

Work Begins on Two New Bridges South of Muenster

Removal of the old wooden bridge on Brushy Elm creek south of town got under way Thursday to make room for a new concrete structure. Construction on the new job will start as soon as the site is cleared, according to J. N. Owens, superintendent for the contractor, A. L. Sheppard of Vernon.

During the period of some 60 days while the work is under way traffic will be routed over an emergency crossing through the creek bed just east of the construction job. The crossing is a fill-in over three metal drainage tubes, each three feet in diameter. Commissioner Earl Taylor said the crossing will be adequate even through moderate rains but it will be under water if heavy rains come. In that case traffic will be detoured to a road west of town until the crossing is passable again.

While the construction job is in progress the contractor will be working also on the new bridge over Big Elm about 3 miles south on the same FM road. The project there will be slightly different in that it will be built a short distance west of the present structure, hence traffic can continue moving over the old bridge while work is in progress. The job also includes new road construction a short distance on each side of the bridge.

Each bridge will be slightly longer than the one it replaces. Over Brushy it will be made of three 30-foot spans and over Big Elm it will be made of three 40-foot spans. The width of each is 27 feet.

A part of the work on the bridges is already finished. Concrete piles were cast in advance and have almost completed their required two weeks of seasoning. Twelve of the supporting piles are to be used on each bridge, all to be driven down to solid footing some 12 to 15 feet below the creek bed.

After piles are in place each group of three will be capped by a concrete beam and the four beams will support the three spans, which consist of the floor built in combination with a system of girders. The long, vat-like forms of heavy gauge steel stacked near the sites will be used in making the concrete girders and floors.

Specifications on the Brushy bridge call for over 21,000 pounds of steel. The other will require over 25,000 pounds.

Sunday School Class Solicits Donations In Clothing Drive

The Young People's Sunday School class of First Baptist church is sponsoring a clothing drive for shipment to needy people overseas, and invites anyone interested to participate by donating used clothes, towels and similar items.

Carolyn Cain, president of the class, and Jolene Carlton are chairmen of the project and those wishing to help with contributions are asked to contact them, or leave gifts at the church on Sunday.

Mrs. Ray Hoedebeck and daughters Patsy, Mary Sue and Dianne of Denison brought Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoedebeck home Sunday and remained here visiting relatives through Monday. The elder Hoedebecks had visited in their son's home the past week.

The moral approach does not brush the subject off so lightly. It accepts the premise that causing hazards is a violation of God's law, hence recklessness is wrong in the eyes of God whether or not anyone was hurt. Many people, otherwise thoroughly conscientious, never

Officers Installed Committee Heads Selected by CYC

Patsy Bayer formally took over the duties of president of the Sacred Heart parish Catholic Youth Council Wednesday night as officers were installed by Rev. Christopher Paladino, spiritual director of the society, in a special ceremony in the parish hall.

Others taking office were Vice President Sarah Fleitman, Secretary Virgilia Schilling and Treasurer Florentine Vogel.

Chairmen of committees were announced. They are Ruth Endre, spiritual committee; Loretta Magee, social committee; Suzanne Hesse, cultural committee; Sonny Walterscheid, physical committee; Lois Owen, arrangements committee for next month's deanery hour of adoration which Muenster will host on July 3.

After the installation ceremony, Father Christopher spoke on leadership to about 30 young people present.

Members were reminded of a swim party this Friday night at the Muenster pool from 8 to 10 p.m.

The group voted to have a novena begin on July 1 and end on July 9, the feast of St. Maria Goretti, patron saint of the local organization. Prayers will be said following the 7 a.m. mass.

Members were also reminded of the regular deanery meeting in Gainesville on June 30 in the K of C hall. Starting time is 1 p.m. The session will feature the annual election of deanery officers.

Swimming Class At Muenster Pool Set for July 2-13

Plans are almost complete for Muenster's second annual Red Cross free swimming class for beginners. L. B. Bruns, pool supervisor, said Tuesday that the registration date has been set for Saturday, June 29 and classes will be held Tuesday through Saturday of the following two weeks.

The only detail not settled now is the number of instructors. Five are already engaged for the course and more will be used if they become available. Those signed up are L. B. Bruns and Dan Hamric and Misses Jean Wieler, Juanita Wieler and Ruth Endre. All have certificates as qualified Red Cross swimming instructors.

Because of the shortage of instructors no classes are offered for advanced swimmers. The course is for beginners only. However not for pre-school children. A child must have completed the first year of school to be eligible. Any person over that minimum age . . . including adults . . . may take the course.

A requirement of all children is a statement signed by a parent granting the child permission to take the course and also a statement by a doctor saying that the person is physically able to take it. The form which accompanies this article includes both of the required statements. Swimming pupils are invited to clip it and fill out for use at the registration on Saturday, the 29th.

Bruns stated that the registrations will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and close at 10. Pupils will have to report during those hours in order to be enrolled. As they report for registration the pupils must present their statements signed by parents and doctors and must also be wearing swim suits and carrying towels.

This form must be filled in, signed by medical doctor and pupil's parents.

Over Half of Flood On Upper Trinity Retarded by Dams

An article published by the Army Engineers in Wednesday's papers gives more information on the record rainfall of April and May and credits the system of Trinity reservoirs with preventing floods that could have been really disastrous.

According to their figures the April and May rains produced 3,300,000 acre feet of water on the headwaters of the Trinity. That's the watershed's area above Dallas and Fort Worth. Total rainfall on the entire watershed was estimated at 8,000,000 acre feet, enough to cover all of Tarrant county to a depth of 15 feet.

The significant point is that far more than half of the 3.3 million acre feet on the Upper Trinity were held in check, preventing damage which would have dwarfed that of 1938. The flood then has long been referred to as the granddaddy of all Trinity floods but it was a poor second to this one. It had 1.3 million acre feet of flood water as compared with the 3.3 million of this year. However, it was tamed down to the size of the other by the system of big and little reservoirs. 1.9 million acre feet were held back, reducing the flood volume to 1.4 million.

The Engineers give practically all of the credit to their big dams, but farmers of this area prefer to reserve a little credit for the little dams. They held back water which would have added to the damage along the Trinity, and especially they protected bottomlands and crops in this area . . . all by the simple process of prolonging floodwater run-off from a few hours to several days.

Various factors determine the time for draining a reservoir down to the permanent pool level. The size of the pool, size of drainage outlet, maximum water level, and amount of later flow into the pool as a result of seepage and drainage on the watershed. Accordingly, the time to drain to permanent pool level in the reservoirs varied from less than a week to more than two weeks. The average drainage time on the area reservoirs is about a week.

Muenster GOC Unit Will Meet Sunday

Next Sunday, June 23, has been set as the date for the next alert of the Muenster post of the Ground Observer Corps. Post Supervisor Steve Moster announced this week that it will be held from 1 to 5 in the city hall.

A duty roster drawn up by Moster divides the alert into two periods of two hours each, the first to be under the direction of Moster and the second under the direction of Assistant Supervisor Herbie Herr.

Duty assignments are as follows. 1 to 2 p.m.: Mrs. Jack Biffle, Mrs. R. P. Cain, Mrs. J. C. Trachta. 2 to 3 p.m.: Mrs. Parker Fears, Mrs. Frank Felderhoff, Mrs. Clyde Fisher. 3 to 4 p.m.: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fisher, Helen Fisher. 4 to 5 p.m.: Mrs. J. B. Golden, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hamric.

Dyann Hellman spent the weekend in Dallas with the Monte Hellmans. She took care of the children while their parents attended a picnic Friday and a doctor's dinner the night before.

IT RUNS ON PARAFFIN OR ANYTHIN'—The Rover T-3, Britain's latest gas-turbine car, goes on display, following tests by the British Motor Industry Research Association. Fuel consumption of the car, not yet in production, has been described as "reasonable." During tests at 40 miles per hour, the T-3 did 13.8 miles per gallon of "paraffin," British terminology for "kerosene." On a high-speed test track, the Rover was timed at 102 miles per hour with plenty of power in reserve. The T-3 features a four-wheel drive and a glass reinforced plastic body.

Little League Will Have Tryouts for Rookies Wednesday

Young baseball players who have been waiting for their chance to break into the Muenster Little League will have their big opportunity Wednesday night. That is the date set for tryouts and selection of new players.

Father Christopher Paladino announced the event this week and set the starting time for 8 o'clock.

Another game last Friday night in which Jerry Vernon's St. Joseph's team romped over the VFW 12-4, gives the Little League a record of two games played out of the five scheduled so far. Three games are now on schedule for the Sunday make-up schedule, which itself has been temporarily postponed because of the harvest rush.

Now it begins to appear that harvest is responsible for postponements in the regular night schedule. Boys who stay with the combines until dark cannot get to town in time for a game. Tuesday neither the Lions nor VFW had a full team.

Indications are that the league may remain somewhat disorganized until the big job is out of the way. After that it can be brought up to date in a fairly short time by having double headers on the make-up dates.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Mrs. Rufus Bezner was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday evening following major surgery June 4 but was re-admitted Wednesday night for emergency treatment. Her condition was reported as "good" Thursday.

Bill Henschel is a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium for medical care.

Mrs. Bob Swirczynski is a patient in a Fort Worth hospital where she was to have undergone a thyroidectomy earlier this week. Her husband stayed with her and up to Wednesday had not called home to let family members know if she had the operation or was being built up before surgery. The family had just moved from here to Oklahoma City for the summer when doctors advised having the operation as soon as possible.

Ted Henschel entered Baylor Hospital Monday and underwent surgery Tuesday. His father, Henry Henschel and brother, Rufus, were at his bedside. He's getting along fine and expects to be home this weekend.

Mrs. Frank Trachta returned home Monday and is regaining her strength normally after an illness that sent her to Gainesville Sanitarium May 13. After hospital care for about two weeks she stayed with her daughter and family, the Orris Russells in Gainesville. They brought her to Muenster.

Mr. and Mrs. Denis Walterscheid were in Wichita Falls Friday for his regular eye examination and treatment. Denis injured his right eye early in May and infection resulted. The infection is clearing up normally but he still has to have the eye covered.

Mrs. L. J. Roberg and son Billy Frank, Ruth Needham and Dolphy Joe Hellman were in Dallas Tuesday for Bill's check-up at Baylor Hospital. He's recovering rapidly from surgery.

Harvest Drags; Early Yield Shows Half Normal Crop

Harvesting activity in this community, though still hampered by wet, boggy ground, has finally gone far enough to indicate a fair yield. With about a fourth of the crop under control, either by baling or combining, results range all the way from very good to "not worth cutting" and the over-all average might be figured at about half a crop.

Despite almost two full weeks of dry weather, work in the grain has been under way for only a few days. Drying this season is about the slowest in the memory of local farmers. The big majority of fields still have impassable spots, some soft under a thin crust of dry dirt, some still wet on the surface.

Where machines have run, however, the returns are generally gratifying. Wheat, which many considered a crop failure only a few weeks ago, has yielded as high as 20 bushels per acre in good spots. Other reports range down to zero, where the crop was completely drowned out. On an average, it begins to appear now, the wheat may average close to 10 bushels.

The quality of grain is very poor, dropping tests down to the low fifties and drawing a penalty of about 20 cents per bushel. Kernels are shriveled but abundant, indicating that possibilities for a big yield were there at one time.

Oats, like the wheat, ranges from surprisingly good to not worth cutting. Its damage is due mostly to the plague of army worms and occasional drowned out spots. On an average it was hurt less than the wheat and the quality of its kernels is generally better than the wheat. Its yield also is roughly figured at half a crop . . . provided good weather continues and the remaining crop can be harvested.

During the past two weeks farmers have been favored several times by lucky changes in the weather. Twice heavy clouds left only a little moisture, and other predicted showers did not arrive at all.

Nevertheless drying has been extremely slow. Very wet ground shaded by rank or broken grain, and no growing vegetation.

Yeggs Make Futile Visit to Hofbauer's

Burglars who apparently would not be satisfied with anything less than cash made a disappointing visit to Hofbauer's Food and Locker Service during the weekend. Evidence of the burglary was found early Monday but the management cannot say whether the break-in occurred Saturday or Sunday night.

Evidence reveals that entrance was gained by forcing a window at the back of the store, also that files and drawers in the office were rifled in an effort to find money. The Hofbauers report that no money was in the store and that no merchandise was missed in their check-up Monday.

Members of the sheriff's department found several distinct finger prints in their investigation.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Released From Hospital Marine PFC Richard Hess writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hess, that he was released from the base hospital at Camp Pendleton during the weekend after being a patient about five weeks on account of bronchial pneumonia. He has two more weeks of training in his present cycle and expects to be home on leave after that.

LaQueta Cain and Bill McCollum Wed In Saturday Service

First Baptist church here was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of La Queta Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cain, and Bill McCollum, son of Mr. and Mrs. David McCollum of Houston.

Rev. Andy Stowe of Wichita Falls, former pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock.

Vows were exchanged before a background of white gladioli, palms and candelabra.

Bobby Moss and Bobby Mosman, both of Gainesville, were candle lighters and served as ushers.

Presented in marriage by her father, La'Queta wore a gown of white nylon lace over taffeta. Multiple rows of ruffles formed the wide skirt. The fitted strapless bodice was topped with a long-sleeved, high-necked lace jacket that buttoned down the back. A crown of lace held her tiered finger-tip length veil of illusion and she carried a white orchid on top of a white Bible.

Sisters Are Attendants

The bride's four sisters were her attendants. Mrs. Wendell Richey of Hamlin was matron of honor, Judy Cain was bridesmaid, Sandra Cain was junior bridesmaid and Deborah Ann Cain was flower girl. They wore identical costumes: orchid dotted swiss bouffants with long-torso waists and waltz length skirts. Their matching open-crown picture hats had velvet streamers. They wore white gloves and carried arm bouquets of white mums except the flower girl whose nosegay was of orchid gladioli.

Murlin Joe Evans was best man, Kenneth McCollum of Angleton, brother of the groom, was groomsmen, Tommy Mullins was junior groomsmen and Chris Cain, young brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mrs. R. N. Shiflet of Boyd, pianist, and Eddie Ballew, Gainesville, and Joan Shiflet, Boyd, soloists, provided the nuptial music.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cain wore a rose-beige lace dress with beige and brown accessories. Mrs. McCollum, mother of the groom, wore a pink crepe outfit with white accessories. Both had purple orchid corsages.

Reception

After the service, the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the Muenster High school dining room. Patricia Cain, a cousin, registered the guests. Carolyn Cain, also a cousin, poured punch and Jean Wieler served the wedding cake after it was cut by the bride and groom.

The refreshment table was covered with white net over taffeta, the net brought up at intervals with orchid blossoms. The centerpiece was an arrangement of orchid gladioli.

To Live In Georgia

When the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Augusta, Ga., she was wearing an orchid linen sheath dress with white accessories and the orchid she carried in the ceremony.

The groom is a private first class in the army, stationed at Fort Gordon, Ga. They will be at home at 1010 Hickman Road in Augusta. He was graduated from Gainesville High school and was in his senior year at North Texas State College in Denton when he was inducted into the armed forces. His bride was a junior at the Denton college the past term. She was graduated from Muentser High in 1954.

Scores of out of town relatives and friends attended the wedding. Among guests were the groom's parents of Houston, the bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hogan of Burleson and Mrs. J. S. Bagwell and Mr. Bagwell of Myra, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hogan, Mr. and Donald Volkman and children, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. As a pre-nuptial courtesy Mrs. Herman Richey and Mrs. James Mollenkopf entertained with a kitchen gift shower in the formers' home in Gainesville. The bride's colors were noted in decorations and refreshments, and pictures were taken. About 35 guests were present. Another gift party was given by classmates and other friends of the bride in Denton.

Mrs. John Myrick and children of Houston are visiting here this week with Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Myrick and Jim.

Mrs. Meurer Hosts Reunion of Nurses

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meurer was the scene Thursday of a reunion of nurses who trained at the former St. Vincent's Hospital in Sherman from which Mrs. Meurer was graduated. Classes were represented from 1923 through 1932 and women were present from Sherman, Denison, Denton, Dallas and Gainesville, along with Mrs. Otto Walterscheid and Mrs. Rudy Hellman from here.

Those attending brought covered dishes for a buffet supper and after the meal exchanged pleasantries, swapped memories and took pictures. Fifteen were present.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sturm of Wichita Falls were recent visitors here with his brother Joe Sturm.

Labor Statesmanship

Walter Reuther has demonstrated labor statesmanship of the highest order in creating a public board to police the ethics of his United Auto Workers Union, — "Life Magazine" in its issue of April 22nd.

This tribute makes it appropriate to ask if Walter Reuther and his United Auto Workers Union also "demonstrated labor statesmanship" in the strike they have been conducting against Kohler Company of Kohler, Wisconsin, since April, 1954.

The facts were given in an address by Mr. Hubert V. Kohler, President of the Kohler Company. This address was at a meeting of The Economic Club of Detroit in February and was published in "Vital Speeches of the Day" for April 15th.

Here are some of the facts given by Mr. Kohler. Wages were not an issue. The strike was due to an attempt to impose compulsory Unionism and to interfere with management. The strike has been marked by mass picketing and violence. Marching in lockstep, a mob led by professional goons, blocked the factory gates. Men were enticed to go through the line to their jobs. When they tried, the strikers closed in and trapped them. Non-strikers were beaten — kicked in the groin — man-handled and thrown back. "Nobody gets through" the pickets chanted. And for fifty-four days, mass picketing kept the plant closed. Here is organized violence interfering with normal economic activity. People who wanted to work to earn a livelihood for their families — could not do so. Interstate and foreign commerce was halted for a time, affecting carriers, the trade and consumers.

Once the law was enforced and the lines were open, mass picketing at the plant was replaced by a reign of terror away from the plant. Non-strikers' cars were dynamited. Shotgun blasts were fired into their homes. They were assaulted. There were more than eight hundred acts of violence and vandalism. Men returning from work found mobs of two to five hundred besieging their homes, yelling obscenities and terrorizing families.

A legal injunction stopped the house picketing. Four vandals who were awarded jail sentences received salaries from Mr. Reuther's Union while they were serving time.

The Kohler Company refused to carry on contract negotiations while the Union was engaged in mass picketing and open lawlessness. The Company refused to bargain with a gun at its head and its right to do this was sustained.

Having failed with violence and vandalism UAW turned to the boycott weapon. Since September 1954 the Union has been trying to destroy Kohler Company by injuring its customers. But the boycott did not work, it actually backfired. More sales have been gained than lost.

Here are some conclusions of Mr. Kohler as a result of his experience with the UAW—

"Collective bargaining cannot minimize industrial disputes or settle disputes upon rational principles, if labour Unions are left free to use force and violence to accomplish their objectives.

"An employer who succumbs to unlawful coercion, or the threat of illegal tactics surrenders any real chance of keeping his management within the bounds of sound principles.

"To compromise with lawlessness — whether it be direct force and violence or the more insidious secondary boycott — is to accede to a dictatorship diametrically opposed to a sound employer-employee relationship."

What kind of "labor statesmanship" evolved the policies of the UAW at Kohler, Wisconsin?

Pause For Reflection

... with James C. Ingebretsen, President, Spiritual Mobilization

Two women were among the diners in a lunch room the other day. One woman was telling the other about her son who, she said, was a "success." With obvious pride, she talked on. Among other things, she said, "I never cluttered up his life with religion."

Well, well. "Never cluttered up his life with religion," eh? I wonder what's going to happen to him when the going gets rough.

That, as I see it, is like a highway contractor's saying, "I never clutter up my concrete highways with steel reinforcing rods." Or a railroad builder's saying, "I never clutter my railroads with cross-ties."

How well do you think such a highway or such a railroad would hold up under heavy traffic?

To see what eventually happens to lives that have not been "cluttered up with religion," all you have to do is read the front page of your daily newspaper. Personally, I feel sorry for both this mother and her son — for the day is sure to come when both of them will see that a life without religion simply won't stand up under the demands that are sure to be made upon it.

Baby Owes $1,939

"The tax bite on earnings is only the annual story of what government seems to be costing," writes Sam M. Jones in National Review. "Behind it lies a debt so large today that every baby is born owing the government $1,939 before he lets out his first howl. If he is a member of a family of four, his papa will represent a government debt of $7,738."

This, of course, is in a large measure the sad fruit of wars and depressions and other calamities. But it is also, in considerable part, the fruit of waste and duplication in government activities — and, more important, of a philosophy of super-government that ignores the eternal principle that government should not do for people what people can do for themselves. It is to that principle that we need to return, and to start repairing the incredibly costly damage that has been done in terms of depreciating value of money and weakening of representative government.

The number of electric ranges in use has grown from 40,000 in 1920 to over 1,650,000 today!

Is Divorce The Only Answer?

By Charles G. Johnson, Associate Editor of THE TIDINGS

"WHY DO MEN and women, once in love, file for divorce?"

For Judge Louis H. Burke of the Los Angeles Superior Court, this question was important. He knew that in the courts of Los Angeles County alone, the fateful words, "Divorce granted," were intoned more than seventy times daily. Something had to be done about this, and the judge decided to do it.

BEHIND THE COMPLAINTS

of sparring couples, Judge Burke discovered one central fact: Too many U.S. couples fail to realize the finality of the marriage bond—that it is a lifetime contract.

What's more, Burke marriage is a special contract since it involves God. Through marriage a man and woman receive the right and privilege to co-operate with God in bringing children into the world. It is not for pleasure or convenience that people marry but to help God. Marriage then is sacred.

A FAILURE to recognize this basic truth about marriage has resulted in our overwhelming divorce rate. Many divorces could be avoided if this "sacredness" were better understood. But how could this be done?

If the marriage contract itself was not enough to keep couples together, perhaps a legal contract would help. Six months and 50,000 words later, Louis Burke came up with the answer.

THE JUDGE'S contract was more than a kiss-and-make-up proposition. It had teeth providing for stiff fines and even jail sentences. Its 36 pages cover the whole range of family relations from nagging to sex.

No one is forced to sign this contract. All couples who want to mend their marriage can study the document. If they sign, they do it voluntarily.

AFTER THE CONTRACT, such violations as tampering with the family budget, losing one's temper, or giving the silent treatment will land the erring spouse in court. What was before a domestic problem is now a civil offense.

How successful is the contract?

TIME MAGAZINE in an article on Judge Burke declared: "In two years his court has become a prototype, and his 887 united homes are a shining record."

Reviewing the hundreds of reconciliations in his court, the judge himself says, "There is little equal to the satisfaction of aiding a couple to surmount misunderstandings, forgive injuries, and go back together determined to face the future with love, hope, and trust."

JUDGE BURKE was spurred on by the conviction that marriage is a sacred contract, blessed by God Himself. If all of us shared this conviction, many more couples would be saved from ruin.

Wrong Guy
It was a cold November day and the football stadium was jammed. High up in the stands an alumnus, more than slightly inebriated, kept standing up and calling, "Hey, Gus," and each time a man down in the third row would ceremoniously stand up and doff his hat. After many calls of "Hey, Gus," the gentleman in the third row shouted in a thick voice, "Now quit yelling at me! I'm tired of standing up, and besides my name ain't Gus."

Ethel Knabe and Fred Hennigan Jr. Say Vows Saturday

Ethel Knabe became the bride of Fred Hennigan Jr. Saturday at 4 p.m. in Sacred Heart church with Rev. Patrick Hannon officiating at the nuptial high mass. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knabe and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennigan Sr.

Vows in the double ring ceremony were exchanged before the altar adorned with white and pink carnations and bells of Ireland. Providing wedding music were Anthony Luke, organist, and the church choir. Pre-nuptial and post-nuptial vocal selections were presented by Norma Jean Walterscheid and Carol Miller.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly lace and tulle over satin. Sabrina neckline, long sleeves and a yoke studded with sequins were details of the lace figurine bodice. The wide satin skirt with an overskirt of tulle was enhanced by lace in peplum effect and swept into a chapel train. Her tiered veil was attached to a lace hat sprinkled with sequins. She carried an orchid and stephanotis on top of a bride's prayer book, a gift from the groom.

Adding a touch of sentiment to her wedding, the bride borrowed a gold cross and chain from her sister Mrs. Arthur Bayer. It is a gift from their uncle, Rev. Anthony Schroeder of Altus, Ark., former Muenster pastor. And she carried a blue handkerchief.

Attendants

Mrs. Bayer as matron of honor wore a light orchid nylon chiffon dress styled with a long-torso bodice, scoop neckline and cap sleeves and full gathered skirt over taffeta. Her headdress and gloves were white and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations. Serving the groom as best man was his brother Larry Hennigan.

Ushers were Arthur Bayer and Tommy Knabe. Mass servers were Donald and Jerome Hennigan and Anthony Knabe brothers of the couple, and Virgil Hess and Herbie Knabe, cousins of the bride.

After the ceremony the newly married couple went to the Blessed Virgin's altar where the bride placed a bouquet of pink gladioli while Misses Walterscheid and Miller sang "On This Day."

A reception was held in the parish hall and a buffet supper was served to about 200 guests. Mrs. Joe Lehnertz was in charge of the catering. A dance in the VFW hall concluded festivities.

Wedding Trip

When Mr. and Mrs. Hennigan left on their wedding trip, not revealing their destination, she was wearing a navy and white suit with white accessories. They will make their home in Gainesville on North Dixon street.

The bride was a member of this year's graduating class at Sacred Heart High school. The groom was graduated in 1953 and is employed by Lee Phelps Construction company in Gainesville.

Among out of town wedding guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Joe and Bill Schroeder, Allen Hoffman, Carl Lindemann and daughter, Floyd Humpert and Jake Horn, all of Windthorst; Mrs. H. L. Herron of Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pels of Pilot Point, Mrs. Alvin Nall of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mages and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hromcik of Fort Worth.

PROGRESS IN PIPELINING made great strides during Humble's history. It's a far cry from the back breaking hand labor (pictured at upper right) to the side boom tractor on today's spread. Humble's pipelines have grown from a 55-mile system when the company was founded to a network of more than 8000 miles that laces Humble's production, manufacturing and product outlets into a unified operation throughout the state.

Every year in the U. S. about three billion tons of soil are washed or blown away from farm land.

"One sure thing wrong with the younger generation is that a lot of us don't belong to it any more!"

"If you want your wife to pay attention to what you're saying, tell it to another woman in a low voice."

These Forty Years!

Forty years ago, in June of 1917, the Humble Company received its charter from the State of Texas.

The Company was formed through a merger of the properties of a number of independent oil operators. Its founding brought together a remarkable group of men who occupy an important place in the annals of the oil industry:

R. S. Sterling and his brother, F. P. Sterling, the principal organizers of Humble Oil Company from which the present company acquired its name; W. S. Farish and R. L. Blaffer composing Blaffer and Farish; H. C. Wiess with assets from Paraffine and Reliance Oil Companies; Walter W. Fondren and C. B. Goddard, producers; and L. A. Carlton and E. E. Townes as lawyers.

All of these men contributed greatly in adopting the principles, in shaping the policies, and in laying out procedures that have guided the Company's progress through these forty years. Their influence will survive as long as the Company continues.

They possessed courage and business judgment. They established high standards of performance. They built a strong organization of competent men and women.

The Company, as it stands today, is a tribute to the leadership, the vision, and the work of its founders.

But it is doubtful that these men, with all their foresight, visualized the changes that have occurred in the oil industry since 1917, or the size and complexity of Humble's present operations, or the extent of the Company's contributions through the years to the progress of our society.

To all who have made those contributions possible—employees, customers, shareholders and the people of the states in which the Company operates—Humble extends its thanks.

11 Muenster Herds
Among High DHIA
Producers for May

Eleven Muenster herds are listed on the Cooke county DHIA report for May as high herds of the month but none managed to reach first place. Top producers in both milk and butterfat are the cows of J. L. Masten. They averaged 40 pounds of butterfat and 1180 pounds of milk.

Tommy Knabe's herd tied for third place in butterfat production at 35 with three other herds.

Other local herds on the high-producers list are those of Paul Fisher, Alfred Bayer, Paul Fetsch, George Bayer, Jerry Hoenig, Martin Bayer, Edward Sickling, Leo Hesse, C. A. Fisher and J. W. Fleitman.

Twenty-four herds in the association with a total of 647 cows were tested during the month. Eighty-three cows produced fifty or more pounds of butterfat with the overall average at 30 pounds. Average pounds of milk totaled 810 per cow.

Leo Hesse's "Sadie" was the champion butterfat producer in the county organization, running up a total of 81 pounds.

Saint Jo, Texas

From Prime Minister MacMillan of Great Britain: "There is no difference between Socialism and Communism except this: Socialism is soft, Communism is hard: Socialism is pink, Communism is Red. Socialism gets you down bit by bit by a kind of anesthetic process. It might be called mercy-killing. Communism just knocks you on the head."

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?

"I am sure that many members of the Congress are as gratified as I am to note the growing awareness of private citizens that the dollars spent by the Federal government are in fact their own dollars, and that Federal benefits are not free but must be paid for out of taxes collected from the people."

—President Eisenhower

Did you get caught with your terraces down?

Some landowners in the Muenster-Saint Jo area lost precious topsoil when the hard rains hit two weeks ago. Terraces that were not properly maintained by plowing up each year, those that had been allowed to get lower and lower could not handle the sudden rush of rain following the down-pour and water broke over them cutting gullies and carrying away tons of good earth. Some of the damage will not be seen until existing crops have been removed.

The rains have again emphasized the need of always properly maintaining terraces and keeping them built up to handle flash floods that might occur. The rains also pointed up the need for construction of terraces on sloping fields to protect the topsoil from erosion. It takes nature about 800 years to build one inch of topsoil. And it takes only one hard rain to destroy it if it is unprotected.

Harvest is progressing painfully slow this year because of wet fields and frequent rains. When harvest is over the land will be plowed and in many cases left exposed to sun and rain. Bare soil erodes easily and can be lost in summer rains.

Ground left bare also runs a high temperature in summer heat and much of its moisture and soil organisms needed to grow crops are lost.

A soil cover is very important during the summer months to give added protection and improvement. Straw left on or near the surface of the ground keeps the soil cooler and guards against erosion from driving rains. It also prevents crusting and adds to soil organic matter.

Summer legumes such as cow-peas and guar can be grown on the land during the summer between grain crops. These legumes give soil protection and add nitrogen and organic matter. The ASC office offers financial assistance to farmers in planting and fertilizing legume crops.

Landowners cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district are being advised by SCS technicians to leave crop residues on the ground and plant summer crops of peas and guar to add nitrogen and aid in conditioning soils that have been packed by rains and harvest equipment. A legume crop this summer will help that grain crop next fall.

A committee headed by Senator John F. Kennedy was given the difficult task of selecting the five outstanding Senators of past times. The selections, which have been almost universally applauded, include Henry Clay of Kentucky; Daniel Webster of Massachusetts; John C. Calhoun of South Carolina; Robert M. LaFollette, Senior, of Wisconsin; and Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Their portraits will be placed in special niches in a Senate chamber.

Foxy

Fleas are no problem for a smart fox. There are at least two accounts on record of how a smart fox defleas itself.

The fox roams about fields gathering old bits of animal fur, such as sheep's wool, from bramble patches, barbed wire fences, toll woods, etc. Holding the scraps of fur in its mouth, the fox trots down to a pond or river. At the edge of the water, the fox turns around and backs slowly into the water while holding the tip of its nose and the scraps of fur high in the air.

As the fox lowers its body into the water, the fleas run up on the animal's head and finally on the hank of fur in its mouth. When the fox is completely submerged, except for the tip of its nose, and the fleas have all taken refuge on the bit of fur, the fox drops the fur and swiftly swims to shore. — R. T. Dean, County Agent, Morris County.

tation to draw on its moisture, was slow to give up its water. Even now many spots still have a wet surface.

A few farmers made the most of the delay by harvesting a good cutting of hay while waiting on the grain. Alfalfa, mostly caught by rain on the first cutting, had ideal weather for the second.

Other farmers are trying for a late feed crop. Some grain land that has been harvested has already been plowed for a planting of sudan or sorghum.

If the community can have about two more weeks of clear weather its harvest will be under control. The job, though still tough, is improving daily and machines will soon be putting in a good day. By the time they finish their better cutting they will probably be able to take on the patches which have been cut out of most fields.

Besides wet ground the harvesters have another problem, especially in wheat. The small light kernels are set tight in the heads and are hard to thresh out without including parts of unthreshed heads.

Broken down grain is causing less trouble than expected. The percentage of shattered grain or clipped off heads is running fairly low.

You can't push anyone up a ladder unless he's willing to climb a little.

think of their driving as a violation of Divine law. If those people would think it over seriously and change their habits accordingly the country's traffic statistics would make a sudden and wonderful improvement.

By the same reasoning, lack of religion can be regarded as one of the important factors behind our present appalling record of traffic tragedies. The purely human appeal is as ineffective in checking accidents as in checking crime. Fear of being hurt or being caught is a weak deterrent as compared with the voice of conscience.

Good driving, like good citizenship, good farming and other virtues, is simply a matter of doing things God's way. Safety needs the help of organized religion to appeal to some who were not sufficiently impressed before.
