County agrees to participate in BLM meetings

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Cooke County Commissioners Court felt that in order to be informed of what is taking place, they have little choice but to approve a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the United States Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and Cooke County as a cooperating agency for the revision of three current Resource Management Plans.

Precinct #4 Commissioner Leon Klement warned, "The tricky part of this is we don't want to be on the hoof for paying for their environmental study. Also, understand what the words cooperating agency really means to the Federal government. What does that really mean?"

It was noted that those who do not become a part of the project will not have any say.

The MOU states that the BLM and Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) are responsible for providing Cooke County Commissioners with meaningful opportunities for participation including involvement in identifying issues and concerns of relevance to the planning effort and considering and incorporating information and comments provided by Cooke County Commissioners into EIS documents to the extent possible and where appropriate.

"You either become part of it or you sit on the sidelines and watch it," Klement said.

A member of the audience asked if being a part of this means that we agree that they have the right to do this.

County Judge John Roane answered, "We've agreed to nothing. All this MOU does basically is gives us the right to see what they are up to essentially."

Commissioner Gary Hollowell expressed concerns that people would get the misunderstanding that the County was being a party to the decisions made.

Klement said he spoke to a person in the BLM office and was told, "You do not understand. We are not taking anything. We own it." Klement asked him to clarify that statement and was told, "It never was anyone's. So, the misunderstanding that people are having about us taking something, we are not taking anything. You are just going to help us look into the environment and the land use regulations that will be imposed on this land."

County Attorney Ed Zielinski spoke reporting what the County has done so far and that as of that time they had not agreed to anything. He said that many people are contesting that the BLM has the authority to do what it proposes. He noted that the Attorney General has raised the point that there is a question as to if the BLM applies to Texas in the same way it applies to western lands because those lands were acquired in a different way than the state of

The pony rides at this year's Germanfest were a big hit in the children's area of the Park which included a petting zoo, rock climbing, train rides, Jurassic bounce house, carnival games, paint ball, bungee jumping, snow cones, and live entertainment on the stage, all under the shade of the large trees.

KMB seeks public input on project

By Gary Fisher

Keep Muenster Beautiful

KMB has been notified an additional $50,000 has been awarded for amenities

along the proposed walking trail west of the existing

City Park. The trail location is the entire city-block

along South Ash to Cross

Street (BBQ Cook off area).

The extra funding comes from a special TxDOT fund to be used for park development projects located along Texas highways.

The original $90,000

GCAA Grant was dedicated to build the actual trail surface. This additional $50,000 can be used for irrigation, lighting, benches, and other amenities. Community input will generally dictate what those amenities are, and what style and design is desired. Generally those amenities will have a 50 year lifespan, so it is important to have community input. The trail design plans will be available at this meeting as a final design overview to get public input for changes to the path.

Public input is being sought as to what amenities are desired. An open public meeting is set for May 12

at 7:30 p.m. at the Muenster Public Library meeting room. The meeting will last no more than one hour, and will be used to collect ideas.

Park Board members and

will also be in attendance.

Candidates speak on Muenster Hospital Board issues

Janet Felderhoff

News Editor

There are four candidates running for three positions on the Muenster Hospital District's Board of Directors. This is an at-large election with the three candidates who receive the most votes being seated. They will serve three-year terms beginning in May.

Seeking election or re-election to the Board are incumbents Jon Reed and Don Richardson and Paul Becker and Steven Fisher. Danny Walterscheid did not file for another term and will go off the Board in May.

Jon is a resident of Muenster. He is a wind technician. Jon and his wife Tiffany have two children, Taylor and Skyler. He has served on the Hospital Board for three years.

Don S. Richardson resides in Rosston. He is an engineering tech. He has a daughter Toni. Don was appointed to the Hospital Board on Dec. 20, 2011 to replace Paul Becker who resigned at that time.

Paul Becker of Muenster is self-employed. He has a dozer service and a farm and cattle operation. Paul and his wife Brenda are the parents of two children and have three grandchildren. He served on the Hospital Board for 11 years.

Steven Fisher has been a Muenster resident his entire life. He worked at Fischer's Meat Market for over 30 years. He and his wife are now the owners of Fischer's. Steven and his wife Penny Purcell Fisher have four children. Two of their four children were born in the Muenster Hospital.

The election will be held on Saturday, May 10. Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. The Hospital Board appointed Jenni Studebaker as early voting judge. Early voting will be done in the MMH Board Room, 605 North Maple Street from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday from April 28 through Tuesday, May 6.

Election judges appointed unanimously by the Board were Patsy Bayer for voting precincts 15, 17, 18, 19, 21, and 33; Paula Lewis for 12 and 14. Bayer's precincts will vote at the Muenster Junior High School, 135 East Seventh Street, and 12 and 14 will vote at the Era Community Center, 102 Malone Street.

Why do you want to serve on the Hospital Board of Directors and what are your qualifications?

Paul Becker - I previously served on the Board for 11 years. When I attended the 50th anniversary celebration, I found it rewarding to see that I had been a part of the history to keep the Hospital open. When I started on the Hospital Board, we were $500,000 in debt and the Hospital was close to closing. During my tenure, we implemented new programs, built the rehab center. I would like to continue being a part of its growth.

Steven Fisher - I just want to make sure the Hospital stays here and is always here for the people of Cooke and Montague counties.

Jon Reed - The Hospital is a very big asset to the community. It allows patients a stay close to home during recovery, receive therapy, labs, x-rays, etc. without having to travel. The ER is a big asset as it has saved many lives! I have currently served three years on the Board.

Don Richardson - I enjoy community involvement where I live as all of us should.

What changes, if any, would you like to see at the Muenster Hospital?

Paul Becker - At this time, looking from the outside in, I don't see the need for any changes.

Steven Fisher - I don't see CANDIDATES, pg. 5

Cemetery awarded Texas Historical Marker

By Johnell Thompson

Warnings of thunderstorms failed to dampen the enthusiasm of over 100 pilgrims who flocked to "The Bend" Saturday to remember the past and celebrate acknowledgement by the Texas Historical Commission (THC) of the significance of their own Illinois Bend Memorial Cemetery in the history of Texas.

The Illinois Bend Cemetery Association (IBCA) assembled its annual business meeting in the Community Center. Around 50 members of the organization were on hand to be greeted by the ringing of the historical school bell as they gathered in to attend to business and elect officers for the year. Following lunch, the group moved from the historical school to the Tabernacle at the cemetery.

Sam Campbell and Wassie Reynolds, "Snow Hill Boys", were on hand, picking and singing sweet sounds of the past as guests gathered, remembering and anticipating. Rocky Roberts, Dean Sewell, and Rory Sewell stood and delivered a rousing trumpet trio medley. Bob Langford, Precinct 4 commissioner, welcomed the crowd. Roy Brawner delivered the invocation. Larry Cook led in singing the National Anthem and pledging allegiance to the U.S. Flag. Girl Scout Troop #8577 led the salute to the Texas Flag and rendered a lively version of "Texas Our Texas."

Montague County Historical Commission (MCHC) Chairperson Janis Sneed introduced honored guests and recognized the assistance of MCHC members on hand to assist in the THC Marker Dedication. Billie Grigsby, Panhandle native, related by marriage to the "Bend," IBCA president and author of the Illinois Bend Memorial Cemetery essay, shared her recollections of that process, noting that it all started when they recognized that "it was do-able!" There were complications she described as "...deep water." "But that's not unusual if you deal with life at the Bend." In spite of obstacles she pronounced, "...we met the deadlines and in 2011...with encouragement, harmonious relations, and generous donations, we were awarded the TEXAS HISTORICAL MARKER."

Ray Ashley, "Bend" native, retired military, local historian, and author, delivered the history of the IBMC in an instructive manner that clarified understandings and shared much important information. He had carefully researched the genealogy of the family of Nancy Smith, resident of the earliest marked grave in the cemetery. The family's earliest known connections were in Virginia, pre-American Revolution, and associated with the presidential Adams family. They moved through North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, and apparently weathered the Civil War in East Texas, moving to the "Bend" sometime after the CW. They raised five-foot tall cotton on the river and likely had their own horse powered cotton gin a little east of the current Community Center.

The formal program continued with a sentimental flair as Larry Cook, Laurie Martin, and Fran Alderman shared "Pappy" O'Daniel's "Beautiful, Beautiful Texas!" Janis Sneed concluded the program, turning attention to the official unveiling of the marker, handled by Billie Grigsby and Bob Langford. Anticipation focused to the drum roll of Randy Dunbar as the moment approached, then concluded with the moving strains of "Taps" ringing across the grounds one more time. Lemonade and pretty bluebonnet decorated cupcakes were offered to refresh all who would enjoy.

White settlement began in the area at about the time the Civil War commenced. The hardy pioneers braved major hardships to see their community grow and prosper, but not without struggle. And not without loss. Rich soil deposited by the Red River provided farmers a setting to grow near legendary, bumper crops. The low lying landscape also exposed residents to hazards like flooding and washing by the river's untamed waters, and did little to shelter those pioneers from raids by untamed neighbors from Indian Territory, just across those waters. Some early victims of those raids, Andersons and Willetts, are said to have been buried in nearby Saint Jo.

Toda, the lovely burial ground stretches up the front and down the back of its wildflower studded hill, with the earliest marked grave being that of Nancy Smith, buried there in 1873. In all likelihood, unmarked graves preceded hers on that hill. In 1873, the Indian Wars abated, the Chisholm Trail offered a new avenue to market Texas cattle, and a log school known as Valley Branch stood by the Cemetery. The settlement was known variously as Maxwell, Maxville, or Wardville until the Illinois Bend Post Office was established in 1877, branding the identity of the settlement for posterity. The adventure of being Illinois Bend was well under way, peaking in the 30s.

As the community grew and prospered, the cemetery required more space. Four families are documented to have donated parcels of land to accommodate the loss of dear friends and family. A stroll through the grounds today presents any area residents with familiar family names, some long since passed and others only recently departed, sorely missed. Illinois Bend lives on in the memories and lives of its sons and daughters and exemplifies much of what has been esteemed in the pioneer spirit. Hardy pioneers produced hardy descendants with strong characters, valuable resources for the future. As Ray reminded his listeners, "History does not repeat itself. Things change and things can never be the same exact way again. It is human nature that remains constant. Things change, people repeat themselves." Remember well.

To find the cemetery, travel Hwy. 677 14.3 miles north from Saint Jo to arrive in Illinois Bend, then turn left onto Illinois Bend Rd and proceed .4 mile to the entrance of Illinois Bend Memorial Cemetery. The site is well marked.

Ann Herr

Mass of Christian Burial for Ann Susanna Arendt Herr, age 90 of Muenster, was held at 10 a.m., Friday, April 25 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Muenster with Rev. Ken Robinson officiating. Burial followed in Sacred Heart Cemetery under the direction of Scott Funeral Home Muenster. Rosary/vigil led by Fr. Ken was held at 7 p.m., Thursday, April 24, at the funeral home. Mrs. Herr died Friday, April 18, 2014 in Muenster.

Ann was born Sept. 10, 1923 to Paul and Susie Neu Arendt in Lindsay. She attended school at Lindsay through the 8th grade. It was at this time, when Ann was 14, that her mother suffered a stroke. Ann stayed home to help take care of her seven younger brothers and sisters, never being able to finish high school as it took years for her mother to regain use of her affected side.

In her late teens, Ann worked as a nanny and housekeeper for several families, often when the mother was recuperating from the birth of a child. In her early twenties, she worked as a salesclerk at JC Penney in Gainesville and even modeled hosiery in the store window as this was a very popular item for the ladies.

Ann married the love of her life, Albert Otto Herr, better known to most as Buster. They moved into the home at 206 West 7th Street in Muenster after their honeymoon and remained there, never living in another house.

She was a very devoted and loving mother to her children, volunteering as a Blue Bird leader, almost yearly room mother, was active in 4-H, Catholic Daughters, and the Saint Anne Society. She enjoyed letting neighborhood children and cousins visit. She always fixed treats for them, but some of the favorites were homemade lemonade and homemade cookies or popcorn balls. At Christmas, she made her famous divinity and shared it with neighbors, friends, and relatives.

Ann and Buster loved the outdoors; they took the family camping, pecan picking, fishing, and on outdoor picnics. Ann was a great seamstress and made almost all of the girls' clothes until they were in high school. She was an avid gardener of both vegetables and flowers. She loved iris and would exchange with neighbors and friends, cultivating a rainbow of colors, some of which are still alive and thriving today. Ann and Buster raised laying hens and always had plenty of fresh eggs on hand. She allowed her children numerous pets over the years including the typical cats and dogs, but also birds, turtles, rabbits, pigeons, and fish.

Family was always her top priority. She was a stay-at-home mom until her children were older and could stay by themselves, but still only worked Saturdays at Tony Luke's Ben Franklin Store so that she could be available for her children during the week. She took a job at Muenster ISD as a study hall monitor only because it allowed her days and hours that her children were in school and did not take away from family time.

Survivors are her daughter and son-in-law Marlene and Gary Fisher of Muenster; sisters Lou Voth of Muenster, LuElla Zimmerer of Lindsay, Marie Metzler of Gainesville, and Joanie Bauer of La Feria; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband; daughters Anna Marie Herr and Paula Reiter; parents; brothers Ernest, Ulrich, Andrew "Nick," Aloys, Paul, Arthur "Artie," Johnny, and Patrick Arendt; and sisters Liz Hoberer and Flo Walterscheid.

Assisting during the funeral Mass were altar servers Chuck Bartush, Sylvan Walterscheid, and Alvin Hartman. The First Reading was given by Danell Reiter Stuckey. Michele Knauf gave the Second Reading. Prayers of the Faithful were read by Tanya Knauf Fleitman. The Gifts were presented at the altar by grandchildren Brian Reiter, Danell Reiter Stuckey, Eric Fisher, Karl Fisher, and Lana Fisher. Eucharistic ministers were Theresa Mae

Ann Herr

Walterscheid, JoAnn Pagel, Mark Klement, and Kenneth and Anna Braziel. Musicians were Pat Hennigan, pianist, and Christy Hesse, soloist.

The eulogy was given by Eric Fisher. After speaking the many things Ann enjoyed, Eric said, "She endured numerous trials and challenges: the death of her third child at birth and her near death at the same time, the injury of Buster when he fell off his grain elevator... the death of Buster on Easter Saturday 19 years ago, and then the death of her first born three years later... She always put her trust in God and found her way through the tragedy and never lost her sense of love and commitment to those around her or her quick wit and sense of humor..."

Karl Fisher delivered a remembrance of Ann written by son-in-law Gary Fisher who was unable to attend due to cancer treatment in Philadelphia. He said, in part, "For me, Ann was the most wonderful mother-in-law I could have ever had. Her sense of humor, her fun-loving nature, her genuine caring, and her understanding of life's meaning gave her the personality that few possess..."

"In my opinion, God has not created a more beautiful human than Ann Herr, other than her daughter..."

Pallbearers were Danny Voth, Pat Walterscheid, Rudy Zimmerer, David Arendt, John Hoberer, and Mark Klement.

know that any changes are actually needed because I have not followed the Board meetings as close the last several years as I did in the years prior.

Jon Reed - I would like to see the community utilize the Hospital more and feel they are getting the highest quality care.

Don Richardson - Continuing with the modernization of the Hospital and staying competitive in the marketplace. Patients have choices. I want them to choose MMH.

What do you see as the Hospital District's biggest challenge(s) and what would you suggest to improve it?

Paul Becker - The biggest challenge for the Hospital in the upcoming years is the Affordable Care Act (Obamacare).

Steven Fisher - Possibly to make the Hospital and Clinic more user friendly, otherwise at this time, I really don't know of the Hospital's real needs.

Jon Reed - Dealing with Obamacare and the changes that insurance is making. Learn about the changes of insurance/Obamacare as they are introduced and act immediately.

Don Richardson - Government mandates and regulations cost too much and controlling operating costs.

How involved should Board members be in the day-to-day operation of the Hospital?

Paul Becker - As far as the day to day operation goes, our job is to hire a professional and trustworthy staff and they should bring any problems to the attention of the Board by using the proper channels, from the department heads to the CEO to the Board.

Steven Fisher - Board members shouldn't. They maybe should have a direction for management to head in and then let management take over.

Jon Reed - I don't feel we should be involved.

Don Richardson - The Board currently serves as the oversight of day-to-day ops, but should not micro-manage the CEO.

Finish this sentence. I feel the Muenster Hospital is important to the local area because

Paul Becker - it provides an important service to the Hospital District, to be able to receive quality care locally. It has grown to be quite a family of caring people.

Steven Fisher - it provides local residents a family atmosphere place to rehab and a place close to home for minor emergencies and illnesses. It is also an asset to the community because it provides local workers a good place to work.

Jon Reed - when you need good immediate care, it is there. It has saved many lives.

Don Richardson - it provides excellent medical care located close to home and I would like to continue working for its success for the patients, staff, and the 120 people the Hospital employs. I have enjoyed serving on the Board representing the people of the District for the past two years.

William Lloyd Hamilton 1917 - 2014

Services for William Lloyd Hamilton, age 96 of Capps Corner, were held Sunday, April 27 at Shepherd of the Hills with Rev. Charles Wylie officiating. Burial was in Mountain Creek Cemetery under the direction of Scott Funeral Home of Saint Jo. Visitation was held Saturday, at the funeral home. Mr. Hamilton died April 24, 2014 in Nocona.

Lloyd Hamilton was born Sept. 2, 1917 in Hagerman to William Nathaniel and Venie Buckhannan Hamilton. During Lloyd's life span of 9½ decades, he was witness to many historical events, including the stock market crash, WWII, and the invention of radio and TV. He grew up in a church environment where his mother sang and some of his aunts played the organ.

Lloyd was always a farmer, but at times he also worked on oil rigs all over Texas. He raised large gardens and he often shared the produce with his family and friends. At one time, he had his own hay bailing business. Lloyd was an avid "wolf hunter" and spent many hours following and listening to his thoroughbred "Walkers" and "Julys" and attended many shows where he sometimes entered one of his dogs.

Survivors are his wife Mary Ann of Capps Corner; sons Jim Hamilton of Colorado Springs, CO, Dale and Margaret Hamilton of Callisburg, Charles and Katie Hamilton of Myra, Randy and Pinky Hamilton of Hennepin, OK, and Gary Hamilton of Saint Jo; 15 grandchildren and numerous great-grandchildren; sisters Lois Groce of Sherman and Halma Ruth Morgan of Sherman.

He was preceded in death by his wife Hannah Celest Stanley; sister Faye Hamilton Martin; brothers Thomas Hamilton and W.N. "Man" Hamilton.

Pallbearers were Mark Hamilton, Bobby Hamilton, Jimmy Hamilton, Jerry Hamilton, Brandon Hamilton, Steve Hamilton, Nathan Hamilton, and Jamie Hamilton. Honorary pallbearers were Billy Ray Hamilton and Justin Hamilton.

Dominic Xavier Nervo celebrated his 14th birthday on Dec. 15, 2013 with a casino theme at the home of his parents, Donna and Nicolas Nervo of Arlington. Dominic's love of playing cards and "acing" card tournaments was emphasized. He hit the "jackpot" with a "full house" of guests and plenty of food on "hand" was a sure "bet." Dominic was not one to get "lost in the shuffle." He "played his cards right" and was the "heart" of the party. His birthday banner was prominently displayed and stated, Dominic's Birthday-It's a Big "Deal"! Red, black, and white colors enhanced the decor, which included dice, chips, and hanging gigantic cards. The birthday cake was topped with miniature casino decor. Special guests included maternal grandmother Rachel Hennigan of Muenster, and older brother Alexander and younger brother Zachary.

Do you want to perform at your mental peak?

If you are a person who is easily distracted, reads a paragraph over and over without grasping it, or study, but still don't get good grades, then Optimize Your Brain™ A Peak Mental Performance series by Neil Nedley, M.D. may be just what you need.

Paula Reiter will soon be presenting this program worldwide, but she wants to present it locally first. She hopes to get input from participants so that she is confident that she is giving the best presentation possible. She encourages high school students and adults to attend and seeks input from all ages.

Eventually this program will cost attendees $129. Those attending this first series will only be charged $30 to cover a portion of the cost of the book THE LOST ART OF THINKING How to Improve Emotional Intelligence and Achieve Peak Mental Performance. It is by Dr. Nedley. Each person gets a book to keep.

Character strengths to be discussed during the series include self-control, love of learning, curiosity, critical thinking, leadership, hope, sense of purpose, creativity, perseverance, gratitude, prudence, and social intelligence. Other topics to be presented are time management, healthy eating, weight loss, and addictions.

The program is a six-week series held once a week. It lasts about an hour and will have a 30 to 45 minute video and some discussion time. It begins on Monday, May 5 and ends on Monday, June 9 and will be held at the Seventh Day Adventist Church, 3411 N. Weaver, Gainesville. A nutritious snack will be served.

This program is limited to 30 people, so if you are interested sign up soon. Either email Paula at kerrihitt@gmail.com or call (940) 668-8687.

Dr. Nedley stated, "The first job out of college has been found to be related to IQ. How far one advances in that job is more related to one's EQ" (Emotional intelligence).

William and Katrina Grewing of Callisburg announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Brooke Grewing of Callisburg to Eland Green of Muenster. Eland is the son of Dawn Knabe of Muenster and Marvin Green, Jr. of Gainesville. The couple will marry on Saturday, May 17, 2014 at 4 p.m. at the family farm. Danny Shaver will officiate their vows. The bride-elect graduated from Callisburg in 2012. The future-groom will graduate from Muenster in 2014.

Meeting Notices

Gainesville Christian Women's Connection

The Gainesville Christian Women's Connection (GCWC) May Brunch will be Thursday, May 22 at 401 W. Garnett, Gainesville. The event time is 10 to 11:30 a.m. and the cost is $8 per person. Brunch will be catered by Lone Oak Ranch and Retreat.

The keynote speaker will be Kim Mikeal, a former sales executive, scuba diver, and aerobics instructor. Kim goes into prison to teach the women life skills and will share about things not always what they seem. Special feature will be a fashion show by Unique Collection of Gainesville. Music will be performed by Linda Ford and Shirley O'Dell.

GCWC is a non-denominational organization affiliated with Stonecroft Ministries open to women of all ages. Whether you are new to the area or have lived here a long time; come join them.

For reservations, call Judy DeField at (940) 612-3130 or email gewcreervations@yahoo.com by Thursday, May 15.

Women of Faith in Service to celebrate Least Coin

Women of Faith in Service will be celebrating the Fellowship of the Least Coin on Friday, May 2 at 10 a.m., in the Fellowship Hall at First United Methodist Church of Valley View. The coffee will be provided by the women of FUMC. Speaker Linda Lewis, of Old Mount Olive Baptist Church in Gainesville, will bring the program "The Least Coin: A Symbol for Peace and Reconciliation." She will present "Prayer in World Religions." The event is free of charge and women from all county churches are encouraged to attend.

Women of Faith in Service is an ecumenical body of women of all faiths in service and fellowship. The goal of the group is to serve God and those in need in Cooke County. The group stresses ecumenism, service, fellowship, and prayer. Events are planned around universal outreach and awareness movements such as World Day of Prayer, Fellowship of the Least Coin, May Friendship Day, and World Community Day, the latter being the largest celebration of the year highlighted by the Woman of Faith in Service award and officer elections.

For more information on Women of Faith in Service, contact Patti Wallace at 940.736.3181 or Lucy Sutton at 940.665.9707.

COUNTY

Texas was. Commissioners Court voted unanimously to approve Cooke County's draft of the MOU. By a vote of 4-1, the Court approved a resolution supporting a constitutional amendment to provide for the transfer of certain general revenue to the economic stabilization fund and to the state highway fund and for dedication of the revenue transferred to the state highway fund. If approved, this proposal would allow revenue transferred to the state highway fund to be used only for developing public roadways, other than toll roads. These funds would be allocated to the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) consistent with existing formulas to ensure the entire state benefits from the additional funding. It is expected to aid in maintaining the current infrastructure and to ease congestion by funding new projects for added capacity without any new or increased taxes or fees. Commissioner Al Smith noted that he did not support the resolution for several reasons. He felt that the amendment was not needed for the state to spend the money. He said a constitutional amendment was limiting. As an example, Smith said that at some time in the future, it might be really important to build a toll road and it would need to be funded in some way. Commissioner Klement noted that he was not against the amendment. He said it was not perfect as to how it would be funded, but he did not know how the State would get any money for state roads if the amendment did not pass. Commissioner Hollowell stated that he felt that if the County did not support the Texas Legislature in this effort, the Legislature might not support Cooke County. The 83rd Texas Legislature passed legislation proposing that this constitutional amendment be placed on the Nov. 4, 2014 state ballot. Support of the resolution passed with Commissioners Klement, Hollowell, and B.C. Lemons and Judge Roane voting for and Commissioner Smith voting against. The Court approved an amended agreement and resolution with TxDOT for acceptance of County Transportation Infrastructure Fund Grant Program. Judge Roane was authorized to sign the revised agreement when TxDOT has it ready. The amount of the grant for Cooke County is being divided equally between all four precincts. Commissioners had to revise their project list so that it shows that all of the allocated money is to be spent. Projects can be moved back or ahead as needed. Repairs to the DPS building roof finally got Court approval. Parson's Roofing re-inspected the roof after the County withheld payment of their bill and sent a letter from the County Attorney asking the company to fix the roof so that water did not pool on it. The roofing company agreed to fix two areas and said they were happy to do so. The whole amount of the bill was approved, but one-fourth of the payment will be retained by the County until the repairs are completed. In other business conducted at the Monday, April 28 meeting, Commissioners Court:

Deadline nears for Youth Leadership Conference

Cooke County high school students who are interested in achieving their dreams and becoming the leaders of tomorrow are encouraged to apply now for Texas Farm Bureau's Youth Leadership Conference (YLC). The conference will be held June 16-20 at Tarleton State University in Stephenville.

"Every year, hundreds of high school juniors and seniors from across Texas, including Cooke County, are encouraged and inspired after attending YLC," Robert Klement, County Farm Bureau president, said. "The conference is a great way for students to network and hone in on the skills that will help them succeed in life."

YLC participants hear from motivational speakers, learn about the Free Enterprise system, and engage in hands-on activities that build good character and leadership abilities.

"The conference is free to students, thanks to scholarships provided by Cooke County Farm Bureau," Klement said. "We encourage any interested high school juniors and seniors who are in the top 30% of their class scholastically to apply at the County office. College scholarships are available to students who attend the conference."

Applications are available in county Farm Bureau offices and online under the Youth & Education tab on TexasFarmBureau.org.

FARM & RANCH

Oklahoma-Texas border dispute has ranchers worried

By RFD-TV News Staff

Most people think the border between Texas and Oklahoma is the Red River. Unfortunately, it's a little more complicated than that, especially along the part of the river where Tommy Henderson and his family ranch.

Henderson lost a lawsuit 30 years ago that moved part of the northern Texas border over a mile to the south.

The Bureau of Land Management [BLM] took 140 acres of his property and didn't pay him one cent.

Now, they want to use his case as precedent to seize land along a 116-mile stretch of the river.

"They're wanting to take the boundaries that the courts placed here and extend those east and west to the forks of the river north of Vernon and east to the 98th Meridian which is about 20 miles east of us," Henderson explained.

BLM, which oversees public land in the United States, claims this land never belonged to Texas.

The Texas landowners who have lived and cared for that land for hundreds of years beg to differ.

BLM plans on taking the land anyway. Property owners will be forced to spend money on lawsuits to keep what is theirs.

For many, that property has been in their family for generations.

"How can BLM come in and say, 'Hey, this isn't yours.' Even though it's patented from the state, you've always paid taxes on it. Our family has paid taxes for over 100 years on this place. We've got a deed to it. But yet they walked in and said it wasn't ours," said Henderson.

Ever since the Louisiana Purchase in 1803, there has been controversy over where Oklahoma ends and Texas begins.

In layman's terms, the boundary is the vegetation line on the south side of the Red River.

Over time the river moves. This movement north toward Oklahoma is the sticking point.

The sandy soils erode in a process called accretion, which wipes out the bank. So the property line follows the river.

BLM claims that the river moved by another process called avulsion. With avulsion, the land may be changed by flood or currents, but the property line isn't. So BLM claims that when the river moved back north, the property line stayed put.

It doesn't help that Oklahoma defines avulsion differently than Texas and the U.S.

"Originally, here the river was out there where it is now and it eroded and accreted up to here, and then it eroded and accreted back. Well, their interpretation is that it eroded up to here but avulsed back. So when you listen to them, it is always erosion to the south because the property line follows it then, but it's always avulsion when it goes north. So the boundary can move south but it can never move back north," said Henderson.

About 90,000 acres could be seized by BLM, disappearing across a new state line. If they are allowed to take the land, it could also affect farmers and ranchers down river like Scott Carpenter, who ranches north of Nocona.

BLM couldn't take his land, but there would be nothing to stop his neighbor across the river from claiming some of Scott's property belongs to him. That is just one of the reasons Carpenter wants to help.

"We have numerous places that have been in our family for over a hundred of years, and you hate to see land that people's worked hard for would lose," said Carpenter. "As producers, we are always on a defense. We have to make decisions to try to help ourselves to help one another."

Both ranchers have been in contact with U.S. Congressman Mac Thornberry, who is working to help stop the land grab. Henderson's land probably won't be affected this time, but he's hoping what happened to him won't happen to his fellow landowners.

Agriculture Market Summary

For the week ending April 26, feeder cattle prices reported by Texas auctions were mostly steady compared to their previous sale, though a few locations were as much as $5 lower per hundredweight (cwt) on a portion of their offerings and some were $5 higher. Texas direct feeder cattle prices were steady on cattle weighing less than 800 pounds and steady to $3 higher on heavier weights. Tight supplies and strong demand continue to support the feeder cattle market. Fed cattle cash prices were $0.67 lower per cwt. Wholesale beef values were higher. Beef export sales of 18,000 metric tons (MT) were down 18% from the previous week, but up 7% from the prior four-week average. The leading buyers were Mexico, South Korea and Japan. Shipments totaled 11,900 MT, down 6% from a week earlier and 3% lower than the average.

Wheat prices were higher amid concerns about dry conditions in U.S. winter wheat areas, earlier freeze damage and the continued turmoil in Ukraine. Export data were generally bearish. Wheat export sales of 339,100 MT were down 20% from a week earlier, but up 13% from the prior four-week average, and well within the range of pre-report expectations. The leading buyers were Japan, Taiwan and South Korea. Sales for the 2014/15 crop year totaled 271,700 MT. Shipments totaling 519,400 MT were down 4% from the previous week and down 3% from the average.

Corn and grain sorghum prices were higher because of concerns about planting delays and reports of a large U.S. grain sorghum sale to China. However, planting was just getting underway in the major Corn Belt states and farmers there could catch up very quickly. Export data were neutral to supportive. Corn export sales for the week totaled 618,900 MT, up 15% from the previous week and on the high end of pre-report expectations, but down 30% from the prior four-week average. The top buyers were South Korea, Japan and Columbia. An additional 382,900 MT were sold for the 2014/15 marketing year. Shipments of 1,621,100 MT were up 52% from a week earlier and 33% higher than the average.

Parts of East Texas, North Texas and the Edwards Plateau recorded one-half inch or more of rainfall last week, but most of the state saw little or no precipitation. Last week's U.S. Drought Monitor showed a decline in overall conditions in Texas, with 86% of the state now rated as abnormally dry or in some degree of drought, compared to 82% a week ago. Areas in the two worst categories of extreme and exceptional drought increased to cover a large part of West Texas. Almost all the High Plains and Northern Low Plains are in exceptional drought. Parts of East and South Texas and the Trans-Pecos remain drought-free. Nationally, conditions also slipped somewhat with 50% of the contiguous states reported in some degree of abnormal dryness or drought.

Farmland to tell farmers' and ranchers' stories

A new film that gives Texas families an opportunity to take an up close and personal look at how their food is grown and the people who grow it will debut in early May in five Texas cities.

Farmland, a documentary film by Oscar and two-time Emmy-winning filmmaker James Moll, follows six young farmers and ranchers who have taken over the family business of growing and raising food for families across the nation and world.

The film will debut in Austin, Houston, and Wylie at 7 p.m. on Thursday, May 1. Screenings in Dallas and Graham will follow at 7 p.m. on Thursday, May 8.

Brad Bellah, a sixth generation cattle rancher from Throckmorton, is featured in the 90-minute documentary.

"We encourage all Texans to see this captivating documentary," Texas Farm Bureau (TFB) President Kenneth Dierschke said. "It takes an intimate look at the hard work and sacrifice that these young men and women put into farming and ranching. It exposes the passion that thousands of people across this state have each day as they set out to grow our food and fiber."

"Farmland wasn't just made for the agricultural community," Dierschke said. "It was made to help everyone see what is involved in growing the foods we eat."

Ticket and theater information for Farmland can be found on FarmlandFilm.com.

Private property abuse is hard for Texans to swallow

By Gene Hall

There are two very different intrusions on the rights of Texas landowners in the news recently.

One is an attempt by EPA through a reinterpretation of the Clean Water Act. Under that new rule, if adopted, EPA could basically regulate anything that gets wet a ditch on your land or a field that might have standing water after a rain. In short, EPA could tell you how to farm.

The other is a direct seizure of land along the Red River. The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) is apparently going to lay claim to some 90,000 acres that are deeded to Texans, had taxes paid on by Texans, and farmed and ranched by Texans for generations.

Both cases are hard for Texans to swallow. Over 98% of the land in Texas is privately owned. We don't need or want the federal government taking our land or abusing our rights.

Texas farmers and ranchers are going to solve this problem through the courts, through Congress, our state government, and the court of public opinion.

Sometimes, EPA and BLM, when you bite off more than you can chew, you end up gagging. Welcome to Texas.

Muenster students tour JFK display

The Muenster UIL Academic Team and the One Act Play participants enjoyed a visit to the John F. Kennedy display at the Sixth Floor Museum in Dallas recently. The group first explored Dealey Plaza and saw the "X" in the street marking the location of President Kennedy's car when he was shot. Many appreciated being so close to a moment in history. They also viewed the impressive Romanesque architecture of the Dallas County Courthouse built in 1892 of redstone. Then the group moved inside the museum where each person received ear phones to hear recorded information keyed each exhibit.

The tour was very interesting for all. Some comments after the tour indicated that it was very similar to their class history books. Students appreciated the audio tour that gave different information than provided on the panels of the museum. The numerous flat screen and theater style videos were favorites of many. A model of the School Book Depository and surrounding streets with models of the vehicles and string showing the apparent line of fire from the window caught the interest of some. Others liked looking out the window to the street area below or viewing the numerous photographs. The tour was a first-time experience for most of the group.

After the tour, the group enjoyed a leisurely lunch at Spaghetti Warehouse. Those attending were Alyssa Barnes, Kevin Barnes, Mahayla Bohl, Devon Brinkley, Mason Davis, Eland Green, Tara Gunnels, Devon Hacker, Clayton Hess, Bailey Klement, Shelby Klement, Makayla Moster, Macie Pangel, McKenna Proffer, Nicole Rains, Klaina Reiter, Noel Rodriguez, Georgia T. Saavedra, Haiden Shook, Zach Trubenbach, Lora Walterscheid, Natalie Walterscheid, Reagan Weger, and Emma Wood. UIL coaches accompanying the students were Becky Felderhoff, Stephanie Krebs, Carolyn Lutkenhaus, Gynell Oppermann, Lisa Walterscheid, and Jeff Presnall.

BYRON BERRY'S
Commonsense Conservative Contract with Cooke County

Focus on Business Development
I will utilize my thirty years of experience as a businessman to promote economic development aimed at increasing our tax base and promoting good paying jobs—this will be my number one focus as County Judge.

Good Steward of Taxpayers Money
Utilizing my experience as a Certified Public Accountant I will ensure County tax revenue is being used efficiently—without cutting vital county services.

Advocate for Term Limits
I believe we need to limit the tenure in office of elected officials at all levels of government. For my part, I pledge to serve no more than two terms as Cooke County Judge.

Legal Oversight
I have spent a significant part of my legal career representing local, county, and special district taxing entities. I will utilize this knowledge to maximize county funds to promote economic development, pay for better roads, expand water supply, and provide quality law enforcement.

Compensation
Until as recently as twenty years ago the Cooke County Judge only received a small stipend. Most cities and school boards do not pay elected officials and we only pay our state legislators a minimal monthly salary. I believe public service should be just that—service.
I will not retain any payment for my services as County Judge and will donate my entire net earnings from the County Judge salary to several local charities, including, but not limited to, the Cooke County Volunteer Firefighters Organization, Cooke County Boys and Girls Club, and the local pro-life organization ABBA (All Babies Born Alive).
