

NEW COTTON ACREAGE PROGRAM WOULD HOLD CROP AVERAGE DOWN

Program Would Limit Production In U. S. to 10,500,000 Bales During Year

The Department of Agriculture disclosed plans this week for a cotton acreage reduction designed to hold 1938 production to 10,500,000 bales.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration hopes to remove between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000 acres of cotton from cultivation this year, leaving approximately 26,000,000 acres to be planted.

The 1937 cotton loan and subsidy program already binds farmers who receive either a loan or a subsidy simply with whatever reduction from the AAA announces for year.

A. R. Tolley, AAA administrator, said the administration would have at least $230,000,000—$100,000,000 for soil conservation and $130,000,000 for subsidies—for payment to cotton farmers this fall. This would be equivalent to more than $25 per acre removed from cultivation—by far the largest amount ever available for a cotton program, Tolley said.

If President Roosevelt's budget recommendations are approved by Congress the AAA will have $70,000,000 available for farm aid in the 1939 fiscal year. This includes a $65,000,000 "holdover."

This amount would be an all-time record, and approximately $250,000,000 more than estimated AAA expenditures during the current fiscal year. It comprised approximately 80 per cent of the entire agriculture department budget.

Earlier plans for a 28,000,000-acre cotton crop this year have been revised downward as production estimates for 1937 increased, domestic mill activity decreased sharply and export demand failed to meet expectations.

Increase Noted In Number of Chattel Papers Filed Here

Number of chattel mortgages filed in County Clerk Vernon Green's office in 1937 almost doubled 1936 figures. Records show that 6,224 mortgages were filed in 1937 as compared with 3,425 in 1936.

"If any additional proof were needed business conditions are satisfactory in Brown county, this chattel mortgage record would supply it," Green declared. "An increase in sales of merchandise of every type is represented."

Records of chattel mortgages filed for the past six years follow: 1932, 3,425; 1933, 3,751; 1934, 4,235; 1935, 4,900; 1936, 6,198; 1937, 6,224.

Chattel mortgages are defined as papers signed by purchasers of automobiles, radios, refrigerators, and other personal property bought on the installment plan, as well as loans on crops and other items.

How Japanese Battered Their Way Into Nanking

Literally pounding at the gates of Nanking, the Japanese artillery fires at almost point-blank range to batter down the South gate, barricaded by the retreating Chinese forces. The relentless fire and air raids shortly created panic among the defenders and, in their attempts to flee through the one remaining gate, thousands were reported crushed to death.

Tokyo 'Makes Light' of Nanking's Downfall

Japanese spirits were exceptionally light during the big celebration of the fall of Nanking. Thousands of joyful citizens staged a lantern parade on the road that parallels the most around the Imperial Palace at Tokyo. The stream of light that flows past the Diet Building was made by moving lanterns, oriental counterparts of the torches carried by paraders in Europe's fascist countries.

YOUTHS ARE CONVICTED OF MACHINE BURGLARY

Unusual Amount of Juvenile Delinquency Is Noted in Past Few Weeks

Three Brownwood youths, Preston Honeysuckle, Herschell Mills and Ben Harrison, face charges of delinquency in connection with the burglary Christmas night of the Ted Laquey wrecking shop at 103 Main street.

After the youths were arrested Friday night, cutting torches, drill bits and other equipment taken from the shop were recovered. A small motor stolen recently from Leach Bros. Mfg. Co. also was recovered.

In the reformatory less than 24 hours after they were convicted of automobile theft are Jim Morgan, Brownwood, and Billy Jack Johnson, Yoakum, who were convicted as delinquent juveniles in county court Wednesday and transferred to Gateville reformatory Wednesday afternoon.

E. B. Tongate, farmer southwest of Brownwood, had picked the youthful hitchhikers up Tuesday. After they left the car, Tongate drove into his pasture, and worked for a short while burning prickly pear. The car had been taken in the meantime by Jackson and Yoakum.

The machine had been turned over on the highway east of Lometa. Following the wreck the boys left the car and started walking toward Lampasas, where they were overtaken by Sheriff Jack Hallmark and placed under arrest.

Arrested last week by city police in connection with several burglaries of the J. C. Penny Store, A. T. Richey, 50, local salesman, faces two charges of burglary. According to Police Chief J. L. Sandlin, additional charges will be filed.

Merchandise valued at approximately $200 has been recovered by officers. About $175 worth was found in Richey's room at a local residence, and additional merchandise taken from the Penney store was recovered at two houses between Proctor and Gustine in Comanche county.

L. R. Douthit, wanted in Granite, Oklahoma, on a felony swindling charge, was arrested in Brownwood Friday night by Sheriff Hallmark and City Policemen Fred White and Coleman Pruitt. Sheriff G. E. Williams of Granite arrived Saturday to return the prisoner to Oklahoma.

Sheriff Hallmark, Deputies Chester Avinger, Howard Becker, and A. P. Taylor and Liquor Board Inspector J. D. Pelphrey in a raid at May Saturday morning arrested O. L. Killian and charged him with possession of both bonded and corn liquor.

Financial Outlook of Old Age Commission Brighter This Month

Texas old age assistance fund, which caused a special session of the Texas Legislature last September, is out of the red.

According to State Treasurer Charley Lockhart, the old age fund had a balance of $171,235 after deducting the balance due the Republic National Bank of Dallas which tided the state over an old age assistance shortage last summer.

Liquor and cigaret taxes totaling $1,248,672 were collected in December, Lockhart said, resulting in pulling the old age fund back to solid ground.

January 15 the Old Age Assistance Commission will be mailing January aid checks to 113,900 beneficiaries. Average payment will be $13.71.

Original debt to the Dallas bank was $1,820,000. Payments have reduced the amount to $1,404,629.

RECESSION CAUSED BY DECLINE IN FEDERAL SPENDING, SAYS SECY

Farm Relief Needs Are Rising Fast, Wallace Declares In Statement

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace declared this week that "economists are agreed" that a decline in government spending had disturbed the balance between business income, employment and farm income, resulting in the present recession.

Farm relief needs are rising fast, Wallace told the Senate Unemployment and Relief Committee, and that present funds for agricultural aid may not be sufficient to cover demands for the rest of the fiscal year. A deficiency appropriation may be necessary, he said.

Col. Leonard P. Ayres, Cleveland economist, predicted that the nation should reach the bottom of the recession during the first half of 1938. He suggested a "rather slow" recovery and cited electric utilities as the "key log of this economic jam."

"The most productive contribution that Congress could make," said Tyres, "would be repeal of the undistributed profits tax. Should this tax be repealed, I believe that it would go a long way toward restoring confidence."

Assurance of investment return, said Ayres, would bring resumption of $1,000,000,000 annual utilities expenditures, aiding in turn, railroads, iron and steel, and auto industries.

Wallace said it was obvious that government spending beyond revenue cannot continue indefinitely, but that immediate efforts must be made to restore income balance and added that the government had the authority to take action.

The Secretary outlined no specific program for such action.

In citing the cause of the recession, Wallace said that government spending declined from $1.25 for each $1 of revenue in the first half of 1937 to $1.08 to each $1 of income during the last half of the year.

"The program is to maintain a continuous balance of farm and labor income," he said. "The government should use all of its powers to maintain that balance."

"The cause of the immediate situation is pretty well agreed upon by economists."

"In the last half of 1935, the government expenditures amounted to about $1.75 to each dollar of receipts."

"In the first half of 1937 it was $1.25 but in the last half was $1.08. When government expenditures were very rapidly decreased the balance was disturbed."

"The program ahead is to maintain that balance."

"Obviously, the government cannot continue to spend $1.75 for each dollar of receipts."

"At the present time we are not faced with inflation. We are faced with deflation."

Ayres said a delay in American recovery would result in a world downturn and consequently impair the recovery movement in this country.

"I should completely agree that this is a time for cooperation, toleration and agreement between business, labor and government, to find a solution to this recession," Ayres said.

"There is a great country-wide industry that would not only be ready, but eager to resume its expenditures of $1,000,000,000 a year if it felt that there was an assurance of a good return on its investment."

"If the utilities would return to their old construction, the railroads also would have to go back to its old equipment purchases. In turn, that would affect the iron and steel industries and subsequently the automobile industry."

Ayres said he felt that repeal of the undistributed profits tax would be "the cheapest investment" that government could make toward recovery.

Garner Couldn't Duck High Hat

Vice-President Garner's rather pained grin can be blamed directly on his failure to repeat the coup of a year ago when he arranged with President Roosevelt to dispense with the customary exchange of formal dinner, chiefly because he has an intense dislike of climbing into white tie and tails. Muffled and top hatted, you see him above on the way to the White House to be the evening's honor guest.

FFA BEGINS POULTRY EXPERIMENT TO BRING ADDITIONAL REVENUE

2,000 Fryers a Week on Market Is Goal of Seven Chapters In Two Counties

Under a new project plan, Brown and Eastland county F. F. A. members hope to put 2,000 fryers a week on the market for a period of five to six weeks. Through cooperative selling to obtain a steady volume F. F. A. leaders believe the boys can obtain fancy prices on the Fort Worth and other large markets.

Roscoe Brooks, of the Brownwood Feed and Hatchery, is cooperating with the F. F. A. in the project. Chapters participating in the project are Brownwood, May, Bangs, Williams, Cross Plains, Pioneer and Rising Star.

The chickens to be marketed as fryers are a cross breed of white leghorns and Rhode Island Reds. This type will give a quick maturing fryer, uniform in growth and size, and one that will stand heavy feeding, according to Brooks. The cross breed was decided upon after later found that the same type is used by large poultry raisers who specialize in growing fryers for the market.

First hatch of the special breed will be off January 15. The fryers will be ready for market in 9 to 10 weeks, or in the latter part of March.

Prizes of both merchandise and money will be offered. Show prizes will range from $1 for single bird classes and $5 for pen classes to a $100 bronze trophy for the champion. D. H. Jeffries, Abilene, is defending champion of the bronze trophy. Both bird and egg exhibits will be shown.

Brownwood business men have cooperated by subscribing to the prize fund. Any grower may offer his birds for sale at an auction.

Catalogs describing the show will be sent to farmers and poultry breeders.

Unethical Medical Profession Members Flayed by Doctors

Unethical practices within the profession, including the "indiscriminate practice of writing liquor prescriptions as it is being done in Brownwood in wholesale manner at 25 cents per prescription," were flayed by members of the Brown-Mills Medical Society at a meeting in Hotel Brownwood Monday night.

"Unethical and irregular" were terms used by the doctors in describing the practice. That no prescription should be written for less than $1 was the consensus of opinion of the Association's members.

The program included the following features: film on "Ergotocin" from Eli Lilly Company; "Bronchiectasis" by Dr. Sim Hulsey; and "Diagnosis of Heart Conditions," by Dr. W. L. Howell.

Following members of the society were present: Doctors J. M. Campbell, J. E. Brookings; and J. J. Stephen of Goldthwaite; R. C. Felts of San Saba; and J. M. Horn, Joe R. McFarlane, O. N. Mayo, H. B. Allen, W. H. Paize, Ben M. Shelton, J. W. Tottenham, Roy G. Hallum, Earl Jones, H. L. Locker, H. L. Lobstein, C. C. Bullard, J. B. N. Walker, of Brownwood. Following visitors were present: Doctors Kenneth Ory of Comanche; W. L. Howell and Sim Hulsey of Fort Worth; J. C. Terrell and S. L. Witcher of Stephenville; and W. H. Guy of Dublin; R. R. Lovelady of Santa Anna; H. Romines of Brownwood; and Alton Stewart and E. C. Byars of Brownwood who were present to assist in showing the film.

Nineteen NYA youths employed at Blackland Experiment Station near Temple constructed 198 feet of concrete walks and steps, planted experimental grass and grains, measured and staked experimental plots, potted breeding shrubs and plants, and assisted in the blacksmith shop work during the last 15 day period. Special instruction periods in concrete construction work were conducted daily by a member of the station staff.

ROMANCE
I'll Take Romance

I am a graduate of Bangs High School, received my B. A. degree from Howard Payne College, and have done graduate study in the University of Texas. My major studies in Howard Payne were education and history. My major work in the University of Texas is Educational Administration and I am working toward a Master's degree in that field of study.

I hold a permanent high school certificate, and a special superintendent and principal's certificate issued by the State Department of Education to those who have completed eighteen hours of advanced Educational Administration and methods. This is equivalent to three years advanced study in administrative jobs in the public schools of our state.

CHAS. F. MATHEWS OF BANGS IS CANDIDATE FOR SUPERINTENDENT

Charles F. Mathews of Bangs today authorized The Banner to publish the following announcement of his candidacy for county school superintendent:

I was reared on a Brown county farm, spent eleven years in the public schools of Brown county, and worked my way through Howard Payne College. I believe in this length of time I have become thoroughly familiar with the public school needs of Brown county.

For the past two years I have been employed in Santa Anna public schools. During this time I have maintained residence at Bangs, and I render my personal and property tax in Brown county.

If elected I pledge to conform to the public school laws of our state, to give careful attention to every school which comes under the supervision of the county superintendent, and to confer with the superintendents and trustees of our county on all important matters, to cooperate with them in attempting to equalize the educational opportunities of the children of the county. It will be my desire to administer the schools to give maximum service with minimum cost.

My candidacy is based upon my qualifications to fill the position for which I am asking. I hope to see each voter, personally, but I shall be handicapped in doing so until after May 20, at which time I shall be released from present school duties.

I ask your careful consideration of my candidacy and trust you will hold in abeyance every promise of support until I have had an opportunity of personally presenting my candidacy.

CHARLES F. MATHEWS.

First objective of the National "Get-Out-the-Vote" Club for 1938, is the elimination of the poll tax as a prerequisite of the right to vote, and a strong case against the poll tax is made by Simon Michalet, president of the organization.

Eliminating The Poll Tax

Only seven American states, Mr. Michalet points out, retain the poll tax. Texas, of course, is one of these seven, having adopted the poll tax during reconstruction days. There are many reasons why the poll tax is not desirable, and it seems inevitable that some day Texas will join the other states that have abandoned it. Chief among these is that it disfranchises a large number of voters who should be entitled to vote. The measure always was a subterfuge, in that it was adopted to prevent negroes from voting in any large numbers. In this, it was very effective, and no doubt there was a time when the measure was needed. That time has passed, and there is no good reason now for not permitting every bona fide resident of legal age to vote in all elections.

As a matter of fact, every property owner is assessed a poll tax whether it is paid when due or not. Those who wait until after January 31 to pay their taxes not only accumulate an added sum in penalties and interest, but also are deprived of the benefit of poll tax payment by being barred from the polls. There is some question, however, whether abandonment of the poll tax in favor of a small registration fee for voters—the plan suggested as a substitute, would result in increased voting. Most residents interested enough to vote pay the $1.75 poll tax. They would register and vote only when sufficiently interested in the issue to be decided at any election. Witness the last constitutional amendment election, when about 10 per cent of those who paid poll taxes took the trouble to vote on the amendments. Witness also this week's election to select directors for the Brown County Water Improvement District, when an insignificant number of voters went to the polls. And the negligible Texas vote at any general election is due to the overwhelming Democratic majority rather than any restrictions thrown around voters.

Texas would do well to abandon the poll tax, because it is an unjust and unnecessary tax, and it doubtless works a hardship on many. But it is a good revenue producer and the million or more Texas voters who pay it each year contribute a sizeable sum into county and state treasuries. So long as this is true, it will be very difficult to abolish it without substituting some other and probably less objectionable tax measure, if such can be found.

Congress has voted down the Ludlow Bill, which would prevent the President from declaring war until such action be approved by a majority popular vote in the United States. But the measure is not dead, proponents having given notice that it would be made an issue, where possible, in the Congressional elections of this year. And so we can expect to hear more from the scheme in the months to come.

The Ludlow Bill

On the face of it, the Ludlow measure sounds plausible, and no doubt, will gain much popular support. No one wants war, and any measure that makes the declaration of war more difficult will meet with some measure of popular support. If a referendum on war would make it unnecessary for this country to engage in war with any other country, then the bill should be passed. But there is grave danger that the reverse would be true. It is entirely possible that adoption of the Ludlow plan would make it very much more difficult for this country to avoid war. Why? Well, it has been demonstrated this year more forcibly than ever before that the country least prepared to defend itself is most likely to be attacked. Such was the fate of China, disorganized and not prepared for war. Such was the fate of Ethiopia. Spain, unprepared to defend its government, is now engaged in a war that would have been prevented had a strong government been well established. Who doubts that any one of the strong European countries would not now be overrun with armies of some of its neighbors or rivals if it were not able and ready to defend itself? We do not want to invite any such condition in this country. No one wants war. No one would not go to almost any respectable extreme to avoid it. Yet this measure would invite, if not attack, at least disrespect to America because it would set up such a clumsy and unwieldy machinery that it would be difficult for America to protect itself. It would place this country in a distinct disadvantage in its dealings with other strong countries. It might even lead to loss of America's place as one of the strong, respected world powers.

The idea sound good, but like so many measures that are good in theory, it is impracticable of operation. Congress now is vested with authority to declare war. Representatives in Congress are answerable directly to the people, and any representative not expressing the will of his district can be removed by the voters at the next election, never more than two years away. And it is safe to assume that no Congressman would vote to plunge this country into any war unless there were no other alternative.

A splendid endorsement of the legislative record of Senator E. M. Davis is made in the Fredericksburg Standard by Colonel Alfred Petsch, member of the Legislature from Gillespie county. Colonel Petsch himself is one of the outstanding Texas legislators, and his opinion is of importance, especially, as he says, since he was originally not favorable to Senator Davis. Colonel Petsch, in a recent editorial, said: "With the beginning of next year the various political matters for consideration of the Texas voter will begin to have his attention. Among the considerations of the voters of our State Senatorial District is the question of whether or not Senator E. M. Davis should be returned to office."

Splendid Endorsement

In connection with our opinion on this question, it will be remembered that we did not support Mr. Davis when he was a candidate, but that we were for Penrose Merritt. Naturally, following Mr. Davis' election, we viewed his record as a critic, rather than a booster. But, notwithstanding all this, we must now state as a matter of fairness that he has made an excellent record as our representative in the upper house of the Legislature. He is conservative, believes in economy in the matters of expending of State funds, and can be depended upon to do what he promises. He is not of the vacillating and uncertain crowd, but has definite opinions and courage enough to put them into execution. He has made a good record, and he should be returned for a second term without opposition.

The MARCH OF TIME

A New BANNER Feature by the Editor of TIME, The Weekly Newsmagazine

State of the Union... WASHINGTON—Surrounded by microphones, Franklin D. Roosevelt last week discharged his constitutional duty of addressing Congress on the State of the Union, covered the assorted aspects of the Nation's current condition with earnest persuasiveness and vigorous self-assurance. Par and Peace: "I am thankful that I can tell you that our nation is at peace. It has been kept at peace despite provocations ('Panay' sinking) which, in other days, because of their seriousness, could well have engendered war... Resolute in our determination to respect the rights of others, and to command respect for the rights of ourselves, we must keep ourselves adequately strong in self-defense." Legislative Program: The President recommended for enactment the Farm Bill, a wages-and-hours bill, and modernized anti-trust laws. Of the second recommendation (which the House sent back to Committee in the Special Session) he said: "We are seeking of course only legislation to end starvation wages and intolerable hours... Wage and hour legislation... is... definitely before this Congress for action." Of his third recommendation (on which he indicated a special message would follow), the President said: "Capital is essential; reasonable earnings on capital are essential; but misuse of the powers of capital or selfish suspension of the employment of capital must be ended or the capitalistic system will destroy itself through its own abuses..." Budget: "The proposed budget for 1939 (the fiscal year beginning next July 1)... exhibits... a further decrease in the deficit, though not an actual balance." Taxes: "In relation to tax changes, three things should be kept in mind. First, the total sum to be derived by the Federal Treasury must not be decreased... Second, abuses by individuals of corporations designed to escape taxpaying by using various methods of doing business, corporate and otherwise—abuses which we have sought, with great success, to end—must not be restored. Third, we should rightly change certain provisions where they are proven to work definite hardship, especially on the small business men of the nation."

More Ships... WASHINGTON—Because the bomb of the gunboat "Panay" had made the U. S. more receptive to the idea of a bigger Navy and because a Naval building program would help depressed business, Franklin Roosevelt last week wrote to House Appropriations Committee Chairman Edward Taylor: "The preliminary estimate... called for appropriations to commence during the fiscal year 1939 two battleships, two light cruisers, eight destroyers and six submarines. Since that time world events have caused me growing concern... Many nations are enlarging their armament programs. I have used every conceivable effort to stop this trend and to work toward a decrease of armaments. Facts nevertheless, are facts, and the United States must recognize them. Will you, therefore, inform the subcommittee on Naval Appropriations that after the next Congress has met, it is possible that I may send supplementary estimates for commencing construction on a number of ships additional to the above program?"

Unemployment: Census And Compensation... WASHINGTON—Complete enough to be presented to the President last week were the results of the first census of U. S. unemployment, carried out under a $5,000,000 appropriation and with the aid of the Post Office Department, by President John D. Bigger of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co., appointed to the job last fall by Franklin Roosevelt. Of the 81,000,000 unemployment blanks distributed last November by letter carriers, 7,822,912 were returned by persons classifying themselves as unemployed and willing to work. But a door-to-door census covering 1,950,000 persons indicated that this was only about 7.2 per cent of the people who, when ferreted out and interviewed classed themselves as unemployed. On this basis the total unemployed population of the U. S. would be 16,876,000. In a supplementary report on the status of unemployment by states issued the next day, New York headed the list with 965,840. Other facts—Of the questionnaires total, nearly 6,000,000 were men, nearly 2,000,000 women; 2,000,000 considered unemployed were actually working on relief jobs; 20 per cent, according to the Gallup Poll, thought their replies would bring them jobs. Main inaccuracy of the census was obviously the fact that, while it included the first month of recession, unemployment has grown more acute in the last month. Current unofficial estimates of the total number of workers who have lost their jobs since September average 2,900,000.

Radio War... CAIRO, Egypt—In Saudi Arabia in Palestine, Syria, Egypt and the other Arab lands of North Africa, many Arabs faced 1938 last week with little food and less money, but plenty of others had new radio sets, all of which had been delivered absolutely free by suave efficient young men who set them up, tuned and locked them at a certain wave length, and departed smiling amiably. Not charity but an undeclared war of increasing bitterness caused this lavish dispersal. Ever since the British joined in voting League Sanctions against Italy during the Ethiopian crisis, the Italian shortage is the probability that the total fund of approximately $400,000,000 now available for benefits will expire sooner than was foreseen. New York's fund of $88,812,000, for example, would provide average benefits of $18 weekly for 36 weeks to only 555,975 people.

Fog... LONDON—Fog was so thick in London last week that Charlton Heston's eleven-goalkeeping Bartram stayed at his post long after the other players left the field.

Chaos and Ruin... NANKING, China—Japanese troops seized another 9,215 square miles of Chinese territory, the Chinese "Daily News" last week published dispatches from its able Shanghai correspondent—including extracts which Chinese censors had previously slashed out! Samples: "Nanking's greatest fear, which explains the sudden evacuation of the capital despite the fact that the Japanese troops are still 110 miles east of the city gates, is looting by Chinese troops—not fear of bombardment from Japanese warships... Inside the Chinese lines the utmost confusion prevails... Chinese troops have not been paid since August... There is severe lack of food for front-line troops... Demoralization had resulted from lack of attention for the Chinese wounded... What now? Japan has succeeded in plunging China into chaos which will take several years, perhaps decades, to straighten out... With China's near collapse understood, neither Russia nor any other nation will feel desirous of giving China military assistance." What made all this timely last week was that Japanese forces were at the moment approaching the great Shanghai city of Tsingtao where Chinese looters, firebrands, panic-stricken soldiers, and gangsters were creating fresh chaos as they laid waste the $100,000,000 of Japanese property in the city. Tsingtao's moon-faced Mayor Shen Hung-tieh, admiral of the insignificant Chinese Navy, at first did his best to have Chinese looters shot on sight, and numerous corpses accumulated in front of Japanese shops. Later, as the mayor's authority crumbled, and as maddened Chinese started looting and burning indiscriminately, Admiral Shen adopted the desperate expedient of having signs put up directing prospective looters to Japanese premises, in the hope that they would spare others. Finally, the Admiral fled pell-mell with Snijngtao's Chinese police force.

Q. What effect did Houston's retreat have on Texans living between the Colorado and the Brazos rivers? A. The retreat, combined with the report of the massacre of Fannin's men at Goliad on March 27, created the utmost panic on the part of the people living between the rivers and caused a wild rush to escape to the east before the Mexicans could arrive and devastate the country. Many of Houston's Army left and hurried to their homes to help save their families and their few possessions.

Q. Why did Santa Anna sever his Army through Texas after the Alamo and Goliad massacres if the retreat of Houston from Goliad? A. He thought that the war was about ended and that all that remained to be done was to pick up Houston's few men and the officials of the Texas revolutionary government, which he decided to have done under his personal command in order that he might have the glories and the honor of the victory. Detachments were scattered over Texas to sweep the country and drive from the territory or exterminate the thoroughly frightened people left in isolated communities.

Q. To what place on the Brazos did Houston's Army and followers go from Houston's Ferry, and when did they go from there to Groce's Ferry? A. The Army and frightened fugitives hurried to San Felipe, where a pause of only one day was made, when Houston ordered the Army to march up the stream about 15 or 20 miles to Groce's Ferry, which was reached March 31, where camp was established. There Houston reorganized the Army that remained, many having left to assist their families in escaping from the oncoming Mexicans. Col. Sidney Sherman was placed in immediate command and proceeded to drill the men into fighting shape.

Q. What companies remained behind when Houston ordered the march to Groce's Ferry from San Felipe? A. There was much discussion among the men at Houston's order to march to Groce's to quiet which as far as possible, Houston left two small companies behind, Capt. Moseley Baker and one company remaining at San Felipe, and Capt. Wiley Martin proceeding down the river to Fort Bend, to guard the crossing there.

Q. When did Santa Anna reach the Colorado and when did he get to San Felipe? A. Santa Anna arrived at the Colorado, April 5 as Seema was crossing with his men, and, taking command, reached San Felipe April 7. San Felipe had been burned March 29 by Capt. Moseley Baker, whose company was guarding the opposite bank, so the Mexicans went down stream to Thompson's Ferry, where they crossed, April 14, without much resistance from Wiley Martin's small company.

Q. When did Santa Anna reach Harrisburg and what did he learn there? A. He arrived at Harrisburg April 15, to find that the Texas officials had moved to New Washington on Galveston Bay. He burned Harrisburg and hurried on after the fleeing officials, reaching New Washington just as they boarded vessel for Galveston Island.

the whereabouts of Defendants William R. Baker, W. R. Baker, Levin Routh, Isaac McCormick, G. W. Small and Allen Bledsoe and the names of those who are designated herein as the unknown heirs and legal representatives are to the Plaintiff unknown.

That heretofore, to-wit: On or about the first day of January, 1937, Plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the tract and parcel of land hereinafter described, holding and owning the same in fee simple, and ever since said day has been such owner and entitled to the possession thereof; that on said last mentioned date the Defendants unlawfully entered upon said land and premises and ejected Plaintiff therefrom, and ever since said date have withheld from Plaintiff the possession thereof to his damage in the sum of Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00).

That the tract and parcel of land abovementioned, from which Plaintiff was so unlawfully ejected and the possession of which is so unlawfully withheld from him by Defendants, is a part of the David Cole Survey, No. 81, situated in Brown County, Texas, consisting of 140 acres of land, more or less, situated about thirteen miles N. E. of the City of Brownwood in said Brown County, Texas, and described by metes and bounds, as follows:

RESOURCES
Loans and discounts, on personal or collateral security $43,557.27
Overdrafts 78.62
Securities of U. S., any State, or political subdivision thereof 2,042.78
Other bonds and stocks owned 1,160.00
Banking House 700.00
Furniture and Fixtures 600.00
Real Estate owned, other than banking house 1.00
Cash and due from approved reserve agents 37,320.63
Total $85,455.30

LIABILITIES
Capital Stock $25,000.00
Total Capital Structure $25,000.00
Surplus Fund 8,000.00
Undivided Profits, net 2,220.25
Individual Deposits, subject to check, including time deposits due in 30 days 50,235.05
Total $85,455.30

Plaintiff alleges that on the said first day of January, 1937, he had, and now has, title to the above described parcel and tract of land, not only by regular and consecutive chain of deeds and transfers from the sovereignty of the soil to himself, but also by virtue of the statute of limitation of Five and Ten years, in this; that he, and those whose estate he has, and under whom he claims and claiming same under deeds duly registered, had had and held peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of said tract and parcel of land, cultivating, using and enjoying the same, and annually paying all taxes due thereon as they accrued for a period of more than ten years next before the commencement of this suit; that he, and those whose estate he had and has, and under whom he claims, claiming to have good and perfect right and title to said tract and parcel of land, and had had and held peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of same, cultivating, grazing, using and enjoying the same for a period of more than ten years next before the commencement of this suit; that during all of said time said land was fenced with a good and lawful fence sufficient to hold and turn ordinary stock.

Plaintiff further alleges that the nature of Defendants' claim to said tract and parcel of land is to Plaintiff unknown; but that said Defendants are asserting some kind of title to, or claim against, same, and the character and extent of which Plaintiff is unable definitely to state; that Defendants have no title to, and no valid claim to said tract and parcel of land or any part thereof, and have no right or interest therein or right to the possession thereof, but each of said Defendants are naked trespassers.

For further cause of action Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Levin Routh, owned all of the above described land up to August 14, 1878, at which time he conveyed the N. One-Half of said land to R. J. Teague and in turn the said R. J. Teague and husband conveyed the same to Defendant Isaac McCormick; that the said Defendant Isaac McCormick on February 24, 1886, by deed recorded in Vol. Q, page 198 of the Deed Records of Brown County, Texas, executed a deed to G. W. Small, intending to convey to said Small the N. 1/2 of the above described land, but instead conveyed a tract of land E. of the N. E. part of said Cole Survey.

That on January 3, 1910 the said G. W. Small conveyed to Defendant, Allen Bledsoe, the said tract E. of the Cole Survey, when in truth and in fact he intended to convey the N. 1/2 of the above described tract of land; that in the same deed he conveyed to said Allen Bledsoe, the S. 1/2 of the above described tract of land by proper description, but there is no deed of record from Defendant, Levin Routh, or anyone else, conveying title to said S. 1/2 of said land to the said G. W. Small. Plaintiff alleges that said S. tract was conveyed by Levin Routh and his successors in title to the said G. W. Small, but said deed was lost, destroyed or misplaced before the same was recorded in the records of Brown County, Texas; that while the records show no conveyance to him in truth and in fact, he had good and valid title to all of the land in question in this suit.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays that Defendants, and each of them, be cited to appear and answer this petition; that upon a hearing of this cause, plaintiff have judgment against each of said Defendants decreasing Plaintiff to be the owner of said tract and parcel of land awarding him title thereto, and possession thereof and a writ of possession to same; that all clouds cast upon Plaintiff's title to said tract and parcel of land by reason of Defendants' said claims be removed; that Plaintiff be established, confirmed and quieted in his title to said land, and he further prays for such other and further relief, both general and special, in law and in equity as the Court may find him entitled to under the facts.

HEREIN FAIL NOT but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Brownwood, Texas, on this 29th day of December, A. D. 1937.

L. J. WILSON, Clerk,
District Court, Brown County, Texas.

"THE LADIES' STORE"

SCS Officials Urge Care of Terraces

Your terrace system represents an investment of time, labor and money, cheerfully furnished by you with the expectation of reaping very material benefits in future years in the form of better top soil, through insuring against the ravages of "soil erosion."
This investment in your terrace system, like any other investment in real estate, must be carefully watched, managed, and maintained to protect the original investment. Top soil on two to five percent unterraced slopes can erode away at the rate of 20 to 60 tons per acre each year. You realized what such a loss in top soil was meaning and with the cooperation of the Soil Conservation Service have invested in "insurance" against this huge loss of top soils.

Terraces have been built for many years to conserve soil and moisture, but a large percent of them have failed to function as they should for any length of time because like the pasture fence, they were allowed to run down. A new car gives its best performance just for a short time unless it is cared for and maintained. So it is with new terraces.
Cultivation, silting of channel and sand barring from washes are some of the things that happen to terraces to reduce their ability to intercept and divert runoff water. Maintenance consists of offsetting those factors by proper plowing up, making fills, cleaning out sand bars and keeping outlet ends open. Plowing up terraces has been practiced almost as long as terracing but has often been done improperly. In fact, much harm can be done by improper maintenance. Plowing up to maintain the height, width, and water channel capacity of a terrace must not only consist of pushing dirt up higher on the ridges, but also to keep dirt out of the water channel. A mouldboard or disc plow should be used and used in such a way as to finish with a "dead" furrow in the water channel of the terrace. Unless the water channel is kept open it will not be long until it fills up and becomes a bench instead of a channel.

Terracing is not a job once done and over with, but a continuous process of keeping up a water channel and ridge that will intercept and divert runoff water to prevent it from gullying the land.
Which would be easier? To replace 20 to 60 tons of top soil per acre each year or to carefully maintain and protect your already constructed terrace system?

not all that the required to hold licenses, but include the majority. Those persons now in possession of chauffeur's licenses issued by the county tax collector that have not expired are not required to take another examination. Those persons operating under the jurisdiction of the Texas Railroad Commission are exempt from the examination.
Applicants are required to be able to tell the size of the equipment they intend to drive when they come to be examined. Examiner Guynes and Patrolmen are in Brownwood on Thursday of each week from 2:30 to 5 p. m. Examinations are held in the sheriff's office in the court house.
Don't Talk About It
Now that 95 per cent of the world's telephone subscribers can talk to each other, it has been suggested by one world traveler that every telephone booth should have the famous Chinese proverb over its door: "One look-see is worth a thousands tells!"
The hummingbird is the fastest bird in all flights over short tances.

Rigid Enforcement Of License Law To Be Accomplished

A strict program of enforcement is planned in connection with chauffeur license violations, the driving public was warned this week.
Notice of employers of section 19-D of the newly-enacted drivers' and chauffeurs' license law is requested, which states that it shall be a misdemeanor for any person to employ another person as a chauffeur of a motor vehicle if that person hired is not a licensed chauffeur.
The newly enacted drivers' and chauffeurs' license law defines a chauffeur as any person who operates a motor vehicle for any purpose, whole or part time, as an employe, servant, agent or independent contractor, whether paid in salary or commission and every person who operates a motor vehicle while such vehicle is in use for hire or lease.
As stressed by Sam B. Guynes, examiner for this territory, most persons who operate a commercial motor vehicle for purposes other than for passenger purposes are required to possess a chauffeur's license. Ambulance drivers and employes of funeral homes who drive company equipment, employes of automobile dealers such as porters who deliver cars to customers after repair, mechanics who test or deliver cars after repairs, operators of wreckers and dealer pickups, auto supply company salesmen who make delivery from their trucks, city employes or foremen who transport tools and other materials, beverage and bakery dealers who make delivery from their trucks, owners who distribute petroleum products, packing plant products, salesmen who make deliveries, plumbers who haul tools and materials, grocers and employes who make free deliveries, cleaning and pressing shop owners and employes who make deliveries, and all school bus or private and public bus operators are required to possess a chauffeur's license. The above mentioned operators are
