MMH launches web site

By Janet Felderhoff
Muenster Hospital Administrator Michael Kent reported that the Hospital's web site is now up. It is muensterhospital.com. He said changes will be made and items added as needed. Those taking a look at the site might enjoy the mix of new and old photos of employees who are included on that web page. Kent announced that the Spring Health Fair would be on April 13 and 14. He also said that as of Monday, Feb. 27, the Family Health Clinic will remain open over the lunch hour to see patients. Rudy Koesler lodged a complaint about a bill. He said he had an employee cut his finger on Dec. 28. He called the Clinic to see if someone could stitch the cut. He was told no, even though he noted that he'd had it done there a dozen times in the past. He was told it had to be done in the Emergency Room. He told them that he did not want it done in the ER because of the fees. It was only a small cut. Koesler was out of town making the calls. The employee went to the ER and the bill was $1,091. He also received a $240.02 prompt pay discount reducing the bill paid to $859.98. He related that recently another carpenter cut his finger and went to another local clinic. The cut was stitched and the bill was only $250. Koesler said, "I would like my Emergency Room fee back. I don't mind paying the doctor. I don't mind paying materials. But I said I did not want the Emergency Room fee and it's on this bill anyway. I find that outrageous." Since the remarks were made in the public comments part of the agenda and was not an agenda item, the Board said they could not discuss the matter. Board President Kenny Klement invited Koesler to attend an executive committee meeting or the next Board meeting to discuss the matter further. Koesler declined and left the meeting. Another member of the public in attendance Robert Ambrose said that he knew the topic of establishing a procedure room in the Clinic had been brought up before. That would hold similar cases to a minimum charge, he noted. Administrator Kent said that the procedure room had been put on hold, but was being initiated again.

Board Vice President Ronnie Weinzapfel said that there are plans drawn to establish a procedure room in the Clinic. "That's one of our goals. It just hasn't happened yet," he concluded. Following a lengthy executive session, the Board reconvened and read a public statement addressing a recent allegation about the Hospital covering up a situation involving a District employee impersonating another employee. It stated that, "on Jan. 16, an allegation was made that while investigating a potential violation involving a patient, administration failed to apply appropriate sanctions against an individual who may have misrepresented his or her identity. "This allegation is untrue. An Administrative Ethics Committee and outside agencies thoroughly investigated the potential violation and the conclusion was that no misrepresentation occurred. Based on this conclusion, there was no need to discuss the matter with any other employee or the public." Ambrose requested the Board to expound on the statement. Kent added besides the Ethics Committee, there were three outside agencies involved in the investigation. "There was no misrepresentation. See HOSPITAL, pg. 2

Commissioners Court opts to refinance bonds on Justice Center

By Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County Commissioners Court decided on a new location for the Cooke County Tax Assessor/Collectors Office at the Monday, Feb. 27 meeting. The office was moved out of the Courthouse for renovations and its previous location re-purposed as the Commissioners Courtroom. The move from the Courthouse seemed well received by much of the public since the new location was larger, had no steps to navigate, and had more parking. The present location at 212 East California is being leased and the County would like to move it to a County owned building to eliminate rent payments. Commissioner Leon Klement remarked that the Annex building was purchased by the County as a place to house County offices during the Courthouse renovation period. It was built to have walls that easily moved so that after the move back into the Courthouse, it could easily be structured for whatever offices might need to be moved there. He added that it is fire protected with a sprinkler system. The upstairs was reinforced to allow it to hold the weight of many files cabinets since the County needs storage space for record retention. An elevator needs to be installed to allow use of the second floor area. "The business of the County needs to be close to the Courthouse," he said. "This makes good common sense. We have over a million dollars invested in that building. It is a modern office building that is sitting there empty collecting dust and junk furniture." Precinct #2 Commissioner B.C. Lemons added, "My preference is to move across the street here and the reason is that it's closer to the Courthouse. You can see it from the Courthouse."

Tax Assessor/Collector Billie Jean Knight said that parking would be an issue. "We want to put our best foot forward when someone comes in and to leave them with a good impression wherever we are," she noted. The Court voted 4-1 to relocate the Tax Assessor/Collectors Office to the Annex building across from the Courthouse. County Judge John Roane cast the nay vote. He said, "It's my opinion that for customer service, for convenience of the staff of the tag office, the other location (juvenile probation building at 112 S. Dixon) See COUNTY, pg. 2

Richard Stalder benefits from Wounded Warrior Games

By Janet Felderhoff
Lance Cpl. Richard Stalder, son of Claudia and Scott Stalder of Muenster, competed in the 2012 Marine Corps Trials on Feb. 17 at Camp Pendleton, California. He shot in the archery division, hitting 500 out of 600 shots and in the air rifle shooting well enough to capture a 4th place Bronze Medal. Stalder entered the Marine Corps on Dec. 15, 2008. He was with the 3rd Battalion, 7th Marine Regiment. "I joined just to show I could do it," he said. Just three weeks from being deployed to Afghanistan, Richard became ill. According to his mother, Richard now suffers from bad tremors. "They call me Shaky Jake," he remarked. Claudia added that he passes out 20 to 30 times a day. She feels it is caused from the immunizations he received in order to go to Afghanistan, but said it has not been proven to be the cause. After his disability, Stalder became a part of the Wounded Warriors Battalion West Attachment 29 Palms in California. Richard went to North Carolina to train for archery with Paralympic athlete T.J. Pemberton. In 2005, Pemberton was named to the U.S. Paralympics IPC Archery World Championships Team and has been with the national team ever since. He was a competitive archer who was injured in an ATV accident that left him with nerve damage to his right leg. He competes from a wheelchair or with the help of a leg brace. The top 50 Marines will have the opportunity to compete in the Warrior Games in Colorado Springs this May. All branches of the military will be participating there. Stalder hopes to get to compete there. He said he is currently sitting in an alternate spot. In archery and air rifle shooting, he was not on a team sport such as volleyball, wheelchair basketball, cycling, etc. So, he is waiting on a spot in one of these events. Stalder enjoyed archery since he was a child. His dad presented him with a bow when he was nine years old. Claudia remarked, "When he was in North Carolina training in archery with this Paralympic guy, 17 of them had their bows stolen. Richard's was one of them." They were not recovered or replaced. Richard borrowed a bow for the competition, but now has none. "Everybody is excited to be there. Just having the Marines together even though they're hurt, they have a great time. He added that it takes away a lot of the anxiety that they experience due to their injuries. Claudia added, "He says when he's shooting, he can sometimes calm his tremors down too." "I get a second and a half of a break and that's when I take my shot," said Stalder. In an interview at the Trials, Richard commented, "I like it here at the Trials a lot. There are a lot of great people out here and we're all dealing with the same things. It's nice to compete and push each other." Wounded Warriors is a great place to recover, noted the Marine. Claudia explained that Wounded Warriors makes sure that the wounded soldiers get to their appointments, set up appointments with various specialists, get the soldiers around other people with similar illnesses and injuries, and try to teach them to cook, to run, or get back into the real world. They assist in figuring out what type of job they can do and more. Other awards earned by Stalder include Marine of the Quarter for Wounded See WARRIORS, pg. 2

Texas Oil and Gas Production Reports

from the Texas Railroad Commission

The Texas average rig count as of Feb. 17 was 907, representing about 47% of all active land rigs in the United States. In the last 12 months, total Texas reported production was 399 million barrels of oil and 7.1 trillion cubic feet of natural gas. The Commission's estimated final production for December 2011 is 35,772,538 barrels of crude oil and 503,570,490 Mcf (thousand cubic feet) of gas well gas. The Commission derives final production numbers by multiplying the preliminary December 2011 production totals of 32,420,281 barrels of crude oil and 452,444,286 Mcf of gas well gas by a production adjustment factor of 1.1034 for crude oil and 1.1130 for gas well gas. These production totals do not include casinghead gas or condensate. Texas natural gas storage reported to the Commission for January 2012 was 393,708,521 Mcf compared to 329,712,155 Mcf in January 2011. The February 2012 gas storage estimate is 372,322,082 Mcf. The Texas Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division set initial March 2012 natural gas production allowances for pro-rated fields in the state to meet market demand of 10,685,386 Mcf. In setting the initial March 2012 allowances, the Commission used historical production figures from previous months, producers' demand forecasts for the coming month, and adjusted the figures based on well capability. These initial allowances will be adjusted after actual production for March 2012 is reported.

would be better." It was then voted 5-0 to hire Kumatsu as the architect for the design of the building. Eric Macha of First Southwest spoke to the Court regarding refunding or refinancing the County's 2004 General Obligation Bonds. These were taken out to finance the building of the County's Justice Center. The County will be paying on these bonds until 2024. Interest rates are low at this time. By refinancing the bonds, the County will save between $335,000, the lowest savings, and $650,000, the maximum savings. Macha explained that by authorizing the locking in to an interest rate without a meeting of Commissioners Court, they could take advantage of low interest when it becomes available. If they had to wait for a Court meeting, they might miss out on getting the lowest rate possible. Commissioners Court voted unanimously to authorize refinancing the bonds and authorized the County Judge or County Auditor to approve the amount, interest rate, price, and terms of the agreement. County Auditor Shelly Atteberry said that this is similar to refinancing your home. It involves no penalty and the bonds will still be paid off in 2024. The lower interest rate will be a savings to the County. Following an executive session, the Court voted unanimously to purchase camera equipment up to the amount of $20,000 necessary for the Cooke County Justice Center and to amend the budget as necessary. During Public Comments, Penny Jordan of Saint Jo inquired about the County possibly contracting with EOG Resources for a lease agreement and being able to remain impartial in matters such as the sand mine being constructed by EOG north of Muenster. In other business, Commissioners Court: Accepted and filed for record letter of preclearance by the Department of Justice for the submission of the redistricting plans for the new Commissioners Court, Justice of the Peace, and Constable precincts, the realignment, creation, and renumbering of voting precincts, and the polling place changes for Cooke County. Approved request by EOG Resources, Inc. to bore two 10" disposal water lines under CR 328 approximately 4,250' from the intersection of CR 398; to bore two 10" disposal water lines under CR 328 approximately 7,100' from the intersection of CR 398; and to bore two 10" disposal water lines under CR 334 approximately 800' from the intersection of CR 398, all located in Precinct

#3. Commissioner Al Smith noted, "this is a continuing effort by EOG to help eliminate the salt water disposal trucks on the County roads by hooking the wells on these roads up to a pipeline to go directly to the disposal wells without the trucks." This should help cut down on the number of trucks on the roads. Approved request by Woodbine Water Supply to upgrade water main across CR 2112 and to bore a 12" water line under CR 219 located in Precinct #2. Approved official bonds for jailers Bobby Don Brown, Brian Hampton, Jeffrey Lambert, Jesus Molina, Amanda Yarbrough, and Rodney Rice. Awarded bid for grounds maintenance service to Clean Cut Lawn Care at a cost of $13,000 a year. This was the lowest of four bids.

that could be proved," he stated. The employee was suspended pending the investigation, but is now back at work. "Blue Cross Blue Shield's (BCBS) Ethics Committee said that there was no misrepresentation that they could detect, our attorneys agreed, her attorneys agreed and the employee was returned back to work." They think it started with two employees having the same first name. One, who was a family member of a patient, called BCBS about the investigation when they realized that they had talked with two different people. BCBS has a recording of the phone call, but didn't release it to the Hospital District. The letter making the allegations contained other accusations about Hospital staff that the Board will address after consulting with attorneys. Ambrose asked why no legal action was being pursued if the letter had no validity. He was told cost and asked, "You're talking about cost and you're talking about reputation cost. Which one's more valuable?" Ambrose said he'd talked to about 100 people and they seemed to think that if the allegations were untrue, the sender of the letter should be given some type of legal recourse by the Board. Doctors in Wichita Falls were inquiring about it and he feels it has hurt the Hospital's reputation. Klement noted, "We are attempting to address it to the best of our ability. We've got to get the lawyers to look at another piece." Following a special called meeting to discuss the situation with a lawyer, this statement was released, "The Board met in special session on Tuesday, Feb. 28 to retain an independent lawyer from Austin, Texas, Alex Fuller, to investigate and report back to the Hospital District Board regarding the allegations against the Hospital and personnel of the Hospital made by an ex-employee who was fired for cause in December 2011." There are three seats up for election on the Hospital Board. They are held by Kenny Klement, Ronnie Weinzapfel, and Aaron Hess. Anyone wishing to file as a candidate for the Board may do so until 4 p.m. on Monday, March 5. Filing is done at the Administration Office. These are at-large seats, so the three getting the most votes will be elected. The Board appointed Administrator Kent as the early voting clerk. Chart Smart was turned off on Feb. 6 and all patient charting is again being done by paper entry. There were many problems with that electronic health record (EHR) system and no progress was being made by the company. A search continues for an affordable system that will work for MMH. In other business conducted at the Feb. 21 meeting, the Board: Approved Bad Debt Write Offs for the month of January totaling $32,366. Approved purchase of nine hospital beds, one with a scale, to replace those that need to be changed for patient safety and working conditions. Total cost is $36,355.90. Approved purchase of two generators that will back up the entire hospital. Cost approved is up to $325,000 to include installation. Discussed tuition reimbursement, but tabled a decision.

The family of Wilfred Reiter would like to thank all those who offered their kindness, generosity, prayers, and visitation after the passing of our beloved father, granddad, and great-granddad. These words cannot fully express the gratitude that each member of our family personally feels, but please accept them as a humble acknowledgment of your selfless acts of love and consolation in our time of loss. Our family was truly overwhelmed by the out-pouring of love in honor of our Dad. The comfort and strength that you have given us will not be forgotten.

We wish to especially acknowledge Father Ken Robinson for his spiritual guidance, comfort, and understanding that helped us through the most difficult moments. Also, to our treasured neighbors, Viola Rohmer and Dale & Charlotte Klement, who helped so much when we needed them most. Also thank you to Dale Reiter, who brought Dad much joy in his regular home health visits over the past four years.

We extend special thanks to the musicians for the beautiful music during the funeral Mass, the altar servers, the Catholic Daughters of America for the wonderful meal, the Knights of Columbus, and McCoy Funeral Home. To all of our relatives and friends who helped so much with kind thoughts, hugs, visitations, prayers, and gifts, we are forever indebted. Each of you had a special place in Dad's heart and any chance to visit with you brightened his day. Thank you for sharing yourself and your kindness with our father.

Sincerely,

The Family of Wilfred Reiter

Bishop Vann establishes new Denton parish and the Holy Cross Catholic School

Catholic Diocese of Fort Worth Bishop Kevin Vann announced the establishment of a new Catholic parish at the University of North Texas (UNT) in Denton and a new Catholic elementary school at Holy Cross Parish in The Colony.

Bishop Vann established the new parish of Blessed John Paul II, effective July 1. Father Kyle Walterscheid, currently Diocesan vocations director, has been named the pastor of the new parish, which initially will be located at the UNT Campus Center, 1303 Eagle Drive in Denton.

Blessed John Paul II Catholic Church will be a university parish serving the large and active Catholic population at UNT and the surrounding area.

Bishop Vann said Blessed John Paul II Catholic Church is a continuation of a Catholic foundation that was laid at UNT by the late Father Eugene Sweeney, S.M., who, as the pastor of St. Mark Catholic Church in Denton, assisted in building up the UNT Campus Ministry along with others who have been active in the campus ministry.

Blessed John Paul II Parish is the first new parish in the Diocese since 2003.

Holy Cross Catholic School will open in the fall for the 2012-13 school year, with classes beginning in August. The initial campus will be located on a site away from the parish, at 303 King Road in Frisco, and will open with four grades, pre-kindergarten through first grade.

Diocesan School Superintendent Don Miller appointed Marie Pishko, a Holy Cross parishioner and a longtime Catholic Diocese of Dallas educator, as the founding principal.

Holy Cross Pastor Father Michael Holmberg said the Holy Cross Parish has had a desire to build a parish school since the parish was established 30 years ago. Father Holmberg said two years ago a study determined that the Catholic population in The Colony/Frisco area is sufficient to support a Catholic school.

With the addition of Holy Cross School, the Fort Worth Catholic Diocese school system now has 20 schools.

Native Americans studied by SHCS 3rd Grade

Sacred Heart Third Grade students have been studying Native Americans. They have learned about four different tribes. They studied the Navajo, the Yurok, the Cherokee, and the Haudenosaunee. They learned how each tribe used their natural resources and how they adapted to new locations. The class also studied Native American customs and traditions. As part of their studies, each student chose one of the tribes being studied and constructed a model dwelling. The students have thoroughly enjoyed their studies of Native Americans.

Matthew Huston and Travis Krahl

Krahl, Huston win in San Antonio Calf Scramble

Travis Krahl, Ben Haverkamp, and Matthew Huston competed in the calf scramble at the San Antonio Livestock Show and Rodeo on Wednesday, Feb. 22. In the calf scramble 24 4-H and/or FFA members line up on a starting line in the center of the rodeo arena with a halter. Twelve calves with an average weight of about 200 pounds are turned loose in the arena. The 24 boys and girls competing then have to catch a calf, put a halter on it, and lead the calf back across a marked finish line. Matthew Huston and Travis Krahl both caught a calf. Their reward is a purchase certificate which entitles them to purchase a breeding animal of their choice (dairy, beef, goat, sheep, or pig). Since Travis was the first one in the competition to cross the finish line with a calf, he earned a certificate valued at $1000. Matthew's is valued at $800. In order to fulfill their obligations, the boys will be required to purchase their animal from a breeder of their choice with their certificate earnings. They must maintain an accurate and detailed record book which will be entered in a contest at next year's Stock Show and Rodeo in San Antonio. They will also enter and show their animal in the Jr. Livestock show. Potential rewards from this program are scholarships up to the amount of $10,000. Paul Wolf is the Lindsay FFA Advisor and Ag Teacher. Travis and Matthew are both sophomores at Lindsay High School. Ben Haverkamp is a freshman.

Tigerettes State-Bound!

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes (30-5) faced the Lady Panthers of Abilene Christian (20-6) last Friday evening at Fort Worth Nolan Catholic High School for the Regional round of the TAPPS State Championship.

The game was controlled by Sacred Heart with a 62-43 final score that advanced the Tigerettes into the Final Four State Finals.

Kaitlin Hesse got the tip-off that started a 13 point run by the Tigerettes. Danielle Berend, Hesse, Kelsey Reeves, Karleigh Reeves, and Mikaela Bartush all scored before the Lady Panthers found the basket. Peyton Reiter hit a free and Abilene another basket for a 14-4 1st quarter score.

The Lady Panthers scored 5 more for a 7 point run. Sacred Heart finally scored at 4:20 with two consecutive baskets by Hesse for an 18-9 score. Abilene hit a 3, Hesse and Bartush 2 apiece, followed by 3 frees by the Lady Panthers, and 1 by Hesse for a 23-15 halftime score.

The Tigerettes scored first in the 3rd with Karli Anderle getting her first points of the game. Abilene answered with a 3, then added another basket to close the point spread to 5. Anderle popped in a 3. The Lady Panthers immediately hit a 2 for a 28-22 score. A basket by Hesse and 2 frees by Anderle put the Tigerettes back on top by 10.

Anderle hit another, with a steal allowing Berend to get a basket to give Sacred Heart their highest lead of 14 points.

The Lady Panthers finished the period with three more baskets while Bartush scored 3 and Bailey Walterscheid 2 free throws to end the quarter 41-28.

Anderle started the 4th with 2 points. Abilene hit a free, Bartush 2, Anderle a 3, and a 3-pointer and free throw by the Lady Panthers to make the score 48-33 with 3:03 on the clock. Walterscheid dropped in a 2 and Anderle 1 followed by a 3-pointer by Abilene for a 51-36 score near the 2 minute mark.

The next 14 points put on the board came from the free throw line. Anderle hit 6, Bartush 3, Hesse and Berend 1 apiece, and the Lady Panthers 3 for a 62-39 score. Abilene hit two more baskets the last seconds of the game for a 62-43 final Tigerette victory.

Karli Anderle led the scoring with 21 points. Kaitlin Hesse added 16, Mikaela Bartush 12, Danielle Berend 5, Peyton Reiter and Karleigh Reeves 3 each, and Kelsey Reeves 2. Bartush also had 14 rebounds and four steals. Hesse and Anderle each had 12 rebounds. SH 14 9 18 21 62 AC 4 11 13 15 43

This was the Tigerettes' first Regional Championship since 2007 in which they took the top honors as State Champions.

This Friday, the Tigerettes (31-5) will face San Antonio Lutheran (33-7). "I felt like if we got by a good Abilene team, we would catch Marble Falls," Coach Jon LeBrasseur commented. But Lutheran upset the No. 1 team Faith Academy of Marble Falls. "Upsets happen and that is why you play the game."

LeBrasseur noted that Lutheran can score a lot of points, but they also give up a lot. "Looks to be a race-horse game with both teams going up and down the court," the Coach added.

The Lady Mustangs run a full court, 1-2-1 press along with a half-court pressure 1-3-1. Offensively, they start out of a box that will lead to 4 out. All their players can shoot the 3 and shoot it well from anywhere.

The State Semifinal game will be played this Friday, March 2 at Mansfield High School. Tip-off is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Rounding out the Final Four are Shiner Saint Paul and Texoma Christian of Sherman.

Hornets sting the Jaguars, advance to Regional Quarterfinal round

The Muenster Hornets were back in playoff action last Friday night. The Area round of 1A Division 1 had the Hornets matched up against the Hubbard Jaguars. Muenster came out on fire once again for the second straight playoff game. Andy Flusche started the charge, scoring 6 of his 14 points in the game's initial period. The Hornet defense proved once again to be the strength of this Muenster team, allowing only 2 points in the 1st period. Muenster led 14-2.

The 2nd quarter looked a little different. The Jaguars went to the foul line and shot 12 free throws, keeping them alive, and keeping Muenster from breaking away. Cole Walterscheid, who finished with a game high 24 points, had 9 in the 2nd quarter. The Hornets held on to their 12 point lead to end the half, 30-18.

In the 3rd, the Jaguars came out with an explosive start, cutting the lead to 6 points. But Blake Grewing came to the rescue, hitting two of his four 3s, while cousin Walterscheid took care of the inside game, scoring 11 in the quarter.

Head Coach Courtney Christenson said, "I called a time-out when it seemed like they were making their run. We took their best shot during the 3rd, but we were still winning the quarter. I felt like the kids needed to know we were just fine, and to keep playing the exact same way."

The Hornets were more than just fine. In fact, they went on to out-score the Jaguars 23-13 in the 3rd quarter, and stretch the lead to 25 at one point.

The Hornet fans were also treated to something they are not used to, but should probably get used to. At the end of the 3rd quarter, just before time expired, Cole Walterscheid got the ball on a break-away. Walterscheid added the finishing touch on a great run by throwing down a monstrous one-handed dunk. Coach Christenson's excitement was obvious at the time. "Usually I tell the kids 'hey, it's just 2 points,' but that's only because if there are dunks in a game it hasn't normally been us. This wasn't 'just two points.' This was a loud statement of authority that took away any competitive spirit Hubbard might have had. I have to admit, I got pretty excited."

The 4th quarter was the only quarter that the Jaguars won. Even though they out-scored the Hornets by 6, the game was already over. Muenster went on to win 65-49.

"This is not the same Hornet team from a month ago. We are playing so much better. We have not peaked, but we are pretty close to it. These kids always seem to play their best at the right time," concluded Coach Christenson.

Scoring for Muenster were Walterscheid 24, Grewing and Flusche 14 each, Austin Hennigan, Tyler Anderle, and Dalton Koelzer 4 apiece, and Clint Sidwell 1.

Kerens Cats knock Hornets out of playoffs

The Muenster Hornets traveled to Wylie East High School Tuesday to take on the Kerens Cats in the Regional Quarterfinal round of the 1A Division I Basketball Playoffs. Kerens, District 14 Champions, went on to defeat Wortham 62-51 in Area to advance to the Quarterfinal game against Muenster.

Muenster, after letting the game get away from them in the 1st quarter, closed to within 1 point in the 2nd. The Cats then dominated the 2nd half, handing the Hornets a 58-41 loss.

Blake Grewing scored the first basket of the game, with Tyler Anderle adding an early free throw to give Muenster a 3-0 start. The Cats then took the lead until Andy Flusche scored 3 points for a 6-5 Hornet lead.

Lady Hornets push past Pipers

The Muenster Lady Hornets made their sixth straight trip to Regionals last weekend, trying to win their third straight trip to the Final Four State playoffs.

Muenster started the tournament against the Lady Pipers of Hamlin in the Regional Semifinal round of the 1A State Playoffs. Hamlin, District 9 Champions, beat Albany 47-33 in Area and Seymour 58-50 in the Regional Quarterfinals. The Lady Hornets advancement on the bracket started as District Champions with playoff wins over Chilton and Meridian.

The opening tip was controlled by Muenster, but a turnover gave the ball to Hamlin, who scored the first points. Demi Koelzer immediately tied the game, but the Lady Pipers answered right back to regain the lead. A 3-pointer by Allison Pagel gave the Lady Hornets their first lead, but with 2 minutes off the clock, Hamlin tied the game 5-5 after Hamlin set a fast tempo to start the game.

Lana Heers' free throw returned the lead to Muenster. Lots of whistles with fouls and turnovers and too many missed shots slowed the play down. With under 3 minutes remaining in the period, the Lady Pipers took a 1 point lead. A minute later, Amber Walterscheid gave Muenster the lead back, 8-7. Heers hit a 2 and a 3 to extend the lead 13-7, but a buzzer basket for Hamlin ended the period 13-9.

Heers extended Muenster's lead to 16-9. Adding to the 10-2 run, Koelzer went to the line at the 6 minute mark to double-up on Hamlin 18-9.

The Lady Pipers scored 2, Muenster missed free throws, then a 3 by Hamlin made the score 18-14. Lauren Rohmer made a free throw and Heers a basket before Hamlin added 2 more frees for a 21-16 points, but a quick basket by Michelle Sicking put Muenster back ahead 28-23. Hamlin added 3 more points and Sicking was called for her fourth foul as the quarter ended with a 28-26 Muenster lead.

halftime score. It was a shaky start for the Lady Hornets in the 3rd, with both Pagel and Emily Hellman picking up their fourth fouls.

Walterscheid and Koelzer added points to the board for a 26-20 score with 4 minutes on the clock. A 3 by the Lady Pipers closed the score to 3 and an 11 point run for the Lady Hornets. Walterscheid scored two baskets to tie Muenster's largest lead of 9. Koelzer added 2 and Heers 2 free throws for a 39-26 lead.

Hamlin broke Muenster's scoring run with 2 free throws. The Lady Hornets then spread the court to

Muenster misses trip to Austin

The Lady Hornets ended the 2011-12 basketball season last Saturday afternoon in the Regional II Final playoff game in Abilene. Muenster was challenged by the Kerens Lady Cats, District 14 Champions. Kerens' trip to the Regional Finals included a 70-26 win over Valley Mills, a Regional Quarterfinal 63-43 win over Lindsay, and a Regional Semifinal win over Windthorst 43-39. The Lady Cats have a lot of speed and a lot of height, more than Muenster has seen in this year's playoff run.

"It was tough," Coach Jason Acheson said of the 59-52 loss.

The Lady Hornets had seven seniors on the team - Demi Koelzer, Emily Hellman, Lana Heers, Allison Pagel, Kalyn Dangelmayr, Andi Felderhoff, and Paige Hennigan. They finished their career with 116 wins, four undefeated District Championships, four trips to the Regional Tournament, three Regional Finals, and two trips to Austin for the State Finals.

The Lady Cats took an early 4 point lead, as the Lady Hornets were not doing a good job of breaking Kerens' press. Demi Koelzer scored the first points for Muenster. Allison Pagel tied the game 4-4, but an aggressive Kerens team soon took an 8-4 lead.

Lana Heers hit a free, Koelzer 2, and a Heers 3-pointer to give Muenster their first lead 10-8, but two free throws tied the game back up. Muenster's defense tried to make something happen, but offensively the shots wouldn't fall. Michelle Sicking regained the lead with a basket. Pagel added to it before Kerens got another. Koelzer and Kerens each scored 2 to end the quarter 16-14 in favor of Muenster.

The Lady Cats tied the game to start the 2nd quarter. Koelzer got 2, but Kerens tied, then took a 19-18 lead. Pagel popped in a 3, Heers two frees, and Koelzer 2 for a 25-19 score. Just like that, Muenster's 6 point lead dwindled to 1 as Kerens hit several. Heers got two free throws at the 3:18 mark, but the Lady Panthers answered back for a 27-26 score.

The Lady Hornets then came back with 9 straight points by Pagel, Heers, and Koelzer to extend their lead to 10. Kerens added 3 points the last 18 seconds for a 36-29 Muenster halftime lead.

It was Muenster's basketball as the 2nd half started. Koelzer made the first points, but Kerens came back with 4, making the score 38-33. The next points came under 3 minutes with Lady Cat free throws closing the scoring gap to 2. Michelle Sicking scored a 3, Kerens 3, and Lauren Rohmer 2 for a 43-39 3rd period score.

After having starters sitting on the bench in the 3rd due to foul trouble, Muenster went with the starting five to begin the final period. Within seconds, Koelzer fouled out of the game. Kerens added 3 points to their score, Muenster hit a 3, and Kerens 5 more points. So after a 9 point Muenster lead, Kerens took back the lead 47-46.

With 5 minutes to play, a Pagel free throw tied the game. The Lady Cats then tied their largest lead in the game at 4.

Emily Hellman hit a free throw and Heers 2 to pull back within 1, 51-50. Kerens added another free throw. Turnovers allowed the Lady Cats to increase their lead 54-50 as the Lady Hornets started to self-destruct.

Under the 2 minute mark, Kerens made 3 free throws to increase their lead to 7. At 1:27, Rohmer added a point, Kerens a point, followed by Hellman with a point for a 58-52 score with 1:19 remaining.

Muenster turned over the ball and missed shots, forcing the Lady Hornets to foul. Kerens missed 7 straight free throws, but Muenster couldn't find the basket. With 17 seconds on the clock, a free throw put the nail in the coffin, giving Kerens a 7 point lead. The game ended 59-52.

Scoring for the Lady Hornets were Demi Koelzer with 14 points. Allison Pagel added 13, Lana Heers 11, Emily Hellman 6, Michelle Sicking 5, and Lauren Rohmer 3.

With 3:56 on the clock, Flusche scored 2 followed by 2 for the Cats. A minute work the clock early. Koelzer was fouled twice and hit all 4 throws. Pagel added another free to extend Muenster's lead 44-28 with under 3 minutes to play.

The Lady Pipers scored 4 as Muenster worked on the clock. A frustrated and tired Hamlin team was forced to foul. Heers hit 2 from the line for a 46-32 score. The Lady Pipers missed their shot, Muenster rebounded, and Koelzer was fouled, making 1 shot. Hamlin shot an air ball with 1:12 on the clock. A jump ball gave Hamlin the inbound and a 3-pointer for a 47-35 score.

Heers was fouled on the inbound and made both free throws, 49-35 with 58 seconds on the clock. Hamlin added a free, and Heers a free for the final 50-36 score.

Heers was high point maker for Muenster with 18 points. Koelzer added 17, Walterscheid 8, Pagel 4, Sicking 2, and Rohmer 1.

Both teams couldn't buy a free throw for three quarters, but in the 4th, the Lady Hornets hit 14 of 19 to improve the game percentage to 20 of 36. Hamlin was nine of 19 from the line. "When we need to make them, we step up and make them," Coach Jason Atcheson said after the game.

The Lady Hornets dominated the 4th quarter. "Our depth and the way we play - we're gonna run them down," the coach added.

In the last minute of play, Flusche hit two more baskets for the final 58-41 score.

Flusche led the Hornets in scoring with 19. Grewing, Presnall, and Walterscheid each added 5, Anderle 4, and Hennigan 3.

The Meridian Lady Jackets defeated Valley View 37-23 in Area. Valley View lost to Dallas Gateway 46-45 in Bi-District.

Decline in Rolling Plains bobwhites spurs quail research

Texas quail hunters may have noticed sick or dead bobwhites in the Rolling Plains, and Texas AgriLife researchers are asking for their help in studying the cause.

"We're asking hunters to let us know of any strange-acting quail or, better yet, of any carcasses they come across or sick birds they've found," said Dr. Dale Rollins, Texas AgriLife Extension Service wildlife specialist at San Angelo.

Rollins and a team of quail researchers from Texas Tech University, Texas A&M University, Texas A&M University-Kingsville, and the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation conducted eight research projects last spring to find the cause. Their efforts continue through Operation Idiopathic Decline.

"The word idiopathic in the title, meaning it's unknown what's causing the demise of quail, pretty well sums up the frustration we as hunters, educators, and researchers are feeling at this point," Rollins said. "The bobwhite quail population is at a record low in the Rolling Plains, which has long been the traditional stronghold for wild quail in Texas. To date, our research team has tested nearly 700 bobwhites from 21 Texas sites and 10 sites in Oklahoma. The results of these blood and tissue sample tests should be available by mid-March."

Texas quail hunters who find dead bobwhites are asked to put them in individual plastic bags, refrigerate them, and contact Rollins at (325) 653-4576 or d-rollins@tamu.edu.

Lindsay's Fogle to compete at State powerlifting Meet

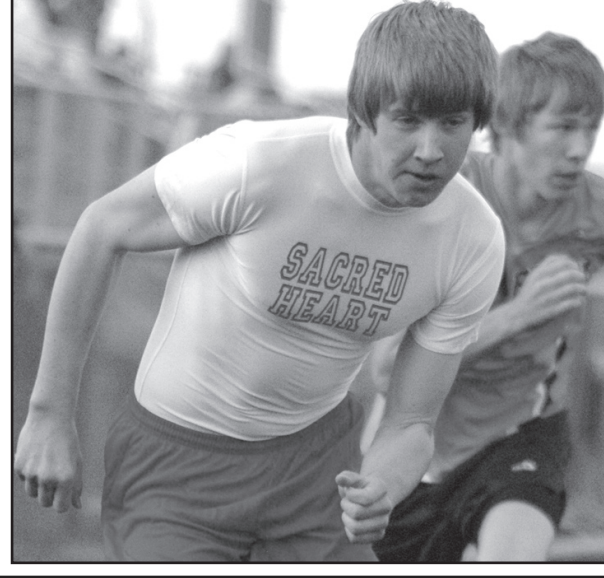

On Saturday Feb. 18, Lindsay Knight Powerlifting competed in the Howe Invitational at Howe High School. Alie Fogle, Elijah Walker, and Nick Rose all competed for Lindsay, and both Alie and Elijah came away with 7th place finishes in their weight classes, along with personal best totals for the season.

It was a very big meet, with 246 lifters. All three Lindsay lifters did very well.

Alie Fogle, with her total, qualified for the Regional VI, Division 3 Powerlifting Meet at Leonard High School on Saturday, Feb. 25.

She has now advanced to the Texas High School Women's Powerlifting Association State Meet in Corpus Christi on March 16.

Record corn crop, lower prices ahead - USDA

The U.S. is likely to produce a record 14.27 billion bushels of corn and 3.25 billion bushels of soybeans in the 2012-13 marketing year, with the large crop pushing down prices for corn, soybeans, and wheat, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said recently.

The output projections were above the USDA's baseline forecasts issued this month, which projected corn output of 14.235 billion bushels and soybean output of 3.215 billion bushels in the year from September 2012 to August 2013. Those projections were compiled in November as part of the government's budget process. In the 2011-12 marketing year, corn output was 12.358 billion bushels and soybean production was 3.056 billion bushels.

Farmers are likely to plant so much corn this year—about 94 million acres, the most since 1944—that production will sharply overshoot demand, pushing up stocks and pulling down prices, the USDA said. Recent high corn prices have also made farmers more likely than usual to plant that crop instead of soy in the next year, analysts say. Corn ending stocks are likely to double to 1.616 billion bushels from 801 million bushels at the end of the 2011-12 marketing year, “pushing cash prices sharply lower by fall harvest,” the USDA said.

“Futures and cash prices for wheat, corn, and soybeans are all expected to fall in 2012-13 as record U.S. corn production pushes global grain supplies to a new record,” the USDA said. “Despite the expected decline, prices remain historically high because of strong global demand for grains and oilseeds.”

But demand from ethanol producers is falling and that sector won't be buying as much corn. “Falling gasoline consumption and declining ethanol exports limit expected corn use in the production of ethanol,” USDA said.

The USDA also forecast wheat production of 2.165 billion bushels, up slightly from a baseline projection of 2.12 billion bushels, and up from 2.0 billion bushels in 2011-12.

Strong crop prices are driving farmers' intentions to plant more this year, the USDA said. “Combined 2012 area for wheat, corn, and soybeans is projected to be [a] record high and up 3% from 2011 supported by strong new-crop futures prices and a return to more normal spring and summer weather,” it said.

The USDA forecast cotton production of 17 million bales, up from a baseline projection of 16.2 million bales.

The USDA forecasts are subject to change in coming months as they come long before the harvest and the current figures are not based on surveys of farmers.

Cattle brand registration period ended Feb. 29

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association (TSCRA) is reminding Texas ranchers that the current cattle brand re-registration period ended Feb. 29. Texas law requires that cattle brands be re-registered in the county or counties where the owner operates every 10 years.

According to TSCRA officials, cattle branding is a largely successful practice to prevent livestock theft. While Texas does not require ranchers to brand their cattle, it is encouraged.

For more information about re-registration, visit tscrabrands.com.

TDA market recap

For the week ending Feb. 25, feeder cattle prices at Texas auctions covered by USDA Market News were mostly steady, with a few to $2 lower per hundredweight and a few to $5 higher. Texas feeder sales direct to feedlots were $1 to $4 higher with some as much as $6 higher. Oklahoma City was $2 to $5 higher on feeder cattle and $4 to $10 higher on calves. Fed cattle cash prices were near unchanged from last week's record high. Wholesale Choice boxed beef prices were up 3.7% for the week, which helped packers reduce their losses, though margins remain negative according to most sources.

Corn and grain sorghum prices were unchanged to lower after USDA updated projections calling for increased planted acreage and lower prices in 2012. Wheat prices declined on updated USDA projections for increased U.S. production and higher carryover stocks. However, losses were limited by a better-than-expected weekly export sales report.

Winter wheat was reported in mostly good to poor condition with the High Plains crop in need of additional moisture. Field preparations for spring planting continued statewide. Pastures have benefitted from recent rains, but still need additional moisture, especially in West Texas. Pastures statewide remain in mostly fair to very poor condition.

County Agent's Report

Urban trees at risk

According to a recent Texas Forest Service study, an estimated 5.6 million trees that once shaded homes, streets, and parks in communities across Texas now are dead as a result of last year's unrelenting drought.

The affected trees may represent as much as 10% of the total number of trees that make up the urban forest. This could be very troublesome. Urban trees do more than just beautify your community. They also provide economic and environmental benefits like cutting your heating and cooling bill, cleaning the air you breathe and water you drink, and boosting your property values. The estimated loss of economic and environmental benefits provided by these trees is roughly $280 million per year.

While this study provides a reason for concern, we should not immediately assume all stressed trees are going to die. Assessing trees damaged or killed by drought can be tricky. Stressed trees do have the potential to recover if all goes well. In addition to the study, the Texas Forest Service also suggests, when evaluating stressed trees, it is helpful to group the trees into three different categories — definitely dead, likely to live, and questionable — to help with the task. Of course, remembering what the tree looked like at the end of last summer is important, but you will need to wait until the trees put their leaves on again this spring before you can categorize them.

Definitely dead

Shade trees that have lost all their foliage and are beginning to drop limbs or lose large patches of bark are most likely already dead and should be removed. Hypoxylon canker, a fungus that appears as gray or brown patches on the trunk of the tree, is another sign of a dead shade tree.

Likely to live

This category includes shade trees with at least some green or yellow leaves still attached to the limbs. In fact, even those that have dropped all their leaves may still be alive. Some native shade trees, such as post oaks and live oaks, are more drought resistant than others like water oaks or elms.

You can use a scratch test to determine if the tree is dead or just dormant. If you scrape the bark off a small branch or limb and find green, moist tissue underneath, the tree is still hanging on, waiting for the next rain. That means you may need to wait until spring to see if the tree makes a recovery — unless the tree starts to drop large branches and patches of bark, which is a sign of death. If there is no green, moist tissue, the tree is likely dead.

Though it's not as feasible to water your forest, any yard trees that show signs of life (green inner tissues or green foliage) should be watered deeply to reduce lingering drought stress.

Questionable

Questionable trees are those that appear to fit somewhere between the Definitely Dead and Likely to Live categories.

In the case of shade trees, those that have many dead or dying limbs or mostly bare branches may or may not survive. A few green, yellow, or red leaves may remain for awhile as the tree slowly dies, or it may recover when rains return.

Upcoming landscape management program

The Cooke County Master Gardeners are proud to offer a one-night educational presentation: “Drought Last Year; This Year's Management.”

With the gardening season just in front of us, the Cooke County Master Gardeners feel this will be an excellent program to get you thinking about your yard, and hopefully recovering from last year's drought. Participants will be able to learn about managing plants in their yards and will learn to avoid mistakes which are common to our area.

This program will feature local experts, Greg David and a husband and wife team of Brent and Beverly Swindle.

There is no cost for the program, which will be held on March 8 at 6 p.m. in the Landmark Bank Conference Center located at 1112 East California Street in Gainesville. Light refreshments will be provided. Please RSVP to (940) 668-5412.

Bloomberg report: farmers to boost crop acreage

Although the first crop acreage estimate from the U.S. Department of Agriculture is not scheduled until Feb. 23, Bloomberg recently conducted a survey to see what American farmers are planning for 2012.

The survey found that U.S. farmers could plant the most corn since the World War II era. Higher prices coupled with increasing domestic and global demand is prompting farmers to up the ante this planting season.

A combined survey of farmers, bankers, and analysts suggested that as many as 226.9 million acres could be sown in corn, soybeans, and wheat - the most since 1984.

“There is unlikely to be any ground that won't be planted this year,” said Todd Wachtel, a farmer near Altamont, Illinois, told Bloomberg. “Farmers know that they have to plant more when prices are high because they may not last.”

Most of the incentive relies on higher production rates which depend largely on favorable weather. In Texas and other southern states, many farmers are still reeling from last year's chronic drought that persists in many areas.

Commodity prices still trending higher are attractive to many farmers considering planting options for 2012. Last year, corn averaged a record $6.79 in Chicago. Soybeans averaged a record $13.21, 72% above the 10 previous years, while wheat's average of $7.235 was the second highest ever and 57% more than the past decade.

Bayer, AgriLife Research to advance wheat breeding

Bayer CropScience and Texas AgriLife Research have signed a multi-year agreement to develop and commercialize wheat varieties.

Researchers and breeders at both institutions will focus on developing wheat lines that offer improved yields, as well as regionally important characteristics such as drought resistance, disease resistance, and improved quality. Texas AgriLife Research is a leading provider of hard red winter wheat germplasm for the Southern Great Plains region and its collection will serve as a strong basis for developing these new lines.

Additionally, the collaboration will focus on the development of molecular breeding tools—Bayer's specialty—to facilitate the rapid genetic improvement of wheat. Combining classical and modern breeding techniques is expected to increase the rate of wheat yield improvement and allow wheat to thrive in areas with conditions which are unfavorable to wheat production.
