VOLUME XXI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

DECEMBER 7, 1956

The magnificent courage of Hungarian patriots in resisting the brutal oppression of Soviet bosses and their local stooges continues to merit the admiration of all decent people. At the same time their devotion to freedom and human dignity, along with the defection of thousands of Soviet soldiers who would have no part in the Kremlin's barbarous suppression plans, reveals a spirit which will sooner or later blast the wicked red empire to pieces.

Regardless of Moscow's apparent gains during the past few weeks of Hungarian butchery and Suez confusion, this spirit, which burns in the hearts of Russians and captive peoples, points to communism's day of doom. But it has been so tragically nullified and lives have been so tragically wasted, by the failure of other people to help in the emergency.

A former Hungarian Premier, testifying before a House Un-American Activities Committee, said that the West has lost an opportunity to seriously weaken the communist empire. He thinks the free world should have made a show of force and demanded withdrawal of Soviet forces from Hungary. Such action, rather than mere sympathy and offers of refuge "could well have been the beginning of the end for the world communist movement."

Nothing could be more absurd than the attitude of the UN in this affair. The big majority of nations represented are deeply concerned over Russia's threat to global peace, most are worried also about their own survival, but still they favor Russia in their decisions. At Suez they ignore the broken contract which started all the trouble, then send a police force to restrain the countries that attempt to back up their just claim. Their action favors Nasser, the Kremlin stooge. Regarding Hungary, they back down before the snarls of Soviet delegates. They fail to send their police force, allowing Russia a free hand to carry on its treachery, deportation and butchery.

The distinction in policy was explained by a satellite UN delegate in a recent press conference. He said the legitimate government of Egypt has asked for UN help, but the legitimate government of Hungary has not asked. So the UN has a duty to go to Egypt but to stay out of Hungary. Whether or not other delegates accept that kind of twisted thinking as a valid reason is not mentioned, but the point is that their course of action harmonizes with it.

What kind of delegates are they to let such a statement go unchallenged? By what reasoning do they admit that the present ruling puppet and his staff of cut-throats can possibly deserve recognition as the legitimate government of Hungary?

A brief review of the past few weeks testifies unmistakably to the contrary. People of Hungary rose in rebellion against their Kremlin stooge. The Hungarian army and many of the Soviet soldiers stationed there aided in the rebellion. The revolt succeeded and the Hungarian patriots set up a new government with Imre Nagy as their premier. That was the legitimate government. A few days later Russia sent in an army of its most brutal barbarian soldiers. The country was overrun. Butchery and deportation was rampant. A new stooge was set up as head of the Hungarian government. Nagy was invited to a conference and treacherously kidnapped.

That is the situation. What's more, the legitimate government, though dispersed and in hiding, is still begging for UN help. But the weak kneed UN diplomats choose to recognize the pack of scoundrels.

All the facts are there, plain for anyone to see. Every delegate in the UN must know what the score is. Then why the inactivity? Is it possible that the whole crowd is simply scared stiff by the snarls of the big bad Russian bear?

A very plausible answer is that our own country, which is admitted as the only one in position to challenge a Russian policy, is the biggest slacker of them all. Most likely the majority of other countries would assert themselves on the side of justice if the United States would (Continued on Page 12)

Weekend Visitors

Delbert and Wilmer Walterscheid of Abilene spent Saturday and Sunday with homefolks here. The cousins entered the Air Force at the same time, are still roommates and work in the radio branch together.

Has 30 Day Leave

Ronald Fette is here on 30-day leave to visit homefolks. He had been training in Memphis, Tenn., at the Naval Air Technical Training Center and will go from here to Moffet Field, Calif., for his new assignment. He has a buddy as his guest, Joe Connors of Philadelphia, whose next assignment is in Mississippi.

Elementary Teams Spilt at Saint Jo

Elementary boys and girls of the public school divided with the Saint Jo kids Tuesday night in a season opener in the Saint Jo gym. Muenster boys had an easy time in their 37-19 win and the girls had a real tussle before losing 19-17.

Harris led the boys with a nice total of 20 points while Owens and Hudspeth scored 8 and 5. Mary Lee Dennis with 8 was high scorer for the girls.

The teams, coached by Weldon Holland, will see more action Friday when they face Montague in Forestburg's elementary tournament. Next Thursday Saint Jo will be here for a pair of return games.

Garden Club Will Meet Monday Night

A program on Christmas decorations will be presented to members of the Civic League and Garden Club next Monday when they have their December meeting in the home of Mrs. Ben Luke with Mrs. Anthony Luke as co-hostess.

Mrs. Dan Luke is in charge of the program hour and members will answer roll call by telling about a Christmas tradition in their families.

Meeting time is 8 p.m. and the hostesses invite a full attendance.

Parish Introduces Fund for Fleitman

A special fund to assist in defraying Frankie Fleitman's medical and rehabilitation expenses was introduced last Sunday in the Sacred Heart parish. Members at all services were invited to join in a parish project to help the young man, who was permanently injured while playing football on the parish high school team.

The fund, to be administered by the pastors of Sacred Heart parish, is intended as a sort of appreciation fund, to relieve the family of some of the expenses not covered by insurance. Contributions to the cause are being accepted by the three pastors, and donors are reminded that the amount is deductible on an income tax report.

SH Girls Win, Boys Lose, Hot Contests At Collinsville Hi

The prestige of the Sacred Heart High basketball teams took a lively jump Friday night as the teams split honors with Collinsville in a hot double header.

Sacred Heart girls were 51-47 winners over remnants of the team which won Interscholastic League state championship last year. The Tigers lost by a 31-28 count. Games were played at Collinsville.

Playing the preliminary, the girls played a sizzling contest all the way. Sacred Heart forged ahead in the early minutes for a margin which eventually proved to be the deciding factor in the game. After that the teams scrapped it out on even terms, Collinsville tying the count a few times but failing to get the lead. Scores for the quarters were 15-10, 23-21, 34-29 and 51-47. Derichsweiler had a huge night for a total of 36 and Haverkamp looped 8.

The situation was reversed in the boys' game. Sacred Heart fell behind in the first quarter and matched the host team the rest of the way, but that was the best they could do. They did not tie or lead at anytime. Scores ending the periods were 8-3, 16-12, 25-17 and 31-28. Virgil Henscheid and Sonny Walterscheid, with 13 and 12, led the Tiger attack.

Next on schedule for the teams are the Sacred Heart Exes, in the parochial gym Friday night at 7:30.

Holiday Tourney Brackets Complete

All the teams participating in this year's Invitation Holiday Tournament at Muenster High School are now determined. Superintendent Homsley stated this week that nine schools will be represented, seven with teams in each division and the other two with a team in only one division.

Entered in both divisions are Muenster, Sacred Heart, Bellevue, Midway, Goldburg, Forestburg and Petrolia. Prairie Valley will send boys only and Antelope will send girls only. The tournament will be held on December 27-28-29. Bracket lineups, schedules and other details will be announced at a later date.

Farmers Get Fish For Ponds Monday

Fifteen area farmers and the city of Muenster received channel cat and bluegill Monday when the Fish and Wildlife service made a delivery of fish here to stock farm ponds. The city's fish went into its new sewer lagoon where they will keep mosquitoes down to a minimum.

Farmers receiving fish were R. M. Zipper, D. R. Rosson, Bruno Fleitman, Tony Felderhoff, Adolph Walterscheid, W. R. Linn, Paul Fisher, Edgar Klement, Gussie Felderhoff, Norbert Felderhoff, J. J. Haverkamp, Frank Haverkamp, Fred Payne, Ike Fulton and Jake Biffle Sr.

Bass, bluegill and channel cat do well in farm ponds that are properly stocked and managed. Bass will be delivered next spring. Orders are placed through the local soil conservation office.

Farmers whose ponds were dry at this time are reminded to keep their names on the delivery list. They are also reminded to include their serial number with their names.

Parish Is Host for NCCW Meeting

All parishes of the Sherman deanery were represented by members of the NCCW here Tuesday when the Muenster council's women were hostesses for the quarterly meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women. Seventy-eight from nine parishes registered for the afternoon program.

The meeting began with benediction in Sacred Heart church at 1:30 and the business session followed immediately in the parochial grade school auditorium.

Mrs. Paul Fisher, president of the local unit, welcomed the group and Rev. Louis Deuster introduced visiting clergy.

Mrs. M. J. Reesby of Sherman gave an address on "Legislation" and afterwards was joined by Mrs. Leroy G. Hendrich and Mrs. Teresa Stuebinger, also of Sherman, in presenting a panel discussion on the Negro-White Problem.

Entertainment consisted of two piano and vocal numbers by Lu-Rena and Charlotte Wolf and a recitation on Christmas by Helen Fisher.

After adjournment, coffee and cookies were served in the Sacred Heart high school homemaking department.

The Very Rev. John Duesman of Sherman, deanery moderator, led the opening and closing prayer. Other pastors of the deanery attending were Rev. Conrad Herda of Lindsay, Rev. Wm. Lane of Gainesville, Rev. John Untereiner of Pilot Point, Rev. Anthony Gajda of Valley View, Rev. Henry McGill of Denton, Rev. George O'Rourke of Greenville, and Rev. Patrick Hannon of Muenster.

Mary Catherine Walterscheid returned to classes at Sacred Heart High school Tuesday following recovery from surgery performed Nov. 24. She says many thanks for the get-well cards, visits, and other kindnesses while she was sick.

Seniors Appear in Class Play Friday

"Orchids and Onions," a three act comedy on the social clashes of upper crusts and lower crusts, will be presented by Muenster High Seniors at two separate programs Friday.

The showing for school children is scheduled for Friday morning and that for the public is set for Friday night at 7:30.

A budding romance between two youngsters from opposite sides of the tracks provides the theme in the comedy. After that the love birds and their friends have quite a time dealing with a snooty old battle axe who is determined to stop her niece's marriage.

Former Marysville RFD Carrier Dies

W. L. Young, 73, former rural mail carrier at Marysville and well known in this area, died Saturday at Tyler where he had lived for the past 11 years.

Funeral services were held Sunday at Marysville Methodist church at 2:30 with the Rev. R. C. May, pastor, officiating. Burial in Marysville cemetery was directed by George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home.

William L. Young was born Sept. 1, 1883, in Rockwall. He was married in Marysville to Florence Sapp on Dec. 4, 1904, and carried mail in northwest Cooke county for many years before his retirement.

He was a member of the Fish Creek Masonic lodge and the Methodist church.

Survivors are his wife; four sons, E. W. Young of Hereford, Wayne and Paul Young of Tyler and Raymond Young of Houston; a daughter, Miss Evelyn Young of Tyler; two brothers, Fred Young of Marble Falls and Jack Young of Marble Falls; three sisters, Mrs. C. S. Hobbs and Mrs. M. C. Young of Gainesville and Mrs. A. E. Green of Oklahoma City; 11 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

MHS Girls Lose 2 Games at Nocona

Playing Nocona in their first test of the current basketball season, the girls of Muenster High School looked okay in their floor work but not so good in their shooting. In a double header Monday night Muenster's femmes went down 75-30 in the A string game and 32-9 in the B game.

Nocona's girls are good, Coach Hosea said, and they deserved to win, but the margin should have been considerably smaller. Muenster missed too many shots that should have counted.

Hosea's boys are still waiting for their first game. Their first action was a scrimmage with Saint Jo here Tuesday afternoon and they will go to Saint Jo next Tuesday for another practice session. Girls also practiced with Saint Jo and will have another session next Tuesday.

Both teams will participate in the invitation tournament at Callisburg next weekend. The week before Christmas they will play their first games of the 10-B schedule, Alvord there on the 18th and Callisburg here on the 21st.

Elementary Kids Of County Organize Basketball League

Elementary kids of Cooke County, both boys and girls, will have an opportunity to compete in a basketball district this school year. Membership, which is limited to public schools of the county, includes Muenster, Gainesville, Era, Valley View, Callisburg, Walnut Bend and Rad Ware in the boys' loop and the same schools except Gainesville and Walnut Bend in the girls' loop.

Players will be seventh and eighth graders except the Gainesville team, which is limited to seventh graders.

Conference play, beginning on Jan. 3, will consist of a single round robin schedule followed by a tournament at the end of the season.

Preview Indicates Big and Colorful Christmas Parade

Another dandy pre-Christmas parade seems to be in the making as committee members this week reviewed their lists of known entries in the several categories and plans for moving it along in an orderly manner.

Indications Tuesday were that there will be 20 to 25 display floats in the affair. The lineup will represent both schools, several local societies and service clubs and a dozen or more business firms.

Also included are high school bands from Muenster, Gainesville, Callisburg and Lake Worth and a drum and bugle unit from the State School of Gainesville. Another possible entry is Jacksboro High School.

Other entries assured are the National Guard unit of Gainesville, the Gainesville Riding Club and an undetermined number of horsemen from Muenster. A general invitation has been extended to local riders but the number of persons responding is not known.

Most important to the small fry is Santa Claus with 2,000 sacks of candy. He will start his job a couple of hours before the parade, visiting both schools and giving candy to all the elementary kids. The early visit was arranged so that he can give all his time during and after the parade to the preschool kiddies... and also to give the tiny tots a chance. Last year many of the little ones were crowded out by the more aggressive big kids.

Santa will most likely treat the children during the band concert time. Bands will be invited to drop out of the parade as it returns up Oak Street and come back to Main for individual performances.

The parade will assemble on the streets south and west of the public school under direction of Jimmy Lehnertz and Buck Wilson. It will enter Main at Eighth Street, proceed to the highway thence a block east and return north on Oak Street.

FFA Broiler House Damaged by Blaze

A fire in the FFA broiler house at the public school Tuesday afternoon destroyed a considerable part of the floor and the feed storage room before it was brought under control by the city's volunteer firemen.

Its cause has not been determined but, judging from the location of greatest damage, it is believed that burning scraps were blown under the building from a trash fire. The blaze was going strong when discovered but firemen responded promptly and had it under control a few minutes after arriving. Walls, ceiling and rafters were not badly damaged.

The fire will bring at least a temporary halt to the chapter's broiler project, and it also forces the members to find other homes for some 300 chicks that were scheduled for arrival this week. No chickens were there at the time of the fire.

Larry Grewing, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Grewing, remains a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium where his illness has been diagnosed as spinal meningitis. The little boy is responding favorably to treatment and will apparently make a normal recovery.

Auxiliary Slates Kiddies Yule Party For December 16

Completion of plans for their annual Christmas party and work on decorations for their float for the Christmas parade occupied members of the VFW Auxiliary at their meeting Monday night.

The party as always will be for members' pre-school age children, but this year the youngsters' mothers and daddies are invited to attend the event. There will be gifts for the kiddies but no gift exchange among the grownups.

Sunday afternoon, Dec. 16, is the date for the party. It will be held in the Post Hall from three to five o'clock. Santa will be present to distribute the gifts around a decorated tree and hostesses will serve refreshments to everyone attending.

Chairmen of working committees for the event are Mrs. Al Horn, tree; Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid, Santa's appearance; Mrs. John Huchton, gifts; Mrs. Richard Swirczynski, refreshments.

Other business included the writing of gift checks. Two fifty dollar checks will go to two local families with crippled children — this is from the Buddy Poppy fund — ten dollars has gone into the Frank Fleitman fund, five dollars toward the purchase of the firemen's resuscitator, and the final check into the National Muscular Dystrophy Foundation Fund.

Mrs. L. J. Roberg, senior vice president, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Emmet Fette was reinstated as a member. Refreshments were served after adjournment and then the members worked on decoration for their Christmas float. The float committee is headed by Mrs. John Huchton and she and her helpers have been working during the week also on the float in Ray Swirczynski's garage.

UNFINISHED SYMPHONIES

If you've seen the 1957 cars — as who hasn't — you know they've got power enough to fly. And certainly — with their longer, lower lines, and with those upswept fenders beneath which the smaller wheels seem already half-retracted — these new projectiles give the impression of taking off for the wild blue yonder.

But, like the horseless carriage from which they sprang, they are still intended to stay on the ground, and still required to stop as well as to go. More over, since the motor millennium is not yet, there will be times when some of them will be stopped because they can't go. If the driver is able to pull off the travelled highway before misfortune completely stalls his progress, he may tinker or change a tire or go for help or more gas is comparative safety — to himself, his car and the others that whiz by him.

But as it stands now, the most modern and completely equipped glamor car you can buy offers no protection to driver or passengers — or to oncoming traffic — if and when it is stalled on the pavement. Four headlights, push-button control, power steering and brakes, aerodynamic styling are no help to the "sitting duck," as truck drivers call such a vehicle. Truck drivers, incidentally, carry portable reflectors or pot torches that they set out to distinguish their vehicles in this situation. But we never knew a passenger car owner who carried such paraphernalia.

Oddly enough, every car that has been built in America in recent years has the basic equipment to flash the warning a quarter of a mile in the darkness of night that it is stopped, and is an obstruction on the travelled road. We prefer to the standard flashing turn signals. And all that is needed is a simple extra switch that will cause all four of these signals to flash simultaneously.

Why the car makers have not given us this obviously needed safety feature in the new models, we wouldn't know. It would cost little and go far toward eliminating the "sitting duck" accidents that cost 1,280 lives last year and injured 151,060!

Perhaps they are saving it for 1958. But, unfortunately, you do not have to wait. If your car has turn signals, you can now buy a switch that will convert them, at the flick of a finger, into life-saving disablement flares. The cost is trifling — compared with that of a single pint of blood.

Jones had taken a taxi, only to discover on approaching his destination that his wallet was empty. "Stop," he shouted to the driver, and jumped out. "I just want to go in this drug store and get some matches," he explained. "I've dropped a $20 bill somewhere in the cab and can't find it in the dark." When he came out the cab had vanished into the night, as he had anticipated.

Yule Decorations Shown at 4-H Meet

Members of the Sacred Heart school's junior and intermediate 4-H girls clubs held a joint meeting Wednesday afternoon with Miss Yvonne Allen, assistant home demonstration agent, presenting the demonstration of Christmas decorations.

After the program there was singing and refreshments. Mrs. Paul Endres and Mrs. Paul Fisher, club sponsors, attended the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Richey and daughter Linda and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rinford of Gainesville spent the weekend in Oklahoma City visiting the Richeys' daughter Wanda and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Clements.

An American was explaining to a British visitor the construction of an electrical sign his concern was about to place on Times square, New York. "It will contain," he said, "20,000 red lights, 17,000 white lights and 10,000 blue lights, and a central sunburst of green and orange."

The Englishman was impressed. "Most extraordinary," he said. "But don't you think, old chap, that it will be just a bit conspicuous?"

Many tombstones are carved by chiseling in traffic.

COMMUNIST TACTIC OF "INDEPENDENCE"

If the Soviet Communist bosses weren't sincere when they brought forth their "independent" Communist government in Poland, what line of strategy were they taking? This is a question that many people have asked me in recent weeks. If you had followed the antics of the Red leaders and studied the substance of Communism itself for the last 25 years, the answer would be obvious. The granting of "independence" to Poland's Communist government simply was a fraud designed to make the rest of the world, particularly the Socialist nations, think the Kremlin bosses have a new and sweeter countenance. Unfortunately for the Reds, the Hungarian revolt against every aspect of Communism blew up in their face and proved again to any halfway-informed person that Communism is thoroughly evil and that its object of world conquest is never-changing. One of the world's leading scholars on Communism, Dr. Fred Schwarz of Sidney, Australia, sent me his analysis of the Kremlin's recent moves. His letter was mailed while he was enroute to India.

World Divided

"Roughly speaking," said Dr. Schwarz, "the world is divided into three thirds: the Communist third, the Socialist third, and the Capitalist third. The Communist policy (decided, in this instance, in 1952) was to establish a united Communist-Socialist front, giving them two-thirds of the world's population and a comparatively easy task in liquidating the Capitalist third. The major barriers to this united front were not disagreements between Socialists and Communists on economic measures. The Socialists approved the Communists expropriation of business, nationalization of banking, collectivization of agriculture and so forth. The major barriers were:

"(1) The Communist record of murder, treachery, and contempt for all civilized values. (2) The established fact that partnership with Communism invariably ended in enslavement under the Russian Communist Party as shown by the satellite countries. (3) The disciplining of the national Communist parties by the Russian Communist Party, making them agents of a foreign power.

Removing Barriers

"Practical and dramatic steps had to be taken to remove these barriers. Stalin died. The murder, treachery and lust of Communism was heaped on his dead body. Some of the prison doors were opened and his victims released. A pilgrimage to Belgrade, with Bulganin and Khrushchev humbling themselves before Tito and extolling his virtues constituted an invitation to all satellite countries to follow his example of 'independence.' The risks taken by the Russians were twofold:

"1. The independence movement may take an anti-Communist as well as an anti-Russian turn. This is not the plan. At the moment this appears to have been avoided in Poland but to have developed dramatically in Hungary. This is not a major danger, as the Russian forces are present to assist the 'national independent Communist Party' in the satellite countries to maintain order, on the 'invitation' of the satellite. Experience in East Germany, Poland and now in Hungary has proved that such revolts can be quite easily crushed.

Opposition Not Definite

"2. American intervention is a

Ridiculous, to Put It Mildly

danger considered by the Red masters. Secretary Dulles quickly settled this by stating that we would not intervene if the Russians used military force against Poland as that would lead to World War III and result in the extermination of the Poles. I'm sure the implications of this statement were not lost on other European countries. Logically applied it would seem to wipe out a potentially decisive factor in the defense of any European country. "The stakes in this Russian game were high," wrote Dr. Schwarz. "They are India, Indonesia, Japan and in Arab countries. The tragic but magnificent fight of the Hungarians and the U. N. action in Egypt may hurt the Reds, but don't let us rejoice too soon. Soviet Communism, on balance, continues toward world domination."

We must never again be fooled by the tactics of this evil force.

An Answer To Automation

By John Q. Adams, President, Manhattan Refrigerating Co.

AUTOMATION is a word that is a source of fear and uneasiness to many of us. We read in Newsweek, "Ford's automatic engine plant turns out twice as many engines as an old-style plant, with one-tenth the manpower." All over the country it's the same story—machines and automatic devices are gradually replacing man.

There is nothing new about man's fear of machines; it has existed throughout the ages. The Industrial Revolution in England had a tragic impact upon the lives of many people. Ruthlessly workers were displaced by the first power-driven machines. They were turned into the streets to wander about homeless and hungry. In fear and desperation the workers struck back at the selfish owners of the machines.

AND NOW automation, the "industrial revolution" of our day, is bringing in its wake the threat of social and economic problems—unemployment—elimination of long acquired skills,—disruption of family life of the worker by the abandonment of inefficient plants.

The peaceful solution to our revolution calls for unselfish cooperation between workers and owners, and the courageous application of sound Christian social principles. In facing up to the industrial issues of our day we must always take account of the fundamental dignity of the individual—a person who has in the depth of his being an image of his God.

TECHNOLOGICAL ADVANCES are to be welcomed if they have a constructive influence on the individual and upon those God-given institutions of marriage and the family, and private property—institutions which tend of their very nature to form him as a person.

To the spectre of unemployment we must explore the possibilities of annual wages, stabilized employment, and the retaining of displaced workers.

TO THE RESCUE of the family, caught in the unrealistic wage rates fixed for single and married workers alike, we must propose continuous exploration of the family allowance idea.

Deep consideration must be given to the human problems involved before a factory is abandoned. Regard must be had for lost wages, moving expenses, and for possible losses in selling homes or cancelling leases.

NEVER IN OUR TIMES, has the Christian mind been called upon to exercise its judgment with justice and charity in a more challenging situation.

MHS Talent Show Draws 20 Entries

With twenty entries and an applauding audience, the MHS seniors' Talent Show Friday night was an enjoyable event in the school auditorium.

The one hour and thirty minute program presented two divisions, junior and senior, and two classes, musical and variety. First place winners received trophies, second place winners received medals, third place winners, a gift; and all entries in the junior division received a small gift. Carol Henscheid won first place in the junior musical division, Robert Fetsch was second and Kathy McGannon, third. All three gave piano selections.

Mike Hosea sang his way to first place in the junior variety division, Charlotte Wolf was second with a song and Billy Dean Owen was third with a vocal solo.

In the senior musical division Margie Milner was first with a piano number, Dan Hamric second with a trumpet solo and the Dance Band third. In the variety presentation Helen Fisher came out on top with a monologue, Pat Knight of Era was next with a song and Pat Cain was third with a pantomime impersonation of Elvis Presley.

Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Anderson of Gainesville and Mrs. Lester Victor of Saint Jo.

St. Anne's Society Has Meeting Sunday

At a regular meeting Sunday afternoon members of St. Anne's Society discussed routine business and heard a talk by Father Patrick Hannon. The women met in the school library following a prayer service in church. Thirty one were present.

Father Patrick, spiritual adviser, spoke on the true meaning of Christmas and urged its observance as a holy day instead of a holiday. He also spoke briefly on the Frank Fleitman fund and members voted a ten dollar contribution. They will add more to the fund at a later date.

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, mission chairman, emphasized that she is "still in the business" of collecting used clothing for the poor and that her home is still the collection depot for these articles for the missions and other needy persons. She is continuing this project as she has conducted it in the past, on a year 'round basis.

The group made arrangements for Christmas gifts for the pastors and sisters.

Mrs. Victor Hartman conducted the meeting and Mrs. Frank Trachta won the attendance prize.

FHA Girls Observe Homemaker Day by Taking Examination

Girls of Muenster High's FHA chapter joined 300,000 others throughout the United States in observing "Homemaker of Tomorrow Day" Tuesday. Simultaneously in the nation's high schools, graduating girls tested their homemaking knowledge and attitude in a 50-minute written examination. A total of $106,000 in scholarships is offered by General Mills in this third annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The girl with the highest test score in each school will be named Homemaker of Tomorrow for her school and will receive an award pin. Her test will be entered in competition for $1,500 and $500 scholarships which will be awarded each state winner and the runner-up respectively. The school of each state winner will receive a complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica. The 48 state winners will receive expense paid trips to Washington, D.C., and one of them will be announced as the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow with an increase of her scholarship to $5,000.

Each girl who takes the test will receive a new aid to self analysis called "Betty Crocker's Homemaker Profiler and Guide to Homemaking."

Soldiers Field in Chicago has the largest seating capacity of any stadium in America.

Four-H Girls Have Candy Demonstration

At special 4-H club meetings Friday afternoon, intermediate and junior girls had demonstrations on candy making. They made chocolate fudge and Christmas bars.

Mrs. Paul Endres presented the demonstration for the intermediate group and Mrs. Paul Fisher for the juniors.

The candy was packed and sealed in cartons to be served at the clubs' Christmas meetings.

Knots in pine logs are almost imperishable, decaying much less rapidly than the log itself.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Coastal Bermuda

Land going into Bermuda grass next spring should be prepared now, say technicians of the local soil conservation office. A seed-bed plowed and prepared at this time will store moisture all winter and will be in good shape to plant roots early in the spring.

Coastal Bermuda grass has earned its right to stay in the Muenster area. Several trial plantings made by cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District last spring have survived one of history's worst droughts and have greened up following recent rains. Coastal is an improved strain of Bermuda grass. It will grow anywhere that common Bermuda will grow, but has the capacity to outgrow the common variety as much as three to five times. When fertilized properly Coastal produces a high protein forage crop.

An indication of the yields to be expected from this hybrid grass can be gained by results obtained by John Cunningham of Gainesville who cut over 7000 pounds of hay off of a first year's planting of Coastal last year.

Coastal is a hybrid and produces no seed. Roots are planted to obtain the grass. Most landowners are planting small acreages of this grass to be used as nursery plots to produce their own roots to enlarge their plantings. Good grass stops erosion, cuts down overhead costs and is the cheapest feed for livestock. Landowners are urged to plan now to get a start of this improved, high producing grass. The local soil conservation service personnel will assist in planning, preparing and planting the grass.

Waterways

Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District in the Muenster area are getting land ear-marked for waterways and plowed in preparation for planting to grass next spring. Sloping fields need terraces. And terraces must have safe outlets so when a safe outlet is not available, a waterway must be planted to provide the safe outlet for terrace water.

Waterway areas have been marked out and seedbeds are being prepared on the C. A. Morris farm at Hood, the Emmett Sicking and Frank Bayer farms near Myra and on the Wilfred Reiter farm at Muenster.

Tanks and Terraces

Earthen tanks to provide water for livestock have recently been completed on the J. C. Donnell farm at Hardy and on the Judge Holland farm at Forestburg. Other ponds are under construction on the Buckner Ranch and on the Pierce farm north of Muenster.

Andrew Fleitman has completed 7500 feet of channel type terraces on his farm south of Muenster. These are the wide, easy-to-cross type and empty into wide grass waterways put in to provide safe outlets for terrace water.

Steve Moster and Ed Endres spent Monday attending a Civil Defense school at TSCW in Denton. For Region 5, city officials and others were present from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

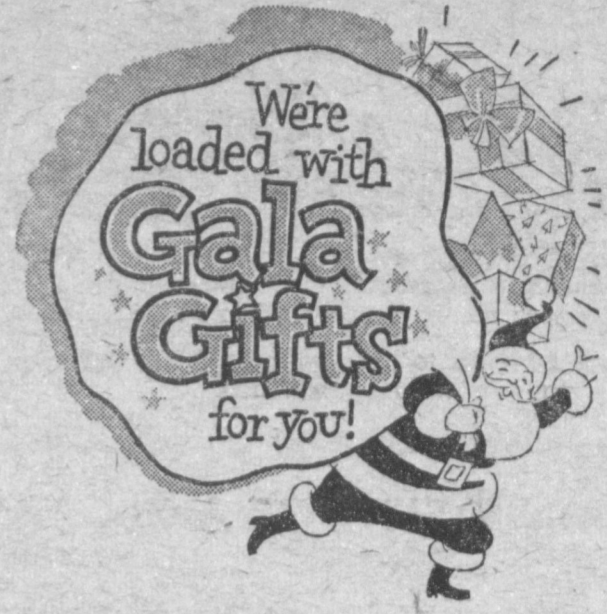

THIRD ORDER SERVICES

At its regular meeting next Sunday the Third Order of St. Francis will hold ceremonies of profession for four new members. The ceremony will follow the monthly prayer service in Sacred Heart church at 2:30.

Jim Walker Honored At Birthday Dinner

Jim Walker was honored with a birthday observance Thursday, Nov. 29, when he was 69 years old.

Joining him and his mother, Mrs. Ada Walker, at their home for the occasion to spend the day were his children Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Corley and family of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Luttmir and family of Valley View. Another daughter, Mrs. Edith Butcher of San Antonio was unable to attend but sent a gift and greetings.

The family enjoyed a turkey dinner and there was a decorated cake and birthday gifts for the honor guest.

Fluoride Helpful To Dental Health Of Older Children

New evidence has been offered today indicating that older children, as well as babies, are helped by putting fluoride into drinking water.

Seven scientists from the National Institute of Dental Research, a government agency, came up with a big mouthful of statistics to show fluoridation enables youngsters to drink away their toothaches.

Meanwhile, the scientists splashed cold water on fears that this tooth-saving chemical may harm the gums and thus produce pyorrhea in older folks.

Dr. F. A. Arnold Jr., director of the institute, repeated what has been found in other studies—that children who drink fluoridated water from the day they're born have 60 to 65 per cent fewer cavities.

But, he told the American Public Health Assn. this isn't all, for it now looks like older children, those whose permanent teeth had already sprouted before they started drinking such water, also derive benefits.

Dr. Arnold said latest figures from Grand Rapids, Mich., where water fluoridation began 11 years ago, show tooth decay in these older children has been cut by about one-fourth.

When cavities do crop up they generally are smaller than usual.

Dr. A. L. Russell reported a study of 20,000 persons in three states—New York, Colorado and Texas—revealed fluoridated water doesn't harm the gums which hold the teeth, as claimed by some people who oppose use of fluoride.

Pause For Reflection

... with James C. Ingebretsen President, Spiritual Mobilization
An old story reminds us: "If a frog is dropped into a kettle of hot water, he will immediately jump out. But, if the same frog is put in a kettle of cool water and the water is gradually heated to boiling, the frog will be cooked. He cannot make up his mind at what point to jump out!"

That, I think, illustrates almost exactly our predicament as a nation. We have been plopped into the simmering kettle of collectivism and, finding it not too uncomfortable, have not been able to make up our minds whether to stay in or jump out. But, by almost imperceptible degrees, the water is getting hotter: Federal aid to schools (and, sooner or later, Federal control of them), compulsory health insurance, and weakening of the Taft-Hartley Act are, we are told, in the offing.

Are we — or are we not — going to have the moral strength to jump out of the kettle before we get cooked?

A visitor stopped at a club room to pass the time of day and noticed three men and a dog playing draw poker. "Sure must be a smart dog," commented the stranger.
"Now, he ain't so smart," piped up one of the trio. "Everytime he gets a good hand he wags his tail."

FFA Clears $56 on Donkey Basketball

The winner at the Donkey Basketball game in the MHS gym Monday night was the FFA Chapter. As sponsoring organization it realized a net profit of $56.

No winner was determined in the contest, at least no one seems to know the score or which team was leading. The reason, apparently, is that the score was only incidental. Contestants had a full time job of managing the obstinate animals and fouling each other and did not find much time for shooting baskets. Competing were the Muenster High faculty and the Lions club.

Farm Bureau Names 8 Committee Heads

Chairmen to head eight committees of the Cooke County Farm Bureau were named Monday night at a meeting of directors in the bureau's office. Committee chairmen are: Ben Davis, membership; Jay Pybas, legislative; Leroy Hay, resolutions; L. G. Gentle, service; Mrs. Jay Pybas, recreation; Ruben Hassenpflug, wheat; Ben Davis, cotton; and Tony Sicking, budget.

President Joe B. Hundt presided and announced that a meeting for members will be held next Monday, Dec. 10, in the office to make Farm Bureau plans for the coming year. Melvin Dansby, district representative, will be present to help outline the program.

After the business, Norma Jean Walterscheid, county farm queen, gave an interesting report on her trip to Houston.

The evening's entertainment will include rhythm band selections by grades one, two and three; a choral reading, "Twas the Night Before Christmas," by fourth and fifth graders; a dramatization of the Christmas Story by the sixth and seventh grades; and a one-act Christmas comedy, "Camouflage," by the high school.

take a firm stand. As so often before, we are passing up a wonderful opportunity to turn back Russia's campaign of world conquest. If our delegation insisted on a course of justice and right, and called on other nations to stand and be counted, the UN would lose little time in handing down a fair and adequate decision.

Furthermore, the possibilities of such a decision go much farther than the present Hungarian problem. Every satellite is a powder keg. Russia itself has a mess of internal trouble. Given the assurance that they can depend on help, those people would gladly put an end to the Kremlin's dreams of world conquest.

We worry about the risk of starting a world war. We'll get along better if we think first of justice and let the communists worry about their own risk if they choose to make it a big fight.

Taxes Are Higher Than You Think

Citizens Public Expenditure Survey suggests that "if you want to win a bet, bet your neighbor he can't tell you how much taxes he pays in a year." The odds are overwhelming that he can't — because of the vast number of hidden, indirect, and so-called "painless" taxes that exist.

Here's the way the tax bill works out, according to a recent authoritative computation. If you make $67.30 a week, you pay $1,043 a year in taxes. If you make $86.54 a week, you pay $1,425 a year. And if you've got a job paying $7,500 a year, the tax collectors will get $2,637 of it — more than a third.

The survey states: "At $86.54 a week, you work more hours to pay your taxes than for food and clothing combined!" Tell that to those who still say that taxation is a serious problem only to the rich!

Alice Voth of Lindsay was a guest of Viola Flusche in the C. M. Flusche home at Decatur during the Thanksgiving holidays.

A Texan visiting Australia saw a kangaroo for the first time and drawled, "Ah'll grant you one thing for sure, your grasshoppers are bigger than ours."

The young man looked at the high prices on the night club menu and then turned to his date and said, "What will you have, my plump little doll?"

Safety Man Urges Caution to Avoid Yule Tree Fires

Speaking from his Austin office, J. O. "Jim" Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, issued a word of caution to Texans, today, regarding Christmas tree-decorating safety.

"Accidents at Christmas time always seem so much more tragic," Musick said. "And this is especially true if the accident results in a fire that costs a family their home, maybe serious injury to one of the family."

Musick pointed out that most of this type of accident is easily preventable, if only a few common sense precautions are taken. As an example he listed the following eight rules which he considers "musts" in safe decorating:

1. Keep tree outside until time to trim.
 2. Place tree away from all heating units.
 3. Use non-flammable decorations.
 4. Never use candles near tree.
 5. Make sure lights, sockets and wiring are in good condition.
 6. Anchor tree, at top, with wire to prevent it from falling.
 7. Turn off tree lights at bedtime or when away from home.
 8. Dispose of tree safely; never burn in fireplace.
- "Remember," he concluded. "It takes less than 60 seconds for the average tree to burn up completely, so make your Christmas a bright one, but with happiness — not with fire."
