

This is the weekend for residents of the Muenster school district to decide what they are going to do about expanding the community's educational facilities. Hays wants to become a part of the district. So we assume, at least, because a group of citizens from over there originated the idea of a consolidation vote. So the idea of a consolidation vote will be held Saturday — at Hays to decide whether the majority favors being absorbed by Muenster, here to decide whether we want to admit them.

No matter how conservative or elaborate we choose to be in coming years we can't possibly go wrong by favoring the consolidation. It means for one thing that the Muenster public school will have one more teacher and lots more pupils at the opening of the next school term. It means that with the additional revenue from per capita allotments and tax at the prevailing tax rate — Muenster can have a much better public school than it has now.

At the same time it would give Hays a break. As many of us are aware that district has been sadly handicapped since the establishment of Camp Howze reduced it to a rather small area. Advanced children had to be hauled to Gainesville daily, and facilities for elementary pupils were by no means adequate. Hays children will profit immediately by the consolidation.

Besides that another well known situation exists over there. Dozens of children come to the Muenster parochial school. Their parents pay a higher tax than Muenster parents and receive no benefit whatever.

Those are people who do their business at Muenster. They are members of the local co-ops, they carry accounts in the local bank and business houses. They are contributing toward Muenster's development into a better business, social and religious center. They are helping us now as they have been for years. By all standards of fairness and appreciation we owe them a vote of welcome.

Those immediate advantages, desirable as they are to both districts, are far less attractive than other advantages made possible by the merger. It is known that many people at Myra are willing to join this district if an affiliated school is developed. It is also known that with the combined revenue and attendance of the three districts Muenster can develop an affiliated public school.

There's the possibility also of building a public school that is a source of pride to the community, and it can be done on a surprisingly low tax rate. Two circumstances favor us in such a project. The building itself need not be large because the parochial school already accommodates most of the children. And our large, valuable district has a high valuation. We can accomplish more with a 50 cent tax than most districts can with a dollar tax.

Here is an opportunity the community cannot afford to overlook in its march of progress. We have reached the point where a modern affiliated public school is a necessity. We need it to hold the interest of many people already within the area. We need it to invite the interest of surrounding neighbors. Above all we need it to give children the advantages they deserve.

We even need it to enhance the opportunities already offered by our thriving parochial school. Such additions as gymnasium, athletic field, auditorium and manual training labs can be made available to both schools.

As a public school project financed by a bond issue those additions would cost the average community resident far less than if handled as a parish project. Whoever needs convincing is invited to estimate his pro rata assessment in a parish financed program and compare that with his computed tax at 50 cents per hundred.

So, no matter how conservative or ambitious our plans are for the future, Saturday's opportunity to merge is a real bargain. With another teacher and a larger attendance the school will be greatly improved in spite of antiquated buildings and equipment — all without a penny of additional cost. But the inspiring thought is how much more can be done with a district like this at a slightly increased tax rate.

This year the 4th of July carries a special significance. The day traditionally set aside to commemorate our own declaration of independence has been chosen as

NUMBER 32

Muenster, Hays Vote On Merger Saturday, July 6

When residents of the Muenster Independent School District vote on consolidation with Hays next Saturday July 6, they will accept or reject the addition of 81 scholastics and $853,370 worth of valuation, according to official figures confirmed this week in the office of County Superintendent Randolph O'Brien.

At the same time voters at Hays will decide whether they wish to continue maintaining a school on their present enrollment and resources or help to develop a more adequate school at Muenster.

The petition for Saturday's consolidation vote originated at Hays. Interested persons there, after securing the required number of signatures, came here and asked that a corresponding petition be drawn up. Simultaneous elections will decide whether the majority at Hays wishes to join Muenster and whether the majority at Muenster wishes to admit Hays. Both must carry to make the merger effective.

According to calculations of Herbert Meurer, secretary of the Muenster school board, students and residents of both districts would gain by the proposed consolidation. The per capita and tax revenue combined would add more than $3,300 to the Muenster's school fund, a sum which would go far toward the local board's anticipated expansion program.

At Hays it would reduce taxes from 50 to 25 cents per $100 of valuation and also solve the problem of conducting a school with inadequate enrollment.

Other figures submitted by the county superintendent show that of the 81 scholastics at Hays, 41 are currently attending the parochial school at Muenster. Of the remaining children 10 advanced pupils transfer to Gainesville High School, daily and 30 attend elementary grades at Hays. Ten pupils transferred from Valley Creek, bring the Hays enrollment to 40.

Immediate future plans for the local school include the addition of one teacher bringing the total to 5, and improving equipment, especially in vocational training courses.

The consolidation carries members of the school board intend to invite Myra into the district, possibly holding the consolidation election early enough to permit necessary changes prior to the opening of the next school term.

Myra's situation is very similar to that of Hays. Of 24 scholastics 20 are in elementary grades at Myra, 14 attend high school at Gainesville and the others are almost equally divided between the Muenster parochial school and Lindsay.

After merging with the two neighboring districts the trustees feel they will have the resources to begin developing a first class affiliated school.

WOLVES ON RAMPAGE; BUD FETTE LOSES 37 SHEEP, 40 TURKEYS

The worst wolf menace remembered here in recent years exists in the area north of Muenster at the present time. Edward "Buddy" Fette said Monday that 37 of his sheep and 40 turkeys had been killed within the past week.

He says the situation has got so bad that he cannot put the sheep out to graze without having a guard for them, and wolves apparently lie in wait for the moment when guards aren't around. Last Saturday morning the flock was left unguarded for two hours and five sheep were killed.

The recent raids put Buddy far behind in his feud with the neighborhood wolf pack. Last winter he caught nine of the pests, all females, and felt confident he had dealt an effective blow to the population.

A.J. Huchtens returned home Saturday with a discharge from the army and is with his mother, Mrs. O.J. Huchtens. He entered the service in August 1944 and spent 15 months in the ETO. His brother, Tech, Sgt. Walter Huchtens, came in from Enid, Okla. Monday night and Mrs. Huchtens had a reunion of all her children for the first time since before the war. Walter left Tuesday for Chanute Field Ill., where he will take a special course in an electrical school for 13 weeks.

Sacred Heart Parish Will Conduct Famine Relief Drive Sunday

Next Sunday is Famine Relief Day at the Sacred Heart church. According to an announcement by Father Herman Laux, pastor, last Sunday, the day has been designated for famine relief food and funds collections in all Catholic parishes of the Diocese of Dallas.

It is requested that donations be made in the form of money or food in tin cans. Food in glass jars is not acceptable because of shipping difficulties.

Father Herman further explained that cash donations are preferred. By arranging for the purchase of commodities in case lots at Eastern ports the relief agency will be able to save a great deal in crating and shipping expense.

Cash donations will be accepted at the church doors at all masses next Sunday. Canned goods donations will be accepted in the parochial school basement.

4TH DEGREE KNIGHTS HOLD REELECTION OF OFFICERS SUNDAY P.M.

All officers of the Bishop Danglemyr General Assembly Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus were returned to office for the coming year as the result of the annual election held during a regular meeting Sunday afternoon in the K of C hall.

Officers are: J.M. Weinzappel, faithful navigator; L.W. Flusche, faithful captain; H.A. Lampman, faithful admiral; C.D. Holden, faithful pilot; J.W. Fisher, faithful comptroller; Charles Hellman, faithful scribe; L.A. Bernauer, faithful purser; Wendell Boison, first sentinel; Ben Seyler, second sentinel; and Rev. Edward Devers, faithful friar.

A review of activity of the past year was given and a program for the coming year was outlined. Reports were given on the state meeting held recently at Amarillo, and the assembly decided to sponsor a historical essay contests for parochial school children in which $200 worth of prizes will be awarded to winners. Grammar grade students' subject will be "I am proud to be a Catholic Texan" and high school students will write on "Our Catholic Heritage".

The local assembly includes councils from the 6th district deputy district and has 39 members including 6 clergy. Out of town members at the meeting were Rev. Edward Devers of Decatur and Rev. Peter Molloy of Gainesville.

Wednesday Last Chance To Get Immunization Shots

Next Wednesday, July 10, is the last day for citizens of the community to avail themselves of the inoculation serum and diphtheria test at the local clinic, Dr. T. S. Myrick reminds this week.

Parents, whose children have not yet been immunized against diphtheria, and those who having been immunized and still require the Schick test, are urged to take advantage of this service, made possible for a fraction of the usual cost through cooperation of the County Health Unit.

Small pox vaccination and "booster" typhoid shots are available at the same time.

Prospects Good For Proposed Red River Dam

Optimism prevails here this week in connection with a petition submitted to U.S. Army Engineers at Mangum, Okla., for a dam across Red River north of Muenster. Officers in charge of the hearing stated they were not in position to give an immediate answer, favorable or unfavorable, but acknowledged it had merits that deserved their serious consideration.

The petition was submitted at a public hearing of the Army Engineers on Wednesday, June 26, to gather data relative to constructing flood control dams in the Red River watershed.

A dam site previously proposed for that project is north of Gainesville near the Highway 77 crossing. The Muenster delegation asked that the site be changed to the point north of Muenster where it could serve as an urgently needed river crossing as well as a flood control measure.

Mayor J.M. Weinzappel presented the petition which explained that the desired river crossing would provide a valuable farm to market outlet for more than 90,000 acres of rich land presently isolated in the bend of the river north of Muenster. Enumerating market and service facilities available at Muenster the petition states that these neighbors across the river are ready to Muenster than any other comparable market and emphasizes especially that the area, well adapted to dairy farming, could deliver 25,000 pounds of milk daily to the local cheese factory.

The petition further states that a 5 mile farm to market hard surfaced road has already been designated to lead north of Muenster and the commissioner of the precinct has agreed to spend his next allotment on an extension of the road. This would provide hard surface from the river to Muenster.

Another inducement is the possibility of a direct route from the river to Fort Worth along the general line generally followed by commercial planes between Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. Residents in the bend of the river regularly haul their livestock to Fort Worth, going many miles farther than the proposed route. At the other end of this proposed road the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce is now encouraging a road as far north as Krum.

The petition carries signatures of 41 persons of the Muenster community and 52 persons of the area north of the river.

After it had been presented the chief engineer at the hearing remarked that Muenster is more interested in a bridge than a dam. Weinzappel said the bridge would serve our purpose better but the dam would serve both our purpose and the army's.

The delegation attending the hearing consisted of County Judge Carroll F. Sullivan, Mayor J.M. Weinzappel, Commissioner Earl Robinson J.W. Fisher, J.P. Flusche, Ben Seyler and J.B. Wilde.

Since that date letters have been sent to Senator Tom Connally, Congressman Ed Gossett and the National Rivers and Harbors Commission requesting support of the project in official channels.

Showers Not Heavy But Timed To Keep Threshers Inactive

Intermittent rains continue to delay harvesting progress in the community. For the past week showers came with monotonous regularity at just about the time threshers were ready to resume their grind.

Wednesday afternoon several crews returned to the job after losing a half day because of heavy dew. Prior to that they had been idle for a week. Sunday night's rain of .60 inch was preceded on Saturday by .20 inch, on Wednesday by .75 and Tuesday by .15. Some rigs have not put in a full day of work since the beginning of the season.

To date however, little damage has been reported from the rain. As a rule the showers are followed by favorable drying weather which checks the sprouting of grain in the shocks.

Farther north, about six or eight miles from town, the report is less favorable. A cloudburst there last Thursday has been estimated as high as 5 inches. At least two bridges are known to have been washed out. It gave shocks a thorough soaking and many are said to be sprouting out.

Only a small percentage of grain remains to be threshed in the community. Combines got most of it early in June and threshers got more before the rains stopped them.

With continued favorable weather most rigs will finish before the end of the week and all should finish before the middle of next week.

NEW CITY ORDINANCE WILL PUT SQUEEZE ON SHEEP KILLING DOGS

The city of Muenster is about to put the clamps on prowling dogs. That decision was reached by the city council in regular session Monday night after a group of farmers complained that stray dogs from town had killed hundreds of dollars worth of sheep, forcing some of them to quit the sheep business altogether.

The condition has existed for years, they said, but in recent months has become intolerable. Hence their request that the council take steps to establish some kind of control. The delegation consisted of R. R. Endres, Bruno Fleitman, Rudolph Zipper, Charles Cler, John Bayer Sr., Tony Felderhoff and Alphonse Luke, all living within a mile of the Muenster city limits.

Cooperating with the farmers the council voted to pass an ordinance requiring owners to register and identify their dogs. Each owner will then be held accountable for his dog. Unregistered dogs will be considered a nuisance and disposed of.

The ordinance is now being prepared and will be put into effect as soon as possible.

"LIFE" PHOTOGRAPHER EXPECTED TO SNAP SCENES IN MUENSTER

Wond has been received by the Muenster Civic League and Garden Club that a photographer from Life Magazine will be in this city within the next few days to take pictures of beauty spots and recent improvements.

The pictures are to be used in connection with the state wide Civic Improvement Contest sponsored by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Muenster entered this contest the League members sponsoring it locally with Mrs. J.M. Weinzappel as chairman. She submitted an attractive book containing pictures and stories to the state headquarters.

In view of the fact that pictures will be taken here League members urge that premises be kept clean, weeds cut, grass mowed and trash removed from yards, alleys and vacant lots. They would like to have Muenster looking its best when the photographers visit here.

A.T. Hoehn has returned from a two-month visit with his sister and brothers in Cullman and Birmingham, Alabama. In the former city a family reunion was held at the old Hoehn homeplace where his sister, Miss Minnie Hoehn resides. It was his first visit with her in 10 years and also the first time in 10 years that he saw his brothers, A.R. and F.M. Hoehn of Birmingham, and the first time in 28 years that he visited with his brothers, Joe M. Hoehn of Laramie, Wyo., and A.J. Hoehn of Cordale, Georgia.

Conservation Office Okayed For Muenster

A soil conservation office to assist the Muenster unit of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District will be established here in the near future, according to information received this week from J.W. Hess, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red District.

The office, authorized in connection with the Trinity River Flood Control Appropriation, was approved in Washington on June 22 by H.H. Bennett of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. At that time it was stated that the office would be established shortly after July 1. It is being set as a 15 year project.

Though six or seven men are expected to move here in connection with the work the office will be rather small employings one or two persons. Others will be field men assisting district cooperators in their soil conservation programs and using the office only as a headquarters.

Officers have been approved also for the Bowie and the Whitesboro units of the Upper Elm-Red district, and officers will continue to function at Gainesville, Nocona and Sherman from which the three unit areas formerly secured their assistance.

Operations of the soil conservation program will continue according to the policy that has been in effect since it was first inaugurated. Services of the conservation personnel are available to all farmers who wish to cooperate. All that is necessary is to apply for the service and the relationship remains in effect as long as the individual wishes. He may discontinue the relationship at any time or for any reason he chooses.

Work in this area will be under the direction of Fred Shaw who follows policies laid down by the board of supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red District. They are J.W. Hess of Muenster, chairman; W. Redman of Saint Jo, vice chairman; J.B. Rice of Collinsville, secretary; G.E. Blackman of Bowie, member; and Willard Kemplin of Valley View, member.

Assistance in the immediate future will continue more in the nature of coordinating efforts and giving technical advice. Later, it is hoped, the service will also provide special tools, sod seed, etc.

CITY COUNCIL OKAYS PAVEMENT FOR ONE BLOCK ON FIRST ST.

In accordance with a policy adopted by the city several years ago, First Street between Main and Oak will be favored with pavement within the next several weeks. The city has a standing offer to pay one third the expense on any paving project of lateral streets within the city limits.

Property owners who requested the improvement are Mrs. J.W. Meurer, L.A. Bernauer, Ben Seyler and the Muenster Enterprise. They will pro rate the remaining two thirds of expense according to property footage.

In approving the project the council said it would place the order for asphalt and gravel mix about July 15 expecting to receive shipment about a week later. By that time, they estimated, preparatory work on the street can be completed and the topping can be applied as it is unloaded from the car.

Also approved as a part of the project was the removal of the sidewalk across the street south of the post office and grading down that part of the street more nearly to the level of Main in order to eliminate the sharp rise now existing.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Jeff Linn and his mother, Mrs. Joe Linn, returned Thursday from a trip by car through Arkansas, Tennessee, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky. The greater part of their time was spent in Owensboro, Ky., with Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Purcell parents of Jeff's war buddy, Pvt. Ernest Purcell, who was killed in action on Luzon March 13, 1945.

Linn and Purcell were together in a fox hole which was hit by two Japanese knee mortars. Linn escaped with injuries to his right leg, but Purcell was killed instantly. It was the parents' first detailed account of their son's death and burial.

Souvenirs brought back from Kentucky include 3 unique walking canes. They are fashioned from tobacco stalk, persimmon and sassafras stalks. Another souvenir is a roll of burley leaf tobacco.

Enroute home the Muensterites stopped at Bonham for a visit with Mrs. Linn's mother.

Rev. Herman Laux spent Monday in Windthorst as the guest of friends.

Dear Sue,

It's great to hear that you've started to build at last! Sorry, I'm an amateur about floor plans and such -- but I can give you experienced advice about one thing...your new refrigerator.

Get a Servel Gas Refrigerator. And if you can't get one right now, make your old refrigerator do until you can. Because when you do get a Servel, you'll forget refrigerator worries -- for good!

You see, we had a lot of trouble with refrigerators, till we switched to a Servel Gas Refrigerator. And I can tell you now -- I'd never have any other kind!

All during the war our Servel stayed perfectly silent...giving us the finest food protection...really dependable refrigeration service. Jim explained to me that that's because it hasn't a single moving part in its freezing system -- nothing to wear or get noisy -- and always on the job!

That's the one piece of advice I'd like to pass along, Sue. Make sure you get a Servel.

Meanwhile -- have fun with your house!

Love,
Kate

FISHERMEN NOTICE! DON'T DIG WORMS, GET THEM BY PERSUASION

To the angle worm the development of a "bait persuader" is a shocking state of affairs, but to the fisherman it's open sesame to earthy haunts which formerly could be reached only via the spade route.

The new device, which brings worms to the surface of the ground, leaves only the problems of depositing them in a handy can, baiting them on the hook and transporting the sportsman to a well stocked stream to make a fisherman's dream of idle luxury come true.

Simply constructed this aid to spadeless or tired-of-spading angle worm seekers is composed of two metal conductor rods, an extension cord and a light plug. The rods have pointed ends so they can be forced easily into the ground. In operation, the cord, which bridges the two rods, is merely plugged into a handy lighting outlet and the rods imbedded in the ground to a depth of about two feet. Electricity passing through the rods sets up a reaction in the earth which the worms, apparently, wiggle to the surface to escape.

Only one wire is used on the plug connection because the earth grounds the rods, thus completing the circuit. A slight vibration, which the operator feels when electricity courses through the rods, indicates whether the device is in operation. If no vibration is felt, it is necessary to reverse the plug in the outlet.

The longer the extension cord, the more space can be covered in a fisherman's search for prospective bait. If the rod blows out fuses because of high electrical conductivity of the soil, a lamp should be connected in series between the plug and rod.

Try an "Only" Box

Chauncey M. Depew once related how a certain young man got a start in life by setting up an "only" box.

Into this box the young man and his wife dropped all the small pieces of money they would otherwise have spent for things that were "only a dime," or "only a quarter," or "only a half dollar," and so on. And as a result they presently found themselves with a thousand dollars to invest.

Mr. Depew's little story inspired the setting up of many other "only" boxes.

Electrical Fish Finder

Add electrical applications: A supersonic fish finder the size of a mantel radio, which records the water depth, type of sea bottom below the fisherman, and, more important, the number of nearby fish. In a recent test in the Pacific, the finder spotted five tons of herring. It is expected to revolutionize the fishing industry.

BRUSH YOUR TEETH

AVOID TRENCH MOUTH

Austin, Texas, — Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has released some interesting information concerning Vincent's angina which was commonly called "trench mouth" during World War I.

Dr. Cox stated that Vincent's angina is a special infection producing inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes, more commonly those of the mouth, and the disease is spread by indirect as well as direct contact.

"Because of the readiness with which this disease is transmitted, it has been occasionally found in epidemic form among school children and other groups," Dr. Cox stated. "Vincent's angina assumed epidemic proportions in the front line trenches in 1914-1918 and it was during this period that the disease became generally known as trench mouth."

Although trench mouth is now worldwide in distribution, reasonable application of preventive measures which are merely those in line with approved personal health practices will be found a sufficient defense against this infection.

According to the State Health Officer the most common causes of Vincent's angina are neglected mouths, broken teeth fillings, and other types of oral irritation. Daily hygiene, plus the periodic visit to the dentist can be relied upon as reasonable buffers against this infection. However, persons who are very careful regarding oral hygiene can acquire this disease by using infected drinking cups and eating utensils and other personal articles; also by kissing, though healthy gums

POLL SHOWS PUBLIC BITTER ON STRIKES

Majority of U.S. voters feel Congress should do something positive about the strikes situation, the Gallup Poll reports, with these actions favored:

A law to prohibit make-work practices on the part of unions; cooling-off period before any strike can be called, with investigation of issues during waiting period;

Compulsory arbitration of labor disputes; calling off all strikes and lockouts for period of one year.

Law prohibiting all strikes in public utilities such as gas, electric, telephone and local transportation companies; drafting strikers into Army if they are striking against government.

What's Wrong With Texas

"The Texas farmer gets up to the sound of a Connecticut alarm clock, puts on a pair of coveralls made in Detroit, washes his face in a Pittsburg basin—with Cincinnati soap. He dries his face on a towel made in New Hampshire, eats Kansas City bacon and Indiana grits that are fried in Omaha lard and cooked on a Kalamazoo stove.

"He buys Irish potatoes grown in Idaho and canned fruits grown in California. He hitches his Missouri mule to an Illinois plow, works all day, then crawls under a New Jersey blanket and is kept awake all night by the howling of a dog—the only home product of the whole darn place."

An old lady riding in a taxi for the first time, noticed that the driver kept putting his hand out every few minutes. After several left turns she said sharply: "Listen, young man, you keep your hands on the wheel. I'll tell you when it's raining."

When Lincoln ran first for the Legislature it was against a prosperous individual, who had recently equipped his home with lightning rods then new. This man in a speech, said that he felt

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES WORK ONLY HALF TIME LEGISLATOR ASSERTS

Washington.—Working for the government is "the life of Riley," Representative Earl Wilson (Rep.) of Indiana said Sunday, and he came up with a fresh batch of facts and figures to prove it.

The former Hoosier schoolmaster, who once proposed a 10 p. m. curfew for government girls, said federal employees are on the job little more than half the year and don't do much work when they show up.

Wilson started his one-man war on "laxness and shirking" among government workers last week when he called for the dismissal of 75 percent of the nearly 3,000,000 federal personnel and asserted that there is too much idleness and time off at the taxpayers expense.

He said that initial blast drew a few bricks but mostly bouquets from people who realize how deplorable conditions are in government bureaus.

Figures 154 Days Off

Setting forth official figures to show that out of 365 days in the year, government employees are on the job only about 50 percent of the time, he said this is the way they get 164 days off—"to start with!"

Fifty-two days off for Sundays. Fifty-two days off for Saturdays.

Twenty-six days off for annual leave.

Fifteen days off for sick leave.

Nine days off for holidays (New Year's, Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, Memorial Day July 4, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas).

To this 154-day minimum he said, there must be added: Seventeen days consumed in coffee hours.

Six days for "moving time," the average time off given for moving government offices from place to place.

Four Days Travel Time

This, he pointed out, makes 177 days off and 188 of days of work. And, in addition, employees living west of the Mississippi get four days travel time plus twenty-six days of annual leave. And employees who are reservists get two weeks of "military leave" yearly during which they are paid government salaries plus Army pay, he said.

Wilson said all this is the time officially given off—that he is being conservative and not counting the extra "hair-do time," "Nylon line," and shopping time, etc., allowed by lenient supervisors.

In explanation of "coffee hours" Wilson said that fifteen minutes each morning and afternoon are set aside officially, "but I am reliably informed that these work out to average from thirty minutes to one and one-half hour twice a day."

COMMON RAT KNOWN TO BE TRANSMITTER OF AT LEAST 6 DISEASES

Austin, Texas.—Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat are known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis a form of jaundice, tapeworm, and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban and rural area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats, like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of ratproof design in buildings, the use of ratproof materials, in construction, employing ratproof methods of construction and installation, and

A YUGOSLAV MOTHER holds her baby which she has managed to keep alive by feeding it her own meager ration. Both are typical of millions suffering from acute malnutrition in Europe and Asia who will die unless more food is provided immediately. You can help by giving money or canned food to the Emergency Food Collection.

providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all food in rat proof buildings or in ratproof containers the proper storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

By observing these control measures, the community will benefit not only in the eradication of a nuisance and economic menace but in improved health conditions and the prevention of rat-borne diseases.

SNAZZY ROAD MAP OF STATE PUBLISHED BY HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

AUSTIN.—Another bid for out-of-state tourists is in the making as the Texas Highway Department announces limited quantities of its first postwar color travel map are now rolling off the presses.

The expected bumper crop of summer tourists in the Lone Star State will be guided over Texas highways with the aid of a map that will give visitors a brief introduction to a few of the State's points of interest. In addition it will afford a complete, accurate, easy-to-read travel map for the use of all.

The de luxe map is expected to be the most popular feature at the Department's Information Bureaus which have been reopened at strategic points to supply post-war tourists with reliable, up-to-date facts on highways and tourist attractions which support one of the state's largest and fastest growing "cash crops."

The postwar edition carries a small scale map of the United States, the usual large scale insets of the State's metropolitan areas, strip maps of the main Texas travel routes and the Pan American Highway into Mexico. It gives mileages between towns and carries a supplementary mileage chart. The highway marking system is explained with illustrations and there is a column of miscellaneous facts about the nation's largest State.

Shown also are the State and National parks, some of the old Missions, and other points of historical interest. Twenty-six color pictures which will be changed in each subsequent edition, depict typical Texas scenes. The outside of the map, when folded for mailing, bears a picture of the State Capitol and another of Governor Coke Stevenson. Below the Governor's picture is his official greeting "To Motorists Everywhere." In his message Governor Stevenson extends to the people of other States and Nations a cordial invitation to visit Texas and enjoy the hospitality of its people. "The highways of Texas are yours," he says. "Use them freely for your business and pleasure."

Working On Sunday

Once to Horace Greeley a farmer wrote disputing Greeley's claim that Sunday should be observed as a day for worship and relaxation. To prove his point, the farmer set aside one field on his farm as a demonstration plot. He plowed, sowed, cultivated, and harvested the crop on that field only on Sundays and, upon measuring his returns, discovered that the yield was equal to a similar-size plot worked only on week days. He promptly wrote Mr. Greeley to say so. Mr. Greeley replied: "God does not settle all of his accounts in October."

And the Taxpayer Pays!

Washington.—The government is spending almost $75,000,000 this year alone for propaganda variously listed as "promotional educational and publicity," according to Senator Homer Ferguson, of Michigan. On the propaganda payroll are 23,000 full-time and almost as many part-time employees.

Pneumatic Mattress-Bed

Folks living in crowded quarters will welcome a new cotton fabric mattress-bed, treated with synthetic rubber that can be collapsed and tucked in a closet. When you have house guests, just blow it up with the vacuum cleaner or by mouth, then make up the bed.

It will go on a camping trip or to the beach, because it floats, its manufacturer claims, and when it's dirty, dunk it in the bathtub.

MILK RECEIPTS AT CHEESE PLANT OVER 50,000 POUNDS DAILY

Though well past its normal peak production period, the Muenster cheese factory is now experiencing an unprecedented increase in daily volume. Figures in the milk received from outside the community it is almost back to its top figure reached about two months ago.

Receipts from the community average about 50,000 pounds daily. Another 4,000 pounds from Duncan, Okla., bring the total to 54,000.

Principal conditions favoring the increase here are better pastures because of more rain, cooler weather, and stubble field grazing. Besides, there are more dairy cows in the community, almost 60 having been purchased from farmers near Bowie.

Milk from Duncan is a result of the decreased demand in that area due to decrease in military population. The FMA truck makes the drive on alternate days usually bringing back about 8,000 pounds.

Work Begins On Annex For Herr Motor Building.

Work on a 24 x 24 annex to the Herr Motor Company building has been under way since Monday of this week. The additional space, Adolph Herr disclosed, will serve as a body repair and paint shop.

It is a temporary building intended to serve only until material shortages are sufficiently relieved to permit the company's more elaborate post war building program.

The floor is concrete and will become a part of the new building when it is constructed. The walls and roof will be corrugated iron if a sufficient quantity of it can be secured. Otherwise they will be salvaged wood siding covered with asphalt roll roofing.

J.B. WILDE ESCAPES INJURY IN CRASH OF PLANE LANDING GEAR

Lady Luck smiled on J. B. Wilde last Sunday when he smashed the landing gear on his Piper Cub and escaped without injury. Even the plane escaped further damage.

The accident occurred while he was landing in a field on the J. W. Hess farm. A stretch of rough ground was more than the previously strained landing gear could take.

Earlier in the afternoon, before taking off, the plane hit a small stake. Wilde examined the landing gear and, finding nothing out of order, took the plane up. Nothing happened on the first and second landing, but the third folded the gear under the plane.

Some of the replacement parts have already been received, others are expected soon. Wilde hopes to have his plane in the air again before the end of the week.

Miss Dolly Lehnertz, a student nurse at St. Joseph's hospital in Fort Worth, is here for a two weeks' vacation visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lehnertz and family.

CHOPPING WITH FLAME

On farms throughout the Cotton Belt this month, flame cultivators similar to the one above are supplanting field hands with hoes in the task of removing from the cotton rows the choking weed growths which threaten the young cotton plant. The National Cotton Council reports that the flame cultivator, one of the most recent advances in mechanization of cotton production, lowers the cost of weeding cotton by hand from five dollars to less than 50 cents per acre.

ence themselves they are willing to give it to a subject territory even when that action involves a sacrifice to our own country.

What a wholesome precedent in the light of present trends in other parts of the world while some nations are gobbling up possessions! This will go down in history as one of the most significant applications of an ideal that the world has ever known.

We have even more reason to be proud of our relationship with the Filipinos. In less than a half century under our care they made wonderful social, economical and educational improvements. Subject colonies of other nations in the Pacific cannot begin to match the record. The natives thrived under American rule and they are grateful.

As an indication of Filipino gratitude we need look no farther than their record during the war. All through the East Indies and the Asiatic mainland nations either aided the invading Japs or sat by placidly and let them take over. But not the Filipinos. They fought back viciously with every ounce of their strength. They fought not only for Uncle Sam but their own homes and institutions, their own country. Their attitude in that struggle is an everlasting tribute to America. They were given to understand long before they were granted independence that they were a free people and the country was actually theirs.

Few things are harder to recognize than a politician's real intentions, and a convenient illustration is the recent plea by Candidate Homer P. Rainey to "make democracy work to eliminate any threat of communism."

In the same speech he upbraided the Texas Regulars as Tories serving the eastern monopolies.

As well informed as the good doctor pretends to be, he should know that the Texas Regulars are the state's most militant opponents of communism. He should know the entire score, how the Texas Regulars are desperately working to break up the PAC dominated clique that rides into power on the vote of the Solid South and then sells the South down the river.

When a man claims to oppose both communism and the Texas Regulars, especially as things are today, he doesn't seem altogether consistent.

Neither does the doctor's plea harmonize very well with his fracas at Texas University. That entire controversy revolved around the book "U.S.A." by John Dos Passo, which, according to a large number of prominent Texans, is a communistic hand-book. T. U. regents banned the book and Rainey defended it on the grounds of academic freedom.

In the fuss that ensued Rainey was kicked out. And this is the man who wants to eliminate the threat of communism? Does he really? Or is he just seeking votes?
