Rain deflects county-wide ban on outdoor burning

By Janet Felderhoff

Rain arrived in Cooke County early Monday morning, just in time to give Commissioners Court a good reason not to instate a ban on outdoor burning. Many surrounding counties have banned outdoor burning due to the dry conditions that existed.

Cooke County Emergency Management Coordinator Ray Fletcher reported to the Court Monday morning that this is the time of year that they might want to implement a burn ban, but the rain was sufficient to at least delay that. The current KBDI (Keetch-Byram Drought Index) is a mean of 536, a high of 620, and a low of 411.

"The KBDI helps us a lot more when we are in typical green conditions than when we are in winter," remarked Fletcher. "In the winter it kind of goes out the window because after a good freeze, we lose all the green in the vegetation that helps to slow down a fire. They are predicting a hard freeze this weekend."

Fletcher noted that the conditions necessary to implement a burn ban exist now in Cooke County, but he didn't recommend a ban on outdoor burning at this time. "We haven't had a lot of rogue fires or people not using the proper precautions for burning," he said. He did ask that a burn ban be kept on future agendas for consideration depending on conditions.

Commissioners Court tabled a burn ban. Fletcher asked that County residents continue to contact the Sheriff's office prior to control burns and to take precautions when burning, such as not leaving fires unattended.

During Public Comments, Rod Tyler of Gainesville invited Commissioners Court, other County officials, and the public to attend a recycling meeting. The meeting, which is sponsored by Cooke County Planning Association, will be held on Friday, Nov. 14 at 11:30 a.m. at the Smokehouse. David Trout, environmental coordinator with Texas Council of Governments (TCOG) and Frances Pelley, executive director of TCOG, will speak on recycling programs that other north Texas governments have implemented successfully.

Cooke County has no written policy regarding County vehicle use. "We want our policy to be proactive rather than reactive," noted County Judge Bill Freeman. "If you're reading a policy to stop something that is going on, then you are being reactive. If you do the policy now, then you don't have to react to it later."

Precinct #3 Commissioner Al Smith expressed concern about what they were trying to control with the policy and how they want to address perceived problems. "I know once we write it, it is forever getting it updated," said Smith. Several possible issues were discussed.

Judge Freeman suggested that they table the agenda item and appoint a committee to study the proposed policy and bring suggestions back to the Court. He asked Commissioners Smith and Gary Hollowell to take on the job. They accepted. County Auditor Shelley Saunders was also appointed to the committee.

After an executive session, Commissioners Court introduced Tommy Glover. He was employed as the new information technologist (IT) for the County and will begin serving in the new position on Monday pending successful completion of the mandatory drug testing and physical.

Judge Freeman announced that a special meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 14 to canvass votes cast in the Nov. 4 General Election. After that, Leon Klement will be sworn in as commissioner of Precinct #4. This meeting will be held in the Commissioners Courtroom on the third floor of the Courthouse.

Negotiation by Judge Freeman with the company doing the asbestos abatement on the interior of the Courthouse annex building (old Schad & Pulte building) resulted in that company being asked to do the demolition work to prepare the building's first floor for the construction phase. Demolition work includes taking out all existing mezzanine, the ducting, electrical, and flooring on north side. The additional cost is $12,000. This change order was unanimously approved. It is anticipated that the building will be completed and ready to occupy by the middle of February.

In other business, Commissioners Court:

- Heard from Precinct #4 Commissioner Judith Hess that interior construction of the Precinct #4 maintenance barn is coming along. Ceiling joists are expected to be up this week.

- Declared November as Home Care and Hospice Month in Cooke County.

- Approved Texas Association of Counties endorsed resolution regarding the JP Technology Fund.

- Tabled the purchase of a new ambulance for four to six months.

- Approved annual contracts with Lake Kiowa Volunteer Fire Department, Callisburg Volunteer Fire Department, Valley View Volunteer Fire Department, Moss Lake Volunteer Fire Department, and Era Volunteer Fire Department.

- Approved cellular phone allowances for EMS Director Bob Harbin and Captain Cooke County EMS Joe Wilkerson.

- Approved release of maintenance bond on Nov. 13, 2008 for St.-Onge Subdivision.

- Approved architectural contract with Komatsu for Courthouse annex.

- Approved agreements, resolutions, and associated paperwork for the lease-purchase of one roadgrader for Precinct #1 Motor and Bridge.

- Approved indigent burial of Wesley Wayne Holbert.

- Approved creating a change fund for the Cooke County Library.

- Approved monetary donation of $70 from Kent and Betty Southerland to the Cooke County Library.

- Approved contract with Woodbine Water for a new crossing of CR 172.

- Approved bond and rider for juvenile probation office.

Don't overlook safety at night

A letter to the lady in black:

This past Monday night at approximately 5:55 p.m., I was headed home from work, going south on Maple Street. It was dark and the rain was misting. I had turned on my windshield wipers, and all of a sudden there you were, right next to my car. I don't know how close I came to hitting you, but it could have been a disaster for you and for me. You were wearing a black or dark blue coat or pullover with a hood pulled down over your face a little and had on dark pants. I made a U-turn and came back by you and yelled that you needed to wear something so people could see you. You basically told me to mind my business. I couldn't hear you very well and could not see your face. I made another U-turn at the intersection next to the post office and again rolled my window down and yelled again. You responded again that you did not need my help. I told you that some one needed to help you. Maybe I did not respond to the situation in a calm voice, and for that I apologize. But you need to understand where I was coming from.

In the winter of 1971-1972, I was attending the U.S. Army Officer Basic School at Fort Bliss in El Paso, Texas. One day it was snowing quite a bit and three of us went to the gym to play basketball. A friend and fellow soldier from New York had a Volkswagen bug. It was dark and we could only see straight ahead because of the snow. On the way back we were traveling back to the Officer's Quarters when a man dressed in dark military green clothes stepped off the curb right in our way. We hit him, and after calling the ambulance, we found out later that he had a closed head injury. Shortly before our training was over we went to the hospital and found that he was still in a coma. I don't know what happened to him, but I do know what happened to all of us who were in the car and to my friend who was driving. His guilt and my guilt will never go away; there is a little hole in my heart for that man and for his family.

Why am I writing this? Maybe you have a reflective vest and forgot it. Maybe you don't have one and if that is the case, I have purchased one and you can pick it up at the front desk of the hospital. No questions asked. Understand that I am doing this not just for you, but for your family and for the unknown person who might possibly hit you in the future if you don't wear some reflective clothing. Stop and think about it. If your carelessness results in injury or death, what sort of relationship will your family have with the person who hit you. That person might be a neighbor, or in Muenster, might be related to you and your family. Right or wrong there will always be a hole in their hearts. Your family will feel guilty about not insisting you wear reflective clothing, and the unknown person who would have hit you, will always, yes always feel responsible even though it would probably not their fault. Last night, I came close to being that other person.

Please, at night and other times when a driver's vision is impaired, WEAR REFLECTIVE CLOTHING. If not for you, do it for your family, and for the unknown person who you will save from a lifetime of heartache. One more thing, I prayed for you all the way home, and I know my prayers were answered. Please forgive me for my harsh words, but that dark snowy night in 1972 came rushing back. May God bless you and keep you safe.

Muenster Mayor John Pagel was presented the 2008 Governor's Community Achievement Award plaque by Keep Muenster Beautiful President Steven Broyles. The group met Saturday morning at the KMB Park prior to planting fall flowers around town.

KMB works to beautify City

Members of Keep Muenster Beautiful (KMB) have spent the last two Saturdays working in the City's flower boxes and the KMB Park. On Nov. 1, the group spent the day preparing the flower beds for planting, and also pruned bushes and trees. On Nov. 8, KMB members were helped by the Girl Scouts and by Sacred Heart School students in planting flowers. Shrubbery was also replaced in the planter boxes.

Mayor Johnny Pagel was presented the 2008 Governor's Community Achievement Award (GCAA) placard which will be hung on the fence at KMB Park next to the four previous awards. These award placards honor the work of the Muenster community for the years they have won the $65,000 GCAA.

The awarded money is used for city improvement along state roads. Muenster's winnings have provided decorative street lamps, trash cans, new sidewalks, planter boxes, retaining walls, grates and trees, and a new fence at City Park.

The project for this year's award has not been determined. Dwayne Pagel is the chairperson for this project. Any ideas from the community are welcome.

Stormer joins conviction integrity unit at the Dallas County DA's Office

Cindy Stormer, the former Criminal District Attorney of Cooke County, is the newest member of the Conviction Integrity Unit at the Dallas County District Attorney's (DA) Office. Dallas County is the third district attorney's office in which Stormer has been a prosecutor. Prior to joining the Dallas County DA's Office she was most recently the elected district attorney in Cooke County and previously worked as a prosecutor in the Tarrant County DA's Office.

"We are genuinely excited and privileged to have someone with the credentials and expertise that Cindy Stormer brings to the table on our team as she has worked in every aspect of the criminal justice field," said Craig Watkins, Dallas County District Attorney. "She will certainly complement the talent we already have in our Conviction Integrity Unit and I look forward to working with her as we continue to seek justice in Dallas County."

During Stormer's tenure as District Attorney of Cooke County, there were more prosecutions, more indictments, and more jury trials than any previous time in Cooke County. Crime decreased dramatically in Gainesville, every year that she was District Attorney (25% in 2005 and 2006, according to the Uniform Crime Reports) and continues to drop. Additionally, the number of felons on bond awaiting trial was reduced dramatically in Cooke County during her tenure there.

Stormer says, "It is a great honor to be working on this project. It was a very bold and courageous position for Watkins to take, to open up these old files and emphasize the importance of fair trials, and justice. It is a project unlike any other in the country, has broken ground, and been an overwhelming success."

A graduate of the South Texas College of Law in Houston, Stormer has been practicing law for more than 20 years, 14 of which were in private practice as a criminal defense attorney. She is a former chief legal advisor to the Dallas Police Department where she was in charge of the legal curriculum for the academy and was an executive officer in the Dallas Police Department. Stormer has been an adjunct professor at Tarrant County Junior College and North Central Texas College where she taught criminal law, legal assisting, and government classes. She has also been an instructor at the Advanced Criminal Law Course for the State Bar of Texas and the Basic Prosecutor's course sponsored by the Texas District and County Attorney's Association.

Daryl Ferber

Daryl Ferber 1923 - 2008

Daryl Winslow Corbin Ferber, former resident of Muenster, died Monday, Nov. 10, 2008 at Stewartville Care Center, where she resided since June 2008. Graveside services were held at St. Joachim's Catholic Church Cemetery in Plainview, Minnesota under the direction of Schad & Zabel Funeral Home.

Born April 17, 1923 at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester, Minnesota, Daryl graduated from Rochester High School in 1941. She worked at the Historical Society, then Register of Deeds office until the summer of 1943 when she left to start a family. Other employment during her lifetime included JC Penney, IBM, and almost 15 years at Rochester School Bus Service. There she became the first woman school bus driver, drove charter buses, and advanced to office manager.

Daryl spent many years as a 4-H leader, with horse and dog projects as special interests. She was instrumental in getting the dog project started in Olmsted County.

Daryl moved to Muenster in 1978. While here, she worked for the Muenster Enterprise newspaper, Chamber of Commerce, and spent numerous volunteer hours. A special dream was to build a new public library in Muenster and she worked on several fund raisers for the project which was built after her return to Minnesota.

Another project that Daryl worked tirelessly on was the Muenster Centennial History Book. She was in charge of the Businesses and Industries section and compiled many of those stories. She was a member of the team who guided the making of the book.

Daryl's love of gardening was carried out in her efforts to create a mid town park at the corner of Main and First Streets where a weedy, junk-filled lot had stood. This project played a part in Muenster winning the 1986 Governor's Community Achievement Award. Daryl served as president of the Muenster Garden Club for two years, and was a member of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce and the VFW Ladies Auxiliary. Hobbies included gardening and flower arranging, and as her friends know, she couldn't sit still when she heard a polka or other good dance tune.

Daryl returned to Minnesota in 2000.

Survivors include her daughters Ruth Kleiss of Dallas and Mary Ann Watts of Fort Smith, Arkansas; sons Michael Kleiss of San Antonio and Eugene Kleiss of Subiaco; and six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Rosary was held on Wednesday, Nov. 12 at St. Benedict Catholic Church in Subiaco.

Funeral Mass was at 10 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 13 at St. Benedict Catholic Church with burial at St. Benedict Cemetery in Subiaco under the direction of Roller Funeral Home-Paris.

Honorary pallbearers were Debbie Phillips, Zena Bowman, Nora Milum, Joy Needham, Regina Wilhite, and Evelyn Brown.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to St. Benedict Parish Education Program. Online guestbook HYPERLINK "http://www.rollerfuneralhomes.com" www.rollerfuneralhomes.com Survivors include sons and daughter-in-law Stephen and LaDonna Corbin of Plainview, Minnesota, and Larry and Gayle Corbin of Ft. Wayne, Indiana; son-in-law Rick Matson of Muenster; and by a special son Larry Campion of Byron, Minnesota. She is also survived by seven grandchildren, 23 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.

She was predeceased by her parents Fay and Frances Marion Boyer Winslow; spouses Ralph Corbin and Richard Ferber; and daughter Micallee Matson.

Fr. Jim Pemberton installed as pastor at St. Mary's Parish

Father Jim Pemberton, appointed to St. Mary's Parish in Gainesville, was publicly installed as the new pastor during a liturgical rite. The installation took place at the Wednesday evening Mass on Nov. 5.

Bishop Kevin Vann officiated at the Eucharist and at the Order of Installation. He quoted St. Peter's letter during his homily saying, "Tend the flock of God in your midst as God would have it." He read a section of the Code of Canon Law that refers to the duties of a pastor.

During the Order of Installation after the homily, the Bishop presented to Father Jim his staff. The following staff members came up to the altar to welcome their new pastor. They were: Sr. Mary Helen Fuhrmann SSMN, Bonnie Friedrich, John Metzler, Sherri Haverkamp, Gelasio Garcia, Maria Colmenero, Annette Fuhrmann, and Chris Cochran.

Then, Bishop Vann presented the Parish Council of St. Mary's saying they are the voice of your people and will assist and counsel you as your minister to this parish. He told Fr. Jim to always be attentive to the needs they express. Members of the pastoral council present for the occasion were: Janet Bayer, Garry Felderhoff, Brad Herr, Walter Wolf, Catherine Bezner, Sr. Mary Helen Fuhrmann, and Jimmy Kupper. Father Jim greeted each council member individually.

The Profession of Faith followed the presentations. The Bishop read, "Remember, my brother Jim, always to be a loving Father, a gentle shepherd, and a wise teacher of your people, so that you may lead them to Christ who will strengthen all that you do. As a teacher of that faith, I ask you now to lead your people in the profession of their faith." Father Jim then facing the people, led them in the recitation of the Nicene Creed.

At the conclusion of the profession of faith, Father Pemberton turned to the Bishop and recited the oath of office. Father Jim then signed the Oath of Office and Bishop Vann signed his name witnessing Father Jim's willingness to uphold the traditions and teachings of the Church.

The school children sang a song written by Father Hector Medina that was sung at Father Jim's First Mass. It was entitled "Priest of God." Other songs included "Here I Am Lord" for the Entrance Rite, "Holy is Your Name" as the Responsorial Psalm, and "Service" for the Preparation of the Gifts. The closing song was "The Bells of St. Mary's," a favorite of the school children.

Carrying up the bread, wine, and Father Jim's chalice during the Preparation of the Gifts were Bonnie Friedrich, John Metzler, and Father Jim's youngest son Drew Pemberton. Present in the sanctuary with Bishop Vann and Father Pemberton were Deacon Don Warner, Gelasio Garcia who is studying to be a deacon, and two seminarians Alfredo Barba and Khien Nguyen. Fr. Jim is the director of the seminarians for the Diocese of Fort Worth. The altar servers were Sara Gerken, Charlie Kirk, Justin Brown, and Haley Schumacher.

Al Melman presented to Father Jim the sword of a 4th degree Knight before the final blessing. He is the District Marshall of the Knights of Columbus. The local Knights provided the color guard for the evening service.

At the reception which followed the Mass, 300 parishioners or more were present. It was truly a joyful event in the life of St. Mary's Parish in Gainesville.

Sleep better using good habits

Physicians say adults should imitate children when it comes to getting enough rest.

"Children go to bed when they're tired," said Dr. Nilesh Dave, medical director of the Sleep and Breathing Disorders Center at UT Southwestern Medical Center.

Just like children don't get in the bed to play, adults shouldn't read, work, watch television, or use their laptop while in bed, Dr. Dave said. "The bed should only be used for two things: sleep and sex," he said.

Bad bedtime habits could lead to insomnia, which has been associated with depression, anxiety, chronic pain, and high blood pressure. Drowsiness from insomnia can affect concentration, work performance, quality of life, and driving alertness.

North Texas cold waves

Sharp cold wave Dec. 20-24 spread over all of Texas and southeast U.S. Record demands for power; many pipes frozen; $25 million in damage at Dallas. Considerable damage to citrus in Florida and south Texas.

Khien Van Nguyen

Nguyen interns at St. Mary's Parish

Khien Van Nguyen came to St. Mary's Parish on Thursday, Oct. 25 to do his internship as he prepares for the priesthood. He comes from the Assumption Seminary in San Antonio where he has been studying at the Oblate School of Theology. He has completed his second year of theology. During his year at St. Mary's Parish he hopes to learn many pastoral skills that will prepare him for priesthood.

Khien was born in 1965 in Thu-Duc, Saigon, Viet-Nam. He grew up in Thu-Duc until he escaped from the hands of the Vietnamese communists to Malaysia by boat on Aug. 15, 1982. For seven years from 1975 to 1982, besides hard work and looking for food, the only thought in his mind was how to escape the communists' hand. This was a very sad time in his life. He recalled the words of his mother, "Don't worry, my son. God always does the best thing for you. The only thing you must do is keep faith in Him."

At the age of 17, it was time for him to register in the communists' army. That is when he decided to leave his country. His aunt helped him to escape Viet-Nam. He recalls that in August 1983, he came to America, the happiest day in his life.

Early in life, Khien recalled his desire to become a priest, but later as a young man less thought was given to this call from God. April 1987 was an important turning point in his life, for at this time he reconsidered his vocation. It was during the period that followed his car accident and his time recuperating in the hospital.

In July 1989, Khien joined a religious community, the Community of the Mother Coredemtris (CMC) in Carthage, Missouri. On May 31, 1992 he took first vows and on May 31, 1998, he made his perpetual vows. He was a religious brother during this period of 16 years. It was in August of 2006 that he asked to become a priest for the Diocese of Fort Worth and is now preparing for that day.

St. Mary's is very happy to have him as a member of its staff and will be working with him as he prepares for that special day.

Working to Keep Muenster Beautiful

Keeping Muenster Beautiful takes work all year round. The Keep Muenster Beautiful organization has been working for the last two weekends to prepare flower boxes along City streets and the KMB Park for fall and winter. Upkeep included shrub trimming, flower planting, and some shrub replacement. Girl Scouts and Sacred Heart Catholic School students assisted KMB members.

Captain Casey Walterscheid of the U. S. Air Force spoke to students and guests. Muenster VFW Post 6205 and its Ladies Auxiliary, along with Fr. Ken Robinson, did honors at the Cemetery.

SH Second Grade gets in touch with nature at Heard Museum

On Tuesday, Oct. 28, the Sacred Heart School Second Grade took a field trip to the Heard Natural Science Museum and Wildlife Sanctuary in McKinney. With the guidance of natural scientists, the children enjoyed an hour-long hike on the Hoot Owl and Hilltop Trails, which wind through the prettiest part of the sanctuary. They were challenged to seek signs of fall, animal life, food sources which support animal life, water availability, erosion caused by running water, and land formations. They were also introduced to many local native plants as they discussed the natural resources available to the early pioneers and the Native Americans.

Following the guided trail hike, the children enjoyed an informative lesson on snakes native to the North Texas area. They learned that snakes have a very important job in our ecosystem, and that only a few different species of snakes are poisonous. They learned that snakes stick out their tongues to smell, and they are shaped long, thin, and round so they can get into holes quickly and easily. The children were shown several snakeskins, skeletons, and a snake skull, as well as a live snake. They were also given a chance to examine and touch the skins and the snake so that they would realize that snakes are not slimy. After the presentation, the children were invited to ask questions and visit the other snakes on exhibit in the Museum.

Other exhibits of interest were native plants and animals, which included Miss Bessie Heard's personal and very extensive butterfly, seashell, and gem collections. The children's favorite exhibits were a touch and feel center which offered them the opportunity to explore and to handle actual specimens of minerals, gems, fossils, seashells, plants, and animals of North Texas, and another area where they could actually dig for their own fossils.

Founded on Oct. 1, 1967 by Miss Bessie Heard, The Heard is the most highly attended museum in Collin County. The Museum is a 25,000 square foot science museum, with a 6,000 square foot science resource center. The mission "bringing nature and people together to discover, enjoy, experience, preserve, and restore our priceless environment," is carried out in every project, program, and exhibition associated with the Museum.

Throughout the diverse habitats of the 289 acre wildlife sanctuary, there are over four miles of interpretive led or self-guided nature trails. The ecosystems on the Heard property include a bottomland, woodland, prairie, and wetland. The Sanctuary is a haven for more than 240 species of birds, mammals, reptiles, and amphibians, and nearly 150 species of wildflowers and other plants.

Drivers reminded - stop for school buses

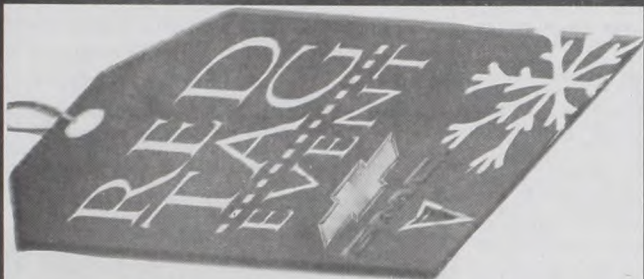

The Texas Department of Public Safety reminds drivers that they must stop for school buses that are loading or unloading. School Bus Safety theme - Avoid Harm. Obey the Stop Arm - calls attention to Texas state law, which requires drivers to stop when school buses are stopped and have activated their alternating red flashing lights or stop sign. Drivers face fines of up to $1,000, plus court costs if they are convicted.

Texas state law requires drivers to stop for school buses that are stopped and have activated their alternating red flashing lights. Drivers should not proceed until the school bus resumes motion, the driver is signaled by the bus driver to proceed, or the visual signal is no longer activated," said Col. Stan Clark, interim director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

If a road is divided only by a left-turning lane, drivers on both sides of the roadway must stop for school buses with alternating red flashing lights activated. However, if the lanes are separated by an intervening space or physical barrier, only motorists going in the same direction as the bus are required to stop. In neighborhoods, near schools, and at bus stops, drivers need to take special care because in most cases children cannot judge vehicle speed or distance.

"Our children are precious, and it's up to all of drivers to ensure their safety," Clark said.

School buses remain one of the safest modes of transportation in Texas - 38,000 school buses transport 1.5 million Texas children every school day. School buses account for less than one-half of 1% of all Texas roadway crashes. In 2006 and 2007, 689 crashes involving school buses were reported to law enforcement in Texas, and DPS troopers wrote 633 traffic citations to motorists who either failed to stop or failed to remain stopped for school buses that were legally stopped.

SH Second Grade reworks flower bed

Above - Sacred Heart 2nd Graders in Michele Knauf's class are proud of the wildflower bed that they are caretakers of this year. They spent time weeding it and thinning its iris plants. They are anticipating a beautiful display of wildflowers this coming spring. The Sacred Heart Catholic School second graders once again took on the job of reworking the overgrown flower bed on the west side of the Sisters' Chapel. The children dug up the bed with shovels and other tools, sifted out the rocks, thinned out the irises, and mixed in compost. Then they seeded the bed with a mixture of Texas wildflowers. Finally, the class completed the job by spreading a thin layer of cedar mulch. Supplies were donated by the class. A special mosaic sign which reads "2nd Grade Wildflower Garden" was made by Debra Fox, the mother of second grader Jackson Carr.

Sacred Heart students win in forest contest

Sacred Heart Catholic School class winners of the National Forest Products Week Essay/Poster Contest are Brendan Riley for second grade, Nathan Flusche for first grade, and Kyle Dangelmayr for kindergarten. National Forest Products Week began in 1960 when Congress passed a resolution to "reemphasize to each citizen in the United States the importance and heritage of our vast resources which are inseparably tied to our present and future."

To celebrate National Forest Products Week (Oct. 19-25), the Texas Forestry Association offered a statewide essay/poster contest. Kindergarten and first grade held a poster contest on "how forest products touch my life." Second graders wrote an essay of 250 words or less on the same topic. Each class winner has a chance to win a $100 savings bond if he wins at the State level. State winners will not be announced before Dec. 1.

Heart-attack recovery includes exercise regimens

Exercise following heart attacks can help patients recover faster and keep healthy for many years to come. Still, most patients who have survived a heart attack don't follow through with exercise regimens designed to improve their heart health.

Doctors at UT Southwestern Medical Center say avoiding exercise programs endanger patients and increase the odds of future heart disease and even death.

"It has been shown that such programs reduce death by up to 25% in such patients," said Dr. Amit Khera, a cardiologist at UT Southwestern. "In addition, cardiac rehabilitation programs improve physical functioning, patient confidence, and well being."

To the voters of Precinct 4,

Thank you to all who supported and helped me in any way during the race for Cooke County Commissioner of Precinct 4. I am very appreciative to the people who placed their trust in me. I look forward to serving with the Commissioners Court to help move our precinct and county forward. I am grateful and humble to have this opportunity to represent Precinct 4 and am confident of a successful future for Cooke County.

Sincerely,

Lera Klement

Thanksgiving Picnic Sunday - Nov. 23

FARM AND RANCH

Nutty year leads to short pecan crop in Texas, U.S.

If Texas pecan growers and eaters are having to look hard for a kernel of good news this year, it is in the quality and nutrition the nut offers.

The state will yield only about 32 million pounds of pecans this year, less than half of the 2007 crop and far under the average 60 million-pound harvests, according to the Texas Agriculture Statistics Service.

"The light production this year is the result of a big crop last year and the lack of rain at the end of the 2007 season," said Dr. Larry Stein, AgriLife Extension horticulture specialist at the Texas AgriLife Research and Extension Center in Uvalde. "Production was not only affected by the drought, but also the rains we received in September which caused a good amount of disease."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture in October forecast pecan production at 204 million pounds (in-shell basis), down 47% from last year's crop and 2% below 2006. About 85% of the total, or 171 million pounds, are the improved varieties while 16%, or almost 33 million pounds, are from native trees, the USDA estimated.

While production is down significantly from last year, the quality of the pecans is generally good, Stein said.

"Since there were fewer pecans coming from a more concentrated area this year, those locations were harder hit than usual by insects and wildlife that typically feed on pecans, including raccoons, squirrels, and deer," Stein added. "On the plus side, we're having good harvest weather here in South and South Central Texas and the pecan harvest, which started here about three weeks ago, will continue for about another month."

Mike Adams of Henderson, president of the Texas Pecan Board, said the nut trees traditionally bear large and small crops in alternate years.

"Texas is a diverse pecan growing area also because we have both native trees and improved variety orchards," said Adams, who is also a grower. "Overall, I'd say this year's crop is mediocre and spotty. In some areas, there will be a good crop with good quality, but in other areas, especially those damaged by Hurricane Ike, it will not be so good."

He mentioned one pecan farm in southeast Texas that had about 80% of its 50- and 60-year-old trees blown down by the hurricane.

Mediocre harvest or not, consumers will clamor after the much-loved holiday nut, industry officials say.

"As usual, demand for good-quality pecans has been strong in the early season," according to Cindy Wise, Texas Pecan Growers Association spokeswoman. "Prices paid to growers have been strong thus far, and most of the good quality pecans harvested so far this year have gone to the giftpack and fundraiser markets."

"Commercial shellers are not very active yet," she said. "They will wait until more volume becomes available to begin buying in earnest."

A large inventory in cold storage from 2007 plus a fairly large Mexican pecan crop will make up for any shortfall in the current crop, she noted.

Mexico, the major pecan exporter to the U.S., is expected to produce almost 199 million pounds, up 16% from the previous year, according to Jose Pena, AgriLife Extension management specialist. As much as 72 million pounds of pecans come into the U.S. from Mexico each year, he said.

"Consumers should not have any problem finding good quality pecans. The native crop is where the significant shortfall is, and these are typically sold to commercial shellers and used for ingredient purposes," Wise said.

For top quality, early maturing inshell pecans, Texas growers have received $2.50 per pound and higher in the early part of the season, she said. Prices would be expected to decline somewhat as the giftpack/fundraiser markets fill their early-market needs and commercial shellers become more active.

"Consumption for pecans and other tree nuts has been very strong for the past couple of years, and we attribute that to the positive health message that has emerged from various research studies," Wise noted. "Pecans have more antioxidants than any other tree nut and are actually ranked high among all foods for antioxidants, an important component of disease prevention."

Adams agrees. He said the pecan board, which collects checkoff money from producers to use for research and promotion, envisions assuring that the nuts are available and consumed year round.

"We are concerned with producing high quality, healthy nuts," Adams said. "So we are dedicated to getting a No. 1 pecan on consumer plates. We are more than just for holidays, and consumers are showing a preference for them."

For a list of where to buy this year's nuts, see the Texas Pecan Growers Association site at <http://www.tgpa.org/buyshellpecans.html>.

COOKE COUNTY AGENT REPORT

Landowners are developing an appreciation for brush Dr. Dale Rollins, Extension wildlife specialist, has noted a new phenomenon in land management. He states that over the last 50 years, landowners have changed their brush management philosophy from "brush eradication" (1940) to "brush control" (1960) followed by "brush management" (1980) and now a refinement, "Brush Sculpting." As wildlife gains priority, there is an increasing need for refining and enhancing wildlife habitat. However, neither wildlife nor livestock are best served by vast, dense stands of brush - hence, brush sculpting.

Texas landowners vary in their interests between livestock and wildlife. Most can be described as (1) interested in livestock (2) interested mainly in livestock, with a minor interest in wildlife (3) interested in wildlife, with some interest in livestock and (4) strictly interested in wildlife based management. Due to recreational property, interest in wildlife has escalated. Typically, wildlife opportunities drive the real estate market in the western half of the state. Even "livestock" owners may want to start looking at adding value to their enterprise with wildlife recreation.

Dr. Rollins recommends wildlife managers (a) know their plants and (b) know how to manipulate them to manage for cow, quail, steer, or deer. While a ranch can be managed for livestock and wildlife simultaneously, the manager should realize that both wildlife and livestock cannot be maximized simultaneously. Trade-offs should be anticipated, evaluated, and, if necessary, mitigated.

Much more information can be found at: <http://texnat.tamu.edu/symposia/sculptor/ToC.htm>.

Brush Busters

While many people are beginning to see some positive effects of having brush on their land, even deer and other wildlife benefits from some open space. Also, fence rows are easier to manage, and hayfields and meadows are much nicer without the invasion of woody or invasive species of plants.

Brush Busters is the predecessor to Brush Sculptors. Brush Busters is an effort by Texas AgriLife Research and Extension to expedite the adaptation of tactical brush management systems. You can find specific recommendations to control select species of problem brushy weeds at: <http://texnat.tamu.edu/BrushBusters/index.htm>

Problem weeds addressed by this program include: Pricklypear, Cedar, Mesquite, and many more, including recommendations for cut stump treatment of most woody plant species.

Noble Foundation ranks in top 10 for best places to work in academia

The Scientist magazine has ranked The Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation as a top 10 scientific institution in the nation.

The magazine released the results of its annual "Best Places to Work in Academia" survey, and the Noble Foundation ranked No. 8. More than 70 institutions participated in the magazine's annual survey with the results available in the publication's November issue.

This is the second time the Noble Foundation has earned a top 10 ranking from the magazine this year. In May, the Noble Foundation earned the No. 8 ranking in the magazine's "Best Places to Work for Postdoctoral Fellows" survey. This year marks the first time the Noble Foundation participated in either of the magazine's annual surveys during the organization's storied 62-year history.

"The Noble Foundation is one of only two institutions that ranked in the top 10 of both surveys. That is remarkable," said Michael A. Cawley, president and chief executive officer of the Noble Foundation. "These surveys illustrate the high level of scientific and agricultural research the Noble Foundation has achieved. We are dedicated to providing abundant opportunities for those that conduct this research which impacts production agriculture in our state, region, country, and the world."

The Noble Foundation employs 85 life scientists from more than 25 different countries around the world to perform plant science research, and plant breeding at the Foundation's world-class facilities in Ardmore, Oklahoma.

"These results serve as a valuable benchmark against important peer institutions," said Joe Bouton, Ph.D., senior vice president and director of the Forage Improvement Division. "The Noble Foundation has become widely recognized for its ability to contribute to the complete spectrum of plant science - from fundamental and translational research to actual in-field application."

"The Scientist's" Web-based survey gathered 2,300 responses from life scientists at 73 institutions worldwide. Participants were asked to rate their institutions on 41 criteria in eight different areas that make up their working conditions and environment. The Noble Foundation received top scores for research resources and pay.

The institution provides more than 500,000 square feet of research and administration space, 12,000 acres of research and demonstration land, dedicated funding, and ample support personnel to assist the research staff.

"Since initiating its research programs in 1988, the Noble Foundation has rapidly become a global leader in plant science research," said Richard Dixon, D.Phil., senior vice president and Plant Biology Division director. "The resources and the high caliber of individuals that work here foster an almost unequalled research environment. I can only imagine where we'll be in the next 20 years."

The Noble Foundation topped such recognized research organizations as the National Institutes of Health, United States Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, Massachusetts General Hospital, and the Wistar Institute, as well as two dozen other national research universities, such as the University of Pennsylvania, Clemson University, the University of Oklahoma, and the University of California.

Drive-through open until 6:00 PM.

Tigers roar over Saints

The Sacred Heart Tigers played under the Watauga Harvest Christian Academy Saints last Friday night in a 42-0 District final victory. The District Champion Tigers now face McKinney Christian this Friday in the first round of the playoffs.

Sacred Heart Coach Dale Schilling noted that the Tigers played good on both sides of the ball against Harvest. "The offensive line did a great job blocking, while the defense controlled the line of scrimmage," Schilling said, noting linemen Zach Zanchetta, Josiah Yosten, Dylan Flusche, Mitch Hesse, and Nick Popovich.

Harvest took the opening kick, but tackles by Nathan Berend, Seth Turczynski, and Mitch Hesse held the Saints at midfield.

Four runs by Sam Sparkman moved the Tigers to the Saint 18. Four plays later, quarterback Matt Hesse scored on an 11 yard run. John Krawietz added the extra point for a 7-0 score.

Harvest's next drive ended when Alex Turner intercepted a ball. The Tigers soon found the end zone, but a flag called the play back and Sacred Heart punted.

Sitting on their 5 yard line, the Saints lost a yard and were forced to punt. A bad snap gave the Tigers a safety for a 9-0 score with 25 seconds remaining in the 1st quarter.

A good kick return by Berend allowed the Tigers to carry the ball into the 2nd period. Sparkman soon scored on a 15 yard run. Krawietz' PAT gave Sacred Heart a 16-0 lead 48 seconds into the quarter.

The teams exchanged possessions, with the Tigers scoring on a Ryan Bartush to Krawietz 84 yard pass play with 2:42 on the clock. Krawietz added the extra point for a 23-0 score.

With 26 seconds on the clock, the Tigers scored again on a Hesse to Sparkman 35 yard pass play. Krawietz booted the PAT for a 30-0 halftime score.

The 2nd half began with an 85 yard kick return by John Krawietz. The extra point attempt was no good, for a 36-0 score.

The Saint offense then controlled most of the 3rd quarter, with the Tigers getting only six offensive plays.

The Tigers were intercepted and Krawietz got an interception in the final quarter to stop a Saint scoring threat.

Starting on their 6, Sparkman and Hesse runs moved the ball to the Harvest 18. On 4th and 25, Hesse scored. The PAT failed and with just 21 seconds remaining in the game, Sacred Heart led 42-0.

As Champions of Division IV, District 1, the Sacred Heart Tigers earned the home field site in the first playoff round. The Tigers will be playing the Mustangs of McKinney Christian, the 4th place finishers from District 2.

The Mustangs are a passing team, so the Tigers' biggest concern will be containing their quarterback.

Finishing out District play Friday, Sacred Heart was undefeated for 1st place. Amarillo San Jacinto was 2nd, followed by Fort Worth Lake Country, Watauga Harvest Christian, and Amarillo Arbor, who will not advance.

Playoff action at Tiger Field begins at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 14.

Hornets make playoffs...

The Muenster Hornets that is! At last week's Battle of the Hornets in Muenster, the Muenster boys came out on top 27-20 to earn a playoff spot as the #3 team in the District.

"It was a big win for several reasons," noted Muenster Coach Allen Cross. "First, getting into the playoffs; number two - beating a good team to get there; and third - for the six seniors who stuck it out for four years, to lead the team to the playoffs."

Coach Cross added that it was a good battle for both teams. Looking at the game, Muenster had possession for 32 minutes to Era's 16 and Muenster ran 76 plays to the Gold & Black team's 46. "The big areas of the game we took control of and that's what got us a big win. We've improved every week - that's a compliment to the players," Coach Cross added.

Action began when Paul Crabtree returned R.J. Metzler's opening kick to the 24 yard line. Muenster got a 1st down, then had to punt. Era fumbled on the return, covered by Paul Crabtree at midfield.

Levi Trubenbach and Crabtree exchanged runs to the 1 yard line. With 7:16 on the clock, Crabtree crossed the goal line. The PAT failed for a 6-0 score.

A penalty and incomplete pass helped in keeping Era's first drive to 8 yards. The punt put Muenster on the their own 23. Crabtree and Trubenbach again ran the ball, with short gains from passes to Garrett Walterscheid and Eric Hellman again taking the ball to the 1 yard line. A keeper by Trubenbach found the end zone. Tanner Herr added the extra point for a 13-0 score with 1:19 remaining in the 1st quarter.

Era got in 11 plays before running out of downs and sacked at the Muenster 27. The Red Hornets moved to the Era 31 and ran out downs. The teams exchanged punts, with Era scoring on a 45 yard pass play for a 13-6 score at 3:39 in the 2nd period.

Muenster's next drive was profitable, ending with a 42 yard Trubenbach to Corey Reynolds pass play. The PAT failed and Muenster increased their lead to 19-6 with 1:30 on the clock.

Era fought back, taking seven plays to score on a 16 yard pass play to close the score to 19-13 to end the 1st half.

The visitors took the 2nd half kick. In four plays, Era tied the game 19 all. The PAT gave Era a 20-19 lead a minute, 15 into the quarter.

Muenster got in 20 offensive plays to Era's 10 in the 3rd quarter. Muenster carried the ball into the final period, but ran out of downs and punted. Three plays later, Eric Hellman intercepted a pass, placing Muenster on the Era 18. Crabtree gained 15, then ran in the final 3. A Trubenbach to Herr pass added 2 more points for a 27-20 score with 9:46 remaining in the game.

A good Era return was followed by an interception by Corey Reynolds near midfield. Muenster got in five plays, then threw an interception. Three plays later Corey Reynolds covered a loose Era ball at midfield. Muenster's offense punted after three plays gained only 4 yards, placing Era on their 4 yard line. The visiting Hornets couldn't get out of the hole they were in and were forced to punt with 2:35 remaining in the game. Muenster ran out the clock and took home the win.

The Hornets will take on the Wolfe City Wolves this Friday night in the Bi-District round of the playoffs.

"The scary part is, we've beat Wolfe City by 16 earlier in the season, and people will view the game as we beat them once, we'll beat them again. But they've gotten better," said Coach Cross. "They moved a fast player from receiver to quarterback and changed their offense around him. He's explosive. He's a difference maker in the game." Wolfe City is the winning Division 2 team out of District 14A.

"Keys to wins," said Coach Cross, "is offensively, we have to control the clock, limit the turnovers, and score points. Defensively - be set to play discipline ball and contain their quarterback - not allow him to break for long runs, to make them work for what they get, and I think we should be OK." Cross added that Muenster can't give Wolfe City any breaks, make them earn their scores. "That will help momentum and time of possession," Cross concluded.

The Hornets and Wolves will meet at Whitesboro ISD Stadium on Friday. Game time is 7:30 p.m. Muenster will be the home team.

Tigers fall to Callisburg JV

The Junior Varsity Sacred Heart Tigers came up short 20-14 against the Callisburg Wildcats last week. The Tigers scored first, taking six plays and a penalty to carry the ball 65 yards. Mark Bartush scored on a 6 inch run with 5:38 on the clock. Jae Im added the extra point. Callisburg fought back, using 10 plays, scoring with 10 seconds on the clock. An extra run gave the Cats an 8-7 lead.

Sacred Heart got to the Callisburg 17, but an interception ended the drive. Six plays later, the Cats were up 14-7. The extra points failed when Garrett Berend picked off the ball.

A fumble on the kick returned the ball to Callisburg. Four plays and the Cats led 20-7.

Sacred Heart's next drive started on their 27. Runs by Bob Bartush and M. Bartush moved the ball to the Cat 30. A B. Bartush to Josh Biffle pass was good for 6 points. Im kicked the PAT for a 20-14 score with 51 seconds remaining in the 1st half.

A short 3rd quarter kick put the Tigers on their 40 yard line, but they couldn't gain 10 yards and the Cats took over. Callisburg's drive was shortened when Michael Davis covered a fumbled ball on the Tiger 11.

The teams exchanged possessions several times, including a Tiger fumble and an interception by Josh Biffle in the scoreless 3rd period.

The Tigers had three drives in the final quarter, all ending in turnovers - two interceptions and a fumble - for the 20-14 final.

Wild Mammals in Texas' Animal Kingdom

From U.S. Sen. John Cornyn

From the rolling green of the Texas Hill Country to the High Plains in the panhandle and the rich forests in East Texas, our state is a varied panorama of unique terrain. As a result, it should come as no surprise that Texas is the second most biologically diverse state in the nation, with hundreds of species of animals and plants who call our state home. A look at just one segment of nature—wild mammals—reveals the remarkable variety within Texas' animal kingdom. Texas has more than 180 species of native mammals. Included are deer, coyotes, river otters, bobcats, jackrabbits, and whales in our Gulf waters. Some come to mind more easily than others, such as the state small mammal, the armadillo, and the state flying mammal, the Mexican free-tailed bat. History helps us recapture some of the first wild mammal sightings in Texas. Notes from the 1854 expedition of U.S. Army Captain R.B. Marcy were published in the book Through Unexplored Texas. In one episode, the calls of wolves came frighteningly close to their campsite: "An hour had not elapsed, before we had a beautiful concert of whines, yells, and barks from a pack of at least one hundred wolves, who... kept up their hungry serenade until day dawned." Another mammal spotted by the Marcy expedition, the prairie dog, became known as "an icon of the grassland." The Army explorers entered "an extensive prairie dog town" estimated at 100 square miles, with "a population not to be exceeded by any city in the world." It has been estimated the prairie dog population in Texas peaked as high as 800 million a century ago. However, over the years, the range of Texas prairie dog towns has shrunk to less than one percent of the area they once occupied, largely because of government-sponsored extermination. Several other mammals were hunted to the point of extinction, while a number declined as they suffered a loss of habitat through expansion of towns, cities, and cropland. The jaguar, red wolf and grizzly bear are some of the mammals no longer found in the back country of Texas. Others that disappeared are making a comeback, including desert bighorn sheep, black bear, and bison. A number of mammals, once domestic, became wild. The feral hog is a prime example. These mammals, notorious for being a nuisance to farmers and landowners, multiply rapidly and rampage through the Texas countryside. Texas will never revert to its original, natural condition, but knowledge of the past, coupled with renewed concern and care for native mammals and all living creatures, can help accomplish what Texans do best: build a better future. Sen. Cornyn serves on the Armed Services, Judiciary and Budget Committees. In addition, he is vice chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Ethics.

Knights fall to Pirates 21-14

The Lindsay Knights traveled to Collinsville last Friday to finish regular District play. They entered the game as the undefeated District leaders, already guaranteed a playoff berth. But when the players left the field after four quarters, the Knights were defeated 21-14.

"The boys came up a little bit short. The team didn't play exactly the way we wanted or expected," said Lindsay Coach Cody Bounds. "But the boys fought hard to the end."

The 1st half was a tough one for the Knights with just nine offensive plays for 4 yards in the 1st quarter and six for 14 in the 2nd, while the Pirates put 14 points on the board.

Collinsville took the 3rd quarter kick and scored with four runs for a 21-0 lead with 9:39 on the clock.

The Knights finally decided to play ball. With the assistance of the yellow flag (38 yards), Lindsay moved the ball 70 yards in 13 plays, the final, a 6 yard touchdown run by Ryan Haverkamp. Ross Jones added the PAT for a 21-7 score with 5:16 on the clock.

A quarterback sack by Frankie Cornett set the Pirates for a 23 yard loss to their 5 yard line. A quick kick on 3rd down gave Lindsay the ball 29 yards from paydirt, but the Pirates picked off a Lindsay pass, getting in six plays before punting.

The Knights carried the ball into the final period with a 13 play drive before running out of downs on the Pirate 37. Tackles by Robert Arend, Blake Hunter, Haverkamp, Casey Shauf, and Madison Parkhill forced a Pirate punt. The ball put the Knights deep on their 15.

Two Dax Fleitman to John Block passes picked up 44 and 41 yards, the 2nd good for 6 points. With 4:05 remaining in the game, Jones added the PAT for a 21-14 score.

Collinsville worked on the clock, getting in nine plays before running out of downs.

The Knights went to the air, with Fleitman completing a 17 yard pass to Haverkamp, and 16 and 21 yards to Block to the 20 yard line. Lindsay's final attempt to score was incomplete for a Collinsville victory.

Next Action

Round one of the playoffs for the Knights takes place Friday night at Aubrey as Lindsay takes on the Celeste Blue Devils, Division 2 Runner-up out of District 14. Lindsay, Co-District Champions with Collinsville, advances as Division 2 District winners.

"Celeste runs the ball a lot with the play option pass," noted Coach Bounds. "They try to keep the ball away from their opponent."

Game time is 7:30 p.m. Lindsay will be the visiting team.
