

500 Persons Honor Muenster War Dead At Memorial Service

A gratifying Memorial Day tribute was the 15 minute intermission for buddy poppy sales at the livestock auction last Saturday. As soon as a group of ladies appeared with their flowers, Auctioneer Dick Cain announced that the auction would wait until they finished their rounds, and also urged a generous response for the disabled veterans and their worthy program which is supported by the poppy sales. Dick and his co-workers can feel assured that their friendly co-operation is deeply appreciated by the veterans and the ladies.

The attitude that there's nothing wrong in gyping Uncle Sam seems to have made considerable headway in North Texas, according to a letter sent out lately by the Veterans Administration to veterans' organizations. In effect the letter is a plea to help straighten out some of the members in matters of common honesty, and reveals the shocking fact that "at the end of April, 1948, there were more than 23,000 veterans in the Dallas Region alone who cashed checks to which they were not legally entitled."

Almost all these cases consist of persons who continue to accept... and cash... subsistence checks after they have discontinued school or on the job training.

The letter amounts to sad commentary on the integrity of the 23,000 men concerned. It goes to show that an alarming number of people have no scruples about getting money out of Uncle Sam who, after all is tapping us taxpayers for every penny paid out to these small time embezzlers.

It also amounts to an admission that the VA has a pitifully loose system of making payments. Obviously the system has room for lots of improvements.

In general it is a smelly situation and its stench isn't diminished by the thought that officials will catch-up with the chiselers sooner or later. The penalties collected can never offset the losses taxpayers are sustaining now.

If you happen to be one of those people who thinks that a few drinks more or less do not have any effect on your driving, the short feature at the Relax Saturday, Sunday and Monday, is specially for you.

One of the "Crime Does Not Pay" series, it's a little unusual in that it deals with ordinary self respecting people like yourself, but points out that the effects can be tragic even though the intention is not malicious. After all, death is death. It's just as horrible and just as sad whether it results from accident or deliberate murder.

The film uses normal people for its subjects. They had an occasion to celebrate so they had a party, with drinks. Nothing rowdy. Just a nice time that would meet almost anyone's standard of respectability.

The driver wasn't drunk. He was normally careful and drove well. But suddenly an emergency loomed ahead and he was not equal to it. His reflex was slow. He failed to avoid a crash and several people failed to survive it.

The story brings out one point that most of us are likely to overlook. The question isn't whether a person is able to drive the car but whether he's sufficiently alert to cope with an emergency. A man's judgment and behavior at the wheel may be perfect but he's still dangerous if his senses and reactions are slowed down.

From there on we can use our imagination and judge accordingly. If the apparently normal person was at fault, think of the overwhelming guilt of a stupefied or reckless drunk driver.

The propaganda barrage directed at the Mundt-Nixon bill is another example of communist deceit and trickery. The Daily Work, Moscow's American mouthpiece, has been working itself into a frenzy denouncing the bill as a threat to political and intellectual freedom. Confirmed reds and crackpot pinks have been raising a similar verbal storm.

But for once the propaganda is more amusing than provoking. When we consider the provisions of the bill we also become aware that it doesn't really contain anything to arouse a loyal, straight thinking American. To us it seems that the more loudly those fellows object and the

In memorial services held jointly last Sunday by the Sacred Heart Church and the Muenster VFW Post, about 500 persons honored this community's dead of World War II.

The ceremony began at Sacred Heart church from where the crowd marched to the crucifixion group in the center of the cemetery and offered prayers for the repose of the souls of the departed service men.

Next the crowd assembled before the service men's graves for the memorial program consisting of the national anthem by Anthony Luke, bugler, recitations by Hugh Endres and Betty Lue Buckley, a hymn by the church choir, an address by Father John Waibe, a three volley salute by riflemen, taps by Anthony Luke, and the echo of taps by Val Fuhrmann from the far side of the cemetery. Bouquets carried in the procession were placed on graves by the school children.

In his address Father John urged a re-dedication to the principles of freedom and justice for which the honored dead had given their lives. Unless the rest of us continue to live by the standards they died for their sacrifice will have been in vain, he said.

The ceremony marked the first public appearance of the VFW's new standard which was carried beside the nation's colors in the procession.

Service men who took part in the program are: color bearers, Walter Becker and Wilfred Walterscheid; color guards, Eugene Klement and Tony Yosten; firing squad, Frank and Alphonse Felderhoff, Ray Voth, Harry Fisher, Alfred Bayer, Andy Yosten and Tony Fleitman; squad leader, Wm. J. Hess; buglers, Anthony Luke and Val Fuhrmann; ushers, Steve Mosler and Joe Hess. About 25 other former service men were in uniform for the parade.

Grain Rush Begins After Week's Delay By Rainy Weather

Harvesting around Muenster is gradually moving into high gear after a week of wet weather that has permitted the grain generally to get a long lead on the farmers.

A few scattered fields were ready when last week's 2.17 inch soaker on Tuesday followed by occasional drizzles and cloudy, poor drying weather interrupted work for the balance of the week. Meanwhile fields ripened and practically every farmer had grain ready when Monday's rain further extended the delay.

By Wednesday cutting was under way south and east of town. Farmers north of town expect to be in the fields Thursday afternoon or Friday.

At the city's rain gauge the shower measured .56 inches and, according to reports from farmers, it was heavier north of town and lighter south.

A few deliveries made by Myra and Lindsay farmers enabled Ed Rohmer, Morrison Elevator buyer, to ship out his first trailer truck load Tuesday afternoon.

At this writing none of the cutting has progressed far enough to justify an estimate on the community's average yield. The quality of the grain continues to be good, though not equal to that of the first few loads last week. Tests of wheat received this week were mostly 59 and 60 Rohmer revealed, and the moisture content has been barely below the safe storage requirement.

EXPLOSION WRECKS OIL TANK ON JOHN FELDERHOFF'S FARM

The loud report that dozens of people in Muenster heard about 3:45 Sunday afternoon was the explosion of a 150-barrel oil tank on the John Felderhoff farm. The tank had no oil but it was filled with gas evaporated from the thin layer of oil at the bottom.

T. M. Hammer, lease foreman, said that the explosion was set off by a fire that spread from the slush pit. In attempting to check the spread he received burns on his hands and face.

The explosion blew the top off the tank causing about $400 damage.

HEMPHILL PLEDGES FULL TIME AND EFFORT TO COMMISSIONER JOB

T. H. (Tom) Hemphill has authorized The Enterprise to announce that he is a candidate for commissioner of precinct No. 4 in the Democratic primaries this summer and he solicits the vote and support of every voter in the precinct.

Mr. Hemphill has lived all his life in precinct 4. He was born in the Wolf Ridge community, 8 miles northwest of Gainesville, and is a graduate of Gainesville High school.

He is married to the former Anna Belle Tyler, a registered nurse, and has two children. He has had much experience with machinery of different types and engages in farming.

Mr. Hemphill's friends feel that he is fully qualified to serve the county efficiently as commissioner and recommend him to the voters of the precinct.

Mr. Hemphill assures the voters that if elected, he will give the people of the precinct and county his best efforts and full time in administration of his duties.

Celebration Honors Rev. Fred Mosman at First Solemn Mass

Hundreds of persons, including an assemblage of more than 60 church dignitaries and clergy, packed Saint Peter's church at Lindsay to overflowing Tuesday morning when the Rev. Fred Mosman sang his First Solemn High Mass. He had been ordained last Thursday in Dallas.

Officiating in the presence of His Excellency, the Most Rev. Joseph P. Lynch, Bishop of Dallas, the Very Rev. Msgr. Edward McCullough, Sherman; Rt. Rev. Paul M. Nahlen, Subiaco, Ark.; Rt. Rev. Edward Buerget, Windthorst, and Very Rev. Msgr. John T. Gulczynski, Dallas, Father Mosman was assisted by Rev. Conrad Herda, Lindsay, as arch priest; Rev. William M. Robinson, Dallas, deacon; Very Rev. Joseph Fuhrmann, Corpus Christi, sub-deacon; Rev. David Flusche, master of ceremonies, and Hubert Neu, seminarian from Lindsay, studying at Saint John's Seminary, as assistant master of ceremonies.

Tiny Rebecca Mosman, niece of the celebrant, was spiritual bride for the occasion and carried the chalice on a white satin pillow. She was attended by little Elaine Laux and Joyce Ann Hoberer, also nieces, as spiritual bridesmaids.

The Very Rev. Msgr. Gulczynski as speaker for the occasion, delivered an inspiring sermon using as his text the words of Saint John, "I know mine and mine know me".

The ceremonies began at 9:30 with a procession from the rectory to church. All who took part in the service, along with visiting clergy and nuns, relatives and friends of the celebrant were in attendance.

SPEECH BY SULLIVAN, FILM ON IRON PLANNED FOR COUNCIL MEETING

The appearance of County Judge Carroll F. Sullivan as guest speaker and the showing of a technicolor film on steel production are two special features planned for the next meeting of the Muenster Community Council on Thursday, June 10, in the parish hall.

J. B. Klement, chairman, said Wednesday that Sullivan has been invited and is expected to appear, but his acceptance has not been received at this time.

The film on steel making, entitled "Steel, Man's Servant", has been definitely booked. Arrangements for it were made through the VFW Post after it had been offered as a feature for one of that organization's meetings.

All residents of the community regardless of membership in the council are invited to the meeting, Klement said.

"Steel, Man's Servant", about 38 minutes in length, describes the story of steel from the time the raw ore leaves the mine until the finished product leaves the mill.

It is shown through the courtesy of the United States Steel Corporation.

LADIES COLLECT $161 FOR CEMETERY FUND

Last Sunday's special cemetery collection netted $161.15, Mrs. Nick Miller, chairman of the Garden Club cemetery committee revealed Monday.

Members of the club took up the collection at the church door at the morning and afternoon service.

Glen Hellman was treated at the local clinic Sunday for cuts on his leg and body bruises sustained in a fall from a motor bike.

Injuries Received in Attack Are Fatal to Joe F. Hennigan, 17

A brutal attack, with robbery as an apparent motive, was fatal to Joseph F. Hennigan, 17, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, early last Thursday. The former Muenster lad died at Saint Joseph's Hospital, Albuquerque, from a crushed skull sustained when he was bludgeoned by an unknown assailant in the filling station in which he was employed.

Persons responding to his call for help immediately took him to the hospital where he submitted to an operation and seemed to be recovering satisfactorily. The immediate cause of his death is said to be an internal hemorrhage from a ruptured artery after his heart action strengthened and increased his blood pressure. He passed away about nine hours after the attack.

For some time during that period he was alert and coherent enough to recall the details of the attack. About 10:15, he said, his assailant rode into the station on a bicycle and asked for a gallon of kerosene.

Struck from behind as he turned to get the kerosene, Hennigan screamed for help and kicked the attacker away, whereupon the attacker apparently tried to

Road is Assured, but Where and When are Big Questions Now

As a result of two special appointments during the past week Muenster citizens have assurance that they will get a black-top farm to market road, but they don't know when nor where.

Meeting with J. M. Isbell, district highway engineer of Wichita Falls, a delegation of citizens was told that the five and one half mile project leading north out of Muenster is one of several roads designated for a three year program ending July 1, 1949. According to the highway construction schedule, Isbell said, the contract for that road is due to be let not later than that date.

(Information previously printed in this paper was received indirectly without mention of the year, hence was generally assumed to mean the next July 1.)

The principal purpose of the delegation's meetings was to encourage consideration of a different route for the road. Members of the group pointed out that a road due north out of town would not only extend the hard surface farther but would also save drivers thousands of miles every month. The alternate route, which has been generally taken for granted goes .6 miles west, three miles north, and then back to the proposed route.

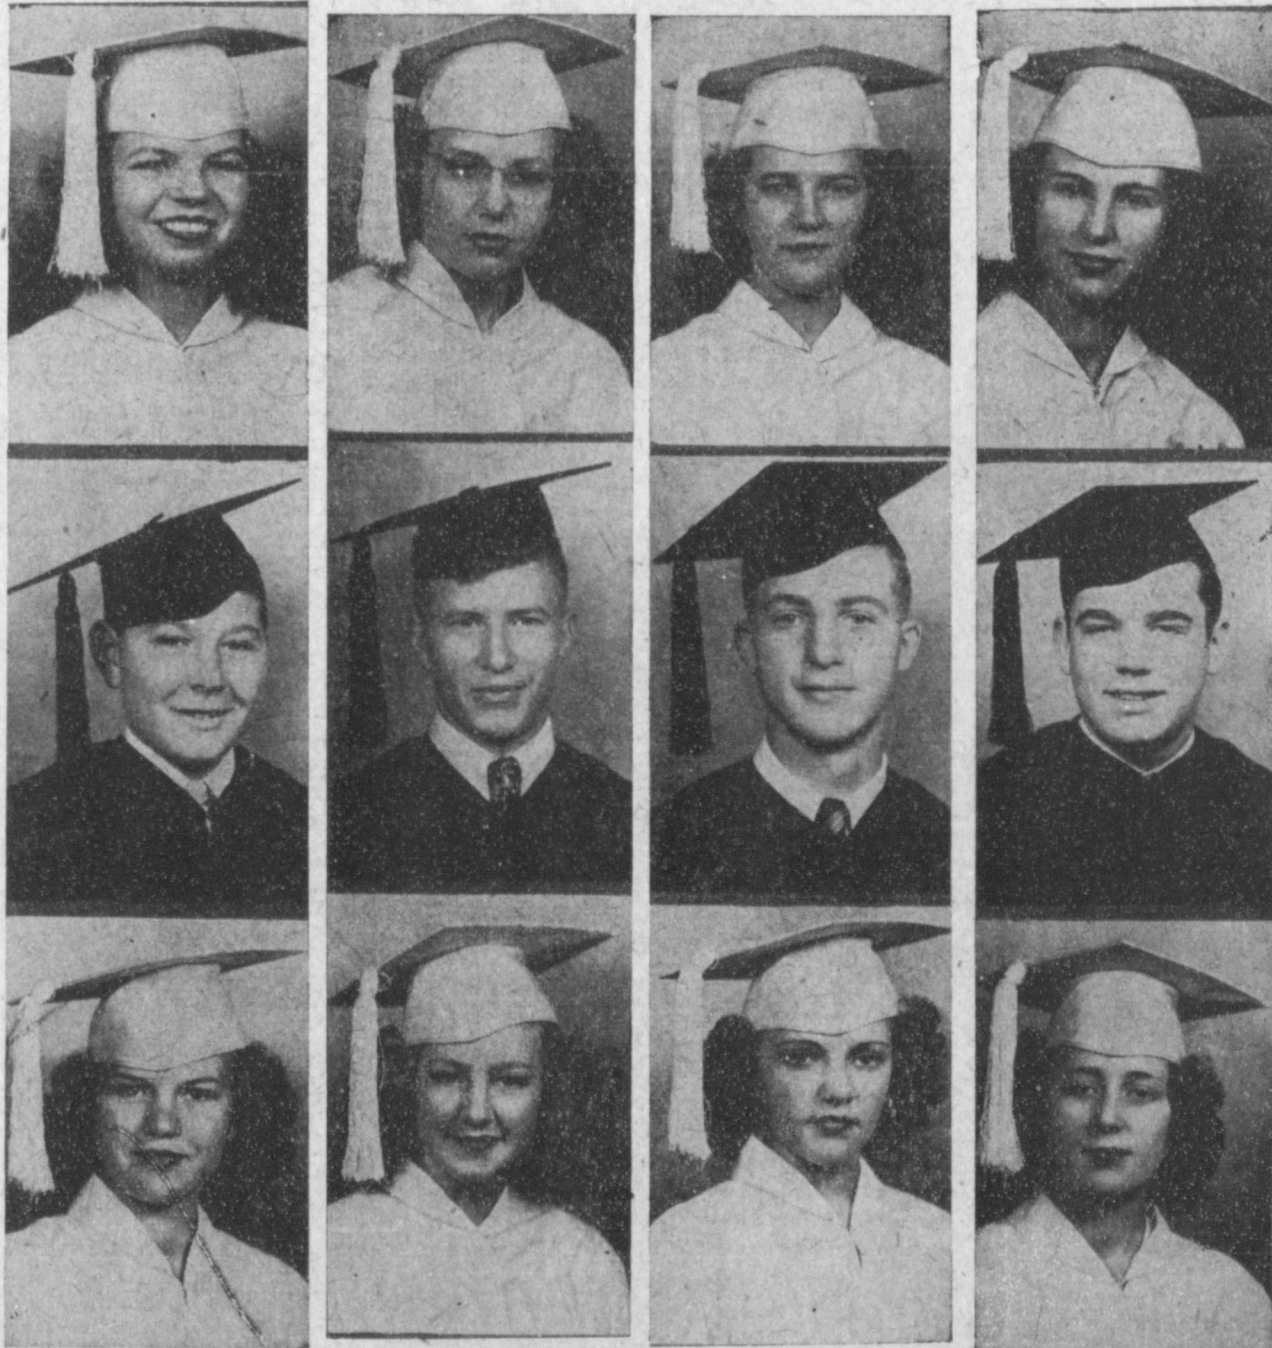

Isbell agreed that the change appeared reasonable but stated that nothing definite can be said until right of way, construction problems and other facilities are definitely known.

Seeking the assistance of the county commissioners' court, the group called on Judge Carroll F. Sullivan, chairman, and received his assurance that the court will consider the route with Mr. Isbell.

Members of the delegation were C. J. Fette, Ben Seyler, J. P. Flusche, Steve Fette, R. N. Fette, Dr. T. S. Myrick, Rudy Hellman, Arthur Endres, Urban Endres, R. S. Mitchell and Jerome Pagel.

Mrs. Andrew Wimmer who underwent major surgery at Gainesville Sanitarium on May 21, returned to her home Saturday and is up and around this week.

silence him with three more blows on the head.

Described as a teen ager about 18 the assailant used a blunt weapon which left almost an inch-deep cave-in in Hennigan's skull.

The screams for help were heard by a soldier and his wife driving past at the time and also by a resident across the street. All hurried to the station and all saw someone driving away on a bicycle but assumed he was going for help and paid no further attention to him.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hennigan, parents of the victim, are convinced that robbery must have been the motive for the attack even though the cash drawer was later found intact. The attacker must have been frightened away by the commotion, Mr. Hennigan said.

Another circumstance pointing to that theory is that the attack occurred only a few minutes after several visiting schoolmates left the station. Apparently the attacker had waited until he knew the boy was alone.

Rosary for the youth was recited at his home, 304 North Morningside Street, Friday night and the funeral was conducted at his parish church, the Saint Charles Church, the following morning.

Relatives who drove to Albuquerque for the final rites are Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hennigan and son, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hennigan, Mrs. T. L. Anderson, Mrs. Frank Seyler, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seyler, Arthur Hennigan, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennigan. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hennigan of Wilson, Okla., and their son, H. W. Hennigan of Borger.

Joseph Hennigan was born in Muenster on June 10, 1931, and attended Sacred Heart School. The family moved to Albuquerque 11 months ago.

Survivors are his parents; six sisters, Rose, Mary Nell, Martha, Therese, Almeda and Rita Ann, all of Albuquerque; two brothers, Pat and Frank, Muenster, his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Seyler, Muenster, and a number of uncles, aunts and cousins.

BETTER WATCH THOSE WHISTLES, BOYS; THE COPS ARE AFTER 'EM

Exhaust whistles on automobiles in this town must go. That is the ultimatum passed on by City Marshal Andy Harrison after being warned last Sunday by State Highway Patrolmen Robinson and Simmons. The whistles violate both highway and city regulations.

Being caught with the noise-makers is subject to both fine and confiscation, Harrison stated.

Mayor Weinzapfel, commenting on the officers' order, said that it came as welcome news to him. He has had complaints lately about the whistles disturbing people's sleep during the night.

Another frequent violation noted by the officers is right turns on the red light without stopping.

Preparedness

A wealthy ranchman shot a man to death on the streets in a Panhandle city and then telegraphed to one of the leading criminal lawyers of the state, who lived in Fort Worth, three hundred miles away, offering a $5,000 fee.

The attorney telegraphed back: "Am leaving for your town on next train, bringing three eye-witnesses."

the procession led by a group of children in white.

In church a profusion of flowers, wreaths, streamers and society banners, among the numerous lighted candles gave a beautiful festive appearance befitting the dignity of the occasion.

After the mass the school auditorium was the scene of a community dinner prepared by members of the Mothers' Society assisted by the other parish societies.

The honoree, his family, and members of the clergy were seated at adjoining tables. They were beautifully appointed, laid with white linen and china and ornamented with wheat sheaves and clusters of grapes, symbolic of the bread and wine used in the divine sacrifice. A special cake for the celebrant's table was a life-like replica of a Missal.

After-dinner speeches were given by Rev. Father Silks of Arlington who served as toast master, and by His Excellency Bishop Lynch, Rt. Rev. Abbot Paul, and Rev. Father Taff of Fort Worth, Father Taff extending felicitations and congratulations in behalf of all the diocesan priests.

At 3 o'clock Father Mosman officiated at Sacramental Benediction and bestowed his first priestly blessing on relatives and friends.

Throughout the afternoon and evening a community get-together and picnic was held on the parish grounds and hundreds of additional friends from the county and more distant places joined the Lindsay parishioners in extending best wishes to the newly ordained priest.

FISHER AND KNABE HERDS LEAD COUNTY DAIRY ASSOCIATION

Led by Paul Fisher's Daisey which produced 1,455 pounds of milk and 96 pounds of butterfat, the Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement association led the state in milk production during the month of April, according to figures released at the association's regular monthly meeting last week.

The association, which is working systematically to increase dairy herd improvement consists of ten herds with a total of 216 cows. Individual high herds for the month were Paul Fisher's, first, and John Knabe's second. They averaged 919 pounds of milk and 43.2 pounds of butterfat, and 918 pounds of milk and 39.2 pounds of butterfat, respectively.

Notes On Soil Conservation

J.P. Embry, Clear Creek conservation group, has 20 acres of vetch that he grazed 10 cows and 4 horses on up until the 10th of April. The vetch is knee high and Mr Embry states, "I'm expecting to clear $600 on seed produced from this 20 acres of vetch." Starr Mann has a similar story to tell about his 41 acres of vetch. Frank Dunn, also in this group, has 2 acres of love grass he seeded last year. Mr. Dunn states "My weeping love grass is approximately 4 feet tall where I applied a complete fertilizer; where no fertilizer was applied my love grass is only about 1 1/2 feet tall and shows poor prospects of a seed crop".

W.H. Lamkin, North East Saint Jo conservation group, signed a conservation plan and seeded 10 acres of bermuda grass to waterway the same day. He plans to plant his entire acreage to vetch next fall. A.R. Lawson, Saint Jo group signed a conservation agreement with the Upper Elm-Red conservation group last week. Farm plans on W.P. Portor and Tom Pryor, Myra conservation group, were completed last week. Tom Pryor seeded 8 acres of bermuda grass.

J.A. Dennison, North East Saint Jo conservation group, seeded 16 acres of weeping love and sand love grass on a well prepared seed bed. Recent rains should insure a good stand.

Vetch and rye that was not turned under or mowed for hay is showing good prospect for an excellent seed harvest. Vetch and rye in the Muenster work area shows more promise of a seed crop than in districts farther west. Bad weather conditions gave a late start but recent moisture has started vetch to growing.

HORNFLY DESCRIBED AS WORST FARM PEST AT GI VOCATIONAL CLASS

Describing the hornfly as one of the worst livestock pests at the present time, Instructor Hugh Barnhart Monday told GI vocational agriculture students that controlling it can prevent an amazing decline in beef and milk production.

Official experiment station records show, he said, that hornfly infested cattle have lost as much as one half pound of flesh daily, and fly infested milk cows drop one half gallon per day in their production.

To control the pest he advised a regular spraying schedule with a 25% DDT solution. Under a well planned control program hornflies can be eliminated from entire communities.

Barnhart described the hornfly as a small fly about half the size of a housefly and usually found on livestock. It is both a biting and a blood sucking insect.

Hornflies congregate on an animal by the thousands. Four thousand is not uncommon and the number has been known to run as high as 15 thousand.

The hornfly stays on the cow night and day, and does not leave the cow except for a brief period of five to ten minutes to lay eggs in fresh manure, returning to the animal immediately. The egg hatches in 16 hours and the hornfly matures in approximately 14 days. The average life of the hornfly is seven weeks, during which time the female lays approximately 400 eggs.

Elaborate Ceremony Awaits Arrival of Noted Fatima Image

Elaborate ceremonies and a full list of special services will commemorate the one and one-half day stay of the "Pilgrim Virgin" in Muenster on June 12 and 13.

Father Herman Laux stated this week that special arrangements include a welcoming procession on the arrival of the famous statue, a solemn high mass to be broadcast over the Gainesville radio station, devotional schedules for out of town visitors, and eating and lodging accommodations for visitors who remain here over night.

The "Pilgrim Virgin" a replica of the original image now enshrined at Fatima, Portugal, and commemorating the miraculous series of appearances of the Virgin Mary at Fatima in 1917, is now on a tour of the American continent. Its stop here is one of five in the Diocese of Dallas, the other cities being Texarkana, Tyler, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Invitations for the event have been sent to the members of 16 North Texas parishes.

BANQUET AND CLASS NIGHT PROGRAM COMBINED FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL STUDENTS

One of the nicest social events of the current term for seniors and juniors of the Muenster Public High School was the junior-senior banquet and the class night program combined on May 20. The event was sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of the school and was held in the banquet room of the Eat-a-Bite Cafe in Gainesville.

L. Hembree, Mrs. Bailey Wylie and Miss Elfreda Luke.

The program opened with a address of welcome by Allan Hoffman and the response by Junior Hammer after which all the guests fashioned crepe paper caps in shades of pink, green and yellow, and wore them for the evening.

Mr. Hoffman led the invocation and Allan Hoffman served as toast master. Harold Reeves gave the class prophecy and Stanley Wylie read the class will. Each of the students gave a short address, and the assemblage sang "Auld Lang Syne" to close the program.

Throughout the banquet room the senior class colors of pink and green were stressed and the class flower, pink rosebud, was used in an attractive centerpiece.

Favors for the girls were white gladiola corsages and for the boys, white carnation boutonniers. Places were marked with nut cups and pink rose buds. The programs and menus also carried out the chosen color scheme.

Three Mighty Important Ideas

Maybe you read, where a great encyclopedia has sorted all basic ideas into a few select groups. Under the letter "T" they have:

Temperance - Truth - Tyranny.

Sounds like a funny combination. And to philosophize a little, notice that Truth is in the center—between Tyranny and Temperance.

Now and then you hear folks criticize temperate people who enjoy a moderate glass of beer... who talk about "two beers" getting some one into trouble, and claim: "There ought to be a law!"

Then Truth steps in between, and points out that two beers never got anybody into trouble—and that somebody's trying to distort the facts. No, there shouldn't be a law—there should be Truth.

From where I sit, those ideas are arranged just right. Temperance on one side, Tyranny on the other—and Truth in the middle—seeing that Tyranny never encroaches upon Temperance.

GENE LEHNERTZ GETS TRIAL AT SHORTSTOP ON GAINESVILLE TEAM

A group of Muensterites estimated as about 100 persons was in Gainesville Monday night to cheer Gene Lehnertz in his first game as short stop for the Gainesville Owls.

Just returned from the University of Houston, Lehnertz is currently working for a regular spot on the Owls' lineup.

Remembered here as one of Muenster's pre-war players he returned from the army with a severe limp and other physical handicaps resulting from an exploded flare and was not expected to return to baseball. After persistent practice, however, he won a place on his school's team and retained it the past two seasons.

CARD OF THANKS

Grateful thanks are extended to all who contributed and to the ladies who took up the collection for the cemetery fund on Memorial Day.

Mrs. Nick Miller
Chairman Cemetery Committee

The Mundt-Nixon bill requires that agents of a foreign power, including every person whose first allegiance is pledged to another country, must register as such with our federal government. Its only purpose is to bring spies and subversives into the open — and to furnish a good stiff legal penalty for the guys who are caught doing a foreign power's dirty work to the detriment of this country.

is there anything wrong with that? Is there anything about it to which a good American should object? Since apparently there isn't, doesn't it seem natural to question the motives of people who oppose it?

The significant point is that communists, in spite of all their denials of the past, are pledged to work for Joe Stalin and against Uncle Sam, . . . and this bill penetrates right through their veil of deception to hit a vital spot.

So they are walling their heads off about an attempt to outlaw the communist party even though the bill does not mention it by name. They admit that the tar-
