This great value is the outcome of four basic Chevrolet advantages: (1) The savings of volume production in CHEVROLET nineteen great modern plants. (2) The economies which result when raw

Seven Convictions During Court Term Ending Saturday

Seven convictions were secured here during the present term of the district court, two of which were suspended sentences. Efforts have been made by the district attorney to clear the docket of as many of the criminal cases as possible before his retirement on January 1st.

The fall term of district court closed today, several motions being argued during the day. District court will open in Brady on the first Monday of January.

Judge E. J. Miller said this morning that the docket at Brady was badly crowded with six weeks work to be done during a three week term. In January of this year the grand jury returned over 40 indictments, repeating this again in May. Besides the nearly 100 cases on the court calendar there are bank robbery charges and other major cases to be heard.

"You have been pledged an administration which will be guided by strict rules of business and economy, commensurate with proper development and progress," he said.

He added, "it is not wise to spend millions of the public money in unproductive improvements that are not necessary. The government is no magician. It cannot create money.
