Muenster Hospital Plan Awaits Health Department Survey

Slowly but surely the public school situation of this community is shaping up for gratifying possibilities. Another district asks for admission to our fold, and we can feel certain that several others will follow suit as their distress becomes more pressing.

Times are tough for the little country school house. Declining population and convenience of transportation are playing havoc with its enrollment. Shortage of teachers and competition from larger schools intensify the problem. Small districts can't carry on. They have to look for help, and, fortunately, they are usually able to offer as much as they ask. A school merger represents an opportunity to both sides.

In this case Muenster is getting lined up for a nice break. Bulcher and Valley Creek should be interested soon. The same can be said of Myra. In fact, in just a few more years this district should be able to support a wonderful school system on a very low tax. That's the goal we're all looking for. Muenster can become a scholastic as well as a business center.

Other possibilities are no less pleasing. The natural growth attending business and school development offer greater inducement for medical and recreational facilities. Definitely, Muenster is on the way up.

Whoever doesn't think the community is romping along now should take time to check on the town's daily freight tonnage and that, according to the big economists, is a fairly accurate measure of activity. There are towns in Texas with twice our population and less than half our freight volume. It just goes to show that things are happening.

Quite a few ventures are conspicuous for their contributions to this community's activity. Two factories, a large electrical distribution system, oil development and production, car dealerships, lumber yards, grocery stores and lots of other business in addition to an outstanding agricultural area. Land is Muenster's important resource and the present indication is that it will not only stay here but will continue to improve as the years go by.

Sometimes we are inclined to be impatient with our progress in soil improvement. The sight of gullies and silt-loaded creek water, of bare pastures and poor crops, all remind us that much remains to be done. But the sight of lush cover crops holding topsoil, grazing cattle and storing vital elements for next year indicate that quite a few are on the right track. Every year more take up the good work. The experimental stage is past and the development stage has begun. Results will be increasingly apparent as the years roll by.

After hearing Louis Bromfield speak in Wichita Falls last Friday night, Con is convinced that the community should have organized a caravan to get a real attendance there. The time and effort spent would have been one of the wisest investments ever made around here. To hear the noted author-farmer's down to earth philosophy on agriculture is to get an entirely new slant on the dignity and importance of farming and in the opportunity it presents.

The man is most serious in his estimates of damage already done and the importance of checking our wasteful trend. Millions of acres are already lost. More millions are badly depleted. Entire sections that once thrived in plenty are reduced to want and malnutrition. Millions of people who once contributed to national prosperity have become burdens to taxpayers because they are no longer able to make a living on their land. Some receive total relief, some receive partial relief through subsidies.

In spite of apparently higher prices, our real welfare has declined because production costs have increased as productivity increased. Fifty cents per bushel on a good corn crop is far better than a subsidy supported price of $1.00 per bushel on a poor crop, is the way Bromfield puts it.

Those convictions are the basis for the author's real message to stop the waste now and begin salvaging what is left. Stop erosion, re-develop forests and pastures, put fertility back into tillage land. A big job, to be Further action on Muenster's proposed hospital now awaits a survey to be conducted in the near future by the State Health Department. The information was disclosed by directors of the Muenster Hospital Association after their meeting Monday night.

According to J.M. Weinzapfel, president, the survey will be conducted in connection with the association's application for federal aid in the construction and equipment of the building. If the survey indicates an urgent need for hospital facilities in this area the association will receive further consideration on its application. Eligible projects can get one third of their financing through the federal grant.

Though many things remain to be done, the directors decided to wait for more definite information before going on with either their membership drive or their building plans. The size and type of building will be determined by the acceptance or rejection of the application and a more definite idea of the building is desired before new memberships are solicited.

Encouragement for the project was received in a letter the latter part of October from N. B. Roberts, director of the National Survey and Construction division of the state health department, stating that members of his department would come to Muenster soon to study local needs in relation to eligibility for federal aid. "We will most certainly give your community every consideration and assistance possible," he wrote.

The directors, in their first session since they were elected at the association's general meeting on Oct. 28, elected the following officers for the coming year: J. M. Weinzapfel, president; R. N. Fette, vice president; Herbert Meurer, secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Herbert Hundt, Arthur Endres, E. P. Buckley and J. W. Hess.

GAS EXPLOSION BLOWS SECTION OF WALL OUT OF HUCTIONS LAUNDRY

A gas explosion at the Huchtons Laundry at 3:30 Wednesday morning blew out about one third of the south wall, lifted the roof and caused other damages resulting in an estimated loss of approximately $400.

The cause was described as either a leaking or broken gas connection. When Fire Chief Jimmy Lehnertz reached the scene he found a full stream of gas escaping from the loose end of the hose but had no way of knowing whether it was loose before or was torn loose by the blast. After frequent alternate connections with a heater and a hot plate the hose was badly worn and did not fit securely. The igniting spark apparently came from the pilot light of the water heater, the only flame in the building.

Fire damage was very slight. Only some clothing, a door and a table were touched by the flames.

The explosion had several freakish effects. Though the blast was powerful enough to knock out a part of the south wall and push the rest of it out of line, it did not break window glass at the opposite end of the room. Two washers were knocked over but bottles and other items on shelves were left standing. The roof was lifted a full eight inches.

Temporary repairs were under way Wednesday to have the business back in operation Thursday.

THANKSGIVING BAZAAR WILL RAISE FUNDS FOR REMODELING RECTORY

An annex for the parish rectory is the goal for a new drive that will get under way here on Thanksgiving day.

According to Father Herman Laux, pastor, the addition will consist of two upstairs rooms over a garage. It will be built on to the north side of the house with an opening from the upstairs hall entering into the new wing.

All proceeds from this year's traditional Thanksgiving benefit will go into the rectory remodeling fund.

CATHOLIC VETERANS SEEK TO ESTABLISH POST AT MUENSTER

Efforts to organize a Muenster post of the Catholic War Veterans got under way here last week when a small group of local veterans and Father Herman Laux met with R.J. Akeroyd of Houston, editor and business manager of "The Catholic War Veteran", to discuss the institution of a unit.

Final success of the venture will depend on a meeting in the parish hall Tuesday night, December 9, which all Catholic veterans of the community are urged to attend. Bill Brown of Wichita Falls, state commander of the organization, will be present at the meeting.

The purpose of the organization is to assist the Church in its efforts toward social justice and a Christian standard of living. Its principal activity at this time is combatting the spread of communism. Local groups, in addition to assisting in the national program, maintain their own social and civic functions.

Notes On Soil Conservation

Al Wiesman, cooperater three miles east of Muenster, built 1050 feet of field terraces with a three disc breaking plow recently. Charles Schmitt constructed 940 feet of diversion terraces and 1.5 miles of field terraces on the farm Eddie Schmitt is operating in the H.J. Fuhrman Conservation Group. Terraces on both farms meet district specifications.

Several cooperators have established all the conservation practices planned on their farms. Cooperators who have their plans on maintenance are: Joe H. Otto (Tony Noggler, operator), one mile northeast of Hood; Tony Felderhoff; both of Leo Rohmer's farms; and J.M. Weinzapfel (Joe Wimmer, operator). Soil conservation practices planned and completed are rotated grazing, cover crops, farm ponds, diversion terraces, field terraces, contour planting, seeding pasture, and crop residue management.

Sweet Clover is the key to good soil management in the Work Unit. J.R. Johnston, of the Temple Experiment Station, says, "Sweet Clover reduces soil erosion, increases soil fertility, and is an economic plant from the standpoint of forage and seed production. In a two year rotation of sweet clover for seed and corn, corn production has increased in yield 40 percent. Data obtained during 1945 and 1946 shows that 10 inches of topsoil on 3.8 percent Austin Clay soils (same as upland soils around Muenster) would last approximately 1700 years if the land were continuously cropped to hubam, whereas as the same land row cropped without special erosion control practices would wash away in less than 100 years."

MERGER OF MUENSTER, TYLER BLUFF SCHOOL DISTRICTS IS LIKELY

An early consolidation of the Muenster and Tyler Bluff school districts appeared probable this week when petitions for simultaneous elections began circulating in both districts.

Albert Henschel, president of the local school board, disclosed that Tyler Bluff trustees visited here Monday and expressed their desire for annexation to the Muenster district. They proposed immediate circulation of a petition for a special election in both areas. A majority vote in each district is necessary to make the merger effective.

Tyler Bluff is one of the three districts now remaining in the northwest part of the county. Its scholastics, along with older Bulcher pupils, are transferred to the Saint Jo school. Bulcher retains one teacher in its school. Valley Creek, adjoining the two districts, sends its pupils to Muenster.

Joe Starke attended the lecture by Louis Bromfield in Wichita Falls Friday night and was joined there by his brother, Ed Starke, whom he accompanied home to Holiday to spend the weekend. Ed and his mother came to Muenster with Joe and spent Monday and Tuesday here with the Starke family.

Hornets Will Play Thursday; Old Grads Friday and Sunday

Unless more rain changes present plans local football fans will have three games in store for this weekend. The Hornets will play once and the Ex-Hornets will play twice.

Thursday night the Hornets and Bowie Bunnies will make a second attempt to get together. Originally scheduled for Friday of last week their game was postponed by mutual agreement when wet weather set in last Thursday. According to present plans the game will start at 7:30 on the Hornet field.

A meager bit of information on the visitors indicates that the teams probably will be closely matched. The Bunnies constitute most of the lineup that held the Saint Jo Panthers after the Jackrabbits, Bowie's regulars, had a safe margin. The Hornets held the Panthers to six points early in the season.

The following night Muenster's Alumni team will be seeking to even the score with Saint Mary's Alumni of Gainesville. The previous meeting was a closely matched and hard played contest with the Gainesville team winning by a one touchdown margin. They will play at Leeper stadium, starting at 8 o'clock.

Sunday afternoon the old grads will take on the Saint Mary's HJ Mustangs on the local field at 3 o'clock. Comparison of previous scores indicates a close match for that affair. Both made about the same showing against the Hornets.

News Of Sick And Injured

Michael Driever is recovering at his home from a tonsillectomy performed at Gainesville Sanitarium Saturday morning, and will return to classes at Sacred Heart High school next Monday.

MEN WILL STRUT AS MODELS AT PTA STYLE SHOW FRIDAY NIGHT

Ideas on how ladies' apparel should not be worn will be plentiful Friday night when 25 local men will, in the name of sweet charity, lend their torsos for a style show.

The event is a benefit party sponsored by the Public School P-TA in the parish hall at 7:30 o'clock.

Modeling is only one of the events in this all-men's affair. The program starts with a one-act comedy featuring an all-male cast and a plot as balmy as the impersonations.

Next comes the style show, then a pie supper at which the men will complete their evening of self-sacrifice by digging deep into their purses.

A special feature of the evening is the drawing for a Thanksgiving turkey, Joe Parker's gift to the party.

At Scouters Camping Course

Scoutmaster Nick Miller and Scouter Ben Seyler spent Saturday and Sunday at Camp Wisdom, 20 miles southwest of Dalhous, attending a scouters camping course.

HEART ATTACK CAUSED DEATH OF MRS. STRENG NOV. 11 AT TEMPLE

Funeral services for Mrs. Sylvester Streng, 48, of Temple, formerly of Muenster, were held Thursday morning, Nov. 13, in Saint Joseph's church at Cyclone, Texas, 12 miles east of Temple, and burial was in Saint Joseph's cemetery there. The pastor, Father O'Regan, officiated.

Mrs. Streng died suddenly on Tuesday morning following a heart attack which afflicted her several hours before. She was taken to a Rusebud hospital but never regained consciousness.

She was a native of Schulerburg and was Miss Adela Winkler before her marriage to Mr. Streng in 1919. They are former residents of this community having moved away in 1943.

Survivors are her husband and one son, Walter, three sisters and two brothers.

Relatives at the funeral included Mrs. Leo Moser and son, Joe, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Streng and Henry Streng of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Streng of Gainesville, and Miss Margaret Streng of Fort Worth.

Catholic Daughters Admit 35 Members At Reception Sunday

Thirty five new members were admitted to the local court Catholic Daughters of America during reception ceremonies held Sunday afternoon in the Knights of Columbus hall. This is the largest class ever received here and almost doubles the membership.

Mrs. A.J. LeBlanc of San Antonio, state regent, was present for the occasion, and Mrs. Regina Sontag, grand regent of Denison, and Mrs. J.M. O'Gorman, past grand regent of Wichita Falls, were among other visitors attending the ceremonies.

The day's program began with members' and candidates' attendance at the 6 o'clock mass in Sacred Heart church and group reception of the Eucharist. Reception ceremonies began at one o'clock.

Following the reception rites a banquet was held at 5 o'clock in the parish hall dining room. Approximately 120 members and their husbands or escorts were present. The tables were beautifully adorned with arrangements of fruit, autumn leaves and berries. A Thanksgiving menu was served.

Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel, local grand regent, served as mistress of ceremonies. Welcome was extended by Mayor J.M. Weinzapfel, and other speakers were Mrs. LeBlanc, Rev. Herman Laux, chaplain of the court, and Mrs. John Mosman, district deputy.

Winning the trip is one of the outstanding honors in 4-H club boys and girls work. It is the result of all-around achievements in club work.

Fourteen boys and 11 girls from Texas will attend the congress.

Bromfield Stresses Urgency of Saving Natural Resources

Addressing several hundred persons in the Wichita Falls municipal auditorium last Friday night, Louis Bromfield, internationally famous author-farmer, made a powerful appeal for conservation and improvement of this country's land resources. His appearance at Wichita Falls was one of the many in a state wide tour sponsored by the Second National Bank of Houston and the Burlington Railroad.

Stressing that the only real wealth of any country is its store of natural resources, Bromfield stated that America is wasting its heritage faster than any other country in the history of the world. In addition to lavish use of oil and minerals Americans have been guilty of shameful misuse of their forests and crop lands. We have a choice, he said, of going on in our destructive way until the country can no longer support its population, or we can rebuild our productivity to support twice our present population.

In connection with this problem the speaker referred to a recent statement by Bernard Baruch that "we had best make an invoice of the real wealth and natural resources left to us before we go on distributing them around the world with a lavish hand in the form of manufactured commodities, either for free or for money".

Bromfield testified from his experience that land productivity can be preserved. In France, he said, fields that have been cultivated a thousand years still produce 60 bushels of wheat per acre, and over here land that had been abandoned has been restored to a similar yield.

Land can be saved and it can be rebuilt, he said, and America's job is to start saving and rebuilding before it is too late.

Muenster was represented at the meeting by Joe Starke, J.M. Weinzapfel, Robert Mitchell, Pat Carpenter, Wilmer Luke, and R. N. Fette.

PARISH MOTHERS SET FOR BIG CELEBRATION ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Activity in the Mothers' Society of the parish is gradually working to its top speed as the committees in charge of the annual Thanksgiving bazaar enter their final week of preparation for what they anticipate will be one of the most successful benefit socials the community has ever had.

Members are busy especially in connection with the community dinner. They began this week to collect donations pledged by the families of the parish.

As president of the society, Mrs. Ben Seyler, is general chairman. She is being assisted by members of the society and by members of the other parish societies.

The Catholic Daughters of America have taken over the management of the Country Store feature, and members of the men's and boys' societies are in charge of the cold drinks and the shooting and ball, throwing games.

The noon meal is scheduled to begin at 12 o'clock and will continue until all are served. Starting simultaneously are the picnic features and other diversions. Supplementing these features in the evening will be a dance in the K of C hall while other activity continues in the parish hall.

COMMUNITY WOMEN WILL SEW TEN DOZEN RED CROSS GARMENTS

Muenster's newest Red Cross sewing assignment consists of five dozen cotton flannel shirts and five dozen woolen skirts. The work is being sponsored by the Saint Anne's Society, whose officials ask the assistance of all women in the community to complete the articles.

Members of the society spent several days cutting the bolts of materials into the designated garments and these are now ready to be taken home and completed. They may be picked up at the homes of Mrs. Ben Seyler, Mrs. John Wieler and Mrs. Ervin Hamric. The sponsor group is desirous of having the garments completed by December 8.

Folks here were burned up over an article on Our Town I reprinted from a city paper. Made us sound like a bunch of "hicks" who whittled sticks and wore chin whiskers. (Last person I saw with chin whiskers was passing through on his way east.)

So I ran an editorial on how we spoke of city "slickers"—as overdressed wisecracks, only interested in making money, and spending it in night clubs.

Fact is, if we got to know each other we'd probably find we're not much different, underneath. City folks work hard; like to come home at night to their families; and relax with a moderate glass of beer, like we do.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if you live in an apartment house or on a farm—work in an office or a cornfield—the American tradition of quiet home life, temperate habits, and neighborliness is common to all of us.

"That's the new cab that 'breathes'! It 'inhales' fresh air — 'exhales' used air — draws in fresh air that's heated in cold weather, and forces out used air."

"Try that seat. It's fully adjustable. They tell me it's got 12 inches more foot room, and eight inches more seating space, too."

"Take a look at that cab, all one piece. Not a rivet or bolt. There's 22% greater visibility — and even more with those new rear-corner windows!"

"You ought to get a look at that new frame. It's REALLY built!"

"This beats any truck I've ever seen! Why, it's built to do ANY job!"

"Have you seen that new Chevrolet truck, Mac? It's the truck with Advance Design!"

"The cab's specially mounted... on rubber! It practically eliminates road-shock and vibration!"

"I took a look under the hood and, boy, it's still got that valve-in-head engine! It does more work on less gas than any other engine of its size!"

*Fresh-air heating and ventilating system optional at extra cost.

The American Way

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT, BUREAUCRATIC STYLE

At one time in America there was a real spirit of Christmas—that was before the blighting touch of Uncle Sam's tax collectors fell upon it. Come Christmas time something happened to the most irascible and cantankerous boss—he became the very essence of sweetness and light—and taking the elastic off the bankroll he passed out Christmas presents to his employees, deserving and undeserving alike.

But Uncle Sam says this is all wrong—"horse-and-buggy" stuff—and the boss who is such an old "stick-in-the-mud" as to indulge in such silly sentimentality, is to be punished for his mistaken generosity. What in the world has happened to Uncle Sam? He used to be such a benevolent, kindly old gentleman.

Well, what led me to bring this up is that I've just received a copy of a bulletin sent out to his managers by J.H. Chapman, President, C.W. Chapman Lumber Company, Waterloo, Iowa. Read what Mr. Chapman says in that bulletin and weep with him:

"This company was checked recently by the Federal Internal Revenue Department on Federal Income Tax for 1944. Everything was found in order and OK'd except an item of Christmas presents for employees for the year 1944.

"We will be assessed a fine of about $540.00 on that item and the same will probably apply on 1945 and 1946 employees' Christmas presents.

"The Chapman Lumber Company has given Christmas presents to its employees since 1901 and this custom has never been questioned before—but times are different. The Bureaucrats are even kicking Santa Claus around for the pound of flesh for Uncle Sam.

"We are a little hazy about the technicality of the law but the gist of it is that any present given by a corporation to any employee must be considered as wages and deduction must be made for withholding tax, social security tax, Iowa unemployment tax, and Federal Excise tax on pay roll. In other words—if you give the stenographer a box of candy with a hearty wish for a very Merry Christmas—you must at the same time ask her to pay you back about 20% for withholding tax plus 1% for social security. Then you must figure out 1.8% for the Iowa

Employment Commission and 1% for our share of the social security.

"All that is too much for our frazzled brain and nerves which are by this time about to collapse due to Federal kickings-around for 15 years. Therefore, will all of you please plan to give all your employees a bonus check this year in lieu of a ham or a turkey or some candy? Try to decorate the check with holly or Christmas bells so it will carry some of the spirit of the season—but be very sure that you deduct every known tax for the Federal government and make your records very clear so we can figure out the taxes we pay.

"It is said that it is more blessed to give than to receive. We hope all our employees feel very cheerful about giving to the Federal government. We noticed by the papers that the Federal Bureaucrats just bought 66,000 tons of prunes to keep the price up."

That final touch about the "prunes" especially intrigued me. But, seriously, isn't it a sad state of affairs when a boss doing his darndest to be a good fellow with his hired help, gets his ears pinned back by an officious bureaucrat who knows little and cares less about the spirit of Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moser and baby spent the weekend in Oklahoma City at the bedside of her mother who is ill.

An Enlisted Man and Gent
He was a small, timid private — the wall-flower of the party. But when the orchestra played a familiar and sentimental tune, he took courage and walked across the dance floor. Picking a beautiful but over-sophisticated damsel for his partner, he asked:

"Pardon me, Miss. May I have this dance?"
A quick glance at his diminutive size and the lone stripe on his sleeve, and she replied: "I'm sorry, but I never dance with a child!"
But quite unshelched, the private bowed deeply.
"Oh, I beg your pardon!" he said. "I didn't know your condition."

be signed by plaintiff, was filed of record in Book 204 page 361 of the Deed Records of Cooke County, Texas, wherein the above described lands and premises were set out to be the community property of plaintiff and T. D. Payne, deceased. That the said affidavit is untrue and erroneous in that said land is her separate property and casts a cloud on her title.

Taking No Chances

When it became apparent that Patrick Clancy's life was ebbing fast, Father Flanagan was called to administer the last rites. "Pat," he said, "you've given me lots of trouble in your lifetime, but I know you are a good man at heart. Now that you are about to die, are you ready to accept God and renounce the devil?"
Pat thought this over in silence for a moment and then said, "Father, I am certainly willing to accept God, but at this particular time I don't feel I am in a position to antagonize the devil."

SAVE FEED

The best way farmers can help save food is to SAVE FEED. NOT by selling their stock, NOT by underfeeding, but by avoiding waste of feed. Follow these feed-saving practices:

1. Cull low producers, feed remaining ones better.
2. Balance farm grains with protein supplements, and essential minerals and vitamins to help make better use of feed.
3. Reduce animal loss. A pullet that dies in December represents a loss of 40 lbs. of feed.
4. Control parasites (lice, worms, etc.) that sap an animal's vitality and interfere with efficient feed use.
5. Get rid of rats, worst of all feed wasters. It takes 50 pounds of grain to feed a rat a year. In addition to what it eats, a rat wastes 50 to 100 pounds. (Try Anturat)

FUL-O-PEP vitamin fortified dairy feeds will do an outstanding job for any dairyman. Provided in different protein levels to fit your feeding needs.

 REGULAR MEETING OF LEAGUE-GARDEN CLUB

The Civic League and Garden Club held a chrysanthemum show within the membership at the regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon in the public school. Mrs. Nick Miller was awarded first prize for the best arrangement. Mrs. T.S. Myrick was second and Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel third.

During the business session Miss Olivia Stock, president, presided. Routine business was discussed and committee reports were given. Members voted to sew for the Red Cross and are assisting in the present project of making shirts and skirts.

A number of memorial trees which died during the past summer will be replanted soon in the city square, it was announced, and one large cedar tree which died on the cemetery will be replaced.

A Christmas party to be held next month was discussed and a committee composed of Mrs. Ben Hellman, chairman, and Mmes. Henry Fette, Urban Endres and Tony Gremminger will make arrangements. Members will be notified by card as to the date and place. Mrs. Ben Hellman gave some interesting details of the Saint Jo Fair and Flower Show she attended on the 8th, and Mmes. Weinzapfel and Myrick told members about the Gainesville Evening Garden Club's flower show they attended on Nov. 6.

In addition to members, one visitor, Mrs. Callie Baumhardt, attended the Friday meeting.

VICTOR HARTMANS HOSTS

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman were hosts in their home for the regular monthly get-together of the Forty-Two Club last Wednesday night.

Four tables were arranged for progressive 42 series and gifts were presented to Albert Schilling for high score, and Mrs. Frank Schilling as the consolation favor. Ed Endres received the galloping prize.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to the group after the games.

"I'll have to have a raise, sir," said the bookkeeper. "There are three companies after me."
 "What three?" demanded his boss.
 "Light, telephone and water," was the reply.

TWO TURKEY FEASTS: SUNDAY AT LINDSAY AND THURSDAY HERE

Lindsay's annual Thanksgiving picnic and bazaar will be held next Sunday, November 23, members of the Mothers' Society, the sponsor group, announced this week upon completion of their plans for the event. The observance is held early so as not to conflict with Muenster's bazaar and dance on Thanksgiving Day. The committees in charge of the various details stated that arrangements include fun and refreshments for young and old and that everybody is invited to attend. The affair will begin after dinner and will continue during the evening hours.

sure, but also a gratifying and profitable job as Bromfield can testify from his own experience. "Pleasant Valley" is the story of his achievement in reclaiming land productivity. Abandoned farms have had wheat yields increased from 8 to 60 bushels per acre. Grazing capacity was increased twenty-fold. Springs and streams came to life. Lush growth and wildlife abound where bareness once existed. What he has done so completely can be done at least partially by every person whose land isn't already a total loss. Comfort and security along with an immense feeling of satisfaction is the reward for the farmer who accomplishes that.

A little further pursuit of the thought suggests some wonderful possibilities for this community. The trend toward better farming is catching on fast around here. That offers a swell chance to get out in front and keep several jumps ahead in the nation's come-back. It looks like a mighty fine set-up, just waiting for us to do something about it.

Incidentally, Bromfield's philosophy has no room for worry about over-production after fertility is restored. Regardless of what happens to prices, there will be lots of commodities which really counts more than money anyway. There is no such thing as a real surplus, the man claims. Better distribution is his solution for apparent surpluses. Maybe he has something there.
