VOLUME VI

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, AUGUST 7, 1942

NUMBER 37

After a little more than a week in the American Sahara, Con is happy to submit a cheerful report. As some of the men were saying when we came in, this place ain't so bad once a person gets accustomed to it.

In that respect, we've had the good fortune of being broken in gently during the past week. For the most part, nature moderated somewhat in its blitzkrieg of calories and at the same time the training personnel moderated in its demands. Lectures and demonstrations took up a lot of the time that we'd otherwise have spent getting hot.

Our most interesting experience was an introduction to the work which, we are told, will be our number one job in times to come — laying metal mats for a landing field. It's amazing how fast the ground can be covered with those things. Two or three companies of engineers properly clicking can complete a field in a day. We got a fair idea of how the track moves ahead when we divided into groups and had a little speed contest of our own.

So far we've worked with two different kinds, adaptable to different types of soil. There are three or four more that we're destined to learn about soon. But regardless of the type, the finished product is essentially the same. A long floor that looks like either a continuous sheet of perforated metal or a lacework of bars and rods.

From time to time this column has carried a mention of various kinds of engineering duties. All of which gives a faint idea of what it's all about. Finally Con is able to offer a simple, concise and comprehensive explanation, one given in our battalion commander's lecture only a few days ago. "An engineer's assignment is to assist in the advancement of his own troops and to hinder the advancement of the enemy." Taken as a whole, that covers a multitude of jobs. At first thought, it would seem this excuses us from actual conflict — until one considers that very often the only way to retard the enemy is to get down on the firing line, or that to advance our own men it is often necessary to get out in front and prepare the way. Some idea of this specific branch of engineering can be deduced from the fact that we're to learn about machine guns, tommy guns, and anti-aircraft guns in addition to steel mats, graders, bulldozers, caterpillars, blasting equipment, etc. And, oh yes, let's not overlook the lowly pick, shovel, axe or sledge.

Don't laugh, but — Con spent Saturday afternoon on a typical post-man's holiday. A hike up one of the nearby mountains. Imagine that as a diversion from our daily monotonous grind of drilling and hikes. Nevertheless it was quite enjoyable. In spots a bit exciting. Peaks of the ranges on both sides of this camp may be mere anti-hills compared with some of the nation's loftier mountains, still they loom up as quite a challenge to anyone who has only a few hours for climbing. By the time a fellow gets to the top he feels as though he's accomplished something.

The two-mile tramp over desert from this battalion area to the foot of the mountain revealed that a few of Con's previous hasty conclusions concerning wild-life were not so correct. We averaged seeing a jackrabbit every hundred yards. Also one gopher. And one of our party got a momentary glimpse at what he thought was a coyote. We know the coyotes are here. They serenade us quite frequently.

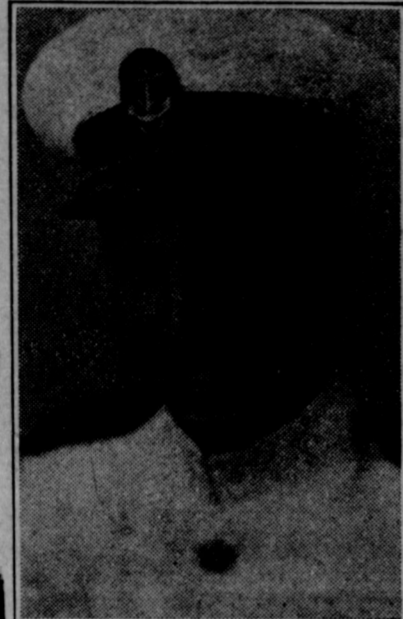

So Con has learned that outside the immediate camp area this desert is not as dead as it would seem. The animals simply moved a little to make room for us. As regards the scare stories about rattlers, I'm convinced that they are badly exaggerated. Still haven't seen one and have heard of only one being seen since our arrival. How-

FLYING CADET

Aviation Cadet Norman Luke enlisted in the Naval Air Corps in March of this year and trained at U. S. Naval Reserve Air Base at Dallas before being transferred to Corpus Christi on June 4. Last week he finished his basic training and checked into the advanced training period. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. A. Luke.

SGT. HOEHN SENDS CABLE TO PARENTS FROM AUSTRALIA

A cable from somewhere in Australia arrived Saturday morning for Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hoehn from their son, Sgt. C. M. Hoehn. The message follows: "Happy wedding anniversary, Dad. Am getting along satisfactorily. Hope to be out of hospital soon. Love to everyone."

This is the first message from their son since he was injured in the battle of Lea, New Guinea, on July 3, following which he underwent a delicate brain operation. It was on Saturday that the Hoehns observed their 25th wedding anniversary and the cable greeting reached them early in the morning. "It was the nicest thing that could have happened to us on our anniversary," Mr. and Mrs. Hoehn declared. They spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cler at Garland, and other members of the family, Miss Bertha Jane Hoehn of San Antonio, Albert from Oklahoma, and Jack from Ranger, along with Billy from this city, enjoyed a happy family reunion weekend. Mr. Hoehn is on his annual vacation.

4-H GIRLS DISCUSS COUNTY FAIR; PLAN TO MAKE ENTRIES

The discussion of entries in the County Fair to be held next month furnished the principal business at the regular meeting of the local 4-H Girls' Club Monday morning in the parochial school auditorium. During the business session Misses Laura Lee Wilde and Mary Nell Hennigan presided as president and secretary, respectively.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger, sponsor, and members of the club discussed their entries to be made in the County Fair and rules were listed. It was mentioned that clothing must be starched and freshly ironed and a piece of domestic 2 by 3 inches should be sewn inside the collar bearing the name, age and respective club of the girl making the entry.

Fruit jars should be polished and bear labels identifying the kind of fruit, etc. These labels may be obtained from Mrs. Gremminger. All articles for display should be at Mrs. Gremminger's home before 10 o'clock in the morning on Saturday, August 15. Baked goods should be delivered to the Gremminger home before 10 A. M., Monday, August 17, it was stressed. Mrs. Gremminger will be in charge of taking the entries to Gainesville.

During the social hour following the business session Little Miss Alena Swiczynski gave a number of tap dances accompanied on the piano by Miss Margie Endres. Mrs. Joe Luke, Mrs. Frank Kaiser, Miss Olivia Stock and Miss Mary Becker were guests. Sixteen members attended.

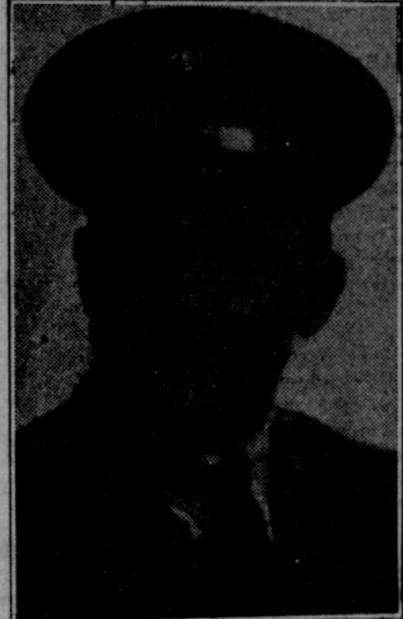

JIM REESE EXTENDS THANKS TO VOTERS

I am grateful to my friends in Muenster and Cooke county who saw fit to vote for me in the Democratic primary and return me to the office of County Clerk. Your confidence in my ability and integrity fills me with the desire to serve you with all my energies. I consider your vote a fine expression of confidence and I thank you most sincerely.

JIM REESE.

U. S. ARMY COOK

Corporal Paul Yosten is stationed at Camp Normoye, San Antonio, where he is a cook. He has been in the army ten months, the first six of which were spent at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming. On May 25th Cpl. Yosten married Miss Bernice Miller of this city and they make their home in San Antonio. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yosten.

War Industry Training Courses Given Free at Gainesville School

Local men and women who wish to obtain training in skilled occupations so that they may make their war contributions and at the same time earn good wages were urged by Mr. W. O. Edgington, manager of the Gainesville office of the United States Employment Service, to investigate the free War Industry training schools now in operation.

These schools are operated jointly by the state and federal governments, in cooperation with the public school system, for the purpose of training people for war jobs. They charge no fee for the training, and there are now openings in the schools for many men and women who wish to prepare themselves for war industry. Mr. Edgington said. Graduates from War Industry schools are needed in such war plants as aircraft manufacturing, shipbuilding, munitions manufacturing and others which exist in Texas. Thousands of trainees who have gone through free schools have been placed in these industries by the United States Employment Service.

Training is offered in the following subjects: Machine Shop, Aircraft Engine Mechanic, Aircraft Sheet Metal, Drafting, and Inspection. Men between the ages of 18 and 65 years, and women between the ages of 18 and 45 are wanted to fill classes in these subjects. The training period lasts from six to 12 weeks, depending on the subject and ability of the trainee to learn the subject.

The trainee may choose the subject in which he is most interested or in which, because of some previous training or experience, he is most likely to make good. The schools in most cases are operated on a 24-hour basis, so that employed people may obtain training outside their regular hours of work. Since there are free schools, the only cost in connection with them is that the trainee must be able to support himself during the training period. In the case of boys and girls between the ages of 17 and 24 years this is sometimes not necessary, since they may be assigned to National Youth Administration war work centers where they will be boarded and paid for work performed during the training period.

Mr. Edgington urged that any one in or near Gainesville who is interested in obtaining war industry training in the subjects listed contact him at the United States Employment Service office located at 114 Main Street.

Melvin Charles, Infant Son of Frank Evans, Dies at Pilot Point

Melvin Charles, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans of Pilot Point, died on July 27, nine hours after his birth at the family home. Funeral services were conducted the following day with Rev. Thomas Tschoppe officiating. Burial was in Saint Thomas cemetery at Pilot Point.

The baby is survived by his parents, a sister, Maurine, and four grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hess of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans of Pilot Point. Mrs. Evans is the former Miss Clara Hess of Muenster. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hess attended the funeral services.

Mrs. R. L. McNeley fractured her left leg, last week when she made a mis-step and fell at her home. She is resting comfortably although the injured limb is in a cast and will remain in the cast for four weeks.

Pace Announces His Withdrawal As Representative

Run-Off Candidate Throws Support to Cliff C. Gardner

Jim Pace, who has served as state representative from Cooke County and who was runner-up to Cliff C. Gardner in a four-man race July 25, has announced his withdrawal from the race for nomination at the run-off primary on August 22. Mr. Pace notifies the voters that he withdrew from the race in favor of Mr. Gardner who led the ticket in the first primary, and asks the citizens of the county to give Mr. Gardner their loyal support.

Avoiding the expenditure of considerable money and time for both men, with the final election results problematical, were given as the principal reasons for his withdrawal. Pace was seeking a third term.

He paid tribute to Mr. Gardner's fine citizenship and indicated his belief that Gardner is well qualified to make the county a good representative.

This leaves only one run-off race of major interest to the voters of Cooke county, that of state senator in which Senator Olan R. VanZandt of Tioja and Charles R. Jones of Fannin County will compete.

USE OF V-MAIL IS URGED FOR WRITING TO MEN OVERSEAS

The sending of V-Mail letters to our armed forces outside of the continental United States is being urged by postal officials and by members of the war department. This special mail, on its original form, or on micro film, occupies considerably less space than correspondence of the usual type and army planes carrying mail outside the United States give V-Mail preference over all other classes.

Space on U. S. ships and planes serving our armed forces is limited, most of it being vitally necessary for the shipment of materials and supplies in order that the fighting forces will receive the maximum amount of such supplies. To conserve space and to reduce weight of mail this V-Mail service was inaugurated. V-Mail micro-films are now being sent to and received from the forces in the British Isles, Egypt, the Middle and Far East, Hawaii, Australia and other points in the Pacific.

The Muenster postoffice has a supply of this mail on hand and is giving it to patrons of the office without charge. In a short time it will be available at all stationery counters. The use of this mail is urged for all correspondence to men in the service who are outside the United States.

Statewide Reduction In Fire Insurance Rates Is Announced

AUSTIN, July 30.—A sweeping, statewide reduction in fire insurance rates, announced today by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, will result in an estimated saving of $3,200,000 to Texas policy holders during the next 12 months. The new rates involved in today's order by the Board of Insurance Commissioners, will become effective on fire insurance policies written after August 1, 1942.

The broad reduction affects many classes of insured property, and in the case of dwellings amounts to as much as a 25 per cent saving in future insurance costs. "The revision of rates in today's order," Commissioner Hall added, has resulted from an exhaustive study of fire losses experienced in these classes. The Board of Insurance Commissioners is continuing a study of losses experienced in other classes with a view of determining whether other reductions may be justified. In addition, the Board is giving serious consideration to the subject of broadening the coverage of insurance policies to give the policy holder added protection.

"Recently the Board urged companies to reduce their operating costs in order that this saving also might be passed on to the public. Cooperation of both companies and agents to this end has been splendid. The agents, as a whole, are due particular credit in the unselfish attitude displayed in a willingness to see all savings possible passed on to the insurance buyers."

The greatest saving in any class will apply to dwellings. This benefit, estimated to exceed $2,625,000 within the next 12 months, will reach more individual property owners than any other class. Premiums on insured dwellings last year accounted for approximately 40 per cent of the fire insurance business written in Texas.

SEVERAL MUENSTER FAMILIES MOVING TO NEW LOCATIONS

A number of Muenster citizens changed homes this week. The Henry Growing family moved Saturday from the Schmitz estate place to occupy the place west of the viaduct where J. T. Barker formerly resided. The Schmitz house has been rented by Henry Schmitz and re-rented to a family who will move here from Gainesville next week.

Mrs. Eunah Lee Walton has moved from J. C. Trachta's rent house to her recently completed apartment adjoining the beauty shop and the place she vacated is now occupied by Ed Aston, formerly of Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carter moved Tuesday from the A. C. Stelzer apartment to the Robinson off lease north of the city and are occupying the house vacated by Jimmy Nichols and family who moved to Oklahoma.

J. W. Fletcher of Marysville, new carrier for mail on Rural Route 3 of Muenster, has moved to this city with his family to make his home. He bought the Frank Seyler place in the east part of town. Mrs. Seyler will occupy the small bungalow in which Mrs. Christopher Fette lived and Mrs. Fette has rented the L. A. Bernauer house formerly occupied by the Lee Jennings family. The three moves are expected to be completed this weekend.

Frank Yosten recently purchased the H. S. Wilde property in the northeast part of town. Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hamric will move into one of the apartments in the large house as soon as interior remodeling is completed. They moved here recently from Illinois and have been staying with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Wheeler. Mr. Hamric is employed at the Gainesville air field.

Buddy Bernauer has gone to Decatur to be employed as bookkeeper at the L. W. Flusche Motor company. Mrs. Bernauer and children will join him there this weekend and they will make their home in that city. Buddy replaces Rupert Wernet, bookkeeper for Mr. Flusche for many years, who was last week inducted in the army. Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bradley and daughter, Lois, moved to Decatur this week to make their home. The Bradley house south of the city is vacant at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Friske moved during the weekend to their farm home purchased some time ago east of Gainesville, and the place they vacated will be occupied by the Martin Friske family.

HEALTH OF NATION'S MANPOWER IS VITAL IN TIME OF WAR

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 3.—"Not steel, money, rubber, sugar, gasoline, nor any other war material equipment can win this war without manpower," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The backbone of the entire civilian war program is the health and physical stamina of the men and women who stand behind the machines, who mold the steel, who conserve the rationed articles, who volunteer for defense activities, who earn the money that buys the war bonds, who work the farms and ranches that feed the fighters and who look after the homes and families that the military men are fighting for.

There can be no doubt that the protection and promotion of the health of these people, then, is as important to the outcome of the war as it is to the lives and peace-time welfare of the people themselves.

It is the State and local health departments' duty to help them choose foods necessary for building strong bones and sturdy resistance to disease, to tell them about immunization against certain diseases, to urge periodic health check-ups, protect water and milk supplies, and tell them how to prevent illness and accidents.

"There are many other services that health departments can and are doing in their everyday work," said Dr. Cox, and he urges that the public make more use of the advice given to them by the health authorities.

Rev. Alfred Hoenig returned to Corpus Christi Monday after spending a week in this parish assisting with church services and visiting relatives.

Military Funeral Is Held at Lindsay Thursday Morning

Pvt. Ulrich Arendt, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt of Lindsay, died Sunday at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., following an illness of three months. Pvt. Arendt had been in the army since February of this year. In May he underwent a delicate brain operation from which he never recovered.

The body was sent to Lindsay, arriving Wednesday at noon, and solemn high mass of requiem and a military funeral were held at Saint Peter's church on Thursday morning at 8:30. Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiated at the mass, assisted by Rev. Richard Eved of Muenster and Rev. John P. Brady, Gainesville, after which the flag-draped casket was moved to the cemetery for military services.

The Gainesville unit of the Texas Defense Guard had charge of the military service. After six of its guns had fired three simultaneous shots in salute and caps were sounded, Major S. G. Stanforth took Old Glory from the casket and presented it to Mr. and Mrs. Arendt.

Sgt. Ernest Arendt, brother of the deceased, of Camp Swift, and Pfc. Bernard Zimmerman of Shepard Field were guards of honor and Andrew, Paul Henry, Johnnie Joe and Arthur Arendt, Alfred Neuh and Lambert Beizer were pallbearers. George J. Carroll and Son Funeral home was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Pvt. Arendt was born in Lindsay on January 4, 1917, and spent all of his life in that community prior to his entry in the armed service. He was inducted February 3 at Mineral Wells, Camp Wolters, reception center and was sent from there to Maryland where he was stationed at Edgewood Arsenal for some time. Later he was transferred to Washington, D. C., and was attached to the medical center.

His father visited at his bedside in May, shortly after the operation which was necessary for the removal of a brain tumor. While the family was aware of his critical condition, nevertheless word of his death was a distinct shock. Letters they had received the week previous informed them that Pvt. Arendt's condition was unimproved but they were unprepared for the message telling of his death, following so quickly.

Surviving are his parents, five brothers, Sgt. Ernest Arendt, Camp Swift; Andrew, Paul Henry, Johnnie Joe and Arthur Arendt of Lindsay, and seven sisters, Mrs. John Hoberer, Jr., Gainesville, Mrs. Emmet Fette, Muenster, and Anne, Lucille, Louella, Florene and Joan Arendt, who live at the family home.

Hundreds of friends from Lindsay and surrounding communities attended the funeral which was the second service of its kind ever held in the city. Following World War I a military funeral was held in February 1919 for Joseph Block, only soldier of Saint Peter's parish killed in France in 1918.

Youth Societies Hear League Report; Plan Social For Wednesday

A report of the Catholic State League convention held in Fredericksburg last month was heard by members of the Young Ladies' Sodality and Holy Name Society in a joint meeting at the parish hall Monday evening. Miss Anna Marie Klement, delegate from the girls' organization, gave an interesting, detailed account of the two-day conclave.

Other business discussed was the annual Labor Day picnic which the youth societies will help sponsor and plans for the forthcoming CYO social to be held on Wednesday of next week.

A committee composed of Misses Betty Hartman, Katie Mae Walterscheid, Elizabeth Walterscheid and Anna Marie Klement and Andy Wimmer, Harold Luke, Richard Swiczynski and Leonard Hartman was appointed to take charge of the affair.

The Lindsay CYO group is invited to attend and a full evening of fun is arranged. A number of one-act skits will be presented, contests and games will be conducted, and refreshments served. All registering before 9:30 are to be eligible for the door prize, it was announced.

WAR MARRIAGES

Hasty war marriages make the marriage business booming these days — says the H. C. McGinnis in the Grail, Vol. 24 - No. 5, May 1942.

Yet since marriage is a lifetime contract it must be entered into only after it has been given every common sense consideration. One can not change life mates as easy as discard a hat and therefore the original choice should be a lasting one. Let us weigh some changes that are bound to develop during the war in husband and wife. There are spiritual changes that take place in the heart of the man for the wholesale slaughter of humans has an effect and usually sears the soul and he is not what he was at the marriage but entirely changes for the worse. For the girl this means that she may never live with the man she really married, being tied for life to one who seems a spiritual stranger. The man whose spiritual ideals she so admired may have become only a tender memory to her. To the boy it means that after the war, he may wonder why he ever accepted the responsibilities of marriage, making him constantly itch to escape from what he considered a privilege before he went to war. He may have lost interest in raising children, he may have become pleasure-mad, desiring to compensate himself for what the war took out of him.

Soldiers are often also morally different than they were as civilians. Living under a nervous strain, they may take to drinking or gambling. The girl who marries a temperate youngster today may find later that she has on her hands a man who is a drunkard, with all the additional evil habits of that vice, or a gambler who forgets his duties toward wife and children. Besides, moral looseness is almost proverbial in war-time and with its far reaching moral and physical consequences make wife and children suffer for sins they did not commit.

Archbishop Glennen, of St. Louis in a sermon warns against hasty war marriages. He says: "War is hardly the time for such an important step; for we know that human nature is unconstant, and that throughout the days of war there are many sad experiences, and some people come back from the war disillusioned, and some brides who remain home are disillusioned."

A third opinion on this question is voiced by the Editor of the "Advance Register of Wichita" Vol. 23, March 3-42, Rev. William Schaefer, in his column, "This Week" where he suggests, some practical consideration especially to the Catholic girls. "Suppose" he writes, "the soldier husband does not return after the war, because he is missing. What if she fell in love and wants to marry? The mere fact of his disappearance without any trace of his whereabouts is not considered sufficient proof of death, no matter how many years he has not been heard from." Some unexpected day he may come back, broken in health and spirit. Here is the question. "Will the young bride vigorous and healthy, take the crippled husband for the rest of their lives? Consider all these points well, my good girls: This is the ounce of prevention — to a life of regrets.

Dorothy Dix, a battle scarred veteran of many a love entanglement, also writes on this subject that soon after the marriage the couple must separate, not to meet again for a long time, perhaps never. The fact that a child may be born in the meantime handicaps the girl and has a bad effect on the morals of the soldier who has enough to worry about without adding domestic anxieties to his other troubles. Miss Dix calls attention also to the fact that after a long separation the couple may not regard each other as in the glamorous days that went before. The vendor wears

S. J. R. No. 20 A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Section 33 of Article 16, of the Constitution of Texas so as to permit the accounting officers of this State to draw and pay warrants for salaries to officers of the United States Army or Navy who are assigned to duties in State Institutions of higher education.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 33 of Article 16, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 33. The accounting officers of this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant upon the Treasury in favor of any person, for salary, or compensation as agent, officer or appointee, who holds at the same time any other office or position of honor, trust or profit under this State or the United States except as prescribed in this Constitution. Provided, that this restriction as to the drawing and paying of warrants upon the Treasury shall not apply to officers of the National Guard of Texas, the National Guard Reserve, the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, nor to enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States, nor to retired officers of the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps, and retired warrant officers and retired enlisted men of the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps, nor to officers of the United States Army or Navy, who are assigned to duties in State Institutions of higher education."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the third day of November, 1942, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"For the Constitutional Amendment permitting the accounting officers of this State to draw and pay warrants for salaries to officers of the United States Army or Navy who are assigned to duties in State Institutions of higher education."

"Against the Constitutional Amendment permitting the accounting officers of this State to draw and pay warrants for salaries to officers of the United States Army or Navy who are assigned to duties in State Institutions of higher education."

Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballots, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Section 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State, and the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election.

LOCAL CYO GROUP HAS SUCCESSFUL "BACKWARD PARTY"

The Muenster chapter CYO entertained with a "Backward Party" last Wednesday evening in the parish hall with members of the Lindsay chapter invited as special guests. More than a hundred young people enjoyed the evening's fun that was headlined with a boys' beauty contest.

In keeping with the theme of the party the young ladies made the dates and paid for their escorts admission, bought refreshments and otherwise saw to it that the young men had an enjoyable evening. In the beauty contest, in which ten contestants vied for the honor, Rody Klement won the prize. The decision was made by the applause of the assemblage. Prizes were also awarded to Henry Yosten who drew the door prize and to Miss Olivia Walterscheid and Norbert Koesler, winners in the waltz contest and to Miss Anastasia Tempel and Frank Beyer, of Lindsay, survivors in the balloon dance. Refreshments were served throughout the evening and a sing-song was enjoyed. The party was chaperoned by Rev. Richard Eyeld and J. W. Fisher and evening prayers, led by Father Richard, concluded activity.

FAREWELL PARTY HONORS YOUTHS LEAVING FOR NAVY

A farewell party honored Pat Hennigan on Thursday evening, preparatory to his leaving for service in the Navy. Sharing honors with Pat was Earl Swinger, who also left for Navy duty Sunday. A group of thirty young people gathered at the Hennigan home and proceeded from there to Roadside Park where a wiener roast was held. A large assortment of other food was served with the wieners and outdoor games were enjoyed. Preceding the outing Mr. and Mrs. Hennigan entertained with a dinner party in their home honoring their son. In addition to members of the family, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schmitt were guests.

ever, we did come across some long, slim, racy looking thing a few days ago. No idea what it could be called. Someone guessed it was a sand snake. Well the peculiar fact is that it was a pinkish red, actually a rather pretty color — if you can appreciate color on a snake. Besides it was elongated and speedy, something like a blue racer.

Funny how that happened. We were standing at attention in a clearing when a fellow noticed it out of the corner of his eye. Regulations or no regulations, he let out a war-whoop that busted up the formation. And how the guys scattered! Some withdrew to a safer distance, some pounced upon the doomed reptile. Then came a

BEAUFORD JESTER OPENS CAMPAIGN THIS FRIDAY NIGHT

CORSICANA, Texas, August 5.—

Opening his run-off battle for the State Railroad Commission, Beauford Jester will discuss the importance of his campaign in a radio speech to a statewide audience from his home town, Corsicana, at 9:30 p. m., Friday, August 7. The talk will be carried over a fifteen station network.

"Texas oil and transportation are vitally important to our war effort," Mr. Jester said. "Most of the oil that will fly our planes, power our mechanized divisions, and fuel the ships of America and her Allies will come from Texas. There must be no bottle-necks in Texas oil production and transportation facilities."

"The people of Texas need a war veteran and a fully qualified Railroad Commissioner who will see to it that every industry regulated by the commission can and does function at its maximum in our war effort," Mr. Jester declared.

BRIDE OF THIS WEEK IS PARTY-SHOWER HONOREE

(Held over from last week)
Miss Frances Wiesman, who was married Monday to Leonard Yosten, was complimented with a bridal party and shower Thursday afternoon in the parish hall. Mrs. Joe Swirczynski and daughter, Miss Rita, were hostesses.

Progressive 42 series furnished diversion for the guests during the afternoon with Mrs. Paul Nieball scoring high and Mrs. Rudy Hellman low. Each received an attractive prize which they, in turn, presented to the honoree.

A large assortment of lovely and useful gifts was presented to Miss Wiesman after which the hostesses served refreshment plates to fifty guests.

barrage of rocks. I wonder whether military discipline in this crowd will ever reach the point where men stay in ranks when a snake's in sight. If that happens we'll admit that the army has really succeeded in training us.

Something to look forward to. Better times are coming for this battalion within the next several weeks. We'll again take up the lives of semi-civilized people. By the standards we once knew the accommodations will still be very crude, but compared with this they will be luxury. Instead of plain tents on a desert clearing we'll have real wood floors plus a wood framework to support the tent. As good as a building out here where it doesn't rain, perhaps even better because it permits better air circulation. Better bath-houses, too, and water hydrants at convenient locations among the quarters. Now we have to carry our water in cans. And electric lights instead of puny candles that flicker at night and wilt during the day. No foolin'. A few days ago we forgot to put the candle away. It melted when the sun reached the proper angle.

The only catch is that we'll probably have the kind of luck Jim Lehnert's outfit had. They started the way we're doing it. Finally they moved and had hardly settled in their new homes when the transfer order came through.

However, when we consider how other soldiers get along, we really have little room for complaint. Some are in the tropics with similar inconveniences and a mess of pests to boot. They have to fight off mosquitoes, frogs, snakes, Japs and what not.
