

Taxation without representation was one of the causes of the Revolutionary War, and lately we have reason to wonder whether an opposite evil, representation without taxation, may eventually lead to a revolution of American taxpayers.

Obviously it is rather ridiculous that a big segment of our population, those receiving Social Security benefits, receive an excess of consideration from our legislators while people who pay the bills are left holding the bag.

This point is illustrated by present efforts to provide medical care for the aged as part of the Social Security system. Regardless of humanitarian motives that might be claimed by promoters for this scheme, we are sure that no politician has overlooked the vote getting appeal it has on the older people. So we have a situation in which a minority group, with possibly enough voting strength to determine an election, receives powerful representation, whereas little concern is shown for those who have to provide the Social Security funds . . . the workers and their employers. Common sense insists that something is wrong when those who receive have so much influence in legislating benefits which are paid for by others.

There are a few other alarming facts about the medical care for aged program. It would place another big burden on a system that already fails to pay its way. Whether its proper or not, the fund just can't afford it. Or would the extra expense be met by putting another bite on wages and salaries? Social Security already gets six cents for each dollar earned and its take is scheduled to grow to nine percent. Do we want it to grow even higher?

The one big fault about Social Security is that it is socialism, pure and simple. Some still tell us that it is a form of insurance, but it is not. It's a method of robbing Peter to pay Paul. Funds which are supposed to be deposited to our credit aren't there at all. They go to current beneficiaries, many of whom have paid in the bare minimum to qualify for the hand outs, and those who pay have no assurance that the system can hold on until their time to collect. Instead of legislating more benefits to increasing numbers of beneficiaries the politicians ought to be doing things for those who make the payments.

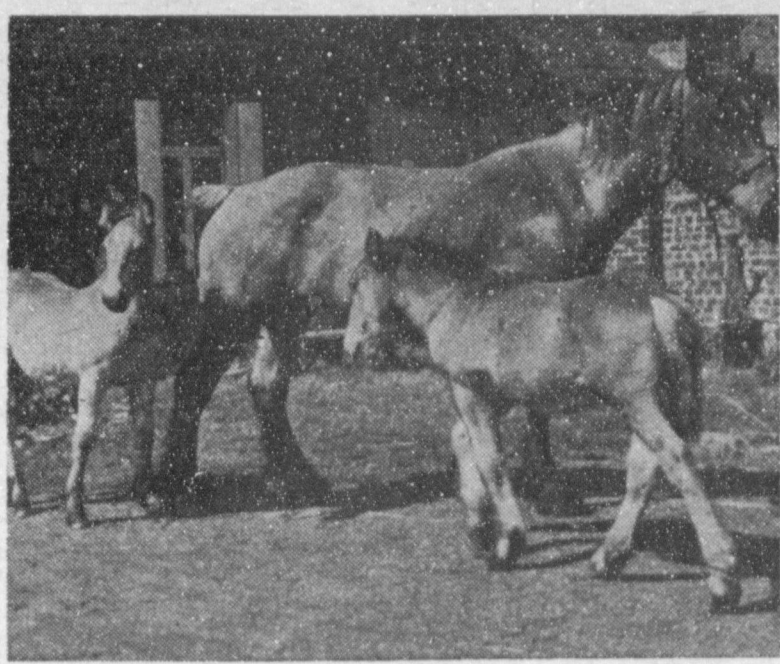

While agreeing with President Eisenhower that the Soviet court imposed a harsh sentence on Francis Powers . . . especially by comparison with our punishment of Russian spies . . . we must admit that it was less than expected. He was lucky. Soviet citizens get worse treatment for trifles, such as years in a slave camp for a single unguarded remark.

Fortunately the trial was directed by Red standards of propaganda rather than Red standards of justice. Throughout the affair emphasis was placed on the contention that the US government was the offending monster and the accused was the penitent dupe of his superiors. He was not so much to blame as his country, so his punishment was correspondingly light.

It all fits with the line spread by Moscow a few days before the trial started, that United States more so than Powers was on trial, which was constantly hammered by both the prosecution and the defense. It would be equally true to say that the USSR was on trial, and we have a feeling that the Russian big wheels were aware of it. All the world knows the Russian record of spying and the lenient treatment given by other nations to red spies. Khrushchev must have known that severe treatment would have caused international resentment. So he ordered the light treatment and milked it for every last ounce of its propaganda value.

Columist Dale Francis writing in last week's Sunday Visitor makes the blunt prediction that Castro and Communism in Cuba will be ousted in a year, perhaps even in six months, but qualifies his statement with a great big "if" . . . if the United States will see that Russia and Red China are prevented from helping the Cuban Reds.

He quotes a number of Cuban exiles over here as stating that the spirit of rebellion is strong on the island and getting stronger every day.

Architect Named For Construction Of Local Hospital

The first definite step toward construction of this community's hospital was taken Friday night when directors of the Muenster Hospital Authority engaged James R. Killebrew of Wichita Falls as architect.

Next steps toward construction are due to follow soon as the State Health Department considers Muenster's application for Hill-Burton funds to cover half of the hospital's construction cost. Killebrew will prepare the preliminary sketches and data on the project and present them before a meeting of Health Department directors in September.

Meanwhile the Muenster Hospital Authority will have to complete a financial statement showing that it has on hand at least a third of the hospital's cost. Since the project is estimated at a half million dollars and the local share is $250,000, the amount needed for the financial statement is about $85,000.

J. M. Weinzapfel, president of the hospital authority, said availability of that amount can be shown without a special fund campaign. Accordingly the authority has decided not to organize a community-wide drive until its project is assured.

Hornets Depend On Endurance of Starting Line-up

As long as starters remain in the game, Muenster Hornets should be able to get along fairly well this year, but there will be little reserve strength to call on.

Figuring his prospects this week, Coach Bob Gay said he hopes, however, that not many reserves will be needed. Players are physically fit and should be able to play the whole game . . . unless injuries occur, which is the team's worst headache.

On the lineup Gay has a full team of lettermen including six of last year's starters. They are David Yosten, center, John Pagel and Harold Flusche, guards; Clyde Walterscheid and Robert Klement, tackles; Mark Hellman and Milton Fette, ends; Joe Hellman, Larry Wimmer, Jim Harris and Truman Wolf, backs.

After a couple of scrimmage sessions with the Sacred Heart Tigers this week, Gay is confident they will be ready for their opener with Pilot Point here on Sept. 2.

Two more boys reported for practice this week, bringing the squad membership to 20 and a few more are expected when afternoon practice begins next week.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 in Forestburg Baptist Church followed by burial in Perryman Cemetery. The Rev. Louis Hill of Nocona and the Rev. Cletus Ice, Forestburg pastor, officiated. Daugherty Funeral Home of Nocona directed arrangements.

H. O. Atteberry was a native of Forestburg.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Mrs. Gene Schmitz is recovering normally from a kidney stone operation performed at Gainesville Sanitarium Friday night . . . a week after treatment to avoid surgery. She will probably be dismissed this weekend.

Four-year-old Stevie Taylor has his left foot in a cast and won't be walking for a couple of weeks. A barefoot accident—stepping on tin can—Sunday cut tendons that required surgery before the cast was put on. He was at Gainesville Sanitarium two days. Stevie is the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor.

Donald Bayer, who had an emergency appendicitis operation at M&S Hospital last Thursday night, is recovering satisfactorily, convalescing at home since his dismissal Tuesday.

Billy Steel is convalescing at home from burns that sent him to Gainesville Sanitarium for treatment. He was hospitalized three days. Flames burned his arms and hands in an accident on the job while burning weeds and trash . . . a break in a butane hose caused the mishap.

Casper Haverkamp has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium following eye surgery and is staying for some time with his nephew and niece, the Joe Haverkamps at Gainesville, to be near his doctor for treatment.

Bill Biffle of Era was visiting here Wednesday on crutches with his left leg in a cast . . . glad to be getting around after a severe double fracture sustained in an accident July 9 at Forestburg Rodeo. He wasn't a rider, he was a spectator. A charging bull did the damage . . . two breaks between the knee and ankle. The doctor said the cast will probably have to be on three to four months.

Miss Della Wimmer was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Thursday evening following minor surgery on Monday and is up and around again after convalescing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wimmer.

Community Busses Continue to Haul For Both Schools

Transportation of Muenster school children this year continues under the same arrangement that has prevailed for the past several years. Each school has contracted with the Community Bus Company to haul its children.

This method of school transportation was adopted in order to eliminate the duplication of routes which existed while the schools had separate busses. Combining them resulted in more and shorter routes and less riding time for children, also a reduction in total mileage and expense.

The bus company owns nine busses, eight of them on routes and the other a standby in case of emergency. Supervisor and general service man is Gene Hoedbeck. Drivers are Arthur Bourdeau, James Larson, Glenn Hellman, Emmitt Walterscheid, Carl King, Noble McElreath and Alvin Willard Hartman.

Joe Herr and his sons Joey and Bobby and Bobby's wife and daughter, all of Arlington, drove over Saturday afternoon for a visit with the George Gehrigs and T. Miller.

Children Under 6 Will Be Admitted At Public School

Children not permitted to start school this year because they happen to be a little too young still have a chance to enroll. They can be placed in the first grade of the public school.

Because of small enrollment in that grade several more children can be accepted, however they must be 6 years old by January 1. Younger children will not be admitted.

Interested parents are invited to meet with Superintendent Bruns next Monday morning at 9 for all the details and, if they wish, to enroll their children.

Parochial School Begins Ungraded Primary System

Classifying children as members of the first, second and third grades will soon be a custom of the past at Sacred Heart School. Instead they will be simply pupils of the primary department until they reach the elementary department, which begins with the fourth grade.

Being introduced by the Benedictine Sisters this year is the Ungraded Primary system comprising in general the work usually done in the first three grades. In it pupils are grouped according to ability and advanced according to achievement rather than according to time.

Over the entire primary period the extent of achievement is the same for all, however each child is allowed to advance at its own rate of speed. Accordingly the normal pupil would finish the primary department in three years whereas an exceptional pupil might finish in two years or a slow pupil in four years.

The first step in setting up the ungraded primary was taken Monday morning when 53 beginners were given the Metropolitan Readiness Tests to determine each child's readiness to do first grade work and to provide a basis for grouping children for instruction. Reporting to school Wednesday, beginners were grouped according to results of that test.

Likewise those starting their second year. They were grouped according to records of the past year and as the year advances some of the first year will be doing the same work as some of the second year.

During this school year, while the system is being organized, third grade work will be very much like before, in order to prepare the class as a whole for entering the elementary grades. But next year the system will be extended to include the third grade.

Attend Meeting of Parochial School Lunchroom Group

Mrs. John P. Streng, manager of Sacred Heart school lunchroom, and Mrs. Herbert Cunningham, assistant, gained a wealth of information on lunchroom management the past week when they spent three days in San Angelo attending a meeting and workshop for parochial schools.

It was the first meeting of its kind and the group of 45 ladies from 14 towns and cities organized naming Mrs. Streng as a member of the board of Texas Parochial Lunchroom Association.

St. Mary's Parish of San Angelo was host for the program and the ladies there pointed proudly to their new lunchroom completely equipped through trading stamps.

Workshops conducted by specialists in the field were on meal planning, management, cooperation and related lunchroom activity.

Dyer will receive a master of education degree in technical agriculture. He completed his course during the present summer session.

Union Wins 16-11 In NLRB Election By NTPA Workers

Employees of the North Texas Producers Association hereafter will be represented by a union in their dealings with the association.

By a vote of 16 to 11 they approved recognition of United Packinghouse Workers of America, AFL-CIO, as their bargaining agent.

The election was held last Saturday morning from 11 to 12 in the NTPA employees' lounge under supervision of the National Labor Relations Board, with representatives of the plant and the union present to check on the eligibility of each voter. Only persons employed in processing, packing and transporting were qualified to vote. Supervisory and clerical personnel were not qualified.

The local unit of union members will become a part of the packinghouse union's Fort Worth District, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico and Southern Kansas.

Band Shaping Up For Appearance At Opening Game

Members of the Muenster High School band under direction of James Larson have been working intensively for a week to get ready for an appearance at the first football game. They were following a day and night schedule, sections practicing during the day and the full band at night.

And they'll be there for the first game, Larson says, but he's not sure whether they will remain in the stands or march on the field. A few more key players are needed for a marching performance. At this time the band has 25 members and is expected to have 30 or more within a week.

Larson said that his main object this year is to develop a big and lively organization which will show real progress at the '61 school year opening. To do that he will recruit talent, starting immediately, and intensify interest by planning trips and concerts.

Twenty Teachers Named on Faculty At Sacred Heart

A list of twenty teachers making up the staff of Sacred Heart School was announced this week by Sister Celine, principal. Twelve of them, the grade school teachers have definite assignments. Likewise in high school most assignments are definite but a few are being held up until registrations are finished and the most efficient arrangement can be worked out.

In the grades five teachers will be in the newly introduced ungraded primary department, which includes children through the third grade. They are Sisters Gabriel, Henrietta, Brenda, Pauline and Genevieve.

Teaching in both primary and elementary is Sister Frances, who has a split class of third and fourth graders.

Others in the elementary department are Sister Michael, 4th grade; Sister Theophane, 5th; Sister Canisia, 5th and 6th; Sister Imelda, 8th and 7th; Sister Aloysia 7th and 8th; Sister Carmelita, 8th.

On the high school staff are Sisters Celine, Agnes and Theresina, George Petrus and (Continued on page 8)

Coming Season Will Be Tough for Parochial Tigers

Looking over his Sacred Heart Tigers this year Coach George Petrus would rather be looking forward to the 1961 season than the one just ahead.

That's because he's short on experience and weight and expects to be the underdog in practically every game of the season. Next year after growth and experience they ought to be on a par with other Class B outfits.

On his squad this year are only six lettermen, three of whom were starters last year, and with a few exceptions, most of the boys are lightweight.

Nevertheless Skipper Petrus is pleased with the spirit and progress made so far. Up to now the team has been concentrating on defensive play, and looked good in a scrimmage with MHS Hornets Tuesday night. They're playing alert and tackling hard, he said.

For the rest of this week and most of next the Tigers will work on their offense, testing it by more scrimmages with the neighboring Hornets.

Schools Lose 18; Combined Count Of Both Is 667

The smallest opening day enrollment since 1952 reported to the two Muenster schools Wednesday as combined figures reached 667, a drop of 18 from the all time high of 685 on last year's first day.

For nine years there has been comparatively little change in the starting figure. In 1958 it was 675, in '57 it was 669, in '56 it was 672, in '55 it was 683, in '54 it was 675, in '53 it was 683 and in '52 it was 654.

A decline of enrollment at the public school, mostly in the grades, accounts for all of this year's drop. The figure there fell 19 . . . from 168 to 149. Meanwhile the parochial school shows a gain of 1 . . . from 517 to 518.

Other figures in the tabulation show that the public school has lost in both departments. The count now is 55 in the grades and 94 in high school; last year it was 70 and 98.

At Sacred Heart the grade school enrollment continues its customary climb, however the high school total has dropped. The count now is 423 in the grades and 95 in high school; last year it was 416 and 101.

Combining department figures of the two schools shows the community with a grade school total of 478 and a high school total of 189. Last year the grades had 486 and high schools 199.

Enrollment by grades at Sacred Heart have been reported as follows. Primary grades, 176; Fourth, 60; Fifth, 47; Sixth, 47; Seventh, 47; Eighth, 46; High School 95.

The count by grades in the public school is: First 4, Second 6, Third 4, Fourth 10, Fifth 6, Sixth 6, Seventh 9, Eighth 10, Freshman 24, Sophomore 27, Junior 23, Senior 20.

THE APPROACHING CHOICE

The Democrat and Republican parties have outlined the patterns on which they hope to shape the next four years of American history. Each party is campaigning hard to win voter support for its proposals.

The parties are agreed on general goals: national strength to face and defeat the Communist challenge; a better life for all Americans. They are agreed also that the way to accomplish these goals is through economic growth. Here agreement ends and sharp division arises on the best way to promote economic growth.

The Democratic platform calls for more federal spending programs, on the theory that this will stimulate more production. The Republicans place less emphasis on direct government action and more emphasis on encouraging free enterprise. They contend that this system has proved itself by building the greatest producing nation in the world.

Since the goals are the same, voters should carefully investigate the means. For in November it will be the voters who must decide which route to follow, and it will be the voters who must live with the results.

"YOUR LIFE'S RECORD"

The hometown newspaper — like the rising and setting of the sun — is a vital part of our everyday living.

A letter to the editor of the Grundy, Iowa, Register, brings this point home. It said: "You were here over 50 years ago and you will find in the files of your paper a report of my birth. Your paper also had stories when I played football in school, when I graduated and later when I got married. You have reported many anniversaries in our family, the birth of our four children, their activities in school and elsewhere. And in late years you have reported the arrival of our grandchildren. Why, you and your paper have written and printed a life history of our family. And why shouldn't we look upon you and your paper as a member of our family?"

Yes, the local newspaper is the recorder of the life of a community — business, personal political and national. Being a constant subscriber is a good habit to acquire because the local paper isn't self-perpetuating as is the sun. It needs your support even as the community needs its service.

WHAT DID HE EXPECT?

The head of the big steel union has made a complaint and a request to one of the Presidential candidates. Some 100,000 members of his union are unemployed, and 300,000 more are working a short week. Steel production, of late, has been running at a mere 53 per cent of capacity. So he wants the government to move in and "take more vigorous steps" to improve the steel employment picture.

This brought an apt comment from the Portland Oregonian: "Well, what did he expect when he kept his 1,100,000-member union on strike for months last year, until stopped by a federal injunction, and obtained a settlement which did not alter forced by the union?"

That settlement, in other words, increased wages and other payroll costs without doing anything about featherbedding and make-work within the industry. Only one result was possible, and it has come about. We imported 4,400,000 tons of foreign steel last year, as against only 1,500,000 tons of export. This year's imports are expected to be nearly as large. To quote the Oregonian again, "Why should the United States, the greatest steel producer in the world, need any imports from abroad? Obviously, it doesn't — but foreign prices are lower, and quality has improved vastly."

You can raise wages to any level. You can put featherbedding work-rules into effect which result in waste and inefficiency on any conceivable scale. But you can't make people buy a high-priced product when they can get the same product elsewhere for less. And that goes for everything we use — not just steel.

LONG LIVE GOOD DRIVERS

Time added for good behavior! That's right . . . good driving may add years to your life, as well as to the other fellow's. What does the good driver do?

He stops for the fellow who runs through "on the yellow."

He doesn't squeeze the reckless passer, but lets him cut back into line.

He'd rather get a wave of thanks than a dirty look from the other driver.

He watches for the fellow who may pull out of a parking space without signal.

He treats pedestrians, especially children, as though they were members of his own family.

He shrugs his shoulders and gets out of the road-hog's way. Competing with him is to expensive.

INTEREST ON PUBLIC DEBT

According to the Citizens interest on the public debt runs to $18,073.33 a minute, or $1,084,400 an hour. If you have a $5,000 a year income, your share of the cost is $51. Interest is now the second most costly item in your federal tax bill, headed only by national security expenditures.

Pointed Politics

A platform is getting to be something a candidate stands on before election, and falls down on afterwards . . . Election Year — When the air is filled with speeches and vice versa . . . A politician is a man who, when he comes to a parting of the ways, takes both of them. . . . It's a smart politician who can keep a note of envy out of his voice while accusing his opponent of fooling the public.

Few People Know American System

U. S. companies may be proud of their rapport with workers but they still may not have projected a favorable corporate image. Opinion Research Corporation reports. It disclosed that only one out of four workers interviewed recently could explain the meaning of capitalism as an economic system based on private ownership of business. Furthermore a large majority of employees did not grasp the meaning of such words as dividends, depletion, productivity, socialism and technology.

While people seem to think that money still talks, actually it's more of a sneer.

HITCH YOUR WAGON

CUT CASTRO; AID CUBANS

"It is foolish to pursue the chimera that if we do nothing, the Cuban situation, by some magic, will right itself. Such miracles do not happen. On the contrary, to be able repeatedly to kick Uncle Sam in the teeth, and get away with it, is very contagious. Assisted by international Communism, this infection will soon spread to other republics, unless it is stopped summarily in Cuba."

These are the sentiments of a seasoned diplomat and two-fisted American who ought to know, Spruille Braden, former US Ambassador to Cuba and Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American Affairs during the Truman administration. These views, together with constructive recommendations of what-to-do, appear in Pan American Headlines, official publication of the Committee of Pan American Policy.

Item number one of the Braden agenda is to sever diplomatic relations with "this disreputable Cuban regime." Next, responsible Cuban groups — both in Cuba and in exile — must be given both financial and military aid. "They are ready," says Mr. Braden, "to organize armed opposition to the Castro regime. The Cubans will free themselves, if the USA will promptly give them the means to do the job."

We should recognize and assist a responsible anti-Communist government-in-exile, "just as we worked with the Free French and other exile groups during World War II. Further, he says, our emergency suspension of the sugar quota for this year must be followed by elimination of the price differential by which the US subsidizes this Red regime.

Mr. Braden believes that: "If steps in consonance with the possible, we must take these things. . . . We must make it crystal clear that we intend to defend the United States and this hemisphere, come hell or high water."

Since we do not think our Secretary of State is listening, and apparently the President is satisfied that Brother Milton has Latin American affairs in hand, perhaps it is time to ask Candidates Nixon and Kennedy what they propose to do about Castro's thievery, threats and insults and the Communist Police State that he and Khrushchev and Mao are setting up under our noses.

KHRUSHCHEV ON GOD

By Frank Coniff, National Editor, The Hearst Newspapers

"WE ARE ATHEISTS. Certainly we use the name of God, as in 'God's truth.' But it is only a habit. We could just as easily say 'I give you my word.'"

"We are atheists, but we have a tolerant attitude toward all people."

William Randolph Hearst, Jr., Bob Considine, and I talked with Nikita Khrushchev for nearly four hours at Communist party headquarters in Moscow.

NOW HERE was the Boss himself openly mouthing his denial of God, reviling organized religion with a diatribe as uninformed as it was venomous. Intellectuals who have flirted with the far left must have been jarred by the low mental content of Khrushchev's blast.

It was no spur-of-the-moment whim which impelled Bob Considine to direct a barbed query at the world's No. 1 communist. Rather, it had been a stratagem carefully worked out in the skull sessions which precede these important Kremlin interviews. The time might be ripe, we reasoned, to smoke Khrushchev out on the subject.

Mr. Hearst pointed out that there had never been a great country or civilization which hadn't believed in God, "or some kind of a Supreme Being."

THE BOSS of the whole communist world shrugged and said contemptuously: "Let them believe what they want. It doesn't prevent us from co-existing."

"That is the intrinsic difference between us," Hearst said. "When we give our word we think it is a pledge to God, but in your case the pledge remains on paper only."

I hope there can be a common meeting ground between us on this some day."

THIS ONE STUNG. A dull brick color crept upward from Khrushchev's bull-like neck and slowly mottled the oval face.

Khrushchev ripped out a denunciation of priests throwing holy water on weapons, priests who helped enslave colonial peoples, of priests who, "left the Gospel for the people and took the riches for themselves." Gone was the aplomb of a world statesman. In its stead was pure, unalloyed hatred.

WE WERE STUNNED by the vehemence of the man. Three hours of a monotone recital had not prepared us for this sudden flare of emotion.

But Nikita Sergeevich Khrushchev felt better. A lot better. He had vanquished "God" just as any self-respecting communist ought to do. The buoyancy returned to his voice, and again he was the genial communist overlord being patient with three Americans who stubbornly insisted on believing in the old truths, the ancient values, the God who will not be mocked.

"IS THAT ENOUGH?" he asked us.

It was indeed. For ten more minutes we chatted idly. But the high point of our interview had been reached and passed. In the violence of his outburst against God and His manifestations, Nikita Khrushchev revealed, wittingly or no, the last adversary and the last battleground on the communist master chart for world-wide supremacy.

BELIEVERS the world over can be grateful to Nikita Khrushchev for his shameful candor when Bob Considine raised the question of God in the world headquarters of the Communist party in Moscow, Russia.

Four From Here at Hereford Reunions

While they were in Hereford, Mrs. John Herr and daughter Alma and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoenig were in the midst of reunions and family dinner parties Saturday to Monday. The events honored Father Bonaventure Koelzer and Sister Regina Koelzer on their visit with relatives. The latter's sister, Miss Marcy Koelzer of Colorado Springs, Colo., was also there for the get-togethers.

Descendants of Mr. and Mrs. John Koelzer of which Father Bonaventure is a member had their events and descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Koelzer, Sister Regina's family, had their gatherings and on Sunday the two groups joined for a big reunion with a picnic supper on the lawn at St. Anthony's School.

Mrs. Herr and Alma were guests of her sister and family, the Elbert Vances and her brother, Werner Koelzer and family. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoenig and Father Bonaventure were guests in the home of the latter's sister, Miss Theresa Koelzer. The Muenster group went together, driving to Hereford in the Hoenig car and taking Father Bonaventure and Sister Regina with them after a visit here.

Sister Regina leaves Hereford Saturday for Roosevelt, Utah, and Father Bonaventure has until September 1 before returning to Graymoor, N. Y.

80th Birthday Is Marked by Reunion

Eightieth birthday of Mrs. Inez Ballinger brought all her family to her home at Sulphur, Okla., to celebrate Sunday.

From Marysville, Mr. and Mrs. John Richey attended. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richey and son Larry went from Sivils Bend, and the Gainesville relationship present included Mr. and Mrs. John Wyatt, their daughter Mrs. Evelyn Sills, and Leonard Wyatt.

All of the honoree's children except one, and all her grandchildren except two, and their families, were together for the occasion. They took food for a buffet dinner. Rain prevented their meeting in the park, as originally planned, but they reported a wonderful time at home. Fifty kinfolk were present.

Marysville News

By Mrs. B. G. Lyons

MARYSVILLE — Back at Marysville for a Sunday visit were Rev. and Mrs. Manning Bishop and son of Denton who were at Baptist Church services and met many of their friends afterwards. Brother Bishop is former pastor of the church. The Bishops were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Barnhart.

Mrs. Russell Doughty of Gainesville visited Sunday and Monday with her husband's mother, Mrs. H. M. Doughty and the two enjoyed visiting and shopping in Muenster stores Monday morning.

Mrs. J. N. Shaw and Albert Shaw had as guests Thursday and Friday, their daughter and sister, Mrs. Horace Moody and Mr. Moody and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Moody, all of Bovina. The Shaws and their guests spent Friday with Mrs. Shaw's sister, Mrs. Emma Breckenridge in Gainesville. Mrs. Myrtle Blount was also there to spend the day.

Miss Dolores Grant of Denton spent the weekend with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Lyons. Sunday Edd Eastin came from Gainesville to take Dolores and her grandparents there to see infant Kim Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Eastin, who is the Lyons' fourth great-grandchild and Edd's first niece. Mrs. Eastin and the baby were dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Friday.

Edith Jackson and Gene Luke Wed in Port Arthur Rites

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Charles Luke will make their home in Denton. They were married Saturday in St. James Church in Port Arthur during 10 a.m. nuptial mass. The Rt. Rev. J. M. Kirwin officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Jackson of Bridge City and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke of Muenster.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she wore a floor-length bouffant white nylon organdy dress, the circular skirt overlaid with panels of embroidered organdy with scalloped edging. Tiered folds of organdy formed the neckline and the fitted bodice had cap sleeves. Short glovelets were of organdy and a band of pearlized orange blossoms held her veil. She carried a white prayer book topped with white philanopsis orchids and feathered carnations. Adding traditional sentiment, she carried her maternal grandmother's first communion rosary and her paternal grandmother's hand-made white lace wedding handkerchief.

Miss Billie Jean Guidry was maid of honor and Mrs. Alfred Kuhn of Midland, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Leann Talaferro was junior bridesmaid.

Bernard Luke was best man for his brother, Alfred Kuhn was groomsmen and Tom Provost and Bill Jackson, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's attendants were identically gowned in street length dresses of frosty green nylon organdy with matching headpieces and glovelets. They carried nosegays of white carnations.

A reception at the Department clubhouse followed the nuptials. Mrs. Harold J. Luke of Arlington was in the house party presiding at the wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke and Alphonse and Miss Theresa Luke were among guests. When the couple left on their wedding trip she was wearing a sheath dress and matching box jacket of beige linen with chocolate brown accessories.

Mrs. Luke was graduated from NTSC last June and Mr. Luke will be a member of next summer's graduating class.

Tommy Felderhoffs And Martin Beckers Return From Trip

A 4000 mile trip sight-seeing through 12 states in ten days left many memories of a happy and exciting vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Felderhoff and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Becker.

Among the most thrilling experience was a chair lift at Mt. Rushmore which took them 7000 feet above sea level. And the stock car races at Hammond, Ind., were an outstanding attraction there. Swimming was the special occupation at Hot Springs, South Dakota, where they enjoyed the world's largest indoor swimming pool.

At Sturgis, Ky., they were guests of the Felderhoffs' friends... families they knew when they lived there during Tommy's army days and hadn't been back to see in eight years... and in Lexington, Ky., they visited an army buddy and his wife.

Their hosts took them sight-seeing... the pony farms where they admired "Citation" the Kentucky Derby winner; they went through an IBM Machine factory and got acquainted with the workings of a coal mine.

Other places of interest included the burial mounds in Wickliffe, Ky., and the Cave of the Mounds in Wisconsin, and they toured the Black Hills of South Dakota, visiting in Gettesburg where Martin worked some years ago.

Going, their first stop was at Jonesboro, Ark., to see Tommy's aunts, Sister Amora and Sister Lutgardis. They also saw Father Louis Deuster, Miss Maggie Simons, Sister Mary John Seyler, and others.

After all is said and done, you actually find more has been said than done.

Sister Bertha Has Visit in Muenster

Leaving earlier than she expected, Sister Bertha was, to the last minute, visiting with her former students of the second grade and other friends, youngsters and oldsters who called at the local convent to say congratulations on her golden jubilee. She arrived Wednesday night and left Friday at noon. Her new assignment is teaching at St. Joseph's School in Rhineland.

The veteran second grade teacher who was in Sacred Heart Parish for 30 years celebrated her golden jubilee in Jonesboro, Aug. 15 and came to Muenster with the George Bayer family when they returned from a visit in Arkansas. Also coming with the Bayers was Sister Xavier another teacher at Rhineland.

Plans were to stay until Saturday but when two other Sisters destined for Rhineland arrived Friday morning plans were changed and the four left after lunch. The two other nuns assigned to Rhineland for the year are Sister Ursula and Sister Agatha. The latter's brother and wife, the Ed Knaufs, met their train in Dallas. Sisters from here took them to Rhineland in the station wagon. A crowd waved goodbye.

Sister Bertha wishes to thank all who contributed so generously in making her golden jubilee at Jonesboro and her visit here such happy occasions. She expressed "a thousand thanks" for every favor.

Attend Dedication At Corpus Christi

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel and daughter Marye and grandchildren, Gus and Judy Hellman of Tulsa and Joe Jackson of Fort Worth spent Saturday and Sunday in Corpus Christi.

They went especially to attend the dedication of the new gymnasium at Corpus Christi College-Academy. A special grant and a memorial plaque was given in memory of the late Ensign Robert Weinzapfel by John Heard, friend of the Weinzapfel family, and they were among the 150 guests at a banquet after the dedication service. Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel flew from Dallas Sunday to attend the program.

The Muenster group enjoyed visiting with Very Rev. Alfred Hoenig, prior at Corpus Christi, and other clergy including Father Patrick Hannon, pastor of St. Theresa's, who showed them his parish plant.

"My friends said I shouldn't marry Nellie, but I did — 5 years ago."
"Now what do those friends say?"
"I wouldn't know. We have entirely different friends!"

Texas, New Mexico Vacation States For Leo Lawsons

Margaret Ann and Jimmy Lawson thought it was exciting lunching 700 feet under ground in Carlsbad Caverns. At the same time their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lawson, were recalling that in August 14 years before they visited the caverns on their honeymoon.

Carlsbad was one of the many places the Lawson family visited on their vacation . . . a jam packed week of sight seeing in Texas and New Mexico, and visits with relatives along the way.

They made the 10 a.m. tour of the caverns with a group of 576 and it lasted over three hours so they ate lunch in the cave's great dining room.

Sight seeing in Pecos included a visit to the Santa Rosa Mission, built in 1700, and at Langtry, famous for Judge Roy Bean and his law west of the Pecos, they visited all the tourist attractions.

Then on to Del Rio and San Antonio, sight seeing all the way. They spent three days in the Alamo City packing them with sights to be long remembered. They visited San Fernando Cathedral where the bodies of Davey Crockett, James B. Bonham, Jim Bowie and many others who fought at the Alamo are entombed. They also found other old missions intriguing especially Mission San Jose with its spiral staircase and Mission Immaculate Conception, and viewed the ruins of Mission San Juan Capistrano. The children said they learned a lot of history first hand.

A visit to Our Lady of the Lake Convent was to see Mrs. Lawson's great-aunt, Sister Margaret Rohmer, but she had left a few days earlier for her station in Beeville.

The Alamo, the Sunken Gardens and Brackenridge Park were also points of interest and they rode the world's longest miniature train over its three-mile route. At San Marcos, next on the itinerary, they rode the glass bottom boats and saw the underwater Submarine Theatre. Austin brought more sight-seeing including the State Capitol.

Visits with relatives started the trip. In Albany, Texas, they were guests of Leo's uncle, Roy Lawson and his aunt, Mrs. Lee Gibson and family, and at Hobbs, N. M., they visited another uncle Beauford Hogue and family.

Other honorees at the outing were the Kirks' daughter, Mrs. Kelley Bailey, and Robert Teague who were observing their birthdays. They all received gifts.

Others present were Kelley Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Garrett and two daughters of Paducah, Larry Burton of Electra, the Pete Carrs and children of Cyril, Okla., the David Kirks and the Homer Fords and their families of Forestburg, the J. C. Kirks and children of Era and the M. L. Teagues of Denton.

In Arkansas for Visits With Kin

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swirczynski returned Monday from a ten-day visit in Arkansas with their daughter and granddaughters who are Benedictine Sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Swirczynski were with them for the Aug. 15 celebrations at the convent and Clifford Swirczynski came from Carbondale, Ill., to join his parents and grandparents.

Also with the family group were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Knauf and sons Jerry and David and Miss Linda Erpelting of Colorado Springs, Colo. They were all there to witness the profession of Sister Clarice Knauf.

Other family members in the convent are Sister Helen Swirczynski, Sister Monica Swirczynski and Sister Germaine Knauf.

After the Herman Swirczynski and Clifford left, the Joe Swirczynski saw Sister Helen and Sister Monica at Little Rock, then went to Fort Worth to visit the Ed Swirczynski and Nick Mayers.

Clifford Swirczynski went from here to Dalhart where he is a teacher in the high school.

Open House Draws 500 to New Home Of Maurice Pagels

From Cooke and Montague counties and more distant places, some 500 people attended the open house at Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pagel's new home Sunday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock. It's Muenster's first all-electric home.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Pagel in welcoming visitors were personnel of Community Lumber Company, builder of the house, and representatives of Texas Power and Light Company showing the Westinghouse electric equipment.

Miss Carrie Roberg registered guests and Mrs. Jerome Pagel served iced drinks on the spacious patio. Sample furniture in the home, living room and dining room suites, were arranged through courtesy of Scott Bros. And there were a number of floral tributes.

After the party, the Pagel family started moving to their new address.

35 Boys and Dads Make KC Campout

Thirty-five boys and their fathers from Muenster, Lindsay and Gainesville enjoyed an overnight campout Saturday under sponsorship of the Knights of Columbus at Walnut Creek, Lake Texoma.

Other family members joined the campers Sunday for a field mass by Father Alcuin at 11:30 and afterwards for a picnic dinner. Some 200 were together for these events.

The Rev. Frank Morgan of Canada, was a visitor. He is a former assistant pastor at the St. Mary's Church in Gainesville and members of that parish are planning a reception in his honor Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. in the KC Hall.

Ungraded Primary Teaching

First of all it gets the best result from the child's ability, neither tending to discourage the slower pupil nor withholding opportunity from the pupil who can advance faster. It is said also to prevent discipline problems, because children are happier and less inclined to be become troublesome when their work is neither too hard nor too easy.

Details and advantages of the ungraded primary system will be explained to the children's parents next Tuesday night at the year's first meeting of Sacred Heart Home-School Society. Three of the Teachers, Sisters Gabriel, Henrietta and Genevieve, will present it in a panel discussion.

Other teachers of the primary department are Sisters Pauline and Brenda, Sister Frances, with a split class of third and four graders is partly in the primary.

Trip Through Ten States Takes Trio On Scenic Tours

Ten states were included in the vacation tour Miss Claudia Endres had in company of Miss Theresa Sicking and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Sicking of Gainesville. The 3800 mile trip took them through Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Louisiana, sight seeing all the way. They also visited relatives and friends at various points.

In Rulo, Neb., Mrs. Sicking saw her old home place. And in Falls City and Lincoln she enjoyed visiting classmates and other old friends.

The Arkansas Ozarks were a scenic beauty and so were the Cypress Gardens in Florida where the trio also took in a ski show and visited a reptile garden. At Silver Springs, the girls took a ride in a glass bottom boat, and at Miami Beach the top experience for Claudia was her first swim in the Atlantic Ocean. A tour of Florida pecan and citrus groves added to the scenic highlights. And in Saint Augustine they visited the oldest mission in the United States. Driving on to Palatka, they visited the Arlin DeRossett family — Mrs. DeRossett is the former Doris Cocoran of Gainesville.

In El Dorado, Ark., they spent two day with Jay Ellinburg and family on the way home. They returned Saturday. They'll revive happy memories by looking at the many colored pictures they took while they were away.

NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

A new reference book in the Muenster Public Library is "Living Birds of the World" by E. Thomas Gilliard. Unsurpassed in comprehensiveness of text and richness of illustration, this book will become a by word for authority and beauty in its field.

In this book 1500 species are described. There are 400 photographs including 217 in full color. In this text of some 200,000 words, the author discusses all the known bird families. He covers general characteristics, relationships, number of species, origin, centers of abundance, mating and breeding, and parental care of living birds throughout the world.

The photographs come from some 60 photographers in all parts of the world. They include an extraordinary number of rare birds and unique habitat shots taken as far afield as New Guinea, Central Africa, Antarctica, and the East Indies. Superbly printed on fine coated paper, they constitute by far the most remarkable collections of photographs of birds of the world.

Simple Solutions

Onion odor and flavor can be removed from cooking utensils by rubbing them with celery leaves.

To remove lime deposits from aluminum, iron or steel kettles, pour ice water in suddenly when the kettle is hot.

To strain almost any liquid, place a wad of sterile absorbent cotton in a funnel and pour the liquid through. It will come out clear.

Damp coffee grounds make a sweeping compound which will keep the dust down. Also will leave rugs clean.

Dents made in carpets by heavy furniture can be removed by filling the dents with cold water. Eight-hour soaking usually makes nap snap back.

After hearing a banquet speech, two men were discussing it. "What did you think about the talk?" one asked. "It had three faults," was the answer. "First, it was read; second, it wasn't well read; and third, it wasn't worth reading."

Homecoming Set At Bulcher Sept. 4

Bulcher residents are getting ready, planning a program and tending to other details connected with the community's annual homecoming and the word is out that everybody is welcome to attend. The date is Sunday, Sept. 4.

All former residents of the community are especially invited to be there. Everyone is being reminded to bring a picnic lunch for the noon meal. The party will be held in the Community Park.

The homecoming event is held each year on the Sunday immediately preceding Labor Day. Mrs. August Hyman is general chairman of the program for this year.

Bus travel furnishes some choice bits of humor. For instance, a woman, overheard in a bus: 'You know, I wouldn't say anything about her unless it was good and, oh boy, is this good.'

RED BERRIES
Back in the 16th century, an Arab, in search for a new fruit came across an evergreen tree with its branches loaded with red berries. He sampled a few, and although they were not tasty, he took a quantity of them home, thinking the good wife might convert them into food.

and the Arab asked what was new on the Bedouin menu. She shook her head — nothing new; nothing ever new in that household! The good wife laid the exhilarating aroma to the red berries that were sizzling in the charcoal brazier.

From such a humble beginning, coffee has risen to become the number one national beverage in America. The consumption of coffee in this country is said to average some sixteen pounds per person per year.

COMING ELECTRICAL WONDERS

Electrical conveniences that almost all of us use would have seemed inconceivable to our grandfathers. But electric living is still in its infancy.

The chief officer of one of our leading utility companies recently looked into the future. Here are some of the developments he foresees:

Food will be prepared, cooked and served at the direction of an electric computer programmed days ahead of time. An appliance will take the food from the freezer to the range, then cook and serve it. A small electric machine will manufacture disposable dishes, thus eliminating the dishwashing chore.

The light bulb will be a thing of the past. People will use area sources of light where whole walls will glow with electroluminescence.

When dirt collects on a carpet, a closet will open and a vacuum cleaner will emerge. It will automatically do the needed cleaning, then put itself away and close the closet door.

One wall will probably consist of a giant TV screen. Programs will come to you live from every corner of the world, with the signals bounced to your living room by earth-circling satellites.

There'll be no fussing with heating and cooling systems. Once the control is set, your house will be kept in perfect comfort, automatically the year round.

Driveways and paths around the house will be heated too, and the snow shovel will become a curiosity.

Fantastic? Yes — but these are only a few of the wonders that will become commonplace in the era of electric living that lies ahead.

as increasing numbers awake to the fact that they have been betrayed by the bearded maniac and his communist cut-throats. Almost all were loyal supporters of the revolution that overthrew Batista but are coming to realize that the new tyrant is worse than the old.

Those people, including many former Castro soldiers, are already well organized. When the time is ripe they are to be joined by exiled Cubans in the campaign of liberation. Furthermore, they are confident that they will not need help provided Castro is not permitted to get help from the outside.

Therein lies a magnificent opportunity for our country... and one which had better be seized if we have any hope of ever checking the advance of atheistic communism. Wiping out the red menace in Cuba could be the beginning of getting rid of it in all the Western hemisphere.

From there on we ought to think seriously about the urgent necessity of leading a world wide crusade by all free peoples working devotedly toward the eventual downfall of communism. It's high time to realize that we are in a struggle to the finish and we're going to be the final losers unless we make up our minds to win. So far all gains have been made by communists. Unless we start making the gains, and soon, we'll be too late with too little.

As we think of the Cuban situation we ought to remember what happened to the Hungarians in their revolt. Would our national conscience permit us to stand by idly and see freedom fighters butchered by invading red beasts as the Hungarians were? . . . especially at our very doorsteps!
