Presidential Hopeful Adlai Stevenson in one of his typically witty campaign quips observes that "every four years the Republican candidates talk like Democrats but they don't seem to remember their Democratic ideas long enough."

All of us will agree that he has a lot of truth in his statement. Like the Democrats, the GOP boys like to dish out the flowery oratory on peace, prosperity, greater social gains, opposition to the communists and all those other subjects which have the voters' general approval, hence are not issues at all.

Adlai failed to mention, however, that a great deal of the 1952 Republican talk definitely did not parrot the Democrats. We heard about cleaning up the mess in Washington, of states' rights, of economy in government, of the pussyfoot policy in the Korean War, of abandoning Americans behind the Iron Curtain . . . good straightforward American talk which appealed to the voters.

So, while Stevenson is partly right in his sage observation, the greater and more important fact to us voters is that the Republican candidates forgot too much of what they said in 1952 and acted too much like Democrats when they got in office.

The Republicans did not stick with their pious talk about states' rights but continued to build on the huge centralized bureaucracy founded by the New Deal. They did not check the global spread of communism nor attempt to correct the wrongs allowed and encouraged by the New Deal in Asia. They did not deliver Americans from red prisons nor try to vindicate MacArthur. They did not eliminate wild spending nor reduce the debt nor cut the confiscatory tax rate. They just administered with the same old extravagance and appeasement, irrespective of the landslide of votes which favored a change.

Candidate Stevenson is talking through his hat when he criticizes the Republicans for too much Democratic talk and too little Democratic action. The great fault is that too little Republican talk has been put into action. And the net result is that the great American electorate is confronted with selecting not the better of two campaign pitches but rather the lesser of two administrative disappointments.

Because of the circumstance yours truly fervently hopes that a really effective political force will grow out of the conservative movement which has been shaping up during the past few weeks. What this country needs is a return to some of the old ideas of Americanism, with respect for the traditional principles of free enterprise, moderate taxation, and freedom from official interference rather than the bureaucratic, socialistic policies toward which the liberals of both major parties have been drifting . . . and which Candidate Stevenson proudly proclaims as the march along the road to a new America.

In the opinion of this column the principal merit in the Republican party is that it has not proceeded quite as far along the way of liberalism and socialism. Despite going along with the Democrats on centralization, extravagance, red pampering and global pussy footing, the Republicans are nevertheless more traditionally American on the subject of domestic economy. They have checked the trend toward government owned business. They have recognized states' claims to natural resources. They have started to correct the agricultural problems growing out of extravagant farm subsidies. They are infinitely closer to conservative standards than the Democrats.

Equally important as an asset on the GOP ticket is the great personal esteem, both domestic and global, enjoyed by President Eisenhower. His speech is marked by dignity and sincerity, not by flippancy and wit. His personality is the nation's best for inspiring confidence.

Even people who worry about Ike's physical condition have good reason to be partial to the Republican ticket . . . because the number two man on it is still head and shoulders above

New Variety Store Will Open Oct. 11 With 3-Day Sale

A grand opening sale starting on October 11 will start the Variety store in its new building according to plans revealed this week by Tony Luke, owner.

First steps toward occupying the new location got under way Wednesday when installation of fixtures was started promptly after completion of the floor covering job on Tuesday. All work at the front of the store is finished now and remaining jobs in the storeroom will be finished in the next few days.

Fixtures are expected to be ready in time for starting to move in stock on Tuesday of next week.

Not all of the Variety's merchandise will be moved to the new location. Discontinued lines, overstocked items, and odds and ends will be left in the old store for a big final clearance sale just before or after the opening of the new store.

The Variety Store, with a sales floor of 37x75 and a more efficient use of display space, will have room for more than twice as much merchandise as the old location. The storage room at the back, measuring 37x19, will also provide increased space in addition to an office, a rest room and heating and cooling equipment.

The store will occupy the north part of the 65x100 building. No occupant has been announced to date for the south part, which temporarily remains unfinished.

Colors in the store are lemon for the two side walls and turquoise for the back wall. The entire front including doors is plate glass. The ceiling is cream colored with four double rows of slim-line light tubes, the floor is tan and brown asphalt tile. A combination heating and air conditioning unit controls the temperature.

Tigers Will Meet Greenhill Hornets Here Friday at 8

Coach Jerry Vernon promises another good football contest . . . and, he is confident, another win for his Sacred Heart Tigers . . . Friday night when the Greenhill Hornets of Dallas invade Sacred Heart field. He has been assured by the Greenhill coach that this affair will not be at 52-0 fiasco.

The basis for that promise is the fact that the Hornets of Big D are considerably stronger than they were in '55. They opened their season last week with a win and they have visions of adding another this week, furthermore they wish very much to blot out the memory of their humiliating loss last year.

The Tigers, on the other hand, have other notions. A rugged game with Windthorst last week featured a powerful defense that held the Trojans practically helpless in the second half, and will likely hold the Hornets this week. Besides, another week of practice will sharpen the offense that worked mighty smoothly in spots.

The pride of the Tiger team is a husky, scrappy line which simplifies the ball carrying job considerably for Mollenkopf, Henschel, Wolf and Fuhrmann.

Parochial Cubs Play Nocona Thursday, Big D Kids Sunday

Father Patrick Hannon's Sacred Heart Cubs, the seventh and eighth graders, will start their 1956 football season this week-end with a rugged two-game program.

Thursday night they will go to Nocona for a tussle with the Pee Wees of that school and Sunday afternoon at 3 they will be host to the kids from Father Joe Weinzapfel's school, St. Bernard's of Dallas.

Father Pat is looking forward to a nice grid season. He said his lads are shaping into an aggressive well balanced team. His greatest handicap will be lack of weight, but even that factor will not be as great as last year because his opponents will not have ninth graders.

Most likely the youngsters will have a regular conference schedule. Efforts are under way now to organize a Pee Wee League of

'57 Motor Vehicle Inspections Begin

Motor vehicle inspection for 1957 became available at four Muenster firms last Saturday with the official opening of the statewide inspection period, which extends from Sept. 15 to April 15, 1957. The four local stations are Ed's Automotive Shop, Tuggle and Yosten Motor Co., Endres Motor Co. and J. B. Wilde Chevrolet Dealer.

In announcing the beginning of inspections last week, Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, urged all motorists to have their vehicles inspected as soon as possible in order to avoid the usual rush during the last few weeks preceding the deadline. Safety inspection stickers must be displayed on all cars by April 15, 1957.

Tigers Open Grid Season With 20-6 Win Over Trojans

It took two quarters for the Sacred Heart Tigers to get the measure of the Windthorst Trojans last Thursday night, but from then on they took complete charge and racked up a neat 20-6 decision as a starter for their 1956 grid season.

With the opening of the second half kickoff Coach Jerry Vernon's boys seemed as though they had been wised-up and spunked-up during the intermission. They outfought and outfoxed their visitors all through the rest of the game, scoring two touchdowns and allowing Windthorst a net gain of only 8 yards . . . a deficit of 5 on the ground and a single pass completion for 13.

As the game opened the Tigers seemed to be clicking fine. Mollenkopf stepped off 11 on two attempts and Henschel promptly connected with Fleitman for 10. But that play ushered in the first bit of trouble. The gain ended in a fumble recovered by the Trojans.

Just as suddenly Windthorst passed for 20, then booted after failing on the next series. The kick rolled out on the Tiger 11. For the rest of the quarter Sacred Heart fought with its back

Hear From Sons Overseas
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoenig have interesting letters from both their sons in the service overseas. Jerry, with the Marines on Okinawa, tells of going to Japan with a group of boys and their chaplain to attend a retreat. They also had time for recreation and it was then that Jerry looked up Meinrad Yosten and they had a fine visit. A typhoon had hit Okinawa while they were away and they found much damage on their return. Said to be the worst typhoon ever to hit Okinawa, the wind measured 166 miles an hour — until it broke the gauge. Raymond Hoenig, with the army in Germany, had a week's leave and spent it in Italy, mostly in Rome, and said it was a week packed with sight-seeing.

Charm Shop and Hamric's Opening Dated for Oct. 13

The Charm Shop and Hamric's will be in their new locations on October 1, if they can hold to their present schedule of installing fixtures and moving merchandise. Fixture installations in both of the adjoining locations is due to follow promptly after completion of floor covering, which got started Wednesday. They will have their joint formal opening on October 13.

The two firms will be side by side in the new Weinzapfel building, separated by a partial wall topped with a full length brick planter of flowers. The wall starts some 10 feet back from a double door main entrance serving both stores.

Interior finish on both sides is identical. Side walls and partitions are sunset rose color. The rear wall is the same color to the level of the planter and chartreuse above that level. Enclosures for support pillars above the planter level are also finished in chartreuse. The ceiling is white and has fluorescent fixtures.

Asphalt tile in tan and brown will cover all the floor of Hamric's side and about a third of the Charm Shop floor. The balance of the Charm Shop will be covered with carpet.

Fixtures in Hamric's will be of birch and mahogany. Charm Shop fixtures are all of birch.

Space in the building is divided equally between the two businesses. Each has a sales room measuring 24x66 and additional space of 21x24 for storage, rest rooms and heating and cooling equipment.

Hamric's will occupy the south half of the building, the Charm Shop the north.

Teachers' Benefit Amendment Urged At Lions Meeting

In behalf of teachers as well as the communities they serve, R. L. Hodges, superintendent of Lake Worth School, urged Muenster Lions Tuesday to support Constitutional Amendment No. 4 in the November general election.

The measure, providing more attractive retirement benefits for teachers was described first as a partial compensation for underpaid teachers and secondly as an inducement to attract more talent into the teaching profession. Communities will derive their benefits as the Texas school system gains from the addition of teachers, he explained.

Hodges mentioned that the teaching profession is deplorably underpaid. Too many young college graduates shy away from it to accept better paying jobs in business and industry. As a result

Whitt Named Pastor Of Baptist Church

Billy Whitt has been called as pastor of the First Baptist church here and will conduct his first services as pastor next Sunday. He will preach at the 10:45 morning service and the 7:30 evening service.

The new pastor fills the vacancy left by Rev. D. S. Pettijohn who resigned in August to accept a pastorate at Dublin. Whitt will continue his studies at Decatur Baptist College where he has been studying since being graduated from Muenster High in 1953. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Whitt, reside north of town.

Hustling Hornets Mark up 25-7 Win Over Whitesboro

The final count was 25-7 in favor of the Davids at a David and Goliath football tussle in Whitesboro Friday night.

With complete disrespect for size, the Muenster Hornets romped through and around the Whitesboro Bearcats and consistently stopped the big fellows in their attempts to go places. It was the second Hornet triumph of the season over high ranking teams. Whitesboro is rated as AA and Pilot Point as A.

It was Richey and Wimmer, the two hard running Hornet speedsters, who dished out most of the grief to the hosts, but the precise and timely starts they got from quarterback Hamric, along with the openings provided by the boys up front, is what made their efforts really effective. The Hornets were in mid-season form, rugged and well coordinated as they out maneuvered the Bearcats both offensively and defensively.

Fumbleitis marred the opening of the game, with Muenster

Hornets Favored In Friday Tussle With Windthorst

Muenster's Hornets are expected to continue their winning ways at Windthorst Friday night, if the skirmishes of Trojans and Hornets with the Sacred Heart Tigers can be regarded as a sign. A few practice scrimmages to date have found the two local teams fairly evenly matched . . . and the Tigers have a 20-6 decision over the Trojans.

In addition, the Hornet lineup has been strengthened by a reshuffle of positions. Last week's game at Whitesboro showed the effectiveness of the new combination as Dee Kaderli did fine both offensively and defensively at end and Butch Fisher performed like a veteran as Kaderli's replacement at center.

Another factor was the emergence of Jerry Wimmer as a major threat in the Hornet backfield. At Whitesboro he was a consistent gainer and joined Hubert Richey in forming a ball totting combination that is hard to stop.

Time for the kickoff at Windthorst

Pee Wees Lose 6-0 To Gainesville Kids

Weldon Holland's seventh and eighth grade Pee Wees made a fair showing in their first encounter Tuesday night, but they lacked the punch to handle the kids of Gainesville Junior High. With less than two minutes to go the Big G boys pushed over the only score of the game.

The touchdown followed a drive of about 35 yards after the Gainesville boys had intercepted a Muenster pass. The try for extra point failed and the final count stood at 6-0.

Throughout the game until the very last neither of the teams made any real progress against the other. Gainesville led in yardage and first downs statistics but failed to get organized on a sustained push. They also missed several opportunities to set the Muenster boys back when they gambled instead of kicked on fourth down.

Muenster's biggest problem was a lack of blocking. Runners generally were on their own and did not get far.

Next action for the kids is a conference tussle with Sanger here next Tuesday night. It will be a regular Junior conference game of ninth grade boys and under.

80 Local Students Continue Studies Away from Home

Muenster this year has 80 young people continuing studies away from home. It's a new all-time high figure topping last year's high total by four. In 1954 the number was 50.

Of the 80 students, 41 are in college, 10 are in nursing schools, three are in an academy, 16 are seminarians, seven are in the convent and three are in business college.

Larry Hofbauer and Allen Dale, Eberhart returned to St. Mary's University in San Antonio and Melvin Schoech enrolled there as a freshman. Jerry Fuhrman continues at Texas University in Austin and Jerry Henschel continues at St. Edward's University in the same city.

GOC Members Hear Talk on Procedure In Distress Reports

Special instructions on procedures to report stormy weather or a plane in distress were given to 15 members of the Muenster Ground Observer Corps post Tuesday night in a class at the public school.

Sgt. Crabtree of the Dallas GOC unit told the members how to recognize distress signals given by a plane and emphasized the urgency of sending in a report immediately. Likewise regarding storms, he pointed out that a life might depend on a prompt report.

Two films illustrated the importance of GOC work. An enemy plane flying low and screened from radar detection by the earth's curvature can still be intercepted with the help of alert observers. Successive reports enable the GOC center to determine speed, direction and probable destination and to send adequate instructions to defensive installations of the area.

Crabtree urged the members to recruit more volunteer observers so that the post can be adequately staffed without burdening anyone in case of an emergency.

The post will have its next alert Sunday afternoon from 1 to 6.

A NEGRO LOOKS AT INTEGRATION

At this time when hare-brained white mobs at Clinton, Tenn., and Sturgis, Ky., have required restraint by the National Guard, and much of the country has gained the impression that racial-mingling is the universal ambition of negroes, we would like to quote Davis Lee, negro editor of a national negro newspaper, THE NEWARK (N.J.) TELEGRAM. The following is from his recent editorial, "You Can't Eat Integration:"

"This integration-segregation issue has stirred up bitterness, hatred, prejudices, and has destroyed long-standing friendships. But, strange as it may seem, fifty percent of the Negroes are not concerned about it either way.

"The liberals are frothing at the mouth and shedding crocodile tears over the plight of the poor Negro in the South, will gladly give him integration, but won't give him a job or provide his family with clothing or bread.

"The Southerners don't want to have integration, but they will gladly give him a job and help clothe and feed his family.

"The liberals will open their schools to Negro children, but they won't hire many Negroes as teachers. The South won't admit Negro children to its schools, but they will give the Negro his own school manned by teachers of his own race. And all of this is given to him without cost.

"There are forms of segregation that are degrading and humiliating, but to have one's own school and teachers is not one of them. Giving the Negro his own school and teachers is more in keeping with that concept of freedom, justice and equal opportunity that the founding fathers had in mind than is an integrated system of Education."

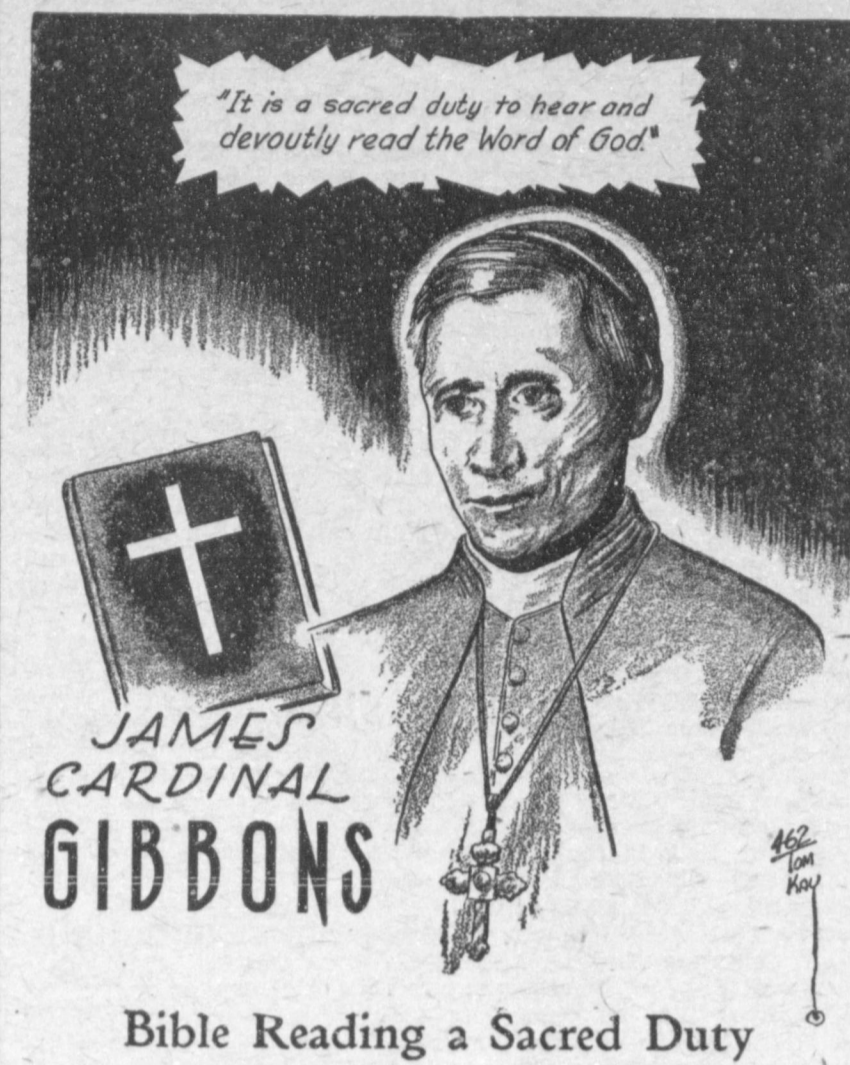

Mr. Lee pleads for "ample time" for adjustment. He points out that the South has never attempted to tell the rest of the nation how to run its affairs, "and in no section of the country does the Negro enjoy the educational, employment and economic opportunities which he enjoys in the South.

"The labor unions," he notes, "are pouring thousands of dollars into this integration movement, yet Southern Negroes are working at jobs that Northern Negroes can not get, because the unions will not accept them as members. There are more Negro carpenters, brick-layers and building contractors in North and South Carolina than there are in the 33 integrated states.

"Negroes can't eat integration. They need jobs. They need the opportunity to develop their talents . . . The South is the only section of this nation that offers such opportunities. If these liberals and agitators are the Negro's friends and Southern whites are his enemies, then someone needs to protect him from 'his friends.'"

THE LOWDOWN ON TEXAS

Texas used to be a one-crop state and everybody worshipped King Cotton and voted the Democratic ticket straight. Well, Texans kinda got off the one-crop deal when we discovered oil and industry began to filter down this way, but Texas is still a one-party state with a one-track mind when it comes to politics. The Republicans who drifted south with the tumbleweed seem to be absorbed by the Democratic party, because, as one told me, "I've been here 7 years and if I was going to have any voice in government I had to use it in the Democratic primary."

Well, folks, right now you got Texas Democrats of every political shade from gilded right-wing Republicans to commies with a Red Star tattooed on their posterior arc.

Democrat and Republican leaders at the national level agree that the two-party system is essential to the nation's welfare, and it is just as essential to the welfare of Texas. As the State stands now, the Democrats let their Texas brethren pound the gavel, second the nomination, and wave the Lone Star in the demonstrations, but you couldn't get a Texan nominated for the No. 1 or No. 2 spot on the ticket any sooner than you could Marshall Tito — not since FDR rooked the South out of the two-thirds majority rule. The boys who run the Donkey Parade figure the Texas vote is in the bag — why give the suckers a break?

And the GOP figures Texans generally don't know. General Lee's been licked, so why wake 'em up?

—Ed Erard in Kingsville Record

Pause For Reflection

... with James C. Ingebretsen President, Spiritual Mobilization From Charleston, W. Va., comes this recent Associated Press dispatch:

"The State Industrial and Publicity Commission, which gets all kinds of questions, is still puzzled over how to answer this one: 'A youngster wrote in for help. He complained he had planted some parakeet seed but 'nothing grew except just plain grass.'"

Well, that reminds me of the puzzlement of a great many American voters today, who, year after year, have been planting "welfare state seed" and can't understand why nothing much grows except taxes.

What Is Religion?

By Msgr. Ronald Knox, author of THE HIDDEN STREAM and other books

IN ONE of his works, Robert Louis Stevenson tells of an aunt writing to her nephew about a girl she wanted him to marry. After describing the girl's accomplishments, the aunt says, "And she has just about as much religion as you like."

In any discussion of the nature of religion, it is important to rule out such an idea from the first. Religion is not something of which every debatable should have a smattering to increase her value in the matrimonial market.

PEOPLE GET the impression because we practice religion in a half-hearted way that religion is an added grace of character which some people have and some do not. But religion must always be something we belong to, not something which belongs to us; something that has got hold of us.

Does this make religion something essentially negative, a restraining force always telling us not to do something? Not at all. Religion gives man a fuller life, telling him he has an end to fulfill under the eyes of a loving Task-master Who will reward him in another world if that task is well done.

RELIGION ANSWERS the riddles of life that would be nightmares otherwise. It is invaluable from the viewpoint of general human well-being. How long would it be before we threw over the restraints of morality, if we did not believe rewards and punishments were to follow? True, we all know good-living atheists. But they are living up to a code which is really Christian. An atheistic civilization—besides being unknown to man—would be unbearable.

But granted that being religious should make you happier, less bewildered and a better citizen—is that enough?

IF RELIGION were only an attitude, a way of looking at things, then the kind of religion we practiced wouldn't matter so long as it made us happy and content.

But religion is more than an attitude. Religion is adoring God, fulfilling the claim God has upon us for honor and worship. Religion then can be true or false in so far as it is or is not what God wants.

JUST BEING RELIGIOUS therefore isn't enough. We must be religious in the way God wants. We must seek out, believe and practice those truths God has revealed to us through His Son, Jesus Christ. It is in the teachings of Christ that we find out what religion really is and what God wants it to be.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Now is the time to get waterways located and marked out and land prepared — before it rains.

Many unprotected farms in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District clearly show the evidence of how destructive water can be. Water is one of the most powerful and destructive forces on earth when not handled properly. Many farms in the area are in such a condition now that a hard rain could cause serious erosion. Cropland is bare and plowed, and pastures are bare. Protective crop residues on many fields has not been left on the soil surface and all cover has been grazed from pastures, so both cropland and pastures are in a position to be severely damaged if the big rains come first.

A one-inch rain on one acre totals 27,166 gallons of water. At eight tons per gallon that one inch of rain weighs 108 tons per acre. Think of what that much weight can do striking the bare unprotected soil on a slope!

A cover of living plants or of dead plant remains can protect the land and cushion the shock of falling rain. A plant cover also helps get more water into the ground by preventing the soil beating or rainfall splash. Leaving crop residues on the soil surface also reduces soil crusting.

The less cover on the land and the poorer the soil condition, the more water is lost in run-off. For example: on a 40-acre field where one-fourth of the water is lost through run-off, seven inches of water runs off in a year's 28-inch rainfall. This run-off weighs 30,240 tons. Imagine the destructive force of moving all that weight down the slopes of a field.

To properly conserve the soil, water and plants of such a field, a safe place to put this 30,240 tons of water is of great importance. If a well-grassed pasture is not available to empty terrace water on, then a wide grassed waterway must be provided to handle the water until it is safely out of the field. These waterways provide a safe place to put terrace water and at the same time give an excellent place to produce grass for grazing, hay or seed.

Yes, it's time now, to get waterways located. The local Soil Conservation Service technicians will be happy to help locate, design and stake the needed safe outlets. It should be done now. It's later than you think.

Milk is cooled to well below 40° in less than one hour — assuring a lower bacteria count and better milk. The milk cannot freeze — because the coolant is ice water.

Dari-Kool tanks are easy to clean and may be sanitized with hot water without damage. Units are ready to operate — no expensive, remote compressors to install or service.

Every Dari-Kool is built around a rugged 10-gauge steel frame — providing rigid support for the bulge-proof stainless steel milk tank. This assures accurate calibration and correct payment.

DARI-KOOL will pay for itself in use.

HERE'S HOW . . .

The cost of hauling milk in cans is 40 cent per 100 pounds as compared with 25 cents per 100 pounds for hauling tank milk, thus a saving of 15 cents per hundred.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cents per 100 pounds.

Improved butterfat test gained by selling all the cream instead of leaving some of it sticking to the can and lid account for another 6 cents per hundred.

THIS GIVES A TOTAL SAVING OF 28 CENTS FOR EACH 100 POUNDS OF MILK HANDLED. THIS 28-CENT A HUNDRED SAVING WILL PAY FOR YOUR DARI-KOOL.

A producer with an average of 10 cans of milk (86 pounds each) a day will sell 25,800 pounds per month. At 28 cents per hundred saving, he will be ahead by $72.24 each month.

The approximate cost of a 250-gallon tank installed is $2,400 with interest of $216 for a total of $2,616. This can be divided into 36 monthly installments of $72.11 each. THUS YOUR SAVINGS MAKE YOUR PAYMENTS FOR YOU. This estimate is without down payment or trade-in, which would cut the principal and monthly payment substantially.

losing the pigskin on its first offensive play and Whitesboro five plays later. Then the Hornets got going on their first scoring drive, a 54 yard push ending in a stubborn goal line stand by Whitesboro. With a first down on the 2 Muenster needed all four plays and Richey finally crashed through from the 1.

The balance of that quarter and all the next found Muenster with a slight advantage but not enough push to stretch it into a score... until the very last play of the period. Richey got away then for the thrill play of the night a 77 yard dash to the goal. Sheer speed accounted for that TD, with Richey detouring around the secondary before getting into the clear.

Score Number 3 was set up early in the third quarter when Whitesboro lost by inches on a fourth down gamble. Wimmer, Richey and Hamric made steady gains in the 43 yard push which ended with a 4 yard plunge by Wimmer. Hamric's pass to Wolf added a point.

Back in possession Whitesboro put on its only real drive of the game, an advance of 63 yards on four first downs to the Hornet 17. The push bogged down there, however, and the next series resulted in a loss of 6 yards.

Again, starting from their 23 the Hornets started pushing. Six tries netted 3 first downs to the Bearcat 41. Then Richey broke through, shook off three tacklers and headed for the fourth TD.

With a lead of 25-0 Coach Hosea gave his youngsters a chance. They recovered a Bearcat fumble on the first series and Otto ripped off 9 then lost the ball on a vicious tackle on the 29. From that point Whitesboro scored its lone TD. Garnett made about 10 before two Hornets brought him to a stop. Still on his feet and with hands clear he pitched to Fullenwider who went the rest of the way without being touched. Wylie ran over for another point.

The rest of the quarter found the teams making two first downs each before Muenster started what appeared to be another TD. After claiming a fumble on their own 45 the Hornets drove to the Bearcat 5 and time ran out.

Most re-assuring to Muenster fans was the work of the linemen, who did a man sized job from one end to the other especially Fisher and Hudspeth, who proved beyond a doubt that light spots are not necessarily weak spots.

the 20. Fleitman took it at about the 15, shook off a tackle and headed for the goal. Fleitman also kicked an extra point.

From then until late in the game neither team made worth while gains until Fuhrmann broke the jinx by a nice kick return from midfield to the 29. Six plays produced the last score, Mollenkopf totting from the 8 for the TD. Henscheid's pass to Fleitman set the count at 20-6.

The stout Tiger line was the big determining factor in the game. Besides clearing the way for Mollenkopf, Henscheid and Fuhrmann to step off neat gains, the fellows were sifting through regularly to smear Trojan attempts.

to the line, high spots being an exchange of fumbles and a Tiger punt to the 35.

At that point, as the second quarter opened, Windthorst got going on its only sustained push of the night. Two line plays reached the 22 and a pass from Baumhardt to Schroeder put the ball on the 2. A determined Tiger stand smeared the next two attempts for 15 yards loss, but a timely break kept the Trojans in business. Interference with the receiver was ruled on a pass play and the visitors had four more tries starting at the 10. A plunge made 4 and a pass to Steinberger finished the job.

Sacred Heart snapped back with a beautiful drive for 38 but scoring hopes were blasted by a fumble on the 17. Windthorst advanced 11 for a first down then passed. Cecil Wolf grabbed it in the open and scooted some 35 yards to tie the score.

New Tiger fury was apparent at the opening of the second half. On the third play the Trojans were jarred loose from the ball and Sacred Heart promptly launched a scoring drive. The push was good for 46 yards and the scoring play was a pass from

for maximum success use the RED CHAIN 6 POINT DAIRY PROGRAM

- 1 DAIRY COWS MUST HAVE PLENTY GOOD ROUGHAGE
- 2 DAIRY COWS MUST HAVE PLENTY GOOD CLEAN WATER
- 3 PROTEIN IN DAIRY FEED & ROUGHAGE MUST BALANCE
- 4 DAIRY COWS NEED MINERALS (Salt, Calcium, Phosphorus)
- 5 AN ADEQUATE SUPPLY OF VITAMINS IS A MUST
- 6 CORRECT MILK PROCEDURE GIVES BEST PRODUCTION

In order for a cow to get the most out of her feed, it is necessary to feed the bacteria in the paunch. These bacteria act with greatest efficiency when the cow's feed supplies the nutrients for maximum activity. These needed types of nutrients are: a quick source of energy, a slow source of energy, vitamins, proper proteins and minerals. The best quick source of energy is molasses. The best slow source of energy is cracked or rolled grains. RED CHAIN feeds furnish these, plus the vitamins, proper proteins and minerals.

Mrs. Lena Schmitt had as visitors Sunday her son and wife, the Bernard Schmitts and two daughters of Dallas. At noon they were all dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Neu.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bezner and son Ricky of New Orleans, La., arrived Saturday to spend a two-week vacation with his mother, Mrs. Joe Bezner and other relatives here and members of her family at Valley View. Her father, Al Kuntz, who had been their guest for six weeks returned home with them.

Mrs. Charlie Berend and son Phil of Hereford are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Magee, and are also visiting other relatives. They arrived last Friday to spend a week.

Ed Bezner of Hereford was a weekend visitor with the Jake Bezners and other relatives.

Building And Improvement Notes

The Joe Fettes have a good start on their new home in the 300 block of East First. It will be a two bedroom house with central heating and a separate adjoining garage.

J. C. Trachta is practically rebuilding his home, moving partitions to change room sizes and arrangements and adding on a room as well. The biggest change is a completely new kitchen with built in appliances.

Lou Wolf has just finished a 20x20 outdoor living room in his back yard.

Earl Koelzer is finishing a 1 room addition to his house between the formerly separated house and garage.

Repair and refinishing work in town include a new roof for Anna Hellman, new siding for Ed Pels, interior paint and paper at Frank Needham's and roof paint for Arthur Endres.

sult, society's most important job . . . training the citizens of tomorrow . . . is rated as least important in the pay scale. This condition must be corrected, Hodges said, and a vote for Amendment 4 is a step in the right direction.

The speaker also mentioned changes in curriculum expected soon in Texas high schools. More emphasis will be placed on science and mathematics, 20 credits will probably be required for graduation.

Hodges said he was very much impressed by the general economic set up of the community as outlined in the public school's brochure "A Look at Your School." "Such activity and progress indicates that Muenster people are not backward about moving forward."

SIMPLE ENOUGH

Not long ago a Hoboken resident owned a goat. His next-door neighbor was the tax assessor, and did not particularly relish the goat within sight of his favorite window, so he taxed the neighbor's goat four dollars.

The owner of the goat took the assessor to task, and demanded to know why this family pet was assessed at that sum.

"That is strictly in accordance with the statutes of the sovereign state of New Jersey," replied the tax assessor.

"I demand the proof," retorted the irate owner.

The assessor thereupon read to his bewildered neighbor the following statute on taxes: "All property abutting and abounding on the public street shall be taxed at the rate of two dollars per front foot."

either of the Democratic candidates.

Actually Nixon is closer to the traditional American political philosophy than the president. His early political career is featured by his efforts to restrain New Deal extravagances. He was conspicuous for his relentless efforts to smoke the reds out of government. Eisenhower, on the other hand, came to office hampered by associations during his era of popularity with the New Deal. He retained many of the old friends and old ideas in his administration. While less liberal than those before him, he was still much more liberal than indicated by campaign speeches . . . and the change in Washington was much smaller than had been expected by voters.

So, while hoping that Ike will enjoy good health for another term, we still have no cause to be apprehensive if he should not. Dick still rates ahead of Adlai in the qualifications we want in the White House.
