materials being used. The fabric comes from mills in North Carolina. Those mills acquire the recycled ingredients from all over the country. The plastic chips are from soda bottles and come from city, state, and county owned recycling centers that reduce the plastic bottles to fiber, which is then generated back to the type of fabric used by Earthpak. Simmons said that it is in future plans as they grow to produce their own raw materials.

Speaking of the bag making industry Simmons said, "The industry uses nylon. We chose the polyester because there are people doing the recycling of polyester. None of our competition is using recycled fabric. They all use than the fabric used by their competition. It can be put in a washing machine for cleaning and it doesn't fade, bleed, or shrink. "We're catching a little bit of conversation from the baby bag makers because they water, normal detergent) and throw it in the (low) dryer."

Figueiredo revealed that the fabric they use is custom made specifically to his specs. The fabric is a herringbone and was the virgin nylon products that can be bought in the U.S. and from overseas. Most of our competition actually buys their fabric overseas and makes their product overseas."

Simmons said that the fabric used by Earthpak is stronger and more durable use plastic and vinyl," Simmons noted. "You subject it to the various climates of our country and they crack, they break, and they don't stand up. I would be willing to put our bag against anything they make. If it gets soiled you can just throw it in the washing machine (cold selected because it has a dense visual that can hardly be seen through. It is also totally waterproof and antimicrobial to prevent fungus or bacteria from growing on it. "We chose to add this stuff to the bottoms of our bags," explained Figueiredo. "It has 99,000 double See EARTHPAK, Pg. 13

Top Tin Street Rods to select Yard of the Year Nov. 8

The "Top Tin Street Rods" will make this their 10th annual visit to Muenster and during this year's visit will pick the Yard of the Year for Keep Muenster Beautiful (KMB). It will be called the "Top Tin Street Rod Visitor's Choice Award."

A committee of 16 was given a list of the 23 residential yards that have been picked as a yard of the month in the last two years. Each committee member was asked to pick their favorite five from this list and the 10 receiving the most votes has been placed on the list to be given to the Top Tin Street Rod participants.

The following will be the list of yards the Street Rods will judge on Saturday, Nov. 8. Craig and Rita Bayer, Gary and Marlene Fisher, Bertha Hamric, Tom and Laura Hennigan, Bob and Michelle Knauf, Imelda Rohmer, Dale and Elaine Schilling, Annette Walterscheid, Robert and Christine Weinzapfel and John and Pat Yosten.

The three winning receiving the most votes will receive savings bonds. First place will receive a $100.00 savings bond from the First National Bank of Saint Jo - Muenster Branch and will receive a plaque to be displayed in their yard that is theirs to keep. Second place will receive a $75.00 Saving Bond from the GNB Financial N.A. Muenster Banking Center, and third place will receive $50.00 Savings Bond from the Muenster State Bank.

Another new addition for the "Top Tin Street Rods" will be Karaoke and everyone is invited to come up to the Sacred Heart Community Center Pavilion and join in the fun, while they might want to view the cars on display in the parking lot and around the area.

Remember this a "Litter Free Event."

Watched the Dallas Cowboys play the Washington Redskins yesterday. I must say, I have never seen a team try so hard to lose a game, and still win!

There were more interceptions, dropped passes, fumbles, and penalties, than I have ever before seen in one football game. And still they won!

During the 10:00 news, channel 8 showed parts of the game, and Coach Parcells said they had made enough mistakes to lose 2 or 3 games.

Well, Aileen's sister, who used to fly her own plane, remarked that any plane crash you could walk away from was a good landing. According to her logic, I suppose the game Sunday wasn't so bad.

Saturday was our 63rd wedding anniversary, and we will take this opportunity to say "Thank You!" for all the calls, cards, and kind words wishing us well, and many more.

Well, I for one, would have to say our marriage has been most enjoyable, and I would not mind more years.

We did have an enjoyable meal last Saturday evening, in the company of most of our kids and in-laws. Some could not be here, and they were missed.

Well, maybe Thanksgiving we can get them all together. It would be nice.

required permit finally in hand, the board expressed reluctance to reopen the permit process, if indeed it would even be allowed to propose the change.

Another concern was that inclusion of the park as part of the project was to meet requirements for financial assistance from the federal government through the NRCS. Changing the location of the park could cause the government to reevaluate granting funds that have already been approved.

Another problem with the request was that it would move the park from the deep end of the lake to an area with a much more gradual slope. In a dry year, the "beach" would become a wide expanse of dried mud.

Finally, the Water District does not own enough land on the east side of the lake to build the park or an access road that meets county requirements. Additional acreage would have to be provided by the adjacent landowner. The board decided to leave the proposed park on the west side of the lake.

The board also discussed reports that some people had gotten the impression that the Water District tax election on Nov. 4 was about annexing new areas to the city. Therefore, the board decided to go on record as stating that the Nov. 4 vote would not affect anyone who lived in an area that was not already part of the City of Muenster.

Idea Exchange

By Don Rohmer

This week we continue with Muenster native Jason Gehrig's account of some of the events that recently led to the resignation of the president of Bolivia.

Monday, October 13, 2003

We're now into the sixth day of a citywide strike in El Alto. Gunshots and tear gas explosions can be heard in the distance. Bolivian flags and black ribbons are flying in almost every house. Yesterday's toll is 26 deaths (25 civilians and 1 enlisted military) in the massacre of the city's residents at the hands of the Bolivian military. The longer we live here in Bolivia, the more we realize that this country's military does not exist to protect the country's people from external threats, but rather to put down social protests by ordinary citizens, who are frustrated by an economic model that for the past 15 years has enriched a privileged few, along with transnational corporations, while sending millions of poor to the city streets in the huge informal economy, selling anything from TV antennas to staplers.

The present confrontation, to which many refer as the "Guerra de Gas" (Gas War), follows the same line. The government has plans to export this nonrenewable natural resource in bulk, with no value added, with only a slight percentage of the profits remaining to benefit the Bolivian people. The people, on the other hand, are demanding that a fairer percentage of the profits go to Bolivia. They resent that for centuries Bolivia and other poor countries throughout the world have only been exporters of raw materials. They feel that just maybe their children and children's children could have a better life if this valuable resource could be industrialized here. For making this demand, just yesterday over 70 people in El Alto were injured by bullets, and another 26 were killed.

As for Felicia, Jessica, and myself, we are okay at this moment. It is a very odd feeling to have our movement restricted, to be basically confined to our small neighborhood. We at one point considered attempting to get down to the City of La Paz, but feel after talking with our neighbors and parish priest that we are safest here in our house, surrounded by people who know us and care for us, much safer than if we try to run the blockades.

At Mass on Sunday morning, our parish priest Padre Modesto had just received an anonymous death threat. When we ended the Mass as usual with blessings of all with holy water, we asked one of the young girls to bless Padre Modesto and ask that God may protect him. Later that afternoon, we heard over the radio how the Padre was taking the wounded in his pickup to the nearby Sister's Hospital. Today I heard over the radio of his bringing five bodies to the morgue to have the autopsy performed as required by law in such situations. The radio commentator asked him to lead a prayer.

Padre Modesto finds much inspiration in Salvadoran Archbishop Oscar Romero, who was murdered by Salvadoran military graduates of the School of the Americas (which was then located in Fort Benning, Georgia). Refusing to be silenced by threats against his life, Modesto is a true shepherd of the people. I think he no longer sleeps in his home at night.

While we would like to somehow be more in solidarity with the people here in Senkarta, we have decided not to stray far from our neighborhood, such as to where thousands of people are participating in an all-night wake service in the middle of the highway for the four people shot to death yesterday here in Senkarta. Emotions are high, and our white skin would stir suspicion and perhaps even some kind of violence among those who don't know us. Our neighbors understand this, and advise us to stay home. Two nights ago, our neighbors across the street brought us into their house just in case. All in all, we feel safe, we have adequate food, and we have water stored in case that service is shut off (as was the electricity all Saturday night). We would prefer not to be in this situation. Every day we think about the possible danger that our daughter, who has no say in all this, could be in. At the same time, we know our neighbors will look out for us. While we would seek a safer place if the opportunity presented itself, we feel safe in our house at this time, and we know that our presence among these suffering people at this time means something to them as well.

As I've been writing this, there have been some signs that just maybe the situation could be resolving slowly but surely. Apparently, Vice President Carlos Mesa, a former journalist, has just expressed his disgust with the massacres and the refusal to respond to the majority's demands on President Goni's government. The mayor of La Paz is calling for all its workers to return home, as he says yesterday's massacre cannot be reconciled. The mayor of El Alto, a member of the governing coalition's political parties, has also demanded the resignation of the president. Public transportation is on strike, and blockades of major highways across the country are taking effect.

May a society based on promoting human rights and dignity for all be the outcome of this confrontation. May peace, not of silence imposed by the powerful, but rather a lasting peace rooted in a just society for all await us. This we pray dear God in Christ's name. Please keep us all in your prayers.

It's United Way Crunch Time!!

Cooke County United Way is coming down to the wire on making their goal! They need you! If you have not made a pledge or given a contribution, they are asking you to sign up and be part of the community! When you give to the local United Way, you are literally "buying" into the community.

You may work here in Cooke County, you may live here, you may have children in schools here, you may have parents living here, you or a member of your family may be attending college here, and/or you may have other family and friends living here. "If just one of these categories describe you, YOU ARE part of the community."

remarked Cooke County United Way Executive Director Angie Hare. "Therefore, United Way is here for you! Please be here for US!"

The 2004 Cooke County United Way campaign has reached the 65% mark thanks to the many individuals and businesses, which have already taken the time to contribute and/or pledge.

If you would like to "buy" into our community and show your support through United Way, you may either call the Cooke County United Way offices 940-665-1793 (Monday - Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.) or send your contribution to P. O. Box 208, Gainesville, Texas 76241.

"This year, especially, we really need the help from the community," said Hare. "We, too, are experiencing some of the same financial issues and problems that the businesses and our citizens are facing. Community giving directly impacts our giving to the agencies. Most of our agencies are in the highest demand when times are at the lowest economically. Your community needs you to help us help each other."

When you give to United Way, your dollars will help do the most good for the most people. Ninety-nine percent of every dollar contributed stays here in Cooke County! Your contribution will support the 16 agencies which provide services such as: 1) Youth Development - Boy Scouts of America, Boys & Girls Club, Cooke County Youth Fair, Muenster Youth Council, SW Diabetic Foundation, Substance Abuse Center and Boys Baseball, 2) Educational Services - Boys & Girls Club, Cooke County Youth Fair, Friends of the Family, Reading and Radio Resource, and Substance Abuse Council, 3) Senior and Disabled Services - Home Hospice, Special Olympics, Area Agency on Aging, and 4) Emergency Services - American Red Cross, Child Protective Services, CASA, Friends of the Family and VISTO.

Contributions are accepted all year long. However, it is especially important that they have the majority of contributions and pledge information turned in now. By year-end, the United Way board will review the success of this campaign and determines the 2004 pledge that United Way can make to the agencies.

The 2004 campaign will wrap up on Nov. 7 with a Celebration Luncheon at the Civic Center beginning at 11:30 a.m. For ticket information and campaign information, please contact the Cooke County United Way office at 940-665-1793.

Dry conditions linger over area

It is just too dry for comfort. Rainfall is well below normal. Not one month of 2003 has displayed enough measured moisture to show double digits. Only once did it cross the five inch mark for a month, and then just barely. Temperatures are unusually warm for October and November (80s, even 90s for highs). Drying south winds have also been strong in recent weeks sapping even more precious moisture from already parched soils. Some areas outside Muenster received even less rain. Many report ponds that have dried up. For cattlemen that means problems from lack of grazing to hauling water to pastures with grass, but no water. Second crops haven't made and Fall wheat is not doing well. These official total are kept and reported by Janette and Bob Hess.

History of VFW Post 6205

In the fall of 1945 a group of World War II and World War I veterans met in a small restaurant and pool hall operated by William Eberhart. They met with the intention of establishing a VFW post in Muenster. The restaurant was located on Main Street, north of the Muenster State Bank.

The next meeting was held in the same location in January of 1946. They cooled beer in a #3 wash tub. Due to shortages after W.W.II, purchase of a cooler was not possible. In order to establish a VFW post they needed two members from another post. Then, Tee Voth, Vince Felderhoff, and Elmer Fette joined a VFW post in Fort Worth. After the Charter was received, they transferred back to the local Post 6205.

On Apr. 26, 1946 the Charter was established as VFW Post 6205, Muenster, Texas with 81 members listed on the Charter. Twenty-four survivors remain, and 57 are deceased. Patrick Hennigan was the first Post Commander.

Later they bought property - a house from the John Kathman family on South Main, site of the present club and dance hall.

One of their first community projects followed about 1949. The City park was grown up in brush, and had dead logs of wood lying around. The members, eager to do community service, decided to clean up the park. So they took axes, chain saws, and trucks and started to clean up a long-time forgotten park. Three of the veterans having bulldozers was a big help.

In a later year, they built a concrete tennis court. Soon after, they had a picnic fundraiser.

They take pride in their community flag service for a small fee. Proceeds provide help for ABBA, needy families, funeral meals, and rest home bingo, also furnishing flags for both schools.

They are proud of their rifle squad and color guard participating in funerals for all area veterans. Some of the members have participated in over 100 funerals.

Today, W.W.II, Korean, Viet Nam, and Desert Storm veterans are active in Club work and community services.

At one time membership in Post 6205 totaled more than 200. Current membership is approximately 160.

Dustin Felderhoff and a team of fellow Boy Scouts planted 10 trees on Saturday, Oct. 25 in the new baseball park on Mesquite Street. The Muenster Jaycees donated the Red Oak trees. Scouts dug the holes, planted, watered, and staked the trees. The Scouts will add mulch as winter approaches. Planting the trees and maintaining them for a growing season is Dustin's Eagle Scout project. Lindsay ISD Student Council invites veterans to program

The Lindsay High School Student Council is inviting veterans and their families to a Veterans Day program on Nov. 11 at 2 p.m. in the Lindsay school gymnasium. John Burrows will be the guest speaker, and his speech will focus on Armistice Day - a national holiday to celebrate victory in the "war to end all wars".

President Woodrow Wilson declared Nov. 11, 1919 as Armistice Day one year after W.W.I drew to a close. However, the dream of world peace didn't last, as W.W.II and then the Korean Conflict called America's troops back to the battlefield. In 1954, Armistice Day was renamed as Veterans Day, as a tribute to all the men and women who defended the cause of freedom.

Mr. Burrows served as Staff Sergeant in the Army during W.W.II for two years. He then became part of the Army Reserves and later the Air Force Reserves, until he was called into active duty in the Air Force in 1950 as a Master Sergeant during the Korean War.

Refreshments will be provided by the FCCLA (Family Career and Community Leaders of America) following the program in the gym lobby.

Rites celebrated at Sacred Heart, Nov. 2

On Sunday, Nov. 2, at the 10:30 a.m. Mass, there were special rites for children and adults who are preparing for the sacraments of initiation. Father John Ohner presided. Toby and Tori Dyess, son and daughter of Zonya and Scott Klement, were accepted as catechumens as they begin preparation for baptism, confirmation, and Eucharist. Toby's sponsor was Leslie Dangelmayr; Tori's sponsor was Shelley Klement. Zonya Klement and Charla Haubold were accepted as candidates for the sacraments of confirmation and Eucharist. Zonya's sponsor was Shelly Trubenbach; Charla's sponsor was Cecilia Wimmer.

The rites began with a welcome at the beginning of Mass. Barbara Rohmer presented the children and adults to Father, who questioned them about their desire to receive the sacraments and further instruction in the faith. Sponsors and the community were asked if they would support them in these efforts. This was followed by a signing of the cross on their foreheads, shoulders, heart, hands, and feet. Music ministers led a sung response after each signing.

After the homily, Father John presented each with a Bible and dismissed them to go and reflect on the word of God until they can share at the Eucharistic banquet. From this Sunday until the Easter Vigil, the children and adults will be dismissed after the homily to reflect on the readings.

November is Alzheimer's Awareness Month

Alzheimer's disease is an especially cruel disease. It not only destroys people's minds, it robs them of their memories. It affects not only the person with the disease, but also the entire family, as they must adjust to the dramatic changes in their loved one's life and their own.

Right now there are over five million Americans who have been diagnosed with Alzheimer's, 40,000 to 50,000 of them living in Dallas and surrounding counties.

There is not yet a cure or even a known cause and there are only three Alzheimer's medications currently available. These medications slow down the progression of the disease for a period of time, but they don't stop it entirely.

Research into the causes of the disease continues at a feverish pace and there are some promising studies in progress. While researchers work frantically to produce better medications and to find an end to this devastating disease, the Alzheimer's Association supports those with Alzheimer's and their families with understanding and compassion through services, specialized programs, referrals to community resources and education.

Symptoms of the disease include short-term memory loss, difficulty performing familiar tasks, problems with language, disorientation of time and place, poor judgment and changes in mood and personality. The rate of change varies from person to person, but eventually Alzheimer's patients become totally incapable of taking care of themselves.

prevalence of Alzheimer's are sobering. Although early onset Alzheimer's has been diagnosed in people as young as 28, age is a risk factor. One in 10 people over age 65 will get the disease. Nearly half over 85 will be afflicted. But, if scientists can find a way to delay the symptoms of Alzheimer's disease for just five years, the number of people disabled by the disease would be cut in half.

Alzheimer's is a progressive, degenerative disease that causes impaired memory, thinking, and behavior severe enough to interfere with daily functioning. The disease strikes men and women of every race and from every neighborhood in our community. For more information, call the Alzheimer's Association at 1-800-515-8201.

Computers aide in teaching at the Muenster Independent School District

The computer is the tool for this generation; all Muenster ISD students are learning to use it. Muenster Elementary School is working hard to give their students the skills and knowledge they need to achieve success in the future. Their students are exposed to technology from the first days of school through the last days of their elementary education. Muenster ISD uses computers to teach every phase of the curriculum. Students practice their math skills, they research science papers, and compose and publish their English papers. They also learn to use the computer to draw and demonstrate artistic talents.

Starting at Pre-kindergarten they have the use of interactive software on the computer to reinforce the learning of letters and numbers. In kindergarten they start going to the computer lab daily for 20 minutes. They search out the alphabet on the keyboard, learn to count by stamping colorful pictures and start keyboarding skills. As the year progresses they perform harder tasks and use multiple software programs. First graders also go to the computer lab daily. They learn to create pictures relating to their lessons, as typing their spelling words with a keyboard. Muenster ISD uses a program that has speech to text capability so they can listen to their spelling words or the story they have typed read back to them. Because of the multiple senses used to interact with the computer programs, many children learn more quickly with a computer.

The second, third, and fourth graders benefit from the computer lab in a similar fashion. Their teachers decide what the students will study. They can research, write or do math skills. Mrs. Kay Hickey teaches them how to use the computer to carry out the lesson. Students enjoy using the lab. Fourth graders are doing power point presentations; they use the same software the IBM corporate president uses to make his presentations. These presentations can be shown on projectors connected to any computer, to their classmates, to their parents or teachers.

Technology refers to different types of equipment. Some they learn to use are projectors, cameras, computers, and the various peripherals that go with each. They can be used to show clips of actual events and programs from different producers such as "Walking with Dinosaurs" by National Geographic or the speech of Franklin Roosevelt at his inauguration.

Sixth graders publish a small school newspaper Elementary Elements for the students and parents. Each student interviews a class and their teacher, then writes an article and publishes it in the newspaper. They meet deadlines, learn to write for entertainment, learn to interview and keep track of the answers. They also are responsible for using the digital camera to take a picture of the class they have interviewed.

Presently the Lab has 23 computers, one digital camera, and one projector. They have just acquired a color laser printer and hope to acquire a video camera before long.

P is for pumpkin patch and pep rally

Fall is in the air at Muenster elementary and especially in Mrs. Fredrick and Mrs. Ledbetter's kindergarten classes. Each day is full of activities as they learn their letters, shapes and numbers. They've made pancakes while learning about letter 'p' and created marvelous art works with green glitter as they learned about letter 'g'.

One of the advantages of living in a small community is the interaction between the older and younger students. Kindergarten students benefit by being able to attend pep rallies for the mighty Hornets, hug the Hornet mascot, and practice cheers taught by the high school cheerleaders. Recently kindergarten students were able to bake cookies with members of Mrs. Sturm's nutrition and food science class. There was a great deal of hands-on learning as together they rolled dough and were covered by flour.

Students and parents alike enjoyed a day at the pumpkin patch in Aubrey as kindergarten teachers concluded their unit on the fall season. The weather cooperated and was a perfect opportunity to show students examples of the changing fall season as they took a hay ride and picked pumpkins to bring home.

Lindsay ISD donates to Texoma Chapter of the American Red Cross

During the week of Oct. 26-31, Lindsay ISD students collected water and Gatorade bottles for the Cooke County Red Cross Canteen. The idea was the brainchild of Carla Rickert, local Red Cross volunteer. The Canteen was low on individual bottles of water and Gatorade that are given to firefighters when they are actively engaged in fighting fires for a lengthy period of time and/or to other emergency personnel responding to anything from stakeouts, to natural catastrophes. Ms. Rickert asked area school district students to help replenish the Canteen by donating bottles of water or Gatorade. Divisions for each individual school district were set up for a contest to see who could collect the most bottles—K-2, 3-5, 6-8, and 9-12. The winning division would receive a continental breakfast with their local firefighters and/or emergency personnel.

The Lindsay students rose to the challenge and provided more than 2000 individual bottles of water and Gatorade. The students who collected the most were the K-2 students; they collected 753 individual bottles. These students look forward to breakfast with their local heroic firefighters. All the students enjoyed the chance to help both the Red Cross volunteers and the firefighters. The students are appreciative of all these individuals do to help those in distress.

Burgers help raise bucks

The Muenster ISD Elementary Student Council held a Halloween Hamburger Sale Friday, Oct. 31. Twenty-four students from the Student Council, Texas Math and Science Coaches Association (TMSCA) fifth and sixth grade teams, and teachers prepared and sold more than one hundred fifty hamburgers with all the fixings to raise funds for TMSCA teams qualifying meets and the state finals in San Antonio.

Mrs. Dana Knight, teacher and co-sponsor for the Student Council, stated, "The mission of the Student Council is to provide leadership opportunities for students, and support the community and school with their time and service."

The Student Council projects for the school year include: the Veterans Day Celebration at MISD, the American Red Cross, VISTO, St. Richard's Villa, and purchase playground equipment for MISD Elementary School. They look forward to these opportunities to serve their school, community, and nation.

The Student Council and TMSCA wish to thank their community business partners who generously donated all the materials for the hamburger sale: Walterscheid Meats, Fischer's Market, Rohmer's Restaurant, The Center, DI One Stop, Wendy's, Burger King, and Sonic of Gainesville.

Tigers end regular season with 51-14 win

The TAPPS District 1AA champions, the Sacred Heart Tigers, finished their regular season Friday night with a big 51-14 victory over the Denton Calvary Lions.

Coach Charles Boles noted that the Tigers' offensive and defensive lines, both performed well. "Our passing game came through after Calvary hurt our running game," said Boles. "This was a good tune-up for the playoffs."

Stephen LaChance covered the opening kick on the Tiger 41. Runs by Chris Hoedebeck and Aaron Krahl, and a Paul Bartush to Jared Zimmerman pass took the Tigers to the 3 yard line. Next, Bartush threw to Andy Davis in the end zone for 6 points. Bartush then kicked the extra point for a 7-0 score with 8:03 on the clock.

Tackles by Clayton Truebenbach and Adam Krahl dropped the Lions for losses, but on 3rd down a pass play turned into a 65 yard touch down. Truebenbach blocked the PAT for a 7-6 score with 6:23 remaining in the first period. The teams exchanged possessions with the Tigers taking the ball into the 2nd quarter. With 10:47 on the clock, a Bartush to Hoedebeck pass gave Sacred Heart a 13-6 lead.

The Tiger defense again held the Lions to three plays and a punt. Beginning on their 35, it took Sacred Heart a dozen plays to find the end zone. Adam Taylor and Tony Moster opened a hole in the line for Hoedebeck to charge up the middle and score on a 5 yard run. Bartush booted the extra point for a 20-6 score with 2:37 still on the clock.

An onside kick by the Tigers was recovered by Hoedebeck on the Calvary 37. Runs by Krahl, Hoedebeck, and Bartush got the ball to the 10 yard line. A Bartush to Hoedebeck pass was good for 6 points. The PAT kick hit the upright for a 26-6 score with 54 seconds remaining in the first half.

The Lions were not allowed any gain and punted. From their 46, a Bartush to Kevin Walterscheid pass picked up 6 yards. The ball was then pitched to Hoedebeck who carried it into the end zone for a touchdown with 4 seconds on the clock. The PAT was blocked for a 32-6 halftime score.

The teams exchanged punts as 3rd quarter action began. Denton's 2nd drive ended early when Davis picked off a pass, setting the Tigers 24 yards from pay dirt. A Bartush to Walterscheid pass gained 14 yards. Two passes later, Walterscheid scored from the 9 yard line with 5:47 remaining in the 3rd period. Mark Fleitman added the extra kick for a 39-6 Tiger lead.

Both offenses saw action the remainder of the quarter, with Sacred Heart getting in seven plays and Calvary eight. The Tigers began their first drive of the 4th period from their 39 yard line. Four straight runs by Krahl moved the ball to the Calvary 5. Hoedebeck then scored again for a 45-6 score with 9:40 still on the clock. Calvary got in a few good plays, until Timothy Otto intercepted a Lion pass at the Tiger 14 yard line. Two plays later, Krahl scored on an 84 yard run. The PAT failed for a 51-6 score with 7 minutes on the clock.

The Lions moved from their 27 yard line to the Tiger 9 in eight plays, then scored with 3:57 on the clock. The extra points were good for a 51-14 score. The Tigers fumbled the ball on the next offensive play and the Lions moved to the Tiger 20 before sacks by Adam Krahl and Jon Ambrose ended the game.

The Tigers have an open date this Friday and will prepare for their first round of the playoffs.

As District 1 champs, the Tigers' next match will be the third place winner in District 3. "Who we will play is still up in the air," said Boles. The top three teams in District 3 are Hallettsville Sacred Heart, Shiner Saint Paul, and LaMarque Abundant Life. Friday night Hallettsville and LaMarque will play in a battle for Hallettsville to secure 1st place. If LaMarque wins, there will be a three-way tie in District 3. Date, time, and place for the first round of the playoffs will be announced next week.

JV Hornets get come from behind victory

The Junior Varsity Hornets scheduled a last minute game with Paradise after Collinsville JV canceled due to lack of players. The 2A team took a 12 point lead before the Hornets came back for a 20-18 final score.

The opening kick was returned 16 yards by Keaton Haverkamp to the Muenster 26 yard line. Muenster's first offensive play was fumbled on the 17. The next play, Paradise scored. The PAT run was stopped by Jordan Walterscheid for a 6-0 score with 9:37 on the clock.

Haverkamp returned the Panthers' second kick to the 41 yard line. Three plays later, a fumbled hand-off was covered by Paradise near midfield. The Panthers got 13 yards, then a flag and tackles by Cole Harrison, Dustin Wimmer, Keith Walterscheid, J. Walterscheid, and Patrick Lutkenhaus gave the Hornets the ball on downs at their 32 yard line. Runs by Nathan Privett and Brad Endres picked up a first down. Then the offense sputtered and punted.

The Panthers got in a good run, getting to the 30 before Privett put pressure on the quarterback and J. Walterscheid picked off a pass and returned the ball to the 30 with 26 seconds remaining in the first quarter.

The Hornets got a first down with short runs by Haverkamp and Privett, and a pass from Endres to Privett, but then ran out of downs and punted. It took the Panthers nine plays to move 90 yards and score.

Harrison and Evan Koesler stopped the extra points run for a 12-0 score with 4:08 remaining in the 2nd quarter.

Muenster came back with a 32 yard pass completion from Endres to K. Walterscheid. A 29 yard up-the-middle run by Privett put the Hornets on the board with 2:04 on the clock. The extra points run by B. Endres made the score 12-8. Bill Haverkamp's kick was returned to the 44 yard line. The Panthers got in a few good runs, but were stopped when Micah Flusche covered a loose ball on the Hornet 38 yard line.

With less than 20 seconds on the clock, Muenster went to their passing game. Endres connected with K. Walterscheid for 17 yards and J. Walterscheid for 15. A half-back pass from J. Walterscheid to K. Walterscheid was short as the first half ended.

Tackles by B. Haverkamp, Chad Endres, Harrison, and Lutkenhaus allowed only one yard. The punt rolled to the 28. Runs by J. Walterscheid and Privett moved the ball to the 11 yard line. Privett then scored with 5:11 on the clock. The PAT pass was incomplete for a 14-12 Muenster lead.

Flags, and tackles by Privett and Chris Steelman for a loss forced a Paradise punt, which rolled to the Hornet 30. Runs by B. Endres, Privett, and Wimmer carried the ball to the Panther 20 yard line and the 3rd quarter. Privett and Endres got the ball to the 3, and J. Walterscheid took it in for 6 points. The extra point pass was intercepted for a 20-12 score with 6:56 remaining in the game.

The kick return was stopped by C. Endres and Privett on the 22, but a completed Panther pass took the ball out to midfield. On 4th and 2, C. Endres and Noah Barnhill stopped Paradise on the Muenster 46.

Muenster could not get the needed 10 yards and punted. With 2 minutes on the clock and the wind at their back, the Panthers went airborne. With 25.7 on clock, Paradise scored. The needed extra points to tie the game were stopped when Privett sacked the quarterback to give Muenster the 20-18 victory.

A short kick was covered by B. Haverkamp and the Hornets took a knee to end the game.

Defensive standouts for Muenster were Chad Endres, Nathan Privett, Jose Velasquez, Jordan Walterscheid, Patrick Lutkenhaus, Keith Walterscheid, Bill Haverkamp, and Cole Harrison.

Offensively, Brad Endres completed four passes for 69 yards. Leading the Hornet ground attack were Nathan Privett with 123 yards and Jordan Walterscheid with 41.

Hornets win district, keep undefeated record

The Muenster Hornets took a 33-7 victory over the Collinsville Pirates last Friday to clinch the District 11-A championship, and remain undefeated in season play. The win also kept the home winning streak going at 11 straight.

"This was a good win for us," noted Hornet Coach Monte Endres. "We were down to two penalties, but still too many fumbles." Endres said the game gave the Muenster pass defense a work-out, which will be needed going into the playoffs.

The outcome of the game was claimed by the Hornets early when Justin Ferguson returned the opening kick 97 yards for 6 points. Chase Cain added the extra point for a 7-0 score just 18 seconds into the game. It was three plays and punt for the Pirates, putting Muenster on their own 29 yard line. A run each by Clint Miller and Ferguson picked up 30 yards. Zach Swirczynski and Miller moved the ball to the Collinsville 13 in five runs. A quarterback keeper by Sean Fuhrmann put 6 more points on the board. Cain booted the PAT for a 14-0 score with 6:45 left in the 1st quarter.

Tackles by Kirk Hartman and Cameron Walterscheid assisted in the Pirates punting on 4th and 17. Muenster began their next drive on their 25 yard line. Derek Endres, Miller, Swirczynski, and Ferguson ran the ball to the Collinsville 31, but two sacks and a flag forced a Hornet punt on 4th and 15 as the 2nd quarter began.

Collinsville got in nine plays before running out of downs. Muenster's drive ended after four plays when the Pirates covered a loose ball. Two plays later Swirczynski intercepted a pass, giving the Hornets the ball on the Pirate 37. Runs by Miller, Endres, Swirczynski, and a short Fuhrmann to Ferguson pass put the Hornets on the 3 yard line. Swirczynski then scored with 3:15 on the clock. The PAT kick was blocked for a 20-0 score.

Tackles by Justin Wolf, John Sturm, Hartman, D. Endres, and C. Walterscheid left Collinsville with a 4th and 8 punt. Muenster's offense also struggled, punting the ball away as the first half ended.

Collinsville took the 3rd quarter kick, going 54 yards in 10 plays to the Hornet 13 yard line. A pass play found the end zone and the extra kick made the score 20-7 with 7:11 on the clock.

The Hornets came right back with runs, including a 16 yard run by Endres, and 10 and 33 yard gains by Miller to the 2 yard line. Fuhrmann kept the ball and scored the touchdown. The extra run was no good for a 26-7 score with 2:57 on the 3rd period clock.

The Pirates carried the ball into the final period before too many incomplete passes ended the drive at the Muenster 26 yard line. Runs by Miller, including 13, 11, and 23 yards, with Endres, Fuhrmann, and Swirczynski gaining ground to the 6 yard line. D. Endres then found pay dirt. Cain's booted extra point gave Muenster a 33-7 lead with 7:53 remaining on the clock.

The Pirates went to the air, moving the ball into Muenster's end of the field. An interception by John Fredrick at the 9 yard line stopped the Pirate scoring threat. The Hornets pounded the Pirates for nine more plays getting to the Pirate 18 before taking a knee and ending the game.

Lindsay loses playoff spot

The Lindsay Knights, favored as the District runner-up team, lost their place in the playoffs after coming up short against the Petrolia Pirates last Friday night.

"A very disappointing loss," commented Coach John Erwin. "We had our chance, especially early in the game, but we couldn't put the ball in." The Knights were plagued by flags, as two touchdowns and two other big plays were called back. "We missed our opportunity," Erwin added. "There just wasn't enough there when we needed it." The game ended in a 14-13 Lindsay loss.

The contest began in the Knight's favor when Alan Trammell scored the 3rd play of the game with a 62 yard run. The extra kick by Jonathan Rohmer gave the Knights a 7-0 early lead with 10:41 on the clock. The Lindsay defense then held the Pirates to 5 yards with tackles by Matt Brennan, Gary Anderle, and Adam Kasperek, forcing a punt.

From their 22 yard line, the Knights got in runs by Sam Hellinger, Keith Dieter, and Trammell, and were assisted by flags to the Petrolia 25 yard line. The next four plays lost a yard and the Pirates took the ball.

Again the Knight defense, led by Kasperek, Garrett Jones, Hellinger, and Cody Anderle, stopped the Pirates. On 4th and 7, the punt was blocked by Trinity Otto and Lindsay regained possession 25 yards from pay dirt. Instead of a touchdown, the Knights lost 3 yards and returned the ball to Petrolia.

The Pirates could only muster 6 yards and punted again ending the first quarter with only 14 gained yards. A flag gave Lindsay 15 yards, but a fumbled play on 4th and 8 turned the ball over on downs. Three plays later Bradley Anderle intercepted a pass on the Knight 17 yard line. The next play, a Hellinger to B. Anderle pass picked up 70-yards. Lindsay got to the 5 yard line and attempted a 22 yard field goal, which failed.

The Knight defense continued to hold the Pirates, again forcing a punt. A fumble on the return gave Petrolia the ball on the Lindsay 40. Three plays later the Pirates scored on a 13 yard pass play. The extra kick tied the game 7-7 with 5:58 remaining in the first half.

The teams exchanged punts with the Knights getting in a few good runs before the halftime break.

Petrolia took the 3rd quarter kick at their 29 yard line then got to the 8 yard line. Tackles by Kasperek, Hellinger, Otto, and G. Anderle stopped ball on their 20 yard line. The Knights gained only 6 and punted. The teams exchanged two more punts, Petrolia at the 9. A 4th down, 26 yard field goal failed and Lindsay took the as a Pirate drive moved the ball into the final quarter of play. With just seconds off the clock, Petrolia scored on a 28 yard pass. The PAT gave the Pirates a 14-7 lead. Seventeen seconds later, the Knights scored on a 69 yard touchdown pass form Hellinger to Otto. The PAT kick failed and Lindsay trailed by 1 point with 10:10 remaining in the game.

Petrolia moved the ball onto the Knight side of the field, but on 4th and 6, Trinity Otto dropped the Pirates for a 13 yard loss at midfield. Runs by Hellinger, Dieter, and Trammell got the ball to the 24, but a flag backed up the line. Another flag called back a touchdown, putting the Knights on the 19 yard line. A 4th and 7 pass fell incomplete and Petrolia took the ball. Working on the clock for eight plays, the Pirates were finally forced to punt on 4th and 18 when tackles by Dieter, Hellinger, Blake Beadles, and Jacob Geray, and a delay of game lost yards, the punt attempt was blocked and recovered by Cody Anderle, giving the Knights possession on the Pirate 41. A Petrolia flag moved the Knights across midfield with a Hellinger to B. Anderle pass getting Lindsay to the 35. The last play of the game gained 3 yards, and the Pirates celebrated.
