

Frozen Foods Topic For 4-H Club Girls

Sacred Heart School's three 4-H girls clubs, at meetings Wednesday heard illustrated talks on the use of home freezers, preparation of food for deep freezing and the use of frozen foods in meal planning. Mrs. Yvonne Jenkins, assistant home demonstration agent, gave the same talk to each of the three local groups in separate meetings.

Mrs. Jenkins also announced plans for the annual dress revue, slated for April 7, and told about the essay contest, winners of which will win a free trip to the District Encampment. The essays will be entitled "Why I Would Like to Attend 4-H Camp."

Patsy Endres presided for the senior girls' meeting and Mrs. Paul Endres, adult leader, attended.

Nancy Haverkamp, reporting for the junior club, counted 43 members present. Mrs. Jenkins displayed a simple skirt pattern for the girls to follow in their sewing for the dress revue and Rita Trubenbach, president, told about the recent Dairy Foods Show at Gainesville. Mary Knabe reported on the Share the Fun contest. Shirley Vogel and Debby Fette led the group in a song. Adult Leaders Mrs. Leo Lawson and Mrs. Johnny Wimmer met with the club.

The Intermediate Club meeting was attended by about 35 members and Bernadette Yosten, president, presided. Mrs. Paul Fisher, adult leader for this group, was present.

The annual triduum for members of the Third Order of Saint Francis of Sacred Heart Parish came to a close with a solemn ceremony and the papal blessing. Some 80 members were present for the final service.

Post Office Problems

A recent article in the Sunday edition of the New York Times called attention to the problems of Portland, Ore. because there are twenty other Portlands in various states, resulting in postal errors.

When a letter is addressed to a city and the state is omitted, the post office is obliged to return it to the sender because there may be many cities or towns with the same name in other states. As an illustration, in addition to Washington, D.C. there are 26 other Washingtons in as many states.

A very incomplete list of towns and cities with similar names indicates that there are twenty-four Oaklands, twenty-four Newports, fifteen Athens, four Waterloos, eight Newarks, eight Austins and six Philadelphias in this country.

Many of the towns bear unusual names like Worry, N.C.; Troublesome, Colorado and Embarrass, Wis. There are also sixteen Edens, eight Paradises and a Utopia in the country.

A new ladies' ready to wear store opened in Gainesville the latter part of last week is The Smart and Thriftee Shoppe at 114 N. Commerce. It is managed by three women partners, Mmes. Clarence Thurman, W. G. Attip and Leota Wingert.

The store features clothing for girls and women of all ages, for boys from sizes 2 to 6x, and for infants, and also a department of infants' accessories and gifts.

The three owners are well known from their many years of service in other Gainesville firms, and invite their friends and acquaintances of West Cooke County to come and see the store.

"Right of Way" Rules Explained

Possibly the most mystifying of all traffic rules to the average driver are those relating to "Right of Way" at an intersection. In reality, however, these rules are quite simple.

In trying to understand the laws regulating intersecting traffic, it is best to start off with the premise that all streets are of equal dignity, legally speaking. Traffic signs and signals may vary this rule somewhat, but when in doubt it is safest to assume that all drivers crossing your path have a claim to the right of way equal to your own.

Obviously, however, in many cases one driver or the other will be legally entitled to the right of way. When it becomes necessary to determine right of way in a particular situation, the driver who reaches the intersection first, or who is going to get there first, is ordinarily favored.

But when two automobiles are an equal distance from the intersection, that one approaching from the other driver's right normally has the right of way.

Some intersections are known as "courtesy corners," having a stop sign or a flashing red signal facing each direction of approach. The first driver reaching the corner and coming to a complete stop will normally have the right of way over other vehicles not already in the intersection. However, don't depend too much on the other fellow's courtesy, and be sure to keep a "proper look-out" and your car under "proper control."

At intersections involving one through street and another street having a stop sign, a driver approaching the stop sign and coming to a full stop is ordinarily said to have the right of way over vehicles approaching on the through street but not already in the intersection.

However, this last rule must be qualified by saying that you should not proceed, cross or turn onto the through street until you can do so without interfering with oncoming traffic. In other words, if an approaching car will arrive within the intersection before you are completely clear, wait just a little longer. The same rules apply to entering a highway from a side road containing a stop sign.

Many drivers violate the rules of right of way covering left-hand turns at intersections. When turning left, you should always be on the inside (or center) lane, displaying the proper hand signal. You must allow all cars coming from the opposite direction, already in the intersection, to pass through before completing your turn. Even when the intersection is cleared, do not proceed unless other oncoming traffic is far enough away to be able to see your signal and slow down to allow you to turn with safety to all concerned.

Stay in the inside lane until your left-hand turn is entirely completed, and only then move gradually over to the right-hand lane if you wish. When turning right, stay in the right-hand lane at all times. Do not swing wide into the center lane, as to do so is unnecessary, unlawful and dangerous.

Many detailed rules and suggestions for safe driving are included in the official "Texas Driving Handbook" which is available to any person requesting same from the Texas Department of Public Safety, Drivers License Division, Austin, Texas.

Chinese Claim Dam "Built" in Seconds

TOKYO. — Communist China says it moved a mountain and created a dam 101 feet high and 367 feet long in a matter of seconds.

Peiping Radio claimed huge Stone Mountain peak in the north province of Topeh was hurled into the air and dropped across the Tsili River in one controlled explosion, forming a great reservoir.

The broadcast said the blast involved a technique used in the Soviet Union.

"When the explosion is touched off, the rock fragments fall in a set course and accumulate in a certain pattern" the radio said. "By usual methods, the dam would have required at least 700,000 work days."

Amateurs sometimes show flashes of legal cunningness.

A Canadian farmer, for example, embroiled in a lawsuit with a neighbor, told his lawyer he planned to send a brace of fine ducks to the judge. The lawyer was horrified.

"Don't," he warned, "or you'll lose the case for sure."

After the case ended victoriously for the farmer, he told the startled lawyer that he had sent the ducks after all. He added with a chuckle:

"But I signed my neighbor's name."

Man who is willing to make the best of it, seldom get the worst of it.

Class Favorites of Sacred Heart Told

Sacred Heart High School has elected its class favorites and plans election of other members of "Who's Who" for the 1958-59 scholastic year at an early date. Pictures of the outstanding students will be shown in the school annual on which work has already begun.

Mrs. Richard Swirczynski heads the roster of new officers for the Ladies Auxiliary to Muenster's Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6205 for 1959. She was favored in the annual election at the organization's meeting Monday night and went into office by acclamation.

Other new officers elected to serve with her during the coming year are Mrs. Leo Lawson, senior vice president; Mrs. James Hammer, junior vice president; Agnes Noggler, treasurer; Mrs. Ted Noggler, conductress; Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid, guard; and Mrs. David Trachta, three-year trustee. Rosa Driever was re-elected chaplain. Hold-over trustees are Mrs. Hank Walterscheid and Mrs. Earle Otto.

Appointive offices which include secretary, banner bearer and color bearers, patriotic instructor, historian and musician will be filled and announced before the April meeting when formal installation will take place.

In other business at the meeting honor roll requirements for the month were approved. Contributions were voted for the VFW National Home and the Memorial Arch in the new Department Headquarters building in Austin. Contributions to the arch are given in memory of a deceased service man whose name is inscribed in the arch. The Muenster Auxiliary's donation this year honors the memory of Lt. M. J. Endres Jr., this community's second young man to make the supreme sacrifice during World War II. Last year the contribution was given in memory of Ensign Robert Weinzapfel, Muenster's first casualty.

Mrs. John Huchton, retiring president, conducted the meeting and announced that coming activity for the Auxiliary will be serving the all-awards banquet at Muenster High School on March 14. Fourteen members volunteered their services.

An entertaining letter was read from Rodney Walter, aviation radar technician, based on Guam. He thanked the Auxiliary for Christmas candy he received, late in January because he was traveling . . . had been in Japan and Okinawa . . . and told of some of his activity.

The treasurer's report revealed the organization has 76 members in good standing. There was no social hour and no refreshments following business on account of Lent.

GRANDMAS' CHAMPION—Mrs. Lilly Massey, 83, has a more-than-usually-affectionate grandmotherly kiss for her grandson, Rep. Frank Massey. The Muncie, Ind., Democrat has introduced a bill in the state legislature that would make the second Sunday in October "Grandmother's Day" in the state of Indiana.

70 Catholic School Heads Present at Gainesville Meet

About 70 Catholic schools of North Texas including Sacred Heart of Muenster were represented at a meeting for elementary and high school principals in Gainesville at St. Mary's School Saturday.

Attending from here were Father Bruno Fuhrmann and Sisters Celine, Patricia and Agnes.

Sister Mary Rupert of Gainesville is president of the elementary association and she and Father E. J. Gerlich and other faculty members of St. Mary's were hosts for the session. Women of the parish served luncheon at noon to the visitors.

Among the Sisters of St. Mary, OLV, Fort Worth motherhouse were groups from Sherman, Denison and Fort Worth accompanied by Sisters who have relatives here and they were permitted to visit their families. About 20 came to Muenster, the former local girls being joined by their companions after the meeting.

Sister Irma Endres of Sherman and a group of six had supper with her mother, Mrs. M. J. Endres, whom they visited. Sister Cecile Endres and Sister Francesca Walterscheid of Fort Worth visited their parents, the R. R. Endreses and August Walterscheids. They had companions with them too and family members got together for reunions.

Sister Roberta Hesse of Denison was with her family at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hesse, for a visit and meal. Sister Martha and Sister Jacinta were also here from Sherman. They visited Sister Martha's uncle and aunt, the Bill Stelzers. Sister Martha is remembered as the former Martha Faecke. Most of the Sisters made a visit to church and school and exchanged greetings with a number of old friends and former neighbors.

Birthday Observance

TOO FANTASTIC TO BELIEVE!

One of our columns published several weeks ago reported on the fantastic fact that known Communists for years have been working in positions that permit them to intercept top-secret messages going from the Pentagon, State Department and other vital agencies to our far-flung defense installations and to governments of friendly nations throughout the world. The column has created widespread interest. Many citizens who read the report have protested the situation to their Congressmen, and this is the most effective citizenship action that could be taken! Some readers of the column, however, have expressed to me the feeling that the report was "too fantastic to believe."

But the report is true! A subcommittee of the U. S. Senate Judiciary Committee and a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee, although hamstrung every step of the way by the Supreme Court, Communist-serving lawyers and the legion of dupes whom the Communists are constantly mobilizing to protest exposure of their apparatus, have dug up and exposed enough facts in the situation to bring shivers of fright to any citizen.

Shocking Situation

Our nation has reached an absurd and shocking state of vulnerability when defective laws or insignificant legal technicalities can expose the whole heart of our national defense and security structure to known agents of the international Communist conspiracy! That is precisely what is happening. The whole fantastic story is told — a large part of it out of the mouths of the Communists themselves — in these official documents: Investigation of Communist Penetration of Communications Facilities — Part 1 and 2, published by the U. S. Government Printing Office for the Committee on Un-American Activities; Subversive Infiltration in the Telegraph Industry, published by the U. S. Government Printing Office for the Committee on the Judiciary, U. S. Senate; Defense Facilities Protection Act, Hearings before the Committee on the Judiciary, published by the Government Printing Office; and House Report No. 1360, Annual Report 1957, Committee on Un-American Activities, published by the Government Printing Office.

Cold Facts

These documents show, beyond any challenge, the following facts:
 The American Communications Association, whose top officers have been identified as Communists in sworn testimony, has for years been the certified bargaining agent for companies operating domestic and overseas cables and radio facilities used by the Defense Department, the Department of State and other vital agencies. Many Communists are in its membership. These Communists (by their own admission in testimony) have access to top-secret messages to and from our vital defense establishments.

They can intercept messages; they can do the key work necessary to breaking our most secret codes; they can garble messages or change their meaning; they can substitute messages of their own. There are approximately 4500 members in ACA. They control most of the vital facilities — the North Atlantic Cable, the tie-lines and lease lines — in and out of the Pentagon and the State Department. They are certified by the National Labor Relations Board and under present laws their Communist members cannot be fired from these strategic positions permitting espionage and sabotage.

Challenge to Citizens

A former Communist official of ACA, Michael Mignon, testified: "The importance of obtaining control of the communications industry in times of stress or in revolutionary times, was a primary factor, and therefore the efforts of the Communist Party in subsidizing the union and offering whatever assistance they could in building the union . . . was so that if (the United States) should ever be at war with the Soviet Union, to be able to more effectively control the communications system of the country." And in times of war two or three of these Communist agents could wreck these vital communications facilities.

Defense Department officials have testified that they know Communists who are handling Pentagon messages and that messages have been intercepted. Secretary of the Army Brucker has testified that "We are disturbed . . . the situation is nothing short of deplorable." And yet in the last Congress, when legislation was introduced to permit the military to disassociate Communist saboteurs from these vital defense communications facilities, it failed! Every American citizen who cares about his family's future security should ask his Senators and Congressman what part they played in this failure and what they are now doing to clean up this situation.

A MATTER OF LIFE AND DEATH

Laetare Sunday, March 8th, will mark the 13th consecutive year of the Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal among American Catholics for a minimum of $5 million required to maintain the world-wide relief operation conducted by Catholic Relief Services — National Catholic Welfare Conference.

While the week of March 1st to 8th will be devoted to the collection among communicants of the more than 16,000 parishes of the 49 states and Hawaii, the Bishops' Appeal is actually and officially launched by the nation's parochial school children with the beginning of Lent on Ash Wednesday. In the ensuing forty days of self-denial, the pennies and nickels and dimes that would otherwise be invested in the childhood delights of candy and gum and soda-pop and ice cream are expected to add up — as they have for the two previous years — to a round million dollars!

During 1958 — for the second consecutive year — this global operation which is funded largely by the Bishops' Appeal, shipped more than a billion pounds of clothing, blankets, medicines and U. S. Government surplus foods to 51 countries where it was distributed to more than 40 million needy people. In the course of this work, millions were sheltered and thousands of homeless relocated. Assisting the seasoned veterans who direct operations in the field were well over a million volunteers who gladly gave their time and toil to help bring desperately needed assistance to their less fortunate fellows.

All Americans are invited to assist with contributions to this highly efficient Good Samaritanism that has grown to be the largest voluntary overseas person-to-person relief program in all history. The pity of it is that the task grows no smaller. But the glory of it is that each year increasing numbers join in this perennial, day-by-day reenactment of the miracle of the loaves and fishes.

PUBLIC POWER BAIT

"The feathers are mighty pretty, but the hook can hurt." So warns the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, in an advertisement illustrated by a gaudy fishing lure. The ad does such a good job of debunking the public power propaganda line that we are proud to reprint it here in full:

"The defenders of public power have done a first-rate job of making their lure enticing — but it's still a trap.

"They began by giving their scheme an attractive name, suggesting a project owned by all the people and operated for the common good. 'Private' power, conversely, seems to connote an enterprise conducted for private profit, and depriving the people of part of the benefit that should accrue to them.

"From there on the public power advocates reason thus: The sources of power (such as fast-moving water) are natural resources belonging to everyone, and should not be allowed to fall into private hands.

"There's the delusion. All industries use natural resources of one kind or another. But no resource has much value until it is extracted, cultivated, or otherwise made useful by human

by Frank A. Grady, S. J. — High School English Instructor

"What's the use of Lent? Who likes to give up movies, cigarettes and the late evening snack? Who likes to go to Church and pray more often? I hate Lent!"

Does that sound like the crying of a spoiled child? No, it is the perfectly normal reaction of most normal grown-up people. Of course we don't like to do hard things!

BUT LENT is good for us — just as spring training is good for Big League baseball players. Lent is "spring training time" for our souls, time for getting into good spiritual condition for the business of living life well. We exercise our flabby wills by denying ourselves some little legitimate pleasures and doing some "extra" good things, like setting aside time for daily prayer and spiritual reading, and performing special acts of kindness to those around us. Since the earliest apostolic times Christians have always observed the traditional Lenten season. If we spend our time well during Lent, we too will be happier people Easter morning, with the glow of spiritual health on our souls.

useful to our well-being. But we also know that it is very important whether we say "no" to a temptation to sin—to impurity, to dishonesty, to anger, to drunkenness. It matters a great deal whether we control our selfishness and bridle the passions and impulses that would shipwreck our character and our happiness and the happiness of those near and dear to us. It matters a great deal whether we save our souls—whether we overcome those habits of sin that offend God and endanger our salvation.

Any thinking man or woman knows the truth of this. How successfully we will emerge from those crucial and all-important battles with ourselves and our temptations in life may very well depend, aside from God's grace, on the self-control we have acquired by such little things as denying ourselves candy and cigarettes, or resolutely offering God a few minutes of extra prayer during Lent.

LENT is the time to add our little bit to Christ's redeeming sufferings for our salvation. These little practices of self-denial are the "insurance" we pay on our happiness and our spiritual well-being, for our own good, and for those near and dear to us. In them we love Jesus Christ our God, Who has suffered so much for each one of us, for the salvation of your soul and of mine. Can we let Jesus Christ down by failing to do our part in securing our eternal happiness?

Lent, you see, is a good thing after all. It is the best thing we can do for ourselves—and, the least we can do for Christ, our most loving Redeemer.

† Paulist Feature Service, Washington 17, D. C.

effort. This effort, which is 'privately' exerted by individuals, is the real cost of the final product, and accounts for most of its price.

"No matter who does the job of converting a raw resource to a useful commodity — government or private enterprise — the same essential costs must still be paid. The question therefore boils down to this: Under what type of organization — public ownership or private ownership — is power likely to be generated most economically, and paid for by those who should logically pay for it, the users?"

"Right there's the hook. Because under public ownership, some people get electricity at tax-free rates, while others pay taxes not only on the 'private' power they use themselves but must ante up still more taxes to pay for the publicly owned power projects too.

"Because America long ago chose private enterprise against 'public' control of economic activity, its people today are rich and strong and free. If they mean to stay that way, they had better stop nibbling around the bright but deadly 'public power' bait."

"Finders Keepers"

Few people realize that a dirty-faced urchin is responsible for the main principles behind our law governing the ownership of lost articles.

Percy Armory was a chimney sweep's helper who lived in London shortly before the birth of our George Washington. Trudging home one day from his grimy work he found a diamond ring in the public street.

Percy took the ring to a goldsmith's shop to find out what it was. There he placed it in the hands of the goldsmith's apprentice, who, under the pretense of weighing it, stole the diamond from its setting. When he told Percy that the ring was of very little value, Percy demanded the return of the jewel as well as its setting. The goldsmith and the apprentice, thinking that Percy was just a simple-minded boy, refused to give him back his treasure.

But Percy was not the kind to be badgered about. He sought the services of a lawyer to sue for recovery of the ring and its jeweled set. The results of his suit have immortalized Percy's name in the common law.

The goldsmith and his apprentice claimed that Percy had only found the ring, he had no better right to it than they did. The court felt differently about the matter and ordered the diamond returned "because the finder of a lost article has the right to hold it against the whole world except the true owner." This principle established by Percy's case remains as effective today as it was over two centuries ago.

However, as far as the owner who lost the property is concerned, the finder of lost goods is merely regarded as a depository, holding the goods for the true owner.

The courts draw a distinction between "mislaid" and "lost property." Lost property is property which the owner casually and thoughtlessly parts with, like the dropping of a wallet in the hurry to get on a bus. Mislaid property, on the other hand, is property which the owner has purposely laid down and then forgotten, leaving it where placed. An example of this would be a handbag placed on a shop counter while a customer examines merchandise. A finder must leave mislaid articles with the proprietor of the place where found.

Open House Draws More Than 300 to Cain Home Sunday

A second open house at the new Dick Cain home Sunday afternoon brought more than 300 people — more than attended the first open house the Sunday before.

Add together a mild sunshiny spring day, a beautiful and comfortable new home, and gracious warm-welcome extending hosts and then add a few hundred people for an idea of what the Cains' open house was like.

The ladies loved every bit of it. Menfolks were impressed too. Mr. and Mrs. Cain greeted visitors at the front door, then got some of the hostesses to show the groups through the house and out on the patio.

Coffee and cookies were served in the breakfast room from a table centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Cain's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCollum of Denton helped with host duties and Mrs. Cain's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hogan of Fort Worth were among guests.

Other out of town visitors came from Lindsay, Myra, Gainesville, Era, Saint Jo and points in Oklahoma.

PROGRESS
A growing cost-consciousness among Americans is spurring sales of lower-powered and less expensive models of the '59 autos. There is a growing preference by economy-minded motorists for six over eight cylinder models.

If this trend continues, we foresee these auto ads:

1960: "Drive the new Gas-Mizer Four — why use six cylinders when four will do? The Gas-Mizer is adequate on all level highways, and has an extra low-gear for climbing slight inclines."

1961: "Put money in the bank by driving there in your new economy Two-Two. The Two-Two carries two persons and has two horsepower. Standard equipment is a 100-foot nylon rope which can be easily hooked around a lamp-post or tree to help the car pull itself up hills. Any standard lighter fluid pow-

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Operation waterway is still rolling along in high gear in the Muenster area with the district-owned two-row Bermuda grass root planter running hard to keep up with demand.

Landowners cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District's program for soil, water and plant conservation are planting the Bermuda grass roots on land that will serve as a safe disposal area for terrace water. The grass strips or grassed waterways are the foundation of a good terrace system. A good grass-covered outlet area is a must before a terrace system can be installed.

Lawrence Vogel has recently planted three waterways to Bermuda grass on the farm he operates. The grass strips follow natural drains through the fields and will make terrace construction possible on the sloping lands. Theo Vogel also planted a five acre waterway to grass to provide a safe outlet for terrace water.

South of Muenster, Ray and Theo Voth have just finished a diversion terrace to divert hill water from one of their bottomland fields. The terrace outlets on a grassed waterway. The Voths are also planting Coastal Bermuda grass on bottomlands that have recently been cleared. And they have just finished planting another waterway strip to Bermuda grass so that more diversion terraces can be built. Charles Taylor has added to his waterway system by planting more grass along two drains running through his fields. At Hood, Sid Felker has planted two waterways on the farm he operates. The grass strips will make it possible to revise and rebuild his present terrace system.

At Forestburg, Andy Lee Knox has completed a 1200 foot diversion terrace that will divert over 40 acres of outside water from his bottomland field. The terrace outlets onto a grass strip put in three years ago for that purpose.

Soil Conservation Service technicians assisted these landowners in planning and locating the waterway strips so that terrace systems can be installed to help protect the land.

Several ponds for livestock water have recently been constructed in the Muenster-Saint Jo area and the new pond owners are scanning the skies for some signs of rain to fill them.

Weldon Dennis has just completed a pond on his farm at Bulcher. The pond will be used to provide water for a new pasture that's being put in to aid in better regulation of grazing management. Weldon is planning to clear brush on the land and establish grass. He is using legumes to build up his other pasture lands and has over 200 acres seeded to vetch and Button Clover to improve soil fertility and help his grasslands. Dick Cain, Joe Wimmer, Martin Bayer and Alfons Reiter of Muenster have built new farm ponds and Bert Harvill of Saint Jo has two ponds under construction on the farm he recently acquired north of Saint Jo.

All livestock water ponds are located to enable the landowner to better regulate and distribute the grazing of his pastures so that the grasses will receive some rest during the growing season for their maintenance and improvement.

Annual Warning on Kite Flying Given

Kite-flying can be dangerous and the annual appeal goes out to parents to caution their children about flying kites near electric wires.

The windy season brings kite-flying time and this traditional sport is lots of fun for children if it is done safely.

Many youngsters don't realize the dangers in this innocent pastime if certain safety rules are not observed. The most important thing is to never fly kites where there is a possibility of their getting tangled in electric power lines.

Other dangerous practices in connection with kite-flying include using metallic cord or wire for the kite string, making the kiteframe of metal, flying kites in the rain when even a cotton string can become a dangerous conductor of electricity, and trying to retrieve a kite if it becomes entangled in electric wires.

Locally there have been no mishaps, but each year in the nation, there are many cases of injury to kite-flyers. If kites are made right and flown right, kite-flying is an enjoyable and wholesome sport.

Impala Sport Coupe—like every Chevy—has Safety Plate Glass all around.

Chevy stops quickest... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you. There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

Lindsay Girls Win Junior Honors in County 4-H Event

Lindsay junior 4-H Club girls took top honors in their division of the "Share the Fun" contest Monday night and Downard-Fairplains senior girls were first in the senior division.

The winning teams will represent Cooke County in the district contest on the campus of Texas Woman's University in Denton April 25. The county contest was held in connection with the observance of National 4-H Week.

Lindsay girls won on their enactment of an old fashioned melodrama. Members of the cast were Judy Bezner, Barbara Bezner, Patsy Zimmerer, Dianne Zimmerer, Mary Ann Hermes, Mary Katherine Flusche, DeLores Voth, Marcella Neu, Bernadette Bezner and Karen Loerwald.

The senior girls' winning presentation was a pantomime rendition of the popular song "Charlie Brown."

Other entries were rated as either blue, red or white ribbon winners. About a dozen teams competed in songs, skits, folk dances, pantomimes and a fortune telling routine. Judges were Bob Couch, Red Gordon and Dick Woodriddle.

About 250 persons attended the program in the Junior High School auditorium. Elaine Friske was mistress of ceremonies.

Winners of blue ribbons among the seniors were Sacred Heart and Valley View girls, and among junior entries, Sivells Bend.

Red ribbon winners were Era and St. Mary's senior girls and junior Sacred Heart boys and girls and Gainesville boys.

White ribbon awards went to St. Mary's boys and Sivells Bend in the senior division and to Myra boys and girls and to Era and Community Club juniors.

Over 30 Compete For Positions on Hornet Track Team

With more than 30 students out for practice, Coach Boze Ansley is looking forward to action in at least three track meets this Spring, perhaps four or five of them.

Saturday of this week the boys will have their first taste of competition when they go to the Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham. Entered there is the sprint relay team consisting of Larry Wimmer, James Harris, Truman Wolf and Gilbert Knabe.

Next week Friday the same quartet will be in Fort Worth to run in the Southwest Recreational Meet.

Other action definitely scheduled for the boys is the annual district meet early in April. Winners at that meet are eligible to compete in the regional meet, from which the winners will advance to the state meet.

Not definitely decided at this time but considered as likely are two more track meets for the Hornets. One is the annual meet for Class B teams of the county, the other the North Texas Relays.

Boys who had experience last year and are expected to spark the team this season are the four sprint relay members along with Billy Otto, Kenny Klement, Doug Hellman and Joe Hellman.

ing in Business Administration. He also served as the organization's housing president.

Willard is a native of Muenster, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman. He graduated from Sacred Heart High School in 1952, and interrupted his college career to serve in the armed forces. Much of his free time during the past few years was spent at part-time work in Hamric's.

Appointed for his Number 1 assistant at the store is his sister-in-law, Mrs. Alvin Hartman. She has been working this week to get acquainted with the stock, and will be on hand to help with special sales events or to take charge in his absence.

Future plans of the Jesse Sanners are not definite at this time, however they are considering a business connection outside the community.

Passenger Service - the train here waiting for them. It had been established about two years earlier.

For most of that 70 year span the railroad did a thriving passenger train business, enough to justify two trains daily in each direction for several years.

By the arrival of World War II business had started slipping. Heavy traffic then brought a welcome return of revenue, but the decline set in again promptly thereafter and has continued steadily ever since.

Katy officials say good roads and modern cars are responsible for the loss of the train. For short drives people prefer to use their own cars. They do not have to bother about schedules and besides they have transportation at their destination. Even the railroad men themselves are driving cars.

Damage Confined To Small Acreage In 2 Grass Fires

Damages were held down to comparatively small acreage Sunday night and Monday as grass fires broke out on the Hubert Felderhoff and C. J. Fette farms northeast of here.

Embers carried by the wind from a brush fire started the blaze on the Fette place near Marysville Monday afternoon. Because of the wind it was advancing fast but a Precinct 4 employee with his road maintainer confined it to a small area by grading a fire-break in front of it. Also responding to the call for help were Muenster firemen with their pumper truck, neighbors, and members of the family. The loss was about 50 acres.

A windstill night was in Hubert Felderhoff's favor when fire of undetermined origin broke out on his farm in the former army camp area north of Lindsay. While flames advanced slowly Muenster firemen with their pumper and relatives with portable sprayers had time to move in and get it under control.

Mrs. Bill Eberhart of Lindsay has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium and is recovering satisfactorily from surgery performed Feb. 23.

Patients admitted to Gainesville Sanitarium Monday included Mary Jane Knauf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Knauf.

Mrs. J. W. Morrison entered Gainesville Sanitarium Saturday for treatment of pneumonia.

Mrs. W. W. Otto is recovering from surgery performed at Gainesville Sanitarium and expects to be dismissed this weekend.

Henry Loerwald of Lu Verne, Iowa, who visited relatives in Cooke County last month has let his sister, Mrs. Al Walterscheid, know that he entered the hospital at Fort Dodge this week for foot surgery. The foot was bothering him when he visited here. It's still a part of the injuries he received in a fall last year. He was hospitalized eight months then, getting out just before Christmas.

Scoutmaster and 8 Scouts Will Attend Dallas Conference

Eight members of the Muenster Boy Scout Troop and Scoutmaster Nick Miller will be in Dallas all day Saturday attending the tenth annual Oak Leaf Conference for Junior Leaders of the Circle Ten Council.

Promoting Leadership in the Scouting Movement is the theme for the day-long conference to be attended by over 1500 Scouts from the 14 counties in the Dallas-based Council.

Muenster's patrol leaders, assistant leaders and troop scribe will attend. This group attended the first of the leadership courses at Gainesville in January.

The local delegation will be composed of Jerry Mosman, Jerry Taylor and Charles Sickling, patrol leaders, Wayne Trachta, Dale Bayer and Rickey Endres, assistants; Tommy Hartman, senior patrol leader and Tommy Mosman, scribe.

for their money. To do these things admittedly would constitute about the biggest industrial change of all time. What's more it would require a degree of courage and leadership that union bosses have never had to show before. But it has to be done, that is, if we are going to stop our drift toward economic chaos.

It's high time for Labor's big shots to realize that today's big problem is the result of their own folly, and the only way to solve it is to start correcting their own mistakes.

Besides, where do they get the notion that a person is entitled to a decent living for only 35 hours of work a week? From the way things have worked out we now have reason to believe that even 40 hours isn't enough.
