VFW Will Conduct Memorial Services Sunday Morning

This community's war dead will be remembered Sunday in traditional Memorial Day Services consisting of both religious and military rites.

Conducted annually by the VFW Post and its Ladies Auxiliary, other participants are the Sacred Heart pastors, church choir and little girls of the First Communion class.

According to the program outlined by the VFW Post, the service will begin immediately after the 10 o'clock mass in Sacred Heart church with the forming of a procession. In the march to the cemetery the rosary will be recited.

First stop at the cemetery will be at the crucifixion group where there will be prayers for all deceased of the community.

Next the procession will move to the service men's graves where ceremonies will consist of lowering the flag to half mast, placing flowers on the graves, prayers, an address, a hymn by the choir, a three volley salute by the rifle squad and taps.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Robert Fisher, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher, and Gary Joe Sicking, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sicking, are doing fine following eye surgery at Gainesville Sanitarium last Thursday. A specialist from Dallas was there for the operations. While Mrs. Sicking was with Gary Joe at the hospital the couple's little girls Dianne and Peggy visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walter at Gainesville.

David Hermes, three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hermes of Lindsay, was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Monday to continue recovery from virus pneumonia at home. He was hospitalized a week. His mother stayed with him and his brother Ronnie spent the time with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes Sr.

Frank Roberg has been dismissed from Baylor Hospital in Dallas and is back at his home in Gainesville. His condition is good and he's learning to talk again. He had throat surgery April 19.

Henry Huchton has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium since Monday and is convalescing at his home adjoining the Rock Station east of town. He sits up now and will soon be getting around on crutches. Henry lost his left leg just below the knee in surgery May 10 after infection resulting from an old injury failed to clear up.

Joe Endres and Paul Tempel are both looking forward to their return home, Endres after a few months and Tempel after a few weeks. Mrs. Henry Fette and the R. N. Fettes brought back the report after their visit to the McKinney VA Hospital Sunday.

A fall from a tree last Wednesday sent Mark Schmitz, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schmitz of Dallas, to St. Paul's Hospital with internal injuries. The boy had surgery then and will undergo another operation in about six weeks. Mark is the grandson of Theo Schmitz of Lindsay who was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmitz and daughters and Miss Theresa Loerwald on a visit to see him Sunday. They found him sitting up in a wheel chair and the doctors said he'd be hospitalized about three more weeks, then would spend three weeks in bed at home before the next operation. Cards will reach him if the address includes "Fourth Floor." The Schmitz family is formerly of Muenster.

Our prestige, like England's, ain't what it used to be. At least there's an embarrassing contrast between the attitudes of the Britishers just mentioned and the subjects of the following story.

A couple of decades ago when a king sat on the throne of what is now a soviet satellite, he selected 14 of the most promising young men and sent them abroad for specialized studies in economics and politics. The end in view was to form an elite corps of experts to serve their monarch in various governmental capacities.

Later, in exile, the king somewhat ruefully told an American about the experiment. Seven of the up and coming youngsters had gone to England, and, admitted the king, they had done very well. Each had returned home and assumed an important diplomatic post.

The other seven had been sent to the United States and, said the exiled ruler, they had done even better for themselves.

They all became American citizens!

Auxiliary Sponsors Buddy Poppy Sale Saturday, Sunday

On Saturday, May 31, people of Muenster will be asked to buy Buddy Poppies. Volunteer workers on the streets of the city, under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars will give everyone a chance to make a contribution.

The Saturday poppy campaign will continue through Sunday when members of the Auxiliary continue with sales at Sacred Heart Church after all the masses.

Whether the donation is large or small, every penny will be used exclusively for veteran welfare purposes. Only a small portion of the proceeds—the actual cost of the poppies—is distributed nationally to disabled veterans who make the bright red flowers. The rest of the contributions will remain in Muenster to help carry on veteran welfare activities in the community.

Ruth Endres Heads CYC as President

Members of the Catholic Youth Council of Sacred Heart parish at their May meeting the past week elected officers for a new year and Ruth Endres heads the group as president.

Dorothy Zimmerer is vice president, Sarah Ann Fleitman is secretary and Virgilla Schilling is treasurer.

Sunday the CYC members observed National Youth Adoration Day. They attended the 10 o'clock mass and had adoration of the Blessed Sacrament until 12 noon. The service closed with Benediction.

In their May meeting the young people made plans to attend the deanery meeting in Gainesville on June 15. This session will feature the election of officers for the Sherman deanery CYC. Father Bruno, spiritual director was present for the meeting conducted by Patsy Bayer, outgoing president. Patsy was also deanery president the past year.

Bishop Tells Grads To Measure Success By Spiritual Values

Bishop Thomas K. Gorman, addressing graduates of Sacred Heart School in commencement exercises Saturday night, recommended continued study to keep pace with our highly complex time, but cautioned the students to measure achievement by spiritual as well as material standards.

Twenty two high school graduates and 39 elementary graduates received their diplomas from the bishop during the ceremonies following his 7 o'clock mass in Sacred Heart Church.

After presentation of diplomas Bishop Gorman congratulated graduates and parents on achievements so far, reminding them of the rich educational heritage that has come to us through past centuries. Then, referring to the marvels of this age, he urged all who are so inclined to continue their studies and qualify to take part in the progress that still lies ahead. However, he advised against going to college if a student does not have the ability or disposition to study.

The bishop also cautioned that a well rounded education includes more than proficiency in science, mathematics, languages, etc., stating that "a person with purely materialistic ideals is a poor servant to his God and his country." He asked the students to continue their development as they had started it at Sacred Heart, to balance their secular knowledge with religious principles.

Hofbauer's Store Joins Cooperative Of Food Merchants

A new era in merchandising for Hofbauer's Food and Locker Service is due to start next week. That is when the store becomes a member of the huge association of AG Food Markets.

According to Andy Hofbauer, the association is a cooperative of hundreds of independent merchants joined together so that each, regardless of size, can get the benefit of large volume buying.

The association enables its members to buy as cheaply as the big chain store and to offer prices comparable to those in the big city supermarkets.

Swimming Pool Will Open Sunday

Muenster's municipal swimming pool will open its 1958 season next Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Preparations for the opening got under way Wednesday as Water Superintendent Steve Moster and his assistants started cleaning the filter beds, pool and surroundings.

As in the 1957 season, the pool will be managed by L. B. Bruns and his assistant, Dan Hamric. The previous schedule also applies. The pool will be open from 2 to 9 p.m. every day except Monday. That will be the day off for the two operators and it will also be the day for giving the water whatever attention it needs beside the routine filtering and bromine treatment.

Admission charges also will remain the same as in previous years. They are 15c and 35c.

Striving to make the pool as safe and pleasant as possible, Bruns will again enforce the rules that were adopted by the city council prior to last year's opening. The rules concern order and cleanliness in the pool area, responsibility for small children, and rowdiness or roughness to the extent of being a nuisance to others.

A concession stand selling candies and soft drinks will be operated again in connection with the pool.

Rev. Fred Mosman Addresses Seniors At MHS Graduation

"Develop your talents and dedicate them to the service of God."

That was the commencement thought offered by Father Fred Mosman of Dallas to seniors of Muenster High School in their graduation exercises last Friday night.

Father Mosman encouraged the graduates to acquire all the skill and knowledge they can in their chosen lines and to temper those attainments with a talent for loving God. Doing that he said is to assure ones self of consolations in sorrow, joy in success and eternal happiness in the world to come.

A native of Lindsay and a self styled "partial alumnus" of MHS, who secured some of his high school credits by taking state exams here, Father Mosman headed the program for this year's graduating class of 16 at MHS.

Others on the program with him were Father Christopher Paladino, invocation and benediction; H. H. Homsley, superintendent, introduction of speaker; B. J. Sicking, president of the school board, presentation of diplomas; L. B. Bruns, principal, presentation of special awards; Dan Hamric, valedictory, Margie Walterscheid, salutatory; Charlotte Wolf, two vocal solos; and Becky Mosman, processional and recessional.

Weather Continues To Favor Harvest In Muenster Area

Smiles are plentiful on the farms around Muenster these days. A good crop plus ideal weather is making this harvest one of the best in years.

It isn't that people are bringing in a bumper grain crop. Prospects at this time are rated as probably a little above average in that respect. But the over all outlook is fine. Farmers are doing well on several crops where as they used to do good on some and fail on others. The composite picture is what looks good.

Up to now the feed situation has been exceptionally good. Oats, alfalfa and clover fine in quality and abundant in quantity, have been put up as thousands of tons of top quality hay or silage. That phase of the harvest is ending now and combines are being tuned up for the next job.

Some fields are being cut now and others are due to be cut soon for windrowing . . . which will be followed a few days later by combining. Those are oats and barley fields. Wheat is still green, needing at least a week before it is ready for harvesting. Weather continues to favor the farmer. Last Saturday night brought more rain which was fine for row crops and pastures but caused on damage to the quality of hay or to the harvesting effort. By Monday most farmers were back in the field.

The rain measured .80, bringing the month's total to 6.57 and the year's total to 17.92.

Margaret Milner Makes Dean's List

Margaret Milner, a student of the School of Engineering of Southern Methodist University and a freshman the past term, is on the dean's list for 1957-58. She is one of the college's 79 students, ten of them freshmen, achieving this honor. Students on the dean's list are those who were in the highest 10 per cent of each of the classes scholastically. Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Milner.

She was also one of the 27 new members recently initiated by Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary society for freshmen women. Requirement for membership is 3.5 or better in grades. Margaret averaged 3.8. She will come home next Sunday for a three-day visit, then return to school for one final examination. After that she'll be home for a short vacation before enrolling in summer school.

Lawrence Milner finishes his sophomore year at Texas A&M College on May 31. Mrs. Milner and Margaret will go to College Station to bring him home.

Endres Motor Co. Gets Safety Award

For their efforts in eliminating reckless "hot rods" and helping high schools turn out courteous, capable young men and women drivers, the Endres Motor Company has been presented a Highway Safety Award by the Texas Automotive Dealers Association.

The award was for their loaning a car to the public schools of Muenster and Saint Jo for use in "behind the wheel" instruction under the high school driver training program. TADA President Sam H. White, Houston, calls this driver education program one of the most important phases of high school training. Highway safety is dependent upon safe drivers, he said, pointing out that young men who have successfully completed a high school driver training course, both classroom theory and "behind the wheel" training, are given a preferred insurance rate because they have proven to be safer drivers.

17 Boy Scouts Pass Trail Blazing Test

Muenster's 17 Boy Scouts have passed their trail blazing tests. Troop 665 and Scoutmaster Nick Miller made a hike Saturday and had an overnight camp-out in the wooded country near Herman Hartman's farm. The boys pitched their tents, cooked their meals and blazed the trail, returning to town Sunday evening. Not a single tent folded under the lashing wind and rain Saturday night. Visiting the campsite Sunday were Pat Hennigan chairman of the Scout committee and his two young sons, Joe Sicking, institutional representative and his son, and Mr. and Mrs. John Mosman.

Boys passing the tests and qualifying themselves for participation in a court of honor were Tommy and Roy Hartman, Tommy and Jerry Mosman, Tommy, David and Dale Bayer, Tommy Swirczynski, Johnny Yosten, Dickie Schoech, Jerry Taylor, David and Dennis Hess, Wayne Trachta, Robert Walterscheid, Tommy Fuhrman, and John Paul Endres.

Monday was Fun Night, as all last meeting of the month are, and the troop attended the picture show. Afterwards they had refreshments at the Nick Miller home where they joined their mothers who had attended a Scout Mothers meeting with Mrs. Miller.

One new member was welcomed Monday. He's Charles Sicking and brings membership in the troop to 18.

SH School Wins in Stamp Contest; Gets Statue as Award

Sister Theresina and all the Sisters and students of Sacred Heart School were elated to learn, just before the end of the term, that their school won fifth place in the recent stamp contest conducted by the Ceylon Mission Stamp Bureau.

As one of the top winners in the national contest, the school has received a hand-carved statue of St. Anthony as a prize. This statue was carved in Travandrum, South India.

Rev. Robert C. Perry, S.J., who notified the school of its standing in the contest wrote that the Ceylon missionaries are most grateful for the generous donation of time and labor in collecting the stamps and that they have brought much needed financial assistance to missionaries and their people, many of whom suffered much during recent floods.

Sister Theresina and the students again express their thanks to everyone who contributed to the drive while it was in progress. The end of the contest does not mean the end of stamp collecting for the school. Stamps are solicited on a year round basis and are accepted any time.

The prize statue is being displayed at the Variety Store for a few days. After that it will have a place in the trophy case at Sacred Heart High.

First place winner in the contest was St. Anthony's School in Weiner, Ark., where Benedictine Sisters teach. Among them is Sister Agnes Voth. The three other winning schools were in Alabama, Florida and Mississippi.

Robert Knabe Home Party Scene Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knabe entertained with a dinner party Sunday for her sister, Sister Anna Cletus of Clarksville and her brother and family, the Bill Schroeders of Windthorst. The Schroeders and their children were taking Sister Anna Cletus back to Arkansas. She is a nurse in Clarksville, and had been visiting her father William Schroeder in Windthorst. Joining the group for dinner were the Knabes' daughters and their families, the Arthur Bayers and Freddie Hennigans.

From here the visitors went to Gainesville to see their sister, Mrs. Adam Wolf, and Mrs. Schroeder's parents, the Henry Schumachers. They also stopped in Fort Smith to visit their brother, Rev. Anthony Schroeder.

Gift Party Honors Patty Herr Sunday

Patty Herr, bride-elect of Don Wilson, was complimented with a miscellaneous gift shower Sunday afternoon in the Ray Owen home with Mrs. Ray Owen, Mrs. Frank Herr and Mrs. Leonard Bengfort as hostesses. It was a come-and-go party from two to four o'clock.

Spring flowers decorated the home and a doll bride centered the gift table. The hostesses served punch and cake to 26 guests.

Lois Owen, who will be maid of honor at the wedding on June 7, presided at the guest book and Kathy Pagel who will be Patty's bridesmaid assisted her in opening and displaying the shower gifts.

Local Benedictine Sisters Leave for Arkansas This Week

With graduation over and work of the school year ended, the local Benedictine Sisters began leaving Monday for the motherhouse in Jonesboro, Ark. By the end of the week the parish convent will be vacant.

Leaving Monday were Sister Ann, Sister Gabriel, Sister Frances and Sister Theophane. Saying farewells Tuesday were Sister Patricia, Sister Genevieve, Sister Jane Frances and Sister Carmelita. These four went with Sister Patricia's sister, Miss Murray of Dallas, who took them in her car.

Wednesday Sister Remigia, Sister Paula and Sister Barbara left. The trio went with Mr. and Mrs. Felix Yosten who drove to Jonesboro to get their daughter and other local girls who attended school at Holy Angels the past term.

Going in Thursday's group were Sister Lucia, Sister Leonarda, Sister Celine, Sister Helen, Sister Grace and Sister Henrietta. The departure of 17 left only Sister Theresina and Sister Canisia who are awaiting the arrival, this weekend, of Sister Agnes from Weiner and Sister Alovia from Pocahontas. These four will go to Montague County Sunday to begin vacation religion classes in Montague, Henrietta and Nocona.

"FEATHERBEDDING" HURTS EVERYONE

One of my long-time friends is a building contractor specializing in the construction of school buildings and small industrial plants. Recently on a construction job in an Arkansas city the handling of some steel beams required the use of a piece of hoisting equipment. The equipment was a one-man hoisting machine. The union rules in force in this city required the employer using such a piece of equipment to hire five men although four of them were not needed on the job and would draw high wages for doing virtually nothing.

This is known as union "featherbedding." It is a practice forced upon employers and the public by some major and strategic union labor organizations. The public has to pay for it with higher prices for whatever commodity or service is involved, since labor costs are a large part of production costs in every article and service. Featherbedding and other such restrictive labor practices are to a degree strangling the great productive power of this nation. They are soaking up the benefits of America's advancing technology, penalizing every citizen.

Creates Inflation

Harold B. Wess, former vice president of Macy's department store in New York, calls union featherbedding a key factor in "our economy's most dangerous problem — inflation." "If the average worker knew where this process will lead him and our country," said Professor Wess, now a member of the faculty of the American University, Washington, D.C., "I am certain that he would stop, look and listen; for the inevitable outcome will be the complete elimination of the profit incentive, resulting in socialism and slave labor."

A number of labor organizations have recognized the un-

THE DEAD STILL LIVE

by Al Moser, World War II Third Army Medic

It was Good Friday, 1945, and our outfit was deep in Germany. THERE WAS an ambush, and I, being the kid medic, was supposed to know what to do. There wasn't much I could do—the boys were dead.

A dead soldier isn't a pretty sight. There may be something dignified about dying in the air, or even going down with a ship at sea. But a man who dies with his face in the mud dies an ugly death.

There were three of them: Windy, Joe and Mike. Mike got it the worst—a bazooka shell—and he had been the finest of them all.

THIRTEEN YEARS is a long time, and you might think it's hard to remember thoughts you had thirteen years ago. But the thoughts of a boy who's a soldier before he's a man aren't easily forgotten—especially when he's awkwardly trying to straighten out the twisted bodies of men he lived, laughed, worked and fought with.

WINDY AND JOE were good, honest boys. But Mike was something more—he was noble.

If you've read many war stories, you probably wondered whether there was any nobility left in a world at war. But the boy lying in the German mud was twentieth-century American nobility at its best.

Moser

"YOU'VE HEARD men called 'clean.' That's exactly what Mike was. His face was always clean, no matter how hard the fighting; his hands were clean, and most of all his heart was clean. He was gentle and kind, courageous in combat, loyal to his God, to his country, and to his fellow-soldier. And he had died with his face in the mud.

But nobody can tell me death was the end of Mike Anderson.

THERE'S SOMETHING more to a man than the mud he's made from. There's something besides blood and bones that makes a man gentle or kind or courageous. A man is what he is because of the spirit of man—his soul. And a soul can't die.

A SOUL CAN'T stiffen and decay in the mud. Once begun by God, it lives forever—in happiness or in Hell.

For all of us who once stood beside the body of a fallen friend, stood silent and stripped of our smugness, death has to mean a beginning. We won't—we can't—be satisfied with any explanation that says: all that remains of this man who knowingly gave his life for his family, his nation, his God, is a muddy corpse. We're intelligent creatures, and that just doesn't make sense.

MEMORIAL DAY means more than a memory for us who saw death in the raw. It is an act of faith in a just and loving God who rewards a good life and noble death with citizenship in heaven.

fairness and long range danger of featherbedding and have refused to adopt the practice of forcing employers to pay for work not needed and in many cases not done. A group of citizens in Arkansas have formed an organization to place before the state's voters next November a state constitutional amendment outlawing the practice of featherbedding. It is a wholesome amendment which will produce benefits for everyone, including particularly the wage earners.

Worst Areas

Featherbedding practices are at their worst in four major areas of employment — on the railroads, in the entertainment world, and in the printing and construction business. Railroads are forced to spend many millions of dollars for crewmen who have no genuine function at all to perform. For instance, locomotive firemen of the old type are not needed on a modern diesel locomotive. Originally no seat was provided on the left side of the cab — since there is nothing for a "fireman" sitting there to do. But seats had to be provided and "firemen" employed to sit in the cab (at wages as high as $4.85 an hour) doing nothing.

One railroad operating in the state of Arkansas pays out more than $1,500,000 a year on featherbedding jobs, according to one of its officials. On some railroads a full train crew must be paid a full day's wages for working less than one hour and a half. Some of the practices in the printing business are ridiculous. Because some typographers' unions enforce the practice through union rules and threats of strikes, many newspapers in the U. S. are required to set (and then throw away!) "bogus" type for advertisements which are actually printed from matrices which improve the efficiency of the printing process. The advertisers, their customers, and the newspaper subscribers pay the bill for this "bogus" work.

A $628.51 Trombone Note

A painters' union frequently requires contractors to employ its members to apply an extra, unnecessary coat of paint to material that has been pre-painted at the factory. And some carpenters' unions force contractors to hire their members to actually take apart units of pre-fabricated houses and put them back together again before they will assemble them. There are many examples of featherbedding in the entertainment world. A classic example is the "standby" musician.

When the character actor Charles Laughton picked up a trombone and pretended to play it in a five-second sequence of the play Major Barbara, the actual trombone sound came from a recording. But the producers of the play had to pay $628.51 a week for four "standby" musicians who sat for an hour or so in the wings of the stage but played not one note.

Perhaps the Arkansas law, if enacted, will become a pattern for the nation. It is my feeling that most workers — as well as the citizenry — will welcome the abandoning of featherbedding.

IS IT FAIR?

Institutional advertising frequently is the most valuable.

Yet, the Internal Revenue Service is again moving against allowing institutional advertising by railroads, public utility companies and others as a deductible business expense . . .

How genuine can we get?

The Internal Revenue Service now takes a lion's share of all income, individual and business. It is getting harder and harder to meet these gigantic demands and still come out with enough to buy beans for the family.

But we accept this. What we can not accept is a ruling that makes it impossible for an individual or a business to "say his piece." —Kaufman Herald

Thomason Issues
Formal Statement To County Voters

Milton Thomason of Hood announces his candidacy for District Clerk of Cooke County in the Democratic Primary Election to be held next July 26th.

Milton Thomason was born at Era, the son of Dr. and Mrs. B. R. Thomason who were pioneer citizens of Cooke County. He is also the brother of Federal Judge Ewing Thomason of El Paso, Mrs. Beth Cravens of Gainesville and Mrs. William Wottord of Little Rock, Arkansas. Mrs. Thomason is the former Miss Eva Chanslor, whose parents were Cooke County pioneer farmers who settled in the Hood community in 1890.

As a young man Milton Thomason worked in his father's store at Era and also on the adjoining farm. He attended public schools at Era and Gainesville and while a student at New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, New Mexico, enlisted in the U. S. Army for service in World War I.

After the war he was a cotton buyer in Gainesville and in later years was employed by the U. S. Government in the General Accounting Office with service in Washington and Dallas until he resigned to return to his native county. For two years he was office deputy Sheriff of Cooke County. His business and government experience have well qualified him for the record and clerical duties of the office he now seeks.

Milton Thomason will appreciate the support of the voters and promises if elected an efficient administration of the office of District Clerk.

A master sergeant in North Africa was talking to his Texans. "Our job here is to promote good will and friendliness. We've got to be friendly and polite to the natives. If they say Africa is bigger than Texas, agree with them."

Sgt. and Mrs. Joe Galloway and daughter Jonann of Altus, Okla., were here for the MHS graduation when her brother Francis Fisher received his diploma. They were weekend guests of Mrs. Galloway's parents, the John Fishers. Mrs. Max Rummelhart of Corpus Christi, who was planning to be here, was prevented, practically at the last minute from attending. She talked by telephone to her family and congratulated her brother long distance on commencement night. The Galloways also attended Sacred Heart's graduation. They had a cousin, Judy Trubenbach, getting her high school diploma and they had three cousins, Joan Fisher, JoAnn Fisher and Loretta Schmitt finishing the eighth grade.

Banquet and Class Night Program End School at Lindsay

The junior-senior banquet and class night program combined in one event formally closed the scholastic year at St. Peter's School in Lindsay, May 22. It was held in the parish hall.

Kenneth Zimmerer was master of ceremonies, Gilbert Hermes extended welcome and Cecilia Neu responded. Father Conrad led the invocation.

In the after dinner program Ann Neu gave the class motto, Linda Lou Kuhn told about the class flower chrysanthemum, and Marie Popp explained the class colors — multi-colors.

Rosemary Bezner, Judy Schmitz and Alma Haverkamp paraded the seniors, Maxine Schmitz presented a tribute to the pastor, Nelda Hellinger paid tribute to the teachers, and Janie Kubis gave a tribute to the parents.

Joe Bezner and Frank Sandmann read the last will and testament and three more tributes followed: to the school trustees by Rose Mary Hess, to the Parent-Teacher Club by Milton Krebs and to the cafeteria staff by Wanda Hess. Leslie Kuhn and Kenneth Zimmerer foretold the future in the class prophecy. Leroy Neu bid farewell to the seniors and Richard Klement spoke on the class patroness.

Graduates this year were Cecilia Neu, valedictorian, Rose Mary Hess, salutatorian, and Nelda Hellinger, Wanda Hess, Janie Kubis, Linda Lou Kuhn, Ann Neu, Marie Popp, Maxine Schmitz, Joe Bezner and Frank Sandmann.

Rev. and Mrs. Billy Whitt and son of Fort Worth were weekend visitors with his parents, the W. B. Whitts and were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Cooke. Joining them for an afternoon visit in the Cooke home were the Curtis Martins of Saint Jo.
