

Sebade named KCs 2012 Good Neighbor

By Janet Felderhoff
On Sunday, Oct. 7 during the 8 a.m. Mass at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, John D. Bartush announced that the Muenster KCs had selected Kevin Sebade as the recipient of the 2012 Good Neighbor Award. Sebade and his wife Marilyn and sons Matthew and Lucas were guests at Mass and at the Awards Breakfast that followed in the KC Hall.

In recognizing Sebade, Bartush told that he was born and raised in the community of Oakland, Nebraska. His parents Tom and Marlice Sebade instilled in Kevin a strong sense of community from an early age. Bartush said, "He participated in many community service activities from installing fire extinguishers at a nursing home 40 years ago to volunteering to build park benches as a service project on his way to becoming an Eagle Scout."

When he finished college, Kevin moved to Texas to work for Congressman Jim Collins in Dallas. After several years, he went to work for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) in Dallas and Omaha, Nebraska for 12 years. After his marriage to Marilyn, Kevin sought employment at a bank where he could be involved in a community and raise a family in the type of environment that he grew up in as a child. Kevin went to work at Muenster State Bank in 2000 and began his community service by joining the Muenster Kiwanis Club.

Bartush continued, "He has been involved in the club ever since then. Even though Kevin and Marilyn moved to Lindsay in 2003, he has continued his community service here in Muenster as well as in Lindsay. He served as Muenster Kiwanis Club treasurer for eight years

Where there's smoke, there's not always fire

Muenster firefighters rush into Sacred Heart Elementary School Monday morning after receiving a call for smoke investigation. When they arrived at the scene, students and faculty were all out of the building. The smoke was caused when the furnace was turned on for the first time this school year, heating up the classroom radiators, some of which were painted by volunteers in last summer's clean-up. ## County lifts burn ban

By Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County Commissioners Court joined other area counties in lifting the ban on outdoor burning in unincorporated areas. The decision was made unanimously at the Monday, Oct. 8 meeting on the recommendation of County Fire Marshal Ray Fletcher.

Fletcher stated, "The KBDI is slowly creeping higher. The cooler temperatures have slowed it down quite a bit. The fields are still pretty green. We have not had a lot of burning ban violations. People are pretty cooperative with it. When we put it on, it was still pretty dry and we had some cause for concern. Since then, we've had a little bit of rain which greened up most of the vegetation. The forecast for the next few months has changed over the last few weeks. They've actually put us in a more active period and hopefully some more rainfall. He recommended lifting the ban since the fire conditions seemed to be okay for that.

The Court declared Oct. 8.

Driver runs into local Post Office

Late Tuesday afternoon, a gray 2007 Lincoln Town Car driven by Leonard Mize of Muenster crashed into the east side of the Muenster Post Office building. A report by Muenster Police Officer Tom Barr noted that the vehicle ran through the exterior wall and continued through an interior wall, coming to rest in the work room area inside. Mize continued to press the accelerator, causing the rear tires to spin until Leann Hacker, OIC of the Muenster Post Office, drew his attention and had him stop. The crash broke an overhead water line, flooding the area. There was extensive damage to the building and some mail boxes were damaged. See picture on page 2. Janie Hartman photo

Weekend cold front chills area with frosty conditions

Mother Nature blew her icy kiss on the local landscape this past weekend, initiating the lullaby that coaxes most vegetation into its winter rest. Friday's pleasant fall day passed into a cold evening and even colder Saturday and Sunday. Monday dawned cold with temperatures hovering near the freezing mark with a very early-season frost icing the ground in places. Muenster Lake is shown shivering as its warm water met cold air, causing rising steam to swirl about its surface like sheets of fog in Monday's early morning sunlight. Janet Felderhoff photo

Muenster ISD gives construction update

By Clay Richerson
Superintendent
Muenster ISD

The new practice gym and field house are 99.9% complete. The buildings should be turned over to the District this week.

You may have noticed that dirt work has been started on the new elementary and tag classrooms. The elementary front doors will be facing west on Walnut Street, with parent pickup on the north side on Ninth Street. The tag classrooms/shop should be completed sometime this spring. The elementary is scheduled to be completed in August 2013. If you wish to tour the facilities, call 759-2282.

Muenster ISD has received its Financial Integrity Rating of Texas (FIRST) from TEA, and the District has presented the rating to the community at this month's scheduled Board meeting.

The rating the District received from TEA is "Above Standard Achievement." The FIRST rating rates school districts on financial management performance.

The Texas State Comptroller has also released its financial report for the District. Financial Allocation Study for Texas (FAST) compares districts of similar student makeup and similar finances. Muenster ISD was rated three stars out of five stars. Star rating combines academic progress and relative spending. The Comptroller rated Muenster ISD in reading "progress" percentile at 30%. This rating is misrepresented as Muenster ISD's reading scores are at 97% on TAKS scores. It is very difficult to have "progress" on 97%.

When it comes to decorating your vehicle, there are the obvious choices, like decorating for Halloween, using pumpkins, spider webbing, spiders, brooms, bats, cauldrons, etc., but they ask that participants not use scary items, like blood, bats, witches, spiders, monsters, or gore because so many of your trick or treaters will be preschoolers and toddlers and they want to keep it Holy - i.e. HOLY + Saintly.

Pick a theme to decorate your trunk and then dress your trunk and yourself up to carry out that theme.

Alfred Bayer 1924 - 2012

Mass of Christian Burial for Alfred John Bayer of Muenster was held at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Muenster at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 3 with Fr. Ken Robinson, celebrant, and Fr. Kyle Walterscheid, con-celebrant. A Rosary/vigil was held Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 6:30 p.m. Mary Jean Bayer led the Rosary, and Fr. Ken led the vigil. Services were directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Mr. Bayer died at the age of 87 at 1:34 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 30, 2012 at Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Alfred was born in Muenster, Dec. 25, 1924, the first of the four children of Joseph and Gertrude Walterscheid Bayer. He attended Sacred Heart School, graduating in 1942. He then began working at the cheese plant as a truck driver, hauling cheese to several different Texas cities. He later worked on the farm for his grandfather.

Alfred was called to serve his country in March of 1945. His basic training was completed in Fort Hood and then he was sent to the Philippines and also Okinawa. He was discharged in October 1947.

Alfred and Anna Marie Klement started dating in 1942 and continually corresponded while he was in the service. They were married May 11, 1948 in Sacred Heart Church. They made their home on his Grandpa John's farm where they farmed and milked cows by hand. A few years later, they went into the chicken business, amassing some 1,300 laying hens. Gathering eggs from that number of hens became quite a chore!

As their family started and grew, most of the hens were sold and they started a Grade A dairy and sold the milk to AMPI. Alfred and Anna Marie were the parents of seven children (one daughter and six sons). Alfred was a great family man. He really enjoyed his wife, children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. He was a life member of Sacred Heart Parish and was a member of the VFW.

Survivors include his wife Anna Marie of Muenster; daughter and spouse Mary and Ed Roberts of Benbrook; sons and their spouses Joe David and Cecelia Bayer of Sherman, Melvin and Mary Jean Bayer of Lindsay, Paul and Donna Bayer of Muenster, Larry and Denise Bayer of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Leon and Lea Ann Bayer of Muenster, and Michael and Robin Bayer of Krum; sister Ethel Mae Hesse of Muenster; brother Art Bayer of Muenster; 26 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Alfred was preceded in death by grandson Arlie Bayer; brother Robert Bayer; and his parents.

Assisting during the funeral Mass were altar servers John Paul Hesse, Daniel Hesse, and Sylvan Walterscheid. The First Reading was given by Hallie Bayer. Sunni Bayer gave the Second Reading. Prayers of the Faithful were read by Nicholas Bayer. Carrying the Offertory Gifts to the altar along with mementos of Alfred's life were Tawie Bayer, Courtney Bayer, Mary Kate Bayer, Jordan Bayer, Micah Bayer, Kelsey Bayer, John Bayer, and Christopher Bayer. Eucharistic ministers were Mary Bayer, Anna Bayer, Joyce Bayer, Carolyn Bayer, Viola Rohmer, John Paul Hesse, and Fr. Ken.

Music ministers were Doug Yosten, Linda Flusche, Diane Grewing, and Mary Del Olmo. Songs included "Pilgrim Song," "Amazing Grace," "How Great Thou Art," "Only In God," "The Spirit of the Lord," and "Holy God We Praise Thy Name."

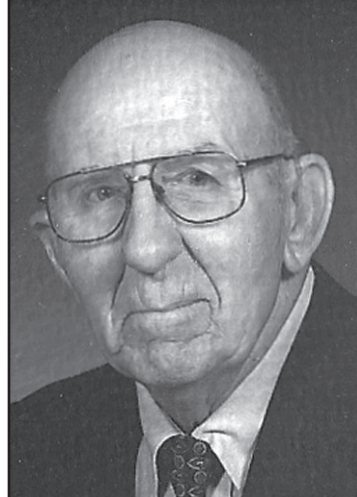

The eulogy was given by Aaron Bayer. He remembered "...all the good times I have had with my Grandpa... Grandpa always had a way of making the hardest chores fun... He always seemed to find a way of being on a motorized vehicle. He was born to be a dairy farmer. From early childhood, I could see his sense of humor..."

"When he retired from milking cows and plowing the fields, he managed to acquire an electric golf cart where he and his soul mate Grandma could ride together and do various other chores around the house..."

"He would always relate stories to his time spent in the Army Air Corps during WWII... On ending every conversation with me, he would always shout out 'Keep Em Flying,' the Army Air Corps motto."

"Grandpa's life could be summed up with this: Work hard for your country. Work hard for your family. Love them both, and teach your family to do the same..."

Pallbearers were Jeremy Bayer, Steven Roberts, Kar-

Alfred Bayer

ley Bayer, Sam Bayer, Eric Bayer, Pat Bayer, and Andrew Bayer.

The family requests memorials be made to the Sacred Heart Trust Fund.

Elizabeth Saucedo

A loving wife, mother, and friend, Elizabeth will be missed by many.

Survivors are her husband Daniel Saucedo, Sr.; children Shane Saucedo, Heather Burton, Daniel Saucedo, Jr., and Gloria Saucedo; and 10 grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her mother Annella Evans.

For donations, call 940-736-2252.

Moisture count still less than average

Despite six plus inches of rain in August, the area was deemed to be in drought condition and a Countywide burn ban imposed. That ban was lifted and then reinstated a couple of weeks later as the area faced dry conditions and predicted high winds heralding the season of high fire danger. The last weekend of September brought cooler temperatures and some rainfall. Muenster's official record keeper of falling moisture is Carol Vogel.

Letter calls on President to refrain from raiding SPR

Recently, U.S. Senator John Cornyn (R-TX), along with Senators John Barasso (R-WY), Mitch McConnell (R-KY), Jon Kyl (R-AZ), John Thune (R-SD), Roy Blunt (R-MO), and James Inhofe (R-OK), sent a letter to President Obama regarding potential use of the Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR).

In their letter, the Senators outline that the SPR was created for use only in emergencies to safeguard our economy and national security against severe oil supply disruptions - not as a political mechanism to control the price at the pump.

They also detail how a political raid of the SPR would increase the amount of taxpayer money needed to refill the SPR to pre-2011 levels. After last year's drawdown by the Obama Administration, refilling the SPR would cost around $1 billion.

"The SPR is America's rainy-day fund. We ask you to preserve it for a truly rainy day when an unanticipated emergency or severe supply disruption occurs. We also request that your administration provide to each of us no later than 30 days from the date of this letter a detailed plan explaining how you intend to fully refill the SPR to pre-2011 levels. There are plenty of storm clouds on the horizon. The government must adequately shelter the American people and vigorously protect their rainy-day fund," the Senators wrote.

Nuns celebrate 60th jubilee

Muenster native Sr. Roberta Hesse, SSMN and Sr. Camella Menotti, SSMN, celebrated their 60th jubilee as sisters of St. Mary Namur on Sept. 15 during the 5 p.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Muenster. The sisters renewed their vows in the presence of their superior from Belgium. Pastor Fr. Ken Robinson officiated for the Mass.

After Mass, Sr. Roberta shared the story of how she came to enter the Sisters of St. Mary Namur at Our Lady of Victory Convent in Fort Worth.

Christy Hesse and the Sacred Heart mixed choir provided music for the Mass. Sr. Roberta's great-niece Katie Cox Steinert sang "Ave Maria" as a solo after Communion.

Janet Vogel and Chris Sanders gave the Scripture readings.

Offertory gifts were presented by Bernard and Agnes Hesse and Ethel Hesse. Rebekah Hesse and Kim Streiff carried up items that they received in Africa when they spent time there with Sr. Roberta while she was working as a missionary.

Sam Hesse, Daniel Hesse, and Julian Hesse assisted as altar servers. Eucharistic ministers were Caroline Neu, Neil Hesse, Anne Hesse, Sr. Mary Helen Fuhrmann, Sr. Romana Rohmer, Kathy Berres, Amy Myrick, and Jane Myrick.

A reception for the two honorees followed in the Community Center. Guests were treated to a slide show of photos from Sr. Roberta's life, especially her times as a missionary.

A beautifully decorated cake made by Betty Rose Walterscheid and punch and cookies provided by the Catholic Daughters of America were served.

A special guest was Sr. Rejeanne Roussel, SSMN, General Superior, who was making her visit to Texas.

Sr. Camella entered the convent on Aug. 3, 1952. She taught in various elementary schools in Fort Worth, taught five years in Hollister, California, Beaumont, Houston, Sherman, Wichita Falls, and was principal in Fort Worth and Dickinson. "Now I am director of lawn maintenance and all the computers at our Provincial house in Fort Worth. Retirement isn't in my vocabulary."

Since Sr. Roberta wished to celebrate her anniversary as a way to promote vocations, she spoke to the Religious Ed families after Mass on Sept. 12 and to students the following day after the school Mass. She also visited classes at Sacred Heart Catholic School later that day.

Earth, Wind and Fire trumpet player to perform at NCTC band concert

When the North Central Texas College Jazz Band hosts their annual fall concert on Nov. 8, a special guest will make the evening even more special.

Legendary trumpet player Bobby Burns, Jr. will be a guest artist at the concert, which is planned for 7:30 p.m. at the First State Bank Center for the Performing Arts in Gainesville.

Burns, who is a member of Earth, Wind and Fire, has also recorded and performed with headliners and artists including The Temptations, The Four Tops, Boyz II Men, Tony Bennett, Dr. Dre, Snoop Dogg, and Ice T.

He joined Earth, Wind and Fire in 2004. His performance credits with the band include American Idol, Dancing with the Stars, a performance for President Barack Obama at the White House, two Super Bowl shows, the Grammy Awards show, and countless others.

"We're very excited to have Bobby coming in," NCTC Jazz Band Director Marty Kobuck said. "He is currently the trumpet player for Earth, Wind and Fire, but he has been a freelance musician in Los Angeles for years. He is on the road most of the year touring with Earth, Wind and Fire, but his home base is now in Fort Worth. Through a friend of mine, we were able to put this together and get him to come to Gainesville and share the stage with us."

The NCTC Jazz Band will perform some old jazz standards as well as some more contemporary pieces in addition to playing special arrangements of some classic Earth, Wind and Fire songs with Burns.

The NCTC Jazz Band will share the concert with the Gainesville High School Jazz Band. Burns will play with both bands at the concert and will also provide a lecture for both the high school and college musicians the week of the performance.

"(Burns) will be talking with the students about the music business and what it takes to make it in the industry because he has had a long career," Kobuck said.

Tickets for the concert are $10 for adults, $5 for youth, and free for NCTC students. For more information about the concert, contact Kobuck at 940-668-3385 or by email at mkobuck@nctc.edu.

Use proper eye protection

More than half of the 2.5 million eye injuries that occur every year happen within or around the home. According to the American Academy of Ophthalmology, accidental eye injury is one of the leading causes of visual impairment in the United States, yet only 35% of Americans wear protective eyewear when doing projects that could threaten their vision.

Injuries can occur from a variety of sources including power tools, yard debris, cleaning fluids, and chemicals. Prevent Blindness America has declared October as Home Eye Safety Awareness Month to help educate the public on steps that can be taken to avoid painful eye injuries that, in some cases, may cause permanent vision loss. A web page dedicated to home eye safety education can be found at PreventBlindness.org/eye-safety-home.

"It is so vitally important to think about our eyes and the best ways to protect them, even when we're doing work around the yard, house, or in the garage," said Hugh R. Parry, president and CEO of Prevent Blindness America. "Eye injuries can happen in a split second but can have an impact on vision for the rest of our lives."

When performing household chores, Prevent Blindness America urges everyone to wear eyewear approved by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI). The eyewear should have the "Z-87" logo stamped on the frames.

Prevent Blindness America recommends the following to help prevent eye injuries at home:

- Wear eye protection when doing automotive work, including changing the oil, jump-starting a dead battery, or even when using bungee cords to secure items to the roof.

- Secure rugs, remove tripping hazards, and provide effective lighting and handrails to improve safety on stairs and walkways to reduce the risk of falls, especially in homes where seniors live.

- Never mix cleaning agents. Read and follow all manufacturer instructions and warning labels and always use these products in well ventilated areas.

- Wear safety glasses with side protection or dust goggles to protect against flying particles, and chemical goggles to guard against exposure to fertilizers and pesticides.

- If you wear prescription glasses, many safety glasses or goggles will fit over your regular glasses. Regular eyeglasses do not always provide enough protection, and may even cause further injury upon impact.

- Inspect and remove debris from lawns before mowing. Make sure others in the yard are wearing eye protection, as bystanders can be hit by flying debris.

- Welding or brazing requires special safety goggles or helmets. Consult your equipment instruction or supplier for the proper protection.

- After any project, make sure hands are washed thoroughly before touching the eyes or face.

A Texas Town By Any Other Name

What's in a name? For some off-the-beaten-path communities in Texas, not a lot. For others, it is their primary marketing tool. For some, it pays homage to their earliest inhabitants. When San Antonio Express-News writer Roy Bragg recently took a look at some of the strangest names on the Texas map, he decided to Jot 'Em Down. And that list included Jot 'Em Down, Texas - roughly 75 miles northeast of Dallas.

Bragg found Texas town names to satisfy every appetite, like Oatmeal, Okra, Muenster, and Lollipop. He also assembled what could be a comprehensive list of baby names for expectant parents: Celina, Anna, Maud, Louise, Edna, Sarita, Alice, Donna, Mercedes, and Maybelle, or Melvin, Nolan, Seymour, and Chester.

For many of these towns, the founders put a lot of thought into their municipality's name. While its name would suggest otherwise, the early inhabitants of Nameless, Texas were thoroughly invested in the naming process. Located in northwest Travis County, just five miles northeast of Lago Vista, Nameless was settled in 1869. Residents grew cotton or produced cedar posts and rails to make a living. By 1880, these residents were ready to make their town official and applied for a U.S. post office. The postal department rejected the names they suggested not once, but six times. Finally, in an act of frustration, the residents replied in writing, "Let the post office be nameless and be damned!" Much to their surprise, the postal department called their bluff. The post office called Nameless was established in 1880. The joke was relatively short-lived. Ten years later, the post office was discontinued and mail was rerouted through Leander. Despite this setback, however, residents kept Nameless alive well into the 20th century. Though today all that remains in Nameless is a historical marker, the cemetery, and an abandoned schoolhouse, this community without a name remains on state maps.

Unlike Nameless, another town profiled by Bragg was successful in securing the postmark they requested, but perhaps not the results they hoped the name would yield. In Bailey County, at the junction of State Highway 214 and Farm Road 298, sits the community of Needmore, Texas. The goal behind the naming process was simple: Promoters of the townsites wanted to attract more settlers. But by 1940, 20 years after its founding, Needmore found itself still wanting more. With only 20 residents and two stores, the future looked bleak. Needmore peaked in 1980 with a population of 98, but by 2000 it had dropped again to 45. While Needmore remains on the map, only time will tell if the original residents' marketing ploy will ever succeed.

Looking across the state,

Bragg found communities that give orders, like Grow, Draw, and Tell. He found some that may have been named to keep others out, such as Weeping Mary or Looneyville. While some of the strangest names have left their mark on the Texas map, like Loco, Cut And Shoot, and Noodle, others' legacies were not as lasting. Take the town of Zulch, for example. While Zulch is long gone, you can rest assured knowing that North Zulch remains. While these towns may come and go, they enrich the lore of our state and remind us of how unique Texas is. So if you ever find yourself on US-67 west of San Angelo, pull over by that abandoned shack near the intersection of County Road 113. Take in the vastness of the landscape and give thanks, because you're standing in the former location of the town with the name that says it all: Best, Texas.

Jesus said, "The King will say to those on His right, 'Come, you who are blessed by my father; take your inheritance, the kingdom prepared for you since the creation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in, I needed clothes and you clothed me, I was sick and you looked after me, I was in prison and you came to visit me.'" ## Machinators' robot taking shape

The Sacred Heart Machinators started their third week of Best Robotics. During Homecoming Week, the students were busy with many special activities. Despite the busy week, the Build team had a very productive week. They were able to complete the winch system that is going to allow them to go up and down on the playing field.

The Sacred Heart Machinators were able to recruit two students from two different schools, Tom Davis a 5th grader at Muenster ISD and Jacob Neusch, an 8th grader at Lindsay ISD. Their whole team is looking forward to a very productive week.

Don't ignore warning signs of overuse

Be aware that overuse injuries can arise over time as you progress through training and exercise regimes. They can result from improper form; pushing too hard after an injury to return to pre-injury levels; imbalances between strength and flexibility; as well as old injuries, poor body alignment, unfit sports equipment, including shoes, or difficult terrain.

"With so many potential pitfalls, it can be difficult to know when to step it up to the next level," said Dr. Robert Dimeff, director of primary care sports medicine at UT Southwestern Medical Center and Children's Medical Center.

Among the common signs of overuse are recurrent stiffness or pain, often in the shoulders, legs, or elbows; favoring one arm or leg over the other; or a drop in performance. Initially, symptoms occur only during activity. But as the condition progresses, the pain will worsen after exercise and eventually interfere with your ability to exercise.

A generally recognized rule of thumb for increasing the exercise regimes is called the 10% rule: Don't increase your training or activities more than 10% per week. Runners and walkers, for example, shouldn't increase the distance or pace more than 10%. If you're using weights, limit the increased weight to 10% or less.

"It's important to give your body time to properly adjust," Dr. Dimeff said.

A sports medicine specialist can help you identify and address specific pitfalls, such as flat feet, intestinal problems, or previous injuries, before you start your routine, as well as help address and treat new issues should they occur.

Tigers top Temple 40-0

The weather turned cold and windy for Sacred Heart's Homecoming last Friday night, but the chill didn't cool down the Tigers, as they out-scored Fort Worth Temple Christian 40-0 in their District opener.

"I was pleased with the way we started, playing with enthusiasm and intensity for the second week in a row," commented Tiger Coach Dale Schilling. "This put Temple in a bad situation early on." Schilling added that the defense played outstanding. He was also pleased with quarterback Kason Reeves who completed 11 of 17 passes behind the protection of the Tiger offensive line. The coach also noted that the receivers did a good job getting yards after the catch. "Juan (Salinas) did a great job in back picking up blitzing linebackers," Schilling noted.

The Eagles returned the opening kick to the 13 yard line. The Tigers dropped them for losses, followed by a blocked punt by Dylan Clure to give Sacred Heart possession on the Temple 15 yard line. Runs by John Paul Hesse and Keith Metzler took the Tigers to the 1 yard line. On 3rd and goal, Hesse scored with 8:06 remaining in the 1st period. The PAT failed.

It was three plays and punt again for the Eagles. The next play, quarterback Kason Reeves connected with Metzler for a 47 yard touchdown pass play. Reeves added the extra point for a 13-0 score.

A high snap to Temple's quarterback on 3rd down was recovered by Hayden Schilling and returned 2 yards for another Tiger touchdown. The PAT failed and Sacred Heart had a 19-0 lead with 6 minutes still on the 1st quarter clock.

Sacred Heart's defense continued to terrorize Temple, forcing another punt, which was again blocked by Clure and covered by Michael Weinzapfel on the Temple 17 yard line. The Tigers luck did not continue, as a holding flag, quarterback sack, and a bad snap kept the Tigers out of the end zone.

The Eagles got in 11 plays, getting inside the 20, going into the 2nd quarter of play. A bad snap on a field goal attempt allowed Juan Salinas to tackle the punter, giving Sacred Heart the ball on their own 24.

The Tigers gained 9 and punted. Temple threw a few incomplete passes and also punted. The teams exchanged punts again before Sacred Heart's next scoring drive. A 50 yard screen pass play from Reeves to Metzler quickly moved the Tigers to the Temple 25. A short run by Hesse and another Reeves to Metzler completion took the Tigers to the 12. Salinas picked up 2 yards and Hesse 6, but a 4th down run lost yards and the Eagles took over on the 8 yard line with 1:21 on the clock. The Tiger defense held Temple to 2 yards, forcing another punt.

Metzler fielded the ball on the Eagle 45 yard line. A reverse hand-off to Hesse took the ball to the 12 yard line. Hesse ran for 5 more yards, followed by a 7 yard Reeves to Hesse pass into the end zone for 6 points. Reeves booted the point after for a 26-0 Tiger lead with 2.8 seconds remaining in the 1st half.

The 2nd half started with Temple intercepting a Tiger pass, followed by a fumble recovery by Garrett Wheeler that set up Sacred Heart's next touchdown. From the Eagle 36, two Reeves to Metzler passes gained 11 yards, followed by a 25 yard touchdown pass play from Reeves to Hesse with 8:48 on the clock. The PAT failed for a 32-0 score.

A Salinas sack forced another Temple punt. From their own 47, Sacred Heart made gains with a completed pass to Justin Brown for 24 yards and a 14 yard run by Salinas to the 15. Salinas and Reeves got to the 5, but a holding flag lost 10. Two plays later, a Reeves to Metzler pass found paydirt. Salinas ran in the PAT for a 40-0 score with 3:52 still on the 3rd period clock. Temple's offense controlled most of the remaining time, with the Tigers' pass defense, including tipped passes by Nick Zimmerer and Metzler, making the Eagles work for every yard.

The 4th quarter began when Brady Endres intercepted a pass. The junior varsity squad took to the field, getting in nine runs for little gain, a fumble recovery by Daniel Hesse, and keeping the Eagles out of the end zone for the final 40-0 District victory.

Next Action

The Tigers host Lubbock Christian this Friday night as another Eagle team arrives in town.

"We need to run the ball and control the clock," Coach Schilling said. "Lubbock has all their skill kids back. They like to throw the ball, so our number one priority is to stop their passing game."

Lubbock went 1/1 in District after a 21-7 loss to Lake Country last week. Game one in District was a 40-8 Eagle victory over San Jacinto.

Hornets versus Tigers again this week

The Muenster Hornets once more will host a Tiger team as District play gets underway with Electra coming to town.

"Their strength is their defense and secondary," noted Coach Brady Carney. "We need to control the line of scrimmage. That will allow us to control the football."

Electra brings back 16 players from a second round playoff squad. They are 4-1 and come in with a lot of confidence. Their team has a solid, skilled quarterback that has the "speed to rip holes in opposing defenses, a fast explosive running back, and a defender who isn't afraid to run downfield and deliver a hit," according to Dave Campbell's Texas Football magazine.

"We need to jump on them quick," Carney added. "If we can stop their run, if we can take that away from them and keep our interceptions down, we'll come out in good shape."

Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m.

Game Warden Field Notes

Traffic stop leads to illegal hunting charges: The Liberty County Game Warden received a call from a Kenefick police officer regarding a vehicle he had pulled over. The officer noted blood and hair on the tailgate and in searching the vehicle found two .22 cal. rifles, a spotlight, and three deer antlers. The driver admitted shooting three white-tailed deer off a public road, as did two of his friends. Wardens obtained written statements from the subject and his two accomplices. When interviewing the third subject, they discovered there had been two additional people in the vehicle on the night in question. After interviewing those subjects, they returned to the original suspect and interviewed him again. During the this interview, they learned that the subject and one of his friends had also been hunting another night, and killed another white-tailed deer and a red stag. The meat from these two animals was seized and donated to people in need. The original three deer had been dumped on the side of the road and were not salvageable. All five individuals were cited and will pay civil restitution for the deer.

Careful with the bragging: The Orange County Game Warden received information about a Vidor man who had reportedly taken two small white-tailed bucks and was bragging about it at work. The informant said the man would have his wife come out of his lease before him to make sure no one was around before he emerged. The Warden found out the man would again be hunting, and was hiding near the lease gate when the man came to the road. After making contact, the warden found he had no tags missing from his license. The man denied having taken any deer but agreed to let the warden search his residence. The warden along with two Orange County sheriff's deputies followed the man to his home. While the warden checked the man's freezer, his daughter said, "Daddy shot a four-point and a six-point a couple of days ago." After the warden searched the grounds outside and interviewed the man, it was determined he had killed two small bucks and failed to tag them. One buck had a 5-inch spread and the other 8 inches. The meat and antlers were seized.

on the landowner's property and they were using it as a farm truck. The vehicle was impounded and hauled to Laredo.

Watch your lights if you're fishing without a license: Central Texas game wardens worked with a TPWD aircraft to look for spotlighters. Numerous suspicious lights were seen from the air and wardens were able to make contact with most of those doing the spotlighting. While no hunting cases were developed, wardens did find two fishermen on Lake Somerville who had picked the wrong time to play with a flashlight. Both were cited for no fishing license.

Taking a dead buddy's boat: In a felony tampering case filed by TPWD, the defendant was charged with forging documents to gain illegal ownership of a deceased friend's boat. The defendant was found guilty and sentenced to 27 months in prison. The boat was seized at the offender's home, its titling corrected to show true ownership, and returned to the family of the deceased.

There's more than one type of lease: Game Warden received a phone call from a local rancher who reported he had just witnessed an oilfield hand shoot a deer and that he did not have permission to hunt on his property. The warden arrived on the ranch and obtained a written statement from the rancher. After the rancher decided to sign a non-consent affidavit, a warrant was issued and the warden arrested the oilfield worker for hunting without landowner's consent.

Lindsay JV Volleyball

The JV Lady Knights remain undefeated in District by defeating the Collinsville Lady Pirates last Friday by scores of 25-16, 25-20, taking their record to 20-7 for the year. Sarah Fuhrmann had 3 assists and Kailei Klement 3 kills.

The JV Lady Knights continued their roll through District with a win over Valley View by scores of 25-8, 25-6. They missed only one serve in the entire match. Klement had 2 kills. Madison Green had 2 assists and was 14 for 14 serving. Morgan McClure was 10 for 10 serving and Sarah Dieter was 11 for 11 serving.

Game warden helps DPS trooper in struggle: A Palo Pinto County game warden was flagged down by a UPS driver, who said a DPS trooper on a traffic stop on I-20 was wrestling with a man in an attempt to get him handcuffed. The warden responded and assisted the trooper with detaining and controlling the subject while a search of his vehicle was conducted. A large amount of marijuana was found in the vehicle, and the man was arrested.

No free lunch, no free trucks: Webb County Game Wardens were checking hunting camps in northern Webb County when they found a vehicle with an out-of-date registration sticker. Checking its registration, they found it had been reported stolen. When the landowner and ranch hand returned from their hunt, they were questioned about the vehicle. Turned out that the vehicle had been abandoned

FARM & RANCH

Drought lingers: hay still in demand for Texas

Some areas are making hay while the sun shines and the rains fall, but others just never had a chance, according to a Texas AgriLife Extension service specialist. "We've had a better year than last year, but that isn't saying a lot," said Dr. Larry Redmon, AgriLife Extension state forage specialist in College Station. "We had great winter rains and some in spring, but then the rains shut off for the most part. "There are some areas that have had eight to 10 inches this summer, but it is not widespread." Dr. Travis Miller, associate department head and AgriLife Extension program leader in the Texas A&M University soil and crop sciences department, said the state overall continues to face drought, with notable exceptions along the Gulf Coast and parts of East North Texas. "While showers along the coast and in North Texas eased drought conditions and greened up hay meadows, conditions are worsening over most of the southern and western parts of the state, where livestock producers are continuing to supplement cattle with hay and feed and are struggling to maintain water supplies," Miller said. Redmon said some producers have already made one hay cutting and are ready to make another. These producers have taken care of their grass, applied fertilizer, and had timely rains, so they won't be buying hay, he said. "But just down the road, there may be producers who didn't get the timely rains and the grass simply hasn't had a chance to recover from last year," Redmon said. "So it really depends on the management level of the property and whether it has received rain as to whether an individual made hay or has to buy it." Looking around the state, Redmon said, North Texas seems to get a rain "almost whenever it wants some." In Southeast Texas and the Houston and coast areas, good rains have fallen and producers are growing some hay. East Texas has had good rain in some spots and is in good shape. But, up in the High Plains, it's been a tough year, he said. Same goes for Central Texas, West Texas, and South Texas, where it has been spotty. "Some of these areas look much like it was last year, so no matter how good of a manager you might have been, you just didn't get the rain to make the hay," Redmon said. "I'm afraid as we get closer to autumn, we will see more and more of those big 18-wheelers rolling into the state, but not nearly to the extent we saw last year," he said. "There are people cutting hay, good hay and plenty of it, but they might not be nearly as interested in selling as they have in years past." Redmon said there will be producers with hay to sell in the state, but it won't be anything near a "normal" year, and it won't be enough to supply hay needs across the state. "But it is much better than last year. "As I drive across the state, I'm able to see hay bales sitting in the field. Last year, you could drive anywhere and not see bales of hay." In addition to some areas not seeing the recovery of their grass, other areas have suffered through tremendous grasshopper infestations this year that have been just like a heavy grazing by cattle, he said. "It has been a really tough year for areas of the state," Redmon said. Redmon categorized hay into three categories: high quality alfalfa hay, grass hays that can range in quality, and then the lower-quality stalk or straw hay. Alfalfa hay is used primarily by the dairy and horse industry, he said. However, a lot of the lower quality alfalfa hay, the early cuts, does not go to either of those markets. "This could be a good buy for the beef market, using it instead of the 20% crude protein cubes," Redmon said. "It is much less costly than buying the cubes. These square bales will come from Colorado, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, primarily." At the opposite end of the spectrum is straw or stalk hays from wheat, rice, sorghum, or corn. This hay is lower in cost, but also lower in nutritive value, he said. "This can be bought and used, but you need to know what you have so you can make up for the missing nutrients with the appropriate supplement," Redmon said. "This is sort of the hay of the last resort." In the middle are the typical grass hays: prairie hay from south Dakota or Nebraska or the Bermuda or Bahia hays. The quality will depend on the stage of maturity when it was cut, and it can be just as low in value as the wheat straw or as good as alfalfa, he said. "Forage testing is absolutely necessary for a producer purchasing hay," Redmon said. "If you don't test, you may think it is better than it is, and that can cause your cattle to crash in the middle of the winter. Or, you may think it is a lower value than it really is and cause you to buy extra supplement when you don't need to be spending that money."

County Agent's Report

Improving our soil

Soil is much more than just dirt. We tend to think of our soil merely as a source of minerals and material to hold our plants. Yet a fertile soil is much more than sand, silt, clay; it is teeming with life. Microorganisms such as bacteria or fungi, and larger organisms like nematodes, arthropods, and worms are all necessary for healthy soil. Adding organic matter to the soil is one of the best ways to encourage the life within the soil. Leaves, grass clippings, manure, etc. are good sources of organic matter and are used by the life within the soil to fuel their activity. They break it down into humus while helping to release nutrients and improve soil water-holding and drainage capabilities, resulting in a better environment for plant roots. While simply adding organic material is good, learning to create compost and then adding it to your soil is possibly even better. By taking brown stuff (leaves, wood chips, hay, etc.), green stuff (food waste, grass clippings, manure, etc.) and mixing them with water and air you can allow natural processes to occur that will reduce the material to a nutrient-rich compost that will feed the life within the soil. When you begin to apply compost to your soil, soon you will notice heavy clays become looser as their structure improves, sandy soils will hold more water and nutrients. Making compost is a simple process, but there are many different strategies to doing it. Beginning composters may want to review information available at: <http://aggie-horticulture.tamu.edu/earthkind/landscape/> - Choose "Don't Bag It™ - Compost It!" or simply call our office for a copy of the publication (940.668.5412)

Skip Richter, Travis County horticulturist explains the benefits you will realize by adding organic matter to your soil in this way, "Plants were designed to live with their roots surrounded by the decaying materials they produced in previous seasons. Like the forest floor or the soil surface in a meadow, these materials provide the fuel for soil life that in turn feeds plants. Compost builds soil. It feeds microbes, earthworms, and other organisms that in turn feed our gardens. Soil built with regular additions of compost gets more fertile each year." Remember, compost doesn't completely eliminate the need for supplemental fertilizing especially for some heavy feeding plants. But it is the foundation of a healthy, productive soil. In effect when you are adding compost, or even organic matter, you are feeding soil microbes, which in turn, feed the plants.

Effects of a freeze on forages

We haven't experienced a freeze yet this fall, but we soon will. When plants freeze, changes occur in their metabolism and composition that can poison livestock. But you can prevent problems. Sorghum-related plants, like cane, sudangrass, shattercane, and milo can be highly toxic for a few days after frost. Freezing breaks plant cell membranes. This breakage allows the chemicals that form prussic acid to mix together and release this poisonous compound rapidly. Livestock eating recently frozen sorghums can get a sudden, high dose of prussic acid and potentially die. Fortunately, prussic acid soon turns into a gas and disappears into the air. So wait three to five days after a freeze before grazing sorghums; the chance of poisoning then becomes much lower. Freezing also slows down metabolism in all plants. This stress sometimes permits nitrates to accumulate in plants that are still growing, especially grasses like oats, millet, and sudangrass. This build-up usually isn't hazardous to grazing animals, but green chop or hay cut right after a freeze can be more dangerous. Frost causes important changes in forages, so manage them carefully for safe feed.
