News from the Farm Clubs

Woodland Heights 4-H

The Woodland Heights 4-H club met Thursday Feb. 24, 1938. The meeting was called to order by the president and we took time deciding songs for the opening of our club. Then the minutes were read by the secretary. There were 23 present. We also had three new members, Hilda Jacobb, Joyce Byunn and Lee Neil Whortley and they were introduced to the club by Billie Ruth Grogan. Some of the girls have their aprons nearly finished.

We selected some songs and Nell Fish and Tula Sue Woodbridge wrote them off for them so every one would have some songs to practice and we want every one to learn them. Nell Fish said that she and Nellie Bishop could give a party for the 4-H club and everyone thinks that is a good thing to do. Then the meeting was closed.

TULA SUE WOOLDRIDGE

Early 4-H Club

The President Billie Joyce Lightsey opened the meeting with a song led by Nelda Hunt. Then we had the club prayer and pledge.

We had some members that withdrew from the club. Miss Mayesie Malone brought some aprons and patterns. We cut out aprons from some of the patterns Miss Malone brought. A few didn't get theirs. Billie Joyce Lightsey, Nelda Hunt, Laverne Redwine, Geneva Dikes, Lucille McHorse, Bernice Wade and Phillis Jean Eaton got their aprons cut out.

FARMERS GET HIGHER PRICES IN 1937 THAN DURING YEAR OF 1936

Prices received by farmers for livestock and livestock products averaged about 5 percent higher for the calendar year 1937 than a year earlier, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today.

Prices of these items were about 36 percent above the depression low point of 1933, but still about 19 percent lower than in 1929.

The 1937 level of livestock and livestock product prices was the highest recorded during the past 8 years. Average prices of all items were substantially above a year earlier with the exception of horses, mules and eggs. Egg prices averaged slightly lower than in 1936 and work animal prices were down as a result of sharp drop during the latter part of the year. Changes by groups of commodities from 1936 to 1937 were follows: Meat animals, up 9 percent; dairy products, up 4; chicken and eggs, no change; and work animals, down 11 percent. Wool prices averaged about 19 percent higher than in 1936.

Smaller Marketings of Meat Animals

Prices received by farmers for all meat animals increased from 1936 to 1937 as a result of smaller marketings of most species and a general increase in the consumer demand for meats during the first three quarters of the year.

Hog prices averaged $9.48 per 100 pounds at local farm markets in 1937, compared with $9.30 in 1936. The number of hogs slaughtered under Federal inspection decreased from 36,955,000 in 1936 to 31,642,000 in 1937. This was considerably under the 5-year (1932-36) average of 33,692,000 hogs.

Prices received by farmers for beef cattle and calves averaged

May 4-H

Our club is making a fine record so far this year. There were thirty-two members and two visitors present.

We met in basement of M. E. church, Thursday, Feb. 24th Mrs. Brawner and Mrs. Wiggins acting as hostesses.

After the regular business session, Mrs. Bettis gave a book review on "Training the Child." Mrs. Jovis gave a solo and Mrs. Vandevors Jr., gave a reading.

The club spent sometime in about $1.10 higher in 1937 than in 1936. Cattle prices increased from $6.83 per 100 pounds in 1936 to $6.96 in 1937. The number of cattle slaughtered under Federal inspection decreased from 10,972,000 in 1936 to 10,670,000 in 1937.

Calf prices increased from $7.23 per 100 pounds in 1936 to $8.32 in 1937 despite a 3.5 percent increase in the number slaughtered. The effect of increased supplies of veal apparently was more than offset by a reduction in supplies of other kinds of meat.

Sheep and lamb prices averaged somewhat higher in 1937 than in 1936. Federal inspected sheep and lamb slaughter was only slightly larger than in 1936 and the 5-year average. Local market sheep prices increased from $3.82 per 100 pounds in 1936 to $4.44 in 1937. Lamb prices increased from $8.04 to $8.46 for the same periods.

Materially higher prices were received for the 1937 wool clip sold by farmers as compared with prices about 5 cents higher than in 1936. Wool prices were particularly strong during the first half of the year when mill consumption was very large and stocks below average. The purchase of many large of a year earlier. At 32 cents per

Work Animal Prices Decline; Also Eggs

Horses and mules were the only types of farm animals for which prices received by farmers averaged less than in 1936. These lower prices for the marketing season beginning in November reflected a decrease in the demand for work animals during the latter months of 1937 when prices of most farm products dropped sharply. Horse prices declined largely from an average of $98 for 1936 to $86 for 1937. Mule prices declined $11, from an average of $115 in 1936 to $104.

Higher chicken prices received by farmers in 1937 compared with 1936 reflected largely a decrease in poultry marketings. Chicken prices increased from an average of 15 cents per pound for 1936 to 16 cents for 1937.

Average annual prices received by farmers for eggs declined again during the past year to the lowest level since 1934.

Help Wanted, Needed and Appreciated

Bob Holley has decided he is going to find out if Used Cars can be sold. For the month of March, he is staging a contest between Holley-Langford Chevrolet Company of Brownwood and Holley Chevrolet Company of Coleman.

Rules of the contest are as follows: Each firm has bought a burro. Each firm has a quota. Each salesman has a quota. The contest runs through March. The low man each week will ride the donkey from each place of business to the courthouse and return.

At the end of March, the low salesman of the losing firm will ride the burro to the winning town, 30 miles, on April 1. This will be an "April Fool" hang remembered.

McGaugh Enters Race For Judge

R. L. MCGAUGH

Announcement is made today by R. L. McGaugh, well known Brownwood attorney and for a long time a resident of this county, that he is a candidate for County Judge of Brown county.

Mr. McGaugh has lived in McCulloch and Brown counties since 1891, going to McCulloch county with his parents when he was a small boy. He taught school near Milburn in San Saba county two years, and moved to Brownwood in 1902. He taught school in this county for a while, reading law meanwhile, and was admitted to the bar in 1902, beginning the practice of law here in the summer of 1904.

He served as city judge for a time, and was elected county attorney in 1906, serving six years. Since then he has been engaged in the general practice of law, and also has served as city attorney several times. His service as a public officer and his experience as a lawyer, he thinks will qualify him for performing the many duties of County Judge.

Mr. McGaugh said today: "I elected county judge I will assume the duties of the same, and my only purpose and greatest desire will be to render the best service of which I am capable for my county, which I love and in which I expect to spend the remainder of my life. I will appreciate your vote and support to the end that I may serve you as county judge, and by my service show you my appreciation of the trust reposed in me by your confidence."

Mr. Colvin was born in Marshall County Alabama and came to Brown county in 1923, and at the present time is operator of a Humble Service Station on Austin Ave. In making his announcement Mr. Colvin said: "I elected Tax Assessor-Collector I will assume the duties of that office with the full realization of the responsibilities and duties of the same and my one purpose and greatest desire will be to render the best service of which I am capable. I have the highest regard for my opponent; however he is now serving his second term as Tax Assessor-Collector and to many two terms in a public office is deemed sufficient and I assure him and my friends that a change in this office justifiable, my campaign will be conducted on the highest plane." THE REST OF THE RECORD

By JAMES V. ALLRED Governor of Texas

Austin—Upon the urgent request of several officials of the State Teachers Association I flew to Washington last week to appear before the judiciary committee of Congress in opposition to a resolution seriously affecting the title to coastal lands.

The resolution, by Senator Nye of North Dakota, was originally introduced and passed through the United States Senate in the closing days of the session last year. Upon the face it was an innocent resolution simply reciting that it was asserted that the United States Government owned title to certain submerged lands along the coast of the United States from which oil was being extracted, and which is potentially valuable for that reason; and it instructed the Attorney General to investigate title of the United States and file such suits as were necessary to recover same for the Federal Government.

The resolution passed the United States Senate, and there is no criticism on that account—none of us knew just how far reaching it was—but, of course, it failed to get through the lower house of Congress and was pending business at the beginning of this session.

When we got to Washington we found that those who were pushing the resolution stated that it was primarily aimed at California, which occupies a slightly different status from the other states; BUT the trouble was that the resolution of every other coastal state, too, cloud upon the Texas title and that of every other coastal state, too.

We found that the Navy Department had suggested an amended resolution which was worse than the original. The amendment asserted that the United States owned all of the submerged, or coastal lands under the water on American shores; that there is possibly a serious shortage of oil reserves and that the President should be authorized to take over and set aside these lands as naval oil reserves.

The amended resolution did contain the statement that it was subject to the title of any state, or private individual or corporation which "may be established in the judicial proceedings hereinafter authorized." This was the worst joker in the resolution—that is, it would require Texas to establish in court a title which has been unchallenged for over a hundred years.

From the beginning of the Republic the Supreme Court of the United States has held in unbroken decisions that the State owns its coastal lands "and the soils under its navigable waters." In most of the states this extends out to the three-mile limit, but in Texas, according to the position we took, it extends for three leagues, which is about 10 1-2 miles.

We pointed out that when Texas won her independence the first Congress of the Republic passed an act asserting dominion over a territory which was described to begin at the mouth of the Sabine river and parallel the Gulf Coast of Texas at a distance of three leagues from land to the mouth of the Rio Grande river. This distance of three leagues from land was recognized in the treaty of peace between the Mexican Government and the United States Government after the Mexican War. It was again recognized in the Gadsden purchase by the United States from the Government of Mexico.

"Used Car Week" Is Proclaimed in March

A national drive to sweep the American automobile industry out of the current recession and stimulate American business generally has been announced by Alvin Macaulay, speaking for every American automobile manufacturer and dealer.

The campaign, known as "National Used Car Exchange Week" March 5 to 12, is an outgrowth of recent conferences at the White House between President Roosevelt and leaders of the automobile industry. Mr. Macaulay said. The President has been advised of plans for the campaign, which is the first cooperative effort ever undertaken in which all American automobile manufacturers have taken part.

The campaign is timed at the outset of the spring selling season when both new and used cars usually begin to move in greatest volume, Mr. Macaulay said. It is aimed primarily at stimulating the disposal of used car stocks now in dealer hands. Once this is accomplished, a substantial increase in car manufacturing schedules and employment of wage earners in the automobile factories is anticipated.

To support the campaign, Mr. Macaulay announced, the manufacturer will spend $1,250,000 in newspaper, radio and outdoor advertising and in other promotional channels. Two-thirds of the advertising budget will be spent in newspapers. "The motor car industry," Mr. Macaulay in making the announcement, "is generally credited with showing the way out of this last depression."

"Today, the automobile manufacturers, their suppliers, the nation's 46,000 dealers and allied industries are launching a similar drive."

So far as the automobile industry is concerned, the most serious barrier to business improvement is the large stock of used cars in dealers' hands, Mr. Macaulay pointed out.

"Until these cars can be sold, it is impossible for dealers to handle a normal volume of new car business," he explained. "This means that factories will be forced to continue on part-time, and thousands of men in the motor car plants and in allied industries must remain either out-of-work or on part time schedules."

The primary purpose of the campaign, he said, is to make known to prospective owners the remarkable used car values which now are being offered by automobile dealers in all parts of the United States.

Aphasia
Aphasia is lack of speech. It may be due to a local trouble, but is usually due to a disorder in some of the brain centers. Very often it is psychic or hysterical in its cause. It is this type of person who under great excitement suddenly regains the power to speak. It may be due to a motor defect which makes it impossible to speak so that one can be understood. Sometimes, according to an authority in the Washington Star, the patient becomes unable to recall sounds. Aphasia may be due to an abscess or tumor on the brain, or a rupture of a blood vessel. It may be due to some form of paralysis or toxemia.
