Heart Fails During Sleep After Long Illness; Funeral 9 a. m. Saturday

Mrs. Frank Yosten, 46, in poor health for several years, passed away during her sleep about 6 o'clock Thursday morning. Heart failure was named as the cause of her death.

Though Mrs. Yosten had survived several serious illnesses and at the time of her death was suffering from a complication of ailments, her condition was not considered critical. She was up regularly. Less than thirty minutes before her death was discovered, she had been up for a drink of water, Mr. Yosten said.

Probably the most serious illness Mrs. Yosten survived was that beginning early in December last year. She hovered between life and death for more than a week and was confined to bed for more than two months. Ever since that time she had been under a doctor's care.

Funeral services will be held here at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mrs. Yosten, formerly Miss Mary Henschel, was born in Muenster on July 4, 1894, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Henschel. She has spent all her life as a resident of Muenster, receiving her education in the local parochial school. She was married on November 13, 1913. A member of the St. Anne's Society, she was active in society and parish work as long as her health permitted.

Mrs. Yosten is survived by her husband and five children, Ferd, Felix, Henry and Misses Josephine and Veronica, all of Muenster; also six brothers, John, William, Albert and Leo Henschel of Muenster, Henry Henschel of Blackfoot, Idaho, and Joe Henschel of Westphalia, Iowa; and two sisters, Mrs. Ben Derichsweller of McAlester, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Joe Hesse of Muenster.

MUENSTER K-C'S TO OBSERVE COLUMBUS DAY WITH 3 EVENTS

Muenster Knights of Columbus will observe Columbus Day this year with three events, general attendance of the membership at mass followed by a communion breakfast on Saturday morning, a community picnic at the K of C hall on Sunday and a dance Monday night. The program was drawn up at the council's regular meeting last week.

General attendance at mass on Columbus day has been observed by local knights for several years. For the convenience of men who have definite working schedules the service will be at 6 o'clock. Father Richard, chaplain, urged all members to make special efforts to attend because it will be the only strictly spiritual observance of the day.

The council breakfast is introduced in the hope that it will become a popular activity as it has in many other cities of the state and nation.

Sunday's program is a community gathering similar to the benefit picnics frequently sponsored by local societies. It is offered principally for the benefit of older persons and children.

Youngsters will have their part of the observance at the dance Monday night.

DISCUSSION CLUB HAS FIRST MEETING OF SEASON MONDAY

The Hyacinth Study Club began its fourth year when the re-assembly meeting was held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. John Eberhart. Miss Olivia Stock was chosen leader for the year. Mrs. Tony Gremmlinger served as temporary secretary, the election of this officer to take place at the next meeting. Father Frowin was named spiritual director. The meetings will be held weekly on Friday evenings at 7:30 in the Eberhart home.

The text book this year is "The Dignity of the Parishioner" and the first discussion was entitled "If I Be Lifted Up." Next week's lesson will deal with the "Sacrament of Baptism."

Nine members were present for the first meeting, as follows: Mesdames Frank Lutkenhaus, Bill Kathman, John Eberhart, Al Eberhart, John Schilling, Tony Gremmlinger and Misses Anna Hellman, Lena Streng and Olivia Stock.

Council Will Hold Open Meeting On Sanitation

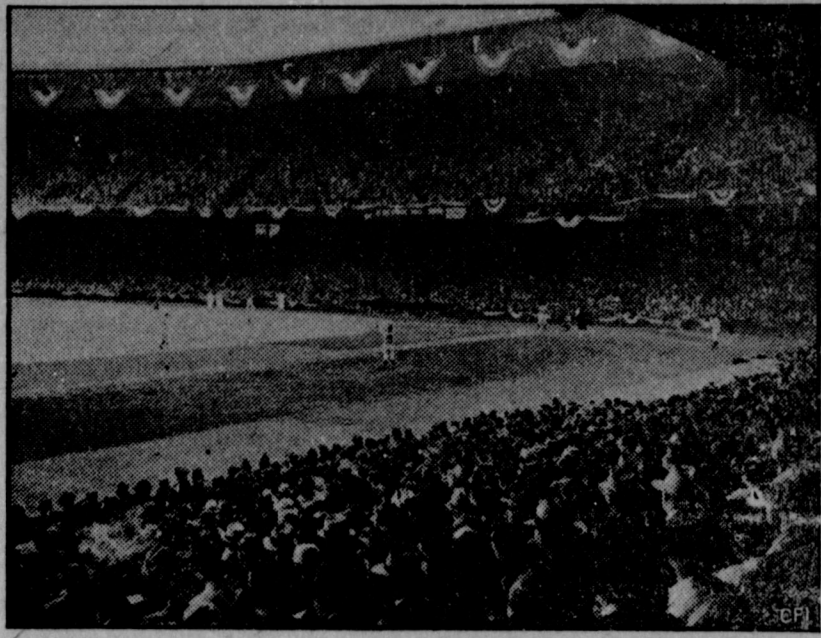

Anticipating the completion of the sewer within a few months, members of the city council will meet soon with the County Health Unit to discuss connection rates and special ordinances for eliminating present unsanitary conditions.

The meeting will be important to every citizen, Mayor Ben Seyler said, hence it will be open, and everyone is urged to attend. The time and place of the meeting will be announced at an early date.

REDS WIN WORLD SERIES

For the second time in baseball history the Cincinnati Reds won the title of national baseball champions. Their win came in a thrilling 2 to 1 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the seventh game of the series. Photo shows a general view of Briggs Stadium, Detroit, where the Reds Sunday won their sixth game and evened the series at three all.

3598 To Vote December 7 On Soil Project

Cooke County Has 2768 Eligible Voters in 33 Precincts; Muenster, 212

Almost 3600 landowners of Cooke, Grayson and Montague counties will be entitled to vote on December 7 in a referendum to accept or reject the Upper Elm Red Soil Conservation project. This information completed last week with the help of county agents of the proposed district has been forwarded to the State Soil Conservation board by J. M. Weinzapfel, election supervisor.

The exact number of eligible voters is 3598 in 33 voting precincts, Weinzapfel disclosed. Qualifications for voting, as specified in the state soil conservation board's regulation are that persons must be landowners living within the district at least 6 months and within the state at least one year and otherwise qualified to vote. Persons who have not paid poll taxes or secured exemptions are not qualified voters even though they have a legal claim to farm land. (City property is not regarded as land in this election.) Both husband and wife are entitled to a vote.

Cooke county will have a large lead over Montague and Grayson in polling strength with 2768 in 15 boxes while Montague has only 600 in 13 boxes and Grayson 230 in 5 boxes, a circumstance explained by a large number of resident landowners on smaller farms here while Montague and Grayson have more tenant farmers and greater areas occupied by large ranches.

Gainesville has the largest number of eligible voters with 350, Valley View ranks second with 310 and Muenster third with 212. Bonita in Montague and Southmayd in Grayson are tied at 15 each for the smallest number of eligible voters.

To keep down expenses several school districts are combined into each voting precinct. Residents of Muenster, Linn, Bailey, Hays, Freemound and Tyler Bluff school districts will all vote at Muenster with Ben Hellman as judge and Henry Fleitman and I. A. Schoech as clerks.

Myra's precinct, with 180 votes, includes the Myra, Hood, Reed and Van Slyke school districts. Lon Blanton will be judge, J. G. Biffle and I. C. Fulton will be clerks.

Lindsay and Tyler Bluff are the only two districts in the Lindsay voting precinct. The number of possible votes is 150, the judge is J. A. Thomas, the clerks are Joe Bengfort and Fred Mosman.

Richard Trachta Will Succeed Henry Luke As Shamburger Manager

Beginning November 1, Henry J. Luke, manager of Shamburger Lumber Company's Muenster yard since it was established 15 years ago, will not be connected with that firm. His resignation was accepted last week.

Richard Trachta, who received his first training in the lumber business under Luke is the newly appointed manager. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trachta of this city, Richard started his career with the company after graduating from high school seven years ago. He has spent the past four years in the Stamford, Texas, yard. He reported here Monday and will work as Mr. Luke's assistant until Nov. 1.

For the time being Mr. Luke's plans are indefinite. He has not decided whether to accept offers from two other lumber companies or set up a business of his own, he said.

Otto Schmitt Dies Tuesday 74 Of Lindsay

Funeral Thursday; Pioneer Settler Born in Germany, In Texas Since 1888

LINDSAY, Oct. 9.—Otto Schmitt, 74, early resident of the Lindsay community, died at his home, four miles north of the city, Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock, following a several week's illness.

Funeral services were held at St. Peter's church Thursday morning at 9 o'clock with the pastor, Rev. Conrad Herda, officiating at the requiem high mass and at burial in the Lindsay cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of George J. Carroll and Son Funeral home of Gainesville.

Mr. Schmitt was a native of Unterturkheim, Bavaria, Germany, where he was born June 7, 1866. He came to the United States in 1882 with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schmitt. The family moved to Texas in 1888, settling in this community.

Mr. Schmitt was an active member of the Men's Society of the parish, and of the Sons of Herman lodge.

He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Lena Beizer, five daughters, Mrs. Matt Neu, Lindsay; Miss Elizabeth Schmitt, Dallas; Miss Marie Schmitt, Sherman, and Misses Walburga and Ann Schmitt, Lindsay; three sons, G. A. Schmitt, Alice, Texas; Johnny and Bernard Schmitt of Sherman; 11 grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. A. M. Beizer, Lindsay and Mrs. Gustav Breuter, Round Rock, Texas.

Henschel Test Well Is Good Producer; May Open New Oil Field

Oil operators and interested observers are generally agreed that a new oil field will develop in the vicinity of the Henschel estate farm. A test well completed there last weekend is good for 75 to 100 barrels a day from shallow sand topped at about 770, McKee and Thornton are the drillers.

Considering the formations as shown by other nearby wells, both producers and dry holes, geologists feel confident they have a fairly reliable chart of a shallow, profitable pool.

Additional drilling is due to follow immediately. The well calls for offsets on both the Frank Hess and the John Felderhoff places.

Another test north of town is that of Al Eberhart and M. C. McClure on William Becker's. Tuesday they were drilling at $65 on a contract calling for 1400 feet.

Activity south of town continues at a steady pace. Rigs are running every day in the Linn area as well as the Humble lease at G. H. Hellman's.

LEAGUE AND GARDEN CLUB TO HAVE MEETING TODAY

The Civic League and Garden Club will meet in regular monthly session this (Friday) afternoon at 3 o'clock in the public school.

The garden club program promises to be an interesting one with Mrs. T. S. Myrick speaking on "Color in the Autumn Garden, Through its Foliage and Berries." Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel's subject, "Pyraecanthia, Attractive Shrub for Fall Effects," will be followed by a round table discussion.

200 Men Expected To Register Here For Selective Service

THREE TEAMS TIED FOR LEAD IN LOCAL BOWLING LEAGUE

Three teams are tied for the lead as Muenster's bowling league enters the second week of its schedule. Jake Horn's Phone Boys, Foss Swirezynski's cheese plant team and Al Walterscheid's Weasels each have two wins and one loss to their credit.

Lindsay is breaking even with 3 games won and 3 lost. Herr Motor's Flying Fillies are on the short end of a 2 to 1 combination, and Frank Walterscheid's Clodhoppers are bringing up the rear with 4 defeats against two victories.

On the basis of points the Weasels sneaked to the front with 1513 in their 3 game match. The Possums took 1478 in as many games while the Phone company rolled 1439. Trailing closely, the Lindsay crew has 2866 for six games. In the cellar, the Flying Fillies have 1347, and the farmers with 2810 in 6 games, are straining to get into the upper bracket.

The loop schedule calls for one three game match for each team with each other team, a total of fifteen, to be played three nights a week. The series will end in mid-November. Entrance fees make up a "pot" that will later be spent partly as prize money and partly on a league party.

Games scheduled for the coming week are Possums vs. Fillies, Friday night; Phone Boys vs. Weasels, Monday; Lindsay vs. Weasels, Tuesday.

TOO MANY GAPS—CITY MAY NOT GET CURB-PAVEMENT JOB

Prospects for Muenster's WPA curb and pavement project are still rather discouraging, members of the city council agreed in their regular monthly session Monday night.

The principal reason is that signed-up property is too spotted, having frequent gaps that would remain unpaved. If all of the two miles now signed-up were continuous there would be a fair chance of securing the project, the aldermen said.

L. A. Bernauer, chairman of the committee, stated that some who previously agreed to cooperate had declined to sign, some first wanted a guarantee that the cost would not exceed a certain figure, others did not approve the proposed plan of construction—a twenty foot driveway of pavement with a gravel parking space between it and the curb.

Though somewhat discouraged, council men are not giving up. They will continue trying to get agreements and also continue trying for WPA approval on their project as it is.

GET-TOGETHER CLUB HAS ANNUAL OFFICER ELECTION

The election of officers for the coming year was the principal feature of the Get-Together Club's business session when it met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ben Luke. Officers re-elected for another term include Mrs. Jake Pangel, president; Mrs. Joe Kathman, vice president; Mrs. Clarence Wilson, secretary. Mrs. Joe Luke was named reporter.

During the social hour, following the business session, members of the club and a group of invited guests enjoyed games of 42 in which Mrs. Paul Nieball scored high and Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid low. Each received an attractive gift.

Mrs. Joe Swinger received the guest prize and Mesdames Joe Luke and John Klement were presented with birthday gifts from their sunshine pals.

A special entertainment featured for the afternoon was a musical program presented by Miss Mildred Walterscheid, who gave several accordion and vocal selections.

A delicious plate supper was served at the close of the afternoon by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Elnora Luke, to 12 members and 14 guests.

Mrs. Joe Luke will be hostess at her home for the meeting in November.

LOCAL PEOPLE ATTEND TYLER ROSE FESTIVAL

Mrs. T. S. Myrick, Mrs. Rudy Hellman and Mrs. Herbert Meurer, members of the Muenster Garden Club, and Mr. and Mrs. John Fette, Mrs. Henry Fette and Mrs. Ben Seyler, spent the past weekend attending the Rose Festival at Tyler.

The Fettes also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Will Fette and family at Kilgore.

Both Local Precincts Will Register at K of C Hall; Ben Hellman in Charge

Muenster is ready for the registration of its male citizens between 21 and 36 years of age in accordance with provisions of the national conscription act.

Ben Hellman, local registrar, stated this week he has more than a dozen volunteers to help him, that the registration will be held in the K of C hall, that he expects a total of about 200 to register.

"And there will be only one place to register," Hellman said. He explained that the elevator scale house, used as the South Muenster voting box, is not large enough to accommodate several tables for registering, a fact that was overlooked by the county clerk and commissioners court in designating places. Hence both the North and South Muenster precincts will register in the K of C hall, the county clerk agreed.

The personnel of Cooke county's draft board, which will consider and classify all registrants, will probably consist of W. Hill Campbell, John W. Culp and J. C. O'Brien. Those men were included in a statewide nomination by Governor O'Daniel and are expected to receive approval from President Roosevelt.

A few pertinent facts pointed out by Mr. Hellman in connection with the registration:

The registration place will be open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The time required for filling out one form is twenty minutes. A person does not necessarily have to register in his home precinct. Wherever he votes, even in another state, he will give his home address and his completed form will then be forwarded to the proper local draft board.

In case a person is sick and cannot reach the place of registration he is expected to get word to the registrar, who will send a clerk to complete the registration in the person's home.

The law specifically states that every man between 21 and 36 must register. No matter what his responsibilities are, or his physical handicaps, he would exempt him from service, he must register. The local draft board, not the persons concerned, are expected to determine who shall be eligible for the draft.

In case a person fails to register on Oct. 16 he can register later with the county clerk. However, he is subject to a penalty for negligence unless he can produce sufficient evidence to justify his failure. A heavy fine and prison sentence is provided for attempted evasion of registration. Registration officials will make up a list of those failing to register and this will be turned over to law enforcement officials who will round up the truants.

After the form is filled out each registrant will be given a certificate showing that he has registered. The certificate must be carried at all times so that it can be presented on demand to law enforcement or selective service officers. The registrant must also notify his local board immediately of any change in address.

MUENSTER HI BOYS AND GIRLS LOSE TO BONITA HI TEAMS

Muenster High School lost a double header at Bonita last Friday, the boys trailing 17 to 21 in basketball and the girls losing two in their three-game volley ball series.

The basketball game gave Coach Virgil Lee Welch some hope of a fairly successful season. The boys played a good game in spite of their lack of practice, he said.

Four of the eleven Welch took to Bonita were parochial students who will probably join the team in quite a number of unofficial games. The arrangement permits a better choice of substitutions and will probably make it possible to arrange a better schedule and attend a few invitation tournaments. Prospects are fair for a pleasant season but not for success in county competition.

Miss Dorothy Fette's volley ball team begins the season with brighter possibilities than that which last year developed into championship form. All but one of the old team is back and several recruits give promise of developing into good players.

They have the ability, Miss Fette said, but they don't take the game seriously. Once they quit loafing and playing and begin making an effort they can start developing into a good team.

To date the girls have dropped six consecutive games to the parochial girls. At Bonita they won the second game and had a long lead in the third but finally lost the match.

REGISTRATION DAY

Next Wednesday will experience this nation's second major challenge to the totalitarian powers. Definitely Uncle Sam is determined that no foreignism will take control of this land. He has defense implements on the way, he is preparing to train resourceful American youths in efficient and effective handling of those weapons. Given that combination, we may console ourselves with the assurance that liberty, self-government and opportunity will continue to be our heritage.

Especially cheering is the attitude with which the American public accepts the regulations for military training. Even those who realize they may become cannon fodder have an optimistic attitude. They know critical days are ahead and they prepare willingly to ward off disaster. On the one hand they want to be competent in case they must fight, on the other hand they favor a preparedness program for the psychological effect it might have on a potential enemy. Many, especially here in the South, do not even wait for a draft, they enlist.

Give our nation just a few years of this program—this training as a guide for native enthusiasm and loyalty—and we can feel safe from any combination of dictator powers.

A SPIRITUAL MOBILIZATION

Concerning our physical ability there can be no doubt that this country feels more secure every day. But there is a spiritual point of weakness that will remain an object of grave concern. An alarming number of persons in this fair land are not thoroughly "sold" on this country. Either through warped opinions or because of unfortunate circumstances they fail to appreciate the noble fundamentals of Americanism while resenting the sordid realities of present day conditions.

There are the fifth columnists, for instance, many of them plain treacherous hirelings of contemptible enemies, and some simple minded crackpots who sincerely believe they are serving humanity by aiding the subversive cause. Both groups are dangerous and will remain dangerous until a more wholesome public attitude rejects them.

The mere fact that fifth columnists can survive and flourish here is evidence of some inherent weakness. If the spirit of our people harmonized fully with the spirit of the constitution, traitors and crackpots could never make an impression. Satisfied people simply do not grasp at the false hopes of radical theories. They either ignore or silence the undesirables. When our people start applying fundamental American principles to their own lives they will find the ranks of fifth columnists thinning fast. Some will see the error of their ways, others will see the futility of their cause.

Others causing national discord are many who claim to be loyal Americans, shouting their patriotism and glorying in their constitutional guarantee of freedom, but denying to their fellowmen rights that are justly theirs. Thanks to our modern materialistic trends, we have developed a standard of selfishness that nullifies basic Americanism.

Present friction between capital and labor is nothing but the result of much unfairness on both sides. Criminal tendencies came from corrupt courts and hardened consciences. When one man fattens by profiteering, when loafers demand comfort without earning it, when men in high position betray a public trust, in fact, when justice is outraged in any way there will be ill effects. America has confusion today not because democracy has failed but because many Americans have failed democracy.

Yes, this nation needs to mobilize spiritually as well as materially. It needs to develop latent virtues as well as latent skill.

Unfortunately that is a point that is not sufficiently stressed by national leaders. We can hear plenty about defending our sacred institutions but we hear too little about the actual sacredness of those institutions. America in practice is no different from America in theory.

Religious leaders are saying these things every day and the nation sleeps through the sermon. Obviously others will have to join the crusade. National, state and business leaders, the press and the radio are receiving attention—it is up to them to help put their point over. Religion must come back not only because it is a fundamental requisite of human nature, but because it alone is the basis of conscience and morality necessary to a harmonious society.

And we will return to religion, sooner or later. If we haven't realized yet how our bungling human ways are causing trouble we will continue drifting into more serious trouble, enduring greater hardships until we finally come to our senses.

An inspiring song, "God Bless America," is the most popular tune on the air today. We seek God's blessing but go right on violating His standards. Seems ridiculous, doesn't it? How many of us actually think we deserve God's blessings?

a foot he'll remember the train is not necessarily at one side from which the sound seemed to come—especially if car windows are rolled up—and he'll also remember to look in every direction before going on. The experience is mentioned here in the hope it will serve as a warning to someone else also.

Another boner was taking too much for granted on a curve. It happened to be sharper than most others and just at the critical point another machine popped up. Fortunately the other driver had the situation in hand, his control took care of both cars.

Here is a common falling at which many of us offend every day. If the other fellow is able to make allowance for the mistake it is OK—and there are few of us who do not owe our lives to the fortunate fact that the right kind of person was there to help in a pinch. Others less fortunate landed in hospitals and morgues.

In the long run safety on the road is not determined solely by the speed at which a man can handle his car, but rather on the speed at which he can make allowances for the other man's mistakes. There are times when he has to leave the pavement when he has to brake so a passing car can get back to its lane. It makes a man feel good, too, to realize he helped more often than he has needed help.

That is one of the worth while convictions that grows on a fellow while he is on a cross country tour. Meanwhile he finds time to be interested, inspired, or amused by a continuous panorama of scenes and incidents along the road. Through the mountain country, for instance, a person can admire wonderful scenery for miles after mile. Reach a summit and see beauty as far as the eye can reach. But among all this are scattered shacks or fields of scrub corn clinging to the sides of hills, grimly reminding that the inhabitants more than lack in comfort what they gain in beauty. It is easy to realize then that the fertile plains of West Cooke offer a far more pleasant home. Towns are picturesque, too, handled together in a valley or draped over a hill. Wonder what they do about traffic problems during the dead of winter. Obviously a large percentage of their steep grades are not navigable when covered with snow or ice.

If you ever want to spend an interesting day—or week—go to the Smithsonian Institute. It has practically everything—artwork of every description, science, agriculture, industry, transportation, sociology, anthropology and what not. It has displays of leather from the cow's back to the shoe, of silk from the mulberry tree to the finished gown and so on and on for practically any article you can name. You'll see every imaginable kind of weapon, transportation from the earliest ox cart through our early model cars, canoes, steamship models, funny bicycles and famous airplanes.

If you want to know what the well dressed lady used to wear, just amble through the fashion row of dresses worn by presidents' wives. If you are a hero worshiper you can find souvenirs from practically every famous man the nation has produced. Con spent a day in one building of the Smithsonian group rushing from one place to another and merely glancing at the displays. If you want to take a good look all over you ought to figure on two or three weeks at least.

A few more random impressions presented in brief:

It is a fact that this nation has a splendid highway system, here and there repairs or new roads are in progress but at least 95 per cent of a person's driving is on pavement or macadam. The four lane road from the capitol to Richmond is a dream—branches off now and then leading one-way traffic to either side of a hill or wooded section (they're so strong for one-way streets up there they even go in for one-way highways). Number 11 across Virginia is three lane much of the way and narrows down to two lane in Tennessee. Eleven is known as the "Broadway of America," but, strange as it seems, is not identified as such where the road is broad.

In case you did not know, all

American highways with a general east and west direction have even numbers, those running north and south have odd numbers.

It costs to fill a gas tank in those eastern states. Virginia, 22 cents; Tennessee, 24 cents. And Arkansas no better, it wants 23 cents. All of which helps us appreciate the wisdom of a certain youngster who left here last year with a barrel of gasoline in the back of his pickup.

The corn states—Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio—are pepped up this year over the finest bumper crop they have had since way back when. The corn looks good, too, mile after mile of sturdy stalks loaded with thick ears as long as your arm. They are going in strong for hybrid corn up there, say it pays out much better than the regular variety.

Sheaffer's factory at Fort Madison, Iowa, gives you a new appreciation for the pen or pencil you use. It's amazing to see all the heavy equipment they use to produce the several dozen tiny gadgets assembled into a mechanical pencil—and we merely take it for granted!

A few miles out of Saint Louis there's a tavern—"Joint" may be the appropriate name—that claims to be the only one of its kind in the world. The walls, even the ceiling, are literally covered with crazy pictures and wise-cracking placards. Never a dull moment in there. No less than a dozen electrical connections to shock the daylights out of customers, collapsing chairs and what not. And at times the proprietor hops up on the bar to chatter a monologue in his own gifted way. The place is famous for horseplay.

and people always come back for more.

Statistics released a couple of weeks ago tell us the grim reaper was working overtime on Texas highways during August. The driving public shattered a fairly good safety record earned through several months of careful driving. Much of the trouble is charged against recklessness associated with heavy drinking during holidays. Some of it, as usual, is explained as unavoidable, some as a lack of sufficient care.

After a few recent experiences, this writer can understand thoroughly the meaning of that last term. On two occasions he was at fault. Approaching a rail crossing in a fair sized town, he heard the incessant tooting of a locomotive and not being able to locate it assumed it must have been behind some buildings in the next block, so he went on. A glance in the rear view mirror an instant later showed the engine crossing the street behind, it could not have missed the car by more than 10 or 15 feet. That was not carelessness. Some drivers just don't flirt with locomotives. But here is the explanation. The window at the right side was rolled up, hence the warning sound came through the left door. Naturally a driver looks in the direction from which the sound seems to come. Nothing in sight—the engine must be farther away behind some obstruction. Another contributing factor was the diagonal crossing of the track. All the while the engine had been approaching at an angle from the right rear, the least noticeable direction of them all.

The incident offers a possible explanation for many a tragic accident, and a grim warning for this driver. From now on when he hears

We Could Sell Cheaper, But...

Ability to cut prices is not a mysterious power available to only a few grocers. If the market dips, prices are lower to everyone.

Aside from market fluctuations prices may be cut by: hiring cheap (and inefficient) help . . . selling inferior merchandise . . . buying close-outs of discontinued merchandise . . . reducing service to customers . . . refusing to make good on damaged or spoiled items . . . taking a cash loss.

We don't want to do ANY of those things, and don't think you want us to. We want to give you good merchandise, good service, and fair prices.

TUESDAY CEREMONY UNITES JOHN MOSTER ELIZABETH TEMPEL

Solemn vows of matrimony were recited Tuesday morning to unite Miss Elizabeth Tempel and John Moster. The rites, with nuptial high mass, were performed at 8 o'clock at Sacred Heart church with the pastor, Rev. Frowin Koerd, officiating.

Anthony Luke, church organist, played the traditional wedding procession as the bridal party entered and later assisted the choir in rendering a Gregorian chant mass in honor of the Blessed Virgin. The altar before which the vows were exchanged was decorated with a profusion of red roses and greenery.

The bride was attractively gowned in a frock of white georgette over white satin. It featured long fitted sleeves that were puffed at the shoulders and made of lace from the elbow to the wrist, the same lace was used for the yoke that terminated in a high neck-line. The tucked bodice was made with a fitted corselet waist, and the gored skirt fell into a shadow train. She wore a veil of net, edged with lace, that was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of white carnations and fern. As a bit of sentiment, she wore as her only jewelry a handsome antique gold cross and chain that is the property of her paternal grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Tempel, and is the one she wore at her wedding almost 55 years ago.

Attending as maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Anastasia Tempel, who wore a princess type frock of sky blue taffeta with a matching head-dress and shoulder length veil, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Lawrence Moster, of Lindsty, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Breakfast for the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tempel, followed the services. During the day immediate members of both families were guests for an informal reception and dinner. The bride's table carried out a blue and white decorative theme. It was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal figurine, and flanked with white snapdragons and white cosmos in blue vases.

Mr. and Mrs. Moster are making their home in Muenster in the John Tempel house. He is engaged in the trucking business.

Both young people were born in Muenster and attended the local schools. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moster, former residents of this community, and moved with them to Lindsay several years ago, where they still reside. A number of months ago he changed his trucking headquarters to this city.

ALFRED SICKING AND IRENE LUTTMER OF LINDSAY MARRY

LINDSAY, Oct. 8. — Rites performed here Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock united Miss Irene Luttmere, daughter of Mrs. John Luttmere of Lindsay, and Alfred Sicking, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Sicking of Myra. The ceremony, with nuptial high mass, was performed by Rev. Father Conrad, pastor, at St. Peter's church.

The bride wore a floor-length frock of white lace over satin, and a veil of illusion held with a wreath of bouquet-me-nots, and carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli. She was attended by Miss Cecile O'Connor, cousin of the groom, as maid of honor, whose frock was fashioned of royal blue satin.

Leonard Luttmere, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Sicking, and little Charlene Deen, the bride's niece, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of white net over satin.

Breakfast and a reception for immediate relatives of the couple took place after the church services at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Sicking are making their home on a farm north of Myra. Bridal Showers

Last week two pre-nuptial showers honored the bride. One was given at Gainesville by her sister, Mrs. Elsie Deen, who entertained in her home, and the other was a courtesy extended by Mrs. John Sicking at Myra. She entertained at her home, assisted by Mrs. Andy O'Connor and Miss Evelyn O'Connor.

CHRISTOPHER FETTE, ALMA GAYLE MATLOCK MARRY OCTOBER 3

Rites performed at Lawton, Okla., on October 3, united Miss Alma Gayle Matlock of that city, and Sergeant Christopher Fette of Fort Sill, Okla. The ceremony, with nuptial mass, took place in Saint Mary's church at 9:30 with the pastor, Rev. Ben Hulshop, officiating.

The bride wore a teal blue tailored suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white blossoms. She was attended by Miss Stella Gaster of Lawton as bridesmaid, and Richard Trachta of Stamford was best man for Mr. Fette.

Following the services, a dinner for the bridal party and a number of relatives and friends took place at the home of Miss Gaster.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Henry Trachta of this city, and the late Herman Fette. He was born in Muenster and after receiving his elementary education at Sacred Heart school graduated from Doroughty Memorial high school in Gainesville. He enlisted in the army nine years ago and has spent the past five at Fort Sill, Okla., in the aerial photography department.

WHY Bankers MUST BE CAREFUL IN MAKING LOANS

A sound commercial bank loan is one which can be repaid from the profitable operation of a business; not by the "sacrifice sale" of the business itself on the auction block.

Yet occasionally, an applicant may bring in a business statement revealing recent operating losses, and then be outraged when the banker refuses to lend $1,500 on the basis of the $5,000 net worth shown by the statement.

Every banker thoughtful of his depositors safety, in the absence of other favorable factors, must refuse to make loans of this character.
