Man perishes in house fire

By Janet Felderhoff
Jonathan Parker, age 26, of 414 North Sycamore Street in Muenster died after a fire in his home. Using his cell phone, Parker called 9-1-1 at about 4:24 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 1. He reported being trapped in a house on fire.

Muenster Volunteer Fire Department was called out at 4:28. They were called to 411 N. Sycamore, an address that does not exist. Muenster Fire Chief Herbie Knabe noted that Parker had inhaled a lot of smoke and the dispatcher could not clearly understand him. Also, cell phones do not have address locators as do land lines.

The firemen searched the west side of Sycamore looking for signs of smoke or fire. The dispatcher stayed with the fire department during the search. The cell phone call had not been disconnected and the dispatcher reported hearing sirens on the phone.

At 4:35 a.m., the Muenster firemen spotted smoke coming out of the chimney of the house at 414 N. Sycamore. Windows at the residence were hot to the touch, so the front door was forced open. Smoke filled the house and a fire burned in the front room at the north wall. Firemen doused the fire and searched for Parker. At the same time the back door was being forced open. Firemen found Parker on the floor about four feet from the back door. He had been unable to find his way out due to the heavy smoke.

Parker was pulled from the house at 4:42 a.m., and Cooke County EMS gave him medical care. He was transported to Muenster Memorial Hospital, but could not be revived. Justice of the Peace John Roane was called to the Hospital to pronounce his death. He was pronounced at 6:20 a.m. Cause of death was found to be smoke inhalation, according to Judge Roane.

According to Chief Knabe, the cause of the fire was investigated by Cooke County Fire Marshal Ray Fletcher and three TASK Force fire investigators. It was caused by a mouse that chewed a wire creating a short circuit in a plug in box. The mouse was found in the box.

Knabe speculated that the fire had smoldered for some time, filling the house with smoke. There were two smoke detectors in the home, but neither worked. One had no battery and the other had a battery that was two years old.

Muenster had 22 firemen at the scene. They were assisted by the Myra Volunteer Fire Department with 11 firefighters, and by the Lindsay Volunteer Fire Department and Saint Jo Volunteer Fire Department.

Chief Knabe urges everyone take time to check the batteries in their smoke and fire detectors. Early warning of a fire can save lives, possibly yours or your family's. Take the time to put in new batteries when needed, and never "borrow" the batteries from your smoke detectors for use in other items. That may be the time they are really needed.

Muenster Chamber Parade ushers in Christmas season

By Janet Felderhoff
Despite a cold wind that blew into town the night before, the Annual Muenster Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade was well attended. Spectators of all ages lined both sides of Muenster's Main Street to view the various Parade entries and, of course, get to see Santa Claus.

This year's theme was "A Christmas Wish List." Winning Best Theme was Muenster State Bank's float. Jingle Jeeps took Most Creative honors. Nortex Communications won the Best Business title with its Nortex Fiber Express entry. Keep Muenster Beautiful's float captured the Judge's Choice award as they proclaimed, "We wish you a litter free Christmas and a Recycling New Year!" Best Drill team was Muenster PIPS and Best Equestrian was Emma Christian's "Want a Pony." Joanna Gehrig won the $300 Muenster Marks. Winning $150 Muenster Marks was Megan Dangelmayr. Winners of the $100 Muenster Marks were Brad Barrett, Sandra Sanders of Aubrey, and Debbie Hogan. Winning $75 in Muenster Marks were Billy Hogan, Elaine Koesler, and Nicole Hennigan. The $50 Muenster Marks went to Jill Reiter, David Gressett, Connie Stoffels, and Doug Hennigan. Final names drawn each won $25 in Muenster Marks and were Nick Silmon, Jill Reiter, Barbie Barnhill, Kristen Klement, Billy Hogan, and Jennifer Walterscheid.

Shanna Haverkamp of Hess Furniture hosted a Quilt Show during Christkindmarkt. It was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. The Best of Show winner received a ribbon and $50 in Muenster Marks. All other winners received ribbons. Winners of the show were chosen by popular vote of those who viewed the quilts and selected their favorites. There were 15 quilts on display.

April Walterscheid's quilt won the Best of Show. She named it Boudie after her late father whose clothing she used to create the quilt. First Place went to Sue Fisher for her quilt Fall Colors. Tillie Otto took Second Place with her entry Cathedral Windows. Lucille Hesse was Third Place with her quilt Trip to Trinidad. Kelly Green received an Honorable Mention for her quilt creation called Nine Easy Pieces.

And so Muenster joined the rest of country in busy preparation for Christmas and the celebration of Christ's birth.

Texas Railroad Commissioner to speak to the oil, gas, and energy issues in Cooke County

Elizabeth Ames Jones, Texas railroad commissioner, will speak about Republican Energy Policy and the outlook for oil and gas in Texas at the Annual Christmas Dinner Dance of the Cooke County Republican Party. On Saturday, Dec. 13, Lake Kiowa Lodge will be the place to be starting at 5 p.m. with hors d'oeuvres, 6 p.m. dinner, 7 p.m. speaker, followed by dancing to the Dave Tanner Band from 8-10:30 p.m.

Commissioner Ames Jones was elected three times to the Texas House of Representatives before her appointment in 2005 by Governor Rick Perry to the Texas Railroad Commission. In November 2006, she was elected to serve a six year term. She understands how important industries regulated by the Commission are to the state's economy and to the national security. She works to ensure the protection of the state's natural resources as well as fosters the growth of a strong domestic energy industry.

Muenster residents wonder, "What can we recycle here?"

By Janet Felderhoff
Muenster's recycling bin has been in place for more than a week and many are actively recycling already.

Others have expressed concern over what can be recycled and how to do it.

The recycling bin is located on the first block of West Second Street near the City yard and shop. It is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week at this time. The majority of what had previously been placed in trash bags and set out on the curb for trash pick-up can now be taken to the recycling bin. What cannot be recycled is anything coated with food that can't be rinsed out such as pizza boxes and paper towels, number 6 plastics, items contaminated by oil, anti-freeze, or similar chemicals; and large items such as household appliances and furniture.

What can be recycled includes newspapers, junk mail, aluminum cans, metal cans, plastics numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 7 (number found on bottom of container), glass bottles, cardboard, wrapping paper, etc.

According to City Administrator Stan Endres, the City must pay a fee each time that the container is hauled away to be emptied and the City receives money back according to the amount on the truck and the price of recycled items at the time. He said the heavier the load, the more the City gets back. Endres also said that with the low windows on the recycling bin, it will be difficult to fill it to capacity. He was told that it will need to have the windows adjusted so that it can be filled to a higher level.

Dan Fette featured for building green

In the Saturday, Nov. 8 issue of The Dallas Morning News, Dan Fette, Muenster born and raised, was featured on the front page of the Home Center section of the paper, in an article titled "Dan Fette - pioneer for green building."

A four column color picture with Danny standing in front of a home had a cutline which read "Denton Affordable Housing Authority and Mr. Fette joined forces to build affordable houses - in the $130,000 to $150,000 price range - that would have an air conditioning and heating bill of $45 per month or less."

The article noted that Fette called himself a tree hugger, building a solar house years ago to "practice what I preached." After attending a green-building conference, Fette started to experiment in making stone with environmentally friendly fly ash, creating a stone product for Lodestone, a stone company he owns. He has installed his product on six buildings in the Denton area.

In 2004, Fette was hired as the superintendent on a Zero Energy home in Frisco. After he built the near $1 million home, he was asked about building affordable "green" homes.

The Denton Affordable Housing Authority with the help of Dan Fette has built nine of 14 houses in a Denton subdivision that are all but one sold or rented. The houses have been recognized with several awards, including a commendation from the U.S. Congress.

"We proved you don't have to spend an arm and a leg to build a green house," Fette is quoted in the article.

Fette is chairman of Green Built North Texas, and last month received the Builder Advocate of the Year Award for his visionary work in bringing green building to North Texas.

Storm spotters gear up for Skywarn Recognition Day

From the evening of Dec. 5 through Dec. 6, amateur radio frequencies across north Texas will be filled with transmissions between severe storm spotters. However, the reports won't include information on hail, floods, or winds. Instead, the activity will be part of the 10th annual "Skywarn Recognition Day," co-sponsored by the American Radio Relay League and the National Weather Service (NWS).

Skywarn Recognition Day celebrates the contributions made by amateur radio storm spotters to the severe weather detection and warning system. During the day, amateur radio teams will gather at NWS offices across the country, and will attempt to contact as many other weather offices and spotters in the field as possible. It is estimated that over 100 NWS offices will participate in this year's event.

Gary Woodall, warning coordination meteorologist at the NWS Fort Worth Forecast Office, described the importance of the spotters. "We have some powerful electronic tools for observing thunderstorms. However, those tools only tell part of the story of what's happening in or near a storm. By combining the electronic data with the near-storm observations we get from spotters, we have a much more complete picture of the storm."

"We're happy to participate in Skywarn Recognition Day as a small 'thank-you' to our dedicated storm spotters," Woodall added. "We have a tremendous network of storm spotter groups across north and north-central Texas. The amateur radio operators serve as the backbone for many of the groups, with law and fire officials, city and county employees, and members of the public also making valuable contributions."

The National Weather Service Forecast Office in Fort Worth provides weather services to 46 counties across north and north-central Texas. For more information on their office, visit <http://www.weather.gov/fortworth>. For more information on Skywarn Recognition Day, visit <http://hamradio.noaa.gov>.

Love Fund established for Dakota Lamkin

Dakota Lamkin celebrated being declared cancer free on Nov. 1. That celebration was short lived. Just weeks later, he learned that his cancer had returned and his future will be filled with another intense fight for life. Dakota was treated for acute lymphocytic leukemia for three years. According to his family, it has returned and is worse. Dakota is on stronger chemo drugs and is being prepared for a bone marrow transplant that will likely be done in February or

March. The family has no insurance to help with medical expenses.

Muenster Social Concerns has established a Love Fund to assist Dakota and his parents Eddie and Carol Lamkin. Those wishing to donate may do so at Muenster State Bank, Muenster State Bank Gainesville branch, Prosperity Bank in Muenster, or First State Bank in Muenster.

Dakota's family asks for our prayers also.

Gainesville Kiwanis hear MHMR Services plan

Mental Health Mental Retardation of Texoma's Crisis Services was the topic for the Gainesville Kiwanis Club program on Nov. 25. Members learned that MHMR Services of Texoma has developed a plan to respond to individuals experiencing a mental health crisis in Cooke, Fannin, and Grayson counties. The crisis line is for anyone having a mental health crisis, and that is not restricted to only MHMRST clients. It is the purpose of MHMRST to provide staff who are vested with the responsibility of providing: Crisis screening, Assessments, Intervention, Relapse Prevention Services.

A toll free crisis hotline is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. Crisis calls are answered by trained staff with Certification by the American Academy of Suicidology. The number is: 877-277-2226.

Crisis services are provided by credential staff that have academic credentials and training that qualifies them to meet the state's requirements to perform as a Qualified Mental Health Professional—Community Services. The team has special training in crisis response procedures, techniques for managing crisis, and suicide prevention. The team is also trained to provide services to children in crisis.

Most requests for a crisis response are received through the Crisis Hotline. The Mobile Crisis Outreach Team (MCOT) will make face-to-face contact if the crisis cannot be handled by telephone. Persons having been in crisis will be provided follow-up support for a period determined necessary by treating staff, up to 30 days.

All crisis assessments are performed using the crisis elements of the Texas Recommended Assessment Guidelines for both adults and children or by use of another Department of State Human Services approved screening tool. Assessments include:

- Presence of risk or harm to self or others;
  - Presence or absence of cognitive signs suggesting delirium;
  - Presence of psychosis;
  - Presence of need for an immediate medical screening/assessment.
- The MCOT will provide to individuals and families educational information on effective support relevant to the person's behavioral health disorder.
- For information on scheduling a program on MHMR Services, call 903-957-4865.

Kneading lessons for the holidays

Breadmake will be one of the most exciting happening in Gainesville on Sunday, Dec. 7 and all are invited to be part of the fun. Breadmake is a happy, joyous event. If you can imagine laughing faces, floury hands, and the old-fashioned delight and good humor of lots of people making bread together, then you have an idea of what Breadmake is all about. Each person present will actually make a one pound loaf of the best whole grain bread he's probably ever eaten.

In pairs, breadmakers will measure and mix, then dump the dough onto the table for a real workout. Then each one will rush home with dough on the rise, ready to pop in the oven, bake, and enjoy.

The newly developed, fool-proof BREADMAKE technique shortcuts traditional five to six hour yeast bread methods to 40 minutes from raw ingredients to dough in the pan.

Ingredients are 100% all-natural. As one who is seriously interested in health, all will discover the secrets of making light, high-fiber, low-fat bread from the good things that nature provides.

Breadmaking skill comes by feeling dough with your fingers. Once felt, it will never be forgotten. This lifetime skill enables serious breadmakers to continue baking for about $0.80 per loaf.

BREADMAKE will occur Sunday, Dec. 7 at 2 p.m. at the Gainesville Seventh-day Adventist Church at 3411 North Weaver Street. Cost is $3 per person. join in the dough kneading.

Reservations are suggested! So that they may have adequate supplies for everyone, phone reservations are being accepted by Paula Reiter at 940-668-8687 or Linda Alexander at 940-668-1965. Never has anything been so easy nor so much fun! No experience necessary - just show up with clean hands.

Your car could help save a life

The end of the year is right around the corner. And for many people, part of wrapping up 2008 means looking for last-minute tax deductions.

The American Cancer Society's Cars for a Cure program, a year-round fundraiser for the Society, allows you to donate your used car, truck, van, motorcycle, or recreational vehicle to the American Cancer Society. In turn, the vehicle is auctioned off and the proceeds help fund cancer-fighting programs and lifesaving research. By donating your unwanted vehicle to the American Cancer Society by Dec. 31, 2008, you can take the allowed deduction on this year's taxes. Please consult your tax advisor for details.

There is no "catch" to this program. The vehicle does not have to run. The Society only requires that the vehicle have inflated tires and all vital parts in place. Just call the American Cancer Society at 1-888-CAR-5500 and tell them you'd like to donate your vehicle. Or visit cancer.org/car for more information.

Cub Scouts learn art of turkey hunting at Muenster Shoot

Cub Scouts from Muenster and Lindsay participated in the Annual Muenster Cub Scout Turkey Shoot on Sunday, Nov. 16 in the Muenster Park. This year's event had 60 Scouts from Muenster and Lindsay.

The event took on a new twist this year with turkey hunting featured as its theme. A variety of competitions were designed to teach the Scouts skills to make them good turkey hunters.

At the Predator Prey station, the young Scouts learned how a turkey goes out and gets its food without being eaten by something else. Hula hoops and M&Ms were used in this exercise.

Radio telemetry consisted of two radio devices that allowed the Scouts to track down a "turkey" hidden in the Park. This was under the supervision of a wildlife biologist from Tarleton University.

Shooting events included BB gun and bow shooting. There was also a turkey played by Kaitlyn Lamar. Pin the beard on the turkey was one of the games. Bob Lutkenhaus demonstrated turkey calling. The Scouts all tried the calls to see how well they could call a turkey.

Winners of the shoots received prizes. There were 25 frozen turkeys, 65 one pound packages of bacon, and a dozen hams given as prizes. Two live turkeys were given as door prizes. Kettle corn was offered to all.

The event was so well received that plans are already underway for the next two years. Stick Lamar noted that plans for next year's event is to feature a duck and duck hunting theme and the following year it will be deer hunting.

Only Cub Scouts were allowed to compete. Cub Scouts are boys in grades first through fifth. If you know a boy that age who is interested in becoming a Cub Scout, contact Stick or Angelika Lamar at 759-2111.

Fischer's Market provided meat products at cost for the event and Fred and Andrew Koesler prepared the kettle corn.

Tigers take tumble in TAPPS Semi game

The Sacred Heart Tigers' trip to the TAPPS State Final Championship game was cut a week short by the Cougars of Richardson Canyon Creek Christian last Friday night. In the Semi-Final round, the Tigers fell 28-14.

"The seniors executed the game plan very well. We just got beat by a better team," said Dale Schilling, Sacred Heart coach. "I was also proud of the depth we have - how the young kids stepped up and filled in some empty shoes."

The Tigers took the opening kick, but fumbled on their fifth play. Sacred Heart held the Cougars to a minus 3, forcing a punt. Working inside their own 20, Sacred Heart came up short on the sticks. A short punt put Canyon Creek on the Tiger 33. Five plays later, the Cougars were on the scoreboard 7-0 with 4:16 on the clock.

Sacred Heart caught the kick on their 21 yard line. The next snap, Sam Sparkman broke free down the field for a 79 yard touchdown race. John Krawietz added the extra point to tie the game 7-7 with 4 minutes remaining in the 1st quarter.

The Tiger defense, led by Matt Hesse and Zach Zanchetta, forced a Cougar punt. Runs by Krawietz, Sparkman, and Nathan Berend, and a Berend to Ryan Bartush pass moved Sacred Heart into the 2nd quarter. The next play ended the drive with an interception.

The teams exchanged punts, with the Cougars threatening to score, getting to the Tiger 16 before Matt Hesse covered a fumbled ball. Two plays later, Sacred Heart threw another interception. Canyon Creek again threatened, getting to the Tiger 11 before Zanchetta covered a loose ball.

Sacred Heart gained only a yard and punted. Forty yards from paydirt, the Cougars took four plays to score with 30.1 seconds on the clock, for a 14-7 halftime lead.

The teams exchanged some punts before the Tigers got the ball on their 40 yard line. A Berend to Bartush pass picked up a quick 34 yards. Two Sparkman runs later, followed by a Krawietz PAT, the game was tied 14-14 with 3:33 remaining in the 3rd quarter.

Five Cougar runs later, Canyon Creek took back the lead, 21-14.

The Tiger offense struggled, allowing their opponent to carry the ball into the final period. The Cougars found the end zone, but a flag called the play back. Matt Hesse led the defense, halting the drive on the 17. The teams again exchanged punts, with the Tigers getting to midfield with a Berend to Josh Biffle pass play. The offense was stopped at 2:28 after four unsuccessful pass plays. The next play, Canyon Creek created an opening in the line and scored on a 49 yard run. The PAT gave the Cougars a 28-14 lead at the 2 minute mark.

The Tigers' next four attempted plays lost 13 yards and the Cougars killed out the remaining time to take the win.

"I hate to see it end," commented Coach Schilling. "But I'm ready for August."

Knights fall to AC Wildcats

The Lindsay Knights couldn't find the end zone in last Friday's 26-9 Quarter-Final loss to the Archer City Wildcats. "Our season came to an end," said Cody Bounds, coach of the Knights. "The boys played hard, but came up a little short. We had our chances to make the game very interesting, but it just wasn't in the cards for us."

Bounds noted how proud he was of the Knights, how they came together as a TEAM. "They played together and they played HARD. There was no quit in these young men, and that is the mark of champions." He also praised the six senior members of the team, noting that they believed in what the coaching staff was trying to do and the way it was being done. "They worked very hard and led this team to the best of their abilities."

Two flags and the Knight defense forced a 4th and 13 punt on the first drive attempt in the game. Lindsay gained 7 yards and also punted away their first offensive possession.

Archer City got in a few good runs before a fumbled 19 yard line to the Wildcat 8. Bezner passes to Haverkamp and Jones made gains of 13, 7, 9, 15, and 7 yards, with the addition of Haverkamp and Bezner short runs. On 3rd and goal, Archer City intercepted a Lindsay pass and returned it 93 yards for a touchdown. The PAT gave the 'Cats a 13-3 lead with 28 seconds remaining in the 1st half.

The Knights took the kick at midfield. Two Bezner passes to Jones moved the ball to the 25. With no time on the clock, Jones kicked a 42 yard field goal for a 13-6 halftime score.

The Knights' ground game struggled at the start of the 3rd period, but Bezner to Jones passes made good gains, picking up the offense, to get to the 'Cat 15 yard line. A 4th down field goal by Jones closed the score to 13-9 with 5:45 on the quarter clock.

Archer City took six plays to answer back to the Knights' score, with a touchdown and extra kick for a 20-9 score with just over 3 minutes remaining in the 3rd period. It was three no

Playoff Action
Archer City will meet Albany this week in the Semi-Final round of the playoffs. Archer City's playoffs started with a bye, then wins over Roscoe (38-27) and Lindsay (26-9). Albany defeated Rotan (70-13) Windthorst (20-16), and Gorman (56-13). The eight teams remaining in the UIL Conference 1A, Div. 2 playoff bracket going into the Quarter-Final round are: Region 1 - Stratford vs. Iraan; Region 2 - Archer City vs. Albany; Region 3 - Maud vs. Cayuga; Region 4 - Falls City vs. Ganado.

ball was covered by Madison Parkhill at the 4 minute mark. From the 38, short runs by Ryan Haverkamp and Nick Bezner took the Knights to the 21. A field goal attempt was re-kicked due to a flag. A 33 yard field goal cleared the uprights, but another flag gave Lindsay a 1st down on the 11 yard line. Gaining only 3, Ross Jones booted a 25 yard field goal 6 seconds into the 2nd quarter to give the Knights a 3-0 lead.

Archer City fought back with six plays taking them to the Lindsay 15. Four running attempts gained only 6 yards, as Robert Arend, Casey Shauf, Frankie Cornett, Bezner, Haverkamp, and Parkhill ganged up on the Wildcat runner.

Deep on their 9 yard line, the Knights got out of the hole with runs by Haverkamp and Bezner before the 'Cats shut down the Knights, forcing a punt. The punt was partially blocked, putting Archer City near midfield. Three plays later, the Wildcats took a 6-3 lead.

Lindsay then built a 15 play drive, moving from their gainers and punt for Lindsay, as the Wildcats carried the ball into the final quarter.

Archer City got inside the Lindsay 20, but a fumbled ball was covered by Dax Fleitman on the 7 yard line to stop the scoring threat.

Passes to Haverkamp and Jones gained 15, but an interception returned the ball to the Wildcats 5 yards from the end zone. Four plays later, 26-9 with 6:25 on the clock.

The Knights' next drive ended with a 4th down interception. Five plays later, Frankie Cornett covered a fumbled ball near midfield. With 3 minutes on the clock, the Knights got in 10 plays to the 20 yard line, but with 35 seconds on the time clock, another interception ended the drive for a 26-9 final.

County Agent report

Reduced tillage
No-till farming is a phrase that has been used for several years. No-till farming uses herbicides to control weeds and prepare seed beds for the pending crop. The term refers to the farming industry's innovation to minimize tillage and maximize returns.

Rather than no-till farming, most farmers utilize what we refer to as "conservation tillage." This article hopes to address "conservation tillage" versus conventional tillage.

In experiments by Texas A&M faculty, yields from conservation tillage compared to conventional tillage have not been documented. However, the economic advantages derived from conservation tillage include: smaller equipment, less fuel, fewer repairs and maintenance, less labor, and better field accessibility; all resulting in less capital investment.

Conventional tillage is thought to help prevent soil compaction. In truth, "the primary cause of compaction comes from heavy equipment crushing air space out of moist soil." (Publication B-6189, Texas AgriLife Extension Service). Therefore, conservation tillage lessens field traffic thereby reducing soil compaction.

In "rotational tillage," soils are tilled every second or third season. Rotational tillage, strip tillage, or zone tillage eliminates field soil compaction problems within the soil's top four inches. Soils prone to soil compaction are generally comprised of 50% clay (or greater) or are located in regions with more than 30 inches of rainfall per year. In areas with less clay and rainfall, compaction does not seem to be a problem, and the topsoil actually becomes workable over time.

Fertilizer placement and application are more difficult in conservation tillage than conventional tillage, thereby justifying rotational tillage. Surface applications of fertilizer can result in nitrogen loss from volatilization and cause phosphorus and other immobile nutrients to accumulate near the soil surface. Nutrient deficiencies are likely to occur in no-till seed beds where crops are planted the same each year. Rotational tillage with a chisel plow will break up soil firmness in the top six inches and may replace herbicide application.

Weeds compete for moisture, fertilizer, and light, and can be greatly inhibited if the soil is not tilled because tillage continually brings weeds to the surface, where they readily germinate with rain. Faculty at Texas A&M find it easier to control weeds under no-till and reduced tillage systems.

Covering the soil with residue rather than tilling improves water infiltration. The impact of rain on base soil destroys small aggregates, or clods, causing the soil to seal over. Residue breaks the impact of rain drops, "wicks" or moves moisture into the soil, and reduces runoff.

In Cooke County, conservation tillage may work on various crops, including corn, sorghum, and small grains.

In summary, the best reasons to utilize reduced-tillage practices are associated with gaining water infiltration while reducing water related erosion.

Upcoming beef cattle programs

Attention beef cattle producers. Two special events are scheduled Monday, Dec. 8: (1) an Educational Cattle Conference, and (2) the Red River Regional Beef Replacement Sale.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. at The New Gainesville Livestock Auction, 1920 Refinery Road, the Texas AgriLife Extension Service of Cooke County will present a free educational seminar for beef producers. The seminar will feature "Vaccines and Safe Handling Practices for Beef Cattle" by Glen Rogers, D.V.M., Cow-Calf Veterinary Operations manager, Pfizer Animal Health - Cattle Business Unit, and "Beef Cattle Nutrition" by Kent Lanham, Ph.D., Nutritionist & Sales Manager, Martindale Feed Mill. The seminar will last approximately 1 1/2 hours and is 1 CEU. Following the seminar will be a hamburger lunch compliments of Martindale Feed Mill.

Beginning at noon at Gainesville Livestock, the Cooke County Beef Cattle Improvement Association will conduct its 5th Annual Red River Regional Beef Replacement Sale. The auction includes top quality replacement females and select bulls nominated and evaluated for quality, disposition, and uniformity. Additionally, all cattle have been vaccinated for respiratory disease and boosted with Pfizer's Cattle-Master Gold and wormed with Dectomax prior to sale. Females will sell in lots of five or more, bulls will sell individually.

If you would like to learn more about cattle management or are in the market for quality cattle, you are encouraged to attend. Cattle will be available for viewing as early as Sunday, Dec. 7. Come early, view the cattle, enjoy the program and lunch, and take the opportunity to purchase some of the best cattle in the area.

TDA market report

For the week ending Nov. 29, feeder cattle prices at Texas auctions were mixed in light holiday-week trade. The average for 500-600 pound steers increased by $2 per hundredweight, while prices for heavier weight cattle were mostly steady to $6 lower. Fed cattle prices were higher in response to recent increases in beef prices and improved processor margins.

Cotton and grain prices were also higher following increases on the stock markets and optimism for improvements in the general economy.

As for futures markets, feeder cattle, finished cattle, cotton, wheat, and corn ended the week higher, while lumber was lower.

Most of the state recorded one-half inch or less of rain. Topsoil moisture remains in very short to adequate supply.

Winter wheat is 96% seeded, with the emerged crop in mostly fair to good condition and needing moisture in most areas. Pastures across the state are in mostly fair to poor condition.
