Weekend Heat Wave Nears All Time High; Mercury Goes to 109

Weather like we've been having the past few weeks is ideal for selling us on the merits of a swimming pool. Just imagine the soothing relief of a cool plunge while thermometers are crowding an all time record high.

So far this is wishful thinking, but it can become a reality if enough of us will keep on wishing and thinking — wishing enough so we'll make up our minds to do something about it, then thinking about a way to get it done.

Specifically, the thing to wish for is a lake and community recreation center with a variety of appealing features. A good swimming place is the number one wish. And closely related with it are a nice shaded lawn with plenty of picnic tables and benches, a flock of row boats, good fishing, a concession with lots of hamburgers and red soda pop, a dance floor for youngsters, and possibly other amusements like a pee-wee golf course. We don't have to stretch our imagination far to become convinced that such a place would be the most popular spot in the community. What's more, it isn't at all ambitious to plan such things in a community like ours.

And here's where the serious thinking begins. With the right kind of planning and organization every feature of this very appealing set-up can be realized at a cost so small that no one would miss the money. Ten, fifteen or twenty thousand dollars worth of investment can be spread fairly thin in a community of about 2000 persons.

Of course there are other ways of doing the job. It could be undertaken as a business venture with each investor having a chance to realize a return. Or it could be financed by long term membership fees and dues. Actually, the method will not be much of a problem once we make up our minds to do something.

As regards the possibility of winding up with a pink elephant, there are a few other significant facts to consider. First of all no other such recreational facilities exist within a radius of 50 miles from here. Anything so badly needed in so large an area, cannot be a serious risk. Properly managed and kept up it would not only appeal to home folks but attract visitors from other towns as well. With a little extra effort Muenster could make itself a popular amusement center.

Definitely, there are possibilities in this idea. There are ways to have very attractive recreational facilities here without a serious financial risk and with a possibility of developing into a really good thing.

We ought to give it lots of thought — and the sooner the better. Should we decide the project is practical we won't want to lose any time in getting it started. Winter rains will be coming before many months, and we'll need to hold them if we are going to have a lake next year.

Maybe it's just as good that the investigation of Howard Hughes was postponed for a while. Had it been permitted to continue much longer in its smelly, ridiculous fashion it would have caused serious misgivings about the dignity and integrity of practically every person concerned.

We, who have some notions about the sacred duties of the senate and have also learned to respect the ability of eminently successful business men, tasted a sour flavor in most of the reports. We are disillusioned. We resent contempt toward those who are entrusted with the care of our interests, and we especially resent their enduring the contempt. We also feel let down when a top-notch of our nation conducts himself in such an ugly manner.

Let's hope the continuation in November will be conducted in a more dignified way. We hope that the millionaire "Good Time Charlie" will have quit acting like a spoiled brat — and if he doesn't, let's hope the senatos will show enough spunk to crack down on him. To let this degradation of prestige continue would be a major calamity.

As regards the facts in the case, let's have them by all means. If Hughes' charges have any basis in fact, if he has all the dope on Brewster that he claims to have, then Brewster too should be called for an accounting.

However the trick here apparently is an attempt to becloud the issue. Hughes seems to be trying to divert attention from his own guilt by claiming that his accused (Continued on page 10)

Muenster sizzled during the past weekend in one of the most intense heat waves in the history of the community. Unofficial reports for both Saturday and Sunday are that the mercury rose as high as 109.

Muenster has no records for comparison, but old timers here are agreed that last week's heat was near if not equal to the all time community high.

According to a 40 year record at Gainesville the figure is third high for the four decades. The top was 114 on August 10, 1936, and next high was 110 on August 16, 1943.

Heavy clouds Monday failed to deliver urgently needed rain but they did break the heat wave. Temperatures have been generally in the nineties since then. Rain came closer Tuesday but passed again after a few scattered drops.

Though the heat wave did not reach a new high it most probably marked this summer for a record variation in temperatures. Less than three weeks before, on July 23, mercury fell to the high sixties, causing quite a few people to wear jackets.

Notes On Soil Conservation

The sweet clover harvest has been in full swing the past two weeks and yields have been much better than expected. J.A. Klement, Conservation Group leader, 5 miles Northeast of Muenster, has made the highest yield to date harvesting 900 pounds of biennial white sweet clover off of 2 acres. 250 pounds of phosphate per acre were applied. J.H. Bayer in the same group estimates a yield of 350 pounds of Hubam clover per acre off of ten acres. Mr. Bayer states, "Where I didn't phosphate, my clover was not good enough to combine". 500 acres of Hubam clover are being harvested on Dr. L.B. Holland's farms in Norbert Klement's Conservation Group. Bill Jones, operator, states yields are averaging about 250 pounds per acre. The hubam clover was overseeded early this spring in his small grain crop of wheat. Other cooperators harvesting sweet clover, are Bruno Fleitman, Harry Fisher, Wilfred Reiter, Leo Rohmer, George Bayer and Ben Voth. Several cooperators have underestimated yield, but all are being urged to combine seed as means of increasing acreage without additional seed costs.

Al Hess, group leader northwest of Muenster, has an interesting story to tell on Alfalfa hay yields. Where phosphated the yield was 72 bales per acre and where unphosphated, 25 bales per acre were cut. Phosphate increased production 200%. Mr. Hess also produced 3600 pounds of biennial clover from 9 1/2 acres that were grazed until the last week in May.

A group application meeting was held in J.A. and Norbert Klement's Conservation Groups at J.H. Bayer's home last Thursday night. Robert S. Mitchell, Work Unit Conservationist, lead the discussion on phosphating, land preparation, inoculation, planting, seeding rate, and harvesting of Hairy Vetch and Abruzzi Rye. The value of vetch and rye as a soil builder, pasture, and cash crop were stressed. The following cooperators attended the meeting: J.H. Bayer, J.A. Klement, C.B. Sears, Norbert Klement, Paul Hutcherson, Tony Walterscheid and sons.

Liberty Baptist Begins 2 Weeks Revival Monday
A two weeks' revival will begin at Liberty Baptist church next Monday, August 18, members of the congregation announced this week. The opening service will be held at 8 p.m. with Brother Springfield of Genoa preaching. Mrs. Springfield will conduct the singing.

During the second week of the revival Brother Ice of Waco will be in charge of the preaching.

MUENSTER SWAMPS BEZNER CHICKS 20-1 TO TIE SERIES AGAIN

What Muenster did to the Bezner Chicks Monday night made up for any and all lopsided beatings in the series so far. It was one of those unusual games in which one club was at its best while the other was in a slump, and the final tally was 20 to 1. The game also ties the series again — 4 and 4 for the 8 contests.

One determining factor is that Muenster grouped hits, walks and errors to get good results whereas the Chicks' breaks were scattered. Two hits and four walks put 6 men on base during the whole game, and only one of those came home. Muenster put 24 on base with 12 hits, 5 walks, 5 errors and 2 fielders choices, and all but 4 came in. The big innings were the last three when Muenster scored 7, 5, and 5. In spite of allowing the slug fest Rufus Bezner led Cain 6 to 3 in strikeouts. Poss Swirczynski and Eugene Schmitz each hit homers.

The second game of Monday's double bill was a 3 to 8 loss to Era. Slightly worn after their tilt with the Chicks and also lacking a relief pitcher, the men played only 5 innings. Ray "Handsome" Walterscheid, regular first baseman pitched the first three innings and Cecil Cain pitched the final two. Cain also hit one of the home team's homers.

Saturday night Muenster divided a hot double header with the Nocona All Stars. Both games were close until the last. In the first Muenster led 3 to 2 in the sixth, then each team rallied for a final count of 14 to 7 favoring Nocona. The second game went to an extra inning. Tied at 8 all in the seventh Muenster made its 4 winning runs in the eighth.

TRICK PALOMINO AND CALF RIDING KIDS ARE FAVORITES AT RODEO

Colonel Moon, the educated Palomino owned and trained by Leslie Caddell of Krum, topped the regular roping contests and even the pee-wee and junior events at last Sunday night's rodeo before one of the largest crowds to assemble here this season.

The exceptionally beautiful and talented horse treated spectators to even a better performance than he had given at hose shows here. He danced, strutted, staggered, posed, responded to questions, untied knots and performed many other tricks which indicated long and thorough training.

Calf riding youngsters rated next in popularity. Straddling hard bucking little Brahmas they gave as good a show as any of the senior contestants.

Encouraged by the success of the kid events the rodeo management announced this week that it will have more pee-wee and junior riding at the next show on Sunday, August 24. If present plans work out it will also offer another special feature at the next rodeo.

Winners Sunday night were as follows:

Pee-wee riders: Ronald Fette, Robert Haverkamp.

Junior riders: Donald Walterscheid, Joe Dennis, Jim Steadham.

Steer riding: Roy Roberts, Clifford Boydston, Bill Henley.

Bronc riding: John Ferris, Punk Gay, H.V. Gardner.

The down roping: J.L. Reeves, George Tyler, Mack Fuller.

Ribbon roping: Dutch Dillard, Mack Fuller, Bill Lacy.

AT LAST! TRAFFIC LIGHT IS UP AGAIN

The traffic light for the intersection of Main and Highway 82 has finally arrived. It came in last week, almost two years after it was ordered and was installed Monday by TP&L and Muenster Telephone Company workmen. Wednesday noon it still awaited an electrical connection to be put into service.

The signal replaces the one shattered about two years ago by a high loaded truck.

Fisher, treasurer; Joe Vogel, warden; John Fisher, chancellor; Oscar Walter, lecturer; John B. Klement, trustee; Pat Hennigan, advocate; Joe Hoening and Bill Hoffman, guards.

RODEO, BARBECUE AND HORSE SHOW FEATURE NOCONA PIONEER EVENT

Nocona is staging a Veterans and Pioneers Reunion this week with a free barbecue, free horse show, free rodeo, a big carnival and other festivities. This reunion is the first to be held in Nocona since 1936 at which time the 50th anniversary of the town was observed.

Featuring the opening Wednesday was a free rodeo in which cash prizes were awarded to winning contestants. Thursday was highlighted by a free barbecue on the city park, followed by horse races. The evening's entertainment includes speeches by leading officials, the main address being given by Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls. Other items on Thursday's program are a square dance and an amateur fiddler's contest.

Friday, the final day, will be highlighted by the annual Nocona Horse Show to be managed by Pete Workman. The show will be free and no entrance fees for contestants are required. Many cash prizes will be given for the best horsemen in several classifications. Prizes for the best old-time and modern cowboy will also be awarded. The Nocona Quadrille Team will demonstrate its abilities in mounted dances and maneuvers led by Pete and Hilda Workmen. Horses for this show are coming from as far as California.

Set to coincide with the observance of V-J Day the celebration gives that occasion its proper significance by rendering appreciation to surviving veterans of all wars.

Missionary Captured By Japanese Named Pastor of Gainesville Negro Parish

The Rev. Father Joseph M. Goedertier, I.H.M., a young man with 17 years of missionary service, has arrived in Gainesville to be pastor of the newly created parish for colored people. He received his appointment last week from the Most Rev. Bishop Joseph P. Lynch of Dallas.

Father Joseph arrived in the United States about three months ago with a number of other priests to begin work in new fields. He is a native of Alost, Belgium, and was ordained in 1930. Immediately thereafter he went to Africa for missionary work and during the ensuing 15 years served in Africa, China, Mongolia and Japan.

While in Upper Mongolia Father Joseph was captured by invading Japanese and was placed in a concentration camp in northern China. He remained there two and a half years before being liberated by allies forces. While in the camp he learned English. He already knew French, Chinese, and Japanese in addition to his native Flemish.

He will reside at St. Mary's rectory and will be associated with Rev. Peter Molloy, pastor, and will be in charge of the new church for Negroes being erected at the corner of Fields and Potter Streets. The church is expected to be completed within a month and will be named at a later date. In addition a parish school will be built in the near future.

Mrs. Josephine Wernet and her daughter, Mrs. Roderick Mitchell, of Waco, spent from Sunday to Tuesday with their daughter and sister Miss Anna Marie Wernet who is nursing Mrs. August Reiter. The visitors were house guests of Mrs. Wernet's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Bernauer and also visited other relatives in the city.

WOMEN HEAVIES AND LIGHTWEIGHTS LINE UP FOR SOFTBALL BENEFIT

The spectacle of the year, when the plump and the slender ladies of the community fight it out on the ball diamond is set for next Monday night, August 18, at 7:30. The game will be a benefit to repair the grand stand and improve facilities at the ball park. Admission charges will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

The portly nine are determined to beat their sylph-like sister in this game after losing to them in a benefit game last season.

Mrs. Leona Ray has lined up the heavies and will be the pitcher. Others on the team are Mrs. Paul Hellinger, catcher; Mrs. Henry Sicking, first base; Mrs. Buddy Fette, second base; Mrs. Alphonse Hoening, third base; Mrs. Paul Fisher, short stop; and Mmes. T.S. Myrick, Martin Friske and John Wieler, fielders.

The light-weights, lined up by Mrs. J.C. Trachta, are Mrs. Charlie Hellman, pitcher; Mrs. George Gehrig, catcher; Mrs. Johnny Wimmer, first base; Mrs. Ervin Hamric, second base; Mrs. Val Fuhrman, third base; Mrs. J.C. Trachta, short stop; and Mrs. Vincent Becker, Mrs. Richard Wilde and Mrs. Buddy Bernauer fielders.

Fat And Lean Benefit Ball Game Will Finance Party For Softball Team

Those fat and lean men will be at it again on Thursday night, Aug. 28, in their annual benefit ball game. Beneficiaries this time are the softball players and business men who furnished their uniforms.

The purse will finance a season closing party, which will constitute the only compensation received by either players or sponsors for their efforts and expense.

As at previous fat-lean games, adjoining streets will be roped off and fans will be charged as they enter the grounds. The Price 25 cents and 10 cents.

Lineups for the two teams will be published next week if they are completed by that time, and men who want to get into the game can leave their names with Otto Walterscheid or Alphonse Walterscheid, captains of the heavies and leans, respectively. Men over 170 pounds can qualify as fats, and under that figure they can qualify as leans.

Firemen Will Convert Old GI Pick-up Into City-Rural Fire Truck

Apparently not able to buy an extra fire truck — that is, not at the price the city is willing to pay — members of the fire department are taking steps to make a truck of their own. It will be a tank truck of 375 gallon capacity and is intended for use at both city and rural fires.

All plans for rigging up the truck have been made, according to Fire Chief Jimmy Lehnertz. The city has donated its GI half ton Dodge pick-up, J.P. Flusche has donated a tank for it, and Frank Hess, secretary of the local mutual insurance group has assured a $100 donation from his organization. Expenses in addition to the $100 will be met by the city.

Equipment will consist of two one-inch hoses with fog nozzles and a pump operated by a power-take-off on the truck. Another hose and connection will permit drawing water from the fire hydrants.

For small fires the truck will serve as a complete fighting unit. Its 375 gallon storage, efficiently sprayed through the fog nozzles, is expected to take care of grass fires and small building fires without help from the other truck. It will also be available for emergency calls to rural fires. At present the city's only truck is not permitted to leave the city limits — and if it were it could not make a water connection.

VETERAN VOCATIONAL STUDENTS WILL ATTEND SOIL SHOW AT DENTON

Members of the Muenster GI Agriculture class will spend next Tuesday at Denton attending a soil conservation field day, Hugh Barnhart, instructor, disclosed this week. The event is an extra on the local group's schedule, not a substitute for either of the two regular meetings, Barnhart pointed out.

Last week's class activity was devoted to study of controlling worm and insect pests. One meeting was a lecture on fighting heel flies and cattle grubs, the other was a demonstration at Werner Cler's farm on treating hogs for mange and round worms. Monday night the group heard Jack Coursey, Gainesville instructor, discuss selling farm products on future markets.

With the addition of two new members the class enrollment has reached 24, only one short of the allowed maximum, Barnhart said. Other applicants are still encouraged, however, and if a sufficient number joins the county headquarters will try to engage another instructor.

A change in class schedule became effective this week. The hour is 8:30 on Monday and Thursday nights.

CIVET CAT ATTACKS PUP TENT OCCUPANTS

Gene Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.I. Walter, and his cousin, Rodney Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Walter, suffered no serious ill effects after being bitten by a civet cat last Thursday night while they were sleeping in a pup tent in the yard at the Al Walter home.

Both were bitten in the shoulder without awakening but when the animal bit Rodney's finger he woke up and screamed, arousing members of the family. So tightly was the civet cat attached to the boy's finger that it had to be killed before its grip could be broken.

The head was sent to Austin for examination for rabies but the report received here Monday was that it was negative.

Get Seed, Phosphate Now, Soil Supervisor Advises

J.W. Hess, Chairman of the board of supervisors, of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District, urges all Cooperators to place orders for phosphate, and buy Hairy Vetch, Abruzzi Rye, Balboa Rye, and Sweet Clover seed for Fall and Winter plantings while phosphate and seed are available locally. Hairy Vetch, Abruzzi Rye, and Balboa Rye seed crops were short this year and prices are expected to advance this month.

ALBERT DANGLMAYR AND BETTY HARTMAN WED TUESDAY MORNING

Miss Betty Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartman, became the bride of Albert Danglmayr, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Danglmayr, in a pretty service performed here at Sacred Heart church Tuesday morning at 8:30. The Most Rev. Bishop Augustine Danglmayr of Dallas, brother of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass. Rev. Fathers Herman Laux and John Walbe, local pastors, assisted as chaplains to His Excellency.

A musical background for the service was provided by Anthony Luke, organist, who also played the traditional wedding processional and recessional.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white brocaded organza over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured short sleeves and a square neckline outlined with ruffles, and a modified bustle accented the full hooped skirt that extended into a cathedral length

SKY GIANT ROLLS ON BEARINGS

The world's largest bomber, Consolidated Vultee's B-36, can carry an atomic bomb to any inhabited region in the world and return home without refueling, according to the AAF. The giant bomber carries 10,000 pounds of bombs for 10,000 miles, or its maximum bomb capacity of 72,000 pounds for a shorter range.

When the B-36 was designed, Timken Roller Bearing Company was asked to put its engineers on the task of designing bearings that would enable the six-engine, 139-ton bomber, to take off and land safely.

With an eye to the future, the AAF has ordered an undisclosed number of the bombers.

train. Full length matching mitts were worn. The bridal veil fell in tiers from a tiara and the bride carried a white prayerbook topped with a purple orchid and showered with tube roses and satin ribbons. Something old and borrowed were diamond ear screws belonging to her sister, Miss Dorothy Hartman. The single strand of pearls were a gift from the bridegroom, and she wore the traditional penny in her shoe.

Miss Dorothy Hartman, attending her sister as maid of honor, wore a bouffant frock of pink designed with a fitted long bodice of lace and a hooped skirt of net over taffeta. The bodice was topped with a short lace bolero and she wore full length matching mitts. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of blue carnations and she completed her costume with a ribbon and net halo hat.

Joe Danglmayr, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the service the bridal party and immediate members of the family were guests at brunch in the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Felderhoff. The table was laid with white linen and held a large decorated wedding cake flanked with tapers. Pink and white carnations and fern were used to adorn the board and arrangements of the same flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the home.

An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 2:30 and dinner was served at 5 o'clock. Some 100 guests registered in the bride's book presided over by Miss Loretta Hartman. The bride's table carried out her colors of white and pink, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake flanked with tapers, and further ornamented with pink rose buds and white asters.

After the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Danglmayr left by car on a wedding trip to Colorado, California and other west coast points. They expect to be gone about three weeks. For traveling the bride wore a brown taffeta suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage. When they return they will make their home on the Danglmayr farm west of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Danglmayr are both natives of Muenster and were educated here. He is a rancher and stockman.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Misses Catherine and Peggy Connerty, Loretta Hartman and Emily Fette, all of Dallas, Miss Dolores Walter of Denison, Miss Joyce Bentley of Detroit, Mich., Msgr. John Gulczynski, Father Charles and Father Thomas Weinzapfel of Dallas, and Father Paul Hoedebeck of Subiaco, Ark.

BROADCAST STORY OF CHRIST'S LIFE MAKES HISTORY ON THE AIR

Not only the people of the United States but also the people of the world, it would seem, are hungry to hear again and again the teachings of the Prince of Peace.

Early in 1947 an American tire and rubber manufacturing company essayed a bold experiment. Instead of a jazz band or a comedian it would put on the air the quietly-told story of Jesus Christ. And instead of a commercial "lug" for its products, it would not even mention them.

Thus came to the air, coast-to-coast on Sunday evenings, "The Greatest Story Ever Told" on the ABC network, a dramatic presentation of the teachings of Christ. To obey FCC regulations the name of the sponsor had to be mentioned, but that was all.

The impact of this experiment was such that one of the sponsoring manufacturer's competitors took full-page ads urging people to listen to his rival's radio show — and one religious organization alone sent out 300,000 letters to draw further attention to it.

The state department has short-waved the program to all parts of the world; it has been translated into Spanish for Latin American broadcasts; Sunday schools have used it as part of their study.

Even "variety," the slangy and hard-bitten "bible" of the entertainment world, was moved to call the program an "unselfish endeavor toward utilizing radio in the public interest, a gesture that well nigh stands alone."

August Is Month For School Children To Get Medical-Dental Check-up

Austin — School days will soon be here again. Thousands of Texas boys and girls and teachers will be returning to the schools. Each child entering school should be as free as possible of any physical defects which can be corrected. The earlier these are corrected the better chance the child has for academic progress and for good social and emotional development, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox State Health Officer.

August is the time for a complete medical and dental check-up. Eyes, ears, nose, throat and teeth should be carefully examined by the family doctor and dentist, and all remediable defects corrected. If such defects are neglected, they may result in serious damage to growth and development.

Dental corrections often take time, but a person is repaid many times over for good dental care. Healthy teeth lend attractiveness to the personal appearance, enable thorough chewing of food and promote general good health.

In schoolrooms, children expose each other to many communicable diseases especially the common cold and diseases such as measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and diphtheria. Protect the child from diphtheria and whooping cough, as well as smallpox, by safe and dependable immunization.

Parents, see that your child has complete protective treatment against preventable diseases; a clean healthy throat and mouth; the best possible vision and hearing; adequate diet, sleep and rest to build up resistance against disease. It will pay good dividends, and your child will be Ready For School.

Under the Communist regime in Russia, prices in rationed foods have increased 106% since last September, while wage increases have averaged about 25%.

Price rises listed by the official U.S. Monthly Labor Review follow: Black bread, 240%, white bread, 196%, sugar, 173%, butter 136%, beef 114%, pork 183%, mutton, 143%, chicken, 164%, and milk 220%.

North Pacific Seabees Were Good At Predicting Weather

A Navy Seabee battalion had a practically fool-proof method of forecasting weather conditions at its North Pacific base.

"If the clouds are above the mountain," the Seabees used to say, "it will rain. If the clouds are below the mountain, it will rain. And if it isn't raining at the time, you know darn well it's going to rain!"

ARMY RATIONS WILL INCLUDE CANNED CAKE

Washington, D.C. — The rusting of cans containing food caused much waste early in the war and so a small machine was developed to clean the cans and they were then painted. This painting of cans makes them last longer and prevents them from reflecting light in the field. The Quartermaster Corps is now working on a canned pound cake. As yet it is not a part of a ration, but an attempt is being made to anticipate later future demand. Already, they have made fruit cake, angel food cake, and date pudding as well as a one-man can of jam. Another development is in the line of bread, covering it with aluminum foil. It is believed that with the proper technique of packaging, bread will last for several months though not in a can.

Low Cost Oxygen Will Speed up Blast Furnaces

"Low-purity" oxygen as an inexpensive substitute for air in furnaces requiring enormously high temperatures will be produced this fall in a plant under construction by three American industrial companies.

The new plant will produce about 150 tons of the oxygen in a day. That quantity will be enough to permit thorough tests in blast furnaces in the steel industry.

Oxygen 99.5% pure has been used to speed up melting in open hearth furnaces. However, it is expensive. Chemical manufacturers believe oxygen 90% pure can be produced to sell at less than $10 a ton.

COWS KEEP COOLER IN ALUMINUM CARS

Using aluminum paint to reflect the sun's rays, a Western railroad is "airconditioning" cattle cars.

The theory is that shipping a cow in an overheated car has the same effect as sending "the Missus" to a slendering salon. The silvery paint on the top and ends of the car is said to keep it 5 to 10 degrees cooler. That means extra weight for the cattle shipper, and more dough!

A new aluminum washer operated on water pressure from the faucet washes and rinses dishes. It weighs only 15 pounds, but can do up the dishes for four persons in five minutes.

RADICALLY DIFFERENT TUCKER REAR-ENGINE CAR GOES ON DISPLAY

Chicago, Ill. — Thousands of American motorists who have been waiting for the revolutionary rear-engine Tucker '48 are now seeing the automobile for the first time as it is being placed on display in major cities throughout the country.

Hailed as the "first completely new car in 50 years of automobile history," the automobile was designed and created by Preston T. Tucker, president of the Tucker Corporation. Quantity production is expected within a matter of months in the hugh Tucker plant in Chicago, which produced B-29 engines during the war.

800 Fewer Parts

The Tucker '48 is a radical departure from anything yet produced by American auto manufacturers, and features a 150-horsepower horizontally opposed engine mounted directly between the rear wheels. Weighing under 3,000 pounds and having 800 fewer parts than most other automobiles on the market today, the car gets up to 35 miles on a gallon of gas at moderate driving speeds, according to company engineers.

Mechanical features which differ sharply from those of conventional automobiles include:

1. Torque converters which eliminate the conventional clutch, transmission and differential, and apply direct power to the wheels from the rear engine.

2. Precision balance by lowering the frame and centering of the steering kingpin in the center front instead of at the side of the engine.

3. Aluminum, air-cooled single disk brakes, tested and used for years on the Indianapolis speedway, which bring the car to a halt in 63% of the space required by cars equipped with conventional brakes.

4. Individual wheel suspension which allows for cushioning of the wheels by resilient action arms, actually eliminating shock instead of softening it.

5. Elimination of the conventional metal instrument panel in favor of an attractive sponge-rubber "crash-pad" cowl.

6. Construction beneath the padded cowl of a "safety chamber," made possible by the rear engine and lower frame. This space permits front seat passengers to duck into the chamber, safest place in the car, behind heavy steel bulkheads, in event of an impending collision.

7. Use of a safety-glass windshield, rubber-fastened in a sturdy frame, so that hard pressure from within will actually push the entire windshield out. Tempered glass in the windows disintegrates under hard impact without cutting edges or splinters.

8. Use of a third headlight, the "Cyclops Eye," a central light which turns with the wheels, lighting the way around curves to make night driving safer than theretofore believed possible.

Tucker said although his new '48 will be one of the smartest cars on the road, his fundamental concern has been for safety and trouble-free performance, with rakish lines and low silhouette secondary in importance.

Farmers' Share of Meat Packers' Dollar

Of the average dollar received by the world's largest food manufacturers — the American meat packing industry — the country's farmers received last year 75.7 cents for livestock and other farm products.

Distribution of the meat packer's dollar, as shown in the above chart, is typical of recent years, slight variations occurring from year to year. For example, profits after all expenses, in 1946, as reported to the American Meat Institute by companies producing the bulk of the country's meat supply, averaged 1.9 cents out of each dollar.

The average for the cycle of the past three years approximated 1 1/2 cents per dollar of sales, or a fraction of a cent a pound of meat sold; a profit so small as not to affect appreciably the price of meat to the public.

Next to payments to farmers, payrolls received the largest share of the dollars received by the meat packers, amounting to 12.1 cents of each dollar. Receipts included dollars obtained from the sale of meat and all other products, including by-products and non-meat items, such as poultry, dairy products, soaps, medicines and cleansers.

ored with a surprise party and miscellaneous shower last Thursday evening when relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker.

After games and contests had been enjoyed, refreshments were served by Mmes. John Tucker, Paul Hutcherson, A.C. Stalcup and D.J. Reece to some 80 guests.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

Soft Corn Makes Good Silage

Before very long, many cows will be going dry. And that's an important time—a time when they need special feeding and attention. The care they get during their dry time and at calving may mean the difference between ordinary production and good milk production later on.

Extension dairymen are agreed that the dry cow should get from two to eight pounds of grain daily, in addition to high grade pasture, top quality hay or silage. The question of how much grain exactly depends on the breed and condition of the cow.

I suggest you get in touch with your county agent or dairy plant fieldman on the subject. They'll have some literature and can give you valuable suggestions on feeding.

Some of my so-called pals accuse me of getting a lot of "corn" in this column. So I'll give them some of the real McCoy this time.

Weather around the countryside in spring and early summer was a bit tough on the corn crop. Much of the corn got in late. If this is true on your own farm and you're worried whether it's going to make, there's a good reason to stop worrying.

The answer is, of course, to make it into silage. Do that and you'll get back in milk dollars what you may figure to lose if the corn does not mature.

This is a good time to be thinking about the question, anyway, and getting ready by building some sort of a temporary silo, if you need one to hold the extra silage. Welded wire fence and special paper do a fine job of holding extra silage. So do trench silos, slat fence silos or any one of several other types.

You can get some help from your dairy plant fieldman or county agent if you need aid in getting supplies, or suggestions on the type of silo to use.

BUILDING REPAIRS HELP QUALITY

About this time of year there generally comes a time when you aren't pushed quite so hard on jobs that have to be done, and you can get at some of the things that are not so urgent, but mighty important.

Repairing buildings is a job that shouldn't be neglected too long. Repairs get more costly the longer they wait, it seems. So maybe if you've hit a slack time, you can look over your barn, silo, milkhouse, loafing shed and whatnot, stop up cracks, take care of sagging doors, mend leaks and so on.

Such repairs are dollars in your pocket in more ways than one. Leaky silos leak money, since they cause spoilage and waste. A tight barn makes for better working conditions, keeps cows more comfortable in winter and can help milk volume as a result. A good, tight milkhouse helps your sanitation program and cuts down milk losses.

DRY COWS NEED GRAIN IN RATION

A dry subject seems pretty much in order in August, but I think this one is interesting despite its dryness.

More and more dairymen have turned to fall freshening, because they've found out the many advantages of having cows calve in the fall of the year. Among these are greater and more even milk production throughout the year.

Army's New Grasshopper Plane Is Queer Looking Job

Washington, D.C. — The XL-15, a new liaison plane being produced by the Army Air Forces for use by the Army Ground Forces has completed its initial flight tests at Wichita Division of Boeing Aircraft Company. It has an unconventional appearance with its gondola-type fuselage and inverted tail surfaces. With its 125 horsepower Lycoming engine, the all metal, high-wing monoplane is designed to take off and clear a 50-foot obstacle in 600 feet, to climb 628 feet per minute, and to land at 35 miles per hour. It is designed for use in aerial observation, photographic or communications assignments. The plane is designed for operation in the Arctic or in the Tropics and it can be quickly disassembled and loaded on a 2½ ton army truck. Or with the propeller removed, the plane can be towed in glider fashion at speeds up to 165 miles per hour.

Those attending the meeting were: Pat A. Carpenter, Jr., Farm Planner, and Wilmer J. Luke, both of the Soil Conservation Service, H.J. Fuhrman, Al Wiesman, and Joe Mages.

Two Group Application meetings were held Monday night to discuss winter cover crops and permanent vegetated waterways. Lee Toothaker, local Soil Conservation technician, conducted a meeting in Joe Hoenig's group at Mr. Hoenig's home. Joe Hoenig, Jack Biffle, Henry Streng, Ben Sicking, Joe Wimmer, Bernard Sicking and A.F. O'Connor were present at the meeting. The Henry Pick group met at the Joe Walterscheid place and cooperators discussed plans for securing phosphate, vetch, and balboa or abruzzi rye early as supplies are scarce and prices are expected to

Harry Fisher, cooperater in the Paul Fisher Conservation Group, one mile south of Muenster, cleaned and separated his vetch and oats last week. The yield for six acres was 1,732 pounds of vetch which would sell for $346.40 or 20¢ per pound. Mr. Fisher also made 2,475 pounds of oats that sold for $61.89. He figures a gross income of $67.88 per acre from the 6 acres. Mr. Fisher stated, "That six acres was the poorest land on the place and only made 15 bushels of oats per acre last year." He applied 200 pounds of phosphate per acre under his vetch and also under six acres of oats overseeded to Hubam clover. The oats produced 30 bushels per acre and the Hubam clover 190 pounds of seed per acre. Mr. Fisher further stated, "Where we didn't phosphate, I don't have enough clover to harvest. You could see where clover was phosphated to the row."

Beer's Flavor, Tang and Aroma Comes From Hops

What condiments are in the hands of the master chef, hops are in the hands of the master brewer when he is supervising the production of a palate-tingling brew. Hops provide the aroma, flavor and characteristic tang to beer.

Although brewing has been a practiced art since the dawn of human history, its association with hops dates back only a thousand years. In fact, hops were not introduced to England famous for its ale and stout, until 1532. The date is set by a popular jingle of the time, which ran:

"The Reformation, and hops with beer came into England all in one year."

Since the art of brewing followed civilization everywhere, it was only natural that hop culture got an early start in America, too. Records show that the first hops were grown in Virginia in 1629. At various times Vermont, New York and Wisconsin became hop centers, but now nearly all of the production is confined to the three Pacific states, with a scattering of hop yards in New York and Idaho.

The hops grow on vines that climb on poles, wires or strings arranged for the purpose. Only the blossoms of the hop cones are picked. The picking season is a welcome interlude for thousands of migratory workers who, beginning with California about mid-August, work their way north, ending the season about mid-September in the hop yards of the state of Washington. Some of the hop yards, however, use automatic pickers — machines developed out of a need created by labor shortage.

After the hops are picked, they are put through drying processes and then baled for shipment to breweries, where they are stored in cool temperatures until ready for use. The zero hour for the hops is when the barley malt, with an addition of cooked corn or rice, has yield its extract to form a sweet liquid known as wort. Then this wort is drawn into a huge brewing kettle, where the hops, in carefully weighed quantity, are added by the master brewer with the sensitiveness of the chef who applies sauce or seasoning to a distinctive dish. When this union of aromatic hops and wort is filtered, fermented, carbonated and aged, it becomes that age-old beverage of moderation known as beer.

A Hair-Raising Story

That Cleveland dermatologist's discovery that grows hair on a man's head but makes him lose interest in women reminded us of Ed Wynn's four-way hair-growing formula. The first capsule grew hair overnight, but left the patient with a weak heart. The second capsule cured the heart condition but loosened his teeth. The third tightened the teeth but left him blind in one eye. The fourth restored his sight, but — he became bald again.

The best reason for knowing enough to come in out of the rain is not to keep from getting soaked but to avoid being struck by lightning.

OTTO-ARENDT WEDDING SET FOR AUGUST 19TH

Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Otto of Muenster have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Ruth Otto, to Arthur J. Arendt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt of Lindsay.

The wedding will be solemnized in Sacred Heart church, Muenster, on Tuesday, August 19, at 8:30 a.m.

MISS HELEN RUTH OTTO IS COMPLEMENTED SUNDAY

Miss Helen Ruth Otto, bride elect of Arthur Arendt, was named honor guest at a delightful party and shower given, in the Paul Arendt home Sunday afternoon with Misses Anne and Lucille Arendt as co-hostesses.

The bride's colors of white and pink were stressed in decorations and refreshments and dainty pink and white napkins were inscribed with "Helen Ruth and Artie, August 19". The gift table was centered with a doll dressed as a bride in the traditional white satin with wreath and veil.

Lovely gifts were presented by the following guests: Mmes Nick Block, Joe Neu, Lena Schmitt, John and Paul Arendt and Andy Arendt, and Misses Rita Block, Ida Mae Neu, Beatrice Block, Lucille Fuhrmann, Florene, Lu-Ella and Joan Arendt, all of Lindsay; Mmes John and Walter Reed and John Fleitman, Myra; Mrs. Frank Neu, Valley View; Mrs. Cecilia Allred and Miss Mary Wolf of Gainesville; Mrs. W.W. Automotive Biology

The automobile was a thing unheard of to a mountaineer in one community, and he was very much astonished one day when he saw one go by without any visible means of locomotion. His eyes bulged, however, when a motorcycle followed closely in its wake and disappeared like a flash around a curve.

"Gee, whiz!" he said, turning to his son, "who'd a s'posed that thing had a colt?"

"All of 'em"

On a radio quiz program, the assistant in the balcony announced the next contestant: "I have a paratrooper, sir."

"Here's the question for you, soldier," said the quizmaster. "How many successful jumps did a paratrooper have to make before he graduated?"

Came this immediate and logical answer: "All of 'em."

Something Awful

After Tallulah Bankhead's nervous half hour as quizmaster in the Quiz Kids, a press agent approached her and said soothingly, "The Quiz Kids were thrilled to death to meet you, Miss Bankhead. They've been reading up on your life all week."

"Heavens!" cried Tallulah. "What a thing for children to read."

Confetti---

One comment made by Hughes is a sad indication of a very prevalent attitude about such affairs. He claims that he had only one per cent of the government contracts and is getting a hundred per cent of the publicity. The implication is that others got away with it, so why shouldn't he.

It would be interesting indeed to know how much of our present economic strain can be charged against that warped attitude. Just how much has been stolen from us taxpayers by big and little grafters who assumed they were justified in phenging because others are doing it? How about those million and billion dollar deals? How about the outrageous cost plus racket? How about all the fake claims for GI and social security compensations? How about tax evasions? Or, in everyday life, how about the millions who won't give a day's work for a day's pay? Is involved in shady deals. We'd like to see the case confined to the issue, and we'd like to see Hughes forced to repay every penny of public money he fiddled away — if it's proven that he fiddled it. After that maybe Senator Brewster should be investigated too.

We've reached a sorry state of civilization when a prominent man before the senate of this country assumes that right and wrong is no longer the basis of conduct, and claims the privilege of plundering the public purse on the pretext that others are doing it.

There's the real answer to that old question about what's wrong with the country, and this case is an excellent opportunity for the senate to start applying a remedy. But unfortunately, nothing much is likely to happen. There are too many senators who might be embarrassed by developments in investigations.

Use Of Vetch As Soil Improving Crop Discussed By North Lindsay Group

The North Lindsay Conservation group, located two miles northeast of Lindsay near the Camp Howze area, held an application meeting at the home of F.A. Zimmerer on August 6 at 8 p.m. Topic of discussion was the use and handling of hairy vetch as a soil improving, grazing and cash crop. Members of the group were urged to obtain vetch seed and superphosphate as soon as possible due to the scarcity of both items.

Members planning to plant sweet clover next spring were also urged to buy their seed at harvest time and thereby avoid the seasonal rise in price that occurs at planting time.

The necessity of staking off waterways to be seeded to Buffalo grass or bermuda grass in the spring for terrace outlets, and the preparation of a good seed bed in the fall were other subjects discussed.

The meeting was conducted by Jack McFerran of the Gainesville Work Unit headquarters soil conservation service, assisting the Upper Elm-Red conservation district.

Members attending were Albert Kubis, Vincent Zimmerer,
