Chance Remote for Fire Casualties at Muenster Schools

There isn't likely ever to be another election in which free people will give communists a beating as decisive as the one the West Berliners handed out last Sunday. The record was fantastic and points out how intensively the people of Berlin's Western sector resent Soviet proposals to bring them under communist domination.

The issues in this election were clearly drawn. Pro-Western and pro-Soviet candidates had campaigned openly on the red proposition. Then the people gave their verdict by a vote that was just short of unanimous. Ninety seven per cent of the qualified voters went to the polls and over 98 per cent of them answered Khrushchev with an emphatic "no."

In other words, over 95 per cent of the eligible voters of West Berlin, fully aware of the possible consequences of antagonizing the red boss, chose to stand and be counted. That is the significant point. Apparently few if any of the voters allowed their choice to be influenced by fear. The puny vote polled by the reds can be traced almost entirely to their loyal party members.

As must be obvious to all, even the Soviets, there was really no issue left after voters chose to ignore Russian threats. No sane person could possibly favor giving up the economic, social and political conditions of his sector and accept those of the other side.

Therein lies the cause of the present tension over Berlin. When announcing his scheme Khrushchev referred to the West-sector as the trouble spot in East Germany. And he was entirely correct. Beautiful, prosperous and free West Berlin, the product of "despised and inferior capitalism" provides a constant and convincing comparison with the oppression, destitution and shabbiness across the line. Of course it is a source of trouble when East Berliners and East Germans generally are exposed daily to this reminder of communism's failure. It is humiliating in the extreme to red leaders who have seen their subjects by the thousands quit their homes and families and escape to the other side. As the Germans say these East Germans have been "voting with their feet" against the so-called socialist paradise.

After this verdict of the Berliners, the three powers of the Western sector certainly should have no doubts about their duty in the crisis which seems to be coming. To comply with Russian demands and abandon the city to the puppet East Germans would be even more tragic than the historic boner which created this situation in the first place.

On the other hand they ought to use this incident, along with that which resulted in the Berlin air-lift several years ago, as the basis for a demand that America, Britain and France be allowed unimpeded access to their sector of the city. The terms of the Berlin arrangement have been absurd from the beginning. Common sense tells us that a treaty for occupation of a city presupposes free movement to and from that city, and any country which hinders such movement violates the spirit of the agreement.

It is true, of course, that the three Western countries were suckers in this deal. In their naive trust of an ally they assumed that relations would be friendly and satisfactory, little suspecting that the Soviets would double cross them. Well, they know better now, and they should be aware that it's high time to finish their unfinished job.

According to the simplest standards of morality they have a duty to finish it. When they occupied that part of Berlin they assumed responsibility for it. Their responsibility still exists today. America, Britain and France are obligated for the safety and welfare of the people of Berlin . . . and they are obligated to insist on conditions which enable them to carry out their duty.

With full awareness of this responsibility the three powers should take the initiative in this squabble, explain their position to the world at large and proclaim their ultimatum to the Russian double crossers . . . that they will not abandon the Berliners and they will tolerate no further interference in their passage to and from Berlin.

It has been suggested that (Continued on Page 12)

Chances of serious casualties as a result of fire are practically non-existent here, according to a report by City Fire Marshal Steve Moster and Fire Chief Ed Schneider following their inspection of the schools Tuesday afternoon. Their tour was prompted by the nation-wide concern for school fires following the recent tragedy at a parochial school in Chicago.

There isn't a chance to trap children in any of the three buildings, Moster said. Two are one story structures with wide halls and opportunity for children to escape in either direction. In case the fire happens to block their exit from a classroom they can still escape from windows without danger of serious injury.

The parochial elementary school is a three story building, but it too offers plenty of opportunity for children to escape. Every classroom on the main floor opens to a hall which has three exits, through doors at the east and west and south ends and a fire escape at the north. The floor above does not have the south exit. Likewise in the basement there are three exits and practically no chance for children to be trapped.

The inspectors also noted that the children have their regular fire drills and are capable of vacating quickly and orderly in case of most emergencies.

Only recommendation for improving the situation is to put a more sensitive latch on the fire escape door, and to mark the door as a fire escape.

Muenster FFA Boys Win Area Contest; Advance to State

Muenster High Future Farmers continued their winning ways in Area 5 contests at North Texas State College and the Greenhand, or freshman team, as champs in the Farm Skills contest will represent the area in state competition Saturday at Sam Houston State College in Huntsville.

The chapter team almost came out on top, missing that position by only three points. The local boys ran up a score of 2,657. Kaufman FFA earned 2,660 points. Both first and second place awards are plaques.

Both local teams tested milk for butterfat percentage using the Schain testing method which won them first places in the area contests.

Muenster's young farmers won another honor but lost the plaque award in a drawing to break a tie for sweepstakes. Four schools tied for high in points.

Vocational ag teacher Glenn Hellman coached the teams and took them to Denton Saturday for the contests.

Local Greenhand team is composed of Kenny Fette, Robert Voth and Jerry Endres. They're the boys who'll be trying to win state honors for their chapter Saturday.

Chapter teammates, who missed by only three points, are Doug Hellman, Truman Wolf and Roger Fleitman.

A total of 218 youths from 34 schools participated in the six events judged. Winners will compete in four state contests.

Glenn Hellman to Help Plan Bi-Area Contests for FFA

Glenn Hellman, vocational ag teacher at Muenster High and president of the Vocational Ag Teachers Association of the Denton District has been selected as one member on a Bi-Area planning committee for a series of livestock, poultry, dairy and land judging contests to be held in FFA Areas 5 and 6 next spring.

First meeting in the planning program will be held at ETSC, Commerce, on January 17. It will draw up rules and regulations for the contest and also a schedule of dates.

Hellman is one of the 7 ag teachers who will represent the 97 FFA chapters of Area 5. Another member of the committee will be the Area 5 supervisor. About the same kind of representation is expected from Area 6.

Band Rehearses for Christmas Program

A musical Christmas program at Muenster High is in the making by Band Director Jim Harris and his charges. According to plans announced Wednesday it will be held in the auditorium Sunday, the 21st, at 2:30 o'clock.

Planned for the program are both Christmas and regular concert numbers, about half and half, plus a few vocal numbers by the Sacred Heart Choir.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

After trying to tough out a virus infection for two weeks at home, Mrs. Herbert McDaniel entered Gainesville Sanitarium Wednesday morning for treatment. She's in room 211.

Gayle Miller, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Miller, was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Wednesday morning to continue recovery at home. She received medical care five days for a virus infection.

Walter Morrison and children Gloria and Wayne were dismissed from Vernon Hospital Wednesday. They are continuing recovery here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Knabe. The three were injured in a car-truck crash on Thanksgiving morning.

Rev. Francis Zimmerer is still a patient at the VA Hospital in North Little Rock and doctors haven't said when he will be dismissed. His address (the same as previously, with the exception of a change in ward) is as follows: V. A. Hospital, Ward 106, L.N.; North Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. Tony Otto who sustained a painful right shoulder injury in a misstep and fall recently is off from work at the parochial lunch room. Replacing her there is Mrs. Wesley Lansfeld.

Mrs. Russ Linn is a shut-in on account of a cold and asthma, is improving after a week in bed.

Ed Eberhart is a patient in Community Hospital, Room 209, in Sherman since Dec. 5 when he became ill. He underwent X-rays and tests before having a major operation Tuesday. Mrs. Eberhart has been staying with her husband and other family members visit him daily. Mrs. Eberhart had gone to Post to spend a week's vacation with her daughter and family, was there one day when she was called home on account of Mr. Eberhart's illness. Mrs. Julius Stelzer and children accompanied her home for an indefinite stay.

Miss Annie Hellman is recovering from illness that kept her a shut-in for more than a week.

Mrs. Andy Hacker is convalescing at home from a major operation performed at Gainesville Sanitarium . . . has to take it easy for a while but is up and around the house.

Paul Brewer was dismissed from Majors Clinic in Nocona Tuesday after two weeks of medical care and is up and around the house. Says many thanks for the cards, visits and other kindnesses during his stay in the hospital.

Herman Carlton still had a sore eye and blurred vision from the particle of hot metal which hit him in the eye Wednesday of last week while he was on a welding job. He kept the eye bandaged until Monday and has been wearing dark glasses since.

Mrs. Nellie Hudspeth Harvey, 79, mother of Clarence Hudspeth, just recovered and able to get around after nursing a broken left hip for two years, has fractured her right hip now. The accident happened the past week when Mrs. Harvey fell at her home in Marietta, Okla., during one of the occasional times she was out of her wheelchair. Saturday she underwent surgery in an Ardmore hospital — had a pin put in the hip bone — and this week is sitting up again in a wheelchair. Mr. and Mrs. Hudspeth and their children from here or relatives from elsewhere are with Mrs. Harvey every day. She's quite well known here having helped nurse the late Mrs. August Reiter during her last illness.

Community Gives $1,110 to Date in United Fund Drive

Muenster has contributed $1,110.68 to date in the current United Fund drive.

That was the amount of the fund's deposit Wednesday in the Muenster State Bank, according to J. M. Weinzapfel, county committeeman representing this area.

Weinzapfel said a hasty review of the campaign cards indicates that about 75 per cent of the Muenster people have been contacted in the drive and that about 65 per cent have contributed. He added, however, that the list of completed contacts includes almost all of the better prospects, so the total community contribution is probably about 90 per cent complete.

In Weinzapfel's opinion the community's contribution is far behind that of the county as a whole. Roughly Muenster and its trade territory are estimated at near a tenth of the county population, so their share in the quota should be near 10 per cent of the total. Actually the county has contributed $33,223 to date whereas Muenster has given $1,110.68. The county has reached 76 per cent of its goal of $43,325.

The drive was started here two weeks ago in connection with rural drives in the rest of the county. Tony Luke and Arthur Endres were co-chairmen preparing campaign cards and organizing about 20 workers who in turn recruited more workers to help get the job done.

Community Wide Entries Invited for Lighting Contest

A community wide invitation was extended this week by the Muenster Civic League and Garden Club for the outdoor decoration contest for the Christmas season. Entries will be welcomed in the rural area as well as in the city.

The only requirement for entering is to send a post card to the Garden Club, Box 151, Muenster, stating one's wish to enter. The purpose of that card is to provide a record of entries so the committee can make sure that no one will be overlooked, and also to relieve judges of considering displays that were not intended to be in the contest. As regards rural entries the card is especially important because the judges will be taken only to homes that are entered.

Judging will be done after dark on December 23 and the judges will be disinterested persons from out of town. The number and nature of prizes has not been decided up to now.

Service Improved in Mail Delivery By Route Changes

Fourteen farmers living south of Muenster will have better rural mail service in the future as a result of changes which become effective Saturday on Rural Route 2. The changes apply to two areas and will add six miles to the present route.

One area is that occupied by the Fishers and Trubenbachs. About 1.5 miles south of Muenster the route hereafter turns east and serves Charley Hellman, Paul Fisher, Joe Fisher Sr. and Charles Fisher, then goes south to Marty Trubenbach's where it also serves Frank Hacker and Al Trubenbach, then west to the old route at Tony Trubenbach Sr. At this point the route reverses its previous direction, going west to serve Charles Taylor and G. H. Hellman then turns south on the FM road to bring the mail nearer to Wilfred Luttmr, Ray Voth and C. J. Fette. From C. J. Fette's the carrier goes back over the route to Tony Trubenbach Sr. then follows its former route. The total distance added is 4.5 miles.

The other change is in the Linn area. At the intersection of the two FM roads the carrier goes three quarters of a mile north to serve a group of boxes for J. J. Wimmer, Russ Linn, Lynton Coursey and J. H. Coursey, then goes back to the intersection and continues its former route. Distance added by this change is 1.5 miles.

Firemen Re-elect Ed Schneider Chief

Ed Schneider continues as fire chief of the Muenster Volunteer Department for another year as the result of the annual election Monday night. New on the officers' roster is Ed Endres, secretary-treasurer, replacing J. C. Trachta who rounded out 20 years of service in that position.

Joe Moster was re-elected assistant chief and Joe Sicking is the new three-year trustee. Earl Fisher and Pat Hennigan are trustees with unexpired terms.

There are about 25 member firemen. They meet twice a month.

Roy Swirczynski Wins County First in Essay Contest

Roy Swirczynski, senior at Sacred Heart High, has won first place in Cooke County's "Voice of Democracy" essay contest. With the honor comes a fifty dollar savings bond and an opportunity to compete in the state contest for other awards. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Swirczynski.

Theme of the essay is, "I Speak for Democracy." The contest was open to all students of Cooke County schools. Each school selected its outstanding paper and entered it in county competition. Next each county's best will compete for state honors. Sister Patricia directed the contest at the local school.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Back in The States

A telephone visit the J. P. Flusches had with their sailor son Don, machinists mate second class, was fun for the whole family. Everybody talked. Don had just landed at San Francisco after a five-month tour of the Far East. Said he might manage a leave for Christmas. He serves aboard the Mauna Kea AE-22. On the trip back to the states Don looked for Marine Richard Hess in Honolulu, located him and since there was no time for a personal visit, talked with him over the phone. He had less luck on Guam where he failed to locate Rodney Walter. Don's service with the seventh fleet operations in the Formosa area was his second voyage to the Far East. This trip, ending earlier than anticipated and making his return in the states a surprise for his family, took him to Japan, China, Philippine Islands, Okinawa, Guam and Hawaii.

Brackets Complete For Holiday Tourney

Both divisions of the Muenster Holiday tournament were completed last week when the Henrietta High boys and Lake Worth High girls took up the two open spots on the tourney calendar.

In the list of participating schools are six that have entered in both the boys' and girls' divisions and four that are sending only one team each. Muenster, Sacred Heart, Era, Sanger, Forestburg and Bellevue are in both divisions. Prairie Valley and Henrietta are in the boys' tourney and Midway and Lake Worth are in the girls' tourney.

The event will be held on December 26, 27 and 30.

Parochial Teams Trim Muenster Hi And Dallas Clubs

Sacred Heart High basketball teams salted away a couple of double headers during the past week. On their own court last Thursday night they got decisions over the Muenster High teams and at a Fair Park court in Dallas they walloped Jesuit B and Lady of Good Counsel Academy.

Playing Muenster High the Tigerettes played neck and neck for the first quarter, taking a lead of 8-7, then pulled away steadily in the second and third for counts of 17-10 and 29-14. Reserves played most of the last period and finished at 29-18. Sacred Heart scorers were Zimmerman 14, Schilling 9 and H. Hacker 6. MHS scorers were Flusche 11, Dennis 5 and Fisher 2.

The boys' game featured lots of activity but little of it on the score board. At the first quarter the Tigers led 6-2 but after a scoreless second period they trailed 6-12 at intermission. The next quarter reversed the score (Continued on Page 12)

Al Reiter, 50, Dies Suddenly Thursday Of Heart Attack

She survives with four children: Glenn of Dallas, and Nancy, Tommy and Jimmy at the home.

Other survivors are six brothers, Clem, Albert, Alfons and Wilfred of Muenster, Tony of Gainesville and Charles Reiter of Kerrville; and four sisters, Mrs. W. W. Otto of Muenster, Mrs. Henry Luttmr of Gainesville, Mrs. Charles Knauf of Bandera and Mrs. Horace Elmore of Krum.

New Listings for Scholastic Census Sought by Homsley

As the time approaches for the annual scholastic census, Superintendent H. H. Homsley has the one usual problem on his mind: how to get a complete list of all the children who are due to start school next September.

In the hope that it will help him avoid oversights Homsley is anxious to get information which he can file away for use next month, when the actual census will be taken. Present records enable the census taker to get a complete list of children over six years old. Pupils will usually be found on the previous year's census list and also on the current class roll. But the beginners are not on either of those records. In case they have older brothers or sisters in school the enumerator at least has the family connections and will find the youngsters listed along with the older children. However if a first child will reach 6 before September 1 he may be overlooked because the census taker has no record of him.

Such children especially are the ones Homsley wants to know about. Parents or friends will do him a favor if they will report their names so that he can make notes and stand a better chance of finding them all at census time.

It is financially important for the district to report all of its school age children. Since the school operates on a per capita basis, the figure determines how much money will be received from the state for operation of the local school. During the current school year the school is receiving funds for 686 children. The last census listed 663 and there were 30 transfers into the district and 7 transfers out for a net addition of 23.

Piano Pupils Give Recitals at School

During the past week Sister Leonarda presented some of her piano students in recitals for which classmates and parents were invited. These programs benefit the students in various ways, the music instructor said, in addition to helping them acquire poise before an audience. Each student plays five pieces from memory.

One recital presented Virginia Taylor. She was assisted in a duet by Flora Mae Sims.

Another, enjoyed by second graders, was given by Janice Wilde, Janice Grewing and Ann Stewart.

This Friday Tommy and Roy Hartman and Danny Wilde will join in a recital. The programs are held in the grade school auditorium.

Four-H Farm Bureau Party Draws Crowd

Hundreds attended and all had fun at the annual Cooke County 4-H Christmas party sponsored by the Farm Bureau and including as guests members of the bureau and their families as well as families of the 4-H clubbers.

Christmas is Theme Of St. Anne's Meet

Christmas was the theme of St. Anne's Society meeting for December.

Committee reports concerned Christmas gifts for the pastors and Benedictine Sisters, and Christmas cards the organization is selling. And an address themed on the feast was given by Father Bonaventure who was a visitor and guest speaker.

Society's gift to the Sisters is twenty place setting of china, needed at the convent and suggested by the nuns. The committee on the pastors' gifts had not definitely decided on the present. President Mrs. Victor Hartman reminded members to remember the rectory and convent deep freezers with cakes, pies, fryers, beef and so forth during the holiday season. Mrs. Hartman also asked members to save all the tops of white bobby socks after the feet are worn out. These, she said, are solicited by mission hospitals as bandage shields. Cut the worn socks just above the heel and turn the tops in to the mission chairman, she said.

Mrs. Ted Gremminger won the attendance prize, a linen handkerchief with hand made tatting edge.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Anderson of Gainesville have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Stella of Dallas to Charles Fail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fail of Grand Saline.

The couple has set Dec. 19 as the wedding date. The ceremony will take place in Holy Trinity Church at Dallas.

Stella is a granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Seyler of Muenster and is a graduate of Gainesville High School. She received her bachelor's degree in bacteriology and medical technology from TWC in Denton and is now chief technician for the Blood Bank at Parkland Hospital.

Mr. Fail was graduated from Grand Saline High School and the New Mexico School of Mines where he received his BS degree in metallurgical engineering. He is employed by Chance-Vought and they will make their home in Dallas.

Carolyn Schoech is Birthday Honoree

Carolyn Schoech celebrated her birthday with a gay party for which 15 youngsters and 12 grownups were guests. "Peachy" as she's affectionately called by her family and friends was six years old Dec. 4. Her mother, Mrs. Andrew Schoech, entertained in the family home.

Party hats, balloons and whistles were favors and snap shots were made. The refreshment table was like a pretty picture in technicolor. It carried out a pink and blue decoration theme with a huge, candle-topped cake as the centerpiece and streamers from the cake leading to the table edge. Around the cake were miniature dolls, one for each guest, and over all, colored balloons, like bright bubbles.

The adults visited while the children played games.

Special guests were her grandparents, Mrs. George Spaeth of Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Schoech and her aunt and godmother, Mrs. Joe Kneuper of Gainesville. Other adults present were Mmes. Joe Trubenbach, Paul Endres, Denis Walterscheid, Pat Hennigan, Adolph Walterscheid, Tony Rohmer, Arthur Felderhoff, and Wilfred Reiter.

Children attending were Jo Ellen Trubenbach, Peggy Endres, Stevie and Kenny Rohmer, Donna Marie Rohmer, Tim and Tom Hennigan, Janelle Stoffels, Ronnie Felderhoff, Kim and Lynn Reiter, Denise, Darlene, Debby and Kenny Walterscheid.

E. S. Lawson, 68, Has Birthday Observance

Former Muensterite E. S. Lawson had a celebration to observe his 68th birthday on Dec. 5 at his home in Gainesville. Mrs. Lawson was hostess and their daughter and two sons and their children — 11 grandchildren — were present for the evening party.

A large and lovely birthday cake was baked by Mrs. Leo Lawson and was topped by 69 candles, one of the grandchildren insisting there had to be "one to gown on." The youngsters gathered round and sang the happy birthday song and presented the honoree a shower of gifts. Cake was served with other refreshments by Mrs. Lawson.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Starling Lawson and children Mary Lee, Pat, Jerry and Donnie of Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lawson and Margaret Ann and Jimmy of Muenster, Mr. and Mrs. Looney McGowan and children Sherry, Kathy, Jean, Junior and Judy of Wynne Wood, Okla.

Gift Party Given For Young Matron

Gifts done up in pastel wrappings and almost filling a baby bed were presented to Mrs. Wylie Lewis Sunday afternoon at a shower in the home of Mrs. Mims Lewis. Mrs. M. C. Corbin assisted with hostess duties and Mrs. Roy Atteberry and Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid directed games. Agnes Noggler registered 28 guests. Several who couldn't attend sent gifts.

In the clever and appropriate series of games prizes were won by Mrs. Andy O'Connor, Mrs. Bill Lutkenhaus and Rita Noggler. They presented them to the honoree who was assisted by her husband in opening and displaying the shower of gifts. The bed was a gift from the grandparents-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Mims Lewis.

Present in addition to those already mentioned were Mrs. Susie Noggler, mother of the honoree, and Mmes. Wilfred Sicking, J. B. Schmitz, Herbie Walterscheid, Gus Lutkenhaus, Buddy Reiter, Bernard Sicking, Joe Vogel, Denis and Julian Walterscheid, Olena Jones, Iva Gibson, Sparkman Vann, Andy Monday, Thomas Sicking, Louis Sicking, C. J. Fette, Tony Trubenbach Jr., Tim Stormer and Albert Herr. Mrs. Willie Joe Matthews, visiting here from Sulphur Springs, was an out of town guest.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

THE NEED FOR RUTHLESSNESS

When we are constantly being admonished to be kind to one another, it is not easy for a guest speaker to advise his audience to be ruthless. But that is exactly what Senator Bridges did during the course of his recent address at the testimonial for L. Carl Arnold, veteran treasurer of the Manchester, N.H., Press Club.

Senator Bridges pulled no punches when he frankly told club members and guests: "Moscow and Washington, D.C., are the two nerve centers of the world. Part of our world forces are out to destroy us . . . If our country fails to survive, nothing else will matter. We will be dead, or alive under slavery. . . . We shall have to be just as ruthless in our mental approach to the world as the enemy is."

It is important to point out, of course, that there is no conflict between the ruthlessness described by Senator Bridges and the Biblical admonition to love one another. Senator Bridges is not speaking of a ruthlessness that implies suppression of our fellow man, but rather of an intellectual ruthlessness that will some day lead to the release from slavery of millions of men.

We must stop placing our faith in the theories and institutions that have been proven false. We must face up to the fact that we are engaged in a life-and-death struggle with an enemy who threatens to bury us -- and means it. We must be absolutely practical in our approach to such issues as nuclear weapons production.

Why must we look at the hydrogen bomb solely as a carrier of death and destruction? Can it be that we do not realize that it is also the means through which we are protecting our lives and our fortunes from an implacable enemy, a foe who frankly acknowledges that deceit is a vital part of his diplomacy? Certainly the Communist is practical enough to realize that the perpetuation of his evil system demands the destruction of ours. Indeed, he has told us so again and again.

The ruthlessness described by Senator Bridges is more than just a mental attitude. More importantly, it will lead us to take action, since the surest way to preserve our freedoms is to prepare to defend them on the field of battle if all other means fail.

No sane man wants war. No just man would surrender his freedom without it. As Patrick Henry so ably phrased it: "Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God!"

DYING PRINCIPLES?

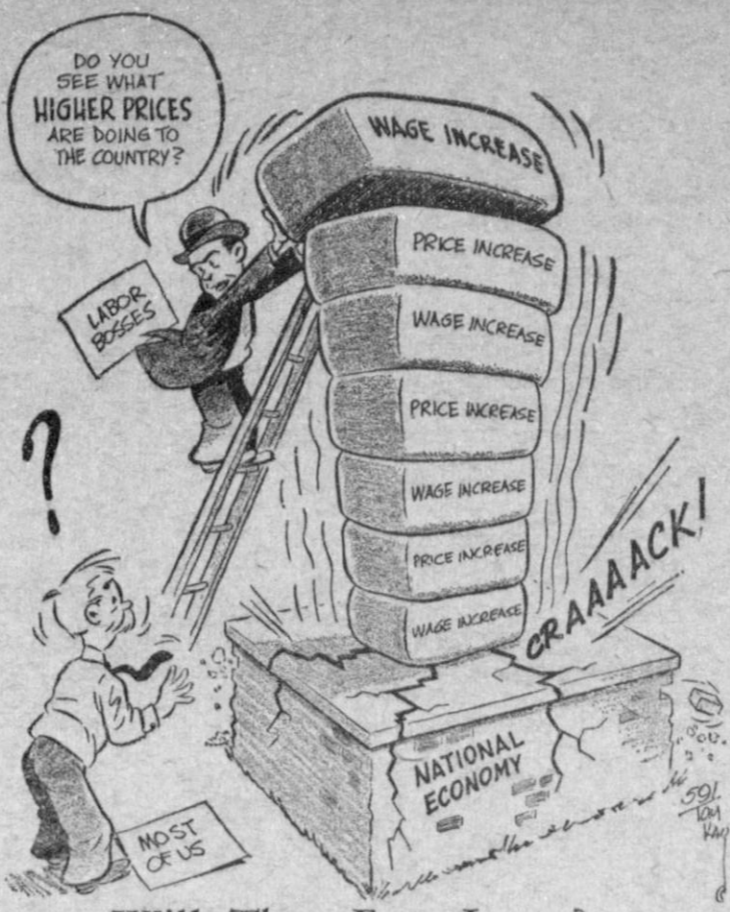

Fortune magazine points out that the U. S. Post Office has "honored freedom of the press by issuing a 4-cent commemorative stamp."

Then it wryly adds: "At the same time, however, another arm of the government, the Internal Revenue Service, was fiddling around with the identical liberty the Post Office was honoring. The IRS has declared that money spent by private power companies for advertising critical of public power was not a deductible business expense."

The IRS's stand was taken at the instigation of a pro-public-power Senator who has complained that the advertising in question was pure propaganda, and amounted to "brainwashing." And IRS holds, in effect, that such advertising isn't a necessary or legitimate factor in carrying on the utility business.

IRS thus takes the position that it is entitled to decide what a private business can and cannot say in its advertising if it is to be treated as a business expense. And that simply means that IRS has taken over a basic, vital and pure management function.

The ruling is not yet in force — due, no doubt, to the huge tide of criticism that it has brought on. And what Fortune terms "the utilities' neatest rebuttal so far" has come from a leading utility official. He said: "Advertising expense is most frequently incurred to assist in meeting competition and such advertising is held to be a proper business expense . . . It should make no difference whether the competition is from other business enterprises or from the federal government."

How any agency can honestly dispute that is impossible to see. If the utilities, or any other business have to pay a heavy tax penalty in order to explain their competitive problems to the American people, freedom of expression and freedom of the press are dying principles in this country.

"UPSIDE DOWN AND INSIDE OUT"

Right-to-work legislation was on the ballots in six states last election and it was defeated in all but Kansas. This result, says The Wall Street Journal, "is a tribute to the financial resources and organizational skill of unions. It is also a tribute to the union leaders' ability to turn the English language upside down and inside out."

The Journal amplifies that view in these accurate words:

"The unions, and their large echoes among some of the politicians, were able to convey the impression that right to work meant union-busting, which is demonstrably untrue . . . The only thing right to work can possibly bust is some of the dictatorial power of corrupt union leaders over their members, and that — unless one believes in dictatorship as a way of life — is to make unions stronger not weaker."

At any rate, right to work is now the law of the land in 19 states, which is an impressive fact in itself. It will be debated and voted upon in others in coming elections. And those who favor it can certainly learn a lesson from the effective work done by the unions in handling this and other controversial legislative issues. The unions have been doing a superior job in getting their ideas over; other groups have been doing generally poor jobs. That imbalance must be corrected if we are to have representative government in more than name only.

HUMILITY TELLS THE TRUTH

By Francis M. Lee,
Associate Editor of THE LIGURIAN

CHANCES ARE we've all chuckled over the ancient chestnut about the young fellow who always said the one thing he was proud of was his humility.

Humorous? Yes. But there can be no humor involved for those unfortunate individuals who feel that humility is not for them. Blinded and misguided by too many 'I's in their lives, they fail to see that humility is a very necessary stepping stone to eternal happiness. They prefer to wander in a mire of deluded self-sufficiency rather than admit their dependence on a higher Being.

FRANKLY and simply speaking, humility is knowing what you are — and acting like it. To act humble for any other reason, save out of this self-knowledge, can be sheerly disgusting.

The Pharisees of old used to deck themselves out in sackcloth and ashes and perform public penances. Their self-effacing actions proceeded from no conviction they were miserable, unworthy sinners, deserving not even to live. They wanted only to seem humble. They did. And that was their reward — they looked good.

OUR WAY of life must not be that of the Pharisees. With a little thought and reflection we can see that ultimately all our gifts come from God. And humility is the virtue which will help us maintain this relationship of dependence between ourselves and God.

Let it be noted here that there is a false humility that can force us into a lie. The fact is that we all have certain talents and accomplishments. It is not humility, therefore, to tell some complimenting friend that he is a bald-faced fibber, and that you really can't play the piano, just after you've flawlessly run through a Bach or Beethoven. The point is obvious. It is not humility to deny a God-given gift. Humility is ever truth.

ALL OF US can do something well, all of us have some gifts to display. Wear them well; don't hide them. Use them now — your abilities, humor, love, personality — everything. But don't ever forget where they all came from. Don't forget that your God loved you enough to trust you with these talents. Give credit where credit is due.

Nobody ever said humility would be easy. It takes courage to admit we've done wrong or that others are better than us. But it is essential for our eternal welfare that we all possess and practise this virtue. In striving for humility we can do no better than imitate Jesus Christ the Son of God, for He has said, "Learn of me, because I am . . . humble."

cold blooded, but makes sound sense.

On the other hand, we have Dean Acheson saying that Formosa is not worth one American life. He'd give it up to the Reds, we are left to infer. So, let's look at Mr. Acheson's record. He's the secretary of state who said Korea was not our responsibility. And he'd no sooner taken his foot out of his mouth than the Reds were swarming all over South Korea, and his chief, Harry Truman was sending MacArthur out to wage a war under a set of rules made to order for the Reds. Also Mr. Acheson was the gentleman who "couldn't turn his back on Alger Hiss," a convicted traitor to his country.

Americans will do well to go along with Dulles and his "brinkmanship," and forget Acheson and his "Hissmanship."

Mechanics License Law Is Considered
Next Legislature will be asked to decide whether to require auto mechanics to have a license before monkeying around under the hood of your car.
Texas Independent Garagemen's Association has voted to work for such a law.

Short Form Is Okay Now up to $10,000
WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service reminded taxpayers today that maximum income for filing the "short form" tax returns for 1958 has been boosted to $10,000.
The Revenue Service said it was issuing the reminder because about 53 million 1958 W-2 forms (statements of earnings and tax withheld), incorrectly carry a maximum figure of $5,000. The forms were printed before the income limit was doubled.
Under the new rules, taxpayers may use the short return, Form 1040A, if their wage or salary income was less than $10,000 in 1958 and other earnings did not top $200. Married couples may file a joint return on Form 1040A, if their combined income did not exceed these limits.

What Traits Make Business Succeed?

What makes a business succeed? Is it luck, capital, advertising, energy, integrity or some other quality or resource?

The question is raised and answered as far as 20 great retailing institutions are concerned in a book, "The Great Merchants" by Tom Mahoney, published not long ago by Harper & Brothers. All are famous and successful.

As might be expected, they advertise. "All are persistent and, in most cases, large advertisers," says the book. One of the 20 literally was created by a classified newspaper advertisement. Richard Warren Sears appealed for a watchmaker who could furnish his own tools and Alvah Curtis Roebuck answered.

The ability and willingness of these merchants to borrow money in order to take advantage of opportunities was another common trait — and one that paid off handsomely.

Charles Lewis Tiffany borrowed $1,000 from his father and started a jewelry store that became the most famous in the world. Bank loans of $400 to L. L. Bean of Maine and $300 to Mrs. Lane Bryant of New York enabled them to launch the companies bearing their names. When she died in 1951, Mrs. Bryant left almost $2 million.

J. C. Penney began with $1,500 from a bank at six percent. Isaac Singer borrowed $40 to make his first sewing machine. The man who put up the money received $6,000 a year later and Singer left an estate of $13 million. Frank W. Woolworth started with a credit of $350 and left an even bigger estate. These successes show the importance of banks in every community — in good times and bad.

While all of the merchants in the book paid their debts, a couple of them paid when they didn't have to do so. Arthur Letts went bankrupt in Seattle and, succeeding later in Los Angeles, looked up all his old creditors and paid them in full — with interest. Joseph Lothian Hudson failed in Ionia, Mich. Twelve years later, with a successful store in Detroit, he paid all his old bills, also with interest.

Times have changed, products have changed, our mode of living has changed since these success stories were enacted. But human nature and the attributes of courage, determination, ingenuity and high principle have not.

We like this one about a Scotsman who absolutely refused to pay the bus conductor the new rate of 15 cents for his usual 10 cent ride.

The bus had just reached the center of a bridge when the infuriated conductor grabbed the Scot's suitcase and hurled it into the water.

"Ah ha! You scoundrel!" shouted Sandy. "First you try to rob me — and now you drown me little boy!"

"Salary is an amount of money that no matter how large it is some people spend more than." —Banking.

SH Alumni Plans Holiday Social

Plans for a holiday party, a series of basketball games and additional program features at meetings during the year occupied members of the Sacred Heart Alumni Association at their meeting Monday night.

The holiday social was arranged for Dec. 29 and will be held in the parish hall. A committee in charge is arranging the party program.

Basketball games are scheduled for Dec. 13 and Dec. 19. Alumni boys and girls will challenge Sacred Heart High teams.

To add to monthly meetings the group decided to have educational films or a guest speaker at two meetings during the coming year.

Alvin Fuhrman conducted the business in the presence of Father Christopher Paladino, Father Bruno Fuhrmann, Sacred Heart High teachers and 20 members. Both the pastors spoke briefly. After adjournment, Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid served refreshments.

One Year Old Has Party for Birthday

Center of attraction at his birthday party was Ronnie Sicking, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sicking, when they entertained in their home with a noon dinner party for 13 family members Sunday.

A decorated cake centered with one candle and a shower of gifts fascinated the young honoree who was at his best for company and amused the group with his baby antics.

Present were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennigan and Gus Sicking, his great-grandmother Mrs. Mathilda Wimmer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennigan Jr. and daughter Diane, Arthur, Larry, Donald, Jerome and Joan Hennigan and Rachel Lutkenhaus. Joan who is employed at Lindsay was at home for the weekend.

Ronnie's birth date is Dec. 4. The observance was held Sunday so the family could be together.

Caroling and Yule Party Set Dec. 17

Sacred Heart High's annual Christmas caroling party has been set for next Wednesday, Dec. 17, and will precede the school's annual Yule social. Seniors are in charge of arrangements.

Parents of the students are invited, and urged, to attend the Christmas party in the gymnasium. A decorated tree, a gift exchange, games and refreshments are program headliners. Activity will get under way about 7:30 p.m.

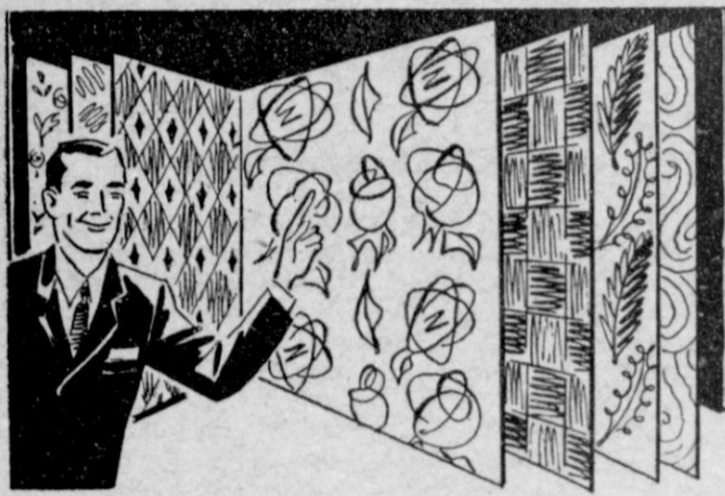

In the wettest year in Texas weather history (1900), rainfall averaged 42.17 inches.

Get-Together Club Has December Party Plans Yule Social

Get-Together Club members, meeting for their December social in the home of Mrs. John Wieler, made plans for their annual Christmas party during a short business session.

The social this year, a dinner party at noon, was set for December 11, with Mrs. Ted Greminger catering the meal in her home. A gift exchange and a 42 series after the meal were decided on.

At the social in Mrs. Wieler's home, a progressive 42 series brought prizes to Mrs. Al Walter for high score and to Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid for low tally. Mrs. Joe Horn drew the door prize.

Ten members and two guests, Mrs. Clarence Hellman and Mrs. R. R. Endres, were served refreshments by the hostess.

The group drew names for their sunshine pal birthday gift exchange for next year.

It's Getting Late for Christmas Mailing

With the expectation that the Christmas mail load will hit its peak within the next few days, Postmaster Arthur Endres expressed his appreciation today for the cooperation thus far on his annual "Mail Early For Christmas" Campaign.

The Postmaster said, "It's too late to talk about early mailing of Christmas gifts and cards, because time means everything now — even a few hours delay in getting your cards and gifts mailed may mean disappointment to your friends and loved ones on Christmas Day."

He suggests that last minute mailers use Air Mail for their Christmas cards or gifts that are going out of town. There's still time for local deliveries, but all Christmas cards should be sent by First Class mail. Be sure to include the return address on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels.

3 Births Recorded For Every Death in Texas in 2 Years

More than one-half million Texas babies were born hale and alert during the two-year period between September 1956, and August 1958. That adds up to an average of some 685 new babies per day.

For the same time period 147,000 Texans died — representing a ratio of more than three births for every death, a fact clearly worth being thankful for.

The figures are revealed in an advanced look at the State Health Department's biennial soon to be published.

The excess of births over deaths during the two years added some 360,000 people to Texas' population. That increase, together with the influx of newcomers now making their homes in Texas, swelled the population past the 9.2 million mark.

Since 1936, infant deaths during the first year of life have dropped from 71 per one thousand, to less than 30 per thousand today. And during that same period, maternal deaths have been cut from 6.9 per thousand to less than 1.5 so far this year.

The past biennial also produced these developments: Some 115,000 Texans, whose births were not registered at the time, found it necessary to file delayed certificates of birth through probate courts to prove age, parentage, and citizenship. Most of these births occurred prior to 1903, the year the Texas vital statistics law was passed to require birth and death registration.

Nine hundred persons changed their names during the two-year period, and court-ordered amendments to birth certificates were duly attached.

Almost a quarter of a million people asked for certified copies of their birth records. Just to process these requests required more than 550,000 trips to the files which now contains more

M. Weinzapfels. They expected Mrs. Hugh Jackson of Fort Worth to join them but Dora had sick children and couldn't be here. So they all visited by telephone. In the afternoon Bill Hellman flew in bringing his brother's plane, Rudy Hellman's, up from Tulsa. After a visit and supper with his parents, the G. H. Hellmans, the Tulsans returned home in their own plane.

Spending the weekend and Monday with her parents, the J. M. Weinzapfels, was Mary Weinzapfel of Dallas University accompanied by a class mate, Mary Bea Brunini whose home is in Jackson, Miss. This was her first visit in Muenster.

Ann Luke and Janice Klem-ent of St. Paul's Nursing School in Dallas spent the weekend and Monday with their families, the Henry Lukes and Ray Klements.

Mrs. M. J. Endres has returned from a week's visit in Sherman with her daughter Sister Irma at St. Joseph's Academy. She also saw former Muensterite Sister Martha Faecke who teaches the eighth grade there.

Mrs. Bobby Howell and daughters Becky and Stephanie of Fort Worth weekended with her mother, Mrs. Tony Gremminger. Mr. Howell joined his family here Sunday and they returned home together in the evening.

Bird hunting took up most of the day when Giles Lehnertz of Tyler visited here Sunday. With him were his brother Jim Lehnertz of Gainesville and their father Joe Lehnertz.

Hunting Trip for Seven Nets 7 Deer

It's not hard to figure out what's going to be on the table in several home here. Seven men from Muenster went deer hunting at Van Horn and each returned with a fine animal.

The party consisted of Leo and Walter Becker, Norbert and Gussie Felderhoff, Ray Voth, Emil Rohmer and Paul Walterscheid. They got their deer in a day and a half, spent a few days touring the Big Bend country and visiting friends in the area. The seven roughed it all the way, camping out and doing their own cooking. They made the trip in a car and a pickup.

Attend Funeral of Relative in Olney

Members of the Tony and Ted Gremminger and John Knabe families were in Olney and Windthorst Saturday for the funeral service and burial of their brother-in-law and uncle, Frank Butler.

St. Nicholas Makes Annual School Tour

Students at Sacred Heart school had a wonderful time when Saint Nicholas paid his annual visit to all the classrooms Dec. 6.

This "little Christmas" in Muenster, when children get small gifts and goodies, dates back to the earliest days of the community. It came here with the first settlers and the custom has continued through 69 years.

One the eve of the feast day, St. Nicholas makes mystic visits to family homes where the little ones have hung their stockings for stuffing.

His visit at school is arranged by the Home-School Society and room mothers.

Accompanying him on his rounds in the school this year were his helpers Mrs. Alfred Bayer and Mrs. Eugene Klement who assisted in the distribution of 435 bags of sweets.

As is customary, St. Nicholas asked questions of the little ones, had them say their prayers or recite. He also collected letters and Christmas notes the youngsters had written to Santa.

Mr. and Mrs. Nig Wilson's guest the past week was her brother, M. C. Burk of Denison who was on vacation. He also visited his mother Mrs. Hattie Burk at Myra. The Don Wilsons and her brother Richard Herr joined Don's family for dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Bill Moon spent the weekend in Sherman with her daughter and family, the Max Harrells.

Mrs. J. N. Shaw has a letter from her daughter Mrs. Horace Moody of Bovina telling of the illness of Paul Moody of Dallas who is in a hospital there. The Moodys are formerly of Marysville.

Ewes that give birth to twins sometimes neglect the first-born lamb and give all their attention to the later arrival. A Kansas sheepwoman discovered an unusual way to solve this problem. She took a new can of space freshener that destroys odors and sprayed it on the neglected lamb. She also put some on the mother's nose. The ewe then gave equal attention to each offspring.

Something We Asked For

The U. S., Britain and France are reported as determined to take whatever steps may be necessary to prevent Red control of West Berlin. That these steps may be expensive and even agonizing is a reasonable anticipation. But just how they may be taken remains a deep, dark secret at this writing.

It would seem to be the Kremlin's plan — on the heels of Khrushchev's announcement that he would liquidate the "occupation status of Berlin" — to appear to withdraw from East Berlin, if not from East Germany, and hand over to East German stooges control over the highway, railway and air approaches to West Berlin.

If we were to believe Khrushchev's bluster, the plan would be simply for the East Germans — operating under their own steam — to shut off all access to the Western city, drive out both the Allied occupation forces and the West Germans in order to make this fabulously booming city a literal part of the comparative desert that is East Germany. But this is a large order when it is considered that there is nothing the East Germans at large desire more than reunion with their Western kinsmen, freedom from Soviet slavery and acceptance by the Bonn government as part of the (West) German Federal Republic.

It would seem obvious, therefore, that whatever restraints are imposed and whatever hostile moves made against the Allies and the official regime of West Berlin must be under the direction of Russian wolves in East German sheep's clothing. And the main purpose may well be to force the US, Britain and France to deal with the East German government in the matter of traffic arrangements and controls in and out of West Berlin. Since the three Western powers have consistently refused to recognize East Germany, on the grounds that it is not a representative country but an irresponsible Red satellite, such

W. T. BONNER of Gainesville, right, receives congratulations from Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco, center, on his election as president of the Texas Beef Council. Leo J. Welder, left, of Victoria, was presented a life-time membership and plaque at the fifth annual Beef Supper in Fort Worth in recognition of his 3 1/2 years past service as president of the Council. Congressman Poage was principal speaker at the supper which climaxed Beef Week in Texas.

NT Employees Treat Selves to Dinner

Employees of North Texas Producers Association Wednesday night treated themselves to a holiday supper party with fried chicken and baked ham leading the menu. After the meal the group played card and domino games.

The party, held at the plant, was attended by about 40 employees and their wives or husbands or dates.

Mrs. Arthur Bordeau and Paula Jean drove up from Denton to visit Monday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Myrick.

Shaggy Dog
Years ago on a hot day a farmer started horse-and-buggy to town. Halfway in, the horse stopped, turned his head, and said, "Sakes alive, Bossman, but it's hot!"

Car Tags Arrive at County Tax Office

Car license plates for 1959 — a whole truckload of them — have arrived for Cooke County vehicles and will go on sale Feb. 1.

The tags are stacked in the office of County Tax Collector Rafe Piper who said 8,990 of them are for cars and over 4,000 are for other vehicles.

The tags will have black numerals on a white background, a reversal of the 1958 colors. The plates were manufactured at the state penitentiary in Huntsville.

Cooke County's private passenger cars will bear letter-number designations from EW 4350 through EX 3349 next year. The shipment includes 1,875 commercial or truck tags and 1,225 farm vehicle plates.

After several minutes of futile stabbing at the keyhole, the tipsy man found the door opened for him by his glaring wife. "Aw, honey, don't be mad," he mumbled. "Some of the boys at the office decided to have a contest to see who could drink the most beer." "Very interesting," said his wife acidly. "Who won second prize?"

Take Army Physicals

Cyril and Cecil Hermes, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hermes, returned Sunday from Perryton where they had been employed for an oil well drilling company. Reason: greetings from Uncle Sam. They reported to the local draft board Tuesday and went to Dallas to take their army physicals.

Gainesville-Lindsay KC Council Slates Yule Party Dec. 21

At their December meeting Monday night Gainesville-Lindsay Knights of Columbus planned their annual Christmas party and set Sunday, December 21, as the date. Starting time is 2 p.m. in the KC Hall.

James Bezner, grand knight, reported Lawrence Sicking is a patient in Veterans Hospital at Waco and that the council will give him a radio.

and as Sacred Heart looped 10 taking a lead of 16-12. Both teams had a slim final period and the Tigers nudged out 17-15. Sacred Heart scorers were Wimmer 10, Streng 6, Bayer 1. For MHS it was Doug Hellman, 5, Otto 4, Klement 4, Harris 2.

In the Dallas games scoring was more in tune with the floor game. Tigerettes took a first quarter lead of 13-10 then lost some of their margin for a 22-17 lead at the half. After that they pulled ahead gradually for a third period score of 35-27 and the final 47-35. Tigerette scorers were Zimmerman 20, Danglmayr 17, Schilling 8, J. Hacker 2.

Sacred Heart boys were at their best so far as they romped over Jesuit B 40-21. They took control early and held it all the way for counts of 10-2, 20-10, 29-16 and 40-21 ending the four periods. Tiger scorers were Streng 24, Wimmer 8, Haverkamp 7, Owen 1.

For the next week the parochial teams face a busy schedule. Saturday night they will tangle with Sacred Heart Exes, Monday they play Lindsay, next Thursday they play Era and the next night they meet Muenster High.

The main event was different, however, as the visitors gave Muenster a good tussle for a part of the game. During the first quarter the Hornets went ahead 11-7. In the next they spread their margin a single point, 19-14. Then the Knights got hot and closed up most of the gap for a third period score of 23-21. From then on Muenster nudged forward for its 32-23 score. Doug Hellman led the scoring with 11. Harris hit 9, Myrick 6, Otto 4 and Joe Hellman 2.

On schedule for the MHS teams the rest of this week is the Callisburg tournament. They meet Sanger for their opening games Thursday afternoon and the result there will determine who they meet in their second games. The following week the boys' B team goes to a Sanger tournament and the two first strings stay here for Friday night games with Sacred Heart.

Seems we can't get away from the story about the man who bought a pig for three dollars, kept it all winter, feeding it five dollars worth of feed, and then sold it for eight dollars.

"You didn't make much profit, did you?" he was asked. "Nope," he replied, "but after all, I had the company of the critter all winter."

Confetti . . .

American convoys be given military escorts to force their way through if necessary. The idea was criticized as a possible cause of war, but it has its merits just the same. To jump in suddenly with such defiant action would be a serious provocation. But as secondary action, after a clear statement of policy, it would seem justified. First we ought to spell out our rights and obligations, then issue a warning that violation of these rights will be considered as aggression.

The risk of war is not the important issue in our dealings with the reds. Basically it's a matter of right and wrong. We have responsibilities because we helped create these situations, and now we have obligations to the people concerned.

MHS Cagers Lose To Sacred Heart And Beat Lindsay

Basketball teams of Muenster High broke even for the week, losing a pair to Sacred Heart and winning a double header with Lindsay.

Last Thursday night on the parochial court the MHS girls went down by a count of 29 to 18. The boys' game was closer with Sacred Heart finally claiming the long end of a 17-15 score.

Playing Lindsay Tuesday night MHS girls had an easy time with the inexperienced visitors, rolling up a one-sided 59-6 score.
