Better streets become City Council priority

By Janet Felderhoff

There are a number of streets in Muenster designated as being in poor condition. Members on the City Council conceded at their Feb. 7 meeting that the City was behind in its plan for street repairs.

Street Commissioner John Pagel noted that City Manager Stan Endres and City employee Chris Yosten had driven every street in Muenster and rated them as good, fair, or poor condition. Those designated as poor were mapped and a two-year plan developed for street improvements.

"The chip and oil program is kind of an intermediate fix," said Pagel. "You don't get the ride and you don't get the life that you would if you went to a hot mix. When Joe Fenton was the city manager in '87 and '89 he did hot mix streets on Pecan and Walnut. Those streets are still in excellent condition, they gave a beautiful ride, and they still give a beautiful ride. They're going on 17 years."

Pagel recommended doing the more heavily traveled streets in the hot mix surface. The less traveled streets with lower populations could still be done in the chip and oil surface.

Gary Fisher said that one reason the chip and oil surface fails is that Muenster doesn't seal coat it. This should be done every few years. Taking the cost of this into consideration, he said that the difference in cost between hot mix and chip and oil isn't as drastic.

Endres said that the City has money in reserve from four previous years when street repairs were budgeted for, but not done.

Bids were opened for hot mix, chip and oil, and both combined. Three companies submitted bids. They were Bolen Construction of Sherman, A-1 Asphalt and Paving of Gainesville, and All-Tex Paving of Dallas.

It was the consensus of the Council that doing all the streets in a hot mix surface was the best solution since it provided for smoother, much longer lasting streets. The difference in price was figured at approximately $40,000. Jewel Otto remarked, "We'd be better off to do the hot mix. Look at all of the money we've spent on street repairs." Many of the streets resurfaced in recent years with the chip and oil are already in need of repairs. "It's within our means to do it. For a little difference, why not do all hot mix?" Pagel ventured. Bolen Construction was awarded the hot mix paving contract. After the meeting Endres said that there may have been a problem and the bids may have to be resubmitted. Therefore prices bid are not being published.

Proposed paving projects for this year include:

First Street, Elm to Pecan; Fourth Street, Maple to Walnut; Seventh Street, Maple to Hickory; Maple, Sixth to Seventh and Ninth to FM 373; Fifth Street, Maple to Main and Walnut to Pecan; Cedar, Fourth to Sixth; Oak, Hwy. 82 to First; Sycamore, Third to Sixth.

The City will seek assistance from the County in resurfacing Eddy Street. It would be a chip and oil surface.

Endres reported that the City has been busy with several projects. The new curbing is being poured at the City Park entrance. Work is ongoing in the construction of an arched entryway for the Park. Cement has been poured and Mike Hofbauer will do the rockwork. Neal Flusche is building the archway that will hold German style lettering for the name. Plans are to have the project completed before Germanfest.

The Muenster Volunteer Fire Department has requested a fire and building code update. Endres said he found that in 2001 the State mandated that all cities follow the 2000 International Residential Code. This does not cover commercial buildings. Since there are numerous amendments, the code is difficult to interpret. It was suggested that someone with knowledge of them be hired to inspect them.

Fisher pointed out that taking action could be important since Muenster had an ISO of 7 and that was dropped to 5 and is verging on 4. The higher rating is beneficial for reduced insurance rates on residences. The matter will be addressed at a future date.

Mayor Weinzapfel called the City Election for Saturday, May 7. Positions for election are Mayor; Place #3 now held by Joey Anderson and Place #5 now held by Jack Flusche. Anyone wishing to file as a candidate for any of these positions may do so between Feb. 7 and March 7.

They can be purchased at Ace Hardware, 82 Liquor, Farm Bureau Insurance, Walterscheid Oil Company, and from Wayne or Claude Klement. Dinner will be served from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. To attend the dance only, tickets are $10 each at the door.

Ned Webb explains the theory behind Enterprise Facilitation to a group of local citizens. The meeting, held Monday, was the first step in an attempt to recruit local board members.

Shared expertise strenghtens communities

By Janet Felderhoff

Ned Webb addressed a crowd of Muenster citizens on Monday, Feb. 7. They were gathered to learn more about The Enterprise Facilitation Project. It is a process in which a facilitator and a community-based board provide free, confidential business management and networking advice to entrepreneurs. Enterprise Facilitation has been doing this since 1985.

Webb drove his point home by referring to the barn raising done by early settlers who came together to form a community. "Enterprise Facilitation is exactly that," said Webb. "It is barn raising from the community grassroots level."

The settlers used their various skills to build a barn. "It was important to know that the people doing the barn raising weren't doing that just because they liked the family that was moving into their community," Webb continued. "They did that out of a feeling of self-worth and self preservation, for if that family didn't survive that first winter on the plains, they would either perish or have to move on. That didn't help the community as a whole and ultimately the community might not survive."

"People raised barns not only to help their neighbors be successful and sustainable, but they did that so the communities would be sustainable. Enterprise Facilitation has to do the same thing. We capture the intelligence, skills, the passions, and the abilities of people who live in a community to help others develop and sustain their business in a community."

Webb then had each person present tell something about themselves including their name, where they work, what they do in the community, their civic activities, and if they could do one thing for the rest of their life, what would it would be. The variety of answers was used to show the diversity of skills, interests, and contacts in a community.

The purpose of the day's meeting was to recruit members to serve on the board of the Enterprise Facilitation Project being formed to serve Muenster and Grayson County. "We're looking for people who love their community, who've been involved in a lot of community activities people who believe that intelligence exists within their community, people with networks, experiences, and backgrounds or hobbies which they are willing to share for the benefit of others and the community as a whole," Webb explained.

Webb detailed the things expected of board members, and what the required training would be for each. The board hires the facilitator. An Enterprise facilitator doesn't have an office or secretary. They meet their client in the place of the client's choice.

Those seeking assistance may have an existing business or a desire to start a business.

The board members will be selected from Muenster and Fannin County.

County seeks more economical EMS sub station plan

By Janet Felderhoff

Two construction companies submitted bids at the Jan. 10 Commissioners Court meeting for the construction of an Emergency Medical Service sub station to be located near Woodbine. Another is planned for the western end of the County also. J & S Construction bid $97,664 and B. J. Company Contractors bid $109,800. A decision was tabled to give the Court time to check out credentials.

At the Jan. 24 Commissioners Court meeting, County Judge Bill

Freeman made a recommendation to the Court based on budget restraints to the project. "We allocated $150,000 total for land purchase and the construction of two buildings," he advised. "If we accept either one of these bids, we are going to spend the whole thing basically on one building for the east side and not have any money left for the west side. My recommendation is to reject both of these bids. We need to go back and look at our plans, maybe scale them down and go back out for bids. There's got to be a cheaper way to build these buildings."

Precinct #1 Commissioner Gary Hollowell suggested that the County serving as general contractor for the sub station project might save money. Judge Freeman appointed Hollowell, Precinct #4 Commissioner Virgil Hess, and EMS Director Bob Harbin to a committee with the purpose of researching the feasibility of the County serving as general contractor and building plan revisions. The two bids were unanimously rejected.

After an Executive Session, Commissioners agreed to purchase land adjacent to Hwy. 82 to increase frontage for the new Cooke County Justice Center site. The 60 by 300 foot stretch of land was purchased from Mark and Gerald Metzler at a cost of $47,500. It is needed for utility right-of-way for the Justice Center and road.

The budget was amended to accommodate this purchase. Since it is a purchase for a right of way for a county road, the money could be taken from the FM and Lateral Road Budget.

Bill Cox reported that a 3,000-foot fence around the new jail site is complete. Employees of all four County precincts built it. It took about three days to build with an average of two employees per precinct doing the work.

Cox said materials cost $3,264 and equipment and labor were estimated at about another $7,000. "It would have cost about $20,000 to bid it out and build it, so that was a real significant savings to our bond package," Judge Freeman noted in appreciation for the consolidated County effort.

In other business Commissioners Court: • Heard year-end report on Cooperative Extension Office by Agents Phyllis Griffin, Wayne Becker, and Angel Walls. • Approved 2004 State Homeland Security Grant Law Enforcement Terrorism Prevention Program (LETTP) adjustment of $9,493. The additional funds will be used to fund tactical entry equipment for the Cooke County Sheriff's Department. Previously $2,500 had been awarded for intelligence and computer access. • Approved preliminary plat for Cannon Estates (lots 1-3) located off of Hwy. 82 and CR 163 in Precinct #1.

• Amended budget for Cooke County Auditor's office for an additional $26,872.08 to bring the county auditor's salary to $75,000. District Judge Janelle Haverkamp was given approval at a previous meeting to offer a yearly salary of up to $75,000 in order to hire a CPA to the position of county auditor. Kent Lashley was hired as county auditor. He is also a certified internal auditor.

• Amended the budget of Precinct #1 as requested by Commissioner Hollowell, for an additional $41,000 to make the yearly payment on a track loader. The money will be taken from Precinct #1 Road & Bridge fund. Judge Freeman explained that former Commissioner Phil Young had purchased the track loader. Payments are $41,000 a year, but the money was not allowed for in Precinct #1's equipment budget.

Stroke Statistics

Stroke kills more than twice as many American women every year as breast cancer.

After the wettest year in history, 2005 is off to a good start. This continuous wet gets to be a drag. I've heard that the rest of the winter and early spring will be wet, and then we should enter a drying period. Thinking of past performances, I hope that drying doesn't last too long.

I have talked to several farmers, and they are concerned. Quite a few have fields that are growing trash that they would like to turn under - clean it up, and prepare it for spring grain and to get the land in shape for seeding corn, maize, and hay crops, but the land is so wet, that is not possible.

I am always telling you of our stupid peach tree. Well, its still here, almost half leafed out. It was budding, but a series of light freezes and then some 14" weather kinda backed it off a bit.

We will have to wait and see. It produces rather small cling stones, but they are really tasty, and Aileen makes some fine jelly, none of which goes to waste. The tree has grown so tall and spread out, we have to wait till the fruit is ripe enough to fall from shaking. Aileen and Tony pick the fruit from the limbs they can, and then shake out the upper ones.

More rain is predicted. I think I'll just sleep through it, if I can.

Compliance program implemented by Cooke County Court Compliance Office

It is estimated that an amount somewhere between $300 million to more than $400 million in court-ordered fines, fees, and court costs go uncollected in the state of Texas each year. If collected and distributed evenly, that would be enough money to write a check annually to every city and county in Texas for as much as $350,000.

But this issue is about more than lost revenue. These uncollected dollars represent approximately 650,000 court orders; that is, orders issued by judges, and ignored by lawbreakers. Ultimately, the taxpayers and citizens of every community in the state pay the price for this breakdown in the criminal justice process. While the impact in terms of dollars is significant, the greater damage is inflicted by the erosion of our system of government from the loss of respect for our judicial system. As Chief Justice Frank X. Gordon of the Arizona Supreme Court has said, "A fine uncollected is a lesson in accountability untaught."

The impact resulting from unpaid fines, fees, and court costs is devastating and largely goes unchecked due to firmly entrenched perceptions that there is no solution. Silently, the problem eats away at the very fabric of our community and the price we pay is prohibitive. Ultimately the impact of unpaid fines, fees, and court costs is:

- Decline or loss of public revenues;
 - Decline or loss of public services;
 - Increased taxes;
 - Weaker government.
- Cooke County has recognized the problem and implemented a Compliance program designed to correct it. This program utilizes basic private sector collections techniques and procedures.
- A successful court compliance program:
- Gives the offender every opportunity to pay;

- Provides an enforcement alternative for those financially unable to pay;
- Makes key information available to the offender, which is conveyed clearly, concisely, and in detail;
- Sets a serious tone by presenting itself as both organized and professional;
- Ensures immediate contact if there is default;
- Educates the offender as to the advantages of timely payment and the pitfalls of failing to comply;
- Uses a common sense approach in assisting the offender in prioritizing and problem solving;
- Utilizes a trained compliance staff operating with the complete confidence and support of the courts they serve.

Offenders should report for their court appearance with between $200 and $500 to be applied toward their total of fines, fees, and court costs that day. They can also expect to be required to pay the remaining balance within 60 days of their court date. Outstanding balances not paid within 30 days of court appearances will incur additional costs.

Consequences for failing to make payment arrangements or paying balances in full include:

- Additional costs;
- Probation revocation;
- Warrant issuance;
- Driver's license suspension;
- Publication in local media;
- Credit bureau reporting.

In its first month of operation, the Cooke County Court Compliance Office has had 90% resolution of 30-year-old misdemeanor cases with outstanding balances.

TMA advises: Sick? Stay home!

You hit the snooze alarm three times; finally pull yourself out of bed only to stand in the shower desperately trying to clear your stuffy head. It happened; you've caught the dreaded flu, which in Texas occurs in late December, January, and February. Confident you have the stamina to tough it out for an eight-hour workday? Your coworkers disagree and want to send you a message: STAY HOME.

As the job demands of workers continue to increase and with so much of our time being spent in the office, it's no surprise that our coworkers are the number-one spreader of germs. A recent report from the Texas Department of State Health Services indicated the influenza activity has risen to the "widespread" classification for the first time this flu season, signifying there is an increase in flu and flu-like illnesses in at least half of the state's regions. Not only do health officials advise you to stay home from work, school, and public events, but coworkers are fighting back and saying enough is enough. Many believe they have the right to tell coworkers, "Don't be the martyr, we don't need you here, and we don't want you here. In clear words, we don't want your germs!"

To get through this cold and flu season, Dr. Eisenberg also suggests frequent hand washing, avoiding very crowded areas such as shopping malls, grocery stores, and movie theatres. If impossible to avoid, try visiting during off-peak times. Most importantly, avoid the temptation to attend public events if you are ill. Dr. Eisenberg hopes helpful tips will prompt people to examine their lifestyles and use the recommended alternatives to staying healthy this winter.

Tree pruning

Pruning helps keep surrounding areas safe for people and objects by removing frail branches. But too much pruning can create more problems than it solves. Homeowners are advised to prune annually and lightly instead of all at once. When in doubt, consult a local ISA Certified Arborist for advice.

Charles and Mary Neu celebrate 50 years

Charles Neu and Mary Simmel were married 50 years ago on Jan. 22, 1955 in St. Thomas Catholic Church in Pilot Point, with Charles's brother Msgr. Hubert J. Neu officiating. On Jan. 22, 2005 a Mass of celebration in honor of the couple's 50th wedding anniversary was also officiated by Msgr. Hubert Neu.

Attending and participating in the Mass were Charles and Mary's six children and their spouses, and their 16 grandchildren: daughter Joyce Neu Bengfort and husband Michael, with Angela Bengfort Flanagan and husband Scott, Jennifer Bengfort and fiancée Fernando Castaneda, and Jonathan Bengfort and Lisa Vu; daughter, Marilyn Neu Sandmann and husband Leslie, with Adrianne Sandmann and fiancée Jordan Sparkman, and Brienne Sandmann, (Rene Sandmann was unable to attend); son, Tommy Neu and wife Michelle, with Brian Neu and wife Rachel, Mark Neu and Lacy Endres, and Kevin Neu; son, Leslie Neu; daughter, Diana Neu Cravens and husband John, with Adam, Bradley, and Brandy Cravens; and son, Donald Neu and wife Debra, with Stephanie, Cammi, Courtney, and Ryan Neu.

Charles and Mary started their married life in Muenster. Charles worked at various jobs until June 1955 when he went to work at National Supply Company as a machinist. In July 1955, they moved to Lindsay and in November 1955, their first child, Joyce, was born.

In April of 1958, Charles and Mary bought a farm south of Lindsay where Charles farmed also. In the next few years they had four more children, Marilyn, Tom, Leslie and Diana. In November 1966, they bought another farm and moved north of Lindsay on FM 1199 where they started the "Neu Dairy" in 1968. Charles then quit his job at National Supply to run the dairy. Soon after starting the dairy, their sixth child was born, Donald. In 1990, Charles and Mary built a new home on the farm where they reside today.

Mary was a full time homemaker and mother of six and helped with the dairy and other chores for 50 years. Later she cared for her grandchildren. Charles is now retired from the dairy, which is now run by his oldest son, Tom. Charles enjoys "working" in his shop building and inventing things. Mary enjoys her grandchildren, cooking, and various hobbies.

Charles and Mary were honored by their children at a reception and dinner at the Roadhouse Banquet Room after the Mass. Present were their Community involvement completes Outreach Project

The Sacred Heart Outreach Committee has just completed a very successful project with the help of many throughout the Community of Muenster and the surrounding area. The project of the renovation of a home in Muenster began Nov. 20, 2004 and was completed on Jan. 24, 2005.

Kathy Vogel, Sacred Heart Outreach committee chairman, reported that numerous people contributed to the completion of this project. The Muenster Jaycees donated several thousand dollars, along with hours and hours of labor.

The businesses donating included: Sherwin Williams, 21 gallons of paint; Joe Walter Lumber Company, 10 gallons of kilz; Sicking Digging, the electrical supplies and work; and All Seasons Pest Control, all the exterminating. Both Community Lumber Company and Muenster Building Center sold materials for the project at cost, in addition to opening after hours for workers to get supplies. The Seventh Day Adventist Church bought all the mini blinds for the house.

Social Concerns paid for the flooring that was installed with donated labor. Scot Neeb donated his time overseeing the installation of the flooring. Bill Hogan donated the labor on all plumbing. Nortex Communications donated all phone jacks and TV hookups. Kevin Anderle and Terry Bartel donated the installation of these.

Others contributing were Hess Furniture, Ace Hardware, Muenster Veterinary Clinic, A-OK Motel, and Fischer's.

Committee members who helped from the beginning to the end were: Johnny and Annette Anderle, Melanie and Mark Hesse, John and Rosemary Becker, Jane and Roger Taylor, Willie and Margie Wimmer, Pat Wimmer, Gerald Hess, Martha Tepera, Carol Henscheid, Larry Vogel, and Janie Weinzapfel.

Many representatives from surrounding communities came to work and support this project, making it impossible to name all those who gave of their time, money, and talent. Individuals helped for a couple of days or several hours. A lot of money was donated, along with furniture and house furnishings.

On Jan. 15, Father John Ohner, O.S.A. gave a house blessing attended by many who helped with the project. A decorated cake was provided by Victoria Vogel, and other food was made available by Bernice Sicking the day of the blessing. Kathy Vogel stated "This is the way Jesus wants to see his love spread. It could not have been done without God as our leader and all the Christians working together."

Tree pruning thoughts

Winter may not be prime time to dabble in the garden. But it is a good time to prune your trees - especially those that flower in the summer. Not only are trees dormant in the winter, but it is also easier to see a tree's structure when no leaves are on the branches.

Plans underway for Cooke County Youth Fair

In three weeks, over 1500 animal, shop, equine, home ec projects and students will descend on the Cooke County Fair Grounds for the 2005 Cooke County Youth Fair (CCYF).

The CCYF will be celebrating over 80 years of youth raising and showing their animals in Cooke County. In recent years, the Board has added the Home Ec division to include foods, photography, clothing, and arts and crafts. Each year this contest brings in over 500 entries. Five years ago, the equine division was added and continues to be a fast growing division with over 100 entries this year.

"The week of March 2 - 5 will be a week of hard work and lots of excitement seeing the exhibitors show off their projects," states Show Superintendent Kenny Kuykendall. Kuykendall, in his second year as superintendent, has served on the Board for several years lending his help to the FFA, 4-H, and FCCLA members of Cooke County at this time of year.

The Cooke County Youth Fair offers the opportunity to the exhibitors to learn character building attributes. Youth will be competing for ribbons, rosettes for breed and class champions, and belt buckles for grand and reserve projects. The Home Ec division will offer silver trays to their winners.

The CCYF is organized by a board of volunteers consisting of teachers, farmer/ranchers, bookkeepers, business owners, and a host of community volunteers during the show. Officers for the show are: Kuykendall; assistant superintendent, Larry Wyrick; secretary, Denise Pearse; and treasurer, Lynn Peters.

Following weeks of preparation, the work will show on March 2 - 4 at show time and on Saturday, March 5 at the premium sale. The sale will begin at 1 p.m. with the drop of the gavel by auctioneers Ken Pearse and Milton Ward, both long time volunteers of the show. The round of champions and reserve champions will sell in the first round, followed by breed champions and all other placings.

The CCYF Board invites the public to come and view the projects, watch the judging, and to come to the sale. Should you have any questions or would like to sponsor an award, call Denise Pearse at 940-665-5961 x24.

The Cooke County Youth Fair is a Cooke County United Way Funded event. These funds go to pay for barn rent, awards, judges, supplies, and show items.

Students offered chance to improve skills

Applications are now being accepted for the Summer 2005 Upward Bound Math-Science Center Program at Lyon College in Batesville, Arkansas. The program will be in session June 4 through July 15. Completed applications must be postmarked by March 1.

The Math-Science Center is a six-week residential program for high school students who will be completing the 9th, 10th, or 11th grades this spring. It is designed to strengthen academic skills, particularly in math and science, for young people who desire a college education but who may need career counseling, personal guidance, assistance with study skills, and other services important in helping them to prepare for college. Each student will participate in a group research project in a math- or science-related subject such as chemistry, biology, physics, engineering, environmental science, or rocketry. A college professor or master teacher will lead each research group and college students will serve as tutors.

In addition to research projects, the UBMS program will offer ACT preparation and classes in English, Spanish, history, and art. Students will take field trips to area industries related to math and science, and visit cultural attractions in the area. Lectures and seminars on topics related to personal development and college preparation will be provided, as well as group and individual counseling.

All expenses will be paid by the program, including: air fare for out-of-state students; room and board on the Lyon College campus; instruction and classroom supplies; and entrance fees and meals on field trips. Students in good standing will receive a weekly stipend of $15.

Interested students, parents, or teachers may contact Assistant Director Elaine Severs at 888-577-7984 (toll free), or email musbound@Lyon.edu. Applications can be printed from the program website at: ubms.lyon.edu

Muenster and Lindsay both are playoff bound

The Lindsay varsity teams invaded the Hornet gym Tuesday night taking home District wins.

The Lady Knights got their revenge from a previous loss by defeating the Lady Hornets 41-39, Muenster's only District loss. The Lady Hornets, District Champion, and the Lady Knights, District Runner-up, both advance to the playoffs.

The District Champion Lindsay Knights handed the Hornets a 68-48 loss. Muenster's boys also advance to the playoff bracket as the District Runner-up. The Hornets have one more District game, Valley View, this Friday night.

In girls action, the scoring stayed close throughout the game, with the game's leader zig-zagging between the two teams.

Going into the last five minutes of the game, Muenster had a 35-34 lead. After several turnovers by both teams, Stephanie Metzler popped in a 3 pointer to give the Lady Knights a 37-35 lead with four minutes on the clock.

At 3:15, Alison Teafattiller tied the game 37-37. A stolen ball by Cheryl Knabe set up a basket by Chelsea Hermes for a 39-37 Lindsay lead at 1:35. Another turnover gave the ball to Brittany Anderle who got the shot and gave the Lady Knights a 41-37 lead with a minute left to play.

A missed Muenster shot, a Lindsay rebound, a foul and inbound was followed by a tied ball by JoAnna Felderhoff. With 35.7 seconds, Muenster inbounded the ball and Felderhoff was fouled at 28.9 seconds. Felderhoff made both free throws to close the score to 41-39.

Lindsay threw in the ball and walked. The Lady Hornets inbounded under their basket and Lindsay knocked the ball out. Muenster inbounded again with 20.5 seconds on the clock. Two attempted shots failed. Lindsay inbounded, and Anderle was fouled with only 3.0 seconds on the clock. Anderle missed the shot. A struggle for the rebound ran out the clock for a 41-39 final score.

JoAnna Felderhoff was high scorer for the Lady Hornets with 20 points. Megan Felderhoff added 6, Kristin Hess 5, Alison Teafattiller 4, and 2 apiece by Sandy Endres and Laura Heers. Muenster hit 11 of 14 free throws and ended regular season play with a 24-5, 7-1 record.

Cheryl Knabe dropped in 21 points for the Lady

Knights, 14 in the 1st quarter. Brittany Anderle added 7, Chelsea Hermes 4, Kaileigh Hess 3, and 2 apiece by Allison Hundt, Christy Hess, and Amanda Hess. Lindsay was 10 of 13 from the line and finished 20-7, 6-2 for the regular season.

The Muenster Hornets got the jump ball and Russell Endres scored 5 points before Trinity Otto got a lay-up on a steal. The Hornets led the game for most of the 1st quarter, before the Knights took control.

Russell Endres and Sean Fuhrmann were high Hornet scorers with 13 and 12 points. Justin Wolf and Chase Cain each added 8, Derek Felderhoff 3, John Fredrick 2, and 1 each by Clint Miller and Dustin Felderhoff.

Cody Anderle led Lindsay's scoring with 25 points. Levi Hermes added 16, with Bradley Anderle and Trinity Otto each scoring 7. Brandon Huckaby put in 5 points, with Dustin Hughes and Josey Kyle getting 4 apiece.

Tigerettes still in the running

"This was a great win and it was all due to a complete team effort," commented Sacred Heart Coach Jon LeBrasseur on the Tigerettes' 46-37 District win over Abilene Christian Saturday afternoon. The win allows the Tigerettes a chance to make the playoffs. Sacred Heart lost their first meeting with Abilene earlier in the season, and were handed a loss by Notre Dame. "If both us and Notre Dame win on Tuesday, it will set up a showdown on Friday night at the Tiger Den for 2nd place in the District," added Coach LeBrasseur. "The winner moves into the playoffs and the loser begins preparation for next season."

The Tigerettes jumped into an early lead at Abilene taking a 27-21 score into the locker room at halftime, then allowed the Abilene team to take away the lead, before finishing strong in the final quarter.

"We played our best 4th period of the year. We were able to control the boards and control the tempo," Coach LeBrasseur noted.

Whitney Wimmer was high scorer for the Tigerettes with 15 points. She also had 10 steals and five assists. Maggie Farrell added 11 points, Katie Flusche 8, Stephanie Krawietz 4, Nicole Bayer and Diana Knabe 3 each, and Stephanie Henschel 2 points. Knabe and Flusche were the leading rebounders with 11 and nine.

Muenster takes two wins from Era

JoAnna Felderhoff was the game's high point maker with 15. Megan Felderhoff added 9, Alison Teafattiller 6, Sandy Endres 5, Kallie Gerstberger 4, and 2 apiece by Tara Swirczynski, Whitney Watson, and Laura Heers. Muenster was 13 of 20 from the line, while Era hit five of eight.

Kelly Crenshaw led Era with 8 points.

The Red Muenster Hornets took a 49-40 win from the Gold Hornets of Era to clinch a playoff spot as District Runner-up.

Era had a 22-15 halftime lead before Muenster scored 18 points to Era's 3 to take an eight point lead going into the final quarter.

Bauer - as in basketball

Basketball is the name of the game in the Bauer household these days. Andrea, Raney, and Jacqueline, daughters of Bob and Kathy Bauer, are currently in the heat of conference and district competitions for their respective schools.

Andrea, a junior forward, and Raney, a sophomore guard, are key elements in the NCAA Division III Austin College Kangaroos' stellar 15-5 record. The team was picked early in the season to finish first in the American Southwest Conference Eastern Division.

Jacqueline is playing for the Fort Smith, Arkansas Southside Rebels, a Class 5A school. The Rebels are coached by Sherry White, whose name is synonymous with girls basketball in Arkansas, as she led Harrison to three consecutive state championships before coming to Fort Smith Southside this year. White is the sister of Kathy, and Jacqueline's aunt.

The season has kept Bob and Kathy busy attending every game Jacqueline plays and all of the home games of Austin College.

Andrea and Raney graduated from Sacred Heart School and Jacqueline attended Sacred Heart until her senior year. They credit the school and Coach Jon LeBrasseur for giving them the tools to succeed both in the athletic and scholastic fields. Coach Debra Hunter and Coach White have expressed their pleasure in coaching girls so schooled in the game.

The seasons are winding down and if anyone would care to attend, the remaining home games at Austin College in Sherman are Feb. 17 with East Texas Baptist University at 5:30 p.m. and Feb. 19 with LeTourneau University at 1 p.m.

NEWS FROM AUSTIN

TEXAS FARM BUREAU

Bill gives landowners liability protection for equine activities

HB 325 by Representative Carter Casteel (R) of New Braunfels provides liability protection for landowners when certain equine activities occur on their property.

Under this legislation, a landowner is not required to warn a horseback rider of hazardous conditions, structures, or activities on the land. However, the landowner is not allowed to intentionally fail to warn a rider of hazardous conditions.

Legislation aimed to help smaller school districts
John Smithee (R) of Amarillo introduced HB 353 that recognizes challenges that small school districts face, regarding funding, because of their size.

The bill would allow school districts in counties with populations of under 5,000 to keep tax revenues from property up to $500,000 valuation per student, rather than the current $305,000 allowed under "Robin Hood".

Bill would allow oil well plugging insurance Representative G.E. West (R) of Odessa has introduced HB 380 which provides an option for well operators regarding well plugging responsibilities. Operators could comply by purchasing insurance policies from the state.

It's a pre-paid, single-premium guarantee that the cost of plugging will be covered.

Texas Farm Bureau supports HB 380.

Bill limits salary and number of school administrators
HB 557 by Representative Anna Mowery (R) of Fort Worth limits the number and salaries of administrative personnel in a school district.

This bill would decrease the number of allowable administrators to one administrator for every seven classroom teachers. The number would decrease until the 2010 school year when one administrator is allowed for every nine teachers.

This legislation also limits an administrator's salary to no more than five times the lowest salary of a full-time classroom teacher.

Bill repeals authority to transport groundwater down the Rio Grande

Representative Frank Madla (D) of San Antonio has introduced SB 268 which repeals legislation from 2003 that allowed the Rio Grande water master to transport groundwater down the Rio Grande River.

During the interim, Sen. Madla chaired a committee to look at this issue. The committee concluded, due to evaporation, using the river to transport groundwater would be wasteful.

Texas Farm Bureau supports SB 268.

Bill grants counties broad ordinance-making authority

HB 757 by David L. Farabee (D) of Wichita Falls gives counties broad ordinance-making authority to protect the public health, safety, or welfare.

In addition to ordinance-making, counties would be authorized to impose fees on citizens to pay for the administration of the ordinance.

This bill sets the penalty for breaking an ordinance as a Class C Misdemeanor.

TFB Policy opposes HB 757. Our policy supports ordinance-making authority for only subdivisions and fireworks.

AG BRIEFS

The U.S. government's agriculture budget is less than 1/2 of 1% of the federal budget, but sustains an industry that is responsible for 15% of a nation's GDP.

In 2003, 20.2 million pounds of antibiotics were made for animal use.

THISTLE CONTROL

Thistles are pioneer species and are most often found in sites where the ground cover has been disturbed by grazing, erosion, traffic, or other means. Thistles reduce the use of an area for grazing or recreational purposes because of the prominent spines on leaves, stalks, and blooms. Livestock do not eat thistles and will not graze between thistle plants on more desirable forage.

Each thistle produces many seeds, often in excess of 10,000 seeds per plant. The fine filaments or pappus (thistle down) of the seed coat permit windborne dispersal over long distances to suitable habitats. Reinfestation occurs from roadsides or other areas where control is not practiced or by long-lived seeds stored in the soil from previous years. Newly germinated thistle seeds require considerable light and usually become established on disturbed areas of pastures or croplands where competition is limited during the seedling stage. Foliar growth occurs during the spring, summer, and fall. The amount of growth and rate of new establishment varies from region to region according to the geographic, ecologic, and climatic characteristics of each region.

The introduced thistles represent a range of life histories, and the life history of each species may vary depending on habitat conditions. Summer annuals grow each spring or summer from seed. They grow, mature, produce seeds, and die in one growing season. Seeds generally over winter before germinating the following spring. Winter annuals germinate in late summer or fall from seed, then mature and produce seed the following spring or summer. Seeds are dormant during the spring. Biennials germinate any time during the growing season. They usually produce a rosette of leaves close to the soil during the first season, then flower (using energy and nutrients stored during the first season's growth), mature, and die during the next year.

Perennials become established by seed or vegetative parts (e.g., roots, tubers, or rhizomes). Once established, they live for more than two years, and often for many years.

Non-chemical control of thistles
The primary control strategy for annuals and biennials is seed management, while the control strategy for perennials must include depletion of plant reserves. Long-term strategies for thistle control depend on biological and cultural controls. Generally, no one technique will provide adequate control. Currently available biological controls using insects require several years for establishment of the insect, and even longer for control. Most successful programs combine biological control with cultural controls such as timely mowing or reseeding with competitive desirable plants. Suppression of thistles may require altering land use.

Mechanical control
Cutting or removing thistles (where feasible) can be effective in reducing thistle populations. Annual

Chemical control of thistles
Several herbicides are useful for thistle control. Spot treatments, rather than broadcast treatments, are preferred. Chemical control for annuals, biennials, and perennials must be initiated before the plants blossom and produce seeds. Young plants are most susceptible to control with chemicals. Best results are obtained when plants are in their initial and heaviest growth stage. The use of herbicides provides a quick and easy method of control. Remember that susceptibility to herbicides is minimal in certain life stages of thistles.
