HIGHER COURT REVERSED ITS FORMER RULE

The reversal of the Leonard case was not a surprise to anybody since the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed its construction of the new murder statute. The Legislature of the State of Texas during the 1927 session passed a law giving a new definition of murder and doing away with the crime of manslaughter, the purpose being to simplify our murder statutes and avoid technicalities and reversals because of some technical error in the indictment or charge as to the particular degree or character of homicide. The first decision under this new law came out during the fall of 1928, the case of the State of Texas versus Crutcher being the first case in which the Court of Criminal Appeals construed this law. In the Crutcher case the Court of Criminal Appeals held that it was not necessary that an indictment for murder contain the allegation "with malice aforethought." And this was the holding of the Court of Criminal Appeals until within the last two or three months when it reversed itself and now holds that the allegation "with malice aforethought" is necessary in an indictment.

SAN SABA CAVE IS VISITED BY LARGE CROWDS

A large crowd, numbering between thirty and forty, took advantage of Mr. Shaw's generous offer to visit the newly explored cave in San Saba county during the past week-end and all expressed their delight at the wonderful sights which the cave offered. Most of the visitors were from that county and the surrounding territory. On Saturday morning the trip but arrived at Richland Springs too late to make the trip to the cave, as it is quite a ways to it from that town. Not anticipating the large response from his office Mr. Shaw was not prepared for the large crowd. For that reason he has expressed the desire that all visitors come in the early afternoon or advise him in advance as to their date of coming so that all will not be disappointed as last Sunday. No further explorations were made last week, and Mr. Shaw was held to task with work in his garage and could not get away long enough to spend much time in the cave. The new tunnel will have to be fixed in some way to purify the air before it can be reached—that much was discovered in the cave last Sunday. One of the parties made a short trip into a new room, but nothing extraordinary was seen. However there are many unexplored entrances from the new room.

This Week Celebrates Lyric's 1st Anniversary of Talking Pictures

In connection with the first anniversary of talking pictures, now going on at the Lyric, some interesting facts have recently been brought to light according to Manager J. C. Tunstall of that theatre, who has furnished the following data on the history of attempts to reproduce the human voice in connection with moving pictures.

Thomas A. Edison, who is generally credited with being the father of the motion picture itself, likewise looks as the pioneer figure in these early attempts to make "talking-pictures." The earliest of his experiments to gain public attention was embodied in an instrument known first as the camera-phone and later referred to as the acetophone. This was completed and displayed in 1905.

This was indeed a clumsy attempt, but it is interesting to note that it was produced in 1905, which was just short of ten years before the first public theatrical display of Edison's first picture machine, in 1896. One of the subjects employed in the camera-phone was Eva Tanguay singing her famous song "I Don't Care." We may thus regard this diminutive star, known as "the melodic comedienne," as the very first of the "talkie stars." But the public evidently did not care for her, and the camera-phone or acetophone quickly disappeared.

More Elaborate Attempt
The next attempt—also Edison's—was on a far more elaborate scale, for in this experiment the picture was actually projected on the screen. This device, first known as the camera-phone and later and better known as the kinetophone, made its appearance February the 17th, 1913. It is fair to consider this 1913 kinetophone as the early forerunner of the phonographic method of talking-picture production of today, for even as crude as was its technique and as unsatisfactory as was its product, the basic idea of its substantially that employed to-day in the phonographic recording of talking pictures.

The 1913 kinetophone remained before the public but a short time, however, and it was not until 1925 that the production of pictures embodying the synchronous reproduction of sound was essayed in a manner bespeaking a final success.

The presentation in the theatre of Al Jolson's first singing vehicle occurred about two years later. Soon this picture was playing in theatres all over the country, for together with the development of a method for producing synchronized action and sound pictures, there had been conducted a series of experiments which had likewise perfected the apparatus necessary for the projection of these pictures on the screen and the adequate reproduction of the sound elements in the theatre. Soon theatres everywhere were being adapted to the requirements of the new art. The old silent projection apparatus was removed or converted into the modern sound-reproducing apparatus, and talking-pictures had come to stay.

As an instance of just how far the producers and exhibitors have traveled in the short space since this occurred, Manager J. C. Tunstall draws attention to "Sarah and Son," Ruth Chatterton's latest starring vehicle, which will be shown at the Lyric, beginning Thursday for two days.

There are twenty-three enumerators in this county which is divided into twenty-five of the whole district. There are twenty-three divisions in the county, but two are small and are combined with neighboring districts and are under the direction of the other enumerators.

The road committee told of the past work on roads on the territory, and the work planned by the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year. The industrial committee in their letter told of progress and of growth, and warned the people to avoid the natural business slump which follows after excess building. This letter was the last one mailed to the members of the chamber of commerce.

Now the bankers have sent their letter, which was put into the mails yesterday and which starts with a quotation from Theodore Roosevelt speaking of prosperity and then the letter tells of the good of the chamber of commerce and of its work and giving their heartiest endorsement and pledging their cooperation.

LEONARD CASE REVERSED BY APPEALS COURT

The verdict in the O. T. Leonard case of fifty years imprisonment for the murder of John R. Wilson here was reversed and remanded in higher court today because the indictment did not allege malice aforethought, although the verdict carried more than five years imprisonment.

O. T. Leonard was sentenced here last June to fifty years imprisonment for the murder of John R. Wilson. This was the second trial for Leonard, the first trial in April having resulted in a hung jury. The jury was out over thirty hours.

AUSTIN, April 2.—(AP)—The death sentence conviction of Thomas Davis Eastland county for the murder of A. L. Shook, was reversed and remanded by the court of criminal appeals today.

Davis, 17 at the time of the homicide, was said to have been of subnormal mentality. He and Clyde Thompson were arrested a n d charged with murder after the decomposed bodies of A. L. and Leon Shook, brothers, had been found.

It was claimed Thompson did the actual killing, and Davis subsequently denied as true a confession he was said to have made.

In sending the case back for a new trial the court wrote that "the issue of appellant's subnormal mentality was overwhelmingly raised if not established," noting also that "under such a statement of facts death is an extremely harsh penalty against a boy of only 17, charged with his first offense."

Two murder cases were reversed and remanded because the indictment was defective.

PUSHING SALE OF HIGH GRADE COTTON SEED

A meeting of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday afternoon at the chamber rooms to discuss the distribution and sale of the two cars of high grade cotton seed which has been purchased by the organization.

These seeds were chosen last year by H. G. Lucas and O. W. McDonald and after much discussion it was decided to use Mehane seed this time to discourage the half and half plan of cotton planting.

The two cars of seeds have arrived and are ready for sale to the farmers. These seeds are being sold at the price which they cost the Chamber of Commerce and are being sold for profit, but to better the quality of cotton in Brown county.

Co-operate With Agent To increase the quality of products raised in Brown county the Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the county agent, O. P. Griffin in getting the best of every kind of seed planted in Brown county soil and they are attempting to aid the farmers in getting better products and better prices by means of the cooperative system.

After the discussion of the sale and distribution of the seeds the marketing question was discussed and plans were offered to aid in the sale of products for the highest possible price to the farmers. After that the committee decided to meet with W. F. Schilling, member of the federal farm board, who will visit Brownwood next week in interest of the poultry marketing situation.

A letter was read from Stamford in which the head of the chamber of commerce there was making inquiries to Mr. Burks for a market here for high class eggs. In the letter he said that there was no market there for high grade infertile eggs, but knowing that Brownwood was considered one of the produce and poultry centers of the state he was asking if there was a local organization which would be interested in the purchase of the eggs. He said further that if so a good contract could be made with the farmers of the vicinity to buy these products.

Officers Locate Goods Stolen From the Parlor Market

Sheriff M. H. Denman and Deputy Luther Guthrie located the loot taken from the Parlor Market Sunday night when nearly $400 worth of merchandise was stolen. The goods were found in a vacant house on Willis Creek, but no one was at the house at the time of the arrival of the officials.

A check of the goods found in the house showed that it had all been kept together and none of it was missing with the check taken at the store tallying with that at the home.

Chas. Gilliam's barber shop completed moving Tuesday afternoon and was installed in its new quarters on East Anderson this morning. It moved from the building on Center Avenue where it had been for the past eight years into new quarters recently established for it.

THREE PLACES HERE ROBBED SUNDAY NIGHT

Three business places were entered here Sunday night by burglars who escaped with almost $500 in cash and goods. Robbers entered the Parlor Market on East Lee Street, the Arcadia News Stand on Center and a restaurant at 111 Main Street.

Entrance to the Arcadia was gained by breaking a portion of the glass on the front door and opening the night lock. A light which burns just over the door was unscrewed to darken the place. Cash to the amount of $29.71 was taken from that firm, and a check showed that no goods were missing.

Large Amount Foodstuffs A truck or automobile was used at the Parlor Market where a large amount of foodstuffs and cash was taken. Entrance was gained at the rear of the store where the thieves loaded their automobile. In this robbery over $400 worth of merchandise was taken including only staple foods.

DR. A. C. SCOTT RESIGNS FROM PRISON BOARD

TEMPLE, Texas, March 29.—(P)—Dr. A. C. Scott, who as vice-chairman of the Texas prison commission had been actively interested in prison reform, today had added his protest to what he termed the "expensive price of patchwork" embodied in prison relief legislation enacted by the legislature.

AUSTIN, March 29.—(P)—Resignation of Dr. A. C. Scott of Temple from the prison board leaves a vacancy that will be difficult to fill, Governor Dan Moody said today. He added he could not blame him for quitting.

It is pretty hard for busy business and professional men to give so much of their valuable time to a state service and then hear themselves criticized, such as happened on the part of the legislature, Governor Moody said.

Most Time Spent By Commissioners On Road Matters

Commissioners court met in regular session Monday and spent most of the time discussing and passing on road matters. It was decided to give C. G. Gressett the job of conveying some property owned by the county. The jury of view named last week by the body was appointed yesterday for work on Highway No. 10 to the McCulloch county line.

A petition of Solie Baker and ten others of near Zephyr to change the road there was heard and refused. A petition to change the road near the Colorado river was deferred to a later meeting. This petition was signed by R. L. Mauldin and ten others.

G. L. Oliver, passenger agent for the Frisco, who is making the trip with the Dallas party, added his welcome to that already extended by Brownwood speakers.

The purpose of the long trip, which involves 1265 miles and carries the visitors through the heart of West Texas, was explained by the Dallas visitors as being to inform themselves as to the actual conditions existing in this territory and to cement the ties of friendship existing between Dallas and this area.

Leaving Brownwood early Tuesday, the party was to spend Tuesday night in San Angelo, Wednesday night at Big Spring, Thursday night at Plainview, Friday night at Childress, and return to Dallas late Saturday night.

Taken Over City

On arrival here yesterday afternoon the Dallas delegation met at the depot a group of Brownwood men headed by Brooke Ramey, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Enough automobiles were there to take the entire party over Brownwood and the surrounding country.

The party split into groups, visiting places of most interest to them, some going to Hot Wells, some to the new dam site, some to the Lucas Pecan farm, some over the city. After returning from their tours the group expressed themselves as more than pleased with the prospect of the city and the way in which everything was being done in such a substantial way.

It was generally expressed that the new buildings, dam, and natural resources here were all that could be wished for and with the way in which the Chamber of Commerce is planning their work and the way that they are going about it made the future of the town assured.

Those who visited the proposed dam site said that it was one of the best in the state and that when completed would make one of the best fishing places in the state, with the many rocks and natural rugged scenery which surrounded the lake.

After returning to their train last night they expressed themselves as believing in the future of the town, and one representative said that the entertainment was the very best, and that they were more than pleased with their reception here and the enthusiasm shown by the local business men.

Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller To Be Speaker at Scout Court Here

Barry Miller, lieutenant governor of Texas, will make the principal address and make the awards to the Boy Scouts qualifying for advancement at the Boy Scout Court of Honor to be held at the Lyric Theatre, Sunday, April 6th, starting at 3:00 o'clock.

Barry Miller

Mr. Miller's address will deal with the Boy Scout movement in Texas. He is one of the outstanding speakers, not only in Texas, but in the South and really knows the scout movement and can talk on it in an interesting and comprehensive manner.

The speaker was to have come to Brownwood on May 6th to attend the birthday party of the Business and Professional Women's Club, but the members decided that the Boy Scout organization here needed help and his influence to help it in an interesting and comprehensive manner.

Jack Brunberg, scout executive, said today that the scouts here had until Thursday morning to qualify for advancement. It is agreed that the day will be one of the biggest in the history of the organization here and many people are expected to be present.

Judge E. M. Davis is president of the Pecan Valley Council and P. T. Stanford is chairman of the Court of Honor.

JONES RE-ELECTED MAYOR OF BRADY IN HOT CONTEST

BRADY, Texas, April 2 (Sp.)—The mayor bitterly waged city election campaign in the history of Brady came to a climax here today when E. J. Jones was re-elected mayor over W. W. Cox by a vote of 693 to 396.

Proposed sale of the city's utilities plant, a $500,000 project, built to its present proportions under the administration of Jones, re-elected for the fifth term, was apparently blocked by the outcome of the election.

W. B. Douglas, who polled 667 votes, was elected city recorder over G. B. Awall, with 311 votes. Gordon Samuelson received 571 votes for city secretary, defeating Ernest Teters, present incumbent, whose vote was 429.

Well Known Eastland, Texas, Woman Gives Her Reasons for Endorsing Orgatone (Argotane).

Mrs. T. M. Holmes, wife of a well known drilling contractor and residing at 603 Halbryan St., Eastland, Texas, in a recent statement regarding the benefits she has derived from Orgatone (Argotane) says:

"I haven't been in good health for several years. My system seemed to be all run down my appetite was very poor and I had aches and pains in my stomach after eating. I couldn't sleep well, was nervous and irritable and suffered a great deal from biliousness. In fact, I never felt good at any time and knew I needed something to put me in condition.

"Seeing Orgatone (Argotane) so highly recommended in the papers and many of the people I lived right here in Eastland, I decided to try it, and it has certainly set me right. My run-down, nervous, irritable feelings are gone and my appetite is splendid. All my aches and pains have left me. I sleep like a log every night and am simply feeling great. These are my reasons for thinking so well of Orgatone (Argotane) and I have told numbers of others about it."

Genuine Orgatone (Argotane) may be bought in Brownwood at the Camp-Bell and Peersless Drug Stores. (adv.)

NEW DISCOVERIES ADD TO THE INTERESTS OF SAN SABA CAVE

Two brand new rooms, one more beautiful than any thus far explored; a new vertical tunnel that drops farther than any man can see from the first level of the cave are some of the new discoveries brought to light last Tuesday in the cave now being explored on Gibben's ranch in San Saba county.

Most Beautiful Room
The room, the most beautiful seen, was discovered on the other side of the entrance side that none had even started to explore. This room fairly mocks at description. Perhaps the most outstanding formation in the bevy of formations is at the center of the room.

LELAND'S WIN OVER BRACEY WAS DECISIVE

BY BRUCE M. FRANCIS

TO the several thousand fans that attended the Sixth Annual Texas University Relays in Austin, Friday, Cyrus Leland's sensational and decisive victory over Claude Bracey, the Dixie Flyer, was the highlight of the day's outdoor race classic. But to the athletes of Daniel Baker and their friends who watched them perform, the Hill Billies' victory in the 880 yard relay, as well as the Brownwood team's sensational battle in the medley relay against the Abilene Christian College, were the highlights of the day's meet. Daniel Baker, thanks to a sensational finish by Hugh Ratliff, another man in the 880 yard relay, won first honors in this spectacular race and but for a mix-up in passing the baton in the medley, the Brownwood boys would have beaten Abilene Christian or else forced the Christians to step fast enough to set a new record.

In the medley relay, Edwert Dunkin, running the 440 for Daniel Baker, led Jesse Wood of the Christians lead him by a few feet at the finish and Gus Snodgrass was not able to make up this distance against Joe Hodges of A. C. C., in the first of the two 220 sprints, in fact Gus may have lost a little ground. But Hugh Ratliff took the baton from Snodgrass and displaying a great burst of speed overtook Ernest Thompson, Wildcat speedster, and led him at the finish as that when Dame Fortune turned against the Billies. Ratliff was placed in lane one by the officials, hence was due to finish in lane eight and did, but Edwert Dunkin was waiting for him in lane one at the end of the 220. Ratliff led the field to the finish, then had to stop and cross over to lane one where Edward was waiting for him, all of which allowed Dyke Vaughn, A. C. C. half miler, to take at least a 10 yard lead over Dunkin, a lead that Dunkin was never able to overcome, despite a great finish that carried him within a few feet of the speeding Vaughn.

The mix-up on lanes was no fault of either Ratliff or Dunkin, but of Alderson, the official, who placed Ratliff in lane one instead of lane eight at the start of his 220 sprint. All of which is not offered as an alibi for the Billies for a certainty that they needed none after offering the Wildcats as for that, all others in the race, a merry battle. At any rate, the Baker lads copied high scoring honors in the college division with eight points scored on a first and second in the two events entered.

Billies in S. M. U. Meet

Their great work at Austin Friday caused Coach Youngblood and Athletic Director Blair to take the Billy cinders team to Dallas Friday night where they are entered in the annual S. M. U. Relays being held in Dallas today. The Billies will enter the same events in Dallas the medley and 880 yard relay. Coach Youngblood permitted Snodgrass and Ratliff to enter the 100 yard dash, university class, yesterday, but the two Daniel Baker speed merchants found the field too fast. But at that Snodgrass finished fourth in the fastest of the two preliminary heats held, finishing not more than a yard behind Bracey, who paced this heat with a time of 9.8 seconds. Ratliff finished fifth in the preliminary heat that was led by Leland.

Earl Smith, Hill Billy distance man, was entered in the special 3,000 meter race but after keeping pace with the leaders during the first two or three laps, dropped out. Victories for Daniel Baker and A. C. C. in the relays and San Angelo High School's triumphs in the medley and mile relays, gave West Central Texas the majority of the glory in the college and high school divisions. All three schools are being represented at Dallas today in the S. M. U. Relay carnival. Brownwood High School, though not entered in the Texas Relays, competed in the S. M. U. carnival in Dallas today. Coach Woodward and his boys having made the trip to Dallas Friday. The Lions were due to enter the 880 yard relay and the medley.

B. H. S. Student To Enter Oratorical Contest at Abilene

Jeff Thomas Wilkes, student in Brownwood Senior High School, will enter as a representative from his school in the first annual West Texas high school oratorical contest which will be held at Simmons University, April 26th, under the direction of the Oratorical and Debating Council of that school. The awards will be historical portraits of Texas heroes, painted by Peter Plotkin, Russian artist, who is professor of portraiture at Simmons. Brownwood's entrant will speak on Robert E. Lee. The contest will be open to students in Class A or B high schools of this section. Each school is allowed one entry which may be a boy or girl. The orations are to be on the life and service of some Texas or Southern hero, citizen, soldier or statesman. Historical paintings valued at $750 will be offered as prizes. Winner of first place will receive a portrait valued at $400. Second prize will be a $250.00 picture and third prize a portrait valued at $100.00. The prizes are to become the property of the schools represented by the winning contestants.

Canal Much Used The first official passage through the Panama canal was made on August 15, 1914. It was made by the steamship Ancon. Since then thousands of ships have used it to go from one ocean to another.

NEW DISCOVERIES ADD TO THE INTERESTS OF SAN SABA CAVE

By ELMO R. BAKER

Two brand new rooms, one more beautiful than any thus far explored; a new vertical tunnel that drops farther than any man can see from the first level of the cave are some of the new discoveries brought to light last Tuesday in the cave now being explored on Gibben's ranch in San Saba county. About fifteen miles southwest of Richland Springs. This new tunnel cannot be explored without a rope ladder or some means of climbing. This tunnel was reached at the very last of the day's explorations and right at the time when every one was tired and ready to quit for the day; therefore it was decided by Mr. Milan Shaw, the man in charge of the exploring, that this tunnel would be explored a few days later.

After reaching the new tunnel, it was noticed that the air became just a trifle more stifling and it might mean that the air will have to be pumped out and good air pumped into the tunnel before entering. However, plans are under way to secure a canary or some similar bird for experimental purposes the next time. Mr. Shaw rather thinks that it is not dangerous, but still he is a thorough man and is taking no chances.

Most Beautiful Room The room, the most beautiful seen, was discovered on the other side of the entrance, a side that none had even started to explore. This room fairly mocks at description. Perhaps the most outstanding formation in the cave of formations is at the center of the room. This is a bit of limestone, crystal etc., must be a combination of a huge stalactite and a stalagmite, both of which merge into one huge figure that perfectly resembles a beautiful fountain such as one sees in the large city parks.

What makes this formation so pretty is the fact that the water in dripping down through the ages and ages has caused the minute crystals to be of all hues of the rainbow and more perhaps. The whole of the formation resembles a miniature pagoda, having widening ledges at regular intervals upon its sides. Over these ledges the imitation water trickles with such realism that one almost imagines that he hears the gurgling and gushing of the water running over the ledges. There are many other sights in this room, but this is one that would catch a watchful eye first.

The man who discovered the cave about thirty years ago, Mr. Mark Terry, incidentally the justice of peace, states that the new tunnel which leads from this new room must lead to the huge room which two men have seen. He says that these two men, both of them living today but who are in other parts of the state are generally known to be truthful and for that reason he is inclined to believe them when they say that they saw a gigantic room after traveling quite a distance through a long tunnel. Mr. Terry is almost sure that the newly found tunnel is the same one that leads to this big room.

To Endless Cavern One of the two men stated that when he reached this room he came to an endless cavern from which a loud roaring was heard. He said that when he got to this crack that the oil lantern which he was carrying, went out causing him to turn back for fear of fire-damp. So far as is known these two men have been the only ones to reach that room. No one in the party of eight last Tuesday had ever been in the new tunnel. For that reason, Mr. Shaw will probably make his life that this tunnel leads to the new room and more wonders, if he can only reach it.

The rest of the cave is perfectly safe, as some of the men smoked while exploring, and it may be that the new tunnel can be reached to be opened a little more, if necessary for safety.

The only signs of life in the cave to be seen are small cricket-like bugs scattered around on the ceiling. One of the men, who has encountered once in a while and they are almost entirely extinct. Explorations have been going on for a period of one month, Mr. Shaw doing practically all of the work, being assisted by his pal, Coggin Chiles. Mr. Shaw has completed arrangements to take charge of the cave, and in the words of Mr. Gibben, ranch owner, to do "what you wish with it." Mr. Shaw is working now towards opening the cave to the public and plans to dynamite the entrance so that steps can be hewn out of the rock which leads to the first room in the cave. This entrance will be padlocked and fenced later on for his protection.

Free For the Present However, until that time of the opening, Mr. Shaw has generously agreed to take people down to see the cave in its nude state, providing they are prepared to climb and pay expenses to and from the cave and Richland Springs. After the opening, though, he plans to charge for entrance.

He has authorized the statement that as many as wish to take the trip at present have only to come to Richland Springs, or to write him at Shaw's Garage, to make arrangements and he will be more than glad to accommodate them.

A party of eight made the trip Tuesday and included Mark Terry, the man whom the cave is named after and who discovered the cave. Others in the party to go down into Terry Cave were: Milan Shaw, owner and explorer, Coggin Chiles, an Irishman in all his glory, Jack Rhyne, John Jamar, Gerde M. Baker, Richard Baker, and Elmo R. Baker. Next week there will be more to reveal concerning the new tunnel and its end.

H. J. MARR, PROMINENT CITIZEN OF GROSVENOR DIES FROM BURNS RECEIVED IN FIRE AT OIL WELL

H. J. Marr lost his life and Roy Sims was severely burned as a result of a fire in the "dog-house" at the Hynes Well No. 1 on the H. J. Marr lease, about four and one-half miles north of Abilene, Texas, Thursday. Mr. Marr died at a local hospital at about 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

H. J. Marr, 63, was an old-time citizen of the Thrifty community and Roy Sims is an employee of an oil company. His home is in Gorman, Texas.

The "dog-house" where the two men were sitting burst into flames when a gas pipe, which had been run into the house and fitted into a pile of bricks for warming purposes, was pulled out and the full force of the gas hit the building and ignited from the fire inside. The pressure of the gas had been kept down by a string tied around a rubber gas hose. It is stated, which connected the two pipes which ran into the house.

When the pipe was pulled apart from the hose the full pressure went to the house and the flames leaped up about fifteen feet high. The lumber of the house was greasy and oily clothing was hanging in the building and aided the blaze in spreading over the small house in a few seconds.

Marr and Sims were the only men in the house at the time and the fire started so quickly that they were trapped. Sims ran through the blaze and out of the door of the house before he was suffocated, but received severe burns of the face and hands, but will easily recover, say doctors. Mr. Marr was suffocated by the blaze and stayed in the house until the other men at the "rig" turned the house over and pulled him out. His clothing was taken off and he was unconscious when taken out. Ambulances were called from Brownwood and Sims was taken to the Central Texas Hospital at Abilene at about 1 o'clock and at that time there was little hope for his recovery.

It is said that several other men who work at the well received minor burns in trying to rescue Mr. Marr, but that none of the burns were serious. Mr. Marr had lived in the Grosvenor community for many years and was well known there. He was a farmer. Besides Mrs. Marr, he is survived by five daughters and one son, all of Thrifty. Edith, Mrs. Stella Burkett, Lillie, Cindy, Sammie and Tom are the surviving children. Mr. Marr had lived in Brownwood for forty-five years and was a well known and highly esteemed citizen of the Grosvenor community. Funeral arrangements have been

BUILDING FOR YEAR IN CITY IS $499,950

Despite that building permits for the month of March in Brownwood fell far below the totals for January and February, the total for the first three months of the year lacks only a few dollars reaching the half million mark. The total permits for March are $41,600 and the year's total is $499,950, according to Henry Mount, architect.

Permits for the month included five residences, the Melwood Avenue Baptist church, the Central Produce Company and repair jobs at the Mays Printing Company and the McClelland building.

The year's total includes only building permits within the city limits and does not take in the large amount of money that is being spent throughout the county in highway work.

Debaters Meet San Angelo Teams

The boys debating team of Brownwood High School were defeated by the San Angelo High School debating team in a practice debate at the High School Saturday. The boys were debating on the affirmative side of the question. In the second debate between the same teams, Brownwood defeated San Angelo.

The Brownwood girls team defeated the San Angelo team, using the negative side. The judges said that all of the debates were good and that the girls were so close that it was hard to make the decisions. At noon the local debaters served the visitors with a delicious plate lunch at the Central Texas School of Oratory and Expression building. The dinner was very much enjoyed by all and the debates were held in a friendly spirit of competition.

Both local teams will debate Abilene teams at the High School next Saturday. A machine developed by P. P. Closs measures one-billionth of an inch, which is regarded as the smallest measurable distance.

COUNTY POLL TAX PAYMENTS SHOW INCREASE

State and county poll taxes here for the year 1929 show an increase over last year of 918 for the entire county, according to figures released by Mrs. Nelson Markham of the tax collectors office. The poll tax paid this year totaled 6,376, as compared with 5,458 for last year.

There is a noticeable gain in most of the thirty-two voting precincts in the county, but several have lost a few tax payers. Three of the boxes neither gained nor lost, the number for this year remaining the same as last. Officials attributed the increase in the total to the fact that this is election year for state and county officers with important city elections added, which made more people pay their poll tax.

In the precinct embracing the four wards in Brownwood there is seen a noticeable increase in the returns for this year. Last year these totaled 2,457 as compared to 3,943 for 1929. Each ward gained several voters with ward 4 listed as Coggin School showing the most noticeable increase, followed by ward 1 which votes at the court house. Ward four of the city and precinct 32 of the county has the largest number of voters, both last year and this.

According to a statement recently made by County Judge E. M. Davis and corroborated by County Attorney T. C. Wilkinson, Jr., referring to voting in city elections without having paid a city poll tax there is a large number of people in Brownwood who will be able to vote who otherwise would have been excluded from the polls next Tuesday. City poll tax returns show that there were 2,439 city tax receipts issued and according to county and state receipts there were 3,943 qualified voters in the city, which will give 694 more the right to vote in the city election.

The returns for 1928 and for 1929 are given below, showing the number and name of each precinct and the number of poll tax paid last year as compared to this year.

Hornburg to Hold San Diego Revival

Rev. W. R. Hornburg, pastor of the Coggin Avenue Baptist church, left here Monday for San Diego, California, where he will conduct a revival campaign. In the coming meeting seven large churches of that city will combine, for the services and a large downtown theatre building has been rented for the four weeks campaign.

Dr. Hornburg recently returned from San Diego where he held a revival meeting for one of the churches, during which time he attracted attention all along the Pacific coast with his sermons, and his gospel messages. As a result of his preaching at that time he was recalled for the city-wide campaign. On his return here the annual spring revival of the Coggin Avenue church will start on Easter Sunday, and will continue for two weeks. It was announced from that church Sunday. The church holds an annual spring and fall revival yearly, with either the pastor or some minister from other churches doing the preaching. It was said that during the absence of the pastor that Rev. Cayhill would conduct the regular preaching services.

An Invitation to the SUN

BY MARJORIE HOWE DIXON
EMERGING from the cold days of winter, some bleak, others gloomy and dark like unto the hibernating hedgehog (doth the hedgehog so do?) Our natural history, the encyclopedia, is out of reach, at any rate we unroll ourselves and prepare for springtime and sunshine.

First we shall send out an invitation that will read this way:
A most cordial invitation is extended by myself, family, and pet dog and canary, to Messrs. Sun Beam and Ray, Incorporated, Manufacturers of Light, Joy and Health, to attend the spring opening of our sun-parlor and terrace. Every day, 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. R. S. V. P.

It might happen that Messrs. Sun Beam and Ray, Inc. would feel impelled to withdraw at 6 p. m. with proper encouragement and entertainment, they would want to stay longer and longer, on our gray terrace.

This matter of entertaining is a part of living these days, whether one resides in a city apartment with its sun room, or in the wide open spaces, where the terrace is the out-of-door living room.

A very lovely terrace comes to mind. Its principal feature was its clever decoration of tiles. Along the house-wall they were set in, chair high. They were repeated in the flooring of the terrace, with bricks for the main substance of the pattern. A trailing old wisteria vine roofed over this sun-room, supported on iron grills. Large urns with potted trees were placed at the foot of the iron upright. Rattan and wrought iron furniture was used, with cushioned seats covered with a plain color of peacock blue.

Dressing Up the Terrace
A terrace may be roofed with a gay strip of awning, very appropriately. Colors of the awning may be repeated in the canvas used for chair coverings. Besides comfortable deep divans, and chaise-longues with foot rests, there is the indispensable table for the terrace. Tea tables, library tables, end tables, all are furnished in rattan and stick willow to match the other pieces. A graceful wrought iron flower stand or fernery is usually a feature. Large and small urns with potted shrubs help bring the garden to the house.

Among the smaller decorations are iron lanterns and wall brackets. Iron bells to summon guests to meals are most amusing. No well-equipped veranda or terrace should be without one. If one wishes to live even more closely to nature, he will arrange for a paved out-of-door terrace, quite unroofed, and with a fountain or sundial for centerpiece. Stone seats set among the shrub borders are very attractive, and iron or hickory furniture of rustic type may be used to furnish it.

Pottery and lead animals and birds have been fashioned for this sunny spot. Cupids, tiny gods and elfin creatures should properly lurk in interesting places. From Czechoslovakia come trolls of gnomes of colored terra cotta. They are busy creatures, and are always shown doing some work, whetting a scythe, taking snuff (is this work?) or feeding the wild things.

If one quite wisely chose a sundial for the center of the terrace (a perpetual source of interest) one might wish to place a fountain against the wall. There is a suggestion of coolness in the sight of water as well as in its pleasant trickle, for the hot summer days. One lead fountain consists of two pieces, a flowing and stern feature, and a graceful fluted bowl for the overflow. A more ornate wall fountain of terra cotta is beautifully decorated with blue Persian tiles. Its pool rests on the ground, and may be filled with gold fish and water plants.

Linoleum Is Used
With the array of materials at hand to choose from, furnishing a sunroom is a fascinating pursuit. The material used follows a well ordered pattern. Floors are covered with linoleum. Drapes are usually of large patterns and are hung on wooden or on iron rods. Furniture is rattan, wicker, or painted wood. Plants there must be, in some sort of container.

Having glanced over this pattern, one considers the starting point, which is usually furniture. Having selected a set one likes, it very often determines the color of the drapes and the floor covering. The tile linoleums seem especially appropriate for the sunroom, and marbled effects too. In these the color and design are chosen as background for the chairs and other pieces.

A reed couch in red, black and ivory, shown in the shops would offer a good beginning. Its leather seats and long down cushion in cylindrical form make it a source of much comfort. All horizontal lines, its arms extend themselves like tables, with shelves for magazines beneath. To this one could add a square chair and a round table in similar colors.

Rectangular Flower Pots
With a gay geometric pattern in the window drapes, continuing the horizontal lines, and squares and circles, one could achieve a smart and modern effect. Shapes for flower pots should be rectangular in this room. A large oblong aquarium, set on a low seat in the main window, would give a center of interest. The low seat would enable visitors to watch the bright darting fish within.

If the colors and design are rightly chosen, the room will give the effect of sunshine even on the dark days. The room itself is your invitation to the sun. Properly entertained, the sunbeams will find their way in and make their home with you.

Mr. Freeman had been afflicted for a number of years but had been confined to his room only about three weeks prior to his going.

He was born in Granville, N. C., Oct. 1, 1861. Going to Mississippi when a young man he was married to Miss Luella Mitchell at Clinton, Miss., on January 1, 1888. Mr. Freeman reared a family of ten children, all of whom are living except one daughter, Mrs. Frank Shield who passed on ahead of him in 1917. He leaves his wife, one sister and nine children to mourn his loss. All the children and the sister were present at the time of his death. Vigorous Cleanup Campaign Here Is Committee's Aim
A meeting of the committee in charge of the cleanup work which is going forward this week was held Saturday afternoon to discuss plans for the work. At that time it was decided to add several more to the committee and they were either reached by phone Saturday or were notified this morning. A second meeting of the group was scheduled for this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the city hall in the council rooms.

It was decided to make this one of the most vigorous campaigns ever waged in Brownwood and to get the whole town cleaned this week. All civic organizations and other enterprises are being enlisted along with all school children to aid in the work.

Prizes totaling $100 are being given the Boy Scouts to aid in the work and the scouts will be divided into groups to work for the four prizes. The Parent-Teachers Association, the scouts, and all school children are being encouraged to work toward making this a perfect campaign. Every citizen in Brownwood is to consider himself or herself one of the cleanup committee and everyone with any civic pride is asked to do everything possible to get the town clean.

Cooperation Needed
Mayor O. W. Madson said this morning that the co-operation of every person in Brownwood would be necessary to get the town clean. We will all have to work to the completion of this work and everyone keep it constantly on their mind this week and get all rubbish and refuse placed where the trash wagons can get to it easily.

H. V. Hennen said that the cleaning of the town eliminated breeding places for disease and germs and that it would aid in the bettering of living conditions and that it would aid in the sanitary work. He said that it would also eliminate much of the fire hazard if all rubbish and trash was removed so that the danger of a big fire was lessened.

Butter Judging Contest Will Be Held April 19th
The annual butter judging contest in Brown county will be held on April 19th, according to Miss Mayesie Malone, county demonstration agent.

The Home Demonstration Clubs' Council, composed of representatives from every club in the county, will meet in regular monthly session here on Saturday afternoon, April 5th. At that time further plans for the butter judging contest will be made and a discussion of clothing contests will be held.

The 4-H club, boys and girls, council will meet in the county court room Saturday morning, April 5th.

ACCESSORIES TO WEAR With the LADYLIKE SILHOUETTE

BY GRETCHEN THOMASON
THE lengthening of women's skirts and the general femininizing of the new styles has its effect upon the accessories that accompany it. It is most important to harmonize in line as well as color and the accessories must supplement the effect.

One of the most important items noticed is the new costume jewelry etc.—the pendant type with a touch of the 1830 feeling and about 32 inches long is demanded by smart women as being the correct thing for the higher waistline. The color effect harmonizes with the color of the gown. Antique settings return to favor and many of the pendants have the cameo quality in harmony with the modern romantic feeling. The sports ensemble has its own special jewelry—gay and exotic in type, often in long strings of brightly colored beads.

Gloves are Longer
One of the most conspicuous things about spring gloves is the way they are worn—pulled up high over the cuff of suit or frock. They all have decidedly longer wrists and many have bow decorations or novel cuff treatments to soften the tailored effect. With the short sleeve fashion it is inevitable that gloves would be glorified and we have never seen more varied effects to complete the style picture. Lines, designs and colors have been made to harmonize with the new mode for sports, afternoon and evening.

only in color, but often in material. It is comfortably large, sometimes resembling a small traveling bag. Trims may be of wood, indestructible crystal or metal.

Antelope, pin seal and galuchat are the skins most used for afternoon. Evening bags are frequently of lame ornamented with rhinestones.

Neckwear Finishes
There are many indications that necklines will be closer to the throat. A recent cable from Paris states that "there is an infinite variety in neck finishes with the general tendency to raise collars close to the throat. The little school girl collar is ubiquitous; scarf bows are tied close to the hollow of the neck at front; lingerie frills of the Chanel type are much seen; likewise the lingerie tabs that Patou uses; quite a few black dresses have been noticed with bateau necklines, not very wide, finished by a turnover of white satin."

Thousand Kinds of Cheeses
The man who can name a dozen kinds of cheeses would be inclined to regard himself as a connoisseur, but the fact is that he would know hardly anything about the subject. There are more than 1,000 kinds of cheeses, each distinct in appearance and flavor, being made and eaten over the world, according to the Farm Journal.

An Invitation to the SUN

BY MARJORIE HOWE DIXON

EMERGING from the cold days of winter, some bleak, others gloomy and dark, like unto the hibernating hedgehog (doth the hedgehog so do?) Our natural history, the encyclopedia, is out of reach, at any rate we unroll ourselves—and prepare for springtime and sunshine.

First we shall send out an invitation that will read this way: A most cordial invitation is extended by Myself, family, and pet dog, and canary, Messrs. Sun Beam and Ray, Incorporated, Manufacturers of Light, Joy and Health, to attend the spring opening of our sunporch, and terrace. Every day, 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

R. S. V. P. It might happen that Messrs. Sun, Beam, and Ray, Inc., would feel impelled to withdraw at 6 p. m. with proper encouragement and entertainment, they would want to stay longer and longer, on our gray terrace.

This matter of entertaining is a part of living these days, whether one resides in a city apartment with its sun room, or in the wide open spaces, where the terrace is the outdoor living room.

A very lovely terrace comes to mind. Its principal feature was its clever decoration of tiles. Along the housewifery they were set in, chair high. They were repeated in the flooring of the terrace, with bricks for the main substance of the pattern. A trailing old wisteria vine roofed over this sun-room, supported on iron grills. Large urns with potted trees were placed at the foot of the iron upright. Rattan and wrought iron furniture was used, with cushioned seats covered with a plain color of peacock blue.

Dressing Up the Terrace A terrace may be roofed with a gay strip of awning, very appropriately. Colors of the awning may be repeated in the canvas used for chair coverings. Besides comfortable deep divans, and chaise longue with foot-rests, there is the indispensable table for the terrace. Tea tables, library tables, end tables, all are furnished in rattan and stick willow to match the other pieces. A graceful wrought iron flower stand or fernery is usually a feature. Large and small urns with potted shrubs help bring the garden to the house.

Among the smaller decorations are iron lanterns and wall brackets. Iron bells to summon guests to meals are most amusing. No well-equipped veranda or terrace should be without one.

If one wishes to live even more closely to nature, he will arrange for a paved out-of-door terrace, quite unroofed, and with a fountain or sundial for centerpiece. Stone seats set among the shrub borders are very attractive, and iron or hickory furniture of rustic type may be used to furnish it.

Pottery and lead animals and birds have been fashioned for this sunny spot. Cupids, tiny gods and elfin creatures should properly lurk in interesting places. From Czechoslovakia come trolls of gnomes of colored terra cotta. They are busy creatures, and are always shown doing some work, whetting a scythe, taking snuff (is this work?) or feeding the wild things.

If one quite wisely chose a sundial for the center of the terrace (a perpetual source of interest) one might wish to place a fountain against the wall. There is a suggestion of coolness in the sight of water as well as in its pleasant trickle, for the hot summer days.

One lead fountain consists of two pieces, a frowning and stern featured old dolphin for the spout, and a graceful fluted bowl for the overflow. A more ornate wall fountain of terra cotta is beautifully decorated with blue Persian tiles. Its pool rests on the ground, and may be filled with gold fish and water plants.

Linoleum Is Used With the array of materials at hand to choose from, furnishing a sunroom is a fascinating pursuit. The materials used follow a well ordered pattern. Floors are covered with linoleum. Drapes are usually of large patterns and are hung on wooden or iron rods. Furniture is rattan, red or wicker, or painted wood. Plants there must be, in some sort of container.

Having glanced over this pattern, one considers the starting point, which is usually furniture. Having selected a set one likes, it very often determines the color of the drapes and the floor covering. The tile linoleum seem especially appropriate for the sunroom, and marbled effects too. In these the color and design are chosen as background for the chairs and other pieces.

A reed couch in red, black and ivory, shown in the shops would offer a good beginning. Its leather seats and long down cushion in cylindrical form make it a source of much comfort. All horizontal lines of its arms extend themselves like tables, with shelves for magazines or books. To this one could add a square chair and a round table in similar colors.

Rectangular Flower Pots With a gay geometric pattern in the window drapes, continuing the horizontal lines, and squares and circles, one could achieve a smart and modern effect. Shapes for flower pots should be rectangular in this room. A large oblong aquarium, set on a low seat in the main window, would give a center of interest. The low seat would enable visitors to watch the bright darting fish within.

If the colors and design are rightly chosen, the room will give the effect of sunshine even on the dark days. The room itself is your invitation, to the sun. Properly entertained, the sunbeams will find rest therein and make their home with you.

C. F. Freeman of Santa Anna Dead

SANTA ANNA, Texas, March 29—(Sp.)—C. F. Freeman, age 68, one of Santa Anna's best loved and most highly respected citizens died at his home here March 27th at 6:15 p. m.

Mr. Freeman had been afflicted for a number of years but had been confined to his room only about three weeks prior to his going.

He was born in Granville, N. C., Oct. 1, 1861. Going to Mississippi when a young man he was married to Miss Luella Mitchell at Guntersville, Miss., on January 1, 1882. He and his wife then lived one year in Dresden, Tenn., and then moved back to Mississippi and lived there about three years, coming to Bell county, Texas, in 1891, and after two years he moved to Coleman county in 1893 and settled near Santa Anna. Mr. Freeman had been always one of the county's best and most highly respected citizens and the entire community will mourn at his going.

He has stood always for the right, and has been active in every movement and enterprise for the betterment of the community which he lived and was very prominent in church circles. He was a charter member of the First Christian Church at Santa Anna and served that body as chairman of its official board for many years, have relinquished that position a little over a year ago on account of his failing health. Mr. Freeman reared a family of ten children, all of whom are living except one, a daughter, Mrs. Frank S. Ward, who passed on ahead of him in 1917. He leaves his wife, one sister and nine children to mourn his loss. All the children and the sister were present at the time of his death. The funeral was held from the First Christian Church at 2:30 Friday afternoon and interment will be made in the city cemetery, with the Johnson Undertaking Company in charge and Elders A. L. Oder and E. H. Wylie, former pastors of the deceased, conducting the service at the church. The Masons had charge after the service at the church. Mr. Freeman leaves a sister, Mrs. J. G. Pillow of Coleman, his wife, Mrs. Luella Freeman, and following sons and daughters: C. A. Freeman, Coleman; A. M. Freeman, Hondo; N. M. Mrs. Juanita Fletcher, Mrs. Preston Parish of Santa Anna; C. R. Freeman, Coleman; Mrs. Wilson Lambert, Brownwood; Mrs. C. L. Moore, Wetumka, Okla.; Mrs. West Cassiot, Valera and Dillard Freeman of Fort Worth. Mrs. A. J. Brown, of Childress, Texas, a sister of Mrs. Freeman was present at the time of his death.

Vigorous Cleanup Campaign Here Is Committee's Aim A meeting of the committee in charge of the cleanup work which is going forward this week was held Saturday afternoon to discuss plans for the work. At that time it was decided to add several more to the committee and they were either reached by phone Saturday or were notified this morning. A second meeting of the group was scheduled for this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the city hall in the council rooms.

It was decided to make this one of the most vigorous campaigns ever waged in Brownwood and to get the whole town cleaned this week. All civic organizations and other enterprises are being enlisted along with all school children to aid in the work.

Prizes totaling $100 are being given the Boy Scouts to aid in the work and the scouts will be divided into groups to work for the four prizes. The Parent-Teachers Association, the scouts, and all school children are being encouraged to work toward making this a perfect campaign. Every citizen in Brownwood is to consider himself or herself one of the cleanup committee and everyone with any civic pride is asked to do everything possible to get the town clean.

Cooperation Needed Mayor O. W. McDonald said this morning that the co-operation of every person in Brownwood would be necessary to get the town clean. We will all have to work to the completion of this work and everyone keep it constantly on their mind this week and get all rubbish and refuse placed where the trash wagons can get to it easily.

H. V. Hennen said that the cleaning of the town eliminated breeding places for diseases and germs and that it is a step in the bettering of living conditions and that it would aid in the sanitary work. He said that it would also eliminate much of the fire hazard if all rubbish and trash was removed so that the danger of a big fire was lessened.

Butter Judging Contest Will Be Held April 19th The annual Butter Judging contest in Brown county will be held on April 19th, according to Miss Mayesie Malone, county demonstration agent.

The Home Demonstration Clubs' Council, composed of representatives from every club in the county, will meet in regular monthly session here on Saturday afternoon, April 5th. At that time further plans for the butter judging contest will be made and a discussion of clothing contests will be held.

The 4-H club, boys and girls, council will meet in the county court room Saturday morning, April 5th.

ACCESSORIES TO WEAR With the LADYLIKE SILHOUETTE

BY GRETCHEN THOMASON

THE lengthening of women's skirts and the general feminizing of the new styles has its effect upon the accessories that accompany it. It is more important than ever that the ensemble harmonize in line as well as color and the accessories must supplement the effect.

One of the most important items noticed is the new costume jewelry as it adapts itself to the new silhouette—the pendant type with a touch of the 1830 feeling and about 32 inches long is demanded by smart women as being the correct thing for the higher waistline. The color effect harmonizes with the color of the gown. Antique settings return to favor and many of the pendants have the cameo quality in harmony with the modern romantic feeling. The sports ensemble has its own special jewelry—gay and exotic in type, often in long strings of brightly colored beads.

Gloves are Longer One of the most conspicuous things about spring gloves is the way they are worn—pulled up high over the cuff of suit or frock. They all have decidedly longer wrists and many have bow decorations or novel cuff treatments to soften the tailored effect. With the short sleeve fashion it was inevitable that gloves would be glorified and we have never seen more varied effects to complete the style picture. Lines, designs and colors have been made to harmonize with the new mode for sports, afternoon and evening.

The handbag for morning and sports wear matches the costume not only in color, but often in material. It is comfortably large, sometimes resembling a small traveling bag. Trims may be of wood, indestructible crystals or metal. Metal bows are tied close to the hollow of the neck at front; lingerie trills of the Chanel type are much seen; likewise the lingerie tucks that Patou uses; quite a few black dresses have been noticed with bateau neckline, not very wide, finished by a turnover of white satin.

Neckwear Finishes There are many indications that necklines will be closer to the throat. A recent cable from Paris states that "there is an infinite variety in neck finishes with the general tendency to raise collars close to the throat. The little school girl collar is ubiquitous; scarf bows are tied close to the hollow of the neck at front; lingerie trills of the Chanel type are much seen; likewise the lingerie tucks that Patou uses; quite a few black dresses have been noticed with bateau neckline, not very wide, finished by a turnover of white satin."

Thousands Kinds of Cheeses The man who can name a dozen kinds of cheeses would be inclined to regard himself as a connoisseur, but the fact is that he would know hardly anything about the subject. There are more than 1,000 kinds of cheeses, each distinct in appearance and flavor, being made and eaten over the world, according to the Farm Journal.

Where Pleasure Lies Owning the richest treasures in the world is useless unless someone else shares them.—American Magazine.

Island's Many Masters The island of Sicily was first colonized by the Greeks during the 12th century, B. C. In the Fourth century Syracuse was the leading Greek power. In A. D. 535 the island was conquered by Belisarius and annexed by the Byzantine empire.

Infancy of Gas America was but little behind England in the use of gas. New York, R. I., and Baltimore, Md., were, with New York, the American cities to lead the procession. The first public street lighting with gas was on January 28, 1807, in Pall Mall, London.

Here's a Combine You Can Afford to Own

If you have 80 or more acres of grain to harvest—it will pay you to own a "Caterpillar" (Holt) Combine—and a "Caterpillar" Tractor. U.S. Department of Agriculture Bulletin, No. 1565, issued April, 1928, says "Direct cash or out-of-pocket expenses for harvesting if the help of two men is available with a combine is 34c an acre as compared with $2.05 for harvesting with binders and threshing with hired separators."

A New Low Price—A Better Combine

Since the foregoing bulletin was issued, "Caterpillar" has reduced prices and built a combine that has longer life, lower depreciation, less repair expense, that saves more of the grain, is more dependable in operation, that makes harvesting costs still lower and increases profits for the owner.

Buying a combine is an important move—but the make of combine you buy is more important—the more you learn about "Caterpillar" the better you'll like it.

A "Caterpillar" Combine and "Caterpillar" Tractor is on display near your representative will gladly show them without obligating you in the least.

NEW GILLIAM STORE IS OPENED TODAY FOR INSPECTION OF PUBLIC

Gilliam Dry Goods Company opened the doors of their beautiful new home on Center Avenue today for the inspection of the public. Men of the store said today that they were well pleased with the opening and that within a few days everything would be straightened out and the business going smoothly. Not quite all of the moving has been completed, but a greater part of it has and the store is already fixed very attractively.

The new store is one of the most modern and up-to-date business houses in the city. Every department is arranged so as to be distinct within itself and yet attain a perfect unity with the rest of the store. The lower floor is divided into men's shoe department, women's shoe department, department of men's clothing and a variety department. The balcony of the first floor is devoted to the business office and the entire second floor is given over to women's ready-to-wear clothing. This floor is probably the most attractive one and is beautifully furnished and decorated. The French Room on this floor will be the very latest and attractive place for women shoppers in this section.

The show windows of the store are also of the latest type and are unique for this city. They will be decorated and lighted by numerous flood lights.

Although the opening was today, the store has not been completely arranged as yet and will not be finished for several days. There are many more decorations and furnishings to be made yet. The plans now call for an unusually complete and beautiful store.

The trial opened with the state placing Mrs. William L. Turner, Jr., on the stand and after examination by both prosecution and defense the state rested its case. As its only witness the defense called William Turner, Jr., and after hearing his testimony both sides rested.

Mrs. Turner was placed on the stand shortly before noon and was called again following the noon recess. Most of the time between opening of court after lunch until both sides rested at 3:30 was consumed by counsel of both sides in constant contention over points of evidence, including the placing of letters from husband to wife into the testimony, and the placing of conversations into the testimony. The jury was excused while both sides argued over a clause in the indictment.

After Mrs. Turner was excused William L. Turner, Jr., was called to the stand and told of his relations to his wife prior to their marriage and during the short time which they lived together, and his movements after leaving Brownwood and going to San Angelo, and from there to New York and his actions while there and at Boston hearing here last November in which District Judge E. J. Miller rendered a decision in favor of Mrs. Rose E. Turner. The writ ordered the parents and relatives of William Turner to release him and free him from restraint, and to let him return voluntarily to his bride.

Judge Miller said at the time that this was the first case of this kind that he had ever heard of in the state of Texas. He said that it was common for a husband to bring habeas corpus proceedings against the parents of the bride for her release, but never had he known of the parents of the man being charged for release of the man.

and later in North Carolina until his return to Brownwood charged with wife desertion.
While on the stand Mrs. Turner told of their married life, her trips to San Angelo to see her husband, and their conversations there before he left for the East to attend school.

It was claimed by both sides of the case, William Turner was persuaded to leave his wife by relatives and was kept away from her by his parents and the parents of Mrs. Turner attempted to bring about their union, but when this failed had young Turner charged with wife desertion.

Duration of Twilight
Twilight ends when the sun is 18 degrees below the horizon. In low latitudes, because of the quickness with which the sun traverses the 18 degrees below the horizon, and because of the transparency of the atmosphere, there is little twilight. However, the higher the latitude, the smaller the angle at which the sun's path meets the horizon, and hence the longer it takes the sun to sink to the required distance.

W. L. TURNER, JR., GETS 30 DAYS JAIL, $25 FINE WIFE DESERTION CHARGE

William L. Turner, Jr., was given a sentence of thirty days in jail and a fine of $25 by the jury at 9 o'clock last night in his trial for wife desertion. The jury received the case late yesterday afternoon.

William L. Turner, Jr., and Miss Rose Bowden, were married last July and after living together for one month Mr. Turner went away to Boston, Mass., to attend school. After an attack of appendicitis he went to a school in North Carolina, where he was arrested and made bond, and later returned here to answer the charges.

The charge of wife desertion was filed following a habeas corpus proceeding here last November in which District Judge E. J. Miller rendered a decision in favor of Mrs. Rose E. Turner. The writ ordered the parents and relatives of William Turner to release him and free him from restraint, and to let him return voluntarily to his bride.

TWO MEMBERS COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD TO BE ELECTED SATURDAY

Elections for county school trustees will be held in two precincts next Saturday as the terms of these two expire this year. In commissioners precinct No. 1 a trustee must be elected to fill the place left vacant by L. A. Nunn and in commissioners precinct No. 3 a trustee must be elected to fill the place left by E. W. McHan, whose term expires this year.

These two districts are the only ones effected in the election of county trustees and they will hold their election along with the election for school trustees of the districts. All voters in the districts included in these two commissioners precincts will be given a vote. It is not known who will be entered in the race in either district.

Several amplifiers of equipment are being installed which will make an improvement in the singing when first page for the singers will be changed and other improvements for the accommodation of number who will take part in convention, said Judge E general chairman of the body.

During the three days there will have to be provided for about three hundred delegates. The Chamber of Commerce in the homes in the city is being made for these delegates. Through the courtesy and the business men of large part of the convocation will be broadcast three days. On these people heard some promise. These singers will come all the state and many states, said Judge Davis. The assembly will be on the last day of the convocation. The Boy Scouts will be assisting of the people and will also assist in the parking automobiles. The parking will be especially great the last day of the convocation.

Ernest Rippey, president of this district with others, make out a program for the convocation. This is a district singing, there will be singing everywhere in attendance be one of the biggest held in this section.

By speaking of the trustees over the country our schools and for board, J. Oscar Swindle meaning that it was very important that it be used in teachers which follows the trustees. In speaking Mr. Swindle said: "With the election of the various schools of the state the responsibility teachers for the next many trustees will be have not heretofore as capacity of school trustees have come to the important work as it. But we should realize the trustee carries a heavy burden. They are entrusted with the responsibility of more close supervision of our children than the parents have for at least one-half during the tender age of the child. This is a great responsibility and means so much in the supervision of the child. All teachers whose unknown to trustees should be subject to investigation when a definite answer to such investigation has been made. Much may be avoided by making before giving answers to successful teacher investigation, but often try to rush conclusions to be cautious and fair to teachers as a matter of fact the teachers in Brownwood will be found anxious to keep the standard to improve conditions. I have no desire to interfere in the least, to wish to give such aid and help as this office can command.
