

The regular biennial slump in poll tax payments in Texas is due again this year. With no political elections on schedule, thousands of Texans can be counted on, as usual, to neglect their first privilege of citizenship. In most cases they simply decline to pay the tax because they know there will be no political races.

All of which reflects an unfortunate attitude. Too many consider the poll tax as the price of their privilege to vote, so they are inclined to save the money in political off-years. They don't try to understand that poll tax is actually a personal tax and they owe it whether they vote or not. Nor do they consider that there are regular off-year elections and there may also be special elections at which they should vote.

Here in Muenster, for instance, two regular elections are coming up . . . for the city council and the school board. And a special election, such as a bond issue, can come any time on short notice. In any of them the contest can get hot and each vote can become important. The person who fails to qualify for a vote may be sorry.

Most important of all is one's pride in first class citizenship; the awareness that he has paid his personal bit toward county and state government and that he is ready at any time to exercise his voting privilege.

This week the bank again reminds local people that they can pay their poll tax the easy way. They don't have to make a special trip to the court house. Just step into the bank and qualify in a jiffy for first class citizenship.

That hypocritical smile worn by the Butcher of Budapest, officially known as Soviet Deputy Premier Mikoyan, during most of his visit to this country just could not stand the strain. His sweetness and light attitude broke down and he revealed himself unmistakably as the ill-mannered and unreasonable stinker that he really is.

Khrushchev and the other monsters of Moscow should be proud of him. He told off this country in plain words, resorting to typical Soviet abuse of all persons and all ideas that do not harmonize with the communist line. He threatened force if Western countries do not abandon their responsibilities in West Berlin. He refused to agree on resuming talks about settling Russia's war time lend-lease debt to this country. He got nasty with the State Department over this country's reluctance to increase trade with Russia.

He could be pleasant enough while he soaked up this country's official hospitality but he became every inch his ugly self when the conversation eventually settled down to real issues. Then the real mission became apparent. He was here to get whatever concessions he could out of America but to give nothing in return.

Washington can learn a valuable lesson from this sour episode. Once again, and as emphatically as ever before, it points up the fact that we cannot do business with the communists. We ought to take notice of this officially by serving notice that there will be no more meetings, at the summit or at lower levels, also that there will be no more trade, no more official visits, no more toleration of Soviet intrigue and treachery in the diplomatic circles of this country or the U. N.

Big shots of the New York banks likewise can learn a lesson. By wining and dining the international criminal they showed a deplorable lack of respect to the millions of good solid American citizens, and to freedom lovers everywhere. Mikoyan is the personification of evil. To honor him is to invite widespread resentment. It is easy to understand why the incident was followed by bitter criticism and substantial withdrawal of deposits.

Writing about our country's hasty recognition of the new government is Cuba, David Lawrence offers a suggestion which might very properly be applied to Russia. He distinguishes between "de facto" and "de jure" recognition. The first amounts only to acceptance of the fact that a new government has established itself and is entitled to only limited recognition. The second amounts to full (Continued on Page 10)

Community Visited By Another Siege Of Severe Weather

Another severe attack of winter weather, the second since the beginning of the new year, moved into Muenster Tuesday night with snow and sleet and temperatures reported as low as 10 degrees. The following night remained clear and the mercury fell to 9.

Schools were dismissed Wednesday because of extremely slick roads and streets.

While adding to the previous crop damage, this cold wave was somewhat milder than the previous one, in which official thermometer readings for successive nights were 4 and 3 degrees, and scattered unofficial reports were zero or lower.

Developments since the first hard freeze now make certain that the community sustained widespread damage. Oats crop losses are estimated at 30 to 40 per cent with strong chances of additional loss in this week's freeze. Some farmers were replanting Monday and Tuesday. Fortunately their seeds have not had time to sprout, so they are escaping damage this time.

One circumstance that may favor crops is the thin layer of snow and sleet, averaging about a half inch. Where it was thicker it probably served as adequate cover. Where it was thinner it gave little protection.

The snow and sleet, combined with light drizzle for a while, added .21 inch to the new year's moisture measure. On the 15th the measure was .19 bringing the current total to .40 inch.

Local Sale Barn Receives Rating as 'Certified Market'

Muenster Livestock Auction Commission Company this week received a certificate identifying it as a "Nationally Certified Livestock Auction Market."

"Nationally Certified" designation is awarded qualifying livestock auction markets by the National Association of Livestock Auction Markets on the basis of their operations and services conducted according to the national code of business standards. The code is the industry's own standards of market services and operations as public livestock markets.

The certificate as issued carries the name of the market and a certification by the chairman of the Association's Livestock Market Council that the market has been found to meet the standards set forth in 17 operating principles condensed from the code. It is also signed by the market owner. As such it (Continued on Page 10)

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Tells Safe Arrival

Joe Carroll McElreath has let his family know that he arrived safely in Hawaii and is stationed at Schofield Barracks. He made the trip over by plane from the West Coast.

Back On Duty

Sailor Don Flusche has let his parents, the J. P. Flusches, know that he's back on the job after his leave at home and his car trip to the west coast. He went with Sailor Tommy Hesse who was also at home on leave, visiting his parents, Mr. and Meinrad Hesse. Don said he had a fine visit in San Francisco with his cousin, Kenny Otto, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Otto, who is in Navy school there. Don's outfit serving aboard the Mauna Kea will be land-based for three or four months while their ship is being overhauled in San Francisco ship yards after a several months' voyage to the Far East. After Don and Tommy parted company — Tommy is based at Point Mugu — Don had some extra time and spent it sightseeing in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

Ten Day Leave

Spending a ten-day leave here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Streng are their daughter Frances and her family, Airman First Class and Mrs. Tony Chantree and daughters Anita and Gwen who have a delay enroute from West Palm Beach, Fla., to Salina, Kansas where Airman Chantree has a new assignment. This is five-month-old Gwen's first visit with her grandparents. The Chantrees will leave this weekend.

SH Alumni Plans Volley Tournament

Invitations are being sent out now for a volley ball tournament to be held in Sacred Heart gymnasium early in March. It is sponsored by the Sacred Heart Alumni Association and will have both men's and women's divisions.

Up to now ten local teams are entered: five each in the two divisions. There are two teams each representing the alumni and the two local schools, also ladies' teams representing VFW Auxiliary and Tuesday Nites and men's teams representing Jones and Laughlin and VFW. Out of town teams are being invited to complete the brackets.

Sacred Heart Alumni will organize both of its teams Sunday. Members who wish to play are urged to be at Sacred Heart gym at 2 o'clock to start practice.

Parochial School Adds Teacher as Semester Begins

Sacred Heart Parochial School opened the new semester this week with two new teachers, a new class room and a change of teacher assignments.

One teacher is an addition to the faculty, the other replaces Miss Betty Corn who resigned from the high school teaching staff.

Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel began Monday as a fourth grade teacher. She resumed class room work after a semester's vacation. She was a teacher at Whitesboro High for two years following her graduation from ETSC in Commerce.

The other new faculty member is Adam Wolf of Lindsay. He fills the vacancy created by Miss Corn's resignation, and will begin next week. Mr. Wolf is receiving his bachelor degree Jan. 27 in the winter commencement at NTSC. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam A. Wolf of Gainesville and is married to the former Alma Louise Kubis of Lindsay.

An additional class room for the elementary department now occupies what was formerly the grade school auditorium.

A run down on teachers and their assignments is this: Sister Grace, Grade 1; Sister Gabriel, Grade 1; Sister Frances, Grades 1 and 2; Sister Brenda, Grade 2; Sister Genevieve, Grades 2 and 3; Sister Anna, Grade 3.

Mrs. Weinzapfel, Grade 4; Sister Gebhardt, Grades 4 and 5; Sister Theophane, Grades 5 and 6; Sister Canisia, Grade 6; Sister Agnes, Grade 7; Sister Pauline, Grade 7 and 8; Sister (Continued on Page 10)

Census Nears End; Notify Homsley if Child Was Missed

The 1959 scholastic census for the Muenster school district is practically under control. With the deadline still more than a week away, Superintendent Homsley says that almost all blanks have been returned by parents and the job of preparing the final report is well under way.

As in previous years the community has given splendid cooperation and the only remaining problem concerns children who may be overlooked because the school has no record of them or their families.

Homsley's procedure in preparing the census roll is to check his new list against attendance rolls at both schools as well as the previous year's official scholastic roll. This assures that no student shown on either list will be overlooked. It also establishes family contacts in the cases of younger brothers and sisters who will reach scholastic age this year.

There is one small group, however, for which the current records do not provide a contact. It includes the children who will reach 6 on or before September 1 and have no older brothers or sisters in school. Parents of those children are asked to notify the school immediately if they have not been contacted up to now.

Complete enumeration is especially important in this district because the school's operation is financed by a per capita allotment for each child on the scholastic roll. If a child is overlooked the school budget suffers accordingly.

City Council Seeks County Support to Fire Department

Efforts to get help from the county for the support of the Muenster fire department are under way by members of the Muenster city council. At their meeting Monday night they decided to ask for a special meeting of several interested organizations with the Commissioners Court to ask for a more substantial appropriation for fighting rural fires.

It was recommended that representatives from the city councils and fire departments of Muenster and Gainesville and also from the county Farm Bureau meet with the commissioners to consider adequate compensation to both of the county's fire departments for their services in rural areas. At the present time the county pays $12.50 for each trip to a rural fire.

Since the proportion of financial help from that source is so much smaller than the proportion of service received by rural areas, the city council feels there should be a readjustment in the rate of compensation.

The desired arrangement is the one now in effect in Grayson County. Each fire department in the county receives a definite annual allotment along with additional pay based on the actual number of trips to rural fires.

Another objective is to secure a contract extending a fire department's area beyond the corporate limits of its city. Under present law fire truck drivers have no immunity from liability in case of accidents outside their political subdivision. That immunity can be extended by extending the political subdivision to include all of the county.

Area Shows Good Soil Conservation Records for 1958

The beginning of a new year is traditionally the time to take stock of what has been accomplished during the 12 months just used up.

A look at the record shows that landowners in the Muenster-Saint Jo area cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District program to conserve soil, plants and water took some big steps toward their objective of improving and protecting their land.

Last year the number of landowners cooperating with the district program in this area reached 590. The farms and ranches cover 183,000 acres of land. These district cooperators planted some 15,650 acres of clover, peas, and vetch for soil improvement and protection. Another 8500 acres of cropland was put into alfalfa or mixtures of biennial legumes and grasses to enrich the land, promote better soil condition and prevent erosion. The remains of crops such as stubble and stalk were left (Continued on Page 2)

Lumber Firm Completes Remodeling And Reopens Appliance Department

Community Lumber Company's appliance department, which operated separately on Main Street for the past two years as Appliance Sales and Service, is back with its original organization.

The change was made this week upon completion of a remodeling job which more than doubled the front sales-room space at the lumber company. The old portion of the building is now occupied mostly by the appliances and the new portion is occupied principally by building supplies and hardware.

No special event marks the opening of the enlarged and improved front building, but plans are in the making, according to co-owner Jerome Pagel. He and Rody Klement are looking ahead to a combined formal opening and anniversary celebration in a few weeks.

The lumber company's improvement project consists of a 42x46 addition to the original front building, which measured 36x40, along with general remodeling of the original building . . . principally larger windows, a late style door and re-finished floor. Interior furnish-

Bank Is Accepting Poll Tax Payments

Poll tax receipts are again available through the Muenster State Bank.

With the deadline for 1958 payments only a little more than a week away, President J. M. Weinzapfel reminds the community that the bank has prepared to help anyone who wishes to avoid a special trip to the court house.

The procedure is to go to the bank and fill out an application for poll tax receipt and pay the $1.75 tax. Application and remittance will be forwarded by the bank to the county tax office which will mail the poll tax receipt a few days later directly to the taxpayer.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Albert Knabe Sr. underwent surgery at Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday.

Mrs. Harry Dennis of Gainesville is a surgical patient at the Sanitarium. She's the former Mary Faith Bernauer of Muenster.

Andrew Zimmerer, route 2, Gainesville, entered M&S Hospital in Gainesville Monday.

Mrs. Ed Eberhart continues as a patient at the Sanitarium, recovering slowly from pneumonia and pleurisy.

Dismissed from the Sanitarium following treatment for virus pneumonia is Michael Knabe, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knabe.

Elizabeth Herr is back, part time at her regular work at Muenster Telephone Company, recovering rapidly from a thyroidectomy Jan. 12.

Tony Voth of Lindsay has been dismissed from Baylor Hospital in Dallas following treatment.

Good news is that Bruno Fleitman's eye surgery was successful. He had the bandages removed during the weekend and has normal vision. He's up and around the house now, but has to stay indoors for a while longer.

Ferd Albers of Lindsay underwent surgery at the VA Hospital in McKinney Monday, following a series of treatments. He'll be a patient indefinitely and will enjoy greeting cards. He's in Ward 107.

A brother and sister are recovering from tonsillectomies performed at Gainesville Sanitarium Saturday. They are Gene and Ruth Kleiss, children of Mr. and Mrs. Al Kleiss. Both remained in the hospital overnight and were dismissed Sunday about noon. They are shut-ins at home this week and will start back to classes Monday.

A visit here with relatives and friends the past week was the first for Lena Bernauer of Gainesville since before Christmas. On Dec. 26 illness sent her to the Sanitarium for treatment and she was a shut-in at her home after being dismissed from the hospital.

Walter Morrison Follows Wife as Traffic Fatality

Less than two months later and in the same manner Walter Morrison, 41, of Borger, formerly of Muenster, follows his wife in death.

He was killed early Wednesday in a traffic accident near Borger. Early Thanksgiving day his wife was killed in a crash at Vernon while the family was enroute to Muenster to spend the day with relatives. Morrison and their two children escaped serious injury in that accident.

Two other persons, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Majors of Borger, were also in the accident which claimed Morrison's life. Their car plunged into a canyon three miles west of Borger, and they were exposed to near-zero temperature for about eight hours before they were rescued. Mr. Majors died of his injuries later in the day.

Funeral services for Morrison have been set for Friday afternoon at two o'clock in Saint Jo.

Survivors are two children, Gloria 8 and Wayne 6, of Muenster. They are living here with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knabe, since their mother's death. Also surviving are four brothers and three sisters, two half-brothers and a half-sister.

Council Approves Curb and Pavement For Hickory Street

A new paving project, to extend from the highway to the cemetery, received official approval Monday night at the regular meeting of the Muenster city council.

The action was taken in response to a petition signed by most of the residents on North Hickory Street. It asked for pavement as far as the street is open, and council members, after a short discussion, agreed to open the one remaining block and run the pavement for the full length of the street.

Another project approved by the council is one block on Second Street between Hickory and Pecan.

All of the paving will be full width from curb to curb. This is in accordance with a regulation set up by the city council after its discovery that narrow pavement is less durable because of breaking down at the edges. It decided that the full width pavement is cheaper in the long run and easily justifies the higher original cost.

Another requirement is that curbs must be established at both sides before the paving is done. Some nine to ten blocks of curbing will have to be built to complete it for the full distance at both sides.

All the work is due for completion this year. Steve Moster, city manager, said Tuesday that he will begin staking the curb lines within the next few days so that concrete work can be done at the earliest convenience. After that the city will arrange to get a paving contractor here for the rest of the project.

Meanwhile residents of town are reminded that they have ample time to work up other paving projects. The requirements are that curb must be established at both sides and the pavement must be full width. As before, the city pays for paving gaps between property lines, such as street intersections.

The unit cost of paving cannot be quoted until the city engages a contractor.

Soil Conservation

on or near the surface to provide a mulch on some 20,000 acres or more.

Good progress on terracing cropland was made in the Muenster area last year. Fifty miles of the broad, easy-to-farm channel type terraces were constructed to help protect some 1250 acres of sloping cropland. All terraces were built to outlet onto established grassed waterways or onto pasture grasses to prevent erosion.

On pasture lands of this area an estimated 15,500 acres of grass was properly grazed to leave approximately one half of the year's growth of grass on the land to serve as a protective mulch to prevent erosion, increase water intake of the soil and maintain the stand of desirable grasses. Sixteen ponds for livestock water were built to bring the total number of ponds constructed under the district program to 461 in the Muenster-Saint Jo area. These ponds furnish water for livestock and enable better management of grazing lands. Over 400 acres of brush was cleared so that pasture grasses can be planted and 350 acres of cropland that was too steep or too eroded to be farmed was planted to adapted grasses for pasture.

Progress was also made in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District's upstream flood prevention program on Elm Creek. Six new reservoirs were completed last year to bring the total floodwater retarding structures on the watershed to 23. Those completed near Muenster were Meador Brothers, Johnson Estate, H. J. Lutkenhaus, and Hill Campbell. Two more reservoirs are planned in the vicinity of Muenster.

All in all it was a good year for conservation accomplishments and many landowners took advantage of the weather to move closer to their goal of using each acre within its capabilities and treating each acre according to its needs for protection and improvement.

Largest of Texas' state parks is Big Bend National Park, comprising 708,000 acres.

TOUGH "HALIBUT" — An extremely untasty dish for an enemy would be this "Halibut," Uncle Sam's newest nuclear sub. Launched at Mare Island Naval Shipyard near Vallejo, Calif., it is the first nuclear-powered submersible capable of firing guided missiles. Rear Adm. E. W. Grenfell, commander, Pacific Fleet Submarine Force, calls the Halibut "the greatest and most powerful individual submarine weapons system in any navy in the world."

City Officials Have Dinner Treat Sunday

Muenster city officials were treated to their annual dinner Sunday night and their wives or husbands were special guests. About 25 attended the event in the Muenster High lunch room where Mrs. T. S. Myrick had decorated the tables with white daisies and smilax.

Mrs. Joe Lehnertz and Mrs. Joe Voth prepared the banquet menu with the exception of the charcoal broiled steaks which J. W. Fisher delivered sizzling hot for the 7 o'clock feast.

Party Compliments Mark Hellman, 8

Home of the Charley Hellmans was the scene of a gay party Friday afternoon when their son Mark celebrated his eighth birthday. School was dismissed at 1:30 because mid-term exams were over and the youngsters had a whole afternoon for partying.

Mark's boy classmates and cousins were guests enjoying gifts, games, birthday cake and ice cream, and party favors of whistle bubble blowers.

The honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Gehring was a special guest and his aunt, Mrs. Archie Hess, helped serve.

Kevin Hellman, 3 Birthday Honoree

Third birthday of Kevin Hellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Damien Hellman, was celebrated Sunday at the family home in Irving with a dinner party attended by the honoree's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henscheid and daughter Carol from here and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Henscheid of Dallas.

Mrs. Henscheid baked and decorated the birthday cake for her grandson and everyone brought gifts for Kevin.

It was the Henscheids' first visit with their daughter and family since they moved to Irving after Christmas. In the afternoon they all drove to Dallas for a first visit in the Jerry Henscheid home.

Mrs. Walterscheid Is Twice Honored

Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid was twice honored in observance of her birthday Friday. There was an afternoon party and an evening family reunion.

In the afternoon her sisters-in-law gathered at her home bringing gifts, and for the evening party her children and grandchildren were present. Both groups enjoyed visiting and refreshments, including birthday cake.

Mrs. Herbie Walterscheid presented the large, lovely cake for the family reunion, and together the group gave the honoree a cash gift.

Afternoon guests included Mrs. Joe Walter of Gainesville. Joining Mrs. Walterscheid's eight children and their families from here at night were Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Walterscheid and children of Gainesville.

Fuhrmans Attend Funeral in Iowa

Returning home early Tuesday morning after a six-day visit in Iowa to attend a relative's funeral were H. J. Fuhrman, his daughter, Mrs. Robert Bayer and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Endres. They went by car. Adolph Fuhrman of Lindsay also attended the Thursday morning service. He made the trip by train.

The group was present for the last rites for Matt Faber in St. Joe, Iowa. He was the brother-in-law of H. J. Fuhrman and would have been 80 in April. Thermometers stood at ten below zero on the day of the funeral and hadn't risen a fraction by Monday when the relatives left to return home.

Mr. Faber is survived by his wife and five children. The couple lost six children at one time in a fire that destroyed their home in 1918.

In St. Joe the relatives from here also visited H. J. and Adolph's brother, Louis Fuhrman and their sister, Mrs. John Till who has been a wheelchair patient on account of crippling arthritis for more than 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Endres drove to Rockford, Ill., during the weekend to spend Saturday and Sunday with Gilbert's sister and family, the Joe Gormans.

Home-School Group Will Meet Tuesday

Sacred Heart's Home-School Society will hold its first meeting of the new year next Tuesday, Jan. 27, in the grade school building beginning immediately after novena devotions, about 8:15.

Big Increase in Pork Production Expected in 1959

Breeding intentions for 1959 spring farrowings in Texas point to a 40 percent increase above the 1958 spring season. An unusually favorable ratio between grain costs and finished hog prices stimulated renewed interest in hog production. Bulk of this sharply increased spring farrowed pig crop will reach market weights during the fall of 1959.

Postmaster Endres pointed out this information on prospective pork supplies was made possible by voluntary reports from farmers and ranchmen along mail routes served by Frank Schilling, Route 1 and J. W. Fletcher, Route 2, combined with other reports from all parts of Texas and the Nation.

The Nation's 1958 pig crop totaled 94.8 million head — 8 percent larger than the 1957 crop of 88.0 million. Reports on breeding intentions indicate 8.3 million sows to farrow in the spring of 1959. This will be 12 percent more than the number farrowed last spring, but only slightly larger than the 1947-56 average.

DISASTER — AT BARGAIN RATES

TVA, our tax-fed, electric power octopus, has just bought three new 54,000 kilowatt hydroelectric generators at a cost of $2,637,135 U.S. tax dollars — dollars which were bundled up and shipped to a foreign manufacturer in Baden, Switzerland.

Three American firms who bid on the generators were left out in the cold simply because they pay their workers much too well to be able to compete with overseas producers for the business of their own Government.

If, however, the TVA directors had elected to follow the spirit of the "Buy American" act — rather than the destructive interpretations imposed by executive order and the council on foreign economic policy — the generator contract would have gone to the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., of Milwaukee, the lowest U. S. bidder.

That Allis-Chalmers and Milwaukee needed this business is apparent from the fact that the firm had laid off some 2,300 employees — who might have been restored to the payroll in the final weeks before Christmas. That these workers felt entitled to consideration is understandable since, in the 25 years of TVA operation, they and their fellow citizens of Wisconsin had contributed nearly $26 million of their tax money to this ruthless Federal impediment to free enterprise.

Both the company and the unions representing these unemployed workers spoke up promptly (if unsuccessfully) in their behalf. "We thought," said Allis-Chalmers, "that the people of Milwaukee and the citizens of the U. S. should be aware of what was happening. We felt they had a right to know how their tax moneys were being used abroad and by so doing, taking work from our American wage-earners. . . . It is quite evident that no American firm can compete in the heavy electrical equipment market with foreign bidders whose labor costs are one-third those in the U. S."

Union leaders demanded that the TVA directors be fired for being "calloused and indifferent to the plight of unemployed Milwaukee workers," and protested TVA's failure to give Congress time to investigate before awarding the contract.

But nobody heard — any more than they heard the fulmination of John L. Lewis against TVA in 1954, when he charged that body with abusing its economic power in purchasing millions of tons of coal "at starvation prices" and in utter disregard of "safety standards and health conditions."

It is therefore high time that the people, whose authority ranks even that of TVA, demand reversal of a Federal policy that can only destroy one American industry after another — and ultimately, the economic system that is the tap-root of national strength and independence.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

From the Washington wire of United Press International we pluck this revealing item, courtesy of a House armed service subcommittee taking testimony for military standardization "experts."

According to the testimony: The armed forces used to buy 98 different kinds of erasers — now they use only 16. (In our shop, we have two.)

They used to buy 170 different styles of men's drawers. Now the military men wear only 140 different styles, and the experts say they soon will drop 58 more varieties. (We have been sticking to one for years.)

They have had 802 listings of women's dress shoes. By heavy effort, they have cut this to 798. But they say they will drop 196 more.

(As to our house, no comment.) They have been buying 732 types of loud speakers. Now they are managing on 125. (A loud speaker is a loud speaker.)

They used to buy 19,000 varieties of machine screws. Now they have standardized on 6,000. (All we can say is, good work.)

The Army used to take 42 hours to cure its bacon. Navy did it in 24 hours. Taste: Just as good. Now they all follow the 24 hours formula.

The Defense Dept., in the last 10 years or more, has spent $152 million just cataloging what the services buy. That has led to this standardizing, which is supposed to save the taxpayers' money. Just on the Army's bacon, it says here in the testimony, a savings of $320,000 a year has resulted.

We hope the President's Budget Bureau has one or more of those 16 kinds of erasers, and will use them on spending nonsense — with a little indignant elbow action. — Fort Worth Press.

WHY CAR INSURANCE COSTS SO MUCH

Do you ever wonder why your car insurance costs so much — and is likely to cost more in the future? Is so, an article by Richard Dunlop in the National Safety Council's magazine, Traffic Safety, will give you the answer.

First of all, Mr. Dunlop points out, it isn't because the car insurance companies are reveling in big profits. They have actually been paying out $116.70 for every $100 taken in through premiums, and since World War II they have gone $600 million into the red.

That is partly accounted for by inflated prices, and by car designs which make repairs extremely expensive — but only partly. Chiselers of assorted kinds are involved in the profitable business of turning car accidents into jackpots. Their fields of activity range from garages which pad the bills to ambulance-chasing lawyers.

But this doesn't end the story. As Mr. Dunlop puts it: "Jurors give away insurance money with an almost incredible disregard for the facts of a case." He cites a Texas woman who claimed that merely witnessing an accident caused her to suffer a miscarriage. Two obstetricians said this was poppycock — but the jury awarded her $90,000. New York State Supreme Court Justice McDonald has said: "Eighty percent of jury awards are excessive and ten percent so grossly excessive they may be set aside by the court."

One solution to this problem is to reduce accidents. It can be done. Mr. Dunlop gives Butte, Montana, as an example. Its passenger car insurance rate actually dropped from $117 in 1936 to $35 at present, while the rates in most other places were soaring. Butte did it by breaking up the rackets, and by putting into effect a tough traffic safety program that worked. What Butte has done, any community can do — if the citizens demand it and back up the authorities.

'Dear Sir, I'm Frightened'

One hundred thousand working men and women have had their say. This vast number of worried, frightened people have written to the McClellan Senate committee on labor rackets to tell their personal experiences with the dictatorships which exist in the unions of which they are members.

Many were afraid to sign their names, fearing for their lives, the safety of their families and their jobs if they revealed themselves as opponents of the labor bosses. Some took the chance, knowing the risks they run.

What are the weapons of dictators? Terror, murder, repression of all opposition, suppression of free speech. The letters show that all these weapons are used systematically by labor leaders against the members they are supposed to represent and to serve.

Americans who demand that Congress pass laws with real teeth to curb these labor bosses are not anti-union. Effective legislation would be a boon to the millions of Americans whom labor bosses hold in bondage.

BEING MADE EQUAL

"Today . . . we are being indoctrinated (taught something without really knowing all about it) by a group that have the most insidious plan for domination of the human race that the fertile mind of man has ever conceived. That plan is simply this: 'Not that we have been created equal by God, but that we shall be made equal by man.' We will all work under the same conditions, we will no longer have any problems, we will all have plenty to eat, we will all have a good house, a good car, a good television set, not necessarily because we earned them but because we are equal and all deserve the same. We shall also think the same things, dress the same, worry the same, and in the end we will all be the same, NOTHING." —Calipatria, Calif., Herald.

WHERE ARE WE GOING?

by James P. Mitchell, U. S. Secretary of Labor

I once received a letter at the Department of Labor from a gentleman who asked me quite simply: "Dear Sir: Will you please tell me what the Department of Labor does, and what good it is?"

THE SAME QUESTION might well be asked of the Christian conscience in the modern world. It is that question I am asking today.

Societies which, like our own, are inspired by the Christian faith believe themselves to be instruments for the will of God. Communist society, on the other hand, looks upon itself as an instrument, not for God's will but for the State's will and, being divorced from any supernatural reference, becomes entirely materialistic and earthly.

Mitchell

These two concepts of society are at war in the modern world, and they are at war in the West.

THE COMMUNIST WORLD displays an impressive unity of purpose. Having denied Christ, it has pledged its full allegiance to the material. It stands before it as before a shrine, and because its masters have compelled unity of purpose there appears to be strength, and because of this the free world must wear its armament at the ready.

But within that free world, more particularly within these United States, there is no real unity of moral purpose. As a result, we are uncertain of our real purposes and goals. If you had to search out one lasting danger to the West you would find it in this terrible ambiguity of purpose that makes us center much of our society around material things while all our instincts as Christians demand a different and opposite focus.

WHILE of course we are concerned with every individual's well being, we sometimes tend to magnify inordinately material welfare, all the while knowing in our hearts that it is secondary and less important than spiritual welfare. We tolerate assaults upon our spiritual sensibilities in the name of better living. We pride ourselves on possession of things for their own sake that often obscure Christian ideals — and we are in constant danger of carrying that obscurity into the world where it must match itself against the iron unity of the Communist society that knows its purpose.

Too often the American appeal to the suffering world is only that our material wealth is greater than theirs — while we have in our hands and hearts the unity that Christianity represents, a unity it is our sacred duty to preserve.

In this conflict that occupies the world, the Nation, and the individual heart, the Christian conscience has a stern and unavoidable call.

IF WE HOPE to convince the rest of the world against the Communist system, and remain strong against it ourselves, we must be united and convinced of our moral and spiritual ideals. Creating that unity and displaying it in all our work and recreation is the biggest job facing the religious American in our times.

Stockmen Alerted On Screwworm Fly

Screwworm flies have been found in isolated areas of the South recently and stockmen are urged to report promptly any attacks of this pest on their animals. A quick report to the county agent, accompanied by a specimen could help officials bring the fly under control.

State and Federal officials are conducting a campaign to eradicate screwworms from the entire Southwest. The program is based on the fact that when a female screwworm fly mates with a sterile male she produces only infertile eggs. Flies are sterilized by radioactive cobalt, a product of atomic-energy research. Continued release of sterile flies in an infested area eventually eradicates the species.

The late Stephen Leacock liked to sing the praises of the Vermont farmers.

"You have no idea how strong they are," he once wrote a friend. "When a farm wagon is stuck in the mud, it's nothing to see one of them walk up behind the vehicle and, with a mighty heave, break his shoulder blade."

Prescher Herd Is Double Winner in DHIA for December

Top honors in the county in both milk and butterfat production during December went to the Peter Prescher herd, the Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement summary for the month shows.

The summary showed Prescher far ahead of runners-up J. L. Masten and the Hi-Lo herds. The winning averages were 1,430 pounds of milk and 50 pounds of butterfat.

The summary reported also that Cooke County achieved number two position in both divisions in state competition. County averages of 850 pounds and 33 pounds ranked second in the state behind the Wichita Valley Assn. in milk production and the Randall County Assn. in butterfat.

The statewide compilations, which trail the local report by a month, were for November.

Locally, second place in butterfat went to the J. L. Masten herd with 45 pounds, and third place to Hi-Lo Farms with 44.

These two were tied for second behind Prescher in milk production with 1,170 pounds each.

Prescher also was top in the county in November's butterfat production totals, reporting an average of 52 pounds.

In the county 19 herds totaling 528 cows were tested. Of these 141 cows produced 50 pounds of butterfat or over for an average of 31 per cow. Overall average pounds of milk per cow was 815.

Among cows producing 50 or more pounds of butterfat were eight belonging to George Bayer, six of J. W. Fleitman's and Tommy Knabe's, Paul Fetsch had seven, Ed Sicking five, Paul Fisher three, C. A. Fisher one, Paul Sicking four and Jerry Hoenig two.

Gasoline Tax Costs Texas Car Owners $280 Million a Year

DALLAS, Texas, — Somewhere in Texas on Monday, Jan. 5, a gasoline pump meter showed the figure that brought to $3,777,000 the amount collected in gasoline taxes so far in 1959. This is as much in five days as Texas motorists used to pay in gasoline tax in a whole year.

This was noted by Charles W. Alcorn, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, in commenting on present estimates that car owners of this state will pay a total of $280 million in taxes on gasoline in 1959, including $105 million under the 3 cent federal tax.

Alcorn pointed out, however, that if Congress this year enacts the $900 million a year increase in the federal gasoline tax, as proposed recently in Washington, Texas car owners will be paying an additional $53 million a year.

Already, with Texas' state tax of 5 cents a gallon and the 3 cent federal tax, motorists are paying 8 cents in tax on each gallon, the equivalent of a 38 per cent sales tax on gasoline.

In terms of revenue, Alcorn noted, Texas car owners are now paying this tax to the tune of $1,000,000 every 31 hours, or as much within five days as Texas' original 1 cent gasoline tax yielded in a whole year following its enactment in 1923.

Big Tube-Like Bag Described as Ideal For Hauling Milk

A giant rubber-fabric container resembling an over-sized tooth paste tube offers big promise of cost saving for dairymen. Called "Sealdtank," it has been developed by joint effort of the rubber, trucking and dairy industries, and measures 56 inches in diameter, 35 feet long and holds 3,800 gallons of milk. When empty, the container lies flat or can be rolled into a compact package.

Sealdtank means that for the first time a dry-liquid two-way haul can be accomplished transporting dry cargo in one direction and liquid cargo on a return trip — in the same standard trailer or truck. The upshot is that it converts thousands of trucks, railroad box cars and gondola cars into a potential liquid carriers of milk.

"Bagged Milk" may mean a saving in cost of getting milk to market. Since the milk can be hauled on the regularly scheduled run of a common motor carrier, rates need only cover the actual cost of the milk haul, an estimated saving of 20% or more.

Alonso Alvarez de Pineda, a Spanish explorer, and his followers are believed to have been the first white men to set foot on what is now Texas soil. Pineda and his group explored the area in 1519.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

If precious topsoil is getting away from sloping fields, if rills and washes have begun to form after rains, if rocks seem to be rising up out of the ground to foul up plowing, then chances are that terraces are needed to help protect those slopes from destructive soil and water losses.

Terraces need a safe place to empty run-off water which will one day flow forth from them. Landowners with a good pasture located so that terraces will outlet onto it can consider themselves lucky and build terraces right away. If pasture is located so that terraces protecting the field cannot empty onto its grasses, then a grass strip must be provided to serve as a safe disposal area for terrace water.

Now is the time to plant these pasture strips or grassed waterways to Bermuda grass in the Muenster-Saint Jo area. Plans must be made and the grass planted and well established before terraces can be built.

Many landowners cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Conservation District in the Muenster-Saint Jo sector have found it necessary to plant waterways to provide safe terrace outlet areas. Over 285 wide grassed waterways dot the landscape of this region. Usually these wide pasture strips follow natural drains and are so situated that fields can be terraced into them. Thus they serve a two-fold purpose. They make safe water outlets and also provide excellent pasture.

Landowners who have already marked off their waterway areas and have the seed-bed prepared for planting Bermuda grass roots this spring include Charles Taylor, Charlie Fisher, Frank Needham, Al Walter, Victor Sicking, Lawrence and Theo Vogel, Dude Rosson. Dangelmayr Brothers, Alois Tru-benbach, all at Muenster, Joe Lewter and Sid Felker at Hood, and Judge Louis Holland at Forestburg.

The time to act is now. Soil and water that leaves the farm grows no crops. It's high time to protect and improve the land. Contact the Muenster office of the Soil Conservation Service for assistance in planning, lay-out and establishment of grass waterways and other conservation practices.

The street corner orator was delivering a lengthy discourse on inflation, and expounding the theory that the public was being robbed of its sense of values by unstable currency. Finding that verbal efforts alone were not proving sufficient to arouse interest, the speaker drew a bill from his pocket, and waved it before his audience. "There was a time," he declared, "when this dollar was worth 100 cents. Then its value skidded to 80 cents. Today, it is worth 57 cents. Tomorrow . . ." "Mister," interrupted a tired listener, "here's 57 cents. Lets have that dollar before it goes any lower."

Shoplifters Cost $15 Million a Year To Honest Texans

Honest Texans are paying an estimated $15 million annually to support human parasites known as shoplifters. In every city, town and hamlet, shoplifting has become nearly as prevalent as the hula-hoop, and easier to learn.

State Senator Robert Baker, Houston, and Representative Carl Conley, Raymondville, plan to make things a bit tougher for this type of sneak thief. A new bill, to be introduced at this session of the Texas Legislature would, if it becomes law, put the professional shoplifter in jail, discourage the amateur or juvenile, and reduce purchase costs for the legitimate customer.

The new bill imposes stronger penalties, and makes identification of the habitual shoplifter simpler. It also allows detention of suspected shoplifters, for reasonable cause, within the store. Present law makes it risky for the merchant to stop a suspect until he gets to the sidewalk.

"Modern merchandising methods and old fashioned laws have combined to make shoplifting a simple, profitable and relatively safe crime," according to Ralph Poling, secretary of the Council of Texas Retailers. "Open displays and self-service counters make life easy for the thief. And, even nabbing the shoplifter in the act is no guarantee that he won't be back after a one day jail sentence," he said.

"With present law favoring the shoplifter, the merchant is forced to add a little extra to the selling price of each item in his store to cover the shoplifters' loot," he added.

Official figures, based on the average net profit for department stores in Texas, indicate that the $15 million in merchandise stolen each year is equivalent to the net profit, after taxes, on $900 million of sales.

Houston and Dallas average just under $2 million each in annual losses attributed to shoplifting, but counter-snatching is not exclusively a big city crime. In Corpus Christi, Austin, Lubbock and Waco, losses will run from $200,000 to $450,000. And any town, of any size, which has a super market, a modern department, variety store or drug store, is paying a "shoplifter's fee" on every item sold.

In cooperation with the Council of Texas Retailers, the University of Houston Law School developed a 50 page study of shoplifting in the state. Surprisingly, they discovered that the so-called "kleptomaniac" is a rare bird, and accounts for very little of the shoplifting loss.

LONG WAIT—Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Holmgraun, of Memphis, Tenn., are especially proud of their baby, Jane Elizabeth. She's the first female child born to the Holmgraun family in two centuries, according to Holmgraun. His family history, dating back to its Swedish origin, shows no daughters in all that time.

Emotional problems are a factor, but the biggest incentive in shoplifting is that of personal gain, either through resale of the stolen item or use of it. The study discloses a correlation between shoplifting and drug addiction. Shoplifting is often the first crime committed by juveniles who later drift into more serious criminal acts.

While some shoplifters use various "gimmicks" to increase their pilfering ability, the true professional knows that if he is caught, these gimmicks are hard to explain in court. The "booster box" is a popular item in the trade. Looking like an innocent, well-tied suit box, the "booster" conceals a trap door through which soft goods may be pushed. The "booster coat" is a loose fitting topper with slits cut through the pockets. The wearer, apparently standing with hands in pockets, can easily remove counter goods and place them in a special pocket in the coat tail, or hang them on belt hooks.

Other dodges include the one in which a woman selects several dresses to "try on" and takes them to the dressing room. Later she returns some of the gowns to the saleslady and walks out with one or more under her own loose fitting dress. The top-notch shoplifter uses no gimmicks other than the ability to walk more or less naturally with stolen goods pressed between sturdy legs. Some female lifters have admitted stealing large hams, several cartons of cigarettes or other bulky items in this manner.

While $15 million is no joke, merchants are still chuckling about the store manager who reprimanded his clerks for not helping a young lady who was struggling to get her baby carriage through the front door. He assisted her himself and discovered a few minutes later that he was an accessory to a crime. The young lady had stolen the vehicle in his store.

A prim little old lady was telling a friend about her awful shock upon finding two empty whisky bottles in her garbage can.

"You can imagine my embarrassment," she said. "I got them out fast, because I didn't want the garbage man to think I drink."

"What did you do with them?" asked her friend.

"Well, the preacher lives next door," was the reply, "so I put them in his can. Everybody knows he doesn't drink."

Sacred Heart Teams Win Two Lose Four in Week's Contests

It's been a busy week for the boys basketball teams at Sacred Heart High but a leisurely one for the girls. The A and B Tiger teams played a total of five games whereas the Tigerettes played only one.

Last Friday night the Tigers hosted Lindsay's Knights and divided honors with them, Lindsay winning the B game, Sacred Heart the A game. Sunday afternoon, playing St. John's of Ennis, Sacred Heart girls won and boys lost. Tuesday night St. Mary's of Lawton, Okla., licked the Tiger A and B boys.

Sacred Heart B stringers, mostly freshmen, are beginning to get the feel of the game but they still are no match for the Lindsay or St. Mary's reserves. They went down by a count of 36-13 in the first game with Leon Hess hitting 5 for the hosts and Sandman 13 for the visitors. Next they lost 27-12 to the Lawton lads. Charles Knabe led his teammates with 5 points.

Sacred Heart girls had an easy time with the St. John's team. After an early lead they pulled ahead steadily until the final score of 33-17. Zimmerer was high pointer with 26.

The improving Tigers looked good in all three of their games even though only one of them goes into the win column. They clearly outclassed Lindsay by a score of 44-13 as Streng and Haverkamp made 16 and 13 respectively. Hermes led Lindsay with 6.

Playing St. John's Sunday afternoon Sacred Heart boys gave a good account of themselves until three of them went out on fouls. At that time, early in the third quarter, Sacred Heart was trailing by 5 points but from then on St. John's kept extending its lead. Final tally was 50-27. Haverkamp, Streng and Wimmer scored 8, 7 and 6.

Following the games with St. John's, about 70 players and fans from Ennis were guests at a special party in honor of their home-town friend, Mrs. George Petrus. The event was held in the lunch room and girls of the Catholic Youth Club served refreshments.

The visitors from Lawton were slick operators, the best to meet the Tigers so far, in the opinion of Coach Petrus, but the Tigers were at their best in holding their loss down to 52-34. For three periods Sr. Mary's gained steadily, by counts of 12-5, 24-14 and 34-16 but in the last Sacred Heart matched them point for point. Wimmer and Grewing hit 11 and 7 for the Tigers.

The outlook is dreary for the Tigers Friday night when they meet the Laneri Micks in their second Academic League contest. OLV girls, also of Fort Worth, will meet the Tigerettes in the first game that night. Tuesday of next week Windthorst comes here for a pair of games.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Henscheid of Dallas were here Saturday for a visit with their parents, the Ray Owens and Leo Henscheids.

Among those attending the wedding of Kenneth Walterscheid and Leanna Hersley in Hereford Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Al Waterscheid, Mary Catherine and Carl Walterscheid, Patsy Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Endres and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fuhrmann and two sons. The Fuhrmanns left Tuesday to attend the 5 o'clock service that evening. The others went to Hereford Sunday. All returned home Wednesday afternoon. Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walterscheid, formerly of Muenster.

MHS Cagers Lose Double Headers to Saint Jo and Era

Four more losses were added to the Muenster High basketball record during the past week with Saint Jo taking a pair of hot ones and Era winning easy ones.

Opening last Friday night's program, Muenster and Saint Jo girls had a real see-saw thriller. At the end of the first quarter Muenster had a nice 11-4 lead but went sour in the next quarter and trailed 17-13 at intermission. After the third period Muenster was ahead 26-25, then in the last quarter Saint Jo nosed ahead 33-32. Flusche and Fisher made 13 and 11 for Muenster. Poor shooting from the free throw line was the big difference in this game. Muenster made only 6 of 21 whereas Saint Jo made 11 of 21.

Hot shot Wayne Williams dealt out most of the grief in the second game as Saint Jo triumphed 62-46. His 35 with Kite's 21 practically completed the Saint Jo scoring while Doug and Joe Hellman hit 19 and 12 for the Hornets. Saint Jo led all the way, with counts of 11-7, 23-18 and 41-29 the first three periods. About midway in the fourth Muenster narrowed the margin to 8 points but fell back again for the final score of 62-46.

Era gave Muenster girls a really rough time, the game finally ending 37-10.

The boys game was about as one sided. By half time Era had a comfortable lead of 34-14. During the third quarter Muenster gained on the Era reserves and the period ended 41-30. Then Era regulars returned and ran the score to 70-42. Again the poor record on free throws was a big factor in Muenster's one sided loss. The boys hit only 6 of 24 tries, and they could have had more tries if they had done better on the first shots. A good percentage of free tosses would have made it a close game.

Top scorers for Muenster were Joe Hellman with 17, Harris with 12 and Doug Hellman with 9. Lewis and Wilson led Era with 21 and 20.

Next opponents for MHS teams are Callisburg here Friday night and Alvord there Tuesday night.

The postman stared doubtfully at the formidable looking animal lying on the doorstep. "What kind of a dog is that?" he asked the little old lady.

"I don't rightly know," she said. "My brother sent it from Africa."

"Well," the postman hesitated. "it's the oddest looking dog I've ever seen."

The prim lady nodded her head "You should have seen it before I cut its mane off."

diplomatic recognition after the government has been duly endorsed and properly established by a free election of its people.

If this policy were adopted and applied all the way it would result in drastic changes in our relationship with all the communist countries.

After all, that is how it should be. The bosses of Russia and the other red dictators can be recognized only as the men in power not as the legitimate representatives of their people. In all the years since they took over they have not been endorsed by a free expression of the people's will.

By that standard Mikoyan should not have been admitted as an official visitor. He is not a representative of the Russian people.
