Memorial Service, Dedication Honor Muenster War Dead

In his address last Sunday at the dedication of the Veterans Memorial Park, Mayor John J. Hoffman urged his audience to preserve the thirteen memorial live oak trees and all the rest of the park in a manner befitting the memory of our war dead.

It was an appropriate and worthy suggestion. The mere fact that the place is dedicated to the young men who gave their lives for our cause marks it as deserving of special and reverent care. Respect and appreciation hereby take their place beside civic pride as motives which should impel us to beautify the park as a show place of the community.

A very worthy program, yes. But who's going to provide the money and work? There's the rub. While making beautiful plans perhaps we should take time also to consider ways and means to carry them out.

This column is open to a few suggestions along that line and it will be glad to present any it receives for general consideration. But until the first one comes along, yours truly suggests that the city provide a park beautification fund and turn the supervision over to the Garden Club. In view of the wonderful job being done in the cemetery it is hard to imagine a more satisfactory arrangement.

By all means let's not be guilty of neglect. Let's honor the memory of our departed heroes, not desecrate it.

Another matter of civic pride that's worthy of a little thought concerns our newly completed Main Street pavement. It's a good looking job now. Does wonders for the appearance of the town. It will continue to do wonders for the town's appearance if we will continue to keep it clean and good looking.

To be really honest about it the street is too good looking for our town. It seems out of place between our old, dull, dilapidated buildings. A dress up program along the main drag would certainly seem to be in order now.

Even though at the present time it isn't any of their business, backers of this district's school development program are hoping that Myra's election next Saturday on a $75,000 bond issue will not pass. They feel that way because a favorable vote would have an unfavorable effect on Muenster's plans.

From the very beginning of this district's improvement program people have assumed that Myra will soon become a part of the system. Just after a $300,000 bond issue was approved here members of the school board stated that as soon as their new building and facilities are available they intend to invite several neighboring districts to consolidate with Muenster. Myra is one of those districts. It has scholastics to increase our school's enrollment and it has valuation to decrease our district's tax rate.

With the help of Myra our district can go far in its improvement program. But if Myra should choose to continue its independent status Muenster will lose a big and important potential.

Considered even from Myra's viewpoint the bond issue seems to be far from satisfactory. Enrollment there is a more serious problem than here. Hemmed in as it is, with little or no prospect of adding more districts, Myra has no possible chance of acquiring the attendance to qualify for first class rating.

Troubles there are not the kind that can be corrected by a $75,000 school debt. On the other hand they are the kind that can be corrected at a far more reasonable price by joining the Muenster district.

In a few words, Muenster and Myra will both be hurt by passage of the bond issue, whereas Muenster and Myra will both gain by defeat of the issue.

Let's suppose however that the election carries and the Myra school completes its building program... and still falls short of the requirements to qualify for first class rating. Within a few years, either by official orders or the demands of its residents, the district will still have to consolidate with some other. It will then have a $75,000 vacant building, useless except for occasional community meetings.

That development has a redeeming feature, of course... in the eyes of persons who would expect to use the building as a community center. The district that would absorb Myra in consolidation...

Muenster's war dead were twice honored Sunday in a double ceremony consisting of memorial services in the church and cemetery followed by the dedication of a bronze memorial plaque and 13 live oak trees at the city ball park.

The ceremony began with rosary services in the church and procession to the cemetery led by the VFW honor guard, flower bearers and next of kin of the deceased service men. The service there opened with prayers for all departed members of the parish then proceeded to the service men's section where each of the 13 flower bearers placed a wreath on the grave of a service man.

Father Cyril Lange, as speaker for the occasion, said that the most fitting memorial for the war dead was a faithful observance of the principles for which they gave their lives. He also urged a Christian attitude toward death as a passage to man's eternal reward rather than as the mere end of his temporal existence. Other numbers on the program were the national anthem and a hymn by the parish choir, a memorial recitation by Miss Bernice Reiter, a three volley rifle salute and taps by the VFW honor guard and group prayers for the service men.

From the cemetery the procession continued to the city park for services conducted by the VFW. After the national anthem by the Muenster Band Joe Hess, chaplain, gave the invocation and Mayor John Hoffman accepted in behalf of the community the memorial plaque and live oak trees which had been given by the Garden Club. In his address he urged a reverent care of the trees and grounds in order to preserve the park for many years as a fitting memorial to those who died. He also recalled that Muenster, like Texas, had given more than its quota in the service of its country. Of 244 men and women who entered the service, 13 lost their lives. Mayor Hoffman also stated that in the future the park will be known as Veteran's Memorial Park.

Speaking for the VFW Walter Becker thanked the Garden Club for their memorial to the war dead. Father Herman Laux blessed the plaque and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel placed a poppy wreath on it.

Those honored by the memorial are Corp. Cecil Cole, Pvt James Endres, Lt. M. J. Endres Jr., Sgt. Lawrence Felderhoff, Ens. Richard Fette, PFC August Fleitman, S. Sgt. Robert Herr, Lt. Clarence Hoehn, Sgt. Frank Mosler, PFC Harold Pembroke, PFC Paul Streng, Ens. Robert Weinzapfel, F2C Frank Yosten.

Myra District Will Vote Saturday On $75,000 Bond Issue

Whether or not the Myra school will be favored with a $75,000 improvement program will be decided at a special bond issue election this Saturday, June 4.

Though outside the Muenster district, the election has caused widespread interest here because of its possible bearing on the local school improvement program. A favorable vote would be regarded as an indication that the majority of people at Myra wish to continue their independent status in spite of a limited number of scholastics. Rejection of the issue would be regarded as an indication that the majority prefer to discontinue their school and join the Muenster district.

The latter development would be particularly favorable to Muenster because the additional enrollment as well as the additional valuation would go far in helping develop the desired standard in the Muenster school.

Shortly after Muenster passed its $300,000 bond issue local trustees announced their intention to invite other districts into Muenster as soon as new facilities are complete.

J. M. Weinzapfel returned Monday evening from Dallas where he underwent surgery on May 21 and is convalescing nicely at his home. His wife went to Dallas to bring him home.

Largest Class In Parochial Hi History Graduates Sunday

Speaking at commencement services here Sunday night Rt. Rev. Abbot Edward Burgert of Windthorst urged the 1949 Sacred Heart High School graduates, the largest class in the school's history, to apply their education not only to their own benefit but also to that of the community.

His text for the occasion was "But when the Spirit of Truth has come He will teach you all truth." Abbot Burgert stressed that man has been endowed by his Creator with faculties which he is expected to develop in order to work out his two-fold destiny as a citizen of the world and a future citizen of heaven. By means of a thorough Christian education, he said, a youth trains his mind and heart to spend a useful and harmonious life with his fellow citizens on earth and merit an eternal reward in heaven.

The 23 graduates, in traditional caps and gowns, accompanied by their flower girls and pages entered Sacred Heart church while Sister Dolores played the processional.

Father Herman Laux pastor, presented diplomas after the guest speaker's address and in a few words admonished the graduates to remember the lessons taught at Sacred Heart school.

Members of the school choir sang May hymns and Father Herman officiated at sacramental benediction.

The church was filled to capacity by parents and friends of the graduates.

Public School Holds Grade, High School Graduation, May 26

Stressing that hard work is the formula for success, John B. Klement, president of the board of education, told graduates of the Muenster Public School that they can't expect to attain their goals by "coasting" through life. He was the principal speaker at the school's annual commencement exercises on Thursday night, May 26, and presented diplomas to the students.

The program, held in the school, opened with the processional played by Superintendent John Hoffman. There were two high school and seven grammar school graduates.

Long Awaited Main Street Pavement Job Finished This Week

Muenster has its long awaited Main Street pavement. The state Highway department's farm to market road project leading from Highway 82 to a point 5.2 miles north of town was officially opened to traffic when the last section, from the parish church to the city limits, was completed Wednesday afternoon.

Surfacing work from the highway to church was done Tuesday and from the city limits to the far end of the road on the previous three days.

The new pavement is a vast improvement over the old WPA project which was completed here in 1936. Its heavier base, better drainage and smoother surface provide an ideal driveway which is expected to stand up for many years to come.

In the course of the project approximately 8 to 10 inches of material were added to the principal traffic area along the center of the street. A large portion of the original surface and base was first moved from the side to the center and then the entire reshaped street was covered with an additional 4 inches of gravel. Finally in the surfacing job approximately two more inches was added in asphalt and crushed rock.

Work on the gravel base was completed in December and permitted to settle until a few weeks ago when Cooper and Woodruff, the contracting firm returned to prepare for the surface application. Their job consisted of grading, soaking and packing the base. Reese and Riley, sub-contractors then applied a primer coat of oil and followed it by a double course of asphalt and crushed rock.

The road was built by the Texas Highway Department under provisions of the federal government's program aiding in the construction of farm to market roads. Maintenance of the street as well as the road has been assumed by the highway department.

He urged students to take advantage of the opportunities for higher education that are offered them, and in brief limited his remarks to the negative phase of manliness — the courage, the daring and the moral fortitude that is required to say "No".

Pastor Father Herman presented diplomas and achievement pins to the four students with the highest scholastic averages, in the order named: Burt Hamric, Joan Klement, Wilfred Klement, Doris Lee Reiter.

May devotions and Sacramental Benediction closed the services.

Garden Club Sponsors Entry For Montague Grape Festival Queen

Some young lady from Muenster will be selected within the next two weeks to compete with about twenty contestants for the honor of 1949 Grape Festival Queen at the Texas Fruit Investigations Laboratories, near Montague, on the evening of July 25, it was announced this week.

The Muenster Civic League and Garden Club has received an invitation to sponsor the Muenster entry in the annual event, which is held in connection with the Grape Festival and Field Day each year. The 1949 event is slated for July 25 and 26. This is the first year Muenster has been invited to participate in the affair.

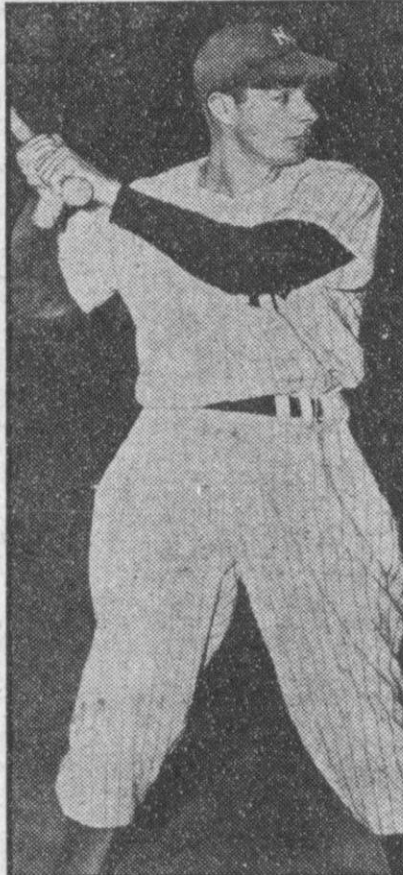

The young lady selected to represent this city must be between the ages of 16 and 20. The Grape Festival officials have requested that the name of the local contestant, along with a gloss finish photograph, be furnished the committee before June 15 in order that ample publicity may be given the Muenster entry.

Out-of-territory judges will select the 1949 Queen on the merits of beauty, grace, personality, etc. The other young ladies will serve as duchesses in her court at the Coronation ceremonies under a natural grape arbour on the evening of Monday, July 25. All participating contestants will receive lovely gifts from the Grape Festival officials.

The Montague County Grape Festival and Field Day is held each year at the fruit experiment farm, operated by the State of Texas through the supervision of A&M College. The farm is located near Montague and conducts experiments on all types of grapes and fruit trees.

The annual two-day affair features the festival program on the late afternoon and evening of the first day, when the judging will be held and the 1949 Queen crowned before a court of duchesses and their escorts. Selection of the escort is left to the young lady nominated from each locality. The second day of the annual event is devoted to a field day with trips through the vineyard and orchard being conducted by experienced guides. The program will also include a number of out-standing speakers and band music.

The Muenster girl selected to compete for the unusual honors is to be announced soon, according to the Civic League and Garden Club.

here. This week, the House will debate a new DP bill by Congressman Celler of New York. This bill will permit the entry into this country of most of those who still remain in the DP camps of Europe including a hundred thousand who came out of Russia 18 months after the war was over. This week, I have received letters from leading ministers in the Baptist and Methodist denominations, asking me to support this bill. I, of course, am very much opposed to it. Since half of my family are Methodists and the other half Baptists, I have felt free in writing both these religious leaders and frankly expressing my opposition. Congressman W. R. Poage, of Waco, wrote similar letters to these ministers. Two paragraphs from Congressman Poage's letters are as follows: "I value your opinion of these matters very much, and always hate to find myself in disagreement with you, but in all frankness my observation of most of the Displaced Persons which Congressman Celler wants to bring into the United States, has led me to the definite conclusion that they would certainly be no asset to this country. There are undoubtedly many people in Europe who would like to come to the United States, and who are suffering from a great many handicaps in Europe. Among this group are many fine and worthwhile people, but there are surely many very undesirable citizens among the group."

ed", but I am sure we must all agree that the "screening" would be no better than the individuals who do the job. I think it is perfectly evident that what is intended by the change in the law is to bring in a lot of people who could not meet the qualifications of the old law. Primarily these people are from East and Southeast Europe. Their philosophy of life is entirely different from ours. — I have seen some of them in concentration camps in Germany and Austria. Many of them utterly refused to work. I cannot see where the United States would be benefited by bringing these people in, but I can very clearly see where the United States and the world at large would be hurt by lowering the quality of American citizenship. If we ever come to a point where our people have the same outlook on life which these people from Southeast and Eastern Europe have, we will have no better country than they have. There is nothing wrong with Europe at the present time except the Europeans.

Another reason for being careful about those we bring into this country, is that we find it almost impossible to get rid of those whom we discover to be a menace to our society. For several years, I have been trying to get the Department of Justice to de-naturalize and deport one Gustavo Duran who came to this country in the early 40's, and became a naturalized citizen. Gustavo Duran was the head of the secret police in the Spanish Republic forces. He was placed there by the Russians and has a long record as an international Communist. Shortly after he was naturalized, he went to work for our State Department and has since that time held some important government jobs.

For several years, a number of Congressmen, including myself, have been trying to get one Constantine Georgies deported. He came to this country in February 1936, as a Greek priest. He is a proven pervert and has been run out of a number of communities because of his conduct. It is admitted that he came in under a false passport. He has insulted women in various congregations and was known to patronize a colored house of ill-fame in one of the communities in which he lived. Still, by numerous appeals and technicalities he has remained in this country.

The record of Harry Bridges is another case in point. He came into this country from Australia and while denying his Communist Party membership, he has fomented trouble and followed the Communist Party line. His stooges are now busy wrecking the economy of the Hawaiian Islands, according to reliable information. He is the master of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union and has completely tied up the ports of the Hawaiian Islands. In 1940, I voted for a bill to deport the said Harry Bridges. His deportation was recommended by the Justice Department but he was able to remain. Now he has been

The American Way

PIGGY BACK

By DeWitt Emery

I wonder how long it's going to be before the young folks — under forty, that is — wake up to what's being done to them by the promoters of a welfare state.

It's easy to understand how someone fifty-five or sixty, who has worked thirty-five or more years without getting any place in particular and without having accumulated very much in this world's goods, will listen to and vote for any kind of a scheme, crackpot or otherwise, which promises security provided by the government. What if he has to give up some of his freedom, his opportunity is pretty much shot anyway.

As I say, that's easy to understand, but how any young person with all or most of his or her productive life ahead could be in favor of anything even remotely connected with a welfare state, could even for a moment consider trading freedom and opportunity for a promise of security, is absolutely beyond my comprehension. It's these young folks who are going to have to carry the whole works by being forced to pay higher and higher and still higher taxes.

Every year a larger percentage of our population is made up of men and women over sixty. Just indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco and charged with perjury and conspiracy. If convicted, he will again be subject to de-naturalization and deportation. Authorities are quite sure that a number of unsolved murders and attempted murders in this country are the work of Communists. The shooting last year of Walter Reuther, famous President of the United Auto Workers Union, was supposedly the work of Communists. The recent assault on his brother is thought by authorities to be the work of Communists. The Communist program is to destroy the social and economic foundations of this country.

since 1900 life expectancy in this country has increased from forty-nine to sixty-seven and is still increasing.

If President Truman's proposal to broaden the base of social security and increase benefit payments goes through, and on top of that he gets the compulsory health insurance and socialized medicine he's asking for, every employed young person in the country will have to carry one of these oldsters 'piggy back' for the rest of his life.

The government can't spend any money for old age benefits or anything else which it doesn't take out of the pockets of the taxpayers, out of your pocket, out of my pocket and out of the pockets of everyone else who earns anything or buys anything.

Some of you may feel that my illustration of each employed young person carrying a pensioner on his shoulders is overdrawn, is an over simplification; maybe it is, but on the average that's about the way it would work out. The young chap in the low income group would probably only have to carry one-tenth of the cost of supporting a pensioner, but as he progressed, as his income increased, his share of the carrying charge would also increase. Then later, if he were fortunate enough, or unfortunate enough, depending on your point of view, to get into the upper income bracket, his share of the carrying charge could very easily make him 'low man on a totem pole' made up of ten or more pensioners.

I'm not in any sense advocating that these old people be abandoned. What I'm trying to get across is that providing security for each individual citizen is not a proper function of our Federal Government. This sort of thing has been attempted time and time again by other governments in other countries and each time the government failed and the country went bankrupt. The current attempt being made by England is far from successful and would have been a flat failure long ago except for the billions of dollars of taxpayers' money — your dollars and my dollars — which the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations have given to the English government. Take the so-called social security we now have in this country — old age pensions and survivor's benefits. All this amounts to is that these people have a mortgage on taxes to be collected at some future date from your children, your grandchildren, your great-grandchildren and so on. The only security that's worth a continental is what you provide for yourself.

No one realizes more than I do that this is far too big a subject to be covered in one short column and I probably shouldn't have undertaken it. On the other hand, it is tremendously important, and if I have caused someone of you to really think about this question, that is definitely all to the good. If those of you who want more information will write to the editor of your paper, he'll forward your letter to me and I'll be glad to answer your questions.

Betty Lue Buckley and Ethel Mae Bayer Win Special Merit Awards

Two students of Sacred Heart High School, Betty Lue Buckley and Ethel Mae Bayer received special awards of merit during class night exercises last Thursday.

Miss Buckley, chosen by the student body and faculty as the school's honor student, received a plaque. Eligibility for the award is open only to seniors. Her name has been engraved on a large bronze plaque in the school library and her award is a miniature replica of the plaque. Her selection was based on scholarship, achievement in school activities, music, sports, school paper work, and loyalty to the school.

Miss Bayer's trophy, a book-keeping Oscar, is an award for excellence in bookkeeping. She was one of the winners in the international contest sponsored by the Business Education World. More than 15,000 students representing 700 schools in the states, Canada and U. S. possessions, participated in the contest.

Cooke County 4-H Rifle Team Is District Winner

Cooke County's 4-H rifle team took honors in the district meet last week and will represent district 4 in the state met at A&M College in June. County Agent B. T. Haws made the announcement Saturday after receiving word from W. I. Glass, district agent at Denton.

The team is composed of Louis Schniederjan, St. Mary's club, who placed first with a score of 242 out of a possible 400. Harold Dieter, Lindsay, who placed second with a score of 237; Henry Popp, Lindsay, third place winner with a score of 219 and Paul Schniederjan, St. Mary's, fourth place winner with a score of 197. The team scored the highest in the district competition with a total score of 895 out of a possible 1600.

Haws stated that the boys will be trained, if possible, on proper firing positions and drilled on sight alignment in order to raise the scores in the state rifle contest.

TEXOMA EVENT WILL HONOR GENERAL CLAY, DAM'S FIRST ENGINEER

LAKE TEXOMA.—One of America's most famous citizens — General Lucius Clay, retiring commander of American forces in Germany — is going to be invited to 'come home.'

When work first started on the Denison Dam which forms Lake Texoma, construction activities were under the command of Captain Lucius Clay.

The war broke out, and Clay was called to bigger jobs. This spring he retired as a full general from the U. S. Army after winning world-wide applause for his work as the boss of Western Germany.

General Clay has never seen the Dam or the Lake which he started. He is an ardent fisherman — particularly for catfish — so the Lake Texoma Sports-

TRUSTEES AND TEACHERS HAVE ANNUAL FEAST AND PARTY

Measuring up in every respect to its reputation of the past several years, the 1949 trustee-teacher feast and party was a gastronomic and social delight. Eats galore, featured by a super abundance of fried chicken, predominated the evening's program and cards and dominoes completed it.

The event is an annual affair in which trustees foot the bill and teachers prepare the food and supervise the party. The latter this year departed from their traditional custom by turning over the dinner supervision to Mrs. Joe Lehnertz.

The party was held Saturday night in the Ben Luke home. Those present were the trustees, the teachers and their guests. Special guests were County Superintendent and Mrs. H. H. Moss, County Trustee and Mrs. Ben

WANT TO LIVE TO A RIPE OLD AGE? BE YOUR AGE, DOC SAYS

AUSTIN. — There is an old slang expression that would make a good slogan for living a longer and more comfortable life, and that is "Be your age". According to the State Health Officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, many persons injure their health and endanger their life through indulgence in exercises and vigorous sports unsuited for their age and physical condition.

"While a young man in prime physical condition may benefit from a fast game of tennis, older men and women have been known to collapse and suffer serious heart attacks following such a game. The same thing applies to golfing, swimming and other vigorous sports," Dr. Cox said.

During the hot summer months, it is of especial importance that you know your physical limitations, and indulge in only such activities as will benefit, and not harm your physical condition.

"Persons of middle age should never participate in activities requiring violent physical exertion, and should confine their physical exercise to such bounds as their doctor prescribes," Cox asserted.

The State Health Officer suggested that all persons of middle age be examined by their physician, before planning their summer vacation activities. A vacation can easily be more exhausting than refreshing, and in such event, more harm than benefit results from the time thus spent. Fishing, boating, hiking in moderation, and many other light recreations can be engaged in by the older people who must avoid heart strain, and it is a wise precaution to have your doctor advise you as to what sort of vacation you should plan.

LONG SHOT BETS

Most people have a touch of the gambler in their make-up. But only a few go to extremes in wagering on the horses, the dice, the wheel, and other unbeatable games.

However, many millions do the most dangerous gambling in the world without knowing it. They risk their lives, their savings, their jobs, by taking unnecessary chances.

Gambling with fire is a perfect example. Do you pile up junk you don't know what to do with in closets and attics? Do you put off until tomorrow the repair of that frayed electric cord? When you lack a new fuse, do you put a penny behind a burned out one to restore the circuit? Do you luxuriate in bed with a cigarette going? Do you keep on using a heating system that doesn't seem quite as efficient as it ought to be, without calling in an expert to look it over? Do you store paint and solvents and other such flammables in any old open container that comes to hand? When you have a chance to learn about fire safety — as during Fire Prevention Week — do you open your mind to it or do you figure it's a dull business and no concern of yours?

A list such as this could be extended for many pages. These are just a few of the "long shot" bets that can result in a fire — and do exactly that on thousands upon thousands of occasions in this country each year. The result is more than 10,000 horrible deaths and a property loss of over $700,000,000.

Are these gambles worth it?

While resembling a conventional light plane, this new craft has taken off and landed from an area no larger than a tennis court. The two-passenger version above can fly at a minimum speed of 27 mph with no risk of stalling or spinning, and makes little more noise than an auto. Called the "Heliplane," because its characteristics approach those of a helicopter, the craft now costs more than standard planes, but its designer hopes that eventually it may be mass-produced at the price of a popular car.

NTSTC DROPS A T

DENTON. — North Texas State College began operating under the fourth name of its 59-year career last week as Gov. Beauford Jester signed the bill omitting the word "Teachers" from the title and appointed a new nine-member board of regents.

The school opened in 1890 under the name of Texas Normal College and became North Texas Normal College in 1899 when a bill was signed for the college's establishment as a state institution. In 1923 the 38th legislature made the name North Texas State Teachers College, which has been in effect until last week.

The Jess Mitchells had as guests Monday Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Lyles of Denton.

Miss Veronica Fuhrmann joined Misses Mildred Chapman and Marie Cannon of Gainesville on a motor trip Friday to points in Missouri, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Maryland and Pennsylvania. Miss Fuhrmann also went to Chicago to visit her sister and family the George Hartmans, and will join her friends on the trip home that will include visits at places of interest in Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

solidation would also have to assume its bonded indebtedness. Lots of other people would be required to help pay off the building that is used by a few.

But even that situation has another side. Suppose the Muenster district absorbed Myra and took over the debt. It would mean that increased valuation is accompanied by increased debt and there is no chance for a lower tax rate. If the bond is rejected however, and there is no debt to accompany the increased valuation the tax rate can be decreased accordingly.

Residents of the Myra district would do well to keep some of those facts in mind when deciding how to vote. Do they want to take on a $75,000 debt in view of the school's limited prospects? And, unless they expect to get a lot of use out of a discarded school building, do they wish to eliminate the possibility of a later reduction in their taxes?
