VOLUME X

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1946

NUMBER 41

F. M. Shiflet, 87, Of Marysville Buried Sunday

While the Labor Day spirit is still in the air let's open the column this week with a couple of very appropriate quotations on labor:

"The need of a good job for every man is not as great as the need of a good man for every job."

"I am a firm believer in luck, and I find that the more I work the more luck I seem to have."

Included in those two quotations is the essence of national prosperity and personal advancement. The more skill and diligence we apply to our work the more perfect and abundant our products will be, the more of them each of us will be able to have.

Labor Day is a very fitting occasion on which to ponder over the real purpose of work, which is to produce things and not just draw a pay check. An abundance of money has little real value when commodities are short because many still cannot have the things they need. But when commodities are abundant people will have and use more of them regardless of what happens to money values.

Rare indeed among the many labor troubles in this country was the quick and sensible settlement of the Camp Howze strike. The men decided that 60 cents an hour for 40 hours is not enough so they struck for 75 cents and 48 hours. A couple of days later they were ready to vote on returning to work at the old scale until representatives could get an agreement with the employer, but when a 48 hour week and overtime were offered they returned without bothering to vote.

Of course their representatives are still plugging for that extra 15 cents an hour. For which nobody can blame them. If a man can get better pay, more power to him.

But the point is that the men are working. They're producing and earning while they wait for a decision instead of living on cash reserves. If the raise isn't granted they can quit later. Very likely they'll hold their jobs even then until they find something better.

Regardless of what labor racketeers have to say about it, working for insufficient pay is better than loafing for nothing.

A few days ago an economist estimated that two-thirds of the American public's cash reserve laid aside during the war has been spent, and most of the remaining third will be gone by the first of the year. So, according to his estimate, our post war boom will begin to fizzle out in just a few months. Reckless spending will slow down because such a vast number of people will have only what their regular pay checks bring in.

What the man actually meant is that we're destined to go back soon to the "hand to mouth" basis, which is the normal, and apparently, preferred, way of living.

Well, if that's what it takes to make people settle down, we're for it. Nevertheless, we can't help expressing regret over the golden opportunity that has been wasted, the wonderful advancement that was ours merely for the taking. America had money tucked away in the sock. Had it gone on earning money and used the reserve only for additional spending it could have acquired so many more extra comforts and luxuries.

Some day, probably not so far into the future, we are going to realize what suckers we have been. We listened to screwy economists promising the more abundant life for less work. We followed their advice and rejected the wisdom acquired through more than a century of progress. We refused to work according to the old standards, agreeing instead to dribble away the only means by which we could get the more abundant life.

When the low down comes to light we should not be amazed to discover that all this has been the work of conniving Reds. The result accomplished fits their objective perfectly and the method by which accomplished was typical of them. Consider with this the fact that they held the balance of power in many unions. It is easy to understand why they were so insistent on wrecking our opportunity. Had free enterprise been permitted to go ahead we could have prospered to a degree never before experienced—and the Reds could have been knocked for a loop. Communists want us to be miserable and then tell us that capitalism is the cause of our trouble. The ultimate result, they hope, is that we will quit democracy in disgust and adopt their system.

Next to be expected is an "I told you so" line from the Reds. (Continued on Page 8)

SCHOOL BOARD NAMES DRIVERS AND ROUTES FOR BUS SCHEDULE

According to an announcement this week by Herbert Meurer, secretary of the Muenster school board, the following persons have been engaged to operate school-buses for the coming year: John Hoffman, Herbert Miller, Bernard Swirczynski, Charles Morris, Norbert Mages, and Bill Otto or Tony Nogler.

The bus driven by Morris will start at Marysville and come directly to Muenster. On the way it will be met near the Valley Creek school, by a small bus which will gather pupils from the area west and north of Valley Creek.

Herbert Miller will start from his home, picking up children in the Coppertown area before coming to Muenster.

John Hoffman drives west from Muenster and makes a loop in the former Bailey district.

Bernard Swirczynski leaves here and follows the loop south-west of town past the Kreitz farm and the former Linn school location.

Norbert Mages drives east then north, through the Hays area and returns from the northeast.

Bill Otto or Tony Nogler, depending on an agreement between themselves, will again operate the small bus that has been serving their neighborhood and children between there and Muenster.

500 Expected To Enroll At Opening Of School Monday

About 500 children are expected to enroll next Monday when both Muenster schools begin their 46-47 terms. Parochial enrollment will probably remain at almost 400 and the public school enrollment, increased by extension of the district and the transfer of pupils from Valley Creek, is expected to reach 100.

Three new teachers report this year at the parochial school. They are Sisters Gabriel, Alberta and Evangelista, all assigned to the grades. Three others, Sisters Theresina and Patricia in the high school and Sister Canisia in the grades, return after several years' absence. Last year's teachers back on the job are Sister Anastasia, Gebharda, Martina and Patricia in the grades, Sister Eymard in high school and Sister Leonarda in the music school. Sister Anselma, housekeeper for the teachers and newly assigned here, is the former Miss Emma Haverkamp of this city.

The public school has one new teacher, Mrs. W.B. Wylie, formerly with the Hays school, who will teach in the grades, along with Miss Elfreda Luke and Mrs. Daisy Thompson. High school teachers are John Hoffman and Mrs. L. Burchfiel.

Moss Appointed County Superintendent; O'Brien Takes Valley View Job

Hubert H. Moss, Democratic nominee for county superintendent of schools, has assumed his new duties four months ahead of schedule. Last week he was appointed by the commissioners court to fill the unexpired term of Randolph O'Brien who resigned to accept the post as superintendent of schools in Valley View.

Both men's new assignments became effective September 1. Mr. Moss, who has been a teacher in Gainesville high school and junior college for many years, has resigned from the city system to take up his new duties. Mr. O'Brien resigned during his eighth year as superintendent. He had been elected twice for four year terms.

Sale Of Hays School Property Brings $1,276

The auction sale of Hays school property at the school house Tuesday afternoon netted $1,276 for the school fund.

A.A. Otto purchased the bus shed and the central section of the original school building for $1,225, and will use the materials to build a home. Other items of property sold for a total of $51.

Rainfall .73 Inch

Rainfall this week was slightly less than three-fourths of an inch, according to the city's rain gauge. The reading at 8 a.m. Tuesday was .13 inch and the next morning .60 inch.

Tax 'Not To Exceed 50 Cents' Will Be Voted On Saturday

Whether or not to favor a 50 cent school tax is the issue to be decided in a district referendum here Saturday, Sept. 7. The vote is to be held at the public school and the time is between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The referendum became necessary when the previously existing tax provision was automatically nullified in the Muenster-Hays consolidation.

In requesting renewal of a tax to provide transportation funds the trustees boosted the figure from 30 cents to 50 cents. They point out, however, that while present conditions prevail and they are able to support the bus system on a 30 cent tax they do not intend to raise the rate. They propose a tax "not to exceed 50 cents," hence they will be able to assess at any lower rate as long as circumstances permit.

Figured in the proposed 50 cent maximum is an expansion program at the school. Anticipating increased enrollment and demands for increased facilities during the next few years, the school board wishes to have the means available without calling for another district vote. However, those plans are tentative and will be adopted only if and when conditions justify them.

JOE DANGLMAYR — AND HIS HORSE — CATCH A WOLF WITH A LARIAT

Joe Dangler does not claim to be a lasso artist, in fact he's consistently refused to get into calf roping contests and such, but when the chips are down, it's different.

That was the case last week when Joe flushed a coyote out of the tall grass on his farm 6 miles north of town. His well trained cow pony got into the spirit of the chase immediately and maneuvered perfectly to keep the critter out of the brush. The horse did a swell job of herding and Joe did as well at riding until the coyote began slowing down. Then Joe started slinging his lariat, looping his victim on the third attempt.

Having heard about a coyote's ability to clip a rope, Joe did not give it a chance. He dragged the beast until it was senseless than "scopped" it out of its misery.

The community has at least two more cases of men catching coyotes with lariats. About 5 years ago "Nig" Wilson looped one in the Grant pasture west of town. He had to do the trick three times. Twice he stopped and twice the wolf snipped the rope. The third time he kept going until the animal was dead.

Two or three years ago Joe Wimmer roped another wolf south of Muenster.

AGAIN, BALL TEAMS WIN TWO, LOSE ONE

The same old story sums up the local baseball record of the week. In a triple header last Friday night the boys won both their games and the girls lost. Other scheduled games had to be called off because of rain.

In the opener the girls were classified by Saint Jo losing 11 to 3.

Next the boys outclassed Dennis Plets for a 17 to 8 win in spite of leading only 10 to 7 in number of safe hits. The difference was in fielding and pitching.

In a 3 inning nightcap Muenster beat Saint Jo 4 to 3.

ALUMINUM ROOFING PRAISED AS LIGHTER, COOLER, RUST PROOF

Something new in the building line here at Muenster is the corrugated aluminum roof, which, according to the praises of Herbert McDaniel, is destined to become very popular.

Putting up his repair shop a half block south of the highway, McDaniel reached a dead end when he got to installing the roof. Sheet iron was long overdue and delivery was not even in sight. After more delay, he heard about a chance to get aluminum and decided to try it. The result, he reports is most satisfactory.

Several factors, he says, compensate for the 50 per cent additional cost of aluminum. It doesn't rust, so it will last indefinitely. It's lighter, requiring less support. And it radiates less heat than iron.

COLLEGE AND ACADEMY YOUNGSTERS LEAVE FOR 1946-47 TERM

The opening of the new school term will find a number of local students attending classes in distant classrooms. Some have already departed and others are preparing to leave within the coming week.

The first group to leave included Misses Joan Swirczynski, Bernice Reiter and Theresa Ann Hess who left Thursday to be students at Holy Angels Academy in Jonesboro, Ark. The latter was a student there last year and is in the 10th grade this term. The other two girls are freshmen in high school.

Departing Sunday were Jerome Fette, James Bayer and Hugh Endres, students at Subiaco Academy, Ark. Hugh is a freshman in high school and Jerome and James are sophomores. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bayer took the boys in their car.

Miss Martha Hennigan has returned to OLV Academy in Fort Worth to be a junior. Her father, H.P. Hennigan, and members of the family drove her to Fort Worth Monday.

Misses Emil, Fette and Loretta Hartman left Tuesday to enter nurses' training at St. Paul's hospital in Dallas. The former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fette, and the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Endres, accompanied them to Dallas.

Joe Weinzapfel, Jr., is leaving Sunday to enter Saint John's Seminary at San Antonio.

Misses Helen Walterscheid and Margie Ann Endres will be students at OLV in Fort Worth when the new term opens next Monday.

Miss Laurie Wilde will leave on Sept. 8 for Cincinnati, Ohio, to be a freshman at Our Lady of Cincinnati College, and Miss Yvonne Brecker leaves on the 10th to enter Teachers College at Denton.

Misses Johann Seyler and Gladys Wilde will leave on the 12th to continue their studies at Texas Tech. in Lubbock. They are juniors.

Miss Mary Seyler will be a freshman in college at Loretta Heights in Denver, Colo., when classes open on Sept. 16.

Miss Dolly Endres will leave on the 16th to take third year college work at West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, Texas.

Miss Sue Sears leaves on the 11th for Decatur to take second year college work at Decatur Baptist College.

Miss Juanita Weinzapfel will continue her studies at Our Lady of the Lake College, San Antonio, where she will be a junior this year. She leaves on the 16th.

THIEVES CLIP FENCE AND STEAL FENCING AT WAPLES PAINTER

New fencing valued at $150 was stolen Tuesday night from the Waples Painter Company, Lec Henscheid, manager, disclosed Wednesday. It consisted of poultry netting, stucco netting and field fence.

The fence was in rolls on a platform just south of the office and within the high wire fence extending around the lumber yard. The thief, or thieves, gained access to the merchandise by cutting the property line fence.

Tire tracks indicate that a pickup or car was backed to the platform and the merchandise removed through the hole in the fence.

GEORGE WELCH JOINS ENTERPRISE STAFF

George Welch of Gainesville, ex-serviceman and former employee on the Gainesville Register, is the new man on the Enterprise staff. He replaces Miss Emily Fette who resigned last week to enter nurses' training at Saint Paul's Hospital in Dallas.

Football fans of the community will remember Welch for his exceptional performance as a back on the Gainesville Leopard team in the late thirties.

MRS. MEURER TO HAVE SKIN GRAFT OPERATION

Mrs. Herbert Meurer went to Saint Joseph's Hospital, Fort Worth, Wednesday to undergo skin graft operations in the hope of speeding her recovery from burns sustained on April 30. She is expected to remain there from 1 to 6 weeks.

Mrs. Meurer has been recuperating in her home here since July 23 after spending almost three months in the Gainesville Sanitarium.

Final Rite For Robert Yosten Held Saturday

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at Sacred Heart church for Robert Yosten, 63, a resident of this community for 47 years, who died at his home the preceding Wednesday evening following an illness that afflicted him three years ago, but had not become serious until the past few weeks.

Rev. John Walbe officiated at the requiem high mass, delivered a consoling sermon and conducted services at the grave. Burial was in the Muenster cemetery under direction of Mrs. Nick Miller. The six sons of the deceased served as pallbearers.

Mr. Yosten was born in Ridgely, Nebraska on June 7, 1883, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Yosten, and came to Muenster with them in 1899. He had lived here since that time, engaging in farming west of the city until 5 years ago when he retired from active work and moved to town to reside. He married Miss Agnes Swirczynski on May 15, 1906.

Survivors are the widow, six sons, Al, Leonard, Roman, Leroy, of Muenster, Stan and Paul, Fort Worth, and two daughters, Mrs. Tony Wiesman, Pilot Point, and Miss Dorothy Mae Yosten, Muenster. Eight grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, Muenster, and five brothers, Frank and N.J. Yosten, Muenster, Matt Yosten, West Point, Neb., George Yosten, Stanton, Neb., and Barney Yosten, Wisner, Neb.

Mr. Yosten spent the previous two weeks in a Sherman hospital for treatment but came home Monday, apparently improved. He was still up and around his home at 5 o'clock on Wednesday. He suffered an attack shortly afterward and passed away quietly at 8:15. He was of a friendly, good humored disposition and enjoyed a wide friendship.

OUT OF TOWN RELATIVES ATTEND YOSTEN FUNERAL

Among out of town relatives and friends at Robert Yosten's funeral Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wiesman and family of Pilot Point; John Swirczynski, Oklahoma City; Matt Yosten, West Point, Neb.; Barney Yosten, Wisner, Neb.; Mrs. Andrew Korioth Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Korioth, Jr., Sherman; Mr. and Mrs. Al Swirczynski and family, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sicking, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wiesman and son Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wiesman, and Miss Rita Swirczynski, all of Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiesman and family, Pilot Point; Messrs. and Mrs. Ed Swirczynski, Stan Paul and Ferd Yosten, Henry Koessler and Miss Evelyn Wiesman, all of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tischer and Mrs. Justin Jezek, Celina; Mrs. Eva Gottlieb and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gottlieb and family, Azle.

New Theatre Seating More Than 1000 Planned On Lindsay Hotel Site

Gainesville is to have a new, modern motion picture theatre seating more than 1,000 persons. A.V. Wade, general manager of Wade-Tex Theatres in that city, has announced.

Mr. Wade and his associates have purchased the Lindsay Hotel building at California and Denton streets as the site of the theatre. Just when actual construction starts will depend on the availability of materials and lifting of construction restrictions by the federal government, Mr. Wade said.

The new building is to be entirely air conditioned, with a central heating unit. Mr. Wade stated, adding that construction of the new theatre is not intended to affect the operation of the associates' other theatres in Gainesville.

Sickness Keeps John Eberhart off Mail Job Second Time in 25 Years

Last Friday was the first time in many a year that John Eberhart, Sr., failed to meet the trains for his regular exchange of mail. Sickness sent him to bed Thursday evening and kept him there until Tuesday. He has been sitting up since but still remains at home.

This is the second time in Mr. Eberhart's 25 years as mail messenger to take off the job, the other being caused by a siege of pneumonia. He is 79 years old and has lived here for 49 years. Joe Swingler is the substitute messenger.

CAMP WORKERS BACK ON JOB FOR 60 CENTS, 48 HOURS, OVERTIME

An extension of working hours enabling men to take home a larger pay check even though the hourly wage scale was not increased, has been accepted by Camp Howze strikers as a fair settlement of their problems. All but a few were back on the job last week after being idle for three days.

The condition which provoked the trouble was the 60 cents per hour rate for a 40 hour week. The men struck for 75 cents per hour for a 48 hour week, and were considering a vote on whether to return to work on the old pay schedule while awaiting a reply on their request. Before the vote was taken word was received that War Assets administration had set a 48 hour week with time and half for hours in excess of 40. The hourly wage was not raised, however. Almost immediately the men began returning to their work.

Original strike leaders have served notice that they will continue to encourage strikes at the camp until original demands are met.

$260 GERMAN AUTO DESCRIBED AS MARVEL

Berlin. — Hitler's Volkswagen, the people's car which at first was believed to have been nothing more than a gigantic bluff to take money from the German people, has proved, after all, to involve new developments in the building of inexpensive cars. Today, after six months of constant use, British experts are of the opinion that this $260 car with its light, pressed-steel body and its aircooled four-cylinder engine at the back, is nothing short of a marvel in cheap-car designing.

Many of the Volkswagen in British hands have now done between 10,000 and 15,000 miles and are working much better than they did when brand new.

NUPTIAL AUGUST 29 UNITES JOE SICKING AND HILDA BECKER

Miss Hilda Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Becker, became the bride of Joe Sicking, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sicking, in a pretty ceremony performed in Sacred Heart church on Thursday, August 29, at 8 a.m. Rev. Herman Laux, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial high mass.

The altar before which the vows were exchanged was adorned with gladioli, and Anthony Luke, organist, played the processional and recessional, and assisted the church choir in rendering the music for the mass. Serving as acolytes were the bride's brothers, Vincent and Leo Becker, her cousins, Anthony and Eugene Klement, and Alvin Hartman.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white imported embroidered tulle, fashioned with a long-waisted basque bodice, long, softly shirred sleeves caught tightly at the wrist with a band of lace, sweetheart neckline, outlined with lace, and a full skirt with bustle back and long train. A wide panel of lace was inserted in the front of the dress from the neck to the hem. A coronet of lace held her long, lace-edged veil and she carried a white prayer book, topped with gardenias and satin streamers. For "something old and borrowed" she wore a handsome gold cross and chain and carried a pearl rosary, both belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Frank Klement.

Miss Rose Marie Becker attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a frock of pink silk corsette designed with a modulated midriff of wide lace, oval neckline outlined with lace, long shirred sleeves and full, flowing skirt. She completed her costume with a pink net shoulder length veil attached to a band of lace and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Alois Sicking was best man for his brother.

Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Sicking, mothers of the couple, wore black costumes with black accessories and corsages of white carnations.

After the services, breakfast was served to the bridal party at the home of the groom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Felderhoff. At noon dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents to immediate members of both families, followed by an informal reception and buffet supper for relatives and close friends. A dance in the K of C hall in the evening concluded the day's festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Sicking left on a wedding trip to South Texas and when they return they will make their home here in an apartment at the Anthony Klement home. Since returning home he is employed with the local electric cooperative.

Both young people are natives of Muenster, attended Sacred Heart School, and have been active in the youth societies of the parish. He is a veteran of the war having served with the infantry for four years. Entering in Feb. 1942, he went to Hawaii the following July and from there to combat in the Pacific theatre. He was in the Philippines when he received his discharge. Since returning home he is employed with the local electric cooperative.

FRIDAY RITE UNITES MINNA FAYE ROSSON AND IRA WHITEHEAD

Miss Minna Faye Rosson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Rosson of Muenster, and Ira E. Whitehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Whitehead of Wilson, Okla., were married Friday evening in a pretty ceremony performed at 7 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bomar in Gainesville. Rev. C. Frank York, pastor of the First Methodist church of Gainesville read the double ring ceremony, attended by close friends of the couple.

The bride wore a dress of aqua crepe made on simple lines with draped bodice and short sleeves. Her felt hat and other accessories were in black, and she carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Miss Frankie Porter of Marlette was maid of honor, wearing a gray wool gabardine suit with Yosten.

black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. James Gilruth, Jr., was best man.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bomar entertained with a reception, following which Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead left on a wedding trip to Oklahoma City. They will make their home in Gainesville.

The bride is a graduate of Elm high school and St. Mary's business school in Gainesville, and is employed as a secretary in that city. Mr. Whitehead received his discharge recently after serving three years in the army. He is associated with W.T. Bonner in the ranching business.

Over 700,000 Acres In Trinity Soil Conservation Program

(Editor's note: This is the 8th of a series of nine articles discussing the Trinity watershed flood control program, authorized by congress in the 1944 Flood Control Act for post-war operations in soil conservation districts with federal assistance provided through the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture. The articles were prepared by Louis P. Merrill, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation Service, of Fort Worth.)

Soil conservation districts organized and controlled by landowners are the local agencies through which most federal assistance in the Trinity watershed flood control program will be given to individual farmers and ranchers.

All of the Trinity uplands except Collin County and portions of Grayson and Fannin Counties are now in districts which are ready for action as soon as appropriations are made by Congress under the 1944 Flood Control Act. Some of the farmers and ranchers in these districts already are establishing soil conservation practices on their lands with technical assistance provided by the Soil Conservation Service.

The watershed flood control program authorized for the Trinity by the 1944 law will increase the federal assistance to farmers and ranchers. With this additional help, probably from 1-2 to 2-3 of the land included in the program can be treated within 15 years. The entire program is dependent upon the voluntary cooperation of landowners. The watershed program calls for more mechanical treatment than does the present district work program.

On the first of October, 1945 about 3,600 Trinity farmers were cooperating with their soil conservation districts in treating 746,000 acres. As a result of previous work in soil conservation demonstration projects and CCC Camp work areas, 626 farmers have established most of the planned practices on 104,500 additional acres. Also, 20,000 acres purchased by the government in the critically-eroded West Cross Timbers are already being treated by the Soil Conservation Service. Thus the treatment work is well along on more than 850,000 acres, or over one-tenth of the Trinity area included in the program.

Farmers and ranchers will cooperate voluntarily with the soil conservation districts in planning, applying and maintaining measures to retard run-off and control soil erosion. If they desire assistance from the districts and the Department, they will apply to the district supervisors just as they do now.

Agriculture's flood control program will be fitted also into the flood control activities of the War Department, levee and irrigation districts, water improvement districts. Continuation of payments to farmers by the Field Branch of the Production and Marketing Administration (AAA) for carrying out soil-improving practices could contribute toward completion of the Trinity watershed program. Banks and farm credit agencies also can assist by lending money for actual work or for the purchase of equipment and especially by encouraging borrowers to participate in the program.

Many local and state agencies are expected to assist in carrying out the program. For example, roadside erosion control is a long established practice of the Texas State Highway Department, while some Trinity watershed counties also cooperate with owners of adjacent land. Fire control will be aided by extending the state-federal cooperative fire control system to woodlands in the Gulf Coastal Plain through the Texas Forest Service. Facilities of the State Extension Service and Vocational Agriculture Department will be available.

When the Trinity flood control work begins, the Soil Conservation Service will place additional trained technicians, equipment, and other resources at the disposal of the soil conservation districts.

When a conservation plan acceptable to the landowner and providing adequate erosion control has been developed, the farmer or rancher will enter into a voluntary agreement with his soil conservation district to carry it out. This plan will be for a period of 5 to 10 years and may be renewed.

Conservation practices will be applied to a large extent by the landowners and operators themselves, just as they are now doing under the present soil conservation district program.

With respect to the landowners' need for more assistance, the Department's report says:

"Most farm owners and operators doubtless feel that it would be desirable to use their lands in accordance with best land use and erosion-prevention practices, but as a group they have been financially or technically unable to make the readjustments necessary except where a public agency has assisted.

"The amount of assistance will vary according to the financial status of the cooperators and the urgency of completing the program in a given area."

"The maximum federal assistance," the report adds, "will be given only as necessary to complete the program within the time limits. Every effort will be made to obtain the maximum contribution from cooperating farmers."

"The ninth of this series will discuss the benefits of the watershed flood control program."

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Spikes and daughter have returned to their home in Bonifay, Fla., after a visit with relatives and friends. Mrs. Spikes is the former Miss Lucille Lutkenhaus.

Notes On Soil Conservation

By Harris W. Wright

Farmers of the Muenster area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district are learning more about the problems involved in a sound and workable terrace system as they carry out their coordinated soil conservation program on their farms.

Tony Hesse of the West Muenster group has found that a channel constructed to take care of his terrace water does not solve his problem. Two years ago Mr. Hesse hired a maintainer for two days to excavate a three thousand foot channel in his ninety-eight acre field. Rain set in and Mr. Hesse did not get to see his channel. After watching the channel for two years, he stated, "My channel is not working satisfactorily. It is nothing but a gully now and is getting deeper each rain. I plan to plant a grass strip fifty feet wide now and use it for pasture. A good, wide grass strip is the only way I can hope to stop the growth of the gully that has started now. If I had planted this grass strip before my terraces were built, I believe I wouldn't have a gully through my field."

Terracing is not the only practice for a sound conservation program. Soil improving crops such as vetch and clover not only increase the fertility of our land but also provide a protective cover for our cultivated land during the winter months when our land is bare. Hairy Vetch is a fairly new soil improving legume in this area but grows well here according to Al Hess of the Muenster conservation group.

Vetch should be planted in September if sufficient moisture is in the ground. Planting depth is two to three inches and the seed should be inoculated.

Inoculation is very important. If it is planned to harvest the vetch for seed, twelve pounds of vetch and thirty pounds of oats or barley per acre should be planted together. The grain is used to hold the vetch off the ground.

Cooperators of the district who desire more information about vetch can contact Harris W. Wright, Soil Conservation Technician, at the Muenster office.

TWICE A DAY AND TWICE A YEAR DENTAL ADVICE STILL GOES

Austin, Texas. — The fact that dental decay is likely to occur in the mouth of the average person despite proper home care given the teeth, does not lessen the importance of brushing the teeth and massaging the gums daily, nor does it minimize the need for a cleaning and inspection of the teeth twice a year by the family dentist. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that the lack of these measures gives added power to germs that attack the enamel of the teeth and gum tissues.

"If, despite the proper application of such procedures, decay is suspected or teeth are injured in any way, the thoughtful person will seek the dentist's office promptly for the necessary corrective work," Dr. Cox said.

"It is surprising, though, even in these days of comparatively painless dentistry, that so many persons neglect to make good their dental defects, inevitable or otherwise, because they foolishly fear the discomfort they might experience in the dentist's chair," said the State Health Officer. "There are others who having lost a tooth or several teeth make no effort to obtain replacements. Apparently they believe they can get along without them. Reduce masticating power, the annoyance and sometimes actual discomfort of chewing hard substances on the exposed gums, and crooked teeth are some of the possible consequences of gaps in the teeth."

Dr. Cox advised those who are interested in experiencing the best dental and bodily health possible, to give daily attention to their mouth and visit the dentist twice each year, and promptly seek the dentist's services should decay or other suspicious conditions arise between the periodic visits.

USE SILAGE AS GOOD, INEXPENSIVE FEED AND EXCELLENT TONIC

Silage, as a substitute for pasture, is cheap, high in nutrient content and an excellent dairy cow conditioner.

When fed to dairy cows as silage, crops like corn, sorghum, fescue, and red top will yield as much food nutrient as they would have if fed at harvest time, according to G. G. Gibson, dairy husbandman with the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Silage is also cheap, if handled properly, because there is little or no waste involved in feeding.

Silage seems to have a cooling and slightly laxative effect on cows in dry lots and pastures or dry stalk fields, Gibson says, and serves as a tonic in keeping their systems in good working order. As a result, the cow has a better appetite. She will eat more feed, and in the case of good cows, more feed means more milk.

Gibson also points out that the average dairy cow in Texas is fed only one-fifth as much silage as the average cow in other parts of the country. This fact might be a reason why the average production per cow is so low in this state. For each animal in a dairyman's herd he should put up three tons of silage for a year-around feed supply.

MEAT CONSUMPTION IN U.S. INCREASED 10 PER CENT SINCE '35

Amounts of meat eaten per person reached a high in 1944, despite so-called war-time shortages, an analysis of meat consumption in the United States shows. The average American in 1945 ate 10 per cent more meat than he did during the 1935-39 period.

High production and higher incomes explain the paradox — how this country could eat more and at the same time ship quantities to its armed services and to its war-time allies, according to Tyrus R. Timm, economist in farm management for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

One trend in the report of importance to Texas farm families is the increase in the amount of poultry products eaten by the average person. Per capita consumption of turkey in 1945 was 65 per cent above the figure for 1935-39. Consumption of chicken was up 41 per cent and of eggs 31 per cent.

The average person ate about 137 pounds of "red meat", nearly 30 pounds of chicken and turkey, and 390 eggs, last year, the Timm report shows. During the last war year consumption of veal had increased about 45 per cent over the 1935-39 period. Consumption of Wallace Pusch, Dodge County, Wis., dairy farmer and his herd of Holsteins. The cows are grazing on an alfalfa-brome demonstration pasture, planted to beat late summer heat and drouth. Pasture in the foreground is dry native grass, pictured the last of July.

Wisconsin Dairy Farmer Beats Drouth

Wallace Pusch, Dodge County, Wis., dairy farmer, is an acknowledged champion in the annual battle against hot weather and drouth, twin enemies of summertime milk production.

Pusch's armament in the fight was a six-acre field of alfalfa-brome pasture mix, planted in the spring of 1945 as an antidote for native pasture shortages resulting from heat and drouth. The pasture program was set up by the extension service of the University of Wisconsin and supervised by W. H. Henhorn, Dodge county agricultural agent. Seed and fertilizer were contributed by the Kraft Foods Company of Wisconsin.

Pusch's Dairy Herd Improvement Association records speak for themselves:
From May 15 through June 2, Pusch's Holstein herd, consisting of 16 cows in production and nine heifers, grazed on 16 acres of native pasture. The herd averaged 534 pounds of milk a day. On June 3, the herd went on alfalfa-brome, where the 16 cows averaged 595 pounds of milk a day for the next 19 days. This was an increase of 11.4 per cent, and an increase in income of $2.35 for the additional 980 pounds of milk.

The herd returned to native pasture June 22, remaining through beef, pork, lamb, and mutton per person went up seven per cent for each of those meat products.

Shrinkage Sure to Come
A stout gentleman, determined to lose weight during his stay on his farm, hustled to the store for a pair of overalls. He picked out a pair big enough for energetic exercise. Then a thought struck him. "Wait a minute," he said to the clerk. "These fit me now, but I expect to lose a lot — maybe I'd better buy a smaller pair."
The clerk calmly went on wrapping up the overalls.
"Mister," he said, "if you can shrink as fast as those overalls will you'll be doing pretty good."

Myra Man, Bedridden 10 Years, Moves About On Parachute Harness

Stanley G. Chadwell of Myra, Texas, lost the use of both legs in 1936 in an oil rig accident. But he gets around all right in his room now, after being bedridden 10 years.

He asked the Army Air Forces for a parachute harness. It was given him and suspended from the ceiling of his room. Parachute Foreman Ben Nelson at Perrin Field built a frame on a wheel that operates on a rail. It permits Chadwell to move about his room on his feet.

Today he stands as he works and follows his hobbies, hopes the exercise may redevelop the use of his lame legs. — Jack Rutledge in Wichita Daily Times.

Unpatented Discovery

Washington — Private business has no patent on the discovery that when production costs rise, the selling price eventually has to change. The U.S. Patent Office has increased its charge for copies of patents from 10 cents to 25 cents. Reason given is that production costs, including paper and labor, are higher.

Must You Be Different?

A man found it necessary to have his grandfather clock repaired, and because it was difficult to get it transported to the repair shop, he undertook to carry it himself.

The clock obstructed his vision somewhat, and unfortunately he collided with a lady pedestrian, who refused to be appeased by his profuse apologies.

"Why don't you wear a wrist watch like anybody else?" she demanded.

Motorists, if you still have tired rubber tires on your automobile, the Texas Safety Association asks you to keep in mind that hot weather and friction heat from fast driving are hard on those tires. And blowouts are dangerous — more so when you're going fast. So, keep your speed down, conserve your tires and avoid an accident.

An accident does not care what your name is or your occupation, how important you are or how famous. An accident has no respect for your personality or good looks. It is not bluffed by your size or your nerve. It says "phooey" to luck and the law of averages. But an accident has plenty of respect for plain common sense, alertness and consistent carefulness.

Bottleneck

Young Woman (holding out hand) — "Well you please tell me how to pronounce the name of the stone in this ring. Is it turquoise or turkwoise?"

Jeweler (after inspecting it) — "The correct pronunciation is 'glass'."

Help Needed!

"Conductor, will you help me off the train?"

"Sure. But why?"

"You see, I'm stout and have to get off the train backwards. The porter thinks I'm trying to get on and he gives me a shove on again. I'm five stations past my destination now!"

End of Generosity

"Did you say you expect to find another boy friend before long?" asked the blonde.

"Absolutely and soon," replied the brunette. "My mind was made up last night when Charles began to talk about going on a buyer's strike."

Understanding

The new cook, who had come into the household, asked her mistress:

PUTTING OFF REPAIRS CAN PUT YOU IN A BAD ACCIDENT!

A few minutes spent repairing that broken step may save you months in bed — prevent lost time that could cost you a whole year's crop! Do you have ladders or stairways that need repairs? Do you let boxes, pitchforks and tools clutter your stairways? These are common causes of falls — watch yourself!

"Where bane your son? I not be seeing him 'round no more." "My son," replied the mistress proudly, "has gone back to Yale. I miss him dreadfully, though."

"Yeh, I know yost how you feel. My brother, he bane in jail six times already."

Logical, at Least

Speaking before a group of school children, the temperance lecturer placed a very-much-alive worm in the jar of water. The worm kept wiggling until the speaker removed it from the water and dropped it into a jar of alcohol. It wiggled a couple of times and settled to the bottom, dead.

"What lesson do you learn from this demonstration?" the lecturer asked the pupils.

Up shot the hand of an eager little girl. "I know. When you've got worms, drink alcohol."

They say the serjeant married her because her uncle left her a million bucks. But he says he'd have married her no matter who left it to her.

Kith and Kin

Bennett decided one evening to call on his girl. Together they talked of their kith and kin.

He said — "May I kith you?" She said: "You kin."

Cop — "Have you a warning on the front of your car?"

Girl Driver — "Yes, sir, I have a little sign that says 'Dodge Brothers!'"

Helpful Admission

A politician said to Horace Greeley one day:

"I am a self-made man."

"That, sir," replied Greeley, "relieves the Almighty of a terrible responsibility."

Quick Comeback

"Oh, I like the scenery around here," observed the vacationist, "but the people up here are queer."

"Wa-al, yes, that's so," replied the native. "But one good thing, most of them go back home about September."

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bezner and children of Detroit, Mich., are here for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bezner.

Rev. Francis Zimmerer came in from Wellington and was here Sunday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I.A. Zimmerer and family.

Miss Margaret Gruber visited during the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F.J. Gruber and family. She is employed in Fort Worth.

Miss Dorothy Beyer, a student at a business college in Fort Worth, spent from Friday through Monday here with her mother, Mrs. Adam Beyer and family.

Miss Rita Voth of Muenster and her nephew, Willard Zimmerer of Gainesville spent Wednesday with Miss Voth's sister, Mrs. Albert Kubis and family.

Friends of Ben Sandmann were happy to see him in church and around town Sunday for the first time following a long illness and operation.

Tech. Sgt. Ernest Arendt of Fort Sill, Okla., spent the holiday weekend and Monday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt and family.

Hubert Neu and Donald Hermes will return to classes at St. John's Seminary, San Antonio, on Sept. 7 to continue their studies. They are sons of Messrs. and Mrs. Joe J. Neu and Joe Hermes.

Mrs. Paul Arendt had her ten-year-old son, Vincent, removed from St. Vincent's hospital in Sherman last Friday and was moved home Saturday. Her condition is good but she will be confined to her home for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kupper announce the birth of a son, James Robert, at the Muenster clinic on Thursday, Aug. 29. The infant was baptized here by Father Conrad Sunday afternoon with Robert Kupper and Mrs. Elmo Gore of Lawton, Okla., as sponsors. The baby's grandparents are Joe Kupper and Mrs. Joe F. Neu.

Leaving Monday to attend classes at Subiaco, Ark., for the coming term were: William Fuhrmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.S. Fuhrmann; Linus Fuhrmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Fuhrmann; Leroy Schmitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schmitz; Bernard Fuhrmann, son of Mr. and Mrs.

JOE FISHER, SR. RETURNS FROM EXTENDED TRIP

Joe Fisher, Sr. returned to Muenster Sunday after being away since July 22, on an extended tour. He visited relatives and old friends and saw many scenic wonders and famous architectural structures.

At Boys Town, Neb., he enjoyed visiting Father Flanagan's Home and saw Miss Anna Hoenig, a local young lady, employed there; in Westphalia, Iowa, he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henschel and family; in Chicago, Ill., and Grand Rapids, Mich., he visited relatives and friends and took a boat from Muskegon to Milwaukee. After visiting there he went to Chippewa Falls, La-Crosse and Cassville, Wis.

In Cassville he visited the scene of his birth for the first time in 66 years, and went from there to the Dakotas. In Dimock, S.D., he was the guest of the Unterer families, formerly of this city, and in Mitchell he visited Tony Lehnertz. In Jamestown and Bismarck, N.D., he visited friends, and enjoyed a trip to the "Bad Lands" and a tour of Teddy Roosevelt's famous Rough Riders Ranch. In Miles City, Mont., he visited friends.

In Spokane, Wash., he was the guest of the Joe Klement family, formerly of Muenster, and visited two other former Muensterites, Pete Delle and Pete Sonntag. In Washuena he was the guest of the Charles Schmitt family, formerly of this city. Sightseeing at Grand Coulee Dam, Wash., in Salt Lake City, and in Denver, Colorado, brought his tour to a close. He visited relatives and friends in Amarillo on the last lap of his trip.

FALL PASTURE OF SMALL GRAINS WILL BOOST MILK YIELDS

Sharply increased returns in milk dollars will result from the seeding of small grains for fall and spring pasture at this time, according to Oscar Butler, farm adviser for the Kraft Foods Company.

Pointing out the necessity for improved pastures to insure continued high milk production, he urged farmers to seed at least an acre of small grain per cow and to get seedlings in as soon as possible.

Demonstrations of the value of small grains for pasture have shown that for every dollar spent in seed and fertilizer, up to five or six dollars can be realized in increased milk volume, Butler said.

"Demand for milk and milk products has held even higher than we thought it would," he said. "Because of this demand, it is essential that we increase milk production during the fall and winter months when production is lowest. This can be done through the use of small grain pastures, such as rye, barley or wheat. And it also will mean that heavy production will start earlier next spring.

Renovating native pastures at this time of year will also pay dividends in increased milk production next spring and summer, Butler said. Application of fertilizer and soil liming, on a recommended basis to be determined by soil tests, will pay back three or four to one in increased milk volume, he said.

About the time the going gets a little tougher they'll be saying, "See, the system of free enterprise and democracy is folding up. It muffed its wonderful reconversion opportunity and it's got you living hand to mouth today."

Let's hope that before that day comes the American public will wise up to real issues. If so, it can reply, "Democracy has not failed but we have and your conning scheme was the only cause of our failure. Now that we know the score we're going to boot you all the way out of the country."

While national conditions like that are disappointing, a person can still derive a bit of satisfaction from the more favorable condition of our own little community circle. The cash reserve acquired during the war is still pretty much intact around here. Regardless of national trends we're going to have a taste of that more abundant life. Whoever doesn't think so just watch about the time when things start going back to normal. We'll be getting lots of extra items with our savings and we'll make a darn good living besides, because we'll be doing lots of work.

Who knows, maybe this anticipated return to a hand to mouth basis is the very thing we've been waiting for, that is, if it means a return to serious business.

PETROLEUM INDUSTRY IN TEXAS SUPPORTS ALMOST A MILLION

Dallas, Texas. — Nearly 900,000 Texans get their living directly from the petroleum industry, figures just compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association show.

This huge Texas petroleum family, scattered throughout the State, is made up of 211,225 workers who with their dependents total 837,145 Texans. The wage earners of this group last year received $560,000,000 in wages and salaries, or virtually 39c of every dollar spent by the Texas petroleum industry.

Texas farmers, ranchers and other land-owners received $215,000,000 last year in oil and gas lease and royalty payments. State and local tax collectors took $95,502,000, much of which went for salaries of teachers, public officials and their employees while $65,000,000 was paid the Federal government, for a total 1945 tax bill of $180,502,000. This did not include gasoline taxes paid by the motoring public on the industry's principal product.

The Texas petroleum industry paid out a total of $946,536,000 last year for wages and salaries, lease and royalty payments, State and local taxes, contract drilling and geophysical prospecting, most of which went directly to Texans. These expenditures represent 65c of every dollar spent by the industry.

The average individual has approximately 3,500 square inches of skin.
