School District Takes Over Job of Collecting Taxes

As an instrument of home town morale boosting the bank's new calendar tops anything that has appeared hereabouts in many a moon. In spite of its late arrival it's a pinch to rate a favorite spot in practically every business house in town.

What strikes you about this calendar is that it presents a nice thought in place of the conventional nice picture. It appeals to civic pride, makes a person glad to be identified as one of the community. What's more, the artwork used in the message is such as to give it the eye-appeal of a good looking picture.

With obvious pride it proclaims "Muenster is a great town. Live here, we're growing. Visit here, we're friendly. We extend old-fashioned hospitality to guests and share with our fellow citizens a glowing pride in our town." Then another worth while thought: "Boost Muenster. Trade with local merchants to build a better community." The rest is nice color and background along with the bank's identification. Enough said. The message certainly needs no elaborating.

Yours truly has been reminded that last week's Enterprise gave official status to a city council discussion that actually was only a bull session. The men were talking about getting financial help from the county toward support of their fire department, but they did nothing about it. They did not even mention it in the minutes.

Well, let's hope they'll be putting it in the minutes soon. The idea deserves attention plus all the necessary push to get it adopted.

As the matter stands now, rural people of the community are getting more benefit from the fire department than the city does, but the city still pays practically all of the cost.

Last year, the record shows, the local pumper truck answered calls to eighteen fires in the country, several of them six to ten miles away. Scratching off four of the smaller jobs, the city submitted bills to the commissioners court for fourteen of those fires, and received $175 in payment. (The court allows the Muenster and Gainesville fire departments $12.50 for each trip to a rural fire.) In addition the city received $18.75 from the farmers benefitted. That adds to $193.75 as total compensation received by the city for its service in the rural area.

During the same year the firemen answered only eight calls within the city limits. Besides, the distance in each case was only a few blocks and the jobs were small. In actual service the country area got many times more from the fire department than the city did.

Now consider costs. The city pays for all operation, maintenance of equipment and station, pension fund payments of $110 a year for the firemen, plus the original investment of building and equipment. In just a few weeks the city will pay about $12,000 for a new pumper truck, which, according to past history, is due to serve the country more than the town.

Figuring all that, can anyone claim that the city is adequately compensated for its service?

That's why the council was talking about a way to share more of its cost with the county. In fairness there should be a provision by which the rural area helps more substantially toward providing the equipment which serves it, and the county government appears to be the only source of that help.

Another fact is also worthy of note. Firemen going to rural fires are outside their legal area of operation and can be held personally liable in case of accident. By all means the county should cooperate to correct this situation . . . by extending the fire department's area of operation to include all of the county. That ought to be done promptly, regardless of how long the matter of fair compensation is neglected.

Shocking publicity a few months ago revealed that the "World Order Study Conference," sponsored by the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, had adopted a resolution urging U. S. recognition of Red China and admission of this slave state into the UN.

Doubting that this statement represented the thinking of most

The Muenster School District's job of taking over responsibility for assessing and collecting taxes is underway.

Superintendent H. H. Homsley disclosed this week that work has started on filling out about 1,950 assessment sheets. The first step in that project is to type names and addresses of all taxpayers at the top of the sheets. That work is being done here from a tax roll provided by County Tax Assessor-Collector Rafe Piper. Next step will be to take the sheets to the courthouse and transcribe property renditions from the county's official tax sheets.

By the time assessments are completed the school board intends to have appointed a board of equalization to check over the sheets and make adjustments, either up or down, wherever they are justified.

Equalization was the principal reason for the school board's taking over its tax assessing and collecting. Members are confident that an equalization board composed of district residents will be better acquainted with valuations than a county-wide equalization board would be. The trustees also believe that the district will gain in assessments as a result of the equalization process.

As regards cost of operation, the trustees expect to be about as well off as before. Offsetting the expense will be the 2 per cent collection fee formerly paid to the tax office.

After the equalization board has made its changes it will meet with taxpayers to make whatever additional adjustments seem justified. After that comes another long task, the preparation of tax statements for mailing in October.

Tigers Withdraw From SAL; Reveal '59 Grid Schedule

Sacred Heart High School's Tigers have withdrawn from the Southwest Academic League . . . and just in time to avoid being left as the sole member of its North Texas district for football and one of only two basketball teams of the loop.

Coach George Petrus advised this week that he submitted his notice of withdrawal just before he received word that Laneri and Waco Catholic had withdrawn. Those teams had quit to become members of the newly organized Texas Parochial Independent League. St. John's of Ennis was the only remaining member of the North Texas District of SAL.

Better games and shorter trips were the reasons for leaving the SAL, Petrus said. The school's policy henceforth will be to seek games with teams of its own class. It is also interested in reducing travel mileage . . . for the sake of better team following as well as better local attendance.

Withdrawal from the SAL becomes effective at the end of this basketball season. From then on Sacred Heart will operate as an independent team with no conference affiliations.

None of the old SAL opponents is on the 1959 football schedule, which was announced by Petrus but is subject to revising in order to avoid conflict with home games on Muenster High School's schedule. The list is as follows:

- Sept. 4, Alvord here
- Sept. 11, Marietta, there
- Sept. 18, Era, there
- Sept. 25, Saint Jo, there
- Oct. 2, Ladonia, there
- Oct. 9, Windthorst, there
- Oct. 17, Sherman B, here
- Oct. 22, Gainesville B, here
- Nov. 6, Greenhill, here
- Nov. 13, Jesuit B, here

At Niece's Funeral

Paul Fetsch was at Rhineland Tuesday to attend funeral services for his niece, Hattie Ann Fetsch, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fetsch. The young lady who had been in ill health for two years was found dead in bed Sunday morning. She attended school at Jonesboro, Ark., one year but was forced to drop out of classes on account of her health. Her parents, four sisters and four brothers survive.

FFA Chapter Sets Dates for Banquet And Project Show

Dates for two of the principal events on the local calendar for Future Farmers of America were set last Thursday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Muenster chapter.

The annual Parent-Son Banquet will be held on Monday, February 23, and the Projects Show will be held on Saturday, March 28.

Chapter Adviser Glenn Hellman said that the guest speaker for the banquet probably will be named within the next few days. He is waiting now for word stating whether the man can be here on the selected date.

Other business at the meeting concerned activity of the chapter at the Fort Worth Stock Show. The chapter will send teams to compete in the grass judging and poultry judging contests Saturday. On the same day Mark Hellman and Truman Wolf will see their lambs, three and two respectively, judged in the sheep show. The lambs were taken to the show Wednesday.

Gas Company Names New Service Man

Appointment of R. D. Puckett as service representative for Lone Star Gas Company's Saint Jo subdistrict has been announced by J. B. Smith of Gainesville, district manager. He succeeds L. P. Marshall who resigned from the post recently, Smith said.

Puckett was born February 13, 1913, at Ennis where he began his career with Lone Star in June of 1950. After five years he was transferred to Duncanville where he remained two years. He comes to this area from Lancaster where he had served as utility man since March of 1957. In his new assignment Puckett will be in charge of gas service and maintenance operations for some 1,000 customers in Saint Jo, Lindsay, Muenster and Myra. He will have headquarters at Saint Jo.

A graduate of Ennis High School, Puckett is married to the former Alma Jane Dodd who was born near Ennis. Their children are Dorothy Pearl, 17, and Wanda Jane, age 13 years.

Sacred Heart High Cage Teams Split 2 Double Headers

Sacred Heart's basketball teams have a 50-50 record for their two double headers of the past week, each of the teams winning one and losing one.

At Windthorst Tuesday night the Tigerettes came to an abrupt end of their winning ways as Windthorst avenged a former one sided loss by a thrilling 51-46 win. The game was a see-saw part of the time and close all the time. And Sacred Heart was in trouble all the time, due partly to their own sloppy performance and partly to Windthorst's sharpness. Zimmerer hit 33 for the Tigerettes. Schroeder made 29 and Schreiber 17 for the home team.

Sacred Heart boys did better, taking off for an early lead and gaining steadily until the final tally of 47-25. Wimmer, Streng and Haverkamp led the Tiger scoring with 18, 13 and 11. Green and Lindeman scored 13 and 7 for the Trojans.

Facing long odds in their game with Laneri, the Tigers adopted a stalling strategy as a way of holding down the Micks. It worked for a while. Laneri led only 6-3 at the first quarter and 12-8 at the half. Moments into the third period Sacred Heart tied the count at 12-12, but that was all. From then on the Micks had things their way and the final score was 38-18. Wimmer made 14 of those 18 points.

The other part of the double feature was an easy Tigerette win over OLV Academy. Coach Petrus played every girl of the squad in racking up the 38-20 decision. Scores for the first three periods were 15-0, 31-3 and 38-11. Zimmerer, playing only the first quarter, led the scoring with 15.

Friday of this week the Tigers will have their first encounter with Waco Catholic High at Waco. Monday both teams will host Krum and on Thursday they will go to Cowtown for return games with Laneri and OLV. The Fort Worth games, set for Friday, have been moved forward a day.

Local VFW Post Is Texas First to Get Perpetual Charter

Presentation of a perpetual charter to Muenster VFW Post No. 6205 was a highlight of the Mid-Winter Round Up in Fort Worth during the weekend and 25 members of the local Post and the Ladies Auxiliary were present to see Commander-in-Chief John W. Mahan of Helena, Mont., present the charter to Commander Herbie Yosten.

The Muenster Post is the first in Texas to perpetuate its charter and is thirty-first in the nation. The names of fifty life members appear on the charter. When the organization decided some eight weeks ago to perpetuate its charter it lost no time in securing life memberships and turned in the impressive list. The Post has maintained a membership of more than 200 and now 50 of them are members for life.

Commander-in-Chief Mahan was high in his praise for the Post in the charter presentation at the banquet Saturday night in the Texas Hotel. It was the social highlight of the meet with Mahan as principal speaker. A dance, also at the Hotel Texas, followed the banquet.

Membership meetings were held Sunday following church services and Muenster Post was among those receiving "go-getter" awards in the field of membership.

Attending from here were Herbie, Meinrad and Tony Yosten, Herbie Herr, Maurus Rohm-

Snowbound in Germany

Mrs. J. P. Janicki, writing from Germany, gave her parents, the Jake Pagels, a vivid account of being snowbound in Germany where her husband is stationed with the army. At the time she wrote Marcella said they had been shut-ins for a week. Jack couldn't get from their home to the camp, schools were closed, transportation had ceased, and without trips to the bakery she was fixing biscuits or cornbread three times a day.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Veronica Rollman underwent surgery at M&S Hospital in Gainesville Monday and is recovering satisfactorily. She'll probably be dismissed this week-end. Her sister Catherine Rollman of Fort Worth is here for a visit and either she or their mother have been staying with Veronica at the hospital.

Hubert Wilde, former Muensterite now living at Gainesville, is a patient at M&S Hospital where he had an operation Monday.

Mrs. John Coursey is improved after illness that made her seriously sick Saturday night. She's still a shut-in. Her granddaughter, Caren Coursey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyton Coursey, is a bed patient at her home on account of illness.

A bed patient at his home this week is Larry Gobble, sick since Sunday.

From Albuquerque, N.M., comes word that former Muensterite Mrs. Henry Hennigan is recovering satisfactorily from surgery. She has been dismissed from the hospital to continue convalescence at home.

Judy Tompkins of Fort Worth, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman, is recovering now after a severe case of chickenpox which kept her in bed this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Tompkins.

Mrs. Frank Seyler who is visiting her daughter in Fort Worth is a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital this week for tests and treatment of an allergy. Her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hennigan, visited her when they were in Fort Worth Sunday. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Mosman visited her mother. She was improving and said her doctor had mentioned that she would probably be ready to leave the hospital Saturday. She'll go to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elwyn Hope.

Illness is keeping Mrs. John Grewing from her work at the public school lunch room. Mrs. Nig Wilson is taking Mrs. Grewing's place until she recovers.

New License Plates On Sale February 2

AUSTIN — New license plates for 1959 will go on sale in all county courthouses February 2, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer announced today. The plates will be the reverse of 1958's, and will have black letters and numerals on a white background.

Greer stated that four and one-half million motor vehicle registrations were bought by Texans in 1958. "Don't be at the end of that long line. Get your vehicle registered early," Greer urged. "The registration deadline is April 1, but we hope car and truck owners will put on the new plates as soon as possible."

Greer stressed the importance of registering all automobiles and trucks in the home county of the vehicle owner.

"Take your certificate of title and your last year's registration receipt to the tax collector in your home county. Penalty for improper registration of a vehicle can be as much as $200. Don't risk an illegal registration. Remember, too, that a portion of all registration fees stays in your home county to benefit your local community."

Adult Short Course On Farm Problems Offered at School

A farm electrification short course, one of several new specialized adult training programs developed by the vocational agriculture division of the Texas Education Agency, will be introduced in Muenster during the first two weeks of February.

Glenn Hellman of the vocational ag department at Muenster High School advised this week that arrangements have been made through L. I. Samuels, supervisor, of vocational agriculture of the Denton area, to have R. E. "Bob" Jaska here for the special classes on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, February 4-6, and on Thursday and Friday of the following week. The first period begins at 7:30 p.m. and others will be set to suit the convenience of class members. Meetings will be held in Muenster High School's vocational ag building and each will last three hours.

Class membership is limited to 18, and farmers wishing to enroll are urged to do so at once. First applicants will have priority. Actually, only about 10 Muenster people will be accepted.

Judy Cain, Senior Named Homemaker Of Tomorrow at MHS

Judy Ann Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cain, has been named 1959 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow at Muenster High School.

She received the highest score in a 50-minute written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating senior girls in her school. She will receive a homemaking pin manufactured by Josten's, which represents the slogan, "Home is Where the Heart Is." Her examination paper will be entered in competition with those of other school winners in the state to name the state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The test is designed and judged by Science Research Associates.

Each state Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, an educational trip April 4-10 with her school advisor to Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., New York City and Minneapolis, and she will be a candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The 1959 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced in Minneapolis April 10. The scholarship of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. The national runner-up will receive a $4,000 grant, third place winner a $3,000 award and fourth place winner a $2,000 scholarship.

'59 March of Dimes Starts Here With Collection Sunday

Muenster's March of Dimes campaign for 1959 was launched this week with announcement of two fund raising events scheduled for Sunday by the VFW Auxiliary, sponsors of the drive here.

A special collection will be taken at Sacred Heart Church following all services Sunday. At night Auxiliary members will sponsor a sock hop for teenagers in the VFW Hall. Admission to the teen social will be twenty-five cents for the March of Dimes.

Another source of revenue, with the date to be announced, will be the porch light drive conducted this year by the Catholic Youth Council of the parish. This group alternates with the FHA Chapter in conducting the Teen March. Another source of revenue for the campaign will be the small banks in business houses.

Four members of the Auxiliary were among a group of about 20 workers attending a dinner meeting and film in the Curtwood Restaurant at Gainesville when Cooke County opened the March of Dimes drive for the National Foundation Jan. 24. Present from here were Mrs. John Huchton, local chairman, and Mmes. Richard Swirczynski, Clarence Hudspeth and Rosa

MHS Teams Finish Season First Half In District Cellar

As the first half of the double round robin basketball schedule in District 37-B came to a close both Muenster High teams were firmly established in the cellar position. The boys have a record of no wins and 7 losses. The girls have a record of 1-6.

Most decisive of their losses so far was the 57-10 drubbing received from league leading Alvord Tuesday night. Muenster reserves played the full time and failed to get a single field goal while Alvord had an easy practice session in running up its 57. Harold Flusche was the leading Muenster scorer with 8.

The opener of the evening's program was a much better game. Competition was close all the way as Alvord's girls extended their lead little by little for a count of 32-19. Leaders for Muenster were Fisher and Flusche with 8 and 5 respectively.

The situation was reversed when MHS entertained Callisburg last Friday. That time the Hornets had a thriller and the girls were easily outclassed.

Either of two factors can account for the boys' 37-30 loss to the visitors: a pitiful record at the free throw line or going to pieces when the chips were down. They made only 10 of 32 charity tosses, missing far more than enough to make up the deficit in their score. Besides, they threw away their chances on wild shots and wild passes after tying the count in the last period. Until then the game was close with Callisburg leading the first three quarters by scores of 10-7, 18-16 and 24-22. Just after the fourth period started Muenster knotted the score at 25 each, then fizzled out. Harris and Doug Hellman accounted for 11 and 10 on the Hornet score sheet.

Muenster girls made a nice effort but did not have a chance playing Callisburg's classy sextette. The visitors gained steadily and easily, the final count being 42-17.

Local News BRIEFS

Wayne Schmitt left this week to enroll as a freshman at Texas Tech in Lubbock. He spent ten days here visiting his family, the Al Schmitts, after quitting his job with the Union Pacific Railroad with employment in Colorado and Kansas. Wayne was graduated from Muenster High in Pueblo, Colo.

Robert Meurer has returned to Texas Tech after spending the mid-term recess here with his parents, the Herbert Meurers. While he was at home Robert joined his father on a plane trip to Houston to see their brother and son, John David Meurer who was at the VA Hospital where he underwent minor surgery. He was hospitalized a week and dismissed this Wednesday. They were weekend guests of the Kenny Wiesmans and saw Wilbert Vogel and Johnny Fisher also Neil Fisher, visiting there from Texas A&M.

From Muskogee, Okla., come greetings to all the old timers of Muenster from Matt Theisen. He was depot agent here for many years before he left in 1904. He's retired now and said he is enjoying pretty good health.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pagel and Mrs. Jake Pagel spent Monday in Dallas at the spring and summer market for piece goods.

Friday night and Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grady McElreath were her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Landers of Collinsville.

Fun night this week for Muenster Boy Scouts was just that, with games at the KC Hall directed by Scoutmaster Nick Miller and refreshments served by Mrs. Andy Schoech and Mrs. Leo Sicking, members of the Scout Auxiliary.

Lawrence Milner has returned to Texas A&M College for the new semester after spending a week with his parents, the M. F. Milners.

Conversation covering the past 16 years and dinner at noon were enjoyable for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fetsch and children and two of Paul's army buddies and their families, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Causbie and four daughters of Weatherford and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Collins and son of Wichita Falls who spent that day here. Mr. Fetsch and Mr. Collins hadn't seen each other since their World War II days together.

Juanita Wieler of ETSC at Commerce and Jean Wieler of NTSC at Denton spent the mid-semester holidays here with their parents, the John Wielers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sanders are rejoicing over the arrival of their first great-grandchild. He's the nine pound son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Holcomb of Fort Worth, born in that city Tuesday. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Cook of Fort Worth.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melton Ramsey during the weekend were her sister and husband, the Bob Burdens and two daughters of El Paso where he was in the service. They were visiting relatives while he was on an overseas leave before going to the Far East. While he is away his family will live in Hereford. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Duncan live there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Borden and daughter Paula Jean of Denton spent the semester holidays here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Myrick.

to secure a course in pharmacy. He and his brother Gene, also from A&M, spent mid-term holidays with their parents, the Al Walters. Gene took Claude to Weatherford Monday and then returned to spend the rest of his vacation here. He'll leave for College Station this weekend.

Weekend in Dallas was a brief vacation for Mrs. Frank Schilling and daughters Charlotte, Debbie and Doris Lynn. They were guests of Mrs. Schilling's sister, Mrs. Marie Pannel and family. They went by bus Friday evening accompanied by Sister Patricia who visited her mother and sister. Friends of Sister Patricia brought them all home by car Sunday evening.

CARD OF THANKS
The relatives of Walter Morrison gratefully acknowledge every kindness and consideration of neighbors and friends in the time of their need and sorrow.

Home-School Society Meets
Routine business occupied members of the Sacred Heart Home-School Society at their January meeting Tuesday night. Treasurer Mrs. Billy Joe Miller reported that church door collections for books brought in $132.00. Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel was introduced as a new member of the faculty and President Charles Taylor talked briefly on discipline in school, especially high school. Sister Celine and Father Christopher followed with comments on the subject. For the program, D. B. Wheeler, assistant county agent, presented old time music, singing and playing his own guitar accompaniment.

"That is a falsehood!" said the teacher severely. "Do you know what will happen to you if you tell lies?"
"Yes'm," said Jimmy nonchalantly. "I'll go to hell and burn."
"Worse than that," said the teacher. "You'll be expelled from school."

March of Dimes - - Driever.

Mrs. B. J. Siebel, director of the National Foundation activities in Cooke County, explained the new March of Dimes program. High among the targets of the Foundation are arthritis, the nation's No. 1 crippler; virus diseases, the hidden cause of illness and suffering for countless Americans; and birth defects.

Having sponsored the Salk vaccine, the March of Dimes is now tackling new problems, Mrs. Siebel explained. The expanded program moves forward into broad new fields, many of which were opened by research performed while finding a preventive for polio and rehabilitating its victims.

The Foundation will continue help to those crippled from polio and to those who will contact it. Mrs. Siebel said. America is not adequately vaccinated. Only 42 per cent of the people have had any vaccine at all and only one in three has had the full series of shots.

Doctors and research scientists will also be trained under the program to explore the causes and seek means of preventing some of the defects known to be brought about from disorders of the central nervous system.

Mrs. Siebel introduced Cloyce "Red" Gordon who is Cooke County's chairman for the MOD drive this year. He spoke from his own experience with polio and the help he received through the March of Dimes. Another speaker was James Patterson, father of Nancy Patterson, a polio victim now serving as co-chairman for the teenage program in the county.

The film, "The Hand of Mercy," showed where March of Dimes money goes for continued help to polio victims, arthritis sufferers and those suffering from birth defects.

Adult Short Course - - cepted because reservations have already been made for farmers from Era, Valley View and Callisburg. The enrollment fee is $3 for the full course of 5 classes.

However, there will be neither a charge nor a membership limit to the opening session of the first night. The general public, including wives, is invited for a talk on safety in the use of electricity and the care and maintenance of electrical equipment.

Mr. Jaska, instructor at the special course, has had several years of experience working with adult farmers and farm youth on farm electrification problems, with special emphasis on development of practical skills and methods. He advises that the course will be shaped to fit the needs and interests of farmers, but in general it will consist of safety in use of electricity, farm wiring, and care, use and maintenance of electric motors. There will be some class instruction but most of the course will be "learning to do by doing."

Other short courses also are offered to farmers through the public schools. Specialists for teaching them are now available in fields of insect control, dairying, farm management, tractor maintenance, farm welding and farm electrification.

Family Gathering Marks John Rohmers' 47th Anniversary

Dinner at noon Sunday and an evening family gathering observed the 47th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Rohmer, continuous residents of Muenster since their marriage here Jan. 25, 1912.

Both are long-time members of the community and Sacred Heart Parish. Their family of five sons and five daughters is scattered now. The boys live here and planned the informal observance.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rohmer served the anniversary dinner at noon in the Ace Cafe. Their children Dwayne and Lora June were present and so were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Rohmer and Darlene and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rohmer and Steve and Kenny.

Joining this group for the evening gathering in the Tony Rohmer home were Victor and Maurus Rohmer who were prevented from being at the dinner.

Card games and picture taking along with visiting were enjoyed and Mrs. Tony Rohmer served ice cream and coffee and a handsome double ring wedding anniversary cake.

The honoree's five daughters who are away from Muenster are Mrs. Joe Spaeth of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Morton Wright of Irving, Miss Ida Rohmer of Fort Worth and Sister Fidelis and Sister Romana, members of the Olivetan Benedictine Sister of Jonesboro, Ark. They are both at Little Rock this year.

Mr. Rohmer can remember when he came to Muenster with his family from Missouri. He was five years old when they settled here in 1892. He'll observe his 73rd birthday March 2.

Mrs. Rohmer, 70, has spent almost her entire life time in Muenster. She was just passed her first birthday when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franz Hesse, moved here from Iowa. They were among the first pioneers arriving in the infant colony Nov. 14, 1889, a few weeks before the first mass on Dec. 8 which is considered Muenster's official birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rohmer hadn't planned on a 47th observance. They look forward to a big all-family celebration for the golden anniversary. Their sons got the informal observance together this year to mark the wedding date.

Birthday Surprise Greet A. J. Endres

A surprise evening party and a noon dinner party were events observing the birthday of Postmaster Arthur J. Endres. The surprise gathering of relatives greeted him at his home Jan. 23 and the dinner party complimented him in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Endres, Jan. 25.

Sharing honors at the Sunday dinner was Arthur's brother, Mayor Urban Endres, whose birthday was Jan. 28. A decorated cake was a centerpiece for the table and family members were guests.

The surprise party group brought ice cream to be served with birthday cake baked by Mrs. Endres for her husband. Card games furnished diversion for the group of about 20.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Endres, Mr. and Mrs. John Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hartman and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Al Walter and Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hartman and Tim, Dorothy Hartman and Mrs. B. J. Swirczynski.

Three Share Honors At Ft. Worth Dinner

Family gathering and birthday dinner Sunday in Fort Worth honored three members of the Sanders family, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sanders from here were there for the celebration. Mrs. Sanders was one of the honorees.

Sunday was Mrs. Sander's birthday and also their son's, Coyle Sanders of Fort Worth. The third honoree was the Sanders' son-in-law, Walter Cook, also of Fort Worth, whose birthday was Saturday. The reunion and dinner, attended by all members of the family, were held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cook. A decorated cake was centerpiece for the table and the honor guests received gifts.

In 1957, average family income in this country was $5,000. About one-tenth of our 44 million families had incomes of $10,000 or more, while two-fifths were in the $5,000-$10,000 range.

Since 1940, per acre yield of corn in the U.S. has risen 56%, wheat 40% and cotton 67%.

Mrs. Urban Endres Hosts Club Meeting

Members of the Friendly Neighbors Club were entertained in the home of Mrs. Urban Endres for their January social, enjoying a progressive 42 series and refreshments. Mrs. Endres served pie and coffee after the games.

Nine members and three guests attended. The guests were Mrs. Arthur Endres who won the galloping award, Mrs. Tom Brown of Gainesville who received the consolation award and Mrs. Clarence Hellman. Top winners in the games were Mrs. J. C. Trachta, high score, and Mrs. Dick Trachta, second high.

Linda Fette Honored At Birthday Party

Thirteenth birthday of Linda Fette was observed Jan. 23 with a treasure hunt and slumber party at her home. Seven guests helped her celebrate.

They began the evening party with sandwiches, snacks and soft drinks, then set out for the hunt and returned to the house for birthday cake and ice cream before retiring.

The honoree's mother, Mrs. Faye Fette, and her aunt, Mrs. Kate Reynolds, were hostesses.

In the morning the girls had breakfast before returning to their homes. Present were Nancy Sanner, Pamela Russell, Patsy Fette, Sandra Cain, Marilyn Golden, Diane Horn and Bobbye Tuggle.

Idle 8 Club Meets With Anna Hellman

Members of the Idle Eight Club enjoyed their January social with Miss Anna Hellman as hostess in her home. Pecan pie and coffee were refreshments after a series of progressive 42.

Winners in the games were Mrs. John Wieler for high score, Mrs. Clarence Wilson, second high, and Mrs. Jake Pagel, low tally. Others present were Mmes. J. B. Wilde, Joe Kathman, Joe Horn and Joe Luke.

Visitors Honored At Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Reagon McElreath were hosts Sunday for a dinner party at noon for out of town guests. They entertained for her sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Grober of Muskogee, Okla., who with their baby son spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Morris, and for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haverkamp and children Monte and Karla Sue of Electra who were spending the weekend with the Morris family and with Walter's family, the Lee Haverkamps.

The Walter Haverkamps and their children were supper guests with his parents in their home where other visitors Sunday were Walter's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Forgey and daughters Mary Lee and Gretchen of Denton.

SMART PEOPLE, THE SWISS!

The Swiss people are not going to kill the goose that lays these golden eggs. In a recent referendum, by an overwhelming majority, Switzerland voted against adopting a 44-hour week to replace the 48-hour week which has been standard in that country since 1919.

The citizens of that doughty little Republic are keen for the 44-hour week. Why then did they vote against it? Simply because they felt that most of the Swiss industries could not increase their production fast enough to compensate for the increased labor cost. They realized that this would have meant inflation accompanied by higher living costs.

Smart people, those Swiss! Two million of Switzerland's 5 million population are employed in manufacturing. Higher prices for Swiss products would have cut export sales, and those export sales in large part account for the high standard of living which the Swiss people enjoy, which incidentally is almost as high as our own.

Perhaps the outstanding thing about this Swiss rejection of the proposed shorter work week, was that even the labor unions opposed the proposal. This columnist has the temerity to suggest that quite a number of our American union labor leaders would do well to emulate the splendid example set by their conferees in Switzerland. Swiss labor leaders are averse to killing the golden goose — our American labor leaders (some of them) seem to be hell-bent on slaying the source of the golden eggs.

FIGHT FOR SURVIVAL

Debate continues over the Internal Revenue Service ruling that advertising placed by private power companies in opposition to socialized power is not a legitimate business expense and so is not deductible for tax purposes.

The Internal Revenue Service, and those who support its position, hold in effect that the private-vs-socialized power issue is a political question and not a business matter. The utilities, on the other hand, point out that they are simply fighting tax-exempt government competition — which, obviously, is the toughest, most ruthless competition of all.

This caused the Salt Lake Tribune, in a moderate editorial to say: "Most advertising is aimed at meeting competition. And it is regarded as a legitimate business expense."

"Why isn't advertising aimed at meeting government competition legitimate?"

"Actually it may be more legitimate than normal advertising aimed at private competition. For the government's competition in the electric power field is not always fair. Public power projects enjoy certain financing and tax advantages unavailable to private utilities."

Actually, the utilities must do much more than meet competition from the government. Their fight is for survival. It is certainly no secret that the ultimate goal of the public power forces is total socialization of the industry.

In that connection, something else said by the Tribune is significant: "No one has made any move to muzzle the advocates of public power. Why attempt to muzzle those who seek to present the other side?" Do the advocates of socialization want to banish the rights of free speech and free expression, on pain of heavy tax penalties?

Relentless Pursuers

GOOD OLD UNCLE— COMES TO THE RESCUE

The city fathers of Anderson, S.C., run the municipal cemetery, a restful place called New Silver Brook. It didn't fill up as rapidly as they expected, and they found themselves with about 50 acres which wasn't urgently needed.

They could make a park and playground out of it, but some people would not understand — and rightly so. The burying grounds are not exactly the place to play. They could feed it and seed it. This, according to the city engineer, would cost between $500 and $1,000.

So what did they do? Well, they got smart. They fertilized and seeded it and put the whole tract in the Federal Soil Bank. On this investment they collect between $2,500 and $3,000 every year.

All of which reminds us: We have a little land in the backyard which sort of falls over the hill. It supports a poor crop of grass and a shabby stand of weeds. With a little encouragement and for much less than $2,000, we would be happy to put it in the soil bank and let the taxpayers worry about it. That seems to be what they are for. —Charleston Daily Mail.

THE SECURITY LOTTERY

When you buy insurance, the policy tells you what you'll get for your money — and what you won't. It's a contract, and that's that.

Some people think of Social Security as "insurance," which it started out to be but isn't at all. The government tells you what to pay now (or have your property seized) and maybe you'll get something later, maybe not.

Congress decides both what you'll pay, and what you'll get — if anything. The money goes into the Treasury to be spent, and the government puts IOUs into the Social Security account for you to pay in taxes later, or for your children to pay.

You can pay all your life — and collect a mere $200 death benefit.

Or you can pay for a few years and hit the jackpot of maximum benefits. Congress makes the rules, and a later Congress can change them. It often does.

This is just something to think about now that your contribution to this insecure "security" has gone up by another one-fourth of one per cent on the first $4,800 of your salary.

U. S. population is now above 175,500,000, according to the Census Bureau — 24,500,000 greater than in 1950. Females are slightly in the majority, with 50.5 per cent of the total. There are some 15 million people who have reached or passed 65.

UNBELIEVABLE IN AMERICA

Government agents in Indiana impound the two tractors that a farmer owns. In Michigan, they tie up a farmer's $3,400 bank account. Two Oklahoma ranchers are hauled into court in Dallas, Texas, and sued for $502.06.

What crimes did these men commit? They planted wheat beyond the 30-acre limit, to feed their own stock, without a government permit or allotment! Government agents aren't to blame — they're only enforcing a law that Congress passed. Nevertheless in this land of the free such events seem incredible! How ridiculous can a law get? When the lawmakers return in January, let's change it.

THEY GO TOGETHER

"You have heard it said that churches and newspapers rise and fall together. In every land bent under a tyrant's yoke, two things stand out: (1) a controlled press and (2) an intimidated church. You may put it down for a truism that there cannot long be a free church in a nation which has a slave press. By the same token, a free press will not endure alongside an imprisoned church.

"The two thus are dependent on each other and complementary to each other. The press maintains freedom of the mind and the church preserves freedom of the spirit. Both are necessary. Take one away and the other is sorely distressed." —Fulton (Miss.) Times

BUYING POWER

Joe, an average U. S. factory worker, works some 20 minutes to buy a pound of bacon, ham or butter. Ivan, his U.S.S.R. counterpart, labors seven times as long to make the same purchases. For a suit, Joe pays four days' wages; for a much inferior garment, Ivan has to put up two months' pay.

DON'T BLAME THE SCHOOLS!

by Rev. HENRY V. SATTLER, Ph.D., author of Parents, Children, and the Facts of Life

Ever since Russia launched Sputnik I, critics have been attacking the American school system. But the truth is that much of the blame for study failures belongs to parents because they are the ones who should educate and discipline their children. Too often, however, the schools, TV, comics, and books on etiquette have become the educators instead. Why?

THE FACT is that too many parents think that the first purpose of marriage is mutual sex pleasure, companionship, a pleasant sharing of labor, and a high standard of living. Good as these may be, they are not the primary object of marriage.

Sattler

The main object of marriage, whether couples realize it or not, is to bring children into the world and then to see to it that they grow up properly. This includes educating them.

New and beautiful schools, increased salaries for teachers, and improved teaching methods are important. However, they can help solve the intellectual and moral problems of our age only if couples approaching marriage and educators understand that having and training children is the first object of marriage. God never intended that children be surrendered from birth to the "experts."

It is true that usually parents cannot give formal scientific training. Such training may be delegated to a teacher. But the teacher is merely the parent's assistant. The parents still hold the primary role as educators of their children.

THE FIRST educative role of parents is to provide an encouraging atmosphere for the pursuit of knowledge and virtue. The promotion of healthy, intellectual, recreational, and social activities will help develop intelligent youth, whether the parents have college degrees or not. Such distractions as excessive television viewing, frequent movie going, and constant socializing on school nights must be controlled by prudent parental judgment.

SECONDLY, parents must guide their own children. Cultural and spiritual values, personal attitudes, virtues, self-control, and self-discipline cannot be taught in the classroom by word of mouth. They must be absorbed from the values, attitudes, disciplines, and rewards of the parents themselves.

In order for parents to achieve this objective, a complete about-face must come into the minds of young people who are approaching marriage.

PARENTHOOD must again become the first object of marriage. Since a child's existence is not completed but only begun at birth, children must be wanted and loved throughout their growing lifetime so that they can achieve the intellectual, moral, and spiritual maturity which makes an adult Christian citizen.

HOME must again become a place where a child is wanted not for what he can do or contribute, but simply for the fact that he is.

† Paulist Feature Service, Washington 17, D. C.

GONE WITH THE WINDBAGS

The windbags on Capitol Hill are at it again — with your money. So far this year, copies of the Congressional Record (which costs $75 a page) are bigger, fatter and duller than ever.

In one issue recently, members of Congress used up 86 pages just to reprint stuff which already had been made public. Included were two complete articles from a national magazine which has 100 times more readers than the Record. There also were tributes to Iowa's Rose Bowl victory, Abraham Lincoln, veterans, Sam Rayburn and almost anything else you can think of.

Reprinting all this cost $6,450, just for one day. And the sad part was that much of it was devoted to ringing declarations that Congress somehow must cut down the high cost of government.—Fort Worth Press.

Where One Pays What He Pleases

In the little town of Waller, Texas, is a store unlike any other in the world, according to Dorothy Biddle in Rig & Reel. Though anything can be bought there, from tomatoes to teapots, you wait on yourself. There aren't any clerks to be found there.

When you have located what you want, you will find no price tag on it; instead, just a notation of what the goods cost the shopkeeper. Ready to leave with your purchase, you stop at the counter near the door and wrap your package. Then you turn to the owner and hand him a piece of money.

"How much change, please?" he asks, without querying the yardage or weight. Whatever amount you answer, is given to you promptly.

And on this basis "God's Mercy Store" has been doing business for twenty-two years. The idea evolved when A. D. Purvis, a small Texas farm owner, became concerned over the plight of his neighbors, who were poor sharecroppers and who were constantly in debt to the big plantation commissaries for their supplies.

One day Purvis had a vision wherein he was certain a divine voice commanded him to sell his property, go to the nearest town and establish a store where prices were fair and reasonable. Together with his wife and two small children he trekked to nearby Waller, and with the money from the sale of his farm he built a small shack. This was the beginning of "God's Mercy Store," the only successful enterprise in the world in which the customer decides on the storekeeper's profit.

You've reached middle age when it's a doctor who tells you to slow down instead of a policeman.

SMALLEST?—Mr. and Mrs. Victor Franzen visit the tiny, 4 1/2 x 7-foot chapel at Wiscasset, Me., billed as "the smallest church in the world." Its steeple is topped by a golf ball, because "there is no game in life that brings people so close to God." So says its builder, retired Baptist minister Rev. Mr. Louis W. West, 73.

was home for a weekend visit with her father, W. T. Richter, and other family members.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walterscheid visited here Sunday and overnight with relatives and have started housekeeping in Hereford where they are at home on a farm. The visit here was the end of their honeymoon trip which took them to Louisiana and South Texas.

Mrs. H. C. Billingsley of Ardmore spent the weekend here with her relatives of the Wieler families. She's the former Emma Wieler. Mrs. Billingsley was the overnight guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. Ervin Hamric. She came here by bus and returned home in company of her nephews, Dan and Burt Hamric, who drove to Norman Sunday afternoon. Monday both boys registered at Oklahoma University for the new semester. Dan is a freshman and Burt is a new enrollee working on his masters degree in petroleum engineering.

Weekend trip to College Station was enjoyable for Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wolf and Mrs. Norbert Klement and daughter Shirley. They were guests of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Klement and son Chris and helped Wilfred celebrate his birthday Sunday.

Marcy Klement and Mary Pick ended a three-day visit here Sunday and returned to St. Joseph's School of Nursing in Fort Worth. They were guests in the homes of their parents, the Norbert Klements and Henry Picks. Sunday visitor in the Pick home was Airman Jim Schwartz of Carswell AFB and Mary and Marcy joined him on the drive back.

Butch Fisher and Jimmy Fisher of Texas Tech came home to spend the semester holidays with their families, the John and Joe Fishers.

Charlie Herr of Texas Tech spent the semester holidays with his family, the Frank Herrs. Other guests on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Herr and children of Wichita Falls. Joining them for dinner in the Herr home were Mr. and Mrs. Denis Walterscheid and children. The Ronnie Herrs also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Henscheid, before returning home.

Weekending with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Richardson were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Howerton and children Docena, Donald and Doak of Snyder.

Local News BRIEFS

Back to register for a new semester at Dallas University Monday was Ann Luke, after a five-day vacation at home with her parents. She is a student nurse at St. Paul's in Dallas.

Betty Ann Hoenig of Wichita Falls weekendend with her family, the Tony Hoenigs. She's a student at Draughtons Business College and was recently elected treasurer of the student council.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Klement have named their twin daughters Marlene and Darlene. The babies were christened Sunday afternoon in Sacred Heart Church with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Shick of Wichita Falls as godparents for both. Mrs. Shick is the former Doris Lee Horn, niece of Mrs. Klement. Father Christopher officiated at the double baptism and sisters and brothers of the twins attended the ceremony. Mrs. Klement and the babies were dismissed from Muenster Clinic Sunday.

Miss Clara Richter of Dallas

Drive to Fort Worth Sunday and a visit with Sister Marie Cecile at OLV Convent took up the day for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Endres and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Endres. They also stopped for a short visit with Father Patrick Hannon at St. Mary's rectory.

Former Muensterites Mr. and Mrs. Gene Carter of Seymour stopped here Saturday morning for a pop call with friends at the Enterprise office, where Gene formerly worked. They were on their way to East Texas to spend the weekend with relatives.

Joe Linn attended funeral services for Mrs. W. T. Knight at Era Monday. Mrs. Knight was the mother of Mrs. Lex Linn. The Lex Linns, formerly of Muenster, now live in Pasadena, Texas, where both are school teachers.

Here for the weekend to visit relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schleicher and baby son Cliff of Garland. They were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Klement. Also at home for the mid-term recess were the Klements' sons Jerry of Texas A&M and David of North Texas State. Joining the family Sunday for a visit were Dick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Schleicher of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wright—she's the former Anselma Felderhoff—have written her mother, Mrs. John Felderhoff, that they are living in Victoria now having moved there from Dallas, and that they are getting settled in their new home which they bought. John has been named cashier in the American Bank of Commerce at Victoria and they are at home at 2605 E. Mistletoe. While they lived in Dallas the past two years he was an assistant national bank examiner.

Mrs. Ray Evans and Mrs. J. C. Trachta returned Monday from a two-day visit in Dallas at the summer fashion market.

Joan Roberg and Arlene Malone of Fort Worth were Saturday overnight and Sunday guests of relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jackson and children of Fort Worth came to Muenster Sunday to spend the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel.

Weekending with their parents here were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Henscheid of Dallas. They divided their time between the Leo Henscheids and Ray Owens.

Jeanette Haverkamp and Loretta Magas have both gone to work in Dallas following graduation from beauty school and passing of state board tests. They're together at Naomi's Beauty Salon in Walnut Hills. Loretta was here for a weekend visit with homefolks.

Between 1947 and 1953 chemicals passed up oil as Texas' leading industry.

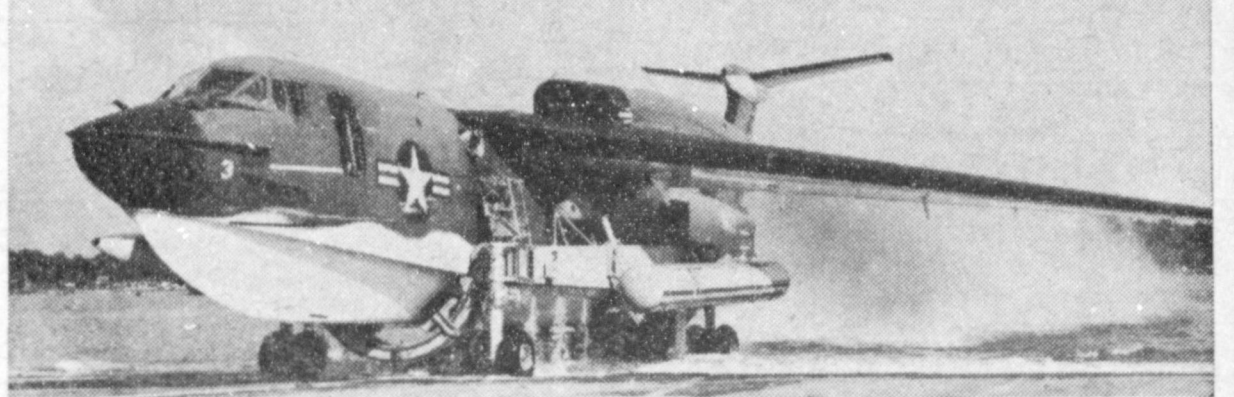

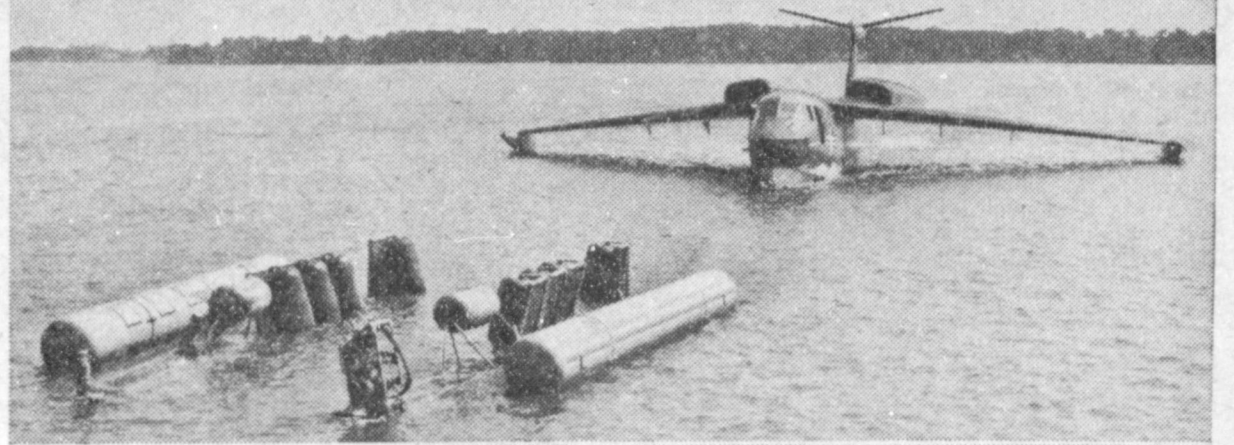

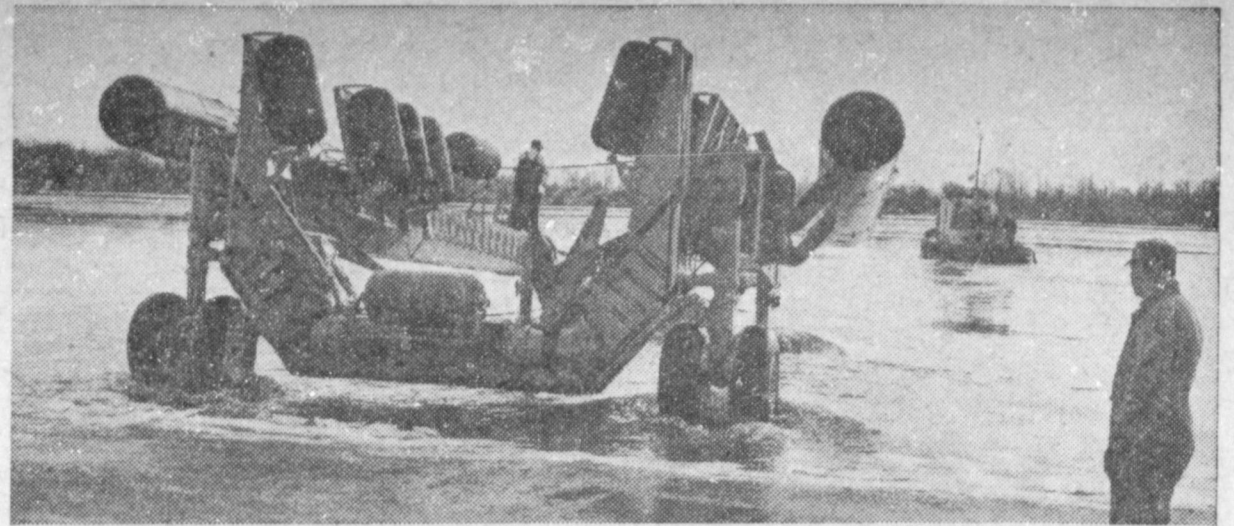

A pale, shaky customer approached a bartender on the afternoon of New Year's Day. "Was I here last night?" he asked. "You sure were," answered the barman. "You ordered drinks for everyone at the bar, time and again, like you owned the joint. You paid up with a $100 bill — left a big tip." The customer looked relieved. "I'm so glad," he said, with a sigh, "I thought I'd lost it."

Just Testing

It was baking day and the new maid and her mistress were having a busy time.

"Mary," said the lady of the house, "just go and see if that large plum cake in the oven is baked. Stick in a knife and see if it comes out clean."

In a few minutes Mary returned "The knife came out wonderfully clean, ma'am," she beamed, "so I've stuck in all the other dirty knives."

ELECTRICITY FOR 1969 ON DRAWING BOARD NOW

Time was when the spring and fall catalogues were "dog-eared" from use by the whole family... selecting and ordering merchandise needed for the coming season. Ordering and waiting was the accepted procedure for much of the buying.

Not so with the electric industry! A closer look reveals, for more than 46 years, those receiving their electric service from TP&L have never had to wait. Placing an order simply meant flipping a switch and your electricity was there instantly to serve you.

This instantaneous service, now taken for granted, is possible because TP&L is constantly planning to keep ahead of your needs for electricity. As your requirements have grown,

TP&L has always anticipated your increasing needs. Construction plans for supplying your power needs five to ten years hence are on TP&L's drawing boards now. It takes three years of construction time to build a modern power plant... so you can see that plans must be developed years in advance, commitments made and contracts signed. This is the only way to be sure you'll have plenty of power... always.

TP&L is a product of our country's free enterprise system at work. Through advanced planning and efficient operation it has been able to keep your supply of electricity plentiful, and the price low. Since 1936 the unit price of residential electricity has gone down 43% while the cost of living has gone up 108%.

Wheeler McMillen of Farm Journal writes: "The pitchfork, scoop shovel and bushel basket are giving way in the barn to automatic devices. The barn itself has to change, too. Almost no farmer would think now of using the types of field machinery that were the newest and best in 1920; yet many struggle along with barns and sheds that were built in 1900 or earlier. It will be cheaper to tear down some of those old structures and start anew than to remodel. I look for a spurt toward more efficient farm work buildings; estimates indicate that 50% to 85% of them are obsolete."

COUCHFUL OF BED ROOM—More room for living in small quarters is offered in this king-size sofa-bed. Folded together, it appears to be a conventional sofa. With seven-foot spring and mattress extended it becomes a bed with built-in comforts. Sofa's back lifts to reveal space for a radio, books and ash trays. Model Nancy Rutenberg didn't say how that plant near her shoulder is supposed to stay alive when bed is folded. Shown at Chicago's furniture mart, the sofa-bed is no gimmick. It's in production.

Lindsay News

Members of the Lindsay PTC are getting organized for a benefit program to be presented Feb. 8. Headlining the entertainment will be a womanless wedding. Other home talent will be on the program and a card party and refreshments will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bezner Jr. are in Meclaro, La., where Thursday they attended funeral services for her aunt, Miss Azelia Ordoyne. They left Tuesday after receiving word of her death. Mrs. Bezner Sr. is staying with her grandchildren while their parents are away.

Rev. Bede Mitchell, O.S.B. of Little Rock, Ark., Tuesday ended a retreat for Lindsay High School students. The special services started Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bezner joined by their daughter Viola Bezner and her friend Mel Glied, both of Arlington, drove to Vinita, Okla., to spend the weekend with the Bezners' daughter, Sister Anna Rose who is a music teacher at Sacred Heart School there. Viola and Mel are both nurse anesthetists in the hospital at Arlington and were off duty Friday through Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neu have moved from Gainesville to make their home on a farm south of Lindsay. It's the place formerly occupied by the Paul Neu family. They moved to a farm south of Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Friske have a new white and blue Chevrolet Biscayne 4-door sedan.

January meeting for the Lazy Day Club was held with Mrs. Bill Eberhart as hostess in her home. After a series of games she served refreshments to Mrs. Bill Flusche, Mrs. Albert Zimmerer, Mrs. Ray Sicking of Muenster and Mrs. Walter Eberhart of Gainesville, and their children. Unable to attend were Mrs. Ed Eberhart, Mrs. Herman Eberhart and Mrs. Eddie Krahl of Muenster.

William Flusche a freshman at Texas A&M College is spending the mid-term recess here with his family, the Bill Flusches.

St. Peter's Parish had annual Forty Hours Adoration this week Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Eleven priests were present for the solemn closing service and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison attended. They brought the clergy from Denison to Lindsay.

Jimmy Eberhart is Birthday Honoree

Twenty boys and girls, classmates of Jimmy Eberhart, helped him celebrate his 12th birthday Sunday with a party at his home at Lindsay. Jimmy's mother, Mrs. Bill Eberhart, was hostess, assisted by his aunt, Mrs. Bill Flusche.

Mrs. Flusche baked and decorated the birthday cake and all the guests remembered Jimmy with gifts.

Indoor and outdoor games, cake and ice cream and Valentine candy favors made it a gay afternoon for the youngsters.

Muenster, Lindsay Groups See Three Graduated at NTSC

Muenster and Lindsay were represented at the winter commencement exercises at NTSC in Denton Tuesday when Lawrence Dankesreiter and Willard Hartman of Muenster and Leonard Hermes of Lindsay received their diplomas.

Willard received his degree in business administration in marketing and Lawrence and Leonard received degrees in industrial arts.

Attending from Muenster were L. F. Dankesreiter and daughter Lucille, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman and daughters Della and Patsy, Mrs. Ervin Hamric, Mrs. John Wieler and daughter Jean and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hartman.

Others there for Willard's graduation were his sisters, Mrs. Keith Tompkins of Fort Worth and Mrs. Walter Wolf and her husband from Gainesville. Also Miss Karol Kosel and her mother of Rosebud who accompanied the Hartmans home for a visit until Thursday when Karol returned to NTSC for the new semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hermes of Lindsay were present to see their son get his diploma. Other family members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hermes of Lindsay and Mary Margaret Hermes of Fort Worth. Also Joe Pat Bohac of Fort Worth. They all came to Lindsay for six o'clock dinner in the Ben Hermes home.

Another graduate of the class was busy teaching and didn't attend the commencement program. He's Adam Wolf of Lindsay who is on the faculty at Sacred Heart High since the new semester began. His degree is in industrial arts.

Returns From Trip

Get Mrs. John Kathman in a conversation these days and chances are she'll tell you about an enjoyable five-week visit in Illinois and Kentucky. She left here the middle of December to spend the holidays with her daughter and son-in-law, the John Caugheys in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Caughey in Peoria. On Dec. 26 there was a small dinner party observing Airman and Mrs. Caughey's wedding anniversary and the next day Mrs. Kathman went to Louisville where she visited her cousins. They took her to visit other relatives in surrounding towns and before she started back home she was the guest of a niece of her late husband in Anchorage, Ky. Airman and Mrs. Caughey ended their leave on Jan. 8 and returned by plane to his base in Puerto Rico.

Mrs. David Black Honoree at Party

Mrs. David Black of Myra was complimented with a gift party Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. U. E. Cato with Mrs. J. S. Russell and Mrs. Thurman Reid of Muenster as co-hostesses.

Eighteen guests were served punch and cookies as they arrived and the honoree opened and displayed a shower of gifts wrapped in pink and blue, then placed them in a decorated basket.

Mrs. Jack Biffle won the game prize and Mrs. T. F. McKenzie drew the door prize. They presented them to the honor guest.

Whether he winds up with a nest egg or a goose egg will depend a lot on the chick he marries.

Confetti . . .

Protestants, another organization known as "The Committee of One Million Against the Admission of Red China to the UN" delegated five prominent Protestant leaders to conduct a survey among Protestant ministers of all denominations to determine their attitude on the subject.

Results of that poll have just been released, and they completely discredit the small group of Red sympathizers who attempt to present their twisted ideas as the voice of Protestantism.

A total of 8,572 Protestant ministers replied to the questionnaire and only 963 expressed approval of recognizing Red China and admitting it to the UN. Another 172 expressed no opinion or a divided point of view. The remaining 7,437 registered their firm opposition on both counts. That's 87 per cent opposing the Chinese Communists, 11 per cent favoring them, and 2 per cent undecided.

All in all it's cheering assurance that the vast majority of Christian leaders in this country know what the score is . . . but also an indication that the top offices of the National Council of Churches of Christ need a thorough housecleaning.
