

A new book entitled "Live Long and Like It" gives what appears to be a reasonable formula for living to a ripe old age. "Just find out the weak parts in your body structure and take special care of them". The author describes the body as a chain of vital parts. Each link in the chain must hold its own, and when the weakest link breaks, that's the end. So, locate the weak link and then be careful not to put it in a strain.

In one of his broadcasts last week Fulton Lewis Jr. picked up two separate bits of news and put them side by side to expose a condition that is anything but pleasing. Official government figures show an increase of 2.5 million jobs for June and other government figures for the preceding month show that unemployment compensation was being drawn by 1.5 million persons who claimed they were not able to find work.

School kids and some parents and teachers took most of the new jobs, and that, in Lewis' opinion seems to indicate that quite a large percentage of the people drawing unemployment compensation aren't really making much of an effort to work.

We must admit that there is something fishy when 2.5 million school kids and teachers are able to find jobs after 1.5 million other people said there are none to be had. This seems to show that jobs were plentiful enough for people who wanted to work.

Besides revealing a disappointing prevalence of human cussedness the two figures indicate a real weakness in many of our idealistic but impractical economic and social policies. Here is a provision intended to help out people in distress but playing directly into the hands of the something-for-nothing boys. That in itself is bad enough, but to make matters worse conscientious people see what goes on and resent it. "Why should I knock myself out," they say, "when loafers are getting the principal benefits of the social security plan?" A situation like this isn't exactly conducive to the old incentive spirit on which this nation grew and prospered.

The more one thinks about the abuses in our benevolent policies the more he becomes aware of the wisdom in that old axiom "He is best governed who is least governed."

This is all hypothetical, of course, but we can't help wondering whether too many people are leaning on Uncle Sam just because he invites them to lean on. Maybe America would be better off if each individual realized that he has to carry his own weight, through slack periods, hard times and old age right up to the grave. That arrangement at least would eliminate professional chiselers. Besides it would save costly and useless expense for the millions of self reliant people who will never need the official help anyway.

Basically our people aren't so much at fault. Our worst trouble is that there are too many professional do-gooders lousing up those good old American traditions of thrift, honesty and self reliance.

As of now it seems the Catholic nuns of North Dakota are one up on the bigots who arranged to have them barred from teaching in that state's public schools. They'll simply change to normal civilian dress and qualify to go right on with their work.

To the millions of people who were incensed over the rank injustice and narrow-mindedness of the recent "anti garb" amendment, this bit of news conveys no small measure of satisfaction. It was a matter of common knowledge that the amendment, though not mentioning any group by name, was intended specifically to kick nuns out of the public schools.

No doubt the bigots' faces are quite red since they've discovered that they haven't accomplished a thing. It must be somewhat humiliating to admit that their whole system of well laid schemes was knocked for a loop by this simple little trick.

Whatever the extent of the embarrassment, they deserve every bit of it. Their scheme not only violated the constitutional right of thousands of parents who wanted nuns as teachers but also threatened the shut-down of many public schools in the state. It is hard to imagine how this injustice to children could have been condoned by anyone.

FM Radio System Streamlines Co-op's Line Repair Service

Radio communication between service crews of the Cooke County Electric Cooperative has been established, providing the trucks are no more than a few miles distant from each other, but will soon be spread over the entire system.

Installation of a central set in Muenster is now being held up by the delay in arrival of a special conductor for the set to the aerial, which will be installed on the city's 145-foot water tower. The tip of the aerial will be 160 feet above the ground.

A 6x6 corrugated aluminum shed under the water tower will contain the principal sending and receiving set and an extension to the co-op's office will permit communication from that point.

All equipment is of the new FM type which, though more distinct in line service. In-line testing it enables two crews to work together even though they are miles apart. On service calls it enables the office to notify repair men at a great saving in time and mileage.

Heretofore there have been many instances of extra trips to the far end of the system because service men, on the first trip, did not know that other trouble existed in the neighborhood. The radio will correct that problem.

Notes On Soil Conservation

Thomas Sicking, whose farm is in the Sicking conservation group is doing a good job building up his terraces with his own equipment. He is reported to have completed .7 mile. He has also mowed 20 acres of pasture for weed control.

J. K. Seibold, whose farm is in the Clear Creek group, recently completed a new farm pond. The pond is located and designed to furnish stock water and to divert water off of a bottomland field. Mr. Seibold has also planted 20 acres of cowpeas in corn. He reports noticeable improvement in yields of corn from previous planting of cowpeas used for a summer legume.

Terrace construction is under way on the Roy Townsley farm in the Myra conservation group. He has completed a 1200 foot diversion terrace and six large channel type field terraces. Five more terraces have been staked out by the Muenster Work Unit of the Soil Conservation Service. Mr. Townsley is using a tractor and grader for the construction work. All terraces will outlet on pasture or meadow where there is a good grass cover.

Thirty acres seeded to bermuda grass is doing good. A good stand has been obtained with new seedlings that have come up in the last few days. Johnson grass is kept grazed down so the bermuda grass can get started.

A new conservation farm plan was recently worked out by A. V. Kindegard in the Leo conservation group. He has started mowing his pasture to control weeds and encourage the spreading of buffalo grass.

Bird Moss of Leo is cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. He worked out conservation farm plans on two farms in the Leo conservation group last week. An eroded bottomland field with a potential stand of bermuda grass will be fertilized and seeded to Hairy Vetch this fall in an effort to improve the growth of the grass. Other bottomland fields now in Johnson grass will be seeded or sodded to bermuda grass. He plans to build two new farm ponds to aid in rotating grazing and obtaining the best use of his pastures. If one of the ponds can be suitably located he will cross fence the pasture on one farm.

GIRLS LEAD SCOUTS 2 TO 1 IN CURRENT SOFTBALL RIVALRY

A new softball rivalry is in the Muenster limelight. It's the boy scouts versus the girls in a series that gets better with every game. At this time the standing is 2 to 1 but any scout on the team will promise that next Tuesday night's game will make it 2 to 2.

The opening game two weeks ago was an easy 9 to 2 win for the girls. The lads, obviously jittery in their first contest let the girls score too many before they got organized.

For their next game, July 8, they were primed and slugged their way to a one sided 17 to 9 victory.

By Tuesday night of this week both teams realized that winning was not a cinch. They played on even terms all the way through the girls finally nosing out 5 to 4.

Death Claims Father Benedict, O.S.B., of Subiaco Monastery

Rev. Benedict Boergerding, O. S. B., 64, prior at New Subiaco Abbey, Subiaco, Ark., and brother of Mrs. Frances Binz of this city, died Friday morning after a three weeks illness in a hospital in Morrilton, Ark.

Funeral services were held at the abbey Monday morning at 9 o'clock with the Rev. Paul M. Nahlen, O. S. B., abbot of the monastery, officiating at the pontifical requiem mass and at the burial in the monastery cemetery.

Attending the services from Muenster were Rev. Herman Laux, Mrs. Frances Binz and Mrs. Leonard Yosten.

Father Benedict was born Oct. 21, 1883, in Subiaco and entered the monastery as a student when he was nine years old. He made his profession as a member of the Benedictine Order on Oct. 16, 1900, and was ordained Aug. 26, 1906, in Little Rock.

After his ordination he attended St. Louis University for two years, then served as rector of New Subiaco College until 1928, when he went to Fort Worth as principal for Lanier High school, where he remained for 17 years. During that time he was also chaplain at Our Lady of Victory Academy and taught at both schools.

In 1945 he returned to the monastery and was made prior two years ago. As prior he was the second-highest official of the Benedictine Abbey.

Survivors in addition to Mrs. Binz are a brother, Henry Boergerding of Scranton, Ark., and nephews and nieces including Mrs. Henry Wiesman of this city, Miss Anna Boergerding of Dallas, and Joe Boergerding of Grand Prairie.

Father Benedict's last visit in Muenster was in November last year when he officiated at the marriage of his great-niece, Mildred Wiesman, to Henry Yosten.

MARTIN DAVIS CITES RECORD AS PLATFORM IN ELECTION CAMPAIGN

Martin Davis, candidate for reelection as district clerk of Cooke county this week made public the following formal statement to voters of the county.

"Within a short time the people of Cooke county will elect a District Clerk and I am a candidate for re-election to that office.

"During the past, I have done my utmost to conduct the office in such a manner that my attitude and work would commend themselves to those to whom I am indebted for the office.

"No one could appreciate your confidence more than I, and because I am aware of my debt to you, I have sought in every consistent way to treat with kindness and courtesy every person dealing with me, or the office.

"The office of District Clerk is a responsible one and has no paid assistants. The duty of the District Clerk is primarily that of custodian of the records and moneys of the District Court, which requires the closest attention to detail with respect to honesty, integrity and accuracy of accounting. In addition to this, is the acceptance and development of all records regarding law suits until they are disposed of in court.

"With the assistance and advice of the County Auditor, I

Week-end Rainfall Raises June and July Total to 10 Inches

Additional rainfall during the past weekend further prolonged one of the most persistent June-July rainy seasons remembered in this community. Saturday's .60 inches and Sunday's .68 brought the month's total to 5.13. Added to that of the last two weeks in June, the figure stands at 10.02 inches for less than a month's time.

Though the weather has been clear since Monday there are no reports at this writing of threshing being resumed anywhere in the community. Shocks, thoroughly soaked by the many successive showers, are drying out slowly. In almost all those shocks the grain has sprouted and when finally threshed, will be down to a mere "chicken feed" quality.

Considered from almost every angle, farm lands of the community are in urgent need of a catching-up period. Plowing is delayed on stubble lands. Lack of cultivation is permitting weeds to sap the row crops. And most of the hay is urgently in need of cutting. Hundreds of acres of cuttings have been ruined by unexpected showers.

BUILDING ACTIVITY RESUMES AS HARVEST RUSH SEASON PASSES

With most of the urgent rush season work out of the way this community again turns its attention to building and rebuilding work.

Ben Seyler's garage is nearing completion. Plate glass was installed this week inside finishing work is under way, and the building will probably be ready for its opening before mid-August.

Excavation work for the foundation of the parish hall annex has been finished, however actual construction has not been started. Latest report on that project is that it will measure 32 x 66 with sides extending beyond both north and south walls to form a T shaped building. Added space in the basement will be used for the lunch program and upstairs will be used for dressing rooms and main floor space.

Jake Pagel is nearing completion on the project which adds a new garage and completely renovates his home.

Rudy Hellman started this week to increase the size of his garage and breezeway and make general repairs through the rest of the house.

At Valley Creek the new Shiloh church is now under construction. Much of the material for it was salvaged from the old Shiloh church.

Frank Hess is nearing completion on a general repair job on his house. It consists of new siding and roof and lesser repairs inside.

Joe Hoenig is building a room in the attic of his house.

Frank Bayer is tearing down his home for replacement by a new, modern house. While the project is underway the family will occupy John Bayer's house in town. Mr. Bayer is now on vacation in Iowa.

On the Hollandsworth lease south of Muenster a new 5 room house is under construction for M. T. Milner. When he moves in the John Steele family will take the house he is living in now.

Werner Becker is building a new dairy barn.

A small but unusual job is a moveable range shelter for poultry built by Meinrad Hesse. It is a 10 x 15 frame with poultry netting side, a sheet metal roof and no bottom. Hesse will put it in an alfalfa field, moving it from one spot to another as the forage is eaten down.

KC SOCIAL COMMITTEE SETS UP NEW PROGRAM

A social program that will appeal to all age groups of its membership is the present objective of the local K of C council's social committee. Dances, contests, domino and card parties, and picnics besides short features to be incorporated in the gatherings, are all included on the program committee's schedule.

Members of the committee are J. H. Otto, Jerome Pagel, Dick Trachta, Arthur Endres and Gerald Bayer. Their first program is set for next Wednesday night, the 21st, at 8 o'clock.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL LAUNCHES CITY CURB PROMOTION CAMPAIGN

A curb promotion campaign is about to get under way in the city. Discussed in the regular session of the Community Council last Thursday it was taken up as one of that organization's projects.

In the near future a committee will seek agreements with property owners in order to arrange for all possible curb footage. A special inducement is the possibility of securing better rates by assuring the contractor a worth while project.

Along Main street the curb will have to be built in the near future so that the city can qualify for a full width pavement in connection with the community's anticipated farm to market road. Curbs in other parts of the city are encouraged as general civic improvements.

Sgt. Randolph Gruber War Victim, Buried Saturday at Lindsay

Full military honors were accorded Sgt. Randolph Gruber at re-burial services at Lindsay Saturday morning, July 10, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Conrad Herda officiated at the requiem high mass and at the burial in the Lindsay cemetery.

The Lindsay VFW was in charge of the military rites assisted by the National Guard unit of Gainesville. Pallbearers were Albert Hoelker, Johnny Sturm, Henry Reinart, Gerald Metzler, Harold Schmitz and Wilfred Bezner.

Sgt. Gruber was Lindsay's first casualty of World War II. He was killed in action with the infantry in Guadalcanal on August 6, 1943. He was 27 years old and had been in the army almost six years.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Gruber, a sister, Miss Margaret Gruber, and a brother James Gruber, both of Fort Worth, and two brothers, Robert and William Gruber of Lindsay.

Miss Ann Herr had her appendix removed at Gainesville sanitarium Tuesday and is making a normal recovery. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Herr.

Mrs. Jerome Pagel underwent surgery Tuesday morning at Gainesville sanitarium and is making a satisfactory recovery.

Mrs. Herman Fleitman underwent surgery at Gainesville sanitarium Friday morning.

Mrs. Al Eberhart underwent minor surgery at Saint Vincent's hospital in Sherman last Friday and was permitted to return home Sunday.

Mrs. Alois Haverkamp has returned from a ten-day stay at Glenrose for her health and is feeling much improved.

MOWER FACTORY USES VACATION LULL FOR REPAIRING EQUIPMENT

The Muenster Manufacturing company is a quiet place this week, the only activity being that of repairs on equipment. Plant Manager L. H. Baumhardt disclosed that vacations are now being taken by all but two employees, who are spending their time on maintenance rather than production. The purpose is to have all machines in perfect condition when the others return to work.

The vacation likewise marks the end of this year's production schedule. According to Baumhardt the units on hand should meet the balance of this season's demand and future production will be stored for next year's market.

Total sales in spite of this year's late start consist of about 3,000 push type lawn mowers and 335 power mowers. Anticipating first orders within 60 days, the plant expects to triple that volume next year.

Dan Mahoney of Tulsa visited here Wednesday with E. P. Buckley. They had not seen each other in some 20 years since they moved from Burkburnett where both were employed with Stan-oline Oil Company.

City Spraying Job Awaits Improvement In Local Sanitation

The Muenster Community Council's plan to give the city a thorough power spraying job ran into its first snag early this week when the sanitation committee learned that the spray is practically worthless unless the favorite breeding places of insects are first eliminated.

At the Council meeting last Thursday night the committee agreed to inquire into the possibility of having the job done by men and equipment from Wichita Falls. They were told that the service is available, and also advised that it isn't recommended unless the city takes measures to prevent the further propagation of flies and mosquitoes.

In a special session Tuesday night the sanitation committee decided to concentrate first on unapproved toilets, tin cans, old tires, etc. As regards toilets it issued an urgent request to tie on to the sewer if the connection is available, and to convert to the approved screen or pit type if the connection is not available.

Steve Mosler, chairman, said Wednesday that the committee is determined to clean up and intends to report all non-cooperators to law enforcement officers with the demand that they be required to comply with sanitary regulations.

The cost of spraying with the power equipment was quoted at about $100 per day, which is regarded as about the time necessary to cover the entire city. The present plan for financing the job is to solicit donations from the residents of the city.

S. FLETCHER ISSUES STATEMENT IN RACE FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

Shelby Fletcher, candidate for the office of Cooke County Attorney, this week authorized the Enterprise to publish the following formal statement to voters of the county:

"In seeking the office of County Attorney I am running solely on my qualifications and on my record in the office of Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 1.

"A graduate of SMU Law School, I have been a practicing attorney in Gainesville since 1946. My experience in this work as well as in the office of Justice of the Peace has made me sufficiently familiar with legal work and court procedure to discharge the duties of County Attorney in an able manner. My record in both private and public service likewise stands as a creditable record of my integrity and efficiency.

"I have the qualifications, and I promise that if elected I will be a capable, hard-working county attorney devoted to the interests of each and every resident of the county.

"I am 34 years of age, born in Cooke county, and have spent all my life here except the duration of my law course in Dallas and my four years in the army, three of which were overseas. I attended the Gainesville schools enrolling in Somerville Law School, Dallas, after completing studies at Gainesville Junior College. After the war I completed my law course at SMU."

DELLA ROSE ENDRES' BETHROTHAL REVEALED AT TEA PARTY SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Endres have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Della Rose Endres, to Thomas John (Joe) Gorman of Rockford, Ill., and Canyon, Texas.

The engagement was made known to friends at an announcement tea given Sunday from 4 to 5 in the home of the bride-elect's sister, Mrs. Val Fuhrmann, with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Paul Endres, as co-hostess. A color scheme of gold and white was stressed with daisies, marigolds and other seasonal flowers used in profusion for decorating. The hostesses presented corsages to the honoree and her mother, the former's of gold glads and white tube roses and the latter's of pink glads.

Placed at a vantage point in the party room was a table centered with photographs of the engaged couple. Daisies flanked the pictures before which lay a wide white satin streamer inscribed with "Dollie and Joe, August 2", in gold lettering.

Mrs. Urban Endres and Mrs. Robert Kupper poured punch and served cake. Mrs. Arthur Endres, presided at the bride's book in which 40 guests were registered.

The refreshment table was laid with a gold cloth covered with lace and was adorned with daisies in crystal bowls and tall gold tapers in crystal holders. Gold napkins carried the announcement printed in white.

Miss Endres is a native of Muenster and a graduate of Sacred Heart High school with the class of 1943. She attended OLV College at Fort Worth and West Texas State College at Canyon. In 1947 she was a member of the teaching faculty at the Muenster Public school. She resigned at mid-term to return to Canyon for special courses during the remainder of the term.

Mr. Gorman, son of T. H. Gorman of Rockford, Ill., was reared in that city and attended school there. He served in the army during the war and upon his return from duty entered college at Canyon where he and Miss Endres became acquainted.

The nuptial high mass will be held at Sacred Heart church on Tuesday, August 2, at 7:30.

When Calvin Coolidge was President his wife had a portrait painted of him as a surprise. When it was finished she had it hung in his study. The President was studying it when a senator entered. Coolidge indicated the portrait and the senator gazed at it too. Neither said a word for 15 minutes. Then Coolidge said: "I think so, too."

The American Way

TEAMWORK

By Maurice E. Franks

With the demands for higher and higher wages comes the command of higher and higher prices. And mainly because not enough labor leaders have taken it upon themselves to analyze the basic requirements for teamwork. Bigger real wages and really better working conditions arise out of bigger and better production, possible only as a result of the cooperative efforts of labor and management when pulling as a team. Union bargaining strategy alone can result only in bigger strikes, bigger wages and bigger prices — and therefore headaches all around! Higher wages inscribed on a contract paper and secured by the brass of animosity can become as unreliable as so much Chinese cash. Unless there is the gold of harmony and the silver of production behind the paper working agreement, higher wages become just tokens of a lower standard of living.

Speaking of a lower standard of living brings to mind the question of overtime — and particularly double-time. On quick glance this "phony" looks genuine. But when presented for redemption, it is disclosed to be quite brazen. Work one day, get paid for two? 'Tain't bad, brother! But when you go to collect on that one, you soon find out that this kind of money is tainted — because of the inability of the employer to pay two days wages for one day's work. And that is why very little overtime work today is called for, and scarcely any double-time at all. With the result that the worker actually gets just five days' pay to cover seven days' obligations — and brother, 'tain't enough!

Now, what is behind all this nonsense? Have all our labor leaders gone berserk? Are they all just a bunch of Communists and racketeers? Definitely not! By and large, most of them are good, conscientious individuals and sincerely believe that higher wages for less production are the basis for a sound economy — especially the union economy. Selfishly, such a leader believes that the minimum number of hours produce the maximum number of members — and thereby maximum financial security for the leader. Such a philosophy, however, is not only shortsighted, it is likewise utterly fallacious. And what is more, it presents a dangerous hazard to our total economy.

America, as we know it, did not become the greatest productive nation in the world as a result of minimum production at maximum cost. It attained to its present position through the application of a wholly opposite formula: maximum production at minimum cost, thereby making available the most of the best for the least to the most. Only through the application of this principle was our unusually high standard of living created, and only through our unswerving application of it can that standard be maintained. Any other theory is sheer poppycock — inspired either by ignorance or by the Communist plot to destroy our American way of life.

How To Stall Production

We are letting go unchallenged the propaganda dispensed by the leftist press of this nation — voluminous propaganda, if you please — which tells the American worker stories that distort these facts and, at the same time, paints Soviet Russia as a modern economic Utopia, where nobody works very hard and everyone gets lots and lots of nice, soft money. We who are charged with the responsibility of forming public opinion through the press, if we value our American heritage, must spare no effort to identify its enemies. Our job at this crucial moment is to unmask the crackpots and wilful revolutionaries, who from the side-lines are doing their utmost to frighten our American production team and prevent it from realizing the fullest possibilities of TEAMWORK.

A recent applicant to enlist in the Navy was a determined young man. Told that he could not qualify because the little finger on his right hand was paralyzed, he had the finger amputated and re-applied. He got in.

The Japanese people seem to be a strange combination of delicate flower-gentle qualities mixed with savage brutality. There is the case of the widow whose husband was hanged for war crimes. After his execution, the widow came to the court, bowed and said: "I have come all the way from Osaka to offer this gift (a silver cigarette case) to the Americans in gratitude for the fair trial my husband received."

COMMIES REALLY AREN'T SO SMART

When the movie, "The Iron Curtain," opened in New York, the Communists staged a riot without stopping to think that the excitement would give the picture publicity all over the country where the picture is appearing in several hundred theatres.

The strange part is that while out on the street 15,000 spectators watched mounted police trying to quiet the riot, inside the theatre "The Iron Curtain" was not even playing. The preview had been called off. The next day, the picture opened and all was quiet.

In a campaign to kill the Mundt-Nixon Bill, they deluged Congress with forged letters and telegrams. One telegram was signed with the names of nine Cornell professors who didn't know anything about the telegrams. All this made the House pass the bill overwhelmingly.

The Commies rush into these situations with all the noise and confusion of a car doing 80 miles an hour in low gear. Sometimes, they come out with a vague feeling of discomfort like a man who has dressed with his long underwear on upside down and can't figure out just where the trouble is.

THE JEOFFROY "SOIL CONTROL CULTIVATOR"

The Plow of the Past
REVOLUTIONIZED
for TODAY!

The chisel-type cultivation of the Jeffroy "Soil Control Cultivator" is not new! In fact, the first plows of this type were made over 3,000 years ago by the Egyptians for farming along the Nile River. They used a sharpened stick, while in the Jeffroy machine, silicamanganese steel is required to stand present-day speeds and uses. Down through the ages many plows have been used and discarded, but the chisel-type plow has proved to have less draft, control erosion, and conserve moisture more effectively than any other plow invented!

★ Plows and cultivates the natural way. ★ Conserves the moisture. ★ Prevents blowing. ★ Stops erosion. ★ Cuts plowing cost in half. ★ Constructed to last a lifetime. ★ Pre-war prices. ★ Made in 4 sizes to fit your power: 7 ft. - 10 ft. - 13 ft. - 16 ft.

The chisel opens the way for moisture to go into the subsoil for storage.

Moisture penetrates further, does not run off. Stubble and trash are worked into topsoil for more effective refertilization of the land.

Disc-type cultivation leaves a smooth surface that quickly seals and causes water run-off.

STATE REPORTS 463
DIPHThERIA CASES
SO FAR THIS YEAR

AUSTIN, TEXAS.— According to the morbidity report for the week ending July 3, more than 463 cases of diphtheria occurred throughout the state so far this year.

The morbidity report is released weekly by the Texas State Department of Health. It shows the prevalence of communicable disease by counties.

"In the light of our present knowledge regarding the control of diphtheria, it is unfortunate that the disease is allowed to flourish," Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, said.

For the week June 26 to July 3, Nueces County reported four cases; Hopkins, Tarrant and Val Verde Counties reported one each. For the year 1947, seventy-seven deaths from diphtheria were recorded.

"A life-time immunity may be established in 90 per cent of the children receiving the diphtheria toxoid," the health officer said. "If all parents of children over six months of age would have their children inoculated, the incidence rate of the disease would be rapidly reduced."

The administration of toxoid causes little or no discomfort in the child, Dr. Cox added, and a positive immunity can be determined by a Schick test conducted four to six months after the final dose of the toxoid has been given the child.

After the noon meal, games and visiting furnished diversion and group pictures were made. Miss Elizabeth Fleitman directed appropriate games and contests for the youngsters. Birthday cake and ice cream were served and all honorees were presented with birthday gifts.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Anton Fleitman, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fleitman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fleitman and children, Herman Fleitman and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fleitman, Andrew Fleitman, Misses Anna and Elizabeth Fleitman and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Block of Lindsay.

CIVILIAN GARB WILL QUALIFY DAKOTA NUNS AS SCHOOL TEACHERS

BISMARCK, N. D.—Clothed in civilian dress, Catholic nuns may teach in North Dakota public schools next fall despite recent passage of a measure intended to stop them.

Two ranking members of the Catholic Church in North Dakota Sunday advised the nuns that the church has no objection to their donning "respectable secular dress" to comply with the state's new law.

The so-called "antigrab" act, sponsored by a group of Protestants, including clergymen, prohibits any public school teacher from wearing garb denoting membership in a religious order. The act does not mention Catholic nuns by name, but admittedly is aimed chiefly at them.

The act was approved at the June 29 primary election by a majority of some 10,000 votes. The total vote was approximately 93,000 for the act, with about 300 precincts not reported.

Two Catholic leaders, Bishop Vincent J. Ryan of Bismark and Auxiliary Bishop Leo Dworschak of Fargo, announced their proposal Sunday at regular services in cathedrals in the two cities.

A joint statement by the church officials said, in part:

"Some of its sponsors solicited support for this (antigrab) measure upon the claim that it would keep Catholic sisters from teaching. We are informed by competent legal authority that no law can, under the protection of our Constitution, discriminate against any teacher on account of religious membership or belief.

"The withdrawal of the sisters would close some public schools in North Dakota. An emergency exists in many districts in this state because of the shortage of teachers, although the sisters are needed elsewhere, in view of the emergency, the sisters will arrange to use in school a respectable secular dress, which in no way indicates the fact that the teacher is a member of or adherent of any religious order or denomination.

"Consequently we announce that in such school districts where the people and the school boards find it necessary and desirable to retain the services of the sisters, the sisters will continue to teach, attired in a manner which is in strict compliance with the law."

Bishop Ryan told newsmen the proposal is not new. He said it had been done in both Canada and Mexico under circumstances similar to those existing in N. Dakota.

The antigrab act was the most controversial issue in a North Dakota election in many years. About seventy-five Catholic sisters teach in the state's public schools, predominately in Catholic communities

To the Voters of Precinct No. 3

I am still in the race for commissioner of Precinct No. 3 in the Democratic primary this month, although I did not get my name on the official ballot due to a misunderstanding.

My friends and acquaintances have urged me to conduct a "write-in" campaign for the office and I have decided to do so. I ask you to write the name of "A. C. (Clarence) Cotten" on your ballot for commissioner of precinct No. 3, marking through the names of the other candidates.

If I am elected to this office through a write-in campaign, I assure all the voters that I will do my best to make you the best commissioner from precinct No 3 you have ever had. I have not quit the race. I am in it to the finish.

Respectfully,

FATAL TOLL OF WAR DEAD ESTIMATED AT MORE THAN 78,000,000

NEW YORK.—The cost of World War II is still being revised — upward. Human loss alone is put at 78,000,000 lives by the Revue Du Droit International of Geneva. The staggering total — slightly more than half the population of the United States — breaks down as follows:
32,000,000 men killed on battle fields.
26,000,000 men, women and children murdered in concentration camps.

20,000,000 men, women and children killed by air bombing. (A computed total of 2,429,475 tons of bombs were dropped over Europe alone.)
To this total can also be added the delayed victims of war — more of them each day; the thousands dying from effects of wounds, starvation and war-contracted illness.
The material cost of World War II is set at $375,000,000,000 (gold) — about 10 times all the gold extracted from the earth since the days of the pharaohs.

For a number of years I held responsible positions with grocery businesses in Gainesville. I feel that I have many friends who think me worthy, and I am asking that they say a good word for my candidacy.
"I wish to thank you again for your friendship and helpfulness in the past, and I hope you will consider this my personal solicitation of your vote and influence in the coming July 24th election."

CARD OF THANKS

We gratefully acknowledge every kindness and consideration at the re-burial of Sgt. Randolph Gruber.

NUPTIAL AT LINDSAY UNITES ANN ARENDT AND ALBERT HERR

Miss Ann Arendt of Lindsay and Albert Herr of Muenster were married in a pretty ceremony performed at Saint Peter's church at Lindsay on Wednesday, July 7, at 8:30 a.m. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt of Lindsay and he is the son of Fred Herr of Muenster.

Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiated at the service and was celebrant of the nuptial high mass. Music was furnished by the church choir under direction of Frank Mages. Mrs. William Fleitman presided at the organ. The choir sang "Ave Maria" during the offertory. White gladiolas and greenery adorned the altar before which the vows were exchanged.

Mr. Arendt gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a gown of white bridal satin and lace. The dress was designed with a fitted bodice topped with a lace yoke, and a very full flared skirt with a peplum extending into a long train. The petal point sleeves were of lace. The full length veil of imported illusion fell from a band of orange blossoms.

The bride carried a fan shaped bouquet of white gladiolas and calla glads, and as a bit of sentiment wore a gold locket belonging to her mother. It was a wedding gift from her father to her mother at their marriage 35 years ago. She carried a gold rosary, a gift from the groom, and a blue silk and lace handkerchief.

The bride's attendants were her four sisters, Miss Lu Ella Arendt, maid of honor, and Misses Lucille, Florene and Joan Arendt, bridesmaids. They wore identical frocks or organdy over taffeta designed with basque bodices pointed at the center front and back and outlined with a double ruffle, and picture hats of natural straw. All four carried white satin covered prayer books topped with corsages of calla glads, and each carried a white silk and lace handkerchief, gifts from the bride.

The groom's attendants were Herbie Herr, best man, and Ray Voth, Earl Walterscheid and Tony Yosten. Ushers were Johnnie Arendt and Tony Trubebach, Jr.

The bride's mother wore a pink flowered sheer beberg dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Acolytes were three cousins of the bride, William Fuhrmann, Leroy Kupper and James Hermes, and Harold Nortman and Arnold Bezner.

Immediately after the ceremony breakfast was served to the bridal party and Father Conrad in the home of the bride's parents by Mmes. Andrew Arendt and Paul Arendt, Jr. Immediate members of both families were guests for dinner in the Arendt home at noon.

At 6 o'clock an informal reception with buffet supper was held in the school auditorium for 300 guests. The bride's table was laid with white linen and was centered with a three-tier cake flanked with tapers and further adorned with white glads. Mrs. Emmet Pette and Mrs. John Hoberer Jr., sisters of the bride, cut the wedding cake and presided at the bride's book.

-TISA STAYS. A dramatic moment in Warner Brothers' heart-warming romance, "My Girl Tisa," when the girl, Lilli Palmer, with her sweetheart, Sam Wanamaker, meets President Teddy Roosevelt, Sidney Blackmer, and remains in this country after managing to get her father to come here from Germany. This picture will show at the Relax Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, July 20-21.

At 9:30 a dance was given to conclude the day's festivities.

During the dance Mr. and Mrs. Herr left on their wedding trip, the bride wearing a white ensemble with green accessories and a corsage of gladiolas. When they return from their trip they will make their home in Muenster.

Mrs. Herr was born in Lindsay and attended Lindsay school. For the past two years she was employed in Gainesville.

Mr. Herr is a native of Muenster where he was educated. He spent several years in Blackfoot, Idaho, and Amarillo, where he was employed until he entered the Navy during the last war. He was stationed in California. Since returning he is employed with the Muenster Machine-Shop and Supply Co.

Out of town guests at the wedding, in addition to those from Cooke County, were Tech. Sgt. Ernest Arendt of Fort Sill, Okla., Pfc. Robert Reiter of San Antonio Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jakubec and children of Dallas.

MISS UNEIDA DIETER TO BE MARRIED ON JULY 31

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Dieter of Brisbane, Calif., formerly of Lindsay, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Uneida Dieter, to Joseph Fernandez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fernandez of San Francisco.

The wedding will be solemnized on July 31 at 7 p.m. in the Visitation Valley Catholic church in San Francisco.

Confetti---

The whole episode happens to be just another case of bigots trying to impose their warped opinions on others. As is the case in many places, the North Dakota nuns were teaching principally in communities of predominantly Catholic population. They qualified for their jobs like any other teachers, and they had the jobs only because they were wanted. Actually only 75 of them were teaching in the entire state, so it is obvious that the vast majority of the population did not have nuns for teachers anyway. And out of that majority, which wasn't concerned in the first place, there were enough meddling bigots to impose their narrow minded decree on the few affected communities.

While it's gratifying to know that the nuns outfoxed this group of small-time persecutors, we have a feeling that the state supreme court will further intensify the bigots' humiliation by declaring the amendment unconstitutional. According to the constitution no law can discriminate against any teacher on account of religious membership or belief, and it seems highly probable that the judges will have enough sense to recognize the real motive in this case.
