VOLUME VI

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1942

NUMBER 27

There they go again. Some of our over-zealous champions of righteousness are suggesting legislation to prohibit the sale of liquor to Uncle Sam's fighting men. History repeats itself. Remember what happened in the last war?

Are we to understand that the American soldier or sailor is so much an irresponsible reprobate that he cannot be trusted with a drink? That is, the average soldier or sailor? While it is true that some of the boys make rather sorry spectacles of themselves, it is also true that an infinitely larger number of them take their liquor temperately.

The obvious purpose of course, is to stop drunkenness in our armed forces. In the light of our former experience, what assurance is there that the ruling would be successful? Is there anything to prevent a repetition of our former farce when heavy drinkers merely shifted their patronage from authorized tax-paying liquor dealers to sneaking bootleggers? The most notable accomplishment will be to deprive normal soldiers of their well-earned occasional relaxation.

All the well known pro and con arguments on prohibition can be reached out again for this suggestion. They are old stuff, so we'll skip 'em. But this thing has another angle. The proposal carries the implication that the organization which has taken over this country's most difficult and dangerous task is not capable of handling its own problems. It seems a pretty thankless assignment, too. To impose unwelcome legislation on the men who are risking their necks for the country.

Why not let military discipline take care of the matter? You can trust the army or navy to make any regulations it considers conducive to the morale of its men.

The top officers ask only for results. And that's what they're getting. Haven't the tipplers, won a reputation as the fighter's best men in this war? Remember how Lincoln met that same problem? When informed that Grant was hitting the bottle rather frequently, he replied, "Find out what brand he uses. I want to send some to our other generals."

President Roosevelt again repeats his prediction of a long, hard war. In effect, he says, don't take too much for granted. Just because we have had a little good news lately. We haven't won by a long shot even though Churchill and Stalin are more cheerful while Hitler and Mussolini appear more gloomy—even though China and Russia are having some successes—though the Axis cause seems to be slipping on the continent—though the Allied war production machine is near its top speed.

Many a man will dispute the accuracy of FDR's statement. Partly because of wishful thinking, partly because of inability to understand how such intensive ferocity can long continue. And some of us are inclined to wonder whether the President's prediction was prompted by his comprehensive knowledge of world conditions or by the public's need of a shot in the arm. Trouble with us Americans in our invincibility complex. Having never lost a war we have difficulty in realizing the seriousness of our predicament. We need official statements constantly reminding us that this is a bitter fight.

Perhaps FDR's remark was intended more as a challenge to the American public than as a prediction. Perhaps deep down in his heart he also believes that the war will end in '42 or '43. But he doubtless spoke with a hope that Americans would pitch in with increased vigor to prove to him and all the rest of the world that it can be done in less time. The nation's best course is to accept the President's words in that spirit—to work as hard as possible and cut as much time as possible off the duration.

Recent reports on the progress of Muenster men in the army should be a source of pride to the whole community. (We get a little kick, too, from the knowledge that Cooke county was represented in that famous raid over Japan.) The records those home town boys are making for themselves indicate that they are making good soldiers for

Friends Announce Bezner Candidacy For Re-election

At a meeting of voters of Precinct No. 4, to which other citizens of the county were invited and which was largely attended, resolutions were adopted to draft Joe Bezner of Lindsay to make the race for reelection as county commissioner, and it was decided to place his announcement in the newspapers, according to Jos. Walterscheid, P. J. Rollman, B. Voth, W. J. Loerwald, John Felderhoff, W. F. Russell and D. L. Monroe, who were among those present.

The meeting was called, according to these men when it was learned that Mr. Bezner had indicated he would not seek reelection.

Wishes of the men at the meeting were made known to him, in the form of an insistent command that he permit his name to be placed on the ballot for reelection and he was notified that his public announcement for the office would be forthcoming.

In authorizing the announcement, voters of the precinct representing the group, asserted that Mr. Bezner has made a good record during his occupancy of the office of county commissioner and they do not believe a change should be made at this time, when so many matters of vital importance to the precinct and to the county as a whole are facing the commissioners' court.

They further assert that he has conducted the affairs of the precinct with sound business judgment and has always shown an earnest desire to see that roads and bridges of the precinct were improved as rapidly as possible and maintained in good condition. He has kept expenditures of county funds at a minimum, by demanding full value for every dollar of the taxpayers' money expended by him, and following the same policy when voting on expenditures authorized by the court.

The fact that Mr. Bezner is being drafted by his friends to offer for reelection, the spokesman stated, is indication of their belief that he will continue to give the best service of which he is capable and that his experience already gained will be of more material benefit to the taxpayers than if an inexperienced man was chosen during these strenuous times.

They submit his candidacy subject to action of the voters of the precinct at the Democratic primary election July 25, and ask for a full consideration of his ability and willingness to continue serving the county with fidelity and general satisfaction. (Pol. Adv.)

YOUTHS 18 to 20 TO REGISTER ON JUNE THIRTIETH

President Roosevelt last Friday set June 30 as registration day for men between 18 and 20 years of age.

This will complete the registration of the nation's man power for both fighting and non-combatant war duty, and it will be the fifth registration under existing law.

Men 18 and 19 years of age who will register between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on June 30 will not be subject to military draft until they reach the age of 20, the first announcement last week disclosed. However, Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey, national selective service director, said Monday that the drafting of youths 18 and 19 years old for military service is "probably an inevitable step." Hershey said that his board had not yet requested the lowering of age requirements but added, "we never have got through a war without going down to 18."

Men between 20 and 45 are now subject to military service. Approximately forty million men between 20 and 65 have been registered in the four previous drafts.

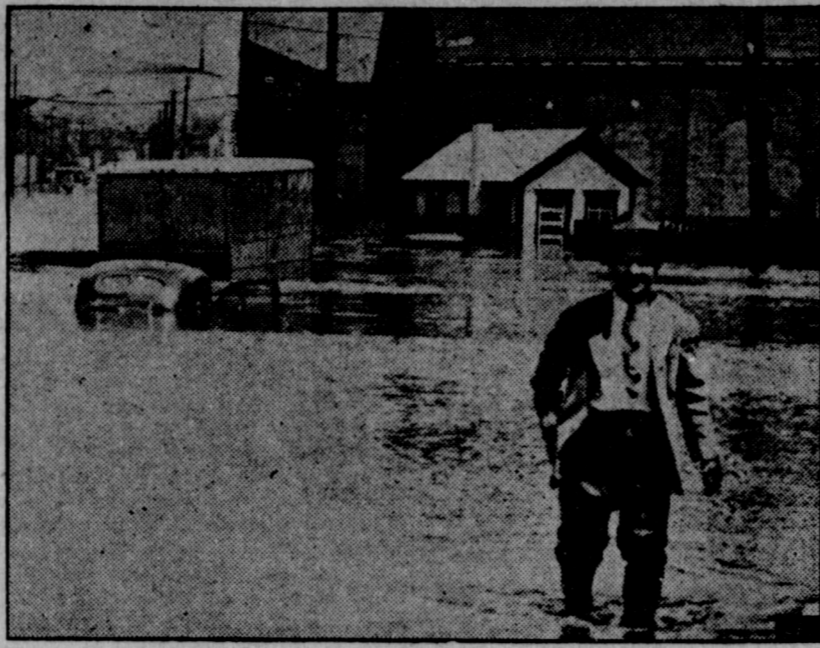

The president's proclamation called for registration on June 30 of all male citizens born on or after Jan. 1, 1922 or on and before June 30, 1924.

The president also called for registration on June 30 for possible military service of all men who reached 20 years of age after Dec. 1, 1942, and on or before June 30 next who have not heretofore been registered.

PICTURES OF BOYS IN SERVICE WANTED

The Enterprise would like to have pictures of all of Muenster's boys in the armed forces. Cuts will be made from the pictures and will appear in this newspaper from time to time. Any clear photograph is suitable for this purpose and the original picture will be returned to the owner without damage. Parents and other relatives are asked to bring these photos to the Enterprise office.

FLOOD SWEEPS PENNSYLVANIA

SCRANTON, PA.—Shown here is one of many automobiles stalled and partly submerged by flood waters from the Lackawanna River which swept through here last week-end. The waters submerged the Lackawanna and northern Luzerne counties causing untold damage, driving hundreds from their homes and paralyzing traffic. At least 82 persons were killed in eastern Pennsylvania in this, the worst flood in years.

DISCUSSION CLUBS END SEASON WITH GENERAL MEETING

Richard Evid, were seated on the stage on which a public address system had been set up through the courtesy of Joe Fisher. Miss Luke, president, gave a short review of discussion club work in the parish stating that this year there were 16 active clubs, the largest number in the history, and pointing out that it was mainly through the help and encouragement of Father Richard that so many groups were organized and active.

Miss Stock, secretary, gave a general report of the year's work, reading a brief account of each club, after which a Question Box was conducted. Father Richard then gave a talk and presented a gift to the chairman of each club.

REGISTRANTS GET OCCUPATIONAL QUESTIONNAIRES

For the past week Muenster men registered on Feb. 16 have been receiving occupational questionnaires from the Cooke County Selective Service Board. The questionnaire is designed to reveal the location, skill and availability of men needed for both military and war production purposes.

Registrants are to complete the questionnaires and return them within ten days to their local board. Rev. Richard Evid and Virgil Lee Welch are prepared to assist registrants in the preparation of their questionnaires.

Registrants are urged to thoughtfully consider and completely answer each question on the form with the utmost care so that the employment service will be in a position to accurately classify their occupational skill.

Car-Tractor Crash Fatal To A. Teague And Lois Farmer

Funeral Services For Prominent Gainesville Citizen Held Wednesday

Arthur Teague, 66, prominent Gainesville merchant and banker, and well known throughout Cooke county, died at midnight Monday as the result of severe injuries suffered in an automobile-tractor collision about 7 o'clock Monday evening.

Phillip Teague, son of Mr. Teague, who was driving the car, and Davis Aughtry, Lois farmer, driver of the tractor, were injured, the latter so seriously that he died Wednesday morning. Aughtry, 57, leaves a wife and six children. The accident occurred on Highway 77, two miles north of Sanger.

Funeral services for Mr. Teague were held Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the First Methodist church on Denton street. Rev. Harrison Baker, former pastor of the church, now at Sherman, officiated. Burial was in Fairview cemetery under the direction of George J. Carroll and Son Funeral home.

Mr. Teague is survived by his wife, the former Miss Anna Frances Hines, whom he married in 1903, and three children, Phillip and Russell who are associated with the store founded by their father, and Lt. Arthur Teague, Jr., of the U. S. Army in California. In addition there are four grandchildren, a sister and two brothers, all of Gainesville.

Mr. Teague was a native of Tennessee where he was born in Lexington, Sept. 8, 1875. He located in Gainesville 47 years ago as a young man, clerked in a store and was later a traveling salesman, worked in two Gainesville stores and then organized Teague Company which opened for business on January 12, 1912. Mr. Teague was also a civic leader and served with distinction in many places of honor. He was named acting president of the Gainesville National Bank following the death of the late Sam King, until a successor was elected and has been a director of the bank for a number of years.

He has been president of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club and of Associated Charities, he was at one time chairman of the Cooke County Red Cross chapter and was active in Masonic circles. State highway patrolmen and county officers who investigated the wreck were said to be of the opinion that blame for the wreck is equal and that drivers of both vehicles probably did not use proper precautions immediately prior to the crash. It is not believed any further action will be taken.

Among Muenster people at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hellman, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Hellman, Pvt. R. N. Fette, Mrs. Henry Fette, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, Miss Elizabeth Herr and Miss Myrtle Friske.

MUSIC RECITAL SUNDAY

Sacred Heart School Gives 25 Diplomas

Awards for Promptness At Mass Granted; Father Frown Is Speaker

Cheered by a well filled hall of parents and friends, 25 pupils of Sacred Heart Parochial School received from the Rev. Father Frown their diplomas for the successful completion of grade school work in the annual Parochial commencement exercises at the Parish Hall Sunday evening.

As guest speaker on the program Father Frown gave a splendid address in which he stressed the need of religious training in school work. During his talk he reviewed briefly, the history of the Muenster parish school, going back to the first humble building on through the first fifty years of Muenster progress, and then, looking ahead into the future, he visualized the completion of the parish plant, which will include an academy for boys, taught by Brothers, and an academy for girls. The parish will not be complete to the fullest degree until it has a Catholic hospital, he added. All this is possible for Muenster, he said. Perhaps in the year 2000, the time he estimated for all this to be finished, Muenster can boast of these accomplishments.

Glad to see and hear again their beloved pastor, who has been afflicted with serious eye trouble for the past four weeks, the assemblage gave the speaker a loud round of applause.

The valedictory address was brought by Margie Ann Endres and the salutatory was given by Alfons Koessler. A recitation "Old Glory", was presented by four students and the salute to the Flag followed by the graduating class. Featuring the evening's program was a comedy, "Ghosts", with fifteen characters.

The presentation of the class gift to the school, a volume to the library, was made by Lillian Wimmer and accepted in the name of the school by Paul Luke.

Awards for promptness at Mass during the school year were given to 83 children. Laura Lee Wilde explained the presentation of the awards and announced that this year the prizes, lovely framed religious pictures, were presented through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel in memory of their son, Ensign Robert Weinzapfel, who gave his life in the performance of his duty on December 9. Father Frown presented the gifts to the students. It was explained that to receive an award a student must have attended Mass 127 times.

Children who were prompt at Mass every day were distinguished from the rest by a large bow of gold ribbon on which was fastened a small gold medal. These students were Ethel Mae Bayer, Aileen Koessler, Dorothy Walterscheid and Carolyn Wiseman.

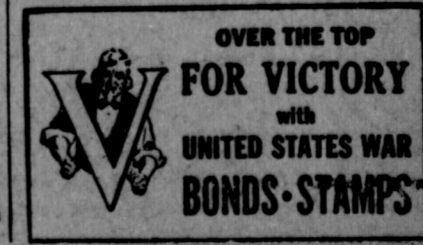

A poem, "The Open Gate" was recited by Theresa Mae Pels and the class song concluded the program. The girl graduates wore uniforms of blue skirts and white blouses and the stage, decorated with flowers and the Flag, presented a very pretty picture.

Before the program and between acts musical selections were given by the school orchestra and Little Miss Virginia Walterscheid presented an accordion solo.

CDA'S TO INSTALL OFFICERS SUNDAY

Natural Gas Rates REDUCED!

NEW RATE TO SAVE RESIDENTIAL AND COMMERCIAL
CUSTOMERS $2,000,000 ANNUALLY

To Our Customers:

Through more than three decades of operating history it has been a fixed policy of the management of Lone Star Gas System to spare no effort to accomplish and maintain a dependable gas service for its customers at rates commensurate with the cost of rendering such service. The important reason for this basic policy springs from the very roots of a definite responsibility to our customers, most of whom depend exclusively upon natural gas service for their fuel requirements. The part that gas serves in protecting the health, comfort and welfare of more than a million men, women and children in homes served by Lone Star Gas System, is an assignment that we have accepted in its full seriousness.

To meet these requirements millions of dollars have been expended for materials, equipment, proven gas reserves, pipeline transportation and distribution facilities planned with careful foresight to safeguard a continuity of dependable service over a long period of years as well as for the present. In line with this policy of providing not only adequate but dependable gas service from our interconnected facilities, a substantial part of the System's earnings as well as considerable borrowed capital has been applied to this development program. At all times the System's thousands of stockholders have evidenced their cooperation in many ways in order that the utmost might be accomplished in this program of development. During this period, a large portion of which represented the depression years, neither the normal growth of individual towns served by Lone Star Gas System nor increases in residential, commercial and industrial customers kept pace with the expansion program which we were required to maintain in the interest of continued dependable service.

As the interests in good gas service of both Lone Star Gas System and its customers are interdependent, the rate charged for gas should be fair and reasonable for the customer and at the same time sufficiently adequate for the System to meet its responsibilities. In defense of this sound principle we have, on various occasions during our period of development, become engaged in rate controversies and litigation. In these instances we have had no choice except to diligently and firmly protect the mutual interests of the System and its customers against an ultimate downfall of service due to unwarranted and untimely rate reductions.

The area served by Lone Star Gas System has now reached an all-time high in industrial, commercial and residential expansion and this has resulted in an increase in the amount of gas normally used. Because of long preparation we are prepared to meet the requirements of these increased demands now being made upon our System. We are pleased that under present circumstances we are able to consent to a rate order which will give our customers a substantial reduction in the cost of their gas service and at the same time dispose of all pending rate controversies.

In announcing this rate reduction it is our earnest hope that, as we all adjust ourselves to the war effort, sufficient new peace-time uses for gas service can be developed for the future to justify this low rate indefinitely.

By agreement, the reduction of $2,000,000.00 annually has become effective to customers served by Lone Star Gas System.

AFTER THE WAR, WHAT?

Everybody is going all-out to win the war and nothing will interfere with that effort—the man on the street, the factory worker, the housewife, the farmer, and the business man are showing grim determination to bring this war to a successful termination. But we shouldn't be human if we didn't sometimes speculate on what will follow.

We face a huge task in winning this war and just as huge a task in winning the peace. To win the peace, we must prepare now—even while we are concentrating on winning the war. No one wants to go back to days of depression, of idle plants, idle men and idle money.

American industry, built and maintained by foresight, isn't ignoring this problem. It is tackling it right now, along with the dozens of other problems created by war production itself. It's laying plans for a speedy change-over to increased civilian manufacturing when this emergency is ended.

Industrialists assure us that wonderful new products are in store for the post-war markets. A glass company is preparing to offer prefabricated homes costing about $3,000 that can be assembled quickly to make cheap housing available; the airplane industry promises new luxury liners, thousands of new air fields for smaller planes, and employment to millions.

Such inventions and changes, forced by the war far sooner than they would have developed naturally are the mainstay of the widely accepted opinion that a post-war depression of monumental proportions can be averted.

As Walter B. Weisenburger, executive vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers has said, "the development during the war production period of superior manufacturing methods applicable to peacetime production embodies the promise that we may attain in the post-war period a scale of living higher than ever before."

Economic Highlights

Last January, an official announcement said that the United States Army would reach a total of 3,600,000 men by the end of 1942. Since then, the actual size of the Army and precise plans for its expansion have not been announced, inasmuch as they are military secrets of the first order. Some commentators have forecast that in time the Army might total nine or ten million. The best available information seems to indicate that a total of 6,000,000 will be attained.

That is obviously going to have a revolutionary effect on the manpower of this country. However, there is no factual evidence to support the scare rumors which say that every physically fit man under 36 is certain to be placed in uniform. Selective Service heads are making a genuine effort to create an Army of the size needed with minimum dislocation of American family life.

Here is how matters shape up at this time, according to published statements:

First, practically all available single men in the 20-35-year bracket have been called. Many who were given temporary deferment for occupational reasons are now being summoned. In time, women and older men will replace thousands of young men in defense industries.

Second, the Selective Service Boards are placing in the 1-A classification all men who have no genuine claim for dependency. That includes men with working wives, men who contribute little to the support of their households, and men with means. Almost all of these men will be in uniform by the end of the year, unless they are unable to pass the physical examinations or perform vital work in war industry.

Third, it is universally believed that Congress will soon approve a bill providing government grants to dependents of service men. These grants, as now projected, are small—around $50 a month for a wife and child. But they will make it possible for the Selective Service to call thousands of men who are now deferred for economic reasons.

Fourth, a new draft classification, 3-B, has been adopted. And that is a matter of very great importance. At the present time, men with genuine dependencies are classified as 3-A. The 3-B classification is for men with genuine dependencies who, in addition, are employed in war work.

The hope is that thousands of men who now have non-war jobs will shift to war jobs in order to obtain the 3-B deferment. Some observers say that eventually the Selective Service Boards will operate on the "work or fight" policy which existed in World War I. In other words, a man will be given the choice of going into the Army, or leaving a non-war occupation for a war occupation.

The industries which are classified as essential to the war effort are definitely limited in number. Lawyers, store clerks, newspapermen, wholesalers, advertising men, etc., have no claim for deferment. Deferment is given only to men who hold a job which is directly and absolutely necessary to the production and transportation of the raw and finished materials which are involved in war.

What this all adds up to is plain. If you are a single man, under 36, in reasonable health, you will go into the Army unless you are virtually irreplaceable in some war industry. If you have dependents who look to you entirely for support, you will be deferred for the time being—but there is a strong likelihood that in time the continuance of your deferment will depend upon your obtaining a job in war industry. If you have minor physical defects, you are not exempt from military service. The original physical standards have been relaxed, and men with defective eyesight, hearing, feet, etc., are being called to the colors and assigned to non-combatant duty.

Many a problem remains to be worked out. An army of 6,000,000 men would mean that four to six times that number would be needed in industries, manufacturing and transporting supplies. On top of that, agriculture must be kept going, and on an expanding scale, inasmuch as we are sending tremendous quantities of foodstuffs to our Allies. Selective Service heads, such as General Hershhey, have advised the Boards to exempt enough farm labor to keep food production up to the necessary level. But, reports say, in some areas the draft is virtually denuding the farms of labor. Furthermore, farmers cannot pay the high wages paid by war industry, and workers are naturally taking jobs in war factories instead of on farms. This seems to be one of the most serious of the unsolved problems.

It is probable that the immediate course of the war will have a direct bearing on Army expansion plans here. If, for instance, Russia continues to hold the Germans, and Japan is stopped in the Pacific, a U. S. Army of the largest size possible will not be necessary. If, on the other hand, Germany manages to crack the Russian defense this summer, and if Japan continues to win victories, you can look with assurance to Army expansion on a tremendous accelerated scale.

It is reported that men between 35 and 44, which was the second group registered, will, as a general rule, be taken only for behind-the-line Army service. It is expected that the greater proportion of this group will go to work in war industry. No plans have been made for 45-65 group of registrants.

MORE BOTTLES, JARS— BUT THINNER

Orders that will result in thinner and less fancy glass containers, an estimated increase in production of 30 per cent, have been issued by the War Production Board. Standardizing of certain glass container sizes and weights, by making possible greater production with the same machinery, is expected to help meet the shortage of tin cans and other metal containers.

SHORTAGE OF FATS MAKES IT VITAL TO CONSERVE THEM

American families eat more than six billion pounds of fats and oils yearly. According to Roy W. Snyder, animal industries specialist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, it would require 6,000 freight trains of 50 cars each to haul that essential food to a central market.

The world shortage of fats and oils makes it imperative to conserve them here. Store lard to be used at home in tight containers in a dry, cold, dark place. Packing lard in gallon buckets with a layer of wax at the top to make the containers air tight is a proved method for keeping it through the summer months. Moisture, air, light and high temperature hasten lard to become rancid. In using lard from a large container—five gallons for example—take it off top evenly. Snyder cautions that digging down in the center or at one side exposes more surface to the air and increases the chances of rancidity. Save lard by using no more than necessary in cooking. Bacon and sausage drippings which are suitable for seasoning other foods, should be strained and stored in a cool place as carefully as new lard.

If lard is strained through several thicknesses of cloth to remove foreign matter after use in deep fat frying, its frying life is increased. Snyder warns against heating fat to the smoking point as it reduces the number of times it can be used effectively.

Allred Will Open Campaign at Rally in Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, May 28.—James V. Allred, West Texas native son, will formally launch his campaign for junior United States senator in Wichita Falls Tuesday night, June 2, at 8 o'clock on the lawn of the Memorial Auditorium. In case of inclement weather, Allred will make his address inside the auditorium.

Mayer W. P. (Bill) Hood will introduce ex-governor Allred when he returns to his former home to open his campaign. Prior to the rally a program of patriotic band music and songs will be offered.

Visits Old Friends

Allred will visit with old friends both preceding and following the rally and has expressed an earnest desire to visit with his many acquaintances of all sections of West Texas. Because of his intimate knowledge and admiration of this area where he resided until his election as attorney general in 1930 Allred will open his campaign in Wichita Falls, before an audience consisting of friends from communities throughout Northwest Texas.

Recognizing that citizens of this state desire reliable protection, not only on foreign battlefields, but also in the government of their own nation, Allred has announced a platform based on a guarantee of that protection.

"The casualties of this war are not confined to the battlefield," Allred said in a statement issued following a week's visit over Texas. "Thousands of salesmen and other employes, along with hundreds of small concerns, are the first victims of the quick shift to a war economy. Their plight will become desperate unless the government speedily makes adjustments, provides loans and other fields of employment."

All-Out War Effort

All-out support of the war effort, benefits to men in service and "planning now" for the readjustment to come after the war were set forth in the platform of Allred in filing for a place on the ballot as candidate for United States senator. Allred's platform calls for uninterrupted production of war materials 24 hours a day, seven days a week. For men in the service, he proposes insurance without deduction from pay, transportation without cost from the training camp to the nearest town or city, laundry service without cost, employment and educational opportunities upon discharge.

Allred War Veteran

Allred was born in Bowie, Texas, March 29, 1899, one of seven children of Renne Allred, a rural mail carrier, and Mrs. Allred. He shined shoes, sold newspapers, ran errands and did janitor work to pay for his schooling. Following graduation from Bowie High School with honors in 1917, he entered Rice Institute at Houston in September. He resigned a draft-exempt job to enlist in the United States

Navy as an apprentice seaman and was honorably discharged Feb. 19, 1919.

He was a stenographer in a law firm in Wichita Falls until September, 1920, when he entered Cumberland University of Lebanon, Tenn., where he received an L.L.B. degree in June, 1921. Returning to Wichita Falls to enter law practice he was appointed district attorney in April, 1923, and re-elected in 1924. He was elected attorney general in 1930 and re-elected in 1932 and in 1934 won the race for governor by a majority of 40,000 votes. In 1936 he was re-elected governor in the first primary. President Roosevelt appointed him United States judge of the southern Texas district June 11, 1938, where he remained until May 15 when he resigned to enter the race for United States senator.

Members of the Mothers' Society have received a card of thanks from the Chaplains' Aid Society thanking the local organization for the Mass Kit linens they completed and sent off some time ago.

The message, addressed to Mrs. Lena Streng, who supervised the work, reads in part: We have received the set of Mass Kit linens you sent us and are indeed grateful for your beautiful contribution.

Such a donation is doubly welcome now, for the constantly increasing number of new chaplains makes our demands increase in like proportion with the result that we are often anxious lest the day should come when we might have to hold Endres, a ferry pilot, explained in his letter that he was giving it to his navigator to bring back and mail when he reached the states. He, himself, was not making the return trip this time, but was "going on", and told his parents not to expect further word from him for at least two weeks. They think he took a plane to Australia.

He is stationed in the Desert Training Center, miles from "anywhere" and is now a Motor Sergeant with the duty of supervising 28 men and 4 mechanics. The camp is 35 miles from a city, the scenery is all sand, there is little water and rattlesnakes are plentiful. His company will be stationed there for about five weeks and where they go from there "is anybody's guess" Jim says. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lehnertz received a letter Wednesday and it included greetings to all his friends here. His new address is: PFC. Jimmy Lehnertz; Bat. B, 105th SFG. Bn. CAAA; Desert Training Center, APO 351; Indio, California.

Pfc. Earl Lehnertz is still OK in Australia. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lehnertz received a letter from him on May 18th that had been posted Apr. 6 at Melbourne. He said that it was on that day that he received his first mail, ten letters, since he was across, and it was certainly a happy occasion. Everything is "just dandy" and he's gaining weight, he said.

Gilmer H. Medlen, son of Will A.

Medlen, of the Enterprise force, writes from Camp Bowie that he likes the service OK. He was inducted several weeks ago from Graham. Another son, Thomas C. Medlen, is in the air service, in the 8th Pursuit Squadron, Stratford, Conn.

A letter from Harlan Bridwell, former editor of the Forestburger at Forestburg, and well known here locally, came from Iceland, where he is stationed, to J. M. Weinzapfel Monday. The letter was dated May 7, and reads in part: "Dear Mr. Weinzapfel, I can't tell you how glad I was to receive your nice letter of March 30. The most welcome thing in a soldier's life in foreign service is mail call. And letters like yours remind us that we have not been completely forgotten, and that we still have something back home to fight for. I have recently been promoted to the rank of sergeant. This helps quite a bit in making the wheels go 'round."

Pvt. Frank Felderhoff, who moved from Camp Bowie last week, writes this week to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Felderhoff, that he is in Massachusetts. His new address is: Pvt. Frank Felderhoff; Co. A, 37 Engineers; Camp Edwards, Mass.

Johnny Wimmer and Vincent Becker enlisted in the Coast Guard last week and left Monday from Fort Worth. It was not learned this week where they are stationed. The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wimmer and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Becker.

Earl Fisher, seaman first class, and Norman Luke, of the U. S. Naval Reserve Air Base, Dallas, spent Saturday night and Sunday here with members of their families. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke took their son back to camp in the evening.

Ten Muenster, men who have been stationed at Camp Wolters for their basic training since the middle of February were moved to other camps during the weekend and Monday. The only two local boys still at Mineral Wells are Ed Swirczynski and Pat Stelzer. These two were retained at the camp as cooks. Ed was this week promoted to the rank of Corporal. The boys leaving were Pvt. Lawrence Felderhoff, Ted Voth, Walter Becker, Elmer Fette, Ray Fuhrmann, Carl Schilling, Frank Joseph Haverkamp, Joe Sicking, Richard Trachta and Pete Stoffels. Up to Wednesday relatives had not heard where they are now stationed.

Bill (Buck) Knabe writes an interesting letter from Camp Barkley, Abilene, where he has been stationed since his induction. He was made a Private First Class last week and received an award for being the best shot in his company when rifle shooting took place. He stated that on Mother's Day the National Catholic Community Service Club mothers served a special breakfast in the church basement for all Catholic boys of the camp. He said it was one of the nicest affairs he ever attended. He also sent his mother a religious picture that the chaplain presented to the Catholic boys to send to their mothers. Bill says in about six weeks he will get a ten day furlough and of course he'll spend it at home. Until then he sent best wishes and regards to all his Muenster friends. Bill was inducted in the army March 15. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Knabe. His address is: PFC. William B. Knabe, Co. H, 355th Inf., Camp Barkley, Texas.

Uncle Sam. It's pleasant to note the increasing number of promotions and good scores on the range.

Mention of expert riflemen recalls the line handed out to rookies in our outfit — that anyone who scored as expert or sharpshooter was destined for an early transfer to the front lines. Apparently that idea gets around in quite a number of the camps. One fellow here took it seriously. In practice he had been blasting the bull's eye regularly. For his record he turned in a pitiful score. But the irony of it! He was included in the next group to go across whereas some of the high scoring fellows remained. Anyway, it seems that some of the Muenster fellows were unaffected by the talk.

As far as Con is concerned, the record of progress prompts also a feeling of regret that he has contributed absolutely nothing toward it—except a record for infirmity. But the opportunity to join in the good work isn't so far away now. Yours truly is due to return to duty in about two weeks.

In the meantime he has excellent chance to spend much of that time back at the old home town. The process of working through red tape goes into effect Monday. If Con isn't home by the time this appears in print it may be assumed that a convalescent furlough is mighty hard to get.
