Commissioners enact burn ban

By Janet Felderhoff
 Cooke County residents enjoyed a short reprieve from a countywide ban on outdoor burning in unincorporated areas of the County. A burn ban imposed on Aug. 13 was lifted on Aug. 27. Anyone who did not get their outdoor burning projects done in that time will have to wait a little longer. Monday morning, Commissioners Court voted unanimously to reinstate the burn ban.

County Fire Marshal Ray Fletcher reported the Keetch-Byram Drought Index (KBDI) on Sunday as being 651 for the average, with a high of 725 in the southeast and 518 in the western part of the County.

"It was supposed to be cooler and rainier by now, but it's not," stated Fletcher. "And the average temperatures cooler and it's not. What little rain we got and it did green up, a good portion of those grasses are now stressed pretty highly. Even on the west side, cedars and things are stressed and ready to burn also. We're also into the transition time of the year again when we start experiencing frontal boundaries with winds forecast 20-30 mph. There is rain forecast for Friday and Saturday, but nothing definite. Today, with the winds we are getting ready to experience, our fire danger is going to be pretty high. I think it would not be a bad thing to enact the burn ban."

Commissioners agreed and enacted a burn ban that includes all outdoor burning and has restrictions on outdoor cooking, welding, cutting, and grinding.

Some residents of Lake Kiowa unhappy with the service being given by the Lake Kiowa Volunteer Fire Department (LKVFD) initiated the formation of a new volunteer force - the Indian Creek Volunteer Fire Department.

Between 90 and 100 people, most of them from the Lake Kiowa area, filled the Courtroom. Many were signed up to speak either for or against the proposed new group of volunteers.

LKVFD Chief Joe Rider defended his Department speaking of their experience, equipment, response time, etc. He commented, "For approximately 40 years, we've been serving Cooke County and Lake Kiowa. We've never had a complaint written or verbal. I don't know what the problem is that they think they need to have their own." He noted that they have no problem with the State and are a back-up for the Gainesville Fire Department.

"My concern is for the health and safety of the people of the County, not just Lake Kiowa," Rider stated. He feels that they are being pushed out just because someone has a problem with what they do or how they do it.

Jim Mead, president of the Lake Kiowa Property Owners Association Board of Directors, reported that following the last Commissioners Court meeting, they had attempted to make contact with the LKVFD chief to see if they could work together to bring the Department's equipment and personnel up to the standards and services they should expect. "We regret that our attempts failed to get any responses," said Mead. "We are here today to move forward to establish a new fire department." He requested that the Coun-

Hospital approves $0.1750 tax rate

By Janet Felderhoff
 Muenster Hospital's Board of Director's unanimously approved a tax rate of $0.1750 per $100. That is the same rate as last year, but it will bring in about $187,511 more. This is due to an increase in property values, most in the oil production.

The effective tax rate is $0.14860 and the rollback is $0.16040. Had the Board adopted the effective tax rate, it would have generated $1,008,366, an increase of $8,276 from last year.

Two public hearings were held on the proposed tax rate. There was no opposition at either of the hearings.

The Board was asked to consider approval of one of two options for equipment for the MMH Clinic & Procedure room. The first option cost estimate was $8,475 and the second option estimate was $11,597.55.

Board Secretary John Aytes remarked that it had been discussed in the previous day's Executive Committee meeting. He said, "We decided that you don't want

It's moving time

Saturday morning, the Muenster Jaycees took down playground equipment at Muenster ISD, clearing the area for construction of the new Ag classroom. The school donated the equipment. The Jaycees plan to place it in the new baseball park between the two fields, creating a play area for children. Pictured are, from left, Bubba Klement and Josh Walterscheid, two of the Jaycees who worked on the project.

The bigger they are, the harder they fall

Muenster Milling brought down this 174,000 bushel tank last Monday, the last of the "teardowns" from the July 2011 wind storm damage to their elevator. The 75 foot tall, 60 foot in diameter tank was built in 1982 and was structurally unfit to put grain in. After hours of attempts to pull down the approximately 110,000 pound tank, it was finally pulled off its foundation, tipping it over in collapse. ty enter into an interlocal agreement with the new fire department to be known as Indian Creek Volunteer Fire Department (ICVFD). Mead assured the Court that until donations and other fund raising methods were in place, the Lake Kiowa Property Owners Association Board would fund ICVFD.

Randy Smaltz, community manager of the Lake Kiowa Property Owners Association, listed the equipment and gear that they have acquired or will acquire and how many volunteers will be trained in November.

A letter was read from a resident who had a fire at her residence and had only one member of the LKVFDF respond. He was hindered in his job by several oxygen tanks that were empty and lack of needed equipment on the truck.

Fire Marshal Fletcher remarked, "Based on what I have seen in the past and what I see as the current capability of the Indian Creek Fire Department, I would recommend that you assign this to the Indian Creek Fire Department." The County's contract with LKVFDF expires on Sept. 30.

Precinct #2 Commissioner B.C. Lemons made a motion, "to approve designating Indian Creek VFD to serve the Lake Kiowa Fire Department District beginning Oct. 1, 2012." It passed 5-0.

Bids on remodeling of the Annier building were opened earlier. There were two bids received and a third that came in after the deadline.

Of the two received on time, Commissioner Gary Hollowell noted Integrity Construction, Inc. had all of its supporting documentation. Integrity bid 110 days to renovate at $407,777. The second bid was 170 days at $490,000 and had no supporting documentation. The Court accepted Integrity's bid. This includes installation of an elevator and a second required stairwell, and reinforcement of the second floor for storage.

The Court approved renewing a contract with North Central Texas College for the educational facility's clinical practice requirement for the NCTC EMT program. This helps with the training of students in the paramedic program.

Start at the tap

In today's environmentally conscious times, it seems we're surrounded by the need to shop, act, and live "green."

According to Kevin McJoynt at Danze, Inc., some of the most important green choices we can make are right within our own home.

"Water shortages, energy demands, and the cost of transporting water continue to rise," he says. "Finding ways to simply reduce our usage without dramatically altering our lifestyle could save billions of gallons of water each year in the U. S."

McJoynt offers up these tips on how to conserve water in your home:

* Replace older toilets (1992 or earlier) with newer, high-efficiency models. They operate at 1.28 gallons per flush and could save 11 gallons of water each per day.

* Be sure to turn off the tap when brushing your teeth - it could save nearly 3,000 gallons of water per year.

* According to the Environmental Protection Agency WaterSense program, if every household in the United States installed WaterSense-labeled bathroom sink faucets, we could save more than $350 million in water utility bills and more than 60 billion gallons of water annually, plus $600 million in energy costs for heating the water.

us making a decision about something we really don't know about. So between the four medical staff, we hope you can arrive at an amicable solution to exactly what you want here."

It was approved to accept the bid up to $12,000.

Administrator Michael Kent reported that Meditech was at MMH the previous week and would be returning. Meditech is the company from which MMH is purchasing its electronic health records (EHR). Home Health has started training. Human Resources and payroll will start training next.

A new pole and transformers were installed by Oncor in preparation for the installation of a new generator. Austin Generator was slated to do installation work on Sept. 18 and 19. This involved shutting off electricity at about 5 p.m. on those days for about an hour while the services were redirected. The facility would run off a portable generator on those two days.

Kent announced that the Health Fair is Oct. 19 and 20 in the front lobby of the Hospital.

MMH will participate with a booth in the 2nd Annual Cooke County Health Expo on Thursday, Oct. 4 at the Gainesville Civic Center from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

According to the recommendations of the medical staff, the Board approved courtesy medical staff privileges for dentists Elaine Schilling, R., DDS, Gerald Graham DDS, and radiologists James Norconk, Jr., M.D., Stephen Muehlenbein, M.D., Anthony Minotti, M.D., Tony Yeung, M.D. Benoit Luyckx, M.D., Eric Lizerbram, M.D., Jonathan Jaksha, M.D., James TienTu Hsu, M.D., Wendall Hach, M.D., Mary Grebenc, M.D., Lillian Whitley Cavin, M.D., Mark Brodie, M.D., Patricia Aukes Barnes, M.D., Troy Belle, M.D., and Lorraine Ash, D.O. The large number of radiologists listed is because MMH is changing to another company for the service of reading x-rays. As of Oct. 1, Airs Radiology will be reading all studies 24/7 with final reads, noted Administrator Kent. He added that several companies were evaluated and Aris provided better service and faster reporting times than the other companies. They have a 20 minute turnaround time.

Chief Nursing Officer Diane Neu updated the Board on patient census which was 12. Also, at one point during the month, they were full and had to turn a patient away to keep one patient bed available as required. She hopes to hire more nurses and was in the process of interviews.

Cardiac Rehab graduated all of its patients the week of Sept. 2. A new class began on Sept. 7. The Wound Clinic is doing well. Linda Biddens-tadt was hired to work in both of those areas. She will fill the role left by Kim Monday.

Nursing students from NCTC began training at MMH beginning Sept. 17. First semester RN students will learn in the Hospital on Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays until Thanksgiving.

In other business, the Board approved Bad Debt Write Offs totaling $20,596.44.

• As requested by Muenster State Bank's legal counsel, the Board made another (unanimous) motion for the Electronic Health Record (EHR) loan approving financing not to exceed $2,000,000 with Muenster State Bank to finance an EHR system, two generators, and related electrical or other equipment.

She had tremendous faith and lived her life as an example for others. She fought her illness with a silent bravery, facing more challenges than anyone should have to endure. Through it all, she maintained a grace to be admired. She was always thoughtful, loving, and giving of her time and talents.

In recent years, she spent many days with her mother and mother-in-law, being devoted to their well-being and providing companionship. Kitty was outspoken and spunky, and you could hear her voice and laughter over a crowd despite her small stature. She could often be found baking and spent numerous hours teaching her grandchildren her secrets. She was known as "Kitty" to all, but her favorite name was "Nana." Being a grandma was her most treasured role. Making holidays extra special down to every detail was her forte.

Kitty is survived by her husband Dennis John Hess of Lindsay; daughter and son-in-law Holly and Matt Veech of Houston; daughter Lara Hess Gordon of Fort Worth; four grandchildren; mother Elvira Flusche of Lindsay; mother-in-law Leona "Bonnie" Hess of Muenster; sister and brother-in-law Imogene and Albert Zimmerer of Gainesville; brother and sister-in-law William "Bill" and Vivian Flusche of Granbury; brother Jim Flusche of Lindsay; and numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

She was preceded in death by her father.

Memorial contributions may be made to ABBA (All Babies Born Alive), P.O. Box 256, Gainesville, TX 76240.

Woman suffers years of emotional pain

Years of pain from sexual abuse as a child, feelings of inadequacy, loss of a baby daughter, a series of men, and drug abuse, no longer dictate the everyday life of Alisha (not her real name). At 33 years old, she is determined to live a life she can be proud of with hard work and help from Texoma Community Center (formerly Mental Health Mental Retardation Services of Texoma). She is on a path to recovery, and she will not allow anything to get in the way. She states, "Today I live every day like it was my last."

At age eight, she alleges her older brother began to rape her. The sexual abuse continued for two years. By age 15 she had her first date and began to do everything her parents had taught her not to do. This included smoking, drinking, and illegal drugs. At age 16, she became pregnant and left home to move in with her boyfriend. In a short time, her boyfriend began to stay out all night and left her alone not knowing where he was. It did not take long for her to go back home to her parents. They welcomed her with open arms. She stayed off drugs and alcohol during her pregnancy and delivered a healthy daughter.

The next man came along shortly after her daughter was born. She became pregnant, they married, and she delivered a baby boy. She became pregnant for the third time and soon had another baby girl. At two months old, the baby died of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS). After the death of Alisha's infant daughter, her world ended: she began to spiral into the world of drugs again. Her husband kicked her and her daughter out but insisted on keeping their son. She and her daughter had to live in their car for several days, but then she broke down and called her parents and returned back to their home.

The next several years included relationships with three more men. One of those men she married and divorced within a short amount of time. All three were like the other men in her life. They used drugs, encouraged her to use drugs, manufactured and sold drugs, and physically and emotionally abused her. One even threatened to kill her and her daughter. During four of these years, she landed a good paying job and was doing well. But the drugs were always in the picture and finally got her fired. One of the men introduced her to methamphetamines. "Meth became my life. I lived to do meth. I felt like I could conquer the world when I took it. The emptiness from the loss of my baby did not seem so bad when I used. Then I was busted by the police and went to jail for a short period of time," states Alisha.

Due to her charge, she found herself in drug court and was introduced to Texoma Community Center for help with her mental illnesses of major depression and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. The Court required that she go to a drug rehabilitation center for 60 days, but she elected to stay for 90. While she was in rehab she states she had a spiritual awakening that got her clean and keeps her clean. Today she has been clean and sober for 18 months. Her Texoma Community Center case manager has been a great help. She also goes to Narcotics Anonymous several times a week and even teaches classes. Mental health court has required her to take classes in anger management, parenting, and several other subjects.

Today Alisha has a job, lives independently with her 16 year old daughter, and is proud of her accomplishments. She has a close relationship with her daughter and her parents who have always been supportive, even in her worst times. "I have become a responsible and productive member of society. My daughter has forgiven me and attends Narcotics Anonymous meetings with me. We are at peace with each other. I have found out that I do not need an abusive drug-addicted man in my life. My parents are so proud of me now. The Drug Court Judge is proud of me, too. Even though my life has been tough, I would not be the person I am today without what has been. I am not bitter, and I want to help others," ends Alisha.

Mental health centers are located in Sherman, Bonham, and Gainesville. Services offered are: 24-Hour Emergency Services, Assertive Community Treatment (ACT) Team, Case Management, Cognitive Behavior Therapy, Community-based Assessments, Crisis Intervention, Medicaid Eligibility, Medication-Related Services, Respite Services, Skills Training, Small Groups, Supported Employment, Supported Housing, and Transportation.

NCTC enrollment surpasses 10,000

North Central Texas College has hit a major milestone. System-wide enrollment at NCTC rose to a record high this fall. School officials announced recently that enrollment on the College's five campuses has hit an all-time high with 10,175 students enrolled in credit courses. Enrollment at NCTC was at 9,919 on the official census date of Fall 2011, so this year's total of 10,175 marks a 2.6% increase system-wide. NCTC has campuses in Gainesville, Corinth, Flower Mound, Bowie, and Graham. All five campuses showed increases in enrollment from last year, with four of the five setting enrollment records. Corinth saw enrollment swell to 5,870 students, a high mark for the Denton County campus. At the Flower Mound campus, enrollment rose 28.1% to 1,624. Another big increase occurred in Bowie where enrollment went up 23% to 588 students. The Graham campus also set a new record with enrollment of 301 students. The Gainesville campus, while not setting a record, did see an increase of 5% with

2,343 students enrolled. NCTC Vice-President of Student Services Dr. Billy Roessler said there is a simple reason that more and more students are choosing the school. "We're a quality institution with a great price for smaller classes that offer more attention to students in those smaller classes," he said. "We have a lot of students enrolled in dual credit where we reduce tuition rates for those high school students. That's a great way to get started and then once they finish high school, to continue on with us. "Of course, having more students creates challenges for administrators as they try to meet the needs of a growing population. "We saw that classes were filling up so more sections were offered," Roessler said. "I know we tried to add some more sections in August, but finding teachers in August was a challenge, so it's a continuing struggle to keep our student-teacher ratio as low as we can. "We are offering more and more online classes, and these (enrollment) numbers include online students. Also, a hybrid class that meets in person once a week and then meets online the other times is another way to utilize the limited space that we have. Corinth is essentially maxed out and our Flower Mound campus is pretty full already in just its second year. "Last year, we touched the 10,000 mark but we didn't sustain it through the census date, so for us to be able to maintain it this year, this is definitely a milestone for the institution. This will be a mark for the institution as we continue to go forward. This will be the semester and year that we crossed the 10,000-student threshold." Emily Klement, dean of Bowie Campus, "The staff and faculty of the Bowie campus have worked together many years and work tirelessly to make a difference in the lives of the people who attend the campus. It truly is a celebration for all of us. The Bowie community is thrilled; their investment in education through 4B Economic Development fund continues to help many people realize hopes and dreams for a better life." Submitted by Darin Allred NCTC

Three events held over the past 12 months have produced over $1,000 for the Abigail's Arms Shelter Project. Mary Kay Cosmetics Directors Jan Cain and Kimberly Cain devoted themselves for a second year to raising funds for the shelter project by holding a Pajama and Night Time Skin Care Party last October, a Hearts and Happiness Event in February, and a Makeover Marathon during June's Domestic Violence Awareness Month. The two donated all profits from these events and from orders placed with mentioning Abigail's Arms. ## Emily Klement named to UNT Alumni Board

Dr. Emily Klement was recently elected to the Board of Directors of the University of North Texas Alumni Association. She was one of 13 new members added to the Board, which is responsible for the governing of the organization and overseeing all aspects such as raising funds. Klement resides in Muenster and is the dean of Bowie and Graham campuses for North Central Texas College. She is actively involved in developing partnerships with UNT for recruiting NCTC transfer students. She has BS, MEd, and Ed. D. degrees from UNT in Higher Education Administration and Community College Leadership. During her career, Klement has worked with Hispanic students in public school and higher education settings. She noticed that various issues created barriers to degree completion rates and student success. The presence of Hispanic community college faculty is the strongest influence determining whether Hispanic students transfer to four-year universities, according to a recent study by Klement. Texas is second only to California in Hispanic student enrollment, and family culture and locale play key roles in Hispanic students' selection of community colleges, along with the ability to attend classes part-time, according to Klement's research. "A lot of barriers affecting Hispanic students transferring to four-year universities have been identified, but I wanted to identify the factor with the most influence on a student's success," Klement said. Klement analyzed data from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board of 50 Texas community colleges to determine possible barriers. Possible barriers included the Hispanic population of each community college location, Hispanic community college student readiness as indicated by Texas Success Indicator scores, and the percent of Hispanic faculty at each community college. "The greatest factor determining whether Hispanic students will transfer to four-year universities was the presence of Hispanic faculty on community college campuses," Klement said. "The greater number of Hispanic faculty meant more mentorship, guidance, pathway finding and encouragement, and all of these things help student success and completion rates." Several community college campuses in Texas have 25% or more Hispanic enrollment, and that number is growing, according to Klement. "Overall for Hispanic students, and all students, mentorship, encouragement and guidance are huge, and we need to make sure support systems are in place to ensure a strong and qualified future workforce," Klement said. Dr. Klement's husband, Andy, teaches Anatomy & Physiology and Microbiology labs at NCTC's Gainesville campus. Their daughter Kristen Weinzapfel teaches English and is the interim department chair on the Gainesville campus. Their other children include Allison Rix of Fort Worth, Laura Robeson of Kansas, and Adam Klement of Denton. They have four grandchildren, one of whom is currently a freshman at NCTC.

Help your garden survive a drought

For many American gardeners, 2012 has not been a kind year. Whether you're in the middle of a drought-stricken area or are simply looking for ways to upgrade your garden to handle a lack of moisture in coming seasons, now is a great time to embark on some improvements to help your garden use water more efficiently and effectively.

Watering effectively
How you water is just as important as how frequently you water, especially during a drought. Think of it as providing the proper serving size of water for your plants.

dents may attend a dance in the gym.

Immediately following the game, Alumni and friends will gather for a social at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Muenster. In past years, honor grads have attended this social together with their classmates and are encouraged to plan on being a part of this fun evening!

Saturday, Oct. 6 is another big day for the Alumni and friends: the Fourth Annual Sacred Heart Classic Golf Tournament to benefit the athletics building project will begin at 11 a.m. at Turtle Hill Golf Course. Contact John Bartush at (940) 736-3633 for details about the golf tournament.

That evening, Vegas Night takes place in the Community Center providing another entertaining event for week-

Timing's important too. Watering early in the morning is best because water will evaporate faster in the midday heat. If conditions are extremely hot and dry, it can also be beneficial to give your plants a little water in the late afternoon to relieve their stress.

Micro-spray and drip irrigation can help you water more accurately and effectively. The great thing about drip irrigation systems is you don't need to bring them in for the winter, making mid- to late-season installation practical.

Machinators organize for competition

Sacred Heart Machinators started their first full week of Best Robotics. During week one, the Machinators split into teams and started to design a prototype of the robot. The Machinators also talked about the scoring strategies they will use.

The team decided to use the Diversity Plan. With this plan they will be able to score a large variety of points. They also discussed how to design their booth. The Booth Team will simulate a real business situation, where they have to sell the product that they make. The Booth team will also have a total of six weeks to complete the Booth.

The Machinators have a total number of two teams working on projects in their Robotics Program. The two teams that have been organized are the Design & Build Team and the Booth Team.

Lindsay beats Muenster

The Hornets couldn't find the end zone last Friday at Knight Field, with the Muenster offense gaining a total of only 132 yards in their 14-3 loss to Lindsay.

We didn't deserve to win the way we played on offense," noted Coach Brady Carney on the Hornets' dropped balls, penalties, and 2nd and 20s. "Defensively, we had a good game, allowing two runs for the scores. We gave them a short field to play on." Carney added that the Hornets had their chances, and they're not far off. They just have to fix some things. "We didn't play with a lot of effort. That showed on the film, starting early in the game."

The 1st quarter was a whistle blowing, flag throwing affair, with Lindsay penalized four times for 30 yards and Muenster three for 15.

Action began with a 51 yard opening kick by Hunter Klement. Knight Hud Harrison returned the kick 29 yards to the Lindsay 38. The Knights gained only 8. John Haverkamp's punt put the Hornets on their own 19 yard line.

Runs by Clint Sidwell and Muenster Binder moved the ball to the 34. Incomplete passes and penalties forced a 4th and 20 punt.

Two runs by Blake Walker and a Haverkamp to Caleb Anderle pass picked up 19 yards for Lindsay. Harrison gained 8 more, but a holding flag and a sack put the Knights in a 4th and 14 punt play.

The Knights caught Muenster in the backfield for a 13 yard loss and the Hornets soon punted, placing Lindsay 39 yards from paydirt.

Walker ran for 3, a Haverkamp to Anderle pass gained 14, and Harrison got 9 more. Five was lost to a penalty, followed by a Haverkamp to Cody Thurman pass, and runs by Haverkamp and Walker to the 4 yard line and the end of the 1st period.

The Hornet goal line defense held the Knights the next three plays, taking the ball over at the 2. Muenster gained 8 yards and punted. A short kick was returned to the Hornet 20 by Justin Ott.

The next play, Walker PAT by Haverkamp gave Lindsay a 7-0 lead 3 minutes into the 2nd quarter. Muenster fought back, starting on their own 35 after a 17 yard Sidwell kick return. Binder ran for 15, Trevor Hess 7, and another 2 by Binder. An unspportsmanlike conduct flag added 15 yards to the drive to the Knight 26. Binder and Sidwell connected a pass play for 6 yards, with Binder running for 5 more for a 1st down at the Knight 15. Two runs later, Hess got to the 3 yard line, but four unsuccessful plays gave the Knights possession.

A 32 yard run by Walker and a face mask penalty quickly took Lindsay to midfield. Harrison and Walker got another 1st down before Muenster's defense stopped the Knights and the 1st half ended.

The Hornets took the 3rd quarter kick, returned 18 yards by Sidwell to the Muenster 33 yard line. A Binder to Hess pass picked up 11 yards, followed by another 11 on a Hess run. A fumble at midfield was recovered by Lindsay. Three plays later, Harrison scored on a 41 yard run. Haverkamp added the extra point to give Lindsay a 14-0 lead with 8:22 remaining in the 3rd period.

Muenster lost 6 yards and punted, Lindsay got in seven plays then punted, then the Hornets got a drive going. Starting on their own 28, two runs by Binder gained 10. A Binder pass to Sidwell picked up 23 yards followed by a pass to Hess for another 8.

Starting the final quarter on the Knight 30, Binder gained 6, a flag lost 10, another flag got the 10 back for a 1st down on the Knight 11 yard line. Binder got the ball to the 4, but two unsuccessful runs left Muenster with a 4th and 4 on the 5. Klement kicked a 21 yard field goal to get Muenster on the scoreboard 14-3 with 8:30 remaining in the game.

It was three plays and punt for both teams before Austin Hennigan covered a Lindsay fumble. Muenster couldn't get a 1st down, the Knights punted on 4th and 13, and the Hornets' last drive ended the game with an interception.

 The Hornets will host the Whitewright Tigers this Friday night in non-district play.

Whitewright's power is behind quarterback Tyrone Swoopes, who is committed to play for the University of Texas.

Whitewright hasn't had a winning season, but Swoopes hasn't played due to injury," Carney said. "I hope he plays this Friday. That's why we scheduled them.

"We've been beaten by two good football teams," the coach added. "There's not any shame in losing. Good teams prepare you for district."

Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m.

Tigers to take on Hornets

The Sacred Heart Tigers travel to Era this Friday night after an open week to take on the Gold and Black Hornets.

"It's always a tough play to stop," commented Tiger Coach Dale Schilling. "We have to stop their running game. Era likes to line up and run the ball. They are strong in running with a big physical offensive line."

The Hornets put up 52 points against Bells last week with a total of 530 offensive yards.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

She was followed by Samantha Koesler with 9 points off serve and 1 assist. Successful kills were also awarded to both Rylee Reiter and Avery Truebenbach.

Sacred Heart's record improved to 2 wins and 3 losses in the regular season.

"We need to continue improving on our serves, but that's expected with most of the girls having never played before," commented Coach Gregg Hess. "Overall, we are seeing big improvements each week and have a good shot at making it into the NTIL tournament Nov. 3."

GAME WARDEN FIELD NOTES

Not everyone's out deer hunting

Zapata County Game Wardens set out to check for illegal commercial fishing on Falcon Lake. After several hours on the patrol boat, wardens observed two Mexican commercial fishing vessels enter Texas waters just north of their location. As the wardens made their move to make contact, the subjects bailed out into the brush. Border Patrol marine units came in to assist, and while enroute to the wardens' location, they observed another vessel just south of the wardens' location. A total of three boats, a motor, and 1,980 feet of gill net were seized.

Wild hog leads hunters astray

Game Wardens responded to a 911 call regarding two lost hunters on a 20,000-acre property in San Saba County. The two wardens, with help from the rancher, were successful in locating the two hunters and returning them to their deer camp. The hunters had wounded a feral hog that morning and started tracking it when they became lost. The hunters were several miles from their camp when the wardens and the rancher located them.

Bragging can get you in trouble

On deer season opening day, Williamson County Game Wardens were patrolling a subdivision in Liberty Hill off U.S. 183 when Campos spotted a man in camo holding a rifle in his front yard. The wardens made contact, and the first thing the hunter said was, "Look at what I shot during archery season." The hunter then displayed antlers from an 8-pointer. Warden Campos inspected the man's license and found he had an antlerless tag missing. Warden Campos brought this to the man's attention, and he said, "Well, you got me; let's change the story and say my cousin shot that one." Warden Campos told him he couldn't do that, and the hunter finally admitted he'd been bragging to people that he shot it. But as a further investigation revealed, in reality he cut the antlers off a road kill he found. Antlers were confiscated and citations were issued.

Falling beer can leads to arrest

Two Comal County game wardens were working water safety enforcement on Canyon Lake when they saw a man who was not wearing a life jacket while he was operating his personal watercraft inside the no wake area near a boat ramp. As the wardens approached, they observed a can of beer fall from the PWC into the water. During a water safety inspection, the game wardens located two more empty beer cans. Due to the man's confused demeanor, slurred speech, and the strong odor of alcohol on his breath, the game wardens decided to conduct sobriety tests on him. The operator was arrested for boating while intoxicated and was booked in the Comal County Jail.

Better safe than sorry

The Val Verde County Game Warden responded to a call from an elderly lady worried about a turtle that had taken up residence in her rural backyard. Acknowledging that the turtle was not doing anything destructive, she said she feared it was creating a tripping hazard for her. He located a Texas tortoise behind the woman's house, safely relocating it to another area.

FARM & RANCH

With dozers in place, what should have taken 30 seconds turned into hours to bring down a large tank at Muenster Milling. Above, workers replace busted cable with chain, only to have it tear through the structure. After all the professional suggestions to bring down the tank failed, good old fashion Muenster engineering successfully got the job done.

'Beef. It's What's For Dinner.' Facebook fans surpass 500,000

The Beef Checkoff's "Beef. It's What's For Dinner." Facebook page recently surpassed the "halfway to a million" mark when it comes to fans of the page. And the effort to engage consumers in conversations about beef is paying off.

Fans aren't just reading a post, but giving it a thumbs up, leaving comments and forwarding to their Facebook networks. What's more, they are having conversations about beef on the page, what to have for dinner, and upcoming celebrations.

During key grilling season holidays, including Memorial Day, Fourth of July, and Labor Day, the Beef Checkoff promoted the "Beef. It's What's For Dinner." Facebook page through advertising targeting consumers who enjoy beef. The beef story is told through beautiful beef imagery and key messaging to engage fans in conversations to keep beef top-of-mind.

"We continue to ask for feedback from consumers such as 'what are some of their favorite memories where beef was served' and 'what is their favorite grilling moment from the past couple of months,'" says Joyce Bupp, chair of the Beef Checkoff's public relations subcommittee and dairy producer from Seven Valleys, Pennsylvania. "By keeping them engaged with other beef lovers on Facebook, we hope to encourage more people to become fans of the page to find great tips on cooking, recipes, and promotions. It really is a community of like-minded consumers, talking about great moments that feature beef."

TDA Market Recap

For the week ending Sept. 22, feeder cattle prices reported by Texas auctions were mostly steady to $5 higher per hundredweight (cwt) compared to a week earlier, with a few as much as $6 lower and some to $10 higher. Texas direct feeder cattle sales were steady to $2 higher. The Oklahoma City National Stockyards were $2 to $3 higher. The feeder cattle situation remains unchanged with tight supplies offset by high grain prices and poor cattle feeding margins. Fed cattle cash prices were 60 cents lower per cwt. Cotton and grain prices were lower for the week.

USDA NASS crop progress report - the condition indexes for all crops remain well above where they were at this time last year. Corn was 69% harvested, equal to the average, while grain sorghum harvest was 61% complete compared to the normal 69%. Winter wheat planting advanced to 30% complete compared to the normal 25%. Pastures in most areas need additional rainfall, with 18% of the acreage rated in good to excellent condition compared to 17% last week. The area rated poor to very poor increased from 52 to 53%. Twenty-nine percent was rated in fair condition compared to 31% a week ago.

County Agent's Report

Preparing for the unexpected disaster: a wise choice.

September is disaster awareness month. With that in mind, disasters of many different kinds can occur here in Cooke County. Some obvious possibilities include floods, tornados, and wildfire. There is also the possibility of disease outbreaks in the human population or in our animal population. Disasters can be natural or man made; accidental or intentional. If a disaster occurs in your community, local government and disaster relief organizations will try to help. But you need to be ready as well. Being prepared and informed can reduce the risk of injury and even death during the event of a disaster.

A first step for disaster preparedness is to learn about what could happen and how to respond. Listening to the emergency alert system and local health officials is a good place to start. You should make yourself aware of sources of help that are available when a disaster happens. This will vary depending on your place of residence.

You can help protect your family during and immediately after a disaster by making a family disaster plan and by creating a family disaster kit for your household. A disaster supplies kit is a collection of basic necessities that members of a household will need during and immediately after a disaster. Every family should assemble a disaster supplies kit and keep it up to date. Individual disaster kits can be packaged in backpacks. A family-size disaster supply kit can be stored in a portable trunk or sealable plastic trash can. It is recommended that you and your family be able to take care of yourselves without outside help for at least three days.

Becoming involved with your community's disaster response efforts can help make your home, community, and state a safer place to live. You can become involved by being aware of your surroundings, reporting suspicious activity, and volunteering your time.

All of these issues and many more, including: Discussing a disaster with children; Food safety; On-site wastewater treatment systems; Farmstead preparedness; and much more relevant information can be found at the local Extension Office or the Extension Disaster Education Network (EDEN) at: <http://texashelp.tamu.edu/> and selecting the publication, "Preparing for the Unexpected".

BPI sues ABC News for 'pink slime' coverage

Beef Products, Inc. (BPI) filed a lawsuit recently against ABC News, claiming the television network defamed the company in its coverage of lean finely textured beef, dubbed "pink slime." BPI is seeking to recover $1.2 billion in damages for 200 defamatory statements made about the product during news broadcasts.

ABC News' reporting "caused consumers to believe that our lean beef is not beef at all—that it's an unhealthy pink slime, unsafe for public consumption, and that somehow it got hidden in the meat," said BPI attorney Dan Webb, according to a report by The Washington Post.

The lawsuit names several defendants, including ABC News anchor Diane Sawyer and Gerald Zirnstein, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) microbiologist who coined the term "pink slime."

Following the negative news coverage of lean finely textured beef last spring, BPI lost 80% of its business. BPI also was forced to close three of its four American plants, including one in Amarillo, Texas, and lay off 700 workers.

Increase in food prices

Food inflation, including the impact of the severe drought in the Midwest this year, will cost a family of four $351.12 more in food spending in 2013 than in 2012.

Food-at-home spending will increase about $4 a week, and away-from-home spending by about $2.50.
