August 26 Set for Opening Dates at Muenster Schools

As far as Nasser and his henchmen are concerned most of us will agree that they fully deserve the fate they are inviting for the Middle East. Still, for the sake of millions of innocent Arabs who would also be victims of that fate, and also for the sake of human welfare all over the globe, we hope that the present conquest can be halted.

The basis of the new dictator's success so far, as reported in this week's U. S. News and World Report, is his appeal to the common hatred of all Middle East Arabs for little Israel. Nasser boasts that the annihilation of the Israelis is the ultimate purpose behind present efforts to unite all Arabs in the United Arab Republic.

The significant fact is that Israel is last on his schedule of conquest . . . so that he can use the issue as a means of roping in other Arab countries. This doesn't mean that he is insincere in his professed intentions toward the Jews; but rather that he is determined first to consolidate his empire.

His big boner, however, is going in cahoots with Russia to achieve that end. Red propaganda and intrigue have convinced him that this is the right course. Meanwhile red technicians and experts are helping with his military and economic program . . . but at the same time playing the typical Russian game of making Nasser helplessly dependent on Moscow.

When the time is ripe Nasser will suddenly discover that he is no longer the magnificent leader of a great Arab empire. He will have joined the other puppets who are forced to take orders from Moscow and the empire itself will have become another Soviet satellite.

The pattern is there plain for anyone to see, identical to that which has subjugated millions of people in Europe and Asia. Now the reds are firing an incessant propaganda barrage encouraging Arabs to break the ties of Western colonialism. Next the same people will be like the millions of others, subjects of Soviet imperialism.

That any person should be so naive as to fall for the same old worn out line of intrigue seems unbelievable. But here it is, happening all over again. Like so many others, Nasser got the idea that he would use the obliging reds to serve his purpose. Unlike the others he has not discovered that, actually, they are using him.

With the whole Mid-East pattern so obvious, the big question now naturally facing us Americans is why our propaganda mills are not working overtime to reveal Russia's scheme. We can use the history of every red decade to expose this mess as another step in Soviet conquest. We can counter all red propaganda about western colonialism and imperialism by a simple comparison of our country's and Russia's history. We can name a long list of ambitious men who tried to use the communists for their own ends, but were themselves used by the reds. Perhaps there is a chance that proud and ambitious Nasser will see the light if he can be persuaded to consider the fate of other red collaborators.

Temporarily our job may be to stand guard and halt the red advance in the Middle East. Our really important job is to blaze away with a truth campaign that will expose the ugly Soviet motives. Why isn't that being done? Why, with all truth and common sense on our side, do we allow the red falsehood to score the propaganda victories?

Last week's National Review commented that the big crisis isn't in the Middle East but in Washington. The crisis is our own country's indecision to take the initiative in propaganda and diplomacy . . . also to show we're ready to call the Soviet bluff.

There's only one way of dealing with the Soviets . . . to expose them before the world for the scoundrels they are and defy them to do anything about it. Sooner or later that has to happen anyway, and the time is better now than when the reds have a cinch.

The important fact is that such good old American spirit could change the entire world picture enormously. We'd find ourselves with greater prestige and more friends if we would

The 1958-59 scholastic year in both Muenster schools begins on Tuesday, August 26, according to statements this week by Father Christopher Paladino of Sacred Heart School and Superintendent Howard Homsley of Muenster Public School.

Both favored the early opening date because of the satisfactory manner it has worked out in the two previous years. If bad weather through the winter forces them to miss a few days they have the necessary time margin to complete the required number of days without adding them at the end of the year. If no interruption occurs school can be dismissed a few days ahead of time.

As regards teaching staffs, the usual condition exists at the parochial school. The Olivetan Benedictine Convent at Jonesboro, Ark., which provides the local faculty, is expected to name its assignments on August 15.

The public school faculty still lacks one teacher, for the seventh and eighth grades. Superintendent Homsley said Wednesday that a young man who is now considering the position will report his decision on Saturday.

Homsley also said that the vacancy in the English department has been filled by Mrs. Jerry Bledsoe, wife of the Methodist minister at Myra. A native of Vernon, she is now a student of NTSC at Denton and expects to receive her degree in summer school next year.

Football practice at both schools will start on the 25th, however both coaches are expected to have a few earlier sessions to study blackboard diagrams of plays and issue equipment so that the boys can start at full steam on the first day.

Local Lions Hear District Governor

A pep talk by District Governor J. W. Hagler of Longview was the feature of a regular meeting of the Muenster Lions Club Tuesday noon at the Ace Cafe.

Here for the district head's annual visit, Hagler refreshed the members' memories on the ideals and good work done by Lions clubs all over the world. He said that Lions regularly are out front in civic projects in their own community while doing outstanding charity work on the state level. He also recalled the organization's Texas origin . . . in Dallas in 1917 . . . and its subsequent spread to many foreign countries.

Hagler also urged members to strive for their club's achievement of the order's national objective: 5 new members for each club and 85 per cent attendance at meetings.

Members were advised that District 2X, the largest in all of Lionism, will soon be split up in a statewide reorganization making 16 districts out of the present nine.

The district governor was introduced by Gene Davenport of Gainesville, who in turn was introduced by President Steve Mosler.

400 Pounds Clothes Leaves Here Tagged For Needy Missions

Clothes for the missions in three shipments with a total weight of 400 pounds have gone from Sacred Heart Parish the past week to destinations in Texas, Louisiana and North Dakota and the final shipment of the current clothes roundup will reach its destination this weekend. That was a report given by Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, mission chairman, at a meeting of Saint Anne's Society Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Swirczynski said 100 pounds went to St. Anne's Indian Mission in North Dakota, 150 pounds went to St. Vincent's Store in Fort Worth and another 150 pounds went to Christ the King Mission in Grand Coteau, La. Leaving this weekend for St. Joseph's Mission in Hereford will be 25 hospital shirts.

The North Dakota shipment by rail freight was prepaid by the local court Catholic Daughters of America, Central Freight Lines hauled the Fort Worth and Louisiana packages free of charge and the Hereford carton will ride with the Ewald Ber-

Community Urged To Help Firemen At Picnic Sunday

An opportunity to exchange a small favor for a much larger one awaits the people of Muenster next Sunday when members of the volunteer fire department put on a benefit picnic at the parish hall.

Funds to be raised by the event are intended for two specific purposes. One is to pay off the balance of more than $100 on a resuscitator bought about 18 months ago. The other is to raise $300 per member to help support a survey and study relative to proposed changes in the Firemen's Pension Fund. Lesser projects of the local organization will also benefit if the picnic proceeds are big enough.

Extending a community-wide invitation this week, Fire Chief Ed Schneider urged the public to come and help out the boys who help them. He referred to the many fires that have been stopped here before they developed into serious losses and to the thousands of dollars of savings on local insurance policies because of rate credits earned by the fire department.

KC District Deputy Installs Officers

Officers of the Muenster K of C council were formally re-installed Wednesday night in ceremonies conducted by District Deputy George Hilz of Pilot Point.

They are Chaplain Father Christopher, Grand Knight Pat Hennigan, Deputy Grand Knight Leo Sicking, Financial Secretary Francis Wiese, Lecturer Earle Otto, Chancellor Leo Lawson, Recorder Ed Endres, Treasurer Clyde Fisher, Advocate Arthur Endres, Warden Albert Herr, Guards Eddie Fleitman and Walter Klement, Trustees Charley Hellman, Glenn Hellman and Herbert Meurer.

An installation date was also announced by Faithful Navigator John Mosman for officers of the local Fourth Degree Assembly. It will be held on Sunday, August 31, at 5 p.m. and will be followed by group attendance in full dress at the 7 o'clock evening mass.

Pilot Point members here with the district deputy were Grand Knight B. J. Henzler, Deputy Grand Knight Leonard Berend and Warden Walter Dankesreiter.

Burglars Strike Lumber Company

A Remington Rand calculating machine worth about $450 was the big haul in a burglary at Community Lumber Company last Friday.

Reporting to Sheriff's Deputies Saturday Rody Klement, co-owner, said that an electric razor and $3 or $4 in change were also missing. Apparently no merchandise was taken.

Entry was gained through a rear window, by cutting the screen and prying the window open with a screw driver.

Farm Bureau Sets August 21 as Date For 1958 Barbecue

Cooke County Farm Bureau's annual barbecue and the crowning of Miss Cooke County, 1958 Farm Bureau Queen, has been set for Thursday, August 21.

The program will be held in Gainesville in the Community Center Building. Mrs. Joe Lehnertz will cater the meal. A variety program will furnish entertainment and the usual after-dinner speeches will be dispensed with.

Tickets for the party are now on sale at seventy-five cents for adults and thirty-five cents for children.

Plans for the event were completed at a meeting of Farm Bureau directors and committee-men Monday night. It was announced that four young women are candidates in the annual queen's contest.

Move to Missouri

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hounsshell and children Johnny and Judy are getting ready to leave Muenster and move to Sedalia, Mo., where he will be stationed as state sanitarian for Missouri. The family will leave here August 15. During the 13 months the Hounsshells lived here they occupied Joe Luke's house at 412 North Maple and he was employed as laboratory supervisor at the NTPA milk plant. His successor at the plant has not been named.

Complaints on Tax Assessments to Be Heard Wednesday

City taxpayers who have any objections to their assessments for the current year will have an opportunity to be heard next Wednesday night when the city council meets in special session to complete its job as equalization board. The meeting will start at 8, and persons who have objections are asked to come early.

The council held its first equalization meeting Wednesday night of last week, checking over rendition sheets and preparing postal notices to advise of changes in assessment. Most of those went to people who failed to render, and the cards usually advise that the assessment is the same as last year. There is also the usual number of taxpayers who render lower than the previous assessment, in which case the equalization board notifies that the assessment has been raised to the previous figure.

The council's effort this year is confined strictly to equalization. No effort was made to raise the general tax structure.

Building And Improvement Notes

The community's biggest building job, a combined band and vocational agriculture building is off to a good start but cannot be finished in time for the start of school. Walls of concrete tile are about finished, after which there will be brick facing, roof construction, window installation, partitions and finishing.

The next biggest project is just completed . . . construction of a new building for Nick Miller's cleaning, pressing and shoe repair plus remodeling to make all of the other building into a funeral home. They will be presented to the community at a formal opening Sunday.

Several homes have just been remodeled. It was an extensive change-over job downstairs and new wallpaper upstairs for the Joe Lehnertz house. The work should be finished this week.

Emmet Fettes has moved in after overhauling the house they recently bought from the Eberhart Estate. The big job was remodeling the kitchen, adding built in appliances and cabinet space. The rest of the house was refinished.

Frank Trubenbach has dressed up four rooms in his house with new sheet rock and paint.

At Al Walter's it's new siding for all of the exterior plus enclosing a back porch.

The C. L. Williams home is favored with an outside improvement job consisting of new screens for all windows and doors followed by an overall paint job.

A remodeling job for Ed Hess restored a damaged trailer house into a dandy lakeside cabin. The vehicle had been considerably warped and crushed when it was rolled over.

A cement front porch was poured by the J. P. Fluches last Friday, replacing the original wood porch.

R. E. Hamric is plugging away steadily on his own do-it-yourself project consisting mostly of new cabinets inside and moving the separate garage to the side of the house.

New outside paint jobs are either complete or under way for Andy Schoech, Buck Wilson and Walter Grewing.

Rest rooms for the second floor of the KC hall, directly over those in the basement, were voted by the members in their meeting Wednesday night. Work will begin in a few days.

Funeral Held for Infant Daughter of Richard Grewings

Funeral services were held at Sacred Heart cemetery Monday morning at 9:30 for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grewing. The baby was dead at birth at 7:20 p.m. Sunday at Muenster Clinic.

Survivors in addition to the parents are three sisters, Janice, Carol and Barbara Lynn and one brother Wayne and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grewing and Mrs. Theresia Mosler, all of Muenster.

Richard Grewing Files as Candidate For City Council

With only three more days to go before the filing deadline, the city still has only one candidate for the special election on August 23. He is Richard Grewing, according to a report Wednesday by City Secretary Anthony Luke.

In order to get his name on the ballot a candidate must officially announce with the city secretary on or before Saturday, September 9.

The council vacancy to be filled is that left by M. D. Kaderli when he recently moved to New Mexico.

Denis mentions in each letter how much he enjoys the cards and letters he gets from his Muenster friends.

Paul Tempel had a weekend pass from Lisbon VA Hospital and spent it here

Formal Opening of Miller Building Scheduled Sunday

A formal opening Sunday between the hours of 3 and 8 will present a brand new home for one business and an enlarged home for another.

Nick and Adelina Miller have extended a general invitation to come and see the new location of their cleaning and pressing and shoe repair business and the remodeled funeral home next door.

There will be souvenirs for all who come. Ladies visiting at the pressing plant will receive clothes hangers with foam dress shields and plastic covers, and men will receive hangers with pants guards and plastic covers. In addition there will be gum for the kiddies and soft drinks for everybody.

Sharing in the host duties will be members of the Muenster Boy Scout Council. As their scoutmaster's helpers they will be serving the drinks and gum and also taking charge of registrations.

Registrations will also determine two door prizes: a leather shoulder bag for the lucky lady and a hand tooled billfold for the lucky man.

Sunday's opening represents a big step in progress since Nick and Adelina's previous opening on May 10, 1953. The building then used for all of their business is now used entirely for the funeral home. The new building, across a driveway to the north now houses the cleaning and pressing and shoe repair business.

Design of the new building is similar to the former one: Brick to the level of window sills and asbestos siding from there up to the flat roof. They differ (Continued on Page 10)

Six Persons Hurt In Car Collision

A head-on collision of two cars south of Myra Monday morning at 10:30 shook up the six occupants and sent them to Gainesville Sanitarium for x-rays. No serious injuries were discovered and all six were dismissed.

In the mishap were Mrs. Will Sicking and four granddaughters, Debra, Virginia, Lois and Julie Sicking, children of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Sicking, in Mrs. Sicking's ten year old Chevrolet and Mail Carrier John McCarty of Gainesville in a brand new Pontiac. Both cars were put out of commission by the impact.

On the scene at the time of the crash was Winfred McCoy, field man for NTPA, who took the cars' occupants to the Emmett Sicking home, nearest house to the accident scene, to use the telephone.

A call brought Mrs. Ray Sicking who took her mother-in-law and the children to the Sanitarium. McCarty called Gainesville Post Office for a substitute carrier to finish his mail route before he went to the hospital. He was suffering from pain in his back and neck.

Mrs. Sicking's chest was causing pain and Debra Sicking was bleeding from cuts on her forehead. Seven stitches closed the wounds. Virginia sustained a broken nose. Lois and Julie were not hurt.

Mrs. Sicking's x-rays revealed three fractured ribs. Along with the Emmet Sicking's eight children she will spend the next several days in the Ray Sicking home.

The Sicking children are staying with their grandmother while their parents are on a vacation trip.

The collision occurred at a corner where tall grass and weeds obstruct the view in both directions. Mrs. Sicking had slowed down to almost a stop and McCarty was reported traveling about 10 miles an hour.

FREE SPEECH — RUSSIAN STYLE

If you are inclined to believe the Communist propaganda that free discussion is now permitted in the Soviet and its Satellites, the following sad tale should let you know that "the leopard still hasn't changed its spots." Speech in the Soviet orbit still bears an expensive price tag — the concentration camp or death — despite what Khrushchev and his buddies may claim.

At a recent meeting in Czechoslovakia at which great emphasis was given by the presiding officer to the matter of free discussion, Comrade Novak fell for the communist buncombe. He asked permission to ask two questions and the chairman told him to go ahead.

"Comrade President," he said, "my first question is: Why is meat so high? And my second: What happened to Archbishop Beran?"

"Comrade Novak," the chairman replied, "it is getting late, and I had rather not drag out the meeting. I'll answer your questions at the next meeting."

At that next meeting, another member of the free (?) discussion group begged permission to put three questions. With permission granted, he asked:

"First, Comrade President, why is meat so high? Second, what happened to Archbishop Beran? Third, WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO COMRADE NOAK?"

Free Discussion — it is to laugh! Correction. It is to cry!

THE HARDWORKING BOSS

One of the most learned scholars of this century was asked the question:

"Do you like to work all the time?"

He answered: "What difference does it make whether I like it or not? I can never finish what I have to do anyway."

This "Viewer of the American Way" didn't have the pleasure of a personal acquaintanceship with this learned philosopher (now deceased). Friends who did, however, tell me that no beaver ever worked as persistently, enthusiastically, restlessly and with such effectiveness as did this man who could never finish what he had to do.

Which leads to the observation that it's high time we stop misusing the word "labor." Too many Americans "labor" under the erroneous idea that nobody "labors" but bricklayers, mechanics, machinists, etc. They overlook the fact that the hardest workers in any community are those who are their own bosses.

If you doubt the foregoing statement just take a look around your own community to realize the truth of it.

Pause For Reflection

... with James C. Ingebreten President, Spiritual Mobilization WAY PAST TIME

At a recent news conference, President Eisenhower reportedly foresaw a Federal deficit of some $10,000,000,000 for the current fiscal year and said it would require an "awful shrinkage" of governmental activity to achieve a balanced budget for his final year in office.

Well, that is exactly what this country needs — an "awful shrinkage" of governmental activity.

According to the Indiana Teacher, "a worker in the U. S. today can turn out about six times as much as his great-grandfather 100 years ago."

But today he pays in taxes more than his great-grandfather earned. According to The Tax Foundation, the total per capita tax load has gone up, just since 1915, from less than $25 to over $650.

According to the Census Bureau, the assessed valuation of all property in the nation that was subject to local general property taxes in 1956 was $280,432,000,000. But the Federal debt, in the next few months, will top that figure.

In our great-grandfathers' time, agriculture was this country's biggest business. Today government is. The Federal government alone, now spending well over $70,000,000,000 a year, sucks up more than four times the total annual agricultural income of $16,000,000,000.

Certainly it is 'way past time that we had an "awful shrinkage" of governmental activity in this country.

NAACP TAKE NOTICE

Samuel S. Thomas, 37-year-old Negro of Greenboro, S.C., is planning a national organization to secure first class citizenship for his race without recourse to racial strife or integration pressure. Outlining his plan for the Mutual Association of American Negroes, Mr. Thomas told Lane Kerr, staff writer for the Greensboro Daily News: "I contend that we Negroes, can gain first class citizenship through economic development, high moral standards and intellectual achievements much faster than by forced acceptance through courts and litigation." Thomas has a college degree and two years of law, but he is no starry-eyed reformer. Rather, according to Mr. Kerr, he is an ex-jailbird, freed after serving ten months of a two to four year sentence for subornation of perjury. He is making his comeback and feeding his wife and two children by working two eight hour shifts a day, six days a week, one as a hotel bellhop, the other in a cigarette factory.

The Thomas story reminds us forcibly of a bristling editorial in a recent issue of the Negro magazine Ebony which faced up to a problem that reformers of neither race have been willing to see. It noted that "the percentage of Negro offenses has grown to such alarming proportions that a growing number of people are asking 'What is the Negro doing about Negroes?' In the same spirit as Mr. Thomas, the magazine pointed out to the reader the need to police his own race in his own interest. It charged him not to "sit idly by while a few irresponsible members of his race destroy the rights that have taken years to obtain."

We hope that the officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People are regular readers of Ebony, and that they also learn of Mr. Thomas' MAAN. In its general belligerency, this organization has been much too concerned with the conduct of whites and too little interested in the true advancement of Negroes.

COMING OR GOING?

The following brief editorial is from The Wall Street Journal:

"We were scanning the papers the other day, duly noting the crises that abound and mulling the words of famous people who keep getting themselves and their countrymen in hot water, when we came across the news that this month marks the 100th anniversary of Charles Darwin's theory of evolution. "Further reading of the day's news led us to wish Mr. Darwin was still around so we could ask him just one question: Are we coming or going?"

Are Psychiatry And Religion Enemies?

BY REV. JOHN J. LYNCH

Psychiatry and religion are not enemies; they work together. Psychiatrists have found that sincere religious convictions are a great help towards mental health. Priests and ministers of religion know that a healthy mind is necessary for a healthy religious outlook.

BUT RELIGION is not a substitute for psychiatry—any more than and since (Columbus, for instance, thinking America as India), he failed to identify the new territory opened up by his genius and labor. Instead of finding a substitute for religion, he provided a helpmate for it.

Many psychiatrists today—ever thankful for the tools and techniques pioneered by Freud—see the true relation between psychiatry and religion.

THUS, DR. C. G. JUNG, Freud's best known pupil, wrote, "Among all my patients over 35 years old, there has not been one whose problem in the last resort was not that of finding a religious outlook on life."

And Dr. William C. Menninger, founder of the famous Menninger Clinic, agrees with Jung: "Christ Himself, centuries ago, laid down one of the principles of mental health that we now recognize as of paramount importance... For whosoever will save his life shall lose it, but whosoever will lose his life for My sake will save it... It is still a magnificent precept. If you can follow it, you will never live to make a date with a psychiatrist."

PSYCHIATRY only becomes the enemy of religion when it tries to act as a substitute for religion—by denying such truths as the existence of God, the nature of man (made in the image and likeness of God), and man's obligation to follow God's moral law.

In such a case, psychiatry is no longer a branch of medicine, but a false religion.

† Paulist Feature Service, Washington 17, D. C.

Freud

it is a substitute for surgery. Nor is psychiatry a substitute for religion. Psychiatry is a branch of medicine—not a religion.

To understand why some people confuse the relationship between religion and psychiatry, you must know something of the history of psychiatry.

SIGMUND FREUD (1856-1939) was the first explorer in the field of psychiatry. He thought he had found a substitute for religion. But like many a great explorer before

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Will your soil be productive 100 years from now? That was the question on a thought-provoking float that appeared in each of the centennial parades in Montague County cities last week.

The display was mounted on a truck which also displayed pictures of soil erosion and reminded viewers that the present population of the United States is 172 million and that the estimated population for 100 years hence is expected to be 425 million.

The population is increasing at the rate of three million each year. At the same time soil erosion, cities and highways are taking more than one and a half million acres of land out of food production each year. This nation's surplus food production problems might turn into a more serious problem — food scarcity. The float was sponsored by the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District.

Meanwhile landowners in the Muenster-Saint Jo area have gone about the task of building terraces on their sloping fields to help protect them from soil and water losses and keep them in production.

There is a growing list of farmers cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red district to build terraces on their land. Cost-share payments are provided the landowners through the county ASC offices and technical assistance is provided by the Soil Conservation Service assisting the district program.

Louis Sicking has just completed 16,000 feet of wide, easy-to-farm terraces on his farm southwest of Muenster. His neighbor and brother, Thomas Sicking, is using a tractor and three-disc plow to build 4000 feet of terraces on one of his sloping fields. The terraces will outlet onto a Bermuda grass waterway which was put in to provide a safe outlet area.

J. W. Fleitman is constructing some 5500 feet of terraces on his farm east of Muenster and Alfons Reiter is adding another terrace to protect a field on the farm he operates.

Herman Zimmerer is constructing 3800 feet of terraces on the farm he operates for Dangelmayr Brothers. The terraces all outlet on a Bermuda grass waterway that was established for this purpose. In the same area, Andy Wimmer is adding another terrace to his system to help protect his field from soil and water losses.

At Hood, Cecil Welch and Joe Lewter are adding terraces to their terrace system to give added protection to their fields. Both terrace systems outlet onto grass strips that were planted to provide safe terrace outlet areas.

All these landowners and many more are taking positive action to save their soil and water so that their lands will remain productive. Each has worked out a definite plan of action in the form of a complete soil, water and plant conservation plan. The building of terraces is one step toward completion of plans to provide protection for their land.

If the good earth is to stay productive for this and other generations it must be protected and improved while it is being used. Now is the time to take steps to prevent soil and water losses.

Enrollment Booms In Junior College

"Going to a junior college after high school graduation is the American way, the Texas Way," says Dean J. H. Parker of Gainesville College. Why?

Within the years 1952-1958 enrollment in the two-year college has boomed from 568,000 to 900,000 nationally. Texas, with her 46 two-year colleges and 67,486 students enrolled, is second only to California in a movement which promises to become the solution today for the overcrowded classrooms of the four-year institution.

Gainesville College has a faculty of trained, experienced teachers holding master's degree and graduate credit. Eleven of her teaching and administrative staff hold the master's and half of that number did advanced graduate study during the summer just passed.

Expanded and revised academic studies and added courses in mathematics, science, English, physical education, and guidance services add to the opportunities for the student working for two year transfer credit.

Courses in secretarial training, business administration, drafting, shop and metals, welding, speech and accounting attract the young and the adult student.

Both the adult and the young student who must hold jobs while going to college find courses at Gainesville College sufficiently varied to permit them to finish one or more years of work before or after hours and at night.

One woman and twelve men of the 1958 graduating class of 42 members did all their work through the night classes.

Gainesville College is a growing community institution bringing credited educational services to Gainesville and her area.

The Pete Preschers Take 10 State Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Prescher and son David of Gainesville have returned from an exciting trip through ten states, covering 3150 miles. It was a combined business and pleasure tour in their car.

In Junction City, Kansas, they visited a cousin, James Prescher, whom they met for the first time; they stopped with friends in Perry, Iowa, and then drove to Madison and Oregon, Wis., to look at Registered Holsteins. In the latter city they bought a six-months-old bull from the Oregon State Farm.

From there they drove to Milwaukee and boarded the SS Milwaukee Clipper to cross Lake Michigan. Their car went over at the same time on another deck. The Clipper carries 900 passengers. They were aboard from 4 until 10 p.m. and enjoyed the 80-mile crossing, landing at Muskegon, Mich. The next drive was to Grand Rapids for a visit with Mrs. Anton Prescher and family and then to Elgin, Ill., to see some more Holsteins.

On the return they stopped at Jonesboro, Ark., for a visit with a relative, Sister Loretta Nause. The trip took nine days and was most pleasant — without a single flat or car trouble.

The Preschers' two older boys stayed at home to do the milking and other farm chores.

Stop Market Losses From Cattle Grubs

use

Co-Ral

LIVESTOCK INSECTICIDE

A remarkably effective spray control for cattle grubs.

Kills grubs inside the cattle before they can damage meat and hide or seriously retard the animal's development.

Cattle grubs develop from the eggs of heel flies laid on the hair of the lower legs of the animal. Small larvae hatching from these eggs burrow through the skin and into the flesh of the animal, migrating through the tissue until they appear as lumps on the back. This stage is 6 to 7 months after eggs are laid. Eventually the grubs cut through the hide, drop to the ground and develop into the heel fly, which lays more eggs, thus completing the cycle.

By Co-Ral grub control some of the chemical goes through the hide, killing grubs inside the animal. Dead grubs are broken down, absorbed and disappear without leaving any trace of injury.

The best time to spray is at termination of the heel fly season, just after grubs have started their slow migration to the back. That's NOW, in July and August.

Mrs. Hubert Bezner and son Rickey of New Orleans, La., are vacationing with relatives here. Joined by Mrs. Joe Bezner Sr. they spent the weekend and to Tuesday in Dallas with family members.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cutaia and family of Dallas visited here Tuesday with her mother Mrs. Joe Bezner Sr. and the Sisters who are here from San Antonio.

Sister Dorothy Therese has returned to Dallas after a vacation visit with her parents, the I. A. Zimmerers and other relatives. While she was here family get-togethers were held in the homes of the Bruno, Henry and Vincent Zimmerers. Sister Dorothy Therese is assigned to St. Thomas School in Dallas again this year.

Leroy Schmidtkofer, machinists mate second class, U. S. Navy, has written to tell his parents, the J. C. Schmidtkofers, about an overseas tour that took him and his outfit about 39,000 miles aboard the USS Destroyer Frank E. Evans. The ship returned to Long Beach, Calif., the latter part of July with Destroyer Division 131 after six months' duty in the Western Pacific. They visited Pago Pago, American Samoa and Wellington, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Okinawa and ports in Japan.

Sister Christina Flusche has let relatives in Lindsay and Muenster know that she is back in Wallis, Texas, to teach at Guardian Angel School during the coming term. She was at Our Lady of the Lake Convent in San Antonio since vacation began last May.

Sister Henry Ann Fuhrmann has gone to Rosenberg where she is in charge of that city's Catholic clinic. For several years she was at St. Anne's Hospital in Abilene.

Mrs. Barney Sandmann and baby son Steve of Fort Worth ended a week's vacation Sunday with her parents, the Martin Friskes. Barney was here Sunday to take them back home. Jere Friske of Dallas also spent Sunday with his parents.

Mrs. Bill Flusche and children Mary Catherine and Jim and Mrs. Bill Eberhart and her seven youngsters have returned from Post where they spent a week with the Julius Stelzer family.

Sister Michael Marie who taught school in Dallas last year has been assigned as a teacher in West, Texas, for the coming term. She's the daughter of Mike Fuhrmann.

Blessed Events

Here's an eight-pound boy... the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Yosten and a brother for Karla. He arrived at Muenster Clinic Monday, Aug. 4, at 10:20 p.m. Welcoming another grandchild are Mrs. John Walter-scheid and Mrs. Bob Yosten.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Glenn of Gainesville announce the birth of a seven pound daughter at Muenster Clinic August 2. The little girl joins a family of four other girls and two boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bennett, 823 E. Broadway, Gainesville, Wednesday announced the birth of a seven pound six ounce boy, their third son. He arrived at the Sanitarium at 6:15 a.m. Jay Bennett is an announcer for Radio Station KGAF.

From Vienna, S.D., comes a birth announcement telling of the arrival of a son for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gully. The little boy is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fuhrmann of Lindsay. The Gullys have three other children, two girls and a boy. At christening services the new baby was named Michael Edward with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gully of Vienna as godparents for their nephew. Mrs. Gully stood as proxy for Mrs. Henry Stoffels of Lindsay, another aunt of the infant. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gully, live in Willow Lake, S.D.

4 From Parish CYC At Oklahoma SSCA

Four young ladies of Sacred Heart Parish Catholic Youth Council returned Sunday from attendance at the Summer School of Catholic Action held at Oklahoma State College in Stillwater.

Sarah Fleitman, Virgilla Schilling, Joaleen Mollenkopf and Jo Ann Hess from Muenster were among the more than 300 young people at the five-day meeting. Also there were Sister Patricia and Sister Gerarda of Jonesboro, Ark., former teachers at Sacred Heart High.

Classes were supplemented with social events, a talent show and bowling. The school was conducted by Jesuit Fathers and Bishop Victor J. Reed of Oklahoma City favored the assemblage with a address.

Jones Transferred To Graham; Owen is J&L Manager Here

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Jones and children Johnny and Kathy left Muenster during the weekend to make their home in Graham where he was transferred by Jones and Laughlin Supply Co. effective August 1. On the same day, Leonard Owen assumed duties as store manager here.

The vacancy created by Jones' transfer has been filled by Robert L. Kreaps who was transferred from the Graham store to this city. He will move his wife and child to Muenster by the middle of the month and they'll occupy Joe Luke's house which will be vacated at that time by the J. C. Hounschell family.

The Jones family has lived in Muenster since October 1953 coming here from Wichita Falls when J&L sent Bill Bratcher to Colorado. In Graham they'll be at home at 1201 Fourth Street.

400 Pounds Clothes - - ends when they drive to that city.

Other reports at the August meeting of the St. Anne's members were on the Catholic State League convention held in Windthorst. Interesting accounts of proceedings were given by Mrs. H. J. Fuhrman and Mrs. Ted Gremminger who were the society's delegates.

Mrs. R. R. Endres, chairman of the sick committee, said she sent cards to seven ill members. The society also had a mass read for the recovery of Father Martin.

Principal business discussion centered around the annual shower for the local Benedictine Sisters. Date for the event will be announced after the Sisters arrive to harmonize with their plans.

Members welcomed back Father Bruno, who had just returned from summer school in Washington, D.C. In some inspiring comments Father Bruno expressed hope for a successful school year here. In that line he pointed out that school is an extension of home - a continuation of what is taught in the home. He also asked for co-operation of parents with teachers.

About 35 members were present and Mrs. John Kathman won the attendance prize. Mrs. Victor Hartman, president, conducted the meeting.

Final Rite Tuesday For Infant Daughter Of Tommy Schenks

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Schenk. The tiny, two-pound girl, born prematurely Monday morning at Gainesville Sanitarium lived five hours and was named Mary at her baptism in the hospital.

Father Bruno Fuhrmann officiated at the last rites and was celebrant of the Mass of the Angels. Miller Funeral Home directed burial in Sacred Heart cemetery.

Survivors are the parents, one sister, Brenda Lee, 2; and one brother, Tommy Jr. 4; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Schenk of Wichita Falls.

Greenville NCCW To Host Quarterly Meeting August 14

Greenville NCCW members will be hostesses for the quarterly meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women next Thursday, August 14. The session will begin at 11 o'clock in the morning and those attending are asked to take their lunch with them.

St. William's parish council, as hostesses, have prepared an interesting program. Father Emil Gerlich of Gainesville will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Herman Schniederjan is program chairman and theme for the meeting will be "Rural Life."

Local entertainment will be presented and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will conclude the afternoon.

Mrs. Ted Gremminger, president of the Sacred Heart Parish NCCW Council, is hopeful of having a large representation present from Muenster.

Miller Building - - -

however in color combinations. The new one is red and white, the original one is buff and brown. Both are set back about 30 feet from the street and both have new front lawns in the process of developing. Shrubbery, still to be planted at the new building will harmonize with that already established across the driveway.

Dimensions of the new building are 20x60, the exact space used in the former location. The arrangement also is very similar, with office and counter at the front, then shoe repair equipment, pressing equipment and finally cleaning equipment.

Transfer of that equipment enabled the Millers to more than double the visitor space in their funeral home. Most of the former 20x60 space is now partitioned into a 15x20 front office and a 35x17 casket room. The balance of it is used for hall space.

By moving the casket room the Millers added a 40x15 space now designated as the family room. It is separated from the chapel by an accordion door and it also adjoins the front office. In effect a space of 15x40 and 15x20 has been added to the original 15x47 for use of crowds during rosary services. Another big change in the funeral home is the addition of 100 folding chairs with padded kneelers attached. About 75 to 80 of them will be placed in the chapel and the others will be in the family room. The chapel will have no other furniture but the family room will have upholstered chairs and divans besides the folding chairs.

As late as Wednesday the Millers were still sweating out the arrival of their folding chairs. They hope to have them for Sunday. If not, they have one to show as a sample.

Confetti - - -

live up to our responsibility as leader of the free nations.

Such an attitude provides an opportunity for us to make capital out of Khrushchev's latest stalling tactics. We should tell him and all the world that his belated refusal to meet in the U.N. suits us just fine... because his agreements are not worth the paper they are written on, and mostly because we don't want to do business with the scoundrel whose hands are smeared by the blood of Budapest.
