

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1947

NUMBER 13

If you wonder why you're still not getting many of the things you want you will probably be interested in the following explanation recently offered by Royal L. Mullins in the Wolf City Sun.

He says: "One thing the starry-eyed boy-reformers seem to have forgotten is that under any form of Government may take 'SOMEBODY'S GOT TO WORK'. Be it Communist, Socialist, Fascist, Democrat or Republican, SOMEBODY'S GOT TO SWEAT — get their hands dirty, their muscles sore, their faces greasy. One of the reasons — and one that a lot of people have never stumbled upon — for our acute shortages of this, that and the other is that we're not putting in the hours."

The man goes on to say that 40 hours just can't get as much done as 54 hours, and might have added that 40 hours spent on the job still doesn't constitute 40 hours of work under the present mania for slow-downs, sit-downs and plain loafing.

To want things we cannot get is bad enough but to pay big money for something and then not get it is a little too much of adding insult to injury. That's what is happening to us taxpayers, according to Fulton Lewis Jr.'s radio report a few days ago.

When most of the OPA controls were discontinued last Fall, Fulton disclosed, the two remaining OPA offices — on rents and sugar — suddenly boosted their personnel by the hundreds. Professional job holders had to be taken care of. Appropriations had to be spent. A federal bureau could never consider returning some of the taxpayer's money to the treasury.

The report of a visitor to one of those offices reveals about how much the political pets do for the pay they get. Most of the employees were huddled in small groups, obviously visiting. Some were reading papers or magazines. A few seemed to be working.

If you want a good reason for this beefing, just compare for a moment those conditions with the conditions here in our small community. Around here people work, they work long weeks the year around instead of loafing 40 hours a week for eleven months.

Being aware of such abuses we can understand why some practical minded legislators insist on reducing the new budget from 37.5 billion to 30 billion. The only trouble, it seems, is that practical minded men are in the minority and will have to compromise for around 33.5 billion. Which means we taxpayers will continue to pay through the nose for fat salaries and squandering.

This column is indebted to a radio program for an interesting explanation on the origin of the term "one-horse", which has come to be so widely used and understood that it's listed as a good word in Webster's dictionary. As for the meaning, few of us have any doubts, and we certainly know not to feel complimented if someone refers to our native village as a one-horse town. Webster's definition is "second rate; inferior."

Back in pioneering days, as some old timers around here can vividly recall, a doctor had to make his calls by horseback or buggy. Quite often he would go miles into the country, and urgency demanded that he did not spare the horse. On his return he often discovered that he had another such call, and maybe even another after he returned from that. Obviously, a person could not expect any horse to stand such a strain. If the man had a good practice he needed two, sometimes three or four horses. In fact the extent of his success was often measured by the number of his horses. By the same reasoning it was assumed that a doctor with only one horse must have very poor practice, therefore was not much of a doctor.

After a while the term got too popular to be reserved for doctors. It was used to describe men in practically all occupations and then applied to businesses and towns.

Traditional Ceremony Ushers Lenten Season

The traditional sprinkling of ashes ceremony took place here in Sacred Heart church Wednesday to formally usher in the Lenten season. This service was held after the 8:30 mass and again in the evening following rosary devotions.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Markham and children spent last week in Tulsa, Okla., with relatives and on Tuesday attended funeral services for his brother-in-law, Basil W. McEvoy.

Hospital Project Is Inactive but Sound, Group Head Asserts

Spiking a rumor to the effect that Muenster's cooperative hospital venture was headed for liquidation, J. M. Weinzapfel, president of the association, stated Wednesday that the organization is still very much secure and there is no cause to suspect either that it will dissolve or that memberships today are worth any less than 100 cents on the dollar.

Weinzapfel made the statement in response to a report that members would have their money refunded at the rate of 85 cents on the dollar. No action taken by the board of directors can be even remotely construed to indicate such a course, he said.

The hospital project is at a standstill now for only one reason, Weinzapfel explained — the scarcity and price of building materials. When conditions favor building activity will be resumed and the association will actually be expanded rather than dissolved.

According to some predictions, he said, there is a slight chance that things can get started by the latter part of this year. Meanwhile directors are watching developments relative to hospital assistance in state and federal legislatures. According to some proposed bills projects such as this may get very substantial help.

To date only one person has withdrawn from the association. His original payment was refunded in full when he sold all local interests and moved away from Muenster.

Muenster Business People Join County Grocers at Dinner

Sixty-two persons were present at the parish hall last Thursday night for the Cooke County Retail Grocers' association meeting and dinner and a concert given by the Muenster Youth Band under the direction of John Hoffman. Sponsored by the grocers the event was open to all business people of Muenster.

Joe Fisher as toastmaster introduced Mayor J. M. Weinzapfel and Rev. Herman Laux as the only speakers. Weinzapfel gave a brief welcome followed by remarks on the importance of good will and cooperation among business people. Father Herman spoke on religion as a basis of temporal and eternal happiness.

Ladies of the Sacred Heart P-TA prepared and served the meal and applied the proceeds to the school lunch fund.

Parochial Seniors Start Rehearsals For Class Play

"Almost Eighteen" is the name of the senior class play to be presented by students of Sacred Heart high school on April 20, it was disclosed, this week. Rehearsals under the direction of Sister M. Theresina, principal, are being held regularly.

A comedy drama by Dana Thomas, the play tells the story of Eddie Barry, almost eighteen, played by Anthony Felderhoff, whose ambition is to become a great singer. Others in the cast are Rufus Henscheid, Mary Nell Hennigan, Gerald Bayer, Terese Walter, Anna Grace Wimmer, Clyde Fisher, Rose Marie Becker, Bernard Swirczynski, Rosalee Muller, and Philomena Felderhoff.

Seniors not cast in the play will be in charge of stage direction, property, publicity and other duties.

Hamric Picks Trucking As New Business Venture

With the arrival of a new truck and trailer this week Ervin Hamric launches his career in the hauling business. He has a heavy duty engine-under-cab truck and a 30 foot trailer with grain side boards. He expects to spend most of his time at grain hauling.

Until Feb. 1 Hamric was Otto Walterscheid's partner in the ownership and management of Magnolia Service Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke, Wilmer and Miss Elfreda Luke, and Mrs. Loyal Burchfiel attended a concert given by the Phil Spitalny all girl orchestra in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, Fort Worth, Tuesday evening.

Determined to make Texas a national bulwark against invasion of the foot and mouth disease from across the Rio Grande, Gov. Beauford Jester's first days in office saw him call for, and receive, emergency action by the state legislature.

When Gov. Jester signed an emergency appropriation bill he set in motion a program engaging full resources of all available state agencies, and supported by all allied interests. Realizing that such a program required full support from the national government, Gov. Jester immediately laid the problem before authorities in Washington, including President Truman, with an urgent request for quick action intended to forestall an epidemic which would result in "an economic loss of millions of dollars if this disease gains a foothold in Texas."

Without waiting for assistance from Washington, all Texas agencies have been thrown into the critical fight against the threat of disaster to the nation's livestock industry.

Soda Fountain and Ice Cream Business To Open Here Soon

A new business which will feature complete soda fountain service is destined to open here about three or four weeks from now, according to Mrs. E. P. Buckley, owner and manager. It will be named 'The Shanty' and its location is the former Electric Shop one door south of the Variety Store.

The job of clearing out the place and removing a partition is now in progress, Mrs. Buckley said, and renovation preparatory to moving in her equipment should begin early next week. She plans a complete refinish for walls and ceiling and fluorescent lighting and also a new floor cover.

All of the necessary equipment is either on hand here or available on demand, and arrangements have been completed with the Borden company for all fountain ingredients.

Intended to appeal especially to the school age group, The Shanty will feature fountain drinks and ice cream. Other items will be candies, cigarettes, coffee and sandwiches.

Dairy Herd's Production May Fall Fifty Per Cent During Severe Weather

Severe weather conditions this winter which brought declines in milk production ranging to more 50% in some herds, point up the urgent need for dairymen to plan now to prevent similar losses in income in the future, according to Oscar J. Butler, head fieldman for the Southwestern Division of the Kraft Foods Company at Denison.

Adequate feed supplies and shelters to protect cows against low temperatures and cold winds will do much to cut down such losses, in similar weather conditions, in the future, he pointed out.

"Dairy cows need a greater quantity of high quality feed in cold weather, to maintain body condition and to keep milk production at a high level," he added. "Next winter may be a long way off but dairymen can take steps now to prevent similar declines, by planning a well-rounded feeding and feed storage program. More hay and silage and more supplementary feed can be planned at this time for the coming growing season."

"Also, plans can be made for better shelter for herds. A loafing shed is neither expensive nor difficult to build and will help considerably by affording better shelter, if a full-sized dairy barn cannot be built at this time."

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hoenig announce the birth of an 8 pound boy, their third child and second son, at the local clinic Saturday, Feb. 15. He has been named Daniel Joseph. The baby's christening took place Sunday afternoon. Father Herman officiating, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flusche as sponsors. Mrs. Hoenig is the former Miss Alene Otto, and the baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Otto.

TELEPHONE COMPANY BUYS LOCATION FOR PERMANENT BUILDING

Looking forward to the time when they can construct a permanent building of their own, directors of the Muenster Telephone Company purchased a 32 x 46 site from L.A. Bernauer on First Street directly opposite the REA office. Plans for the building will be postponed until building conditions become more favorable.

Centrally located in the city and only a half block off Main Street, the new site is ideal for both wire distribution and customer convenience.

A current repair and replacement program is expected to bring all the company's rural lines up to standard. New poles have just been installed along the line leading east out of Muenster then north toward Hays. All lines over the entire system will be repaired or replaced under the program now in progress.

Extensions, by which 10 more customers were added, account for approximately 10 miles of new line.

Notes On Soil Conservation

During the past three weeks the Muenster Work Unit held group application meetings with fourteen of the cooperating groups. Of the 118 cooperators represented, 78 attended the meetings. An additional 20 visitors were present. The discussions indicated that the groups were all interested in building up the fertility of their soils by the use of clover. More than 14,000 pounds of clover was ordered, or is on hand for spring planting.

Terrace construction is being held up in this work unit because of the lack of established outlets, however, many ordered grass seed and plan to establish pasture this spring for future terraces to spread water on. Others ordered seed to retire old fields to pasture. A total of 1000 pounds of Buffalo grass and 250 pounds of Bermuda grass seed were ordered at these meetings.

Tony Hesse, of the West Muenster Conservation Group, has already prepared his land around an old channel which he plans to seed to Buffalo and Bermuda grass. This will protect his channel by allowing the terrace water to spread out before it gets to the channel. Once this is established, he will be ready to complete his terrace system.

SCOUTS ENJOY OUTING AT RED RIVER SUNDAY

The weather cooperated Sunday in making the Boy Scout outing at Red River an enjoyable event. Twenty-three members of Troop No. 164, accompanied by 15 guests, Scoutmaster Nick Miller, Assistants Otto Walterscheid and Ed Endres, and six committeemen, left at 10 a.m. in a school bus, driving within two miles of their destination and hiked to the camp site where typical Scout cookery was followed by feasting and outdoor activity.

Committeemen accompanying the boys were Ervin Hamric, J.W. Fisher, Andy Hofbauer, Frank Bayer, Albert Henscheid and J.M. Weinzapfel.

Demerit Score Will Record Standing In Boy Scout Contest

Monday night's scout meeting marked the beginning of an intensive scouting program here, according to Scoutmaster Nick Miller. The boys have started an inter-patrol contest with outing at Turner Falls as the prize.

Demerits on which the boys will be graded were drawn up by themselves and approved by the scoutmaster and scouting committee. The patrol with the fewest demerits at the end of two months will be declared the winner.

Offenses rating the gigs are disobeying the scoutmaster, not saluting the flag, riding bicycle on sidewalks in town, playing pool or loitering in pool halls, not paying dues promptly, appearing at meetings without uniforms or without rope and handbook.

At the same meeting another patrol was organized with Randolph Bayer as leader. Four boys, Max Swirczynski, Donald Bayer, James Knabe and Richard Knabe have passed their first tests and three others, Joe Cannon, Maynard Williams and John Ayles, have not yet taken the tests.

John Myrick, senior patrol leader, led the boys in a discussion on the care of their uniforms.

Interest in individual advancement was spurred by the scoutmaster's announcement that the first boy to reach the rank of Eagle Scout would receive a $25 war bond. The donor of the bond will be revealed when the award is made.

As an assignment for the next meeting members of the Number 3 patrol will prepare to give the first six scout laws.

Scout Air Squadron Elects Officers And Plans Hike

Air Squadron of Scout Troop No. 164, meeting Tuesday night elected officers for the coming three months and made plans for an all day hike next Sunday if the weather permits.

Clyde Fisher was reelected squadron pilot; Bill Hoehn his assistant; and Herbert Fette was returned to the office of secretary-treasurer. Kenneth Wiesman was named Crew No. 1 leader and Herbert Fette, Crew No. 2 leader.

Members arranged to meet at Clyde Fisher's home at 8:30 Sunday morning to begin their hike. They will carry food for a meal to be prepared scout fashion at noon, and each member is to bring a guest.

Slump Puts REA Bowlers Back Into Second Place

REA bowlers had the discomfourt last week of learning how fickle Lady Luck can be. From a sizzling hot game that set them up with a comfortable tournament lead the boys slipped into a slump that landed them back in second place and a very uncomfortable margin over the third place VFW team. FMA again takes the lead position.

Present team averages for the tournament are as follows: FMA, 1542; REA, 1523; VFW, 1509; Phone Co., 1446; Gun Club, 1390; Girls, 1156.

Light Rain and Snow Fail To Meet Urgent Need For Moisture

The weather missed a favorable opportunity Wednesday to bring this community its first worth while moisture of the year. Frequent light drizzles with light snowfall from heavily clouded skies gave way through the night to a bright, clear dawn on Thursday.

Short flurries of snow had fallen several times in the afternoon but melted instantly as they settled on the warm ground. The total moisture for the day hardly measured half an inch.

The weather stood out in sharp contrast to the balmy spring temperature that prevailed during the previous weekend. It was a two day change from shirt-sleeve weather to overcoat weather.

The first moisture of this month, Wednesday's snow and drizzle mixture barely brings the year's total precipitation over the inch mark, according to the official record of the city's rain gauge reading. A half inch on Jan. 2 was followed by .04 and .05 on the 10th and 11th and .25 on the 19th.

Grain crops are badly in need of it, especially after the damaging heavy freeze shortly after the first of the year. Thin stands that were permitted to remain and replanted fields both require favorable moisture to make even fair crops.

Kaiser-Meurer Start On Service Station Beside Car Agency

In spite of a delay in delivery of materials, construction on the new Kaiser-Meurer service station adjoining their Kaiser-Frazer car agency, continued at a normal pace this week.

The 50 x 24 concrete foundation was completed Monday and workmen are busy now on water and sewer connections and a 180 x 30 concrete driveway across the front as far forward as the property line. Black top pavement will be installed later to fill the gap between the concrete and the pavement of Highway 82. With continued favorable weather, Walter Becker, in charge of the job, expects to complete outside work by the time materials for the main building arrive about March 1.

The station when completed will have three sections — a room to serve as office and salesroom for accessories, another compartment for washing and another for greasing.

WILLIAM J. HESS HAS FIVE YEAR LEASE AT BERNAUER'S STATION

William J. Hess is the new manager of the service station across the overpass replacing Bud Bernauer who recently withdrew from the business on doctor's orders, and has since entered a hospital for treatments.

Hess has the place on a five year lease and, featuring his line of petroleum products, has changed the name from Bud's Service Station to Phillips Service Station.

Herbert Russell, who has charge of Bud's freight agency, continues as part time assistant at the service station.

Bud Bernauer Enters Hospital For Treatment

Bud Bernauer, now in Saint Anthony's hospital, Oklahoma City, taking treatments for stomach ulcers, is reported to be feeling somewhat better and improving normally. The message was received Tuesday from his brother, Henry Bernauer, who lives in Oklahoma City.

Bud left here Friday after being ill at his home the greater part of last week. He expects to remain in the hospital four or five weeks.

Mrs. Henry Fette entered the M and S hospital of Gainesville Thursday morning for a gall stone operation. She expects to be there from two to three weeks.

Little Norma Jean Klement returned to classes in the third grade Wednesday afternoon after being absent for almost two weeks on account of illness which confined her to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Klement.

Don Herald says:

LET'S LOOK AT IT ANOTHER WAY -- MAYBE SOME PRICES CAN BE CUT WITHOUT CUTTING WAGES

If anybody can afford to raise wages of his workers 25 per cent without raising the retail price of his product, I have a counter suggestion.

Everybody forgets about me — Mr. Don Consumer.

How about giving poor little me some of that 25 per cent?

Every time some economic fortune teller or tea-leaves-reader says that industry can raise wages without raising prices, some union leaders start grabbing.

If there are any loose 25 per cents lying around, how about remembering us consumers for a change?

Where Cissy Spent Her Honeymoon

Most of the young newlyweds in our town spend their honeymoon at Roundstone Lake or Jackson Falls; why the Martins even went as far as New York City.

But when Cissy Cupper married the young Carter boy, they allowed as how they were going to spend their honeymoon right here.

"There's no place better than our town," Cissy says. "And I'd like to start married life at home, with things Bud and I are used to."

Makes sense, come to think of it. Folks naturally left them alone; and except for occasional visits to the Garden Tavern for a glass of beer, they stayed at home, getting used to married bliss.

My missus prefers traveling—and that's her right. But from where I sit, there's no place better for a honeymoon—or second honeymoon—than right at home—with your own possessions, good home cooking, and a friendly glass of beer or two—with the best companion in the world.

Confidence

IN TEXAS

In 1912, the Texans who founded Texas Power & Light Company placed their confidence in Texas. Today, the results of this confidence can be seen in the network of more than 12,000 miles of TP&L transmission and distribution lines serving 445 cities, towns and communities in a 52-county area of North, Central and East Texas. This was made possible through large investments of private capital for modern generation, transmission and distribution facilities and by the management and operation of these facilities by Texas men and women. The Company today employs more than 2,500 Texans to direct and man this vast Texas public service institution, which provides dependable, low-cost electric service to more than 200,000 customers, including over 68,000 who live on farms and in rural areas.

Pioneer of transmission line electric service in Texas, Texas Power & Light Company since its organization has worked for the balanced development of the state. Its widespread system of power lines provides abundant, dependable electric service when and where it is needed, at rates as low and in many cases lower than those in the highly industrialized and densely populated North and East. The very existence of these power lines has been an important factor in paving the way for the phenomenal industrial development enjoyed in recent years by North, Central and East Texas.

Today finds Texas on the threshold of an even greater era of progress and development. Texas Power & Light Company has kept itself and its resources in good order, always preparing for the increased power needs of tomorrow while supplying the current requirements. AN IMPORTANT SEASON

To anyone who tries to maintain a proper perspective on this old game of life, the Wednesday just passed was quite an important date. It marked the 1947th anniversary of the beginning of Christ's labors to redeem mankind.

It was the beginning of the lenten season, which traditionally opens with the grim reminder that "Thou art from dust and to dust thou shalt return," and continues through 40 days of special effort to get back on Christ's course so as to merit the salvation for which He suffered and died.

Unfortunately much of the significance of the season is obscured nowadays by confusions and conflicts over temporal matters. We continue to fret over everyday troubles, both domestic and international, which could be practically wiped out by a universal and proper observance of lent.

Modern cynics scoff at the thought but it makes sense just the same. A 40 day period of trying to acquire the ideals and living standards recommended by Christ would eliminate most of the evils that cause current miseries. It couldn't be otherwise. Such conditions just cannot exist in an atmosphere of "Love thy God and thy neighbor."

In fact lent, far from being an outdated and superstitious custom, is such a good idea that it ought to be encouraged as a matter of policy even by the scoffers. Right or wrong, it is a better tonic for human relationships than anything else that has ever been tried.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D.C., Feb. 14 — The name of former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota appears frequently in the news around Washington. For several years Stassen has been building his fences and bending his efforts toward securing the Republican nomination for President in 1948. Most of the politically wise folks around Washington, however, think Stassen will not make the grade. While Governor of Minnesota in 1940 Harold Stassen appointed Joe Ball to the United States Senate. Now Senaor Ball and Mr. Stassen are at loggerheads over labor legislation. Stassen is obviously pussyfooting on the question in hopes he may secure organized labor's support for his candidacy.

This week a distinguished old gentleman who has served for thirty years in the American foreign service came in to talk with me about our immigration problems. He was recently moved out of one of our European consulates because he would not disregard immigration laws and issue visas to those obviously not entitled to them.

He confirmed reports given me by others returning from our zone of occupation in Germany. We are the only occupying power which continues to coddle the so-called displaced persons or refugees. Some 800,000 of these displaced persons will make their homes in around 299 displaced persons camps in the American zone. We furnish them blankets, clothes, and better food than others in Europe get. Thousands of them leave one camp or another, sell their prized possessions on the black market, and report under a different name to some other camp. Now a lot of foreign controlled organizations of the North and East are trying to get our country to open up its gates and let these folks, many of whom are professional trouble makers, come into our country.

Another mistake we are making in Europe is permitting families of our officers to go over there. When an American officer's wife joins him in Berlin or elsewhere they will frequently commandeer quarters and eject from 50 to a hundred Germans to provide quarters. The wife takes a big house, then she has another house for servants, and still another house for troops to guard fuel supplies which are of course unavailable to the natives. While the Germans caused the war and while they should suffer for it, it's a stupid policy to make the next generation of Germans hate us even more than did the last generation and to completely alienate from their minds any respect for democracy.

My fight to tighten up immigration laws is not based on any sort of prejudice. All of us are descended from immigrants. However, the vast majority of those seeking to enter now are not the type of folks who came to conquer a wilderness or to build our roads and factories. When there were frontiers to conquer and jobs to fill, immigrant blood meant strength. The blood now offered means weakness and pollution. Unemployment, housing, crime and un-Americanism and all of our social economic, and political problems are further complicated by immigration. According to the 1940 census 11,500,000 of our people are still of foreign birth, 23 million are either foreign born or have at least one foreign born parent, while 35 million are of recent immigrant origin.

I have a letter from the Census estimating our population in 1960 to be 153 millions, in 1970 to be 160 millions, in 1980 to be 164 millions. His letter concludes by saying, "These figures were taken from forecasts of population for the United State by age and sex, 1945 to 2000. In view of very recent increases in the birth rate, the forecasts are probably somewhat too low."

I must go over to Congressman Mansfield's party. The Judge is 85 years old today. He represents the Galveston district in the Congress. At the end of this term, he will have served in public office continuously for more than 60 years.

DO UNIONS PRACTICE WHAT THEY PREACH?

There's an astute gentleman with an inquiring turn of mind whose research has turned up some facts and figures that have astonished Capital observers both in and out of labor. As, for instance:

Organized labor — quite a business in itself—has some 60,000 locals which employ more than 110,000 persons.

Of those 110,000 workers, clerical and otherwise, employed by the unions, less than 20,000 are themselves members of unions—office workers' outfits and the like.

The unions pay their help, this gentleman's statements point out, an average of $30 a week — or "approximately $2,000 a year less than the amount which labor's own economists stated... is necessary to keep body and soul together."

Of some 600 labor papers published, only seven operate under a union contract.

Why, this inquiring gentleman is asking to some people's discomfort, don't the unions raise their workers' pay 25 per cent, as they demand of industry?

Why don't the unions set up health and welfare funds for their own employees, such as the $20,000,000 (by June 1) welfare fund for union coal miners by the industry's contribution of five cents for every ton of coal they mine?

In brief, he is asking why don't some labor leaders "practice what they preach?"

CATHERINE PITTNER, JOHN AREND MARRY IN GAINESVILLE RITE

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Pittner, route 6, Gainesville, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Catherine Pittner, to John V. Arend, son of Mrs. Lena Arend of Lindsay, on Tuesday, Jan. 14, in Saint Mary's church at Gainesville. The Rev. Peter Molloy, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass.

The bride wore a gown of white satin fashioned with high marquisette yoke trimmed with lily of the valley lace, long pointed sleeves and full skirt that fell into a medium train. Her veil of illusion was edged with lace and attached to a peaked headdress. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations.

Only jewelry worn by the bride was a ruby lavalier that belongs to her mother and is an antique, having been in the family circle many years. For "something borrowed and blue" she carried a white linen handkerchief edged in blue. Miss Mary Frances Arend, sister of the bride, received the handkerchief from her brother, William Arend, while he was stationed in Germany with the army.

Attending as matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Edgar Mages, wearing a dress of pale yellow net, made with fitted taffeta bodice and skirt of net over taffeta with velvet bows scattered around the full skirt. She wore a yellow net headdress and carried a bouquet of apricot snapdragons.

Miss Mary Frances Arend was bridesmaid. She wore a light blue frock with satin fitted bodice and full net skirt. Her headdress of blue net matched that worn by the matron of honor.

George Edward Pittner, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served to the bridal party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bierschenk Jr. east of Lindsay. The table was laid with an ecru lace cloth and was centered with a tiered wedding cake.

Dinner was served at 5 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents to immediate members of the Arend and Pittner families. A dance in the Lindsay community hall concluded the day's festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Arend are now residing two miles south of Lindsay. Having recently been discharged from the service after being overseas 18 months, Mr. Arend is a mechanic by trade.

LOWLY CORN COB WINS INDUSTRIAL HONORS

Philadelphia. — The lowly corn cob, once a worthless farm byproduct that couldn't even be fed to a hog, is now a valuable industrial material.

So important are corn cobs to the manufacture of precision ball and roller bearings that SKF Industries use more than 48,000 pounds of them a year.

The reason is that corn cobs, when finely ground have high absorbent qualities that are virtually free of acids that cause rust on highly polished steel. Balls, rollers and components of bearings are dropped into revolving barrels full of ground corn cobs for drying, clearing and polishing.

The earth's store of uranium ore would be exhausted in less than 100 years if uranium were to replace coal completely as a source of energy.
