

From all indications the big issue in the coming presidential election is the high cost of living. Democrats insist that the only way is to impose price controls and Republicans claim that the job can be handled ever so much better by giving the old economic law of supply and demand a better chance to function.

It does seem ridiculous, for instance, for the administration to guarantee a high price for grain and spuds while it continues to sound off about high prices at the grocery store.

The Agriculture Department only recently estimated that it would have to spend 1.5 billion dollars on the price support program this year. That money will have to come from taxpayers, of course. Spread out over the entire population it means about $10 for each man, woman and child in the country, or about $25 each for the 60 million employed persons. In other words the average breadwinner will have to pay $25 to keep up the prices he himself will have to pay at the grocery store. The combined amount of tax and excessive cost is the price he pays for official meddling.

In the light of those facts it seems that now is the time for the government to start lowering its support price and permit living costs to come down the natural way. Sooner or later the nation's farmers will have to accept less per bushel, so why not now when the greatest crop in our history can still assure them a good income.

In a way it seems unfair to make farmers absorb the first losses in the price reduction trend. But unfortunately that's the way it will have to go. They're at the head of the processing list. The price they get must control all other prices up to the final consumer. Eggs, meat, milk, flour and dozens of other food staples can't come down until grain comes down. Even at that the sacrifice isn't as great as it first appears. Much of it will be offset by the farmers' own savings in food and taxes.

This isn't by any means a plea for complete removal of price support. Nothing could be more disastrous than an unrestrained price plunge. On the other hand nothing could be more practical than a program of steady and controlled reduction of supports.

Another possible change that could do wonders for the country is a different attitude toward work. If more people took pride in how much they can do and how well they can do it most of our economic problems would begin correcting themselves in a hurry.

An interesting example along that line is automobiles. In 1929 the average car sold for $800, today it sells for $2,000. In 1929 the average worker received $32 for 47 hours of work, today he receives $64 for 40 hours' work. As Business Week observes "the ratio of hourly pay rates to finished car prices is about constant, then and today."

This isn't suggesting that workers take a cut in weekly pay, but rather that they give more hours for the same pay. A 10 per cent increase in time . . . to 44 hours a week . . . would reduce units costs 10 per cent and also increase production 10 per cent.

Another economic handicap is the silly notion that only persons licensed under a specific trade are permitted to do a certain kind of work. A carpenter on a repair job encounters electrical wires and water pipes, so he calls in an electrician and plumber to handle them while he waits. When he's through a special assistant has to clean up his shavings and splinters.

Projectionists in a movie theatre have plenty of time for general repair and maintenance but refuse to touch it because that kind of work belongs to other trade unionists who also are entitled to a job. Union truck drivers likewise take over a farmer's produce truck because they too feel they have a right to protect their jobs.

It all sounds reasonable enough until one recalls that this isn't actually guaranteeing work for people who are entitled to it but only wasting time and extending the delay on an enormous backlog of work that still remains to be done. The jobs are waiting anyway. Homes, roads, automobiles and dozens of other things need to be built. There's plenty of work to go around for a long time under the most efficient system. But it can't be done by this silly, inefficient specialization with a short work week. Instead of piddling around for 40 hours we

PRODUCTION INCREASE IS PURPOSE BEHIND EGG LAYING CONTEST

An egg laying contest, the primary purpose of which is to induce people of the state of Texas to keep records on poultry production and know whether their flocks are making or losing money, has just been announced by the Texas A & M Extension Service.

Designated as the Texas Farm and Home Egg Laying Contest, it offers $400 in 15 prizes and will extend from October 1, 1948 to July 31, 1949. Any poultry raiser, except ROP breeders, with a minimum flock of 100 hens is invited to participate.

In connection with the contest Universal Mills has offered additional prizes to winners whose flocks are fed on Red Chain feeds. The total list of Red Chain prizes amounts to $1,000.

Entry blanks for the contest are now available at county agent and county home demonstration agent offices.

In announcing the contest Extension Service officials stated that it is one of the most valuable activities ever sponsored for the benefit of farm and home poultrymen in this state. Whether or not a contestant wins a cash prize he will profit from the experience, realizing better profits during the contest and discovering other facts which will help boost production in future years.

After 10 months, it is believed, every poultryman will realize the advantages of keeping records to keep close checks on his profits and losses. He will also become aware of the benefits derived from culling, careful feeding and watering, sanitation, ventilation, and all other factors that affect egg production.

Mrs. Ben Luke is back at home since Sunday after spending five weeks in San Antonio with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Denny and family. The Denny's new daughter has been named Mary Nell after both her grandmothers. She is also the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Fred Herr Sr. of this city. Mrs. Luke returned in company of her children, Miss Elfreda, Bill and Harold, who drove to San Antonio for her.

Fire Chief Joe Knabe, J. C. Trachta, Al Walterscheid, Paul Tempel and George Gehrig represented the Muenster fire department at a fireman's school and equipment demonstration at Nocona Tuesday night.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (Soundphoto) — Mildred Gillars, 37 formerly of Portland, Maine, known as "Axis Sally", a wartime broadcaster for the Nazis, is shown here flanked by unidentified FBI agents as she arrived at the U. S. Commissioner's office for arraignment. Miss Gillars was brought here by Army plane to face charges of treason.

LIGHT INEXPERIENCED BOYS PREDOMINATE ON 1948 HORNET SQUAD

The task of defending Muenster's football honors this year falls upon a light and inexperienced squad with only five former lettermen and six reserves back in uniform. Eight of last year's regulars were lost through graduation and two others have transferred.

In spite of the apparent handicap, however, Coach Frank Hennigan expects to have a hustling team that will give a good account of itself. The youngsters have been working hard in a half dozen practice sessions held prior to the opening of school. Plenty of spirit is being shown by the 25 lads competing for places on the first string.

For the beginning of the season at least, Hennigan said, the regular noon-time practice period will be supplemented by two or three night sessions per week. The extra periods will coincide with the special work periods in which Hornet boosters will enclose the field with a chain link fence and build a grandstand.

Blocking and conditioning are the principal squad activities at this time, Hennigan said. Next week they will begin practicing their plays.

Those who reported for the squad are Julian Walterscheid, Wilbert Vogel, Emmet Walterscheid, Henry Pels, Harold Reeves, Gilbert Yosten, Mitchell Wolf, Maynard Williams, Glen Hellman, Maurice Rohmer, Donald Miller, Damien Hellman, Roger Wolf, Roy Baumhardt, Ronald Herr, James Hammer, W. L. Wylie, Douglas Robison, Buddy Markham, John Fisher Jr., Randolph Bayer, Lawrence Dankesreiter, Bill Cherry, Ted Cannon and Theodore Owen.

TRASH FIRE THREATENS COMMUNITY LANDMARK

A blaze which threatened to clear away the old building recently purchased by H & H Feed Store from John Furbach was short lived last Friday evening about 7:30 o'clock. Firemen arrived early and had it extinguished within five minutes.

The fire originated from burning trash near a pile of scrap lumber. It had ignited the lumber and was spreading rapidly to the old building when the alarm was turned in.

Remodeling at Parish Hall Delays Opening of School Lunch Program

For the first time since the school lunch program was begun here several years ago children are again carrying their lunches to school. In spite of their earlier intention to carry on regardless, the P-TA decided last week to wait until workmen now remodeling the parish hall are out of their way.

Notable progress on the job has continued all this week. Work on the roof and second story walls is now under way and the basement floor will probably be poured next week.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Frost here has been sold to Frank Needham and the Needham home in Myra has been sold to Jess Mitchell of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Needham will move to Muenster, possibly next week, when the Frosts finish moving their furniture to Gainesville where they will reside. The Mitchells will move to Myra later in the month.

Enrollment of 531 Sets New Record at 2 Muenster Schools

Five hundred and thirty one Muenster school children started back to class room routine for another nine months Tuesday when the bell rang for registration for the 1948-49 term. Regular classes began Wednesday. This year's total opening figure tops last year's by 13.

At the Sacred Heart parochial school 356 children are in the grade department and 90 in high school for a total of 466, six more than the total reporting on registration day last year. There is an increase of 18 grammar grade pupils and a decrease of 12 high school students as compared with last year's figures.

Registrations at the Muenster Independent School totaled 75, three short of last year's opening number, with 19 in high school and 56 in the grades. At least 12 more students are on the list for attendance, Superintendent John J. Hoffman said, and others will probably struggle in as the term progresses.

Students were lost at both schools this year by transfers to other schools in the county.

The parochial school has a teacher for each of the eight elementary grades, four teachers for the high school and a music teacher. The public school has a seven teacher faculty. Three teachers divide the high school subjects and the other four teach the elementary grades, manual training and home economics.

CHARM SHOP REOPENS WEDNESDAY WITH NEW LOOK AND MORE SPACE

A larger, brighter and more conveniently arranged Charm Shop re-opened its doors Wednesday morning after about three weeks of general repair and remodeling.

Visitors who came in by the dozens to see and to congratulate found a roomy store three times the size of the original along with several additional counters, shelves, show cases and other display facilities, including a life size mannequin showing the latest in fall clothing for the smart woman. They also found a colorful display of congratulatory flowers. Commemorating the event Mrs. Ray Evans, owner, presented each visitor with a souvenir sachet. Iced bottled drinks were also presented to visitors.

The store now occupies all of its building instead of only the front third, and walls have been finished in sheet rock and painted in light blue. The ceiling is white. Other additions are three clothes closets, a combined dressing room and rest room, a storage room and plate glass front besides additional shelving and display space.

The house which, after remodeling, will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Walterscheid, was moved to town Tuesday to the Walterscheid lots in the west part of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Walterscheid are retiring from active farm work and will move into their new home as soon as the rebuilding program is completed. The house was bought from Mrs. John Trew and moved here from Hood.

Rev. Bernard Zell, Former Muenster and Lindsay Pastor, Dies August 5 at Subiaco

2 COMMUNITY ROADS CONSIDERED FOR NEXT FARM ROAD PROGRAM

A road south of town and an extension to the five miles soon to be built north of town were the first and second choices of about 18 men assembled in the bank Wednesday to discuss the next farm to market road project for this community.

They met with R. S. Frazell, assistant district highway engineer of Wichita Falls, to decide Muenster's recommendation for a road in the farm to market program scheduled to begin next July. County Judge Carroll Sullivan and Commissioner Earl Robison were among those present.

Frazell pointed out that a 14.5 million dollar federal appropriation will become available to the state next July. Matched with a similar amount by the state the fund will be sufficient for 3240 miles throughout the state. 132 miles of that has been allocated to the Wichita Falls district and this county's share will be some 12 miles.

Recommendations of the county commissioners court are to be considered in the highway department's survey to determine what sections of the county will be favored. In that connection Judge Sullivan stated that in view of the small project received to date he felt Muenster was entitled to priority in the coming program.

Preliminary surveys for the new two year program are due to begin immediately, Frazell stated, and some of the roads will actually be under construction by the time the money becomes available.

News Of Sick And Injured

J. S. Horn continues ill and weak at his home following an operation on Monday of last week. He suffered a severe stinking spell Tuesday but rallied somewhat during the night.

John Beard is up and around on crutches since Monday but is still suffering considerable pain from injuries received three weeks ago in a fall from the porch of his home where he was doing remodeling work.

Miss Theresa Rohmer had her tonsils removed at Gainesville sanitarium Friday.

Glenn Hellman fractured his left arm at the wrist Friday when he was riding horseback and a fence post came too close.

Two tonsillectomies were performed at the local clinic the latter part of last week. Clifford Endres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Endres had his tonsils removed Thursday and Miss Lorene Derichsweiler had hers removed Friday.

Mrs. John Rohmer is back at home after being a medical patient at Gainesville sanitarium.

Dickie, 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schoech, is back at home recovering normally from major surgery performed at Baylor Hospital where he was a patient for ten days. Mrs. Schoech remained at the child's bedside and both returned home Sunday when Mr. Schoech drove to Dallas for them.

Charles Cler is recovering satisfactorily from an injury to his left hand. He lost the tips of two fingers last week when he caught them in a grain cleaner.

Mrs. John Blanton of Myra was admitted to Gainesville sanitarium last Friday for medical attention.

Herbert McDaniel was back at his regular work Wednesday after having been confined to bed for a few days on account of illness.

Mrs. Fred Herr Sr., has as her guest since Wednesday her only sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Eickhoff, of Kansas City, Mo. It has been 26 years since she visited here. Mrs. Eickhoff, who is 70 years young, is on her annual vacation. She is still efficiently holding down an office job she has had for many years.

Father Bernard Zell, O.S.B., 80, a former pastor of Muenster and Lindsay, passed away Sunday afternoon at Subiaco Abbey, Subiaco, Ark. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the abbey church with burial in the abbey cemetery.

Father Bernard came to Muenster in 1904 as pastor and built the present parish hall in 1905. At that time a community building was the only building urgently needed. He erected the small chapels between the church grounds and the cemetery in 1909.

In 1910 he was transferred to Lindsay and built the entire parish plant as it exists today with the exception of the rectory which was completed by Father Conrad. He was pastor there until June 1923.

After his pastoral work he went to the abbey as sub-prior and part time theology instructor. He discontinued full time teaching schedules in 1939 on his doctor's recommendation.

Father Bernard was born in Germany, Aug. 11, 1868. Nineteen years later, while a student at the Benedictine abbey in Switzerland he joined seven classmates and a young priest in transferring to America to the small struggling community of Benedictines in Arkansas. Subiaco Abbey had been his home ever since. He was ordained a priest in December 1891.

Father Bernard's parents left Germany to join him here many years later. Both of them are buried at Lindsay.

OPERATION TUESDAY ENDS EFFORT TO SAVE HESSE CHILD'S SIGHT

A long losing fight to save little Robert Hesse's sight came to an end this week. In an operation at Dallas Tuesday his infected right eye was removed after specialists said he had no chance of seeing again.

Four years ago, when the child was 5 months old, his left eye was removed because of a similar infection. At that time it was thought that the operation followed by treatment would correct his trouble.

In the operation Tuesday doctors removed additional infected tissue from the eye socket but had to leave some because of the danger of injuring a vital organ. They will attempt to cure the remaining infection by X-ray, the first treatment of which was given Thursday.

The child was accompanied to Dallas by Mrs. Albert Henschel, Meinrad Hesse and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schilling.

PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS—Passing the camera like a black streak, this young buffalo bull charges from an unloading chute into grounds of the Gulf Oil refinery. He is one of six bison "employed"—probably for the first time in oil industry history—to crop grass around tanks and pipelines. These one-time "kings of the prairie", along with 100 odd Brahma cattle, cows and horses, are being pastured for neighboring ranchers on refinery property, where they save many thousands of dollars in grass cutting bills. But they make risky charges for any but experienced cowhands like B. V. "Bart" Ownby, mounted.

WHO REALLY GETS THE PROFITS?

By Dr. Alfred P. Haacke

"Is it right for 2% of the people to own 98% of the wealth?" asked a student who was majoring in statistics when I spoke at the American University in Washington, D. C., several years ago.

"No, indeed! It would be very wrong," I replied. "But, what makes you think they do?"

"Why, everybody is saying it," said the student, looking around at a man who, I was told later, was one of his instructors.

This from a student specializing in the one branch of economics in which, presumably, truth and accuracy are respected and even worshipped? To make matters worse, his instructor just sat there and had nothing to say as I demonstrated the falseness and folly of the statement quoted by his student.

Even a falsehood has the force of fact if enough people believe it. It is astonishing what nonsense people can be led to believe when they want to believe it.

Surveys and public opinion polls reveal that the great majority of people think that big business men, the employers of labor, take most of the profits and even the income from industry.

There are labor leaders, even today, who shriek that high prices are due to huge profits and that wages could be raised greatly, without raising production, merely by diverting profits from the owners into wages for the workers.

If that were true we would have a serious situation indeed. But the charges about profits are not true, and wages cannot be raised without increasing production, except by making more inflation. But, because so many people believe the things that are not true, we have an even more serious situation.

Remedies based on mistaken or false diagnosis can actually kill the patients they are supposed to cure. And our government will never follow a sound course of action to correct economic evils so long as people believe so many things that are not true.

The truth is that over the past eighteen years less than 4 pennies out of every dollar of national income have gone to profits. Over 80 pennies out of the same dollars have gone to workers.

Even in 1947, hailed as a year of great profits, — and even including a large portion of those reported profits which are not actually profits, — less than 6 pennies out of the income dollar have gone to profits. According to President Truman's own Economic Report to Congress, the 1947 profits for industry are only 5½ pennies out of every dollar of industrial income. And no one can explain the huge rise in prices with total profits that are less than 6 pennies out of every dollar of price.

But, what happened to the 5½ pennies of profits?

According to the United States tax returns, more than 70% of all dividends, interest and rents — that is, of all returns on investments — goes to people whose incomes are less than $100 a week. The widows, orphans, machinists, unskilled workers, butcher, baker and candle-stick maker — people in all walks of life at the low end of the income scale — get more than 70% of all income from investments.

That means that the common people own more than 70% of the income-producing wealth. To that we must add their personal possessions, and we see how utterly stupid it is to say that 2% of the people own most of the wealth. It is exactly the other way around.

In no other country of the world does the common man fare as well as he does in America. We shall do even better, of course, but what folly it would be to let a few covetous malcontents destroy our prosperity by whispering lies and misleading millions of honest Americans who share in the most productive economy in the world!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

One Great American Trait

I always think it does a newspaper editor good to get out from behind his desk and see how folks in other parts of America look, and think, and act.

And that's what I've been doing these past weeks, touring the country from Michigan to Texas, California to Maine. It's a mighty encouraging experience. Not only because of the different points of view you run into—but because of the tolerance which reconciles those different points of view.

I mean the tolerance of a Pennsylvania farmer for the habits of his city cousin; the tolerance of folks who vote one way towards those who vote another; the tolerance of those who prefer spring water towards those who enjoy a moderate beverage like beer.

From where I sit, it's that great American trait of tolerance—respect for individual tastes and liberties—that makes this country strong. Let's never lose it!

LINDSAY SCHOOL NEWS

As you already know, our cultural factory opened its doors August 16, as a challenge to the Texas summer heat and now, after three weeks of experimental activities teachers and students are ready for another brief vacation.

The Seniors especially enjoyed their new position in High School life, since they are now, in command of the troop of extra-curricular activities.

Despite the fact that new studies such as chemistry and geometry presented themselves in monstrous shapes to us at first, however, we took them by the horns, looked them over and found them harmless.

August 27 marks the day on which mercy gave way to strict rigorous discipline — the day of Initiation of Lindsay High School Freshmen.

The unsuspecting freshies were overwhelmed with surprises from morning till 2:30 p.m., when they emerged from under an avalanche of lipstick, rouge, plasters, ribbons, crepe paper and what not else, to smile at us from their clean familiar faces. They confessed that the only surprise they had enjoyed that day was the last one — the refreshments.

Our unflinching friends, Miss Chapman and Mr. Haws, the County Agents, were here to reorganize their Clubs for 1948-1949. The election of officers for the Boys' Club brought the following results:

President, Harold Nortman; Vice president, Walter Hermes; Secretary, Frank Haverkamp; Reporter, Julius Metzler.

The Girls' 4-H Club officers are: President, Rita Block; Vice president, Gaynell Lea Medlock; Secretary, Juliana Fuhrmann, Reporter, Joan Arendt.

During the remainder of the meeting members of the two clubs spoke about their contributions to the oncoming Fair of Cooke County.

Owing to the crowded class program during summer school, the organizations of our other clubs had to be postponed until the main session begins.

LURENA WOLF CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY WITH PARTY

The 9th birthday of Little Miss LuRena Wolf Sunday was the occasion of a jolly birthday party for twelve young guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wolf.

The honoree's mother directed games and contests and served refreshments of ice cream and birthday cake. The honoree received an assortment of gift remembrances from her friends.

MRS. FRANK KAISER IS GET-TOGETHER CLUB HOSTESS

Members of the Get-Together Club were entertained on the first Wednesday of the month with Mrs. Frank Kaiser as hostess in her home.

Five tables were arranged in the party rooms for a progressive 42 series in which prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jake Pagel for high score, Mrs. Arthur Endres, low score, Mrs. J. B. Wilde, galloping, and Mrs. Mack Norris, guest. Mrs. Norris is Mrs. Joe Luke's cousin and was visiting here from Robstown. Mrs. Joe Kathman received a birthday gift from her sunshine pal, and Mrs. L. H. Baumhardt was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Kaiser served a delicious cold salad plate to the members and the following guests: Mmes. J. W. Meurer, M. J. Endres, C. J. Kaiser, Lou Wolf and Mack Norris.

The October meeting will be held with Mrs. Joe Kathman as hostess in her home.

FORMER MUESTER RESIDENT MARRIES AT KERRVILLE AUGUST 27

Miss Mary Catherine Reiter, daughter of Charles Reiter of Kerrville, formerly of Muenster was married to William E. Black on August 27. The rites were read at sunset in the garden of the home of Mrs. Eva Edwards, with Rev. Father Kemper of the Notre Dame Catholic church, reading the double ring ceremony. The improvised altar was arranged at the far end of the garden and myriads of lights were concealed in a background of palms and other greenery.

The bride entered with her father. She wore a gown of sheer nylon marquisette. Her finger tip veil was caught to her hair with a poke bonnet effect of lace and she carried a white prayer book topped with a cluster of baby orchids and tube rose blossoms. Her four attendants wore taffeta dresses in shades of rose, Nile green, pearl gray, and blue. A reception for relatives and friends followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Reiter were hosts in the Green Room of the Blue Bonnet Hotel. Later the couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado after which they will be at home in Austin where he is a student in the University.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. August Reiter of this city and has several uncles, aunts and cousins here.

RED RADIO INTENSIFIES ANTI-RELIGIOUS BLAST
LONDON.— Radio Moscow over the weekend broadcast its most direct attack on religion since the new Soviet antireligious campaign began a few weeks ago. Transmitting a lecture by a Soviet professor, radio Moscow quoted Karl Marx that "religion is the opiate of the people," and said religion is an important way to "prolong the existence of capitalism."
The lecture charged that United States reactionaries, "in alliance with the church people," are waging a crusade against modern science.
In the Soviet Union, the lecturer added, religion has become "but the survival of the past."

Confetti---

need conscientious work for 44 or 48 hours That and only that can bring the abundance and low cost we're all looking for.

There are theories and more theories about what's wrong with the country, but none which sum up the situation better than these few words recently appearing in an advertisement of Warner and Swasey Machine Tools. We have tried everything else in America, and they have all failed — labor contracts, new laws by the score, price controls. We have tried everything else except conscience.

What if the still small voice of conscience induced workmen to produce more, before they demanded higher wages?

What if the still small voice of conscience induced manufacturers to deliver more and more value, constantly?

What if the still small voice of conscience induced government officials to decide every act only on — what is best for America, instead of "what is best for me"?

Then there would be no runious prices, there would be no international problem, there would be no fear. America would be strong again.

Is it too much to hope? The only alternative is destruction. It begins with you and me. We have had greed and quarrels and failures . . . Can't we have, "— after the fire, a still small voice"?
