VOLUME XXI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS.

JUNE 14, 1957

NUMBER 30

A few weeks ago some two million youngsters graduated from grade and high schools and about 800,000 got college degrees, but, according to a distressing report from Handwriting Foundation, thousands and thousands of those graduates can't write... so anyone else can read it.

Along the same line an army general some months ago discussed the shortcomings of recruits who report for service. He says "These high school graduates can't spell, their English composition is bad, and their writing is in the form of hieroglyphics. Schools are teaching a lot of the fancy things but not enough of the Three Rs."

Reports from the business world are about the same. According to the Handwriting Foundation business losses run into the millions every year because store clerks cannot fill in a customer's name or itemize correctly, because salesmen can't write an order or because telephone girls can't write a charge slip.

It isn't that the foundation or the general are telling us anything new. But their reminder ought to start some thinking. Modern education, while offering lots of new subjects, has apparently been over anxious to get over the fundamentals, and in the process has failed in one of the principal objectives of an education... to convey ideas from one to the other.

No matter how far a person has gone in school he is not quite literate if he can't write so others can read it.

What's the real motive behind all this academic discussion lately on a swap out of TV appearances of Soviets over here and Americans over there?

As usual it's mighty difficult and perhaps impossible to trace down the origin of such proposals, but we can understand that it might have come from big wheels of the communist party. No innocent sounding proposition ever leaned more strongly in their favor.

When a person figures circumstances he readily understands this is not the simple exchange of opinions it is cracked up to be. It is not an equal contest in which an American cheerfully attempts to sell free enterprise while a Russian cheerfully tries to sell socialism. The difference lies in the reception of programs in the two countries... and there is where the reds have the overwhelming advantage.

Here the number of potential listeners runs into the tens of millions. Over there the probable number is nearer a few thousand. Here the audience is made up of every kind of people including many who might be influenced by a good selling job. There the TV audience is made up mostly of party big shots and other favorites... about the only ones who can afford sets... and they are all prejudiced.

It's amazing that the subject is discussed at all by our moguls in Washington. A moment's thought reveals that the deal could give Moscow a big advantage, and experience has shown long ago that the reds seldom pass up an advantage.

Ironically the British seem to have bested our leaders in judgment on this affair. They don't want any of the arrangement. They say Khrushchev gave a false impression of his mob, picturing them as pleasant, peace loving fellows who might lull Westerners into a false sense of trust and security. On the other hand, they say, the West's side would be heard by few and believed by still fewer.

It is gratifying at last to see England showing a bit of judgment on the subject, especially after its sorry record in the past. Its friendliness to the reds, its application of socialism in its own economy, and its persistent attitude favoring trade with the whole group of red countries all seemed to prove the British were either scared stiff or leaning too far to the left.

Let's hope now that the English will go a bit farther with their logic and decide that trade with the Reds is also a one-sided deal. Every bit of it has served to strengthen the red war potential but has done nothing to help the Western countries.

Reports on harvest yields are still too limited to get an idea of the trend, but two of them support a hope that things will be better than the threatened (Continued on Page 10)

Scholastic Count After Transfers Is 708; Gain is 33

A net gain of 33 scholastics appears likely at the public school for the next school year, Superintendent H. H. Homsley disclosed this week after receiving a report on transfers from County Superintendent W. E. Chalmers. The number jumps from 675 to 708.

The district, with an actual count of 685 in the latest scholastic census, made a net gain of 23 in the transfers approved by the county school board. Four were transferred out and 27 were transferred in, giving the district a total of 708.

That figure may be reduced somewhat as a result of regular check ups by the Texas Education Agency. Homsley said some students were enumerated here before they moved out of the district and they will be taken off the local roll in case they were enumerated elsewhere. However, deductions for such duplications are already over due, so it now seems possible that none will be made.

Last year the TEA removed 17 names from the district roll... from 670 to 653. Transfers of 26 in and 4 out brought an addition of 22 and a net scholastic count of 675 for the year.

Translated into budget figures, this year's scholastic gain, if it remains at the present level, will mean an increase of about $2840 in the school's revenue. The per capita allotment is expected to be about $80.00 per scholastic.

The money will be especially welcome in meeting increased expenses resulting from the $399 pay raise granted to teachers by the last legislature. With 13 teachers on the local faculty the pay raise calls for an increase of almost $5200. The increased per capita revenue will meet about half of the raise.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Enlists In Navy

His address is: Donald Flusche, 490-54-43 (M.Div.); USS Mauna Kea (AE 22); c-o Fleet Post Office; New York, N.Y.

Band Has Weekly Summer Practice Starting Wednesday

Summer practice for members of the Muenster Band, and other band players who wish to participate, will begin next Wednesday Director Jim Harris announced this week. The sessions, beginning at 8 o'clock will be held every Wednesday night in the public school.

The purpose of the practice, Harris said, is to avoid the usual summer set back and have a better band for the opening of school next fall. Weekly sessions can keep players at about their level at the close of the school year.

All band members are especially urged to report for the weekly practice and any others who wish to keep in practice are invited to report.

Those who care to play are asked to see Harris whether or not they have instruments. The school has a few horns, and a few others that are not in use can possibly be located.

Make-up Games in Little League Will Wait for Harvest

Sunday games in the Muenster Little League are called off until further notice. Commissioner Herbie Herr responded to the suggestion of league managers and announced that the make up dates would be postponed for the benefit of players who have to spend their Sundays at emergency harvesting. It is hoped that the emergency will be over and the regular schedule can be resumed after a few weeks.

Because of wet weather the two first games of the season were called off and both are now on schedule for a make up when the Sunday games are resumed. By then a few more games may possibly be added to the Sunday list.

Tuesday night in the season's only contest so far, Dick Cain's Lions Club clobbered Glenn Hellman's KC kids by a count of 17-4. The Lions cashed in on a combination of 12 hits, 7 walks and 5 errors. The KCs got their 4 runs in the first inning on 3 hits and 4 walks. Mullins the winning pitcher, allowed 5 hits and 5 walks and fanned 8 during the 5 inning game. V. Hess, the KC hurler allowed 17 hits and 7 walks and struck out 3. Leading hitters were Otto, 2 singles and a double; Flusche 3 singles and Monday 3 singles.

FFA Sets Meeting To Plan Trip and Elect Delegates

All members of the MHS Future Farmers of America chapter are invited to attend a special meeting next Tuesday, June 18, at 8 p.m.

Glenn Hellman, chapter adviser, said the session is called for two purposes: to elect delegates to the state convention in Fort Worth July 17, 18 and 19 and to make plans and set a date for an all-chapter trip, also in July. This will be an educational tour.

He urges all members to attend the meeting and at the same time invites all boys interested in agriculture, who will be freshmen next September, to be present.

Appreciation Day Weekly Drawings To Start Saturday

A trades day promotion sponsored by nineteen Muenster business firms will be introduced here Saturday at 3:30 o'clock. It is an "appreciation day" drawing from a treasure chest created by participating merchants for the purpose of drawing crowds and stimulating business.

Each Saturday the drawing will be held in front of one of the participating stores. The first will be in front of Hamric's. Rules governing the affair specify that a person must be present to win, except that husband or wife can answer for each other. If the person whose name is drawn is not present he or she will be notified and will be awarded a nominal amount as a token of appreciation.

Drawings are always for a percentage of the treasure chest, not for its full amount. What remains afterward is carried forward to the next drawing and is increased by the amount of the weekly subscriptions by the participating firms. At this time, with 19 firms participating, the weekly addition is $38.

Coupons for the drawing are available free at all of the participating stores and more coupons can be obtained with purchases. The person receiving the coupon is expected to write on his name and address and deposit it in the box provided by each store. Coupons are gathered before the drawing each Saturday.

Once deposited in the big container, coupons remain in the drawing week after week, the only limit being the size of the container. If and when it becomes necessary to make more room in the container some of the coupons will be taken out publicly and destroyed.

Aged Mother of Father Louis Dies

Word was received here Sunday of the death, early in the morning, of Father Louis Deuster's mother. She was about 95 years old and had been hospitalized at Fort Smith since breaking her hip several months ago.

Funeral services were held in Fort Smith Tuesday with Father Louis officiating at the requiem mass and at burial in the parish cemetery.

Father Louis had gone to Fort Worth Saturday to assist with Sunday services in that city and went from there to Windthorst to be joined by Father Cyril on the trip to Subiaco, Ark., where all Benedictines of Subiaco Abbey attended the annual retreat.

Albert Eberhart Dies in Kentucky

Word has reached here of the death of Albert Eberhart of Louisville, Ky., a former Muenster resident and a brother of the late John Eberhart.

He was the youngest and the last surviving member of the Eberhart family of eleven children of which John Eberhart was the oldest. Following the death of the parents, Albert lived with Mr. and Mrs. John Eberhart and moved to Muenster with them in 1897. When he was a young man, able to make his own way, he left here and had lived in Louisville most of his adult life. He was born in Indiana. His last visit here with relatives was eight years ago.

Survivors are his wife, two sons Carl and John and five grandchildren.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Billy Frank Richter was dismissed from Baylor Hospital in Dallas Tuesday and is convalescing at home. He will have to rest for about a week, then return for a checkup. He had surgery June 4. His mother spent the entire week at his bedside and brought him home.

Mrs. Rufus Bezner of Lindsay underwent major surgery at Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday morning and is reported recovering normally.

Mrs. Eddie Krähl was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Monday following medical care. Also dismissed was T. L. Whitt of route 1.

Time and Place Set For Local Voting in Wheat Referendum

Wheat farmers of the community who wish to register a vote for or against marketing quotas on the 1958 crop are reminded that Thursday, June 20, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. is the voting date and Endres Motor Co. is the voting place at Muenster.

The announcement was made here this week by H. B. Newberry, A.S.C. representative in Cooke County.

Newberry pointed out that the referendum applies to marketing quotas only and not to acreage allotments. He also said that a two thirds majority favoring the marketing quota will assure support prices for the 1958 wheat crop.

Because of community property laws in Texas, both man and wife are permitted to vote in the referendum, Newberry added. A person must be planning at least 15 acres of wheat for the '58 crop to qualify for a vote.

School Board OKs Renewing Contract With Bus Company

Bus transportation for the Muenster school children can be provided on the same basis that it was last year, so far as members of the school board are concerned.

At their meeting last Thursday night they favored a contract identical to last year's and submitted their proposal to the bus company. If officials of the parochial school are willing to operate on their former basis the transportation deal is settled for another year.

By terms of the former contract the public school agreed to pay two thirds of the operation cost up to a limit of $9000 or $75 per eligible student, whichever would be less... the eligible student being one who attends the public school and lives outside the distance specified by the Texas Education Agency. The parochial school's share of the transportation bill was $4,500.

In effect the contract is a four to one deal. With half as much enrollment and twice the operation expense the public school pays four times as much per student.

The board is aware however that a similar ratio applies in determining the source of school tax money. Parents of parochial students outnumber public school parents about 2 to 1 hence pay in about twice as much tax. In return the board is as generous as the law allows in the one service it can share with the parochial school.

The local bus system is an outgrowth of two methods that were tried unsuccessfully in the past. First the school board disregarded restrictions and carried all children. After state authorities halted that practice each school operated its own system for a while.

Then they set up the present system in which an independent carrier contracts separately with both schools. It has saved both schools money in current operating expense, decreased driving time for the students and, because of the shorter routes, has decreased the annual depreciation of busses. The extra mileage before resulted from many duplications of routes.

Truck and Load of Hay Go up in Flame

A fire at the Nick Schenck farm 6 miles west of town Tuesday night destroyed a load of hay and almost completely destroyed Norbert Hoedebeck's 1954 Chevrolet truck on which the hay was loaded. Witnesses said later that probably a small percentage of the truck's value may possibly be salvaged.

The origin of the fire is not known. The first person to notice it was a motorist driving east on the highway. He reported it at Ferd's Gulf Station and Ferd turned in the alarm to the local firemen. Moments before the city's pumper truck arrived the Schencks also noticed the blaze, which was in the yard about 100 feet from the house. Joe Sicking and Herbie Herr, Muenster firemen, used all of their 200 gallons of water and Saint Jo firemen who also had been called, finished the job with their 500 gallon supply.

Farmers Still Wait To Start Harvest On Fading Crops

At a time when harvesting in this community should normally be finished farmers are still waiting to get started. A light shower Wednesday added another day to the long wait that has been in effect since the middle of May.

A small percentage of farmers in widely scattered fields were finding enough barely passable ground by Tuesday to start back to work. Some balers were trying to pick up oats that had been cut a month before. Combines too, were venturing out. In many cases those machines were hitched to two tractors. In even more cases farmers gave up after trying with a two tractor hook-up.

All over the area the story seems to be the same. Record rainfall has left the ground completely saturated and there is no way of taking up the excess water. Subsoil cannot hold any more, the heavy crop cover protects the ground against evaporation by sun or breeze and the crop, matured long ago, has quit drawing on the moisture supply. As a result drying is about the slowest remembered here.

The extent of yield to be expected when work finally gets started is another big question. Some grain is drowned out, some is badly damaged by worms, some is broken down and heads will be hard to get, but there definitely are many fields that still look like a fair crop.

A few reports tell of farmers who have already turned livestock into the grain fields, apparently convinced that they can realize more that way than by trying to harvest.

This method also solves another very prevalent problem. Despite all the rain, grazing is actually scarce. Last year's drought, in some cases intensified by over grazing, left native all time low. Fairly good fields here and there give promise of half a crop. Many more appear like a third or a fourth of normal (Continued on Page 10)

Plane Crash Halts Electric Service

The power failure lasting more than a half hour Monday afternoon was caused by a crashing jet plane. The F-86D plane from Perrin AFB hit a tower supporting a 132,000 volt electric line leading from the Denison dam. The pilot of the plane parachuted safely before the crash occurred.

A wide area of North Texas was affected by the accident. At Gainesville an emergency crew was preparing to cut in its stand-by plant when power was restored.

Hubert Richey Has Grid Scholarship At Texas Western

Hubert Richey co-captain of last year's Muenster High Hornets, will take his football skill to Texas Western College of El Paso next year. After an interview with Coach Mike Brumbelow at Texas Western last week, Hubert received a four year athletic scholarship.

Richey was an outstanding athlete in all sports at Muenster High but is remembered especially for his record in football last year. He was far in front as leading scorer of the district and he was the unanimous choice of coaches for a position on the all-district team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Richey, former Muenster residents now living in Gainesville.

Hubert is spending the summer at Farmington, N.M., as an employee of the El Paso Natural Gas Co.

Carol Klein Bride Of Walter Grewing In Thursday Rites

Carol Klein and Walter Grewing exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony Thursday afternoon, June 8, in Sacred Heart church at 4 o'clock with Rev. Louis Deuster officiating.

The bride is the niece of Miss Mary Klein of Dallas, formerly of Muenster, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grewing.

White gladioli adorned the altar. Anthony Luke, organist, and the church choir presented the music for the nuptial high mass. Carl Walterscheid and Bernard Haverkamp Jr. ushered.

Carol, given in marriage by Arthur Hess, wore a white chantilly lace and tulle gown over satin with a figurine bodice, portrait neckline and long petal point sleeves. The aisle-wide skirt of layers of tulle was enhanced with a lace overskirt drifting into a formal court train.

Her veil of imported illusion was caught to a pearl coronet and cascaded in tiers beyond her waist. She carried a purple-throated white orchid and stephanotis.

Anna Grace Fette of Sherman, attending as maid of honor, wore a bouffant aqua crystalline dress with matching hat. She carried red roses.

Thomas Walterscheid was best man.

After the mass the bride and groom went to the Blessed Virgin's shrine where Carol placed a bouquet of white gladioli on the altar.

Miss Klein attended her niece's wedding in a navy blue costume with navy and white accessories and the groom's mother also wore navy and white. Both had corsages of white carnations.

A reception honored the couple in the parish hall and about 300 relatives and friends were guests for a buffet supper. Afterwards there was a wedding dance in the VFW hall.

When Mr. and Mrs. Grewing return from their wedding trip they will make their home on North Main Street. He is in the oil business here as a partner with his brother Richard Grewing.

The bride completed her junior year at Sacred Heart High this year. She made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hess

Dues have been changed from fifty cents to one dollar and applicants must be voted on for admission by members in good standing. Members missing three consecutive business meetings without a valid excuse must forfeit their membership cards. An elected officer missing two consecutive business meetings forfeits his position and a special election shall take place to determine that officer's successor.

Meetings have been set for the third Wednesday of each month, and the third Sunday of the month is Communion day.

Father Christopher, spiritual director, met with the young people and reviewed the constitution adopted by the deanery, then discussed vital points. He revealed that he is in the process of contacting several adults to be club sponsors. Meanwhile committees are being set up.

Insect Control is Discussed Monday At Garden Meeting

An informative discussion on insect control was presented to members of the Civic League and Garden Club at their June meeting Monday night. Mrs. Nick Miller was in charge of the program.

Seventeen members and three guests attended the meeting in the home of Mrs. Frank Yosten with Mrs. Joe Swirczynski as co-hostess.

In her talk, Mrs. Miller identified flower and vegetable garden pests including snails, pill bugs, slugs, cut worms, beetles, aphids and other insects that plague gardeners in this vicinity and prescribed sprays and dusts that prove effective in exterminating them.

Different pests require varied handling and prescribed positionings she pointed out, emphasizing that the gardener make sure she knows what is attacking her plants before she fights it. She urged building up the soil because fertile, well-cared-for soil will have fewer insects.

She also named insects which are the gardener's friends. These include the devil's horse and lady bug which feed on destructive insects.

The business session preceded the program. Mrs. Tony Gremminger presided. After committee chairmen gave routine reports members discussed proposed improvements at the cemetery including a new front fence and refinishing of the crucifixion group.

The meeting, the last of the current season, also reviewed activity to be carried on during the summer while the club is disbanded. The program and yearbook committee will have meetings to arrange next year's course of study and have the books ready for distribution when the club meets to reorganize in September.

Another feature of Monday's meeting was installation of new officers elected in April. They will take office in September. Mrs. Nick Miller, a past president, presided at the formal installation ceremony.

After adjournment the hostesses served frosted drinks and cookies, party mints and nuts.

ELECTRICITY — SOCIALIST TARGET

When all the lesser debates and arguments are pushed aside, the very heart of the issue between Socialism and Capitalism lies in the question: who shall own property; who shall own and operate the instruments of production and distribution? Karl Marx was a Socialist. The Communism which he espoused was merely a form of Socialism. Marx wrote in the Communist Manifesto: "The theory of Communists may be summed up in a single sentence: Abolition of private property."

Webster's Collegiate Dictionary defines Socialism: "A political and economic theory . . . based on . . . government ownership . . . of the essential means for the production and distribution of goods . . ." Herbert A. Philbrick, who worked for nine years as a secret FBI agent in the Communist underground with the New York Herald Tribune, says that at the last meeting of the Red bosses in the Kremlin instructions went out to the powerful Communist underground apparatus in the United States to "exploit every opportunity" for "cooperative activity between the party and pro-democratic forces" in order to "advance the cause of Socialism."

Socialists Swift Gain

The chief method for "advancing the cause of Socialism" in the United States is to work for government or "public" ownership of the means of production and distribution. Since the late 1920's, when they began to wield political and thought-shaping influence, the Reds in America have been concentrating on gaining government ownership of electric power facilities, a first step toward transforming Capitalism into Socialism. Working with them unwittingly have been a great many influential non-Communists and millions of uninformed or misinformed people.

In 30 years we have seen government ownership of electric power facilities jump from virtually zero to nearly 20 per cent of the entire industry. Sen. Karl E. Mundt says the forces of Socialism in America are very powerful and they will make a supreme effort in the next few years to gain dominant control of the electric power industry.

All Fuels Would Go

"I don't think for a minute," said Senator Mundt, "that you will ever have a complete monopoly of power by politicians in this country (government ownership) and have at the same time a privately operated appliance industry. If we socialize power, we will wrap the package up and say, 'Let's go socialistic all the way.'" Senator Mundt pointed out that electricity is a fuel. If it becomes government owned, then all the other fuels — coal, atomic energy, gas, and the rest — will necessarily become government owned. And with fuel in the hands of politicians he noted, other areas of production and commerce would have to come under their control too.

Senator Mundt told of his experience at a Communist meeting in Denver back in the 1930's when he was a teacher. "This was the first time that I had ever studied much about river authorities," he said. "The Communists were talking about them not in terms of whether they would produce power more cheaply or contribute to a good soil conservation or flood control program. Instead, they were working for nine potential river authorities (TVA and eight others) so that they might be able to set them up and make them powerful enough . . . to gain control of government power over the 48 states."

People Will Decide

Senator Mundt said the people, by their votes and participation in government, would make the key decisions on government ownership of the electric power

A Father Remembers His Father

By Joseph A. Brieg, Editor of the Cleveland Universe-Bulletin

You don't really realize, until you see your father dead. Then for a little while it seems that God Himself has died.

IT SEEMS that the stars must fall from the heavens, and the sun stop giving its light. You feel for a moment that something must happen like the earthquake and the darkness of Golgotha.

Your father was only a man, but somehow he represented (although you did not know it until he was gone) God to you.

Brieg

HE WAS stability. He was strength. He was safety. He was security. He was guardian love.

HE WAS stability. He was strength. He was safety. He was security. He was guardian love. He was the foundation and walls and roof of your little universe.

All else could change; not he. All things could pass; not he. But he did. Impossibly, incredibly, he did. And all at once you stop taking him for granted; stop taking fatherhood for granted; stop taking God for granted.

SUDDENLY you see that your father need not have been your father. You see that he need not have devoted a lifetime to loving you and caring for you. Above all (heart stopping thought!) you realize that God too might have chosen not to be your Father.

Then the avalanche of understanding thunders down upon you, and you know something of the eternal meaning of paternity.

IT MEANS THAT God trusts us—and that we do not fall Him. It means that He places in our poor hands His tremendous title of Father; and we do not spoil it.

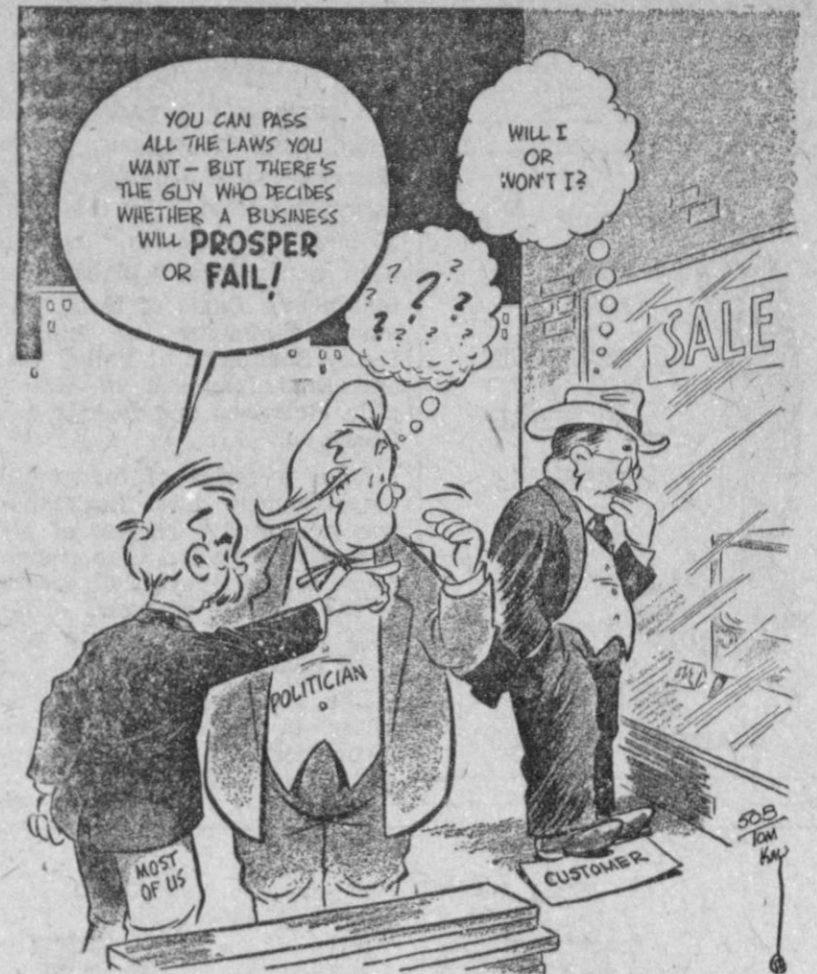

Through all the centuries, all the eras, all the aeons, we have not spoiled it. To this day, the word Father falls nobly on the ear and into the heart. It might not. It might be the most hateful word in all languages. But it is good. It is not unworthy of God.

AND THAT is because, whatever else men have failed in, they have not; by and large, failed in fatherliness. They have stood fairly well in the place of God for their sons. And their sons love them. And bless them.

Men wonder, when their fathers are dead, whether the sun will ever rise again; and after due thought, adore God better for having known (so to speak) God's associate fathers.

OF THIS — if of little else — our race may be humbly proud — that we have not failed to keep the word Father so noble as to be fit for fathers, for founders of nations, for God Himself.

I AM NO LONGER RESPONSIBLE FOR MY WIFE'S ACTIONS

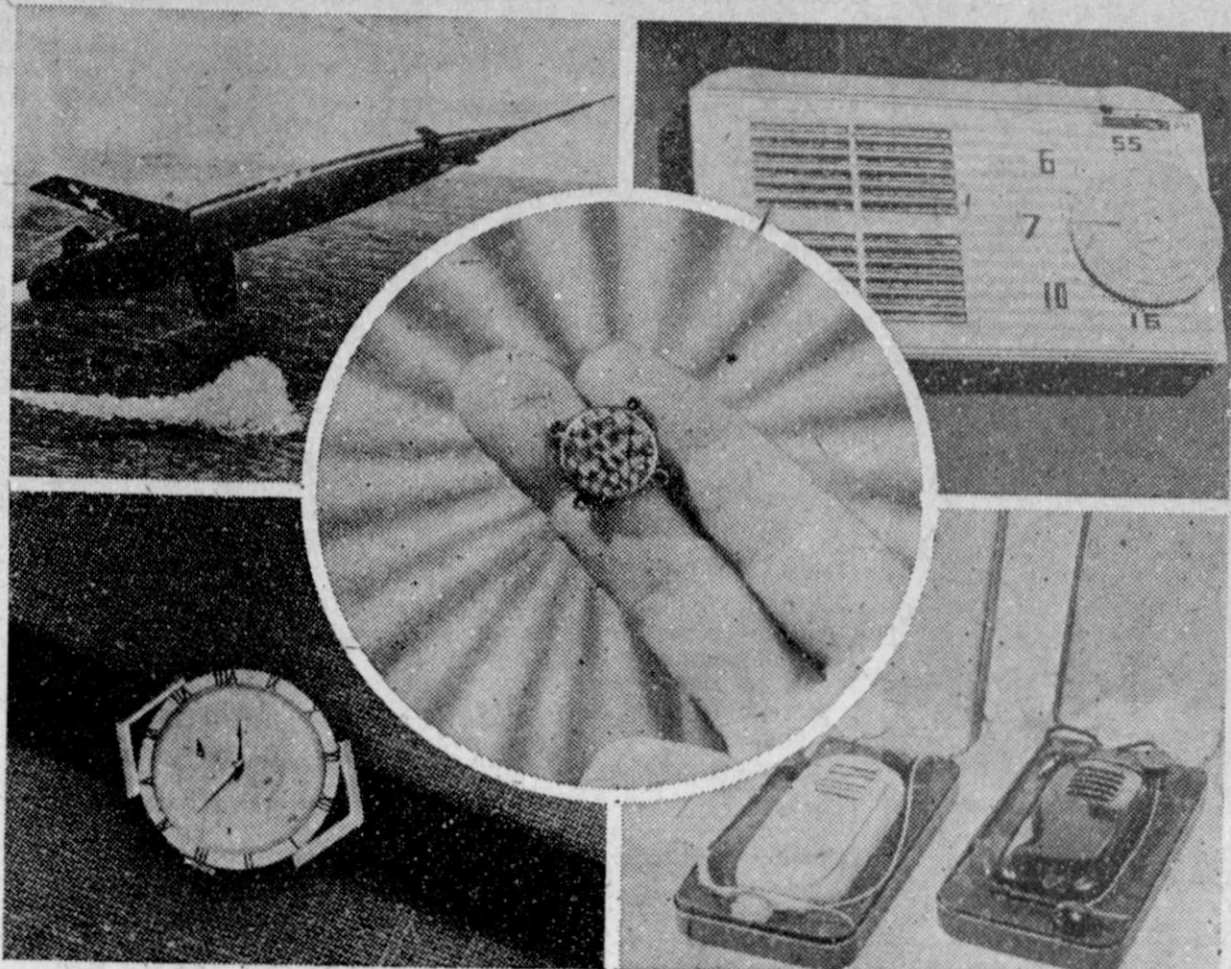

(Since she got her new kind of Ford)

"If she is unbelievably happy at 7:00 A. M. every morning, I now hold her 1957 Ford responsible. If she is off for the day at 7:02 A. M., I suggest that it is the power of Ford's Thunderbird V-8 engine. If she appears vastly more style-conscious, it is the longer, lower lines of her new kind of Ford that have made her so.

"If she arrives home remarkably refreshed, I refer you to the lower, more comfortable seats, the wider wrap-around windshield and the other peace-of-mind features of her new 'Inner Ford.' If she's just a bit more spoiled, don't blame her. With optional power steering, power brakes, power windows and seat—who wouldn't be?"

"And if she is constantly raving about the savings her new car brings her, she's merely confirming what I've been telling her about Fords for years! Sure, we're a two-Ford family now. But even having one Ford in the family was more fun than you can imagine! Try a new '57 Ford at your house. It's Terrific!"

BUTTON-SIZE NUCLEAR BATTERY—Five years of research has resulted in an atomic-powered battery which utilizes what was once considered a nuclear waste product as its power source. The tiny battery will deliver power over at least a five-year period. It is the forerunner, supposedly, of batteries for use in radios, guided missiles, hearing aids and even wrist watches. Joint developers Walter Kidde Laboratories and the Elgin National Watch Company stress that more research will be necessary before something like an atomic watch will be possible. Promethium 147, the power source, emits fast-moving rays which are trapped in a specially designed phosphor, converting them to "atomic light." The light is captured by a photo-cell and automatically transformed into energy.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Now is the time for all good cattlemen to come to the aid of their pastures. That message comes from the local soil conservation office.

Grasses in the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district have been hard hit by last year's drought. Much of the grass died and much more of it is seriously damaged. SCS technicians estimate that from 20 to 50 per cent of native tall grasses have been killed on rangelands with the shallower soils suffering the greater amount of plant loss. Pastures of Buffalo and Bermuda grass have also sustained heavy loss and damage.

Grass which did survive the dry weather came out rather weakly this spring. It was seriously damaged and needs a lot of care to restore it to normal and a lot of attention to get it back to the job of producing beef and other livestock products.

Weeds, taking advantage of the grasses' weakened condition, have come in strong. They are competing with the grass for food, moisture, sunlight and growing room. At the present stage the weeds seem to have the upper hand. The annuals have all had wonderful growing conditions this spring. They have a head start on the weakened grasses and are now crowding and shading the grass. Down beneath the weed's heavy growth, grasses are struggling for survival.

Landowners can take a number of steps in grass management to aid the grasses in their comeback. According to soil conservation service technicians the most important thing the grasses need at this time is rest.

Grass makes 95 per cent of its food in its leaves. This food is transported to the roots and stored as a reserve food supply to grow more leaves to make more food. Dry weather last summer, together with close grazing, has used up the food reserves and the plants are very weak. They need a long rest from grazing animals in order to gain growing strength and produce seed and other plants to replace those that were lost. Management should give all grass possible a long rest by keeping cattle on other pastures.

When ever possible at least half of the native grass rangeland should receive a complete rest from now until frost. Short grass pastures can be improved by resting every other month throughout the spring and summer.

Mowing or spraying to control weeds will greatly benefit grasses this year, and is especially needed on short grass pastures where heavy weed growth is shading the short plans.

Bermuda grass waterways need mowing at the first opportunity in order to help the grass get a good cover back on the soil to protect the land from washing.

June 20 Is Date For Vote on Wheat Marketing Quotas

College Station — Wheat farmers will decide by referendum on June 20 whether or not they want marketing quotas on the 1958 wheat crop.

According to R. G. Shrauner, chairman, Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the recent proclamation of marketing quotas for the 1958 crop of wheat conforms with legislative directives. Under the governing legislation, the Secretary of Agriculture must proclaim marketing quotas for the next wheat crop when the available supply is 20 percent above the normal supply. The estimated supply of 1,825 million bushels available for the 1957-58 marketing year is actually 56 percent above the normal supply of 1,170 million bushels. The normal supply is based on estimated domestic consumption and exports plus a 20 percent carry-over.

The quotas do not become effective, points out the chairman, unless at least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum favor the quotas. The outcome of the referendum will decide the level of the available price support for the 1958 crop, as well as whether quotas and penalties on "excess" wheat are used for the crop.

All wheat growers are eligible to vote in the June 20 referendum who will share in the 1958 wheat crop from a farm in the commercial wheat area on which the wheat acreage to be harvested, plus any acreage to be placed in the Soil Bank's wheat Acreage Reserve will be more than 15 acres.

He Thought Wrong
 A shaky customer approached the bartender on the afternoon of New Year's Day and asked: "Was I here last night?"
 "You sure were," answered the barman. "You ordered drinks for everyone in the house, paid with a $100 bill and left a big tip."
 "I'm so glad," the customer sighed. "I thought I'd lost it."

al yield, and some spots are a total loss.

After the wonderful prospects a few weeks ago the situation is especially depressing. Seeing a good crop waste away hurts worse than having poor prospects all along.

Nevertheless, farmers still have a chance to get part of a crop, perhaps enough to clear expenses or even to realize a little profit. At the same time they have a supply of moisture that favors a corn or feed crop later.

It has been said that this community can get along better with too much rain than it can with too little. Wheat is the only crop that counts in a dry year. Grass, corn, feed and livestock take a beating. Last year, for instance, wheat was good but the community had to spend its wheat profit on feed.

In that respect this year can still be better than last year. A partial grain crop may be followed by good crops of corn and feed. It's still too early to write off the year as a bad one.

Lindsay Youth's Sight Threatened In Tractor Mishap

A farm accident in which Joseph Bezner, 17, suffered burns on his eyes sent the Lindsay youth to Gainesville Sanitarium for treatment Saturday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bezner.

Young Bezner was temporarily blinded when a tractor valve controlling butane gas exploded and allowed escaping gas to sear his eyes.

Full sight is now seemingly restored to his right eye and doctors hope for complete vision to return to his left eye.

He continues as a hospital patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vogel and daughters Karen and Mary Lou spent Sunday in Fort Worth with Lillian and Corina Vogel and Mr. and Mrs. Don Muller. They all enjoyed a picnic dinner in the park at noon.

Building And Improvement Notes

Of the three recent new building jobs in town, one is complete and the other two are nearing completion. Louis Roberg has moved into his new house in the southeast part of town. It has two bedrooms, brick veneering, central heating and cooling, and double carport.

Wilfred Bindel is ready to start bricklaying outside and painting inside at his new house on North Hickory. The house features three bedrooms, attached garage, brick veneering and central heating.

The other new job is the combined warehouse and truck shed for NTPA. Work is in progress now on the floor and roof and the job is due to be ready for painting by the end of this week.

Also new but somewhat smaller is the 20x20 room and patio Dr. Myrick is adding to his office at the back of Dixie Drug. Painting has just been completed there.

New rural construction is the 42x52 combined hay barn and implement shed completed by Dude Rosson. And J. N. Schenck is starting on a general fix-up on his recently purchased farm, grasses in a very poor condition. When the rain started those grasses were far behind weeds and winter grass. Now winter grass is dying out, the good grass is not far enough along, and weeds are not fit to eat. There is actually a shortage of feed while ranges are given time to recover.

Prospects for abundant feed later are good, unless the wet weather goes on and on. Corn is improving, alfalfa is thriving, and sudan or sorghum crops are planned for most of the fields that have not been planted.

The community got a break early Wednesday when one of the darkest and heaviest clouds of the season spilled a mere .16 inch of rain while passing over. It was effective in prolonging a little more the long wait to get into fields. New moisture measures since the rain are .212 for June and 31.04 for the year.

the Willie Sowder place. He has remodeled and repaired one building to serve as a dairy barn and he's overhauling the house in general.

A home improvement in town is the new roof at Mrs. Tony Gremminger's.
