Facility planned to replace Fair Barn leveled by storm

With a 34% increase expected in the County's population, more demand is anticipated for use of the Fairgrounds Show Barn. Due to that, work was in progress to apply for grants. Grant money was to have been used to expand by adding buildings.

Then last April 28, a violent storm destroyed the Fair Barn. All that remained usable were a few pens.

Loss of the Fairgrounds Barn left a void. Organizations such as Cooke County 4-H and Cooke County Youth Fair relied on that facility to hold their annual shows. Both involved youths from across the County. This year's Youth Fair, held every March, will take place at an arena north of Muenster.

Don Hunter, president of the Cooke County Fair

Association, reports that the Fair Association Board has drawn up preliminary plans for a new multi purpose facility. It is about 80,000 square feet and includes an arena, exhibit hall, and outside covered area. He said that the Fair Association wants to build a facility that will benefit the whole county and accommodate many types of events.

The old building was used for activities such as the Youth Fair, livestock shows, disaster relief for the Frank Buck Zoo, safety camps, Halloween carnivals, arts and crafts, dog shows, educational workshops, Hunters Rally, sales and auctions, and other youth events. Future uses that a new facility will accommodate include equine events, banquet hall, receptions, trade days, flea markets, car shows, sporting events, and school activities.

What is the cost of such a multi purpose facility? According to Hunter between $1.5 and $3 million, depending on the structure that is chosen.

Hunter said that the Association hopes to pay for the future building through tax deductible donations from the public, fund raisers, and grants. "There is some seed money from storm damage insurance, but it isn't close to what is needed," he noted. Also, he said that they have found that grant money isn't easily obtained to fund building the facility, but is more readily available for things inside of the building.

Hunter said that the new facility is needed. He thinks that it will bring big events into Cooke County. The Association's goal is to have a facility that will be used by the whole county, not just Gainesville.

The Cooke County Fair Association is separate from the Youth Fair Board clarified Hunter, who said many people think they are the same. "The Fair Association is one of the oldest organizations in the County, but a lot of people don't know about it," he added. It is a non profit group. Members are all volunteers and there is currently no paid staff. He said that at some point the group may have an employee on site at the Fair Barn.

"We are asking for the support of the people in the county because it is something we can all use in the county," said Hunter. Anyone wishing to help either through contributions or assisting at fund raisers should contact County Agent Wayne Becker at 668-5413 or Hunter at 665-2495.

Currently serving on the Fair Association Board are Hunter, Jeff Hellman, Frank Haverkamp, Gene Pelzel, Alan Baldwin, Linda Ellender, Charlotte Dangelmayr, Milton Ward, Mike

KMB crew braves cold for Lake cleanup/ reforestation project

More than 50 citizens of Muenster braved the cold winds (35 degrees minus chill factor) on Saturday, Feb. 17, to volunteer their services to Keep Muenster Beautiful's (KMB) Lake cleanup and reforestation project. The group met at the Muenster Lake at 8:45 a.m. where they were briefed by Project Manager Gary Fisher on the jobs to be accomplished. Three teams were organized.

One team was the tree planters. They planted 200 pecan and oak saplings on the east side of the dam. One third of these trees were tagged as a part of a fertilizer experiment. The state required that trees be planted at the lake to replace those that will be destroyed by the lake filling. A smaller group marked the area where the Muenster Water District recently planted 4,100 trees to protect the saplings from future mowing and weed spraying.

A second team was assigned fence removal duties. The fencing would be in about five feet of water along the lake's shore line if it weren't removed. For safety reasons it was essential to do this project. This group pulled out fence posts and rolled up barb wire. The group was greatly assisted by Carl Alford and his tractor. Another team worked on removing debris from what was once a dump. The dump is an environmental hazard, and it is located where the City hopes to have a walking trail someday. The dump is a huge area which has an old car, washers, bed springs, bailing wire, tires, pipes, building supplies, and much more. It was decided that the task was too big to do by hand and that a dozer would be needed to clear the area.

A lot of work was done in three hours which equals approximately 150 volunteer hours, at a saving of more than $3,150.00 to the City for labor and equipment.

Fisher remarked, "The Keep Muenster Beautiful member group from Sacred Heart School had the best turnout, making up 37 of the registered volunteers. An absolutely wonderful turnout. Other volunteers came from the Boy Scouts, City of Muenster, Water Board, and KMB."

It is not too late to get involved. Keep Muenster Beautiful is planning a second cleanup day at the new lake on March 10, with a March 17 rain date. Meet at the east end of the lake at 8:45. There is still more fence to be removed, and more work to do at the dump site. If anyone with a dozer and/or a backhoe would be willing to donate their time and equipment to this project, please contact Gary Fisher, KMB lake project manager, or Pat Stelzer, Water District Board member. The water is filling up at the lake and it is important that these projects be completed soon.

Ask the City Planner: Defining an entrepreneur

By Bonham City Planner Mike Walthall

As a service to the community, these articles are written to inform the public about important and timely issues in Bonham. I hope this information is helpful to you and that you will pass it along to someone else who can use it.

1. What is an Entrepreneur?

An entrepreneur, in simple terms, is a person who starts his or her business to earn a profit. The more difficult question is, "What does it take to become a successful entrepreneur?" To be a success as a business owner, you must fill a need, know your customer and product, be creative and innovative, and believe in yourself. In filling a need you need to know who are your potential competitors? That is, how many other businesses are already out there selling a similar product or providing the same service? Is there a demand for your product and room for you in the market?

Who will buy your product? Are you an expert on everything about your product or service? There are lots of companies with standard, traditional products and services. What is different about yours to attract customers? Finally, identify the skills and interests you have and work to improve them. Believe that you will succeed regardless of the hardships you face.

As an entrepreneur and business owner, no one will tell you what to do. You will have to develop projects and products, organize your time, and follow through on detail. You will have to get along with many different types of people: customers, staff, suppliers, and bankers. You will have to make lots of decisions and make them quickly and correctly. And short work weeks? Forget it. Entrepreneurs frequently work seven days a week, 12 or more hours a day.

But the payoffs can be huge. You get to be your own boss. It can be exciting to start a new business or develop a new product. You can make full use of your creative side. And if the business is successful, the long days will pay off in more income for you personally, not for someone else.

If you think that entrepreneurship may be in your future or if you already have a small business, but have some concerns about its future success, that's where NTEP comes in. Over the last few years, the North Texas Enterprise Project (NTEP) has been advertising, writing about, talking about, and helping entrepreneurs and or small business owners throughout Fannin County and Muenster with their ideas, business plans, marketing endeavors, and financial concerns to get them on track to start or grow their business. NTEP is not really a project, but a nonprofit organization devoted to making your business successful. We have a board of about 60 persons representing Fannin County and the City of Muenster. Melvin Hall is our Facilitator and the person you should call for a free, confidential consultation about your business or entrepreneurial ideas. His number is 903-227-1649. Call him.

We want you to be successful. If you're successful, your business contributes to the success and economic growth of our County and Cities. It's economic development starting from the ground up rather than from the top down (larger companies). Both types are needed and both types are welcome. Either way, we all need to work together to get to where we're going.

"To accomplish great things, we must not only act, but also dream; not only plan, but also believe." — Anatole France

If you have questions about what's going on in the City, please submit your questions in writing to Mike Walthall, Development Services Coordinator, 301 E. Fifth, Bonham, Texas 75418. Phone: 903/583-7555 or FAX 903/583-5761. Email me at mikewalthall@cableone.net.

50 years celebrated by Fr. Ron Scheible

Fr. Ronald Scheible, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church in Lindsay, was the center of the celebration on the occasion of the Fiftieth Anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. Fr. Ron's actual anniversary date is Feb. 9.

The occasion began with Father celebrating Mass for his parishioners at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 5. Father Jerry Ryan con-celebrated. In his homily, Father gave reference to how God had led him to where he was meant to be with the help of those who were a part of his life: parents, grandparents, his Catholic school teachers who were nuns, the priests he served Mass altar under, etc.

Fr. Ronald Scheible was born Jan. 7, 1931 to George E. and Miriam Scheible. He was raised in Lebanon, Pennsylvania along with his sister Joan. After being encouraged by his parish priest, he entered the seminary at the age of 13.

He was ordained on Feb. 9, 1957 at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington D.C. He served as a high school teacher for 11 years, having taught mostly general science and geometry. He has been a parish priest for 39 years, serving in Michigan, New York, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Louisiana, and Texas.

The parishioners of St. Peter's expressed their gratitude for all Fr. Ron has done for their parish and the many years of his service.

Members of the Muenster Hospital Auxiliary met on Monday, Feb. 12. Vice President Adela Wilson reported that the Hospital has opened up another patient room. It is Room 110 and patients were already using it, but the room is in need of new blinds. The Hospital asked if the Auxiliary would purchase blinds as it had for other rooms. The cost is around $200. Members unanimously agreed to the request.

President Penny Fisher reviewed committees that would be needed during the coming year. They included Scholarship, Memorial, Membership, Memorial Angel Tree, and Telephone. Volunteering to chair committees were Penny for Scholarship, Janie Weinzapfel Telephone, Carol Aytes and Janet Felderhoff Membership, and Aileen Knabe Angel Tree.

the MMH District with plans to pursue a career in the medical field. The winner will be selected in April. A deadline of March 31 was set. Penny will contact Mary Dangelmayr who is working on the David Bright Scholarship to find out which schools have students in the Hospital District. Applications will be distributed soon.

Treats were being assembled by Penny to distribute to patients on Valentine's Day.

MMH CFO Dick Teeter agreed to assist with the keeping of the Auxiliary's books. According to the by-laws, the treasurer should be bonded, which he is. Aileen Knabe will continue to help with the treasurer position by acting as a secretary to the treasurer.

Tim Cooper ranked in 64 contenders of the Music City Madness

Tim Cooper, country music artist who has performed in Muenster several times, snagged a spot in the final 64 contenders who will fight their way to stardom in CMT's first user-generated talent search, MUSIC CITY MADNESS.

Cooper's press representative Delanne Walterscheid reports, "There were over 2,700 videos submitted and Tim made the top 64 to be voted on by the public. The grand prize is an all expense paid trip for the whole band to Nashville to perform for 'Session 330' that airs on CMT. The round one voting runs till midnight Feb. 26. Starting Feb. 27, the top 32 videos will compete in round two for one week. As each week passes, the field will be narrowed down till there are only two videos. In the final round, the video with the most votes wins, which will be on April 3. You can vote as often as you like." The website to vote is: www.cmt.com/interact/music_city_madness/vote/. People can view the video on his Myspace page at: www.myspace.com/timcooper1234 or his website www.TimCooperMusic.com.

"It hasn't really sunk in yet that I made the top 64," remarked Cooper. "I have to stop and wonder if this is a dream...LOL. It feels great knowing I am in the top out of over 2,700 videos submitted. To move on to round two would be awesome!!! Because of this, I've had calls from agents and management firms in Nashville wanting to work together. It's all so exciting since I made the top 64...things are looking excellent for me now."

According to a press release from CMT.com, new brackets will be posted weekly after Feb. 27, until the winner is announced on Tuesday, April 3. CMT developed a custom interactive site utilizing embedded video, where fans can view head-to-head matches onscreen simultaneously and share videos with their friends.

Entries representing all ages and styles of country music were received; with musical inspirations ranging from war to Wal-Mart, dirt roads to honky-tonks, and love to love gone bad.

Entries from 27 different states are currently posted at madness.CMT.com. The nationwide talent search offers unsigned artists a chance to reveal original, unpublished music to fans across the country.

Youths could become Junior Zookeepers at the Frank Buck Zoo

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to be a zookeeper? Would you like to teach the public about Frank Buck Zoo's animals? If you are 14-17 years of age, you can discover what a zookeeper does by becoming a Junior Zookeeper this summer. Junior Zookeepers work with the animal care and education staff and gain hands-on experience in zookeeping, including animal care and feeding. Motivated Junior Zookeepers may also be trained to handle some of the Zoo's education animals and to teach others about them in a variety of the Zoo's educational programs.

Junior Zookeepers will have the opportunity to man bio-buggies, assist with Summer Safari Day Camp, help with giraffe feedings, exhibit interpretation, zoo snoozes, and special events. To be a Junior Zookeeper, you must attend a three-day training session held June 4 - 6 from 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. A $36 activity fee is required for this program and includes a t-shirt, field trip, year-end party, and the training. Junior Zookeepers are expected to volunteer at least 40 hours working under the supervision of Zoo staff. Junior Zookeepers learn, grow, and enjoy themselves while making important contributions to the Zoo.

To apply: All Junior Zookeeper applicants must submit a one page typed essay about what they expect to gain from this experience, along with two letters of recommendation and a completed application. A limited number of positions will be available in the program. Participants will be selected based on their application, essay, letters of recommendation, and interview.

Applications are available online at www.frankbuckzoo.com or can be picked up at Frank Buck Zoo's front entry building. For more information, send e-mail to education@frankbuckzoo.com or call Casey at 940-727-9097. Deadline for applications is April 15.

Ten short rings on the Muenster telephone line was a general call to alert everyone to pick up and listen for special announcements.

Alvin Fuhrman surprised on Feb. 3 for 80th birthday

Saturday, Feb. 3, Alvin Fuhrman made plans to travel to Denton for a birthday dinner hosted by his daughter-in-law and grandson. The trip, however, was short due to the fact that a surprise party was awaiting him at Nortex Communications.

Employees, along with his wife Gracie, had planned a surprise birthday party for him. "Surprise," shouted by employees and guests, greeted him as he walked around the corner of the stairs. He was then serenaded with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," as he grinned in surprise. Gracie had gotten him there on the pretense of picking up something from the company's kitchen.

Finger food and beverages were served to the guests and a beautiful Boston Cream Cake was baked and decorated by dispatch employee Lisa Rohmer. Dispatch supervisor, Eileene Newland decorated the cake table with eatable houses and telephone lines to resemble a town in the fifties.

Sandra Fuhrmann, Julian Hernandez, Carolyn McPherson, Eileene Newland, and Donna Neu decorated the meeting room in red, white, and blue balloons, streamers, tablecloths and birthday plates. Each table contained center pieces of wooden candlestick phones and insulators from the Gene H. Fuhrman Museum. The head table had a telephone arrangement complete with a vintage telephone, also from the museum, made by employee Donna Neu. Various photos of Alvin and Gracie were placed around the room from the time Alvin was 10 months old to the present, including a beautiful wedding photo of the couple.

After the cake was served, the program began with VP of Operations Joey Anderson congratulating Alvin on his accomplishment of reaching 80. Anderson proceeded to relate a story of a meeting they both attended. The facilitator had asked everyone to touch their toes. Anderson was struggling to reach his toes when he looked over at Alvin who had his knuckles dragging the floor. He then went on to thank Alvin for the years he had spent building a company where employees could feel good about their jobs.

Network Operations Manager Mack Isaacs took the podium next to share the notable events that took place over the past 80 years. Some included: the average annual income in 1927 was $1,447.00; in 1944, the first open heart surgery was performed; in 1970 the United States lowered the voting age from 21 to 18; the world oil prices dipped below $10 a barrel in 1986; and in 2007, Alvin Fuhrman celebrated his 80th birthday. Mack's wife Bea researched the events for the past 80 years and printed it in greeting card form to present to Alvin. Marketing Manager Carolyn McPherson then presented him with a survival kit for the 80 year old which included appropriate items such as Fixodent, a large-print crossword puzzle, magnifying glass, and other assorted items suggested by the employees. Internet Technician, Chris McNamara presented Fuhrman with an Internet survival medical kit. A hammer and a roll of duct tape were inside the medical bag. Customer Service Representative Phyllis Cook wrote and performed along with other employees including Angel Hess, Clara Boyd, Sara Lanier, Donna Walterscheid, Sharon Ivins, and Sharlene Schilling songs to the tune of, "Bicycle Built for Two," and "You Are My Sunshine."

The final performance was a puppet show written by Central Office employee Susan Flusche and performed by Debbie Bishop, Chris McNamara, and Susan Flusche. The rendition was from "Christmas Don't Be Late" by Alvin and the Chipmunks. Dispatch Supervisor Eileene Newland had printed oversized photos of various "Alvin" settings which were used for backdrops as the puppets sang their song. The appropriate photos were raised behind the puppet curtain by Lisa Rohmer and Eileene Newland. The performance was met with enjoyment and laughter.

Alvin remarked that he was very surprised and pleased with the birthday party and all the work that employees had put into the party.

Afterwards, a 1989 video of Fuhrman's 40th year with the company was viewed with employees' laughter at the 18-year earlier hair styles and youthful appearance of most.

Artist L.G. Lemons to present "A Big Load of Texas" at NCTC

Artist L.G. Lemons of Nocona has made quite a name for himself across the country by dumping "a big load of Texas" onto his colorful canvases, and he'll share both his art and his experiences as an artist in a special lecture and exhibition at North Central Texas College.

The event, set for March 1 at 2:30 p.m., is open to the general public at no charge and will take place in the First State Bank Center for Performing Arts (FSBCPA) on campus.

Lemons' lecture, "A Big Load of Texas," is the latest in an ongoing series of highly popular public programs presented by the college's Department of Fine Arts. Gabrielle Fletcher, department chair, said she hopes to see a large turnout. A meet-the-artist reception will follow in the lobby-gallery area of the FSBCPA.

Representatives of Powell Fine Art in Gainesville will be on hand at the reception for those who may be interested in purchasing originals or prints of Lemons' distinctive Lone Star flag-themed works.

Born just north of Nashville, the artist moved to his family's home in Ringgold when he was still an infant. Later moving to nearby Nocona to grow up, fall in love and marry, Lemons spent the first 27 years of his adult life raising a family and building a career as a highly successful and award-winning portrait and wedding photographer.

Because of his love for art and all things of Texas and the Great Southwest, Lemons laid aside his camera seven years ago and picked up his paintbrushes, and he and his wife Donna sold their successful photography business to pursue fine art on a full-time basis.

"My art is about more than just decorating the space above your sofa, even though it can do that, as well," he says with a smile. "Underneath all those colorful and whimsical images that I paint and draw is a message of freedom, courage, endurance, faith, loyalty, bravery, belonging, humor, tradition, and the 'true grit' that has allowed our country to survive and prosper against all odds.

"If my art can stir up some pride, joy, laughter, and encouragement in a world fraught with pain and difficulty, then it speaks for me when my words fall short."

He has been accepted by the Texas Commission on the Arts to the qualified roster of "Artists in Education."

Art by L.G. Lemons is owned by folks from all over Texas and from as far away as North Carolina, Georgia, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Colorado, California, Washington, and Washington D. C., and include President George W. Bush, Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison, and Senator John Cornyn.

Currently available at Powell Fine Art in Gainesville, his work has been licensed for use by Texas Highways Magazine, and his paintings have been selected for use at the 2006 Art Affair on Kemp Square in Wichita Falls, with his image "Yellow Rose" being reproduced on billboards, T-shirts, and other publicity materials used to promote this prestigious event.

Lemons was named "Artist of the Year" for the Graham Art Splash on the Square, and he was commissioned to paint the official poster image for that event.

"What a unique talent this wonderful artist is," said Fletcher. "His works literally shout Texas! to delighted viewers whether they're proud natives or not."

For more information, contact Fletcher at 940-668-3318 or by email: gletcher@nctc.edu.

Local VFW Auxiliary earns 100% membership plaque

The Ladies Auxiliary VFW Post #6205 held their regular meeting Feb. 19 in the Post Home. Frances Bayer, who presided over the meeting, reported on the Mid Winter Roundup she attended Jan. 24-28 in Austin, and the District I meeting she attended in Denison Feb. 10 and 11. She brought back a 100% membership plaque.

The Buddy Poppy project that Sandra Hennigan, chairman, made won 3rd place. It was a small window frame decorated with pictures of service men, a valentine, and over 600 buddy poppies. The theme was "Veterans Forever in our Hearts."

The Auxiliary received thank you notes from the Bonham VA Hospital for the over 50 valentines that the Auxiliary signed and sent to the veterans.

Members discussed a raffle they are having for a patriotic wall hanging. Proceeds will benefit the Cancer Aide and Research project.

Sandra Hennigan served lunch to eight members. The next meeting will be March 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Post Home.

Did you know?
Myth: You have to be very poor, very smart, or very talented to qualify for financial aid. Financial aid comes in many forms - grants and scholarships that you don't have to repay, and loans, which you do have to repay. There is need-based aid for students of lower income families, and merit-based aid for students who excel in academics, music, community service, and many other areas. Financial aid sources are as varied, too - the federal government, the college or university itself, a parent's employer, and others. When students take the time to explore all the possibilities, they will be surprised at what offers they may receive.

Voth and Sepanski participate in Marathon

On Sunday, Feb. 18, Michael Voth and Kate Sepanski participated in the 2007 AT&T Austin Marathon. The 26.2 mile race started on the Congress Street bridge, wound through the downtown and residential areas of Austin, and the finish line was just south of the capitol building. The temperature was rather chilly at the beginning of the race, but the runners were blessed with a rapid warm-up to pleasant temperatures in the mid-60s with sunny skies.

There were a total of 9,682 runners who finished the race. Of those, 5,131 ran the half-marathon, and 4,551 ran the full marathon. Kate finished the 26.2 mile run with a time of 3:43.35 in 956th place overall, and 20th place in the females age 20-24 division. Michael finished with a time of 3:44.13 in 980th place overall, and 45th place in the males age 20-24 division.

Danny and Janet Voth were among the many spectators who cheered the runners on.

Knights win practice game in overtime, than fall to Lipan

The Lindsay Knights hosted Bellevue last week Thursday, then traveled to Fort Worth to battle with Lipan in practice games to prepare for the first round of the boys basketball playoffs.

After a tight 1st quarter, Bellevue pulled out a 12 point halftime lead over the cold shooting Knights. The faucet turned in the 3rd period, as Lindsay outscored Bellevue 15-4 to close the points to 1. By the end of the 4th quarter, the Knights tied the game 42-42.

In overtime, Levi Hermes scored 3 points, Preston Mendez a basket, and Josh Heilman two free throws to outscore the Eagles by 2 points for a 49-47 Knight victory.

Hermes led all scorers with 25 points, hitting 100% of his free throws. Jeff Shannon added 10 points, Heilman 5, Mendez 4, Travis Endres 3, and Brian Sandmann 2. The Knights hit eight of 11 free throws.

On Saturday, the Knights were challenged by Lipan and handed a 60-48 loss.

The Knights had a strong 1st quarter, scoring 23 points to Lipan's 12, but the point spread went to 3 by halftime. Lindsay had a cold shooting 2nd half, totaling only 15 points, while Lipan put 30 on the board for the win.

Hermes was high scorer for the Knights with 15 points. Garrett Block added 9, Shannon 8, Mendez and Endres 5 apiece, and 3 each from Heilman and Nathan Martin.

The Knights hit eight 3-pointers and were four of 10 from the free throw line.

The Knights begin playoff action this Friday or Saturday after getting a bye in the first round. They will play the Bi-District winner of the Grafrod/Wortham game played Wednesday night.

Lindsay begins softball

The Lindsay Lady Knights began their 2007 softball season last Saturday against City View. With some players still in basketball, the younger Lindsay team was handed a 9-2 loss.

Emily Haverkamp pitched six innings, allowing three hits, 10 strike outs, and only four walks.

Natalie Rose hit a single, had three assists, and one pop out. Liz Neu got a double and one SB. The team committed 10 errors "due to lack of experience," commented Coach Robin Hess.

On Tuesday, the Lady Knights traveled to Chico to take on the Lady dragons. Haverkamp faced 30 batters, allowing nine hits, five strike outs, and one walk. The defense committed only four errors, but Lindsay still lost 11-1.

Leading hitters for the Lady Knights were Liz Neu with a double, Rhiannon Robinson an RBI single, and Dianne Brown with a single.

"We need to be more aggressive at the plate. That will come with more plate appearance," said Coach Hess.

Next action for Lindsay is the Alvord Tournament this weekend.

Just a Thought

Hold tight reign over the three Ts - thought, temper, and tongue - and you will have few regrets.

Luck may sometimes help; work always helps.

Failure is not defeat ... until you stop trying.

Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.

Work at improving your abilities.

Lady Knights dominate Jags in 85-48 Area victory

The Lindsay Lady Knights had their first playoff game last Friday night after advancing to Area with a Bi-District bye. Lindsay met the Lady Jags of Hubbard at Burleson, and after four quarters of play, the Lady Knights took a commanding 85-48 Area Championship.

Lindsay was ahead by 12 points at one time during the 1st quarter with baskets by Christina Eckart, Brittany Anderle, and Chelsea Hermes, but Hubbard closed to 7 to start the 2nd period.

Two minutes into the quarter, the Lady Knights regained their 12 point lead, then allowed the Lady Jags two 3s for a 29-20 score. Lindsay stretched their lead to 15 before settling for a 38-26 halftime score.

The 3rd quarter opened the game up for the Lady Knights, as they added 26 points to the Lady Jags 8. Several steals by Hermes, followed by lay-ups assisted in giving Lindsay a 54-30 lead with three minutes to play in the 3rd. The period ended with a 64-34 score.

Baskets by Anderle and Eckart put 4 quick points on the board for Lindsay. Hermes added another 5 for a 73-40 score with less than five minutes remaining in the game.

Adding points on the scoreboard late in the 4th quarter were Karissa Reiter, Emily Fuhrmann, Autumn Murrill, and Stephanie Neu toward the 85-48 victory.

Chelsea Hermes was able to beat Hubbard down the floor with break-away lay-ups to score most of her 32 game points. Anderle added 17, Eckart 14, Fuhrmann 7, Amanda Hess 6, Murrill 5, and 2 each by Neu and Reiter.

The Lady Knights scored only two 3s and were nine of 17 at the free throw line.

L 19 19 26 21 85

The victory advanced Lindsay to the Regional quarter-final round against the Lady Tigers of Trenton. The game was played Wednesday, Feb. 21 at Whitesboro.

Good Luck Lindsay in the Playoffs

Three from Muenster advance to State

The Muenster Knights of Columbus had six participants advance to the Regional KC Free Throw Competition held Saturday, Feb. 17 at the University of North Texas P.E. Complex.

Of those competing, three Muenster shooters finished in 1st place, advancing to State, and one placed 2nd. Winning the Gold was 12 year old Lana Heers, who hit 23 of 25 free throws. Taylor Klement won the 13 Year Old Girls Division, getting 22 of 25, and Eric Hellman won the 14 Year Old Boys Division with a 23 of 25 score.

Eleven year old Payton Sanders settled for 2nd place. State competition will be held March 17 in San Antonio.

Dear Friends and Neighbors:

It is Youth Fair time again and the Friends of Muenster are making their annual appeal to you, the citizens of our community, to help our youth as they prepare their projects for the Cooke County Youth Fair. This year the Youth Fair will be held in Muenster at the Circle A Arena, just north of town on Highway 373. The Home Economics division will be in the KC Hall in Muenster.

The Muenster Friends is a volunteer organization that helps collect money to be paid to the students as premiums on their projects. One hundred percent of what is donated goes directly to pay for premiums to the students who participate in the Youth Fair from our community. Last year a total of $18,750.00 was paid as premiums to the students of the Muenster community, $11,975.00 of which was paid by the Muenster Friends organization. This year the sale will be limited. We would like to compensate every youngster, even those who do not make the sale. This makes your donation even more important than ever.

The youth of our community put forth a great amount of effort and expense and also a great deal of pride in their projects. Please help them out with a donation of $1000, $500, $250, or an amount of your choice. Your support does not go unnoticed.

Please take the time to visit the Cooke County Youth Fair in Muenster this year. You will truly appreciate where your money has gone in support of our youth. The Youth Fair will be held on February 28th through March 3rd.

Thank you, in advance, for taking this into consideration. We look forward to seeing you at the Youth Fair this year!

FARM & RANCH

Rural Texas fire ant damage estimated at $236.5 million

A recent study in rural Texas allowed respondents to estimate not only the damage from red imported fire ants, but also to calculate benefits as well, according to a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station economist.

Agricultural producers in a 54-county area in East, Central, and Northeast Texas reported an average total cost of $1,691.41 per farm, for a total cost of nearly $94 million, said Dr. Curtis Lard of College Station.

Extrapolating that cost statewide would mean that fire ants cost Texas an estimated $236.5 million, he said. This has increased from the $90.5 million in fire ant costs projected from the last survey that was conducted in 1999 and published in 2001.

"It shows that we still have significant losses from fire ants," he said.

But respondents estimated benefits of fire ants were $6.5 million in the surveyed area. That would total about $16.5 million in benefits statewide, Lard said.

The survey was conducted by Lard under the Texas Fire Ant Initiative through the department of entomology at Texas A&M University.

More than 1,000 farmers and ranchers were asked their perceptions about the impact of red imported fire ants. The survey was the most comprehensive study of its kind in the U.S., Lard said, and it was tacked on to the regular agricultural production survey conducted every year by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service.

adversely affected by red imported fire ants.

Medical costs related to fire ants—for both humans and animals—were estimated at $36,554, or $36 per farm. This includes the costs of medical attention and loss of work hours. The most common medical costs were medications, hospitalizations, and doctor visits, the report stated.

About 43% of the respondents reported harm to a person, and about 23% reported harm to pets. The highest category in costs was homestead damage. Fire ant damage to electrical switchboxes and heating and cooling units totaled $393,147, or $388 per farm.

Costs associated with the repair or replacement of equipment was more than $281,000 for the area, or $278 per farm. According to the survey report, the costs included replacing or repairing broken parts on shredders, combines, tractors, well pumps, mowers, solar fence chargers, and wheel bearings.

Production losses were lower than those in the 1999 survey, Lard said.

Respondents reported about $267,000, or $264 per farm, in production losses. In 1999, these production losses were about $360 per farm. That included damage to trees, forage, hay, pastures, vegetables, and fence posts, and injuries to livestock.

Dr. Bart Drees, Texas Cooperative Extension entomologist, said fire ants often construct mounds at the bases of fence posts, making the repair or replacement hazardous and difficult.

"On trees, imported fire ants are known to girdle and kill young citrus trees, and mounds at bases of trunks can be hazardous in cut-your-own Christmas tree plantations," he said.

Wildlife losses were estimated at $143,000, or $141 per farm, and included decreases in wildlife numbers and customers, such as hunters and fishermen.

The red imported fire ant is found in more than two-thirds of the counties in Texas; the survey area was chosen because of its diversity in crops and abundant presence of fire ants, Lard said.

United States Agriculture 1920

from the 1921 - 1922 USDA yearbooks

Considering monthly average slaughter of cattle for 10 years, October stands out as the month of heaviest movement.

A comparison of cattle prices with their purchasing power terms of general commodities from 1878 to 1921 shows the first 33 years of that period cattle were relatively higher in price than other commodities. From 1912 - 1914, they were about equal, but in 1914, the purchasing power began to decrease. From 1919 - 1921, both cattle prices and purchasing power had a sharp decline, still considerably below the actual price.

In 1913, seven cattle in central Illinois would purchase a wagon, a corn binder, a grain binder, and a gang plow, whereas in 1920, two more cattle were required, and in 1921, four more.

The average number beef cattle in the U.S. for every 10 people decreased from 4.2 head for the years 1900 - 1910 to 3.1 head in 1911 - 1921, or 26%.

COUNTY AGENT'S REPORT

WAYNE BECKER

Wheat 2007

Dr. Gaylon Morgan and Dr. Brent Bean, agronomists for Texas Cooperative Extension, have recently reported on the wheat crop around the State of Texas. Dr. Morgan said, "Generally speaking, the Texas wheat crop is in relatively good condition across the state. The wheat crop growth in the Rolling Plains, South Texas, the Blacklands, and Northeast Texas is behind the five year average. However, stands are uniform and still have good yield potential at this point."

In South Texas, much of the wheat is still in the tillering, and canopy closure has not occurred yet. In the Blacklands and Northeast Texas, there are two different growth stages due to planting dates and rainfall patterns in the fall. Much of the wheat is at or approaching jointing. In the Rolling Plains, wheat stands are uniform but considerably behind for yield potential, but the grain yield potential should still be good.

Wheat in the High Plains is still in dormancy as a result of lower temperatures than normal. Abundance of snow this winter has resulted in excellent soil moisture throughout most of the panhandle. Grain potential is excellent at this point. A few individuals have had to spray for greenbugs, and winter broadleaf weeds have emerged and will need to be sprayed soon.

The disease pressure has been relatively low at this point. This is probably due to several factors, including the reoccurring cold temperatures across the state. I have observed moderate powdery mildew at most locations in South Texas and the Blacklands. I have observed low levels of leaf rust in a couple of South Texas and Thrall locations. Once temperatures increase and adequate moisture persists, leaf rust and possibly stripe rust will likely increase to concerning levels as the season progresses. Rex Herrington also observed crown rust on oats near College Station.

Management considerations:
Top-dress Nitrogen Applications: With good soil moisture and good wheat prices, it is a good year to top-dress Nitrogen applications.

However, as I write this Newsletter, nitrogen prices are at record highs, and expecting to go higher. The wheat crop is at a critical physiological growth stage, where nitrogen uptake can be as high as two pounds N/acre/day. The nitrogen requirement remains high until wheat is in the boot stage. However, the nitrogen needs to have been in the soil and available to the plant at or near the jointing stage. If adequate nitrogen is not available to the wheat crop, maximum yields will not be realized.

Several publications exist on calculating top-dress application rates based on crop yield potential, grazing or not, and amount of nitrogen applied pre-plant. One such publication can be found at <http://varietytesting.tamu.edu/wheat/index.htm>.

Weed Control: Research conducted at TAMU has consistently shown significant advantages to early season weed management in wheat. There are two major advantages to early season herbicide applications. First, herbicides are more effective on small weeds, grasses, or broadleaf weeds. Second, weeds are extremely competitive with the wheat crop if they are not managed early, and can cause substantial yields losses.

Now for those who were not able to manage the weeds early season, what things should be considered? First, remember the growth stage of the wheat and the weeds. Second, herbicides are more effective on non-stressed weeds. Third, crop injury from a herbicide is more likely on stressed wheat. Check the label or refer to the publication title "Weed Control Recommendations in Wheat" at <http://varietytesting.tamu.edu/wheat/index.htm> for application timings and tankmix combination.

Common application mistakes include:
1. 2,4-D should not be applied until the wheat is fully tillered, or crop injury may be observed at heading;
2. Tank-mixing herbicides and fertilizers that are not labeled, which can lead to reduced weed control and/or increased crop injury. Some herbicides are not labeled to be applied with more than 50% liquid nitrogen or as low as 15% liquid nitrogen.

Feeding Distillers Grain

Production of ethanol from corn continues to increase. This is causing some concern that there will be less corn for feeding, not to mention the elevating effects on corn price. However, there are byproduct feeds resulting from ethanol production, one of the most useful being distillers grains plus solubles (DGS), which is available wet (about 25-35% dry matter) and dry (about 90% DM). These dried product costs less to transport per unit of DM and can be stored for long periods. Every bushel of corn yields about 17 pounds of DGS.

How good is DGS as a cattle feed? Like many byproducts, the nutrition content varies but is usually on DM basis, around 30% crude protein and 90-95% TDN compared to 9-10% CP and 88-92% TDN for corn. DGS is high in digestible fiber and low in starch. So, unlike high-starch sources like corn, DGS interferes less with utilization of forage, making it a good source for supplementing on low quality forages. DGS is also high in bypass protein and fat (about 10-12%). The fat level should not interfere with forage utilization by grazing animals, but could be a problem in hay/silage programs where higher rates might be fed. Also, compared to corn, DGS is high in phosphorus and sulfur, so total ration levels of these minerals should be monitored. DGS should generally be limited to about 20% of total diet DM. Since while DGS offers several possibilities for cattle feed, there are limitations. We still need corn, especially for finishing, and lots of it.
