Sunday, Nov. 18 produced perfect weather for the Sacred Heart Parish Annual Picnic. Chairman Leslie Eddleman enthusiastically remarked, "It was the best by far in the four years that I've been doing this!" She estimated that around 1300 were served at the main meal. Children played outdoors in the bounce house, obstacle slide, and game area, while adults visited or tried for desired items on the Silent Auction tables and Cake Walk or purchased from the Sweet Shop and Country Store. Prom, appraisal, and building highlight School Board meeting

By Janie Hartman

Discussion of a school sponsored prom, who to vote for the Appraisal District, and campus building projects were among the discussed, tabled, and approved items at the Nov. 14 Board of Trustees meeting for Muenster ISD.

The meeting opened with audience comments by Rudy Koesler, who spoke against the Board voting for a school sponsored prom. "The parents can't control it and now want the school to take control of the kids," Koesler commented. "For 50-some Saturday nights, parents allow their kids to do what they want... no rules, then want the school to discipline their kids for one night." Koesler also noted that if something really bad happened, the school could be held responsible. "There are more negatives than positives," he said.

"I appreciate Rudy's comments, but I don't agree with them," said Superintendent John Kaufman. "By not doing something, we are turning our back. I guarantee the majority of the people want this to happen... It's what we need to do."

A prom application along with rules and guidelines were presented to the Board members. Individuals eligible to attend include: MHS students, dates from other schools, and graduates of MHS and other schools who are under 21 years of age. All must fill out a prom application.

Dress code guidelines noted that students and guests dressed inappropriately, such as but not limited to, low cuts of the dress in the chest area, back, and sides, and exposure of the abdomen, midriff, and upper midriff, may be denied entrance to the prom.

Discipline procedures and consequences followed the same set forth in the Student Code of Conduct for attending a school sponsored activity. All keys will be turned in upon entry to the prom. Participants will be assessed at this time by law enforcement to determine if there is reasonable suspicion of alcohol consumption. A breathalyzer test can be administered if necessary. All MHS students who register a positive breathalyzer test will be detained by law enforcement until parent pickup. The student will receive a mandatory DAEP placement of 30 school days.

All students who are in possession of alcohol will receive a mandatory DAEP placement of 45 school days. With a March 15 prom date, this could keep seniors from participating in graduation ceremonies and any other school activities.

School Board members were told that the school quit sponsoring proms because of the advice of their attorney, because if something happened, the School Board would be responsible. This brought up questions of the legality of the breathalyzer and the under age 21 restriction.

"We're heading in the right direction," Jim Endres said, "but are we prepared? We need to know exactly what we could get into."

Kaufman suggested that the Board read over the prom rules and call him back with any questions. The lawyers will then be contacted for legal advice.

Weinhof Winery evolves from grandpa's German wine recipe

By Janet Felderhoff

Every year Brenda Thompson's grandpa Simeon Moll made two barrels of Concord grape wine. This inspired Brenda to, as a hobby, make wine. She made her first batch of wine in 1999 from her grandpa's recipe. In 2000 she tried her own recipe.

"I couldn't drink her grandpa's wine," remarked Brenda's husband Larry. "It was so sweet and so strong the way he made it." Larry said it he couldn't handle a second glass of super sweet and strong wine.

"When we started out, the equipment fit in a closet under the stairs in the house," recalled Brenda. "Then I did more, and did more, and then it took up the kitchen. Then we started the North Texas Wine Makers Guild. Our son moved to college and we moved everything into his room."

Larry said his family is from Prairie Point where there are a lot of persimmon, pear, and other fruit trees. His family supplied them with an abundance of fruit.

Brenda would make the wine and after it set for a while, the couple would give some to his mother's friends and ask them to critique the product. Larry said all the women were telling them that they really liked the wine.

"So, we kept making more," Larry said. "We'd start off with five gallons, and then it was 10 gallons, and then it was 20 gallons, so after a period of time we just had a lot of wine and all these people were drinking our wines. This started back in 2000."

In 2004, they planted a 90 plant vineyard in Prairie Point. "That was very interesting," Larry commented. "I didn't have a lot of knowledge on vineyards, but I quickly found out what was going on."

The first plantings in the vineyard were doomed. Larry said a squirrel up on an electric line came in contact with electricity, caught fire, fell to the ground near the vineyard, and started a grass fire. In a short time the plants in the vineyard and the persimmon trees were destroyed. Thanks to the Forestburg and Rosston fire departments, the buildings on the property were saved.

Brenda and Larry have property in Prairie Point and plan to retire there. He said he's been around this area all his life and is related to many people here. His mother was a Richardson and his grandmother was a Penton. He is also related to the Prairie Point Suttons and Kelleys, to name a few. Brenda is from Perryville, a German settlement, in the northern part of the Ozarks of Missouri.

They decided to start a small winery to give them something to do after they get away from the "rat race." The couple found an appropriate building in Forestburg to use as a place to manufacture their wines.

"Montague County is a dry district where we are at," Larry explained. "Not a dry county, but a dry district. According to the Texas Legislature, we needed a place to manufacture wine. That means we could sell it too. We couldn't just open up a wine store. We had to actually make the wine in the building. We found this building at Forestburg, and it just worked out perfect."

The wood walls in the main room were just right, they said. Larry said that they'd traveled in Germany and visited weinstubes. "When we saw the inside of this place, it was perfect," said Larry. "This is what they build their wineries to look like. When we walked in there, it was already that way." They also redid the front to give it a Bavarian house look, and refurbished the floors and ceilings.

At the Winery, there is a tasting room large enough for people to bring in cheeses and crackers, picnic baskets, birthday cakes, or whatever to have parties. They have hosted bridal luncheons, women's clubs, the Texas Tall People's Club, as well as others.

Brenda incorporated a gift shop with the Winery. Each time she releases a wine, she also releases bath soaps and candles to go with it. She and a friend plan the soap and candle scents to best go with the wine. "She'll make samples until we get the aroma where I like it and I think it matches the wine," said Brenda.

The couple had attempted to open the winery in Muenster, but couldn't find a suitable location. They were looking for a location along Hwy. 82 that was large enough for their purposes.

In October 2006, they had all their licenses. On Feb. 17, 2007, they opened the doors to their winery. Weinhof Winery claimed the final place as the best name for the new enterprise.

That name took top billing for several reasons. Larry and Brenda both have a German heritage. They knew they wanted something German because they wanted to have a German weinstube feel to their winery. Also, the original recipe came from Brenda's German grandfather. She also had a German ancestor named Weinheim. "We just kind of evolved into a winery courtyard or an area where you can come and enjoy wine," Brenda remarked. "So, it became Weinhof. Hof meaning courtyard." Wein is the German word for wine. Thus Weinhof or wine courtyard.

It was the couple's goal to create a place where people could come to and feel comfortable, relax, learn a little about Texas wines, and enjoy a glass of wine and some music. "We try to make it a very relaxed atmosphere. We try to do every thing we can think of," Larry remarked. He added that they had been treated badly at wineries they visited before. The ones that are relaxing and friendly to visit are the ones that they like to return to visit again. Most of the Weinhof visitors have been from Muenster.

Fruits used in making their wine comes from local sources. Persimmons are from Muenster and Bowie. Forestburg, Rosston, and Prairie Point provide pears. Peaches come from Bowie. Brenda noted, "We are always looking for local fruits." Larry explained that they chose to make fruit wines because the time from when the fruit is picked to the time these wines reach the point where they are ready to sell is nine months.

Red grape wine takes two years to go through the process. He said, "None of our wine making friends want to deal with the fruit wines because it is harder to deal with fruit wines. It's a real pain." Brenda added, "I like to do them though. That's what I kind of started doing. I've been making persimmon wine for seven years now."

The secret is to wait until the persimmons have been through a hard freeze. "The sugar levels just pop out and that's when you grab them and it makes a wonderful golden wine," remarked

Larry. Brenda calls her wild Texas persimmon wine Autumn Gold and she calls her oriental persimmon wine Gold Velvet. She said that they will soon bottle their persimmon wines from last year.

According to Larry, the only reason that they had any pear wine last year was that he watered the trees. "We had 10 cases of pear wine, which turned out to be a real nice semisweet white wine, a gold wine," he said. "We sold 10 cases out so fast that it was amazing."

Brenda said that they made watermelon wine for the Forestburg Watermelon Festival. They sold 113 bottles of the wine in four hours.

"To me it's fascinating how she can make the wine out of the juice," Larry comments. "It's just fascinating. The money is in the juice. The more good juice you have, the more wine you have to sell." Brenda said that you can't have good wine unless you have good fruit. "You don't want overly ripe or rotted fruit and you don't want fruit that isn't ripe enough," she noted. "You've got to watch your sugar level."

Larry said that when the horses start to eat the pears, See Winery, pg. 12

What is it about grandparents that is so lovely? I'd like to say that grandparents are God's gifts to children. And if they can but see, hear, and feel what these people have to give, they can mature at a fast rate.

Geese myth not true

Myth: Canada geese stick around because they forgot how to migrate.

Fact: Geese who live in one place year-round do so through no fault of their own. They are descendants of captive-bred geese introduced by wildlife agencies over 50 years ago to create "opportunities" for hunters. Geese were also released by people who thought they would simply look nice on their ponds. As a result, transplanted geese never learned to migrate from their parents, and thrive in our suburban landscapes. U.S. Humane Society

Medicare offers prescription drug coverage for everyone with Medicare. This coverage is called "Part D". The annual open enrollment for Medicare Part D coverage started Nov. 15 and goes through Dec. 31. During this period, Medicare beneficiaries who do not have a Part D drug plan can enroll in one, and those who do have coverage can change plans.

Beneficiaries can also return to original Medicare from a Medicare Advantage plan, enroll in a Medicare Advantage plan, or change Advantage plans. Beneficiaries who take no action will remain in their current plan, with some exceptions for those who receive the Low-Income Subsidy (LIS).

There are 56 prescription drug plans, 14 Medicare Health plans, and eight Medicare Special Needs plans that are available in Cooke County. The Area Agency on Aging of Texas office at 1100 Lawrence, Gainesville, can help you if you need assistance in choosing a plan that is right for you. Call 940-668-1858 to set an appointment if you need help. The office can also help you enroll after you have chosen a plan.

If you have any questions about your Medicare coverage, feel free to call Benelle Fitts at the local Area Agency on Aging (AAA) office, (940-668-1858). Benelle Fitts is the local Elder Rights coordinator/benefits counselor for the AAA. She provides assistance to all seniors in Cooke County who need help with Medicare issues.

The local office can also help you apply for assistance with the drug plans if you have limited income and resources. The Area Agency on Aging office wants to warn seniors about insurance agents who come to their home or call them about changing plans. Be very careful when you select a Medicare Advantage plan or Private Fee for Service Plan. Make sure your doctor and hospital accept the plan that you are choosing.

"At our parent meeting, 97% in attendance supported a school sponsored prom and not a single negative comment was made. I want the kids to be able to dress up and have fun. The administration will need the support of the Board if a parent protests when their child is punished."

"If we are going to do this, we will follow the guidelines no matter who it will affect," added High School Principal Brandon Peavey. The subject was tabled until the December meeting.

Adam Schniederjan was at the meeting and asked the Board to cast their 271 votes for him in the Cooke County Appraisal District Board election. "If elected, I will be a representative of all school districts in the County. I would be there as a representative of the governing bodies that put me there," Schniederjan said. He missed the October MISD Board meeting and was nominated by Gainesville ISD.

Later in the meeting, the Board motioned and approved to cast the entire MISD vote for Bob Knauf. "If we split the vote, we may not get any representative from West Cooke County," commented MISD Board President Ronnie Felderhoff. "I recommend we cast all votes to Knauf. After all, we did nominate Bob."

Several building related items were discussed, approved, and/or tabled by the Board. Joe Spoon of Kibler General Contractor, along with C. Reese and Kirk Dawson noted that they did not receive enough bids for the cafeteria. There are 39 bids on the project, and 60% were contacted. "There are several very responsive bids that we won't want to reopen. The dirt, drywall, and all interior had no bids," said Spoon, noting it wasn't the quality of the plan, but the time of the year.

"Lots of larger projects are being bid on in the metroplex area. They choose to work in that direction," commented Paul McCullough, architect of the cafeteria project. Therefore, bidding has been extended through Dec. 4.

Also in construction, the Board approved a recommendation from the Ag Barn Committee on the electrical bids. Two were submitted, with Do All Electric receiving the job for $30,848.28.

Two bids were received for the removal of the football stadium concession stand, $75 and $425, after the PTO requested a larger building. "We're looking at $30,000 to rebuild," said Kaufman. "It's not in shambles."

It was noted that it would be used only three or four more times this school year, and the District didn't buy a bus, and has other building costs. The Board voted to reject the bids and table until next spring.

Also tabled was the implementation of Electronic Board Meeting, an approximate cost of $15,100.

Other items approved at the meeting included: The Parental Involvement Policy; the Campus/District Improvement Plan; Susie Fleitman as interim Integrated Pest Management Coordinator, Asbestos and Air Quality Coordinator; and miscellaneous supplemental pay for employees.

Several reports were given. An amount of $7,193.97 was collected in delinquent taxes for October.

Elementary Principal Lou Heers reported that 59% of the Kindergarten students, 70% of the 1st Grade, and 65% of the 2nd Grade are already developed in the Texas Primary Reading Inventory. At the end of the school year, the goal for 1st Grade is to read 60 words per minute, and 90 words for the 2nd graders. Heers also noted that all the teachers at Muenster ISD are 100% "Highly Qualified" (certified) in the core subjects that they teach.

A written summary of financial impact of the proposed Wolf Ridge Wind, LLC Project on the finances of MISD, under a requested Chapter 313 property value limitation report, prepared by Moak, Casey, and Associates, was included in the Board's information packet. A representative from Moak, Casey will be at the December Board meeting to go over the report and answer questions.

"Wolf Ridge Wind proposes to invest $180 million to construct a new wind energy project in MISD," noted the report. "In total, the potential tax benefits are estimated to total $14 million over the life of the agreement... Given stable school enrollment and uncertainty about future state policy changes, the results show an approximate $4.1 million a year in net general fund revenue."

Principals and directors gave their monthly reports. Jeff Pressnall pointed out that the school's website www.muensterisd.net has 400 registered users. Parents, teachers, and students should sign up for E-Alerts to be informed of scheduling changes of school events.

Lisa Pagel, 2nd grade teacher, was selected as MISD's Jack Harvey recipient. This is Muenster's eighth year to participate.

The first six weeks honor roll/failure report noted that 78% of the 1-6 grade students made the honor roll and that only 5% did not pass at least one class.

Fall cleanup

Lawn - Keep mowing and watering so your lawn isn't stressed going into the fall. Give it one more dose of "weed and feed" fertilizer to give it an extra boost. Now is also a good time to aerate your lawn - try wearing your golf shoes next time you mow.

Outdoor Furniture - If you have vinyl furniture, give it a good washing, and take it in to store. Wood furniture can be more of a chore - you'll want to inspect it for damage and do any necessary repairs before you store it for the winter. This could mean sanding, scraping, and repainting or re-staining.

Prepare for winter

Have a flashlight and extra batteries available. Use flashlights rather than candles if the electricity goes out.

Use a battery-powered NOAA Weather Radio and a portable radio to receive emergency information.

Lady Hornets win and lose on the court

The Lady Hornets got their second win Nov. 10, defeating Wichita Falls City View 63-41. Two Muenster players scored in the double digits, led by Samantha Endres with 24 points and Lindsey Watson 15. Endres was also 10 of 10 at the free throw line. Laura Heers added 7, Jenni Luke 5, Rebecca Grewing and Taylor Klement 4 each, and 2 apiece by Alison Teafattiller and Lia Heers.

The Lady Hornets put in 21 of 25 free throws.

Muenster improved the free throw shooting at Henrietta on Nov. 13, but came up short on the scoreboard, and were handed their first loss of the season, 43-40. After an even 1st half, Henrietta took the lead and Muenster couldn't fill the gap.

Sam Endres scored 14 and again hit 100% of her free throws. Laura Heers added 8, Rebecca Grewing 7, with Lia Heers, Lindsey Watson, and Alison Teafattiller each hitting a 3, and Shaina Felderhoff 2 points.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR DEER SEASON

Last year's Texas deer hunting season was considered text book by state wildlife biologists. This season, hunters may have to throw out the book.

Indicators leading into the season pointed to potentially great hunting across much of the state, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists. But, as they say in advertising disclaimers, individual results may vary.

"Generally speaking, it's a banner year for (fawn) production," said Mitch Lockwood, TPWD deer program leader. "As far as the quality of the animals, the deer we're seeing are in pretty good condition and I expect antler quality and body weights to be above average. Not only do we expect this year's crop to be better, but there are more mature bucks out there simply because harvest was down in 2006."

Whitetails have responded well from last year's extended dry spell, thanks to an unseasonably wet spring and summer, and have taken advantage of resurgent plant growth, Lockwood noted. That bodes well for the deer, but could pose a challenge for hunters hoping to find success from a blind over supplemental feed.

Biologists point to 2004, when timely spring rains created ideal range conditions, healthy deer, and high expectations from hunters. Due to the abundance of vegetation available to deer that year, hunters observed fewer animals during the season and overall harvest numbers were down.

When conditions became relatively dry in 2005, deer harvest jumped considerably and, in particular, more mature bucks were killed that season.

"That's what makes this year tough to predict," Lockwood noted. "There will be more deer on the ground this fall, but hunting could be tough early in the season."

Because some parts of the state are drying up as rainfall slacked off in September and October, deer movements and hunting conditions could change. "Deer were seeing so much good native groceries all year, corn was something new to them," he said. "In the Edwards Plateau, we're loaded with acorns. Once those food sources run out, deer should return to feeders."

With the expected high percentage of recruitment into the deer population this year, biologists are urging hunters and landowners to actively manage whitetail numbers.

"It's important for hunters to use those antlerless tags

Panthers claw Knights out of playoffs

In playoff action against Gorman, above - Garrett Block (12) takes the ball up the middle after a hand off from quarterback Keith Hermes (3). The Lindsay Knights earned a trip to the playoffs after a 5-5 regular season, but were given the undefeated 5th ranked Gorman Panthers in the first round last Friday night. Unable to get anywhere on the ground, the Knights used their passing game to attempt to stay in the game, but five turnovers against a state ranked team left the Knights with a 52-10 loss.

"It was a tough one. We played a very good team," Coach Cody Bounds commented. "They are ranked #5 for a reason. They'd come at you every play. We didn't have enough to hold them." Coach Bounds added how very proud he was of the Seniors and the younger players as well. "Very pleased in their effort. I'm glad the boys came together and made the playoffs - a great honor in the state of Texas," Bounds said.

Gorman took the opening kick. After four short runs, the Panthers got the first points on the board with a 65 yard run. The PAT failed for a 6-0 score with 9:26 on the clock.

Starting on their 35 yard line, the Knights used their air attack to gain 47 yards, as Keith Hermes connected with Dustin Reed, Garrett Block, and Ross Jones. Hermes then picked up 17 yards to the 6 yard line. A sack and two incomplete passes were followed by a 23 yard field goal by Ross Jones. With 6:49 remaining in the 1st quarter, Lindsay was on the scoreboard 6-3.

Gorman's offense controlled the remaining 1st period, moving to the 19 yard line as the 2nd quarter began. Three plays later, the Panthers scored on a 14 yard run for a 12-3 lead.

The Knights' next possession was a sack followed by an interception. The next play, Gorman was up 18-3 after a 46 yard run. The Knights got in eight plays, which included two passes to Jones for 19 yards, three runs for 13, and three quarterback sacks for a minus 24 yards, forcing a 4th and 35 punt.

Nine plays later, the Panthers scored on a 24 yard pass play to extend their lead to 24-3.

The Knights got in 11 plays before time ran out to end the 1st half.

Lindsay took the 3rd quarter kick, but a fumble the second play was picked up by the Panthers and returned 25 yards for a touchdown and a 31-3 lead.

The Knight offense continued to struggle, moving to the Panther 34 before running out of downs.

Gorman scored again, taking 11 plays to score on a 1 yard run with 2:16 on the clock for a 39-3 lead.

Keith Hermes returned the Gorman kick 37 yards. Runs by Jones, Hermes, and Nathan Martin carried the ball into the final quarter. A Hermes pass to Jones was followed by a completion to Jones for a touchdown. With 11 minutes to play, the scoreboard read 39-10.

Gorman didn't let up, taking only five plays to find the end zone. With 8:45 on the clock, the Panthers took a 45-10 lead.

The Knights' next drive ended on the fourth play with an interception. Eight plays later, Garrett Block covered a Panther fumble, but the next play, a loose ball gave the ball back to Gorman, 14 yards from paydirt. Four plays and it was 52-10 with 36 seconds on the clock.

Gorman booted an onside kick and covered the ball, then took a knee to end the game.

it's time to pick them. Or the deer they laughed. Larry told of a time when he was up in a tractor bucket and heard an awful noise. "It was the strangest scream I'd ever heard in my life," he recalled. "I looked down and it was a mama deer and her baby. They were just yelling at me."

With a lot of fruit available this year, they are making a variety of fruit wines including peach, pear, apple, and plum. They have some blackberry and blueberry that will be used to make specialty dessert wines. With grapes from the Davis vineyard in Saint Jo and a friend's vineyard in McKinney, they plan to have some red and white grape wines next year.

Brenda is planning on releasing a sweet red wine next year called Montague Red because of the Sesquicentennial. She plans to add a drawing of the Montague courthouse to the wine label. There are several steps involved in wine making. First the fruit is cleaned and crushed. Chemicals are added to create the correct balance of acids and pH. It is then inoculated with yeast to start the fermentation process. Sugar is added to some of the fruit wines to bring the sugar levels up to have the right amount of fermentation. Alcohol levels between 7% and 14% are desirable.

DEER

this season and get those excess animals off the range before winter sets in to ensure there's enough food to go around," Lockwood said. "If folks want help determining how many deer to remove from their property, they are welcome to contact their local TPWD biologist for assistance."

TPWD provides wildlife management consultation at no cost to landowners. The agency offers a variety of conservation planning assistance, from habitat enhancement incentives to wildlife resource management. Details about these programs are available on the TPWD Web site or from your local wildlife biologist.

While there are no major changes to deer regulations this year, hunters in eastern and central Texas are reminded that special buck antler restrictions are in effect in 61 counties. Under the regulation, a lawful buck in the designated counties is defined as any buck having at least one unbranched antler OR an inside antler spread of at least 13 inches. The bag limit in the affected counties is two lawful bucks, no more than one of which may have an inside spread of greater than 13 inches.

For additional deer hunting regulations, refer to the 2007-08 Outdoor Annual available wherever licenses are sold and on the TPWD Web site.

After fermentation ends, the product is racked.

Brenda said that is part of the clarification process to take it from one vat into another vat and pull the wine off of the settlings. "There are solids that settle out and the yeast as it dies down, it settles to the bottom of the vat," Brenda explained. "After you clarify and rack it a couple of times, normally, I'll try and stabilize it and prepare it for bottling." The wine must be stabilized to keep it from refermenting. Then it is bottled and ready for someone to enjoy. Most wines take about a year to be turned from fruit into a palatable beverage.

Mourvedre tops the list of Larry's favorite wines. They described it as being a "nice oaky, spicy, dry red wine." Brenda has a number of favorites, but leans to pear wine as her very favorite. She said she also really likes the persimmon wine. Overall, the most popular wines seem to be the semisweet ones.

If you don't know anything about wine, Larry said, "We'll teach you!" They hold wine tasting classes. Once a month they hold a wine tasting evaluation class. Brenda explained that it is a four-step method. Summing up the situation with a laugh Brenda said, "We were home wine makers and we ran out of room." Larry added his version, "We wanted to have parties, and wine, and make money, and this was a perfect thing to do. It's a lot of work, but it's been a lot of fun!"

By trade, Larry is a remodeling contractor. He now devotes his time fully to the winery. Brenda is still employed full-time for AT&T, but sees retirement in her near future.

Weinhof Winery opens on Saturday from noon to 8 p.m. and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday. They would open for private parties on Friday, if requested. Presently, they don't serve food, but that is in the plans for the future. The location is 16678 FM 455 in Forestburg. Their website is WeinhofWinery.com.

Lady Knights get two more wins

Last Saturday, the Lindsay Lady Knights hosted the 2A Howe Lady Bulldogs, taking a 62-57 victory. It was the first game of the season that the entire team played. "We executed pretty well, considering we had only three days of practice together," commented Coach Don Neu.

Lindsay took a good lead into the locker room at half-time, then allowed the lady Dogs in the game in the final quarter.

Beverly Knabe was high scorer with 14 points. Christina Eckart added 13 while pulling down 7 rebounds. Chelsea Hermes scored 12, Stephanie Neu and Emily Fuhrmann 9 each, with Neu credited for 6 rebounds and Fuhrmann 5 rebounds and 4 assists. Scoring 2 points apiece were Rose Hermes and Katelyn Brewer, and Hillary Hoelker 1 point.

The Lady Knights defeated Pilot Monday night 48-27. "We got off to a slow start, but played better the 2nd half. The girls had to do things that we have not had a chance to work on and did a great job," said Coach Donald Neu. Chelsea Hermes led the scoring with 22 points. Rose Hermes got 8 points and nine rebounds. Christina Eckart scored 6 and took 13 rebounds and eight blocks. Rounding out the scoring were Hillary Hoelker with 4 points, and 2 apiece by Stephanie Neu, Emily Fuhrmann, Katelyn Brewer, and Beverly Knabe.
