Hornets Win 26-0 Tilt Sunday With Denison Academy

When members of the local Sacred Heart parish chipped in and bought the padre a new buggy they had no idea that they were setting themselves up for another touch. But that's how the thing worked out. Now a garage is needed.

The old car shed was not built to hold a new model — in fact the oldsters hereabouts will remember it was made to provide ample space for a Model T. Successive parish cars have been more and more snug in it, until now the doors won't close.

Actually we ought to be glad that the situation worked out that way. It will spur us on to hasten another project that should have been attended to years ago, namely putting a garage in its proper place beside the house. As presently situated the location is a half block away and fenced in to boot. Beg your pardon, the fence was removed this week — at least that eliminates opening the gate.

Such a condition, besides being inconvenient, can prove to be a serious handicap. Priests, like doctors, are sometimes called on emergencies. When they are called they should be able to take off without delay, not waste precious minutes stumbling through yards and fumbling with gates.

Referring to the beginning of de-control Elliott Roosevelt remarked that "Now you'll see bread at $15 a loaf. I am disappointed but now is the time for the little people — the you's and I's — of this nation to become vocal and demand of every candidate for public office an outline of just what he stands for." He also went on record as declaring that his father would not have lifted price controls on food if he were alive.

It's too bad that Son Elliott had to blurt out with such a rash statement. It will prove him to be utterly ridiculous. One thing Elliott seems to have forgotten during the New Deal period is that America is made of individuals, most of whom learned prior to the FDR era to get along somehow on their own judgment. Those people welcome the opportunity to do it again. They're tired of official nursemaids.

Of course there is a remote chance that the man was correct — but only if people like himself continue to snarl our economy. Their off balance theories have contributed more than anything else to bring on our confusion.

Their trouble is that they started on the wrong end to figure out their solution. They kept talking in terms of money. Every man has a right to a living wage no matter how little he works. In fact the prescribed way is to do as little as possible for as much as possible. Forty hours, no more, with deliberate slow-downs squeezed in, for a higher wage than the country has ever had before. The inevitable result is abundance of money and scarcity of production, and we've seen what that goes to prices. A trend the high and mighty OPA itself could not control.

But let's start solving from the other side. Let's talk about production rather than money. Strive to make enough commodities to meet the demand and rest assured that prices will stay in line. In fact they will automatically go down to the lowest possible figure.

It's a basic economic principle that when goods are scarce buyers will bid against one another and drive prices up. But when goods are plentiful sellers have to bid against one another and drive the prices down.

Elliott and the other OPA lovers needn't fret about $15 for a loaf of bread as long as official meddlers keep their fingers out of the dough. Give industry a chance and there will be plenty of bread. That's all we need to maintain a fair price.

If anything can be taken for granted regarding the decontrol situation it is that American industry will make every effort to prove it can handle the situation. It will not get out of line and give the government an excuse to put the clamps on again. More likely it will strain every effort to force the prices down just to prove to the general public that it can handle economic affairs better than the government can.

That trend was evident in the packing industry within a very few days. The original upward flurry in prices simmered down in a hurry as meat became plentiful. The reduction in stockyard prices will soon be reflected in reduction in counter prices.

A story from Yugoslavia gives a fair idea of the contemptible measures to which Communists (Continued on Page 8)

The newly organized, light, and inexperienced team of St. Francis Xavier Hi of Denison was an easy victim of the Hornet eleven on the parochial school field here Sunday afternoon. The final count was 26 to 0.

The visiting squad was characterized by a wide variation in size and talent. It ranged from a few speedy and husky men to a few others who barely tipped the scale at 100. There was Martin, a fleet footed, smooth operating back, who was a threat every time he got his hands on the ball. In spite of the little help given him by his outclassed team mates he was responsible for many substantial gains. On the other extreme was a tiny red headed lad, too light for a normal grade school team. He was permitted to take the field for a few plays, obviously as a courtesy on the part of his coach.

Muenster did its scoring in all the quarters, the successive markers being run across by Swirczynski, Mages, another by Swirczynski and the last by Gremminger. Gremminger made good on his third and fourth attempts to add the extra point from placement.

POSTMASTER SPEAKS TO SCHOOL CHILDREN ON POSTAL SERVICE

Pupils of Muenster Public school heard an interesting and educational talk on Postal Service in observance of National Letter Writing Week. The address was given Monday afternoon by Postmaster A.J. Endres and was heard by the student body and faculty.

Postmaster Endres began with a history of postal service, which he said dates back to 1520 before Christ and is referred to in the Book of Job which mentions "the swiftness of the posts". He continued through the years explaining the various methods of sending messages, down to the present fast, efficient system.

He then explained the classification and rates of postage for first, second, third and fourth class mail, and discussed the many services offered including special delivery, special handling, money orders, registered mail, C. O. D. mail and insured mail, and after giving an outline of the history of postage stamps, concluded by displaying samples of envelopes correctly and legibly addressed as compared with envelopes which bore badly written, abbreviated and incorrectly placed addresses.

Notes On Local Conservation Group Projects

Paul Fisher of the Muenster conservation group recently completed approximately 7,000 feet of large ridge type terraces on his farm. He also completed sodding a natural drain in preparation for future terraces. About 25 feet on each side of the drain was sodded to Bermuda grass.

Soil conservation personnel assisted Johnny Bayer of the Northeast Muenster group in establishing contour lines on a 45-acre field. Fifteen acres of this field were planted to hairy vetch and fertilized with 200 pounds of superphosphate per acre. The remaining 30 acres were sown in grain. Plans are to harvest the vetch for seed next spring.

J.W. Fleitman of the Muenster group reports that his 6 acres of vetch and rye are up but are in need of a good rain. John and Joe Kleiss are busy constructing terraces on the farm of their mother. This farm is located in the Bailey conservation group, west of Muenster. They are building these terraces with a one way plow and a small farm grader.

J.H. Cooke of the North Muenster group has started construction of channel type terraces on his farm. Two miles of terrace lines have already been staked out and more will be run at a later date.

J.W. Hess, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district, is still renting his fertilizer distributor to farmers in his neighborhood who are putting their fertilizer out.

The ordinary cigarette is two and three-fourth inches long.

JUST LIKE OLD TIMES, BLAST OF DYNAMITE IS CAUSE OF RUNAWAY

Memories of yesteryear were revived Monday afternoon when a run-away team pulling a clattering wagon dashed up the highway headed east. It was Joe Mages' team jarred out of its contentment by a blast behind the Muenster Machine Shop. Taking off from Joe Flusche's place it ran a half block up Main, then turned right on the highway. It was stopped at Bill Stelzer's home, about 3 blocks from Main.

The rattle of the steel wagon apparently added to the team's panic. No injury or damage resulted.

The blast that started the excitement was the demolition of a heavy roller originally intended for use on city streets but discarded because it was too heavy. In order to get the thing out of the way the Roberg brothers removed the heavy roller metal rim with a cutting torch and broke the concrete filling with a charge of dynamite.

Fire Destroys Barn And Implements Shed At Hellman Home

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a large barn and an implement shed on the G.H. Hellman farm 2 miles south of Muenster, last Thursday afternoon. The winter supply of hay consisting of several tons was lost in the blaze.

Joe Fette, living a quarter of a mile east, noticed the fire in its early stage and, knowing the Hellmans were gone, drove over to investigate. At that distance, he said, he could not determine whether the smoke came from the barn or a grass or rubbish fire nearby. As he arrived he found the flames well advanced. As he left home his wife notified other neighbors by phone and they arrived soon afterward. She also phoned the message to Rudy Hellman at the cheese factory and he spread the word, getting a large number of volunteer firefighters from town.

Arriving first, Fette found the tractor inside and backed it out, then assisted new arrivals in pushing out a grain drill. Other implements nearby on the outside were moved out of range but there was no chance to save the adjoining wooden shed.

A favorable breeze from the Southwest saved the Hellman home. Less than 100 feet from the shed, it would have had little chance in line with the heat wave.

Subiaco Alumni To Have Party at Lindsay Sunday

Members of the North Texas Subiaco Alumni Association have their plans all set for a benefit bazaar to be given next Sunday afternoon at Lindsay. Proceeds will go to fund a building at Subiaco, Ark., to be named in honor of the alumni.

The event, due to begin at 3 o'clock in the school basement, will feature bingo and a group of prizes to be given at 11 o'clock. Refreshments will be available.

CITY COUNCIL TREATS COUNTY ROAD CREW

The city council entertained members of the county road maintaining crew with a buffet supper, featuring barbecued chicken, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 16, in the K of C hall. The courtesy was extended in appreciation for assistance given by the men in building and maintaining the streets of Muenster.

Personnel included city officials, eight of the road maintaining men and County Judge Carroll Sullivan.

Every Person's Share Of War Cost Is $2,860

Washington. — The Commerce Department today added up the bill for all that spending that we did during the war. Grab your pocketbook; here is the sad news:

The nation's overall debt — both governmental and individual — reached the staggering sum of $400,500,000,000 at the end of 1945.

This is about $2860 for each man, woman and child in the nation.

Spending on credit almost doubled during the war years, having been $22,500,000,000 at the end of 1941.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stelzer of Fort Worth spent Sunday here with relatives.

Saint Jo Panthers Wallop Hornets In 13-0 Tussle Friday

The soundest trouncing the Muenster Hornets have had to date was inflicted last Friday afternoon by the Saint Jo Panthers on their field. Holding a definite advantage in practically every department of the game, the Saint Jo men won easily by a score of 13 to 0.

The first marker came early in the game after a few minutes of see-saw play with both teams making unsuccessful attempts to advance. Mixing end runs, plungers and passes, the Panthers then made a steady drive from the center of the field to the goal line. The try for extra point failed.

At the start of the next quarter the Hornets gave their best performance of the day but were stopped cold just in front of the line. Swirczynski started the drive with a ten yard plunge from punt formation beginning at his own ten. Of the six or eight succeeding plays, most netted small gains but three in particular advanced the ball to scoring position. Mages on a pass and Gremminger on an end run each picked up about 20 yards, and shortly thereafter Mages added about 30 more after receiving a short pass. There St. Jo braced and held for downs.

The second Panther score was made in the third quarter on a drive similar to that which carried the Hornets. Successive substantial gains carried the ball from well behind end field to the five. From there it was taken across in two plunges. The try for extra point was good.

MRS. MEURER RETURNS HOME FROM HOSPITAL

After spending seven weeks at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ft. Worth for skin graft operations, Mrs. Herbert Meurer is back home with fair assurance that her long stay in hospitals is finally ended. She will continue her convalescence here returning to the hospital only for checkups.

The purpose of the operations was to replace skin lost in a fire at her home on April 30. She was in the Gainesville Sanitarium for almost three months then spent five weeks at home before going to Fort Worth.

RETURN FROM GALVESTON WATERWORKS CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mosler returned Saturday from Galveston where they attended the 35th annual convention of the Southwest section of the American Waterworks association at the Bucaneer hotel. There were 300 delegates from four states in attendance at the 4-day meeting. Mr. Mosler is city water superintendent.

Enroute to Galveston they stopped in Houston to visit Mrs. Mosler's uncles and aunts, Messrs. and Mmes. Isadore and Paul Filer, and on the way home stopped at Tours to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Judias Filer and other relatives.

125 PERSONS ATTEND P-TA BENEFIT SUPPER

Members of the public school Parent-Teachers Association are enthused and grateful for the large attendance at their benefit supper in the school last Thursday night. Mrs. Ford Noland, president, disclosed this week that more than 125 persons were served and the P-TA fund netted $68.70. The fund is used to support activities of the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fette are moving this week from the Flusche house, to an apartment in the Wolf building. The house they lived in has been bought by Clarence Hellman and will be occupied by his family. The Hellman farm was recently bought by Tony Trubenbach.

Indications of at least two more residential buildings were apparent in lot purchases this week. Ollie S. Owens of Valley Creek has a lot in two blocks west of Main adjoining the Klump property and Frank Hoedebeck has one on the southeast corner of the block occupied by Dick Cain.

The George Gehrig home was moved during the week to a new site just west of its former location and is being repaired and remodeled on the interior and exterior.

Before you pass judgment, hear the other side.

VFW MEET FRIDAY TO DISCUSS MOVEMENT AND SITE OF BUILDING

Final decisions on how to move their recently acquired chapel and where to put it are expected Friday night when the Muenster VFW members meet in the K of C hall. Social activities are planned to follow the business session.

Pat Hennigan, commander, and Ray Wilde, adjutant, disclosed Wednesday that the title to the building has been received and they are free to move it at their convenience.

Many members of the post, responding to a questionnaire sent out two weeks ago, have indicated their preference for a location about three blocks south of the Kaiser-Meurer building. It is one of six locations on which officers had secured options, and final approval of it is expected at the meeting.

Also to be submitted to the membership is a plan for dismantling the building at Camp Howze and rebuilding it here under the supervision of C.J. Fette. According to Hennigan and Wilde, this seems to be the most practical method of moving it. Transporting it intact or in sections would be difficult because of the size and weight.

IF YOU'RE OVER 40 KNOW YOUR HEALTH TAKE REGULAR EXAMS

Austin, Texas. — From a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which phase is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and free from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

Good advice for persons over forty is that they have regular physical examinations and obtain prompt medical attention for any and all illnesses.

Bert Fisch of Fort Worth was here Sunday to visit his mother, Mrs. J.P. Fisch and other relatives.

Water Cooler Arrives At Theatre — Finally

After all these months a water cooler, promised to the Relax Theatre in time for installation before hot weather, has finally arrived. Though not quite as desirable as it would have been months ago, it is set up now, available to anyone who cares to use it. The location is the offset at the back just north of the ticket office.

Better Know 'Em, Boys

A friendly tip to Boy Scouts: Scoutmaster Nick Miller disclosed this week that the very first event on the program at next Monday's meeting is recitation of the Scout Oath and the Scout Law. Each boy will be asked to recite them and whoever doesn't know them, both of them, will be dismissed before the real meeting starts.

A continuation of landscaping improvements on the parish property consists of removing the fence at the west and north sides of the parish hall and building a curb at the north side.

Clear and Dangerous
Old Man Weather is blamed for a great many things, but how responsible is he for automobile accidents? According to the Texas Safety Association, most crashes occur not on a rainy or foggy day, but in clear weather. When roads are wet and slippery, and driving seems to be dangerous, we have a tendency to slow down and redouble our alertness. As a result, accidents are relatively few. But when the weather is clear and the pavement dry, we are tempted to speed — and it is speed that kills. When you flout speed laws, Death rides the fenders!

A salesman, making a two month stay in town, bought some Limberger cheese to eat in his furnished room. When he was ready to leave he still had about half of the cheese left. He didn't want to pack it, nor did he want to leave it lying in the room. He went over to the window sill, carefully removed a plant from the pot, buried the cheese, and replaced the plant. A few days later, he received a telegram from the landlady: "I give up; where did you put it?"

On Playing the Fiddle Badly

A favorite recreation in our town is getting together in one or another's home and making music. There's somebody at the piano; a guitar; a fiddle player; and Molly Birtles even has a harp!

What comes out isn't the best music in the whole world. In fact, a lot of it is downright bad. But nobody even thinks to question or to criticize.

Because the spirit of harmony is there—harmony between folks who like each other's company, who enjoy the simple, homey atmosphere —with nothing more exciting than old songs, and a glass of moderate beer or cider.

From where I sit, it's a heap more important to be a poor fiddle player, than not to play at all. More important to be a part of the American scene—with its community music, home entertainment, friendly glass of beer—than to hold out for professional perfection. (Besides, I like to play the fiddle—even badly!)

CARL SCHILLING AND ROSALIE HENSCHIED MARRY HERE TUESDAY

In solemn and impressive rites performed at the Sacred Heart church Tuesday morning at 8:30, Miss Rosalie Henschied, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Henschied, became the bride of Carl Schilling, son of John Schilling. Rev. Herman Laux, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony and at the nuptial high mass in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends of the couple.

Anthony Luke, organist, played the processional as the wedding party entered the church and remained at the console to assist the church choir in singing the mass. He also presented the recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a lovely picture in a gown of white embroidered chiffon over taffeta and lace, fashioned with fitted, pointed basque bodice featuring a central panel of lace. The sweetheart neckline was finished with silver sequins and this trim was used again at the line of separation between bodice and skirt. The long sleeves extended into points over the bride's wrists and the full skirt swept into a cathedral length train. Her finger-tip veil of net, edged with lace, was attached to a Mary Stuart cap of starched chiffon, outlined with sequins, and fell into graceful tiers. She carried a white prayer-book topped with a single purple orchid. The bride completed her costume with a strand of pearls, which was "something borrowed" from her cousin, Mrs. Norbert Koester.

Miss Dolores Henschied was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Theresa Rohrer, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical frocks of orchid and Nile green net, respectively, over taffeta. The dresses were designed with slim, princess waists and three-tiered ruffled skirts, short puffed sleeves and round necklines accented with two rows of ruffles. They wore matching ruffled halos and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Joe Pelzel, Jr., of Pilot Point, nephew of the groom, was best man, and Roman Klement, the groom's cousin, was groomsman. Leonard Yosten and Walter Richter were ushers.

Little Miss Virgilia Schilling, tiny niece of the groom, was flower girl, wearing a princess dress of pink net over taffeta, and carrying a colonial bouquet of white carnations. Virgil Henschied, small brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

After the mass the bride and groom went to the Blessed Virgin's altar where the bride placed a bouquet of chrysanthemums which had adorned the priedieu on which they knelt during the services.

Immediately after the services, the bridal party were guests at breakfast in the home of the groom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schilling. The breakfast nook was decorated with streamers of the bride's colors and the table was laid with white linen and centered with a bowl of orchid dahlias.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of an informal reception beginning at 3 o'clock and dinner was served at 5 p.m. The bride's table was beautifully appointed, laid with white linen, silver and crystal and was centered with a large, decorated cake flanked with tapers. The extreme ends of the board held arrangements of orchid dahlias. The junior attendants were seated at a miniature replica of the bride's table, done in pink. Throughout the home flowers were used in decorating to carry out the four-color scheme. They consisted of dahlias, chrysanthemums and zinnias.

Miss Philomena Felderhoff, cousin of the bride, was in charge

Mrs. Werner Yosten, a recent bride, is the former Miss Frances Bengfort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bengfort of Lindsay. The wedding was solemnized in Saint Peter's church in Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. Yosten are making their home here since they returned from a wedding trip. Mr. Yosten is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N.J. Yosten.

JULIANNA BIRKENFELD, LOUIS BROCKMAN ARE MARRIED IN NAZARETH

Of interest to relatives and friends is the marriage of Miss Julianna Birkenfeld to Louis Brockman, both of Nazareth, Texas, on Oct. 15, at Holy Trinity church in that town. The pastor, Rev. G.A. Boeckman, performed the ceremony and officiated at the nuptial high mass.

Attendants for the couple were Misses Ellen Acker and Rita Brockman, nieces of the groom, and Martin Brockman brother of the groom, and John Birkenfeld, brother of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ben Birkenfeld and attended grade and high school in Nazareth. Since the first of the year she operated a beauty shop in Hart, Texas.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. August Brockman, his mother being the former Miss Elizabeth Lutkenhaus of Muenster. He attended school in Nazareth and was recently discharged from the army after serving four years.

After a wedding trip to New Mexico the newlyweds will be at home on a farm east of Nazareth.

THE JONES BUDGET

Last January the Jones family was a bit blue.

In making its budget it predicted that the revenue for the year would be $31.50 a week but expenses would be 35.10, making a deficit of $3.60 a week.

Later on the Joneses were overjoyed to learn that the income would be $39.60 — $4.50 more than expenses estimated in January. But the increased cost of living plus hiring more help and spending more changed the picture.

They now estimate that their expenditures will amount to $41 a week, which means that there will be a deficit — a deficit of $1.40 a week.

Multiply these figures by a million. Change the name of the Jones family to Uncle Sam — and put the income and expenditures on a yearly basis instead of a weekly — and you have the financial picture of your government.

Last January, the estimate was: expenditures 35.1 billion; revenue 31.5 — deficit $3.6 billion.

The new estimates are expenditures $41.0 billion; revenues $39.6 billion — deficit $1.4 billion.

By spending a little less, hiring less and buying less the Jones family could have balanced its budget and been on sound financial basis.

Uncle Sam could have done the same.

The Difference

Woodrow Wilson was fond of telling a story concerning his father, a Presbyterian minister, and one of his parishioners.

The parishioner asked the minister, "How come, Preacher Wilson, you have such a sleek horse and you're so skinny yourself?" "Well," answered the President's father, "I feed my horse but the congregation feeds me."

Following Too Closely

A line of traffic moved along the broad California highway just out of Berkeley. The wind blew smoke from a burning garbage dump across the road. One driver found himself wrapped in smoke, suddenly slowed down. Result: 25 cars piled up, 13 people injured. The Texas Safety Association asks motorists: When you're plugging along bumper to bumper in a traffic line or nudging a single car ahead of you, do you ever think what might happen if for any reason the car ahead of you suddenly stopped or slowed down? Such a thought might lead you to allow a little more space for a safety margin. No matter how good a driver you are, to be safe you have to consider the other fellow's ability and temperament and his problems.

A fiery-tempered business man wrote the following letter: "Sir: My secretary, being a lady, cannot type what I think about you. I, being a gentleman, cannot say it. You, being neither, will understand what I mean."

There is a tribe in Africa which limits orators to just what time they can stand on one foot. And they call Africa the "Dark Continent!"

A farmer, after imbibing a prodigious quantity of moonshine whiskey, attempted to blow at a candle, whereupon his alcohol-saturated breath burst into flame. Shaken by the experience, the man begged his wife to bring him the family Bible, muttering "I gotta swear off." Placing his hand upon it, the farmer intoned: "Before heaven, I swear that never again will I blow on a lighted candle."

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST to all who await deliveries of new Chevrolets

We want you to know that everything possible is being done to speed deliveries to you; but production still lags far behind schedule — even though Chevrolet has built more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer from January through September 1946

WE REALIZE how eagerly you are awaiting delivery of the new Chevrolet you have ordered from us, and we want to pass on to you the latest information received from the Chevrolet Motor Division, even though that information isn't too encouraging at this time.

It is true that Chevrolet leads all other manufacturers in total production of passenger cars and trucks from January through September 1946, despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of this year. It is also true that Chevrolet has continued to maintain its lead in total production during the third quarter of 1946. And yet production is still running far below desired levels, with the result that Chevrolet's output of cars and trucks through September 1946 was only 38.7% of the number produced during the corresponding period of 1941.

This means it may take many months for the Chevrolet Motor Division to reach peak production of new Chevrolets—even longer to fill the unprecedented demand for this product of BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST —and, for the present at least, "there just aren't enough Chevrolets to go around," much as we wish there were.

However, we want you to know that new Chevrolets are leaving the plants in the largest numbers possible today. The Chevrolet Motor Division tells us it is doing everything it can, in the face of continued suppliers' strikes, material shortages and manpower problems, to step up shipments to us and to all dealers, in accordance with a predetermined distribution plan assuring each dealer of his fair allotment, based on 1941 passenger car sales. And we, in turn, are doing our best to deliver new Chevrolets to our customers as rapidly as they are received and in the fairest possible way. We are too appreciative of your loyalty and goodwill—too grateful for your patience and understanding—to do anything less than continue to serve you to the very best of our ability.

KEEP YOUR PRESENT CAR RUNNING

Meanwhile, the most important car of all to you is the car you are driving now. May we suggest that you keep it in top running condition until you secure delivery of your new Chevrolet, by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals. Remember—cold weather is hardest on old cars. Please see us for a complete check-up today. . . . And, again, thank you!

Land of the Big Wind

A Kansas farmer admonished his two young sons to get busy with their hay hauling.

"It's too windy to haul hay, Pop," the sons replied.

"Did you try the crowbar hole?" asked the father.

"What's that?" the boys wanted to know.

"Hasn't anyone ever showed you the crowbar hole?" the farmer exclaimed in surprise. Picking up a crowbar, he led the boys into the cow barn, pointing out a knothole. "Now," he explained, you ram the crowbar clean through the knothole, like this. If the wind bends the bar back against the barn so's you can't pull it out — it's too windy to haul hay."

Funeral Director: "How old are you, sir?"
Aged Mourner: "I'm 98."
Funeral Director: "Hardly worth going home, is it?"

Modern Pied Piper Has Killed 50,000,000 Rats

Dallas. — Meet a traveling pied piper, a guy who has killed 50,000,000 rats. He's James Lorenz Nicholes, 77, and he says his address is United States of America, because he's always traveling.

In Texas to see if there are any rats that need killing, the professional rodent exterminator said today he started his strange profession 35 years ago "because I hate rats." "After killing several million of the things, I've stopped seeing them," he said. "It's just a job." Nicholes uses three special baits. If you put one bait out, he said the rats are suspicious. They are still suspicious if there are only two kinds of bait. But three is the magic number. The rats start eating — and dying. Nicholes is sorry about only one of the 50,000,000 rats he has killed. This rat was in prison. When it died, a condemned man in whose cell the rat fell picked up the body, crying, and sobbed that "it was the only friend I had."

EARLY CORRECTION URGED TO PREVENT FUTURE EYE TROUBLE

Austin, Texas. — Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said today. "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a correction by means of temporary glasses made when required."

Parents, Dr. Cox asserted, should be watchful for danger signals in the child such as frowning, squinting, persistent headache, and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the face, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses, nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist. If there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life than to have permanently defective vision in later life," he declared.

Dr. Cox said that neglect of the eyes is by no means limited to children. Many older persons, some through vanity, indifference, or carelessness, fail to give proper attention to the care of their eyes. Penalties, he warned are bound to occur for such inexcusable negligence.

To measure a mind one need only find out the size of the problem it worries about.

Champion of Clean Milk

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Clean milk and milk products will always command a good market, according to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, who isn't worrying about farm surpluses—either on his own 600-acre dairy farm-ranch near here, or on the nation's farm front. He believes the war actually stimulated the market for milk and milk products. Here he is shown examining one of the milking machines used on his farm. Anderson is particular about maintaining high standards of farm cleanliness because he is convinced that American farmers must continue to improve quality and production of their milk in order to hold the peak market. The Secretary milks about 150 cows.

LINDSAY RITE UNITES ALVIN LOERWALD AND GERTRUDE FUHRMANN

Miss Gertrude Fuhrmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Fuhrmann, became the bride of Alvin (Red) Loerwald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loerwald, in a pretty ceremony performed Tuesday morning at 8:30 in Saint Peter's church at Lindsay. Rev. Conrad Herda officiated at the double ring service and was celebrant of the nuptial high mass.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. William Fleitman, organist, and the church choir.

The bride was attractive in a white satin gown fashioned with high, round neck, long fitted sleeves that were pointed over the hands, pointed basque bodice and extremely full skirt that terminated in a long train. Her veil was finger-tip length held in place with a satin bandeau and she carried a white prayerbook topped with a gardenia.

Miss Bernice Fuhrmann was her sister's only attendant. She wore a frock of pink georgette made with a fitted bodice and gathered skirt and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations. Her headress was a halo of pink flowers.

Walter Loerwald attended his brother as best man.

Following the services the home of the bride's parents was the scene of an all-day celebration. Breakfast was served to the bridal party, and immediate members of both families were guests at dinner. An informal reception for some one hundred relatives and friends followed and a buffet supper was served. Miss Bernice Fuhrmann presided at the bride's book. A dance in the Lindsay hall concluded the day's festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Loerwald are on a wedding trip after which they will make their home three miles north of Lindsay on a farm. He is a native of Lindsay, attended school there and served with the infantry for four years during the war in the Pacific theatre. Mrs. Loerwald was born in Muenster, moving to Lindsay with her parents in 1939.

will stoop in order to poison the minds of innocent, unsuspecting children.

A teacher reminds her pupils that they have heard of God who is all powerful, and who answers their prayers. So she suggests a half hour of prayer during which the children ask God for cookies. When the cookies fail to arrive at the end of the half hour she suggests trying to pray to Tito for cookies. Before the time is up messengers arrive with a basket of cookies, with compliments from Tito. It's pre-arranged, of course, but children do not see through it. Their only impression is that God is discredited and Tito is glorified.

marriage. She was lovely in a gown of white satin designed with sweetheart neckline, moulded midriff and full skirt that fell into a long train. Her finger-tip length veil was attached to a Mary Stewart cap topped with a cluster of orange blossoms. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom, and for "something borrowed" carried a silver rosary belonging to her mother. "Something old" was her mother's engagement ring. The bride's flowers were an arm bouquet of white roses.

Miss Math Lee Neu was her sister's maid of honor, and the groom's sister, Miss Grace Wimmer, was bridesmaid. Miss Neu wore a frock of yellow net over taffeta made with fitted bodice and full skirt topped with a peplum, and completed her costume with a headress of white split carnations. Miss Wimmer's dress was of blue marquisette over taffeta designed with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her headress was identical to that worn by Miss Neu and both wore shoulder corsages of white carnations.

Little Miss Jane Curtis of Gainesville was flower girl in a ruffled blue net dress and carried a basket of pink roses.

Andrew Wimmer, brother of the groom, and Alford Neu, brother of the bride, were attendants for Mr. Wimmer. Werner Henschel and Paul Neu were ushers.

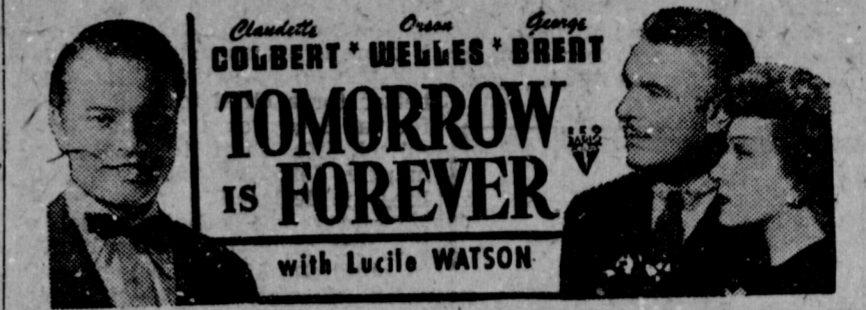

The bride's mother wore a black and lime ensemble with black accessories and the groom's mother wore a black costume with black accessories. Both wore pink carnation corsages.

After the services a wedding breakfast was served at the Wimmer home to members of the bridal party and the parents. At noon dinner was served to immediate members of both families in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table carried out the all-white bridal theme and was centered with a three-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal figurine. At 5:30 a buffet supper for some 100 relatives and friends was served in the school dining room and a dance in the Lindsay hall brought the day's celebration to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Wimmer left during the late evening on a wedding trip the bride wearing a black two piece suit with black and winter white accessories and a corsage of white roses. When they return they will make their home in Muenster here he is employed with the REA. They will occupy an apartment at the home of Mrs. Henry Walterscheid.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wimmer are popular in the young set in Lindsay and Muenster. She attended St. Peter's school at Lindsay graduating from high school there. He was educated in Muenster and served in the Pacific and European theatres during the past war.

The Habit of Thrift

Did you ever try to write with your other hand? At first you think in terms of each stroke of a letter. Gradually the entire letter becomes the unit, then a word until writing with your other hand becomes easy, and you pay no attention to the mechanics of each stroke.
So With Saving — If you plan your spending wisely, you can cultivate the habit of thrift by building up a savings account which will make possible many of the good things of life in the future.
