Brother Thomas Moster OSB honored on his golden jubilee

By Elfreda Fette

Receiving the praise, plaudits, congratulations, enthusiastic greetings, welcomes, verbal "remember whens", all steeped in visible, true admiration and sincere friendship - these all created an aura surrounding Brother Thomas Moster, OSB, as he mingled with homefolks all day long, on Sunday, Nov. 20, when the parish of Sacred Heart celebrated with him his 50 years of Benedictine service.

And it truly was homefolks who were in evidence.

His covenant with the Lord began in his home parish of Muenster in 1956, where he served in various capacities. These included sacristan, director of altar services, Eucharistic minister, teacher in Sacred Heart grade and high schools, teacher of English I to IV, Journalism, Speech and Drama, and when he could squeeze in the time, church decorator. Who among us cannot remember the magnificence of his Christmas decorations?

He was responsible as producer for the many memorable musical productions over these years; was also editor of Mosaics, the school newspaper, and Cordis, the school yearbook. He was mentor for more than 500 young men and women, preparing them for adult life and responsibilities.

He says he feels as close to his first two decades of service in Muenster as he does to the several more decades of service at Subiaco Abbey.

He served two years in the late 1980s at Santa Familia Monastery in Belize, Central America.

The special day of thanksgiving for 50 years of Benedictine service began for Brother Thomas with the Mass at 10:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church, even though it must have begun even before Mass, as friends caught their first sight of him, and rushed forward for delighted greetings.

The entrance hymn was "The King of Glory". The First Reading was given by Novice Brandon Facione OSB. The Second Reading was given by Peggy Grewing, a niece. The Gospel was read by Father Jeremy Myers, a family friend. Abbot Jerome Kodell OSB gave the homily.

Renewal of Vows for Brother Thomas was directed by Abbot Kodell OSB. Prayers of the Faithful were read by Novice Brandon Facione, OSB. The Offertory song was "Bread, Blessed, and Broken". Background for the sign of peace was "Peace is Flowing Like A River." The Communion song was "One Bread, One Body". Meditation was "Prayer of St. Francis", and recessional was "Go Tell Everyone".

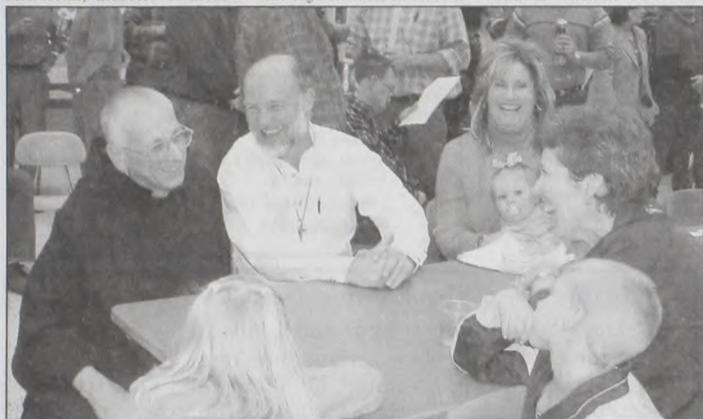

Clergy attending filled many pews, and also much of the altar space. These included Abbot Kodell, OSB, Subiaco; Father Paul Hoedebeck, OSB, Subiaco; and Parish host for the event, Father John Ohner OSA, pastor. See BRO. THOMAS pg. 3

Heers and Fredrick show love for turkey

Muenster Elementary students collected over 1,600 items for local food pantries in their pre-holiday food drive. To top off the drive, Principal Lou Heers (pictured left) and Kindergarten teacher Dana Fredrick were crowned Turkey Queens and given the privilege of kissing a turkey Tuesday afternoon.

Hunt engages youth in outdoor activities

By Janet Felderhoff

Dusk came early Saturday evening for the 23 youths who took part in the annual Cooke County Youth Hunt. Cool wind created bracing air and clouds hid the sun for most of the day. A few rain sprinkles met the earth, but rain was never a threat. It was a perfect day for hunting deer.

Many of the boys and girls, ages 10-16, who gathered for the two-day event had never

"We try to introduce young folks into the wildlife, and some of our landowners are gracious enough to let us take deer off of their places," said Lundberg. "It's for youth who have a desire, but not an opportunity or a place to go. So we provide them a place to go and the equipment necessary. It's at zero expense to the family. I furnish hunting licenses, guns, binoculars, and all equipment necessary for succeeded in shooting a deer. They settled at tables to enjoy a meal and talk about the day's adventures. Morning and another opportunity to get a deer would come early for them. It would be much later when the successful hunters got to eat and rest for the night.

Cooke County Commissioner Virgil Hess is the commissioner for Precinct #4 where the hunt is held. He organizes and helps cook the evening meal. This year's meal consisted of fried chicken, beans, potato salad, and a variety of desserts. Other chefs included Virgil's wife Judy, his bother Tim, and Tim's wife Vickie, and their children Jeremy and Jesse. Muenster VFW Post #6205 donated the food for the meal.

hunted. Some had never even shot a gun before. Game Warden Jim Lundberg first organized the Hunt about four years ago. Many volunteers, including his wife Julie, assist him.

Each hunter had an adult guide to teach about hunting and ensure safety measures were taken. Game wardens came in to assist from other counties including Sherman, Denton, and Fort Worth.

Camp headquarters was the Marysville Community Center. That is where they ate their meals and spent the night on cots.

Ken Stormer is one of the five people who opened their land for the Youth Hunt. He explained his reasons for doing so. Stormer commented, "No money can buy the grins and the smiles on these kids' faces when they are out there hunting and having a good time. Actually, what it does is it makes hunting fun for us who have done it for years. The excitement kind of rubs off." He added that all of the kids are really appreciative.

First to arrive back at camp were the hunters who hadn't

Brothers Ben and Zane Clayton were among those enjoying an early meal. Ben was the guide for 11-year-old Zane. Ben's dad had taken him on a similar hunt five years before. Because their dad had to be out of town, he asked Ben to take Zane. Last year Zane took part in the Youth Hunt with his dad, but didn't get a deer.

Ben, age 20, is in the Air Force, and is based at Shepherd Field in Wichita Falls. He's training to be an avionics maintainer and works on jets. This is one of the first weekends he has gotten to come home and stay home. He decided to share it with his brother.

Zane said his brother taught him to, "Be quiet and wait for the big ones." Sitting in the blind and being quiet is one of Zane's favorite parts of the hunt.

They saw four very small doe that evening. Most of the ranches allowing the hunt specify that only doe be harvested. One ranch allows the young hunters to take bucks with very deformed antlers.

Zane said he couldn't wait for the morning's hunt. "I want to get a big, old tall buck," he said. "They can be a big buck and have three little messed up horns on this side and then have 10 on this side!"

"I can't wait; I want some deer steaks. I was so hungry for it before I came," said Ben as he remembered the taste of venison.

Of the experience Ben remarked, "I think it's excellent. Jim's one of the best game wardens I've ever met. It's great that he organizes things like this. I've met a couple of kids here who are from the city who never get to come hunting. For a lot of them, it is the first time to go to the shooting range and actually get to shoot at targets. They learned a lot out there, too. It's good for kids to learn that stuff. They need to know."

Robbers arrested after chase in Montague County

By Janet Felderhoff

Paul's Bait Shop on Pecan Street in Nocona Lake Estates was the scene of a robbery Wednesday, Nov. 16. The owner, Paul Bates, reported the crime to the Montague County Sheriff's Department at around 8 p.m. that evening.

According to a press release from the Montague Sheriff's Department, Bates said that two males in their early 20s entered the bait shop with their faces covered by masks. One carried a sawed off shotgun and the other a butcher type knife.

The duo demanded money from Bates. He had none, so they searched the home and business, taking several items, including his vehicle keys. Before leaving they ripped the phone and computer lines out of the walls. The robbers, one white and one black, fled the scene in Bates' 1996 white Lincoln four-door.

Sgt. Scott Parker of the Nocona Police Department spotted this vehicle inside the Nocona city limits. He had been assisting with gathering evidence at Nocona Lake Estates, but had returned to Nocona. Sgt. Parker attempted to stop the vehicle. He pursued the vehicle, which was headed south on Hwy. 175 off of U.S. Hwy. 82. According to the Montague Sheriff's news release, the chase went from Hwy. 175 to Hwy. 59 in Montague, continuing to Bowie. Speeds exceeded 100 mph at times.

Trooper Tony Cunningham with the Texas Department of Public Safety entered the chase at the Montague city limits. Two Bowie officers, Sgt. Kurt Berryman and Officer Mark Robertson set up spikes just outside the Bowie city limits on Hwy. 59. The suspects hit these spikes going about 80 mph. Both rear tires were blown out and the vehicle swerved off the highway and hit a barbed wire fence.

The two suspects and a juvenile female attempted to escape on foot. The four officers captured and arrested the trio; Sheriff's deputies transported them to the Montague County Jail. The two males were charged with evading police, one count of aggravated robbery, and auto theft. After it was determined that the female was a runaway from Wise County, she was released to her parents, but has been remanded to the juvenile facility in Sherman.

The two males have been identified as Eric Dale Doyle and Rusty Tyrell Johnson. Both are 18 years old. Bail was set at $70,000 each. As of Monday afternoon neither had bonded out of jail.

Montague Sheriff Bill Keating said that earlier in the day the suspects had broken into a trailer home that was the summer home of Doyle's grandparents. They had stopped by the bait shop and visited with Bates earlier in the day before returning with masks.

Sheriff Keating said what had appeared to be a sawed off rifle was actually a bb gun. They also had a butcher knife and a crowbar. There were three adults at the home during the robbery; they were Bates, his wife, and his mother. Bates is disabled, his wife has cancer, and the mother is elderly.

MISD School Board approves District Improvement Plan

By Janie Hartman

The Muenster ISD Board of Trustees were presented with the District Improvement Plan, submitted by a 19-member committee, and gave it their approval. With a mission statement "Muenster ISD commits itself to attaining and maintaining the highest moral, ethical, and academic standards to provide its students with a strong foundation that will prepare them for success in a continually changing society." The superintendent and members of the Board will ensure that the District continues to achieve the highest State Accountability Rating; improve and ensure high-level academic programs; implement a master facility/building plan that is efficient and economical; provide staff development that results in improved student performance; and communicate with all community members, staff, parents, and students to participate fully in the educational environment of the District. A copy of the improvement plan is available at the superintendent's office.

To the interest of the senior class members, the Board approved the Texas Education Agency waiver of senior attendance during TAKS testing. Because all teachers are needed during the testing and substitutes are needed for the senior classes, members of the senior class will get a day off from school during TAKS testing if a waiver is approved by TEA.

The Board also approved David Manley as the authorized representative for Muenster ISD for the Lone Star Investment Plan, replacing Clyde Steelman, and designated 295 Muenster ISD votes for Bob Knauf to the Cooke County Appraisal District Board of Directors.

A revision to the Texas Education Agency policy allowing homebound students an education was approved by the Board. This pertains to students confined for a minimum of four consecutive weeks to a hospital or home for medical reasons specifically documented by a physician.

The financial audit report and budget amendment items were also approved. Delinquent tax collected for September was $17,054.95.

Superintendent David Manley gave the financial update which included the October cash flow, revenue. See SCHOOL BOARD pg. 2

Ideal weather gives boost to grain crops. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richards moved from the Fette house east of town to occupy the Agnes Wilde bungalow. Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Fette are making their home here since returning from their wedding trip to northern states. Rudy Hellman, Albert Dangelmayr, Roy Callahan, and Roger King returned Monday from a hunting trip to the deer country - no luck. Richard Fette is spending several days of this week accompanying Ray Berend of Gainesville on two trips to Saint Louis with truck loads of pecans. Mildred Waterscheid entertained for KC ceremonies in Pilot Point Sunday with accordion and vocal selections. Drilling is now in progress on the second group of oil wells for the Wiesman estate northeast of Muenster.

Muenster's appearance. One was a temporary garage that was moved in two sections. The other is the old former Gus Stelzer building at the corner of Main and First. It will be removed to make room for the Variety Store's new home. Obituaries: Al F. Schad, 46; car accident injuries are fatal to Thomas Jetzelberger; Albert Bezner dies suddenly. New Arrivals: Lanie to Larry and Helen Yosten; Diane to Erwin and Clara Fuhrmann; a son to the Jack Dyers; Joyce to Charles and Mary Neu; Larry to Richard and Florence Schumacher; Terry to the Ronnie Heilmans. and expenditures, the monthly operating expenses and accounts payable, and investment updates. The activity fund had a total inflow of $25,937.78 with outflows totaling $15,756.93. A total of $150,912.33 in checks were paid out in October.

Written reports were submitted by the administrative staff. Elementary Principal Lou Heer's report included an updated enrollment of 293 in grades Pre-K - 6, Red Ribbon Week, and numerous programs and field trips, and teacher training and meetings recently attended. In the second six weeks, 94 students were on the "A" honor roll and 93 on the "A-B". Only eight of the students did not pass at least one class. Five of these eight failed more than one class. The six weeks discipline report had 30 student conferences/office referrals. Only seven of these were referred more than once. Seventeen students received detentions from the principal, and 46 from teachers for conduct and homework issues. Only 11 attended more than once.

Principal Curtis Eldridge reported 79 junior high and 173 high school student enrollment. He noted that Muenster ISD was chosen at the College Board Advancement Placement Conference as one of 13 schools to participate in a small school summit because of Muenster ISD's excellent AP scores and student performance. The JH/HS discipline report, submitted by Assistant Principal David Freeman, included 105 student conferences. Fifty-two students received detention, 16 Saturday school, seven in-school suspension, and three off-campus suspension.

Technology Director Jeff Prensall reported that ESC Region XI switched the Internet content filtering service from BESS to Lightspeed Systems. "The Lightspeed filter will be a more modern and intelligent filtering system, minimizing over- and under-blocking of questionable websites. Lightspeed more than meets the Federal requirements of the Children's Internet Protection Act," the report stated. Debra Sicking is researching a web hosting service, student e-mail service, and a community-wide presentation on protecting children online.

Athletic Director Monte Endres gave a report on the final football victory, cross country season, football season records, and the start of basketball.

The Board met Nov. 2 in a called meeting to discuss bids for replacement of playground surface. Three bids were presented. A-1 Asphalt gave a bid of $4.20 per square foot. Barnhill Concrete Construction, $4.95 per square foot at 11,132 feet for a total of $55,103.40, and Dangelmayr Construction, Inc. gave a bid of $51,370.80. The four Board members present awarded the repair contract to Dangelmayr Construction.

It teaches them control - how to keep themselves calm before they squeeze the trigger. It also teaches them confidence. Not to be afraid of the gun." Ben noted that at the shooting range, a couple of the kids got the first feeling of the gun's kick and were reluctant to shoot it again. "They got into it and started shooting again," he said. "All in all it's a good deal. I think it helped me out when I was younger. I love hunting and wish I could hunt more. Being in the Air Force, it's hard with the schedule."

For Taylor Martinez of Grapevine, the Youth Hunt offered a first time to hunt and to shoot a gun. "It was exciting," he commented. "I was kind of nervous at first." Gainesville resident Gonzalo Selinas came with his son Bradley Selinas. "I wanted to spend more time with him," said Gonzalo. "I have a career driving a truck. I want to spend time with him before he gets too big. He's 14. They grow up so quick. They don't get to do this very much." Gonzalo taught himself to hunt. "My dad was a drinker. He still drinks. I quit 11 years ago. Smoking and everything - I gave it up. I see what I was missing out on." He hopes to bring his daughter next year. Bradley saw a seven-point buck on his first time out, but wasn't allowed to shoot a buck. That may have been a good thing, since he experienced buck fever. "He was waiting for that doe and was shaking already and I said, 'Relax. Breathe.' He was making me shake," recalled his dad.

Then there were the hunters who tried and missed. Eland Green, age 10 of Muenster, described his experience, "I shot it where they told me to shoot it, and it was a clean miss. So I'm going to go out a 4 o'clock tomorrow morning. I'm really excited." His first time out to hunt deer yielded a shot that missed its intended target. "I got to try my best to shoot a deer," said Eland optimistically. "I tried to at least kill it and be able to bring it back. I missed, but at least I tried my best."

Eland was at the youth Hunt at his mother Dawn Nottingham's suggestion. "She thought it would be a good outdoor activity for me and I really wanted to come," he explained.

From the experience Eland said he learned to be very, very quiet and try not to move as much. "Around dark I when the does and buck come out to eat so that is the best time," he said.

Ethan Crockett, age 14, experienced his first hunt Saturday. "It was an adrenaline rush," he said. "The first time I saw the deer I couldn't stop shaking. I had to take deep breaths in and out. It pretty cool." Ethan's guide first spotted a small deer out in the pasture. Soon five or six came out, giving him a choice in which would be his target.

What did he learn from this hunting experience? "You can't be quick with it. You've got to let everything work out. You can't go too fast. One way or another, you'll get your shot, but you've just got to let it happen."

The day was more than this young hunter anticipated it to be. He said it was a lot of fun and the experience was better than he thought it would be.

Another successful hunter was 11-year-old Cody Morrison. The first deer Cody spotted was a small deer. "It peeked in, came out and got the feed, and this one here came out and followed it," Cody related. "Once it turned at an angle I shot it."

Various deer hunting stories could be heard during the evening and the young hunters weren't the only ones telling them. It seems the event brought back some memories for many present.

Commissioner Virgil Hess said that he supports the event because of the youth. He said, "I was a hunter and I was taught by my dad. A lot of young kids now that live in the city, don't have a chance to get out and go because of the way the land situation is now. It's a lot different than when I was growing up. You could go and ask somebody to go hunting. Now it is mostly leases and that sort of thing, so it limits them to places to hunt."

Virgil recalled his first deer hunt that took place not far from the Marysville location where all had gathered. It was on the Lindsay Branch across from the Earl Robison place, he remembered. "I went out on my own and my dad told me everything to do. The first three times I didn't see anything. All I got was cold!" He said, "Maybe you weren't being quiet enough or they were smelling you or something." Then I finally got to see two does. Then they closed the season. That would have been in about 1960 or '61. I didn't get my first buck until 1964. It was an eight point buck on Art and Robert Bayer's place just north of the golf course." His first deer

Janet Felderhoff photo turned out to be the second biggest that he's ever shot. He no longer takes part in the sport, which he said has gotten quite expensive.

"You never forget that first one," Hess remarked.

Hess thinks the Youth Hunt is a great thing to do and he appreciates the safety that is being taught. Otherwise they might go out and start shooting at everything they can see, he said. "This way they know exactly what they are supposed to do."

Those fortunate enough to bag a deer the first evening got to stay snuggled under warm covers when the wake up call came Sunday morning. For the rest it was up at 4 a.m., jet dressed, have some juice and a doughnut, and off to sit in blinds hoping they'd be lucky enough to see and shoot a deer. Four more deer were added to Saturday's take of seven.

Serving a hearty breakfast were member of the Muenster Jaycees. The organization supplies the food and labor to prepare the morning meal. This year's cooks included Chris Klement, Lucas Hartman, Jody Felderhoff, Bill Hogan, Dave Flusche, Ronnie Walterscheid, and Doug Hermes.

It is the landowners who allow the youth hunt to take place on their ranches that makes this event possible. Opening their land for the hunts were Larry Wassell, tor of Sacred Heart; Father Jeremy Myers, Sherman; Father Aaron Pirerra OSB, Subiaco; Father Bruno Fuhrmann OSB, Subiaco; Father Nicholas Fuhrmann OSB, Subiaco; Father Dan Daugherty, Whitesboro; Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel, Dallas; Brother James Lindsey OSB, Subiaco; Brother Anselm Allen OSB, Subiaco; Brother Joseph Heath OSB, Subiaco.

Brother Thomas

Musicians were Father Richards Walz OSB, Brother Jude Schmitt OSB, Deacon Roy Goetz, and Cheryl Goetz, Subiaco.

Altar servers were Clinton Endres, Robert Miller, and Dale Hoffbauer, representing altar servers trained by Brother Thomas.

Ushers were Maurus Hacker, Ben Fleitman, Leon Knauf, and Don Eckart, former students of Brother Thomas.

Offertory gifts were presented at the altar by Robert Walterscheid, former altar server, Linda Sepanski, former student and editor of the Sacred Heart Newsletter; Wesley Landsfeld, former church Christmas tree decorator, and Mary Lou Kralicke Reinwald, former leading lady in Sacred Heart School productions.

Representing all four Catholic parishes of Cooke County were Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, in full regalia, as honor guards.

Table servers were members of the current 8th grade class of Sacred Heart.

Immediately following the 10:30 a.m. Mass, a reception in the Sacred Heart Community Center honored Brother Thomas.

Principal speaker at the reception was Peggy Sicking Sparkman, a former student. It constituted the entire program. She said: "Brother Thomas, perhaps one of your best life lessons for all of us had to be humility. You are so self-effacing that I'm not sure you fully understand the impact you had on my life and on the lives of many others. I will try to make it a little clearer with this.

"Your comment is always, 'You had the talent,' when I try to credit you with some of my successes. And, while that may be the case, Brother, all the talent in the world means nothing if the bearer of the talent isn't aware of it, or doesn't have the belief in him/herself to be able to utilize it.

"Do you see? 'All the talent in the world' is the same as 'no talent at all' if it is not realized.

"What I realize is that you made a difference in my life by recognizing my abilities, nurturing them, and applying them. I had never had positive affirmation of my efforts. You helped me look at myself as someone who deserved a place in the world and as someone who could accomplish what was necessary to achieve that place.

"You gave me, in many ways, me.

"Now, while you made me feel special, I know that, in another way, I wasn't. Because what you did for me, you did for many others. You did this, in part, by making the playing ground level. By that I mean that everyone had a chance with you. Past grades, family name or status, bad attitude or good - all those things people are typically judged by - were never in your heart when you looked for the worthwhile in each of us.

"Your efforts were spent on individuals, on God-given souls, not on earthbound labels.

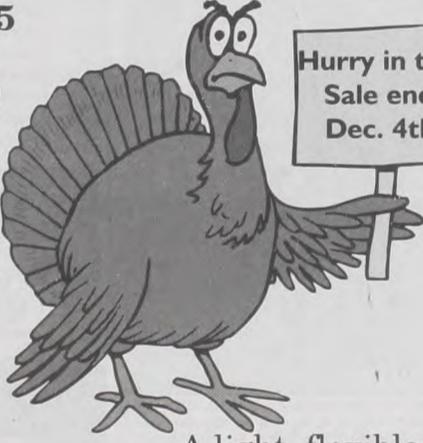

"You achieved what every teacher should aspire to - you taught as though we had no last names, as though each of us was lovable. Now, anyone who remembers those teenage years (their own, or their children's) knows how hard that had to be. But I guess that was God's gift to you. And you, you were God's gift to us.

"So humble yourself all you want, but, in my life, and in the lives of many others, you stand grand. And while Brother Thomas Moster may mean sacristan to some, play director extraordinaire to others, teacher to more, mentor to many, Brother Thomas Moster means the world to me."

A bountiful Thanksgiving Parish dinner followed. After Peggy Sparkman spoke during the dinner following, she asked various groups to rise when asked "Did you feel Brother Thomas impacted or influenced your life?", most everyone rose and cheered, so widespread was his influence on any lives he touched!!!

Invited guests and former Sacred Heart teachers attending included Sister Helen Swirczynski, Sister Pauline Morath, Sister Romana Rohmer, Sister Lenore Dust, Sister Monica Swirczynski, Dr. Charlotte Jones, and Teresa Hess Hayden, all members of Holy Angels Convent of Jonesboro, Arkansas;

Russells awarded November Yard of the Month

KEEP MUENSTER BEAUTIFUL NOVEMBER YARD OF THE MONTH - Glenda and Bryan Russell's yard at 511 North Main captured Yard of the Month honors this month. Its colorful autumn display features pumpkins, topiaries, leaves, gourds, and other harvest items. A message proclaims, "Give Thanks" as the display brightens the front yard. In the side yard, Glenda has an array of plants and flowers that she treasures because of their origins. They evoke memories of her childhood and people she loved. Some are from her grandparents the Gremmings and the Pagels, and others come from the garden of Gen Pels where she enjoyed many happy childhood hours. Janie Hartman photo

Forty children receive First Penance

Forty children from Sacred Heart Parish received the sacrament of Penance for the first time on Thursday, Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. during a communal service. They were accompanied by parents or other family members. Those receiving the sacrament for the first time were Dalton Bartel, Jordan Buddy, Jared Dangelmayr, Alana Endres, Natalie Fangman, Catherine Fleitman, Michael Fleitman, Zachary Flusche, William Green, Kyle Grewing, Devon Hacker, Ethan Henry, Ramsey Hernandez, Dalton Hess, Daniel Hesse, Hope English, Zane Kemp, Kyle Klement, Trace Klement, Zachary Klement, Abby Luttmir, Katie Luttmir, Jacob Neusch, Juan Oroci, Rogelio Oroci, Katie Pagel, Nicole Rains, Kason Reeves, Alana Reiter, Garrett Roberts, Claire Schneider, Kelsie Sicking, Grant Simpson, Grant Springer, Garrett Truembach, Allie Walterscheid, Natalie Walterscheid, Amy White, and Justin Zermeno. The presider for the service was Father John Ohner, OSA. Other priests helping with individual confessions were Father Pat Murphy, OSA, who teaches at Sacred Heart High School, Father Jim Sheridan, OSA, and Father Don Brennan, OSA, from St. Mary's in Gainesville. Music ministers were Ruth Felderhoff and Barbara Romer.

The theme of the service was Jesus the Good Shepherd who searches for the lost sheep and rejoices when he finds it. The opening song was "God Is Rich In Mercy." After the gospel reading, homily, and examination of conscience, those present sang "We Come To Ask Forgiveness" and said the Act of Contrition together. Then there were individual confessions. After each child went to confession, the child placed a felt lamb on a large banner of Jesus, the Good Shepherd. After all the children received the sacrament, parents and siblings had the opportunity to go to confession as well. The families were encouraged to have a celebration at home afterward. One child, Roman Bayer, was not able to be at the service. He received the sacrament following Saturday, Nov. 19.

Auxiliary offers ad for Christmas

The VFW Ladies Auxiliary #6205 is again sponsoring the yearly fundraiser "In Lieu of Christmas Cards."

The program works with the Auxiliary asking the help of the members of the community. For a donation of $10 or more, the name of the person as requested will appear on the "Happy Holidays" ad that the Auxiliary purchases in the Christmas edition of the Muenster Enterprise.

The funds acquired are used for the many different programs the Auxiliary participates in within the community, and also their auxiliary-required program participations.

When considering this option, think about the price of stamps and cards, and about all the good things the Auxiliary does to help others, in making the decision on your donation amount.

The monies and the name as you wish it to appear in the ad are due on Monday, Dec. 19 to: Frances Bayer, 136 S. FM 373, Muenster, TX 76252; or Juanita Knabe, 520 N. Walnut, Muenster, TX 76252.

County Democrats elect Scott Davis as president

Election of officers for 2006 topped the agenda when the Cooke County Democratic Club met for its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Nov. 17 at The Neu Ranch House in Gainesville.

Scott Davis was elected president. Other officers elected were: Nathan Hansard, first vice president; Suzie McDonald, second vice president; Lee Dowling was reelected secretary; and James Davis was again elected treasurer. The officers will serve for the calendar year 2006.

Party Chairman Ron Melugin noted that the Primary Election is scheduled in March 2006. He reviewed the current serving precinct chair persons and discussed candidates to fill vacancies.

The Club's next regular meeting will be on the third Thursday of January (January 19) at The Neu Ranch House located on East Highway 82 in Gainesville. All persons interested in supporting the Democratic Party are cordially invited to attend and join the Club.

Sacred Heart Parish hosted its annual Picnic last Sunday. Above, one of the quilts that being auctioned, held by Brian Herr and Bill Bayer, as auctioneer Milton Ward calls out the numbers. Final water planning meeting set Dec. 5

The Region C Water Planning Group (RCWPG) will hold its final public meeting for the second round of the regional water planning process in North Central Texas. Among other agenda items, the RCWPG will take action on final approval for the Region C Water Plan; a final newsletter summarizing the recommended water management strategies in the Region C Water Plan; and a recommended slate of RCWPG officers for the 2006 calendar year.

Members of the public are welcome to attend the meeting on Monday, Dec. 5 at 1 p.m. and participate in a public comment session during the meeting. It will be held at the Trinity River Authority, Central Wastewater Treatment Plant, 6500 W. Singleton Blvd., Grand Prairie. For more information, call 972-263-2251.

Region C is made up of all or part of 16 counties in North Texas: Collin, Cooke, Dallas, Denton, Ellis, Fannin, Freestone, Grayson, Henderson, Jack, Kaufman, Navarro, Parker, Rockwall, Tarrant, and Wise.

 Charlie Davis, Ken Stormer, Brad Teal, and John Dangelmayr. Democratic Club of Cooke County, Muenster VFW Post 6205, and Muenster Jaycees. From these donations come the noon meal on Saturday, snacks, drinks, and paper supplies, Julie Lundberg noted, "Through the years we've been able to buy binoculars, and this year we went to Gander Mountain and bought cushions for the kids to sit on and be more comfortable, and gloves, toboggans, some hats, orange vests because every hunter has to have an orange vest." Guns and ammunition are supplied. If a youth has his or her father's gun or another gun that they are more comfortable with, they are allowed to use it. Most of the young hunters come from the Muenster, Lindsay, Gainesville area, but some are from outside Cooke County. Safety talks and firearms instruction come before any venture into hunting territory. They learn what type deer they are allowed to kill and what they must let pass. "We're real strict on safety and fire arm handling," said the organizing game warden. As the event came to a conclusion, there were 11 deer killed. The meat would be processed by Walterscheid Meat and divided among all owners, we couldn't do it," acknowledged Lundberg. "The state of Texas is such privately owned that you don't have the opportunity to hunt if you don't have family that has land. Your opportunity is limited. They make it happen."

 Monetary and other donations also aid in the project's success. Jim Lundberg made note of the donors for this year: Wal-Mart in Gainesville, Gander Mountain in Sherman, Tony's Seed & Feed in Gainesville, Walterscheid Meat Processing in Muenster, Cody Ortisky, Gainesville Glass, Gainesville Optimist Club, Gainesville Masonic Lodge, Ronnie Phillips Ranch, Mike Graves Feed Store, Dickie Pagel, Martindale Feed, Bayer's Kolonialwaren in Muenster, Phil Bellows,

Corrections

 • In last week's paper, Anthony Gehrig, newborn son of Jason and Felicia Gehrig, was mistakenly identified.

Ethan Crockett was one of 11 participants in the Cooke County Youth Hunt to shoot his first deer. Janet Felderhoff photo

Tigerettes prevail over Valley View

Sacred Heart hosted the Lady Eagles of Valley View Monday night, giving the Tigerettes a notch in the win column after a 61-38 victory. "We had a nice team effort," commented Coach Jon LeBrasseur.

Whitney Wimmer was high scorer with 12 points. Stephanie Krawietz added 10, with Shannon Hartman and Brittany White each scoring 8. Samantha Wimmer and Kara Felderhoff put in 6 points apiece, Hannah Hess 5, Taylor Torcellini 3, Diana Knabe 2, and Nicole Bayer 1.

Hess was the Tigerettes' leading rebounder with eight. Samantha Wimmer got eight steals, and Bayer is credited with five assists. Sacred Heart hit only seven of 16 free throws, and made six 3-pointers.

Sacred Heart Football 2005 season statistics

The Sacred Heart Tigers ended the 2005 football season as Division IV Bi-District qualifiers. The season proved successful in many ways, as season statistics recorded by Alvin Hartman show.

Offensively, the Tigers scored 351 points to their opponents' 238. Senior Aaron Krahl scored 35 touchdowns, rushing 2301 yards in 298 carries. As a team, the Tigers gained 3203 yards on the ground in 507 runs. Freshman Chris Marshall ran 110 plays gaining 433 yards, with Theo Otto gaining 270 in 26 attempts, and Nolan Hartman 150 yards in 66 carries. On the other side of the ball, the opposing teams gained 1831 yards in 381 carries.

In the air, Hartman completed 46 of 110 passes. Colby Richey caught 17 for 280 yards. Theo Otto got 17 for 259, Tim Otto 12 for 104, and Josh Yosten 3 for 41. Passing yards totaled 678 yards, while the opponents passed for 1343 yards. The Tigers earned 198 1st downs to 155.

Defensively, Aaron Krahl was the Tigers' leading tackler with 140. Arlie Bayer made 93 stops, Jon Ambrose 80, Josh Yosten 69, David Walterscheid 64, Neil Bayer 46, Theo Otto 37, and Adam Dangelmayr 31.

Tim Otto stole eight passes during the season, with Colby Richey getting three, Mark Fleitman two, and one apiece by Krahl, Yosten, Bayer, and Ambrose. The Tigers covered 11 fumbles. Walterscheid, N. Bayer, and Ambrose each covered two, with Krahl, A. Bayer, Theo Otto, and Tim Otto each getting one.

On the negative side, Sacred Heart was flagged 72 times for a loss of 563 yards.

The Tigers' punting game was led by Adam Dangelmayr, with 37 punts for an average of 33 yards.

Lady Hornets win St. Jo Tournament

The Lady Hornets won last week's Saint Jo basketball tournament with victories over Bellevue, Forestburg, and Nocona. Three Muenster players were named to the All-Tournament team: Megan Felderhoff, Alison, Teafattiller, and Laura Heers.

Game One
Action began Wednesday with Muenster taking a one-sided 80-13 win over the Bellevue Lady Eagles.

Three Lady Hornets hit double digit scores, led by Sam Endres with 14, Megan Felderhoff 11, and Danielle Bindel 10. Lindsey Watson added 9, Sandy Endres 8, with Jacé Koelzer, Alison Teafattiller, and Laura Heers each scoring 6. Alison Miller and Rebecca Grewing put in 4 apiece, and Jordan Ledbetter got 2. Muenster hit 71% of their free throws.

Lindsay Lady Knights fall to Prosper

The Lindsay girls basketball team played host to the Class 2A Prosper Lady Eagles last Saturday and were handed their first loss of the season, 48-40.

Prosper took an early lead, but Lindsay got it back by halftime. After a 34 tie at the end of the 3rd quarter, the Lady Eagles hit nine free throws to edge out a victory.

Brittany Anderle was Lindsay's leading scorer with 15 points. Mallory Block put in 13, followed by Stephanie Metzler 5, Christina Eckart 3, and 2 apiece from Chelsea Hermes and Lauren Creed. Lindsay hit only eight of 22 free throws.

The Lindsay Knights are among the remaining 16 IA Texas high school football teams still in competition after taking a 14-6 Region 2 Area playoff victory over the Alvord Bulldogs last Friday night in Lake Dallas.

"They say defense wins championships. Our defense is playing very well," noted Lindsay Coach John Erwin. "I feel we can stay in the playoffs as long as the defense plays this well." Erwin said the Knights had a very good 1st half, then held on long enough in the 2nd to pull out a win. "Alvord played us very hard. They got us worried the 2nd half."

The Knight offense took the field, beginning on their 29 yard line. Taking 10 runs, shared by Alan Trammell, Dustin Hughes, and Adam Kasperek, the ball moved to the Bulldog 3. A Hughes to Kristopher Creed pass put 6 points on the board. Dustin Neu booted the extra point to give Lindsay a 7-0 lead with 6:06 on the clock.

The Bulldogs got in 10 plays, moving to the Knight 24 yard line before running out of downs. The Knights, unable to get a 1st, had Brandon Huckaby punt. The 61 yard kick put Alvord on the 16 yard line.

Tackles by Creed, Levi Hermes, Gary Anderle, Austin Buck, and Kasperek, and a quarterback sack by Michael Eckart forced a 4th down punt. A fumbled play prevented a Lindsay 1st down, then Alvord punted again with the Knights on the Bulldog 39. Hughes gained 10, then Trammell 6, but a fumbled ball was covered by Alvord near midfield.

The Bulldogs moved inside the Knight 20, but two passes were broken up by Chad Dieter, and Trammell then ended the drive.

From their 18, runs by Trammell and Hughes gained 14 yards. A Hughes to Hermes pass gained 68 yards. The final play of the drive was a 6 yard pass completion to Huckaby. With 1:15 remaining in the 2nd quarter, Neu added the PAT for a 14-0 score.

Alvord's next drive ended on the first play, when Trammell caused a fumble and Creed covered the ball on the Bulldog 36. Lindsay got down to the 25 as time was ticking off the clock. A 42 yard field goal attempt failed as the 1st half ended.

The teams exchanged punts, with Alvord returning the 2nd punt 62 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed for a 14-6 score with 7:54 on the clock.

The Knight offense struggled, punting on 4th and 11. The Lindsay defense stopped the next Bulldog drive when Levi Hermes intercepted an Alvord pass at midfield. Again Lindsay's offense couldn't gain any ground and punted, putting Alvord on their 10 yard line.

The Bulldogs carried the ball into the 4th quarter, pounding out yardage into the Knight end of the field. The drive stopped when the Knight defense caused a fumble and Creed covered the ball.

It was three plays and punt again as the Knights had yet to make a 1st down in the 2nd half. Lindsay's defense allowed one 1st down. Tackles by Anderle, Clint Williams, and Justin Caillier, and a sack by Austin Buck forced a punt. Creed returned the punt 31 yards to the Bulldog 35. Lindsay's offense controlled the remainder of the game, with Trammell, Hughes, and Derick Murray all making gains to the Alvord 6 yard line as time ran out for the Lindsay victory.

Next Action
The Area victory advances the Knights to the Regional playoff game against the Albany Lions. The Lions, winners of District 9, defeated Roscoe 24-7 in Bi-District, and Menard 28-14 last week.

The 9-3 team from Albany, with back to back deep runs into the playoffs, are picked favorites over Lindsay (9-2) and are ranked higher in the polls. "Albany's team is similar to Alvord. Their running offense is similar, but they throw more, especially to two big boys," commented Coach Erwin. "We will need to stop their passing threat to win this game."

The Region II playoff match will be Friday, Nov. 25 at Elk Stadium in Burleson. Lindsay is the home team. The stadium opens at 4:30 p.m. Ticket price is $5 for adults and $3 for students, with NO pre-sale tickets. There will be a $3 per car parking charge. Action begins at 6:30 p.m.

Directions to the Game
To get to Elk Stadium at Burleson High School, take I-35W South from Fort Worth. Take Exit #37 (Hwy. 174, Wilshire Blvd.). Go eight signal lights (you will see the stadium on your right). Turn right on Elk Drive. School, stadium, and parking will be on your right.

VALLEY VIEW
The Valley View Eagles lost last Friday 28-20 to the Windthorst Trojans. The Trojans will play Haskell Friday in Graham. Haskell won over Christoval 63-19 last week and 40-6 in Bi-District.

DPS urges Thanksgiving
travelers to slow down, buckle up, and drive sober

All available DPS troopers will be patrolling Texas roadways during the Thanksgiving holiday. Troopers will be looking for drivers who are intoxicated, speeding, or not properly secured—or who have passengers who are not properly secured.

"Texas travelers should know that we will be on the lookout for unsafe driving," said Col. Thomas A. Davis, Jr., director of the DPS. "We want to make sure that everyone reaches their destination safely."

If last year's numbers are any indication, troopers will be very busy. During the 2004 Thanksgiving holiday period (Tuesday through Monday), DPS troopers arrested 653 people for driving while intoxicated. Troopers also wrote more than 18,800 tickets for speeding; more than 3,500 tickets for seatbelt violations; and cited more than 4,600 drivers for operating a motor vehicle without insurance.

"We would rather that Texas drivers voluntarily comply with the law than have to write them tickets," Col. Davis said. "Besides, complying with these laws will make you—and your loved ones—safer when you travel."

Since roads are more likely to be crowded, DPS reminds drivers to leave themselves plenty time to get where they're going. Avoid bad driving habits that lead to road rage, such as:

- Not using turn signals;
- Driving in the passing lane;
- Tailgating, flashing lights, or honking;
- Using high beams in traffic;
- Not allowing adequate time for a given trip.

When confronted with aggressive drivers, the DPS recommends that you:

- Put your pride in the back seat and move aside;
- Do not speed up, block lanes, slam or tap on brakes;
- Report extreme cases of reckless driving to the appropriate authorities;
- Do not retaliate, gesture or make eye contact;
- Make sure everyone is buckled up.

FARM & RANCH

Drought losses significant, but agriculture has some bright spots

Losses from the 2005 drought in Texas are mounting, but agriculture still has some bright spots.

Damage to the livestock sector could reach $1 billion by next spring, said Dr. Carl Anderson, professor emeritus with Texas Cooperative Extension. He and Dr. David Anderson, Extension agricultural economist-livestock marketing, estimated the losses from:

- The harvest of only about half of the 2005 hay crop. The lack of rainfall kept many Texas farmers from harvesting second and third cuttings of hay.

- The supplemental feeding of hay and protein to livestock for an extra three to five months.

- Fewer stocker calves in Central Texas, the Rolling Plains, and the Panhandle due to a lack of moisture. Stocker calves will be shipped straight to the feedlot at lighter weights.

- Lower market prices for calves this fall.

Ranchers began selling lighter calves and taking lower prices this fall because they did not have enough grazing for the winter, Carl Anderson said.

The ranchers "wanted to get the calves weaned so the cows would be in better condition for the winter," he said.

Ranchers - especially those in the eastern two-thirds of the state - have been hurt by the lack of forage since spring, he said.

"We've had no relief in the way of rainfall this September and October when we normally get our wheat and fall grazing off to a start and get some supplemental grazing during the winter," he said. "We're at the point now that even if it does rain, with the short daylight hours and cool temperatures there will be little winter growth of grass and wheat for grazing until spring."

On the other hand, some parts of Far West Texas had record early spring rains and good summer and fall rains, said Dr. Bruce Carpenter, Extension livestock specialist in Fort Stockton.

The weather station at the district Extension office there reported 20 inches of rain for the year so far, about 33% above average.

"We've been dry since October, but we have good standing forage going into the winter," Carpenter said.

The sale of cattle and calves make up about 50% of the cash receipts in the state, according to the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service.

"When we're talking about drought damage, we're talking about almost half of all of the cash receipts in Texas agriculture coming from the cow/calf operator," Carl Anderson said.

"Our livestock industry has really become a huge part of our agriculture," he said, adding that the drought losses are serious.

However, cotton farmers are harvesting a record crop - their second in a row, Carl Anderson said. Cotton is the No. 1 cash crop and makes up 9% of agricultural cash receipts.

The harvest is complete in the southern half of the state, and from San Angelo northward, about halfway complete. Only about 25% has been ginned in that area of the state though, he said, and farmers have run out of tarps to put on the modules still sitting in the fields. The gins are working steadily, he said.

The estimated Texas cotton harvest is about 7.8 million bales, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The 10-year average, which includes record crops in 2004 and 2005, is about 5 million bales.

About 1 million acres of wheat are normally grown in the drought-affected areas, said Dr. Travis Miller, associate head for Extension in the department of soil and crop sciences at Texas A&M University.

Much of this is dry-planted, he said, and recent rains helped to germinate some of it.

"Most of it has not come up, or stands are spotty and moisture is marginal to allow it to grow," Miller said.

Ranchers in East Texas typically plant 750,000 acres to 1 million acres of winter pasture as ryegrass or ryegrass blended with oats, wheat, or rye, Miller said. This supplements winter diets for cows and calves, helping reduce winter feed bills.

"Even if we get rain soon, there will be little winter pasture," he said.

Fall and winter rains are also needed to recharge water in the soil for summer crops in Central and South Texas, Miller said.

"If these rains don't come, spring planting season will be much more risky than normal," he said. "With the increased price of fuel, fertilizer, and seeds, the risk will be greater than in past years."

Carl Anderson is already estimating that, without rainfall this winter, cotton yields will probably go back to normal next year.

A buildup of sub-soil moisture last year enabled farmers to have the record crop this year.

"As I look at the history of the Texas cotton crop - or any dryland crop - a requirement for a bumper crop is good sub-soil moisture" at planting, Carl Anderson said.

Twenty-eight Texas counties - mainly in the eastern and southern portion of the state - have been declared disaster areas due to drought, Miller said. These counties and those counties contiguous to them are eligible for federal disaster relief.

"Over the years, drought is the single most damaging weather event, eclipsing tornadoes and hurricanes," he said.

The effect of agricultural drought often progresses slowly, and is even slower to hit urban consumers, Miller said.

"It hits pretty hard and very quickly in the communities across the state that have a primary source of income from agriculture," he said.

"Ultimately the agricultural drought filters into the economy of the big city in lack of sales of agricultural equipment, trucks, pickups, agricultural chemicals, fertilizer, as well as a short supply of good, fresh vegetables and fruits," he said.

As the drought lingers, various stages of drought control measures will be implemented, including restrictions on outside watering.

Enjoy a safe turkey this holiday

Texans can enjoy their holiday turkey without fear of contracting avian influenza, a Texas Cooperative Extension expert said.

"They do not need to be worried at all," said Dr. Michael Davis, an Extension poultry specialist here. "The Texas Poultry Federation and Texas producers have had an avian influenza monitoring program in place for 10 years now."

Avian influenza or bird flu, a respiratory disease of birds caused by a virus, has recently been under international attention due to some cases of bird-to-human transmission in Asia.

"Since we have the system in place, (poultry producers) continuously monitor all the birds in the field," Davis said. "If a flock is suspected of having avian influenza, they are quarantined, depopulated, and never sent to the processing plant."

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Avian Influenza Fact Sheet, "There is no evidence that (avian influenza) can be transmitted to people by eating poultry."

"If by some chance, there was an avian influenza virus on the turkey, and you did cook it, yes, it would kill (the virus)," Davis said. "The (virus) is highly susceptible to heat."

However, the Texas industry doesn't foresee that becoming an issue, he said, because, "we don't think (infecting birds) will ever get to the market."

While production may have fallen, Texas is still ranked 10th in the nation in turkey production.

"There are over 4 million turkeys produced in Texas every year," Davis said. "Of those 4 million, we also have 122,000 breeders in the state."

About 250 turkey farms are in business within the state he said, and the industry employs more than 800 workers.

Most of the producers are located in Central Texas near Waco, he said. Only one processor still operates in the state; all of the producers are contract growers for that company.

Natural gas prices hitting farmers hard

Due to soaring energy costs and higher farm input prices associated with natural gas, America's farmers "are up against a formidable challenge" of trying to provide for their own families' needs while also producing affordable food and fiber, Illinois Farm Bureau President Phillip Nelson told Congress recently.

Nelson called the combination of significantly higher energy and fertilizer costs coupled with falling grain prices a "perfect storm" spelling serious trouble for rural America. He said Congress must act to address our nation's energy needs, especially the challenge farmers face with higher natural gas prices.

"Natural gas is critically important to agriculture because it is used both directly and indirectly in nearly every aspect of farm operations," said Nelson, a livestock and grain producer who serves on the American Farm Bureau Board. He testified about the impact of higher natural gas prices during a House Appropriations subcommittee hearing.

Nelson said farmers are paying higher expenses for electricity, fertilizers, farm chemicals, heating barns and poultry houses, and drying grain due to the rising cost of natural gas. He said nitrogen fertilizer is priced at more than $500 per ton this fall in central Illinois as compared to $250 per ton in 2002. However, the price of corn has not gone up accordingly. Corn prices are the same now as they were a year ago.

Nelson called the passage of the recent comprehensive energy bill a "first step" for solving our nation's energy woes. He said, however, more has to be done to encourage domestic exploration and recovery of oil and natural gas. Electrical generation has to be accomplished without the extensive use of natural gas and can be accomplished with investment in the technology for the safe, clean use of our country's huge coal reserves, he said.

Ag Briefs

Two-thirds of rural persons age 60 and above living on less than $10,000 a year are women. That climbs to four-fifths at age 85.

Drought losses 2nd only to Katrina

Drought has caused the second- and third-most costly disasters in U.S. history after Hurricane Katrina, prompting the federal government to consider a comprehensive review of the way information concerning dry weather is gathered, disseminated, and utilized. Drought causes about $6 billion to $8 billion in average losses yearly; about 20% of the U.S. is affected in any given year. This year, 528 counties in 18 states have been declared drought disaster areas.

Losses from the worst Texas drought in 1996 to 1998 are estimated at $4 billion in direct income and $11 billion in total impact on the state economy. —Dow Jones
