

Hornets Primed For Game With Laneri Hi Here Friday Night

If a couple hundred people will just give the word, October 28 will become an important day in the history of this community. That's the day, we hope, when Muenster will launch an all out program that will result in a modern, well equipped hospital.

For almost two years we've been dilly-dallying around trying to sweat out more favorable building conditions. Now directors have decided that there's no percentage in waiting any longer. Who knows, we might wait until doom's day for the return of times that we remember as the good old days. And we might wait for years for the kind of conditions that please us just a little bit.

All the while our urgent need for a hospital and a first class medical program continues. Dozens of cases are convincing us that our goal is well worth the price . . . even nowadays when the price seems to be out of line.

In a strict sense we shouldn't even be thinking of the expense. Just as human welfare cannot be measured in terms of money, we should be concerned only with getting the job done regardless of the cost. But it so happens that even financial considerations lean in favor of the project. Lots of money is spent by Muenster people in distant hospitals, and lots more money plus lots of time is spent by family members and friends visiting in distant hospitals. Considering everything, it comes to quite an impressive amount.

The real purpose of these comments is not to sell anyone on the merits of the project. They are so obvious that they should be taken for granted. But another matter certainly rates our attention. The project is far too big to be put over by a few dozen or even a few hundred. It requires general community support. Mr. and Mrs. Average Person, by deciding whether to get behind a worthwhile idea, will determine the fate of our hospital. It isn't at all a question of whether we can but whether we will.

In that connection the column refers to an article in the Saturday Evening Post about a year ago. Public spirited people in Seneca, Kansas were faced with the same need we are but had far more obstacles in their way. Some said it couldn't be done but others went to work anyway. Their program even involved having two special laws passed by the state legislature and today they have a hospital that is the pride of the entire community. Cooperative effort, the very factor that accounts for much of Muenster's present success, did the trick.

Muenster too has the means and the spirit to make a big success of this venture. All it needs is the spark to arouse public enthusiasm.

From some of the conflicting views and reports coming out of Washington we're about convinced that bureaucrats are the world's best at messing up a nice free country. Sincere people, ready and willing to do their part in this food conservation program, are at a loss to decide what is the best way to help.

Very shortly after high powered publicity men propose a plan to save poultry and eggs the agriculture department informs us that the country has a tremendous surplus of poultry and eggs. Contrary to the other plan, it suggests eating lots of chicken, reduce the chicken surplus, and save some of the precious grain now being consumed by the poultry.

Well, what are we supposed to do? A sacrifice for a cause is all right by us. But we do sorta resent needless sacrifice caused by somebody's boner.

Or is it possible that publicity men just intended to out-fox us? Perhaps they intended to create a panic for poultry and achieve indirectly what the agriculture department recommends.

Regardless of all that, we like facts. We believe we can be better citizens when we know what's going on. By the same token we're darn disappointed later to discover that our cooperation was only party of a national blunder.

No doubt Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach boosted his popularity with the CIO when he recommended before that group's convention a minimum wage raise to six bits an hour. But the chances are that he did equal harm to himself among the majority of this country's straight thinking people.

At a time when we're all struggling to avoid inflation such remarks seem very much out of place. To follow the secretary's (Continued on page 8)

Things are going to be different here Friday night when the Hornets take on the Laneri Hi Micks of Fort Worth. Win or lose, the local boys are primed to uncork a brand of play that has been conspicuously absent in most of their previous encounters.

Coach Frank Hennigan has been grooming the Hornets all this week in hard practice at tackling and blocking. Heretofore the weakness on both of those fundamentals has been consistently costly to the Hornets. Hennigan also intends to perk up the boys for lots of action from the opening whistle instead of coasting three quarters as they did at Marietta.

Little pre-game dope is available here on the comparative strength of the two teams except that both have had hard times to date. Laneri hasn't won so far and Muenster's only win was against the undersized St. Xavier team of Denison. Present indications are that each club is looking forward to this game as a major engagement and an opportunity to break into the major win column. The opening kickoff is scheduled for 8 o'clock Friday night under the lights of the Hornet field. Bleachers have been provided through the courtesy of the Gainesville Community Circus.

Notes On Soil Conservation

A tour to observe waterway establishments for terrace outlets was made this week by the following cooperators: Edgar Klement, J.H. Bayer, Henry Pick, J.A. Klement, Frank Schilling, Paul Fisher, Henry Wiesman, and T. Miller. The tour was conducted by Soil Conservation Service technicians. It was agreed by all who attended that good firm, clean, seedbed and weed control are the most important factors in establishing a waterway. Seedings of one and two year old buffalo and bermuda and established sod were observed. Several cooperators are eager to obtain bermuda grass sprigs this winter for sodding of waterways. These cooperators are urged to leave these areas out of cultivation this fall.

J.A. Dennison, cooperator in the Northeast Saint Jo Conservation Group, recently maintained one mile of old terraces and sowed vetch and rye. He applied 200 pounds of superphosphate per acre and inoculated the vetch prior to sowing.

On the William Haverkamp farm, in the Felix Becker Conservation Group, Billy Joe Miller has planted 45 acres of alfalfa. Also, in the W.H. Endres Conservation Group, H.J. Lutkenhaus has planted 10 acres of alfalfa.

A coordinated soil and water conservation plan has recently been completed with A.F. O'Connor, on the farm he has purchased near Hood. As part of his conservation program, Mr. O'Connor plans to improve his pasture for use by his yearling cattle, and improve his cultivated land through the use of sweet clover as a soil building crop.

1.5 miles of terraces were laid out for construction on H.J. Lutkenhaus farm, in the W.H. Endres Conservation Group. Bobby Lutkenhaus was assisted by Lee Toothaker, Soil Conservation Service technician, in building the terraces with a disk plow by the "Island Method."

Charles Taylor Family To Join Him Soon In Manila

Mrs. Charles Taylor has completed arrangements to join her husband, Captain Taylor, in Manila, P.I., and, accompanied by their three children, Roger, Ginny and Jerry, will leave here next Wednesday, the 22nd, for San Francisco where they will board a ship on the 28th. Under normal conditions the ocean voyage will take two weeks.

Captain Taylor has been in Manila a little more than a year and will be on duty there for at least another year. Mrs. Taylor is the former Miss Lorena Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schoech returned Monday from a seven-day vacation tour that took them to Carlsbad Caverns, Jaurez, Mexico, and Albuquerque, N.M. In the latter city they visited briefly with Mr. and Mrs. H.P. Hennigan.

Speeding through an intersection stop sign, one of these drivers collided with another car. The force of the crash entangled the two cars and they skidded together across the intersection and slammed into a stone wall. Both drivers and a passenger were killed, two were seriously injured. National Conservation Bureau reports that disregard of traffic control devices ranks third as a cause of death in motor vehicle accidents.

Pep Squad Plans Rally And Bonfire as Warm-up For Hornet-Laneri Tilt

If the Hornet pep squad can possibly arrange it, Friday night's game with Laneri Hi is due to start off with school spirit near the fever mark. According to plans revealed early this week the rooting squad will gather an hour early for a bonfire and warm-up screaming practice.

Fans who come to the game are urged to make their appearance early and join in the build-up. The meeting will be introduced by a noisy parade of the pep squad through town.

CITY ASKS COOPERATION FOR CLEANUP WEEK; PICK-UP STARTS 23RD

Next week, October 20 through 25, is clean-up week in Muenster. The project was discussed and okayed by the city council in its meeting early this month and will be sponsored by the city. There will be no charge to citizens for trash hauling.

The city has secured a truck which will start making pickups on Thursday the 23rd, and everyone is urged to have all trash ready, boxed or sacked and placed at curbs by that time.

Clean-up Week is an event in which citizens are asked to cooperate to the fullest in the interest of health, appearance and freedom from fire hazards.

Buck Knabe Badly Bruised In 15 Foot Fall From Rafter

William "Buck" Knabe is severely bruised but resting easy since Monday when he fell about 15 feet from one of the rafters of the bus shed now under construction at the public school. He reported for treatments at the clinic under his own power but with the aid of a crutch to relieve the weight from his right hip, which took the principal impact of his fall.

The rafter, not completely braced, gave way under Knabe's weight, causing the fall. He was temporarily knocked out and revived within a few minutes.

KCs Have Communion Breakfast and Picnic On Columbus Day

In their traditional observance of Columbus Day, members of the local Knights of Columbus council assembled more than one hundred strong last Sunday, October 12, for a religious program in the morning and a social gathering in the afternoon.

At the 8 o'clock mass the knights received communion in a body, then had breakfast in the parish hall dining room. Members of the Sacred Heart P-TA, using the school lunch room facilities, prepared and served the meal.

The afternoon get-together for members and their families was held in the K of C hall from 1 to 7.

C.K. Walsh of Wichita Falls, past state deputy of Texas, was the honored guest and principal speaker at the communion breakfast. His message was two-fold, a plea for fidelity to ideals and a warning against the growing menace of communism. Columbus accomplished what he did, Walsh said, because he had the courage to carry on in spite of ridicule and criticism. As a defense against communism he urged a Christian standard of life and prayer, especially daily recitation of the rosary as requested in the vision of Fatima.

Others who spoke briefly at the breakfast were J.M. Weinzapfel, Herbert Meurer, J.B. Klement, Oscar Walter, Arthur Endres and J.W. Fisher. Grand Knight John Hoffman was toastmaster.

Among afternoon visitors were District Deputy and Mrs. Joe Korioth and LaFern O'Hanlon of Sherman.

Miss Florentine Trubenbach, R.N., has written her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F.J. Trubenbach, that she is at this time on duty in New York City after spending several weeks on an assignment in Canada. She is one of three young women engaged in this particular nursing project.

PROUDEST BOY IN TEXAS this week is Stuart Henderson of Hyman, Mitchell County, shown here with his Hereford steer which was judged Grand Champion of the Junior Livestock Show at the State Fair of Texas. More than 40,000 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers were on hand for opening day events, biggest gathering of its kind ever held in the Southwest.

Tree Identifications Feature Meeting of League-Garden Club

With "Identification of Trees" as the subject or the afternoon's program, members of the Civic League and Garden Club enjoyed an interesting meeting Friday afternoon in the public school.

Mrs. Jim Cook was in charge of the program and had on display 27 specimens of trees that grow in and around this community and members endeavored to name them. Mrs. Myrick was successful in naming 16 varieties. After the contest Mrs. Cook gave the name of each specimen and a round table discussion on the topic followed.

During the business session, preceding the program hour, committee reports were heard and routine business discussed. Mrs. Cook, highway chairman, reported that a group of members had joined her recently in weeding and cleaning around the west city marker.

Miss Olivia Stock, president, gave a report on the district meeting she attended in Dallas on October 8, and members discussed replanting memorial trees at the city square to replace those that died during the extremely severe winter or the extended drought this summer.

The flower arrangement of the month was a display of stone crop by Miss Angela Laake.

After adjournment Mrs. Cook was hostess for the serving of ice cream and small cakes. Plate favors were miniature corsages of marigolds tied with blue ribbon.

Hornets Lose 25-7 To Marietta Indians

A determined fourth quarter rally by the Muenster Hornets at Marietta last Friday night, though not sufficient to win the game, served at least to convince both players and fans that the boys have something once they get to clicking. For the first three periods they were pushed all over the field by the Indians, then braced and did some pushing of their own. From their own ten they drove steadily all the way for their only score.

The final score was Indians 25, Hornets 7. Marietta started its offensive early in the game by holding Muenster after the kickoff and then moving on to the touchdown in 6 plays from the 34. An attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete.

The next Indian marker came the third play in the second quarter. The Hornets received the kickoff on their 10 and punted on the second down. The Indians received on the 43 and advanced to the 12 as the first quarter ended, then went over as the new quarter started. The balance of the quarter was more evenly matched though still to the Indians' favor. Two first downs followed the kickoff and advanced the ball from the 12 to the 36 before the Hornets punted. Receiving on their 28 the Indians moved slowly to the Hornet 27 as the half ended.

As the second half opened the Indians cashed in early after receiving the kickoff on their 39. A pass for 21 yards and a run for 20 yards set the ball for a series of short gains to the goal. A pass brought the score and a kick the extra point. The rest of the quarter was taken up by exchanges which left the ball with Muenster as the next quarter opened. That was the beginning of the Hornets' only touchdown drive. Gremminger and Vogel did the heavy toting in the 90 yard march ending with Gremminger's end run across the line and his pass to Reiter for the extra point.

The Indians came back after the kickoff for a steady advance to their final mark.

Statistics of the play were heavily in favor of the Indians. They made 17 first downs against 9 for the Hornets and completed 5 of 10 pass attempts while the Hornets completed 2 out of 6. Total gains were 227 to 109.

Assurance of approved methods in operating the city's water and sewer system came to Muenster this week in the form of a certificate issued to Steve Moster under the authority of the State Board of Health and the Texas Water Works and Sewerage Short School. The certificate signifies satisfactory grades in an examination conducted by Water Works and Sewerage Association.

Mesdames Ray Evans, Ervin Hamrick and Lynton Mitchell spent Thursday in Dallas shopping.

C.L. Williams Badly Injured In Head-on Crash Saturday Night

With a fractured skull and left arm C.L. Williams is reported as being still in a critical condition as the result of an automobile accident on Highway 82 near Lindsay last Saturday night about 11 o'clock.

Members of his family returning from his bedside in the Gainesville Sanitarium stated Wednesday that he has only brief periods of consciousness.

Others involved in the accident were Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Mitchell, students of Texas University, in Gainesville for a week end visit. He sustained three broken ribs and facial lacerations and she sustained severe bruises. The couple was enroute west to the roadside park when they collided head-on with the Williams car.

Williams' 1939 Plymouth sedan was badly damaged by the crash. The 1947 Oldsmobile driven by the Mitchells was totally wrecked.

Alertness For Children's Winter Health Hazards Urged By Health Officer

AUSTIN— Seasonal health hazards for young children are to be guarded against in the wintertime just as carefully as they are in the summertime in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Every mother is familiar with so called summer complaints which affect small children but certain winter diseases can be just as harmful and are just as likely to make their appearance unless proper precautions are used during the approaching season," Dr. Cox said.

In the group of winter diseases Dr. Cox included influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, and even diphtheria when a child has not had diphtheria immunization. Any such disease affecting a child's respiratory or breathing system is apt to be very serious and all too often fatal. Pneumonia often develops from a neglected cold or may follow a severe case of measles or whooping cough. Bronchitis conditions may also prove to be an after effect of such diseases and these respiratory ailments are much more difficult to combat successfully than the digestive ailments which are prevalent in the summertime, and known as summer complaints.

"These winter diseases are especially dangerous to babies and very young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread from the secretions of the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense against them is to build up the child's general health, as a power of resistance against disease." Dr. Cox advised. "The second step is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure that they avoid contact with those who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

160 MILLION DOZEN EGGS DETERIORATING IN GOVERNMENT STORAGE

Chicago — The president of a large Midwest poultry and egg firm Tuesday asserted the government was asking reduction of egg consumption while the equivalent of 160,000,000 dozen eggs owned by the government "are deteriorating."

Frank Priebe, president of Priebe & Sons, said he sent a telegram to Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens Food Committee, saying "If the Army could and would draw on the stock of frozen and dried eggs which the government already owns you would see a quick drop in the retail price of shell eggs."

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Hellman were in Dallas Monday as dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Heuman and were also their guests for attendance at "Annie, Ge, Your Gun" at the Fair Park Auditorium.

Phillips company employees and their families enjoyed a 6 o'clock dinner at the tool house on the Knabe lease Saturday. All the ladies brought covered dishes for the meal and afterwards the group played games and visited. Some 40 persons were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cain had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Melton and children and N. Melton, all of Waxahachie. The Meltons are formerly of Myra where he was depot agent for many years. Other Sunday guests at the Cain home were his sister, Mrs. Alvin Taylor and family of Gainesville.

Sponsors at her baptism were Miss Louise Lueb and Willie Fuhrmann. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lueb of Kenefic, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Fuhrmann, Muenster.

Named to Head March of Dimes

Appointment of George D. Wilson, Houston businessman and civic leader, as Texas State Chairman for the 1948 March of Dimes was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The 1948 campaign to be held Jan. 15-30, will mark the tenth anniversary of the National Foundation, established by Franklin D. Roosevelt to "lead, direct and unify" the fight against infantile paralysis. The March of Dimes each January is the sole support of the National Foundation.

In announcing that Mr. Wilson had accepted the state chairmanship, Mr. O'Connor revealed that since 1943 infantile paralysis has taken a tragic toll, with more than 72,000 Americans having been stricken.

"Thousands," he warned, "continue to face a long fight for recovery. This summer, fortunately, we had a 'breathing spell' as polio incidence nationally did not approach the awful total of 1946.

"The cost of the 1946 epidemic alone will run to some $30,000,000, without taking into account the large sums necessary to care for those stricken this summer. We do not know what 1948 may bring, but we must be prepared."

A motorist in the South found a bridge over a stream washed away by a recent storm. A native sat whistling nearby.

"How deep is this stream?" asked the motorist.

"Dunno."

"Think I can drive through it?"

"Sure thing."

The emboldened motorist drove head-on into the stream. His car promptly sank out of sight and he himself barely got out with his life.

"What do you mean telling me I could drive through that stream?" he cried furiously. "Must be ten feet deep."

The native scratched his head. Can't understand it," he admitted. "The water is only up to there on the ducks!"

The old lady passing the insane asylum stopped an approaching inmate on the grounds and said "Can you tell me the time?"

The inmate took out a foot rule, then got a slide rule and a compass and a T-square. After fiddling with them for about five minutes he said, "It's just four o'clock."

"Wonderful," says the old lady. "What do you do if it's raining, and you can't measure the shadow?"

"Oh," shrugged the inmate, "in that case, I have to look at my watch."

Fires That Don't Happen

PHILADELPHIA — Altho processing enough inflammable material annually to incinerate all the world's cities, the oil industry reports a new 10-year record of leadership in the National Fire Prevention effort, celebrated in October. In this period, 100 leading oil companies established a fire loss ratio of .087 per $100 insurable value, substantially lower than the national average of .27. This photo of fires that don't happen shows a guard inspecting cigarets and matches checked at the gate of Gulf's refinery here, part of the rigid safety program by which oil workers and management protect American lives and property.

Donny Lehnertz spent Friday at the State Fair in Dallas.

Mystery of the Missing Farms

Yep, the number of farms in America is shrinking (by a quarter-million in the last five years!). What's happened to the missing farms? The land has been taken in by other farms, increasing the average size by twenty acres!

Does this growth mean farming's no longer a family enterprise? Just the opposite! More families own farms today than ever—only with labor-saving equipment they can handle more land, more work.

That's as it should be. The family farm is a fortress of democracy—where our free, American life is secure. Where every member cooperates and shares the work... living together in temperance and tolerance—temperance that prefers a moderate beverage like beer, and tolerance for a taste that may be different from one's own.

From where I sit, our Family Farms (and they're 96% of all farms) are something that this country can be proud of!

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Miracle Of Balance

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake
 (EDITOR'S NOTE: Alfred P. Haake, Ph.D., Mayor of Park Ridge, Illinois, is a noted Economist, Business Consultant, Lecturer and Author.)

The earth is full of wonders. Some of them are so close and familiar to us that we do not appreciate how wonderful they are. Among them is the miracle of balance.

All animal life depends upon vegetation to live. The cows and horses eat grass. The giraffe eats leaves. But, even the tiger, which eats neither grass nor leaves, lives by eating other animals which do depend upon grass and leaves. If these animals had no vegetation to eat, the tiger would also starve to death.

Animals must breathe. The oxygen they take in makes it possible to purify their blood and burn the elements which produce energy. If the air with its oxygen is shut off, the animal dies.

But the plants need carbon dioxide. Out of the water which comes up from its roots, together with carbon dioxide and other less important elements, the plant makes sugar, cellulose for its own structure, fruits, flowers and other elements. The carbon dioxide is just as essential to the plant as oxygen is to the animal.

The animal takes in oxygen and throws off carbon dioxide with its outgoing breath as the waste material from the process carried on in its body. The plant takes in carbon dioxide, breaks it down into carbon and oxygen, uses up the carbon and throws out the oxygen with its outgoing breath.

So the plants produce oxygen for the animals, and the animals produce carbon dioxide for the plants. And if we have the right quantity of plants and animals, they balance each other and furnish the right amounts of the two vital chemicals for each other. Balance gives us maximum life and growth for both groups.

It is balance that holds the spheres of the universe in their places through the law of gravity. If the balance were removed the world would fly into chaos.

The same principle is found in our economic life among men.

Some of us make shoes, others make pants, raise fruits, bake bread, or make automobiles or other commodities, while still others furnish personal services, such as law and medicine, teaching and preaching.

The man who makes shoes really sells his labor, so many hours or minutes of work. When he buys a coat he really buys a certain number of hours or minutes of work from the coat-maker. The two men exchange their labor with each other, even though they never see each other. That is why the real customers of any group of workers are the other workers who buy their products. When anyone cuts down the amount of work he does and gets more pay at the same time, he is really giving less work of his own in exchange for the more work he asks from the other workers with whom he exchanges his labor.

In order to keep everyone employed and to have the greatest good for the greatest number, there should be a perfect balance among the different kinds of articles made and services offered. If we have that balance, with just the right amount of everything made and offered, everything will be exchanged and used and everyone kept in continuous employment.

The more we divide our labor and specialize on different occupations the more we can produce per man per hour, but, also the more complicated the machinery of exchange becomes. In order to get the most production we must have specialization, but the very specialization complicates the problem of exchange.

The most efficient system yet discovered for accomplishing both large production and the fullest exchange of that production, is private enterprise. We can over-know more about our economic system and prevent the unbalances that cause depressions.

Free competition is the greatest of all balancers in economics and competition becomes more efficient as a balancer as we know more about the economic facts of life.

Changing Times

She — "What's the meaning of this? I found bits of rubber in my meat."

Butcher — "Sorry, Madam. Just another instance of the horse being replaced by the auto."

"Farmer, huh? I used to be a farmer. Darned hard work."

"Sure is," agreed the visitor.

"Ever try being crazy?"

"Why, no," the shocked farmer replied.

"You ought to try it some time," declared the inmate as he again relaxed on the cool grass. "Beats come depressions as we come to farmin'."

Historical Exhibit Shows Texas Women for 60 Years

With controversy raging over women's current fashions, an historical exhibit to show how Texas women have looked for the last 60 years has been assembled at the Hall of State, in Dallas, for the State Fair and to continue through the winter. A gift of 12 miniature figures, in exact reproductions of Texas fashions since 1887, were presented by Arthur L. Kramer, left, Dallas civic leader, to Dr. Herbert Gambrell, right, director of the Dallas Historical Society. They are seen above with two of the figures. The miniatures, made in collaboration with the costume wing of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, cover the fads of the wasp waist, the bustle, the Gibson Girl, hobble skirt, rising skirts after World War I, the curveless flapper, the depression's ankle-length skirts, and the modern 1947 cocktail dress.

D. A. Hulcy of Dallas, president of Lone Star Gas Company which serves this territory, was re-elected a director of the American Gas Association this week at its annual meeting in Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Hulcy was also appointed to the A. G. A. promotional committee which originated the slogan "Gas Has Got It," tying in with the industry's million-dollar national newspaper and magazine advertising campaign to stimulate replacement of more than 12,500,000 assertedly outmoded gas ranges with modern, automatic ranges, and to educate the American housewife on modern gas cookery. Mr. Hulcy had served as chairman of the promotional group since its inception three years ago.

Record '46 Freight Volume
Brings Only Profitless
Prosperity To Railroads

CHICAGO—Although the railroads handled more freight traffic in 1946 than in any other peace-time year, higher operating costs made it a year of "profitless prosperity," the 1947 edition of Railroad Facts states. The rate of return on the net railroad property investment, after accrued depreciation, was only 2.74 per cent in 1946, Railroad Facts said. This was less than half the amount the U. S. Supreme Court has repeatedly held to be a fair and reasonable return for regulated utilities.

The nation's railroad industry needs a net operating income of at least 6 per cent on property investment, in order to have sufficient funds for improvements and betterments to the railroad plant and to provide a fair return for investors. Fair and reasonable earnings also are needed to maintain the credit of the industry.

On the basis of the greatest peace-time traffic volume in history in 1947, even greater than 1946, it is estimated that on the basis of present wage levels and other expenses, the net return for the year will decline to 2.45 per cent, or .29 per cent less than last year.

P-TA PIE SUPPER IS TERMED HUGE SUCCESS

The P-TA sponsored pie supper last Wednesday night was one of the most successful affairs if its kind ever held in this city.

More than 50 pies were up for auction and bidding was exceptionally lively with prices soaring to eighteen dollars per pie. Auctioneer Dick Cain presided at the microphone for the auction.

Another lively contest was the popular girl contest which was won by Miss Jeanette Meurer. She received a decorated cake as the award.

Hot coffee and ice cream were available to go with the pie and after refreshments had been partaken of the assemblage enjoyed informal diversion and dancing. Music was presented by a quintet of high school students, Monte Hellman, Danny Luke, Johnny Furbach, Virginia Walterscheid and Betty Lue Buckley.

Proceeds from the party went into the athletic fund to buy equipment for Sacred Heart grade and high school students.

"Yes," the woman affirmed; "he don't do nothing but set around all day and howl."

"Well, mister," the farm woman replied, when the census taker inquired about the political faith of her family, "we-uns is kind o' mixed up I'm a Republican, my husband's a Democrat, the baby's a Wet, the cow's Dry and the dog belongs to the Reform Party."

AT LAST A BREAK FOR ORPHAN CALVES; TURPENTINE DOES IT

A touch of turpentine is all you need to find a mama for an orphan calf.

At least that's what Mrs. Mike Schuster, farm wife living near Mexia, uses in raising baby calves with a nurse cow.

According to M.H. Brown Jr., Limestone county agent, Mrs. Schuster puts a few drops of turpentine on the backs of all her calves, orphans and natural calves alike. The turpentine destroys the natural scent of the calves, and makes them all smell the same. Then, the cow, who apparently goes quite a bit by her sense of smell, can't tell the difference and lets the orphans nurse without kicking about it.

Mrs. Schuster tells the county agent, "All you have to do is destroy the scent of the natural calf. I never have any trouble making my cows let orphan calves nurse."

Mrs. Brown had complained to her doctor for overcharging her. "Don't forget that I made eleven visits to your son while he had the measles," the doctor told her.

And don't you forget that he infected the whole school," Mrs. Brown added.

Dazed Motorist (regaining consciousness: "I had the right of way, didn't I")

Bystander: "Yeah, but the other fellow had a truck."

An efficiency expert walked up to two clerks. He asked the first clerk: "What do you do here?"

The clerk, fed up with red tape, buck-passing, forms, office politics, and, above all, efficiency experts, answered: "I don't do a thing!"

The efficiency expert nodded, made a note, then asked the second clerk:

"And you, what's your job here?"

The second clerk, a fellow sufferer, said: "I don't do a — thing either."

The efficiency expert's ears perked up. "Hm," he said, "duplication."

An elderly spinster listened to a sermon on St. Augustine, who in his young days was the most dissolute youth in Rome. Nevertheless, he repented and became a noble leader of the church.

"Ah, yes," said the pastor in closing, "the greater the sinner, the greater the saint."

"Humph!" muttered the old lady. "I wish I'd known that 40 years ago!"

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Bassett and son of Dallas were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zwinggi.

Miss Anna Mae Dieter of Fort Worth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Val Dieter, during the weekend.

Miss Evelyn Spaeth of Dallas was home for a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Spaeth and family.

Henry Sandman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sandmann, underwent a tonsil operation at Gainesville Sanitarium last Thursday and has recovered.

Mrs. Pat Hennigan and infant son who spent about a week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sandmann, returned to their home in Muenster Friday.

Vincent Zimmerer and Leo Neusch of the Lindsay Conservation group, assisted by technicians of the Gainesville Work Unit, Soil Conservation service, have staked off pasture strips during the past week. A good seed-bed will be prepared on these strips this fall and allowed to settle before sodding and seeding early next spring. Buffalo grass will be seeded on the outside of the strips & Bermuda will be seeded or sodded in the center. After a cover of grass is established the strips will be utilized as outlets for terraces on adjoining cultivated land in addition to furnishing pasture for livestock.

GAINESVILLE-LINDSAY KC'S OBSERVE COLUMBUS DAY

The Gainesville-Lindsay council Knights of Columbus observed Columbus Day with group attendance at mass and corporate communion at Saint Peter's church, Lindsay, followed by breakfast in the school auditorium.

Approximately 100 members and guests attended the observance.

LUNCH PROGRAM RETURNS TO LINDSAY SCHOOL

The hot lunch program has been established at the Lindsay school again and the first meal was served Tuesday. The program returns to the school after being inactive for about five years.

Sponsored by the parish mothers and fathers the project is serving hot lunches to some 40 students.

As a preliminary to the program the school dining room was completely redecorated.

JEANETTE WALTER HEADS JUNIOR 4-H GIRLS' CLUB

The Junior 4-H club of Saint Mary's grade school in Gainesville elected officers at a recent meeting when Miss Mildred Chapman, county agent, met with the girls and distributed yearbooks and receipts.

Officers elected are Jeangtte Walter, president; LaVonta Bayer, vice president; Mary Jo Schad, secretary-treasurer, and Marian Berend, reporter.

suggestion would loose another spiral of costs and prices and make conditions even worse than they are today.

For the life of us we can't understand why these so-called experts persist in working at the wrong end of the problem. Successive wage demands only make conditions worse. They tend to balance income and expense . . . at higher levels . . . but meanwhile they are playing havoc with everybody's savings. The net result is a loss to every person who had something laid aside.

What we want is a trend toward lower prices and lower wages, a national economic standard that does not penalize thrift and industry of yesteryear.

And that's not all. We also believe these labor people, including labor organizations and
