

Cooke Co. Steering Committee recognizes a need for PGMA

By Janet Felderhoff
Results are in from the Steering Committee charged by Cooke County Commissioners Court with determining if Cooke County would benefit by becoming a member of a Priority Groundwater Management Area (PGMA) and if so, should it join other counties as a district or become a sole county district. Its report was presented at the Monday, April 23 meeting of Commissioners Court.

A report by Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) said that groundwater in Cooke County will be a critical issue within the next 25 years. The Steering Committee's report was in agreement with this.

The Cooke County PGMA Steering Committee added that they too feel that a groundwater conservation district (GCD) is necessary to ensure groundwater management tools are available to address developing water supply concerns. At this point, the Cooke County PGMA Committee disagreed with the TCEQ's recommenation, which is to include Cooke County with a 13 county regional fee funded GCD. The Committee's recommendation is to explore the possibility of forming a single county GCD.

The Committee looked at historic and current levels of the water table in as many wells as possible in the County. The report stated, "The best source for this information is from the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB). Resources available online from the TWDB for water wells in Cooke County included 48 wells with calculable water increases or declines. Overwhelmingly, these wells have declined. Omitting all but the wells that have been monitored recently (since 2000) leaves 16 wells. Of these 16, all have declined. The average drop of the water table in these wells is 160.45 feet. These wells have been monitored for 41 years, on average, and have varied from a minimum drop of 12.7 feet to a maximum of 414 feet."

Another concern of the Committee is the gas exploration being conducted in the Barnett Shale, which comes into the very southwest portion of Cooke County. Their report noted, "the water demand for gas mining activities is only projected to be a minimal 3 to 7% of groundwater demand for the Study Area. However, because of the limited water supply in areas encompassed by the Barnett Shale, the Steering Committee is concerned about the possibilities of water export from Cooke County to nearby counties to assist with their drilling activities, thus making the demand on the County greater than the

Old County jail to become movie set

By Janet Felderhoff
Timber Creek Productions, LLC saw potential in Cooke County's old jail. They are planning to make a movie set in a jail and asked Cooke County about using the property for that purpose. The story occurs in a fictional town's police department. Damn you Bone is the name of the movie, which is said to be about a former Cooke County law enforcement officer named Bone and his interesting life.

The request was made about a month ago. County Judge Bill Freeman sent the proposed contract to the County Attorney to review. Details were worked out and after the County Attorney's office gave its approval, the contract came to Commissioners Court for consideration on Monday, April 23. Commissioners unanimously approved the contract.

Representatives of Timber Creek Productions noted that they would be hiring some local people during the film's production.

Judge Freeman has served as Cooke County's representative on the Texoma Council of Governments (TCOG)

Board for the last three years. It is time to appoint a representative for a two-year term. Judge Freeman said that although he is now serving as president of the Board, he is resigning his position.

MMH Health Fair a hit

Muenster Memorial Hospital hosted its annual Spring Health Fair last Friday and Saturday. The turnout was very good according to its coordinator Melissa Trubenbach, FNP-C. She said that the turnout was better than expected since they decided to host a Health Fair every six months, so there was one in October with over 100 participants. This event drew 131 participants, including Shaw Henscheid who is pictured having his blood drawn by lab tech Richard Acayan. Participants came from Muenster, Lindsay, Gainesville, Nocona, Saint Jo, Myra, Era, Forestburg, Rosston, McKinney, Whitesboro, and Marietta. Those who missed out this month can look for the next Health Fair in October. Janet Felderhoff photo

9-1-1 call closes down school for a day

By Janet Felderhoff
"Are you familiar with Virginia Tech? Muenster is next." Words of threat or warning issued by an anonymous caller to a Cooke County 9-1-1 dispatcher at 11:50 a.m. Sunday.

Muenster Police Chief Bob Stovall was notified of the call. He in turn notified the superintendents of both local schools. They met to determine what action to take.

According to Chief Stovall, it was decided to cancel classes on Monday at Muenster ISD for the safety of the students and staff. Sacred Heart was already off for the day as teachers were scheduled to attend a teachers' workshop in Fort Worth. "The threat did not specify schools. There was no specific threat, just Muenster is next," Stovall noted. School was canceled as a precaution.

On Monday, a meeting was held with local school officials, Muenster Police Department, Muenster Volunteer Fire Department, and Cooke County Emergency Management Coordinator Ray Fletcher. Procedures are in place in case anything should occur. Students were briefed on what to do in the event of an emergency, as were parents.

School was resumed Tuesday with extra security in place in unspecified locations. Assisting with protection are officers from Cooke County

MMH Board hears good reports

By Janet Felderhoff
Finances are looking bright for Muenster Memorial Hospital. At the April meeting, MMH Administrator Lynn Heller remarked, "I'm proud of the cash on hand." Even after a large payment to Medicare, the Hospital still had a good cash on hand balance.

Net revenue for March was $476,807 compared to $348,520 in March 2006. Net revenue year to date in March was $4,828,536 compared to the March year to date in 2006 of $3,937,810. Revenue after expenses in March was a negative $5,564 and year to date it was $989,044. In March 2006 revenue after expenses was a negative $71,979 and the year to date was $390,697.

It was noted in the medical staff report that Dr. Dunn's quarterly visit on March 26 went extremely well. He was pleased with how well the Hospital was doing and how well the swing bed program was running.

Two physicians were presented to the Board for credentialing. After checking their records, Dr. Walter Knight recommended that they be approved. Unanimous approval was given to Peter John Popovich, D.O., a local physician who will help out in ER at times and to Judith Graves, M.D., a physician with the Hospital's regular ER group.

After reviewing the David M. Bright Scholarship Fund, the Board agreed to add enough to make the total $2,000. Four $500 scholarships will be awarded this year.

In other business, the MMH Board:

- Approved contract with a planner for development of a long-range plan. It involves a video conference and will be held on April 26 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. According to Administrator Heller, it will address many of the questions that the Board is currently asking.

- Approved Bad Debt write offs totaling $4,800 for the month of March.

- Reviewed and approved annual QA/QI Summary for 2006. Dr. Knight noted that it looked like Judy Flusche was doing a really good job on this.

- Approved two-year renewal of contract with Jim A. Robertson, attorney at law, for collection of delinquent taxes. He receives 15% of the delinquent taxes collected.

All the Hospital Board members were present with the exception of Danny Walterscheid.

Plans progressing on Muenster ISD projects

By Janie Hartman
Muenster ISD held a called meeting for the Board of Trustees last Thursday, April 19 to interview prospective Construction Managers at Risk for the Cafeterium Project.

There were two interviews, the first with W.B. Kibler of W.B. Kibler Construction Co., LTD, followed by Steve Tunnell and Cliff Sandman of the Nay Company. After discussion, the Board ranked the construction managers as #1 W.B. Kibler Construction, and #2 the Nay Company.

Dr. Ceyanes resigns as LISD superintendent

By Janet Felderhoff
Lindsay ISD received notice this week that Dr. Jason Ceyanes, its superintendent since the beginning of the 2005 school year, plans to resign to accept another position. He said that on April 18 he was named the sole finalist for the superintendent of schools by the Argyle ISD Board of Trustees. According to Dr. Ceyanes, after the legally required 21 day waiting period, the Argyle ISD Board will vote to offer him a contract on May 9 with a start date of June 1. He plans to remain with Lindsay ISD until at least the last day of school.

Dr. Ceyanes remarked, "I am elated that I have the opportunity to go and serve a wonderful community such as Argyle ISD. However, I am heart broken by having to leave a strong and stable school district such as Lindsay ISD. I will dearly miss the students and staff members of Lindsay ISD with whom I have developed positive life long relationships. The Lindsay ISD community is filled with spectacular students, staff, and parents."

"My wife and I made the decision to leave Lindsay ISD after many long hours of discussion and prayer. At this moment in time, we truly believe that God is sending us to Argyle ISD to serve the students and community. When departing with a community, which is also your place of employment, you always desire to leave the district better than it was when you arrived. Improving such a fine school district is a difficult task, but I truly believe in my heart that we have made some positive changes that will have a lasting impact on the students and the community."

projected 3 to 7%. It is also a concern that the region of the County most affected by the drilling and Barnett Shale water usage lies in the region of the County that has the most fragile water supply, with shallowest water table and the least amount of accessible water left."

With Cooke County being in the beginning of significant growth stage and with many people depending on individual wells as their water source, the Committee feels that the TCEQ has underestimated Cooke County's use of water.

The Committee report concluded, "We are faced with an opportunity to protect our precious water supply for more than the next five generations; it is the most important issue of our lifetimes. We recommend cooperation between rural well owners, municipalities, and water purveyors; in short, all the citizens of the County, in the formation of a single county GCD. We must act with reason, planning, intellect, and without fear. If we hide beneath the concepts of 'not in my lifetime', or any other standard, shortsighted mentality, then we have failed not only ourselves, but untold numbers to come. The future and growth of Cooke County can be effectively managed along with ample water supplies for the community as a whole. Simply because many positive efforts have been made to manage and protect the water in our area, it in no way guarantees that climate changes, population surges, and other unforeseen variables will allow these efforts to continue into the future. We must act now to preserve our future water supply.

"We feel that due to Cooke County's unique position, being bordered by the Barnett Shale to the west, high density urban populations to the south, and the voting advantage of a single county GCD in TWDB's local management area (area 8), we should pursue a single-county GCD."

Cooke County PGMA Steering Committee members are Wayne Becker, Pat Stelzer, Kenny Klement, Ken Swirczynski, and Andrea Offner. Each was presented with a certificate of appreciation from Commissioners Court for the time and effort spent on the Committee's research.

Becker addressed Commissioners Court after reading the report, "Due to the fact that there are some misconceptions about the water issue, I would like to make some points for clarification. Cooke County water usage is approximately 85% groundwater. Admittedly, a GCD is another level of Bureaucracy."

Becker noted that a GCD is not expensive, doesn't mean that no new wells may be dug, and doesn't mean that every well will have a meter. The number of gallons of water used would probably determine which wells would be metered and the number suggested is well above the average usage of individual well owners.

Becker said, "A GCD in Cooke County would give the people a voice in TWDB management area 8, where a 2/3 vote dictates the plan for the Trinity/Woodbine Aquifer. A GCD would allow local management of our underground water. That would be governed by a locally elected board of directors."

"Doing nothing allows the right of capture to persist, which means that anyone could exploit the underground water resources of our County for whatever reason they wished (T. Boone Pickens plan for water export from the panhandle) or for retail (i.e. Ozarka in Kaufman County) or for development of the Barnett Shale in other counties (four counties to our West are trying to form their own GCD, it is a very good bet that we will not be using their water to develop our wells, but without a GCD for Cooke County, they are free to use ours!)"

"In short, not taking action is giving away the right to decide how to manage our underground water to someone else! Also, remember there is a water management plan whether we participate or not. Furthermore, taking action now to form a GCD as a single county or with other entities that have similar interests would put Cooke County ahead of the curve, making certain that we are not later forced into a district with entities that would not have the same goals and objectives as do the people of Cooke County."

"Now is the time to act to ensure that we do not forego the right to manage our own vital resource, much the same as we lost the right to manage our surface water."

Kenny Klement commented, "There is going to be a point in here when the rural person needs a voice. The cities have covered themselves, the two major cities of Gainesville and Muenster, with the lakes. We want the same assistance that they got from us when they put their lakes in. We'd like to be recognized as individuals out here who run businesses and our homes. Help us get a district." Klement runs a dairy business and said that he'd like to see his son still in the business 10 years from now. Klement said he didn't think anybody would run a waterline 15 miles to his dairy should there become no well water available to him. He said that if something isn't done soon, a part of the County will suffer from a water shortage in several years.

Becker and the other Committee members urged Commissioners to pursue whatever means necessary to ensure that Cooke County retains control of its underground water for the benefit of the people.

Commissioners Court accepted the report. They then passed a resolution that would be forwarded to the TCEQ.

It asked that Cooke County be included in the 13 county PGMA, but noted that Cooke County wished to explore the possibility of forming a single county groundwater district.

Sheriff's Department and Texas Department of Public Safety. "The FBI is aware of the situation," stated Stovall. Schools canceled all on-campus activities through the end of the week. This included sports events, religious ed, and any academic activity. A high level of security is in place.

At a meeting held Monday afternoon for school staff and other officials, the 9-11-1 tape was played. It was reported that the voice of the callers seems to be of an older person, not a young voice.

"Sacred Heart is following the recommendations of area law enforcement officials to promote the safety of its students, faculty, and staff," remarked SHCS Principal Chad Riley. "While our additional safety precautions have created some changes in our day-to-day procedures, all those involved with the school have done an outstanding job of making the necessary adjustments. Our main goal has been to promote student safety while at the same time allowing learning to continue in the classrooms, and I am pleased with the way that our changes have allowed this to occur."

A meeting was held Wednesday morning to answer questions from concerned citizens. Police Chief Stovall took the opportunity to correct information that was printed in Tuesday's Gainesville Daily Register. The headline was Muenster ISD schools close after bomb threats. "Where did they get bomb threat from? I've been trying to tell people there was no bomb threat and then they print it on the front page," said Stovall.

"We ask that everyone be observant and aware. If they witness anything out of the ordinary, they should call City Hall at 759-2236 or the Cooke County Sheriff's Department at 665-3471 to report it."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The Muenster Water District Board was pleased with the many volunteers who participated in the now famous CATFISH RELEASE. These were mature 2.5 lb on average fish with some looking to be 6+ lb acquired from the National Hatchery in Uvalde, Texas. According to one driver, each container had 602 fish in it. I wasn't able to pin down how they counted them, but we're talking 7,500 lb of fish in total. Nice catch.

There was no cost to the Water District in acquiring these fish. The drivers had never seen such community support for a seeding before; usually they would have to do all the work. They were dramatically impressed with the volunteers jumping in (literally) along with one reporter, Kit Chase who went knee deep to pitch in, and handling things with such enthusiasm, camaraderie, and hanging in there till the job was done.

There was however conjecture and misinformation released, some of which got published.

To set the record straight: 1. IT IS NOT TIME TO GO FISHING. Jim Lundberg, State Game Warden for the area, stated "it is not time to go fishing" and that State Law will be enforced. The Lake fish population will be added to with other varieties and each has to establish itself so as to have a vibrant fishing experience when the time comes. This was also mirrored by Bruce Hysmith, Texas State Fisheries biologist. It is our understanding that the catfish put in last week are due to spawn in the early summer.

2. THE LAKE IS APPROXIMATELY 60% TO 70% FULL. It's reported that two inches on the draw down tube was needed to achieve normal pool. Normal pool is 47 feet of water at the drawdown tube. It is approximately three feet from that point and as the water moves out, thus the estimate above.

3. THE SITE WAS A VERY FERTILE BOTTOMS AREA AND WILL BE AN EXCELLENT HABITAT FOR THE FISH POPULATION. In the article it was called "A barren low spot west of Muenster." I'll give you low spot, but where else are you going to put a lake?

4. MUENSTER LAKE IS KNOWN AS MP-19. Reservoir #1822 is new to me.

5. FISHING WILL HAPPEN SOON.

Because preconceived, premature, and erroneous statements ended up in print, I would suggest checking with the authority in charge and wait till after the fact to report a happening as fact.

The fishing experience is on a time table that coincides with the Agencies mentioned above and won't be all that far away. Muenster has struggled with this project for 33 years and now is not the time to upset the delicate balance of nature. Let's let MUENSTER LAKE mature into a fantastic fishing experience instead of making it possibly a mediocre or poor one.

We are working on visitation avenues for walking, bird watching, looking, and enjoying what has been achieved at this point. Park planning, boat ramps, and rules, etc. are being hammered out.

We still have a contract with the NRCS and are working within the realm of that situation.

Muenster Water District Board,
Bob Bauer, president

accepting a reappointment was that he is serving on so many boards and committees that he feels so loaded with obligations that he can hardly do justice to any of them.

Precinct #3 Commissioner Al Smith was appointed to serve on the TCOG Board as the County's representative.

Sealed bids were opened for 2007 Depository contract for the County. Each bidder submitted a good faith check in the amount of $111,718.84. Bidders were First State Bank, Muenster State Bank, Prosperity Bank, American Bank of Texas - Gainesville branch, and Landmark Bank. Proposed contracts will be reviewed and awarded at the next meeting.

John Burkhardt spoke during public comments. He said that the area volunteer operated animal shelter is understaffed and underfunded. People with unwanted animals are being turned away and must find other options for the animals.

On the day he was at the shelter, he knew of at least one person who had to shoot an animal because the shelter had no room to take it in. That is inhumane, he said. He asked that the County consider supporting the shelter since the animals come from all over the County.

In other business, Commissioners Court:

- Opened sealed bids for road materials to be used in all four precincts. Hot mix hot lay and hot mix cold lay was bid on by Overland Materials of Ardmore, Jago, and APAC. A decision was tabled until more study could be done. Dolese, Joe Brown, and Hanson of Irving bid on the chip material and all bids were accepted. Lone Star Crushed Stone, Martin Marietta, Stallion Construction of Gainesville, and Green Aggregate bid on crushed rock and all of those bids were accepted. This enables each commissioner to get material from the quarry closest to his precinct, making the hauling fee less expensive. Blessing Gravel bid only on granite and that bid was accepted.

- Approved out-of-state travel to New Orleans for Ray Fletcher, emergency management coordinator/County fire marshal. Expenses for the training class are to be paid as part of a grant received for a geothermal camera.
- Approved advertising for bids for replacement of leaking air conditioning unit for the County Library.
- Approved copier lease for the Cooke County EMS with Xerox for $166.58 per month. Dustin's had a bid of $268.50 per month.
- Approved property tax relief for the Burns City Masonic Lodge #600 in Valley View as a charitable organization.

- Received Standard and Poor's review of general obligation bonds for Cooke County. The County has a bond rate of A. The report indicated that Cooke County was not eligible to receive a higher rating due to the overall debt of the County, that includes the cities and the school districts. It noted that the County maintains adequate fund balances, has a 90-day reserve, and has a strong property tax base with a slightly above average income level.

- Declared six used fuel tanks as surplus from Precinct #1 and approved advertising for sealed bids for the sale of the used tanks with each one to be sold separately.
- Approved request by City of Calisburg, at its expense, to lay 875 feet of two inch PVC waterline in the County's right-of-way on CR 136, approximately 800 feet east of CR 109 for the purpose of making an emergency interconnection with Woodbine Water Supply Corporation.

- Opened sealed bids for diesel fuel and gasoline for all precincts for next 12 months. Bids were received from Red River Farm Co-op and Douglass Distributing. A committee of Commissioners Virgil Hess and Gary Hollowell, and County Auditor Shelley Saunders was appointed to study the bids and make a recommendation.

- Approved Sheriff's office bonds for Terry Sawyer, investigator, and Robert Cranfield, jailer.

May Crowning set for May 2 at Sacred Heart

On Wednesday, May 2, Sacred Heart Parish will honor the Blessed Virgin Mary with a procession, May Crowning, and Mass. The procession will begin at 6:15 p.m., followed by Mass at 6:30.

Those who wish to participate in the procession are asked to gather in front of Sacred Heart High School at 6 p.m. Special participants in the procession will include the First Communicants, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and Girl Scouts. All are invited to bring fresh flowers to carry in the procession, which will be placed in a vase during the service.

The May Crowning procession has been held annually in Sacred Heart Parish for many years. The Catholic Church traditionally honors Mary during the month of May, and the annual procession is a special way in which the parishioners honor and thank the Blessed Virgin Mary for her powerful intercession. All parishioners are encouraged to participate in this special service.

SH Cemetery Crucifixion monument is refurbished

Taylor

Greg and Charla Taylor of Muenster proudly announce the birth of their daughter Erica Rae Taylor. Erica was born at North Texas Medical Center on Saturday, April 14, 2007 at 12:36 a.m. weighing 8.6 lbs. and measuring 21 inches in length. Welcoming his sister to the family is Will Taylor, age 14. Grandparents are Charles and Carolyn Bayer of Muenster.

Grandmas never run out of hugs or cookies.

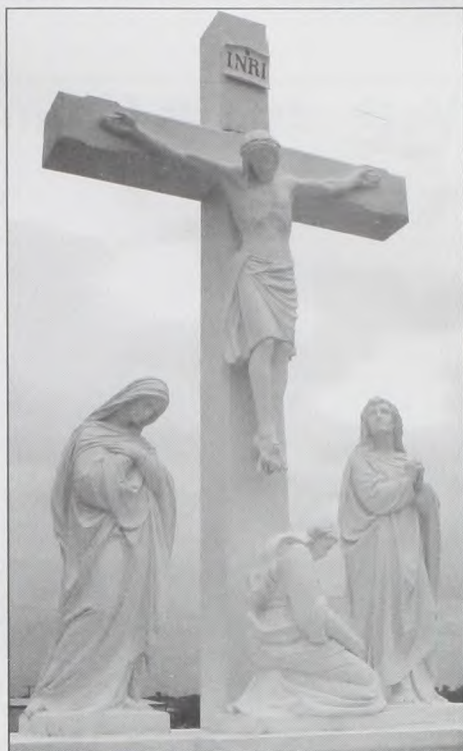

Author unknown

The crucifixion group monument was donated to Sacred Heart Cemetery in 1917 by Joseph and Mary Kleiss. The original cost of the monument was $1,800. Joseph died on March 19, 1924 and Mary died Jan. 11, 1928.

Family member Laurie Rohmer noticed that the monument was in bad shape and brought it to the attention of her mother Mary Evelyn Hofbauer Hermes. With the help of Mildred Walterscheid Lawson and Laurie, Mary Evelyn wrote letters to close descendants of the Kleiss family asking for donations to help restore the monument. With the help of all who donated, the restoration of the monument has been completed. Work was done by H&H Tile and Coping, Gary Hermes, Tim Hermes, and Glenn Hermes of Prestige Gunite. Glenn's sons helped also. They are the great-great-grandsons of Joseph and Mary.

Sweet! Beekeeping essay winners named

Cletus Fuhrmann knows how to "bee" a winner.

Each year for the past three years, he's written a honey of an essay, which put him in the first-place spot in the Texas 4-H Beekeeping Essay competition.

This year's essay, "The Need for Bees," won him $100 from the Texas 4-H and Youth Development Program, the Williamson County Beekeepers Association, and the Collin County Beekeepers Association. His essay has been entered in the national competition.

Not bad for a 17-year-old high school junior who has only been in beekeeping for a few years.

"I've been working with bees since I was a freshman," said Fuhrmann, who attends Muenster High School and has been in 4-H for six years. "They are pretty fun to work with, especially when they are swarming all around you and you know you have to keep calm."

"You know they're dangerous," he said, "and it's really (an amazing) feeling you get when you're harvesting honey and bees are flying all around you - you know you're getting something worthwhile and (taking) some risk there."

Fuhrmann, who said he has "been bitten plenty," credits his win this year to the research he did for his essay. "I had 18 sources of information," he said, which counted for about 40% of his score.

And while he enjoys working with bees, Fuhrmann doesn't plan on going into beekeeping as a profession.

"Beekeeping as a hobby would be fun in the future, but I don't see it as my main career goal," he said. "Those who do keep bees for a living have to do a lot - 300 hours at least."

Currently, Fuhrmann and his family care for six hives, he said. Each hive usually is home to about 100,000 bees. Some of the honey produced by the bees is sold locally.

Fuhrmann is the son of Arnold and Cecilia Fuhrmann. In addition to beekeeping, his 4-H projects have included dairy cattle, and food and nutrition.

Voth attends forum

Blake Voth, a 7th grade student at Muenster Junior High, spent his spring break, March 19-25, attending the People to People World Leadership Forum in Washington, D.C. He was among thousands of students chosen from across the U.S. by teacher recommendation. Students were chosen based on outstanding scholastic merit, civic involvement, and leadership potential.

Blake made the trip to D.C. alone to meet up with advisors when he arrived. He roomed with two other boys from Kansas and Missouri, as well as a chaperone from Arkansas. Their days were filled with many educational tours to places such as Capitol Hill, Arlington National Cemetery, Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum, International Spy Museum, Eisenhower Farm, and Jamestown. Blake was most interested in the disguises and spy equipment at the International Spy Museum. He also enjoyed seeing the Godspeed ship at the Jamestown Settlement's pier.

The opportunity to study and learn about our nation's history was a fulfilling experience for Blake. He felt honored to be chosen to participate in this curriculum. The People to People Student Ambassador Programs were founded by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to foster world citizenship among the youth.

Backyard Wildlife Challenge

Leave them wild: Make a commitment never to buy a "novelty" wild animal as a pet - it is very difficult to satisfy their needs in captivity, and that often means an unhappy outcome for all concerned. As cute as a baby turtle may be, it is far better off in the wild. Take your kids for a walk to the local pond where they can see these and other wildlife where they should be - in the wild.

Go native: Use plants that are native to your area. Not only will they thrive better, resist disease and often injure or attack from plant eating insects and mammals, but they will also require less maintenance, freeing you up to do nothing but enjoy them.

Lindsay boys golf qualifies for State

Just as earlier in the month when Augusta National proved to be the real winner at the Master Invitational Golf Tournament, Piney Woods Country Club took its toll on the Region III A field also.

On day one of the two day competition, Lindsay, who qualified in 3rd place in a field of 16 teams, was led by solid performances by junior Keith Hermes and senior Chris Dieter. On a day where par was a great score on any hole, Hermes played outstanding by posting only two doubles countered by one birdie to record a 7th place 83. Dieter overcame a triple bogey on the first hole to finish with a 9th place 84. Rounding out day one saw Josh Heilman, Brian Sandmann, and Hunter Loch posting 90, 92, and 99 for a team score of 349, moving the team into 2nd place and only eight shots behind La Poyner High School.

Day two saw the heavy favorite La Poyner, a team that is very well acquainted with the course in Nacogdoches, pull away from the field. Playing from the back tees and no opportunity to improve the ball position that occasionally found a perfect shot in the middle of the fairway almost unplayable, Hermes and company found the going much tougher on day two. Dieter and fellow senior Brian Sandmann did manage to shoot an 89 and 88 respectively, followed up by Hermes, Heilman, and Loch with 93, 96, and 101, for a team score of 366.

La Poyner and Lindsay earned the right to play for a State championship in Austin May 7-8. The 2nd place finish marks the first time in history that a Lindsay golf team has qualified for the big game.

The team, coached by Dan Hamric, could hardly stand the tension on the final few holes, knowing that each shot was so vitally important. "The team really finished strong with clutch performances on the final 9 by Hermes 43, Sandmann 41, and Dieter and Heilman at 42s. That sealed 2nd place over Yantis High School, who succumbed to the pressure, by 33 strokes."

Final Results: La Poyner, 341-320, 661; Lindsay, 349-366, 715; Yantis, 373-375, 748; Muester, 377-387, 764; James Bowie, 367-405, 772.

Lindsay Individuals: Chris Dieter, 12th place out of 92 boys; Keith Hermes, 17th place; Brian Sandmann, 19th place; Josh Heilman, 24th place; Hunter Loch, 38th place.

3,000 CHANNEL CATFISH RELEASED IN MUENSTER LAKE

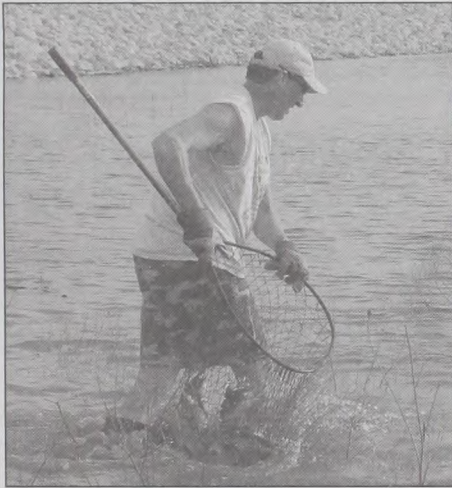

Over 3,000 channel catfish from the Texas Parks and Wildlife were released in Muenster Lake last Thursday. The event brought in helpful volunteers and spectators.

FARM & RANCH

Texas wheat crop strengthened

The 2006 drought led to the smallest number of wheat acres harvested in Texas since 1925, but this year's crop is showing promise thanks to timely rains, a small grains expert said.

"(Rainfall) in the High Plains and other parts of the state over the past couple of weeks have increased yield expectations," said Dr. Gaylon Morgan, Texas Cooperative Extension small grains specialist. "Statewide, most of the wheat is considered to have good to excellent yield potential due to (available) soil moisture and relatively low disease pressure."

About 6 million winter wheat acres have been planted as part of the 2007 crop, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture-National Agricultural Statistics Service.

Texas producers have renewed optimism after the 2006 drought devastated wheat and other crops throughout the state, resulting in $2.5 billion in losses, according to Extension economists.

The value of the 2006 Texas wheat crop was $153 million compared to $330 million in 2005 and $362 million in 2004, according to USDA data. Last year's drought not only led to millions in losses in revenue for farmers, but sales proceeds from harvested wheat in 2006 led to just $42,000 in Texas Wheat Board allocations for research initiatives. About $211,000 was allotted in 2005 by comparison.

The only disappointments so far are the Southern Rolling Plains and the Concho Valley with late-planted wheat, Morgan said. Yield potential is expected to be low and much of the wheat "grazed-out or baled for hay, despite recent rains," he said.

Meanwhile, rain and warm weather is helping the crop to progress rapidly, Morgan said. In South Texas, the wheat crop is heading and flowering. In the Blacklands region, wheat is beyond the boot stage (the seedhead enclosed within the sheath of the flag leaf) to early flowering.

"In these areas, the crop ranges from late-jointing to early heading," he said. "Most of the wheat on the High Plains is at the jointing stage."

Meanwhile, weed management is another issue that needs attention from growers, Morgan said. Mustards and broadleaf weeds become a problem for some producers as the growing season progresses, he said.

"Late-season broadleaf weed options exist. However, no herbicides should be applied after boot stage," Morgan said.

Examples of herbicides that may be applied up to the boot stage include MCPA, 2,4-D, Ally, Buctril, and Finesse.

"If your wheat crop is beyond the boot stage and heavy weed infestations will negatively affect harvest and grain quality, several harvest aids do exist," Morgan said. "However, the harvest aids can't be applied until after the wheat crop is in the hard-dough stage or beyond. If wheat for seed will be kept from a field receiving a harvest aid application, a seed germination test is strongly encouraged because harvest aids can negatively affect seed germination."

Wheat producers are also keeping a watchful eye on crop disease. South Texas wheat is heading with relatively low leaf rust pressure, Morgan said. In the Blacklands, leaf rust pressure is relatively low, "but powdery mildew is still present on susceptible hard wheat varieties."

"Leaf rust is being observed at concerning levels on very susceptible varieties, such as Cutter, Jagelene, and 2145," he said. "However, varieties with moderate resistance, such as Coronado, only have low levels of leaf rust at this time."

Fannin County has maintained its resistance to leaf rust, he said, while stripe rust levels remain at very low levels throughout South Texas and the Blacklands regions.

"These low foliar disease levels may be the result of a very dry February and early March and fungal inoculum did not build up," Morgan said. "Nonetheless, as warm moist conditions have returned to much of the state, foliar diseases can increase quickly and warrant observation."

Producers with susceptible varieties to leaf rust and considering use of fungicide can review variety resistance ratings on the Web at <http://varietytesting.tamu.edu/wheat/index.htm#diseases>.

World sorghum trade drops to near 40-year low

World sorghum trade is forecast to fall to a near 40-year low this year, largely on reduced U.S. exports (which typically account for 90% of global trade).

Severe drought in the Southern Plains decimated U.S. production, causing it to fall to the lowest level since 1960. This has severely curtailed exports, with sales down nearly 20% year to year.

For importers, Mexico is forecast to drop to a 10-year low of 2.3 million tons as a result of the tight U.S. supplies and a consequent shift to corn for feeding. Current purchases are only half of last year. However, EU-25 imports have jumped as evidenced by import licenses of 500,000 tons (compared to just 5,000 tons this time last year). Sorghum can be imported by the EU with a zero duty because of its relatively high price.

Action needed to counter activist threat

Animal agriculture may not be losing the battle to animal activists today, but "we are barely holding our own," said Steve Kopperud of Policy Directions, who spoke at the Simmering Issues workshop at the recent Midwest Poultry Federation Trade Show and Convention.

The animal well-being movement has crystallized within the Humane Society of the U.S. (HSUS), according to Kopperud. He said that HSUS claims to have 10 million members and has an annual budget of between $110 and $120 million. HSUS President Wayne Pacell claims HSUS will become "the NRA of the animal rights movement."

Kopperud said that the poultry industry must "wake up" to the fact that this battle with activist groups will not be won or lost by registered lobbyists in Washington, D.C. He said that this is a battle for the hearts and minds of consumers, legislators, and the media.

"The most credible soldiers on this battlefield are farmers and ranchers," he said. "It is time to speak out."

"It makes no sense that while other industries are praised and congratulated for their progressive embracing of technology for improvement and cost control, agriculture is criticized," Kopperud continued. "We're the only industry that's critical to every citizen's quality of life that's increasingly asked to go backward in time, back to the days of slog-through-the-mud agriculture, with its high costs of production, high animal disease and mortality rates, lower quality, and higher consumer costs. We must refuse to go; we cannot afford to retreat. We must continue to move forward, talking to the folks who buy our products—whether processor, retailer, or the ultimate consumer."

CEA - AG/NR

Fruit thinning

One of the more important tasks facing avid gardeners each spring is thinning the crop. According to William D. Adams, Extension horticulturist, retired, whether it is radishes or fruit, too high a density is a bad thing. Also, it is important to thin the crop early to allow the greatest amount of nutrients to be allocated to the portion of the crop that remains.

Excess fruit create smaller yields. It is best to thin at blooming, but other than hand picking, there's no real practical way to do that yet. Developing fruit should definitely be removed when it is less than the size of a dime. After thinning, spacing should be six to eight inches apart.

If you leave too much fruit on the trees, they may be easily damaged and are bound to have smaller fruit. It takes 191 peaches that are 1-3/4 inches in diameter to make a half-bushel, but it takes only 79 peaches are 2-1/2 inches in diameter to make the same half-bushel.

The earlier you can thin the better, so start as soon as you can—even before the tree has completely finished blooming if possible. If you only have a few trees in the back yard, it's easy enough to remove them by hand—just give them a little twist, and off they come.

Commercial growers go a step further and tie an 18- to 24-inch length of rope or rubber hose on the end of a broom handle, and knock the fruit off with this device. There is usually some natural drop of fruit later on in the year, whether you have thinned or not, but even with this, it is important to do the preliminary hand thinning.
