Administration's decision backed by MISD Board

By Janie Hartman
Talk around town last week caused over 25 extra participants to attend last Wednesday's regular meeting of the Muenster ISD Board of Trustees. Due to the 15 minute time limit of open discussion, only seven in the audience were able to speak. Voicing concerns on the reassignment of Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Monte Endres to another position in the district, began with past Board member Wanda Flusche who noted that the transfer was "not professional." Susan Flusche commented how the Hornet football team had a tough year. "What killed us was injuries... There's not a lot a coach can do about that... it's 1A football." Matt Flusche, MHS football player, said, "We started to work together and become a team... working hard for a guy we really want to play for." Sean Fuhrmann, MHS graduate, noted, "It's bigger than football. I know for certain I'm a better person because of football and Coach Endres." Muenster Coach Quentin Berend touched upon other things Endres did, including coaching junior high basketball, something not a lot of A.D.s would do. "He disciplines the kids... abides by the rules. I think it's a big mistake." Jared Flusche, another Hornet player, said Coach Endres has been here for the players the whole time. "He (Endres) built us up... this will bring us down." Last allowed to speak was Patty Fuhrmann. "This is costing the District money... paying A.D. prices to a P.E. coach. It's not about athletics,

CASA of North Texas held its Volunteer Appreciation Dinner on Thursday, May 15. Awards were presented to volunteers, donors, Child Protective Service workers, and to an attorney for his work for CASA's children. The highlight of the evening was the award presented to Muenster's own Kristie Lutkenhaus Becker. She was named as CASA's Volunteer of the Year for 2008 for her outstanding work for four Cooke County children who are a part of the child welfare system because of abuse or neglect. "Kristie is a very special young woman and a powerful advocate for the children she serves," said Vicki Robertson, CASA's executive director. "She was instrumental in getting a child medical testing for a potentially fatal disease after Medicaid (that covers foster children) refused to cover the costs for testing. She was relentless in her efforts to get the child what was needed. She is also a wonderful volunteer advocate and mentor to three other children she serves who are dealing with a difficult situation." Kristie is the daughter of Leo and Peggy Lutkenhaus. She is married to Joe Becker. They have a daughter Katie who is one year old. CASA is an acronym for Court Appointed Special Advocates. This agency recruits, trains, and supervises community volunteers who act as advocates within the legal system for the County's children who have been taken into protective custody of the State because of abuse or neglect. CASA volunteers talk to the children, their families, and any others who have knowledge of the child or family, monitor how the children are doing in foster care, and how the parents are doing in their efforts to make changes in their lives. CASA volunteers then report their findings back to the District Judge who has the tremendous responsibility of making decisions that affect the lives of these vulnerable children. CASA volunteers work to inform the court from the perspective of an independent individual whose only focus is what is best for the child or children they serve with the goal of securing a safe and permanent home for each child. If you are interested in learning more about CASA or in becoming a CASA advocate, please visit the agency website at HYPERLINK "http://www.casant.org", the Texas CASA information website at HYPERLINK "http://www.becomeacasa.org", or contact the CASA office at 665-2244.

Corporal Jeremiah Luttmir in Iraq

Luttmir recovering from war injuries

By Janet Felderhoff
Shortly into his second tour of duty in Iraq, Corporal Jeremiah Luttmir was wounded. He is now recovering in a military hospital at Fort Hood. Luttmir serves as a medic in the Army. He's been in the military more than five years. The first time he went to Iraq was for a whole year. He was again deployed to Iraq in early March this year.

On March 27, there was indirect fire on the base where Luttmir is stationed in Iraq. He sustained injuries to his lower leg. Both bones were broken close to the ankle. The first treatment he received came from two other soldiers who did what Luttmir directed them to do for the injuries. "I was telling them what to do to my leg and what not. From there I got evacuated on a truck up to the hospital that was on the same base," Luttmir recalled. "Then I got evacuated out on a helicopter from there to a hospital in Baghdad." After Baghdad he returned to the military hospital at Fort Hood. Luttmir said he is doing fairly well. He currently has an infection in his wound. They discovered that he got it in Iraq. Besides being treated for that, Luttmir's leg is in a cast. He said he will have to wear the cast for about eight weeks. Rehab is the next step after the cast comes off. "We'll see how much I get back," he said. "It took a lot of bone out of the leg, so we have to see how much use I get of my leg afterwards. I have to wait and see how the surgeries and everything went." After Luttmir is 100% healed, it will be determined whether he can continue with active duty or if he will have to leave the military due to medical reasons. He hopes to serve in the Army as long as he can. He is soon to be promoted to sergeant. According to Luttmir, the U.S. soldiers are treated fairly well by the Iraqi people. "Last tour, some of them really liked us being there, and then we had the other side that didn't like us there as much," remarked Luttmir. See LUTTMIR, pg. 3

Highway 82 stirring up dust

Record breaking temperatures Monday caused oil to ooze out of the pavement on Highway 82 through town. TXDot spread crushed gravel, which kicks up dust, making that section of town look like the dust bowl. Last summer the routine seal coating maintenance job to the highway turned into a bumpy surface until the end of October when the seal coat was removed and a temporary chip and tar surface was put down. That surface is once again getting very bumpy as shown below. Janie Hartman photos

VFW plans Memorial Day tribute schedule

Deceased veterans will be remembered with tributes on Sunday, May 25 by the Muenster Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6205 and its Ladies Auxiliary. The 8 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Catholic Church will be offered for all deceased veterans. Immediately following Mass, there will be a procession from the south entrance of the church to the Sacred Heart Cemetery. Leading the procession will be the Post rifle squad, Auxiliary officers, and First Communicants. At the Cemetery, floral tributes will be placed and prayers offered for all deceased of the Parish. Moving on to the soldiers' plot, Auxiliary officers and communicants will place wreaths and flowers to honor the fallen men and women of the community. Father Ken Robinson will offer prayer. The closing tribute is a rifle salute with Taps played by Ronnie and Tina Weinzapfel. Sunday evening at 6 p.m., there will be a meal at the VFW Hall. After all Masses on May 24 and 25, members of the VFW Post 6205 will distribute Buddy Poppies. Proceeds from the Buddy Poppy drive benefit disabled and needy veterans and their families. This is an excellent opportunity to show your gratitude to American veterans - wear a Buddy Poppy.

In Flanders Fields

By Lieutenant Colonel John McCrae, MD (1872-1918) Canadian Army
IN FLANDERS FIELDS the poppies blow
Between the crosses row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.
We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.
Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Watch for our Salute to the 2008 graduates of Sacred Heart, Muenster, and Lindsay in next week's Muenster Enterprise

OBITUARIES

The Mass of Christian Burial for Father Patrick Murphy, O.S.A. of St. Mary's Parish in Gainesville was held on Tuesday, May 20 at 10 a.m. at St. Mary's where he has been the pastor since 2006.

Father Pat died on Wednesday, May 14, 2008, at age 60.

Patrick Edward Murphy was born on March 18, 1948 in Chicago, Illinois to Thomas and Geraldine Murphy.

On Sept. 3, 1966, he was received into the Augustinian Novitiate. He professed simple vows on Sept. 4, 1967, and solemn vows on June 15, 1974. Father Pat's first assignment was as an ordained priest in 1976 to Mendel Catholic High School where he served as a teacher and chaplain.

Most Reverend Kevin Vann, bishop of the Fort Worth Diocese, was the celebrant of the Mass, assisted by Deacon Patrick Burke from Iowa Park and Deacon Don Warner, the liturgist for the Fort Worth Diocese. Father Don Brennan, O.S.A., who assisted with ministerial parish services, was in the sanctuary along with Father Ron Scheible, O.S.A., pastor of St. Peter's Parish in Lindsay, Texas. Many other priests from around the Diocese were also present for the Mass of Christian Burial.

Very Reverend William E. Lego, O.S.A., provincial of the Augustinian Order placed the Seal, the Rule and Constitution of the Augustinian Order on the pall of the coffin at the beginning of the Funeral Mass. He delivered the homily in which he quoted some of the school children's letters to Father Pat. Brother Jack Hibbard, O.S.A., a close friend to Father Pat and his family over a period of 40 years, gave the Eulogy.

The altar servers were Matthew Farris, Riley Metzler, and Keith Metzler. The Eucharistic Ministers were the visiting priests.

Both the church and parish hall had standing space only for the Funeral Mass. The overflowing crowd went to the parish hall where a video and audio system was set up so that most parishioners and school children could take part in the Mass. Some of the students from Sacred Heart School were present. Father Pat Murphy taught at Sacred Heart High School for two years, 2004 - 2006. Parishioners from Iowa Park and Electra also attended. Father Pat ministered to them on the first and third Sundays of each month.

Father Pat was assigned to St. Mary's in 1999 and served there until 2000. In 2004, he returned to St. Mary's to reside, but his primary ministry was as teacher and administrator at Sacred Heart High School in Muenster. In August 2006, Father Pat was named pastor at St. Mary's Parish.

The pallbearers were representatives of the Pastoral Council and Finance Committee. They were Garry Felderhoff, Brad Herr, Walter Wolf, Richard Lira, Jim Goldsworthy, John Schmitz, Sonny Privett, John Metzler, principal of St. Mary's School, Gelasio Garcia, Hispanic minister, and Mark Himes, a close friend. The Honorary pallbearers were the parish staff including Sister Mary Helen Fuhrmann, SSMN, pastoral assistant; Bonnie Friedrich, business manager; Sherri Haverkamp, secretary; Maria Colmenero, Hispanic secretary; Annette Fuhrmann, director of Religious Education; Chris Cochran, youth minister; Diana Schumacher, school secretary; Carol Hermes, assistant principal; and Lisa Kupper who is the acting coordinator of St. John's Parish, which is now under the administration of St. Mary's Parish.

Children from St. Mary's School sang at the Mass under the direction of Patsy Henry. The entrance song was "Here I am Lord." The Responsorial Psalm was "The Lord is My Shepherd" after the First Reading from Wisdom 3:1-9 read by Frank Rust. Lori Neu, the lector coordinator, proclaimed the Second Reading from Revelation 21: 1-5b, 6b-7. Other hymns sung by the children were "Be Not Afraid", "On Eagles' Wings" and "We Remember". The family requested "How Great Thou Art", a favorite of Father Pat's. The closing song was "The Bells of St. Mary", the school song.

Father Pat had a written letter about his final wishes to be buried in Tulsa, Oklahoma where the Augustinian's have a school. Father Pat was assigned to Cascia Hall Preparatory School in Tulsa from 1991 to 1994. He wanted all not to grieve, but to have a celebration of life. To honor his wish, the Parish invited everyone to a dinner at the KC Hall where a slide show of his life was played.

In addition to the funeral, there were several rosary services. On Sunday, May 18, at 5 p.m., the Knights of Columbus led the rosary. Then at 7 p.m. the Hispanic Community gathered for a rosary led by Gelasio Garcia. On Monday, May 19, another rosary service took place with the following leading the rosary: Hank Dieter, Chris Cochran, Linda Lira, Kenneth Skinner, MaQuita Gossett, and Diana Schumacher. The sixth graders from St. Mary's School did a liturgical movement to the music of "Angels Among Us". The ACTS groups from St. Mary's Parish sang "This is Holy Ground" after the rosary.

At the 7 p.m. Wake Service, Janet Bayer, president of Pastoral Council, welcomed everyone and gave the opening remarks. The congregation stood as N.J. Roessner carried in the Paschal Candle, the symbol of the Risen Christ and new life. Also participating in the service were Tisha Green, Sandra Richeson, Sara Flusche, Will Bezner, Allen Fleitman, Lisa Fellows, Randy Schmaltz, and Sister Mary Helen Fuhrmann, SSMN.

The following family members were present for the funeral: sister and brother-in-law Bette Murphy Mroz and Bob Mroz from Arizona; sister and brother-in-law Michele Murphy Kurkowski and Greg Kurkowski from Oklahoma; nieces and nephews Cecile Mroz Gresler and husband Mark and their son Kevin from San Antonio; Connie Mroz Sachs and son Ryan from Knoxville, Tennessee; Kevin Mroz and wife Pam from Pensacola, Florida; Matt Mroz and wife Susan from Denver, Colorado; Kristi Mroz Antoine from Pensacola, Florida; Tiffany Kurkowski and James Kurkowski from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The parishioners and friends of Father Pat Murphy will always remember him for his sense of humor and his homilies that spoke of everyday human experiences. He had a love for God, a love for teaching, and a deep concern for the people he shepherded.

it's about doing what's right. We've (MISD) turned out kids that can turn the world around, but not any longer," Fuhrmann continued. "It makes me sick and sad to see what has happened to our school."

After an hour and 43 minute executive session, Board President Ronnie Felderhoff announced that the Administration made a decision relating to the Athletic Director's position and that the Board is backing his decision.

In a phone interview with Superintendent John Kaufman, he noted that the Board supported the decision by the Administration to reassign Head Football Coach and Athletic Director Monte Endres to another position.

Also before regular business began, the Board recognized outgoing Board member Jeff McAden, who did not seek re-election, for his service to the School Board. He was presented a gift and his table top name plate.

The Board then canvassed results from the May 10 election, noting for Place 3, Ben Bindel received 178 votes and Lee Buddy 148. Bert Walterscheid received 215 unopposed votes for Place 4.

An oath of office for the newly elected trustees was given by Carol Klement. The election of officers then took place with Ronnie Felderhoff named president, Jim Endres vice president, and Mel Walterscheid secretary.

In other personnel business, the Board hired Jason Atcheson as a coach/teacher for the 2008-09 school year. Atcheson will coach girls basketball and two other girls programs to be determined by the new athletic director. Atcheson is presently the varsity assistant girls basketball coach at Class 3A China Spring High School and head girls track coach. The basketball team there has made the playoffs the last four seasons, including a State championship in 2006.

The Board also accepted the resignation of Coach Aaron Klement.

Reports given included:

- Elementary: Total enrollment 275 compared to 267 last year. Kids celebrated Earth Day by collecting 568 pounds of aluminum cans for recycling, raising $448.51. Also reported were other year-end events, meetings, and field trips. Upcoming events included Elementary End-of-Year Awards Ceremony on May 20; annual Elementary Talent Show May 23; Kindergarten Graduation May 27; and early dismissal at 1 p.m. on May 28, 29, and 30.

- Junior High/High School: 82 junior high and 162 high school students enrolled. Also State UIL competition results, FCCLA Banquet, Band, Junior High Awards Ceremony May 19, High School Banquet May 22, and the success of the first school sponsored prom in many years.

- Technology: The District's three computer labs (elementary, middle school, and high school) will need to be upgraded after five years of heavy-duty service for a cost of approximately $60,000. Also reported were computer repairs and installations, and the Technology Advisory Committee meeting at Region XI.

- Athletic: reported on Regional track, golf, and softball. The softball team finished 4th in District in their first season on the diamond. Also reported was summer league basketball in Sherman for the boys and Bowie for the girls, 7 on 7 flag football with Sacred Heart and Ponder, and summer workout sessions at 6:30 and 8:30 a.m.

Construction update: Kaufman announced the official groundbreaking at the cafeteria construction site took place. Work was delayed because of bulldozer problems, then a large slab rock on the site which ceased construction waiting for engineer findings to decide what to do.

Delinquent tax collection for April totaled $5,346.08. Felderhoff questioned the amounts the District has been receiving, saying that the amounts are not adding up and the numbers are inflated.

A question arose about the cost of the prom. Kaufman stated that he knew this year would be high, but wanted to make it a good prom for the kids. Normally the classes would have fundraisers to cover more of the costs.

A change was made to last month's meeting minutes, noting that the Ag barn construction of the bathroom and concession stand is to be done by volunteer work, not D&B Construction.

Approval of 67 transfer students for 2008-09 was tabled.

The Board was given copies of the School District's 2006-07 Annual Performance Report. Information included 97.7% of the elementary students were in attendance, with 60% participating in extracurricular activities. Also included were grade distributions, honor rolls, and government test results.

The junior high/high school had a 97.1% attendance with a graduation rate of 100%. No students were retained, with summer school provided for students in the 7th and 8th grades. There were only 14 involved in the gifted and talented program. Last year's graduating class accepted a total of $210,786 scholarship awards. Also listed were graduation requirements and TAKS scores.

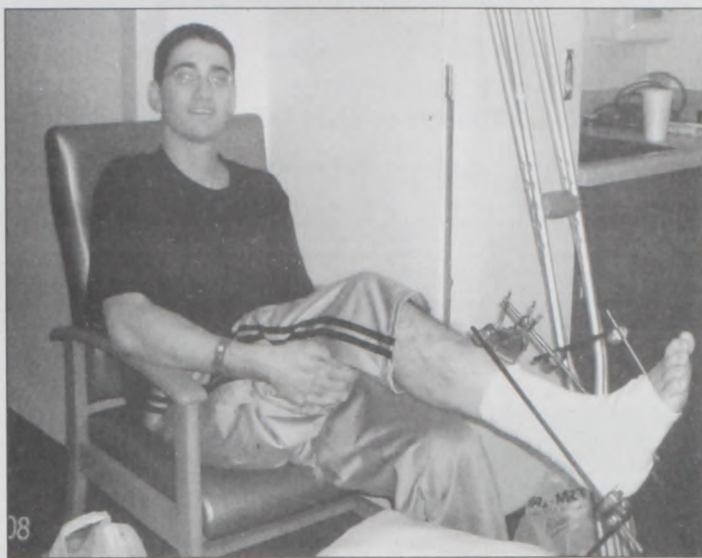

The discipline report included 226 conferences, 117 detentions, 27 in school suspensions (ISS), 6 off campus suspensions (OCS), and 1 discipline alternative school (DAEP). There were no drop-outs.

In junior high/high school extracurricular activities, members or participants included Student Council 28, FFA 55, Junior High TMSCA 50, Band 41, UIL 56 (51 in district), and some numbers in different athletic activities.

In the Texas Education Agency School Report Card, the average class size by subject was between 10.8 and 13 students, with 10.3 students per teacher average.

Teachers in Muenster ISD have a 9.9 year average of experience. The average salary for beginning teachers is $33,928, and teachers with over 20 years $44,734.

A report is available at the superintendent's office for public viewing.

Reflecting on the living conditions for soldiers in Iraq, Luttmeyer said, "They are generally pretty good. You have your bad places where you just live in a tent and that's it." Seasons in Iraq run the same as here, but summer temperatures are extremely hot. He said winter is their rainy season and the highs are in the 70s and lows in the 40s. "It's still pretty cold," he noted.

Jeremiah is the son of Wayne and Cathy Luttmeyer of Muenster. He graduated from Lindsay High. Jeremiah is married to Jennifer. She has a child and they have a baby on the way. The new baby is due in July.

Morton Museum plans A Vintage Wedding

Fresh from its most successful auction in 25 years, the Morton Museum isn't just resting on its laurels. A Vintage Wedding Style Show is planned for Monday, June 2 held at the Santa Fe Depot Museum, beginning at 11 a.m. This show will feature a wedding luncheon, music, and models wearing vintage wedding attire. The elegant affair will be topped off with wedding cake and coffee.

In order to display as many different wedding costumes as possible, the Museum is requesting that those of you who have wedding dresses, going-away outfits, or bridesmaids dresses from the past, contact the Morton Museum at 668-8900 as soon as possible. They look forward to displaying some of their own collection and those of their members.

The setting in the old Santa Fe Depot and the luncheon and music should provide a wonderful showcase for these fashions from the past. The more wedding outfits that can be located, the merrier the show will be.

Tickets are now available at the museum.

Michael Voth is A&M graduate

Michael Henry Voth, a 2003 graduate of Sacred Heart Catholic School, graduated from the Dwight Look College of Engineering at Texas A & M University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Engineering on Friday, May 9. The evening commencement ceremony was held at Reed Arena on the Texas A & M campus. A party and BBQ dinner were held at Michael's home in College Station, prior to the graduation ceremony.

Michael Voth

Relatives and friends attending the party and graduation ceremony included Michael's fiancée, Kate Sepanski; his parents, Danny & Janet Voth; sister, Debra Sicking, and nephew and niece, Carter and Faith; and grandmother, Regina Pels. Michael's Godparents, Steve and Doreen Taylor attended along with other uncles, aunts, and cousins including: Nick, Laura, and Adam Taylor; Mark and Linda Fuhrmann; Clint and Kyle; Stan and Mona Ford; Brenda Fuhrmann; and Sharon and Kennedy Tate. Kate's parents, Bob and Linda Sepanski, along with her grandmother, Imelda Rohmer also attended, in addition to several of Michael's friends from College Station. Grandparents Ray and Lou Voth were unable to attend.

While a student at Texas A & M University, Michael received various Academic Excellence scholarships from the university and the engineering department. He was a member of Kappa Theta Epsilon Co-op Honor Society. For three years Michael served as a counselor for Fish Camp, a four-day orientation program for incoming Texas A & M freshmen. Additionally, Michael and three other teammates designed and built a robot capable of autonomously playing the video game "Guitar Hero." The project garnered first place at the Electrical & Computer Engineering Design Competition.

He was in the Cooperative Education Program with Texas Instruments in Houston and interned with Hewlett-Packard in College Station. Michael has accepted a full-time position as a product specialist with NetQoS, a computer networking company in Austin.

Little Flowers wrap up year with party

On Saturday, May 3, the Little Flowers wrapped up the year with a party at the park. This included a guest speaker, Sister Jeanette, who spoke on the virtue of loyalty, as it applies to all areas of life, including religious life, friends, and family. The girls also learned about the virtue of perseverance, while performing the Seven Corporal Works of Mercy.

Residents of Saint Richard's Villa, making a clothespin crucifix, and compiling a scrapbook of various religious orders. The girls have had a fun and exciting year, and grown so much in virtue and their love for God and neighbor.

Other activities the girls have done this year include collecting money for a needy family, making and delivering Valentine cards to the Little Flowers is an organization of girls ages five and up, who meet monthly to learn about various saints and virtues. They earn badges based on activities performed for each virtue. Directors for the Muenster group are Tina Walterscheid and Vickie Green.

Dillon is the son of Timmy Wolf and the late Denise Wolf.

After Mass, Dillon's dad and his sister Madison hosted a reception at their home in Prosper. Serving as Confirmation sponsor for Dillon was Justin Wolf of Muenster. Others attending included Dillon's grandparents Adam and Alma Wolf of Muenster, Phil Wolf of Leo, Randy Wolf of Grapevine, and Margie, Tyler, and Rae Ann Klement of Bokchito, Oklahoma.

Gainesville Main Street Legends and Lore program is in full swing

The Gainesville Main Street Board is hard at work designating four additional buildings as Legends and Lore sites. The first designees to the program are Dustin Office Machines, Kinne's Jewelers, Sarah's on the Square, and the Lindsay House. Inaugurated Oct. 13, 2007, Legends and Lore celebrates the significant history of architecture in the Gainesville Main Street District. Buildings designated by Legends and Lore markers offer the historical life of the building and the businesses they housed.

Frank and Elvis Dustin purchased Dustin Office Machines, a stationery business, in July 1932 from W.W. Leverett. The business was operated in conjunction with a newspaper owned by Albert Herrmann by the name of the Gainesville Signal.

Kinne's is one of three Texas jewelers listed in the Jewelers of America 100 Club (over 100 years old). The walk-in vault in the back of the store, which can still be seen today, was purchased from First National Bank in Gainesville during the Great Depression.

In the late 1800s, the Sarah's on the Square building housed the Grand Central Saloon, with its upstairs brothel, owned by James Hosapple. At the time, this was a freestanding building, and you can see where the archways were where the wagons actually came and dropped off beer.

Constructed in 1881, the three-story Lindsay House became the leading hotel of Gainesville with its bar "said to be one of the best." In 1948, Dr. William Powell and his wife JoAnn leased the Lindsay House building for his medical practice.

It is the goal of the Gainesville Main Street Board to expand the Legends and Lore tour, awarding the designation to four buildings annually. The Gainesville Main Street Program uses the 4-point approach to revitalization - organization, promotion, design, and economic restructuring - encouraging reinvestment and preservation, and to entice businesses, customers, visitors, and downtown residents to the historic district.

Historic downtown Gainesville is the proud heart of a cohesive community, where the heritage is preserved and celebrated in a visually attractive, thriving Main Street business district. It is a place where the community and visitors alike come to dine, shop, and be entertained weekdays, weekends, and evenings.

Lawn equipment maintenance

Clean Out Debris
It's not uncommon over the cold months for mice and other critters to build nests in lawn equipment. In particular, it's important to check where the air cleaner is located. Look for grass and other dried plants as an indicator. If you think an animal has been in your equipment, look at the wires also to make sure they haven't been chewed on and damaged. A nest built in the engine's cooling fins will cause overheating.

Hartman clan gathers for their 22nd Annual Hartman Campout

(May 2, 3, & 4, 2008)
The Annual Golf Tournament at the Hartman Family Campout, also known as "The Pastures" is becoming a major event. The Championship Trophy and the much coveted jackets have the athletes doing some pretty serious cheating. Oops! I mean competing! There was a tie this year for 1st Place between the Schmitts Girls and the team of Tim Sutton and Doug Hartman. Security had to be called in to quiet the "roaring" crowd so a play-off could take place. The tournament judge, Terry Halbert, picked up at his leisure what a cow put down in haste, and then he stood a "plunger" up in it, and the girls and guys had to see who could put the ball closest to the "plunger" using a manure shovel as their "pooter!" Both guys were disqualified, as they took a couple of practice swings, and both of them bumped their balls, making it a "two shot" putt. Debbie Schmitt Hogan was "unstoppable" as she put it just six inches from the target; thus, Debbie, Vickie Schmitt Fleitman, and Michelle Schmitt were declared the Pastures Champions for 2008. Michelle was presented the coveted white seersucker jacket, Vickie wore home the "brown" jacket, and Debbie proudly accepted the black and white plaid polyester jacket! Longest "Chill" was won by Debbie Schmitt Hogan; The Closest to the Pin was won by Brandon Whyne Bloedel; Women's Longest Drive was won by Brenda Gremminger Cooney; and the Men's Longest Drive was won by Trenton James Bloedel. This tournament grows more difficult for the athletes each year as they are harassed by the paparazzi and the security guards swarming the course.

Winning this year's Smallest Fish Contest were Matthew Tompkins and Mikayla Fleitman. Their fish were exactly the same size, so the judge declared it a "tie!" The Largest Fish Contest was won by Michael Fleitman. Grandmother's Candy Guessing Game was won by Elliot Hartman. This is a very popular contest, because you get to eat your trophy! The Bean Guessing Game was won by Gene Hartman. The Horseshoes Tournament, which has been dominated for years by Dan Bezner and his father-in-law, John Yosten, saw some new champions emerge this year. This contest was won by Jackie Wolf and Scott McMonigle who admitted to doing a lot of practicing, since last year's tournament. Good job, guys! There were a lot of "youngsters" winning some of the "old-timers" games this year. Koby Hogan and Kevin Cooney ousted Uncle Alvin Hartman and Uncle Gene Hartman as the "forever feuding" Marble Shooting Champions. Uncle Alvin and Uncle Gene could get down to shoot, but they couldn't get back up! The Snipe Hunting Contest had a different twist this year, instead of someone catching the snipe, the snipe caught little Miss Tori Hartman. Tori squealed and ran as the snipe approached her, but she proudly displayed her trophy for the paparazzi to film. The Cookie Baking Contest, which is a crowd pleaser because of the samples passed around, was won by the Fleitman twins, Mikenzie and Mikayla! Yum-yum! The twins will share the use of Grandmother Hartman's apron, which is the prize given each year in Grandmother's memory because she made such delicious cookies. Grandmother Hartman was well known for her delectable Sugar Cookies. A family favorite activity for both the young and the old is Uncle Harvey Schmitt's Hayrides. He makes many trips around the campsite to the delight of everyone aboard. Uncle Alvin Hartman still delights everyone with his Trips to the Farm! The children love seeing his cattle and sheep, and there are often baby calves and little lambs for them to watch romping and playing. A grand time is had by all.

This year our family grew by three. Scott and Sherry Wolf had a baby boy, Jacob, a new grandson for Walter and Georgia Hartman Wolf, and Holly Hartman, daughter of Kenny and Rhonda Hartman, and granddaughter of Joanie and Alvin Hartman, married Lance Hillis. Lance has a son, Parker, and we all want to welcome them as the newest members of our family!

As always, the Saturday evening Mass is the highlight of the campout. Georgia Hartman Wolf is the liturgist for the family, and she chooses one or two families to be in charge of planning the Mass and music. The Gremminger Family was chosen this year. Kay Gremminger Morrow and her husband, Randy, and Brenda Gremminger Cooney, and her husband, Carl, planned the May Crowning, the readings, and the music for the Mass. Little Miss Holly Tompkins, who was making her First Communion, crowned the Blessed Mother, and all the grandchildren carried flowers to place at her feet. Jessica Ramos, daughter of Joe and Madonna Hartman Ramos, and granddaughter of Carol and the late Willard Hartman, received a "special blessing" as she will be graduating from Texas A & M in a week. Since the priest is an alumnus of Texas A & M, he was especially delighted to give her his blessing.

Each year even though we use tons of sun-screen, we all go home a little red, a little tired, but very, very happy, very well fed, and our hearts filled with many "Precious Memories!" As the last one out closes the gate, we all have special memories and future plans for the next campout dancing in our heads.

There were 137 Hartman family members there this year, and ten guests. Our wish for all of you is that you and your family are building "Precious Memories," too! Have a great summer! Sincerely, The Hartman Clan.

When you worry...

I'm too tired
Jesus said, "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart; and you will find rest for yourselves. For my yoke is easy and my burden light."

Rainfall reported for early 2008

One of the most memorable things of 2007 is all of the rainfall. The first third of 2008 had more rain than reported at that time in 2007. The heavy rain in 2007 came in May, June, and July. Recent windy days and temperatures in the 90s now have many worried about a dry summer. The official moisture measurement for Muenster is now being recorded and reported by Carol Vogel.

Lawn equipment maintenance
It's a good idea to buy fuel in small quantities because fuel varies for different seasons. If your equipment is also used in the winter, it most likely will have a different fuel type than what is required during the warmer months. By keeping parts clean and using fresh fuel, your engine will run more efficiently. If using old gas from the last season that did not have a fuel stabilizer added, consult your local gas station on how to properly dispose and start with fresh gas.

Nortex Communications awards scholarships to six area high school students

Kaitlyn Chaffin, Laura Heers, Kristina Koesler, Tyler Rohmer, and Whitney Fountain are the 2008 Nortex Communications scholarship recipients. Kaitlyn Chaffin will receive a $1000 scholarship and the remaining four of these graduating seniors will receive $500 scholarships to help advance their chosen field of study. Hillary Swirczynski, senior at Muenster ISD, will receive a $1000 scholarship from the FRED Foundation.

Kaitlyn Chaffin, a senior at Saint Jo High School, is the recipient of the $1000 Gene Henry Fuhrman scholarship. Chaffin plans to pursue a career in equine medicine when she begins fall classes at Tarleton State University. She then plans to transfer to Texas A&M to complete her studies with hopes of one day returning to the area to practice veterinary medicine.

Laura Heers, Muenster High School senior, will receive the Gene Henry Fuhrman $500 scholarship. Heers plans to specialize in elementary education with an emphasis on early childhood. She will begin her studies at Texas Tech this fall. Heers said she wants to be able to make a difference in the lives of young people.

Kristina Koesler and Tyler Rohmer will each receive a Nortex Communications $500 scholarship. Both will graduate from Sacred Heart High School this month. Koesler plans to attend The Salon Professional Academy by A Redken 5th Avenue NYC School in Lewisville and Tyler Rohmer will be attending

North Central Texas College in the fall. Koesler is the daughter of Doris Koesler, customer service coordinator at Nortex Communications AT&T cellular retail store in Gainesville. Rohmer is the son of Alan Rohmer, CFO of Nortex Communications in Muenster.

Whitney Fountain, a senior at Saint Jo High School, will also receive a $500 Nortex Scholarship to advance her studies at North Central Texas College in the fall. She is the daughter of Nortex employee Sara Lanier who is a customer service representative in the Muenster office.

Hillary Swirczynski, graduating senior from Muenster ISD, was selected to receive a $1000 general scholarship through the sponsorship of Nortex Communications and the Foundation for Rural Education and Development, (FRED) a Telecommunications Organization sponsored by the Organization for the Promotion and Advancement of Small Telecommunications Companies (OPASTCO) for their accomplishments for the 2008-2009 school year.

The FRED scholarship is made possible by Nortex Communication's membership in their organization. The Gene Henry Fuhrman scholarship was named for the son of Alvin and Gracie Fuhrman in 2005 and the Nortex Communications scholarship was newly established this year for employees of the company.

"We would like to congratulate these students for their hard work and community involvement and for their scholastic achievements," said Nortex Communications' CEO and President Alvin Fuhrman. Cletus Fuhrmann awarded Livestock Show Scholarship Cletus John Fuhrmann, a graduating senior from Muenster High School, has been awarded a four year $5,000 Youth Livestock Show Scholarship sponsored by the State Fair of Texas. The $1,250 a year scholarship is renewable by maintaining a 3.0 GPA.

Since 1992, the State Fair of Texas Scholarship Program has awarded scholarships to academically talented students who graduate from high schools in the Dallas State Fair Park area. In 1993, the State Fair of Texas Scholarship Program expanded its youth support by awarding scholarships to academically talented students who participated in State Fair of Texas Youth Livestock Shows. The 2008 Youth Livestock Show will be held this fall during the 122th State Fair of Texas, Sept. 26 to Oct. 19, at Fair Park in Dallas.

The State Fair of Texas is awarding 167 scholarships for the 2008-09 school year. This includes 45 new and 67 renewed Youth Livestock Scholarships, and 28 new and 27 renewed Fair Park Scholarships.

Fuhrmann participated in the State Fair of Texas Youth

Livestock Shows in 2006 and 2007. He participated in the 4-H/FFA Dairy Judging Contests and the Youth Dairy Cattle Shows and won numerous places including two first places. In high school he has been an active member of FFA, 4-H Club, National Honor Society, and the UIL events of Persuasive Speaking, CX Debate, and Current Issues & Events. He has held numerous offices in the clubs and received many awards and honors during his high school career and was active in community service.

Fuhrmann plans to attend Tarleton State University and major in agricultural science. He is the son of Arnold and Cecilia Fuhrmann of Gainesville.

Energy Star Sales Tax Holiday

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs reminds Texans that energy efficient household appliances carrying the Energy Star label will be tax free during Memorial Day weekend, May 24-26.

"The Energy Star Sales Tax Holiday rewards Texans for choosing the most energy efficient appliances available and helping conserve the state's vital energy resources," Combs said. "Appliances that have earned the Energy Star label from the U.S. Department of Energy and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency use 10-50 % less energy and water than other models."

The Energy Star Sales Tax Holiday applies only to the following appliances and household equipment: air conditioners priced less than $6,000, ceiling fans, dehumidifiers, dishwashers, incandescent, and fluorescent light bulbs, programmable thermostats, refrigerators priced less than $2,000, and clothes washers, but not clothes dryers. Energy Star does not label clothes dryers, because most models use about the same amount of energy.

To qualify for the sales tax exemption, the Energy Star logo must appear on the appliance, the packaging, or the Energy Guide label. Full details about the Energy Star Sales Tax Holiday are available on the Comptroller's Web site at www.window.state.tx.us.

BUILD A BOND LADDER

The best way to manage a collection of individual bonds is to stagger their maturities and the timing of your interest payments. This setup, called a bond ladder, protects you against a flare-up of inflation and rising interest rates because you'll have regular infusions of cash to roll over into new bonds at higher rates. The same idea works for bank certificates of deposit.

Focus on U.S. Treasury notes and bonds, or high-quality municipal bonds. They're best for ladders because the supply is plentiful and the chances of default are practically nil. Alternate maturities among one, three, five and ten years.

Don't try this with bond funds. You have no control over the timing and maturity of bonds in a fund. Plus, a bond fund will give you a shot at capital gains in a bullish bond market - when interest rates are falling - but your fund shares will lose value when interest rates rise.

Rest easy. You won't lose principal as long as you hold each bond until it matures.

A World Without Enemies

"It would be a wonderful thing to live in a world where we don't have enemies. Unfortunately, that is not the world we live in."

With those words, Senator and Presidential hopeful summed up the reason he thinks either of his potential opponents are wrong in their politics, foreign policy and, simply, wrong for America.

But for the past four days in Louisville, Kentucky, it truly has been as if there was an America where there were no enemies. Across the city, signs, banners, and billboards welcomed the National Rifle Association's Annual Meeting to town. Buses decorated with Oliver North and others seemed perfectly normal in neighborhoods where luxury foreign cars were decorated with bumper stickers proclaiming loyalty to Senator Obama or Clinton. On one busy street corner, women waved banners inviting passing motorists to "Honk for Hillary." Although the street may have been one of the most quiet in Louisville (reach your own conclusion about that), even the hollering harpies seemed friendly when they saw the seemingly ubiquitous NRA logos, show badges, hats, shirts, and other paraphernalia.

It was enough to cause more than one attendee to wonder if these ardent supporters had ever bothered to ask "their candidate" to make a definitive statement on the Second Amendment, gun control and firearms ownership in general.

With the right to carry one that is solidly established in Kentucky, it could not be more obvious that there are disconnects between doctrinal positions in choices of candidates.

But for these four days in Louisville, even the so-called conservative frequently derided for his positions on firearms, seemed willing to set aside the differences and emphasize the points of agreement between the members of the conservative and Republican movements.

"Over the years, I haven't agreed with the NRA on every issue," McCain said, "I have supported efforts to have NICS background checks apply to sales at gun shows. I do not support efforts by those who seek to regulate them out of existence. But I believe an accurate, fair, and instant background check at gun shows is a reasonable requirement."

The final two words used by McCain may actually be the catch-phrase for firearms supporters. After all, "reasonable requirements" are what

Washington, D.C. says are the foundational backbone behind the draconian firearms restrictions currently being reviewed by the United States Supreme Court.

"Reasonable requirements" are the qualifier applied to almost any situation where government officials seek to constrain - if not prohibit - all sorts of things. Isn't it a "reasonable requirement" for fairness that firearms be removed from law-abiding citizens in areas where firearms violence has been a constant for decades?

It may also be that "reasonable requirements" may be amended to "reasonable restrictions" by the Supreme Court in only a few weeks. Here in Louisville, however, it was a "reasonable requirement" that all the differences between firearms owners (hunters versus shooters, long-range versus small bore, black powder versus metallic, revolver versus semiautomatic, et al) be put to the side to concentrate on a larger issue.

That larger issue is, after all, the preservation of our rights. And that preservation brought television and radio talk personality Glenn Beck to Louisville and the NRA meetings. Here, Beck, in his typically colorful way, explained he "don't know my butt from my elbow when it comes to guns" but he understood the underlying reasoning behind the NRA.

"I don't believe in organizations," he said, "I believe in rights. And I joined this year as a lifetime member of the NRA."

The cheering crowd of like-minded individuals ate that up, rewarding Beck as he described the major political parties in none-too-flattering terms.

"Republicans, they've sold their soul to power," he said, "they've sold their souls to money."

"Democrats," he said, "have sold their souls to Karl Marx."

That led Beck to the question that many of the tens of thousands trooping through the NRA exhibition halls have also asked.

"Where in the hell are the real Americans?" he asked. "A lot of them are in this room tonight."

In the five standing ovations Beck brought from the attendees, the amazingly direct Beck talked emotionally about taking his daughter to Princeton University. It was there, he said, he recalled how he once struggled to pay his rent, but was not able to pay his daughter's four-year tuition in full.

"Only. In. America," he said, bringing perhaps stronger response from the crowd of the night.

He's absolutely correct. Only in America can grassroots supporters civilly demonstrate for their candidate while other people who consider that candidate an anathema to all that is good about America pass by with neither side fearing violence.

Having reported elections from countries where explosions, murder, and complete anarchy are the norm and not the exception, it's difficult to take those small snapshots of American life for granted.

These four days, I've witnessed a snapshot of America in the city I once called home. And once again, I'm speaking proudly of Louisville as "the closest thing I've ever had to a home town."

Louisville - and the NRA Meetings were the picture and sounds of civility, hospitality, and fraternity. Not the quality of "American Gothic" or the sounds of great symphonic work, but a photo you wouldn't be ashamed to stick on your refrigerator along with the other portraits of your America while you hummed contentedly to yourself. That's not bad.

Parents urged to get kids off the couch and on the banks

Looking for a way to spend more time with your child or grandchild this summer? Introduce them to fishing. Research shows that most people are introduced to fishing today are more likely to continue fishing as adults.

Fishing provides that rare time when you and your child can relax and talk. Children who are introduced to fishing today are more likely to continue fishing as adults.

In fact, 85% of today's freshwater anglers began fishing before they turned 13. In contrast, only 8% took up fishing as adults - so take them fishing today!

It ain't ethanol's fault

By Mike Barnett,
Texas Farm Bureau
President

Wow, food prices are skyrocketing and it's all ethanol's fault.

How easily that rolls off the tongue. Ethanol. Evil ethanol. It not only makes grocery costs higher, but it's causing food riots across the world which by some counts will lead to food violence soon at your local grocery store! It's a scourge that will hasten global climate change because it's the focus of a new rush to cut down the Amazon rain forest for more cropland to grow more corn to produce more ethanol.

In short, ethanol—once considered the White Knight of the energy crisis—is being considered by many in the national media and at least one major Texas newspaper as the Evil Lord of renewable energy.

I wish I could tell you what's happening. I'm dumbfounded.

Sure, the demand for ethanol has raised corn prices, but there are a whole lot of other factors in there that I'll discuss later. Sure, those higher corn prices have been tough on the cattle industry, but that has yet to translate to higher beef prices at the grocery store. And I'd be telling you a lie if I said ethanol hasn't contributed to higher food prices, because it has—but only by a smidgen.

The real culprit behind higher food prices is $100-plus and rising every day barrels of oil. And don't just take my word for it. Common sense and a new study by the International Food & Policy Center at Texas A&M University confirm that the underlying force driving changes in the agricultural industry, along with the economy and food prices as a whole, is not ethanol, but higher energy prices.

Think about that and it makes sense. Look how everything related to food is tied somehow to the cost of energy. Trucks and trains move the food supply within our nation's border. As the cost of energy soars, so does the price of energy-dependent processing and packaging. As energy prices skyrocket, so do the input costs such as fertilizers and diesel for farmers.

The study concluded that the rising cost of fertilizer alone led to a 3 million acre reduction in planted corn acreage in the 2006-07 crop year, which led to less corn and higher prices. The study also supports the hypotheses "that corn prices have had little to do with rising food costs, but have a small effect on some food items."

The study looks at a whole host of scenarios and has a whole scroll of findings (see the study at www.afpc.tamu.edu/ and click on Effects of Ethanol on Texas Food and Fuel).

But there are a host of factors behind the higher cost of food.

It's a whole new world out there for agriculture. The falling dollar may be bad news for inflation, but it's great for agriculture. A cheap dollar has made U.S. commodities more affordable, and exports have soared, reaching a big time record of $101 billion last year.

Drought in Australia, a major world exporter of wheat, has made that important grain scarce. Prices responded in a big way.

A growing middle class in China, India, and other rapidly growing countries around the world are consuming greater quantities of staples including rice and wheat but also more meat from grain-fed livestock.

Acreage for various commodities around the world continues to shift as farmers seek the best mix to cope with rising input prices.

In short, food prices are getting higher, but if you're looking for a scapegoat, look somewhere else. It ain't ethanol's fault.

TSCRA pays out $1,000 reward

An Oklahoma auction market employee is the first to receive a reward through Texas and Southwestern Cattle

Raisers Association's (TSCRA) Operation Cow Thief, a program introduced last year to reward those who offer information leading to the arrest and/or grand jury indictment of individuals for theft of livestock or related property.

The informant, who wishes to remain anonymous, provided valuable tips to TSCRA Special Rangers Scott Williamson and Ben Eggleston, who were able to recover 13 head of cattle and account for 60 more head, totaling 73 head of cattle valued at about $32,000.

Dale Ritchie has pleaded guilty while Earl Colbert, Jr. and Lethal Wiseman, Jr. have been indicted in Hardeman County, Texas, and await trial. All three are charged with felony theft and organized criminal activity with a possible sentence of up to 20 years.

Williamson, who is the supervisor for the Special Rangers in Region 1, said he is proud to see the first success of the reward program.

"We look forward to getting more public awareness for TSCRA's Operation Cow Thief reward system," he said. "We can accomplish so much more with the eyes and ears of the public, and we are proud to have Operation Cow Thief in place for citizens to give their information and to be rewarded for their involvement to stop criminal activity."

To provide information or to donate to TSCRA's Operation Cow Thief, call 888/830-2333.

Informants may remain anonymous.

AG BRIEFS

Food price inflation in 2007 rose twice as fast as overall inflation. In 2008, food inflation is expected to ease, but remain high.

The USDA predicts U.S. ag exports will reach $101 billion in 2008, a $10 billion increase over the November projection.

Russia allows for importation of U.S. livestock

The will begin exporting breeding cattle, bovine embryos; breeding, fattening, and slaughter swine; and breeding and sport horses to Russia.

Russia will accept cattle born on or after implementation of the United States' 1997 ruminant-to-ruminant feed ban.

Russia is turning to the world market to import livestock and genetics to restore its livestock herd, which has been declining during the last 15 years. The value of these new markets for U.S. exporters is substantial. The new live animal protocols will allow U.S. exporters to participate in Russia's $300 million market for live animal imports.

USDA has worked closely with Russia and other trading partners to establish full market access for U.S. livestock.

TDA market recap

For the week ending May 17, feeder cattle prices at Texas auctions were $6 per hundredweight higher to $4 lower compared with the previous week. Seasonally lower supplies and higher fed cattle prices supported the market, but continued high grain prices limited increases.

Fed cattle prices were steady to 50 cents per hundredweight higher. Corn and grain sorghum cash prices declined on improved planting weather in the Midwest. As for futures markets, feeder cattle and cotton ended the week higher, while finished cattle, wheat, corn, and lumber closed lower. Most areas of the state recorded at least some rainfall, from a half-inch or less on the Plains to as much as five inches in parts of East and South Central Texas. Topsoil moisture was reported adequate to short statewide.

Wheat harvest began in South Central Texas, with 85% of the crop now headed compared with 93% on average by this date. Corn planting is nearing completion on the High Plains with the emerged crop reported in mostly fair to good condition. Cotton planting progressed to 36% complete, behind the average 43%, but ahead of last year's pace.

COUNTY AGENT'S REPORT

WAYNE BECKER CEA - AG/NR

Prepare for the next drought

Even though weather conditions are favorable now, we should ask ourselves what we can do to minimize the effects of the next drought. Because there certainly will be a next drought.

Drought will always be part of the risk associated with forage production, and by extension, livestock production. One immediate, and dramatic, strategy that can mitigate the negative effects of future drought events is to adjust the stocking rate of the cow herd to 75% of what could be maintained based on long-term precipitation and forage production records. This stocking rate should be based on several years' observations of the quantity of forage produced under typical management strategies. There are many ways to arrive at this figure, but working backwards from full stocking is the easiest strategy. Also, do not forget how cow size has changed over the years. If your ranch would run 100 cows 25 years ago, and the average cow size was 900 to 1000 lbs, and your current average cow size is 1250 to 1300 lbs, then you are going to have to cut more than 25 cows to arrive at a 75% stocking rate.

When stocked at 75%, livestock producers will usually not be overstocked during most drought years. This prevents having to purchase feed in an attempt to "feed your way out of a drought".

The 75% stocking rate will also reduce the need to sell cows at a time when many others are being sold. During years of good forage production, stocker calves may be used as flex grazers to utilize excess forage. Calves may come from the producer's own herd or may be purchased or grazed on a gain or per head per day basis. Excess forage in good years may also be harvested and sold as hay, or sold to local hay producers wishing to harvest more acres.

Forages should never be grazed "to the roots" under any circumstance; removal of most or all green leaves deprives the plant of the ability to convert sunlight into carbohydrates (energy) vital to plant growth. Decreased carbohydrate production results in decreased root production, thus reducing the plant's ability to obtain necessary water and nutrients from the soil. The relationship between leaves and roots is critical at all times, but especially during drought. Besides allowing the plant to carry out optimum photosynthetic activity, adequate green leaf residue also reduces soil moisture evaporation and allows for better infiltration of precipitation that is received.

Pastures where there is little or no forage residue have low infiltration rates of precipitation and much of the moisture received will run off. For bermudagrass, a target residue height should probably be no less than 4", other species will be different depending on their growth habit. Some of the tall grasses should not be grazed shorter than 8" to 10".

If you do not make your own hay, drought management hay should be purchased in non-drought years and properly stored. Properly stored hay will retain its nutritive value for years. Buying hay in drought years is a losing proposition. Typically the price of hay is high and often you are forced to buy what you can get, and it can be low in nutritive value.

To stretch limited hay supplies, use corn or other plant by-products as substitutes for hay. Forage, however, should generally comprise 50% of the diet. One lb of corn will replace about 2.25 lbs of hay or use 450 lbs of corn to substitute for a 1000-lb round bale of hay. Be aware, however, that attempting to "feed your way out of a drought" can be very expensive. Don't be afraid to sell the cattle!

Fertilizer is never inexpensive, and all fertilizer nutrients have increased in cost dramatically. Thus, the first inclination of livestock producers is to not fertilize during drought. This is seldom a wise strategy. Maintaining the proper soil nutrient status helps forages tolerate and survive drought. While nitrogen is generally the most limiting factor to plant production behind moisture, phosphorus and potassium are critical for root development, water use relations, and overall plant vigor. Thus, a well-balanced fertility program can help plants survive drought better than plants that are nutrient stressed and recover more rapidly after the drought has ended.

If fertilizer has already been applied, but there has been no significant precipitation, the fertilizer is still in the upper soil profile. When precipitation does occur, the plant will re-initiate growth and plant uptake of the fertilizer nutrients will take place.

If fertilizer has not been applied, the tendency of many producers is to take a "wait and see" attitude regarding a break in the prevailing dry weather pattern. This strategy reduces financial risk but may result in missing the first good precipitation event. Pay attention to weather forecasts and if it appears that the pattern may change and offer a higher potential for precipitation, make every attempt to get the fertilizer in the field before that first rain.

Finally, use a soil sample to help determine proper fertilization for your pastures. With the increase in price, it is more critical than ever to only provide the nutrients that are needed - there is no other way to know what those nutrients are without soil sampling!

A look at forages, hay stocks, and pasture

USDA-NASS provided a bit of a surprise to the cattle, dairy, and sheep industries with the reported May 1 hay stock numbers.

Following the January report, which had larger than expected U.S. hay stocks, the May 1 report also reported nationwide hay stocks above expectations (USDA estimates hay stocks based on surveys twice each year).

As of May 1, USDA estimated U.S. hay stocks were 21.6 million tons, up dramatically from the 15.0 million tons a year ago. Also, based on the stocks reports, December through April U.S. hay usage was less than forecast.
