KMB Makes A Difference in Muenster streets

Saturday, Oct. 27 was Make a Difference Day in the state of Texas. Make a Difference Day is the largest day of volunteer efforts of neighbors helping neighbors nationwide. This event takes place the fourth Saturday of October every year.

Keep Muenster Beautiful (KMB) takes part in Make a Difference Day every year with their semi-annual trash pick-up event. This year more than 70 members of the community gathered at City Park to pick up trash and beautify Muenster. Some adopt-a-highway groups will pick up their areas on another day, due to scheduling conflicts.

Everyone present was taught the "I promise not to litter and to Keep Muenster Beautiful" pledge in American sign language. Members were also asked to sign a pledge sheet committing themselves to uphold this pledge and to practice its principles in their lives. Participants received a free tee shirt with this promise on it to wear at all Keep Muenster Beautiful events and to help with public awareness.

Pledge sheets will be at the library, the banks, and at some stores around town for you to sign if you missed this event. KMB's goal is to collect at least 1000 signatures of citizens willing to Keep Muenster Beautiful by not littering. These commitments will help in the attempt to win the $65,000 Governor's Community Achievement Award this year.

Muenster State Bank provided a hot dog luncheon. Koch Sales and North Texas Dental Associates donated the tee shirts.

Another way to make a difference is to report litterers to the state. If you see someone littering along the highways, get their Texas license plate number, type of vehicle, time of day and location, and the type of litter. The state will also want to know if the litter was intentional, like someone throwing something out the car window, or accidental, like something blowing out the back of their truck.

With this information you can log onto Keep Texas Beautiful's web page and go to "report litterer". Litterers do not receive a ticket from you reporting them. They do receive a Don't Mess with Texas litter bag for their car, a letter encouraging them not to litter, and information about the State's litter laws. Fines can be imposed for littering if they are caught by police.

KMB to give lot a change of scene

A scene of a beautiful German village on the AMPI building has graced our town for 27 years. Unfortunately, the mural's colors were fading and the wall was cracking. It was time for something to be done. Several local artists, including some of the mural's original artists, were consulted on what to do.

Keep Muenster Beautiful President Elaine Schilling was inspired by a wall mural of a French village that she saw in a dentist's office. She shared photos of this mural, and it was decided to add 10 new German shops to Muenster via the AMPI wall. Local resident Laura Marshall accepted the responsibility of being the mural project chairperson. Laura quickly went to work designing the shops on paper.

Sacred Heart Honor Society students worked on cleaning up the AMPI lot with the help of Gary Fisher and Dale Schilling. Dale and Elaine Schilling and Jesse Walter-scheid pressured-washed and primed the building. Laura sketched the shops onto the wall, then she and others started to paint. Paint was donated by North Texas Dental Associates and Community Lumber Company.

Keep Muenster Beautiful is looking for volunteers to help paint. The volunteer criteria is: a steady hand, the ability to color within lines, some painting experience is preferred, time to give, and a love of Muenster. Later in the project, people with artistic talent will be needed for detail work.

If you want to help, call Laura Marshall 759-2066 to see when the next work day is scheduled.

MMH proceeds with facility repair plans

By Janet Felderhoff

After reviewing proposals from different companies to develop an RFP for addressing long-term heating and air conditioning and roofing needs of the facility, the Muenster Memorial Hospital Board of Directors selected a company. At the Tuesday, Oct. 23 regular Board meeting, they accepted a joint proposal from Corgan Associates and Phil Mudd Engineering (PME) to evaluate the existing roofing and HVAC.

Corgan will prepare bid drawings, specifications, and criteria, solicit bids for roofing and mechanical contractors, evaluate bids, and during construction observe installation and testing. PME's service includes performing an evaluation of the mechanical, electrical, plumbing, medical gas, fire alarm and fire protection systems in the Hospital. They will develop recommendations for improvements/upgrades with implementation timelines and budgetary costs.

A lunch meeting took place on Oct. 17 between the Quality Assurance (QA) Committee and Dr. Edd Advincula, Dr. Henry Hewes, and FNP Yvonne Ambrose. Its purpose was to open communications between the Board and medical staff.

"This was to let them (medical staff) know that we are interested in the quality of the Hospital and to let them know that we are interested in helping them assure quality in the Hospital," reported Dr. Walter Knight on the QA meeting. "We didn't really talk about any specific quality issues. We just asked them questions about how they saw the QA program going and what would they like to change. There really wasn't a whole lot of suggestions that came out of that. I think it was a good opening meeting for developing a rapport with them."

Dr. Knight said that they met separately with Director of Nurses Renate Pagel and Judy Flusche, R.N. who do the QA review for the Hospital. He said that they thanked them for their work. "They put in a lot of time on some of those issues," he noted.

A significant suggestion presented by Yvonne Ambrose was for implementation of Electronic Patient Records. Administrator Lynn Heller told the Board that they are preparing to submit a grant proposal to ORCA and if it is received, they could use it to pursue the Electronic Medical Records. He said that the grant includes a scoring system and they could gain a point from letters of support from residents of the Hospital District.

Financial reports were received by the Board with the feeling that September was another good month of solid financial performance. Gross revenue for September was $916,163 and year to date $2,622,468. Net revenue in September totaled $707,300 and year to date $1,932,848. Excess of revenue over expenses in September totaled $194,590 and year to date $424,791. Excess revenue over expenses in September 2006 totaled a negative $19,426 and year to date in September 2006 was a negative $110,095.

September saw an average combined daily census of 12.93 patients or a 71.85% occupancy. There were 16 acute care admissions and 16 acute care discharges. Inpatient days totaled 45 for an average length of stay of 2.75 days and an average daily census of 1.50. Long term care (swing bed) patient admissions totaled nine in September and there were 12 discharges. Patient days totaled 343. The average daily census was 11.43 and the average length of stay was 22.33.

In September 119 patients visited the Emergency Room; there were 354 outpatients; three observation room days, 531 patients seen at the MMH Health Clinic; and Home Health made 584 patient visits.

In other business, the Board:

- Heard report from Administrator Heller on progress of his investigation into what would be required to expand MMH from an 18 bed Critical Access Hospital to being licensed for 25 beds. He is currently corresponding with the Texas Department of State Services, Licensure and Certification Division on the matter.

- Heard that Kevin Reed, attorney for TORCH will review the 22 page contract from CFSI for purchase of Bad Debt collections. This will benefit all rural hospitals. This is a $1500 savings for MMH to not have to pay attorney fees.

- Administrator Heller reported that the Market Analysis report being conducted for MMH in this area is not completed and is being expanded to include the Gainesville area.

Fall Back to Standard Time

Sunday will mark the official end of Daylight Saving Time, so everyone is encouraged to set their clocks back one hour as we "fall back" into Standard time.

This is the first year since 1986 that the time change falls on the first Sunday in November, a change resulting from legislation in the Energy Policy Act of 2005 that extended Daylight Saving Time beginning this year.

Daylight Saving Time now begins at 2 a.m. on the second Sunday of March and ends at 2 a.m. on the first Sunday of November.

Lydia Springer opens local law office

By Janet Felderhoff

Lydia K. Walterscheid Springer opened the doors to Springer Law Office in Muenster on Aug. 16. Her office is located at 204 N. Main Street, Suite D.

Areas of practice that Lydia plans to pursue include wills and general estate planning; probate; property transactions including home sales; business transactions such as leases and contracts, liens, and formation of LLCs, corporations, partnerships, and nonprofits; and some family law such as adoptions and guardianships.

After graduating from Sacred Heart Catholic School, Lydia attended the University of Dallas in Irving where she earned her Bachelor of Arts degree. She went on to Southern Methodist School of Law where she received her Jurisprudence degree. She then was associated with the Carden Law Office of Dallas from 1994 until 2003. There, her primary area of practice was federal litigation involving the Americans with Disabilities Act and employment discrimination as they related to business and insurance law.

"It's just a typical small town practice," Lydia noted. "When you work here, it's difficult to specialize in one small area. I enjoy it all, but I do like business law, formation of corporations and all those things. Contracts and things like that are very interesting."

Several years ago, Lydia and her husband Drew moved to Muenster with their three children. They have two boys Austin, 13, and Grant, nine, and a daughter Katherine, age seven.

Lydia has always maintained a practice since getting her degree. "Even when we moved here, I worked out of my home," she said. "As I started getting busier and the kids finally got in school, I realized it was time to move it out of the home and officially move into an office where people come in at their convenience."

Although Lydia wheels through her day rather than walking, she said she lives a life that she describes as happy and blessed. In September 1989, just a week into her senior year of undergrad, Lydia was injured in a diving accident. She took that semester off, but was back at school for the spring semester. That fall she took off and went to LA for rehab.

Determined to get on with her life despite challenges from the injury that left her using a wheelchair, Lydia graduated the following spring (1991). That July she married Drew, and in the fall entered law school. "My dream was always to go to law school," she remarked.

Recently Lydia agreed to serve on the Cooke County

Family Crisis Center Board. She looks forward to being a member of that organization. "They are trying to get a permanent facility in Gainesville for families - wives and children - who are victims of domestic abuse," she explained. "Instead of moving them out of their house to a safe house in Sherman (I think that is the closest), they are trying to get a permanent home in Gainesville."

Lydia remarked that she looks forward to working with the people of Muenster. "I've grown up with so many of these people and it's really a lot of fun to see them come in with their own families and help them where I can and advise where I can. I'm enjoying it."

Usual office hours for Lydia are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., but she is flexible and will accommodate her client's needs. Her phone number is 759-4025.

Six begin steps to join the Catholic Church

This past Sunday, Oct. 28, at the 10:30 a.m. Mass, six people were welcomed as they prepare to join the Catholic Church. Five individuals went through the Rite of Acceptance for the catechumenate. They were Adam Deweber, Curtis Eldridge, Audra Perkins, Dalton West, and Mistee Reiter.

The catechumenate is the long process of instruction in preparation for Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist. Adam's sponsor was Dave Flusche, Jr., Curtis' sponsor was Tim Schneider, and Mistee's sponsor was Katrina Knabe. Audra and her son Dalton were accompanied by catechists Barbara Rohmer and Angelo Nasche.

Tiffany Reed, who was already baptized in another faith tradition, went through the Rite of Welcome. She will be preparing to make a profession of faith and receive the sacraments of Confirmation and Eucharist. Her sponsor was Penny Fisher.

The rites took place after the opening hymn. Fr. Ken Robinson asked those preparing to join the church to come forward with their sponsors into the church. He then asked each one to give their name and answer the question: "What do you ask of God's church?" After that, the sponsors made the sign of the cross on the forehead, ears, eyes, lips, heart, shoulder, hands, and feet.

After the Scripture readings and intercessions, they were presented with a Bible and sent forth to reflect on the readings for that Sunday. During the signing of the candidates, Phillip and Brenda Flusche led the congregation in singing the response "Glory and praise to you, O Lord Jesus Christ."

80% of goal reached by local United Way

"United Way is so grateful to the citizens, businesses, and their employees for their support and community spirit! This year has been a challenging year for the campaign. The flood has truly had an impact on this year's campaign. Typically, this time each year we are over 90% of our goal. We are thrilled that we reached 80% and have faith that we will reach 100%! We have great trust in the communities of Cooke County and know that those who have not as yet turned in their pledge/contribution will do it now and get us to that 100%!" said Angie Hare, executive director of Cooke County United Way.

This year's campaign was delayed by three weeks in response to the summer flood. The Celebration Luncheon which was planned for Nov. 2 has now been postponed to Thursday, Dec. 6 from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Gainesville Civic Center. "We are

Fr. John Robert to present "The Gospel of Matthew"

Father John Robert Skelton, a priest of the Diocese of Fort Worth, will present a workshop on "The Gospel of Matthew" on Saturday, Nov. 10, 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Community Center. Father John Robert is familiar to many Sacred Heart parishioners since he presided at the weekend Masses in the fall of 2006 when the church was without a resident pastor. Father John Robert is presently parochial administrator of Our Lady of Guadalupe Church in Wichita Falls.

He has been an instructor for the Institute for Religious and Pastoral Studies (now School of Ministry) at the University of Dallas in Irving, as well as an instructor for their parish-based Catholic Biblical School. He has a Master of Divinity degree from the University of St. Thomas in Houston and has given many workshops on the Scriptures, especially on the Gospels.

The Gospel of Matthew will be read at most weekend Masses beginning with the First Sunday of Advent, Dec. 2, and continuing through the following Advent. So it is appropriate to learn who the author was, where he came from, who his audience was, and what message he was trying to convey.

Lunch will be made available for $6. In order to reserve a lunch, please call Barbara Rohmer at 759-2511, Ext. 16, by Thursday, Nov. 1, and leave your name and phone number. You may pay on the day of the workshop.

All are welcome to attend. There is no charge for the workshop itself. For more information, call Barbara, or talk to any member of the Spiritual Growth Committee. This is another of the "Growing in Your Faith" series at Sacred Heart Church.

INDEPENDENT COMMUNITY BANKERS OF AMERICA
The Nation's Voice for Community Banks

Steady, Strong Common Sense Mortgage Lenders

National Community Bank Mortgage Week November 5-9, 2007

There's plenty of confusion about mortgages out there right now, and we want to help.

If you need to refinance a current mortgage or are looking to purchase a new home, come talk to us about the financing options available during ICBA National Community Bank Mortgage Week. That's when community banks across America are inviting current and prospective homeowners to come in and discuss your mortgage needs—even if you just want to help you better understand the mortgage you already have—no pressure or obligation.

Community banks like ours are highly capitalized and tightly regulated. We are, and have always been, common sense lenders focused on doing what is best for our customers and our communities.

And in the current credit crisis, we are in solid shape with money to lend.

Schullys donate rhythm instruments to SHCS in Melissa's memory

Sacred Heart Catholic School elementary students have been enjoying music lessons using rhythm instruments donated by former music teacher Fran Schully and her husband Dan. The instruments were donated in memory of the couple's daughter Melissa.

Melissa Schully was born on March 19, 1968 to Dan and Fran Schully. She began piano lessons when she was five years old, and pursued her study of music enthusiastically. She entered Gainesville Junior High and joined the band. Her first instrument was the flute, but soon she began to assist with percussion instruments because she could already read music, and before long played the marimba and synthesizer for stage band.

Melissa continued her involvement in band through high school, and was named to Who's Who Among American High School Students in 1985 and 1986. She participated frequently in UIL competition, garnering frequent ratings of 1 (Superior) and 2 (Excellent). She went to state competition in UIL her Junior and Senior years. Melissa was the proud recipient of the John Philip Sousa Award her Senior year. The Sousa Award was the most prestigious honor bestowed upon a graduating Senior who had participated in Band all four years.

Meanwhile, Melissa enjoyed playing duets with her mother at their church, Westminster Presbyterian. She often performed flute and organ duets, as well as piano/organ duets. She accompanied the choir with her flute and was an occasional soloist. Her love of music and ministry to the Lord's work was apparent in her joyful attitude and performance.

Melissa was abruptly called home to be with the Lord in June of 2004. "We take comfort in knowing that she has the finest instruments the Lord can provide and is waiting for us in Heaven," commented her mother.

Fran said that Sacred Heart has been an absolute comfort and part of the healing process to her. The students and faculty at Sacred Heart have been an inspiration and joy to her while giving back to the Lord. Therefore, the couple felt it was fitting and appropriate that the rhythm instruments which were badly needed should be given in Melissa's memory. The students and teachers in the elementary division of Sacred Heart have composed lovely thank you notes with sweet sentiments and beautiful artwork to express their gratitude. Fran added, "We are grateful that this is one way in which Melissa's memory will live on. God bless Sacred Heart and the ministry you so abundantly possess."

Stepping into Fran's shoes as music teacher is Clinton Kelley. He and his wife Courtney live in Frisco. Kelley grew up in Palestine, Texas. He earned an Associates Arts degree from Trinity Valley Community College in Athens and a Bachelor of Music Education from the University of Texas at Tyler in 2005.

Kelley expressed his appreciation of being able to use the donated instruments to teach his students. "We all learn in different ways, and music is such an abstract thing that it adds another way for people to learn it," Kelley remarked on using the instrument in his class. "There are a lot of people who are tactile learners. They have to touch something to really understand the concept, and having these instruments helps those kids out tremendously, and that wouldn't understand otherwise and that wouldn't have the confidence otherwise."

"The great thing for this class is that if they can make music with an instrument, then that sometimes lets them be brave enough to make music with their voice or with their body or any other thing. If you just have them sing all the time, it's a twofold problem - they get bored with it because they do it all the time and it's not as fun. And the other thing is that some of them are just not brave enough to just get out there and try. But if you get them into doing something where they are really having a good time, then they don't have that nervousness that they would normally have, and so it helps them open up and experiment and try new things, which is what we want them to do."

Rhythm instruments were donated to the Sacred Heart Catholic School Music Department by Dan and Fran Schully in memory of their daughter Melissa Schully. Sacred Heart 2nd graders are shown enjoying using them during one of their lessons on music around the world. Musique Macabre concert combines music and dance Music and the interpretation of music through dance will be offered in a unique live performance at North Central Texas College on Nov. 4. It's the second edition of the popular "Musique Macabre" concert which debuted last year.

This year's program is subtitled "Heroes and Villains" and again will feature a special guest appearance by the Denton Community Band (DCB) and members of the NCTC Dance Performance class.

The Sunday concert will start at 4:30 p.m. on the main stage of NCTC's First State Bank Center for the Performing Arts on the NCTC Gainesville Campus. It is free and open to the general public.

Dance instructor Michelle Contrino will be choreographing her dancers to several of the pieces to be played by the DCB. They will perform to such pieces as Saint-Saens "Dance Macabre," "American Patrol," and the stirring "Theme from Superman Returns."

"What a truly exciting and welcome addition our dance classes have been to our fine arts curriculum here at NCTC," said Gabriell Fletcher, chair of the NCTC Fine Arts Department. "This concert will also be a preview of more exciting opportunities in dance here at the college. For example, there will be a dance concert on Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m., and we encourage everyone to attend."

Fletcher said the "Musique Macabre" concert also allows the college "to expose our community to so many of the rich experiences" that exist in the performing arts.

"And that's especially true for families with young children," Contrino added. "What a thrill it is, in a live concert setting, to see the faces of youngsters reacting with wide-eyed excitement and joy to their first stage performance featuring real live musicians and dancers."

"With such a competent, talented, and enthusiastic instructor, and a state-of-the-art performance facility," said Fletcher, "I see our dance program growing steadily over the next few years. What an exciting prospect that is—not only for our students but for local audiences as well."

The 40-piece Denton Community Band will be playing a widely varied program of music, including something for just about every musical taste, from pop to classical. Over the years, the DCB has performed numerous concerts in Denton and the surrounding area. The band's annual "Santa Serenades" travel throughout the Denton area with Christmas carols for the person/family/party of the donor's choice, and the annual "Sweetheart Serenade" for Valentine's Day provides a romantic evening of big band favorites played by the DCB Jazz Band.

Membership in the band is open to adult players in the community and surrounding area, according to Fletcher.

She should know. NCTC Fine Arts Department chair is a key member of the DCB woodwind section.

DCB rehearsals are Thursdays, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Strickland Middle School in Denton.

For more information about the "Musique Macabre: Heroes and Villains" concert or about any of the programs offered through the NCTC Department of Fine Arts, call 940-668-3318 or email: woodlock@nctc.edu.

Lindsay 4-H takes wildlife campout

Guests of Joye and Jerry Harrell on a ranch north of Sivells Bend, the Lindsay 4-H Club experienced their first wildlife campout for the fall season on Oct. 20. The club members enjoyed a wonderful hayride of about three miles down to the campsite of a beautiful meadow circled with huge pecan trees.

Club members learned about outdoor safety, wildlife identification practices, habitat needs of the turkey and white-tailed deer, outdoor ethics, and fire safety practices. On the overnight adventure, members toured the area for signs of wildlife, looked for fossils, and participated in a wildlife scavenger hunt while parents assisted or stayed at the campsite cooking meals.

At the end of the campout, everyone practiced the Leave No Trace method, recycled the aluminum and plastic that was used or consumed during the event, and enjoyed a hayride back to the main road. Club members participating in the campout were: Cade Early, Erin Early, Laura Dill, Payton Dill, Alexandria Harrell, Madison Montgomery, John Price, Jacob Sprouse, Breanna Vogelsong, Campbell Williams, Clayton Williams, and Benjamin Zimmerer. Also present were Club managers Marsha Dill and Donna Zimmerer, and many parents of the children attending.

Lindsay 4-H meets for October

The Lindsay 4-H Club October meeting was held recently at Conrad Hall in Lindsay. President Clayton Williams called the meeting to order. Alex Harrell led the U.S. and Texas pledge, Rose Wyrick led the 4-H pledge, and Lucinda Krahl led the inspiration.

Benjamin Zimmerer reported to the Lindsay 4-H Club about the County Council meeting. Diane Hellman reported about participating in Little Hands on the Farm at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas. Kelli Reed reported on the continued support and activities with Keep Lindsay Beautiful. John Price reported on the Bingo Booth that was set up at the Oktoberfest and how the Club did as far as raising money. Payton Dill told the Club about the Extension Office's open house and her participation with the Proclamation by the County Commissioners for National 4-H Week. And Paige Dill reported to the Club that the poster contest went very well and that Lindsay had 13 participants.

The Youth Support Group (which raises money for those showing animals in the CC Youth Fair) is looking for someone to take over the support group fundraisers since Scot Vogel has stepped down. Please contact the Club managers if you or anyone you know would be interested in taking this position.

Upcoming events the Club is looking forward to participating in are a Wildlife Campout, working the concession stand at the Turkey Shoot, National 4-H Week Activities, Share the Fun, Depot Days, and a Youth Support Group. Also upcoming events that the club can participate in are the Halloween Hustle, Food Project, helping with concessions at the Sell-O-Rama, and upcoming livestock shows.

Janie Hughes and Patty Proffitt from Landmark Bank provided information for the Coindexter Club which is a savings account for kids. Landmark Bank also provided door prizes, which were won by Madison Morris and Nicholas Springs, and pencils and pencil bags for everyone attending. Also, special guest for the meeting was Phyllis Griffin, CEA-4-H and YD.

CASA announces art contest winners

Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) of North Texas announced its 2007 Children's Art Contest winners on Monday, Oct. 29. First place winner is Abby Rose Luttmer, a 4th grader at Muenster ISD. Second place went to Cohen Hunter, a 3rd grader at Lindsay ISD, and third prize went to Natalie Alcala, also a Lindsay Elementary student. District Judge Janelle Haverkamp presented prizes to the winners and certificates of accomplishment to each winner.

Honorable mention winners are Andy Dieter, Regan Weger, and Cameron Hughes. "We were so pleased with this year's entries. It was very difficult to pick just three prize winners and three honorable mention winners this year because the artwork is so wonderful," said CASA's Director Vicki Robertson. "We really appreciate the time each student took to create the art that they submitted. We'll take this artwork and use it to further the work for the abused and/or neglected children CASA serves by way of our annual campaign." CASA of North Texas is a nonprofit organization with the mission of recruiting, training, and supporting volunteers as they advocate for the best interests of abused and/or neglected children within the foster care and legal systems. CASA volunteers give their time to get to know the children and their families. They monitor how the children are doing while in foster care, just as they monitor the efforts of parents as they work to make the changes necessary to have their families reunited.

CASA volunteers then report their findings back to the District Judge, who has the tremendous responsibility of making decisions that affect the lives of these vulnerable children. In a sense, CASA volunteers act as "the eyes and ears of the Court" on the children.

CASA is supported locally by the United Way, Cooke County Commissioner's Court, and the City of Gainesville, as well as local individuals, businesses, and churches.

Patriotism lives on

In the cold December days of 1945, Nazi Germany launched a surprise offensive against Allied Forces in the Ardennes Forest in a battle that has become known as "The Battle of the Bulge." In that battle, Sgt. Morris Eikman was both taken prisoner and wounded. In addition to a Purple Heart, Sgt. Eikman was awarded two Bronze Stars. This army sergeant has since become known as Jayna and Kayln Rohmer's grandfather.

the Purple Heart of Cooke County, their mother Cindy Rohmer learned that the Chapter had never purchased their flags because the men felt the money was better spent on scholarships. Without hesitation, Cindy Rohmer purchased the flags, leaving the veterans speechless, for the first time ever.

Upon regaining their senses, Fred Rosenbaum presented Cindy Rohmer a plaque expressing their deepest gratitude for her act of patriotism. Cindy Stormer stood in for her husband, Ken Stormer, a highly decorated Vietnam veteran and member of the brotherhood.

Matthew chugs into 2!

On Sunday, Oct. 14, Matthew Ryan Spaeth chugged full steam ahead and celebrated his second birthday! A "Little Chug" themed party was hosted in his honor at his home in Gainesville by his parents George and Bernice Spaeth.

Guests enjoyed a delicious chicken fried steak lunch prepared by Troy and Dina Sicking of Rohmer's Restaurant in Muenster.

After lunch, Matthew eagerly unwrapped his gifts, (with a little help from daddy, big sister, and cousins). Matthew's expressions were amusing to watch.

Once all the gifts were opened, all gathered around to sing a hearty "happy birthday" to Matthew and enjoy birthday cake and ice cream. He succeeded in blowing out the puff-out-proof candles on top of the cake to capture his wish.

Everyone took advantage of the nice weather outside. Adults visited, while the children took turns swatting at a "Little Chug" piñata to get to the goodies inside.

Video and pictures were taken to remember the day. Guests included Matthew's parents; sister, Geordan; grandparents Walter and Celine Bartel and David and LouAnn Spaeth; and great-grandmother Mickey Spaeth.

Uncles, aunts, and cousins included Godfather, Terry Bartel, Jason Brogden and Emily and Eve; Jessica Bartel, Brenda Clark and Sara and Collin; John and Michelle Spaeth and Clayton and Austin; great-aunt Patsy and great-uncle Eddy Henry and Brian and Jason; great-aunt Rosie Bartel, and cousins Theresa Switzer and Mariah and Abby. Special family friends attending were Larry and Tracy Allen; Godmother, Prudy Bayer; Chad and Michelle Cheaney and Caylee, Ronnie Prescher; Brad and Connie Reiter; Jerry and Sandra Schumacher and Jerrad,

Matthew Spaeth

Jaden, and Justin.

Matthew's actual birthday is on Oct. 15.

On Sunday, Oct. 21, Matthew's birthday celebration continued. The Spaeth family boarded the Amtrak train at the Gainesville depot and traveled to Fort Worth to spend the day.

On their departure and return, friends Ronnie Prescher, Sandra Schumacher and Jerrad and Jaden, waved them on and held up signs reading "Chugga, Chugga Choo, Choo Matthew Is Two!" and "Have Fun Geordan!" as the train rolled by their property.

Once in Fort Worth, Risky's Barbecue was the destination for lunch.

After lunch, the family enjoyed walking through cowtown, taking in the sites and shopping.

The children had fun having their pictures taken while sitting on "Pecos Bill" the longhorn, and with an Indian and his paint horse.

The train trip passengers were Matthew's parents; sister Geordan Spaeth; great-grandmother Mickey Spaeth; great-aunt Patsy Henry; aunts, uncle, and cousins, Brenda Clark and Sara and Collin; John and Michelle Spaeth and Clayton and Austin.

SHCS Dance team snags first place Cowboy's dance trophy

Sacred Heart Dance Team, under the direction of Leslie Eddleman, traveled to Texas Stadium Saturday, Oct. 27 for the Dallas Cowboy's Cheerleaders 17th Annual Dance Competition. High schools and private dance academies from all over Texas came in full form with their high kickers, jazz ensembles, novelty productions, and hip hop routines all vying for a spot on the big blue star at Texas Stadium as part of the halftime show during the Dallas Cowboy's Game December 16. Dance teams ranking high marks will be invited back to perform at this special halftime show.

A select group of 12 members of Sacred Heart Dance Team took first place in the high school, small group Kick Division with their crowd pleasing "Cotton Eyed Joe" routine. The routine incorporated Western Hats as props, super high kicks, leg catches, and jump splits. An area school in competition with Sacred Heart was Bonham High School who took 2nd place to Sacred Heart. The high kick routine was performed by Captain Sunni Bayer, Officer Kaitlyn Felderhoff, Officer Lauren Creed, Officer Leah Hess, Sarah Ratliff, Elizabeth Marshall, Raynee Hogan, Taylor Reiter, Eryn Moody, Megan Hesse, Ashley Cowan, and Victoria Endres.

The 16 member dance team also brought home a first place trophy for their Patriotic Tribute in the high school small group Novelty Division. This routine began with the Pledge of Allegiance spoken by John Wayne to a drum roll, then proceeded into "America the Beautiful" by Ray Charles where four members of dance team perform a red, white, and blue streamer hoop routine and then it exploded into dance team members bursting from a large glittery American flag into a pom routine to James Brown's "Living in America". The members of dance team performing the Patriotic Tribute were all the above named in the kick line as well as Lauren Sepanski, Maddie Hofbauer, Ann Marie Oppermann, and Isabell Ramirez.

As a special treat, the Dallas Cowboy's Cheerleaders performed their nationally renowned kick line and pregame performance for the crowd. Members of the audience who traveled to show their support for the dance team were Bob and Linda Sepanski, Scott and Sandy Felderhoff, Debbie Hess, Kathy Phillips, Melanie and Morgan Hesse, Kathy Creed, and Judy Fette.

Sacred Heart Dance Team is anxiously awaiting the results of their scoring as to whether they will qualify for the Dec. 16 Dallas Cowboy's halftime show. Coach Leslie Eddleman states, "There is a good chance the team scored high enough to qualify, especially our kick line routine. The kicks were so sharp and the dance was performed with such professional precision that they stand a good chance of being accepted. But, if they don't qualify, that's okay. This is a young group and we always have next year to try again!"

Hornets get 46 point victory

The Muenster Hornets traveled to Saint Jo Friday night for a District match between two winless teams. The Hornets hit quickly, putting 34 points on the board the 1st quarter, and taking a 46-0 halftime lead. The pace changed the 2nd half. After an hour and 10 minute half-time field dedication, the officials ran the clock nonstop for a fast, non-scoring two quarters.

"It was good to get a win and good to get the younger guys playing time," said Hornet Coach Monte Endres. "I have to commend the Saint Jo players for sticking with it. I'm thankful that they let us be a part of the (Harley Sewell) celebration and hate that a rivalry will be ending" (with Saint Jo going six-man).

Muenster controlled the game on the ground, running 397 yards, not throwing a single pass. The Panthers had a total offense of 36 yards.

The game began with Jason Luke returning the opening kick 21 yards. The next play, Corey Reynolds ran a 57 yard touchdown. Tanner ther 47. A short run by quarterback Garrett Walterscheid, and a 10 yard run by Garrett Hennigan was followed by a 15 yard touchdown run by Reynolds. The PAT failed, for a 13-0 score with 8:55 on the clock.

After a 10 yard loss and two incomplete passes, Saint Jo punted. Reynolds returned the ball to the 25. The next play, Walterscheid scored. Herr's PAT gave the Hornets a 20-0 lead with 7:48 remaining in the 1st quarter.

Saint Jo gained only 6 yards in four plays, giving Muenster the ball 26 yards from paydirt. Two runs and the Hornets found the end zone on a Hennigan run. Herr booted the point after and Muenster was up 27-0 with 6:23 still on the clock.

The Panthers completed a few passes, gaining ground, before punting on 4th and 13.

From their 39, Luke picked up 4, Reynolds 18, and Walterscheid the last 39 yards to paydirt. Herr's extra kick was good and the Hornets had a 34-0 lead with 2:10 remaining in the 1st quarter.

Saint Jo carried the ball into the next period and snap. Starting on their 35, Muenster took five plays to find the end zone. Luke, Chris Valliere, and T.J. Acuna ran the ball to the 6. Valliere scored from there with 1:26 on the clock for a 46-0 score.

The Panthers were dropped twice for a 22 yard loss before the halftime break.

The nonstop clock the 2nd half cut down the number of plays by both teams.

Saint Jo was held to four plays, with Acuna, Luke, and Valliere getting in nine runs before a fumbled ball was covered by the Panthers. Saint Jo carried the ball into the final period, but was stopped at their 22 yard line. Spencer Nielsen, Steven Valliere, Luke, C. Valliere, and Acuna all made runs before the game ended.

It was three plays and punt for the Panthers, with Muenster starting their second scoring drive from the Pan-

S.H. Tigerettes look forward to new season

The 2007-08 edition of the Sacred Heart Tigerettes will tip off the new season Tuesday night as they host Fort Worth Bethesda Christian in the Tiger Den. The Texas Association of Private and Parochial Schools 2007 Class AA Champion enters the season with high hopes of returning to the Final Four in San Antonio to defend their title. "Our expectations are high as we enter the new season," said Coach Jon LeBrasseur. "We have some big holes to fill with the departure of the class of 2007."

Finding replacements for Taylor Torcellini, Jessica Schilling, and Stephanie Krawietz will be no small order. Returning All-State players senior Lauren Creed and junior Samantha Wimmer hope to lead the Tigerettes back to the Final Four. Floor general Wimmer led the Tigerettes in scoring (441 points), assists (168), and steals (254). Creed led the Tigerettes in rebounding (370) and also hit for 291 points from her small forward position.

Senior starter Kara Felderhoff returns for her third varsity season and looks to conclude her outstanding career with a banner year. The 5'9" swing player hit for 308 points and grabbed 159 rebounds last season and led the Tigerettes in free throw percentage (73%). Also returning will be Kristin LeBrasseur. The 5'6" sophomore finished second in scoring (367 points) and steals (123). LeBrasseur also led the Tigerettes in field goal percentage (55%) and three-point percentage (36%). LeBrasseur was named the top private school three-point shooter by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches last season. "We are very solid at four positions, but we must find three players who will complement this nucleus," said LeBrasseur. "Last season we had a great seven player rotation and we are looking for that this pre-season." Leading the list to fill those spots are 5'9" junior Lisa Miller, 5'8" junior

Eagles fly over Lindsay

In a battle to determine District leadership, the Lindsay Knights and Valley View Eagles, both going into the contest undefeated in District, fought it out last Friday night in Lindsay.

Valley View scored quickly, but the Knights came back with a turnover TD to take the lead. The Eagles scored again in the 1st quarter, but Lindsay had a 2 point lead at halftime. After a scoreless 3rd quarter, Valley View found paydirt, twice, to take a 24-14 victory.

"A tough game," noted Lindsay Coach Cody Bounds. "We fought, played hard, did everything against a good team, but toward the end of the game, they wore us down and beat us. We came up short against a good team."

Turnovers killed the Knights, starting with the first offensive play of the game. An interception by Josh York put Valley View 4 yards from the end zone. With only 17 seconds ticked off the clock, Tyler Noland scored. The PAT kick failed for a 6-0 Eagle lead.

The Knights' second drive began on their 38 yard line. Runs by Keith Hermes, and Hermes passes to Garrett Block and Ross Jones moved the ball to the Eagle 44 before Lindsay punted on 4th down.

Mason Ward got in three consecutive tackles, including a quarterback sack. A 91 yard Valley View touchdown pass play was called back by a penalty and the next play Nathan Martin intercepted an Eagle pass and returned it 9 yards for a Lindsay touchdown. Jones added the point after and Lindsay had a 7-6 lead with 6:38 still remaining in the first period.

Valley View fought back, taking seven plays to move the ball 67 yards and retake the lead 12-7 with 3:48 on the clock. A minute later, the Eagles picked off another Lindsay pass. Valley View got in five plays, the final was fumbled, and Nick Bezner covered it on the Knight 20.

Lindsay got in six plays and punted, but two plays later, Dillon Ott covered an Eagle fumble on the Valley View 18 yard line. The Knights took advantage of the turnover, scoring on a 6 yard Hermes to Block pass. Jones booted the extra point for a 14-12 Lindsay lead with 5:25 remaining on the 2nd quarter clock.

The teams exchanged punts. The Eagles threatened to score, but a pass tipped by Garrett Block was intercepted by Nick Bezner on the 12 yard line. Two plays later, the 1st half ended.

Tackles by Ryan Haverkamp, Keith Hermes, Hweidi Mustafa, and Jeremy Perry ended the Eagles' first possession. The Knights mixed passes and runs for four plays before Valley View picked off a Knight pass.

The Eagles moved down field to the Knight 15. A run past the goal line was called back for holding. An incomplete pass and illegal procedure put the Eagles in a 4th and 17 on the 27 yard line. A completed pass was stopped by Mason Ward and the Knights took over on downs on their 17 yard line.

A 35 yard pass play from Hermes to Jones helped move the Knights into Eagle territory, but the drive ended with an interception.

Valley View carried the ball into the 4th quarter, scoring with 10:18 on the clock for an 18-14 Eagle lead.

The Knights got in eight plays and punted. A tackle by Neil Jones and Ward, and two incomplete passes forced a punt. From midfield, the next play was intercepted by the Eagles on the Eagle 31. Seven plays later, Valley View extended their lead to 24-14, with two minutes remaining in the game.

The Knights' attempt to find the end zone failed and the Eagles killed the clock to remain undefeated in District competition.

Lady Knights take CC District Championship

The Lindsay Lady Knights brought home the District Cross Country Championship last week. The District Meet, scheduled for last week Monday, was cold-rained out and was run two days later. It was held at Valley View.

Taking the Gold was Rose Hermes, followed by Chelsea Hermes, both clocking in at 12:57. Katelyn Brewer finished 3rd at 13:07, followed by Kelsey Hermes and Shirley Hess finishing 7 and 9 with times of 13:56 and 14:06. Also running on varsity were Jessica Block and Bethani Eberhart who crossed the finish line 11 and 15, clocking in at 14:22 and 14:40.

The Lady Knights took the Championship with 22 points. Muenster followed with 58, Era 62, Bland 118, Valley View 153, and Celeste 164.

The varsity Knights settled for 4th place with 76 points. Valley View took the Championship with 55, followed by Era 59 and Bland 62.

7th Grade Stingers come up short, 8-6

The Muenster 7th Grade Stingers hosted the 7th grade team from Valley View last week. In a close battle, the Birds took an 8-6 victory.

Action began with Hunter Klement's kickoff. From their 31, the Birds took eight plays to find the end zone, scoring on a 37 yard run. The extra run gave Valley View an 8-0 lead with 2:12 remaining in the 1st period.

Paul Mouring covered the Birds' kick on the Muenster 37. Runs by Trevor Hess and Steven Flusche gained only 4 yards and the Stingers punted.

Tackles by Klement, Tommy Harrison, Cole McAden, Darrin Spring, Flusche, and J.J. Horsman allowed Valley View no gain and the Birds punted. Hess took the ball on the Valley View 44. Two plays lost 6, but a Klement to Mike Harris pass kept the drive alive to the 21 yard line. Two Hess runs later, and Muenster was on the boards. The extra point failed for an 8-6 score with 2 minutes on the clock.

Valley View controlled the ball the remainder of the 2nd quarter, getting to the Muenster 6 yard line. Two flags lost 10 yards, and a combo sack in the backfield by Hess, Springs, and Harrison ended the drive and the 1st half.

The Stinger offense started the 2nd half, but lost ground and punted. The Birds got in two good runs before Hess got a sack, Klement knocked down a pass, and Springs got another quarterback sack to give Muenster the ball on their 33.

Runs by Flusche were short for a 1st down. Muenster punted, and Valley View fumbled the return. Steven Flusche recovered the ball for the Stingers. Muenster took the ball into the final quarter. Runs by Hess and Flusche got the ball to the Valley View 9 yard line. Flusche and Hess gained 5 yards. On 4th down with 33.7 seconds on the clock, Muenster came up a yard short from the end zone. Valley View killed the clock to take the 2 point win.

Cubs fall to Ponder

Last Thursday, the Sacred Heart Cubs hosted the Ponder team. After a scoreless 1st half, Ponder took a 14 point lead. The Cubs fought back to tie the game with less than a minute to play, but with 3 seconds on the clock, Ponder took a 20-14 win.

Sacred Heart took the opening kick. Unable to gain any ground, the Cubs punted. A roughing the punter penalty gave the Cubs possession on the Ponder 38. Again Sacred Heart's offense struggled. A 4th down fumble gave Ponder the ball. Tackles by Bob and Mark Bartush allowed only 7 yards. A 4th down Ponder fumble put Sacred Heart on the Ponder 42. Two B. Bartush to M. Bartush passes moved the ball to the 28. The Cubs then came up short inside the 20, losing the ball on downs.

Incomplete passes and a tackle by Josh Biffle and Michael Davis ended the 1st quarter with a punt. The Cubs again got inside the Ponder 20 with a run by Clay Hogan, but were stopped at the 16.

Ponder got in some good plays, crossing midfield before the Cubs shut them down. Both teams got in plays before halftime, including a blocked punt by Andy Flusche and John Popovich.

The visitors took the 3rd quarter kick, taking only four plays to move 83 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed, for a 6-0 score with 5:55 on the clock.

A good run by Hogan found the end zone two plays later, but a flag pulled the ball back out onto the field. M. Bartush broke tackles and took the ball to the 14 yard line, but a fumble turned the ball over to Ponder on the 7. Ten plays later, Ponder scored on a 65 yard run. The extra run gave them a 14-0 lead with 55 seconds in the 3rd period.

A good return by Biffle placed Sacred Heart at midfield. Two Hogan runs later, the Cubs were on the board. With 9 seconds on the clock, Sacred Heart closed the score to 14-6.

Ponder couldn't get a 1st and punted. From their own 40, two B. Bartush passes to Biffle and two Hogan runs put the Cubs on the Ponder 31. A fumbled ball was saved by John Paul Hesse on the 13. A B. Bartush to Biffle pass moved the ball to the 2. On 4th and goal, B. Bartush found Hesse in the end zone for the touchdown with 40 seconds on the clock. A B. Bartush to Biffle pass tied the game 14-14.

Ponder took the lead three passes later.

The young freshmen class has also been impressive in practice and will challenge for LeBrasseur's three spots. They include: Sydney Hoedebeck, Haley Hess, Taylor Reiter, Victoria Endres, Rebecca Hesse, and Alexandra Popovich.

"At this time I do not know who will fill those three spots," said LeBrasseur. "I am very confident that someone will step-up, hopefully soon, but at this time the three spots are up in the air." A bonus for the Tigerettes may be the competition of the players to fill those positions. The Tigerettes cannot wait too long for those positions to be filled, as Tuesday night the premier of the 2007-08 Tigerettes will begin defense of their title.

FARM & RANCH

2008 not expected to be year of change for cattle industry

Prices for fed cattle will go up slightly in 2008, according to the prognosis offered at the 2007 Texas Cattle Feeders Association Annual Convention by Randy Blach, executive vice president of Cattle-Fax.

Blach predicted the 2008 average price would be around $92 to $94 per cwt. But, there will be volatility along the way.

"I don't think you should be surprised if we sell cattle into the low dollar area into the spring, and when we're in our biggest supplies, we may very well be trading cattle in the mid-to-upper 80s.

"With feeder cattle and calf prices, they're likely to stay close to the same levels they've been at here in the last few years, too," Blach added.

He also advised cattle producers to expect to continue paying high prices for commodities like feed grains. Commodity prices are getting a big boost these days because the current low value of the U.S. dollar is helping drive up demand for U.S.

wheat, corn, and soybeans overseas, he said.

"All these other markets are demanding more and more of our grains and protein supplies. That's driven by the weak dollar. My point is this: If you think we're going back to the days when we had cheaper grains and cheaper protein sources, it's not likely to happen any time soon," Blach said.

However, the weak dollar can also be an ally for cattle producers as more foreign markets for beef become open.

"I would argue, if we had a level playing field, with the dollar where it is today, we may very well eclipse" the export levels projected for the next few years, Blach said.

As for the size of the beef cow herd, Blach predicted it will be "down a couple hundred thousand head" on Jan. 1, 2008, when compared to Jan. 1, 2007. However, that decline is expected to be offset by an increase in dairy cow numbers.

Meanwhile, the numbers of commercial steers and heifers headed to harvest will remain level, Blach predicted.

"For the last couple of years, we've basically been sitting here at 27.7 to 27.8 million head. We don't see that changing next year.... We don't have any more of them to feed; we don't have any more of them to process. So, some of those challenges with excess capacity are going to continue," Blach said.

He also expects the trend toward heavier cattle to continue with cold carcass weights climbing by 12 to 14 pounds next year.

"We've been incentivized with cattle trading in the $90s and cost-of-gains in the $60s to the low $80s, depending on the region of the country. We've been incentivized to make them big. I don't believe that incentive is going to go away."

Agriculture is 55% of Argentina's exports and the world's third largest producer of soybeans behind the U.S. and Brazil, and ranked fifth in corn.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has a new website for ag producers, www.epa.gov/agriculture/law.html

COUNTY AGENT'S REPORT

WAYNE BECKER
CEA - AG/INR

Winter wheat pests

When planting wheat early in the fall, it is advisable to use a seed treatment to help the crop get through some probable pest issues. It is difficult to make recommendations about the seed treatments with activity against root rots, fall foliar diseases, fall season aphids, wireworms, Hessian fly, or barley yellow dwarf. Pest pressure varies widely, and control is usually not complete. The novel treatments tend to be expensive and are most likely to be profitable for seed production fields. The economic benefits of seed treatments are not as clear when seed is planted later in the season for grain production.

With the recent precipitation and the cooler temperature, many wheat fields are beginning to thrive. While no wide spread reports of pest problems have been reported in Cooke County, a list of possible wheat pests are listed below, along with field scouting recommendations.

Hessian Fly

Appearance: Eggs are a rust-like color, larvae have 3/16-inch long with white legs and no head; adults are gnat-like flies.

Symptoms: Larvae feed on crowns; causing undeveloped crowns in spring and main stem breakage in the spring, just above the node.

Scouting: Look for crown damage in Oct. and Nov. and spring stem symptoms in mature wheat.

Treatment: Nothing to save a crop where infestations are present. Using a seed insecticide treatment, planting after the Hessian Fly-Free date, using resistant varieties, controlling volunteer wheat before planting can help prevent infestations.

Greenbug

Appearance: Pale green with dark backline and long antennae.

Symptoms: Lower leaf feeding causing reddish spots then brown/yellow discolorations and lower leaf death.

Scouting: Scout in early fall and during Feb. or March; typically levels decline in Dec. and Jan. unless unseasonably warm.

Treatment: Look at treating with populations over 100 to 300 greenbugs per row foot, especially in thin stands. Conventional spray insecticides and seed treatments work well to suppress greenbugs; keep an eye out for natural predators like lady beetles and parasitic wasps before treating.

Wireworm

Appearance: Slender, yellow to brown larvae about 1/2- to 1-inch long.

Symptoms: Feeding of seeds, roots, and underground stems.

Scouting: Look for underground root and stem feeding in early fall.

Treatment: Only treatment strategies are seed treatments for seed planted in fields with wireworm history or when replanting due to feeding damage.

Protecting plants from frost

Water in the plant, outside the cell walls, is relatively pure and freezes when it reaches 32 degrees F, while water inside the cells of plants contains dissolved salts, sugars, enzymes, and other substances which act as "anti-freeze." As ice crystals form between the cells, the water inside the cells is drawn out through the cell walls. This causes the cells to get smaller. The resulting pressure and stress may cause the walls to break. If the temperature drop is sudden and extreme, ice crystals may form inside the cells of some species rupturing the cell protoplasm and killing the cell in this way.

A more common means of plant dieback or death occurs when the water between the cells begins to thaw. This causes a flow of water back into the yet damaged cell. If the rate of thaw is rapid, the swelling of the shrunken cell may be so sudden that the cell walls may rupture. This explains why plants subjected to bright morning sunlight after a heavy freeze will show freeze damage - loquat, gardenias, pittosporum, and even ligustrum may die back.

Some plants are less affected by freezes because of their "hardening" ability. This normally occurs during autumn periods of repeated exposure to slowly increasing coldness. This hardening may involve the formation of cutin (the shiny material on leaves), the suberin of corky bark, the cellulose of all plant cells and the lignin found in woody plants. In addition, there is a gradual loss of water so that hardened tissue is drier - less of water so that hardened tissue is drier - less ice crystals to form.

If you are concerned about some tender plants and a frost appears imminent, here are a few tips: In absence of a good rain, water well the day or night before a freeze. The moist soil and higher humidity around the plants will moderate temperature extremes.

Mulch with leaves or wrap with paper the more tender tropicals like hibiscus. Consider a plastic frame and light bulb around special plants like tender citrus.

Do not wash frost off plants the morning after a freeze. This action raises the temperature too quickly and usually damages cell tissue. Sit tender potted plants in protected areas on the ground. Do not leave them in exposed windy locations on concrete. The special plants in pots that are subject to freeze can be brought into the house or garage when freezes threaten.
