Burn with care say County officials

Janet Felderhoff

Cooke County Commissioners Court lifted the county-wide burn ban on outdoor burning in unincorporated areas of the County. The ban was put in place on Aug. 17 and the removal of the ban became effective as soon as it was approved. Emergency Management Coordinator Ray Fletcher observed, "We received a pretty substantial rain over the weekend, starting Thursday anywhere from four to seven inches throughout the County. While our fuels are becoming more cured, that is the way things go in nature. We do have adequate soil moisture at this time to lift the burn ban." Cooke County Sheriff Terry Gilbert reported that the County Jail has passed its inspection by the Texas Department on Jail Standards. He praised his staff and Jail Administrator Larry Winters. County Judge Jason Brinkley said that he sat in with Winters and the jail inspector. Judge Brinkley remarked on the inspection, "She was very complimentary on the condition of the Jail. She said there were no complaints. It was very clean and all the files were in order. She didn't have any issue with anything that was going on in the Jail, it was all being handled exceptionally well." He expressed thanks to Winters for the good work, noting it had been a difficult year for several reasons. Maintenance Director Ricky Kerr gave cost quotes from Everest on repairs needed to the Courthouse exterior. The first was $4,680 for removing all of the sealant between the flume (barrier that catches and carries away water) and the bottom of the Courthouse wall. They would remove the sealant, clean up the area, and re-

MISD to dedicate buildings; honor Veterans

On Nov. 11, there will be two events at Muenster ISD to which the public is invited. First, beginning at 2 p.m. in the Muenster Hornet Gym, there will be a special program to recognize and honor local Veterans. Muenster ISD and Sacred Heart Catholic School are jointly hosting the event and encourage everyone to join them on Veterans Day in recognizing the Veterans for their contributions. Included in the Veterans Day Program are the VFW Post #6205 Color Guard, special music by Sacred Heart Choir and Kim, Shae, and Annsley Budish, welcome by MISD Superintendent Steve Self and SHCS Principal Dr. Ralf Rondon, and prayers by Rev. Ralph Gourley and Fr. Ken Robinson. Jake Luke, Muenster High graduate of the Class of 1997, will be the guest speaker. Directly after the Veterans Day Program, the MISD Board of Education is formally dedicating the new buildings constructed with the bond proceeds from the election of May 14, 2011. Both Rev. Fr. Ken Robinson of Sacred Heart Catholic Church and Rev. Ralph Gourley of First Baptist Church will preside over the ceremonies. MISD students are fortunate to have a community that treasures education and supports the learning of future generations in the District. The ceremony will begin about 3:05 in front of the Muenster Elementary School and, after its dedication, will then move to the Junior High School for the dedication of the Agriculture Building and Junior High.

Walter earns international recognition for baking skills

Janet Felderhoff
News Editor

Dr. Tamra Walter displays one of the cookies she baked and decorated in the design of pieces from the Staffordshire Hoard. She won an international baking contest with her cookies.

Dr. Tamra Walter developed a talent that has gained her recognition on the international level. She bakes and decorates cookies with a skill that is much to be admired. Her baking and decorating ability earned the international title when she entered a competition in the United Kingdom (UK). To do this, she baked the biscuits (decorated cookies) at home and emailed photographs of her creations to the contest organizers. The baking contest was done by the Birmingham Museum in the UK. "They were promoting their archaeological collection of items from the Staffordshire Hoard - the largest hoard of Anglo-Saxon gold artifacts ever found," noted Tamra. Tamra's accomplishment was featured in an article "Good enough to eat! American archeologist cooks up a storm with gingerbread Staffordshire Hoard" which was published on Oct. 13, 2015 on the Midlands News Website of the Year Express & Star. According to the article, this is the third year the competition has been held and the first time that it was won by someone from outside the UK. Tamra learned of the contest through information forwarded to her by a friend. According to the website article, the Staffordshire Hoard was discovered in 2009 scattered just below the surface of a field of Hammerwich by a local metal detectorist Terry Herbert. Over 3,500 pieces were found in the field. The pieces are unique for their beauty and composition. The article said that the hoard was bought by Birmingham and Stokes-on-Trent museums for £3.3m with a substantial grant from the National Heritage Memorial Fund and donations from all over the world.

Muenster ISD needs surveys answered

The Muenster ISD community and school surveys become available on the MISD website on Oct. 15. Parents, teachers, and community members can go to the MISD website and click on the appropriate button to take the 15 to 20 minute survey.

"This will give the Board and Administration information in addition to test scores and other data provided by the State of Texas to better serve the students and the community of Muenster ISD," stated Superintendent Steve Self. If community members lack internet access, the District will open its computer labs one evening in October from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. and paper and pencil versions are available at the Administration Building and campus offices.

Students in grades 4 through 12 will be able to take the survey at school. The survey will be available until Nov. 3.

Survey questions will deal with such things as school programs, curriculum, instruction, communication, extra-curricular programs, and community relations. Surveys will contain about 40 to 50 questions. Education Resources will assist with the survey tabulation and reports to the Muenster Site Based Committee and School Board. The results will be used for planning and should be available by the December Board Meeting.

It was in an article in National Geographic that Tamra first saw the Staffordshire Hoard pieces which included gold and silver jewelry and weaponry. She said that she hopes one day to see the collection in person and said it is a rare find that ranks up with the pyramids of Egypt in terms of her "bucket list."

Tamra serves as a professor of archaeology at Texas Tech University in Lubbock. She cited this as another reason that the contest appealed to her. "I could combine two of my favorite things - baking and archaeology," she said.

It took Tamra about three days from the planning phase to the decorating phase to make her winning entry. She remarked, "The most challenging aspect of the contest was piping the designs on the cookies - the artifacts are really intricate and I wanted to mimic that in my creation."

Tamra and her husband have two children and reside in Lubbock. Their son Dylan is age 10 and their daughter Renny is 11. She is the daughter of Claude and Nancy Walter who live in Muenster. Tamra and her family visit Muenster often.

Asked how she developed her passion for baking, Tamra responded, "My kids inspired me to bake for birthdays and holidays. I enjoy the creative process and I found that if I made items on my own, the decorative options and themes were limitless (as opposed to buying store bought cookies and cakes)."

Since that time, Tamra entered the baking competition at the South Plains Fair this past month and won first and second places.

Tamra said that she is considering opening up a side business for her custom-made cookies and if anyone is interested, just let her know.

place the sealant. There has been leakage in some of the walls in the basement due to the problem. To remove the black stain on the stone on the Courthouse would be $3,900. Clean, patch, and re-surface the steps going into the Courthouse because the non-skid surface is chipping off. A ledge on the outer edge of the roof has sealant that needs repairs. It will require the use of a lift that costs $1,200 a week and Kerr estimated that it would take two weeks.

The Court agreed to clean the building and do needed repairs in accordance with those methods recommended by the Historical Commission. Funds will be taken from the Permanent Improvement Funds.

Judge Brinkley said that he and Commissioner Leon Klement met with representatives from BIS Digital for Hosted Agenda Automation. He said, "What this would basically do is it would digitize putting together our agenda packets and putting together requests to be on the agenda. It would also make completing the minutes considerably easier with this software. Hopefully, it will streamline the process a little bit and modernize it as well."

The cost would be $3,600 per year with an initial cost of a little over $6,000.

Commissioner Klement added, "We are really going to try to start digitalizing things getting ready for the time that we will have to start videoing the meetings. This is step one in the process to bring the County into it."

The investment was unanimously approved.

Klement said that Muenster Wind Farm should start building interior roads sometime in November.

In other business conducted during the Oct. 26 meeting, Commissioners Court:

- Held an executive session regarding the possible hiring of a Commissioners' Administrative Assistant, but took no action.

Consent items approved by the Court included:

- Agreement between Cooke County and Nortex Communications for Unified Hosted Controller Maintenance Services.
- Acceptance of the Homeland Security Grant in the amount of $27,511.03.
- Surplus by auction or salvage of Temple Beal belly dump trailer, Flow Boy belly dump trailer, flip tarp, 1996 Ford F250, 120G Cat grader, Tampo SP312 nine wheel packer roller, Koyker 600 front end loader, 1997 Western Star tractor truck, misc. tires and wheels, and a M-T-M steam cleaner from Road and Bridge Precinct #4; and advertisement of the same.

NCTC receives $2.1 million grant from Department of Education

Darin Allred
NCTC Public Relations

North Central Texas College recently received a grant of more than $2.1 million from the U.S. Department of Education that will allow the school to assist at-risk students and improve the overall student experience.

With the five-year Title III grant in the amount of $2,186,366, NCTC plans to implement comprehensive student engagement programs that increase retention and completion rates of first-time, low-income students, and also expand faculty and staff capacity to serve students and strengthen the institution's fiscal stability.

The NCTC President's Leadership Team appointed a Title III Taskforce Team to lead the needs-analysis process, identify specific areas for improvement, research best practices and innovative opportunities to close the gaps in student retention and completion, and develop a recommended plan of action. This broad-based representation of NCTC faculty and staff diligently worked to identify NCTC strengths and weaknesses in meeting the needs of at-risk students, and based on data-driven decisions, recommended six major strategies for improvement that became the foundational basis of this Title III grant application.

Major strategies included in NCTC's grant proposal included centralized completion centers on all five campuses to address students' academic and non-academic challenges and issues; a centralized career readiness and job placement program;

new student services tracking software; a first-year experience course and block scheduling for new NCTC students; a professional development institute for full-time and part-time faculty and staff; and a mentoring program.

"We were ecstatic to learn NCTC had been selected for the Title III grant funding," said NCTC Senior Director of Grants Donna Uptergrove. "The efforts and contributions provided by the 25-member Title III Taskforce Team made the NCTC grant application standout to reviewers. Identification of NCTC strengths and weaknesses, in-depth data analysis, extensive research for promising practices, and a genuine commitment to developing solutions-oriented strategies that help students find success at NCTC created this award-winning Title III application. NCTC received a perfect score from Department of Education grant proposal reviewers, and thank goodness we did, because the quality of applications was so high that only perfect score applications were funded. Now the exciting times begin as we prepare to implement the program activities that will best serve at-risk, low income, and first time NCTC students."

NCTC will use a majority of the Title III grant money to support five Student Success Coaches, two Career Readiness and Job Placement Specialists, a Grant Manager, and Grant Department Assistant. Additionally, $203,700 will be dedicated to professional development, $131,900 for renovation, equipment, and software, and $57,500 for program design and student engagement support.

"This is the second time NCTC has received a Title III grant," noted NCTC Vice-President of External Affairs Debbie Sharp. "The prior grant allowed NCTC to establish a comprehensive Student Success program that provided coordinated tutoring, supplemental instruction and support services that truly impacted student learning and success. We are excited to be able to use these grant funds to again provide additional support services to ensure student success and completion. These federal funds allow the College to implement best practices and research-based strategies to provide these proven wrap-around services to students to assist them in reaching their academic and career goals."

The U.S. Department of Education awarded $17,462,302 in Title III funding to 40 colleges and universities. NCTC was one of three Texas higher education institutions awarded; the other two were Vernon College and Austin Community College.

DPS increases school bus safety efforts

The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is reminding drivers that it is illegal to pass any school bus that is stopped and operating a visual signal – either flashing red lights or a stop sign. During this time, DPS Highway Patrol troopers will be on the lookout for drivers who disregard the law.

"DPS urges drivers to make the safety of our children a priority whenever they travel near school buses, and DPS will not tolerate those who break the law and put our children at risk," said DPS Director Steven McCraw. "Remember, children are particularly vulnerable when entering or exiting a school bus."

Troopers will be patrolling areas where school buses pick up and drop off students, watching for motorists violating the school bus law. Drivers who violate the law could face fines as much as $1,250.

In 2014 and year-to-date in 2015, Texas Highway Patrol troopers have issued 852 tickets for passing a stopped school bus. According to the Texas Education Agency, more than 42,000 school buses transport approximately 1.5 million Texas children every school day.

According to Texas statute, a driver – traveling in either direction – must stop when approaching a school bus that is stopped and operating a visual signal. The driver may not proceed until one of the following occurs: the school bus resumes motion; the operator is signaled by the bus driver to proceed; or the visual signal is no longer activated.

If a road is divided only by a left-turning lane, drivers on both sides of the roadway must stop for school buses with alternating red flashing lights activated. However, if the lanes are separated by an intervening space or physical barrier, only motorists going in the same direction as the bus are required to stop.

(As a reminder, school buses, by law, must stop at all railroad crossings.)

Here are several safety measures drivers can take to help keep children safer:

- When driving in school zones, watch out for student pedestrians.
- Slow down and watch for children congregating near bus stops.
- Look for children who might dart into the street without looking for traffic.
- Know and obey the laws concerning traffic and school buses in Texas.

Balloon Spectacular set for this weekend

This weekend will truly be a "spectacular" one in North Texas as 25 hot air balloons take to the sky as part of North Texas Medical Center Foundation's The Sky's the Limit Balloon Spectacular.

Now in its fourth year, the family-friendly weekend event begins Friday evening, Oct. 30, at the Gainesville Municipal Airport with gates opening at 4 p.m. A mass ascension and competition flight are on the Friday evening schedule. At 7:30 p.m., balloons will return to the field for the traditional balloon glow. This event features the balloons tethering on the field and lighting their burners to illuminate the envelope which creates a beautiful, sparkling spectacle of color on the ground—a photographer's dream.

If conditions are favorable and officials deem it safe, spectators will be invited to walk among the balloons and view the beautiful creations up close. Not all festivals allow such intimate interaction, so those attending this show are in for a real treat!

Prior to and during the event, hot air balloon rides hovering over the beautiful countryside of Cooke County can be booked for $200 per person. Pre-book at www.theskysthelimit.org. Spots fill quickly.

Other activities include a multitude of merchandise and information booths, a carnival midway, displays, and plenty of delectable festival foods. Grab some chairs and a blanket and stake your spot. Gates close at 10 p.m.

On Saturday, Oct. 31, things begin early as the gates open at 7 a.m., with balloons flying in from outside locations to fly over targets at the airport. The fly-in will begin roughly at 7:15 a.m. and continue until 9 a.m. There is a slight break in the balloon action until the evening session, which begins at 5:30 p.m., and another mass ascension of balloons flying from the airport until 7:30 p.m. Around 7:30, the balloons will glow once more before handing over the spotlight to the evening entertainment when Pat Green takes the Sky Stage at 9 p.m. Gates close at 11 p.m.

There are many other activities that will fill the day on Saturday. This year, the 19th Annual Halloween Hustle will be incorporated into this event and will take place Saturday morning at 8:30 a.m. at the airport. The popular Halloween Hustle will once again feature both 5K and 10K USATF courses. To register for this event, go to www.ntmcfoundation.org.

Also on Saturday, an air show is scheduled for mid-afternoon with multiple aircraft performing tricks in the sky. There will also be a car show on Saturday from 10 – 3. A special "Champagne and Propane Ball" will honor visiting pilots, sponsors, and supporters of the North Texas Medical Center Foundation. Tickets are $65 each and include a full gourmet meal and a fantastic view of Saturday night's balloon glow. The event will be held in the CBS Hangar at the airport. Regional chefs from Morrison's Food Services will each host a station – appetizers, salad, entrée, dessert – as they each compete for a chance to take the top catering prize back to their hospitals. It will be a mouth-watering social event you will not want to miss. Call (940) 612-8607 for reservations. Space is limited.

Sunday morning will be the time to say goodbye and catch one more glimpse (and photo) of the gorgeous cloud skimmers as the balloons fly over targets at the airport between 7:15 and 9 a.m. Gates will remain open until the event concludes at approximately 11 a.m.

For fly-in events on Saturday and Sunday morning, balloons will be launched from at least two miles away and fly over the event grounds at the Gainesville Municipal Airport. Launch site and time will vary depending on weather and wind direction.

Friday admission is $5 for adults and children/students over 42 inches and over. Saturday admission is $5 for children/students over 42 inches and $10 for adults and includes the headliner Saturday night concert. Children under 42 inches are admitted free. All proceeds go the North Texas Medical Center Foundation for the benefit of North Texas Medical Center in Gainesville. Advance tickets will be available at North Texas Medical Center and all First State Bank locations.

All activities for The Sky's The Limit are weather-permitting. All times are approximate and schedule may change without notice. Go to www.theskysthelimit.org or follow them on Facebook for the latest news as the event approaches.

CASA receives National Certification for its work

CASA of North Texas of Gainesville has just been awarded certification by the National Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) Association. This certification recognizes that CASA of North Texas is in compliance with National CASA's high standards for quality child advocacy.

According to Tara Perry, Deputy CEO/Chief Operating Officer of the National CASA Association, "The National CASA quality assurance process is very rigorous, and reflects our commitment to ensure every child served has a powerful volunteer advocate working on their behalf and a strong program supporting their work. This certification says CASA of North Texas has demonstrated to us the capacity to provide excellent advocacy to the abused and neglected children within their community."

CASA of North Texas was started in 1999. In its now 16 years of operations, the program has been one of few in the State of Texas to serve 100% of the children who need CASA advocacy. However, the program is struggling at this time to provide volunteer advocates for 40 of the 108 Cooke County children in foster care. For this reason, two trainings (both day and evening) are set to begin soon. For more information, contact Jerry Metzler, Volunteer Recruiter, at 940-665-2244 or jmetzler@casantx.org.

About the National CASA Association

In 1976, concerned over making decisions about abused and neglected children's lives without sufficient information, a Seattle judge conceived the idea of using trained community volunteers to speak for the best interests of these children in court, helping to ensure that they will live in a safe and loving environment. So successful was this Seattle program, that soon judges across the country began utilizing citizen advocates. In 1990, the U.S. Congress encouraged the expansion of CASA/GAL with passage of the Victims of Child Abuse Act. Today, there are more than 950 National CASA member programs across the country, with more than 70,000 men and women serving as CASA or Guardian ad Litem volunteers.

Sacred Heart Robotics captures first place

Sacred Heart School competed in the Regional BEST Robotics competition on Saturday, Oct. 24, and proudly brought home 1st place in the robotics portion of the contest.

This year, the team chose to compete at the Collin County Hub and the competition was held on the campus of Prosper High School. The team competed against 18 other robotics at the competition, and won the contest by out-scoring the other four finalists in the final three rounds.

The final scores were: Sacred Heart 558, Denison High School 464, Academy High School 421, and Caddo Mills High School 100 points.

The robotics team also received the award for being the Most Robust and the Top Gun award for scoring the most points in a single round. Under the direction of Darell Walterscheid, the team has been working diligently for the past six weeks building the robot and preparing for the competition.

The 1st place win qualified the team to compete in the State Best Robotics competition on Saturday, Nov. 14 at the Curtis Caldwell Center in Garland.

Group attends Come and See Discernment Retreat at Holy Angels Convent

Girls from Sacred Heart Catholic School attended the annual Come and See Discernment Retreat at Holy Angels Convent in Jonesboro, AR, Oct. 9 - 12. Carrie Knabe, Bernice Spaeth, and SHCS teacher Annette Bayer attended with students Gracie Green, Meredith Knabe, Geordan Spaeth, and Angela Villa. Upon arrival at the convent, Vocation Directress Sr. Mary Clare Bezner, OSB, met the group.

The weekend was spent in daily prayers with the Sisters, morning prayer (Lauds), evening prayer (Vespers), and night prayer (Compline) as well as daily Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament, Mass, and reciting of the Rosary. The reciting of the Rosary was done while hiking the grounds.

On Saturday, the girls enjoyed grilled hotdogs and German sausage for lunch topped off with making smores over the grill fire. During the Sunday Mass, the girls participated by carrying up the Offertory Gifts. Inspiring stories were shared about how these women were called to be Sisters. On Sunday afternoon, the girls enjoyed playing croquet with the Sisters and helping to round up a baby guinea.

The girls had an opportunity to tour the convent, hike the grounds, enjoying the beautiful autumn weather and warm colors of the leaves beginning to turn various shades of orange and yellow. The ducks and geese swimming on the pond were an added bonus. The girls also shopped in the convent gift shop under the direction of Sr. Romana Rohmer, OSB. Evenings were spent with the Sisters in the recreation room playing cards, board games, and puzzles and crocheting, and hronicing the weekend with many photos.

Following Monday morning prayer at 6:15, the girls enjoyed breakfast with the Sisters and bid a fond farewell to Holy Angels Convent, to Sr. Lillian Reiter, Prior, Sr. Mary Clare, and all the Sisters who made the weekend so memorable.

Muenster High installs 14 into NHS

Fourteen students from Muenster High School were inducted into membership of the National Honor Society during the ceremony held Tuesday, Sept. 29 in the Muenster ISD Cafeterium. The new members were joined by current members, family, and NHS Faculty Advisers Vicki Eldridge and Kristi Schneider. The students chose a fried chicken dinner catered by Rohmer's Restaurant and decorated the cafeterium with the colors that represent National Honor Society: blue and gold.

The new members were selected based on high standards of scholarship, service, leadership, and character, and approved by Advisers Vicki Eldridge and Kristi Schneider, and the Faculty

The NHS members will be attending their field trip on Nov. 3 along with the Student Council organization traveling to Dallas to attend a Leadership Conference held at the American Airlines Center. Following the conference, they have the opportunity to watch the Dallas Mavericks play against the Toronto Raptors.

Induction into the National Honor Society is a prestigious honor. NHS is one of the oldest and most distinguished national organizations for high school students. Chapters exist in more than 60% of the nation's high schools and, since 1921, millions of students have been selected for membership and millions of dollars in scholarships have been awarded to senior members since 1945 by the sponsoring organization, the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Weather Whys - Alberta Clipper

Q: You sometimes hear the term "Alberta Clipper." What is it?

A: An Alberta Clipper is a winter storm that forms over regions of Canada near the province of Alberta and sweeps in a southeastern direction over the United States, says Brent McRoberts of Texas A&M University. "It is believed the name comes from the big sailing ships of the 1800s, the ones with the huge sails that could travel quite quickly for vessels of that time period and were among the fastest ships on the seas. An Alberta Clipper storm moves quickly once it forms and usually has a greater impact in the U.S. than in Canada once it has fully developed," McRoberts explains.

Q: Are the storms considered blizzards?

A: No, says McRoberts. "An Alberta Clipper is a strong storm that usually has very cold temperatures and gusty winds, but because of its quick movement, tends to produce small snow totals," McRoberts explains. "If snow does occur, it's usually just a light dusting. However, if a Clipper moves over the Great Lakes region, it can produce lake-effect snowfall in those areas that are on the downwind of a lake. But generally, an Alberta Clipper produces gusty winds and very cold air over the areas it moves into and very rarely is categorized as a blizzard."

Weather Whys is a service of the Department of Atmospheric Sciences at Texas A&M University.

Hornets take District lead

Sacred Heart Tiger Zach Flusche (7) makes the catch in the big District win over San Jacinto.

Tigers dominate San Jacinto

San Jacinto Academy of Amarillo made the long trip to Muenster last Friday to take on the Tigers of Sacred Heart in an early, before-the-rain game.

"Another good performance on offense and defense," noted Tiger Coach Dale Schilling on the Tigers' 66-6 victory. "I was very pleased with both sides of the ball. Offensively, we showed good balance in running and throwing the ball."

The Tigers had 427 total offensive yards compared to Amarillo's 195. Sacred Heart's defense held the Patriots' running game to 0.8 yards per rush. The visitors averaged 22.5 yards per catch for 180 yards receiving.

An out-of-bounds opening kick gave the Tigers the ball on the Patriot 47 yard line. The first play of the game was a Kason Reeves to Wyatt West pass play for a 13 yard gain. Tyler Spruill ran the ball twice for 20 yards, with a Reeves to Will Green pass gaining 8 more. With 6:51 on the clock, Reeves and West connected for a 6 yard touchdown pass play. Reeves added the PAT for the starting 7-0 score.

An interception by Thomas Hennigan returned the ball to the Tigers. After three unsuccessful plays, a Reeves pass to Zach Flusche gained 32 yards to the Patriot 10. A Reeves to Hunter Hess pass added 6 points to the Tiger score. Reeves' PAT put Sacred Heart in the lead with 14 points.

San Jacinto scored three plays later on a 67 yard pass play for a 14-6 score.

Sacred Heart came right back when Hennigan returned the Patriot kick 82 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed for a 20-6 Tiger lead.

The Patriots got in 11 plays, which included five incomplete passes, and tackles by Flusche, Green, Spruill, Daniel Hesse, Grant Springer, Julian Hesse, and West. On 4th and 20, Spruill sacked the quarterback, giving the Tigers possession on their own 24 yard line. A 43 yard run by Reeves highlighted the drive. On 4th and 6 on the Patriot 20 yard line, Reeves completed pass to Green was good for 6 points. Reeves added the PAT kick for a 27-6 score.

The Patriots carried the ball into the 2nd quarter and punted. A 41 yard Reeves to Green pass play helped set up the Tigers' next touchdown - an 18 yard run by Reeves with 9:41 on the clock. Reeves' PAT made the score 34-6.

Hennigan picked off another Patriot pass and two plays later, Markus Shaw scored with a pass from Reeves. The PAT failed for a 40-6 score.

A penalty and tackles by Michael Fleitman, Mark Davis, J. Hesse, Hennigan, and Spruill stopped the Patriot drive and set up the Tigers' next touchdown. A Reeves to Hess pass play from 35 yards out added another 6 to the Tigers' points. Reeves booted the point after for a 47-6 score with 4 minutes still remaining in the 1st half.

Tyler Walterscheid intercepted a Patriot pass to shorten San Jacinto's next drive. San Jacinto's quarterback fumbled the ball, picked it up, and threw a pass that Walterscheid intercepted. The ball was fumbled, then recovered by the Tigers, slipped away again, and covered again. The Tigers got the ball. Two runs by Ethan Henry and a PAT by Reeves and the Tigers led 54-6 at halftime.

Third quarter play was mostly inside the Patriot 25. The Patriots started play on their 2 yard line. Gaining only 4, San Jacinto punted. From the 42, Jeron Juntado

A big win over Collinsville and Era's loss to Lindsay last Friday night gave the Muenster Hornets the lead placing in District 9AA, Div. 2. The Hornets still have Celeste and Era to defeat the next two weeks to remain undefeated in conference play.

"For as sloppy as it was, we executed well on offense," commented Coach Brady Carney on the Hornets' 47-6 win over the Pirates. "The only turnover was on a bad snap. No fumbles by the ball carriers and no interceptions." Muenster's defense did not allow Collinsville a pass completion. "Our defensive line did an outstanding job controlling the line of scrimmage and the special teams did a great job on punt and kick returns."

There was a 30 minute lightning delay, but it happened during halftime, so the teams were able to come out the 2nd half and finish the game.

An early flag and two incomplete passes forced Muenster to punt away their opening possession. The Pirates gained 7 and punted, setting up Muenster's second drive on their own 34. Dalton Bartel had two runs for 45 yards, Blayne Jones gained 5, and Clay Stevens 8 to the Collinsville 8 yard line. With 7:34 on the clock, Parker McGrew scored the Hornets' first points of the game. Bryce Herr added the point after for the 7-0 score.

Collinsville got in a run, then fumbled the ball. Kagen Dangelmayr recovered it on the Collinsville 37. Three unsuccessful plays and a penalty forced a Hornet punt on 4th and 20.

Moving out to only the 8 yard line, Collinsville's punt was returned by Stevens to the Pirate 27 yard line. Next play, Bartel scored. The PAT failed for a 13-0 Hornet lead with 3:48 on the clock.

The Hornet defense held Collinsville to minus 1 yard as the teams exchanged punts going into the 2nd quarter. With 10:38 remaining on the clock, Bartel found the end zone for 6 points. Brennan Binder ran in the 2-point conversion for a 21-0 Muenster lead.

Again, the Hornet defense shut down the Pirate offense. The punt put Muenster on their own 36 yard line. The Hornets struggled for three plays before a Jones to Chase Deeken pass play picked up 56 yards to the Pirate 3. A flag lost 15 yards, followed by two incomplete passes. On 3rd and goal, a Jones to McGrew pass completion was good for 6 points. The PAT failed for a 27-0 score with 8 minutes remaining in the 1st half.

Two penalties and the Hornet defense forced another Pirate punt. Muenster fumbled three plays later, then again held the Pirates to punt. Klement's 27 yard punt return put the ball on the Collinsville 35. With 1:47 on the clock, Jones scored. Herr's PAT was good for the 34-0 score. Stevens covered a fumbled ball on the kick return to end the 1st half.

It was three plays and punt for the Pirates as the 3rd quarter began. It took the Hornets just one play, a 40 yard run by Klement, to increase the point spread to 40-0.

Collinsville got in two big runs, then scored from 4 yards out to get on the scoreboard 40-6 with 5:26 on the clock.

The Pirate kick was returned 77 yards by Kagen

Dangelmayr for a Hornet touchdown. Herr booted the extra point for a 47-6 score with 2:26 ticking away.

The fast 4th quarter saw the Pirates run five plays, Muenster three and punt, Kody Walterscheid cover a loose ball, and Muenster run out the clock in four plays.

Hunters, landowners. and wildlife enthusiasts must speak up to protect Texas' wild deer herd

By Jenny Sanders

The threat of Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) is real. Appropriate and timely actions must be taken to protect our wild deer herds, hunting markets and rural economies.

Yet, the Texas Deer Association (TDA) continues to downplay this disease and avoid prudent accountability for its presence and potential spread through unnatural movement of captive-raised deer around the state. TDA and its members have lambasted, vilified, and degraded Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) personnel who have worked night and day to protect ALL of our interests since the June detection of CWD in a Medina County deer breeding facility. Despite deer breeders' claims, TPWD's actions have been guided by science, caution, and utmost concern for wildlife.

ease and revealing their disregard for wildlife, by filing a lawsuit against TPWD. In spite of active participation by multiple deer breeding trade associations—including TDA—in the construction and approval of the CWD management plan and the Aug. 19 emergency order, breeders are now opposed to the agreed-upon increased mandatory testing and restrictions on breeder deer movement. These breeders are also claiming ownership of the deer in their pens and challenging the centuries-old Public Trust Doctrine, which establishes a trustee relationship of state government to manage wildlife for present and future generations. Private ownership of wildlife would take us back to the days of English kings and does not fit with today's American values that all citizens, regardless economic status, have ownership interest in wildlife and a responsibility to invest in conservation. This model, coupled with the abundance of private land in Texas has resulted in a unique public-private partnership that has facilitated effective management of wildlife for decades, and should not be abandoned to appease a narrow stakeholder group that views wildlife simply as a commodity to be exploited for personal gain.

Although deer breeders would have the public believe they are responsible for the success of hunting in Texas, the reality is that they represent a measly .5% of Texas landowners, .1% of Texas hunters and the deer in their pens account for just 2.5% of the state's wild population. With PAC funds that rival the trial lawyers and the realtors, a propensity to claim economic impacts that are little more than a figment of their imagination, and a business model based largely on canned shooting; deer breeders and the trade associations that represent them are the antithesis of the real stewards and sportsmen responsible for healthy wild-

Sam Hesse returned the punt 28 yards to the Patriot 19 as the quarter ended. Roy Endres gained 8 yards, with Juntado scoring 49 seconds into the period. The PAT failed for a 60-6 score.

San Jacinto got 1 yard in four plays, then three plays later Juntado scored on a 22 yard run. The PAT failed for a final 66-6 score. Lightning strikes stopped the action, so with three minutes to play, the game was called.

Next Action The Tigers headed south to Fort Worth on Thursday night, Oct. 29 due to threatening weather forecast for Friday. They took on the non-conquering Conquerors of Calvary Christian. Calvary is having a winless season, 0-9, including 5 District losses. District losses include Covenant 54-12, Lubbock 41-0, Temple 69-0, San Jacinto 34-26, and Lake Country 47-6.

"Due to injuries, Calvary is a very young team playing lots of freshmen and sophomores," noted Coach Schilling.

They will be playing at All Saints Field in Fort Worth. Kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. following a re-scheduled Sacred Heart Junior High game that began at 6 p.m.

wildlife populations and hunting economies in Texas. Despite all of this, their shrill political megaphone continues to shut down the interests of Texans and Texas wildlife. Meanwhile, TPWD is forced to refocus its time and funding from the important work of managing and conserving wildlife for all Texans, to dealing with the antics and tantrums thrown by this narrow interest group. CWD is the latest in a laundry list of concerns regarding deer breeding practices, and this lawsuit represents the latest evidence of deer breeders' unwillingness to be accountable for their actions. We stand by TPWD's decisions in response to CWD and support continued sensible regulatory protocols. If you value wildlife, please attend the TPWD Commission meeting on Nov. 5 at 9 a.m. at their headquarters in Austin where deer breeders will likely pressure the agency to redact emergency rules for CWD and seek privatization of deer. Deer breeders should not be allowed to dominate the response. TDA does not speak for mainstream hunters and landowners. It is time for the silent majority of hunters, landowners, and wildlife enthusiasts to speak up to protect Texas' wildlife and ensure testing continues on both captive and wild deer, the emergency rule remains in place, and liberations of captive-raised deer never again occur on low-fenced land. Keep Texas Wildlife WILD!

AgriLife releases wheat variety 'picks'

The research is done and the winners are in. Texas A&M AgriLife has released its wheat variety "picks," or suggestions, for growers across the state.

A "pick" variety, according to Extension specialists, is chosen because "given the data, these are the varieties we would choose to include and emphasize on our farm for wheat grain production in a particular region."

To determine the "picks," AgriLife Research and Extension faculty work together by region to conduct Extension wheat testing in both research settings and on farms.

The criteria, according to Dr. Calvin Trostle, AgriLife Extension agronomist, includes a minimum of three years of data in AgriLife wheat variety trials across numerous annual locations.

The "picks" aren't necessarily the varieties with the best yields.

According to AgriLife, the variety's disease resistance, insect tolerance, and standability all play a role.

Additional information and the "picks" can be found here: <http://bit.ly/1FcKx7s>.

Coyote populations on the rise

An increased number of prey species because of a wet spring means more predators. And a bumper crop of coyotes across the Lone Star State.

"This has been a good year for coyotes. A lot of coyote pups were born. A lot of coyote pups survived," said Mike Bodenchuk, Texas Wildlife Services state director. "And we're seeing rabbits for the first time in maybe a decade, and that's going to increase the number of coyotes that are out there."

It could lead to problems with Texas agriculture, particularly for sheep, goat, and cattle ranchers.

"There's going to be a ready reservoir of nuisance wildlife available, and that requires constant management," Bodenchuk said.

Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service
Marty Morgan
 Cooke County Extension Agent for Agriculture & Natural Resources

Hello Folks,

GREAT NEWS! I received word from Bo Epting, USDA Farm Service Agency CED, that Cooke County has been approved for the Emergency Conservation Program (ECP). This means that if you had damage from the storms and flooding back in the Spring, you are able to sign up and receive help through this program. The cost share percentage is set at the max of 75%, with stipulations. If you are needing assistance in offsetting expenses on repairs caused by the flood, be sure to call or go by the FSA office to sign up and see if you qualify. Bo and the FSA staff will go over the program with you, and work to get you the help you need. Please call (940) 668-7794 ext 2, or visit their office at 2200 North Grand Ave. here in Gainesville. And remember sign up ends Nov. 13, 2015. If I can be of any assistance to you please let me know.

We finally received some good rain last week with reports of four to six inches throughout the County. The much needed rainfall follows a period of very dry conditions after all the rain and flooding finally came to a stop back in June. It has definitely been a year of weather extremes here, but hey, after all, this is Texas. Farmers and ranchers are feeling a little more easy after receiving some good moisture that will help the winter pastures come on and produce some forage for their cattle operations.

The Cooke County Beef Cattle Improvement Association held its 10th Annual Red River Regional Replacement Sale this past Saturday at the Fair grounds. There was a good crowd on hand to purchase some good quality bulls and replacement females. A good BBQ Rib lunch was served prior to the sale and everything ran smoothly.

The Cooke County Fall Beef Cattle Management Program we had on Oct. 7 was a success and folks said they enjoyed all the presentations from our three guest speakers. A good crowd was on hand for the program held at the NCTC First State Bank Performing Arts Center. NCTC Ag Department, Steve Keith and Helena Chemicals, and Mike and Nancy Graves in Era sponsored the program. Joanie Wyrick prepared the great meal.

The Cross Timbers Landowners Workshop on Oct. 2 was a success, and was held at the Dixon Ranches Leo Unit, at the very nice Josey pavilion. Dixon Ranches, Melissa and Tom Bookout hosted this event. We had a good turnout and our speakers gave informative presentations which were well received by our attendees.

We have many good Extension programs lined up for 2016, so check your local papers, magazines and our website at cooke.agrilife.org for news and events.

Until next time,

Veterinary feed directive raises concerns for cattle raisers

By: Ty Keeling
 TSCRA Animal Health Committee

In 1996, the Animal Drug Availability Act (ADAA) was signed into law to provide flexibility for the way the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulates animal drugs and medicated feeds. This was enacted to increase the number of approved animal drugs on the market, and it created a new category of drugs used in animal feed referred to as veterinary feed directive drugs (VFD drugs).

Under the 1996 ADAA, VFD drugs did not require a prescription from a licensed veterinarian for use. However, this recently changed on Oct. 1, 2015 when the FDA implemented a new rule that expands and further regulates the use of what they refer to as drugs that are "medically important" feed grade antibiotics.

This rule immediately takes effect for three VFD drugs: Avilamycin, Florfenicol, and Tilmicosin. Only Tilmicosin is used as a feed-grade drug in cattle. By Jan. 1, 2017, the list of VFD drugs will expand to include all medically important antibiotics used in feed and water for disease prevention, control, and treatment.

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association (TSCRA) believes this is another example of the federal government expanding their authority and attempting to regulate ranchers out of business. They are accomplishing this by requiring producers to receive a VFD form, similar to a prescription, from a licensed veterinarian before they can acquire and use antimicrobial drugs in feed or water.

A veterinarian must fill out the VFD form specifying the ranch, group of animals to be treated, drug to be used, feeding rate, and the duration of the treatment for the cattle. Additional time and increased costs for cattlemen and women are the only result of these regulations.

Further, an unrealistic amount of detailed forms and records must be retained for a minimum of two years by the veterinarian, rancher, and feed mill or distributor. This amount of paperwork is unnecessary and arduous just to receive a drug ranchers have used appropriately for years to care for their cattle.

The new VFD rule also requires veterinarians to follow what the FDA refers to as state defined veterinarian-client-patient relationships (VCPR). In states where the FDA determines no applicable or appropriate state VCPR requirements exist, veterinarians are required to issue VFDs in compliance with federally defined VCPR requirements. Texas and Oklahoma already have state VCPR requirements in place; however, the FDA is overlooking the fact that ranchers already have good working relationships with their local veterinarians.

The VFD rule is part of Shoppers want red meat. And they're willing to pay more for it.

Demand for both beef and pork has been building over the past couple of years and has reportedly taken off in 2015, pork market specialist Steve Meyer tells Agriculture.com.

Beef and pork expenditures are up 14 and 16% respectively.

But that doesn't mean people are eating more red meat. Just that they're willing to pay more for what's out there.

Lower gas prices, a better economy, and a positive outlook for animal protein are attributed to the rise in willingness to pay more.

Meyer predicts a good year for pork producers, but worries profits could vanish in the coming years.

FDA's strategy to promote the judicious use of antimicrobials in food-producing animals. The Administration believes antibiotics are causing resistance in humans who consume beef products; however they have continuously failed to back this claim with proper peer-reviewed sound science.

While the rule is not expected to be in full effect until 2017, TSCRA recommends that cattle producers contact their veterinarians to discuss how it could affect them in their daily operations.

American ranchers have proved they are the best caretakers of their cattle, and they have continuously provided a safe, healthy, and abundant supply of beef worldwide. They have been able to do this by working with their veterinarians and by using antibiotics judiciously to treat sick cattle and maintain healthy herds. The federal government needs to realize that at the end of the day, these regulations are actually jeopardizing animal health.

TSCRA will continue to work with industry organizations and government officials to ensure cattle raisers' access and ability to use important animal drugs to care for their cattle are retained. TSCRA will also keep its members informed as the VFD rule continues being implemented throughout the U.S.
